Subject: GRAMA Response
Date: Monday, December 19, 2022 at 6:25:23 PM Eastern Standard Time
From: Dianna Sanchez (DHHS)
To: AO Records
Attachments: Lewis GRAMA Response 12-19-2022.pdf

EXTERNAL SENDER

Please see the attached GRAMA response.

Thank you,

American Oversight Documents.zip

Dianna Sanchez
GRAMA Coordinator
Utah Department of Human Services
385-459-8588
diannas@utah.gov
https://hs.utah.gov/

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Customer Experience

Please note Utah has a very broad public records law. Most written communication to or from our state employees regarding state business are public records available to the public and media upon request. Your email communication may be subject to public disclosure.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Explore our Jul 02, 2022 issue
FROM: The Lancet <thelancet@notification.elsevier.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 01/07/2022 04:55

Please add thelancet@notification.elsevier.com to your Safe Senders list. If you have trouble viewing this message, click here to view it online.

ADVERTISEMENT

In this issue of The Lancet:

THE LANCET

Vol. 400
Number 10345 | Jul 02, 2022
p 1-72 | e1

FEATURES

Road Safety 2022: a 3-paper Series highlights the challenges and opportunities for the second Decade of Action for Road Safety (2021-2030) with the hope that this will be a decade of implementation and delivery that leads to a substantial decline in the risk and global health burden of road traffic injuries.
Read this Series

Compassion and connection
The 2022 Wakley Prize is now open for submissions. We invite you to tell us about what compassion and connection in medicine mean to you and why they matter.
Read this Comment

EDITORIAL

Ending child marriage: ensuring healthy futures for girls

COMMENT

Data aggregation hides Pacific Islander health disparities

Torus fractures of the distal radius: time to focus on symptomatic management

WASH services and health: syntheses and contexts

A compassion narrative for the sustainable development goals: conscious and connected action

Implications for racial inequities in maternal health if Roe v Wade is lost

Offline: Changing the argument for health

WORLD REPORT

Federal abortion rights end, but not legal challenges

[redacted]

New declaration on neglected tropical diseases endorsed

New Zealand launches new Māori health authority

PERSPECTIVES

Digitising heart transplant rejection

The journey to greater equality

OBITUARY

Morton Maimon Mower

CORRESPONDENCE

Guidelines for pregnant individuals with monkeypox virus exposure

Monkeypox genomic surveillance will challenge lessons learned from SARS-CoV-2

The monkeypox outbreak is amplifying hidden voices in the global discourse

Shifting gender barriers in immunisation in the COVID-19 pandemic response and beyond

DEPARTMENT OF ERROR

Department of Error
Open Access

ARTICLES

Life expectancy by county, race, and ethnicity in the USA, 2000–19: a systematic analysis of health disparities

Immobilisation of torus fractures of the wrist in children (FORCE): a randomised controlled equivalence trial in the UK
Open Access

Effectiveness of interventions to improve drinking water, sanitation, and handwashing with soap on risk of diarrhoeal disease in children in low-income and middle-income settings: a systematic review and meta-analysis
Open Access

CLINICAL PICTURE

Not all post-traumatic swellings are haematomas: be alert to a Morel-Lavallée lesion

SEMINAR

Complex post-traumatic stress disorder

View the entire Table of Contents online

Lancet Alerts
Open Access
Publishing excellence

The best science for better lives

You are receiving this email because you subscribed to TheLancet.com alerting service.

This email has been sent from The Lancet, Elsevier Limited, The Boulevard, Langford Lane, Kidlington, Oxford, OX5 1GB, registered in England with registered number 1982084.

Update mailing preferences to choose which Lancet journals you receive alerts from. Follow this link to unsubscribe.

Privacy Policy

Copyright © 2022 Elsevier Limited except certain content provided by third parties. The Lancet is a trade mark of Elsevier Limited.

[redacted] Webuser ID: ee063b27617109410cc51afc98cc2b02ad57ffd4 Results Event ID: a3fc8f7a-1c4c-4f31-b5cc-1aa992a39e4d

SUBJECT: FEMA's plan to end flood insurance for riskiest properties; Widespread fireworks cancellations; A safety group offers cities some warnings about emerging transportation tech
FROM: Route Fifty Today <news@e.routefifty.com>
TO: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 01/07/2022 05:02

Problems viewing? View as a web page

ROUTE FIFTY

Connecting state and local government leaders

Route Fifty Today
July 1, 2022

FEMA Wants to End Flood Insurance for the Nation's Riskiest Properties

KERY MURAKAMI | Democrats and counties oppose the idea. Properties that have been flood-damaged multiple times account for nearly half the program's payouts over the years.

Fireworks Are Cancelled Yet Again in Cities and Counties Across the US

JEAN DIMEO | Potential fire risks, supply chain issues and worker shortages have put a damper on these popular Independence Day events.

Safety Group Offers Warnings on Emerging Transportation Tech

DANIEL C. VOCK | They're urging state and local government leaders to prepare for new types of vehicles and to look beyond industry hype as they design policies to reduce crashes.

Brought to you by SAP

Opportunities to Leverage Federal Funds for State and Local Technology Improvements

COVID-19 pandemic, the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA) and the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) provide state and local governments with a unique opportunity to invest in new, transformational cloud technologies. These technologies will help ensure not only the successful implementation of many wide-ranging projects and programs under the IIJA but also set a solid and resilient foundation for future infrastructure-focused innovations unachievable with current fiscal resources, technology tools, and business processes. Consider investing a portion of the funds in these five technology modernization opportunities.

Learn More!

Supreme Court Deals a Major Blow to the EPA, and All Federal Agencies

ERIC KATZ | A decision from the court's conservative majority limits agencies' ability to write new rules on major issues. The case centered on a challenge brought by West Virginia and other states.

USPS: It's Up to Mailers to Comply With State Laws on Abortion Pills

ERIC KATZ | The Postal Service says it will not crack down on the mailings, while the Biden administration promises to use the mail to expand access to the pills.

Feds Launch $1B Initiative to Rework Infrastructure That Cut Apart Cities

DANIEL C. VOCK | The Biden administration says places that prioritize community outreach as they design project proposals will have an advantage over others.

Brought to you by SAP

Opportunities to Leverage Federal Funds for State and Local Technology Improvements

COVID-19 pandemic, the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA) and the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) provide state and local governments with a unique opportunity to invest in new, transformational cloud technologies. These technologies will help ensure not only the successful implementation of many wide-ranging projects and programs under the IIJA but also set a solid and resilient foundation for future infrastructure-focused innovations unachievable with current fiscal resources, technology tools, and business processes. Consider investing a portion of the funds in these five technology modernization opportunities.

Learn More!

ROUTE FIFTY // CUSTOMER SERVICE // CONTACT US // PRIVACY POLICY // UNSUBSCRIBE

This message was sent from Route Fifty to hborski@utah.gov. You have been sent Route Fifty Today because you have opted in to receive it. Note: It may take our system up to two business days to process your unsubscribe request and during that time you may receive one or two more newsletters. Thank you for reading Route Fifty Today.

Government Executive Media Group, 600 New Hampshire Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20037

SUBJECT: Re: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris CambellThursday Discussion/Training
FROM: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
TO: "Charri Brummer (DHS)" <cbrummer@utah.gov>
CC: Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>, "Moore, Diane" <dmoore@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 01/07/2022 05:23

[redacted]

Good Morning Charri -

Thank you for the e-mail and reaching-out. [redacted]

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:49 PM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:

> Hi David,
>
> Just forwarding you some very rough notes I took on a google meet hosted by the hospital in regard to Roe Vs. Wade and Dobbs Vs. Jackson Women's Health Organization and how it pertains to child welfare cases involving sexual abuse and resulting pregnancy. I saw the email that DHHS sent out when the decision came down. However, I was unclear if the DHHS attorneys are meeting and discussing how it affects DCFS child clients and how our caseworkers will respond to families and doctors and others who are already starting to reach out.
>
> I do not want to get too many steps ahead of ourselves, and I want to assure that I am respectful of any conversations that are taking place already that I may not be aware of. There are both ethics and laws at play here. I also have absolutely no idea how Utah plans to address it with resulting state-specific laws. I would like to meet with the child protection section of the AG's Office that represents us to begin to talk about our response, but again, I would like some guidance as to whether or not DHHS is supportive of this or if other conversations are happening at a higher level. Dr. Kristine Campbell, Associate Professor in the Dept. of Pediatrics and Division of Child Protection and Family Health at the U of U, has requested to meet with us as well. She is available to meet as desired.
>
> Please advise. Thank you so much.
>
> Charri
>
> ---------- Forwarded message ---------
> From: Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov>
> Date: Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:01 PM
> Subject: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris Cambell Thursday Discussion/Training
> To: Charri Brummer <cbrummer@utah.gov>, Moore, Diane <dmoore@utah.gov>, Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>
> Cc: Trisha Reynolds (DHS) <thepwort@utah.gov>, Veronica Argyle DHS <veronicaargyle@utah.gov>
>
> Charri Brummer, Veronica Argyle and Trisha Reynolds were present from Utah to listen and learn. These are very rough notes.
>
> Roe Vs. Wade and how it pertains to child abuse
>
> Discussions here are only opinions. It will not be recorded. This purpose is to learn from one another only. Does not reflect opinions of the institution.

[redacted]

Went over history of abortion laws, changes in laws and effects to child abuse pediatrics.

Supreme Court decision made in 1973. Abortion was a fundamental right to any woman in the US. State could not pass laws prior to viability.

Dobbs VS. Jackson Women's Health Organization as a result of Mississippi that said abortion illegal after 15 weeks came down from supreme court and overturned Roe Vs. Wade.

OK is most restrictive, Utah law is quite restrictive. Every state will be slightly different for enactment

What means for pediatricians - most states will allow abortion for incest and rape.

Example: 16 year old sexually assaulted and now pregnant. What will we do now? What is the right thing to do and what is legal?

What about rights to birth control and Plan B? None of this has been affected at this time, but people are concerned this may come up in the future because of the overturning. Where does confidentiality fall into this? Is it still protected? For now, yes.

We don't really know how everything is going to filter down.

Example of very young child clearly sexually abused and pregnant. Within a day of the overturned decision coming down, Ohio put a law into place that you cannot abort after 6 weeks of pregnancy and there is no exclusion for rape or incest. They had to arrange for this mother and child to go to another state.

Legal for child welfare agencies should be meeting to determine how to respond to these. How do you discuss it with families? How do you respond when the family asks how to break the law? Etc.

Discussed "aiding and abetting". AR legal advised that they can help arrange for services out of state and not consider it aiding and abetting.

CA is expecting a huge increase in abortions in their state of others coming to CA.

How will law enforcement react to this? Will anything change with them or their services in each state?

What about an amendment to HIPAA? Could that assist in this?

As a physician, you would offer options. Now looking at ethics of this while it is worked out, anyone can walk in, so what are the ethics right now. Can they still say here are your options or do you say here is the big mess going on and the hospital doesn't have a response yet. What are doctors ethically bound to do for a child and family who is seeking an abortion, etc. We look at best interest of a patient, what will not cause harm, and justice. Ethically we know what we are ethically bound to do, but we will be held by these laws. More difficult that states are going "aiding and abetting". This doesn't change what is ethically right. This may create a type of Underground Railroad sort of system so that there are ways for people to get what they want/need.

Trisha and Veronica, anything more to add to my brief notes?

Kris Cambell is going to send out some ListServe messages.

I would recommend we set a meeting with the RDs, Carol, and Deb right away to discuss. [redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Re: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris CambellThursday Discussion/Training
FROM: "Charri Brummer (DHS)" <cbrummer@utah.gov>
TO: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
CC: Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>, "Moore, Diane" <dmoore@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 01/07/2022 08:25

David,

Thank you for the excellent guidance. We will set a meeting to include the child protection director and deputy director at the AG's Office, Dr. Campbell - a leading peditrician for child abuse cases in Utah, Nate and/or Tonya H., Sarah Welliver, yourself and DCFS (Diane, Tonya, and myself). I can work with EDO support staff to find some potential dates. We appreciate the support and guidance in this matter moving forward.

Charri

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 5:23 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

> Good Morning Charri -
>
> Thank you for the e-mail and reaching-out. [redacted]
>
> [redacted]
>
> David
>
> David Litvack
> Deputy Director
> He/Him/His
> O: 385.382.6099
> davidlitvack@utah.gov
>
> Utah Department of Health & Human Services
>
> On Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:49 PM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:
>
> > Hi David,
> >
> > Just forwarding you some very rough notes I took on a google meet hosted by the hospital in regard to Roe Vs. Wade and Dobbs Vs. Jackson Women's Health Organization and how it pertains to child welfare cases involving sexual abuse and resulting pregnancy. I saw the email that DHHS sent out when the decision came down. However, I was unclear if the DHHS attorneys are meeting and discussing how it affects DCFS child clients and how our caseworkers will respond to families and doctors and others who are already starting to reach out.
> >
> > I do not want to get too many steps ahead of ourselves, and I want to assure that I am respectful of any conversations that are taking place already that I may not be aware of. There are both ethics and laws at play here. I also have absolutely no idea how Utah plans to address it with resulting state-specific laws. I would like to meet with the child protection section of the AG's Office that represents us to begin to talk about our response, but again, I would like some guidance as to whether or not DHHS is supportive of this or if other conversations are happening at a higher level. Dr. Kristine Campbell, Associate Professor in the Dept. of Pediatrics and Division of Child Protection and Family Health at the U of U, has requested to meet with us as well. She is available to meet as desired.
> >
> > Please advise. Thank you so much.

[redacted]

Charri

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov>
Date: Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:01 PM
Subject: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris Cambell Thursday Discussion/Training
To: Charri Brummer <cbrummer@utah.gov>, Moore, Diane <dmoore@utah.gov>, Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>
Cc: Trisha Reynolds (DHS) <thepwort@utah.gov>, Veronica Argyle DHS <veronicaargyle@utah.gov>

Charri Brummer, Veronica Argyle and Trisha Reynolds were present from Utah to listen and learn. These are very rough notes.

Roe Vs. Wade and how it pertains to child abuse

Discussions here are only opinions. It will not be recorded. This purpose is to learn from one another only. Does not reflect opinions of the institution.

Went over history of abortion laws, changes in laws and effects to child abuse pediatrics.

Supreme Court decision made in 1973. Abortion was a fundamental right to any woman in the US. State could not pass laws prior to viability.

Dobbs VS. Jackson Women's Health Organization as a result of Mississippi that said abortion illegal after 15 weeks came down from supreme court and overturned Roe Vs. Wade.

OK is most restrictive, Utah law is quite restrictive. Every state will be slightly different for enactment

What means for pediatricians - most states will allow abortion for incest and rape.

Example: 16 year old sexually assaulted and now pregnant. What will we do now? What is the right thing to do and what is legal?

What about rights to birth control and Plan B? None of this has been affected at this time, but people are concerned this may come up in the future because of the overturning. Where does confidentiality fall into this? Is it still protected? For now, yes.

We don't really know how everything is going to filter down.

Example of very young child clearly sexually abused and pregnant. Within a day of the overturned decision coming down, Ohio put a law into place that you cannot abort after 6 weeks of pregnancy and there is no exclusion for rape or incest. They had to arrange for this mother and child to go to another state.

Legal for child welfare agencies should be meeting to determine how to respond to these. How do you discuss it with families? How do you respond when the family asks how to break the law? Etc.

Discussed "aiding and abetting". AR legal advised that they can help arrange for services out of state and not consider it aiding and abetting.

CA is expecting a huge increase in abortions in their state of others coming to CA.

How will law enforcement react to this? Will anything change with them or their services in each state?

What about an amendment to HIPAA? Could that assist in this?

As a physician, you would offer options. Now looking at ethics of this while it is worked out, anyone can walk in, so what are the ethics right now. Can they still say here are your options or do you say here is the big mess going on and the hospital doesn't have a response yet. What are doctors ethically bound to do for a child and family who is seeking an abortion, etc. We look at best interest of a patient, what will not cause harm, and justice. Ethically we know what we are ethically bound to do, but we will be held by these laws. More difficult that states are going "aiding and abetting". This doesn't change what is ethically right. This may create a type of Underground Railroad sort of system so that there are ways for people to get what they want/need.

Trisha and Veronica, anything more to add to my brief notes?

Kris Cambell is going to send out some ListServe messages.

I would recommend we set a meeting with the RDs, Carol, and Deb right away to discuss. [redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Fwd: DNPAO Media Monitor 7-1-2022
FROM: Brett Mciff <bmciff@utah.gov>
TO: Alysia Ducuara <alysia@gethealthyutah.org>, Amy Bate <abate@tooelehealth.org>, Anni McKinnon <AMcKinnon@slco.org>, "Braby, Sara" <sbraby@utah.gov>, Brian Hatch <Brianl@daviscountyutah.gov>, Carrie Bennett <carrieb@utahcounty.gov>, Dacota Shell <dacota.shell@tooelehealth.org>, "Edwards, Eric" <ericse@utahcounty.gov>, Elizabeth wright <emwright@utah.gov>, Emily Jewkes <ejewkes@brhd.org>, "Fitzgerald, Jonelle" <jfitzgerald@co.wasatch.ut.us>, Heather Risbeck Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Isa <isa@daviscountyutah.gov>, Ivy Melton Sales <Ivy@daviscountyutah.gov>, Janae Duncan <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, Jeff Coombs <jcoombs@tooelehealth.org>, Kaylie Lake <KaylieL@utahcounty.gov>, Lindsey McOmie <LindseyM@utahcounty.gov>, "Marvidikis, Debbie" <dmarvidikis@utah.gov>, Mele Lokotui <mlokotui@tooelehealth.org>, Morgan Hadden <morgan@gethealthyutah.org>, Shelley Worley <sworley@summitcounty.org>, "Sherwood,Bryce" <bsherwood@co.weber.ut.us>, "Tubbs, Jeramie" <jtubbs@tricountyhealth.com>, "Wiese, Farrin" <fwiese@brhd.org>
CC: Linnea Fletcher <linneafletcher@utah.gov>, John Stuligross <jstuligross@utah.gov>, Laura Holtrop Kohl <lholtrop@utah.gov>
DATE: 01/07/2022 08:53

FYI

Brett McIff, PhD, PAPHS
Physical Activity Coordinator
Healthy Environments Active Living (HEAL) Program
O: 801.538.6530
Bmciff@utah.gov
https://heal.health.utah.gov/

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Population Health

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: DNPAO Media Monitor <CommHealthMediaMonitor@fhi360.org>
Date: Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 8:34 AM
Subject: DNPAO Media Monitor 7-1-2022
To: <bmciff@utah.gov>

View this email in your browser

DNPAO Daily Media Monitor
July 1, 2022
Table of Contents

Access to Healthy Food

- "How to escape food deserts, food swamps in San Antonio area," KSAT 6/30/2022 (San Antonio, TX)
- "Fighting food deserts: Urban farming a solution for lack of fresh food," News 4 6/30/2022 (Jacksonville, FL)
- "Biden administration takes additional steps to strengthen child nutrition programs," USDA 6/30/2022 (Washington, DC)
- "Food insecurity in the US shows more adults are not getting recommended nutrition," Tasting Table 6/30/2022

Physical Activity

- "Do you live in an 'exercise desert'?," Very Well Health 6/30/2022

Obesity

- "Pediatric Endocrinologist: 'Solutions to childhood obesity are community specific,'" 7WSAW-TV 6/30/2022 (Stevens Point, WI)
- "Stress during pregnancy can affect child's diet," Medical Xpress 6/30/2022

Breastfeeding

- "Trinity Health Of New England partners with telehealth startup to help more mothers breastfeed," Med City News 6/30/2022

Access to Healthy Food

How to escape food deserts, food swamps in San Antonio area
6/30/2022 — San Antonio, TX
The City of San Antonio and the San Antonio Food Bank has separate programs with the same goal: Increase healthy food options in areas of town known as "food deserts," which are defined by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as low-income areas where the nearest grocery store is more than a mile away.
Read full article here.

Fighting food deserts: Urban farming a solution for lack of fresh food
6/30/2022 — Jacksonville, FL
Twelve percent of Americans don't have enough access to fresh food, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. The health impacts of eating processed junk food are too long to list. Food deserts are a problem across the country in big cities and small towns, however, there are some solutions to food insecurity that are making a difference.
Read full article here.

Biden administration takes additional steps to strengthen child nutrition programs
6/30/2022 — Washington, DC
The Biden Administration announced today that the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) will provide nearly $1 billion in additional funding to schools to support the purchase of American-grown foods for their meal programs. The department also applauds the President's recent signing of the Keep Kids Fed Act, which equips schools, summer meal sites, and child care food programs with extra resources so they can continue serving children through school year 2022-23. Both actions are a response to the significant challenges child nutrition program operators continue to face, such as high food costs and supply chain disruptions.
Read full article here.

Food insecurity in the US shows more adults are not getting recommended nutrition
6/30/2022
On top of food insecurity, Americans face a unique issue — many are getting enough calories, but not enough nutrients, leading to long-term health issues. Simply put, the highly-processed foods we eat are devoid of essential nutrients. Several factors contribute to this problem, and some populations are more at risk than others. Non-profits and government organizations across the nation are attempting to combat the issue, but there are also things that everyday Americans can do to help combat food inequity. So, what exactly is food insecurity, and what is causing these issues? Here we'll take an in-depth look at the meaning of food insecurity, the factors contributing to it, and the potential solutions.
Read full article here.

Physical Activity

Do you live in an 'exercise desert'?
6/30/2022
A quarter of Americans don't get enough physical activity, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). But some people may not be able to get enough exercise simply because of where they live. Some Americans live in an "exercise desert," where they have no access to an affordable gym, safe and well-lit green spaces, bike lanes, or well-maintained sidewalks.
Read full article here.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.
If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Top 15 health systems, per Fortune/IBM | Ariz. hospital lays off315 | Michael Dowling: The lost art of compromise | Payers' price postingstarts today: 8 things to know | Mich. hospital gets 1 mo. lifeline
FROM: Becker's Hospital Review <news@beckershealthcare-news.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 01/07/2022 09:30

Obesity

Pediatric Endocrinologist: 'Solutions to childhood obesity are community specific 6/30/2022 — Stevens Point, WI
One in five children in the U.S. is obese, according to the Centers for Disease Control. In an article published by UW-Madison's School of Medicine and Public Health in 2018, research shows obesity rates in Wisconsin vary dramatically by age and zip code, generally showing rural areas have higher obesity rates compared to urban and suburban areas.
Read full article here.

Stress during pregnancy can affect child's diet
6/30/2022
Mother's exposure to stress during pregnancy could have long-term detrimental effects on their children's diets, and thereby on health conditions related to diet—such as increased levels of obesity and obesity-related diseases—according to new research from Michele Belot, professor in the Cornell University Department of Economics.
Read full article here.

BECKER'S HOSPITAL REVIEW

Breastfeeding
Virtual Events • Webinars • Whitepapers • OnDemand Learning • Podcasts

Trinity Health Of New England partners with telehealth startup to help more mothers breastfeed
6/30/2022

1. Michael Dowling: The lost art of compromise Full story
2. Arizona hospital lays off 315 workers Full story

If you have a community news story that you would like to see included in the report, please send the link to commhealthmediamonitor@fhi360.org.

Full story

Get back on course with intelligent automation and outsourcing.

5. Top 15 health systems of 2022, per Fortune, IBM Full story
6. Providence nurses strike tentative labor deals Full story

We'd to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

7. There's only one way to harness healthcare data without the risk of compromising patient privacy. Click here for three real-life case studies on how AI is the future of quality improvement.
8. Michigan hospital secures loan to stay open through July Full story
9. Supreme Court won't hear challenge to New York COVID-19 vaccination mandate Full story
10. Senators quietly kill plan to overhaul VA healthcare system Full story
11. Nearly 8% of all lab orders are clinically inappropriate. Get 5 tips to improve utilization and reduce unnecessary spend here.
12. Dartmouth-Hitchcock Health CEO: 'The decision to end a pregnancy is a medical conversation, not a legal or political one' Full story
13. California hospitals must begin sharing patient data in the next year Full story
14. Physician viewpoint: How to care for patients you resent Full story
15. Stats by state:

- COVID-19 hospitalization rates
- COVID-19 test positivity rates
- Percentage of population fully vaccinated
- COVID-19 death rates
- ICU utilization
- Staffing shortages
- Booster rates
- COVID-19 vaccination rates up/down
- COVID-19 cases trend

Becker's Learning Opportunities

1. Just 31% of health systems are taking advantage of this opportunity to attract and retain patients. See what it is here.
2. Game-changing EHR improvements at Intermountain, how one hospital CIO managed to grow ranks during the pandemic and more. These 10 must-reads offer practical advice for digital health investment.
3. Pandemic-related care delays have created a wave of sicker patients. Read this short report to learn how healthcare navigation reduces clinician burden + mitigates the effects for patients.

Follow us on social media:

Twitter | Facebook | LinkedIn

Becker's Whitepapers

Analyzing laboratory ordering to manage misutilization and reduce unnecessary spend
Using AI to fill patient medication history in Epic
The Asynchronous Telemedicine Guide: Solve healthcare's biggest challenges

Companies to Know
Thank you to our key sponsors

LeanTaas | Intuitive | Amwell | Change Healthcare | Xtend Healthcare | Zotec Partners | Sound Physicians | RevSpring | Philips | VisiQuate | Insight Global Health | Accureg | Vituity | 3M Health Care | Allscripts | Notable Health | Nuance | Cardinal Health

BECKER'S HOSPITAL REVIEW | BECKER'S Clinical Leadership & Infection Control | BECKER'S ASC REVIEW | BECKER'S SPINEREVIEW

Manage Preferences Unsubscribe Forward to a friend Contact Us

17 N. State, Suite 1800 | Chicago, IL 60602

Becker's Hospital Review, A Becker's Healthcare Publication

SUBJECT: Re: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris CambellThursday Discussion/Training
FROM: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
TO: "Charri Brummer (DHS)" <cbrummer@utah.gov>
CC: Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>, "Moore, Diane" <dmoore@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 01/07/2022 11:55

Charri -

Quick question, do you think it would be valuable to meet internally first and then meet with Dr. Campbell? I know Dr. Campbell well and she is awesome; however, I do wonder if meeting internally first to get answers to specific questions that impact our Department and our front-line staff would be helpful.

What are your thoughts?

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 8:26 AM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:

> David,
>
> Thank you for the excellent guidance. We will set a meeting to include the child protection director and deputy director at the AG's Office, Dr. Campbell - a leading peditrician for child abuse cases in Utah, Nate and/or Tonya H., Sarah Welliver, yourself and DCFS (Diane, Tonya, and myself). I can work with EDO support staff to find some potential dates. We appreciate the support and guidance in this matter moving forward.
>
> Charri

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 5:23 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

Good Morning Charri -

Thank you for the e-mail and reaching-out. [redacted]

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:49 PM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:

Hi David,

Just forwarding you some very rough notes I took on a google meet hosted by the hospital in regard to Roe Vs. Wade and Dobbs Vs. Jackson Women's Health Organization and how it pertains to child welfare cases involving sexual abuse and resulting pregnancy. I saw the email that DHHS sent out when the decision came down. However, I was unclear if the DHHS attorneys are meeting and discussing how it affects DCFS child clients and how our caseworkers will respond to families and doctors and others who are already starting to reach out.

I do not want to get too many steps ahead of ourselves, and I want to assure that I am respectful of any conversations that are taking place already that I may not be aware of. There are both ethics and laws at play here. I also have absolutely no idea how Utah plans to address it with resulting state-specific laws. I would like to meet with the child protection section of the AG's Office that represents us to begin to talk about our response, but again, I would like some guidance as to whether or not DHHS is supportive of this or if other conversations are happening at a higher level. Dr. Kristine Campbell, Associate Professor in the Dept. of Pediatrics and Division of Child Protection and Family Health at the U of U, has requested to meet with us as well. She is available to meet as desired.

Please advise. Thank you so much.

Charri

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov>
Date: Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:01 PM
Subject: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris Cambell Thursday Discussion/Training
To: Charri Brummer <cbrummer@utah.gov>, Moore, Diane <dmoore@utah.gov>, Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>
Cc: Trisha Reynolds (DHS) <thepwort@utah.gov>, Veronica Argyle DHS <veronicaargyle@utah.gov>

Charri Brummer, Veronica Argyle and Trisha Reynolds were present from Utah to listen and learn. These are very rough notes.

Roe Vs. Wade and how it pertains to child abuse

[redacted]

Discussions here are only opinions. It will not be recorded. This purpose is to learn from one another only. Does not reflect opinions of the institution.

Went over history of abortion laws, changes in laws and effects to child abuse pediatrics.

Supreme Court decision made in 1973. Abortion was a fundamental right to any woman in the US. State could not pass laws prior to viability.

Dobbs VS. Jackson Women's Health Organization as a result of Mississippi that said abortion illegal after 15 weeks came down from supreme court and overturned Roe Vs. Wade.

OK is most restrictive, Utah law is quite restrictive. Every state will be slightly different for enactment

What means for pediatricians - most states will allow abortion for incest and rape.

Example: 16 year old sexually assaulted and now pregnant. What will we do now? What is the right thing to do and what is legal?

What about rights to birth control and Plan B? None of this has been affected at this time, but people are concerned this may come up in the future because of the overturning. Where does confidentiality fall into this? Is it still protected? For now, yes.

We don't really know how everything is going to filter down.

Example of very young child clearly sexually abused and pregnant. Within a day of the overturned decision coming down, Ohio put a law into place that you cannot abort after 6 weeks of pregnancy and there is no exclusion for rape or incest. They had to arrange for this mother and child to go to another state.

Legal for child welfare agencies should be meeting to determine how to respond to these. How do you discuss it with families? How do you respond when the family asks how to break the law? Etc.

Discussed "aiding and abetting". AR legal advised that they can help arrange for services out of state and not consider it aiding and abetting.

CA is expecting a huge increase in abortions in their state of others coming to CA.

How will law enforcement react to this? Will anything change with them or their services in each state?

What about an amendment to HIPAA? Could that assist in this?

As a physician, you would offer options. Now looking at ethics of this while it is worked out, anyone can walk in, so what are the ethics right now. Can they still say here are your options or do you say here is the big mess going on and the hospital doesn't have a response yet. What are doctors ethically bound to do for a child and family who is seeking an abortion, etc. We look at best interest of a patient, what will not cause harm, and justice. Ethically we know what we are ethically bound to do, but we will be held by these laws. More difficult that states are going "aiding and abetting". This doesn't change what is ethically right. This may create a type of Underground Railroad sort of system so that there are ways for people to get what they want/need.

Trisha and Veronica, anything more to add to my brief notes?

Kris Cambell is going to send out some ListServe messages.

I would recommend we set a meeting with the RDs, Carol, and Deb right away to discuss. [redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Re: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris CambellThursday Discussion/Training
FROM: "Charri Brummer (DHS)" <cbrummer@utah.gov>
TO: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
CC: Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>, "Moore, Diane" <dmoore@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 01/07/2022 11:57

Absolutely. Shall I reach out to Trudy on some dates?

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 11:55 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

> Charri -
>
> Quick question, do you think it would be valuable to meet internally first and then meet with Dr. Campbell? I know Dr. Campbell well and she is awesome; however, I do wonder if meeting internally first to get answers to specific questions that impact our Department and our front-line staff would be helpful.
>
> What are your thoughts?
>
> David
>
> David Litvack
> Deputy Director
> He/Him/His
> O: 385.382.6099
> davidlitvack@utah.gov
>
> Utah Department of Health & Human Services
>
> On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 8:26 AM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:
>
> > David,
> >
> > Thank you for the excellent guidance. We will set a meeting to include the child protection director and deputy director at the AG's Office, Dr. Campbell - a leading peditrician for child abuse cases in Utah, Nate and/or Tonya H., Sarah Welliver, yourself and DCFS (Diane, Tonya, and myself). I can work with EDO support staff to find some potential dates. We appreciate the support and guidance in this matter moving forward.
> >
> > Charri
> >
> > On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 5:23 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:
> >
> > > Good Morning Charri -
> > >
> > > Thank you for the e-mail and reaching-out. [redacted]
> > >
> > > David
> > >
> > > David Litvack
> > > Deputy Director
> > > He/Him/His
> > > O: 385.382.6099

[redacted]

davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:49 PM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:

Hi David,

Just forwarding you some very rough notes I took on a google meet hosted by the hospital in regard to Roe Vs. Wade and Dobbs Vs. Jackson Women's Health Organization and how it pertains to child welfare cases involving sexual abuse and resulting pregnancy. I saw the email that DHHS sent out when the decision came down. However, I was unclear if the DHHS attorneys are meeting and discussing how it affects DCFS child clients and how our caseworkers will respond to families and doctors and others who are already starting to reach out.

I do not want to get too many steps ahead of ourselves, and I want to assure that I am respectful of any conversations that are taking place already that I may not be aware of. There are both ethics and laws at play here. I also have absolutely no idea how Utah plans to address it with resulting state-specific laws. I would like to meet with the child protection section of the AG's Office that represents us to begin to talk about our response, but again, I would like some guidance as to whether or not DHHS is supportive of this or if other conversations are happening at a higher level. Dr. Kristine Campbell, Associate Professor in the Dept. of Pediatrics and Division of Child Protection and Family Health at the U of U, has requested to meet with us as well. She is available to meet as desired.

Please advise. Thank you so much.

Charri

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov>
Date: Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:01 PM
Subject: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris Cambell Thursday Discussion/Training
To: Charri Brummer <cbrummer@utah.gov>, Moore, Diane <dmoore@utah.gov>, Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>
Cc: Trisha Reynolds (DHS) <thepwort@utah.gov>, Veronica Argyle DHS <veronicaargyle@utah.gov>

Charri Brummer, Veronica Argyle and Trisha Reynolds were present from Utah to listen and learn. These are very rough notes.

Roe Vs. Wade and how it pertains to child abuse

Discussions here are only opinions. It will not be recorded. This purpose is to learn from one another only. Does not reflect opinions of the institution.

Went over history of abortion laws, changes in laws and effects to child abuse pediatrics.

Supreme Court decision made in 1973. Abortion was a fundamental right to any woman in the US. State could not pass laws prior to viability.

Dobbs VS. Jackson Women's Health Organization as a result of Mississippi that said abortion illegal after 15 weeks came down from supreme court and overturned Roe Vs. Wade.

OK is most restrictive, Utah law is quite restrictive. Every state will be slightly different for enactment

What means for pediatricians - most states will allow abortion for incest and rape.

Example: 16 year old sexually assaulted and now pregnant. What will we do now? What is the right thing to do and what is legal?

What about rights to birth control and Plan B? None of this has been affected at this time, but people are concerned this may come up in the future because of the overturning. Where does confidentiality fall into this? Is it still protected? For now, yes.

We don't really know how everything is going to filter down.

Example of very young child clearly sexually abused and pregnant. Within a day of the overturned decision coming down, Ohio put a law into place that you cannot abort after 6 weeks of pregnancy and there is no exclusion for rape or incest. They had to arrange for this mother and child to go to another state.

Legal for child welfare agencies should be meeting to determine how to respond to these. How do you discuss it with families? How do you respond when the family asks how to break the law? Etc.

Discussed "aiding and abetting". AR legal advised that they can help arrange for services out of state and not consider it aiding and abetting.

CA is expecting a huge increase in abortions in their state of others coming to CA.

How will law enforcement react to this? Will anything change with them or their services in each state?

What about an amendment to HIPAA? Could that assist in this?

As a physician, you would offer options. Now looking at ethics of this while it is worked out, anyone can walk in, so what are the ethics right now. Can they still say here are your options or do you say here is the big mess going on and the hospital doesn't have a response yet. What are doctors ethically bound to do for a child and family who is seeking an abortion, etc. We look at best interest of a patient, what will not cause harm, and justice. Ethically we know what we are ethically bound to do, but we will be held by these laws. More difficult that states are going "aiding and abetting". This doesn't change what is ethically right. This may create a type of Underground Railroad sort of system so that there are ways for people to get what they want/need.

Trisha and Veronica, anything more to add to my brief notes?

Kris Cambell is going to send out some ListServe messages.

I would recommend we set a meeting with the RDs, Carol, and Deb right away to discuss. [redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Re: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris CambellThursday Discussion/Training
FROM: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
TO: "Charri Brummer (DHS)" <cbrummer@utah.gov>
CC: Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>, "Moore, Diane" <dmoore@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Lori Erickson DHS <llerickson@utah.gov>
DATE: 01/07/2022 12:09

Yes - Trudy or Lori can assist with the scheduling. I am ccing Lori here for convenience

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 11:58 AM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:

> Absolutely. Shall I reach out to Trudy on some dates?
>
> On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 11:55 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:
>
> > Charri -
> >
> > Quick question, do you think it would be valuable to meet internally first and then meet with Dr. Campbell? I know Dr. Campbell well and she is awesome; however, I do wonder if meeting internally first to get answers to specific questions that impact our Department and our front-line staff would be helpful.
> >
> > What are your thoughts?
> >
> > David
> >
> > David Litvack
> > Deputy Director
> > He/Him/His
> > O: 385.382.6099
> > davidlitvack@utah.gov
> >
> > Utah Department of Health & Human Services
> >
> > On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 8:26 AM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:
> >
> > > David,
> > >
> > > Thank you for the excellent guidance. We will set a meeting to include the child protection director and deputy director at the AG's Office, Dr. Campbell - a leading peditrician for child abuse cases in Utah, Nate and/or Tonya H., Sarah Welliver, yourself and DCFS (Diane, Tonya, and myself). I can work with EDO support staff to find some potential dates. We appreciate the support and guidance in this matter moving forward.
> > >
> > > Charri
> > >
> > > On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 5:23 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

[redacted]

Good Morning Charri -

Thank you for the e-mail and reaching-out. [redacted]

[redacted]

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:49 PM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:

> Hi David,
>
> Just forwarding you some very rough notes I took on a google meet hosted by the hospital in regard to Roe Vs. Wade and Dobbs Vs. Jackson Women's Health Organization and how it pertains to child welfare cases involving sexual abuse and resulting pregnancy. I saw the email that DHHS sent out when the decision came down. However, I was unclear if the DHHS attorneys are meeting and discussing how it affects DCFS child clients and how our caseworkers will respond to families and doctors and others who are already starting to reach out.
>
> I do not want to get too many steps ahead of ourselves, and I want to assure that I am respectful of any conversations that are taking place already that I may not be aware of. There are both ethics and laws at play here. I also have absolutely no idea how Utah plans to address it with resulting state-specific laws. I would like to meet with the child protection section of the AG's Office that represents us to begin to talk about our response, but again, I would like some guidance as to whether or not DHHS is supportive of this or if other conversations are happening at a higher level. Dr. Kristine Campbell, Associate Professor in the Dept. of Pediatrics and Division of Child Protection and Family Health at the U of U, has requested to meet with us as well. She is available to meet as desired.
>
> Please advise. Thank you so much.
>
> Charri
>
> ---------- Forwarded message ---------
> From: Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov>
> Date: Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:01 PM
> Subject: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris Cambell Thursday Discussion/Training
> To: Charri Brummer <cbrummer@utah.gov>, Moore, Diane <dmoore@utah.gov>, Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>
> Cc: Trisha Reynolds (DHS) <thepwort@utah.gov>, Veronica Argyle DHS <veronicaargyle@utah.gov>
>
> Charri Brummer, Veronica Argyle and Trisha Reynolds were present from Utah to listen and learn. These are very rough notes.
>
> Roe Vs. Wade and how it pertains to child abuse
>
> Discussions here are only opinions. It will not be recorded. This purpose is to learn from one another only. Does not reflect opinions of the institution.

[redacted]

Went over history of abortion laws, changes in laws and effects to child abuse pediatrics.

Supreme Court decision made in 1973. Abortion was a fundamental right to any woman in the US. State could not pass laws prior to viability.

Dobbs VS. Jackson Women's Health Organization as a result of Mississippi that said abortion illegal after 15 weeks came down from supreme court and overturned Roe Vs. Wade.

OK is most restrictive, Utah law is quite restrictive. Every state will be slightly different for enactment

What means for pediatricians - most states will allow abortion for incest and rape.

Example: 16 year old sexually assaulted and now pregnant. What will we do now? What is the right thing to do and what is legal?

What about rights to birth control and Plan B? None of this has been affected at this time, but people are concerned this may come up in the future because of the overturning. Where does confidentiality fall into this? Is it still protected? For now, yes.

We don't really know how everything is going to filter down.

Example of very young child clearly sexually abused and pregnant. Within a day of the overturned decision coming down, Ohio put a law into place that you cannot abort after 6 weeks of pregnancy and there is no exclusion for rape or incest. They had to arrange for this mother and child to go to another state.

Legal for child welfare agencies should be meeting to determine how to respond to these. How do you discuss it with families? How do you respond when the family asks how to break the law? Etc.

Discussed "aiding and abetting". AR legal advised that they can help arrange for services out of state and not consider it aiding and abetting.

CA is expecting a huge increase in abortions in their state of others coming to CA.

How will law enforcement react to this? Will anything change with them or their services in each state?

What about an amendment to HIPAA? Could that assist in this?

As a physician, you would offer options. Now looking at ethics of this while it is worked out, anyone can walk in, so what are the ethics right now. Can they still say here are your options or do you say here is the big mess going on and the hospital doesn't have a response yet. What are doctors ethically bound to do for a child and family who is seeking an abortion, etc. We look at best interest of a patient, what will not cause harm, and justice. Ethically we know what we are ethically bound to do, but we will be held by these laws. More difficult that states are going "aiding and abetting". This doesn't change what is ethically right. This may create a type of Underground Railroad sort of system so that there are ways for people to get what they want/need.

Trisha and Veronica, anything more to add to my brief notes?

Kris Cambell is going to send out some ListServe messages.

I would recommend we set a meeting with the RDs, Carol, and Deb right away to discuss. [redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Re: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris CambellThursday Discussion/Training
FROM: "Charri Brummer (DHS)" <cbrummer@utah.gov>
TO: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
CC: Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>, "Moore, Diane" <dmoore@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Lori Erickson DHS <llerickson@utah.gov>
DATE: 01/07/2022 12:16

Perfect, thanks so much. Lori, I will reach out directly. We will meet internally first.

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 12:09 PM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

> Yes - Trudy or Lori can assist with the scheduling. I am ccing Lori here for convenience
> David Litvack
> Deputy Director
> He/Him/His
> O: 385.382.6099
> davidlitvack@utah.gov
>
> Utah Department of Health & Human Services
>
> On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 11:58 AM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:
> > Absolutely. Shall I reach out to Trudy on some dates?
> >
> > On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 11:55 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:
> > > Charri -
> > >
> > > Quick question, do you think it would be valuable to meet internally first and then meet with Dr. Campbell? I know Dr. Campbell well and she is awesome; however, I do wonder if meeting internally first to get answers to specific questions that impact our Department and our front-line staff would be helpful.
> > >
> > > What are your thoughts?
> > >
> > > David
> > >
> > > David Litvack
> > > Deputy Director
> > > He/Him/His
> > > O: 385.382.6099
> > > davidlitvack@utah.gov
> > >
> > > Utah Department of Health & Human Services
> > >
> > > On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 8:26 AM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:
> > > > David,
> > > >
> > > > Thank you for the excellent guidance. We will set a meeting to include the child protection director and deputy director at the AG's Office, Dr. Campbell - a leading peditrician for child abuse cases in Utah, Nate and/or Tonya H., Sarah Welliver, yourself and DCFS (Diane, Tonya, and myself). I can work with EDO support staff to find some potential dates. We appreciate the support and guidance in this matter moving forward.
> > > >
> > > > Charri
> > > >
> > > > On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 5:23 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:
> > > > > Good Morning Charri -
> > > > >
> > > > > Thank you for the e-mail and reaching-out. [redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:49 PM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:

Hi David,

Just forwarding you some very rough notes I took on a google meet hosted by the hospital in regard to Roe Vs. Wade and Dobbs Vs. Jackson Women's Health Organization and how it pertains to child welfare cases involving sexual abuse and resulting pregnancy. I saw the email that DHHS sent out when the decision came down. However, I was unclear if the DHHS attorneys are meeting and discussing how it affects DCFS child clients and how our caseworkers will respond to families and doctors and others who are already starting to reach out.

I do not want to get too many steps ahead of ourselves, and I want to assure that I am respectful of any conversations that are taking place already that I may not be aware of. There are both ethics and laws at play here. I also have absolutely no idea how Utah plans to address it with resulting state-specific laws. I would like to meet with the child protection section of the AG's Office that represents us to begin to talk about our response, but again, I would like some guidance as to whether or not DHHS is supportive of this or if other conversations are happening at a higher level. Dr. Kristine Campbell, Associate Professor in the Dept. of Pediatrics and Division of Child Protection and Family Health at the U of U, has requested to meet with us as well. She is available to meet as desired.

Please advise. Thank you so much.

Charri

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov>
Date: Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:01 PM
Subject: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris Cambell Thursday Discussion/Training
To: Charri Brummer <cbrummer@utah.gov>, Moore, Diane <dmoore@utah.gov>, Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>
Cc: Trisha Reynolds (DHS) <thepwort@utah.gov>, Veronica Argyle DHS <veronicaargyle@utah.gov>

Charri Brummer, Veronica Argyle and Trisha Reynolds were present from Utah to listen and learn. These are very rough notes.

Roe Vs. Wade and how it pertains to child abuse

Discussions here are only opinions. It will not be recorded. This purpose is to learn from one another only. Does not reflect opinions of the institution.

Went over history of abortion laws, changes in laws and effects to child abuse pediatrics.

Supreme Court decision made in 1973. Abortion was a fundamental right to any woman in the US. State could not pass laws prior to viability.

Dobbs VS. Jackson Women's Health Organization as a result of Mississippi that said abortion illegal after 15 weeks came down from supreme court and overturned Roe Vs. Wade.

[redacted]

OK is most restrictive, Utah law is quite restrictive. Every state will be slightly different for enactment

What means for pediatricians - most states will allow abortion for incest and rape.

Example: 16 year old sexually assaulted and now pregnant. What will we do now? What is the right thing to do and what is legal?

What about rights to birth control and Plan B? None of this has been affected at this time, but people are concerned this may come up in the future because of the overturning. Where does confidentiality fall into this? Is it still protected? For now, yes.

We don't really know how everything is going to filter down.

Example of very young child clearly sexually abused and pregnant. Within a day of the overturned decision coming down, Ohio put a law into place that you cannot abort after 6 weeks of pregnancy and there is no exclusion for rape or incest. They had to arrange for this mother and child to go to another state.

Legal for child welfare agencies should be meeting to determine how to respond to these. How do you discuss it with families? How do you respond when the family asks how to break the law? Etc.

Discussed "aiding and abetting". AR legal advised that they can help arrange for services out of state and not consider it aiding and abetting.

CA is expecting a huge increase in abortions in their state of others coming to CA.

How will law enforcement react to this? Will anything change with them or their services in each state?

What about an amendment to HIPAA? Could that assist in this?

As a physician, you would offer options. Now looking at ethics of this while it is worked out, anyone can walk in, so what are the ethics right now. Can they still say here are your options or do you say here is the big mess going on and the hospital doesn't have a response yet. What are doctors ethically bound to do for a child and family who is seeking an abortion, etc. We look at best interest of a patient, what will not cause harm, and justice. Ethically we know what we are ethically bound to do, but we will be held by these laws. More difficult that states are going "aiding and abetting". This doesn't change what is ethically right. This may create a type of Underground Railroad sort of system so that there are ways for people to get what they want/need.

Trisha and Veronica, anything more to add to my brief notes?

Kris Cambell is going to send out some ListServe messages.

I would recommend we set a meeting with the RDs, Carol, and Deb right away to discuss. [redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 12:08 PM Kim Kettle DHS <kkettle@utah.gov> wrote:

Hi All,

[redacted]

SUBJECT: White House Health Updates + Call Invite
FROM: White House Office of Public Engagement <ope@who.eop.gov>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 01/07/2022 15:23

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Health Community Updates

Friends – Please join us for our next bi-weekly White House Health Community Call on Wednesday, July 13th at 2:30pm ET. You can RSVP here. Please invite colleagues and members of your community – all are welcome.

Below are several important updates from this week. We are wishing you and yours a happy 4th of July weekend.

Key Resources on the Administration's Commitment to Protecting Reproductive Rights

- Video: President Biden's Remarks on the Supreme Court Decision
- ReproductiveRights.gov: The Administration launched a website on your right to access reproductive health care, including birth control, abortion services, other preventative health services, and health insurance coverage.

[redacted]

- White House Fact Sheet (6/24/22): President Biden Announces Actions in Light of Supreme Court Decision on Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization
- HHS Release: Secretaries Becerra, Walsh, and Yellen Underscore Contraception Coverage Requirements for Private Insurance
- Secretary Becerra's Announcements: HHS and Secretary Becerra answered the President's call for action on reproductive health care, announcing five key actions
- HHS: Guidance to Protect Patient Privacy in Wake of Supreme Court Decision on Roe
- HHS: New Grants to Bolster Family Planner Provider Training
- Video: What You Need to Know from Jennifer Klein, Director of the White House GPC
- POTUS Tweet: Supporting Changing Filibuster Rules to Codify Roe v. Wade into Law

Updated Infant Formula Resources

- US Department of Health and Human Services Infant Formula Website: hhs.gov/formula
- US Department of Health and Human Services Infant Formula Social Media Toolkit: https://www.hhs.gov/formula/social-media-toolkit/index.html
- White House Fact Sheet on the Biden-Harris Administration's Progress Addressing the Infant Formula Shortage: https://www.whitehouse.gov/briefing-room/statements-releases/2022/06/17/fact-sheet-the-biden-harris-administrations-progress-addressing-the-infant-formula-shortage/
- White House Infant Formula Website: https://www.whitehouse.gov/formula
- Tweet from Second Gentleman Douglas Emhoff to amplify: https://twitter.com/SecondGentleman/status/1539616593306599426

DHS Statement on Supreme Court Decision on MPP (Full statement below)

As Secretary Mayorkas concluded in October 2021 after a thorough review, the prior Administration's Migrant Protection Protocols (MPP) has endemic flaws, imposes unjustifiable human costs, and pulls resources and personnel away from other priority efforts to secure our border. We welcome the Supreme Court's decision affirming that the Secretary has the discretionary authority to terminate the program, and we will continue our efforts to terminate the program as soon as legally permissible.

The Department also continues to enforce our immigration laws at the border and administer consequences for those who enter unlawfully, and will continue the court-mandated enforcement of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's Title 42 public health order.

FACT SHEET: Biden-Harris Administration's Monkeypox Outbreak Response

This week, the Biden-Harris Administration announced the first phase of its national monkeypox vaccine strategy, a critical part of its monkeypox outbreak response. The vaccine strategy will help immediately address the spread of the virus by providing vaccines across the country to individuals at high risk. This phase of the strategy aims to rapidly deploy vaccines in the most affected communities and mitigate the spread of the disease. You can read more here.

FACT SHEET: Health Sector Leaders Join Biden Administration's Pledge to Reduce Greenhouse Gas Emissions 50% by 2030

Yesterday, the Biden-Harris Administration announced that 61 of the largest U.S. hospital and health sector companies responded to the Administration's Health Sector Climate Pledge, committing to reduce greenhouse gas emissions 50% by 2030. The new commitments represent over 650 hospitals and thousands of other providers across the country, and include plans to strengthen resilience to climate change, protect public health, and lower costs. The health care sector accounts for 8.5% of U.S. emissions, so these bold commitments advance President Biden's goal to reduce nationwide greenhouse gas emissions 50-52% in 2030 and reach net-zero emissions in 2050. You can read more here.

Briefing on Long-Term Effect of COVID-19

The White House Office of Public Engagement invites you to join us for a briefing on Friday, July 15th at 4pm ET. The purpose of this briefing is to share an update on the status of reports on the long-term effects of COVID-19 with nongovernmental experts, organizations, and interested parties, including individuals affected directly by the long-term effects of COVID-19. Featured speakers include Admiral Rachel L. Levine, MD, Assistant Secretary for Health and Rear Admiral Michael F. Iademarco, MD, MPH, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Science and Medicine (OASH), and other members of the Long COVID workgroups and team. Questions submitted in advance will be given priority; live questions will be accepted if time allows. This call is closed press, open registration, and free to share widely with your networks! ASL and CART will be provided.

RSVP here: https://pitc.zoomgov.com/webinar/register/WN_B7res8ipTXKLPbnkLcAEvQ

988 Toolkit and Jobs Website

The U.S. is getting close to the July 16 transition to 988 – the easy-to-remember number to reach the existing National Suicide Prevention Lifeline. This transition is an important step to strengthening and transforming the crisis care continuum in the U.S.

To help our partners communicate about 988, SAMHSA has added downloadable print files for wallet cards, magnets, and posters to its 988 Partner Toolkit. The toolkit already includes logo and brand guidelines , key messages, frequently asked questions, fact sheets (English and Spanish), radio PSA scripts (English and Spanish), and more. SAMHSA is also working to make the print materials available for ordering from the SAMHSA store and will be adding social media shareables by mid-July about the basics of 988.

SAMHSA continues to hold convenings with state, territorial, and tribal leaders – as well as crisis contact centers, public safety answering points, and behavioral health providers – to prepare for 988. One of the most urgent needs involves staffing at crisis centers. Anyone interested in serving in these critical positions is encouraged to visit the 988 jobs web page.

All best,

White House Office of Public Engagement

STAY IN THE KNOW

Share and amplify our community updates by encouraging your networks to sign up to receive this newsletter using the following link.

http://eepurl.com/hIdkdf

PRIVACY POLICY | UNSUBSCRIBE

SUBJECT: Covid Vax info request
FROM: Laura Munson <lauramunsonrn@gmail.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 01/07/2022 18:41

Dear Heather Borski;

My name is Laura Munson. I am an RN in Utah. I have questions regarding data on adverse reactions to the different Covid Vaccines. Many patients want to know which reactions are most likely in each of the options, the prevalence of such reactions per age group and underlying patient medical conditions, including pregnancy. I have also been asked to help patients who have adverse reactions which are and sometimes are not acknowledged by their physicians. This impacts the ability to achieve effective care.

Does Utah have detailed data on adverse events happening locally? How often is the data on events and trends updated? Where can I find a detailed and updated consent form? Does the Health Department have a training program for medical professionals where they learn how to handle expected adverse events and get patients the help they need? How is the Health Department monitoring informed consent? What honest information regarding the pros and cons of these shots are being provided to the public as has been done with other pharmaceutical products?

Thank you for your time and attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

[redacted]

[redacted]
Laura Munson RN

Reply Forward

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health Presented by Better Medicare Alliance:What's Ahead & Week in Review
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 03/07/2022 07:31

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

JULY 3, 2022

BY GABY GALVIN

Twitter Email

As a valued Morning Consult subscriber, your feedback is critical to Morning Consult's product development. We'd like to ask five short questions about your experience with Morning Consult's news and analysis: Take the survey now.

Good morning all, and welcome back. We hope you're enjoying the holiday weekend — we'll be off tomorrow and back in your inboxes Tuesday. For our weekly quiz: What share of women voters approve of the Supreme Court's decision to strike down Roe v. Wade?

A: 21%
B: 33%
C: 46%
D: 59%
E: 63%

Check out the answer at the bottom of today's newsletter.

What's Ahead

The calendar is light this week with both the House and Senate out of town for the July 4 recess, but the health policy train moves on. Democrats are looking to resurrect a pared-back version of their social spending package in the coming weeks, after party leaders finalized a deal on drug pricing reform following private discussions between Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-N.Y.) and Sen. Joe Manchin (D-W.Va.). Keep an eye on Sen. Kyrsten Sinema (D-Ariz.), who played a key role in scaling back her party's Medicare drug negotiation proposal last fall.

[redacted]

Abortion will continue to dominate headlines this week, as states navigate new restrictions and providers file lawsuits to block them. After a flurry of executive measures that address abortion access along the margins, President Joe Biden's call for the Senate to change its filibuster rules in order to enshrine abortion rights into federal law puts pressure back on Democratic lawmakers, given the chances that the divided Senate could pass such a bill are all but zero.

Washington Post Live will host a discussion on Black maternal mortality with filmmaker Tonya Lewis Lee at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Lee's new documentary, "Aftershock," follows the aftermath of the deaths of two Black women in childbirth. Keep in mind: Maternal deaths jumped during the pandemic, particularly among Hispanic and Black women, who are already more likely than white women to die or suffer a near-miss around pregnancy.

Events Calendar

View Full Calendar

PRESENTED BY BETTER MEDICARE ALLIANCE

More Seniors Are Choosing Medicare Advantage - See Enrollment Data in Your Community

With average annual savings of nearly $2,000 for consumers, lower per-beneficiary government spending, and a 94% beneficiary satisfaction rate, Medicare Advantage is now the leading choice of Medicare coverage for seniors in more than 120 Congressional districts nationwide. What's more, 31 states have MA enrollment rates of more than 40%. Medicare Advantage is working for more than 28 million Americans. Let's protect this bipartisan healthcare success story.

Week in Review

Abortion: Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra cautioned that there is "no magic bullet" to preserve abortion access after the fall of Roe v. Wade. The Biden administration is taking a number of steps, including ensuring federal health insurance programs cover medication abortion in certain cases and shoring up medical privacy guidelines for abortion seekers. Meanwhile, Becerra and Labor Secretary Marty Walsh met with major health insurers to ensure they comply with federal rules to offer contraceptives without co-pays. Biden said the U.S. government would protect women who cross state lines to seek abortion care and ensure medication abortion approved by the Food and Drug Administration is accessible across the country.

COVID-19 vaccines: Vaccine manufacturers are poised to update their COVID-19 shots for a fall booster campaign, after the FDA said that omicron-specific vaccines should be made available. Pfizer Inc. and BioNTech SE said their modified COVID-19 booster shot offered strong protection, and the Biden administration said it will buy another 105 million doses of the vaccine for the booster push, with funding for the $3.2 billion deal coming from earlier pandemic relief packages amid congressional gridlock over more aid.

Monkeypox: The Biden administration launched its monkeypox vaccination plan amid the international outbreak, saying it will make 296,000 doses of a monkeypox shot available to eligible Americans. In the coming months, a combined 1.6 million additional doses will be made available.

STAT OF THE WEEK

65%

The share of voters who said they're in favor of federal bans on tobacco-flavored vaping products, after the FDA ordered Juul Labs Inc. to take its products off the U.S. market.

THE MOST READ STORIES THIS WEEK

1) Government Watchdogs Attack Medicare Advantage for Denying Care and Overcharging
Fred Schulte, Kaiser Health News

2) After Slow Start, States Are Flush With COVID-19 Antiviral Pills. But Federal Data Shows Some Are Slow to Give Them Out
Gaby Galvin, Morning Consult

3) His-and-Hers Cataract Surgeries, But His Bill Was 20 Times as Much
Angela Hart, Kaiser Health News

4) CMS rolls out new payment model on improving cancer treatments
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare

5) How the Supreme Court abortion ruling changes health care
Sarah Owermohle and Krista Mahr, Politico

6) Democrats forge ahead on drug pricing, eyeing wider deal with Manchin
Tony Romm, The Washington Post

7) Biden must take stronger action on abortion, Senate Democrats say
Sarah McCammon, NPR News

8) Employers Hope FTC Probe of Pharmacy Benefits Eases Drug Prices
Sarah Hansard, Bloomberg Law

9) Top Biden officials press insurers on contraceptive coverage
Sarah Owermohle, Politico

10) 100 lawmakers ask HHS to use controversial federal laws to combat high drug prices
Ed Silverman, Stat News

OTHER HEALTH NEWS

- Biden signs law requiring more VA transparency on EHR rollout costs (Healthcare Dive)
- Supreme Court lets vaccine mandate stand without religious exemption (The Washington Post)
- Supreme Court rules that doctors need to knowingly misprescribe opioids for it to be a crime (Stat News)
- House Democrats Renew Bid to Expand Federal Abortion Funding (Bloomberg)
- Walgreens Shifts Into Recession Mode as Covid Boom Fades (The Wall Street Journal)
- California Approves $1.3 Billion in Health-Care Worker Stipends (Bloomberg Law)
- Oklahoma reaches $250 mln opioid settlement with drug distributors (Reuters)
- Nursing Homes Face Tougher Inspections, Infection Controls (Bloomberg Law)

The answer to this week's quiz is B: 33% of women voters — and 40% of voters overall — approve of the Supreme Court's decision to overturn the landmark abortion rights ruling. Read more here: Half of Voters Disapprove of Supreme Court Ruling to Overturn Roe v. Wade

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.

SUBSCRIBE

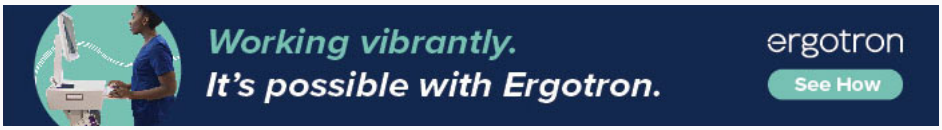
This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: 26 exec moves | The hospital with greatest COVID strain in 19cities | 15 best, worst states for retirement | Hospitals grapple withlegal questions in end of Roe | 15 CEO + CFO job opportunities
FROM: Becker's Hospital Review <news@beckershealthcare-news.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 03/07/2022 08:16

July 3, 2022

BECKER'S HOSPITAL REVIEW

Virtual Events • Webinars • Whitepapers • OnDemand Learning • Podcasts



1. 26 recent hospital, health system executive moves Full story
2. The hospital with the greatest COVID-19 burden in 19 cities Full story
3. The 15 best, worst states for retirement in 2022 Full story
4. The tumultuous events of the past few years have increased pressure on hospitals and health systems, and irrevocably impacted how they operate. Read more about AI's role in achieving healthcare ROI.
5. HCA hospitals make 16 leadership changes Full story
6. 10 hospitals seeking CFOs Full story
7. Don't overlook providers' schedules in your efforts to combat burnout. Here's the innovative approach Ochsner Health is taking.
8. Hospitals in less competitive regions have higher price transparency compliance: JAMA Full story
9. 10 most active private equity firms in healthcare Full story
10. 'There are billions of dollars being wasted': What CIOs think of digital health startups Full story
11. Curious about AI's place in cardiology? Demystify AI and learn how to make it part of your digital strategy.
12. 5 hospitals seeking CEOs Full story
13. 13 supply chain leaders on priorities for the rest of 2022 Full story
14. After Supreme Court abortion decision, hospitals grapple with uncertain legal landscape Full story

Becker's Learning Opportunities

1. Balancing healthcare's digital and physical realms may not be as difficult as it seems. Click here to find the best practices for navigating both domains.
2. Is your organization meeting evolving marketing and user engagement needs? Learn how a CDP helps health marketers individualize their

Becker's Whitepapers

Analyzing laboratory ordering to manage misutilization and reduce unnecessary spend outreach strategies.

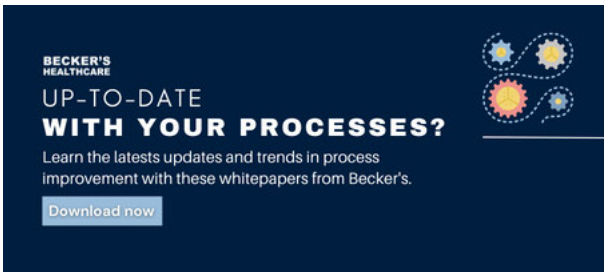
3. 40% of Americans live in regions with limited access to mental health professionals. Here is a step-by-step map of a better behavioral healthcare journey for all.

Using AI to fill patient medication history in Epic

Endoscopic infection control: A new way to avoid device-related infection



Companies to Know
Thank you to our key sponsors

LeanTaas | Intuitive | Amwell | Change Healthcare | Xtend Healthcare | Zotec Partners | Sound Physicians | RevSpring | Philips | VisiQuate | Insight Global Health | Accureg | Vituity | 3M Health Care | Allscripts | Notable Health | Nuance | Cardinal Health

BECKER'S HOSPITAL REVIEW | BECKER'S Clinical Leadership & Infection Control | BECKER'S ASC REVIEW | BECKER'S SPINEREVIEW

Manage Preferences Unsubscribe Forward to a friend Contact Us

17 N. State, Suite 1800 | Chicago, IL 60602

Becker's Hospital Review, A Becker's Healthcare Publication

SUBJECT: Re: Spreadsheet shared with you: "State Resources for Mothers and Families"
FROM: Sarah Welliver DHS <swelliver@utah.gov>
TO: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
CC: Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov>, "Tracy Gruber (DHS)" <tracygruber@utah.gov>, Paul Ray DHS <pray@utah.gov>, Amanda Slater DHS <aslater@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Michelle Hofmann <mhofmann@utah.gov>, Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov>, Nate Winters DHS <natewinters@utah.gov>, Tonya Hales <thales@utah.gov>, Joe Dougherty DHS <joedougherty@utah.gov>
DATE: 03/07/2022 08:20

Is this meant to be a complete list of available resources for pregnant individuals or parents with newborns? Families with children of any age?

There are definitely resources missing, but I'm not sure what the goal of this document is. I know Marc you mentioned wanting to share this with legislators and constituents.

DCFS worked with 211 Utah to create a website with parent resources, including crisis nurseries, respite care, etc. https://uw.org/211/family-strengthening/

Was this a legislative request? I want to be able to efficiently support you all on Tuesday, especially with the deadline. Any clarity will help me put something together, and loop in DCFS if needed for assistance. Thank you!

Sarah

On Sun, Jul 3, 2022 at 8:12 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

Marc -

Sorry for the weekend e-mail, but I thought I better e-mail since your goal is to complete this document by COB Tuesday.

One program I did not see listed is the Newborn Safe Haven Program. This program is currently run out of PAE. DCFS plays a significant role once a parent leaves a newborn at a hospital (or other designated location).

Do we want to add this program to the resource list?

[Heather - are you aware of any programs with the Division of Population Health that may need to be included here? I am not sure if Janae has already reviewed this document, but thought I would start by asking you]

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 5:45 PM Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

> Thanks Tracy. We'll make sure this is ready to send out by COB on Tuesday.
>
> Marc B. Watterson
> Director
> Office of Legislative Affairs
> C: 385.321.6473
> mwatterson@utah.gov
>
> Utah Department of Health & Human Services
> Legislative Affairs
>
> * IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
> This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.
>
> If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 2:20 PM Tracy Gruber (DHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:

> Thank you!
>
> I would like to get this formatted since we will be sending it to all lawmakers.
>
> Tracy S. Gruber
> Executive Director
> O: 435.772.6550
> tracygruber@utah.gov
>
> Utah Department of Health & Human Services

[redacted]

On Wed, Jun 29, 2022 at 4:27 PM Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

It sounds like staff now have this information updated.

Do you want us to work with Comms to get this formatted in a way that would make it easier to share with legislators (and for them to share with their constituents)?

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Fri, Jun 24, 2022 at 8:53 PM Tracy Gruber (DHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:

Thank you Paul!

Please make sure to get this document populated as soon as possible. Thank you!

Tracy

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jun 24, 2022 at 11:29 AM Paul Ray DHS (via Google Sheets) <drive-shares-dm-noreply@google.com> wrote:

[redacted]

Paul Ray DHS shared a spreadsheet

Paul Ray DHS (pray@utah.gov) has invited you to edit the following spreadsheet:

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

Google LLC, 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA
You have received this email because pray@utah.gov shared a spreadsheet with you from Google Sheets.

Google Workspace

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--
Sarah Welliver
Public Information Officer
C: 801.520.2777
swelliver@utah.gov
hs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Public Affairs & Education

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Spreadsheet shared with you: "State Resources for Mothers and Families"
FROM: Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov>
TO: Sarah Welliver DHS <swelliver@utah.gov>
CC: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov>, Paul Ray DHS <pray@utah.gov>, Amanda Slater DHS

<aslater@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Michelle Hofmann <mhofmann@utah.gov>, Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov>, Nate Winters DHS <natewinters@utah.gov>, Tonya Hales <thales@utah.gov>, Joe Dougherty DHS <joedougherty@utah.gov>
DATE: 04/07/2022 06:12

This was the legislative request and yes, it should be as comprehensive as possible. I told Rep. Peterson we would have it for her early this week. She made the request on June 23 so this should be ready to be send soon. Thank you!

Tracy,

The Republican women in the legislature have been discussing how we best support women prior to a pregnancy, through a pregnancy, and after they give birth. We were hoping you could help us highlight existing programs the state provides for these scenarios. We do not want to duplicate existing services and we want to amplify what already exists. If you also have observations about where you see gaps, we would welcome your thoughts. I have copied the Republican women, and would ask you to reply all.

Thank you, we appreciate your help.

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Sun, Jul 3, 2022 at 8:21 AM Sarah Welliver DHS <swelliver@utah.gov> wrote:

Is this meant to be a complete list of available resources for pregnant individuals or parents with newborns? Families with children of any age?

There are definitely resources missing, but I'm not sure what the goal of this document is. I know Marc you mentioned wanting to share this with legislators and constituents.

DCFS worked with 211 Utah to create a website with parent resources, including crisis nurseries, respite care, etc. https://uw.org/211/family-strengthening/

Was this a legislative request? I want to be able to efficiently support you all on Tuesday, especially with the deadline. Any clarity will help me put something together, and loop in DCFS if needed for assistance. Thank you!

Sarah

On Sun, Jul 3, 2022 at 8:12 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

Marc -

Sorry for the weekend e-mail, but I thought I better e-mail since your goal is to complete this document by COB Tuesday.

One program I did not see listed is the Newborn Safe Haven Program. This program is currently run out of PAE. DCFS plays a significant role once a parent leaves a newborn at a hospital (or other designated location).

Do we want to add this program to the resource list?

[Heather - are you aware of any programs with the Division of Population Health that may need to be included here? I am not sure if Janae has already reviewed this document, but thought I would start by asking you]

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

[redacted]

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 5:45 PM Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Thanks Tracy. We'll make sure this is ready to send out by COB on Tuesday.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 2:20 PM Tracy Gruber (DHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:

Thank you!

I would like to get this formatted since we will be sending it to all lawmakers.

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Wed, Jun 29, 2022 at 4:27 PM Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

It sounds like staff now have this information updated.

Do you want us to work with Comms to get this formatted in a way that would make it easier to share with legislators (and for them to share with their constituents)?

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

[redacted]

On Fri, Jun 24, 2022 at 8:53 PM Tracy Gruber (DHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:

Thank you Paul!

Please make sure to get this document populated as soon as possible. Thank you!

Tracy
Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jun 24, 2022 at 11:29 AM Paul Ray DHS (via Google Sheets) <drive-shares-dm-noreply@google.com> wrote:

Paul Ray DHS shared a spreadsheet

Paul Ray DHS (pray@utah.gov) has invited you to edit the following spreadsheet:

[redacted]

[redacted]

Google LLC, 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA
You have received this email because pray@utah.gov shared a spreadsheet with you from Google Sheets.

Google Workspace

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

[redacted]

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--
Sarah Welliver
Public Information Officer
C: 801.520.2777
swelliver@utah.gov
hs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Public Affairs & Education

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Fwd: Covid vax question
FROM: Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov>
TO: Melissa Stevens Dimond <melissastevens@utah.gov>, Janae Duncan <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov>, Donovan Bergstrom DHS <dbergst@utah.gov>, Michelle Hofmann <mhofmann@utah.gov>
DATE: 04/07/2022 18:16

Another line of questions on vaccines that probably would be best for Dr. Nolen

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 6:37 PM Laura Munson <lauramunsonrn@gmail.com> wrote:
Dear Nate Checketts;

My name is Laura Munson. I am an RN in Utah. I have questions regarding data on adverse reactions to the different Covid Vaccines. Many patients want to know which reactions are most likely in each of the options, the prevalence of such reactions per age group and underlying patient medical conditions, including pregnancy. I have also been asked to help patients who have adverse reactions which are and sometimes are not acknowledged by their physicians. This impacts the ability to achieve effective care.

Does Utah have detailed data on adverse events happening locally? How often is the data on events and trends updated? Where can I find a detailed and updated consent form? Does the Health Department have a training program for medical professionals where they learn how to handle expected adverse events and get patients the help they need? How is the Health Department monitoring informed consent? What honest information regarding the pros and cons of these shots are being provided to the public as has been done with other pharmaceutical products?

Thank you for your time and attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Laura Munson RN

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Covid vax question
FROM: Melissa Stevens Dimond <melissastevens@utah.gov>
TO: Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov>
CC: Janae Duncan <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov>, Donovan Bergstrom DHS

<dbergst@utah.gov>, Michelle Hofmann <mhofmann@utah.gov>
DATE: 04/07/2022 19:08

Thanks, Nate; I received the same email from Ms Munson Fri night and was planning to follow-up tomorrow; I think it is wise to have a consistent message. I agree Dr. Nolen would be well-suited to reply. I can follow-up with her on the two you received tomorrow, unless a different approach is recommended.

I think it would be a good idea to build a FAQ/retain an inventory of responses for reference, perhaps, in case we continue receiving these inquiries, and to ensure the Immunizations Program is aware-they may be receiving/responding as well; I will forward them on tomorrow to Rich and Cindy and let them know we are asking Dr. Nolen to reply.

Thank you and hope everyone has had a nice weekend,
Melissa

Sent from my iPhone

> On Jul 4, 2022, at 6:16 PM, Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov> wrote:
>
> Another line of questions on vaccines that probably would be best for Dr. Nolen
>
> On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 6:37 PM Laura Munson <lauramunsonrn@gmail.com> wrote:
> Dear Nate Checketts;
>
> My name is Laura Munson. I am an RN in Utah. I have questions regarding data on adverse reactions to the different Covid Vaccines. Many patients want to know which reactions are most likely in each of the options, the prevalence of such reactions per age group and underlying patient medical conditions, including pregnancy. I have also been asked to help patients who have adverse reactions which are and sometimes are not acknowledged by their physicians. This impacts the ability to achieve effective care.
>
> Does Utah have detailed data on adverse events happening locally? How often is the data on events and trends updated? Where can I find a detailed and updated consent form? Does the Health Department have a training program for medical professionals where they learn how to handle expected adverse events and get patients the help they need? How is the Health Department monitoring informed consent? What honest information regarding the pros and cons of these shots are being provided to the public as has been done with other pharmaceutical products?
>
> Thank you for your time and attention to this matter.
>
> Sincerely,
> Laura Munson RN
>
> * IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
> This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.
>
> If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Covid vax question
FROM: Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov>
TO: Melissa Stevens Dimond <melissastevens@utah.gov>
CC: Janae Duncan <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov>, Donovan Bergstrom DHS <dbergst@utah.gov>, Michelle Hofmann <mhofmann@utah.gov>
DATE: 04/07/2022 20:55

I agree that an FAQ bank of questions and responses is a good idea. I am guessing we will get other similar requests.

[redacted]

Thanks,

Nate

On Mon, Jul 4, 2022 at 7:08 PM Melissa Stevens Dimond <melissastevens@utah.gov> wrote:

Thanks, Nate; I received the same email from Ms Munson Fri night and was planning to follow-up tomorrow; I think it is wise to have a consistent message. I agree Dr. Nolen would be well-suited to reply. I can follow-up with her on the two you received tomorrow, unless a different approach is recommended.

I think it would be a good idea to build a FAQ/retain an inventory of responses for reference, perhaps, in case we continue receiving these inquiries, and to ensure the Immunizations Program is aware-they may be receiving/responding as well; I will forward them on tomorrow to Rich and Cindy and let them know we are asking Dr. Nolen to reply.

Thank you and hope everyone has had a nice weekend,
Melissa

Sent from my iPhone

On Jul 4, 2022, at 6:16 PM, Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov> wrote:

Another line of questions on vaccines that probably would be best for Dr. Nolen

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 6:37 PM Laura Munson <lauramunsonrn@gmail.com> wrote:

Dear Nate Checketts;

My name is Laura Munson. I am an RN in Utah. I have questions regarding data on adverse reactions to the different Covid Vaccines. Many patients want to know which reactions are most likely in each of the options, the prevalence of such reactions per age group and underlying patient medical conditions, including pregnancy. I have also been asked to help patients who have adverse reactions which are and sometimes are not acknowledged by their physicians. This impacts the ability to achieve effective care.

Does Utah have detailed data on adverse events happening locally? How often is the data on events and trends updated? Where can I find a detailed and updated consent form? Does the Health Department have a training program for medical professionals where they learn how to handle expected adverse events and get patients the help they need? How is the Health Department monitoring informed consent? What honest information regarding the pros and cons of these shots are being provided to the public as has been done with other pharmaceutical products?

Thank you for your time and attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Laura Munson RN

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Supreme Court Snapshot: Everything You Need To Know
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 05/07/2022 04:26

LAW360 Appellate Report

Tuesday, July 5, 2022

Follow

THE BIG PICTURE

The Firms That Won Big At The Supreme Court

Oral arguments at the U.S. Supreme Court are always a singular experience, the more so this term as the justices returned to hearing cases in person after being remote last term.

Breaking Down The Vote: The High Court Term In Review

The overturning of a long-standing precedent, the surprising leak of a draft opinion and the announcement of Justice Stephen Breyer's retirement all made for a tumultuous term at the U.S. Supreme Court. Here, Law360 takes a data dive into the numbers behind this court term.

Supreme Court Embraces Originalism In 'Momentous' Term

The October 2021 Supreme Court term will be remembered as the most consequential one in generations, experts said, pointing to sweeping rulings affecting the rights of millions of Americans and establishing a new conservative vision of constitutional law.

The Sharpest Dissents From The Supreme Court Term

Most of this term's U.S. Supreme Court dissents came from its left-leaning justices, who accused the conservative majority of voting politically, flouting decades of precedent and harming the legitimacy of the court itself.

The Chattiest Justice Of The Term Is ...

While little felt “normal” at the U.S. Supreme Court, the justices were largely back to their pre-pandemic habits when it came to speaking up from the bench, with one justice again standing out as the court's chattiest member this term.

The Funniest Moments Of The Supreme Court Term

LAW FIRMS
Arnold & Porter
Benesch
Kellogg Hansen
Kirkland & Ellis
Latham & Watkins
Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz
Orrick Herrington
Paul Weiss
Sidley Austin
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale

COMPANIES
Apple Inc.
Barclays Bank International
Google LLC
H&M Hennes & Mauritz AB
Harvard University
National Association for the Advancement of Colored People
National Federation of Independent Business
New York University
Planned Parenthood Federation
Spotify Technology SA
Union Pacific Corp.
University of Virginia
Viking Cruises Inc.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES
Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Internal Revenue Service
Occupational Safety and Health Administration
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. Supreme Court
U.S. Tax Court
Ysleta del Sur Pueblo

While considering weighty issues, the U.S. Supreme Court justices still found moments of levity during oral arguments, ribbing one another and Justice Stephen Breyer as he floated ever more fantastical hypotheticals during his final term on the bench.

PODCAST

Pro Say & The Term Discuss A Historic Supreme Court Term

A U.S. Supreme Court term that by any measure was historic has concluded, and it takes a village of podcasters to untangle everything that happened. So this week, hosts from Pro Say team up with the hosts of The Term to discuss this momentous term.

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Why I'll Miss Arguing Before Justice Breyer

Carter Phillips at Sidley shares some of his fondest memories of retiring Justice Stephen Breyer both inside and out of the courtroom, and explains why he thinks the justice's multipronged questions during U.S. Supreme Court oral arguments were everything an advocate could ask for.

Justices Must Apply Law Evenly In Shadow Docket Rulings

In recent shadow docket decisions, the U.S. Supreme Court has inconsistently applied the requirement that parties demonstrate irreparable harm to obtain injunctive relief, which is problematic for two separate but related reasons, says David Hopkins at Benesch.

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.

However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,

you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Federal Judge Rules in Favor of DrugDistributors in West Virginia Opioid Case
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 05/07/2022 06:31

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

JULY 5, 2022

BY GABY GALVIN

Twitter Email

Novavax Shot Unlikely to Sway Unvaccinated Americans

Novavax Inc. says its protein-based COVID-19 shot, which is awaiting authorization from federal regulators, could be a good option for people who skipped the mRNA vaccines from Pfizer Inc.-BioNTech SE and Moderna Inc. But a new Morning Consult survey indicates unvaccinated Americans aren't too keen on the idea.

Public health experts said the Novavax vaccine's greatest promise may instead be with vaccinated people who are eyeing booster shots — if the biotech can make its shot widely available by the fall. Read more here.

Top Stories

- A federal judge dismissed claims that drug distributors AmerisourceBergen Corp., Cardinal Health Inc. and McKesson Corp. caused a public nuisance by shipping millions of opioid painkillers to a West Virginia community that was hit hard by the addiction crisis, siding with the companies over Cabell County and its seat, Huntington. The judge said their lawyers did not prove the distributors' conduct was unreasonable, following mixed results in other states on public nuisance claims during the opioid epidemic. (The Washington Post)

- Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra said President Joe Biden has asked the agency to pursue "as aggressive a strategy as we can" to protect abortion access after the fall of Roe v. Wade, though he told NBC News that the administration will "respect the law" and that the Supreme Court's decision will be "tough to overcome." He urged Congress to codify federal abortion rights as the most effective strategy. (Politico)

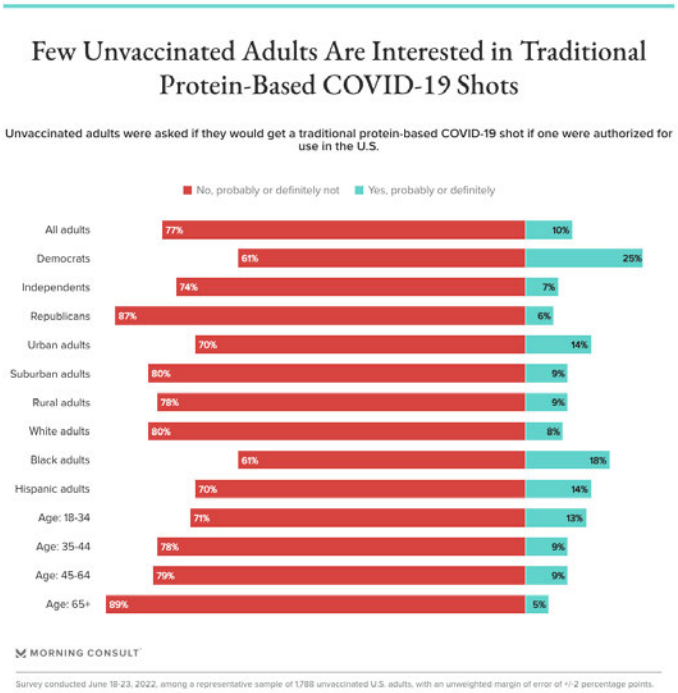
- Drugmaker Sanofi SA said it will make 30 of its treatments available at not-for-profit prices in 40 lower-income countries, primarily in Africa, and offer $25 million in local funding in a bid to expand its global reach. The drugs are on the World Health Organization's essential medicines list, including insulin and treatments for cancer, hypertension, malaria and tuberculosis. (Reuters)

- AstraZeneca PLC said it will buy the biotech TeneoTwo Inc. for up to $1.3 billion, mostly in milestone payments. AstraZeneca has been looking to expand its cancer treatment offerings, and the deal will bring a promising experimental drug for lymphomas under its purview. (Bloomberg Law)

Chart Review

Novavax's Traditional Vaccine for COVID-19 Could Hit the U.S. Soon. Most Unvaccinated Adults Wouldn't Be Swayed

Morning Consult



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT

Webinar - Most Trusted Brands 2022

With a recession looming, brand trust is more important now than ever before. Good value is crucial to building trust, but how can brands build trust? And what are the top trusted brands today? Discover the answer to these questions and more in Morning Consult's upcoming Most Trusted Brands 2022 webinar. Join us on Tuesday, July 19 at 1 PM ET.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

Updated Covid Shots Are Coming. Will They Be Too Late?
Benjamin Mueller, The New York Times
The government has greenlit new vaccines to defend against the latest Omicron variants. But the shots won't arrive until the fall, and cases are rising now.

How Pfizer Won the Pandemic, Reaping Outsize Profit and Influence
Arthur Allen, Kaiser Health News
The grinding two-plus years of the pandemic have yielded outsize benefits for one company — Pfizer — making it both highly influential and hugely profitable as covid-19 continues to infect tens of thousands of people and kill hundreds each day.

GSK's New Vaccine Hire Looks Beyond Covid in Quest for Next Hit
James Paton, Bloomberg
GSK Plc is planning to launch a Covid shot that comes almost two years after Pfizer Inc. took the world by storm.

Covid vaccines: how can immune imprinting help experts to rethink jabs?
Clive Cookson et al., Financial Times
A surge in Covid-19 hospital admissions driven by the BA.5 subvariant of Omicron, accompanied by the inability of vaccines to prevent reinfection, has prompted health policymakers to rethink their approach to boosters.

Reduced testing and reporting in the U.S. are blurring the real-time look at the pandemic.
Adeel Hassan and Sarah Cahalan, The New York Times
At a glance, the pandemic picture in the United States may seem remarkably stable. A closer look shows that as public testing sites run by state and local governments have winnowed, more states have also stopped giving daily data updates, creating a foggier look at the state of virus across the country.

For now, wary US treads water with transformed COVID-19
Carla K. Johnson, The Associated Press
The fast-changing coronavirus has kicked off summer in the U.S. with lots of infections but relatively few deaths compared to its prior incarnations.

GENERAL

Listeria Outbreak Is Linked to Ice Cream, C.D.C. Says
Christine Chung, The New York Times
Big Olaf Ice Cream products, which are made in Florida, have sickened people across 10 states, the federal authorities said.

'The tide is coming back': Bracing for a new global health fight
Erin Banco, Politico
For USAID's Atul Gawande, the challenge is helping vulnerable populations while the world battles multiple crises at once.

Oxford University Takes Aim at Future Pandemic Threats
James Paton, Bloomberg

The University of Oxford, one of the first to cross the finish line with a Covid-19 vaccine, is shifting its focus to health threats that could trigger the next pandemic.

Losing a pregnancy could land you in jail in post-Roe America
Robert Baldwin III, NPR News
Advocates, again, warn that pregnant people will be prosecuted for pregnancy loss — including miscarriages and stillbirths.

Mississippi's governor: Full speed ahead with new abortion restrictions
David Cohen, Politico
"This entire court battle was never about winning a court case," Gov. Tate Reeves said.

Health experts see rise in maternal mortality post-Roe
Oriana Gonzalez, Axios
The six states with the highest maternal mortality rates in the nation each quickly banned abortion following the decision to overturn Roe v. Wade, fueling concerns about more children being born in areas with poor health outcomes and with fewer safety net programs for mothers and children.

Crowdsourced Data on Overdoses Pinpoints Where to Help
Renuka Rayasam, Kaiser Health News
The University of Texas project, known as TxCOPE, is one attempt to solve a problem exasperating officials nationwide who are trying to lower the record number of drug deaths: getting an instant, accurate picture of both nonfatal and fatal drug overdoses.

PAYERS

How companies offering to cover travel for out-of-state abortions might work
Scott Neuman, NPR News
On the heels of the Supreme Court's decision to overturn Roe v. Wade, several big-name companies such as Microsoft, Nike and Tesla have announced that they plan to assist employees who live in places where abortion is restricted to travel out-of-state to undergo the procedure.

House lawmakers to CMS: Expand dental coverage in Medicare now
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare
More than 100 House lawmakers say the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) has the power now to expand dental coverage.

PROVIDERS

'A scary time': Fear of prosecution forces doctors to choose between protecting themselves or their patients
Olivia Goldhill, Stat News
In the days after the U.S. Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade, Missouri was one of several states that rushed to pass legislation that bans physicians from terminating a pregnancy unless the mother's life is in immediate danger.

Where the Risks of Pregnancy Meet Abortion Laws and Health Care

Amanda Taub, The New York Times
Even before the wave of abortion bans, medical treatment and advice for pregnancy has largely focused on fetal safety over the mother's.

Abortion Havens Short on Spanish Speakers Scramble to Prepare
Ayanna Alexander, Bloomberg Law
Abortion providers in states billing themselves as safe havens are grappling with how best to serve an influx of clients who may not speak fluent English, given the limited resources available.

With therapists in short supply, group counseling offers alternative
Juli Fraga, The Washington Post
If it seems like a good fit, try a few sessions. Pay attention to how the interactions between the clinician and the other group members feel.

At last, medical guidelines address care for adults with Down syndrome
Erin Blakemore, The Washington Post
Now, a guide for families and caretakers breaks down a new set of advice on caring for the medical needs of adults with the chromosomal abnormality.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

New Dementia Prevention Method May Be Behavioral, Not Prescribed
Paula Span, The New York Times
As experimental drugs prove ineffective against increasing dementia cases in the U.S., researchers argue that improving eyesight can have an effect.

Anebulo Pharma says study supports development of its pill as an antidote for cannabis intoxication
Adam Feuerstein, Stat News
Anebulo Pharmaceuticals said Tuesday that a single dose of its experimental pill blunted the effects of THC, the psychoactive ingredient in marijuana, supporting further development of the medicine as a potential antidote for cannabis intoxication.

A Clunky Mask May Be the Answer to Airborne Disease and N95 Waste
Andrew Jacobs, The New York Times
Experts say the U.S. government has unintentionally encouraged a dependency on imported masks by failing to promote elastomeric respirators, a reusable mask that is domestically produced.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Health Insurers Have the Data. Will Patients Listen?
Isabelle Bousquette, The Wall Street Journal
Health insurers are betting big on artificial intelligence and data analytics that scan medical records and then alert members on how to improve their health. The challenge: It's difficult to get people to listen.

The Q3 health tech tracker: 11 key industry events and debates to watch
Mohana Ravindranath and Katie Palmer, Stat News
It's been a humbling first half of the year for health tech companies.

Google to erase more location info as abortion bans expand
The Associated Press
Google will automatically purge information about users who visit abortion clinics or other places that could trigger legal problems now that the U.S. Supreme Court has opened the door for states to ban the termination of pregnancies.

Health tech companies are scrambling to close data privacy gaps after abortion ruling
Katie Palmer and Casey Ross, Stat News
In the wake of the Supreme Court decision to overturn Roe v. Wade, reproductive health data in medical records is vulnerable to legal requests in states that have criminalized abortion, or will soon. But there are even fewer protections in place for the digital footprints left outside the doctor's office — and health tech companies are grappling with what to do about it.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

Congress Can't 'Codify Roe v. Wade'
Thomas J. Molony, The Wall Street Journal
The Constitution gives it no authority to overrule state abortion restrictions.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Expanding Capacity for Vaccines Against Covid-19 and Future Pandemics: A Review of Economic Issues
Susan Athey et al., National Bureau of Economic Research
Rapidly vaccinating a large share of the global population helps avoid economic, mortality, and social losses, which in the case of Covid-19 mounted into trillions of dollars.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Employee response to DHHS email regarding supreme court decision
FROM: Diane Moore DHS <dmoore@utah.gov>
TO: Joe Dougherty DHS <joedougherty@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Tracy Gruber DHHS

<tracygruber@utah.gov>, Monica Jimenez <mjimenez@utah.gov>, Stephanie Saperstein <stephaniesaperstein@utah.gov>, Sarah Welliver DHS <swelliver@utah.gov>
DATE: 05/07/2022 07:56

Greetings,

I hope everyone had a nice holiday weekend, and I am still out on personal vacation, but wanted to lift an issue to our EDO group (including legal, communications and human resources) regarding some employee responses to our formal DHHS statement on the Roe v Wade decision.

We at DHHS/DCFS often live in the crosshairs of controversial and sensitive subject matter. Our staff run the entire spectrum on social issues regarding their personal belief system. Our staff generally understand and we constantly remind them that they cannot engage in political activity using state time or devices, and that whatever they do in their personal time needs to be clear that they don't represent DCFS/DHHS/State of Utah. These parameters have generally been followed and understood.

However, some have perceived that the DHHS communication took things a bit further and moved from restrictions on political, leadership endorsement, or public activity on this topic to include any conversation at all. This may not be realistic in a workforce where connections and friendships are not only existing, but encouraged. As a result, I already have one of my top performing state office administrators informing me that as soon as they find another job, they will be leaving DCFS solely due to this DHHS communication. They don't want to leave the work and were in tears when this was discussed with me, but they felt that DHHS was no longer a psychologically safe place where they are valued or understood based on the DHHS Roe vs. Wade email. They even expressed they felt the ethics they must follow as a social worker was violated by the heavy handed language. They perceived the email as an outright ban on any mention of this ruling even with close work colleagues, including using telephone, text, chat, etc., and that this was simply too much and represented a significant shift from previous policies in its span and tone. They expressed that this was unique only to DHHS, was dehumanizing and made it a place where they cannot in good conscience continue to work. This staff member then provided two other, neutral statements from other state organizations that they had no problem with as examples of how DHHS could have handled it. They expressed that these other statements also understood and respected the Governor's position and the official position, but were done with a pragmatism and a humanity that they wished also existed at DHHS considering that we are literally about health and human services. What they heard was an explicit-- don't talk about it all with anyone at work in any way. This shutting down of connection and informal dialogue was seen as a blow to the work environment and even free speech.

Here are the three statements provided to me by this employee side by side:
[redacted]

I share this with you because I don't believe the state's position has actually changed, but some think it has based on this formal DHHS communication. I have staff who feel like they even mention it to a friend in a breakroom that they will be jeopardizing their job---even if in no position of authority, not public, not representing the state, etc. This adds a pressure to an already hot situation, and an already hot environment of turnover and overwhelm at DCFS---without potentially partnering the message with sufficient empathy, understanding, access to EAP resources, etc.

I know this is a very delicate nexus of some very complex things, but felt like I should share this with you for further consideration of these perceptions moving forward. We are all just trying so hard to retain people, and so hard to create an environment of psychological safety, that these perceptions are damaging to our work culture even if unintended. We will likely lose this one employee, and many others are grumbling about such an environment. This email struck a chord with staff negatively, regardless of where people felt on the actual topic. How can we create healthy space for employees to feel safe no matter where they are on the spectrum of this or a myriad of other issues? I believe the Governor would empathetically acknowledge and allow people that space as long as they didn't cross certain clear lines. But what people heard was don't say anything about this at all even in the most informal of ways with anyone related to the workplace. We need to provide them better tools and support than this communication did if we want them to feel safe and valued and whole with us.

Thanks for listening. Please let me know if I can be of any assistance. My desire is to support the Governor, support EDO, and support our staff. My only hope is that such feedback helps us all improve as we navigate this very complex work.

Best,
Diane

--
Diane Moore
Division Director
She/Her
C: 801.755.7302
dmoore@utah.gov
dcfs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Child & Family Services

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

[redacted]

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Covid vax question
FROM: Donovan Bergstrom DHS <dbergst@utah.gov>
TO: Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov>
CC: Melissa Stevens Dimond <melissastevens@utah.gov>, Janae Duncan <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov>, Michelle Hofmann <mhofmann@utah.gov>, Amanda Slater DHS <aslater@utah.gov>, Nate Winters <natewinters@utah.gov>
DATE: 05/07/2022 08:32

Nate,

I agree we need to be consistent and have a centralized file for constituent requests/concerns and the DHHS response. I will work on establishing a shared drive specific for "Constituent Affairs."

Donovan

On Mon, Jul 4, 2022 at 8:55 PM Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov> wrote:
I agree that an FAQ bank of questions and responses is a good idea. I am guessing we will get other similar requests.

Thanks,

Nate

On Mon, Jul 4, 2022 at 7:08 PM Melissa Stevens Dimond <melissastevens@utah.gov> wrote:
Thanks, Nate; I received the same email from Ms Munson Fri night and was planning to follow-up tomorrow; I think it is wise to have a consistent message. I agree Dr. Nolen would be well-suited to reply. I can follow-up with her on the two you received tomorrow, unless a different approach is recommended.

I think it would be a good idea to build a FAQ/retain an inventory of responses for reference, perhaps, in case we continue receiving these inquiries, and to ensure the Immunizations Program is aware-they may be receiving/responding as well; I will forward them on tomorrow to Rich and Cindy and let them know we are asking Dr. Nolen to reply.

Thank you and hope everyone has had a nice weekend,
Melissa

Sent from my iPhone

On Jul 4, 2022, at 6:16 PM, Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov> wrote:

Another line of questions on vaccines that probably would be best for Dr. Nolen

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 6:37 PM Laura Munson <lauramunsonrn@gmail.com> wrote:
Dear Nate Checketts;

My name is Laura Munson. I am an RN in Utah. I have questions regarding data on adverse reactions to the different Covid Vaccines. Many patients want to know which reactions are most likely in each of the options, the prevalence of such reactions per age group and underlying patient medical conditions, including pregnancy. I have also been asked to help patients who have adverse reactions which are and sometimes are not acknowledged by their physicians. This impacts the ability to achieve effective care.

Does Utah have detailed data on adverse events happening locally? How often is the data on events and trends updated? Where can I find a detailed and updated consent form? Does the Health Department have a training program for medical professionals where they learn how to handle expected adverse events and get patients the help they need? How is the Health Department monitoring informed consent? What honest information regarding the pros and cons of these shots are being provided to the public as has been done with other pharmaceutical products?

Thank you for your time and attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Laura Munson RN

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********

[redacted]

This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--

Donovan A. Bergstrom
Director, Division of Customer Experience
801.330.2699
dbergst@utah.gov
hs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: PeaceHealth phases out travel nurses, grapples with shortage |NorthShore called 20 physicians in after parade shooting | A caveat ofpayers' current posted prices | 3 COVID forecasts for the week | CMS' newRural Emergency Hospital designation: 8 notes
FROM: Becker's Hospital Review <news@beckershealthcare-news.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 05/07/2022 10:21

July 5, 2022

BECKER'S
HOSPITAL REVIEW

Virtual Events • Webinars • Whitepapers • OnDemand Learning • Podcasts

1. NorthShore University Health called in 20 physicians to treat July 4th parade shooting victims Full story

2. PeaceHealth cuts travel nurse budget, struggles with staff shortage Full story
3. Ransomware attack on finance company affects 600 hospitals, practices Full story
4. Persisting through tragedy isn't something anyone plans for their life. But, when Dr. Ilan Alhadeff tragically lost his daughter he knew he had to do just that. He became an advocate and change-maker in school safety to honor Alyssa's memory. Read his story here.
5. COVID-19 cases to jump 32% by July 16 + 2 more forecasts Full story
6. CMS' proposed rule for Rural Emergency Hospital designations: 8 things to know Full story
7. The patient care experience goes beyond the exam room. Learn from University of Michigan Health-West why patient engagement technology helps patients feel connected.
8. Cigna, Aetna among payers that will cover employees' abortion travel costs Full story
9. The caveat of payers' current posted prices Full story
10. New Hampshire system to join Beth Israel Lahey Health Full story
11. Building a Culture of Well-Being: A Physician & Nurse Discuss Approaches to Clinician Wellness
12. Emory Healthcare names Rashard Johnson CEO of 3 hospitals Full story
13. Northwell nurse to receive Presidential Medal of Freedom Full story
14. New tech shouldn't stress out staff, hospital CIOs say Full story
15. Stats by state:

- COVID-19 hospitalization rates
- COVID-19 test positivity rates
- Percentage of population fully vaccinated
- COVID-19 death rates
- ICU utilization
- Staffing shortages
- Booster rates
- COVID-19 vaccination rates up/down
- COVID-19 cases trend

Becker's Learning Opportunities

1. A 350-bed hospital can gain $22 million in annual revenue by focusing on financial performance rather than managing revenue cycle costs — here's how your health system can standardize RCM and focus on what's really important.
2. The cost of in-office procedures is rising. See how leading ENT practices are reining them in, while still expanding care here.
3. Let your RNs work at the top of their license. Learn how Ochsner Health + Saint Luke's benefited from virtual nursing.

Follow us on social media:

Twitter | Facebook | LinkedIn

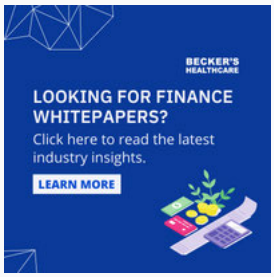
Companies to Know
Thank you to our key sponsors



Becker's Whitepapers

Maternal Health In the U.S – A Mounting Crisis The Gap: Why We Should Care -- The opportunity and the imperative for hospitals and health systems 5 ways dental practices can better meet patients' communication needs

LeanTaas | Intuitive | Amwell | Change Healthcare | Xtend Healthcare | Zotec Partners | Sound Physicians | RevSpring | Philips | VisiQuate | Insight Global Health | Accureg | Vituity | 3M Health Care | Allscripts | Notable Health | Nuance | Cardinal Health

BECKER'S HOSPITAL REVIEW | BECKER'S Clinical Leadership & Infection Control | BECKER'S ASC REVIEW | BECKER'S SPINEREVIEW

Manage Preferences Unsubscribe Forward to a friend Contact Us

17 N. State, Suite 1800 | Chicago, IL 60602

Becker's Hospital Review, A Becker's Healthcare Publication

SUBJECT: Economic output is falling, but so is unemployment
FROM: "SmartBrief on Workforce" <workforce@smartbrief.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 05/07/2022 11:16

Created for hborski@utah.gov | Director at UTAH Department of Health
Update Profile | Web Version

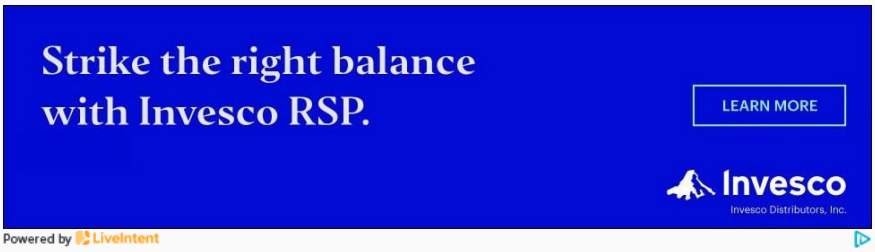
July 5, 2022

CONNECT WITH SMARTBRIEF BLOG

SmartBrief on WORKFORCE

Essential reading for HR professionals

SIGN UP · SHARE



Powered by LiveIntent

TOP STORY

Moodsonic creates a nature-inspired sound for offices

Moodsonic spent two years developing nature-inspired "biophilic" soundscapes that can be used in offices, healthcare setting and schools. "The biophilic sounds give people a sense of mental and psychological well-being they are not able to find in other spaces," says Gale Moutrey of Steelcase, which tested the technology in its home office in Michigan.

Full Story: Installation (7/1)

Webinar: The Role of Technology in Restaurant Recruitment

Join SmartBrief on July 21 2022, 2pm EDT to explore how technology can help restaurant operators hire, support and retain employees. We'll cover the key drivers of the restaurant labor shortage, how restaurants can use technology tools to cast a wider net for potential employees and what employees are looking for from foodservice employers. Register today!

ADVERTISEMENT

RECRUITING & RETENTION

Economic output is falling, but so is unemployment

If the US is in or near a recession, it doesn't look like any other on record: Economic output is declining, but so is the unemployment rate. Demand for workers remains strong, and labor is scarce, with even pessimistic economists seeing only a modest job downturn in coming months. "We are going to have a very unusual conflict between the employment numbers and the output numbers for a while," Northwestern University economics professor Robert Gordon says. Full Story: The Wall Street Journal (7/4)

LEADERSHIP & DEVELOPMENT

Train your managers in order to keep your employees
Entrepreneur (6/28)

L.A. minimum wage increase goes into effect
Los Angeles Daily News (6/30)

How to talk to employees about abortion issues
PRWeek (6/30)

FREE EBOOKS AND RESOURCES

Free eBooks and resources brought to you by our partners

- 8-Step Guide: How to Overcome Laziness and Start taking Action
- How Technology Can help You Get a Good Night's Sleep
- Effective Leadership Primer
- Quick Reference Guide – Time Management
- Quick Reference Guide – Office 365 Essentials

STRATEGIES FOR SUCCESS FROM TRAININGMAG.COM

How technology can democratize the workforce

Denise Leaser, president of GreatBizTools, explains how technology such as cognitive career fit tools are changing the workforce and workplace for the better. "[N]ew career-fit tools are leveling the playing field, stripping out age, gender, race, and biographical information so employers can focus on skills and potential," Leaser writes. Full Story: Training magazine (6/29)

BENEFITS & COMPENSATION

Millennials plan for vacation more than retirement

The majority of millennials dedicate more time to planning a vacation than planning for retirement, according to a Personal Capital survey, perhaps reflecting the fact they are young enough to embrace a "set it and forget it" savings strategy. Meanwhile, a survey by Fidelity Investments shows 45% of millennials and Generation Z see no value in retirement saving "until things return to normal." Full Story: Fortune (tiered subscription model) (7/1)

THE HR LEADER

4 things leaders can learn from virtual meetings

Seemingly endless months of remote meetings have demonstrated several lessons, including the value of being prepared as well as engaging everyone in discussion and giving participants breathing room when needed, writes Scott Cochrane. "You may find yourself in fewer Zoom meetings than before, but if you've been paying attention, the lessons from this season can enhance your leadership," Cochrane writes. Full Story: Scott Cochrane (7/1)

ABOUT THE EDITOR

Kanoe Namahoe

Preparation speaks volumes to the people we lead, as we see in today's HR Leader story. I've learned that the hard way. I've seen the looks of confusion, embarrassment or disappointment on faces when I've stumbled through something because I wasn't prepared. I discovered that you don't get multiple chances to earn people's trust. Sometimes you just get one.

I've kept that in my head. It convicts me and causes me to plan my day and time better. Leadership is a privilege. But I know I need to keep earning it daily by being prepared.

It's my mission daily.

How can I serve you better with this brief? Let me know! And if you enjoy this brief, tell others so they can benefit also.

Sharing SmartBrief on Workforce with your network keeps the quality of content high and these newsletters free.

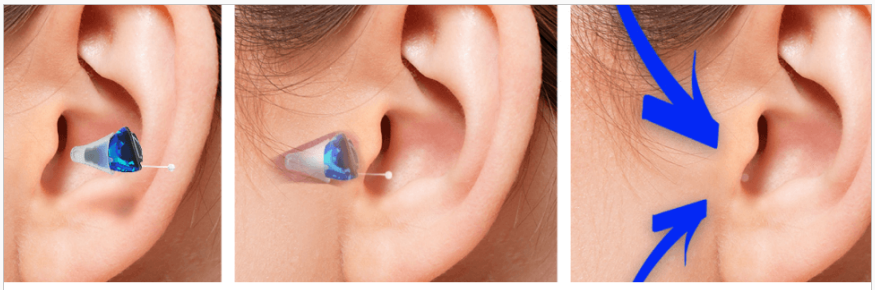
Help Spread the Word

SHARE

Or copy and share your personalized link:
smartbrief.com/workforce/?referrerId=lsvhcNrXox

From the experience of the past, we derive instructive lessons for the future.

John Quincy Adams
statesman, diplomat, lawyer, sixth US president



Powered by LiveIntent

SmartBrief publishes more than 200 free industry newsletters - Browse our portfolio

Sign Up | Update Profile | Advertise with SmartBrief

Unsubscribe | Privacy policy

CONTACT US: FEEDBACK | ADVERTISE

SmartBrief, a division of Future US LLC ©
1100 13th St. NW, Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20005

SUBJECT: Re: Spreadsheet shared with you: "State Resources for Mothers and Families"
FROM: Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov>
TO: Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov>
CC: Sarah Welliver DHS <swelliver@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, Paul Ray DHS <pray@utah.gov>, Amanda Slater DHS <aslater@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Michelle Hofmann <mhofmann@utah.gov>, Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov>, Nate Winters DHS <natewinters@utah.gov>, Tonya Hales <thales@utah.gov>, Joe Dougherty DHS <joedougherty@utah.gov>
DATE: 05/07/2022 13:15

Here is the document we have put together so far to share with lawmakers. Please feel free to make any changes. We are working to plug in hyperlinks for each area.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Jul 4, 2022 at 6:13 AM Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:

> This was the legislative request and yes, it should be as comprehensive as possible. I told Rep. Peterson we would have it for her early this week. She made the request on June 23 so this should be ready to be send soon. Thank you!
>
> Tracy,
>
> The Republican women in the legislature have been discussing how we best support women prior to a pregnancy, through a pregnancy, and after they give birth. We were hoping you could help us highlight existing programs the state provides for these scenarios. We do not want to duplicate existing services and we want to amplify what already exists. If you also have observations about where you see gaps, we would welcome your thoughts. I have copied the Republican women, and would ask you to reply all.
>
> Thank you, we appreciate your help.
>
> Tracy S. Gruber
> Executive Director
> O: 435.772.6550
> tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Sun, Jul 3, 2022 at 8:21 AM Sarah Welliver DHS <swelliver@utah.gov> wrote:

Is this meant to be a complete list of available resources for pregnant individuals or parents with newborns? Families with children of any age?

There are definitely resources missing, but I'm not sure what the goal of this document is. I know Marc you mentioned wanting to share this with legislators and constituents.

DCFS worked with 211 Utah to create a website with parent resources, including crisis nurseries, respite care, etc. https://uw.org/211/family-strengthening/

Was this a legislative request? I want to be able to efficiently support you all on Tuesday, especially with the deadline. Any clarity will help me put something together, and loop in DCFS if needed for assistance. Thank you!

Sarah

On Sun, Jul 3, 2022 at 8:12 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

Marc -

Sorry for the weekend e-mail, but I thought I better e-mail since your goal is to complete this document by COB Tuesday.

One program I did not see listed is the Newborn Safe Haven Program. This program is currently run out of PAE. DCFS plays a significant role once a parent leaves a newborn at a hospital (or other designated location).

Do we want to add this program to the resource list?

[Heather - are you aware of any programs with the Division of Population Health that may need to be included here? I am not sure if Janae has already reviewed this document, but thought I would start by asking you]

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 5:45 PM Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Thanks Tracy. We'll make sure this is ready to send out by COB on Tuesday.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 2:20 PM Tracy Gruber (DHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:

[redacted]

Thank you!

I would like to get this formatted since we will be sending it to all lawmakers.

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Wed, Jun 29, 2022 at 4:27 PM Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

> It sounds like staff now have this information updated.
>
> Do you want us to work with Comms to get this formatted in a way that would make it easier to share with legislators (and for them to share with their constituents)?
>
> Marc B. Watterson
> Director
> Office of Legislative Affairs
> C: 385.321.6473
> mwatterson@utah.gov
>
> Utah Department of Health & Human Services
> Legislative Affairs
>
> * IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
> This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.
>
> If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.
>
> On Fri, Jun 24, 2022 at 8:53 PM Tracy Gruber (DHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:
>
> > Thank you Paul!
> >
> > Please make sure to get this document populated as soon as possible. Thank you!
> >
> > Tracy
> > Tracy S. Gruber
> > Executive Director
> > O: 435.772.6550
> > tracygruber@utah.gov
> >
> > Utah Department of Health & Human Services
> >
> > On Fri, Jun 24, 2022 at 11:29 AM Paul Ray DHS (via Google Sheets) <drive-shares-dm-noreply@google.com> wrote:

[redacted]

Paul Ray DHS shared a spreadsheet

Paul Ray DHS (pray@utah.gov) has invited you to edit the following spreadsheet:

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

Google LLC, 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA
You have received this email because pray@utah.gov shared a spreadsheet with you from Google Sheets.

Google Workspace

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--
Sarah Welliver
Public Information Officer
C: 801.520.2777
swelliver@utah.gov
hs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Public Affairs & Education

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

[redacted]

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Spreadsheet shared with you: "State Resources for Mothers and Families"
FROM: Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov>
TO: Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov>
CC: Sarah Welliver DHS <swelliver@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, Paul Ray DHS <pray@utah.gov>, Amanda Slater DHS <aslater@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Michelle Hofmann <mhofmann@utah.gov>, Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov>, Nate Winters DHS <natewinters@utah.gov>, Tonya Hales <thales@utah.gov>, Joe Dougherty DHS <joedougherty@utah.gov>
DATE: 05/07/2022 13:15

Might help if I include a link:

[redacted]

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Tue, Jul 5, 2022 at 1:15 PM Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Here is the document we have put together so far to share with lawmakers. Please feel free to make any changes. We are working to plug in hyperlinks for each area.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Jul 4, 2022 at 6:13 AM Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:

This was the legislative request and yes, it should be as comprehensive as possible. I told Rep. Peterson we would have it for her early this week. She made the request on June 23 so this should be ready to be send soon. Thank you!

Tracy,

[redacted]

The Republican women in the legislature have been discussing how we best support women prior to a pregnancy, through a pregnancy, and after they give birth. We were hoping you could help us highlight existing programs the state provides for these scenarios. We do not want to duplicate existing services and we want to amplify what already exists. If you also have observations about where you see gaps, we would welcome your thoughts. I have copied the Republican women, and would ask you to reply all.

Thank you, we appreciate your help.

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Sun, Jul 3, 2022 at 8:21 AM Sarah Welliver DHS <swelliver@utah.gov> wrote:

Is this meant to be a complete list of available resources for pregnant individuals or parents with newborns? Families with children of any age?

There are definitely resources missing, but I'm not sure what the goal of this document is. I know Marc you mentioned wanting to share this with legislators and constituents.

DCFS worked with 211 Utah to create a website with parent resources, including crisis nurseries, respite care, etc. https://uw.org/211/family-strengthening/

Was this a legislative request? I want to be able to efficiently support you all on Tuesday, especially with the deadline. Any clarity will help me put something together, and loop in DCFS if needed for assistance. Thank you!

Sarah

On Sun, Jul 3, 2022 at 8:12 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

Marc -

Sorry for the weekend e-mail, but I thought I better e-mail since your goal is to complete this document by COB Tuesday.

One program I did not see listed is the Newborn Safe Haven Program. This program is currently run out of PAE. DCFS plays a significant role once a parent leaves a newborn at a hospital (or other designated location).

Do we want to add this program to the resource list?

[Heather - are you aware of any programs with the Division of Population Health that may need to be included here? I am not sure if Janae has already reviewed this document, but thought I would start by asking you]

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 5:45 PM Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Thanks Tracy. We'll make sure this is ready to send out by COB on Tuesday.

Marc B. Watterson

[redacted]

Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 2:20 PM Tracy Gruber (DHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:

Thank you!

I would like to get this formatted since we will be sending it to all lawmakers.

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Wed, Jun 29, 2022 at 4:27 PM Marc Watterson <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

It sounds like staff now have this information updated.

Do you want us to work with Comms to get this formatted in a way that would make it easier to share with legislators (and for them to share with their constituents)?

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Fri, Jun 24, 2022 at 8:53 PM Tracy Gruber (DHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:

Thank you Paul!

Please make sure to get this document populated as soon as possible. Thank you!

Tracy
Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director

O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jun 24, 2022 at 11:29 AM Paul Ray DHS (via Google Sheets) <drive-shares-dm-noreply@google.com> wrote:

Paul Ray DHS shared a spreadsheet

Paul Ray DHS (pray@utah.gov) has invited you to edit the following spreadsheet:

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

Google LLC, 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA
You have received this email because pray@utah.gov shared a spreadsheet with you from Google Sheets.

Google Workspace

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--
Sarah Welliver
Public Information Officer
C: 801.520.2777
swelliver@utah.gov
hs.utah.gov

[redacted]

[redacted]

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Public Affairs & Education

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Highlights from The Nation's Health: July 2022
FROM: "The Nation's Health" <apha@apha.org>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 05/07/2022 13:29

Check out these highlights from our July issue:

More states codifying abortion access
About a dozen states are shoring up abortion rights within their borders, following threats to care after the Supreme Court decision to overturn Roe v. Wade.

Proposals take aim at school vaccination requirements
Emboldened by inroads against COVID-19 vaccination requirements, a surge of bills in state legislatures are taking aim at routine vaccinations for children, posing serious harm to public health.

Menthol tobacco ban could close gap in Black lung cancer mortality
FDA's move to ban menthol would be an important step toward reversing a glaring equity gap that leaves Black Americans in particular less likely to successfully quit smoking and more likely to die from it.

Pandemic presents new challenges for US injury prevention
With increases in gun-related deaths, drug overdoses and motor vehicle crashes, health workers who toil in the field of injury prevention received back-to-back reminders during the COVID-19 pandemic that their work is far from finished.

Improving US health starts with 23 key Healthy People objectives
To help health advocates drive action, Healthy People leaders have identified 23 key objectives, known as the Leading Health Indicators. Moving the needle on the indicators, which address everything from air quality and food insecurity to infant deaths and homicides, can help the nation make tremendous strides in improving health.

Healthy You: Get in tune with the health and well-being benefits of music.
Research shows that listening to or making music can help chase away the blues, alleviate anxiety and pain, lower blood pressure and improve mental alertness and memory. Read Healthy You online, and download and share a PDF in English or Spanish.

Data science made easy → •Statistics
•Visualization
•Data manipulation
•Reporting
All in one package.
stata

RWJF
Health Policy Fellows
Use your expertise to improve our nation's health
Learn More

[redacted]

Take this week's public health news quiz and test your public health news knowledge!

Visit our website to read more news and share articles on social media. Contact us here.

Be on the lookout for more news from The Nation's Health, and subscribe or become an APHA member for full access.

American Public Health Association
800 I St. NW, Washington DC 20001
www.apha.org
202-777-2742

Opt Out of emails highlighting articles in The Nation's Health.

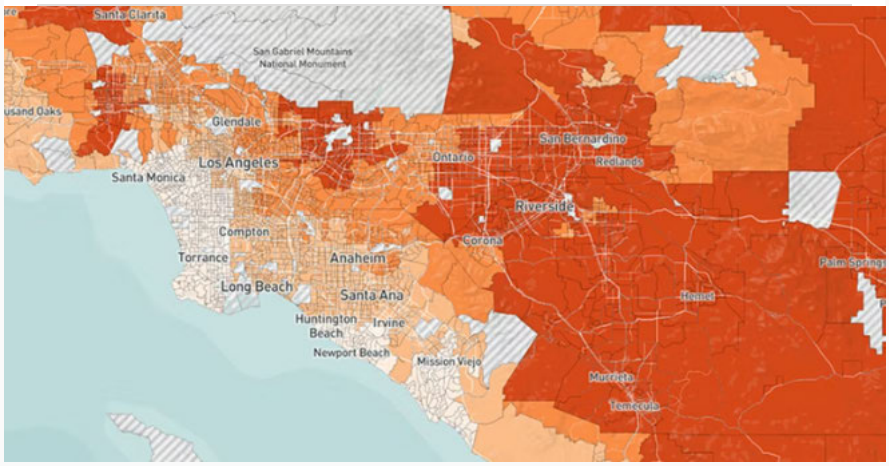
Unsubscribe from all future APHA emails. Please Note: This will remove you from all APHA communications, including important updates, membership information and newsletters.

higher logic

SUBJECT: New Jobs | Gov. Newsom Declines to Invest in Health Equity & Racial Justice | Tool: Mapping Who & Where in CA Will Be Most Impacted by Extreme Heat
FROM: Public Health Institute <communications@phi.org>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 05/07/2022 14:32

PUBLIC HEALTH INSTITUTE®

JUL 5, 2022



New Tool: Mapping Who & Where in CA Will Be Most Impacted by Extreme Heat

As the climate changes, how many days are temperatures expected to soar above 100°F in your community? How resilient is your neighborhood to extreme heat, including having access to community conditions like shady trees, parks and clean air? A new tool from the UCLA Luskin Center for Innovation and PHI's Public Health

Alliance of Southern California uses the Healthy Places Index to visualize who and where in California will be most impacted by extreme heat in the coming decades. The California Healthy Places Index: Heat Edition explores the intersections between heat exposure, at-risk populations and the community conditions that overlap to increase vulnerability. It also provides information on resources to support community resilience, with actionable insights for individuals, communities, state agencies, nonprofit organizations and more.

EXPLORE THE TOOL

Join a webinar on Monday, July 11, 2022 at 1:00 PM – 2:00 PM PT for an in-depth demo of the California Healthy Places Index: Heat Edition ⟶

Join PHI's Mary A. Pittman at the 2022 Women Leaders in Healthcare Conference

PHI CEO and President Mary A. Pittman was recently named as a top 25 women leaders in healthcare by Modern Healthcare. She will join their Women Leaders in Healthcare Conference in Chicago on July 13 – 15, 2022 as a moderator for “Adding Women to the C-Suite Changes How Companies Think,” where panelists will explore how the addition of women executive leaders can shift companies’ strategic approaches in a positive direction.

Learn more and register ⟶

Governor Newsom Declines to Invest in Health Equity & Racial Justice Fund

For a second consecutive year—and despite broad, bi-partisan support from the California legislature—Governor Newsom has declined to invest directly in the Health Equity and Racial Justice Fund, which would support community-based organizations in reducing health disparities and addressing systemic racism. "Our budgets are a reflection of our values," says the statement from PHI and partners. "The co-sponsors of the Health Equity and Racial Justice Fund and over 200 supporting organizations ask, if not now, when will Governor Newsom make racial justice and transformative, community led programs a priority?"

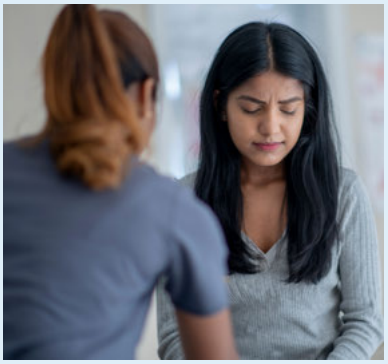
Read the full statement ⟶
Listen to a KQED interview on why communities need sustained health equity funding ⟶



Webinar: Addressing Health Care Workers' Mental Health Needs During COVID-19

Thursday July 7th | 4:30 - 5:30am PT

Health care workers have carried a uniquely heavy burden during the COVID-19 pandemic. Hosted by PHI's Sustaining Technical and Analytic Resources and partners as part of the COVID-19 Clinical Updates for Global Practice series, this webinar will feature successful approaches to support mental health needs of the health care workforce.

REGISTER

988 is Coming: How to Align Efforts & Leverage America's New Hotline to Prevent Overdose

Wednesday July 13th | 11am - 12pm PT

This month, a new national hotline will launch to help respond to mental health emergencies. Rather than calling 911, people can dial 988 to connect directly to a crisis counselor. Join PHI's National Overdose Prevention Network to identify opportunities to align your work with the implementation of 988, and how to educate your community as an outreach strategy for overdose prevention.

JOIN

Rocky Times: Why Agile Leadership is Crucial for Impact

Thursday, July 14th | 11am - 12pm PT

This webinar will feature panelists from multi-sector partnerships that are working to advance equity in their communities. Each leader's story exemplifies the adaptive skills necessary to pivot strategy as necessary to truly meet the needs of communities and achieve higher impacts. All panelists are alumni of the Leadership Academy for the Public's Health, a program of PHI's Center for Health Leadership & Impact.

TUNE IN

Big Ideas in Overdose Prevention: Don't Reinvent the Wheel

Wednesday July 20th | 11am - 12pm PT

Evidence-based practice is essential for preventing addiction and overdose in our communities, especially interventions that have remained consistently effective over time. Join PHI's National Overdose Prevention Network for the final session in the Big Ideas in Overdose Prevention series.

REGISTER

Pathways to Global Careers

Tuesday, July 26th | 10 - 11am PT

This webinar, hosted by PHI's Global Health Technical Professionals as part of the Future Global Health Leaders Network, will help students understand how to explore career options across domestic and global health sectors. Panelists will highlight their unique global health career journeys and share advice on how to seek out similar roles.

RSVP NOW

More from PHI

Advancing Health Equity in Santa Clara County

Over the last year, fellows from PHI's Public Health Professional Development and Management Program worked within community-serving organizations in Santa Clara County, including co-authoring the Food System Work Plan in 2021 which provides background on food insecurity before and during the pandemic.

See the impact story ⟶

PHI Statement on Overturn of Roe v Wade

The recent U.S. Supreme Court decision overturning Roe v Wade "is a failure of human rights, health and justice," says PHI President and CEO Mary A. Pittman. "Making abortion illegal doesn't end abortion, it simply makes it less safe, and barriers to abortion will impact systemically excluded communities first and worst."

Read our full statement ⟶

New Data: CA Pregnancy-Related Deaths 2011-2019

For the first time, hypertensive disorders such as preeclampsia and eclampsia are no longer among the top five leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths in California, finds new data released this month by the California Pregnancy Mortality Surveillance System (CA-PMSS). The findings also show that the state's pregnancy-related mortality ratio in 2019 decreased from the previous year, and is consistently lower than the U.S. rates from 2011 through 2017, the latest available national data. PHI is a CA-PMSS collaborating partner.

See highlights and view the data ⟶

CHW Online Trainings

Community Health Workers (CHW) are frontline health workers who have a unique understanding of community needs—often acting as an intermediary between health service, social services and community members. Explore online, self-paced CHW trainings to help increase health skills and knowledge, created by the Northern ACEs Collaborative, a project of PHI's Population Health Innovation Lab. Courses cover core skills including care coordination and advocacy; healthy living; and chronic illness, and start at $100 with discounts for organizations with multiple registrants.

Explore the CHW training hub ⟶

PharmaVoice Interviews PHI's Mary A. Pittman

"The community knows their community best, and they know how to intervene if you listen to them, you engage them, and you provide them the resources that they need," says PHI President and CEO Dr. Mary A. Pittman in a recent in-depth interview in PharmaVoice. Dr. Pittman also discusses her decades-long career in public health, her work to address social determinants and the importance of working and learning alongside communities. In 2020, Dr. Pittman was recognized among the PharmaVoice 100.

Read the interview ⟶

Calls to Publish Graphic Images of Mass Violence Are Misguided. Here's What We Need Instead.

When journalists decide which images to pair with reporting on violence, they must take our evolving media environment into account. Documenting wrongdoing is critical, but powerful imagery on its own is not a guarantor of social change, explains PHI's Berkeley Media Studies Group. In a new article, they share recommended practices on how to cover mass shootings in ways that don't glorify the shooter or amplify the ideologies that motivate them.

See the recommendations ⟶

We're Hiring

PHI is dedicated to promoting health, well-being and quality of life for people throughout California, across the nation and around the world. Join us:

- Research Scientist I: Berkeley, CA. As part of PHI's Prevention Policy Group, this position will lead the implementation and management of a newly funded three-year study exploring barriers to community engagement in applying tobacco control lessons to cannabis policy.
- Team Culture and Diversity Manager: Oakland, CA (Remote). Located with PHI's Rise Up, this position will play a key role in leading on initiatives to sustain a positive and inclusive team culture, operationalize racial equity commitments and manage human resources.
- Strategic Communication Specialist: Berkeley, CA (Remote). As part of PHI's Berkeley Media Studies Group training team, the Strategic Communication Specialist will help teach both adult and youth advocates how to effectively engage with the media and make the case for solutions to a variety of public health issues.

- O365 Desktop Support Specialist III: Oakland, CA. This position will provide day-to-day desktop and network support to PHI staff in Oakland and at other sites in the country, and is responsible for maintaining, configuring and troubleshooting desktop/laptop computers, software applications, phone hardware, printers, and network hardware for about 150 users.
- Environmental Analytical Chemist: Berkeley, CA. Located with the Environmental Chemistry Laboratory at the Department of Toxic Substances Control, this role will work with programs and outside stake holders to conduct research and analysis of toxic and persistent organic pollutants, and non-targeted chemicals in humans and wildlife, products, dust and the environment.

See all open positions at PHI ⟶

Support PHI

Your support helps us build community power, advocate for change, train tomorrow's leaders, and share our expertise with the world.

DONATE

CONNECT WITH US

555 12th Street, 10th floor, Oakland, CA 94607 | 510-285-5500 | www.phi.org | communications@phi.org
Terms of Use | Privacy Policy

UNSUBSCRIBE

SUBJECT: Invitation: (V) Roe vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse @ FriJul 15, 2022 11am - 12pm (MDT) (Heather Borski)
FROM: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
TO: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, cbrummer@utah.gov, thales@utah.gov, dmoore@utah.gov, swelliver@utah.gov
DATE: 05/07/2022 14:59

Join with Google Meet

Meeting link

[redacted]

Join by phone

(US) [redacted]
PIN: [redacted]

More phone numbers

[redacted]

Internal meeting to get answers to specific questions that impact DHHS and front-line staff prior to meeting with Dr. Campbell.

When

Friday Jul 15, 2022 · 11am – 12pm (Mountain Time - Denver)

Location

Google Meet
View map

Guests

davidlitvack@utah.gov - organizer cbrummer@utah.gov
thales@utah.gov
dmoore@utah.gov
Heather Borski
swelliver@utah.gov
View all guest info

Reply for hborski@utah.gov

Yes | No | Maybe | More options

Invitation from Google Calendar
You are receiving this email because you are subscribed to calendar notifications. To stop receiving these emails, go to Calendar settings, select this calendar, and change "Other notifications".
Forwarding this invitation could allow any recipient to send a response to the organizer, be added to the guest list, invite others regardless of their own invitation status, or modify your RSVP. Learn more

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris CambellThursday Discussion/Training
FROM: Lori Erickson DHS <llerickson@utah.gov>
TO: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
CC: "Charri Brummer (DHS)" <cbrummer@utah.gov>, Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>, "Moore, Diane" <dmoore@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 05/07/2022 15:02

Invite just sent. July 15th @ 11:00

Lori Erickson
EDO Executive Assistant to
David Litvack - Deputy Director
Nate Checketts - Deputy Director
Heather Borski - Assistant Deputy Director
Tonya Hales - Assistant Deputy Director
O: 801.538.4001 C: 385.266.6971
llerickson@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 12:09 PM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

Yes - Trudy or Lori can assist with the scheduling. I am ccing Lori here for convenience

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

[redacted]

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 11:58 AM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:
Absolutely. Shall I reach out to Trudy on some dates?

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 11:55 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:
Charri -

Quick question, do you think it would be valuable to meet internally first and then meet with Dr. Campbell? I know Dr. Campbell well and she is awesome; however, I do wonder if meeting internally first to get answers to specific questions that impact our Department and our front-line staff would be helpful.

What are your thoughts?

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 8:26 AM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:
David,

Thank you for the excellent guidance. We will set a meeting to include the child protection director and deputy director at the AG's Office, Dr. Campbell - a leading peditrician for child abuse cases in Utah, Nate and/or Tonya H., Sarah Welliver, yourself and DCFS (Diane, Tonya, and myself). I can work with EDO support staff to find some potential dates. We appreciate the support and guidance in this matter moving forward.

Charri

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 5:23 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:
Good Morning Charri -

Thank you for the e-mail and reaching-out. [redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

[redacted]

On Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:49 PM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:

Hi David,

Just forwarding you some very rough notes I took on a google meet hosted by the hospital in regard to Roe Vs. Wade and Dobbs Vs. Jackson Women's Health Organization and how it pertains to child welfare cases involving sexual abuse and resulting pregnancy. I saw the email that DHHS sent out when the decision came down. However, I was unclear if the DHHS attorneys are meeting and discussing how it affects DCFS child clients and how our caseworkers will respond to families and doctors and others who are already starting to reach out.

I do not want to get too many steps ahead of ourselves, and I want to assure that I am respectful of any conversations that are taking place already that I may not be aware of. There are both ethics and laws at play here. I also have absolutely no idea how Utah plans to address it with resulting state-specific laws. I would like to meet with the child protection section of the AG's Office that represents us to begin to talk about our response, but again, I would like some guidance as to whether or not DHHS is supportive of this or if other conversations are happening at a higher level. Dr. Kristine Campbell, Associate Professor in the Dept. of Pediatrics and Division of Child Protection and Family Health at the U of U, has requested to meet with us as well. She is available to meet as desired.

Please advise. Thank you so much.

Charri

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov>
Date: Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:01 PM
Subject: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris Cambell Thursday Discussion/Training
To: Charri Brummer <cbrummer@utah.gov>, Moore, Diane <dmoore@utah.gov>, Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>
Cc: Trisha Reynolds (DHS) <thepwort@utah.gov>, Veronica Argyle DHS <veronicaargyle@utah.gov>

Charri Brummer, Veronica Argyle and Trisha Reynolds were present from Utah to listen and learn. These are very rough notes.

Roe Vs. Wade and how it pertains to child abuse

Discussions here are only opinions. It will not be recorded. This purpose is to learn from one another only. Does not reflect opinions of the institution.

Went over history of abortion laws, changes in laws and effects to child abuse pediatrics.

Supreme Court decision made in 1973. Abortion was a fundamental right to any woman in the US. State could not pass laws prior to viability.

Dobbs VS. Jackson Women's Health Organization as a result of Mississippi that said abortion illegal after 15 weeks came down from supreme court and overturned Roe Vs. Wade.

OK is most restrictive, Utah law is quite restrictive. Every state will be slightly different for enactment

What means for pediatricians - most states will allow abortion for incest and rape.

Example: 16 year old sexually assaulted and now pregnant. What will we do now? What is the right thing to do and what is legal?

What about rights to birth control and Plan B? None of this has been affected at this time, but people are concerned this may come up in the future because of the overturning. Where does confidentiality fall into this? Is it still protected? For now, yes.

We don't really know how everything is going to filter down.

Example of very young child clearly sexually abused and pregnant. Within a day of the overturned decision coming down, Ohio put a law into place that you cannot abort after 6 weeks of pregnancy and there is no exclusion for rape or incest. They had to arrange for this mother and child to go to another state.

Legal for child welfare agencies should be meeting to determine how to respond to these. How do you discuss it with families? How do you respond when the family asks how to break the law? Etc.

Discussed "aiding and abetting". AR legal advised that they can help arrange for services out of state and not consider it aiding and abetting.

CA is expecting a huge increase in abortions in their state of others coming to CA.

How will law enforcement react to this? Will anything change with them or their services in each state?

What about an amendment to HIPAA? Could that assist in this?

As a physician, you would offer options. Now looking at ethics of this while it is worked out, anyone can walk in, so what are the ethics right now. Can they still say here are your options or do you say here is the big mess going on and the hospital doesn't have a response yet. What are doctors ethically bound to do for a child and family who is seeking an abortion, etc. We look at best interest of a patient, what will not cause harm, and justice. Ethically we know what we are ethically bound to do, but we will be held by these laws. More difficult that states are going "aiding and abetting". This doesn't change what is ethically right. This may create a type of Underground Railroad sort of system so that there are ways for people to get what they want/need.

Trisha and Veronica, anything more to add to my brief notes?

Kris Cambell is going to send out some ListServe messages.

I would recommend we set a meeting with the RDs, Carol, and Deb right away to discuss. [redacted]

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris CambellThursday Discussion/Training
FROM: "Tonya Myrup (DHS)" <tmyrup@utah.gov>
TO: Lori Erickson DHS <llerickson@utah.gov>
CC: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Charri Brummer (DHS)" <cbrummer@utah.gov>, "Moore, Diane" <dmoore@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 05/07/2022 15:45

I was not included on the invite, but I am off that day anyway. I look forward to hearing how the discussion goes.

On Tue, Jul 5, 2022 at 3:02 PM Lori Erickson DHS <llerickson@utah.gov> wrote:

> Invite just sent. July 15th @ 11:00
>
> Lori Erickson
> EDO Executive Assistant to
> David Litvack - Deputy Director
> Nate Checketts - Deputy Director
> Heather Borski - Assistant Deputy Director
> Tonya Hales - Assistant Deputy Director
> O: 801.538.4001 C: 385.266.6971
> llerickson@utah.gov

[redacted]

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 12:09 PM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

Yes - Trudy or Lori can assist with the scheduling. I am ccing Lori here for convenience

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 11:58 AM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:

Absolutely. Shall I reach out to Trudy on some dates?

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 11:55 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

Charri -

Quick question, do you think it would be valuable to meet internally first and then meet with Dr. Campbell? I know Dr. Campbell well and she is awesome; however, I do wonder if meeting internally first to get answers to specific questions that impact our Department and our front-line staff would be helpful.

What are your thoughts?

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 8:26 AM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:

David,

Thank you for the excellent guidance. We will set a meeting to include the child protection director and deputy director at the AG's Office, Dr. Campbell - a leading peditrician for child abuse cases in Utah, Nate and/or Tonya H., Sarah Welliver, yourself and DCFS (Diane, Tonya, and myself). I can work with EDO support staff to find some potential dates. We appreciate the support and guidance in this matter moving forward.

Charri

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 5:23 AM David Litvack (DHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

Good Morning Charri -

Thank you for the e-mail and reaching-out. [redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:49 PM Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov> wrote:

Hi David,

Just forwarding you some very rough notes I took on a google meet hosted by the hospital in regard to Roe Vs. Wade and Dobbs Vs. Jackson Women's Health Organization and how it pertains to child welfare cases involving sexual abuse and resulting pregnancy. I saw the email that DHHS sent out when the decision came down. However, I was unclear if the DHHS attorneys are meeting and discussing how it affects DCFS child clients and how our caseworkers will respond to families and doctors and others who are already starting to reach out.

I do not want to get too many steps ahead of ourselves, and I want to assure that I am respectful of any conversations that are taking place already that I may not be aware of. There are both ethics and laws at play here. I also have absolutely no idea how Utah plans to address it with resulting state-specific laws. I would like to meet with the child protection section of the AG's Office that represents us to begin to talk about our response, but again, I would like some guidance as to whether or not DHHS is supportive of this or if other conversations are happening at a higher level. Dr. Kristine Campbell, Associate Professor in the Dept. of Pediatrics and Division of Child Protection and Family Health at the U of U, has requested to meet with us as well. She is available to meet as desired.

Please advise. Thank you so much.

Charri

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Charri Brummer (DHS) <cbrummer@utah.gov>
Date: Thu, Jun 30, 2022 at 1:01 PM
Subject: Roe Vs. Wade and How it Pertains to Child Abuse - Kris Cambell Thursday Discussion/Training
To: Charri Brummer <cbrummer@utah.gov>, Moore, Diane <dmoore@utah.gov>, Tonya Myrup <tmyrup@utah.gov>
Cc: Trisha Reynolds (DHS) <thepwort@utah.gov>, Veronica Argyle DHS <veronicaargyle@utah.gov>

Charri Brummer, Veronica Argyle and Trisha Reynolds were present from Utah to listen and learn. These are very rough notes.

Roe Vs. Wade and how it pertains to child abuse

Discussions here are only opinions. It will not be recorded. This purpose is to learn from one another only. Does not reflect opinions of the institution.

Went over history of abortion laws, changes in laws and effects to child abuse pediatrics.

Supreme Court decision made in 1973. Abortion was a fundamental right to any woman in the US. State could not pass laws prior to viability.

Dobbs VS. Jackson Women's Health Organization as a result of Mississippi that said abortion illegal after 15 weeks came down from supreme court and overturned Roe Vs. Wade.

OK is most restrictive, Utah law is quite restrictive. Every state will be slightly different for enactment

What means for pediatricians - most states will allow abortion for incest and rape.

[redacted]

Example: 16 year old sexually assaulted and now pregnant. What will we do now? What is the right thing to do and what is legal?

What about rights to birth control and Plan B? None of this has been affected at this time, but people are concerned this may come up in the future because of the overturning. Where does confidentiality fall into this? Is it still protected? For now, yes.

We don't really know how everything is going to filter down.

Example of very young child clearly sexually abused and pregnant. Within a day of the overturned decision coming down, Ohio put a law into place that you cannot abort after 6 weeks of pregnancy and there is no exclusion for rape or incest. They had to arrange for this mother and child to go to another state.

Legal for child welfare agencies should be meeting to determine how to respond to these. How do you discuss it with families? How do you respond when the family asks how to break the law? Etc.

Discussed "aiding and abetting". AR legal advised that they can help arrange for services out of state and not consider it aiding and abetting.

CA is expecting a huge increase in abortions in their state of others coming to CA.

How will law enforcement react to this? Will anything change with them or their services in each state?

What about an amendment to HIPAA? Could that assist in this?

As a physician, you would offer options. Now looking at ethics of this while it is worked out, anyone can walk in, so what are the ethics right now. Can they still say here are your options or do you say here is the big mess going on and the hospital doesn't have a response yet. What are doctors ethically bound to do for a child and family who is seeking an abortion, etc. We look at best interest of a patient, what will not cause harm, and justice. Ethically we know what we are ethically bound to do, but we will be held by these laws. More difficult that states are going "aiding and abetting". This doesn't change what is ethically right. This may create a type of Underground Railroad sort of system so that there are ways for people to get what they want/need.

Trisha and Veronica, anything more to add to my brief notes?

Kris Cambell is going to send out some ListServe messages.

I would recommend we set a meeting with the RDs, Carol, and Deb right away to discuss. [redacted]

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

[redacted]

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Supreme Court Embraces Originalism In 'Momentous' Term
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 06/07/2022 02:13

Wednesday, July 6, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Supreme Court Embraces Originalism In 'Momentous' Term

The October 2021 Supreme Court term will be remembered as the most consequential one in generations, experts said, pointing to sweeping rulings affecting the rights of millions of Americans and establishing a new conservative vision of constitutional law.

Read full article »

Breaking Down The Vote: The High Court Term In Review

The overturning of a long-standing precedent, the surprising leak of a draft opinion and the announcement of Justice Stephen Breyer's retirement all made for a tumultuous term at the U.S. Supreme Court. Here, Law360 takes a data dive into the numbers behind this court term.

Read full article »

Podcast

Pro Say & The Term Discuss A Historic Supreme Court Term

A U.S. Supreme Court term that by any measure was historic has concluded, and it takes a village of podcasters to untangle everything that happened. So this week, hosts from Pro Say team up with the hosts of The Term to discuss this momentous term.

Read full article »

Analysis

Justices Empower Biden To Undo AGs' Immigration Wins

The U.S. Supreme Court's ruling allowing the Biden administration to unwind the so-called Remain in Mexico program offers the White House a path to ditch other court orders tying up its immigration agenda, such as plans to lift pandemic restrictions.

Read full article »

Analysis

One Mystery Word Has Set Off A Race For Rural EB-5 Deals

As the EB-5 community publicly searches for answers to major questions regarding the law's crucial regional center program, developers behind the scenes are scrambling to line up more rural projects as players speculate about the meaning of a single word buried in a law from earlier this year.

Read full article »

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Alston & Bird
Armstrong Teasdale
Arnold & Porter
Axinn Veltrop
Blackstone Chambers
Burke Warren
Burns & Levinson
Cole Schotz
Crowell & Moring
DLA Piper
Davis+Gilbert LLP
Durbano Law Firm
Fenwick & West
Foley & Lardner
Foley Hoag
Foot Anstey
Gibson Dunn
Gilbert LLP
Girardi & Keese
Goldberg Kohn
Greenberg Traurig
Hogan Lovells
Honigman LLP
Irell & Manella
Jeffer Mangels
Jones Day
Jones Snead

Analysis

FDA Flexes Muscle On Juul And Nicotine, But At What Cost?

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration's moves at the end of June to limit nicotine in cigarettes and order Juul's e-cigarettes off the market won immediate applause from public health advocates, but some experts say the strategy may backfire by creating black markets.

Read full article »

Ky. Trial Judge Vacancy Tees Up Likely Biden-McConnell Deal

A Kentucky district judge's plan to take senior status has teed up what could be a bitter showdown over President Joe Biden's potential lifetime appointment of an anti-abortion, conservative Squire Patton Boggs attorney, who is reportedly being backed by Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell.

Read full article »

7th Circ. Won't Stop Obama Presidential Center Construction

Work on former President Barack Obama's presidential center in Chicago can continue after the Seventh Circuit said Friday the federal government had no duty to consider the environmental impacts for other potential locations, as it doesn't have that power.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

FDIC Finds Some Bankers Miss Having In-Person Examiners

After dabbling with fully remote bank examinations during the pandemic, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. says there's a "desire" among many bankers to have some in-person interaction with their examiners.

Report attached | Read full article »

NY Denies Power Plant Air Permit For Crypto Miner Greenidge

New York environmental regulators have denied a request from a coal power plant-turned-cryptocurrency mining facility at the Finger Lakes to renew its air permit, finding that the facility does not comply with the state's climate and clean energy laws.

Letter attached | Read full article »

SEC Can't Play Judge And Jury Of Its Cases, Justices Told

A Texas accountant who asserts that the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's administrative law judges are unconstitutionally protected from removal has told the U.S. Supreme Court that federal district courts are the proper forum for the type of enforcement action she faces.

Brief attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

The Biggest Enviro Policy Moves Of 2022: Midyear Report

The first half of 2022 has been filled with important environmental policy developments, from a groundbreaking climate change reporting rule for the financial industry to regulations that strengthen reviews for infrastructure projects that need federal approval.

Read full article »

Red States Challenge DOT's Tighter Fuel Economy Standards

A group of Republican-led states say in a new lawsuit that the U.S. Department of Transportation stepped outside its

K&L Gates
Keller & Heckman
Kellogg Hansen
Kipp & Christian
Kirkland & Ellis
Kirton McConkie
Latham & Watkins
Law Offices of Sheldon J. Schlesinger
Mackenzie & Albritton
Mayer Brown
McDermott Will
Mintz Levin
Mishcon de Reya
Morgan Lewis
Morris Nichols
Morrison Foerster
Motley Rice
Nixon Peabody
Nutter McClennen
O'Melveny & Myers
One Essex Court
Orrick Herrington
Paul Weiss
Polsinelli PC
Prince Lobel
Quinn Emanuel
Rachlis Duff
Richards Layton
Robinson & Cole
Seyfarth Shaw
Shook Hardy
Sidley Austin
Snell & Wilmer
Soltero Sapire
Squire Patton
Torys
Troutman Pepper
Venable LLP
Weil Gotshal
Wiggin and Dana
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale
Wilson Sonsini
Young Conaway

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

22nd Century Group Inc.
Aclaris Therapeutics Inc.
Activision Blizzard Inc.
Agilon Health Inc
Ally Financial Inc.
American Airlines Group Inc.
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio
American Humanist Association
American Immigration Council Inc.
Apple Inc.
Axon Enterprise Inc.
Booz Allen Hamilton Holding Corp.
Buckeye GP Holdings LP
C.H. Robinson Worldwide Inc.
CVS Health Corp.
Cato Institute
Center for Biological Diversity
CenterPoint Energy Inc.
Cerberus Capital Management LP
Cerner Corp.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Chimerix Inc.

authority with a decision to finalize stricter fuel economy standards for cars.

Petition attached | Read full article »

POST-ROE FALLOUT

Texas Justices Allow Enforcement Of Pre-Roe Abortion Ban

The Texas Supreme Court late Friday allowed the state to enforce a nearly century-old ban on abortion, overturning a lower court that had temporarily frozen enforcement of the law against a group of abortion providers.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Ohio Supreme Court Declines To Block 6-Week Abortion Ban

Ohio's high court on Friday declined to immediately stop the state from enforcing a Republican-passed law essentially banning abortions after six weeks of pregnancy, rebuffing an initial attempt from clinics to try their arguments in state court following last week's major U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

Order attached | Read full article »

NJ Takes On Dobbs With Passage Of Abortion Rights Laws

New Jersey Gov. Phil Murphy on Friday signed bills designed to protect individuals who visit the state for abortions and their medical providers by shielding patient information and barring extradition for allegedly related crimes in other states following the U.S. Supreme Court's decision eliminating the constitutional right to abortion.

Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

Pa. County Sues Major Pharmacy Chains Over Opioid Controls

Pharmacy chains CVS, Rite Aid and Walgreens contributed to an epidemic of opioid addiction, overdose deaths and strains on public resources in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, through their negligent monitoring and control of the prescriptions they filled, according to a lawsuit the county filed in Pennsylvania state court.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

Calif. Appeals Court Rejects Challenge To PAGA

California's Private Attorneys General Act allowing workers to sue employers on behalf of the state doesn't violate the state's constitutional separation of powers, a California appellate court ruled, saying a state Supreme Court decision already made that determination.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

Monthly Merger Review Snapshot

The U.S. Department of Justice moved to block a defense contractor deal while the Federal Trade Commission forced the abandonment of two hospital system mergers and reached settlements with a private equity firm over a pair of veterinary chain acquisitions. Here, Law360 looks at the biggest developments in merger reviews from June.

Read full article »

CONSUMER PROTECTION

High Court EPA Ruling Stalls 'Right To Repair' Decision Again

A federal judge for the sixth time delayed ruling on Massachusetts' expanded "right to repair" law Friday, citing the need to consider the implications of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision restricting the government's ability to

Clayton Dubilier & Rice LLC
Conagra Brands Inc.
Costco Wholesale Corp.
DISH Network Corp.
Emergent BioSolutions Inc.
Ericsson Inc.
Ernst & Young LLP
Federalist Society
Financial Industry Regulatory Authority Inc.
GE Healthcare Systems
GPM Investments LLC
General Dynamics Corp.
General Mills Inc.
General Motors Co.
Georgia State University
Getty Images Inc.
Google LLC
HCA Healthcare Inc.
Hamline University
Harvard University
Illumina Inc.
Industrial Alliance Insurance & Financial Services
Instagram Inc.
Intel Corp.
JUUL Labs Inc.
LHC Group Inc.
LexisNexis Group Inc.
LinkedIn Corp.
Lockheed Martin Corp.
Macy's Inc.
Magellan Midstream Partners LP
Meta Platforms Inc.
Microsoft Corp.
National Association for the Advancement of Colored People
National Association of Manufacturers
National Collegiate Athletic Association
New Civil Liberties Alliance
New York University
Ocado Ltd.
Ohio State University
Oracle Corp.
Paypal Holdings Inc.
Planned Parenthood Federation
PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP
Procter & Gamble Co.
Public Co. Accounting Oversight Board
Public Health Law Center
RWJ Barnabas Health Inc.
Reckitt Benckiser Group PLC
Regional Transportation District
Remington Arms Co. LLC
Rite Aid Corp.
Rogers Communications Inc.
Shaw Communications Inc.
Six Flags Entertainment Corp.
Sparc Group LLC
Spotify Technology SA
Standard General LP
Steward Health Care System LLC
Surfside
T-Mobile US Inc.
Tegna Inc.
Tesla Inc.
The Barack Obama Foundation

regulate greenhouse gas emissions and "unforeseen" scheduling issues ahead of the holiday weekend.

Read full article »

PERSONAL INJURY & MEDICAL MALPRACTICE

Analysis

Top Personal Injury, Med Mal News: Midyear Report

A U.S. Supreme Court ruling that Florida has broad authority to recoup Medicaid costs from plaintiffs' injury awards and a rapid $1 billion settlement of litigation related to the Surfside condo collapse are among Law360's top personal injury and medical malpractice cases for the first six months of 2022.

Read full article »

GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS

Top Gov't Contracting Policies Of 2022: Midyear Report

The White House and federal agencies introduced several high-profile policies at the intersection of labor and procurement issues during the first half of 2022. Here, Law360 looks at six prominent areas of policy changes and proposals so far this year in government contracting.

Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

Wash. Tribe Loses Latest Bid For Federal Recognition

A federal judge in Washington, D.C., rejected the Pilchuck Nation's latest attempt to gain formal recognition, saying the Washington state tribe has not exhausted its nonlegal options because it never sought that status through an official process overseen by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Order attached | Read full article »

Utah Supports Shoshone Tribe's Hunting Rights At 9th Circ.

The state of Utah threw its support behind the Northwestern Band of the Shoshone Nation in its request for the Ninth Circuit to reverse a decision by an Idaho federal judge denying it hunting rights, which the tribe says are guaranteed by an 1868 treaty.

Brief attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Verizon Says Local Group Caused City To Delay Cell Tower

Verizon Wireless says city officials in Fresno, California, trapped its request to build a cell tower disguised as a tree in a "bureaucratic gauntlet," accusing the city in a federal lawsuit of violating a statutory deadline for considering such projects due to opposition by a condo association and a local lawmaker.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

Cannabis Bill Roundup: Pa. Scores Its Own SAFE Banking Act

Lawmakers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and California advanced or approved bills intended to bolster their cannabis industries, while the District of Columbia may have found a workaround for Congress' refusal to let the district set up a regulated recreational market. Here are the major legislative moves in cannabis reform from the past week.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Praying Coach Ruling Expands Public Employee Free Speech

Likely one of the most significant U.S. Supreme Court decisions of the term, Kennedy v. Bremerton will not only

The Center for Reproductive Rights
The Western Union Co.
TikTok Inc.
Toronto-Dominion Bank
Toyota Motor Corp.
Twitter Inc.
U.S. Venture Inc.
UCLA School of Law
Ultra Electronics Holdings PLC
Union Pacific Corp.
United Food & Commercial Workers International Union
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
University of Georgia
University of Virginia
Verizon Communications Inc.
Volkswagen AG
Vonage Holdings Corp.
WPP PLC
Walgreens Co.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
Bureau of Indian Affairs
California Department of Justice
California Supreme Court
Colorado Department of Transportation
Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States
Competition Appeal Tribunal
Competition and Markets Authority
Council on Environmental Quality
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
European Commission
Executive Office of the President
Federal Acquisition Regulatory Council
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.
Federal Trade Commission
Fish and Wildlife Service
Food and Drug Administration
Idaho Attorney General's Office
Internal Revenue Service
National Highway Traffic Safety Administration
National Security Agency
New Jersey Legislature
New Jersey Supreme Court
New York State Department of Environmental Conservation
Northwestern Band of the Shoshone Nation
Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs
Office of the Comptroller of the Currency
Ohio Attorney General's Office
Ohio Supreme Court
San Manuel Band of Mission Indians
State Bar of Texas
Stillaguamish Tribe
Texas Attorney General's Office
Texas Supreme Court

reshape the application of the First Amendment's religion clauses, but will also have major implications for the free speech rights of the millions of public employees across the country, says Joshua Dunn at the University of Colorado, Colorado Springs.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Opinion

SEC Should Reject Climate Rules Over First Amendment Issue

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's proposed rules imposing mandatory climate-related disclosures on publicly traded companies likely do not pass constitutional muster — for three reasons, say Thomas Berry and Jennifer Schulp at Cato.

Read full article »

Watching The Legal Sports Betting Ecosystem Take Shape

The number of U.S. states getting in on the recently legalized $4.29 billion sports-betting industry is on the rise, and stakeholders must be aware that the regulatory scheme looks dramatically different from state to state, say James Johnston and Louis DiLorenzo at Davis+Gilbert.

Read full article »

New P3 Authority Means Opportunities For Colo. Agencies

A recently passed Colorado law expanding public-private partnerships changes state-level project finance and infrastructure dramatically, allowing virtually all state agencies to avail themselves of P3 benefits including cost and schedule savings, sharing of risk, and access to innovation and private sector efficiency, say Gregory Johnson and Peter Gould at Squire Patton.

Read full article »

Make Room For Serendipity In Your Legal Job Search

Landing your dream legal job gets easier when you cultivate serendipity — which involves expanding and deepening your network, while being flexible, authentic and engaged with the world around you, says Anna Sanders at VOYLegal.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

The Firms That Won Big At The Supreme Court

Oral arguments at the U.S. Supreme Court are always a singular experience, the more so this term as the justices returned to hearing cases in person after being remote last term.

Read full article »

US Supreme Court Term In Review: What You Need To Know

A surprising leak. A big retirement. Blockbuster decisions. Here, Law360 looks at the moments, arguments and opinions that defined the U.S. Supreme Court's latest term.

Read full article »

Honigman Picks DEI Expert As 1st CFO

Honigman LLP has hired the founder of a nonprofit group focused on improving the lives of those with disabilities as its first chief financial officer.

Read full article »

3rd Circ. Pick Is Lauded For Keen Mind, Strong Work Ethic

U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of New Jersey
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Defense
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of State
U.S. Department of Transportation
U.S. Department of the Interior
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of California
U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. General Services Administration
U.S. Navy
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
U.S. Tax Court
United States District Court for the District of Utah
Utah Attorney General's Office

Delaware Supreme Court Justice Tamika R. Montgomery-Reeves, already a trailblazer on two of the state's nationally important courts, possesses many qualities that make her well-suited to serve on the Third Circuit, one of her key mentors and others told Law360 following her nomination Wednesday by President Joe Biden.

Read full article »

Letting Atty Off Hook Will Weaken Disclosure, Ocado Warns

An attorney for Ocado told a judge on Friday that failure to approve a committal application against a former senior Jones Day lawyer for instructing a client to delete a secure messaging system would "undermine" court search orders.

Read full article »

K&L Gates Fights Health Center's Bid To Revive Billing Suit

K&L Gates LLP has urged a Utah federal judge not to revive a health center's lawsuit alleging the firm engaged in deceptive billing practices, saying its former client has tried to "forum shop" and failed.

Read full article »

Attys File For Ethics Probe In Trump NM Election Suit

An Albuquerque lawyer and another attorney who filed a federal lawsuit as part of a Donald Trump-led effort to overturn the result of the 2020 presidential election should be investigated by a court appointee, a group of New Mexico attorneys said in a court filing this week.

Read full article »

Texas Justices Won't Trim Suit From Poisoned Attorney

The Texas Supreme Court on Friday denied a paralegal's request that the court trim a lawsuit filed by her former boss accusing her of stealing from him, causing his disbarment and poisoning him with antifreeze.

Read full article »

NJ Atty Discipline Declined In 2021, But Disbarments Were Up

The New Jersey Supreme Court's office of attorney discipline brought 30% fewer ethics complaints in 2021 compared to the year prior, reflecting the lingering effects of COVID-19, the court recently announced in a yearly roundup.

Read full article »

Hub Hires: Foley Hoag, DLA Piper, Hogan Lovells

Massachusetts lawyers found new homes in June, with a former state attorney general rejoining Foley Hoag, DLA Piper adding a former lead U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission trial lawyer, and Hogan Lovells boosting its mergers and acquisitions practice.

Read full article »

GC Cheat Sheet: The Hottest Corporate News Of The Week

Senior in-house lawyers at Ernst & Young LLP are under review for how they failed to timely disclose knowledge that some EY professionals cheated on accounting exams. And the U.S. Supreme Court decision overturning Roe v. Wade has left general counsel grappling with the fallout, including whether a company can be criminally charged for helping an employee obtain an abortion in a different state.

Read full article »

The Top In-House Hires Of June

Legal department hires during June included high-profile appointments at Intel Corp., Procter & Gamble, and the Center for Reproductive Rights Inc. Here, Law360 looks at some top in-house announcements from the past month.

Read full article »

In Case You Missed It: Hottest Firms And Stories On Law360

For those who missed out, here's a look back at the law firms, stories and expert analyses that generated the most buzz on Law360 last week.

Read full article »

August Trial Set In 2018 Killing Of Mayer Brown Partner

The brother-in-law of former Mayer Brown LLP partner Stephen Shapiro will go on trial in late August in an Illinois state court on charges that he killed the attorney at his home north of Chicago.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Litigation Attorney
Harter Secrest & Emery LLP
-, -

Deputy General Counsel – Legal Department (LEG)
International Monetary Fund
Washington, District of Columbia

Deputy Attorney General 2
New Jersey Division of Law
Trenton, New Jersey

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions
Illinois Attorney General's Office
-, -

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.

However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,

you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: FDA Flexes Muscle On Juul And Nicotine, But At What Cost?
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 06/07/2022 02:26

LAW360®

Wednesday, July 6, 2022 Follow

TOP NEWS

Analysis

FDA Flexes Muscle On Juul And Nicotine, But At What Cost?

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration's moves at the end of June to limit nicotine in cigarettes and order Juul's e-cigarettes off the market won immediate applause from public health advocates, but some experts say the strategy may backfire by creating black markets.

Read full article »

Drug Distributors Off Hook In W.Va. Opioid Trial

The West Virginia federal judge overseeing the first federal bellwether trial found Monday that an Appalachian county failed to prove that the nation's three largest drug distributors flooded the area with huge shipments of opioids and created a public nuisance.

Verdict attached | Read full article »

Jury Hands Endo Win In Opana Pay-For-Delay Case

An Illinois jury sided with Endo Pharmaceuticals on Friday over allegations that it struck an unlawful settlement with Impax Laboratories to delay a generic version of Endo's Opana ER painkiller, finding the deal did more to boost competition than stifle it.

Read full article »

Texas Justices Allow Enforcement Of Pre-Roe Abortion Ban

The Texas Supreme Court late Friday allowed the state to enforce a nearly century-old ban on abortion, overturning a lower court that had temporarily frozen enforcement of the law against a group of abortion providers.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Ky. Trial Judge Vacancy Tees Up Likely Biden-McConnell Deal

A Kentucky district judge's plan to take senior status has teed up what could be a bitter showdown over President Joe Biden's potential lifetime appointment of an anti-abortion, conservative Squire Patton Boggs attorney, who is reportedly being backed by Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell.

Read full article »

Ohio Supreme Court Declines To Block 6-Week Abortion Ban

Ohio's high court on Friday declined to immediately stop the state from enforcing a Republican-passed law essentially banning abortions after six weeks of pregnancy, rebuffing an initial attempt from clinics to try their arguments in state court following last week's major U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

Order attached | Read full article »

NJ Takes On Dobbs With Passage Of Abortion Rights Laws

New Jersey Gov. Phil Murphy on Friday signed bills designed to protect individuals who visit the state for abortions and their medical providers by shielding patient information and barring extradition for allegedly related crimes in other states following the U.S. Supreme Court's decision eliminating the constitutional right to abortion.

Read full article »

Google Vows To Delete Abortion Trip Data In Wake Of Dobbs

A Google executive unveiled a new policy Friday promising to delete user location data related to visits to abortion clinics and other health providers, following calls by Democratic lawmakers for the tech giant to delete data so that prosecutors in states where abortions are illegal can't use it in prosecutions.

Read full article »

Analysis

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

22nd Century Group Inc.
Aclaris Therapeutics Inc.
Aerojet Rocketdyne Holdings Inc.
Agilon Health Inc
Ally Financial Inc.
Alphabet Inc.
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio
AmerisourceBergen Corp.
Apple Inc.
B. Braun Melsungen AG
BITCO Insurance Co.
C.H. Robinson Worldwide Inc.
CVS Health Corp.
Cardinal Health Inc.
Carvana Co.
Catholic Health Initiatives
CenterPoint Energy Inc.
Cerberus Capital Management LP
CommonSpirit Health
Conagra Brands Inc.
Costco Wholesale Corp.
El Pollo Loco Holdings Inc.
Endo International PLC
Ernst & Young LLP
Federalist Society
Fenway Sports Group LP
Financial Industry Regulatory Authority Inc.
Fitbit Inc.
GE Healthcare Systems
General Dynamics Corp.
Georgia State University
Google LLC
Hamline University
Harvard University
Impax Laboratories, Inc.
Intel Corp.
Ionis Pharmaceuticals Inc.
JUUL Labs Inc.
Kingston Technology Co. Inc.
Lamb Weston Holdings Inc.
LexisNexis Group Inc.
LinkedIn Corp.
Lockheed Martin Corp.
Macy's Inc.
McKesson Corp.

Insurance Coverage Questions Abound After Dobbs Decision

Abortion's status as a medical procedure in some states and a crime in others will pose a challenge to insurers and policyholders as policies often exclude coverage for criminal acts, meaning significant policy language changes may be needed in the wake of Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization.

Read full article »

POLICY & REGULATION

Cannabis Bill Roundup: Pa. Scores Its Own SAFE Banking Act

Lawmakers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and California advanced or approved bills intended to bolster their cannabis industries, while the District of Columbia may have found a workaround for Congress' refusal to let the district set up a regulated recreational market. Here are the major legislative moves in cannabis reform from the past week.

Read full article »

LITIGATION

6th Circ. ERISA Ruling Could Lead To Circuit Split

The Sixth Circuit handed employers a win when it tossed a 401(k) mismanagement suit brought by CommonSpirit Health retirees, but experts say a circuit split could be brewing as more courts interpret the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling in a similar case against Northwestern University that addressed pleading standards.

Read full article »

B. Braun Ex-Workers Get Class Cert. In 401(k) Fees Suit

A Pennsylvania federal judge certified a class of B. Braun Medical Inc. ex-employees who say the medical device manufacturer flouted federal benefits law by charging lofty fees on their 401(k) plan, after the Third Circuit ruled on a related lawsuit.

Order attached | Read full article »

Analysis

Top Personal Injury, Med Mal News: Midyear Report

A U.S. Supreme Court ruling that Florida has broad authority to recoup Medicaid costs from plaintiffs' injury awards and a rapid $1 billion settlement of litigation related to the Surfside condo collapse are among Law360's top personal injury and medical malpractice cases for the first six months of 2022.

Read full article »

Analysis

6 Biggest Cases Of This Texas Supreme Court Term

This term, the Texas Supreme Court recognized eminent domain authority for a $30 billion high speed bullet train that was critical to the project's future, overruled its own precedent to continue the court's tradition of giving litigants leeway to make procedural mistakes and expanded when judges can consider outside evidence in insurance disputes.

Read full article »

Pa. County Sues Major Pharmacy Chains Over Opioid Controls

Pharmacy chains CVS, Rite Aid and Walgreens contributed to an epidemic of opioid addiction, overdose deaths and strains on public resources in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, through their negligent monitoring and control of the prescriptions they filled, according to a lawsuit the county filed in Pennsylvania state court.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Catching Up With Delaware's Chancery Court

A rising star who once shined in the First State's court of equity was nominated for a spot on the Third Circuit last

Memorial Hermann Healthcare System Inc.
Microsoft Corp.
National Association for the Advancement of Colored People
New York University
Nisource Corporate Services Co.
Ocado Ltd.
Ohio State University
Oracle Corp.
Oshkosh Corp.
Paypal Holdings Inc.
Pittsburgh Penguins
Planned Parenthood Federation
PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP
Procter & Gamble Co.
Public Health Law Center
Remington Arms Co. LLC
Rite Aid Corp.
Salesforce.com Inc.
Sanofi SA
Sirius XM Radio Inc.
Six Flags Entertainment Corp.
Sparc Group LLC
Surfside
Tax Executives Institute Inc.
Tesla Inc.
The Center for Reproductive Rights
The Motion Picture Association Inc.
The Trade Desk Inc.
The Western Union Co.
Trader Joe's Co.
Twitter Inc.
UCLA School of Law
Union Pacific Corp.
United Food & Commercial Workers International Union
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
Universal Health Services Inc.
University of Georgia
University of Virginia
WPP PLC
Walgreens Co.
eHealth, Inc.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Ahmad Zavitsanos
Alston & Bird
Armstrong Teasdale
Arnold & Porter
Axinn Veltrop
Barnes & Thornburg
Becker & Hebert
Berger Montague
Berger Singerman
Blackstone Chambers
Bracewell LLP
Burns & Levinson
Capozzi Adler
Covington & Burling
Cozen O'Connor
DLA Piper
Dechert LLP
DiCello Levitt
Durbano Law Firm
Edinger Leonard
Fenwick & West
Flaherty Sensabaugh
Foley & Lardner
Foley Hoag
Foot Anstey

week, as her former colleagues in Delaware Chancery Court pounded the gavel on a local abortion-related law and dismissed suits involving El Pollo Loco and the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Read full article »

Fla. Insurance Co. Drops Suit Over Rivals' Tribal Health Plans

A Florida insurance company told a New Jersey federal judge Friday it has agreed to dismiss its lawsuit alleging that a group of insurance and marketing businesses conspired to illegally sell health plans associated with Native American tribes.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

Health Hires: Lewis Brisbois, Troutman Pepper

Lewis Brisbois Bisgaard & Smith LLP and Troutman Pepper have both nabbed new partners in their health-focused practice areas, highlighting Law360's latest roundup of personnel moves in health care and life sciences.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

The Fed. Circ. In June: A Few Decisions To Know

Among last month's Federal Circuit decisions, Pavo Solutions v. Kingston shows how the line between correcting a typo and construing a claim term is not always a bright one, while Novartis v. Accord shows why counsel should not reject outright the possibility of rehearing, says Paul Stewart at Knobbe Martens.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Make Room For Serendipity In Your Legal Job Search

Landing your dream legal job gets easier when you cultivate serendipity — which involves expanding and deepening your network, while being flexible, authentic and engaged with the world around you, says Anna Sanders at VOYLegal.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

The Firms That Won Big At The Supreme Court

Oral arguments at the U.S. Supreme Court are always a singular experience, the more so this term as the justices returned to hearing cases in person after being remote last term.

Read full article »

Supreme Court Embraces Originalism In 'Momentous' Term

The October 2021 Supreme Court term will be remembered as the most consequential one in generations, experts said, pointing to sweeping rulings affecting the rights of millions of Americans and establishing a new conservative vision of constitutional law.

Read full article »

US Supreme Court Term In Review: What You Need To Know

A surprising leak. A big retirement. Blockbuster decisions. Here, Law360 looks at the moments, arguments and opinions that defined the U.S. Supreme Court's latest term.

Read full article »

Honigman Picks DEI Expert As 1st CFO

Freed Kanner
Garwin Gerstein
Gibson Dunn
Girardi & Keese
Goldberg Kohn
Greenberg Traurig
Groom Law Group
Hangley Aronchick
Hogan Lovells
Honigman LLP
Irell & Manella
J.J. Conway Law
Jackson Kelly PLLC
Jones Day
Jones Snead
K&L Gates
Keller & Heckman
Kellogg Hansen
Kenny Nachwalter
Kipp & Christian
Kirkland & Ellis
Knobbe Martens
Latham & Watkins
Law Offices of Sheldon J. Schlesinger
Lewis Brisbois
Lynn Pinker
Martin Frost & Hill
Mayer Brown
McDermott Will
Miller Johnson
Miller Shah LLP
Mishcon de Reya
Morgan Lewis
Morris Nichols
Morrison Foerster
Motley Rice
Nutter McClennen
O'Melveny & Myers
One Essex Court
Orrick Herrington
Paul Weiss
Polsinelli PC
Powell & Majestro
Prince Lobel
Quinn Emanuel
Reed Smith
Richards Layton
Robinson & Cole
Shook Hardy
Simmons Hanly
Skadden Arps
Snell & Wilmer
Soltero Sapire
Squire Patton
Stone & Magnanini
Torys
Troutman Pepper
Weil Gotshal
Weiss Serota
Wiggin and Dana
Wiley Rein
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale
Wilson Sonsini
Young Conaway

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Delaware Court of Chancery
Federal Bureau of Investigation

Honigman LLP has hired the founder of a nonprofit group focused on improving the lives of those with disabilities as its first chief financial officer.

Read full article »

3rd Circ. Pick Is Lauded For Keen Mind, Strong Work Ethic

Delaware Supreme Court Justice Tamika R. Montgomery-Reeves, already a trailblazer on two of the state's nationally important courts, possesses many qualities that make her well-suited to serve on the Third Circuit, one of her key mentors and others told Law360 following her nomination Wednesday by President Joe Biden.

Read full article »

Letting Atty Off Hook Will Weaken Disclosure, Ocado Warns

An attorney for Ocado told a judge on Friday that failure to approve a committal application against a former senior Jones Day lawyer for instructing a client to delete a secure messaging system would "undermine" court search orders.

Read full article »

K&L Gates Fights Health Center's Bid To Revive Billing Suit

K&L Gates LLP has urged a Utah federal judge not to revive a health center's lawsuit alleging the firm engaged in deceptive billing practices, saying its former client has tried to "forum shop" and failed.

Read full article »

Attys File For Ethics Probe In Trump NM Election Suit

An Albuquerque lawyer and another attorney who filed a federal lawsuit as part of a Donald Trump-led effort to overturn the result of the 2020 presidential election should be investigated by a court appointee, a group of New Mexico attorneys said in a court filing this week.

Read full article »

Texas Justices Won't Trim Suit From Poisoned Attorney

The Texas Supreme Court on Friday denied a paralegal's request that the court trim a lawsuit filed by her former boss accusing her of stealing from him, causing his disbarment and poisoning him with antifreeze.

Read full article »

NJ Atty Discipline Declined In 2021, But Disbarments Were Up

The New Jersey Supreme Court's office of attorney discipline brought 30% fewer ethics complaints in 2021 compared to the year prior, reflecting the lingering effects of COVID-19, the court recently announced in a yearly roundup.

Read full article »

Hub Hires: Foley Hoag, DLA Piper, Hogan Lovells

Massachusetts lawyers found new homes in June, with a former state attorney general rejoining Foley Hoag, DLA Piper adding a former lead U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission trial lawyer, and Hogan Lovells boosting its mergers and acquisitions practice.

Read full article »

GC Cheat Sheet: The Hottest Corporate News Of The Week

Senior in-house lawyers at Ernst & Young LLP are under review for how they failed to timely disclose knowledge that some EY professionals cheated on accounting exams. And the U.S. Supreme Court decision overturning Roe v. Wade has left general counsel grappling with the fallout, including whether a company can be criminally charged for helping an employee obtain an abortion in a different state.

Read full article »

Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Internal Revenue Service
New Jersey Supreme Court
Ohio Attorney General's Office
Ohio Supreme Court
San Manuel Band of Mission Indians
State Bar of Texas
Texas Attorney General's Office
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of New Jersey
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of West Virginia
U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. Navy
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
U.S. Tax Court
United States District Court for the District of Utah
United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio

The Top In-House Hires Of June

Legal department hires during June included high-profile appointments at Intel Corp., Procter & Gamble, and the Center for Reproductive Rights Inc. Here, Law360 looks at some top in-house announcements from the past month.

Read full article »

In Case You Missed It: Hottest Firms And Stories On Law360

For those who missed out, here's a look back at the law firms, stories and expert analyses that generated the most buzz on Law360 last week.

Read full article »

August Trial Set In 2018 Killing Of Mayer Brown Partner

The brother-in-law of former Mayer Brown LLP partner Stephen Shapiro will go on trial in late August in an Illinois state court on charges that he killed the attorney at his home north of Chicago.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Health Care Regulatory & Transactional Attorney
Moore & Van Allen, PLLC
Charlotte, North Carolina

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.

However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,

you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: How localities are thinking big with ARPA funds; This federalcommittee is watching your federal aid spending; Mayor sparks outrage withshooting comments
FROM: Route Fifty Today <news@e.routefifty.com>
TO: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 06/07/2022 05:02

Problems viewing? View as a web page

ROUTE FIFTY

Connecting state and local government leaders

Route Fifty Today
July 6, 2022

How Cities and Counties Are Thinking Big With Their ARPA Plans

KATHERINE BARRETT & RICHARD GREENE | Across the country, some local governments are using federal aid from the American Rescue Plan to launch "transformational" projects in areas like affordable housing, public safety and ridding homes of lead—things that will endure long after the money is spent.

This Federal Committee Is Watching Over Your Pandemic Funds Spending

LIZ FARMER | The Pandemic Response Accountability Committee is on the lookout for fraud and other issues with trillions in federal Covid aid. But the watchdog is also assembling a wealth of data on programs the money is going to.

Combating Abortion Misinformation in the Post-Roe Environment

JULIA ROLLISON | COMMENTARY | False information could get worse amid rapidly changing laws around abortion access. But states, employers and others have ways to quash these efforts.

Brought to you by Kallman Worldwide

Exhibit with Kallman for Connections that Click

Since 1963, Kallman Worldwide has helped state export promotion agencies and their clients connect with business partners throughout the world. Under the U.S. Small Business Administration's State Trade and Export Promotion (STEP) program, states can apply for matching funds to help qualified exporters at overseas shows. Kallman continues to offer a full range of expert export promotion services including its award-winning USA Partnership Pavilion program at leading international trade shows, custom exhibit builds, digital trade missions, and informational webinars.

For more information, contact our team!

Philadelphia Mayor Sparks Outrage With Comments About a Shooting

HARRISON CANN | CITY & STATE PENNSYLVANIA | Some City Council members have called for his resignation.

New Yorkers Are Scrambling For Public Restroom Access With Limited Availability

SAHALIE DONALDSON | CITY & STATE NEW YORK | New legislation would require city departments to identify a new restroom location in every ZIP code, but stops short from ordering their completion.

Governments Begin Pushing Back on Investors Snatching Up Homes

SHARON O'MALLEY | Institutional investors purchased nearly 20% of all U.S. homes for sale in the last three months of 2021, turning most into rentals. Now, some state and local officials want to slow the trend, worried it is boxing residents out of homeownership.

Brought to you by Kallman Worldwide

Exhibit with Kallman for Connections that Click

Since 1963, Kallman Worldwide has helped state export promotion agencies and their clients connect with business partners throughout the world. Under the U.S. Small Business Administration's State Trade and Export Promotion (STEP) program, states can apply for matching funds to help qualified exporters at overseas shows. Kallman continues to offer a full range of expert export promotion services including its award-winning USA Partnership Pavilion program at leading international trade shows, custom exhibit builds, digital trade missions, and informational webinars. For more information, contact our team!

ROUTE FIFTY // CUSTOMER SERVICE // CONTACT US // PRIVACY POLICY // UNSUBSCRIBE

This message was sent from Route Fifty to hborski@utah.gov. You have been sent Route Fifty Today because you have opted in to receive it. Note: It may take our system up to two business days to process your unsubscribe request and during that time you may receive one or two more newsletters. Thank you for reading Route Fifty Today.

Government Executive Media Group, 600 New Hampshire Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20037

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: FDA Pauses Order to Ban Juul From Market,Promises Additional Review
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 06/07/2022 06:44

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

JULY 6, 2022

BY GABY GALVIN

Twitter Email

Top Stories

- The Food and Drug Administration paused its ban on sales of Juul Labs Inc.'s e-cigarettes, saying it will conduct a further review of the vaping giant's products following a federal appeals court's move to block the ban. The FDA said it will consider "scientific issues unique to the Juul application" to stay on the U.S. market after earlier arguing that the company lacked sufficient health and safety data. (The Associated Press)

- Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-N.Y.) will submit text today to the Senate parliamentarian on a Democratic agreement to allow Medicare to negotiate prescription drug prices beginning in 2023. The move will revive the party's budget reconciliation package, though negotiations over other measures are ongoing and it's still unclear whether the full legislative package will pass. (Punchbowl News)

- An experimental drug originally used to treat cancer curbed deaths by half among people hospitalized with COVID-19, according to a study that suggests sabizabulin is more effective than other treatments for COVID-19 patients with severe disease. Miami-based drugmaker Veru Inc. asked the FDA to authorize the drug, though outside experts cautioned that the clinical trial was relatively small. (The New York Times)

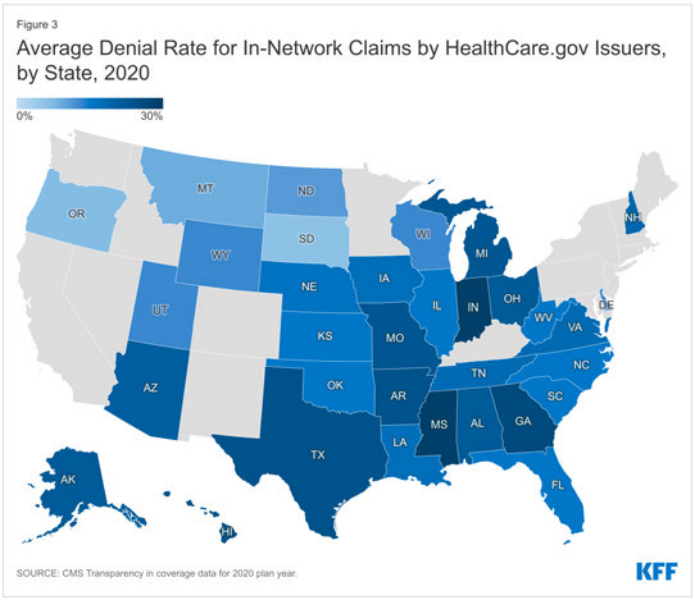
- The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services proposed the creation of a new provider designation for rural hospitals that seeks to prevent closures and improve access to care, in line with legislation passed last year. Designated rural emergency hospitals would be able to receive Medicare payments beginning in 2023. (Healthcare Dive)

Chart Review

Claims Denials and Appeals in ACA Marketplace Plans in 2020

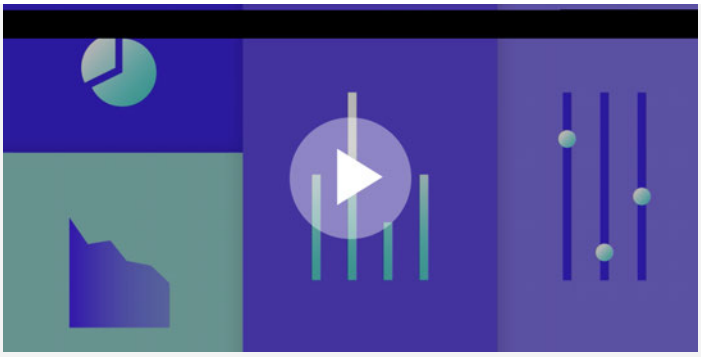
Kaiser Family Foundation



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



Clearly See the Path Ahead With Decision Intelligence

Our technology is customizable for your needs, so you can feel confident in all aspects of your business. With our predictive AI applications, high-frequency survey technology, full service data & analyst teams, and a proprietary data visualization platform, the path ahead for your business has never been clearer — all you need to do is look.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

BA.5 Subvariant Drives Majority of Recent Covid-19 Cases
Jon Kamp, The Wall Street Journal
The highly contagious Omicron BA.5 subvariant has taken over as the dominant version of the virus causing new Covid-19 cases in the U.S., the latest federal data show.

World's Covid vaccine, drugs equity program set to wind down this fall
Erin Banco and Ashleigh Furlong, Politico
The ACT-Accelerator has struggled to secure funding as Covid cases have declined from the height of the pandemic.

Covid-19 Vaccine Doses, Once in High Demand, Now Thrown Away
Peter Loftus, The Wall Street Journal
Governments, drugmakers and vaccination sites are discarding tens of millions of unused Covid-19 vaccine doses amid sagging demand, a sharp reversal from the early days of the mass-vaccination campaign, when doses were scarce.

Germany's CureVac files suit against vaccine rival BioNTech
The Associated Press
German biotech company CureVac said Tuesday it has filed a patent infringement lawsuit against rival BioNTech for work that it says contributed to the development of the BioNTech-Pfizer coronavirus vaccine. BioNTech said its work is original and it would "vigorously" contest the claim.

'My Body, My Choice': How Vaccine Foes Co-Opted the Abortion Rallying Cry
Rachel Bluth, Kaiser Health News
Armed with the language of the abortion rights movement, anti-vaccine forces have converged with right-leaning causes to protest covid precautions.

Estimates of long Covid are startlingly high. Here's how to understand them
Elizabeth Cooney, Stat News
Knowing how many people are living with that bitter legacy of Covid-19, and who among working-age adults can't work or care for their families, is critical to their care and to the health of our society.

GENERAL

FDA Rule Exerting Authority Over Premium Cigars Found Faulty
Martina Barash, Bloomberg Law
The FDA improperly glossed over cigar industry arguments when it decided to include premium cigars in a rule subjecting electronic cigarettes, hookahs, cigars, and other items to tobacco regulation, a federal court in Washington, D.C., ruled Tuesday.

NBC pundit, public health expert Vin Gupta in line for top Biden administration spot
Adam Cancryn, Politico
FDA eyes the media-savvy adviser to improve agency's PR efforts after recent stumbles.

Abortion laws by state: Legal status of abortion changing day-by-day after Roe v. Wade overturned
Megan Messerly, Politico
In some states, the legal status of abortion has flipped back and forth multiple times since the Supreme Court's decision last month.

The national bidding war for ARPA-H
Emma Hurt, Axios
An intra-state bidding war has broken out for the chance to house the headquarters of a multibillion-dollar new science agency aimed at curing major diseases — before the agency's structure has even been finalized by Congress.

The Quest by Circadian Medicine to Make the Most of Our Body Clocks
Kim Tingley, The New York Times Magazine
Researchers are trying to figure out the right hour of the day to do everything. Can their studies sync us up with better health?

PAYERS

Report: These are the factors impacting individual, small group premiums in 2023
Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare
The lingering effects of COVID-19, the end of enhanced subsidies for exchange plans and global inflation are among the key trends impacting premiums in 2023, according to a new report.

Hospital Can Sue Illinois to Enforce Medicaid Pay, Court Says
Christopher Brown, Bloomberg Law
An Illinois hospital can sue the state Medicaid department because it allegedly failed to ensure that managed care organizations promptly paid providers, a federal appeals court said Tuesday.

PROVIDERS

More nursing homes, physicians linked to lower hospital readmissions
Arielle Dreher, Axios
Medicare patients were readmitted to hospitals less frequently in communities with more nursing home beds and primary care physicians, a new Health Affairs study shows.

Infertility Patients and Doctors Fear Abortion Bans Could Restrict I.V.F.
Jan Hoffman, The New York Times
The new state bans don't explicitly cover embryos created outside the womb, but legal experts say overturning Roe could make it easier to place controls on genetic testing, storage and disposal of them.

Abuse, discrimination, exclusion: Transgender men explain domino effect of losing reproductive care post-Roe
Orion Rummler, The 19th
"If you are trans and become pregnant and you need to access abortion services in the South, your options are really, really limited right now."

Arizona prisons' 'grossly inadequate' health, mental care unconstitutional, federal judge rules
Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare
Years of "grossly inadequate" healthcare for Arizona prisoners represent a violation of the inmates' constitutional rights and will require outside help to remedy, a federal judge ruled late last week.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Eisai Says Alzheimer's Drug Will Get Priority Review in US
Robert Langreth and Kanoko Matsuyama, Bloomberg
Eisai Co. and Biogen Inc.'s experimental Alzheimer's disease drug lecanemab will receive a priority review by U.S. regulators, giving the companies a second shot at a treatment designed to slow progression of the devastating form of dementia.

FDA to convene second panel of outside experts to review Amylyx Pharma's ALS treatment
Adam Feuerstein, Stat News
Amylyx Pharmaceuticals said Tuesday that the Food and Drug Administration is bringing together a panel of outside experts for a second time to review new data on the company's experimental treatment for ALS.

Older Class of Drugs May Show Promise for Some Alzheimer's Signs
Marthe Fourcade, Bloomberg
Amid the many drug failures for Alzheimer's disease, researchers found that one older class of medicines might offer some hope, although just how much is still unclear.

Beyond a CRISPR treatment's encouraging results, some scientists see a need for more data on risk
Jason Mast, Stat News

What happens when you CRISPR people? Few questions generated more contentious discussion in biotech in the mid-2010s.

After West Virginia opioid verdict, another case postponed
John Raby, The Associated Press
A trial in a lawsuit accusing three major U.S. drug distributors of causing a health crisis throughout West Virginia was postponed Tuesday, a day after the companies prevailed in another case in the state.

Drugmaker 340B contract pharmacy restrictions continue with Bausch Health
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare
Bausch Health became the 18th drugmaker to impose restrictions on sales to 340B contract pharmacies despite an ongoing legal battle other companies have faced.

Widely Used Hospital Gowns Show Signs of Exposing Workers to Infection
Brett Kelman, Kaiser Health News
Disposable gowns designed to deflect the splatter of bodily fluids, used in thousands of U.S. hospitals, have underperformed in recent and ongoing laboratory tests and may fall short of safety standards, leaving health care workers with a greater risk of infection than advertised.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Telehealth lobbyists fear abortion debate could erase wins
Megan R. Wilson, Politico
They are avoiding the fallout from the Roe decision to ensure eased rules are extended beyond the pandemic.

Democratic senators want stricter HIPAA rules to protect abortion patients
Rebecca Pifer, Healthcare Dive
Two Democratic senators are urging the Biden administration to update the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act to prevent health data from being shared with law enforcement agencies targeting people who have an abortion, following the Supreme Court's decision last month to overturn Roe v. Wade and criminalize the procedure in some U.S. states.

Federal Patient Privacy Law Does Not Cover Most Period-Tracking Apps
Charles Ornstein, ProPublica
A patient privacy law known as HIPAA, passed in 1996, hasn't kept pace with new technologies and at-home tests.

Watson Health, under new investment firm ownership, is reborn as Merative
Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare
Investment firm Francisco Partners celebrated the close of its IBM Watson Health assets acquisition by announcing the launch of a new standalone data analytics company.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

I'm a High-Risk Obstetrician, and I'm Terrified for My Patients

David N. Hackney, The New York Times
Sometime soon, I am going to meet a patient who has no ability to leave the state, and I am going to have to tell her that her baby has a lethal condition, and she is going to have to carry a pregnancy to term against her will.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Effect of an Intensive Nurse Home Visiting Program on Adverse Birth Outcomes in a Medicaid-Eligible Population
Margaret A. McConnell et al., JAMA
Compared with usual care, the program did not reduce the risk of a composite of adverse birth outcomes; however, evaluation of the effectiveness of this program is incomplete pending assessment of early childhood and birth spacing outcomes.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Re: Employee response to DHHS email regarding supreme court decision
FROM: Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov>
TO: Diane Moore DHS <dmoore@utah.gov>
CC: Joe Dougherty DHS <joedougherty@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Monica Jimenez <mjimenez@utah.gov>, Stephanie Saperstein <stephaniesaperstein@utah.gov>, Sarah Welliver DHS <swelliver@utah.gov>
DATE: 06/07/2022 07:02

Diane,

Thank you for informing us of the concerns from this employee. It sounds like maybe others on your team also have concerns.

I am very sorry that staff feel that the email somehow communicated that DHHS is not providing psychological safety. As noted in the email, we were trying to encourage caution when discussing this issue or other issues where there is clear polarization in our nation, state and amongst our staff. In response to your email, I reviewed the communication with DHRM and legal and I still feel that we struck the right balance. Again, I am sorry that this particular staff member has interpreted the email in such a way that the individual is contemplating leaving the department. That is an extremely unfortunate outcome. Our leadership is more than willing to meet with the individual to talk about their concerns, if that would be helpful.

As we navigate these challenging issues, we continue to strive to provide effective communication to our staff. We will continue to draft these messages and review these messages to ensure we are doing so in a way that expresses our support for individual perspectives on these issues while trying to establish clear lines in the workplace.

Thanks again for elevating the concerns.

Tracy

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Tue, Jul 5, 2022 at 7:56 AM Diane Moore DHS <dmoore@utah.gov> wrote:

Greetings,

I hope everyone had a nice holiday weekend, and I am still out on personal vacation, but wanted to lift an issue to our EDO group (including legal, communications and human resources) regarding some employee responses to our formal DHHS statement on the Roe v Wade decision.

We at DHHS/DCFS often live in the crosshairs of controversial and sensitive subject matter. Our staff run the entire spectrum on social issues regarding their personal belief system. Our staff generally understand and we constantly remind them that they cannot engage in political activity using state time or devices, and that whatever they do in their personal time needs to be clear that they don't represent DCFS/DHHS/State of Utah. These parameters have generally been followed and understood.

However, some have perceived that the DHHS communication took things a bit further and moved from restrictions on political, leadership endorsement, or public activity on this topic to include any conversation at all. This may not be realistic in a workforce where connections and friendships are not only existing, but encouraged. As a result, I already have one of my top performing state office administrators informing me that as soon as they find another job, they will be leaving DCFS solely due to this DHHS communication. They don't want to leave the work and were in tears when this was discussed with me, but they felt that DHHS was no longer a psychologically safe place where they are valued or understood based on the DHHS Roe vs. Wade email. They even expressed they felt the ethics they must follow as a social worker was violated by the heavy handed language. They perceived the email as an outright ban on any mention of this ruling even with close work colleagues, including using telephone, text, chat, etc., and that this was simply too much and represented a significant shift from previous policies in its span and tone. They expressed that this was unique only to DHHS, was dehumanizing and made it a place where they cannot in good conscience continue to work. This staff member then provided two other, neutral statements from other state organizations that they had no problem with as examples of how DHHS could have handled it. They expressed that these other statements also understood and respected the Governor's position and the official position, but were done with a pragmatism and a humanity that they wished also existed at DHHS considering that we are literally about health and human services. What they heard was an explicit-- don't talk about it all with anyone at work in any way. This shutting down of connection and informal dialogue was seen as a blow to the work environment and even free speech.

Here are the three statements provided to me by this employee side by side:

[redacted]

I share this with you because I don't believe the state's position has actually changed, but some think it has based on this formal DHHS communication. I have staff who feel like they even mention it to a friend in a breakroom that they will be jeopardizing their job---even if in no position of authority, not public, not representing the state, etc. This adds a pressure to an already hot situation, and an already hot environment of turnover and overwhelm at DCFS---without potentially partnering the message with sufficient empathy, understanding, access to EAP resources, etc.

I know this is a very delicate nexus of some very complex things, but felt like I should share this with you for further consideration of these perceptions moving forward. We are all just trying so hard to retain people, and so hard to create an environment of psychological safety, that these perceptions are damaging to our work culture even if unintended. We will likely lose this one employee, and many others are grumbling about such an environment. This email struck a chord with staff negatively, regardless of where people felt on the actual topic. How can we create healthy space for employees to feel safe no matter where they are on the spectrum of this or a myriad of other issues? I believe the Governor would empathetically acknowledge and allow people that space as long as they didn't cross certain clear lines. But what people heard was don't say anything about this at all even in the most informal of ways with anyone related to the workplace. We need to provide them better tools and support than this communication did if we want them to feel safe and valued and whole with us.

Thanks for listening. Please let me know if I can be of any assistance. My desire is to support the Governor, support EDO, and support our staff. My only hope is that such feedback helps us all improve as we navigate this very complex work.

Best,
Diane

--
Diane Moore
Division Director
She/Her
C: 801.755.7302
dmoore@utah.gov
dcfs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services
Child & Family Services

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Employee response to DHHS email regarding supreme court decision
FROM: Diane Moore DHS <dmoore@utah.gov>
TO: Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov>
CC: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Joe Dougherty DHS <joedougherty@utah.gov>, Monica Jimenez <mjimenez@utah.gov>, Sarah Welliver DHS <swelliver@utah.gov>, Stephanie Saperstein <stephaniesaperstein@utah.gov>
DATE: 06/07/2022 07:26

Thank you. I appreciate the support and just wanted you to be aware going forward.

I will relay your offer to this individual, and have tried to reassure them that I did not see the shift in department instruction that they did. I believe where you intended to communicate caution they heard a deeper level of restriction.

Thank you for the heightened review and response. I too hope this individual will reconsider.

On Wed, Jul 6, 2022 at 9:03 AM Tracy Gruber DHHS <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:
Diane,

Thank you for informing us of the concerns from this employee. It sounds like maybe others on your team also have concerns.

I am very sorry that staff feel that the email somehow communicated that DHHS is not providing psychological safety. As noted in the email, we were trying to encourage caution when discussing this issue or other issues where there is clear polarization in our nation, state and amongst our staff. In response to your email, I reviewed the communication with DHRM and legal and I still feel that we struck the right balance. Again, I am sorry that this particular staff member has interpreted the email in such a way that the individual is contemplating leaving the department. That is an extremely unfortunate outcome. Our leadership is more than willing to meet with the individual to talk about their concerns, if that would be helpful.

As we navigate these challenging issues, we continue to strive to provide effective communication to our staff. We will continue to draft these messages and review these messages to ensure we are doing so in a way that expresses our support for individual perspectives on these issues while trying to establish clear lines in the workplace.

Thanks again for elevating the concerns.

Tracy
Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Tue, Jul 5, 2022 at 7:56 AM Diane Moore DHS <dmoore@utah.gov> wrote:

Greetings,

I hope everyone had a nice holiday weekend, and I am still out on personal vacation, but wanted to lift an issue to our EDO group (including legal, communications and human resources) regarding some employee responses to our formal DHHS statement on the Roe v Wade decision.

We at DHHS/DCFS often live in the crosshairs of controversial and sensitive subject matter. Our staff run the entire spectrum on social issues regarding their personal belief system. Our staff generally understand and we constantly remind them that they cannot engage in political activity using state time or devices, and that whatever they do in their personal time needs to be clear that they don't represent DCFS/DHHS/State of Utah. These parameters have generally been followed and understood.

However, some have perceived that the DHHS communication took things a bit further and moved from restrictions on political, leadership endorsement, or public activity on this topic to include any conversation at all. This may not be realistic in a workforce where connections and friendships are not only existing, but encouraged. As a result, I already have one of my top performing state office administrators informing me that as soon as they find another job, they will be leaving DCFS solely due to this DHHS communication. They don't want to leave the work and were in tears when this was discussed with me, but they felt that DHHS was no longer a psychologically safe place where they are valued or understood based on the DHHS Roe vs. Wade email. They even expressed they felt the ethics they must follow as a social worker was violated by the heavy handed language. They perceived the email as an outright ban on any mention of this ruling even with close work colleagues, including using telephone, text, chat, etc., and that this was simply too much and represented a significant shift from previous policies in its span and tone. They expressed that this was unique only to DHHS, was dehumanizing and made it a place where they cannot in good conscience continue to work. This staff member then provided two other, neutral statements from other state organizations that they had no problem with as examples of how DHHS could have handled it. They expressed that these other statements also understood and respected the Governor's position and the official position, but were done with a pragmatism and a humanity that they wished also existed at DHHS considering that we are literally about health and human services. What they heard was an explicit-- don't talk about it all with anyone at work in any way. This shutting down of connection and informal dialogue was seen as a blow to the work environment and even free speech.

Here are the three statements provided to me by this employee side by side:

[redacted]

I share this with you because I don't believe the state's position has actually changed, but some think it has based on this formal DHHS communication. I have staff who feel like they even mention it to a friend in a breakroom that they will be jeopardizing their job---even if in no position of authority, not public, not representing the state, etc. This adds a pressure to an already hot situation, and an already hot environment of turnover and overwhelm at DCFS---without potentially partnering the message with sufficient empathy, understanding, access to EAP resources, etc.

I know this is a very delicate nexus of some very complex things, but felt like I should share this with you for further consideration of these perceptions moving forward. We are all just trying so hard to retain people, and so hard to create an environment of psychological safety, that these perceptions are damaging to our work culture even if unintended. We will likely lose this one employee, and many others are grumbling about such an environment. This email struck a chord with staff negatively, regardless of where people felt on the actual topic. How can we create healthy space for employees to feel safe no matter where they are on the spectrum of this or a myriad of other issues? I believe the Governor would empathetically acknowledge and allow people that space as long as they didn't cross certain clear lines. But what people heard was don't say anything about this at all even in the most informal of ways with anyone related to the workplace. We need to provide them better tools and support than this communication did if we want them to feel safe and valued and whole with us.

Thanks for listening. Please let me know if I can be of any assistance. My desire is to support the Governor, support EDO, and support our staff. My only hope is that such feedback helps us all improve as we navigate this very complex work.

Best,
Diane

--
Diane Moore
Division Director
She/Her
C: 801.755.7302
dmoore@utah.gov
dcfs.utah.gov

[redacted]

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Child & Family Services

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--
Diane Moore
Division Director
She/Her
C: 801.755.7302
dmoore@utah.gov
dcfs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Child & Family Services

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Flash Sale on Health Center Training Ends Today
FROM: Feldesman Tucker Leifer Fidell LLP <learning@ftlf.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 06/07/2022 08:15

FELDESMAN + TUCKER + LEIFER + FIDELL LLP

$100 Off All Workshops

Use promo code SUMMER100 at checkout to save $100 on these upcoming health center workshops.

Federal Funding Academy
San Diego, CA and Online
August 17 - 19, 2022
Register

Deciphering the Operational Site Visit
Old Town Alexandria, VA and Online
September 7 - 8, 2022
Register

Contract Essentials
Virtual Classroom
September 13 - 15, 2022
Register

340B Contract Pharmacy & TPA Arrangements
Virtual Classroom
September 20 - 21, 2022
Register

Ryan White Program Income
Washington, DC and Online
September 28 - 29, 2022
Register

FTCA Academy
Virtual Classroom
October 6 - 7, 2022
Register

Health Center Compliance Program: Fundamentals
Virtual Classroom
October 12 - 13, 2022
Register

Managed Care Contracting Strategies in an Era of Value-Based Payment
Virtual Classroom
October 26 - 28, 2022
Register

Federal Funding Academy
Tampa, FL and Online
December 13 - 15, 2022
Register

340B Program Compliance
Washington, DC and Online
December 6 - 7, 2022
Register

$50 Off All On-Demand Webinars

Save $50 off recorded webinars in the health center library when you use promo code SUMMER50.

The Impact of Overturning Roe v. Wade on Health Centers
Register

Making the Informed Consent Process Work for Your Health Center
Register

Breaches by Business Associates
Register

Conflicts of Interest: Compliance Requirements and Case Studies
Register

Student Health and Education Records: Compliance with HIPAA

Understanding Your Health Center's Bylaws
Register

FQHCs in Medicaid: PPS Rates and Beyond
Register

Compliance Program Policies and Procedures: Basics and Best Practices
Register

Responding to Subpoenas, Court Orders, and Law Enforcement Requests for Records
Register

and FERPA
Register

Preventing and Responding to Workplace Violence
Register

Service Animals and Emotional Support Animals
Register

Deconstructing Scope of Project
Register

Key Disability Rights Laws and the Role of the Health Center
Register

Beneficiary Inducements & Value-Based Arrangements
Register

Sale Ends Tonight at Midnight!

Discounts do not apply to prior purchases and cannot be combined with other discounts for group orders or subscriber pricing.*

Continuing Professional Education (CPE) credits in Specialized Knowledge and Applications are available for our live webinars and workshops. Check out the Continuing Education tab of any FTLF training or read more about CPE credits here.

Visit the FTLF Learning Center | FTLF.COM

Privacy Policy

Feldesman Tucker Leifer Fidell LLP | 1129 20th Street NW, Washington, DC 20036

Unsubscribe hborski@utah.gov
Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice
Sent by learning@ftlf.com

SUBJECT: Horizon Media unveils B2B agency, Green Thread
FROM: "4A's SmartBrief" <aaaa@smartbrief.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 06/07/2022 08:36

Created for hborski@utah.gov | Web Version

July 6, 2022

CONNECT WITH 4A's

4As SmartBrief

News for the advertising, media, and marcom industries

SIGN UP · SHARE

ADVERTISEMENT

TOP STORY

VMLY&R, Coke Studio create music video for Halsey

(Coca-Cola/YouTube)

VMLY&R created a semi-animated music video for Coke Studio of Halsey's "So Good" song, which draws inspiration from the 1985 music video for "Take On Me" by A-ha. The push includes out-of-home elements in Los Angeles and Chicago. Full Story: Adweek (7/5)

Declare an HR Specialty

Earning a SHRM Specialty Credential will elevate you above your peers and show that you're on the forefront of complex and continually evolving areas of HR. There are 8 areas to shine! Earn yours today.

ADVERTISEMENT: SHRM

CREATIVE

Creative lessons from Kantar's Digital Creative Awards

Effective digital ads contain five creative ingredients, including the ability to empathetically break category stereotypes and turn short ad lengths into a creative advantage, according to a summary of the winning campaigns from Kantar's 2022 Digital Creative Awards in Southeast Asia. The three grand winners were Virtue's "JW, Love for the street" YouTube spot for Johnnie Walker; BBH India and Publicis Groupe Indonesia's "KV Motion" Instagram ad for Kraft Heinz; and Fuse's "#FlexYOKCK" TikTok ad for Tide. Full Story: SmartBrief/Marketing (7/6)

Omelet, Google animate "Heroes of Small Business"

Trailer for "Heroes of Small Business" (Google/YouTube)

Omelet, with award-winning animator Karin Fong, created a "Heroes of Small Business" campaign for Google that features three animated spots depicting real small-business owners as superheroes with narration and an original track from rapper Tobe Nwigwe. The push is offering $10,000 grants to small businesses nominated by consumers, who will also receive $500 to spend at their favorite business if it wins. Full Story: Muse by Clio (7/5)

Solutions for 5 network pain points

Scaling your business to stay competitive requires expanding your network, meeting increased user demands, and upgrading security. Get solutions to five of the most significant challenges businesses face when growing their network. Download the eBook.

ADVERTISEMENT: aruba

AGENCY INSIDER

Terri and Sandy founders talk client relationships

Terri Meyer and Sandy Greenberg, co-founders of Terri and Sandy, talk about how relationship-building, not pitching, has fueled the agency's growth. "It was unusual for creatives like us in the big agency world to have the depth of relationships," Greenberg says of the pair's time at FCB, adding, "We always knew that it was our security and our power." Full Story: Adweek (7/5)

Jeffrey Butterworth on taking a stand

Jeffrey Butterworth, creative director and founder of ButterCo, writes about the viral reaction to his LinkedIn post on abortion and how it made him realize the importance of agencies and brands taking a stand, because there are benefits along with the risks. "Taking a stand also means helping people, furthering causes, amplifying voices when they need it. It's a bat signal to those who care about the same things you do," Butterworth writes. Full Story: Muse by Clio (7/5)

FREE EBOOKS AND RESOURCES

Free eBooks and resources brought to you by our partners

- 8-Step Guide: How to Overcome Laziness and Start taking Action
- How Technology Can help You Get a Good Night's Sleep
- Effective Leadership Primer
- Quick Reference Guide – Time Management
- Quick Reference Guide – Office 365 Essentials

AGENCY NEWS

Horizon Media unveils B2B agency, Green Thread

Horizon Media has created a new business-to-business unit named Green Thread, which will be led by President Chris Hummel, who also serves as faculty member of advisory firm Revenue Enablement Institute, which has been purchased by the agency. B2B "is a space that hasn't been hasn't been well served in a lot of the agency ecosystem, in particular, the media side," Hummel said, adding, "There's also a real blurring between B2B and B2C." Full Story: Digiday (tiered subscription model) (7/6)

MEDIA & TECHNOLOGY TRENDS

Are marketers getting the most out of AR filters?

Marketers focusing on augmented reality filters for e-commerce may be overlooking opportunities to tap AR filters for brand awareness and engagement. For example, Campbell Francis Group CEO Annelise Campbell says AR filers will increasingly be integrated into live events to enhance experiences and boost social sharing.
Full Story: Morning Brew (7/5)

Sharing 4A's SmartBrief with your network keeps the quality of content high and these newsletters free.

Help Spread the Word

SHARE

Or copy and share your personalized link:
smartbrief.com/aaaa/?referrerId=lsvhcNrXox

The Beginning of the End can feel a lot like the middle when you are living in it.

Karen Russell
Writer

LEARN MORE ABOUT 4A's:

Homepage | Training Programs | All Upcoming Events

New Car Gadget Magically Removes Scratches & Dents

This car gadget removes scratches and scuffs from your car quickly and easily.

Here's how scratches magically disappeared...

NanoSparkle

Powered by LiveIntent

SmartBrief publishes more than 200 free industry newsletters - Browse our portfolio

Sign Up | Update Profile | Advertise with SmartBrief

Unsubscribe | Privacy policy

CONTACT US: FEEDBACK | ADVERTISE

SmartBrief, a division of Future US LLC ©
1100 13th St. NW, Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20005

SUBJECT: Adventure time! 🎒 Earn up to 4X points
FROM: "IHG One Rewards" <IHGOneRewards@mc.ihg.com>
TO: <HBORSKI@UTAH.GOV>
DATE: 06/07/2022 13:31

[redacted]

Start earning towards 4X points

It's easy. Boost your rewards simply by enjoying more nights with us. Register now, then book and stay with us through August 31, 2022 and see how quickly your points add up.

REGISTER IN 1-CLICK

By clicking, you are agreeing to the campaign's terms & conditions.

2X

Earn 2X points
on nights 2 – 5

3X

Earn 3X points
on nights 6 – 14

4X

Earn 4X points
on nights 15+

Earn even more as an IHG® Rewards Credit Cardmember

3,000 additional bonus points every 3 nights, up to 6,000 bonus points

Not a Cardmember? Learn more

REGISTER IN 1-CLICK

By clicking, you are agreeing to the campaign's terms & conditions.

Stay Offers Meetings Our Brands

Download Our App

Download on the App Store

GET IT ON Google Play

[redacted]

Terms and Conditions

You must be an IHG® One Rewards member and must register in order to participate in the "Earn up to 4X" promotion ("Promotion"). Members can pre-register for this Promotion starting May 4, 2022 through May 17, 2022. Members will be able to stay and earn IHG® One Rewards bonus points under this Promotion beginning May 18, 2022 and ending on August 31, 2022 ("Promotion Period"). Members who did not register during the period for pre-registration may register for the Promotion during the Promotion Period. By clicking the "click to register" button for the Promotion, a member is registering for the Earn up to 4X Promotion and accepting these Terms & Conditions.

After registering for the Promotion, a member can earn IHG® One Rewards bonus points based on the number of qualifying nights they have during the Promotion Period, as follows: "2X points" on their 2nd through 5th qualifying nights; "3X points" on their 6th through 14th qualifying nights; and "4X points" on their 15th qualifying night and all subsequent qualifying nights. The bonus points earning structure for "2X points", "3X points", and "4X points" is described in more detail below and is subject to a total promotional bonus points cap of 100,000 points. For IHG® Rewards members residing in the U.S. who have an IHG® One Rewards Credit Card from Chase, this Promotion also includes an opportunity to earn up to 6,000 additional bonus points if certain requirements are met for stays during the Promotion Period. This offer for cardmembers is also described in more detail below. The time needed for awarding points can vary with each promotion, so please allow up to 6 weeks for any earned bonus points to be posted to your account.

For purposes of this Promotion, the qualifying nights must be part of one or more Qualifying Stays at participating IHG® Hotels & Resorts, Mr and Mrs Smith properties, or participating Six Senses® Hotels, Resorts, & Spas (as identified on each hotel's booking page), and each qualifying night must be completed during the Promotion Period, which is from May 18, 2022 through August 31, 2022. No retroactive credit will be given for nights prior to registration for the Promotion, and any nights outside of the Promotion Period will not be eligible for bonus points under the Promotion. A Qualifying Stay is a minimum 1-night stay booked under a Qualifying Rate, with total spend exceeding US $30 (or local currency equivalent) for each night. Only one room per member per Qualifying Stay will be eligible for the applicable bonus points under the Promotion. If more than one member checks into the same room, only one member is eligible for the bonus points available under the Promotion. If a member books more than one room on the same night, they will only receive bonus points for the Promotion on the room with the higher room rate for each qualifying night. For additional details on Qualifying Stays and Qualifying Rates, please see the full IHG® One Rewards Members Terms and Conditions.

For this Promotion, earning "2X" or "2X points" or "Double Points" on a member's 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th qualifying night stay during the Promotion Period means the total number of regular "base points" and promotional "bonus points" combined will equal two (2) times the base points the member would normally receive just for being an IHG® One Rewards member. For example, under this Promotion, for a member's second qualifying night during the Promotion Period with a room rate of $100.00 at an IHG hotel with a 10 points per USD earn rate for base points, the member would earn 1,000 base points (10 points x $100 = 1,000 points) and an additional 1,000 promotional bonus points, for a total of 2,000 points.

Similarly, earning "3X" or "3X points" or "Triple Points" on a member's 6th through 14th qualifying room night during the Promotion Period means the total number of regular "base points" and promotional "bonus points" combined will equal three (3) times the base points the member would normally receive just for being an IHG® Rewards member. For example, a qualifying night after a member has already stayed five (5) previous qualifying nights within the Promotion Period would be considered the 6th qualifying night. If that 6th qualifying night has a room rate of $100.00 at an IHG hotel with a 10 points per USD earn rate for base points, the member would earn 1,000 base points (10 points x $100 = 1,000 points) and an additional 2,000 promotional bonus points, for a total of 3,000 points for the 6th qualifying night, which would be in addition to the base points and bonus points the member had previously earned under the Promotion for their 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th qualifying nights.

Earning "4X" or "4X points" or "Quadruple Points" on a member's 15th qualifying room night, and all subsequent qualifying room night stays, during the Promotion Period has similar meaning: The total number of regular "base points" and promotional "bonus points" combined will equal four (4) times the number of base points the member would normally receive just for being an IHG® Rewards member. By way of example, for a member's 2-night Qualifying Stay for their 15th and 16th qualifying nights within the Promotion Period, with a per night room rate of $100.00 at an IHG hotel with a 10 points per USD earn rate for base points, the member would earn 2,000 base points (10 points x $100/night x 2 nights = 2,000 points) and an additional 6,000 promotional bonus points, for a total of 8,000 points. These 8,000 points is for the 15th and 16th qualifying nights and are in addition to the base points and bonus points the member had already earned during the Promotion Period for qualifying nights 2 through 14.

The promotional bonus points that can be earned under the 2X, 3X, and 4X promotion part of the Promotion, as described above, are calculated based solely on the base points the member is eligible to earn for the qualifying night just for being an IHG® One Rewards member, and any Elite status bonus points or any other bonus or promotional points the member may be eligible to receive for the same stay are not included.

For cardmembers in the United States with an IHG® Credit Card from Chase, an additional 3,000 bonus points will be awarded after the cardmember's first three (3) qualifying nights and another 3,000 bonus points after the cardmember's second three (3) qualifying nights. Each qualifying night must be part of a Qualifying Stay at participating IHG® Hotels and Resorts during the Promotion Period, booked under a Qualifying Rate with total spend exceeding US $30 (or local currency equivalent) for each night and paid for by the member using their IHG® credit card. No additional bonus points for IHG® credit card use will be awarded past the sixth qualifying night. For new Chase IHG® Credit Card accounts opened during the Promotion Period, please allow up to 6 weeks after the Promotion Period for bonus points to be credited. The "up to 6,000 bonus points" cardmembers can earn from this offer are separate from points earned from credit card spend on IHG transactions. IHG reserves the right of final interpretation of this offer to cardmembers. This offer is not from Chase. Chase is not responsible for the provision of, or failure to provide, the stated benefits and services. Bonus points will post directly to your IHG® Rewards account and will not appear on your credit card statement. The "up to 6,000 bonus points" cardmembers can earn from this offer is in addition to the bonus points a cardmember can earn under the 2X-3X-4X part of the Promotion. As a result, cardmembers qualifying for this offer have an opportunity to earn a maximum of 106,000 promotional bonus points over the entire Promotion Period.

The points earned during the Earn up to 4X Promotion can be used toward Reward Nights, can be redeemed for merchandise, or can be used for other redemption opportunities, as permitted under the IHG® Rewards program. The Promotion is subject to the IHG® Rewards program terms and conditions and earning structure, which can be found IHG® One Rewards Membership Terms and Conditions or by visiting www.ihgonerewards.com . Members can only participate in one promotion at a time, unless otherwise specifically allowed by IHG. IHG expressly reserves the right to remove a member's points or cancel a member's account if fraudulent use of the Promotion is detected, and any fraudulent activity relating to a member's account, or this Promotion is subject to the IHG® One Rewards Membership Terms and Conditions, including any of the identified actions that may be taken in response to such activity. To the extent permitted by applicable law, IHG reserves the right of final interpretation of the Promotion, as well as the right to cancel, terminate, suspend and/or modify the Promotion at any time. Members must make any promotional inquiries 60 days from the end of the Promotion Period; the end of the Promotion Period is August 31, 2022.

The Contactless Symbol and Contactless Indicator are trademarks owned by and used with the permission of EMVCo, LLC. Most hotels are independently owned and/or operated. The above service marks are the property of IHG® Hotels & Resorts.

IHG® One Rewards terms and conditions apply. For complete program details, visit ihg.com/terms. Benefits and rewards may vary by region and are based on availability.

You are subscribed as: HBORSKI@UTAH.GOV

To unsubscribe from IHG One Rewards Special Offers & Promotions, please click here. If you unsubscribe from IHG One Rewards email subscriptions, we will continue to send you important, time-sensitive messages related to a recent transaction, such as reservation confirmations.

You may also contact the IHG One Rewards Service Center directly at IHG One Rewards, P.O. Box 30320, Salt Lake City, UT 84130-0320, USA.

To change/update any other IHG One Rewards email communication preferences, please:
1. Go to ihg.com.
2. Log in to your account profile with your IHG One Rewards number and password.
3. Change your email preferences in the Communication Preferences section as desired.

Your privacy is extremely important to us. Read our Privacy Statement.

© 2022 IHG, Three Ravinia Drive, Suite 100 Atlanta, Georgia, 30346-2149, U.S.A. All rights reserved. Most hotels are independently owned and/or operated.

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: [NWCPHP-Announce] July Hot Topics webinar: Abortion Access isPublic Health
FROM: Northwest Center for Public Health Practice Announcements<nwcphp-announce@u.washington.edu>
TO: nwcphp-announce@uw.edu
DATE: 06/07/2022 14:06

Northwest Center
FOR PUBLIC HEALTH PRACTICE
SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

hot topics in practice

Abortion Access is Public Health

Tuesday, July 26, 2022
12:00 to 1:00 p.m. PT

REGISTER

Access to quality sexual and reproductive health services, including abortion, is key to a person's well-being. On June 24th, the Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade and Planned Parenthood of Southeastern Pa. v. Casey, which has implications for federally protected abortion access and state laws that are aimed at limiting abortion access. The July session of Hot Topics in Practice will share why abortion access is a public health issue and how Washington state has addressed it through a public health framework.

During this one-hour webinar, Cynthia Harris and Rizza Cea with the Washington State Department of Health's Sexual and Reproductive Health Program will share why and how the state approaches abortion access with a public health framework. Regardless of the Supreme Court ruling on Roe v. Wade, access to abortion remains legal in Washington State. Washington state will continue to support reproductive health access and abortion access using a public health framework through current state laws and legislation. As other states pass stricter abortion laws that limit access, Washington state is strengthening their position and resources in efforts that center equity and reproductive justice.

The Washington State Department of Health's Sexual and Reproductive Health Program receives state and federal funding to provide sexual and reproductive health services. Federal and state funding supports Title X services through 16 contractors across the state. Title X is a federal grant program dedicated to providing individuals with comprehensive family planning and related preventive health services such as STI screening and treatment, contraception, and cancer screening. Focus populations are uninsured and underinsured, BIPOC, Hispanic, limited English proficiency, adolescents, and people who live in rural locations. Abortion services are not allowed under this grant, but Title X clinics are required to provide all options counseling including abortion, and Title X clinics can provide abortion services separate from this project. The Sexual and Reproductive Health Program supports access to abortion services with state funding. Better understand why abortion access is a public health issue and how your organization can better integrate this information into your work. Register today.

Presenters

Cynthia Harris (she/her)
Sexual and Reproductive Health Program Manager and Title X Project Director
Washington State Department of Health
Rizza Cea (she/her), DNP, MA, CNM, ARNP
Sexual and Reproductive Health Program Clinical Consultant and Title X Medical Director
Washington State Department of Health

IMPORTANT NOTES ABOUT HOT TOPICS

Speaker slides are posted on our website the morning of the webinar. Each session is recorded and made available by the next day. Audio is available through computer or by phone. Closed captioning will also be available during the webinar.

Hot Topics in Practice is a monthly webinar hosted by the Northwest Center for Public Health Practice. Guest speakers from local, state, tribal, and national organizations present on current issues affecting public health practice.

Up to 1 CPH recertification credit may be earned by viewing this webinar. Visit the National Board of Public Health Examiners to learn more.

Connect with us

SUBSCRIBE • UNSUBSCRIBE

VIEW THIS ON OUR WEBSITE.

© 2022 Northwest Center for Public Health Practice
3980 15th Ave NE, Seattle, WA 98105

SUBJECT: CLOCC News for July 6, 2022: Under 30 Percent of U.S. Kids HaveHigh Scores for Heart Health
FROM: CLOCC <info@clocc.net>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 06/07/2022 15:02

July 6, 2022

Consortium to Lower Obesity in Chicago Children
clocc
CELEBRATING 20 years

CLOCC NEWS

Study: Under 30 Percent of America's Children Have High Scores for Heart Health

Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago

Most children and adolescents living in the U.S. have suboptimal scores for cardiovascular health (CVH), according to the first study to use the American Heart Association's new "Life's Essential 8" metrics and scoring algorithm for quantifying CVH levels in adults and children. Overall, under 30 percent of 2-19-year-olds had high CVH. The proportion of children with high CVH declined markedly with older age: 56 percent of 2-5-year-old children had high CVH, compared with 33 percent of 6-11-year-olds and 14 percent of 12-19-year-olds. Findings were published in the journal Circulation.

"We found that among U.S. children, scores were lowest for the diet metric, which is comparable to what we saw in adults," said senior author Amanda Marma Perak, MD, a cardiologist at Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago and Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine. "Individuals and families who improve their eating patterns can markedly improve their total cardiovascular health, even independent of weight change. In addition to families' efforts to improve, we also need policy-level support for better diets, such as subsidies for fruit and vegetable production or making healthier foods more readily available and removing sugar-sweetened beverage options in schools."

Read More

Keep Kids Fed Act Signed by President Biden, Establishing Safety Net for Summer Meals

An expanded school lunch waiver program established as a pandemic response was set to expire in June before the House and Senate, urged on by child-health advocates, fast-tracked an approval of the Keep Kids Fed Act. The legislation includes an extension of free summer meals for all kids and was signed into on law June 25th by President Biden.

[redacted]

“Although these waivers were set to expire, the problems they were intended to address continue and, in many cases, have gotten worse," said Share our Strength Senior Vice President Lisa Davis. "Schools and community meal providers continue to face extreme challenges in feeding kids, including staff shortages, rapidly rising food costs, skyrocketing gas prices and severe supply chain disruptions. The flexibilities included in the legislation are essential for them to run their meal programs in these challenging times."

According to the USDA, the Keep Kids Fed Act will assist food providers by:

- Extending nationwide flexibilities to summer meal programs through September 2022, including allowing sites to continue serving meals in all areas, at no cost to families;
- Providing schools with an additional temporary reimbursement of 40 cents per lunch and 15 cents per breakfast, and child care centers with an extra 10 cents reimbursement per meal;
- Providing all family day care homes with the higher temporary reimbursement rate for school year 2022-23;
- Equipping USDA with additional flexibilities to support schools, as needed, based on their local conditions.

While the Keep Kids Fed Act delays an immediate reduction in healthy food accessibility for children and families, the waiver's new expiration date of September is already on the horizon. Per the USDA, free school lunches will still be available based on financial need, however families may need to prepare to return to pre-pandemic processes for obtaining meal assistance.

USDA Announcements

- Biden Administration Takes Additional Steps to Strengthen Child Nutrition Programs
- School Meal Changes are Coming in the 2022-2023 School Year

Final Chance to Nominate a Future Local Health Leader

20 UNDER 20

Consortium to Lower Obesity in Chicago Children clocc CELEBRATING 20 years

CLOCC has extended the nomination deadline for our 20 Under 20 campaign, honoring the work of Consortium founder Kathy Kaufer Christoffel. We invite you to join us in identifying and celebrating young Chicagoans who, through participation in school and/or community programs, or their own individual initiative, are inspiring their peers to make healthy choices in their own lives, and building environments that support health in their schools, neighborhoods, and communities.

Twenty honorees will be recognized from July to November in CLOCC’s various communications, including several honorees who will be featured at CLOCC’s 20th Anniversary convening in late 2022. Each honoree will also receive a gift card to support their continued health and wellbeing. To submit a nomination for CLOCC's 20 Under 20, please review the guidelines and use the provided form. Questions can be submitted to info@clocc.net.

Nomination Guidelines

- Nominations must be submitted by an organization, school or other partner aligned with CLOCC's work.
- You may nominate an individual or group, but only one gift card will be supplied per award; all stipulations below still apply to groups
- Nominees must be 19 years old or younger prior to the original submission deadline of June 17, 2022 (Nominees must be born after June 17, 2002).
- A nominee's efforts towards community health should be demonstrable and have already occurred or be ongoing (no future or proposed efforts) at the time of nomination.
- A nominee's efforts should be focused within the City of Chicago.
- Examples of CLOCC-affiliated work include (but are in no way limited to!):
- Creating or leading a gardening, healthy cooking or food pantry club
- Introducing exercise, sports or other physical activity opportunities to peers
- Cleaning or improving parks, playgrounds or other community spaces
- Participating in or leading a group that supports unhoused kids and families
- Advocating for cycling lanes, bicycle parking or similar infrastructure

Submit a Nomination

Visit the 20 Under 20 homepage

The submission deadline expires today, July 6, 2022

Upcoming Events

Show Me the Money! Bringing Active Transportation Funding to Your Community; Thursday, July 14

Hosted by the Active Transportation Alliance, Metropolitan Planning Council and Metropolitan Mayors Caucus

Tune in on Thursday, July 14 at noon for a lunchtime webinar, Show Me the Money! Bringing Active Transportation Funding to Your Community.

Finding the right funding source for a walking or biking project is one of the biggest challenges local agencies face in improving transportation options in their communities. However, with increased federal and state transportation funding coming into our state from the national Bipartisan Infrastructure Law and the Rebuild Illinois capital plan, we have more opportunities than ever to advance active transportation projects at the local and regional level.

Panelists will provide an overview of frequently used and upcoming pedestrian and bicycle funding opportunities and share tips for creating successful grant applications and navigating the funding process.

RSVP

Career Opportunities

First Mile Care

First Mile Care is an early-stage healthcare startup sitting at the intersection of public health, technology, on-demand economy, and community building.

Regional Program Coordinator – South Side, Chicago

The Regional Program Coordinator will work closely with the Director of Operations on key needs of the DPP program as it relates to the sessions and coordination of program schedules and coaching assignments. Learn more and apply.

Diabetes Prevention Program Coach – Garfield Park and/or Lawndale, Chicago, IL Area

This individual will lead small groups of people with prediabetes or at high risk for developing type 2 diabetes through a year-long program clinically proven to reduce the risk of diabetes. Learn more and apply.

Diabetes Prevention Program Coach – South Side Chicago, IL

The Diabetes Prevention Program Coach will lead small groups of people with prediabetes or at high risk for developing type 2 diabetes through a year-long program clinically proven to reduce the risk of diabetes. Learn more and apply.

Full-Time Early Childhood Teacher

Loop Learning Center

Loop Learning Center is currently seeking a highly motivated, knowledgeable educator to join our team. We have been serving children and families for over 35 years. We are an Excelerate Illinois Gold Circle of Quality & NAEYC Accredited Program.

The teacher must possess the following:

- Associate's Degree in Early Childhood Education
- Early Childhood Credential Level 4 or higher
- Infant Toddler Credential Level 3 or higher

Duties Include:

- Develop and engage students in developmentally appropriate activities using The Creative Curriculum for Infants, Toddlers & Twos.
- Observe and assess each student's growth and development using the online assessment tool Teaching Strategies Gold.
- Create an engaging child-centered learning environment.

Benefits include:

$500 Signing Bonus after 90 Days Employed 401K Paid Vacation & Sick Time Free Tuition Scholarship through DFSS Career Advancement Reduced Child Care Costs

Please send your resume via email to looplearningcenter@yahoo.com.

Associate Government Relations Manager

American Heart Association

The Associate Government Relations Manager is responsible for supporting the management of federal policy priorities as assigned, including those related to health care coverage, delivery and affordability including public health and prevention, medical research, tobacco use prevention, nutrition security, physical activity, and new and emerging policy priorities. The Associate Government Relations Manager aids the Federal Advocacy Team by drafting letters, testimony, and other advocacy materials, scheduling and/or representing AHA at meetings with congressional and agency staff and coalition partners, conducting background research, and coordinating with teams across the advocacy enterprise to develop coordinated campaigns that achieve federal advocacy goals. Learn more or apply.

Academic Coordinator

Nutrition Policy Institute, University of California

The Academic Coordinator provides strategic leadership and expertise on program development, research and evaluation activities to inform and improve policies and practices related to nutrition and physical activity behaviors and obesity prevention primarily in California. Duties include budget development and management, management of project deliverables, and priority setting. This position is expected to lead and oversee a complex, multi-component, and multi-million-dollar state-wide evaluation of a SNAP-Ed program with impact on the national program, play a leadership role on additional regional, state and national research and evaluation programs as needed, and facilitate and develop new funding opportunities and partnerships. This position also provides leadership for future proposals and strategic planning for the Nutrition Policy Institute (NPI) and has impact at the regional, state and national levels. Learn more or apply.

Submit Job Openings and Future Events to be Listed on CLOCC.net and in the CLOCC Newsletter

Connect with CLOCC's network of nearly 3,000 childhood obesity prevention advocates by listing your organization's upcoming events or current job openings on the Consortium's website. Upon submission, postings will be approved by CLOCC staff; events and careers applicable to the CLOCC network may also be featured in this newsletter. If you have questions or are not able to access the webpage, contact info@clocc.net. CLOCC will not publish for-profit services or events, or products for sale.

clocc careers

Click here, or the image above, to view the latest job opportunities in obesity prevention and public health. Are you looking to fill an opening? Submit your listing using the button below.

Submit an Opening

clocc events

Click here, or the image above, to view upcoming events targeted for child health and obesity prevention, as well events hosted by local partners. Submit your own event using the button below.

Submit an Event

Focus Upstream

CLOCC focuses upstream to identify the fundamental root causes of obesity, and to broaden the scope of our obesity prevention strategies. This work draws from local and national attention to health equity and social influencers of health, such as immigration, education, poverty and racism, all of which have an impact on people's ability to eat healthy and be active where they live, work, learn, and play. If you have comments or questions about this focus, we invite you to reach out to info@clocc.net.

UPSTREAM NEWS:

- How Child Poverty Could Increase Without the Protections of Roe v. Wade - The Hill

Childhood Obesity in the Media

- Stress During Pregnancy Can Affect Child's Diet - MedicalXpress
- America's Newest National Security Threat: Obesity - The Hill (Opinion)
- Kellogg Loses UK Fight to Block Ban on Sugary Cereal Promos - AP News
- American College of Physicians Calls US Food Insecurity a Threat to Public Health - The Hill
- Subsidization of Supermarkets May Help Reduce Obesity Risk in Children - Physician's Weekly
- Wire WIC to Better Serve Food-Insecure Families - Harvard H.T. Chan School of Public Health
- Are Coke and Pepsi Campuses Bad for Public Health? - Chronicle of Higher Education
- How to Maximize the Results of Wearable Health Devices - MedicalXpress
- American College of Physicians Calls US Food Insecurity a Threat to Public Health - The Hill
- 'Buy Nothing' Groups Are Doubling as Food Distribution Networks - CivilEats
- Small Grocers Do Their Part to Eliminate 'Food Deserts' — but Against Considerable Odds - New England Public Media
- An Avoidable Hunger Crisis Still Looms for Millions of Children: Opinion - ABC News
- Pediatric Endocrinologist: 'Solutions to Childhood Obesity Are Community Specific' - WSAW (Wausau, WI)
- Do You Live in an 'Exercise Desert'? - VeryWell Health

COVID-19: News and Resources

For questions related to testing criteria and general information about COVID-19 and children, please contact the COVID-19 Call Center at Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital at 312.227.5300. The Call Center is staffed by Lurie Children's nurses and is available Monday through Friday, 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM CT, and Saturday, 8:00 AM to 1:00 PM CT.

GO-TO SOURCES FOR CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19) INFORMATION:

- Clinical Guidance from the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP)
  - Obesity Management and Treatment During COVID-19 (AAP)
- Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago
- Lurie Children's Hospital Resources in Spanish/Recursos Relacionados con el Nuevo Coronavirus (COVID-19)
- Chicago Department of Public Health (CDPH)
- Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH)

VACCINE RESOURCES

On June 19, the CDC recommended COVID-19 vaccine for children younger than 5 years of age. Important information for COVID-19 vaccine can be found here (children) and here (all ages).

The CDC recommends Moderna or Pfizer vaccines for this age group. Both vaccines are safe and effective. Lurie Children's Hospital will be offering Moderna to children younger than 5 years old and will continue to offer Pfizer to those age 5 years and older.

COVID Vaccine Scheduling at Lurie Children's Hospital

Funding and Recognition Opportunities

The Center for Science in the Public Interest's (CSPI's) first round of grantmaking for 2022 is now open. CSPI seeks to support communities as they explore local, state, and federal policy interventions to elicit systemic change and advance a just and equitable food environment. CSPI is focused on identifying strategies and passing policies aimed at increasing purchasing power for, and access to, nutritious food that meets people's needs, supporting a healthier food environment, and reducing health disparities across demographic groups. Several opportunities are currently open, with details available here.

CLOCC.NET RESOURCES

- LATEST NEWS
- JOB OPENINGS
- EVENTS
- RESOURCE LIBRARY
- 5-4-3-2-1 Go!
- *five*SMART

CONTACT US

CONSORTIUM TO LOWER OBESITY IN CHICAGO CHILDREN (CLOCC) | 225 E. Chicago Ave., Box #157, Chicago, IL 60611

Unsubscribe hborski@utah.gov

Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice

Sent by info@clocc.net powered by

Constant Contact

Try email marketing for free today!

SUBJECT: Calif. Court Overturns Trump-Era Endangered Species Rules
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 07/07/2022 01:48

PUBLIC POLICY

LAW360®

Thursday, July 7, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Calif. Court Overturns Trump-Era Endangered Species Rules

A California federal court overturned on Tuesday several steps that the Trump administration took to weaken the Endangered Species Act, after the government last year cited "substantial concerns" with those measures and said it intended either to revise or rescind them.

Order attached | Read full article »

Cushman In Contempt Over NY AG's Trump Subpoenas

A New York state judge held Cushman & Wakefield in contempt Tuesday after the former Trump Organization appraiser failed to hand over documents in the state attorney general's fraud investigation, saying the firm will be fined $10,000 a day for flouting a court order.

Order attached | Read full article »

Following Subpoena, Cipollone Agrees To Talk To Jan. 6 Panel

Days after getting a subpoena from the House committee investigating the insurrection at the U.S Capitol, former White House counsel Pat Cipollone has agreed to testify, a source familiar with the matter said Wednesday.

Read full article »

8th Circ. Clips Claims In No-Knock Warrant Death Suit

The Eighth Circuit has thrown out most of the claims against St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department officers from the family of a man who was shot 24 times and killed during the execution of a no-knock warrant searching for marijuana and other drugs, but will allow excessive force claims against most of the officers to go forward.

Order attached | Read full article »

Biden Planned To Name Anti-Abortion Ky. Judge, Emails Show

President Joe Biden had planned to nominate a conservative, anti-abortion attorney to a new vacancy in the Eastern District of Kentucky the same week the U.S. Supreme Court ultimately ruled to overturn the constitutional right to an abortion, according to newly released emails in response to a public records request.

Read full article »

Mass. Justices Hint Early Voting Law May Survive GOP Suit

A recent Massachusetts law enshrining early voting may avoid a head-on collision with the Bay State constitution because it expands voting access to everyone, a justice of the state high court said Wednesday.

Read full article »

Federal Courthouse Named After 1st Black Fla. Justice

The federal courthouse in Tallahassee will be named after the late Joseph Woodrow Hatchett, who was the first Black

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Akerman LLP
Alston & Bird
Baker & Hostetler
Baker Botts
Baker McKenzie
Balch & Bingham
Barrasso Usdin
Beasley Allen
Belkin Burden
Brown Neri
Butler Weihmuller
Choate Hall
Cleary Gottlieb
Consovoy McCarthy
Covington & Burling
Cox Castle
Davis Polk
Dechert LLP
Dowd & Dowd PC
Duane Morris LLP
Dunlap Bennett
Ellis George
Feldman Shepherd
Fields Howell
Fischetti & Malgieri
FisherBroyles
Francis Mailman
Goldberg Segalla
Gray Reed
Habba Madaio
Haynes & Boone
Hogan Lovells
Holland & Hart
Holland & Knight
Jones Day
Kang Haggerty

Florida Supreme Court justice and a former Akerman LLP partner.

Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

Ex-OCC Acting Chief, Simpson Thacher Atty Joins Patomak

Financial consulting firm Patomak Global Partners LLC announced a former acting Comptroller of the Currency and a former partner of Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP has joined its ranks in Washington, D.C., to head up the firm's banking supervision and regulation group.

Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

Energy Litigation To Watch In The Second Half Of 2022

The U.S. Supreme Court fielding a fresh request to keep climate change torts against fossil fuel companies in federal courts, and circuit courts grappling with carbon calculation metrics and regulation of vehicle greenhouse gas emissions highlight the key role climate change will play in energy-related litigation worth watching in the second half of 2022.

Read full article »

EPA Must Face Arkansas' Suit Over Pollution Permits

An Arkansas federal court refused to dismiss claims that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency waited too long to file objections to a state wastewater authority's pollution discharge authorizations, finding that the finality of the permits in question remains in dispute.

Order attached | Read full article »

Enviros Say EPA Blew Deadlines For Smog Plans In 4 States

The Center for Biological Diversity and the Center for Environmental Health said Tuesday they intend to sue the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency over its alleged failure to make sure effective smog-reduction plans are in place in Colorado, Pennsylvania, North Dakota and three areas of California.

Letter attached | Read full article »

Groups Say Feds Flubbed Enviro Permit On 400-Home Project

Two environmental groups asked a judge to block a permit for a 314-acre housing development in Chico, California, arguing that federal officials failed to consider its effect on seasonal wetlands, species of shrimp and a rare plant native to the region.

Motion attached | Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

FDA, USPTO Heads Look At Teaming Up On Drug Pricing

Amid congressional calls for the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to work more closely on generic-drug matters, leaders at both agencies said Wednesday that they were trying to strengthen the patent system to curb abuse.

Read full article »

Premium Cigar Groups Get Win In Suit Over FDA Rulemaking

A D.C. federal judge has found that the U.S. Food and Drug Administration acted arbitrarily when it opted not to exempt hand-rolled premium cigars from regulations requiring warning labels, saying that the FDA's decision said there was "no data" provided on their use despite the agency receiving two studies on the subject.

Order attached | Read full article »

Kellogg Hansen
Kennedys Law LLP
Kobre & Kim
Kuck Baxter
Kucker Marino
Law Offices of Alan S. Futerfas
Levin Sedran
Lynch Carpenter
Munck Wilson
Orbit Law PLLC
Orrick Herrington
Parsons McEntire
Paul Hastings
Reed Smith
Ropes & Gray
Rosenberg & Estis
Sherman Silverstein
Sidley Austin
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Squire Patton
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Troutman Pepper
Venable LLP
Wachtell Lipton
Walker Wilcox
White and Williams
Wiggin and Dana
Wilkinson Stekloff
WilmerHale

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Altria Group Inc.
American Academy of Family Physicians
American Bar Association
American Civil Liberties Union
American Gateways
American Hospital Association
Animal Legal Defense Fund
Apple Inc.
Associated Press
BP PLC
Berkshire Hathaway Inc.
BuzzFeed Inc.
ByteDance Ltd.
Center for Biological Diversity
Cincinnati Financial Corp.
Comcast Corp.
Cushman & Wakefield Inc.
DDB Worldwide Communications Group Inc.
Earthjustice
Erie Insurance Inc.
Ethereum GmbH
Getty Images Inc.
Google LLC
Immigration Equality Inc.
Instagram Inc.
JUUL Labs Inc.
Lambda Legal Defense & Educational Fund
Levi Strauss & Co.
LinkedIn Corp.
Major League Baseball Inc.
Medicare Payment Advisory Commission
Meta Platforms Inc.
Mexican American Legal Defense & Educational Fund
Microsoft Corp.

IP & TECHNOLOGY

5th Circ. Grapples With Whether Fed. Circ. Should Take Fintiv

A Fifth Circuit panel on Wednesday asked difficult questions of both US Inventor and the federal government when trying to figure out whether it or the Federal Circuit should oversee challenges to the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office's practice of discretionarily denying patent challenges.

Read full article »

EPO Board Says AI Can't Be Inventor, But Offers Alternative

The board that oversees European Patent Office appeals on Wednesday explained its reasons for rejecting patent applications naming an artificial intelligence machine as the inventor, but suggested that it may be possible to name the computer's user or owner instead.

Decision attached | Read full article »

TRANSPORTATION & INFRASTRUCTURE

NY, NJ To Split Hudson Tunnel, Bridge Projects Cost

New York and New Jersey will split the remaining costs after federal funding of constructing a train tunnel under the Hudson River and replacing the Portal North Bridge in the first phase of the states' railway investment initiative.

Read full article »

INSURANCE

3rd Circ. Asked To Wait For Pa. Panels On COVID Coverage

A group of Pennsylvania businesses seeking coverage for their pandemic-related losses asked the Third Circuit to pause its consideration of several appeals, saying the Superior Court of Pennsylvania and state Supreme Court should weigh in first on issues surrounding COVID-19 coverage.

Motion attached | Read full article »

REAL ESTATE

Eviction Default Buffer Lifts For Some In NYC Housing Court

A New York City administrative judge has lifted a procedural buffer that gave certain tenants an extra shot to match with a lawyer and mount defenses in housing court before facing a default judgment, citing the "changing course of the pandemic."

Read full article »

COMPETITION

DOJ's Antitrust Division Taps Former Microsoft Economist

The U.S. Department of Justice's Antitrust Division is padding its ranks with a top economist, tapping a Stanford professor and former Microsoft consulting chief economist as the agency moves forward with major technology cases and considers a broad rethink of how competition enforcement should work.

Read full article »

FTC Told Ban On Juul Sales Bolsters Altria Deal Challenge

Federal Trade Commission staffers have told the commissioners that health regulators' recently paused ban on marketing of Juul products supports the agency's case for challenging Altria Group Inc.'s $12.8 billion acquisition of a minority stake in the electronic cigarette maker.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Mobilization for Justice Inc.
NJOY Inc.
Natural Resources Defense Council
New Jersey Transit Corp.
Ohio State University
Oracle Corp.
PJM Interconnection LLC
Pacific Legal Foundation
Patomak Global Partners LLC
Paypal Holdings Inc.
Regents of the University of California
Sierra Club
State Bar of Georgia
Suncor Energy Inc.
The Gap Inc.
The Hartford Financial Services Group Inc.
TikTok Inc.
Trump Organization Inc.
Twitter Inc.
U.S. Xpress Enterprises Inc.
USI Insurance Services
University of Virginia
Venmo LLC

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Arizona Attorney General's Office
Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
California Air Resources Board
California Natural Resources Agency
Central Intelligence Agency
Commodity Futures Trading Commission
Congressional Research Service
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
European Union
Executive Office of the President
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Federal Housing Finance Agency
Federal Trade Commission
Fish and Wildlife Service
Florida Supreme Court
Food and Drug Administration
Georgia Supreme Court
Government Accountability Office
Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court
Missouri Attorney General's Office
Montana Attorney General's Office
National Marine Fisheries Service
National Railroad Passenger Corp.
National Security Agency
New Jersey Attorney General's Office
New York Attorney General's Office
Office of the Comptroller of the Currency
Pennsylvania Supreme Court
Serious Fraud Office
Small Business Administration
Solicitors Regulation Authority
Texas Attorney General's Office

Meta Says FTC Is 'Hiding' WhatsApp, Instagram Probe Docs

Meta has told a D.C. federal court that the Federal Trade Commission is refusing to turn over material from its reviews of Facebook's Instagram and WhatsApp purchases before they closed — the deals at the core of the FTC's antitrust case against the social media giant.

Brief attached | Read full article »

CYBERSECURITY & PRIVACY

Ex-CIA Coder Pokes At Semi-Secret WikiLeaks Trial Witnesses

A former CIA programmer suspected of stealing hacking secrets and feeding them to WikiLeaks got a former colleague to opine Wednesday that the spy agency's computer security was not as strong as the National Security Agency's.

Read full article »

Lawmakers Urge FTC Probe Into TikTok's Consumer Data Use

A bipartisan pair of senators are calling for a Federal Trade Commission probe of reports that China's government can access the private data of millions of Americans who use the popular video-sharing platform TikTok.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

SPORTS & BETTING

FTC Implements Horse Racing Rules Despite La. Lawsuit

A new set of federal horse racing regulations went into effect under the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act on Friday despite a last-minute request from the State of Louisiana for a temporary restraining order that would delay implementation while a lawsuit against the new rules makes its way through the Louisiana Western District Court.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS

SBA Proposes Certification Program For Vet-Owned Small Biz

The Small Business Administration issued a proposed rule on Wednesday to establish a governmentwide certification program for veteran-owned small businesses, which would end self-certification for contractors working outside the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

Proposed Rule attached | Read full article »

Gov. Didn't Mislead Research Co. In $22M Bid, GAO Says

The Government Accountability Office denied a bid challenge from a North Carolina-based research company that claimed the government sabotaged its $22 million proposal, finding a lack of evidence that the government held "misleading discussions" during its selection process.

Decision attached | Read full article »

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

WTO Expects To Rule On US Security Tariffs By Year's End

The World Trade Organization panel overseeing a series of legal challenges to Trump-era national security tariffs on steel and aluminum expects to issue its ruling before the year is out, according to WTO documents circulated this week.

6 documents attached | Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

U.S. Agency for International Development
U.S. Army
U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Western District of Washington
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
U.S. Department of Defense Office of Inspector General
U.S. Department of Energy
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Louisiana
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington
U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Supreme Court
World Trade Organization

6th Circ. Strikes Down Ohio Injunction Blocking ICE Guidance

The Sixth Circuit has undone an Ohio judge's nationwide order preventing immigration officers from prioritizing the removal of noncitizens who pose a security threat pursuant to Biden administration policy, saying the guidance didn't directly injure the three states challenging it.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

5th Circ. Doubtful Of Biden's Rebuff Of Order Neutering DACA

A Fifth Circuit panel on Wednesday appeared skeptical of the Biden administration's attempts to salvage an Obama-era program shielding young immigrants from deportation, with one judge emphasizing evidence indicating that Texas could lower its public services spending if the program was terminated.

Read full article »

Judge Shuts Down Early Win Bid By DHS In Visa Delay Suit

A Washington federal judge has denied the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's bid for an early win in a case lodged by nonimmigrant spouses who sued the department for delaying visa and work authorization decisions, saying the spouses still had live claims.

Order attached | Read full article »

5th Circ. Asks If 'Remain In Mexico' Ruling Moots Border Suit

The Fifth Circuit on Tuesday asked for supplemental briefing in Texas and Missouri's lawsuit against the federal government over U.S.-Mexico border wall construction halts, asking them to explain whether the U.S. Supreme Court's decision last week in the "Remain in Mexico" policy case moots the instant appeal.

1 document attached | Read full article »

US Cos. Say Fabrics, Yarn Access Key To Mitigating Migration

A group of American companies and manufacturers pushed the White House on Tuesday to invest more in the textile and apparel manufacturing industries within the Western Hemisphere, and provide access to more fabrics and yarns, which they said could create more jobs and mitigate migration from Central America.

Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Google Wants Intact 'Common Carrier' Suit Kept Together

Google wants to face Ohio's state court lawsuit seeking to forcibly regulate it as a "common carrier" all at once, arguing that a recent ruling keeping the suit intact demonstrates there is no reason to split the dispute, as Ohio enforcers have urged.

Response attached | Read full article »

FCC Calls For $220K Fraud Fine Over Broadband Subsidy

The Federal Communications Commission has slapped Cleo Communications and its CEO Kyle Traxler with a $220,210 fine for using interstate wires to defraud consumers hoping to participate in the Emergency Broadband Benefit program.

Notice attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

Pot Regulators Urge Biden To Reinstate Obama-Era Policy

The Biden administration should act to undo the previous administration's restrictions when it comes to federal enforcement of marijuana-related drug offenses and reinstate the more lenient guidance put in place under President Barack Obama, a group of minority cannabis regulators has said.

Letter attached | Read full article »

Sens. Call Biden's Pot Position 'Extraordinarily Disappointing'

A group of Democratic U.S. senators on Wednesday renewed their request to the Biden administration to decriminalize cannabis and to wipe out the federal convictions of people charged with nonviolent marijuana-related crimes, blasting the administration's response to their previous request as "extraordinarily disappointing."

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

How Federal Data Privacy Bill Would Affect Businesses

The proposed American Data Privacy and Protection Act represents a needed step toward federal protection of individual privacy rights, but businesses should expect additional amendments as it works its way through passage, with significant deference toward Federal Trade Commission rulemaking, say Brandon Robinson and Kelsi Long at Balch & Bingham.

Read full article »

'Remain In Mexico' Ruling May Affect Immigration Battles

The U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Biden v. Texas allowing the administration to end the "Remain in Mexico" policy means that future challenges to immigration policies won't result in injunctions if they are grounded in the Immigration and Nationality Act, says César García Hernández at Ohio State University.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

An Uncertain Future For HHS Drug Reimbursement Rates

The U.S. Supreme Court's decision in American Hospital Association v. Becerra, rejecting the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' rules reducing Section 340B drug reimbursements, is not a straightforward reversal of the rate changes and raises questions concerning how HHS will implement the decision, say Stephanie Webster and Margaux Hall at Ropes & Gray.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Embracing Revenue Operations For Strong Law Firm Growth

The concept of revenue operations — a management strategy commonly used in high-growth sectors that involves integrating all departments to address and fulfill client needs — can help law firms develop their own growth strategies, including strengthening client relationships, says Dave Southern, a business development and marketing professional.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Kobre & Kim To Represent Russian Oligarch Abramovich

International disputes and investigations firm Kobre & Kim LLP has registered to represent Russian oligarch Roman Abramovich in the United States, the firm confirmed to Law360 on Wednesday.

Read full article »

SRA Takes Steps Toward Probing Dechert Over ENRC Case

England's legal watchdog has taken initial steps toward opening a potential investigation into the conduct of Dechert LLP and its former head of white-collar crime following a damning court ruling over their work for Kazakh mining company ENRC.

Read full article »

Baker Botts Debuts Revamped LGBTQ Pro Bono Program

Baker Botts LLP will expand its pro bono work focused on LGBTQ issues and has vowed to focus on legal advocacy for transgender people, the firm has announced.

Read full article »

Munck Wilson Expands To Waco With Experienced Patent Atty

Munck Wilson Mandala LLP announced that it has opened a new office in Waco, Texas, with the hire of a longtime patent attorney who's spent over two decades practicing out of the patent litigation hotbed as a partner.

Read full article »

Kang Haggerty Opens Whistleblower Division

Philadelphia-based boutique Kang Haggerty LLC has formed a new division to represent clients with whistleblower claims called The Whistleblower Advocates, the firm announced Wednesday.

Read full article »

SEC Asks Full 5th Circ. To Rehear In-House Courts Challenge

The Biden administration is asking the full Fifth Circuit to rule on the constitutionality of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's system of in-house courts, pushing for a rehearing of a recent panel decision that upheld a constitutional challenge to a key agency enforcement mechanism.

Read full article »

Ga. Justices Disbar Atty For Stealing $41K In Fake Settlements

The Georgia Supreme Court on Wednesday disbarred a former associate general counsel at U.S. Xpress Inc. for defrauding the trucking company of $41,000 after he filed two forged settlement agreements of complaints to the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission from fake employees.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Litigation Attorney
Harter Secrest & Emery LLP
-, -

Deputy General Counsel – Legal Department (LEG)
International Monetary Fund
Washington, District of Columbia

Deputy Attorney General 2
New Jersey Division of Law
Trenton, New Jersey

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.

However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,

you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Justices Urged To Mend Circuit Split Over FCA Scienter
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 07/07/2022 01:58

LAW360®

Thursday, July 7, 2022 Follow

TOP NEWS

Justices Urged To Mend Circuit Split Over FCA Scienter

Two whistleblowers have urged the U.S. Supreme Court to review a contentious decision that a supermarket chain's alleged overcharging of federal health care programs was not a False Claims Act violation, saying circuit courts are deeply split on how to determine defendants' knowledge of wrongdoing.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Biden Planned To Name Anti-Abortion Ky. Judge, Emails Show

President Joe Biden had planned to nominate a conservative, anti-abortion attorney to a new vacancy in the Eastern District of Kentucky the same week the U.S. Supreme Court ultimately ruled to overturn the constitutional right to an abortion, according to newly released emails in response to a public records request.

Read full article »

Premium Cigar Groups Get Win In Suit Over FDA Rulemaking

A D.C. federal judge has found that the U.S. Food and Drug Administration acted arbitrarily when it opted not to exempt hand-rolled premium cigars from regulations requiring warning labels, saying that the FDA's decision said there was "no data" provided on their use despite the agency receiving two studies on the subject.

Order attached | Read full article »

FDA Stays Juul Ban, Says More Review Needed

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration on Tuesday said it would allow Juul products to stay on store shelves pending

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Altria Group Inc.
American Academy of Family Physicians
American Bar Association
American Civil Liberties Union
American Gateways
American Hospital Association
Associated Press
AutoZone Inc.
DDB Worldwide Communications Group Inc.
Ethereum GmbH
Immigration Equality Inc.

additional review of scientific evidence "unique" to the company's application to market its e-cigarettes.

Read full article »

FTC Told Ban On Juul Sales Bolsters Altria Deal Challenge

Federal Trade Commission staffers have told the commissioners that health regulators' recently paused ban on marketing of Juul products supports the agency's case for challenging Altria Group Inc.'s $12.8 billion acquisition of a minority stake in the electronic cigarette maker.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

North Korea Accused Of Hitting Health Cos. With Ransomware

North Korean actors have hit multiple health care organizations with ransomware attacks since May 2021 as part of an ongoing campaign exploiting the sector's heightened need to keep its computer systems running, U.S. officials warned Wednesday.

Read full article »

POLICY & REGULATION

FDA, USPTO Heads Look At Teaming Up On Drug Pricing

Amid congressional calls for the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to work more closely on generic-drug matters, leaders at both agencies said Wednesday that they were trying to strengthen the patent system to curb abuse.

Read full article »

Sens. Call Biden's Pot Position 'Extraordinarily Disappointing'

A group of Democratic U.S. senators on Wednesday renewed their request to the Biden administration to decriminalize cannabis and to wipe out the federal convictions of people charged with nonviolent marijuana-related crimes, blasting the administration's response to their previous request as "extraordinarily disappointing."

Read full article »

ENFORCEMENT & COMPLIANCE

NC Medical Supplier Cops To $17M Medicare Billing Fraud

A health care executive in North Carolina admitted to cheating Medicare out of $17 million through bogus medical equipment billing and using the ill-gotten gains to buy homes and luxury cars, federal prosecutors said Wednesday.

Read full article »

LITIGATION

Ga. Justices To Review If Kids Can Claim Wrongful Death

The Georgia Supreme Court granted certiorari Wednesday to a daughter trying to revive a wrongful death suit she filed on behalf of her father against a doctor and medical group after a lower court said only a surviving spouse could bring the case.

Order attached | Read full article »

Arbitration Ruled 'Unconscionable' In Pa. Wrongful Death Suit

The Pennsylvania Superior Court has ruled that a nursing home's arbitration agreement signed by a partially blind woman in severe pain and on medication was "unconscionable," and could not be used to resolve her family's wrongful death suit against the facility.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

JUUL Labs Inc.
Johnson & Johnson
Lambda Legal Defense & Educational Fund
Major League Baseball Inc.
Medicare Payment Advisory Commission
NJOY Inc.
Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America
Porsche
Safeco Insurance Co.
State Bar of Georgia
Supervalu Inc.
U.S. Chamber of Commerce
U.S. Xpress Enterprises Inc.
United Natural Foods Inc.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Akerman LLP
Baker & Hostetler
Baker Botts
Baker McKenzie
Berkes Crane
Brown Rudnick
Choate Hall
Cleary Gottlieb
Coleman Talley
Dechert LLP
Ellis George
Foley & Lardner
Genova Burns
Goldstein & Russell
Goode Casseb
Goodwin Procter
Gordon & Rees
Gray Reed
Helmer Martins
Hogan Lovells
Jones Day
Kang Haggerty
Kazan McClain
Kirkland & Ellis
Kobre & Kim
Munck Wilson
O'Melveny & Myers
Otterbourg PC
Parkins & Rubio
Polsinelli PC
Ropes & Gray
Sheppard Mullin
Sidley Austin
Simon Greenstone
Simpson Thacher
Squire Patton
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Venable LLP
Wachtell Lipton
Wilkes & Associates
Wilkinson Stekloff
Wollmuth Maher

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Congressional Research Service
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
European Union
Executive Office of the President
Federal Bureau of Investigation

Old Spice Talc Supplier Escapes $3M In Punitive Damages

A California appeals court has vacated $3 million in punitive damages against Whittaker Clark & Daniels Inc. in a suit by a 79-year-old Vietnam War veteran, saying the veteran could not prove that the company deliberately hid the mesothelioma risks in its talc or that it didn't test its products thoroughly.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

BANKRUPTCY

J&J Talc Unit Headed For Pivotal Ch. 11 Hearing

The New Jersey bankruptcy judge presiding over the Chapter 11 case of Johnson & Johnson's talc unit urged the debtor, its insurers and the committee representing thousands of talc injury claimants to continue meaningful engagement in mediation ahead of a critical hearing set for later this month.

Read full article »

PEOPLE

Sheppard Mullin Adds Another Polsinelli Health Atty In LA

Sheppard Mullin Richter & Hampton LLP announced Wednesday it is continuing to expand its health care team by adding another Polsinelli PC expert — the sixth this year — to its Los Angeles office.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

An Uncertain Future For HHS Drug Reimbursement Rates

The U.S. Supreme Court's decision in American Hospital Association v. Becerra, rejecting the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' rules reducing Section 340B drug reimbursements, is not a straightforward reversal of the rate changes and raises questions concerning how HHS will implement the decision, say Stephanie Webster and Margaux Hall at Ropes & Gray.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Embracing Revenue Operations For Strong Law Firm Growth

The concept of revenue operations — a management strategy commonly used in high-growth sectors that involves integrating all departments to address and fulfill client needs — can help law firms develop their own growth strategies, including strengthening client relationships, says Dave Southern, a business development and marketing professional.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Kobre & Kim To Represent Russian Oligarch Abramovich

International disputes and investigations firm Kobre & Kim LLP has registered to represent Russian oligarch Roman Abramovich in the United States, the firm confirmed to Law360 on Wednesday.

Read full article »

Following Subpoena, Cipollone Agrees To Talk To Jan. 6 Panel

Federal Housing Finance Agency
Federal Trade Commission
Florida Supreme Court
Food and Drug Administration
Georgia Supreme Court
Office of Foreign Assets Control
Serious Fraud Office
Solicitors Regulation Authority
U.S. Army
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of North Carolina
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of New Jersey
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Supreme Court

Days after getting a subpoena from the House committee investigating the insurrection at the U.S Capitol, former White House counsel Pat Cipollone has agreed to testify, a source familiar with the matter said Wednesday.

Read full article »

Federal Courthouse Named After 1st Black Fla. Justice

The federal courthouse in Tallahassee will be named after the late Joseph Woodrow Hatchett, who was the first Black Florida Supreme Court justice and a former Akerman LLP partner.

Read full article »

SRA Takes Steps Toward Probing Dechert Over ENRC Case

England's legal watchdog has taken initial steps toward opening a potential investigation into the conduct of Dechert LLP and its former head of white-collar crime following a damning court ruling over their work for Kazakh mining company ENRC.

Read full article »

Baker Botts Debuts Revamped LGBTQ Pro Bono Program

Baker Botts LLP will expand its pro bono work focused on LGBTQ issues and has vowed to focus on legal advocacy for transgender people, the firm has announced.

Read full article »

Munck Wilson Expands To Waco With Experienced Patent Atty

Munck Wilson Mandala LLP announced that it has opened a new office in Waco, Texas, with the hire of a longtime patent attorney who's spent over two decades practicing out of the patent litigation hotbed as a partner.

Read full article »

Kang Haggerty Opens Whistleblower Division

Philadelphia-based boutique Kang Haggerty LLC has formed a new division to represent clients with whistleblower claims called The Whistleblower Advocates, the firm announced Wednesday.

Read full article »

SEC Asks Full 5th Circ. To Rehear In-House Courts Challenge

The Biden administration is asking the full Fifth Circuit to rule on the constitutionality of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's system of in-house courts, pushing for a rehearing of a recent panel decision that upheld a constitutional challenge to a key agency enforcement mechanism.

Read full article »

Ga. Justices Disbar Atty For Stealing $41K In Fake Settlements

The Georgia Supreme Court on Wednesday disbarred a former associate general counsel at U.S. Xpress Inc. for defrauding the trucking company of $41,000 after he filed two forged settlement agreements of complaints to the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission from fake employees.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER	Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm Schoen Legal Search New York City, New York

Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Health Care Regulatory & Transactional Attorney
Moore & Van Allen, PLLC
Charlotte, North Carolina

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Democrats Said to Eye Tax Hike on HighEarners to Shore Up Medicare
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 07/07/2022 06:29

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

JULY 7, 2022

BY GABY GALVIN

Twitter Email

Top Stories

- Senate Democrats will propose raising taxes on some high-income Americans to delay a shortfall in the Medicare trust fund until 2031, aides told The Associated Press, with legislative text expected in the coming days. (The Associated Press) Senate Democrats also unveiled their new drug pricing plan, which would allow Medicare to negotiate drug prices and encourage biosimilar competition, but differs from a House-passed bill on issues such as insulin payment and transparency from pharmacy benefit managers. (Stat News)

- The Food and Drug Administration said state-licensed pharmacists can prescribe Pfizer Inc.'s COVID-19 antiviral pill Paxlovid to eligible patients, in a bid to ensure widespread access to the treatment. Pharmacists will be subject to some parameters around prescribing, and the FDA said people who test positive for COVID-19 should first consider seeking care from a doctor or a test-to-treat site. (Bloomberg)

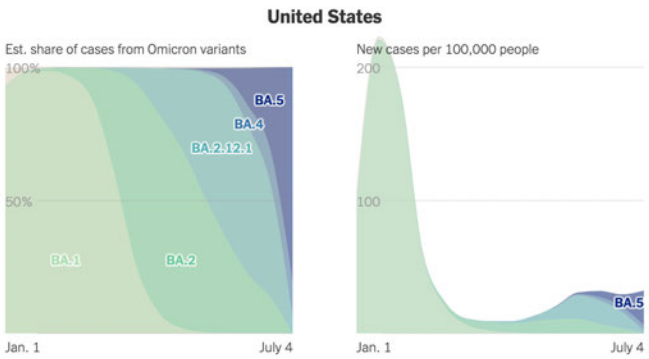
- The FDA will develop a new framework to help overseas baby formula manufacturers market their products in the United States after the formula shortage eases, a move that could increase competition and strengthen the supply chain. The FDA would offer technical assistance to companies seeking to enter the U.S. market and issue guidelines for those selling formula on a temporary basis during the shortage. (The Wall Street Journal)

- The Department of Health and Human Services and the Department of Justice won or negotiated more than $5 billion in health care fraud cases in fiscal 2021, a record high, while nearly $1.9 billion was returned to the federal government, according to a new report. About $1.2 billion went to the Medicare trust funds, while about $99 million was transferred back to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. (Healthcare Dive)

Chart Review

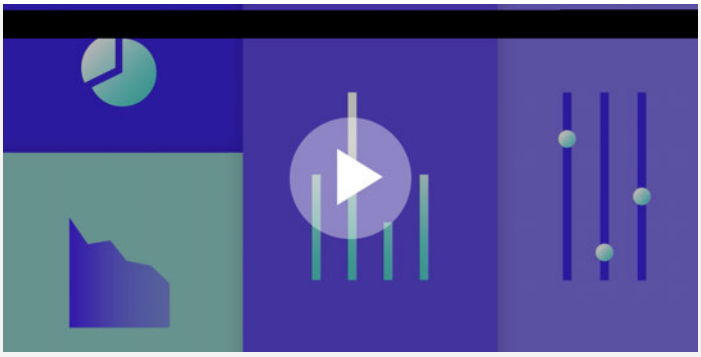
What the BA.5 Subvariant Could Mean for the United States
The New York Times



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



Clearly See the Path Ahead With Decision Intelligence

Our technology is customizable for your needs, so you can feel confident in all aspects of your business. With our predictive AI applications, high-frequency survey technology, full service data & analyst teams, and a proprietary data visualization platform, the path ahead for your business has never been clearer — all you need to do is look.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

Europe Is at Center of New Wave of Covid Infections, WHO Says
Deirdre Hipwell, Bloomberg
Europe is at the center of a resurgence in Covid-19 infections as more people mix at large-scale events and travel, according to the World Health Organization.

Doctors are clamoring for more clarity on Paxlovid prescribing amid Covid-19 rebound concerns
Edward Chen, Stat News
Six months after regulators issued an emergency use authorization for Paxlovid, physicians say they still have significant questions about prescribing guidelines for the leading treatment for high-risk Covid patients.

GENERAL

Juul Continues Selling Vaping Products After FDA Stays Ban
Robert Langreth, Bloomberg
Juul Labs Inc. said it's continuing to sell its vaping products that are at the center of an ongoing standoff with the Food and Drug Administration.

In the search for an ARPA-H director, the White House is zeroing in on DARPA veterans
Lev Facher, Stat News
The White House is zeroing in on former DARPA officials as candidates to lead the Biden administration's new high-stakes science agency, ARPA-H.

Democrats Criticize Biden Plan to Nominate Antiabortion Republican to Judgeship

Andrew Restuccia, The Wall Street Journal
The White House told Kentucky Gov. Andy Beshear's office that President Biden planned to nominate to the federal bench a Republican who has defended the state's efforts to restrict access to abortions, according to newly released documents.

Gun laws vs. mental health support: 'We can't screen our way out of this,' expert says
Kim Bellware, The Washington Post
As the familiar debate over mental health support and gun restrictions plays out in the wake of another deadly shooting, one expert who studies mass shooting events said that, although both are important, only firearm regulations have proved to have a significant effect of curbing future tragedies.

Prenatal screening brings risk in post-Roe landscape
Adriel Bettelheim, Axios
Pregnant people who get routine prenatal screening may be at greater risk of prosecution in states with strict, new abortion bans, even if they plan to continue the pregnancy, bioethicists write in the journal Cell Reports Medicine.

WHO to consider again whether monkeypox outbreak is public health emergency of international concern
Jacqueline Howard, CNN
As monkeypox cases continue to rise globally, the World Health Organization plans to reassess whether the outbreak constitutes a public health emergency of international concern.

Lesions, headaches, debilitating pain: Gay men with monkeypox share their stories
Benjamin Ryan, NBC News
Men who have sex with men comprise the vast majority of monkeypox cases in this unprecedented outbreak. Eighteen of them talked to NBC News about their experiences.

From social media to pink billboards, it's suddenly 'hot' to discuss gut diseases
Isabella Cueto, Stat News
Near the corner of busy Santa Monica Boulevard and Corinth Avenue, underneath lines of skinny palm trees and against an almost perpetually bright-blue sky, a hot pink billboard declared: Hot girls have IBS.

PAYERS

CMMI finds implicit bias in 3 major payment models
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare
An analysis of three existing payment models found certain screening tools and other designs led to some Medicare beneficiaries being excluded and prompted the creation of a new guide on how to root out bias in models.

PROVIDERS

Mississippi's last abortion clinic will shutter as trigger ban begins

Katie Shepherd, The Washington Post
Mississippi's only abortion clinic, Jackson Women's Health Organization, will lock its doors after the close of business on Wednesday following a trial judge's refusal to block the state's trigger law from taking effect, instituting a near-total abortion ban.

Whole Woman's Health to close clinics in Texas following near-total abortion bans
Oriana Gonzalez, Axios
Whole Woman's Health, one of the leading abortion providers in Texas, announced Wednesday that it is closing down its four locations due to the near-total bans that have been enacted in the state.

Abortion Providers and Advocacy Groups Face New Legal Barriers to Marketing Their Services
Patrick Coffee, The Wall Street Journal
The Supreme Court decision overturning Roe v. Wade has created a legally fraught landscape for organizations that advertise abortion services or provide information about getting them.

Feds Want a Policy That Advocates Say Would Let Hospitals Off the Hook for Covid-Era Lapses
Lauren Weber, Kaiser Health News
The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services is responding to the chaos of the covid-19 pandemic by proposing to hide from the public a rating that lets consumers compare hospitals' safety records and to waive approximately $350 million in financial penalties for roughly 750 hospitals with the worst patient-safety track records.

Hospitals Curbing Emissions Switch Anesthesia Gases, Plug Leaks
Shira Stein, Bloomberg Law
Hospitals under growing pressure to curb their greenhouse gas emissions are finding that taking a fresh look at how they use anesthesia can have a big payoff.

'Phantom' provider lists limit Medicaid mental healthcare access, study finds
Susan Kelly, Healthcare Dive
Researchers found significant discrepancies between provider directories and the actual availability of providers in a large study examining access to mental health services among Medicaid recipients in Oregon.

GOP AGs Support Alabama Ban on Medical Care for Trans Kids
Peter Hayes, Bloomberg Law
Fifteen Republican attorneys general are urging the Eleventh Circuit to overturn a partial injunction against Alabama's recently enacted law criminalizing gender-affirming medical care for children.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Senate Report Hits AbbVie's Bermuda Tax Structure for U.S. Humira Sales
Richard Rubin, The Wall Street Journal
Illinois-based AbbVie Inc. makes the bulk of its profits from arthritis drug Humira on sales in the U.S., but the company reports almost all its taxable income in foreign subsidiaries, according to a Senate Finance Committee report that criticizes the pharmaceutical company's use of entities in Bermuda and Puerto Rico to reduce its tax burden.

To get banned abortion pills, patients turn to legally risky tactics
Christopher Rowland, The Washington Post
Mail-forwarding services and telehealth appointments from border-state parking lots circumvent state bans on FDA-approved drugs.

Montana Clinics That Provide Abortions Preemptively Restrict Pill Access for Out-of-State Patients
Katheryn Houghton and Arielle Zionts, Kaiser Health News
The four states bordering Montana have "trigger laws" in effect or pending now that the U.S. Supreme Court has ended federal protections for abortion, making conservative Big Sky Country an unlikely haven for women seeking to end their pregnancies.

Merck Is in Advanced Talks to Buy Seagen for Roughly $40 Billion or More
Cara Lombardo et al., The Wall Street Journal
Merck & Co. is in advanced talks to acquire Seagen Inc. and is aiming to agree on a purchase of the cancer biotech in the next few weeks, according to people familiar with the matter, in a deal that could be worth roughly $40 billion or more.

Genomics giant Illumina is looking beyond the sequencing box. But investors aren't sold on CEO Francis deSouza's 'legacy-defining' $8 billion gamble.
Andrew Dunn, Insider
Illumina's CEO, Francis deSouza, is moving the gene-sequencing giant into drugs and diagnostics.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Teladoc adds medication delivery, in-home phlebotomy to primary care service Primary360
Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare
Teladoc is further building out its primary care offering, Primary360, with new services that enhance care coordination and grow in-home options.

COVID-19 reappeared in top 5 telehealth diagnoses in April
Hailey Mensik, Healthcare Dive
COVID-19 made its way back into the top five telehealth diagnoses nationally on Fair Health's monthly tracker in April for the first time since January, according to the report out Wednesday.

Teladoc, Amwell Settle Patent Suit on Remote Health-Care Tech
Christopher Yasiejko, Bloomberg Law
Teladoc Health Inc. and American Well Corp. settled a patent-infringement lawsuit over technologies used in remote health care, a sector that vaulted to prominence during the stay-at-home phase of the Covid-19 pandemic, according to a filing Wednesday in Delaware federal court.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

The End of the Illusion That Smoking Is a Choice

Sarah Milov, The New York Times

The Food and Drug Administration recently proposed lowering the nicotine content in cigarettes to less addictive levels. If adopted, this regulation would finally test one of the tobacco industry's favorite claims: that smoking is a choice.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Estimated Number of COVID-19 Infections, Hospitalizations, and Deaths Prevented Among Vaccinated Persons in the US, December 2020 to September 2021

Molly K. Steele et al., JAMA Network Open

COVID-19 vaccination was estimated to prevent 27 million infections, 1.6 million COVID-19-associated hospitalizations and 235,000 deaths among vaccinated adults through September 2021.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.

SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

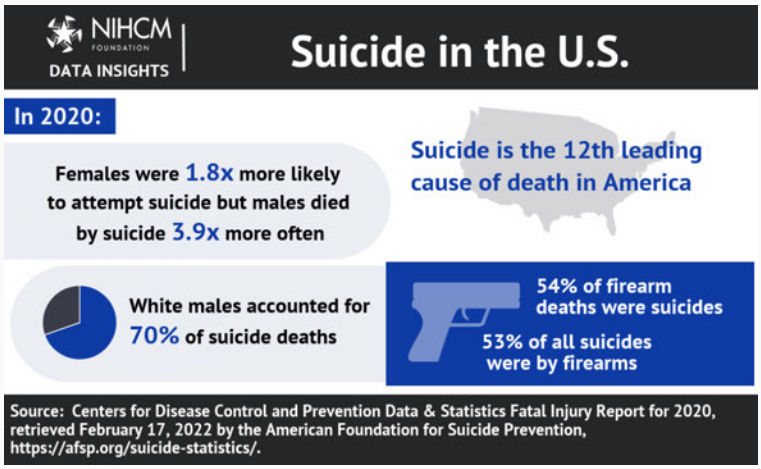
SUBJECT: NIHCM Newsletter: The Launch of 988 & More
FROM: NIHCM Foundation <nihcm@nihcm.org>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 07/07/2022 08:35

View this email in your browser

NIHCM NEWSLETTER - July 2022

IN THIS ISSUE

- Launch of 988
- Impact of Overturning Roe on Health Care
- The Pandemic & Children's Health
- In Other Public Health News…



More on this Data Visualization

Launch of 988

The launch of the three-digit National Suicide Prevention Lifeline number on July 16, 2022, will direct callers to crisis centers. 988 callers who are suicidal or experiencing a mental health crisis will be connected to counselors that are part of the existing National Suicide Prevention Lifeline network. However, there is concern the Lifeline will not be able to handle the increase in call volume.

- Youth Suicide: The Lifeline has already struggled to handle the increase in youth suicide rates during the COVID-19 pandemic. The growing mental health crisis disproportionately impacts LGBTQ youth and youth of color.
- Suicide and Mental Health: A recent study shows that most male suicides in the U.S. are not linked to mental health issues. These suicides are associated with acute stressors and are more likely to involve a firearm.
- Racial Disparities: A new Blue Cross Blue Shield Association report shows racial disparities in the diagnosis and treatment of major depression.

Resources & Initiatives:

- The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends that all youth 12 and older should be screened for suicide risk.
- The BlueCross BlueShield of South Carolina Foundation is partnering with schools and community organizations to address the mental health care workforce shortage for adolescents.
- Learn more about the struggle to staff the 988 crisis line from NIHCM grantee, Tradeoffs podcast.
- Blue Cross NC invests in behavioral health care services in rural and marginalized communities.
- Read the Bipartisan Policy Center's report on the three areas essential to the implementation of 988: interagency collaboration, the behavioral health workforce, and financing.

Impact of Overturning Roe on Health Care

Source: FiveThirtyEight, Overturning Roe v. Wade Could Make Maternal Mortality Even Worse, May 31, 2022

The U.S.' maternal mortality rate exceeds that of any other high-income country. The court ruling on Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization, overturning Roe v. Wade, allows states to set their own regulations on whether or not abortion is legal, and with what exceptions, if any. Numerous medical organizations and journals warn that the ruling will have implications beyond abortion, potentially increasing maternal mortality.

- Implications on the Health Care System: The verdict creates significant confusion among medical groups and hospitals across the nation, especially those specializing in in vitro fertilization. Providers will now have to follow each state's directive on the definition of an abortion. The Supreme Court's decision could place a heavier burden on already strained obstetric units around the country, such as rural maternity units.
- Dangerous Pregnancies: As restrictions continue to grow, many are concerned about whether people will be able to receive care for high-risk pregnancies. The new ruling also complicates what providers are able to do in cases of miscarriages, stillbirths, or pregnancies where the fetus is unlikely to survive, in which carrying to term will not only have a physical and mental health toll on the mother but some doctors argue is life-threatening.
- Restricted Medical Training & Treatment: Many of the procedures and medications used in treating miscarriages are also used in abortion care. New restrictions could curtail where doctors are able to receive training for this care, which has been a requirement for obstetrics and gynecology (OB/GYN) residency programs. A study in Obstetrics and Gynecology estimates that the number of OB/GYN residents with access to some level of abortion training will decline from the 92% reported in 2020 to at most 56%.

Resources:

- Learn more about what is happening in your state with Guttmacher Institute's interactive map and latest resources.
- Kaiser Health News released an article on what to know now that Roe v. Wade has been overturned.

Initiatives to Improve Maternal Health:

- Anthem Blue Cross Foundation committed more than $14.5 million in grants to improve maternal health, including addressing maternal health disparities.
- Highmark Blue Cross Blue Shield of Western New York recently announced a new grant cycle with added focus on maternal health disparities.

The Pandemic & Children's Health

Source: Imperial College London, COVID-19 Orphanhood

The pandemic continues to challenge children's health. More than 200,000 U.S. children have lost one or both parents to COVID, with youth of color disproportionately impacted. Additionally, child food insecurity remains a concern as Congress passes legislation to extend free meals and other food assistance for children.

- ACEs: Stressors in childhood, known as Adverse Childhood Experiences or ACEs, can increase risk of disease later in life. This science informs the many challenges orphans of COVID could face in the future and the disproportionate impact on marginalized communities.
- COVID Vaccines: The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends vaccines for children 6 months to 5 years old. However, disparities in health care may influence whether a child receives the shot. Rural pediatricians are less likely to recommend the COVID vaccines than their urban counterparts.
- Child Hunger: A new report from the Food Research Action Center showed that 95% of the country's largest school districts reported that the waivers helped reduce child hunger in their school district.

Resources & Initiatives:

- Learn more about addressing childhood trauma and the importance of family support.
- Blue Cross Blue Shield of Montana and Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan partnered with The Children's Trust Fund to help raise awareness about the prevention of child abuse and neglect.
- PBS NewsHour, a NIHCM grantee, highlighted how workforce shortages exacerbate the mental health crisis among American teens.
- Physicians (who are also moms of young kids) answer your questions about the COVID vaccine for children in this resource from Blue Cross NC
- See NIHCM's infographic on the pandemic's impact on children, with a focus on the mental health crisis.

In Other Public Health News…

- Juul Ban: The Food and Drug Administration recently ordered all Juul e-cigarette products to be removed from U.S. markets over public health concerns, including the role the company may have played in the "disproportionate rise in youth vaping." The FDA temporarily paused the ban for additional review.
- Gun Bill: On June 25, 2022, President Biden signed a bipartisan gun law into legislation, marking the most significant federal legislation to address gun violence since 1994. Learn more about the main objectives of this bill with PBS NewsHour.
- Monkeypox: More than 5,700 cases of monkeypox have been reported worldwide, around 460 cases of those are within the U.S. According to the World Health Organization, monkeypox is not yet a public health emergency of international concern.
- COVID-19: Throughout June, the average daily number of COVID-19 cases in the U.S. ranged between 95,000 and 115,000. A study published in The Lancet Infectious Diseases estimates that COVID-19 vaccines reduced the global death toll by more than half within the first year of use, preventing nearly 20 million deaths.
- Environmental Protection Agency Ruling: In the case of West Virginia v. EPA, the Supreme Court ruled to eliminate some of the agency's ability to reduce and regulate carbon pollution, which was initially granted under the Clean Air Act. This ruling has environmental health implications.

Topics Webinars & Briefings Data Visualization Grants Awards Research Insights
News About Us Contact Us

Copyright © 2022 NIHCM Foundation, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you opted in via our website.
Our mailing address is:
NIHCM Foundation
1225 19th St NW Ste 710
Washington, DC 20036-2454

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

SUBJECT: Fwd: A Message from Marc Harrison, MD on the Recent Supreme Court Decision
FROM: "Tracy Gruber (DHHS)" <tracygruber@utah.gov>
TO: "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Nate Winters DHS <natewinters@utah.gov>, Joe Dougherty DHS <joedougherty@utah.gov>, Nate Checketts <natechecketts@utah.gov>
DATE: 07/07/2022 08:43

Michelle shared this with me at the end of last week. I think it's useful given the dialogue with DCFS.

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 8:50 PM Michelle Hofmann <Michelle.Hofmann@hsc.utah.edu> wrote:

Worthwhile read on Dr. Harrison's response to the overturning if RVW

Sent from my iPhone

Begin forwarded message:

From: Physician and APP Professional Affairs <PhysicianandAPPProfessionalAffairs@imail.org>
Date: July 1, 2022 at 4:00:18 PM MDT

[redacted]

To: Michelle Hofmann <michelle.hofmann@hsc.utah.edu>
Subject: A Message from Marc Harrison, MD on the Recent Supreme Court Decision Intermountain® Healthcare

July 1, 2022

A Message from Marc Harrison, MD on the Recent Supreme Court Decision

As we head into the holiday weekend, I would like to address the recent United States Supreme Court decision that ultimately overturned Roe v. Wade. The decision further empowers state legislatures to make their own laws governing pregnancy termination. This is already leading to new state laws across the country that will set new and different rules regarding abortion.

It's an issue that is deeply personal to many Americans, with passionate sentiments on all sides. I personally feel saddened by the division we're seeing play out on the news and in social media. Intermountain cannot resolve the deep cultural divide on this issue. But I ask that all caregivers continue to set the standard of civility and mutual understanding-recognizing and respecting we all have different personal opinions about this issue.

For health systems like ours, there's added confusion as to what it all means for our patients, our caregivers, and our communities. I'd like to address this uncertainty. Earlier this week, Intermountain's Chief Clinical Officer Dr. JP Valin provided an update on what this ruling means for caregivers who live in Idaho and Utah where new laws are taking effect. We will continue to be transparent and provide you with as much clarity as possible during this uncertain transition to a state-based approach to abortion laws.

For caregivers who specifically practice in the area of women's health, I've heard from many of you who are concerned about your potential legal liability as new state rules are enacted. As you all know, Intermountain has not performed elective abortions, yet pregnancy terminations have been performed for a host of clinical reasons. There are other clinical practices-around miscarriages, for example-where caregivers may be understandably confused as new laws are implemented. In addition to regularly informing you of these new policies, Intermountain will always support every caregiver who follows the law and practices evidence-based medicine.

What about our role in public policy making? Just as we have before, we will be passionate advocates for all our caregivers. In this case, especially those who practice in the area of women's health. This will include working with relevant authorities, including prosecutors and elected officials, in ensuring that as new changes are considered, they don't lead to unintended consequences that put our caregivers or patients at risk.

In conclusion, I want to promise you the following: We will always follow the law. We will always keep you informed. We will always have your back. This approach will continue to empower us to fulfill our mission of helping people live the healthiest lives possible.

Thank you for all you do for our patients. And please have a safe and fun holiday weekend.

Marc Harrison, MD
President and CEO

[redacted]

This is an internal message from Intermountain Healthcare's Office of Physician-APP Professional Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: July 7, 2022 - 1.2M Americans spend over 40% of family income oninsulin
FROM: "AHIP Solutions SmartBrief" <ahip@smartbrief.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 07/07/2022 08:51

Created for hborski@utah.gov | Web Version

July 7, 2022

SIGN UP · SHARE

TOP STORIES

1.2M Americans spend over 40% of family income on insulin

An analysis of data from the 2017 and 2018 Medical Expenditure Panel Surveys found that almost 1.2 million Americans who used insulin spent over 40% of their postsubsistence family income on the treatment. The study found that 14.1% of Americans who filled insulin prescriptions during the period experienced catastrophic spending in one year, and almost two-thirds of them were Medicare beneficiaries, according to the study published in Health Affairs. Full Story: HealthDay News (7/5)

Senate Dems reach deal on drug pricing legislation

Senate Democrats have reached an agreement on a measure that would allow Medicare to negotiate prices for the costliest drugs, starting with 10 medications in 2026, and the legislation would also repeal a Trump administration rule that eliminates safe harbor protections for drug rebates in Part D. In addition, the measure would impose fines on drug firms if they increase prices faster than inflation and would cap out-of-pocket drug costs in Medicare to $2,000 annually. Full Story: Reuters (7/6), FierceHealthcare (7/6)

PROVIDERS & SUPPLIERS

Lower readmissions seen when hospitals have PCPs, nursing beds nearby

A study by Vanderbilt University Medical Center researchers found that hospitals with more home health agencies nearby had higher rates of readmission, most likely due to care interruptions such as staffing changes. At the same time, hospitals tended to have lower 30-day readmission rates when they had a palliative care program or a larger number of local primary care physicians, skilled nursing beds or licensed nursing home beds in the area. Full Story: Home Health Care News (7/5)

New guidance for inpatients with diabetes, hyperglycemia

The Endocrine Society has updated its 2012 guideline for managing hospitalized patients with diabetes or stress-induced hyperglycemia, and has published the new guidance in The Journal of Clinical Endocrinology & Metabolism. Updates include guidance for inpatient use of continuous glucose monitoring and insulin pump therapy as well as inpatient diabetes education for improved glycemic control after discharge from the hospital. Full Story: Endocrinology Advisor (7/5)

MEDICAL UPDATE

Study: COVID-19 vaccines saved 235K lives in 10 months

A computer modeling study estimates that COVID-19 vaccination prevented 27 million infections, 1.6 million hospitalizations and 235,000 COVID-19 deaths in the US from December 2020 to September 2021. "COVID-19 vaccination potentially reduced the overall impact of COVID-19 by about one-third," said epidemiologist Molly Steele, lead author of the study published in JAMA Network Open. Full Story: HealthDay News (7/6)

Study shows decreases in cardiometabolic health

(Pixabay)

A survey of 55,000 American adults showed decreases in cardiometabolic health from 1999-2000 to 2017-2018, with 1 in 3 adults maintaining a normal weight in 1999, compared with 1 in 4 by 2018, researchers reported in the Journal of the American College of Cardiology. There were disparities in the measures based on sex, age, race, ethnicity and education. Full Story: HealthDay News (7/5), Healio (free registration) (7/5)

TOUCHPOINTS PODCAST

This episode is brought to you by Wellframe

Why your CX is only as good as your EX

Health care is as personal as it gets, yet employees who feel overwhelmed and unheard can't deliver the kind of compassion and care members need. Ingrid Lindberg of Chief Customer and Michele Gabron of Wellframe share what health plan leaders need to know to meet the needs of their teams, so they can meet the needs of their members. Listen to the episode.

EMERGING TRENDS: SOCIAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH

Fewer Black, Hispanic patients receive hospice care

A study in JAMA Network Open found that a smaller proportion of Black and Hispanic patients used hospice than white patients, and a higher proportion of Black and Hispanic patients were hospitalized or went to the emergency department than white patients. "These disparities probably are not intrinsic to race and ethnicity," researcher Pei-Jung Lin said. "We need to contextualize these disparities by race and ethnicity and other social determinants of health," such as education, income and social support." Full Story: Medscape (free registration) (7/1)

Disparities documented among childhood cancer survivors

A study published in JAMA Network Open found that childhood cancer survivors of certain racial and ethnic groups were prone to more hospitalizations for various conditions. Hospitalization was 70% more common among American Indian and Alaska Native children and 50% more common among Black children up to five years after diagnosis, while mortality was similar across all groups, according to the study of 4,222 cases of pediatric cancer diagnosed from 1987 to 2012. Full Story: Medscape (free registration) (6/30)

HEALTH INSURANCE PROVIDER COMPANY NEWS

- Kaiser Permanente's Chief Health Officer Bechara Choucair, MD: What the pandemic taught us about public health
- Magellan Health Appoints Derrick Duke as Chief Executive Officer
- Molina Healthcare of Illinois Partners with Minority-Owned Clark Resources to Bring Jobs to Oak Brook
- NGL: Marita LaChapell promoted to Senior Vice President, Chief Administrative Officer

SOLUTIONS PROVIDER NEWS

- Lyn Health Appoints Dr. Thirath Chau as Company's First Chief Medical Officer
- Teladoc Health Expands Innovative Whole-Person Primary Care Offering, Primary360

PHARMA NEWS

FDA: Licensed pharmacists can prescribe Paxlovid

The FDA has amended the emergency use authorization for Paxlovid to allow licensed pharmacists to prescribe Pfizer's COVID-19 oral treatment to eligible patients. Patients who test positive for COVID-19 must present their health records, as well as a list of medications they use, before pharmacists may prescribe the drug.
Full Story: CBS News/Bay City News Service (7/6), Reuters (7/6)

Biosimilar comparable to insulin glargine in trial

Biosimilar insulin had similar efficacy and safety compared with insulin glargine in reducing A1C among patients with type 2 diabetes, according to a study in Diabetes, Obesity and Metabolism. Rates of hypoglycemia and vascular events were similar. Full Story: Healio (free registration)/Endocrine Today (7/5)

POLICY WATCH

Postpartum Medicaid extension takes effect in Va.

As of this month, Virginia is providing Medicaid coverage for beneficiaries for a full year after childbirth, two years after a state budget provision was passed to start the expansion. Advocates say the change may help reduce pregnancy-related deaths in the state, which disproportionately affect Black communities. Full Story: Virginia Mercury (Richmond) (7/5)

AHIP NEWS

On-the-go professional health insurance training

Deepen your expertise with AHIP's 40+ online courses. Delve into HSAs, health insurance basics, fundamentals, company operations, advanced studies, supplemental health insurance, and more. Created by industry experts, courses are available 24/7 -- so you can learn at your own pace, any time, any place. Take a single course or earn a professional designation. Enroll today!

Webinar: Data-driven personalization -- register today.

Join us on Wednesday, July 13 from 1 to 2 p.m. ET for "Data-Driven Personalization: 3 Approaches to Accelerate Your Member Strategy" as NTT Data Services discusses the business case for personalized care, the elements of a data-driven personalization strategy, and the most cost-effective approaches to accelerate your personalization capabilities.

Benefit from back office efficiencies

For plans seeking to contain administrative costs, outsourcing can be a smart solution. TPA Direct Members are experts in delivering back-office efficiencies. Trustmark Health Benefits, Inc, a TPA Direct member, delivers local service backed by national resources, provided with a personal touch.

LEARN MORE ABOUT AHIP:

About AHIP | Join AHIP | Educational Opportunities | AHIP Select
AHIP Coverage Blog | Submit press releases and other company news

JOBS

AARP Services Consumer Advocate (Board of Directors - Health Products & Quality Committee)
SOLOMON PAGE - US

AWHP Seeking Executive Director
ASSOCIATION OF WASHINGTON HEALTHCARE PLANS (AWHP) - Olympia, WA, US

Dir, Risk Adjustment Compliance
KAISER PERMANENTE - Oakland, CA, US

Program Manager - Audit Compliance and Resolution
UNITED STATES OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT - Washington, DC, US

Executive Director

NORTH ATLANTIC STATES CARPENTERS BENEFIT FUNDS - Wilmington, MA, US

View More Listings | Post a Job

Sharing AHIP Solutions SmartBrief with your network keeps the quality of content high and these newsletters free.

Help Spread the Word

SHARE

Or copy and share your personalized link:

smartbrief.com/ahip/?referrerId=lsvhcNrXox

Go on, say what you want. ... Whatever it is, say it to yourself. The truth will set you free.

Nick Hornby

writer, screenwriter

Product announcements appearing in SmartBrief are paid advertisements and do not reflect actual AHIP endorsements. The news reported in SmartBrief does not necessarily reflect the official position of AHIP.

SmartBrief publishes more than 200 free industry newsletters - Browse our portfolio

Sign Up | Update Profile | Advertise with SmartBrief

Unsubscribe | Privacy policy

CONTACT US: FEEDBACK | ADVERTISE

SmartBrief, a division of Future US LLC ©
1100 13th St. NW, Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20005

SUBJECT: ECHO Colorado Monthly eNews: What's ECHOing in June
FROM: ECHO Colorado <susan.stoveall@cuanschutz.edu>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 07/07/2022 10:09

July 2022

Check out the new What is ECHO? video
Take three minutes and get a refresher on what you can expect - and what's expected of you - during an ECHO series.
Then check out the series that are coming this summer and fall!

ECHO COLORADO IS HIRING!
We're hiring for two remote positions.
Continuing Education and Implementation Project Coordinator
Instructional Design Program Manager
See if you're a good fit or share with colleagues.

COMING IN JULY

Family Health Centers of San Diego, the ECHO Institute, University of Washington and University of Colorado have collaborated to provide a CDC-funded monthly webinar-style ECHO learning session and an online course to rapidly disseminate Post-COVID Conditions (PCC) and Myalgic Encephalomyelitis/Chronic Fatigue Syndrome (ME/CFS) findings and emerging best practices.

Next ECHO session July 14
Practical Strategies for Symptom Management featuring Tracy Herring, PhD, Assistant Professor, Department of Rehabilitation Medicine, University of Washington
CLICK HERE to register
(Webinars are held on the second Thursday of the month.)

Long COVID and Fatiguing Illness Recovery Program Short Course 2
Online now through September 5
CLICK HERE to read more

This series is a statewide partnership between ECHO Colorado and the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment bringing you the most relevant information on rapidly evolving public health topics including the COVID pandemic, epidemiology, state-distributed therapeutics, vaccines and more.

Topics for this series continue to evolve based on the educational needs of Colorado healthcare providers in staying up-to-date on relevant public health guidelines and new information.

Ongoing monthly ECHO sessions | Next session July 22

LEARN MORE

This series offers health care providers and other staff working in health care settings strategies to name, normalize, and validate worries and experiences during this pandemic and beyond. By understanding stress along a continuum, participants will learn how to manage stress and loss, increase capacity to prevent burnout, elevate connectedness and mindfulness, and promote self-efficacy and quality patient care.

Six weekly ECHO sessions | Wednesdays starting July 20

LEARN MORE

This series will review important adolescent reproductive health topics such as taking an adolescent sexual health history, minor consent and confidentiality, and STIs in teens.

Five weekly ECHO sessions | Thursdays starting July 28

LEARN MORE

ONGOING ECHOS

This series is designed to support clinical providers interested in improving care for transgender and gender non-binary patients. Participants will increase their knowledge and confidence in providing gender-affirming care including routine primary care, hormone therapy management, surgical options and supporting mental health.

Next Session August 4:
Eating Disorders in the Transgender Community

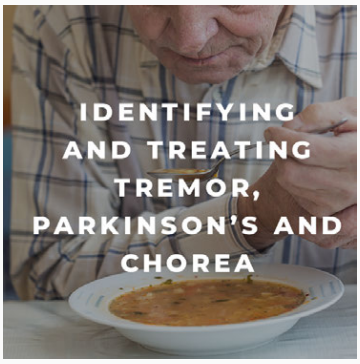
Ongoing monthly ECHO sessions | Thursdays

LEARN MORE

COMING THIS FALL & WINTER

Pre-register to receive advance notification of registration open date.

This series introduces quick exam techniques to assess tremor and rapidly narrow your differential diagnosis. You will learn about treatment basics in PD and when to refer. The series will cover reliable recognition and differential diagnosis of chorea and highlight the most common genetic cause of chorea and Huntington's Disease (HD), as well as effective new treatments for chorea.



PRE-REGISTER

The goal of this series is to improve patient care experiences and access to high-quality healthcare for women from diverse racial and ethnic groups who are experiencing menopause. The series will provide an evidence-based, comprehensive curriculum covering the current state of knowledge on racial and ethnic disparities, opportunities to increase provider self-awareness and confidence, and opportunities to improve communication with patients.

Participants will have the opportunity to apply their knowledge actively in immersive experiences with virtual reality avatars!

Seven weekly ECHO sessions | Wednesdays starting September 14

PRE-REGISTER

This ECHO series is designed to support clinicians who care for pregnant patients in the evaluation and treatment of common mental health conditions presenting in the perinatal period. Facilitated by a multidisciplinary team including obstetrician gynecologists, perinatal psychiatrists, psychologists and social workers, each session will include a brief presentation by an expert followed by discussion of participant-submitted cases.

Eight weekly ECHO sessions | Tuesdays starting January 10

PRE-REGISTER

ECHO COLORADO | EXTENSION FOR COMMUNITY HEALTH OUTCOMES | ECHOCOLORADO.ORG

Copyright © 2022 ECHO Colorado, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you opted in via our website.

Our mailing address is:
ECHO Colorado
[redacted]
Aurora, CO 80045-6508

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

SUBJECT: July News & Events
FROM: Utah Law <communications@law.utah.edu>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 07/07/2022 11:02

THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH
S.J. QUINNEY
COLLEGE OF LAW

July 2022

Stay Connected!

This year the University of Utah launched Forever Utah, a new networking platform that gives you a dedicated place to connect with other alumni, share resources, and get news about your alma mater.

The College of Law has its own dedicated alumni community on Forever Utah, and we invite you to create a profile—which is quick and easy using your existing LinkedIn log-in information. From there, you'll be able to see other Utah Law alumni, explore special sub-groups, and begin engaging with other alumni. Once you have a Forever Utah profile, you can also:

- Post jobs
- Explore Utah Law alumni by practice area
- Volunteer to be a mentor, or look for a mentor yourself
- Network to give or receive referrals
- Get news about upcoming Utah Law events

If you have questions about creating a profile or using Forever Utah, please feel free to contact Alumni Relations Director Lori Nelson at lori.nelson@law.utah.edu.

Learn more »

Robert Adler Scholarship

The Robert W. Adler Endowed Scholarship was established in June 2022 in celebration of his retirement, outstanding legal career, and service to the law school and legal community. Bob dedicated 28 years of teaching and leadership service to the S.J. Quinney College of Law. Preference will be given to students interested in natural resources law.

Contribute here »

College of Law Events

July
7
Thursday

SJQ Reception at the Utah State Bar

3:00–5:00 p.m., Loews Coronado Bay
Join ULaw staff and alumni at the S.J. Quinney College of Law reception at the Utah State Bar Convention at Loews

Coronado Bay. More Info

Save These August Dates!

August 11 - Trying Times: Conservation Easements and Federal Tax Law 2022
August 31 - Dean's Book Review

College of Law News

Utah Law faculty members weigh in on the Supreme Court ruling that overturned Roe v. Wade

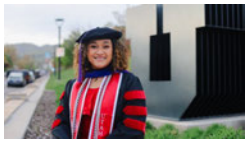
On June 24th, 2022, the Supreme Court of the United States officially reversed Roe v. Wade, declaring that the constitutional right to abortion no longer exists and instead allowing abortion rights to be determined by states. The legal experts on faculty at the University of Utah S.J. Quinney College of Law weigh in on this historic decision.

See news stories »

College of Law News

Master of Legal Studies Director Carolynn Clark wins peacekeeper award

Carolynn Clark has dedicated her professional life to conflict resolution, mediation, and teaching. She has been a Board member of the Utah Council on Conflict Resolution for 14 years and served as UCCR's Chair and as a Symposium Chair. Read more »



Recent U Law grad Bernadine Ott pushes for representation and accessibility in the legal field

"Why not law school?" Bernadine Ott was working in the University of Utah U Card office as the end of her time as a political science undergraduate student approached. She was talking with her supervisor about her plans for after graduation when he brought up law school as an option. Read more »

Alum Paul Burke Takes on LGBTQ+ Discrimination at Soccer Stadiums

Paul C. Burke is Exhibit A in the case that taking a chance on one opportunity often leads to another. The 1997 alumnus is now general counsel, shareholder, and director at Ray Quinney & Nebeker, where he complements his labor and employment litigation practice with an impressive pro bono docket. Read more »

College of Law News Bytes

Professor Christina Koningisor wins award for outstanding scholarship in privacy law

Professor RonNell Andersen Jones discusses defamation law in light of the Depp-Heard trial with the New York Times

Utah Law welcomes local sixth graders exploring their dream careers

Professor Chris Peterson discusses payday lending with American Banker

Professor Leslie Francis and recent Utah Law grad present at ELSIcon2022

Faculty News

Presentations

Paul Cassell, "The Content of Victim Impact Statements: Lessons from the 164 Victim Impact Statements in the Larry Nassar Case," Triennial Convention of the World Society of Victimology, San Sebastian, Spain

Jorge Contreras, Enabling Openness in Australian Stem Cell Research (EOAR), "Genomic Commons – History and Challenges," University of Adelaide

Leslie Culver, Christina Scholars Conference Roundtable Discussion on Race and Law, Lipscomb University, Nashville, TN

Amos Guiora, Conference on Bullying and Aggression, Bystanders in the Holocaust, University of Ottawa

Amos Guiora, Melbourne Victims' Collective Good Faith Foundation, Criminalizing the Enabler and the Bystander, Australia

RonNell Andersen Jones, Presented "Defamation, Disinformation, and the Press Function," Privacy and Free Speech Forum, University of Stockholm

Laura Kessler, Miscarriage of Justice: Early Pregnancy Loss and the Limits of U.S. Employment Law, Family Law Scholars and Teachers Conference, Temple University Beasley School of Law

Heather Tanana, "Tribal Public Health Law," 2022 Health Law Professors Conference, Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law, Arizona State University

Matt Tokson, "The Carpenter Test as a Transformation of Fourth Amendment Law," Privacy Law Scholars Conference, Northeastern University School of Law

Alumni Award Nominations Now Open!

Nominations for the Alumni of the Year and Young Alumni of the Year have started. To better prepare for the annual alumni reunion event in May nominations have been moved to the fall. Nominations are due by September 12, 2022.

Nomination Form »

[redacted]

S.J. QUINNEY COLLEGE OF LAW

STAY CONNECTED

S.J. Quinney College of Law | 383 S. University Street, Salt Lake City, UT 84112

Unsubscribe hborski@utah.gov

Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice

Sent by communications@law.utah.edu

[redacted]

SUBJECT: After Roe: What's next for abortion access, law, and politics
FROM: "The Studio at Harvard Chan School" <studio@hsph.harvard.edu>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 07/07/2022 12:02

THE STUDIO | HARVARD T.H. CHAN SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Presented jointly with Reuters

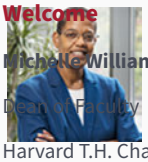
After Roe: What's next for abortion access, law, and politics

Thursday, July 14, 2022, 12-1 pm ET

Register for free to submit your questions.

In overturning Roe v. Wade, the U.S. Supreme Court has ignited fundamental legal and political questions and radically shifted the healthcare landscape. Amidst the furor, those who want to keep abortion safe and legal ponder the path forward. This panel of experts from across Harvard will assess the fallout, evaluate a variety of responses to the ruling, and share their roadmaps to a post-Roe America.

Welcome

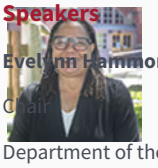


Michelle Williams (@HarvardChanDean)
Dean of Faculty
Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health

Angelopoulos Professor in Public Health and International Development

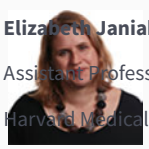
Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health and Harvard Kennedy School

Speakers



Evelynn Hammonds
Chair
Department of the History of Science, Harvard Faculty of Arts and Sciences

Professor, Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health



Elizabeth Janiak (@JaniakElizabeth)
Assistant Professor
Harvard Medical School and Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health Research Investigator, Brigham and Women's Hospital

Director of Social Science Research, ASPIRE Center at Planned Parenthood League of Massachusetts

Jenny Mansbridge

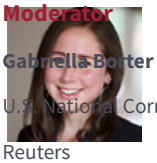
Adams Professor of Political Leadership and Democratic Values, Emerita

Harvard Kennedy School

Mary Ziegler (@maryrziegler)

Professor, UC Davis School of Law

Visiting Professor of Constitutional Law, Harvard Law School (spring 2022)



Moderator

Gabriella Borter (@gabriellaborter)

U.S. National Correspondent

Reuters

Go to event page

The Studio explores public health's most pressing challenges and most promising solutions. Subscribe or update your content preferences here.

Got this as a forward? Sign up to receive our future emails.

View this email online.

Manage your email preferences

This email was sent to hborski@utah.gov.
To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health
677 Huntington Avenue Suite 329
Boston, MA 02115

Privacy Policy | Report Copyright Violation | Accessibility | Contact Us | Opt out
Copyright © 2022 The President and Fellows of Harvard College

HARVARD T.H. CHAN
SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

Meanwhile, did you see this opportunity? I shared it with Nate yesterday…

My best,
-Steven

From: Steven Lacey
Sent: Wednesday, July 6, 2022 11:28 AM
To: 'Nathan Checketts' <ncheckets@utah.gov>
Subject: FW: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released

Hello, Nate! Happy Summer.

You guys going after this Strengthening Public Health Infrastructure opportunity?

My best,
-Steven

From: ASPPH <externalrelations@aspph.org>
Sent: Friday, July 1, 2022 7:15 AM
To: Steven Lacey <steven.lacey@utah.edu>
Subject: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released

View this email in your browser

ASPPH FRIDAY LETTER

July 1, 2022

ASPPH NEWS

New Member Announcements

Join me in welcoming East Carolina University and the University of Delaware Master of Public Health Programs as our newest members. Suzanne Lazorick, ECU MPH Interim Director, and Jennifer Horney, Delaware MPH Director, will serve as their Primary Representatives. You can learn more about their programs, faculty, and initiatives on their websites.

New CDC Funding Opportunity Released: Strengthening US Public Health Infrastructure, Workforce, and Data Systems

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) released a Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) to help reinvigorate and rebuild public health infrastructure: Strengthening US Public Health Infrastructure, Workforce, and Data Systems. The nearly $4 billion, five-year initiative is "a first of its kind, non-categorical and cross-cutting program, intended to help meet critical infrastructure and workforce needs in the short-term; and … also make possible strategic investments that will have lasting effects on [US] public health agencies …." Component A grantees will be health departments; Component B grantees will support the successful implementation of Component A grantees' activities. Please view additional information. We hope this funding opportunity provides an avenue for closer collaborations with local health departments and strongly encourage your involvement. The closing date for applications is August 15, 2022.

The Global Alliance on War, Conflict & Health: Online Launch Event Friday, July 1

The Global Alliance on War, Conflict & Health is a global community aiming to strengthen action on war and conflict as threats to health, and to uphold justice and accountability as the foundations for peace and health. It brings together researchers, academics, practitioners, and advocates who work to prevent war and promote sustainable peace; mitigate the effects of war and conflict on health; and support health rebuilding during and after conflict. Through research, collaboration, capacity building and advocacy, the Alliance seeks to advance this field of scholarship and practice, provide leadership, promote equitable partnerships, and amplify the voice of those most affected by war and conflict.
The Alliance will be formally launched today: Friday, July 1, through an online event including both high-level and technical segments.
Register here

Public Health Reports: Lessons Learned from Dear Pandemic, a Social Media–Based Science Communication Project Targeting the COVID-19 Infodemic

The World Health Organization describes the current excessive amount of information related to COVID-19 as an "infodemic." This case study in Public Health Reports describes lessons learned from Dear Pandemic —a social media resource created by scientists to promote media literacy and counter misinformation.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORTS

MEMBERS IN THE NEWS

UCLA
UCLA Fielding School's Dr. Roch Nianogo Interviewed by NBC News: "Obesity is One of the Main Risk Factors For Dementia"

Harvard
The Supreme Court Is Misinformed on Eugenics

UC Irvine
Yes, You Should Test for Covid Before Going to a Gathering

Florida International
FIU Epidemiologist Speaks with the New York Times on What's Driving Surge in COVID-19 Cases in Miami-Dade County

Georgia State

Georgia's Pandemic Response Ranked Among the Nation's Worst

Arizona
New York Times: Despite Another COVID Surge, Deaths Stay Near Lows

Columbia
Health Justice Professor Terry McGovern Weighs in on Supreme Court Overturning Roe v Wade

Ohio State
America is Sliding Into the Long Pandemic Defeat

Pittsburgh
This Pitt Researcher is Using Data to Fight the Opioid Epidemic

Rutgers
Faculty Explains How Roe Reversal Impacts Minors

UIC
Julie Maslowsky in STAT – A Major Problem for Minors: Post-Roe Access to Abortion

Maryland
UMD Professor Julia Steinberg Weighs in on the Mental Health Impact of Overturning Roe v Wade in Forbes Article

Kentucky
Center for Innovation in Population Health Explores How People Change Through a New Podcast

Johns Hopkins
New York Times: For Gun Violence Researchers, Bipartisan Bill Is a 'Glass Half Full'

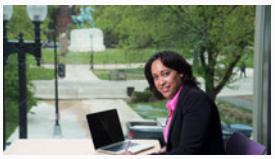
NYU GPH
Supreme Court Overturns Roe v. Wade: Is Abortion Illegal Now?

Brown
Testing Failures Helped Covid Spread. We Must do Better with Monkeypox.

VIEW MORE ▸

SCHOOL & PROGRAM UPDATES

BU
BUSPH Community Reacts to the Supreme Court's Decision to Overturn Roe v. Wade



GW
Professor Wendy Ellis' Documentary Aims to Educate About Systemic Racism

UNC
Dr. Nancy Messonnier Named Dean of Gillings School of Global Public Health

Washington
Why Abortion Criminalization is a Public Health Issue, From UW School of Public Health Researchers

VIEW MORE ▸

GLOBAL ACTION

UTHealth
UTHealth School of Public Health Selected for NIH Grant to Identify Opioid Overdose Patterns & Predict Overdose

Yale
How to Vaccinate People for Monkeypox — And Not Screw It Up

Yale SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

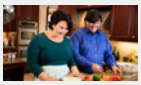
Drexel
Overturning Roe v. Wade: Consequences Nationally and Globally

UNMC
Research to Control and Prevent Malaria Led in Ethiopia

VIEW MORE ▸

FACULTY & STAFF HONORS

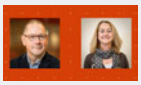
AUB
Abla Mehio Sibai Appointed as Dean of the Faculty of Health Sciences at AUB



U of Florida
Physical Activity, Diet Improve After Bariatric Surgery, But Do Not Meet Recommended Levels

SUNY Downstate
Dr. Janet Rosenbaum Publishes Article on School Suspensions on London School of Economics Blog

Vanderbilt
Horst Honored with Physician Builder Award



Oregon State
Dr. Rick Settersten and Dr. Karen Hooker Were Honored by the Gerontological Society of America

VIEW MORE ▸

MEMBER RESEARCH & REPORTS

UAlbany
A History of Incarceration May Increase Suicide Attempts in Young People

UAB
The Influence Of Mental Health and Respiratory Symptoms on the Association Between Chronic Lung Disease and E-Cigarette

Florida
Physical Activity, Diet Improve After Bariatric Surgery, But Do Not Meet Recommended Levels

Berkeley
The Supreme Court Overturned Roe v. Wade: Now What Happens?

South Carolina
Study Finds Varying Health Outcomes Among States with Different Medical Malpractice Liability Laws

Iowa
Report Shows Significant Increase in Alcohol-involved Deaths

University at Buffalo
COVID-19 Vaccine Development: Milestones, Lessons and Prospects

Northwestern
Rate of Pregnancy-related High Blood Pressure Disorders Doubled from 2007 to 2019

Taiwan

Un(ac)countable No-bodies: The Politics of Ignorance in Global Health Policymaking

WashU
A Framework to Assess Speed of Translation of Health Innovations to Practice and Policy

Texas A&M
Speaking of Safety: How to Overcome Language Barriers During Training

Michigan
Increasing Public Health Measures Could Have Helped Prevent Thousands of COVID-19 Deaths in India

George Mason
Nutritional Supplements and Education Decrease Inflammation in Diabetic Patients with Foot Ulcers

Colorado
Colorado Healthy Kids Survey Results Show Decreases in Substance Use Among Teens Statewide, Increases in Depression, Str

SLU
Understanding Factors That Promote Uptake of HIV Self-testing Among Young People in Nigeria

West Virginia
WVU Research Finds LGBTQ People Face Barriers to Health Care, Especially in Rural Areas

UMiami
Long-term Outcomes of Patients with Conjunctival Extranodal Marginal Zone Lymphoma

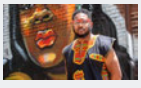
Georgia Southern
Ensuring Food Safety for Americans: The Role of Local Health Departments

UNLV
Advancing Gerontological Health Research with Sexual and Gender Minorities Across the Globe

VIEW MORE ▸

STUDENT & ALUMNI ACHIEVEMENTS

North Texas
Texas Nurse Follows Her Heart to Public Health, Where Doctoral Degree Leads to Top-Ranking Postgrad Fellowship



Louisville
Trinidad Jackson Receives Top Honor Among 2022 Graduates

South Florida
COPH Student Works to End "pinkwashing"

UMass
Ayande Awarded Margaret McNamara Education Grant

IUPUI
Common Spirit Health Names Wright L. Lassiter III, MHA'94, as CEO

VIEW MORE ▸

PARTNER NEWS

NIH
The All of Us Research Program's dataset is available to help researchers unlock answers related to long COVID, social determinants of health, health disparities, and more

VIEW MORE ▸

Visit our Events Calendar ▸

ASPPH Association of Schools & Programs of Public Health
THE VOICE OF ACADEMIC PUBLIC HEALTH

Copyright © 2022 ASPPH. All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you opted in via our website.

Our mailing address is:
ASPPH
1615 L St NW, Ste 510
Washington, DC 20036-5670

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

SUBJECT: Re: FW: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released
FROM: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
TO: Steven Lacey <steven.lacey@utah.edu>
DATE: 07/07/2022 15:17

Yes, thank you-----we are definitely applying! We're currently in the early stages of planning.
HB

Heather R. Borski, MPH, MCHES
Assistant Deputy Director, Community Health & Well-Being
C: 385.348.1340
hborski@utah.gov
health.utah.gov
hs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Jul 7, 2022 at 3:15 PM Steven Lacey <steven.lacey@utah.edu> wrote:
Meanwhile, did you see this opportunity? I shared it with Nate yesterday…

My best,
-Steven

From: Steven Lacey
Sent: Wednesday, July 6, 2022 11:28 AM
To: 'Nathan Checketts' <ncheckets@utah.gov>
Subject: FW: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released

Hello, Nate! Happy Summer.

You guys going after this Strengthening Public Health Infrastructure opportunity?

My best,
-Steven

From: ASPPH <externalrelations@aspph.org>
Sent: Friday, July 1, 2022 7:15 AM
To: Steven Lacey <steven.lacey@utah.edu>
Subject: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released

View this email in your browser

ASPPH FRIDAY LETTER

July 1, 2022

ASPPH NEWS

[redacted]

New Member Announcements

Join me in welcoming East Carolina University and the University of Delaware Master of Public Health Programs as our newest members. Suzanne Lazorick, ECU MPH Interim Director, and Jennifer Horney, Delaware MPH Director, will serve as their Primary Representatives. You can learn more about their programs, faculty, and initiatives on their websites.

New CDC Funding Opportunity Released: Strengthening US Public Health Infrastructure, Workforce, and Data Systems

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) released a Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) to help reinvigorate and rebuild public health infrastructure: Strengthening US Public Health Infrastructure, Workforce, and Data Systems. The nearly $4 billion, five-year initiative is "a first of its kind, non-categorical and cross-cutting program, intended to help meet critical infrastructure and workforce needs in the short-term; and … also make possible strategic investments that will have lasting effects on [US] public health agencies …." Component A grantees will be health departments; Component B grantees will support the successful implementation of Component A grantees' activities. Please view additional information. We hope this funding opportunity provides an avenue for closer collaborations with local health departments and strongly encourage your involvement. The closing date for applications is August 15, 2022.

The Global Alliance on War, Conflict & Health: Online Launch Event Friday, July 1

The Global Alliance on War, Conflict & Health is a global community aiming to strengthen action on war and conflict as threats to health, and to uphold justice and accountability as the foundations for peace and health. It brings together researchers, academics, practitioners, and advocates who work to prevent war and promote sustainable peace; mitigate the effects of war and conflict on health; and support health rebuilding during and after conflict. Through research, collaboration, capacity building and advocacy, the Alliance seeks to advance this field of scholarship and practice, provide leadership, promote equitable partnerships, and amplify the voice of those most affected by war and conflict.
The Alliance will be formally launched today: Friday, July 1, through an online event including both high-level and technical segments.
Register here

Public Health Reports: Lessons Learned from Dear Pandemic, a Social Media–Based Science Communication Project Targeting the COVID-19 Infodemic

The World Health Organization describes the current excessive amount of information related to COVID-19 as an "infodemic." This case study in Public Health Reports describes lessons learned from Dear Pandemic

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORTS

—a social media resource created by scientists to promote media literacy and counter misinformation.

MEMBERS IN THE NEWS

UCLA
UCLA Fielding School's Dr. Roch Nianogo Interviewed by NBC News: "Obesity is One of the Main Risk Factors For Dementia"

Harvard
The Supreme Court Is Misinformed on Eugenics

UC Irvine
Yes, You Should Test for Covid Before Going to a Gathering

Florida International
FIU Epidemiologist Speaks with the New York Times on What's Driving Surge in COVID-19 Cases in Miami-Dade County

Georgia State
Georgia's Pandemic Response Ranked Among the Nation's Worst

Arizona
New York Times: Despite Another COVID Surge, Deaths Stay Near Lows

Columbia
Health Justice Professor Terry McGovern Weighs in on Supreme Court Overturning Roe v Wade

Ohio State
America is Sliding Into the Long Pandemic Defeat

Pittsburgh
This Pitt Researcher is Using Data to Fight the Opioid Epidemic

Rutgers
Faculty Explains How Roe Reversal Impacts Minors

UIC
Julie Maslowsky in STAT – A Major Problem for Minors: Post-Roe Access to Abortion

Maryland
UMD Professor Julia Steinberg Weighs in on the Mental Health Impact of Overturning Roe v Wade in Forbes Article

Kentucky
Center for Innovation in Population Health Explores How People Change Through a New Podcast

Johns Hopkins
New York Times: For Gun Violence Researchers, Bipartisan Bill Is a 'Glass Half Full'

NYU GPH
Supreme Court Overturns Roe v. Wade: Is Abortion Illegal Now?

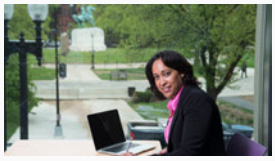
Brown
Testing Failures Helped Covid Spread. We Must do Better with Monkeypox.

VIEW MORE ▸

SCHOOL & PROGRAM UPDATES

BU

BUSPH Community Reacts to the Supreme Court's Decision to Overturn Roe v. Wade



GW

Professor Wendy Ellis' Documentary Aims to Educate About Systemic Racism

UNC

Dr. Nancy Messonnier Named Dean of Gillings School of Global Public Health

Washington

Why Abortion Criminalization is a Public Health Issue, From UW School of Public Health Researchers

VIEW MORE ▸

GLOBAL ACTION

UTHealth

UTHealth School of Public Health Selected for NIH Grant to Identify Opioid Overdose Patterns & Predict Overdose

Yale

How to Vaccinate People for Monkeypox — And Not Screw It Up

Yale
SCHOOL
OF PUBLIC
HEALTH

Drexel

Overturning Roe v. Wade: Consequences Nationally and Globally

UNMC
Research to Control and Prevent Malaria Led in Ethiopia

VIEW MORE ▸

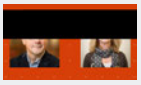
FACULTY & STAFF HONORS

AUB
Abla Mehio Sibai Appointed as Dean of the Faculty of Health Sciences at AUB

U of Florida
Physical Activity, Diet Improve After Bariatric Surgery, But Do Not Meet Recommended Levels

SUNY Downstate
Dr. Janet Rosenbaum Publishes Article on School Suspensions on London School of Economics Blog

Vanderbilt
Horst Honored with Physician Builder Award



Oregon State
Dr. Rick Settersten and Dr. Karen Hooker Were Honored by the Gerontological Society of America

VIEW MORE ▸

MEMBER RESEARCH & REPORTS

UAlbany
A History of Incarceration May Increase Suicide Attempts in Young People

UAB
The Influence Of Mental Health and Respiratory Symptoms on the Association Between Chronic Lung Disease and E-Cigarette

Florida
Physical Activity, Diet Improve After Bariatric Surgery, But Do Not Meet Recommended Levels

Berkeley
The Supreme Court Overturned Roe v. Wade: Now What Happens?

South Carolina
Study Finds Varying Health Outcomes Among States with Different Medical Malpractice Liability Laws

Iowa
Report Shows Significant Increase in Alcohol-involved Deaths

University at Buffalo
COVID-19 Vaccine Development: Milestones, Lessons and Prospects

Northwestern
Rate of Pregnancy-related High Blood Pressure Disorders Doubled from 2007 to 2019

Taiwan
Un(ac)countable No-bodies: The Politics of Ignorance in Global Health Policymaking

WashU
A Framework to Assess Speed of Translation of Health Innovations to Practice and Policy

Texas A&M
Speaking of Safety: How to Overcome Language Barriers During Training

Michigan
Increasing Public Health Measures Could Have Helped Prevent Thousands of COVID-19 Deaths in India

George Mason
Nutritional Supplements and Education Decrease Inflammation in Diabetic Patients with Foot Ulcers

Colorado
Colorado Healthy Kids Survey Results Show Decreases in Substance Use Among Teens Statewide, Increases in Depression, Str

SLU
Understanding Factors That Promote Uptake of HIV Self-testing Among Young People in Nigeria

West Virginia
WVU Research Finds LGBTQ People Face Barriers to Health Care, Especially in Rural Areas

UMiami
Long-term Outcomes of Patients with Conjunctival Extranodal Marginal Zone Lymphoma

Georgia Southern
Ensuring Food Safety for Americans: The Role of Local Health Departments

UNLV
Advancing Gerontological Health Research with Sexual and Gender Minorities Across the Globe

VIEW MORE ▸

STUDENT & ALUMNI ACHIEVEMENTS

North Texas
Texas Nurse Follows Her Heart to Public Health, Where Doctoral Degree Leads to Top-Ranking Postgrad Fellowship

Louisville
Trinidad Jackson Receives Top Honor Among 2022 Graduates

South Florida
COPH Student Works to End “pinkwashing”

UMass
Ayande Awarded Margaret McNamara Education Grant

IUPUI
Common Spirit Health Names Wright L. Lassiter III, MHA’94, as CEO

VIEW MORE ▸

PARTNER NEWS

NIH
The All of Us Research Program’s dataset is available to help researchers unlock answers related to long COVID, social determinants of health, health disparities, and more

VIEW MORE ▸

Visit our Events Calendar ▸

THE VOICE OF ACADEMIC PUBLIC HEALTH

Copyright © 2022 ASPPH, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this e-mail because you opted in via our website.

Our mailing address is:
ASPPH
1615 L St NW Ste 510
Washington, DC 20036-5672

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

SUBJECT: Re: FW: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released
FROM: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
TO: Steven Lacey <steven.lacey@utah.edu>
DATE: 07/07/2022 15:18

I should also say we'll likely reach out---we're honing in on some ideas around things like surge planning with our academic institution partners. Stay tuned.....
HB

On Thu, Jul 7, 2022 at 3:17 PM Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov> wrote:

Yes, thank you-----we are definitely applying! We're currently in the early stages of planning.
HB

Heather R. Borski, MPH, MCHES
Assistant Deputy Director, Community Health & Well-Being
C: 385.348.1340
hborski@utah.gov
health.utah.gov
hs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Jul 7, 2022 at 3:15 PM Steven Lacey <steven.lacey@utah.edu> wrote:

Meanwhile, did you see this opportunity? I shared it with Nate yesterday…

My best,
-Steven

From: Steven Lacey
Sent: Wednesday, July 6, 2022 11:28 AM
To: 'Nathan Checketts' <ncheckettts@utah.gov>
Subject: FW: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released

Hello, Nate! Happy Summer.

You guys going after this Strengthening Public Health Infrastructure opportunity?

My best,
-Steven

From: ASPPH <externalrelations@aspph.org>
Sent: Friday, July 1, 2022 7:15 AM
To: Steven Lacey <steven.lacey@utah.edu>
Subject: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released

View this email in your browser

ASPPH FRIDAY LETTER

July 1, 2022

ASPPH NEWS

New Member Announcements

Join me in welcoming East Carolina University and the University of Delaware Master of Public Health Programs as our newest members. Suzanne Lazorick, ECU MPH Interim Director, and Jennifer Horney, Delaware MPH Director, will serve as their Primary Representatives. You can learn more about their programs, faculty, and initiatives on their websites.

New CDC Funding Opportunity Released: Strengthening US Public Health Infrastructure, Workforce, and Data Systems

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) released a Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) to help reinvigorate and rebuild public health infrastructure: Strengthening US Public Health Infrastructure, Workforce, and Data Systems. The nearly $4 billion, five-year initiative is "a first of its kind, non-categorical and cross-cutting program, intended to help meet critical infrastructure and workforce needs in the short-term; and … also make possible strategic investments that will have lasting effects on [US] public health agencies …." Component A grantees will be health departments; Component B grantees will support the successful implementation of Component A grantees' activities. Please view additional information. We hope this funding opportunity provides an avenue for closer collaborations with local health departments and strongly encourage your involvement. The closing date for applications is August 15, 2022.

The Global Alliance on War, Conflict & Health: Online Launch Event Friday, July 1

The Global Alliance on War, Conflict & Health is a global community aiming to strengthen action on war and conflict as threats to health, and to uphold justice and accountability as the foundations for peace and health. It brings together researchers, academics, practitioners, and advocates who work to prevent war and promote sustainable peace; mitigate the effects of war and conflict on health; and support health rebuilding during and after conflict. Through research, collaboration, capacity building and advocacy, the Alliance seeks to advance this field of scholarship and practice, provide leadership, promote equitable partnerships, and amplify the voice of those most affected by war and conflict.

The Alliance will be formally launched today: Friday, July 1, through an online event including both high-level and technical segments.

Register here

Public Health Reports: Lessons Learned from Dear Pandemic, a Social Media–Based Science Communication Project Targeting the COVID-19 Infodemic

The World Health Organization describes the current excessive amount of information related to COVID-19 as an "infodemic." This case study in Public Health Reports describes lessons learned from Dear Pandemic—a social media resource created by scientists to promote media literacy and counter misinformation.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORTS

MEMBERS IN THE NEWS

UCLA
UCLA Fielding School's Dr. Roch Nianogo Interviewed by NBC News: "Obesity is One of the Main Risk Factors For Dementia"

Harvard
The Supreme Court Is Misinformed on Eugenics

UC Irvine
Yes, You Should Test for Covid Before Going to a Gathering

Florida International
FIU Epidemiologist Speaks with the New York Times on What's Driving Surge in COVID-19 Cases in Miami-Dade County

Georgia State
Georgia's Pandemic Response Ranked Among the Nation's Worst

Arizona
New York Times: Despite Another COVID Surge, Deaths Stay Near Lows

Columbia
Health Justice Professor Terry McGovern Weighs in on Supreme Court Overturning Roe v Wade

Ohio State
America is Sliding Into the Long Pandemic Defeat

Pittsburgh
This Pitt Researcher is Using Data to Fight the Opioid Epidemic

Rutgers
Faculty Explains How Roe Reversal Impacts Minors

UIC

Julie Maslowsky in STAT – A Major Problem for Minors: Post-Roe Access to Abortion

Maryland
UMD Professor Julia Steinberg Weighs in on the Mental Health Impact of Overturning Roe v Wade in Forbes Article

Kentucky
Center for Innovation in Population Health Explores How People Change Through a New Podcast

Johns Hopkins
New York Times: For Gun Violence Researchers, Bipartisan Bill Is a 'Glass Half Full'

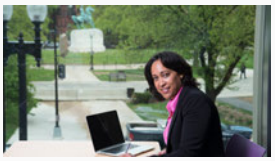
NYU GPH
Supreme Court Overturns Roe v. Wade: Is Abortion Illegal Now?

Brown
Testing Failures Helped Covid Spread. We Must do Better with Monkeypox.

VIEW MORE ▸

SCHOOL & PROGRAM UPDATES

BU
BUSPH Community Reacts to the Supreme Court's Decision to Overturn Roe v. Wade



GW
Professor Wendy Ellis' Documentary Aims to Educate About Systemic Racism

UNC
Dr. Nancy Messonnier Named Dean of Gillings School of Global Public Health

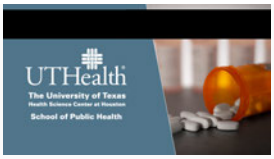
Washington
Why Abortion Criminalization is a Public Health Issue, From UW School of Public Health Researchers

VIEW MORE ▸

GLOBAL ACTION

UTHealth

UTHealth School of Public Health Selected for NIH Grant to Identify Opioid Overdose Patterns & Predict Overdose



Yale

How to Vaccinate People for Monkeypox — And Not Screw It Up

Drexel

Overturning Roe v. Wade: Consequences Nationally and Globally

UNMC

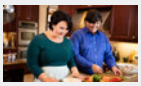
Research to Control and Prevent Malaria Led in Ethiopia

VIEW MORE ▸

FACULTY & STAFF HONORS

AUB

Abla Mehio Sibai Appointed as Dean of the Faculty of Health Sciences at AUB



U of Florida

Physical Activity, Diet Improve After Bariatric Surgery, But Do Not Meet Recommended Levels

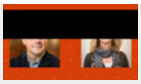
SUNY Downstate

Dr. Janet Rosenbaum Publishes Article on School Suspensions on London School of Economics Blog

Vanderbilt

Horst Honored with Physician Builder Award

Oregon State



Dr. Rick Settersten and Dr. Karen Hooker Were Honored by the Gerontological Society of America

VIEW MORE ▸

MEMBER RESEARCH & REPORTS

UAlbany
A History of Incarceration May Increase Suicide Attempts in Young People

UAB
The Influence Of Mental Health and Respiratory Symptoms on the Association Between Chronic Lung Disease and E-Cigarette

Florida
Physical Activity, Diet Improve After Bariatric Surgery, But Do Not Meet Recommended Levels

Berkeley
The Supreme Court Overturned Roe v. Wade: Now What Happens?

South Carolina
Study Finds Varying Health Outcomes Among States with Different Medical Malpractice Liability Laws

Iowa
Report Shows Significant Increase in Alcohol-involved Deaths

University at Buffalo
COVID-19 Vaccine Development: Milestones, Lessons and Prospects

Northwestern
Rate of Pregnancy-related High Blood Pressure Disorders Doubled from 2007 to 2019

Taiwan
Un(ac)countable No-bodies: The Politics of Ignorance in Global Health Policymaking

WashU
A Framework to Assess Speed of Translation of Health Innovations to Practice and Policy

Texas A&M
Speaking of Safety: How to Overcome Language Barriers During Training

Michigan
Increasing Public Health Measures Could Have Helped Prevent Thousands of COVID-19 Deaths in India

George Mason
Nutritional Supplements and Education Decrease Inflammation in Diabetic Patients with Foot Ulcers

Colorado
Colorado Healthy Kids Survey Results Show Decreases in Substance Use Among Teens Statewide, Increases in Depression, Str

SLU
Understanding Factors That Promote Uptake of HIV Self-testing Among Young People in Nigeria

West Virginia
WVU Research Finds LGBTQ People Face Barriers to Health Care, Especially in Rural Areas

UMiami
Long-term Outcomes of Patients with Conjunctival Extranodal Marginal Zone Lymphoma

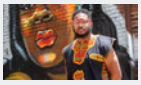
Georgia Southern
Ensuring Food Safety for Americans: The Role of Local Health Departments

UNLV
Advancing Gerontological Health Research with Sexual and Gender Minorities Across the Globe

VIEW MORE ▸

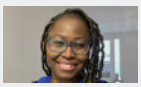
STUDENT & ALUMNI ACHIEVEMENTS

North Texas
Texas Nurse Follows Her Heart to Public Health, Where Doctoral Degree Leads to Top-Ranking Postgrad Fellowship



Louisville
Trinidad Jackson Receives Top Honor Among 2022 Graduates

South Florida
COPH Student Works to End “pinkwashing”



UMass
Ayande Awarded Margaret McNamara Education Grant

IUPUI
Common Spirit Health Names Wright L. Lassiter III, MHA’94, as CEO

VIEW MORE ▸

PARTNER NEWS

NIH
The All of Us Research Program's dataset is available to help researchers unlock answers related to long COVID, social determinants of health, health disparities, and more

VIEW MORE ▸

Visit our Events Calendar ▸

THE VOICE OF ACADEMIC PUBLIC HEALTH

Copyright © 2022 ASPPH, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you opted in via our website.

Our mailing address is:
ASPPH
1615 L St NW Ste 850
Washington, DC 20036-5679

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

SUBJECT: Re: FW: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released
FROM: Steven Lacey <steven.lacey@utah.edu>
TO: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
CC: Mia Hashibe <u0684691@umail.utah.edu>
DATE: 07/07/2022 15:29

Excellent.

I've copied in Mia Hashibe, our Director of Research & Practice -- she can help coordinate/triage as your needs come together...

My best,
-Steven

From: Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, July 7, 2022 3:18 PM
To: Steven Lacey <steven.lacey@utah.edu>
Subject: Re: FW: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released

I should also say we'll likely reach out---we're honing in on some ideas around things like surge planning with our academic institution partners. Stay tuned.....
HB

On Thu, Jul 7, 2022 at 3:17 PM Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov> wrote:

Yes, thank you-----we are definitely applying! We're currently in the early stages of planning.

HB

Heather R. Borski, MPH, MCHES
Assistant Deputy Director, Community Health & Well-Being
C: 385.348.1340
hborski@utah.gov
health.utah.gov
hs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Jul 7, 2022 at 3:15 PM Steven Lacey <steven.lacey@utah.edu> wrote:

Meanwhile, did you see this opportunity? I shared it with Nate yesterday…

My best,
-Steven

From: Steven Lacey
Sent: Wednesday, July 6, 2022 11:28 AM
To: 'Nathan Checketts' <ncheckettts@utah.gov>
Subject: FW: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released

Hello, Nate! Happy Summer.

You guys going after this Strengthening Public Health Infrastructure opportunity?

My best,
-Steven

From: ASPPH <externalrelations@aspph.org>
Sent: Friday, July 1, 2022 7:15 AM
To: Steven Lacey <steven.lacey@utah.edu>
Subject: Friday Letter: New CDC Funding Opportunity Released

View this email in your browser

ASPPH FRIDAY LETTER

July 1, 2022

ASPPH NEWS

[redacted]

New Member Announcements

Join me in welcoming East Carolina University and the University of Delaware Master of Public Health Programs as our newest members. Suzanne Lazorick, ECU MPH Interim Director, and Jennifer Horney, Delaware MPH Director, will serve as their Primary Representatives. You can learn more about their programs, faculty, and initiatives on their websites.

New CDC Funding Opportunity Released: Strengthening US Public Health Infrastructure, Workforce, and Data Systems

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) released a Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) to help reinvigorate and rebuild public health infrastructure: Strengthening US Public Health Infrastructure, Workforce, and Data Systems. The nearly $4 billion, five-year initiative is "a first of its kind, non-categorical and cross-cutting program, intended to help meet critical infrastructure and workforce needs in the short-term; and … also make possible strategic investments that will have lasting effects on [US] public health agencies …." Component A grantees will be health departments; Component B grantees will support the successful implementation of Component A grantees' activities. Please view additional information. We hope this funding opportunity provides an avenue for closer collaborations with local health departments and strongly encourage your involvement. The closing date for applications is August 15, 2022.

The Global Alliance on War, Conflict & Health: Online Launch Event Friday, July 1

The Global Alliance on War, Conflict & Health is a global community aiming to strengthen action on war and conflict as threats to health, and to uphold justice and accountability as the foundations for peace and health. It brings together researchers, academics, practitioners, and advocates who work to prevent war and promote sustainable peace; mitigate the effects of war and conflict on health; and support health rebuilding during and after conflict. Through research, collaboration, capacity building and advocacy, the Alliance seeks to advance this field of scholarship and practice, provide leadership, promote equitable partnerships, and amplify the voice of those most affected by war and conflict.
The Alliance will be formally launched today: Friday, July 1, through an online event including both high-level and technical segments.
Register here

Public Health Reports: Lessons Learned from Dear Pandemic, a Social Media–Based Science Communication Project Targeting the COVID-19 Infodemic

The World Health Organization describes the current excessive amount of information related to COVID-19 as an "infodemic." This case study in Public Health Reports describes lessons learned from Dear Pandemic

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORTS

—a social media resource created by scientists to promote media literacy and counter misinformation.

MEMBERS IN THE NEWS

UCLA
UCLA Fielding School's Dr. Roch Nianogo Interviewed by NBC News: "Obesity is One of the Main Risk Factors For Dementia"

Harvard
The Supreme Court Is Misinformed on Eugenics

UC Irvine
Yes, You Should Test for Covid Before Going to a Gathering

Florida International
FIU Epidemiologist Speaks with the New York Times on What's Driving Surge in COVID-19 Cases in Miami-Dade County

Georgia State
Georgia's Pandemic Response Ranked Among the Nation's Worst

Arizona
New York Times: Despite Another COVID Surge, Deaths Stay Near Lows

Columbia
Health Justice Professor Terry McGovern Weighs in on Supreme Court Overturning Roe v Wade

Ohio State
America is Sliding Into the Long Pandemic Defeat

Pittsburgh
This Pitt Researcher is Using Data to Fight the Opioid Epidemic

Rutgers
Faculty Explains How Roe Reversal Impacts Minors

UIC
Julie Maslowsky in STAT – A Major Problem for Minors: Post-Roe Access to Abortion

Maryland
UMD Professor Julia Steinberg Weighs in on the Mental Health Impact of Overturning Roe v Wade in Forbes Article

Kentucky
Center for Innovation in Population Health Explores How People Change Through a New Podcast

Johns Hopkins
New York Times: For Gun Violence Researchers, Bipartisan Bill Is a 'Glass Half Full'

NYU GPH
Supreme Court Overturns Roe v. Wade: Is Abortion Illegal Now?

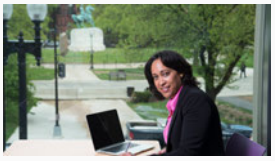
Brown
Testing Failures Helped Covid Spread. We Must do Better with Monkeypox.

VIEW MORE ▸

SCHOOL & PROGRAM UPDATES

BU

BUSPH Community Reacts to the Supreme Court's Decision to Overturn Roe v. Wade



GW

Professor Wendy Ellis' Documentary Aims to Educate About Systemic Racism

UNC

Dr. Nancy Messonnier Named Dean of Gillings School of Global Public Health

Washington

Why Abortion Criminalization is a Public Health Issue, From UW School of Public Health Researchers

VIEW MORE ▸

GLOBAL ACTION

UTHealth

UTHealth School of Public Health Selected for NIH Grant to Identify Opioid Overdose Patterns & Predict Overdose

Yale

How to Vaccinate People for Monkeypox — And Not Screw It Up

Yale
SCHOOL OF PUBLIC
HEALTH

Drexel

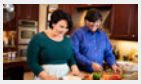
Overturning Roe v. Wade: Consequences Nationally and Globally

UNMC
Research to Control and Prevent Malaria Led in Ethiopia

VIEW MORE ▸

FACULTY & STAFF HONORS

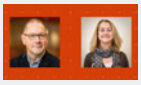
AUB
Abla Mehio Sibai Appointed as Dean of the Faculty of Health Sciences at AUB



U of Florida
Physical Activity, Diet Improve After Bariatric Surgery, But Do Not Meet Recommended Levels

SUNY Downstate
Dr. Janet Rosenbaum Publishes Article on School Suspensions on London School of Economics Blog

Vanderbilt
Horst Honored with Physician Builder Award



Oregon State
Dr. Rick Settersten and Dr. Karen Hooker Were Honored by the Gerontological Society of America

VIEW MORE ▸

MEMBER RESEARCH & REPORTS

UAlbany
A History of Incarceration May Increase Suicide Attempts in Young People

UAB

The Influence Of Mental Health and Respiratory Symptoms on the Association Between Chronic Lung Disease and E-Cigarette

Florida
Physical Activity, Diet Improve After Bariatric Surgery, But Do Not Meet Recommended Levels

Berkeley
The Supreme Court Overturned Roe v. Wade: Now What Happens?

South Carolina
Study Finds Varying Health Outcomes Among States with Different Medical Malpractice Liability Laws

Iowa
Report Shows Significant Increase in Alcohol-involved Deaths

University at Buffalo
COVID-19 Vaccine Development: Milestones, Lessons and Prospects

Northwestern
Rate of Pregnancy-related High Blood Pressure Disorders Doubled from 2007 to 2019

Taiwan
Un(ac)countable No-bodies: The Politics of Ignorance in Global Health Policymaking

WashU
A Framework to Assess Speed of Translation of Health Innovations to Practice and Policy

Texas A&M
Speaking of Safety: How to Overcome Language Barriers During Training

Michigan
Increasing Public Health Measures Could Have Helped Prevent Thousands of COVID-19 Deaths in India

George Mason
Nutritional Supplements and Education Decrease Inflammation in Diabetic Patients with Foot Ulcers

Colorado
Colorado Healthy Kids Survey Results Show Decreases in Substance Use Among Teens Statewide, Increases in Depression, Str

SLU
Understanding Factors That Promote Uptake of HIV Self-testing Among Young People in Nigeria

West Virginia
WVU Research Finds LGBTQ People Face Barriers to Health Care, Especially in Rural Areas

UMiami
Long-term Outcomes of Patients with Conjunctival Extranodal Marginal Zone Lymphoma

Georgia Southern
Ensuring Food Safety for Americans: The Role of Local Health Departments

UNLV
Advancing Gerontological Health Research with Sexual and Gender Minorities Across the Globe

VIEW MORE ▸

STUDENT & ALUMNI ACHIEVEMENTS

North Texas
Texas Nurse Follows Her Heart to Public Health, Where Doctoral Degree Leads to Top-Ranking Postgrad Fellowship

Louisville
Trinidad Jackson Receives Top Honor Among 2022 Graduates

South Florida
COPH Student Works to End "pinkwashing"

UMass
Ayande Awarded Margaret McNamara Education Grant

IUPUI
Common Spirit Health Names Wright L. Lassiter III, MHA'94, as CEO

VIEW MORE ▸

PARTNER NEWS

NIH
The All of Us Research Program's dataset is available to help researchers unlock answers related to long COVID, social determinants of health, health disparities, and more.

VIEW MORE ▸

[redacted]

Visit our Events Calendar >

ASPPH Association of Schools & Programs of Public Health
THE VOICE OF ACADEMIC PUBLIC HEALTH

Copyright © 2021 ASPPH, all rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you opted in via our website.

Our mailing address is:
ASPPH
1615 L St NW Ste 510
Washington, DC 20036-5679

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

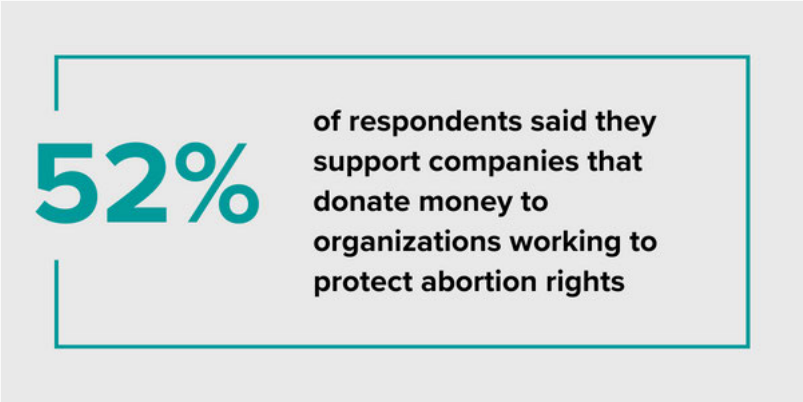
SUBJECT: Our Best Intel: July 7, 2022
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 07/07/2022 16:00

To view this email as a web page, click here

MORNING CONSULT®

OUR BEST INTEL

JULY 7, 2022



BRANDS

Americans Want the Corporate Sector to Support Abortion Rights and Access

The U.S. Supreme Court's June 24 ruling overturning Roe v. Wade, which eliminated the constitutional right to abortion, has now rippled throughout the business worlds. A new Morning Consult survey found that corporate efforts in support of abortion access are much more popular among U.S. adults than those that support the Supreme Court's decision. Read more.

[redacted]

DRIVING YOUR DECISION INTELLIGENCE

Only Morning Consult's datasets, AI technology and services combine to deliver the predictive foresight needed to win in today's rapidly changing global market.

CONTACT US

EVENTS & MORE

WEBINAR

Most Trusted Brands 2022 Webinar

With a recession looming, brand trust is more important now than ever before. Discover how brands can build trust in Morning Consult's upcoming Most Trusted Brands 2022 webinar on Tuesday, July 19 at 1PM ET. Register now.

REPORT

The Crypto Report: Our Analysts on the State of Cryptocurrency

Consumers around the world are committed to crypto, despite its volatility. Our latest report offers a comprehensive, unparalleled overview of consumers' opinions on cryptocurrency in the United States and around the world. Download today.

REPORT

U.S. Jobs & Labor Market Trends Report

Inflation, financial volatility and talk of a looming recession have weighed heavily on consumer sentiment in 2022, and now the mood among workers is souring as well. Morning Consult examines these trends and more in our latest U.S. Jobs & Labor Report. Download now.

REPORT

U.S. Household Finances & Spending Report

Elevated inflation remains top of mind for the U.S. consumer, with rising prices for a multitude of goods and services exerting a growing influence on households' current spending and future purchasing intentions. Download our report for a look into the latest trends.

FROM OUR ANALYSTS

GEOPOLITICS

Jumping on the 'Friend-Shoring' Bandwagon Will Yield Marginal Revenue Benefits for Most Companies: Consumers in major economies strongly prefer imports from friendly countries, but only 1 in 4 are willing to pay more for friend-shored goods. Read more.

WHAT WE'RE TRACKING

Taking the Temperature

Two in 5 registered voters said they are confident that the United States will reduce its carbon emissions and slow the impacts of climate change in the next decade. Learn more.

Smart Journey

More U.S. adults report having traveled domestically in the last month than in any month since December 2021. Learn more.

Global Leader Approval

Fumio Kishida, Prime Minister of Japan saw a 4-point drop in net approval to -8, a new tracking low since he took office in October 2021. Learn more.

GET IN TOUCH

FROM OUR NEWSROOM

ENERGY

After Supreme Court Hands Down Ruling on Carbon Emissions, Public Split on Whether Decision Will Have Major or Minor Impact on U.S. Climate Targets: In the wake of the Supreme Court's ruling that limits the Environmental Protection Agency's ability to regulate greenhouse gases, a new Morning Consult survey found the public is essentially split on the decision's impact on U.S. emissions reduction efforts. Read more.

NEWS & ANALYSIS: Brands | Economics | Energy | Entertainment | Finance | Geopolitics | Health | Retail & E-Commerce | Sports | Tech | Travel & Hospitality | U.S. Politics

COMPANY: About Us | Careers

SOLUTIONS: Request a Demo | Brand Intelligence | Economic Intelligence | Research Intelligence | Political Intelligence

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004

Unsubscribe from Our Best Intel | Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: CDCF MOA Amendment - Utah
FROM: Lauren Bader <lbader@cdcfoundation.org>
TO: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
CC: Robert Foley <rfoley@cdcfoundation.org>, Amber Johnson<amberjohnson@cdcfoundation.org>
DATE: 07/07/2022 18:26

Dear Heather,

The CDC Foundation thanks you for your partnership in the Vaccine and Public Health Workforce Initiative. In June, you received notification of plans for continuing this project after July 31, 2022.

To continue any type of staffing support after July, we are required to amend the existing memorandum of agreement (MOA) supporting this initiative. The current package contains the master MOA and two attachments (one for each of our project's respective funding mechanisms). The master MOA has no end date (or it terminates far enough into the future where the date does not create an issue) and does not need to be amended. However the attachments end on July 31, 2022. As all of the CDC Foundation's field employees supported under the Vaccine funding (41116) are being transferred to the Workforce funding (41120), there is only a need to amend the end date for Attachment A: 41120.

To facilitate this adjustment, we have prepared the amendment for you to review and sign. This amendment simply changes the end date from July 31, 2022, to October 15, 2022; note that all amendments for each jurisdiction are being processed with a new end date of October 15, 2022. If this transition date does not meet your jurisdictional needs, please reach out to us for a discussion using the contact information below.

We know you will need time to review the document, and route it through your internal channels. If you or anyone in your jurisdiction has questions or suggested edits to the proposed amendment, please email Robert Foley, one of the CDC Foundation's senior project directors, at rfoley@cdcfoundation.org, and Amber Johnson, project assistant, at amberjohnson@cdcfoundation.org. If you are able to sign the amendment, please send it back to Robert and Amber, and cc me. We will get it countersigned by Foundation leadership and return the executed copy to you (or whomever you name as the point of contact).

The Foundation does not have a standard protocol directing who at the jurisdiction should sign the amendment, as long as they are authorized to sign on behalf of the jurisdiction. The amendment signatory does not need to be the same person who signed the original MOA documents. Additionally, this amendment needs to be executed prior to July 31, 2022. Please let us know if you anticipate any challenges, or have questions regarding the language, intent or process.

Warm regards,
Lauren

Lauren Bader, MPH (she/her/hers | what's this?)
Area Coordinator
COVID-19 Vaccine and Workforce Project
CDC Foundation
Together our impact is greater
303.482.7737 (cell)
www.cdcfoundation.org
twitter . linkedin . facebook . instagram

SUBJECT: Fewer Abortion Facilities Accept Health Insurance, While PatientsFace Higher Out-of-Pocket Expenses for Abortion
FROM: AIS Health Daily <aishealthdaily@aishealth.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 08/07/2022 06:04

AIS Health Daily

July 8, 2022

This Week's Featured Stories

FDA's Rinvoq Approval Brings New Ulcerative Colitis Option
Radar on Specialty Pharmacy

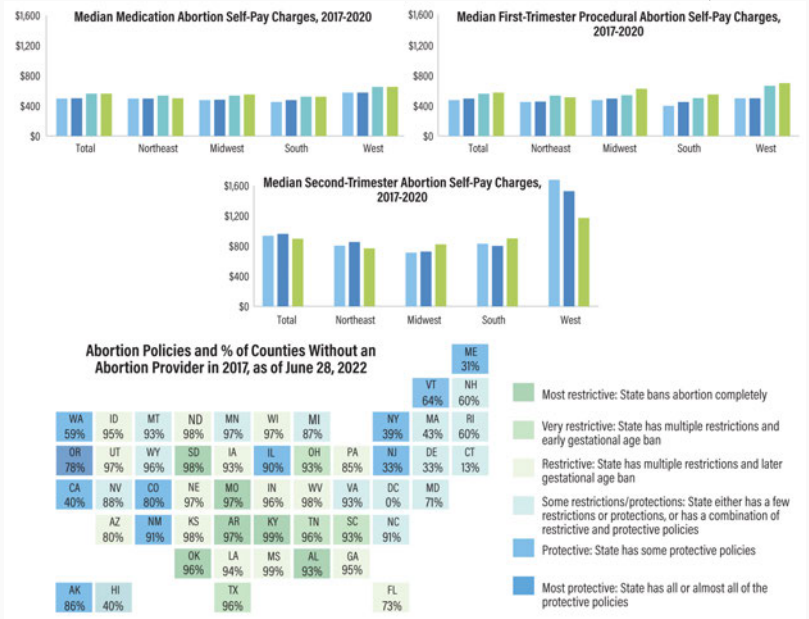
Centene Raises Full-Year 2022 Financial Guidance, Cites Redetermination Delay as Major Reason
Health Plan Weekly

People With Rare Diseases Face Challenges, Require Support
Radar on Specialty Pharmacy

Featured Infographic

Fewer Abortion Facilities Accept Health Insurance, While Patients Face Higher Out-of-Pocket Expenses for Abortion

The proportion of open abortion facilities that accept any type of health insurance declined from 89% in 2017 to 80% in 2019 and 2020, while median patient self-pay charges for abortion are going up, according to a study published in Health Affairs in April. The South has the lowest percentage of health insurance acceptance, yet the Midwest saw the largest decrease over the four years, from 88% in 2017 to 75% in 2020. The Supreme Court on June 24 overturned Roe v. Wade, ending the federal standard protecting the constitutional right to abortion before a pregnancy is considered viable. The ruling will likely have major ramifications for the health care system, with states choosing vastly different paths on access to abortion care. According to the Guttmacher Institute, 26 states are certain or likely to ban abortion, and 13 of them have "trigger laws" that take effect automatically or by quick state action when Roe is overturned.



SOURCES: "Lay of the Land: Abortion Policies and Access in the United States," Guttmacher Institute. "Trends In Self-Pay Charges And Insurance Acceptance For Abortion In The United States, 2017–20," Health Affairs 41, No. 4 (2022): 507-515.

From Health Plan Weekly

Learn more about subscribing to AIS Health's publications.

AIS Health Daily is copyrighted and protected by federal law. The re-use of its content is restricted (see below). However, you are permitted to forward this email as you wish. Please direct any friends or colleagues to sign up for their own copy at https://aishealth.com/subscribe.
Copyright © 2022 Managed Markets Insight & Technology, LLC. All rights reserved. It is not permissible to include all or any portion of this content on any Web site, intranet or electronic network or in any print publication, without AIS's written permission in advance. Contact sales@aishealth.com for more information.

Visit www.AISHealth.com to access thousands of articles and more.

MMIT 1040 Stony Hill Rd Suite 300 Yardley PA 19067 USA

You received this email because you are subscribed to AIS Health Daily from MMIT.

Update your email preferences to choose the types of emails you receive.

Unsubscribe from all future emails

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Biden to Issue Executive Order Aimed atReinforcing Abortion Rights
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 08/07/2022 06:30

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

JULY 8, 2022

BY GABY GALVIN

Twitter Email

Americans Still in the Dark on Health Care Costs

Beginning this month, health insurers must post their negotiated rates online, and surprise medical billing has been banned for half a year. But a new Morning Consult survey indicates many Americans still don't know what they'll pay for health care: 1 in 5 adults said they or their families have received an unexpected medical bill in 2022.

Further, roughly 1 in 4 adults said they have delayed or skipped health care altogether this year over concerns that they'd receive an unexpected bill, and 55% said they are not confident they would know their emergency room bill up front. Read more here.

Top Stories

- President Joe Biden will sign an executive order today that aims to shore up abortion rights by protecting access to medication abortion and emergency contraception, bolstering patient privacy and legal options and directing Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra to increase public outreach for reproductive health services. The move comes as Biden faces growing criticism from Democrats for not responding more urgently to the fall of Roe v. Wade. (The Washington Post)

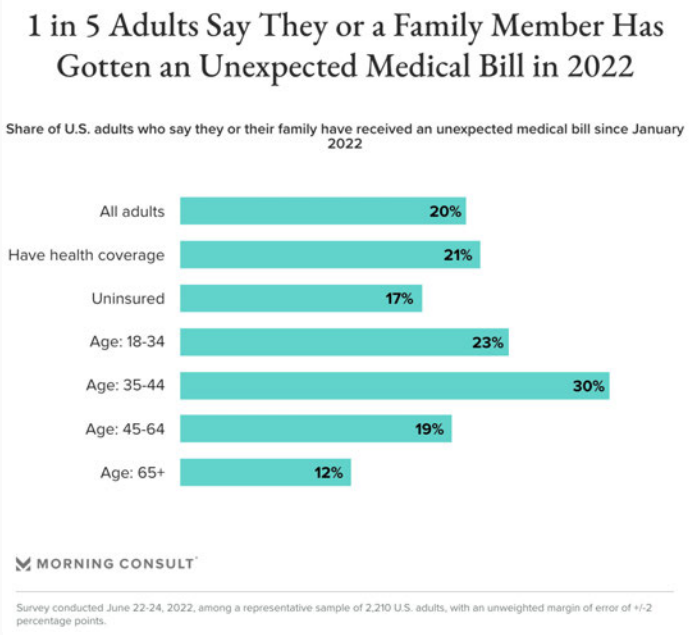
- HHS will ship another 144,000 doses of monkeypox vaccine to cities and states beginning Monday, adding to the 56,000 doses made available last week, as the monkeypox outbreak continues to grow. Commercial labs are also ramping up their testing capacity for monkeypox, as officials confirm 700 cases in the United States and more than 7,200 globally. (NBC News)

- The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services proposed a slight decline in Medicare payments for doctors in 2023, reflecting the expiration of a pandemic payment bump this year. The agency also proposed more coverage for dental and behavioral health services and reforms to the accountable care organization program as part of the 2023 Physician Fee Schedule rule. (Fierce Healthcare)

- Beginning next year, pharmaceutical companies must repay Medicare for any injectable and infused drugs that come in single-dose vials and go unused, in a bid to cut down on the billions of dollars that are wasted every year on discarded drugs. Drug companies that don't comply with the rule will be fined 25% of what they were supposed to refund Medicare, the federal government said. (Stat News)

Chart Review

Surprise Medical Bills Have Been Banned Since January. 1 in 5 Americans Say They or Their Family Have Gotten an Unexpected Charge Anyway
Morning Consult



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT

U.S. Jobs & Labor Market Trends Report

Inflation, financial volatility and talk of a looming recession have weighed heavily on consumer sentiment in 2022, and now the mood among workers is souring as well. Morning Consult examines these trends and more in our latest U.S. Jobs & Labor Report. Download now.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

Sandra Lindsay, the first to be vaccinated in the U.S., is among those awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom.
Johnny Diaz, The New York Times
Sandra Lindsay, the New York critical care nurse who was the first American vaccinated against the coronavirus outside of a clinical trial, was among those presented with the Presidential Medal of Freedom on Thursday by President Biden.

WTO faces new battle over COVID tests, drugs
Emma Farge, Reuters
Less than a month after a hard-won deal was reached on a partial waiver of intellectual property rights for COVID-19 vaccines, a fresh battle may be looming at the World Trade Organization over extending the waiver to treatments and tests.

Pfizer Pill Prescribing Power Spurs Pharmacist Calls to Medicare
Celine Castronuovo, Bloomberg Law
The FDA's decision to let pharmacists prescribe Pfizer Inc.'s Paxlovid could be a game-changer in expanding Covid-19 treatment access—but only if pharmacies are adequately paid for their work, trade groups say.

California is seeing a surge in cases as BA.5, a rapidly spreading subvariant, takes root.

Soumya Karlamangla, The New York Times
California is in the grip of its third-largest coronavirus surge of the pandemic, with roughly 19,000 new cases being reported here each day on average, according to a New York Times database. The true number of people falling sick is undoubtedly even higher, since most at-home test results aren't included in official case counts.

The summer of subvariants
Tina Reed, Axios
As this summer heats up, so has the spread of the hot new version of COVID-19.

GENERAL

Vaccine and Testing Delays for Monkeypox Echo Failures in Early Covid Response
Michelle Andrews, Kaiser Health News
The first monkeypox case in the United States was confirmed in mid-May. As the number of monkeypox cases reached 605 nationwide as of July 6, some public health experts saw echoes of covid-19 in the government's halting response.

Young Black leukemia patients have worse outcomes, study finds
Arielle Dreher, Axios
Younger Black leukemia patients were likelier to die early or not go into complete remission than their white peers when receiving the same intensive treatment, according to a new study in Blood Advances.

The Push for Abortion Lawmaking After 'Dobbs' Is Unique, Legal and Political Experts Say
Arielle Zionts, Kaiser Health News
The end of nationwide abortion protections has been met with a wave of calls from lawmakers and governors in at least a dozen states for special legislative sessions that would reshape the state-by-state patchwork of laws that now govern abortion in the U.S.

PAYERS

UnitedHealthcare Accused of Underpaying Telehealth Providers
Jacklyn Wille, Bloomberg Law
UnitedHealthcare Insurance Co. was sued Thursday in Connecticut federal court by a plan participant who says the insurer underpaid for covered telehealth services in the midst of the Covid-19 pandemic and the attendant increase in telehealth care.

Study: Medicare Advantage beneficiaries less likely to get pricey diabetes treatments
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare
Patients with diabetes on Medicare Advantage were more likely to get access to preventive treatments than their counterparts on traditional Medicare but were also less likely to get prescribed newer and more expensive treatments, a new study found.

Chronically Ill Patients Want Voice in FTC Pharmacy Agent Probe
Celine Castronuovo, Bloomberg Law

Chronically ill patients are pushing the Federal Trade Commission to incorporate their experiences getting treatment into the agency's study on the entities that manage prescription drug benefits.

PROVIDERS

'Fighting for one day': Louisiana abortion clinic still open
Rebecca Santana, The Associated Press
For years, Louisiana's abortion clinics have operated under increasing layers of restrictions designed to limit who can get an abortion and when.

Major payment vendor data breach, North Korean threat raise ransomware concerns for hospitals
Rebecca Pifer, Healthcare Dive
A recently disclosed ransomware attack could have exposed patient data from more than 650 healthcare providers.

After failed merger bid, Care New England vows to remain independent
Samantha Liss, Healthcare Dive
Care New England's board of directors voted unanimously to remain an independent health system after a failed bid to merge with Lifespan, Rhode Island's largest health system.

Nearly 150 US facilities earn best hospital awards in Leapfrog, Money rankings
Hailey Mensik, Healthcare Dive
The Leapfrog Group and Money, a digital financial publication, gave 148 general hospitals, children's hospitals, teaching hospitals and rural hospitals across the U.S. best hospital awards in a new list of hospital ratings out Wednesday.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Scientists look to people with Down syndrome to test Alzheimer's drugs
Jon Hamilton, NPR News
For Frank Stephens, 40, the effort to defeat Alzheimer's is personal.

Senator Wyden Releases Interim Report on Big Pharma Tax Probe
Alisa Parenti, Bloomberg Law
Senate Finance Committee Chair Ron Wyden releases a report on the tax practices of big pharmaceutical companies.

With 'do-over' NASH results, Intercept will seek approval for first-ever treatment for fatty liver condition
Adam Feuerstein, Stat News
Intercept Pharmaceuticals said Thursday that an extensive re-analysis of a large clinical trial involving its experimental treatment for the fatty liver disease known as NASH once again achieved its primary efficacy goal.

Newsom announces California will produce its own 'low cost' insulin
Maureen Breslin, The Hill
California Gov. Gavin Newsom (D) announced on Thursday that his state will be producing its own "low cost" insulin, stating, "People should not go into debt to get lifesaving medication."

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Former Theranos President Ramesh 'Sunny' Balwani Found Guilty on All 12 Fraud Counts
Heather Somerville and Meghan Bobrowsky, The Wall Street Journal
A federal jury convicted Ramesh "Sunny" Balwani, the former top lieutenant to Theranos Inc. founder Elizabeth Holmes, on all 12 charges that he helped perpetuate a yearslong fraud scheme at the blood-testing startup.

Tech Giants Brace for Legal Mess of Abortion Data Subpoenas
Dina Bass and Mark Bergen, Bloomberg
Companies including Google and Microsoft would have evidence on users seeking abortions. Will they fight government demands for private information?

AI tech founders abroad seek partnerships to navigate U.S. healthcare
Jessica Kim Cohen, Modern Healthcare
Dr. John Halamka, president of Mayo Clinic's healthcare technology and big data effort, Mayo Clinic Platform, last week traveled more than 6,000 miles to kick off the Rochester, Minnesota-based health system's latest technology initiative: a partnership with Sheba Medical Center in Tel Aviv.

Scientists design a cheap device that can detect ear problems with the help of a smartphone
Edward Chen, Stat News
In a preliminary new study, published last month in Communications Medicine, the researchers report that their smartphone-based device performed nearly as well as commercially available tympanometers that can cost thousands of dollars.

Digital Mental Health Companies Draw Scrutiny and Growing Concerns
Harris Meyer, Kaiser Health News
Often backed by venture capital firms, these for-profit businesses offer a wide mix of services, including one-on-one and group video therapy visits with licensed professionals, supportive texting, coaching videos, and prescriptions for medications.

Medical billing startup Cedar cuts 24% of workforce as market constricts
Heather Landi, Fierce Healthcare
As health tech companies try to navigate a market downturn, Cedar joins other digital health startups in cutting its workforce with an eye on its bottom line.

CVS Introduces New C-Level Role to Guide Tech Strategy
Isabelle Bousquette, The Wall Street Journal
CVS Health Corp. is creating a new senior technology role that will oversee its chief information officer and other tech leaders while focusing on tech strategy and business growth.

So, a robot walks into a nursing home…
Jennifer A. Kingson, Axios
A 4-foot-tall droid named Pepper — preprogrammed with hundreds of jokes — is one of two robots now working at a nursing home in Roseville, Minnesota, entertaining residents and helping monitor their health.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

The worst virus variant just arrived. The pandemic is not over.
Editorial Board, The Washington Post
The arrival of subvariant BA.5 should be a reminder that the finish line in this race is nowhere to be seen.

Drugmakers Aren't Driving Inflation
Dana Goldman and Erin Trish, The Wall Street Journal
And price controls would hinder medical innovation.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Hospitalization Outcomes Among Patients With COVID-19 Undergoing Remote Monitoring
Bradley H. Crotty et al., JAMA Network Open
In this cohort study of 9,378 patients, participation in a remote monitoring program was associated with lower odds of hospitalization 2 to 14 days after a positive COVID-19 test, after an adjusted analysis using inverse propensity score weighting.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Re: Question about UT's maternal health policy
FROM: "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
TO: Khanh Nguyen <khanh.nguyen@ncsl.org>
CC: Laurie Baksh <lbaksh@utah.gov>, Noel Taxin <ntaxin@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/07/2022 06:43

Good Morning Khanh -

I agree, it was great connecting with you at the NGA Summit! I have very fond memories of participating with NCSL during my legislative service, so it was nice to make another connection to such a great organization!

Thank you for reaching-out to me with your question. I am cc'ing Laurie Baksh here, our Director of the Office of Maternal & Child Health and who was also at the NGA Summit, as she is the best person to help answer this question. Ironically, Laurie and I actually discussed this very issue at the NGA Summit.

I am also including Heather Borski -- Assistant Deputy Director for DHHS' Community Health & Well-Being Section -- on this e-mail as Heather and Laurie are looking at attending NCSL's Maternal & Child Health State Collaborative at the end of August and want to connect you with the both of them.

Thank you again for reaching-out to me; Laurie will be able to help answer your question.

Respectfully,

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Jul 7, 2022 at 4:33 PM Khanh Nguyen <khanh.nguyen@ncsl.org> wrote:

> Good afternoon!
>
> It was a pleasure connecting with you briefly at the NGA roundtable on MCH last month. I hope you are doing well!
>
> I am reaching out with a request I am hoping you will be able to help with. I'm trying to verify whether Utah has passed legislation extending postpartum coverage to 12 months. The budget bill HB 3 includes the following line item:
> 1347 To implement the provisions of Pregnancy and Postpartum
> 1348 Medicaid Coverage Amendments (House Bill 220, 2022
> 1349 General Session)
>
> However, I saw that HB 220 was not enacted. Would you happen to know the status of postpartum Medicaid extension in UT or would you be able to point me to someone who would?
>
> I really appreciate your help!
>
> All the best,
> Khanh
>
> Khanh H. Nguyen, MSW, MPH
> National Conference of State Legislatures
> Project Manager, Health Program
> 303.856.1402 (o)
> 720.713.0325 (m)
> khanh.nguyen@ncsl.org
>
> NCSL LEGISLATIVE SUMMIT DENVER • 2022
> AUGUST 1-3

Disclaimer
The information contained in this communication from the sender is confidential. It is intended solely for use by the recipient and others authorized to receive it. If you are not the recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking action in relation of the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful.

This email has been scanned for viruses and malware, and may have been automatically archived by Mimecast Ltd, an innovator in Software as a Service (SaaS) for business. Providing a safer and more useful place for your human generated data. Specializing in; Security, archiving and compliance. To find out more Click Here.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Explore our Jul 09, 2022 issue
FROM: The Lancet <thelancet@notification.elsevier.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 08/07/2022 07:46

Please add thelancet@notification.elsevier.com to your Safe Senders list. If you have trouble viewing this message, click here to view it online.

ADVERTISEMENT

In this issue of The Lancet:

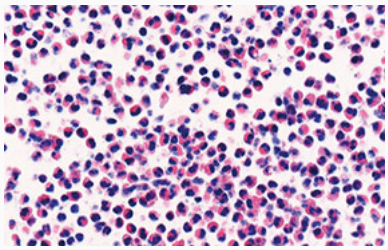
THE LANCET

Vol. 400
Number 10346 | Jul 09, 2022
p 73-136

FEATURES



Eosinophilic gastroenteritis with ascites: a 41-year-old woman presented to the emergency department with a 1-month history of worsening abdominal pain, nausea, and vomiting.
Read this Clinical Picture

Sharpening the focus on powerful health stories: we invite submissions of pictures that focus on crucial health stories, covering any health-related topic and from diverse environments and settings.
Read this Comment

EDITORIAL

Road safety: more than reducing injuries

COMMENT

COVID-19 vaccination for children aged 5–11 years

Intravenous thrombolysis before thrombectomy for acute ischaemic stroke

The UK benefits from a truly National Health Service

Reducing the threat of epidemic-prone infections at mass gathering religious events

Is the US infant formula shortage an avoidable crisis?

WORLD REPORT

“Chaos” for patients and providers after US abortion ruling

6 million female health workers are unpaid or underpaid

[redacted]

Visa bureaucracy causing GPs to leave the UK

PERSPECTIVES

Leandro Mena: advancing sexual health in the USA

Plant agency and planetary health

OBITUARY

Kwaku Ohene-Frempong

CORRESPONDENCE

The fall of Roe v Wade: a call to action for religious medical providers

Clinical severity of omicron lineage BA.2 infection compared with BA.1 infection in South Africa

Tachi Yamada: a missed global health leader

ARTICLES

Effectiveness of BNT162b2 vaccine against SARS-CoV-2 infection and severe COVID-19 in children aged 5–11 years in Italy: a retrospective analysis of January–April, 2022

Thrombectomy alone versus intravenous alteplase plus thrombectomy in patients with stroke: an open-label, blinded-outcome, randomised non-inferiority trial

Endovascular thrombectomy versus standard bridging thrombolytic with endovascular thrombectomy within 4·5 h of stroke onset: an open-label, blinded-endpoint, randomised non-inferiority trial

CLINICAL PICTURE

Eosinophilic gastroenteritis with ascites: an enigmatic diagnosis

SERIES

The political and social contexts of global road safety: challenges for the next decade

View the entire Table of Contents online

CONTENT

Online First
Commissions
Series

MULTIMEDIA

Infographics
Podcasts
Videos

INFO & SERVICES

Lancet Alerts
Open Access
Publishing excellence

The best science for better lives

You are receiving this email because you subscribed to TheLancet.com alerting service.

This email has been sent from The Lancet, Elsevier Limited, The Boulevard, Langford Lane, Kidlington, Oxford, OX5 1GB, registered in England with registered number 1982084.

Update mailing preferences to choose which Lancet journals you receive alerts from. Follow this link to unsubscribe.

Privacy Policy

Copyright © 2022 Elsevier Limited except certain content provided by third parties. The Lancet is a trade mark of Elsevier Limited.

[redacted] Webuser ID: ee063b27617109410cc51afc98cc2b02ad57ffd4 Results Event ID: 8d592c3d-eda7-4e16-8bb3-2c31247f31b7

SUBJECT: RE: [EXTERNAL] Re: Question about UT's maternal health policy
FROM: Khanh Nguyen <khanh.nguyen@ncsl.org>
TO: "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
CC: Laurie Baksh <lbaksh@utah.gov>, Noel Taxin <ntaxin@utah.gov>, HeatherBorski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/07/2022 09:09

Thank you so much, David! I'm glad you have fond memories of NCSL and hope we can stay connected. And thank you for passing on my question to the MCH team!

Laurie and Heather, wonderful to hear that you may attend the state policy collaborative in Portland! Please let me know if you have any questions or want to chat.

All the best,
Khanh

Khanh H. Nguyen, MSW, MPH
National Conference of State Legislatures
Project Manager, Health Program
303.856.1402 (o)
720.713.0325 (m)
khanh.nguyen@ncsl.org

From: David Litvack (DHHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
Sent: Friday, July 8, 2022 6:43 AM
To: Khanh Nguyen <khanh.nguyen@ncsl.org>
Cc: Laurie Baksh <lbaksh@utah.gov>; Noel Taxin <ntaxin@utah.gov>; Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] Re: Question about UT's maternal health policy

Good Morning Khanh -

I agree, it was great connecting with you at the NGA Summit! I have very fond memories of participating with NCSL during my legislative service, so it was nice to make another connection to such a great organization!

Thank you for reaching-out to me with your question. I am cc'ing Laurie Baksh here, our Director of the Office of Maternal & Child Health and who was also at the NGA Summit, as she is the best person to help answer this question. Ironically, Laurie and I actually discussed this very issue at the NGA Summit.

I am also including Heather Borski -- Assistant Deputy Director for DHHS' Community Health & Well-Being Section -- on this e-mail as Heather and Laurie are looking at attending NCSL's Maternal & Child Health State Collaborative at the end of August and want to connect you with the both of them.

Thank you again for reaching-out to me; Laurie will be able to help answer your question.

Respectfully,

David

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Jul 7, 2022 at 4:33 PM Khanh Nguyen <khanh.nguyen@ncsl.org> wrote:

> Good afternoon!
>
> It was a pleasure connecting with you briefly at the NGA roundtable on MCH last month. I hope you are doing well!

[redacted]

I am reaching out with a request I am hoping you will be able to help with. I'm trying to verify whether Utah has passed legislation extending postpartum coverage to 12 months. The budget bill HB 3 includes the following line item:
1347 To implement the provisions of Pregnancy and Postpartum
1348 Medicaid Coverage Amendments (House Bill 220, 2022
1349 General Session)

However, I saw that HB 220 was not enacted. Would you happen to know the status of postpartum Medicaid extension in UT or would you be able to point me to someone who would?

I really appreciate your help!

All the best,
Khanh

Khanh H. Nguyen, MSW, MPH
National Conference of State Legislatures
Project Manager, Health Program
303.856.1402 (o)
720.713.0325 (m)
khanh.nguyen@ncsl.org

Disclaimer

The information contained in this communication from the sender is confidential. It is intended solely for use by the recipient and others authorized to receive it. If you are not the recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking action in relation of the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful.

This email has been scanned for viruses and malware, and may have been automatically archived by Mimecast Ltd, an innovator in Software as a Service (SaaS) for business. Providing a safer and more useful place for your human generated data. Specializing in; Security, archiving and compliance. To find out more Click Here.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: The President's Executive Order on Reproductive Rights – 2pm Briefing Call Today
FROM: White House Office of Public Engagement <ope@who.eop.gov>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/07/2022 09:26

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Health Community Updates

Friends - Today, President Biden will sign an Executive Order protecting access to reproductive health care services. See toplines and the full Fact Sheet below, as well as an invite to a White House briefing at 2pm ET. We hope you can make it, and please share with members of your community - all are welcome.

JOIN TODAY

- At 11:30am EDT, the President will deliver remarks on protecting access to reproductive health care services. The Vice President and the Secretary of Health and Human Services will attend. The President's remarks can be viewed at whitehouse.gov/live/.
- At 2:00pm EDT, White House Senior Leaders will host a briefing to discuss the Executive Order, the Administration's actions on reproductive rights, and our priorities moving forward. This call will be closed press and off the record. REGISTER HERE: https://pitc.zoomgov.com/webinar/register/WN_7jnJU4-kRqSLhLmn2xOUig
- At 4:00pm EDT, the Vice President will convene state legislative leaders from Indiana, Florida, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Montana who are fighting on the frontlines to protect reproductive rights. The Vice President's and the participants' opening remarks will be livestreamed on whitehouse.gov/live/.

KEY ASSETS

- FACT SHEET: President Biden to Sign Executive Order Protecting Access to Reproductive Health Care Services

THE EXECUTIVE ORDER

The Executive Order builds on the actions the Administration has already taken to defend reproductive rights by:

- Safeguarding access to reproductive health care services, including abortion and contraception – building on steps HHS has already taken to ensure medication abortion, emergency contraception, long-acting contraception is as widely available as possible and the Attorney-General's commitment to fight any attack by a state or local official who attempts to interference with women exercising their right to travel out of state for medical care.
- Protecting the privacy of patients and their access to accurate information – building on steps HHS Office of Civil Rights has taken to ensure doctors and medical providers and plans know that they are not required – with limited exceptions – to disclose patients' private information.
- Promoting the safety and security of patients, providers, and clinics; and
- Coordinating the implementation of Federal efforts to protect reproductive rights and access to health care.

All best,

White House Office of Public Engagement

STAY IN THE KNOW

Share and amplify our community updates by encouraging your networks to sign up to receive this newsletter using the following link.

http://eepurl.com/hIdkdf

PRIVACY POLICY | UNSUBSCRIBE

SUBJECT: The President's Executive Order on Reproductive Rights – 2pm Briefing Call Today
FROM: White House Office of Public Engagement <ope@who.eop.gov>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/07/2022 09:28

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Women's Community Update

Friends - Today, President Biden will sign an Executive Order protecting access to reproductive health care services. See toplines and the full Fact Sheet below, as well as an invite to a White House briefing at 2pm ET. We hope you can make it, and please share with members of your community - all are welcome.

JOIN TODAY

- At 11:30am EDT, the President will deliver remarks on protecting access to reproductive health care services. The Vice President and the Secretary of Health and Human Services will attend. The President's remarks can be viewed at whitehouse.gov/live/.
- At 2:00pm EDT, White House Senior Leaders will host a briefing to discuss the Executive Order, the Administration's actions on reproductive rights, and our priorities moving forward. This call will be closed press and off the record. REGISTER HERE: https://pitc.zoomgov.com/webinar/register/WN_7jnJU4-kRqSLhLmn2xOUig
- At 4:00pm EDT, the Vice President will convene state legislative leaders from Indiana, Florida, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Montana who are fighting on the frontlines to protect reproductive rights. The Vice President's and the participants' opening remarks will be livestreamed on whitehouse.gov/live/.

KEY ASSETS

- FACT SHEET: President Biden to Sign Executive Order Protecting Access to Reproductive Health Care Services

THE EXECUTIVE ORDER

The Executive Order builds on the actions the Administration has already taken to defend reproductive rights by:

- Safeguarding access to reproductive health care services, including abortion and contraception – building on steps HHS has already taken to ensure medication abortion, emergency contraception, long-acting contraception is as widely available as possible and the Attorney-General's commitment to fight any attack by a state or local official who attempts to interference with women exercising their right to travel out of state for medical care.

[redacted]

- Protecting the privacy of patients and their access to accurate information – building on steps HHS Office of Civil Rights has taken to ensure doctors and medical providers and plans know that they are not required – with limited exceptions – to disclose patients' private information.
- Promoting the safety and security of patients, providers, and clinics; and
- Coordinating the implementation of Federal efforts to protect reproductive rights and access to health care.

All best,

White House Office of Public Engagement

Stay Connected

Make sure you are following The White House Gender Policy Council on Twitter
https://twitter.com/WhiteHouseGPC

Privacy Policy | Unsubscribe

SUBJECT: Hormonal Contraception - Pharmacists
FROM: "Laurie Baksh (DHHS)" <lbaksh@utah.gov>
TO: Michelle Hofmann <mhofmann@utah.gov>
CC: "Nickee Andjelic (DHHS)" <npalacios@utah.gov>, Lynne Nilson <lpnilson@utah.gov>, Noel Taxin <ntaxin@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/07/2022 13:14

Dr. Hofmann -

We have put together information related to the pharmacist dispensing of emergency contraception (Ella) and depo (overview, sample protocols and orders) in this google drive: [redacted]

Discussion points:

The current language of both SB184 (standing order) and HB178 (Pharmacist prescribing) define "self-administered hormonal contraceptives" as follows: "Self-administered hormonal contraceptive includes an oral hormonal contraceptive, a hormonal vaginal ring, and a hormonal contraceptive patch."

Emergency Contraception - The Ella website notes that Ella is a progesterone agonist/antagonist emergency contraceptive.

DEPO - Subcutaneous depot medroxyprogesterone acetate (DMPA-SC): The states that we identified as offering DMPA through pharmacies do so through pharmacist administration of the injection. The CDC recommends allowing for self-administration, but note: "Although the FDA label states that DMPA-SC is only to be administered by a healthcare professional, health care providers might prescribe an FDA-approved drug for off-label use (including administering a drug in a different way, such as self-administration) when medically indicated, as determined by the health care provider, for their patient."

The language in current Utah code may be contradictory to adding either the injectable or Ella to the standing order or allowing for pharmacist prescribing. Your clinical/medical insight is needed to determine if either fits the definition of "self administered hormonal contraceptive".

Please let us know if you need any additional information or have questions.

Thank you,
Laurie

Links to legislation: https://le.utah.gov/~2021/bills/static/HB0178.html
https://le.utah.gov/~2018/bills/static/SB0184.html

--
Laurie Baksh, MPH
Manager, Maternal and Infant Health Program

[redacted]

Office of Maternal and Child Health
O: 801-273-2857
lbaksh@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Family Health

NOTICE: This e-mail message and any accompanying documents could contain Controlled, Private, or Protected information as defined and classified by GRAMA and is intended only for the use of the person(s) listed above. If you are not the intended recipient, or an agent for the recipient, any disclosure, copying or distributing of this email and documents herein is strictly prohibited. If you have received this email in error, please contact me immediately and destroy this and any following document. Thank you.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: White House | Women's Community Update
FROM: The Office of Public Engagement <noreply@mail.whitehouse.gov>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/07/2022 16:19

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Women's Community Update

All,
Read below for updates on the Biden-Harris Administration's response to the Supreme Court's decision overturning Roe v. Wade.

Administration Actions on Protecting Reproductive Rights
President Biden announced actions that his Administration is taking to protect women. Read the President's Executive Order, Remarks, and Fact Sheet here.

President Biden Signed Executive Order Protecting Access to Reproductive Health Care Services

Today, President Biden signed an Executive Order Protecting Access to Reproductive Health Care Services. This Executive Order builds on the actions his Administration has already taken to defend reproductive rights by:

- Safeguarding access to reproductive health care services, including abortion and contraception;
- Protecting the privacy of patients and their access to accurate information;
- Promoting the safety and security of patients, providers, and clinics; and
- Coordinating the implementation of Federal efforts to protect reproductive rights and access to health care.

Safeguarding Access to Reproductive Health Care Services

The President has directed the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS) to take the following actions and submit a report to him within 30 days on efforts to:

- Protect Access to Medication Abortion. HHS will take additional action to protect and expand access to abortion care, including access to medication that the FDA approved as safe and effective over twenty years ago. These actions will build on the steps the Secretary of HHS has already taken at the President's direction following the decision to ensure that medication abortion is as widely accessible as possible.
- Ensure Emergency Medical Care. HHS will take steps to ensure all patients – including pregnant women and those experiencing pregnancy loss – have access to the full rights and protections for emergency medical care afforded under the law, including by considering updates to current guidance that clarify physician responsibilities and protections under the Emergency Medical Treatment and Labor Act (EMTALA).
- Protect Access to Contraception. HHS will take additional actions to expand access to the full range of reproductive health services, including family planning services and providers, such as access to emergency contraception and long-acting reversible contraception like intrauterine devices (IUDs). In all fifty states and the District of Columbia, the Affordable Care Act guarantees coverage of women's preventive services, including free birth control and contraceptive counseling, for individuals and covered dependents. The Secretary of HHS has already directed the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services to take every legally available step to ensure patient access to family planning care and to protect family planning providers.
- Launch Outreach and Public Education Efforts. HHS will increase outreach and public education efforts regarding access to reproductive health care services—including abortion—to ensure that Americans have access to reliable and accurate information about their rights and access to care.
- Convene Volunteer Lawyers. The Attorney General and the White House Counsel will convene private pro bono attorneys, bar associations, and public interest organizations to encourage robust legal representation of patients, providers, and third parties lawfully seeking or offering reproductive health care services throughout the country. Such representation could include protecting the right to travel out of state to seek medical care. Immediately following the Supreme Court decision, the President announced his Administration's position that Americans must remain free to travel safely to another state to seek the care they need, as the Attorney General made clear in his statement, and his commitment to fighting any attack by a state or local official who attempts to interfere with women exercising this right.

Protecting Patient Privacy and Access to Accurate Information

The President's Executive Order takes additional steps to protect patient privacy, including by addressing the transfer and sales of sensitive health-related data, combatting digital surveillance related to reproductive health care services, and protecting people seeking reproductive health care from inaccurate information, fraudulent schemes, or deceptive practices. The Executive Order will:

- Protect Consumers from Privacy Violations and Fraudulent and Deceptive Practices. The President has asked the Chair of the Federal Trade Commission to consider taking steps to protect consumers' privacy when seeking information about and provision of reproductive health care services. The President also has directed the Secretary of HHS, in consultation with the Attorney General and Chair of the FTC, to consider options to address deceptive or fraudulent practices, including online, and protect access to accurate information.
- Protect Sensitive Health Information. HHS will consider additional actions, including under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), to better protect sensitive information related to reproductive health care. The Secretary of HHS has already directed the HHS Office for Civil Rights to take initial steps to ensure patient privacy and nondiscrimination of patients, as well as providers who provide reproductive health care, including by:
    - Issuing new guidance to address how the HIPAA Privacy Rule protects the privacy of individuals' protected health information, including information related to reproductive health care. The guidance helps ensure doctors and other medical providers and health plans know that, with limited exceptions, they are not required – and in many cases, are not permitted – to disclose patients' private information, including to law enforcement.
    - Issuing a how-to guide for consumers on steps they can take to make sure they're protecting their personal data on mobile apps.

Promoting Safety and Security

The Executive Order addresses the heightened risk related to seeking and providing reproductive health care and will:

- Protect Patients, Providers, and Clinics. The Administration will ensure the safety of patients, providers, and third parties, and to protect the security of other entities that are providing, dispensing, or delivering reproductive health care services. This charge includes efforts to protect mobile clinics, which have been deployed to borders to offer care for out-of-state patients.

Coordinating Implementation Efforts

To ensure the Federal government takes a swift and coordinated approach to addressing reproductive rights and protecting access to reproductive health care, the President's Executive Order will:

- Establish an Interagency Task Force. The President has directed HHS and the White House Gender Policy Council to establish and lead an interagency Task Force on Reproductive Health Care Access, responsible for coordinating Federal interagency policymaking and program development. This Task Force will also include the Attorney General. In addition, the Attorney General will provide technical assistance to states affording legal protection to out-of-state patients as well as providers who offer legal reproductive health care.

Calling on Congress to Codify Roe v. Wade

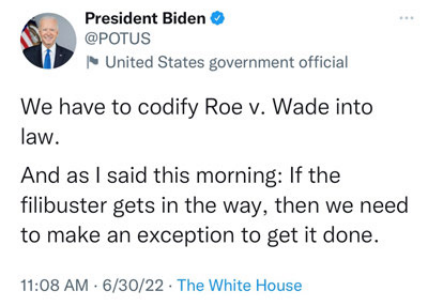
Last week, President Biden made clear he would support an exception to the filibuster in order to codify a woman's right to choose into law. See his tweet below.



Administration-wide Engagements on Protecting Reproductive Rights

HHS Secretary Becerra Visits Planned Parenthood

Secretary Becerra visited a Planned Parenthood in Conneticut to reaffirm the Administration's commitment to protecting reproductive healthcare. See the Tweet here.

Vice President Harris Remarks on Protecting Reproductive Rights

On Saturday July 2nd, Vice President Harris traveled to New Orleans, Louisiana to attend the 28th ESSENCE Festival of Culture, where she participated in a fireside conversation with Emmy Award-winning actress Keke Palmer. The Vice President spoke to the most critical issues facing Black women, including the implications of the Supreme Court overturning Roe v. Wade. While in New Orleans, the Vice President also met with the leaders of reproductive justice organizations. Read and Watch the full conversation here.

Meeting with Governors to Defend Reproductive Rights

Last week, President Biden convened nine Democratic Governors from across the country to discuss efforts to defend reproductive rights. Moderated by Director of the White House Gender Policy Council Jennifer Klein, the conversation focused on actions the Governors are taking to defend reproductive rights. The President thanked the Governors for their work on this issue, and told them his Administration looks forward to continued partnership to protect access to reproductive health care. See the full Readout here.

Engaging with State Attorney Generals

Last week, Vice President Harris met with Attorneys General Dana Nessel of Michigan and Keith Ellison of Minnesota to discuss efforts underway in key states to protect reproductive rights. This follows her recent convening of Attorneys Generals from seven states to discuss the fight for reproductive rights. Vice President Harris reaffirmed the Administration's commitment to fighting for reproductive rights. The Vice President discussed the pivotal role that Attorneys General play in safeguarding the rights of the people of their states, and she encouraged them to continue to use their authority to defend reproductive rights and freedoms. See the full Readout here.

Stay Connected

Make sure you are following The White House Gender Policy Council on Twitter
https://twitter.com/WhiteHouseGPC

Privacy Policy | Unsubscribe

SUBJECT: Fwd: EC as "self-administered, hormonal contraception"
FROM: "Laurie Baksh (DHHS)" <lbaksh@utah.gov>
TO: Michelle Hofmann <mhofmann@utah.gov>
CC: Lynne Nilson <lpnilson@utah.gov>, Noel Taxin <ntaxin@utah.gov>, Nickee Palacios <npalacios@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/07/2022 18:23

Dr. Hofmann -

After sending my earlier email, I realized I neglected to include the information contained in this email for your consideration as well.

Thanks,
Laurie

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Jessica Sanders <jessica.sanders@hsc.utah.edu>
Date: Fri, Jul 1, 2022 at 8:19 AM
Subject: Re: EC as "self-administered, hormonal contraception"
To: Laurie Baksh <lbaksh@utah.gov>, Lynne Nilson <lpnilson@utah.gov>
Cc: Sarah Elliott <sarah.elliott@hsc.utah.edu>, Jami Baayd <jami.baayd@hsc.utah.edu>, Rebecca Simmons <rebecca.simmons@hsc.utah.edu>

Quick point of clarification “contraception access policy roadmap” these were policies being assessed and supported with FPE evidence not policies that passed necessarily

Jessica N Sanders, PhD, MSPH
Family Planning Research Director
Assistant Professor
Pronouns: she/her

Obstetrics & Gynecology
30 North 1900 East, 2B200
Salt Lake City, Utah 84132 |801.581.2143
Jessica.sanders@hsc.utah.edu

Indigenous Land Acknowledgement: We acknowledge that this land, which is named for the Ute Tribe, is the traditional and ancestral homeland of the Shoshone, Paiute, Goshute, and Ute Tribes. The University of Utah recognizes and respects the enduring relationship that exists between many Indigenous peoples and their traditional homelands. We respect the sovereign relationship between tribes, states, and the federal government, and we affirm the University of Utah's commitment to a partnership with Native Nations and Urban Indian communities through research, education, and community outreach activities.

From: Jessica Sanders <jessica.sanders@hsc.utah.edu>
Date: Friday, July 1, 2022 at 8:16 AM
To: Laurie Baksh <lbaksh@utah.gov>, Lynne Nilson <lpnilson@utah.gov>
Cc: Sarah Elliott <sarah.elliott@hsc.utah.edu>, Jami Baayd <jami.baayd@hsc.utah.edu>, Rebecca Simmons <rebecca.simmons@hsc.utah.edu>
Subject: FW: EC as "self-administered, hormonal contraception"

Hello Laurie and Lynne, I have no doubt you all, like us, have be caught in the whirlwind of the last week with the SCOTUS decision.

I wanted to follow up on our last conversation and to share the presentation that we prepared to present to the board of pharmacy. I have also forwarded the correspondence with Rep. Ray Ward (below) clarifying the appropriateness of including oral Emergency Contraception in the interpretation of self-administered, hormonal contraception in the standing order.

I have also shared our community facing document on EC in English, we have a Spanish version available as well-to support any updates you may want to include in the UDOH website.

Please let me know if there are additional resources we share and ways we can support each other.

Take care,
Jess

Jessica N Sanders, PhD, MSPH
Family Planning Research Director
Assistant Professor
Pronouns: she/her

Obstetrics & Gynecology
30 North 1900 East, 2B200
Salt Lake City, Utah 84132 |801.581.2143
Jessica.sanders@hsc.utah.edu

Indigenous Land Acknowledgement: We acknowledge that this land, which is named for the Ute Tribe, is the traditional and ancestral homeland of the Shoshone, Paiute, Goshute, and Ute Tribes. The University of Utah recognizes and respects the enduring relationship that exists between many Indigenous peoples and their traditional homelands. We respect the sovereign relationship between tribes, states, and the federal government, and we affirm the University of Utah's commitment to a partnership with Native Nations and Urban Indian communities through research, education, and community outreach activities.

From: Raymond Ward <rayward@le.utah.gov>
Date: Monday, June 27, 2022 at 3:30 PM
To: Jessica Sanders <jessica.sanders@hsc.utah.edu>, rayward1024@yahoo.com <rayward1024@yahoo.com>
Cc: CPSheard@afstores.com <CPSheard@afstores.com>, Sarah Elliott <sarah.elliott@hsc.utah.edu>
Subject: Re: EC as "self-administered, hormonal contraception"

Hello Jessica and Chris,

Thanks for sending me over that email.

I agree with what you have laid out here and that the intent of the bill was to include all self-administered hormonal contraceptive medications, which would then include oral contraception that can be taken as emergency contraception. Given the safety and efficacy of both oral levonorgestrel and ulipristal acetate (a.k.a Ella), it is an appropriate interpretation of the code to include both of these as self-administered hormonal contraception.

[redacted]

I hope this is helpful and happy to answer any additional questions that might come up.

RW

From: Jessica Sanders <jessica.sanders@hsc.utah.edu>
Sent: Monday, June 27, 2022 12:59 PM
To: rayward1024@yahoo.com <rayward1024@yahoo.com>; Raymond Ward <rayward@le.utah.gov>
Cc: CPSheard@afstores.com <CPSheard@afstores.com>; Sarah Elliott <sarah.elliott@hsc.utah.edu>
Subject: EC as "self-administered, hormonal contraception"

Dear Representative Ward, MD,
Thank you for all you have done to support contraceptive access in Utah. As our ASCENT Center works to ensure all Utahns have access to contraception, pharmacies and clinics remain vital points of access for individuals seeking contraception. It is our hope to keep pharmacists, providers, and administrators up-to-date with best practices and current clinical guidelines.

Under the tenants of the "Pharmacy Practice Act," Utah Code Section 58-17b-101, et seq. (the "Act"), the "Family Planning Access Act," Utah Code Section 26-62-101, et seq. (the "FPAA") and Utah Administrative Code R433-200 (the "Rule") pharmacists are able to dispense "self-administered hormonal contraceptives."

A question that has been brought to our attention is whether oral emergency contraceptives (EC), which includes oral levonorgestrel and oral ulipristal acetate fall into the category of "self-administered hormonal contraceptives." From a scientific and pharmacological standpoint, the answer is "yes," as these are oral hormonal medications that are self-administered for contraceptive purposes. and do not interfere with an existing pregnancy.

In hopes that we can stay clear and consistent in our communication we would like to confirm this interpretation and ensure that this in inline with the intent of the original legislation. I have cc'd Chris Sheared, who is on the Board of Pharmacy and can share with his colleagues who might be interested as well.

Thank you again for all your work as a clinician-policymaker,

Jess Sanders and the ASCENT team

Jessica N Sanders, PhD, MSPH
Family Planning Research Director
Assistant Professor
Pronouns: she/her

Obstetrics & Gynecology
30 North 1900 East, 2B200
Salt Lake City, Utah 84132 |801.581.2143
Jessica.sanders@hsc.utah.edu

Indigenous Land Acknowledgement: We acknowledge that this land, which is named for the Ute Tribe, is the traditional and ancestral homeland of the Shoshone, Paiute, Goshute, and Ute Tribes. The University of Utah recognizes and respects the enduring relationship that exists between many Indigenous peoples and their traditional homelands. We respect the sovereign relationship between tribes, states, and the federal government, and we affirm the University of Utah's commitment to a partnership with Native Nations and Urban Indian communities through research, education, and community outreach activities.

--
Laurie Baksh, MPH
Manager, Maternal and Infant Health Program
Office of Maternal and Child Health
O: 801-273-2857
lbaksh@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Family Health

[redacted]

NOTICE: This e-mail message and any accompanying documents could contain Controlled, Private, or Protected information as defined and classified by GRAMA and is intended only for the use of the person(s) listed above. If you are not the intended recipient, or an agent for the recipient, any disclosure, copying or distributing of this email and documents herein is strictly prohibited. If you have received this email in error, please contact me immediately and destroy this and any following document. Thank you.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: What's Ahead & Week in Review
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 10/07/2022 07:31

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

JULY 10, 2022

BY GABY GALVIN

Twitter Email

Good morning all. This is my last edition of Morning Consult Health. It's been a wild two years on the health care beat, and I'm glad to have spent it with you all. You're in good hands with senior editor Matt Bracken taking over the newsletter for now.

Let's dig in: Novavax Inc. is awaiting authorization for its traditional protein-based COVID-19 vaccine. What share of unvaccinated adults said they would get this type of shot if one were available?

A: 10%
B: 26%
C: 31%
D: 46%
E: 67%

Check out the answer at the bottom of today's newsletter.

What's Ahead

Congressional Democrats have a three-week sprint ahead if they want to pass a budget reconciliation bill by the August recess. The Senate parliamentarian is reviewing Democrats' latest drug pricing plan, which would allow Medicare to negotiate prescription drug prices, but lawmakers are still negotiating tax and climate measures for the scaled-back domestic policy package.

There are four congressional hearings this week on abortion and reproductive care in post-Roe America: The Senate Judiciary

[redacted]

Committee will meet at 10 a.m. Tuesday, the House Oversight and Reform Committee will meet at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, the Senate Health, Education, Labor and Pensions Committee will convene at 10 a.m. Wednesday and the House Judiciary Committee will meet at 10 a.m. Thursday.

With federal abortion rights legislation all but dead in the divided Senate, expect more messaging hearings ahead of the midterm elections. Sen. Patty Murray (D-Wash.), chair of the Senate HELP Committee and a vocal reproductive health care advocate, will also likely take the opportunity to pressure the Biden administration to do more to protect access to abortion and birth control.

The Senate Finance Committee will hold a hearing at 10 a.m. Tuesday on Rebecca Haffajee's nomination to be assistant secretary for planning and evaluation at the Department of Health and Human Services. Haffajee would be elevated from the office's deputy role, and serve as a chief policy adviser to HHS Secretary Xavier Becerra.

The Bipartisan Policy Center will hold a panel at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday on the state of the pandemic, featuring White House COVID-19 coordinator Dr. Ashish Jha. The Biden administration is preparing for a fall booster shot campaign and working to make antiviral pills more accessible — and grappling with a growing monkeypox outbreak that raises questions about the federal government's preparedness to manage another public health crisis.

UnitedHealth Group Inc. will report second-quarter earnings Friday. The health care giant has faced a mixed bag lately: It announced plans to buy a U.K. health tech company to bolster its Optum health services business, but its acquisition of home health provider LHC Group Inc. was delayed last month by a Federal Trade Commission request for more details on the deal.

Events Calendar

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT

U.S. Jobs & Labor Market Trends Report

Inflation, financial volatility and talk of a looming recession have weighed heavily on consumer sentiment in 2022, and now the mood among workers is souring as well. Morning Consult examines these trends and more in our latest U.S. Jobs & Labor Report. Download now.

Week in Review

Drug pricing: Senate Democrats unveiled their latest drug pricing plan, which would allow Medicare to negotiate prescription drug prices beginning in 2023 and encourage biosimilar competition, but differs from a House-passed bill on issues such as insulin payment and transparency from pharmacy benefit managers. They are also weighing a plan to raise taxes on some high-income Americans to delay a shortfall in the Medicare trust fund until 2031.

Abortion: President Joe Biden signed an executive order that aims to shore up abortion rights by protecting access to medication abortion and emergency contraception, bolstering patient privacy and directing Becerra to increase public outreach for reproductive health services. The Biden administration decided against declaring a public health emergency following the fall of Roe v. Wade, according to people familiar with the matter, deciding that the impact of the move wouldn't be worth the inevitable legal wrangling.

Juul: Juul Labs Inc.'s e-cigarettes will remain on the market after the Food and Drug Administration paused its sales ban, saying it will conduct a further review of the vaping giant's products. The agency said it will consider "scientific issues unique to the Juul application" — walking back its earlier argument that the company lacked sufficient health and safety data.

STAT OF THE WEEK

20%

The share of U.S. adults who say they've gotten an unexpected medical bill in 2022.

THE MOST READ STORIES THIS WEEK

1) Dems want to tax high earners to protect Medicare solvency
Alan Fram, The Associated Press

2) What the BA.5 Subvariant Could Mean for the United States
Lauren Leatherby, The New York Times

3) Here's what Democrats changed in their latest drug pricing bill
Rachel Cohrs, Stat News

4) To aid rural hospitals, CMS proposes rule for new provider type
Susan Kelly, Healthcare Dive

5) CMMI finds implicit bias in 3 major payment models
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare

6) How companies offering to cover travel for out-of-state abortions might work
Scott Neuman, NPR News

7) Novavax's Traditional Vaccine for COVID-19 Could Hit the U.S. Soon. Most Unvaccinated Adults Wouldn't Be Swayed
Gaby Galvin, Morning Consult

8) House lawmakers to CMS: Expand dental coverage in Medicare now
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare

9) Schumer moves to allow Medicare to negotiate prescription drug costs
Punchbowl News

10) Feds brokered record $5B in healthcare fraud cases last year
Rebecca Pifer, Healthcare Dive

OTHER HEALTH NEWS

- HHS was asked to seek an 'aggressive strategy' on abortion by Biden, Becerra says (Politico)
- Cancer Drug Greatly Reduces Deaths in Hospitalized Covid Patients (The New York Times)
- U.S. FDA grants full approval to Pfizer COVID vaccine for ages 12-15 (Reuters)
- Pharmacists Can Prescribe Pfizer's Covid Pill Under FDA Order (Bloomberg)
- FDA Will Help Overseas Baby-Formula Makers Keep Selling in U.S. Beyond Shortages (The Wall Street Journal)
- BA.5 Subvariant Drives Majority of Recent Covid-19 Cases (The Wall Street Journal)
- Sanofi launches global health brand with non-profit treatments (Reuters)
- Astra Agrees to Pay up to $1.3 Billion for Biotech TeneoTwo (Bloomberg Law)
- U.S. to ship 144,000 more monkeypox shots and expand testing as cases top 700 (NBC News)
- CMS proposes slight doc pay cut in 2023 and several reforms to ACOs, dental service coverage (Fierce Healthcare)

- Drug companies will have to start refunding Medicare for certain drugs that get thrown out (Stat News)

- Judge rejects claim distributors fueled W.Va. community's opioid crisis (The Washington Post)

The answer to this week's quiz is A: 10% of unvaccinated adults said they would get a traditional protein-based COVID-19 shot if one were available. Read more here: Novavax's Traditional Vaccine for COVID-19 Could Hit the U.S. Soon. Most Unvaccinated Adults Wouldn't Be Swayed

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: 24 exec moves | Cedar lays off 24% of workers | 441 hospitals faceclosure, cuts | 'What gender pay gap?': 73% of male physicians don't see it| 5 states most people moved to, left since 2020 | PA salary by specialty:11 stats
FROM: Becker's Hospital Review <news@beckershealthcare-news.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 10/07/2022 08:08

July 10, 2022

BECKER'S
HOSPITAL REVIEW

Virtual Events • Webinars • Whitepapers • OnDemand Learning • Podcasts

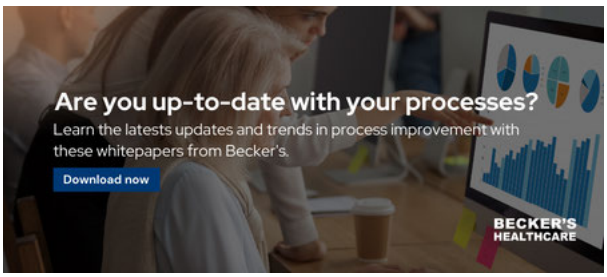
The American College of Cardiology's AFib Ablation Registry™ Part of the EP Registry Suite™
Harness the power of data to support patient care and outcomes
Learn more >
NCDR AMERICAN COLLEGE OF CARDIOLOGY

1. 24 recent hospital, health system executive moves Full story
2. COVID-19 cases dip slightly as BA.5 threat looms: 10 CDC findings Full story

3. 73% of male physicians say there is no gender pay gap at work: 5 Medscape findings Full story
4. Are you on target to meet your 2022 revenue goals? Discover solutions that increase cash flow while reducing costs, process times, and workloads.
5. 5 states most people moved to, left since 2020 Full story
6. Patient-billing startup Cedar lays off 24% of workforce Full story
7. Learn what worked - and what didn't - when Baylor, Scott & White set out to integrate medical device strategy. Spoiler: It resulted in cost savings and fewer incidents.
8. 441 rural hospitals at risk of losing services or closing Full story
9. 148 best US hospitals, per Money and Leapfrog Full story
10. 11 statistics on physician assistant salary by specialty Full story
11. Healthcare's double whammy: Inflation during a pandemic. Understand how the best hospitals can achieve growth while cutting costs.
12. CMS pitches physician payment rule for 2023: 7 things to know Full story
13. 8 recent payer moves to exit or enter markets Full story
14. In a slow rollout, 1.5% of children under 5 are vaccinated against COVID-19 Full story
15. Biden takes executive action to protect abortion access Full story

Becker's Learning Opportunities

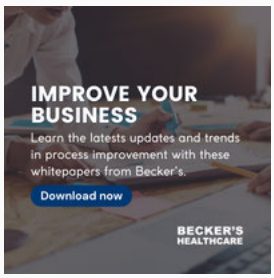
1. Hospitals generate mountains of data but many can't use the information when they need it. Get the 9 steps needed to connect with your content.
2. Patients are tired of seeing 'pay in full' as the only option on their medical statements. Drive better payment results with these strategies.
3. Balancing healthcare's digital and physical realms may not be as difficult as it seems. Click here to find the best practices for navigating both domains.



Companies to Know
Thank you to our key sponsors

LeanTaas | Intuitive | Amwell | Change Healthcare | Xtend Healthcare | Zotec Partners | Sound Physicians | RevSpring | Philips | VisiQuate | Insight Global Health | Accureg | Vituity | 3M Health Care | Allscripts | Notable Health | Nuance | Cardinal Health

BECKER'S HOSPITAL REVIEW | BECKER'S Clinical Leadership & Infection Control | BECKER'S ASC REVIEW | BECKER'S SPINEREVIEW



Becker's Whitepapers

Debunking PPE-Related Myths
The digital future of healthcare staffing
The ultimate guide to automating care coordination

SUBJECT: Experts Split On Gorsuch's Power To Uphold Tribal Rights
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 11/07/2022 02:38

LAW360

Monday, July 11, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Analysis

Experts Split On Gorsuch's Power To Uphold Tribal Rights

Following Justice Neil M. Gorsuch's fiery dissent in a case involving Oklahoma's authority to prosecute certain crimes on Native American reservations, experts are divided over whether the justice — once poised to reshape the federal judiciary's view of Indian law — can still champion tribal interests at the Supreme Court.

Read full article »

Analysis

2 Mistrials, 1 Acquittal & A DOJ Listening Problem

The defense said the case should have never been brought. The judge told the U.S. Department of Justice's top antitrust official to "reflect" on the evidence after two separate juries deadlocked on price-fixing charges against chicken industry executives.

Read full article »

Analysis

Top SEC Controversies In 2022: Midyear Report

SEC Chair Gary Gensler has issued a progressive spring rulemaking agenda including climate risk, corporate board diversity, cybersecurity and so-called digital engagement practices, amid pushes for cryptocurrency regulation and a setback for SEC judges, in the first half of 2022.

Read full article »

Analysis

How Justices Impacted Transportation: Midyear Review

The U.S. Supreme Court tightened the scope of a Federal Arbitration Act carveout for interstate transportation workers, but ignored entreaties from the commercial trucking and airline industries to clarify what they contend are conflicting state and federal regulations governing their West Coast operations.

Read full article »

DC Circ. Narrows House Subpoena For Trump Financial Docs

A House committee can obtain some, but not all, of former President Donald Trump's financial documents that it requested from his former accounting firm, the D.C. Circuit said Friday, narrowing the scope of the congressional subpoena for the records.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Biden Orders Agencies To Protect Abortion Access

President Joe Biden has told his top health official to take measures to make sure patients have access to safe abortions, like medication abortions, in the wake of the U.S.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Addleshaw Goddard
Ahmad Zavitsanos
Allen & Overy
ArentFox Schiff
Arnold & Porter
Baker & Hostetler
Baker Donelson
Ballard Spahr
Bracewell LLP
CMS Cameron McKenna Nabarro Olswang
Cadwalader Wickersham
Capstone Law APC
Carlos F. Gonzalez PA
Clark Hill
Clyde & Co
Consovoy McCarthy
Cooper & Kirk
Crowell & Moring
DAC Beachcroft
DLA Piper
Davidoff Hutcher
Day Pitney
Dorsey & Whitney
Duane Morris LLP
Faegre Drinker
Fisher Phillips
Fredericks Law Firm
Gibson Dunn
Goldberg Segalla

Supreme Court decision erasing the constitutional right to the procedure.

Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

Crypto Risks Call For Stronger Rules, Fed Vice Chair Warns

Digital assets are vulnerable to many of the same risks as traditional finance and need comparable regulatory guardrails to protect investors and the financial system at large, Federal Reserve Vice Chair Lael Brainard said Friday.

Read full article »

Feds' De-Risking Guidance May Not Move Needle At Banks

Federal regulators have put out a new call for banks to refrain from categorically shunning independent ATM operators and other groups of customers as illicit finance risks, but some financial services attorneys say the guidance may have limited practical effect.

Statement attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

Analysis

Biggest Energy-Related Rulings Of 2022: Midyear Report

A blockbuster U.S. Supreme Court ruling that curbs the federal government's climate change authority capped a first half of 2022 that produced several court decisions with major implications for the energy industry. Here's a rundown of some of the biggest energy-related court decisions issued so far this year.

Read full article »

Analysis

Pa. Midyear Report: Pay, Carbon, Venue Shopping Drive Regs

Pennsylvania rules and regulations commencing this summer will give tipped workers bigger paychecks and other benefits, while energy companies wanting to join the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative will have to wait pending the outcome of a challenge by the coal industry.

Read full article »

DC Circ. Backs FERC Redo Of $2.1B Pipeline Approval

The D.C. Circuit on Friday said the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission has now adequately justified its decision granting Nexus Gas Transmission LLC eminent domain authority for its $2.1 billion pipeline, after previously directing the agency to beef up its legal arguments.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Biden Admin Floats State Roadway Emissions Tracking

The Biden administration has set its sights on reducing transportation emissions as its latest step in the fight against climate change with a new rule that will require states to establish declining greenhouse gas emissions targets for vehicles.

Read full article »

Fla. Justices Say Utility Can Recover $16M From Customers

Florida's utility regulator was wrong to block a Duke Energy unit from recouping $16 million in replacement power costs from customers after needing to operate a power plant at reduced capacity because the utility's actions were "prudent," the Florida Supreme Court said.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Federal Approval Of Lobster Fishery Violates ESA, Judge Says

Gowling WLG
Guerra King
Holland & Hart
Holland & Knight
Hunton Andrews
Jenner & Block
Jones Day
Katten Muchin
King & Spalding
Kirkland & Ellis
Latham & Watkins
Lewis Brisbois
Linklaters
Mayer Brown
McDermott Will
Michelmores LLP
Morgan Lewis
Morrison Foerster
Moyle Law Firm PA
Outten & Golden
Paul Hastings
Percy Squire Co. LLC
Pringle & Herigstad
Proskauer Rose
Pryor Cashman
Quinn Emanuel
Reed Smith
Robins Kaplan
Ropes & Gray
Saul Ewing
Scott+Scott
Seyfarth Shaw
Sheppard White
Shumaker Loop
Shutts & Bowen
Sidley Austin
Silverman Thompson
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Stinson LLP
Strong Law Firm
Sullivan & Cromwell
Walfish & Fissell
Waymaker
Weil Gotshal
White & Case
Wiggin LLP
Wilson Elser
Winston & Strawn
gunnercooke LLP

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Abu Dhabi National Energy Co.
Air Transport Association of America
American Bar Association
Apollo Global Management LLC
Axon Enterprise Inc.
BP PLC
Bouygues Construction SA
C.H. Robinson Worldwide Inc.
California Trucking Association
Center for Biological Diversity
Centerra Group LLC
Chevron Corp.
Conservation Law Foundation
Costco Wholesale Corp.
Cox Media Group Inc.
DTE Energy Co.
Defenders of Wildlife
Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Ltd.

A federal judge Friday invalidated approvals for a lobster fishery in the North Atlantic after finding the government failed to adequately protect a threatened whale species, which environmental groups said needs strict protection so the whales don't die in fishing lines.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

NYS Courts Again Hit With Suit Over Vax Mandate

The New York judiciary has been hit with another lawsuit by court employees attempting to end a mandate that they vaccinate against the COVID-19 virus.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

MEDIA & ENTERTAINMENT

2nd Circ. Blocks Trump Transition Docs Release

The Second Circuit on Friday ruled that the U.S. Secret Service does not have to turn over documents relating to former President Donald Trump's 2015 transition into public office.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Tegna, Standard General Deny Public Harm From $8.6B Deal

Broadcast giant Tegna and hedge fund Standard General are urging the Federal Communications Commission to grant approvals necessary to complete their $8.6 billion tie-up, calling opponents off the mark in claiming potential public harm.

Response attached | Read full article »

REAL ESTATE

11th Circ. Affirms Investors' Loss In Honduras Property Spat

A group of American real estate investors have again been rebuffed over their claims that Honduras helped expropriate a multiuse development in the Central American nation, as the Eleventh Circuit found no evidence of a government effort to nationalize the project.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

Texas Pol Threatens Sidley With Charges Over Abortion Policy

The chair of the Texas Freedom Caucus warned Sidley Austin LLP in a letter on Thursday that the firm could face criminal liability and that its attorneys would be disbarred for aiding employees that need abortions, under legislation they plan to introduce in the next session.

Letter attached | Read full article »

Judge Pares Challenge To Fla. Classroom, Work Training Law

A Florida federal judge on Friday largely kept alive a challenge by students and teachers to the constitutionality of a controversial state law that regulates classroom instruction of race, but tossed a portion of the suit claiming that the law's restrictions on employers' workplace training programs are invalid.

Order attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

DOJ Defends Army Swag Bid Rigging Case Against Dismissal

The U.S. Department of Justice has urged a Florida federal court not to toss antitrust charges against a man accused of rigging bids for customized promotional products sold to the U.S. Army, saying his dismissal bid misconstrues the law.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Devon Energy Corp.
Duke Energy Corp.
Dynamex, Inc.
Earthjustice
Enbridge Inc.
Endo International PLC
Ernst & Young LLP
FedEx Corp.
FirstEnergy Corp.
Getty Images Inc.
Grant Thornton LLP
Humane Society of the United States
IVECO SpA
Impax Laboratories, Inc.
KPMG International
Koch Foods
Levi Strauss & Co.
LexisNexis Group Inc.
Major Lindsey & Africa LLC
Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia Inc.
Massachusetts Lobstermen's Association
MasterCard Inc.
Mazars LLP
Mazor Robotics
Medtronic PLC
Mirant Corporation
NFL Enterprises LLC
National Association of Manufacturers
National Australia Bank Ltd.
National Cable & Telecommunications Association
National District Attorneys Association
National Retail Federation Inc.
Netflix Inc.
Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development
PGA TOUR Inc.
PJM Interconnection LLC
Paragon Offshore PLC
Pilgrim's Pride Corp.
Shell PLC
Skyworks Solutions Inc.
Southwest Airlines Co.
Standard General LP
StoneTurn Group LLP
Suncor Energy Inc.
Tegna Inc.
The Gap Inc.
TransUnion LLC
Trump Organization Inc.
U.S. Chamber of Commerce
United Farm Workers
Virgin America Inc.
Virgin Media Inc.
Vodafone Group PLC
Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc.
White Castle Management Co.
Yale University

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Bank of England
Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
Bureau of Indian Affairs
Bureau of Labor Statistics
California Supreme Court

CONSUMER PROTECTION

FCC Revs Up Campaign Against Auto Warranty Robocalls

The Federal Communications Commission took additional steps Thursday to crack down on billions of unlawful auto warranty robocalls directed at consumers across the United States.

Notice attached | Read full article »

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

DC Circ. Says 'No Dice' To FedEx's Export Regulation Appeal

The D.C. Circuit picked apart Federal Express's claims against the U.S. Department of Commerce on Friday, telling the company that an agency rule holding couriers liable for unwittingly transporting sensitive technology to unauthorized recipients aligned seamlessly with settled law.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

Biden Urges Justices To Restore Priority Deportation Memo

The Biden administration on Friday filed an emergency application with the U.S. Supreme Court, asking the justices to shut down a Texas federal court order blocking its policy for immigration enforcement and arguing that Texas and Louisiana haven't justified such "disruptive" relief.

Order attached | Read full article »

WHITE COLLAR

Bannon Attorney 'Reluctantly' Seeks To Exit Contempt Case

A Davidoff Hutcher & Citron LLP partner said Friday that he was withdrawing from defending former Trump White House aide Steve Bannon against criminal contempt charges over Bannon's refusal to cooperate with the House committee investigating the Jan. 6 insurrection, saying he might be called to testify at Bannon's trial this month in D.C. federal court.

1 document attached | Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

Freedmen Descendants' Land Suit Tossed Once More

A D.C. federal judge has again dismissed a suit filed by descendants of slaves held by Native American tribes, ruling that they're not due an accounting of the U.S. government's alleged breaches of fiduciary duty related to funds derived from land allotted to minor children of former slaves.

Order attached | Read full article »

ND Tribal Court Should Hear Smoking Ban Case, 8th Circ. Told

The Mandan, Hidatsa and Arikara Nation is urging the Eighth Circuit to let its own courts hear a claim that employees of an out-of-state energy company violated a contractual smoking ban while drilling for fossil fuels on the tribe's North Dakota reservation.

Brief attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Analysis

Can EPA Ruling Zap Net Neutrality? Not Everyone Agrees

Net neutrality backers grew more jittery about the Federal Communications Commission's ability to restore Obama-era network traffic rules after the U.S. Supreme Court in late June sapped agencies' regulatory power in a case against

Chickasaw Nation
Commodity Futures Trading Commission
Federal Aviation Administration
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council
Federal Reserve System
Federal Trade Commission
Financial Crimes Enforcement Network
Florida Public Service Commission
Florida Supreme Court
Health Canada
Hopland Band of Pomo Indians
Illinois Supreme Court
Maryland Medical Cannabis Commission
National Credit Union Administration
National Marine Fisheries Service
Navajo Nation
New York State Unified Court System
Office of the Comptroller of the Currency
Pennsylvania Supreme Court
State Bar of Texas
Three Affiliated Tribes of the Fort Berthold Reservation
U.S. Agency for International Development
U.S. Army
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Census Bureau
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit
U.S. Customs and Border Protection
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of Transportation
U.S. Department of the Interior
U.S. Department of the Treasury
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Florida

the Environmental Protection Agency, but not everyone sees the decision as a huge stumbling block.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

How Congress Is Addressing Employment Visa Backlog

Although immigration reform is far from reach, six bills recently proposed in Congress represent an increased interest in solving the employment-based immigration backlog that currently affects more than 1 million people and puts strain on employers to extend temporary work authorizations, say attorneys at Faegre Drinker.

Read full article »

New Fla. Law Is Good For Both Gig Workers And Employers

A recently effective Florida law, shielding companies that aid gig workers from misclassification claims, helps protect both independent contractors and their employers during times of emergency, and could be a road map for other states looking to extend similar protections, says Brett Owens at Fisher Phillips.

Read full article »

Insights And Omissions From Calif. Privacy Rules Draft

The California Privacy Protection Agency's recently released draft regulations provide clarity on aspects of the California Privacy Rights Act and insight into the agency's priorities, but also add new requirements beyond the scope of the CPRA and leave out significant regulations that businesses have been eagerly awaiting, say attorneys at Gibson Dunn.

1 document attached | Read full article »

FERC Interconnection Revamp Plan: Some Pain, Big Gains

While the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's recent proposal for major changes to electric generator interconnection procedures will likely cause some initial complications for transmission providers and generation developers, the reforms should ultimately make the process faster and more efficient, say attorneys at Day Pitney.

Read full article »

A Former Cannabis Regulator On Shaping A Nascent Industry

Matthew McCarthy at Duane Morris shares three insights gleaned from his time as the lead prosecutor in regulatory enforcement actions at the Maryland Medical Cannabis Commission, highlighting personnel issues stemming from employees' prior experience in the illegal market, lessons from Canada, and recommendations for industry self-governance.

Read full article »

Opinion

Law School Admissions Shouldn't Hinge On Test Scores

The American Bar Association recently granted law schools some latitude on which tests it can consider in admissions decisions, but its continued emphasis on test scores harms student diversity and is an obstacle to holistic admissions strategies, says Aaron Taylor at AccessLex.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. General Services Administration
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement
U.S. Secret Service
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the District of Colorado
United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio
Ysleta del Sur Pueblo

Legal Sector Adds 3K Jobs In June As Industry Rebounds

The legal industry added 3,000 jobs in June as employment in the sector continued to rebound after a slow start to the year, according to preliminary data released Friday by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Read full article »

Allen & Overy To Expand Outsourcing Platform To California

Allen & Overy LLP said Friday that it is poised to bring its flexible sourcing platform Peerpoint to California, after introducing the service in New York last fall, as firms grapple with turmoil in the job market sparked by the pandemic and amid growing economic strains.

Read full article »

Mayer Brown Adds Private Equity Pro From Katten

Mayer Brown LLP has hired a private equity specialist in London from Katten Muchin Rosenman LLP as part of an effort to expand its global practice.

Read full article »

Security Guards Union Loses COVID Protocol Suit For Good

A lawsuit alleging federal courthouses weren't properly cleaned and sterilized during the COVID-19 pandemic met its end in New York federal court Friday, with a judge ruling that the union behind the litigation failed to show how it was harmed by the alleged uncleanliness.

Read full article »

1 In 20 Death Row Reversals Tied To Prosecutor Misconduct

Over the last 50 years, prosecutor misconduct has played a role in 550 sentence reversals and exonerations of prisoners on death row, a recent study shows.

Read full article »

GC Cheat Sheet: The Hottest Corporate News Of The Week

A former Goldman top lawyer is helping the NFL's Dan Snyder as a U.S. House committee tries to subpoena the embattled Washington Commanders owner, and BigLaw leaders said they're focusing on retaining talent, investing in new technologies and growing. These are some of the stories in corporate legal news you may have missed in the past week.

Read full article »

UK Litigation Roundup: Here's What You Missed In London

The past week in London has seen Warner Bros in two separate suits over copyright, Visa facing another competition suit over its fees, and a Scottish businessman suing a finance company for professional negligence over a failed Scottish news venture. Here, Law360 looks at these and other new claims in the U.K.

Read full article »

In Case You Missed It: Hottest Firms And Stories On Law360

For those who missed out, here's a look back at the law firms, stories and expert analyses that generated the most buzz on Law360 last week.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Litigation Attorney
Harter Secrest & Emery LLP
-, -

Deputy General Counsel – Legal Department (LEG)
International Monetary

Fund
Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.

However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,

you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

[redacted] ECHO Colorado Monthly eNews: What's ECHOing in August

SUBJECT: 8.5.22 DHHS Weekly Briefing: Please Review and Add Appropriate Items
FROM: "Krisann Humphreys Bacon (DHHS)" <krisannbacon@utah.gov>
TO: dhhsedo@utah.gov, "Joe Dougherty (DHHS)" <joedougherty@utah.gov>, "Melissa Stevens Dimond (DHHS)" <melissastevens@utah.gov>
DATE: 02/08/2022 09:43

Good morning,

Attached is the Governor's Weekly Briefing template for this week, please add items as needed.

I'm also attaching the index/catalogue of past items for your review to see if there are items from past reports we should provide updates for.

Here's a list of topics from the previous reports:

988 Launch
Administration for Children and Families Visit.
Bebtelovimab Supply
Block Grant Letter
CDC/FDA approval for COVID-19 vaccines for children 6 months+
Clinical Response Team for JJYS
Concerns about case file accuracy for DCFS
COVID-19 Test Kits in Libraries and Food Pantries
COVID-19 Therapeutics
DHHS Consolidation – IT Merge Planning
DHHS Results-Based Accountability Plan & Metrics
Disposal of Expired COVID Test Kits
EPA Letter.
FEMA Reimbursement
Improve Coordination w/Local Health Dept
Infant formula shortages
Interim Legislative session updates
Juvenile Justice and Youth Services (JJYS)
Martha Hughes Cannon Birthday and Merger Implementation Event
Medical Cannabis.
Monkeypox Update
Nicotine Lawsuit
Office of Medical Examiner–NY Times
OME Update
Opening of a new youth center in American Fork
PEHP Rebates
Policies Supporting Women, Children & Families
Public Health Infrastructure, Workforce, and Data Systems grant application
Renewal of Medicaid 1115 Waiver
SCOTUS
Senior Leadership Positions.
Trigger Law
UDDC
Utah Forensic Settlement Agreement (Utah State Hospital).
Utah Resources for Mothers and Families

Please let me know if you have any questions! Thank you!

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

Krisann Bacon
Special Projects | Executive Director's Office
C: 385.377.4168
krisannbacon@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: RE: CDCF MOA Amendment - Utah
FROM: Lauren Bader <lbader@cdcfoundation.org>
TO: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
CC: Robert Foley <rfoley@cdcfoundation.org>, Janae Duncan<janaeduncan@utah.gov>, Mark Schwarz <markschwarz@utah.gov>
DATE: 02/08/2022 11:04

Hello Utah Department of Health partners,

I wanted to follow up regarding the MOA attachment amendment needed to retain CDC Foundation staff supporting your jurisdiction through mid-October. If it would be helpful to set up a brief call to discuss the amendment and any questions you may have, please let me know.

Having gone back through my email, I realize Janae and Mark were involved in executing the Master MOA and initial attachments, so I've looped them in as well.

Warm regards,
Lauren

Lauren Bader, MPH (she/her/hers | what's this?)
Area Coordinator
COVID-19 Vaccine and Workforce Project
CDC Foundation
303.482.7737 (cell)

From: Lauren Bader
Sent: Thursday, July 28, 2022 12:36 PM
To: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
Cc: Robert Foley <rfoley@cdcfoundation.org>
Subject: RE: CDCF MOA Amendment - Utah

Hello Heather,

I hope your week is going well. We have been sending a lot your way recently, so I wanted to check in to see if you have had a chance to review the attached MOA attachment A amendment and if you had any questions.

Amber Johnson is no longer with CDC Foundation, so please direct any questions you may have to Robert Foley.

Best,
Lauren

Lauren Bader, MPH (she/her/hers | what's this?)
Area Coordinator
COVID-19 Vaccine and Workforce Project
CDC Foundation
303.482.7737 (cell)

From: Lauren Bader
Sent: Thursday, July 7, 2022 6:27 PM
To: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
Cc: Robert Foley <rfoley@cdcfoundation.org>; Amber Johnson <amberjohnson@cdcfoundation.org>
Subject: CDCF MOA Amendment - Utah

Dear Heather,

The CDC Foundation thanks you for your partnership in the Vaccine and Public Health Workforce Initiative. In June, you received notification of plans for continuing this project after July 31, 2022.

To continue any type of staffing support after July, we are required to amend the existing memorandum of agreement (MOA) supporting this initiative. The current package contains the master MOA and two attachments (one for each of our project's respective funding mechanisms). The master MOA has no end date (or it terminates far enough into the future where the date does not create an issue) and does not need to be amended. However the attachments end on July 31, 2022. As all of the CDC Foundation's field employees supported under the Vaccine funding (41116) are being transferred to the Workforce funding (41120), there is only a need to amend the end date for Attachment A: 41120.

To facilitate this adjustment, we have prepared the amendment for you to review and sign. This amendment simply changes the end date from July 31, 2022, to October 15, 2022; note that all amendments for each jurisdiction are being processed with a new end date of October 15, 2022. If this transition date does not meet your jurisdictional needs, please reach out to us for a discussion using the contact information below.

We know you will need time to review the document, and route it through your internal channels. If you or anyone in your jurisdiction has questions or suggested edits to the proposed amendment, please email Robert Foley, one of the CDC Foundation's senior project directors, at rfoley@cdcfoundation.org, and Amber Johnson, project assistant, at amberjohnson@cdcfoundation.org. If you are able to sign the amendment, please send it back to Robert and Amber, and cc me. We will get it countersigned by Foundation leadership and return the executed copy to you (or whomever you name as the point of contact).

The Foundation does not have a standard protocol directing who at the jurisdiction should sign the amendment, as long as they are authorized to sign on behalf of the jurisdiction. The amendment signatory does not need to be the same person who signed the original MOA documents. Additionally, this amendment needs to be executed prior to July 31, 2022. Please let us know if you anticipate any challenges, or have questions regarding the language, intent or process.

Warm regards,
Lauren

Lauren Bader, MPH (she/her/hers | what's this?)
Area Coordinator
COVID-19 Vaccine and Workforce Project
CDC Foundation
Together our impact is greater
303.482.7737 (cell)
www.cdcfoundation.org
twitter . linkedin . facebook . instagram

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Fwd: CDCF MOA Amendment - Utah
FROM: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
TO: JANAE DUNCAN <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, Melissa Stevens Dimond <melissastevens@utah.gov>
CC: Mark Schwarz <markschwarz@utah.gov>
DATE: 02/08/2022 11:18

I apologize---I never realized I was the only one included on the original email, and since I haven't been directly involved with the Foundation for quite a while, I missed doing anything to act on it. Can you please work to process this for signatures?

Thank you, and again, apologize for the delay I've created.
HB

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Lauren Bader <lbader@cdcfoundation.org>
Date: Tue, Aug 2, 2022 at 11:04 AM
Subject: RE: CDCF MOA Amendment - Utah
To: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
Cc: Robert Foley <rfoley@cdcfoundation.org>, Janae Duncan <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, Mark Schwarz <markschwarz@utah.gov>

Hello Utah Department of Health partners,

I wanted to follow up regarding the MOA attachment amendment needed to retain CDC Foundation staff supporting your jurisdiction through mid-October. If it would be helpful to set up a brief call to discuss the amendment and any questions you may have, please let me know.

Having gone back through my email, I realize Janae and Mark were involved in executing the Master MOA and initial attachments, so I've looped them in as well.

Warm regards,
Lauren

Lauren Bader, MPH (she/her/hers | what's this?)
Area Coordinator
COVID-19 Vaccine and Workforce Project
CDC Foundation
303.482.7737 (cell)

From: Lauren Bader
Sent: Thursday, July 28, 2022 12:36 PM
To: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
Cc: Robert Foley <rfoley@cdcfoundation.org>
Subject: RE: CDCF MOA Amendment - Utah

Hello Heather,

I hope your week is going well. We have been sending a lot your way recently, so I wanted to check in to see if you have had a chance to review the attached MOA attachment A amendment and if you had any questions.

Amber Johnson is no longer with CDC Foundation, so please direct any questions you may have to Robert Foley.

Best,
Lauren

Lauren Bader, MPH (she/her/hers | what's this?)
Area Coordinator
COVID-19 Vaccine and Workforce Project
CDC Foundation
303.482.7737 (cell)

From: Lauren Bader
Sent: Thursday, July 7, 2022 6:27 PM
To: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
Cc: Robert Foley <rfoley@cdcfoundation.org>; Amber Johnson <amberjohnson@cdcfoundation.org>
Subject: CDCF MOA Amendment - Utah

Dear Heather,

The CDC Foundation thanks you for your partnership in the Vaccine and Public Health Workforce Initiative. In June, you received notification of plans for continuing this project after July 31, 2022.

To continue any type of staffing support after July, we are required to amend the existing memorandum of agreement (MOA) supporting this initiative. The current package contains the master MOA and two attachments (one for each of our project's respective funding mechanisms). The master MOA has no end date (or it terminates far enough into the future where the date does not create an issue) and does not need to be amended. However the attachments end on July 31, 2022. As all of the CDC Foundation's field employees supported under the Vaccine funding (41116) are being transferred to the Workforce funding (41120), there is only a need to amend the end date for Attachment A: 41120.

To facilitate this adjustment, we have prepared the amendment for you to review and sign. This amendment simply changes the end date from July 31, 2022, to October 15, 2022; note that all amendments for each jurisdiction are being processed with a new end date of October 15, 2022. If this transition date does not meet your jurisdictional needs, please reach out to us for a discussion using the contact information below.

We know you will need time to review the document, and route it through your internal channels. If you or anyone in your jurisdiction has questions or suggested edits to the proposed amendment, please email Robert Foley, one of the CDC Foundation's senior project directors, at rfoley@cdcfoundation.org, and Amber Johnson, project assistant, at amberjohnson@cdcfoundation.org. If you are able to sign the amendment, please send it back to Robert and Amber, and cc me. We will get it countersigned by Foundation leadership and return the executed copy to you (or whomever you name as the point of contact).

The Foundation does not have a standard protocol directing who at the jurisdiction should sign the amendment, as long as they are authorized to sign on behalf of the jurisdiction. The amendment signatory does not need to be the same person who signed the original MOA documents. Additionally, this amendment needs to be executed prior to July 31, 2022. Please let us know if you anticipate any challenges, or have questions regarding the language, intent or process.

Warm regards,
Lauren

Lauren Bader, MPH (she/her/hers | what's this?)
Area Coordinator
COVID-19 Vaccine and Workforce Project
CDC Foundation
Together our impact is greater
303.482.7737 (cell)
www.cdcfoundation.org
twitter . linkedin . facebook . instagram

SUBJECT: ECHO Colorado Monthly eNews: What's ECHOing in August
FROM: ECHO Colorado <susan.stoveall@cuanschutz.edu>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 02/08/2022 12:53

August 2022

Check out our new What Is ECHO? video!
Learn about or get a refresher on what to expect when you participate in an ECHO series.

COMING IN AUGUST

Family Health Centers of San Diego, the ECHO Institute, University of Washington and University of Colorado have collaborated to provide a CDC-funded monthly webinar-style ECHO learning session and an online course to rapidly disseminate Post-COVID Conditions (PCC) and Myalgic Encephalomyelitis/Chronic Fatigue Syndrome (ME/CFS) findings and emerging best practices.

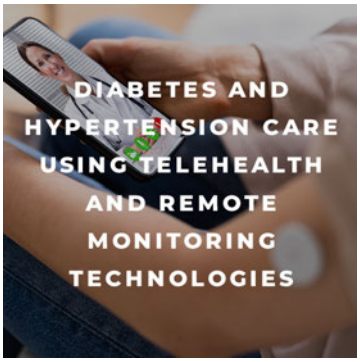
Next ECHO session August 11
Physical Activity and Post COVID Conditions
CLICK HERE to register
(Webinars are held on the second Thursday of the month.)

Long COVID and Fatiguing Illness Recovery Program Short Course 2
Online now through September 12
CLICK HERE to read more

The goal of this series is to provide updates and practical guidance on the use of telehealth tools and programming in diabetes, hypertension and high blood cholesterol management. The three-session series will provide practical information on incorporating remote patient monitoring (RPM) in your practice, including the use of continuous glucose monitors (CGM) and self-measured blood pressure (SMBP) monitoring.



Three weekly ECHO sessions | Wednesdays starting August 17

LEARN MORE

This series is a statewide partnership between ECHO Colorado and the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment bringing you the most relevant information on rapidly evolving public health topics including the COVID pandemic, epidemiology, state-distributed therapeutics, vaccines and more.

Topics for this series continue to evolve based on the educational needs of Colorado healthcare providers in staying up-to-date on relevant public health guidelines and new information.

Ongoing monthly ECHO sessions | Next session August 26

LEARN MORE

COMING IN SEPTEMBER

This series offers clinically relevant topics for those who provide or are looking to build, expand and improve care to preteens through young adults. Once completed, participants will be able to evaluate and manage common conditions in adolescent reproductive health.

Six weekly ECHO sessions | Thursdays starting September 1

LEARN MORE

Autism: Core Concepts for Primary Care Part 2 supports providers in the screening, diagnosis and management of patients with an autism spectrum disorder and related developmental delays. Sessions include a brief didactic presentation by an expert and discussion of participant-submitted cases.

Five weekly ECHO sessions | Wednesdays starting September 7

LEARN MORE

ONGOING ECHOS

This series is designed to support clinical providers interested in improving care for transgender and gender non-binary patients. Participants will increase their knowledge and confidence in providing gender-affirming care including routine primary care, hormone therapy management, surgical options and supporting mental health.

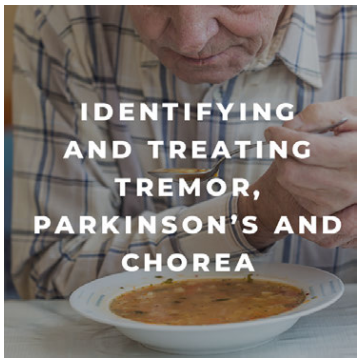
Next Session August 4:
Eating Disorders in the Transgender Community
READ ABOUT THE SPEAKER
Barbara Kessel, DO

Ongoing monthly ECHO sessions | Thursdays

LEARN MORE

COMING THIS FALL / WINTER

Pre-register to receive advance notification of registration open date.



This series introduces quick exam techniques to assess tremor and rapidly narrow your differential diagnosis. You will learn about treatment basics in PD and when to refer. The series will cover reliable recognition and differential diagnosis of chorea and highlight the most common genetic cause of chorea and Huntington's Disease (HD), as well as effective new treatments for chorea.

PRE-REGISTER

The goal of this series is to improve patient care experiences and access to high-quality healthcare for women from diverse racial and ethnic groups who are experiencing menopause. The series will provide an evidence-based, comprehensive curriculum covering the current state of knowledge on racial and ethnic disparities, opportunities to increase provider self-awareness and confidence, and opportunities to improve communication with patients.

Participants will have the opportunity to apply their knowledge actively in immersive experiences with virtual reality avatars!

Seven weekly ECHO sessions | Wednesdays starting September 14

PRE-REGISTER

This ECHO series is designed to support clinicians who care for pregnant patients in the evaluation and treatment of common mental health conditions presenting in the perinatal period. Facilitated by a multidisciplinary team including obstetrician gynecologists, perinatal psychiatrists, psychologists and social workers, each session will include a brief presentation by an expert followed by discussion of participant-submitted cases.

Eight weekly ECHO sessions | Tuesdays starting January 10

PRE-REGISTER

ECHO COLORADO | EXTENSION FOR COMMUNITY HEALTH OUTCOMES | ECHOCOLORADO.ORG

Copyright © 2022 ECHO Colorado, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you opted in via our website.

Our mailing address is:
ECHO Colorado
13055 E 17th Ave Stop F801
Aurora, CO 80045-2505

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

SUBJECT: (V) PREP - Interim Session
FROM: mwatterson@utah.gov
TO: apinna@utah.gov, aslater@utah.gov, austinpreston@utah.gov, davidlitvack@utah.gov, "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>, joedougherty@utah.gov, jstrohecker@utah.gov, kharvey@utah.gov, mhofmann@utah.gov, natechecketts@utah.gov, natewinters@utah.gov, pray@utah.gov, rebeccab@utah.gov, swatkins@utah.gov, thales@utah.gov, tracygruber@utah.gov, trentbrown@utah.gov, trudyellis@utah.gov, xthomas@utah.gov, mwatterson@utah.gov
DATE: 02/08/2022 15:10

Notes and Outstanding Items:
Shari to reach out to get further clarification from LFA staff on some items.
Nate and Tonya to follow-up with Brent Kelsey and Eric Tedahara on presentations/reports/draft legislation
Questions that came up after 3pm:
* Not sure if Russell will be presenting on Services for Pregnant Women or if our Staff is being expected to present for the 20 minutes set aside?
* Will Nate Winters be presenting on the Performance Measures Audit follow-up?

Join with Google Meet

Meeting link
[redacted]

Join by phone
(US) [redacted]
PIN: [redacted]

More phone numbers

(V) PREP - Interim Session

Tuesday Aug 2, 2022 · 2pm – 3pm (Mountain Time - Denver)

Purpose: To verify the agenda items and requests of the Department (i.e. presentations).

Location
Join with Google Meet , MASOB-4-Admin 4058 (30) [Jamboard Smart Board, Projector, Web Cam]
View map

Guests
trudyellis@utah.gov - organizer
aslater@utah.gov
davidlitvack@utah.gov
Heather Borski (DHHS)
mhofmann@utah.gov
mwatterson@utah.gov
natechecketts@utah.gov natewinters@utah.gov
pray@utah.gov
rebeccab@utah.gov swatkins@utah.gov
thales@utah.gov
tracygruber@utah.gov
xthomas@utah.gov
joedougherty@utah.gov trentbrown@utah.gov
apinna@utah.gov
jstrohecker@utah.gov
austinpreston@utah.gov
kharvey@utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: UDHHS COVID-19 I/T/U Call Tomorrow 8.3.22 at 1 pm
FROM: "Melissa Zito (DHHS)" <mzito@utah.gov>
TO: ike Jensen <mjensen@unhsinc.org>, Stephanie Singer <stephanies@unhsinc.org>, Shawn Begay <sbegay@unhsinc.org>, Keldon Brown <kbrown@unhsinc.org>, "Tyler Goddard (IHS/PHX)" <tgoddard@fourpointshealth.org>, Candace Bear <candaceb@svgoshutes.com>, Lorena Horse <lorenah@schc.net>, Helen Steele <helen.steele@ctgr.us>, "Steele, Christine" <christine.steele@ctgr.us>, Rupert Steele <rupert.steele@ctgr.us>, Rupert Steele <rupertsteele@yahoo.com>, Selwyn Whiteskunk <Selwyn.Whiteskunk@utemountain.org>, "Trocheck, John" <jtrocheck@utemountain.org>, Hunter Timmboo <htimbimboo@nwbshoshone.com>, "George E. Gover" <ggover@nwbshoshone.com>, Felecia Cuch <feleciac@utetribe.com>, Rick Chapoose JR <rickchapoosejr@utetribe.com>, Ryan Ward <rward@iwic.org>, Jamie Ritchey <Jamie.Ritchey@itcaonline.com>, "Zubel, Lawrence (IHS/PHX)" <Lawrence.Zubel@ihs.gov>, Lesa Jenkins <Lesajenkins12@gmail.com>, "LeAnna VanKeuren, MBA/HSA" <leanna.vankeuren@ihs.gov>, Rozanna Padilla <RozannaP@utetribe.com>, Davis Filfred <Dave.fred23@yahoo.com>, "Mark A. Freeland" <m.freeland@navajo-nsn.gov>, Shaun Chapoose <shaunc@utetribe.com>, Luke Dunkin <luked@utetribe.com>, Manuel Rico <mrico@navajo-nsn.gov>, Nathaniel Brown <nbrown@navajo-nsn.gov>, Charlaine Tso <charlainetso@navajo-nsn.gov>, "cparry@nwbshoshone.com" <cparry@nwbshoshone.com>, Shane Parashonts <sparashonts@utahpaiutes.org>, Felecita <felecitaf@utetribe.com>, "Jonathan S Flitton (IHS/PHX)" <Jonathan.flitton@ihs.gov>, Manuel Heart <Manuel.Heart@utemountain.org>, "A. Byron Clarke" <bclarke@unhsinc.org>, Del Yazzie <dely@navajo-nsn.gov>, Ramona Antone-Nez <r.antonenez@navajo-nsn.gov>, "Jill Jim, PhD, MHA, MPH" <JillJim@navajo-nsn.gov>, "David L. Foley" <dlfoley@navajo-nsn.gov>, Dondie Howell <dondieh@utetribe.com>, Kirby Arrive <KirbyArrive@utetribe.com>, Marissa Maxwell-Kaime <mmaxwell-kaime@utemountain.org>, "Herman Daniels, Jr." <hdaniels@navajo-nsn.gov>, "Donovan A. Hanley" <dahanley@navajo-nsn.gov>, Dennis Alex <banner02@gmail.com>, Jessica Sutherland <jessica@svhealthclinic.com>, Adrian Dominguez <AdrianD@uihi.org>, Malcolm Lehi <malcolm.lehi@utemountain.org>, "Johnson, Hope (IHS/PHX)" <Hope.Johnson@ihs.gov>, Gwen Cantsee <gcantsee@utemountain.org>, Josh Anderson <josha@schc.net>, Greselda Rogers <grogers@utemountain.org>, Victor <victor@svhealthclinic.com>, Nicole Slowman <nicoleslowman@navajo-nsn.gov>, Johnathan Nez <jonathannez@navajo-nsn.gov>, Myron Lizer <myronlizer@navajo-

nsn.gov>, Yvonne Kee Billison <yvonnekeebillison@navajo-nsn.gov>, Paulson Chaco <paulsonchaco@navajo-nsn.gov>, Candelora Lehi <c.lehi@sanjuanpaiute-nsn.gov>, Kendra Tortalita <Ktortalita@utemountain.org>, "Michele L. Morris" <michelemorris@navajo-nsn.gov>, "McDonald, Brent (IHS/PHX)" <Brent.McDonald@ihs.gov>, Tamara Borchardt - Slayton <indianpeaks@utahpaiutes.org>, "Harrell, Janette L (IHS/ALB)" <janette.harrell@ihs.gov>, Torrie <vmigoli@iwic.org>, Corrina Bow <corrina_bow@yahoo.com>, daniel.sherron@ihs.gov, "Dr. Leland Leonard" <l.leonard@sanjuanpaiute-nsn.gov>, juliusm@utetribe.com, christ@utetribe.com, Reannin Tapoof <reannint@utetribe.com>, Ed Secakuku <edreds@utetribe.com>, Tom Stephenson <tstephenson@utemountain.org>, J.lehijr@sanjuanpaiute-nsn.gov, Louise Tallman <L.tallman@sanjuanpaiute-nsn.gov>, Richard Graymountain <r.graymountain@sanjuanpaiute-nsn.gov>, Tina Groves <kgroves@iwic.org>, Katie Jones <katiej@sacredcircle.com>
CC: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Alex Merrill <armerrill@utah.gov>, Hilary Makris <hmakris@utah.gov>, Michelle Hofmann <mhofmann@utah.gov>, Kassie John <kassiejohn@utah.gov>, Larry Echo Hawk <lechohawk@agutah.gov>, Dorrie Reese <dmreese@utah.gov>, Anna Boynton <aboynton@utah.gov>, James Toledo <jtoledo@utah.gov>, Dustin Jansen <djansen@utah.gov>, Dominique Talahaftewa <dtalahaftewa@utah.gov>, Jeremy Taylor <jeremytaylor@utah.gov>
DATE: 02/08/2022 17:01

Good afternoon UIHAB representatives, PHEP coordinators, TEC & IHS partners, and Tribal Leadership,

I hope this finds you doing well and ready for our monthly COVID-19 I/T/U call. Please find below the meeting call/link information should you need it:

Meeting ID
[redacted]
Phone Numbers
(US [redacted]
PIN: [redacted]

As a reminder for your information and references, here is the website you can order Home Testing Kits and PPE:
Home Testing Kits
[redacted]

PPE Ordering
[redacted]

I have also included some general websites for references:
Coronavirus Case Counts
https://coronavirus.utah.gov/case-counts/

COVID-19 Steady State
https://coronavirus.utah.gov/steady-state/

Monkeypox Video by Dr. Nolan
[redacted]

Alex's Epi Update will follow. If you have any questions or require any additional information, please don't hesitate to reach out to me or the team.

Talk with you tomorrow afternoon!

Best regards,
Melissa

--
Melissa Zito, MS, RN
Indian Health Liaison/Health Policy Consultant
O: 801-538-6771 C: 801-712-9346 F: 801-538-6780
mzito@utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
American Indian/Alaska Native Health & Family Services

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: US Levies New Russia Sanctions On Elites, Finance Cos.
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 03/08/2022 01:23

PUBLIC POLICY

[redacted]

LAW360®

Wednesday, August 3, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

US Levies New Russia Sanctions On Elites, Finance Cos.

The U.S. Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control announced new sanctions against Russia on Tuesday, targeting certain Russian "elites" and finance companies that generate "substantial" revenue for the Kremlin.

Read full article »

Pennsylvania Justices Uphold Mail-In Voting Law

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania upheld the state's 2019 voting law on Tuesday, finding that the legislature didn't need to amend the state's constitution to broaden mail-in voting beyond the categories of absentee voters enumerated there.

4 documents attached | Read full article »

Garland Outlines Abortion Protections In New Post-Dobbs Suit

The U.S. Department of Justice has filed its first lawsuit challenging a state-level abortion ban in the wake of the U.S. Supreme Court's Dobbs decision, targeting a law in Idaho that Attorney General Merrick Garland said Tuesday prevents doctors from providing "the emergency medical treatment that federal law requires."

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Why PE-Driven Law Firms Aren't Sweating Dems' Inflation Bill

A new bill proposed by the Senate Democrats could make private equity and hedge fund managers pay more income taxes. But the tax increase won't likely have a dramatic effect on advisory firms, industry experts said, suggesting the rule changes may even lead to more legal work in the short run.

Read full article »

Analysis

Delaying Eligibility At USPTO Seems To Have Limited Appeal

Only about one-third of patent applicants invited to take part in a pilot program allowing them to postpone dealing with patent eligibility rejections have accepted the offer, which attorneys say reflects a sense that doing so often has limited benefits, and can present risks.

Read full article »

DOL Defends Biden's Power To Hike Contractors' Min. Wage

The U.S. Department of Labor defended its implementation of the Biden administration's rule increasing federal contractors' minimum hourly wage to $15, telling a Colorado federal judge Tuesday that the president didn't overstep his authority when he mandated the wage hike.

Motion attached | Read full article »

CFIUS Reviews Reached 10-Year High In 2021

The Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States reviewed more transactions in 2021 than it has any year in the past decade, according to its annual report to Congress released Tuesday, signaling CFIUS' reinvigoration following statutory updates.

Report attached | Read full article »

Trans W.Va. Medicaid Participants Win Bias Suit

A class of over 600 transgender Medicaid participants in West Virginia won their suit alleging that the state program violated the Affordable Care Act's anti-discrimination provisions, with a federal judge ruling Tuesday that the state's law to deny gender-affirming care to transgender people is unconstitutional.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Arnold & Porter
BD&J
Bartlett LLP
Beveridge & Diamond
Bloom Firm
Bochetto & Lentz
Boyden Gray & Associates
Bryan Cave
Cleary Gottlieb
Consumer Litigation Associates
Debevoise & Plimpton
Denton Navarro
Dhillon Law Group
Dillon McCandless
Fain Anderson
Farnan LLP
Farrar & Ball
Foley & Lardner
Gehman Law
Gibson Dunn
Hangley Aronchick
Hausfeld LLP
Haynes & Boone
Hogan Lovells
Holland & Knight
Irell & Manella
Kinsella Weitzman
Kirkland & Ellis
Latham & Watkins
McDowell Hetherington
Morris Nichols
Nichols Kaster
O'Melveny & Myers

Senate Confirms Virginia District Court Judge Pick

The Senate voted in bipartisan fashion Tuesday to confirm U.S. Magistrate Judge Elizabeth Hanes as a district judge for the Eastern District of Virginia.

Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

NY Hits Robinhood Crypto With $30M Fine

The cryptocurrency unit of Robinhood Markets Inc. will pay a $30 million fine as part of a settlement resolving "significant" lapses in its compliance with anti-money laundering and cybersecurity regulations, New York's financial services agency said Tuesday.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Bank Groups Want CFPB To Supervise Data Aggregators

Banking industry groups on Tuesday urged the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau to extend its supervision to data aggregators, saying that technology companies' use of consumer financial data warrants closer scrutiny.

Petition attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

States, Groups Line Up To Defend Fuel Economy Standards

Numerous environmental groups, transportation electrification advocates, 21 states and several cities are seeking to intervene on the side of the Biden administration as it defends its move to finalize stricter fuel economy standards for cars.

4 documents attached | Read full article »

DC Circ. Backs FERC's OK Of Adelphia Pipeline Purchase

A D.C. Circuit panel on Tuesday upheld the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's decision to approve a natural gas pipeline takeover project in Pennsylvania and Delaware, rejecting claims that the commission was required to conduct a more rigorous environmental review.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

DC Circ. Urged To Ax EPA Drinking Water PFAS Advisory

A chemical industry group wants the D.C. Circuit to vacate recent health advisories issued by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency that lowered the levels at which certain PFAS chemicals are deemed safe in drinking water, arguing the agency's action wasn't rooted in sound science.

Petition attached | Read full article »

EPA Tells 9th Circ. It Will Blow Weedkiller Review Deadline

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency on Monday told the Ninth Circuit that it wasn't given enough time to reevaluate its determination that the active ingredient in Monsanto's weedkiller Roundup was not likely to cause cancer.

Petition attached | Read full article »

Water Districts Say DC Circ. Botched Hydropower Permit Case

Two California irrigation districts on Monday asked the D.C. Circuit for en banc review of a panel's decision that upheld the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's determination that a state agency properly denied Clean Water Act certificates for hydropower projects.

Petition attached | Read full article »

IP & TECHNOLOGY

New Senate Bill Calls For Study On Improving Patent Quality

The leaders of the U.S. Senate's intellectual property subcommittee introduced a bill Tuesday calling for the evaluation of patent examinations, with the goal of ensuring they lead to valid patents and uncover evidence of fraud in applications.

Bill attached | Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

Unions Assert Right To Challenge Tegna Go-Private Deal

Two major broadcast unions asserted their standing to fight Virginia-based broadcasting giant Tegna's plan to go

OGC Law LLC
Paul Weiss
PilieroMazza
Ropes & Gray
Rothwell Figg
Schaerr Jaffe
Seyfarth Shaw
Shearman & Sterling
Shuman McCuskey
Sidley Austin
Simpson Thacher
Sprouse Shrader
Stillman & Friedman
Stoel Rives
Troutman Pepper
WilmerHale

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

ABN AMRO Bank NV
Amazon.com Inc.
American Bankers Association
American Chemistry Council Inc.
American Fuel & Petrochemical Manufacturers
Apollo Global Management LLC
Apple Inc.
Aptevo Therapeutics Inc.
Asurion LLC
Atrium Medical Corp.
Bank of Montreal
Bayer AG
Bell Helmets Inc.
Bertelsmann AG
CTIA
CannaCraft Inc.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Commerzbank
Consumer Bankers Association
Costco Wholesale Corp.
Council for Responsible Nutrition
Covidien PLC
Cox Media Group Inc.
Credit Union National Association Inc.
Delaware Riverkeeper Network
Democracy Forward Foundation
Environmental Defense Fund Inc.
FanDuel Inc.
Fifth Third Bancorp
Financial Industry Regulatory Authority Inc.
First Liberty Institute
Fortress Investment Group LLC
Giro Sport Design International Inc.
Google LLC
Grifols SA
Horizon Bank
Hulu LLC
Intel Corp.
JPMorgan Chase & Co.
Lambda Legal Defense & Educational Fund
Las Vegas Raiders LLC
LinkedIn Corp.
Medtronic PLC
Mitsubishi UFJ Financial Group Inc.
Monsanto Co.
Natural Resources Defense Council

private in an $8.6 billion deal with hedge fund Standard General based on the premise that the move would harm local Tegna employees and consumers.

1 document attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

Change CEO Says UnitedHealth Deal Won't Harm Rivals

Change Healthcare's CEO testified on Tuesday as part of the U.S. Department of Justice's efforts to preserve the health care technology company's value as an "independent" source of health insurance claims data for UnitedHealth Group's insurer rivals, only to repeatedly argue that the agency's challenge to the $13.8 billion proposed merger has it all wrong.

Read full article »

Stephen King Testifies The More Publishers, The Better

Author Stephen King told a D.C. federal court on Tuesday that it's become tougher for writers to make a living from writing, testifying for the government in its bid to block Penguin Random House's planned acquisition of Simon & Schuster.

Read full article »

DC Court Won't Revive AG's Antitrust Suit Against Amazon

A District of Columbia Superior Court judge has denied the Washington attorney general's bid to reverse his decision tossing a complaint accusing Amazon of stifling e-commerce competition, saying the complaint relies on repeated and conclusory statements that lack factual information to support claims of anti-competitive conduct and harm.

Order attached | Read full article »

AEROSPACE & DEFENSE

Texas Air Force Vax Challengers Ask For Stricter Freeze

A group of service members behind a religious freedom challenge to the U.S. Air Force's COVID-19 vaccine mandate is urging a Texas federal court to issue its own order freezing the requirement, arguing a nationwide halt granted by an Ohio federal judge last week doesn't go far enough.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

Senate Again Passes Bill To Help Toxic-Exposed Vets

After delays from some Republican lawmakers, and with vocal support from comedian Jon Stewart, the U.S. Senate on Tuesday passed a broad, bipartisan bill that would expand access to benefits for veterans with health conditions linked to exposure to toxic substances, including fumes from open-air burn pits and the notorious Agent Orange.

Read full article »

BANKRUPTCY

Ex-Atty Off Hook For Calif. Bar's Victim Repayments

The Ninth Circuit said that a disbarred lawyer's debt stemming from restitution payments made by the State Bar of California to victims of a foreclosure scam can be discharged in his Chapter 7 bankruptcy.

Order attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

FCC 'Kicked Can' Down Road In Antenna Fight, DC Circ. Told

A company claiming that federal rules block a California city's revocation of antenna permits has urged the D.C. Circuit to compel the Federal Communications Commission to act on the issue after it purportedly "kicked the can down the road."

1 document attached | Read full article »

Senators Focus On Need To Extend FCC Auction Authority

A key panel of U.S. senators on Tuesday zeroed in on proposals to extend a Sept. 30 expiration of the Federal Communications Commission's authority to auction off the airwaves, as a bipartisan group agreed at least a short-term extension is critical.

5 documents attached | Read full article »

Optum Inc.
Pacific Legal Foundation
Paypal Holdings Inc.
Planned Parenthood Federation
Public Citizen Inc.
Rabobank
Rad Power Bikes Inc.
Robinhood Markets Inc.
Russian Direct Investment Fund
Sierra Club
Simon & Schuster Inc.
SmileDirectClub LLC
Spectrum Management Holding Co.
Standard General LP
State Bar of California
Tegna Inc.
The Brattle Group Inc.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
The Chemours Co.
Trividia Health Inc.
Twitter Inc.
Union of Concerned Scientists
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences
Vista Outdoor Inc.
Walmart Inc.
Zeughauser Group LLC
Zogenix Inc.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

California Attorney General's Office
California Commission on Judicial Performance
California State Transportation Agency
California Supreme Court
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Council on Environmental Quality
Executive Office of the President
Federal Aviation Administration
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Federal Trade Commission
Fish and Wildlife Service
Food and Drug Administration
Government Accountability Office
Hoopa Valley Tribe
Internal Revenue Service
Massachusetts Cannabis Control Commission
National Highway Traffic Safety Administration
National Marine Fisheries Service
National Telecommunications and Information Administration
New York Department of Financial Services
Occupational Safety and Health Administration
Office of Foreign Assets Control

Dem Lawmakers Ask FCC To Boost Tribes' Spectrum Access

A group of 10 Democratic lawmakers on Capitol Hill have urged Federal Communications Commission Chairwoman Jessica Rosenworcel to find ways to increase Native American broadband access and consider how to better advance tribes' ownership of spectrum over their lands.

Letter attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

Mass. Lawmakers OK Pot Industry Reform Bill

Massachusetts lawmakers reached a compromise for a legislative package late on Sunday that is designed to bolster social equity in the Bay State's cannabis industry.

Bill attached | Read full article »

Arkansas Marijuana Initiative Inches Closer To Statewide Vote

The Arkansas Board of Election Commissioners is expected to decide Wednesday if residents will get to vote in November on an amendment to the state constitution legalizing cannabis for adult use, after the proposed ballot reached the 90,000 signatures required for consideration.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Smoke Shop Says Texas City Can't Escape Harassment Suit

A Texas city should not be allowed to escape a smoke shop's accusations that it has been trying to harass the shop out of business just because the city is also prosecuting it in state court, a federal court heard.

Response attached | Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

'Waters Of US' Meaning May Get 'Major Questions' Scrutiny

After the U.S. Supreme Court's invocation of the so-called major questions doctrine in its recent decision in West Virginia v. U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the court is primed to use this concept to restrict federal wetlands protections under the ambiguous term "waters of the United States," says Peter Alpert at Ropes & Gray.

Read full article »

Benefits Of The Extended SBA Place Of Business Moratorium

The Small Business Administration recently extended a moratorium on the requirement that government contractors participating in the agency's 8(a) business development program establish a bona fide location, which should allow more companies to participate until Congress amends the outdated rule, says Meghan Leemon at PilieroMazza.

Read full article »

Opinion

DOJ's Fraud-On-The-FDA Liability Theory Is Problematic

The U.S. Department of Justice's renewed interest in a False Claims Act liability theory, arguing that misstatements before the U.S. Food and Drug Administration can render payment claims to other agencies false, encourages whistleblowers to stretch the FCA to its breaking point, say attorneys at Sidley.

Read full article »

What Cannabis Cos. Can Expect If Broadcast Ad Bill Passes

If it becomes law, a portion of the federal funding bill package that recently passed the House would allow for cannabis ads to be broadcast on local television and radio, creating an entirely new avenue for cannabis advertising that would require businesses to consider states' cannabis-specific statutory prohibitions, consumer protection laws and more, say John Heinbockel and Kenneth Wilton at Seyfarth.

Read full article »

Ore. Employers Must Heed Challenged Heat, Smoke Rules

Although the Oregon Occupational Safety and Health Division's recently adopted rules regarding employee exposure to heat and smoke are being challenged in court, employers should not wait on the outcome of the case before taking steps to ensure they are in compliance, say Louis Ferreira and Matthew Tellam at Stoel Rives.

Read full article »

Pennsylvania Attorney General's Office
Pennsylvania Department of State
Pennsylvania Supreme Court
Small Business Administration
U.S. Air Force
U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of State
U.S. Department of Transportation
U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs
U.S. Department of the Interior
U.S. Department of the Treasury
U.S. District Court for the District of Arizona
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of Delaware
U.S. District Court for the District of Idaho
U.S. District Court for the District of Oregon
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of West Virginia
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the District of Colorado
West Virginia Department of Health & Human Resources

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Del. Judge Calls VLSI's Funding Disclosure 'Inadequate'

Delaware Chief U.S. District Judge Colm Connolly has taken VLSI Technology to task for providing "clearly inadequate" disclosures of how it is funding patent litigation against Intel and improperly sealing a declaration from its CEO.

Read full article »

Alex Jones Apologizes, Spars With Opposing Counsel At Trial

InfoWars website owner Alex Jones testified before a Texas jury on Tuesday during a state court damages trial for defaming parents who lost a child in the 2012 Sandy Hook Elementary School shooting, apologizing for his actions and then accusing the plaintiffs' attorneys of showing an edited tape.

Read full article »

Bryan Cave, Kinsella Attys Sue E-Bike Co. Over Child's Death

A Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP counsel and Kinsella Weitzman Iser Kump Holly LLP partner hit Rad Power Bikes with a wrongful death suit in California state court Monday, saying their 12-year-old daughter was killed last year by a defectively designed electric bike inappropriately marketed to children.

Read full article »

Litigation Funders Claim Contractor Withheld Settlements

A group of litigation funders have claimed a New Jersey-based contractor has been finding them cases to fund but keeping settlement proceeds for himself, according to a lawsuit filed Monday in Pennsylvania state court.

Read full article »

CHP Officer Settles Suit Alleging Harassment By Ex-Justice

A Black California Highway Patrol officer who alleges she suffered sexual and racial harassment on the job, including by being propositioned by former Second District Court of Appeal Justice Jeffrey Johnson, reached a settlement in her suit against the CHP.

Read full article »

This Week's Regulatory Hires Span Finance, Gaming, Health

The past week has seen strong compliance, legal and risk hiring, with a variety of companies across the health care, sports and betting, and financial arenas plugging additions they said will help further growth and keep their businesses in line with their respective regulatory frameworks.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Bank Policy Institute
Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Change CEO Says UnitedHealth Deal Won't Harm Rivals
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 03/08/2022 02:49

LAW360®

Wednesday, August 3, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Change CEO Says UnitedHealth Deal Won't Harm Rivals

Change Healthcare's CEO testified on Tuesday as part of the U.S. Department of Justice's efforts to preserve the health care technology company's value as an "independent" source of health insurance claims data for UnitedHealth Group's insurer rivals, only to repeatedly argue that the agency's challenge to the $13.8 billion proposed merger has it all wrong.

Read full article »

Garland Outlines Abortion Protections In New Post-Dobbs Suit

The U.S. Department of Justice has filed its first lawsuit challenging a state-level abortion ban in the wake of the U.S. Supreme Court's Dobbs decision, targeting a law in Idaho that Attorney General Merrick Garland said Tuesday prevents doctors from providing "the emergency medical treatment that federal law requires."

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Eli Lilly 'Proud' Of Drug Rebate Specialist's Process

Eli Lilly and Co. tapped the right person to calculate drug rebate payments for Medicaid under vague rules and regulations, and the company didn't defraud the government of $60 million simply because her metrics were wrong, an Illinois federal jury heard Tuesday.

Read full article »

Sofia Vergara's Ex Tells Panel Jury Should Hear Embryo Suit

Sofia Vergara's ex-fiance Nick Loeb urged a California state appeals court Tuesday to reverse a lower court's ruling that prevents him from using their frozen pre-embryos, telling the panel the trial judge wrongly discounted his claims that he signed an agreement under duress due to her abuse.

Read full article »

Pa. Panel Puts Atty DQ Back On Table In Med Mal Suit

A Pennsylvania appellate panel Tuesday reinstated a medical malpractice plaintiff's efforts to disqualify defense counsel for a discovery violation in a suit accusing an anesthesiologist of botching a knee surgery patient's treatment, saying a defense attorney had improper communications with the nonparty surgeon who performed the surgery.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

W.Va. County Appeals Opioid Bellwether Ruling

A West Virginia county on Tuesday said it was appealing a verdict in favor of the nation's three largest drug distributors in the first federal bellwether trial over the opioid crisis, a day after the companies inked a $400 million deal to end similar claims from other cities in the state.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Cherokee Say Okla. Court Should Proceed With Opioid Suit

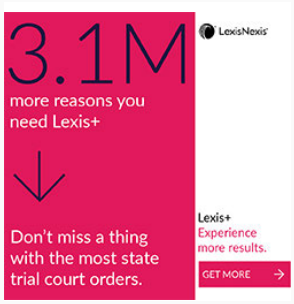
The Cherokee Nation says three national pharmacy chains accused of causing widespread opioid addiction cannot halt civil litigation they face in Oklahoma while the Tenth Circuit considers returning the issue to the federal judiciary, claiming the state court has "undisputed jurisdiction" over those proceedings.

Motion attached | Read full article »

POLICY & REGULATION

Senate Again Passes Bill To Help Toxic-Exposed Vets

After delays from some Republican lawmakers, and with vocal support from comedian Jon Stewart, the U.S. Senate on Tuesday passed a broad, bipartisan bill that would



COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

ABN AMRO Bank NV
Allergan PLC
AmerisourceBergen Corp.
Aptevo Therapeutics Inc.
Associated Press
Asurion LLC
Atrium Medical Corp.
Bank of Montreal
Bell Helmets Inc.
Berkshire Hathaway Inc.
CVS Health Corp.
CannaCraft Inc.
Cardinal Health Inc.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Chicago Bulls
Commerzbank
Conifer Health Solutions Inc.
Council for Responsible Nutrition
Covidien PLC
DENTSPLY International Inc.
Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Ltd.
Dentsply Sirona Inc.
Eli Lilly & Co.
FanDuel Inc.
Fifth Third Bancorp
Fortress Investment Group LLC
GigCapital4 Inc.
Giro Sport Design International Inc.
Grifols SA
Heidrick & Struggles International Inc.
Horizon Bank
Intel Corp.

expand access to benefits for veterans with health conditions linked to exposure to toxic substances, including fumes from open-air burn pits and the notorious Agent Orange.

Read full article »

Arkansas Marijuana Initiative Inches Closer To Statewide Vote

The Arkansas Board of Election Commissioners is expected to decide Wednesday if residents will get to vote in November on an amendment to the state constitution legalizing cannabis for adult use, after the proposed ballot reached the 90,000 signatures required for consideration.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

ENFORCEMENT & COMPLIANCE

Former Sixers Player Cops A Plea In NBA Health Fraud Case

A former Philadelphia 76ers guard admitted Tuesday to submitting a fake dental claim to the National Basketball Association's benefits plan, becoming the fourth league veteran to plead out of the Manhattan U.S. attorney's $4 million fraud crackdown.

Read full article »

LITIGATION

Trans W.Va. Medicaid Participants Win Bias Suit

A class of over 600 transgender Medicaid participants in West Virginia won their suit alleging that the state program violated the Affordable Care Act's anti-discrimination provisions, with a federal judge ruling Tuesday that the state's law to deny gender-affirming care to transgender people is unconstitutional.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Senior Center Loses Bid To Toss Insurer's Suit

A Berkshire Hathaway unit can continue its efforts to avoid coverage in a wrongful death suit against a senior living center, an Illinois federal judge said, finding that it's too early to toss the insurer's arguments.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

SEIU Pension Fund Escapes Hospital's Contributions Suit

A Service Employees International Union-run pension fund escaped a lawsuit challenging its pursuit of over $288,000 in contributions from a Pittsburgh-area hospital, with a Pennsylvania federal judge ruling Tuesday that SEIU Healthcare Pennsylvania should be the only defendant in the litigation.

Order attached | Read full article »

Ohio Justices Mull Time Limit To Sue Fleeing Surgeon

The Ohio Supreme Court on Tuesday weighed whether the time limit for medical malpractice claims can be stretched due to an "absent" defendant, as lawyers for an indicted Cincinnati surgeon who fled the country look to toss a patient's claims that he was severely injured by a botched surgery.

Read full article »

Ohio Justices Skeptical Of Co.'s Cyber Coverage Argument

Ohio Supreme Court justices seemed mostly unwilling to accept that something intangible like software can suffer direct physical damage, grilling a medical billing company's attorney in a case of first impression in the state over whether losses from a ransomware attack can be covered under a traditional property policy.

Read full article »

Texas' COVID Deadline Extension Deemed OK In Med Mal Suit

A Texas appellate court on Tuesday declined to toss a suit accusing a physician of medical malpractice, saying the state high court's emergency orders extending court deadlines due to the COVID-19 pandemic did not require a need-based showing.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Health Care Co. To Get $2.8M Monthly Bond In Hospital Suit

Texas-based Steward Health Care System LLC and five Florida hospitals must pay a $2.8 million a month bond pending a ruling on whether Tenet Healthcare Corp. has a contract right to terminate information technology and data services to the sites, the Delaware Chancery Court ruled Monday.

JPMorgan Chase & Co.
Lambda Legal Defense & Educational Fund
Las Vegas Raiders LLC
LinkedIn Corp.
Los Angeles Clippers
McKesson Corp.
Medtronic PLC
Memphis Grizzlies
Mitsubishi UFJ Financial Group Inc.
National Basketball Association Inc.
Optum Inc.
Pac-12 Enterprises LLC
Philadelphia 76ers
Planned Parenthood Federation
Rabobank
Rad Power Bikes Inc.
Service Employees International Union
SmileDirectClub LLC
Steward Health Care System LLC
Teladoc Health Inc.
Tenet Healthcare Corp.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
Trividia Health Inc.
Twitter Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences
University of Iowa
University of Pittsburgh Medical Center
Vista Outdoor Inc.
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.
Zeughauser Group LLC
Zogenix Inc.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Abrams & Bayliss
Armstrong Teasdale
BD&J
Bartlett LLP
Bartlit Beck
Bernstein Litowitz
Bleichmar Fonti
Bloom Firm
Bochetto & Lentz
Boies Schiller
Bredhoff & Kaiser
Bryan Cave
Cleary Gottlieb
Consumer Litigation Associates
Covington & Burling
Cozen O'Connor
DLA Piper
Davis Wright
Debevoise & Plimpton
Dyer Garofalo
Dykema
Fain Anderson
Farnan LLP
Farrar & Ball
Farrell & Fuller
Flaherty Sensabaugh
Foliart Huff
Gibson Dunn

Order attached | Read full article »

UpHealth Resolves Board Dispute, Chancery Suit Nixed

The splintered leadership of Florida-based digital health company UpHealth Inc. has settled its litigation in Delaware's Chancery Court after agreeing that some board members will resign and a controlling stockholder group will not nominate a competing director slate at the company's upcoming annual meeting.

Read full article »

3 Firms Vie To Lead Dentsply Revenue Reporting Investor Suit

Bleichmar Fonti & Auld LLP, Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP and Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann LLP have filed competing lead counsel bids in a proposed investor class action accusing dental supply company Dentsply Sirona Inc. of manipulating how it recognized certain revenue and artificially inflating its stock price.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

BetterHelp Owner Hit With Investor Suit Over Growth Claims

The owner of the mental health platform BetterHelp was hit with a proposed securities class action in a New York federal court Tuesday, accusing the company of misrepresenting the sustainability of its growth and providing unrealistic financial projections before its stock price fell earlier this year.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

This Week's Regulatory Hires Span Finance, Gaming, Health

The past week has seen strong compliance, legal and risk hiring, with a variety of companies across the health care, sports and betting, and financial arenas plugging additions they said will help further growth and keep their businesses in line with their respective regulatory frameworks.

Read full article »

Polsinelli Adds 6 Attys To Health Care Litigation, IP Groups

Polsinelli PC has hired six new attorneys for its growing practices, including a former federal prosecutor and ex-NASA engineer, the firm announced Monday.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Opinion

DOJ's Fraud-On-The-FDA Liability Theory Is Problematic

The U.S. Department of Justice's renewed interest in a False Claims Act liability theory, arguing that misstatements before the U.S. Food and Drug Administration can render payment claims to other agencies false, encourages whistleblowers to stretch the FCA to its breaking point, say attorneys at Sidley.

Read full article »

Employers Can Use COVID Models To Address Monkeypox

With New York, Illinois and California recently declaring emergencies in response to the global monkeypox outbreak, employers can rely on COVID-19 frameworks to reduce the impact of monkeypox in the workplace, and to stay ahead of concerns related to federal anti-discrimination laws, say April Boyer and Erinn Rigney at K&L Gates.

Read full article »

What Cannabis Cos. Can Expect If Broadcast Ad Bill Passes

If it becomes law, a portion of the federal funding bill package that recently passed the House would allow for cannabis ads to be broadcast on local television and radio, creating an entirely new avenue for cannabis advertising that would require businesses to consider states' cannabis-specific statutory prohibitions, consumer protection laws and more, say John Heinbockel and Kenneth Wilton at Seyfarth.

Read full article »

Green & Green
Healey Block
Herbert Smith Freehills
Hogan Lovells
Hoke LLC
Holden Litigation
Irell & Manella
Jackson Kelly PLLC
Jones Day
K&L Gates
Kinsella Weitzman
Kirkland & Ellis
Knobbe Martens
Lamb McErlane
Law Offices of John C. Camillus
McDowell Hetherington
Messa & Associates
Morris James
Morris Nichols
Motley Rice
Murray Murphy
Myers Doyle
Nichols Kaster
Phillips Murrah
Polsinelli PC
Powell & Majestro
Quinn Emanuel
Reed Smith
Richards Layton
Rick Steiner Fell
Robbins Geller
Ropes & Gray
Rosen Law Firm PA
Rothwell Figg
Scanlon Howley
Seyfarth Shaw
Shuman McCuskey
Sidley Austin
Simpson Thacher
Statman Harris
Stillman & Friedman
Taft Stettinius
Tressler LLP
Trojan Law Offices
Walden Macht
Whitten Burrage
Williams & Connolly
Willig Williams
WilmerHale
Zuckerman Spaeder

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

California Commission on Judicial Performance
California State Transportation Agency
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
Cherokee Nation
Delaware Court of Chancery
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Why PE-Driven Law Firms Aren't Sweating Dems' Inflation Bill

A new bill proposed by the Senate Democrats could make private equity and hedge fund managers pay more income taxes. But the tax increase won't likely have a dramatic effect on advisory firms, industry experts said, suggesting the rule changes may even lead to more legal work in the short run.

Read full article »

Senate Confirms Virginia District Court Judge Pick

The Senate voted in bipartisan fashion Tuesday to confirm U.S. Magistrate Judge Elizabeth Hanes as a district judge for the Eastern District of Virginia.

Read full article »

Del. Judge Calls VLSI's Funding Disclosure 'Inadequate'

Delaware Chief U.S. District Judge Colm Connolly has taken VLSI Technology to task for providing "clearly inadequate" disclosures of how it is funding patent litigation against Intel and improperly sealing a declaration from its CEO.

Read full article »

Alex Jones Apologizes, Spars With Opposing Counsel At Trial

InfoWars website owner Alex Jones testified before a Texas jury on Tuesday during a state court damages trial for defaming parents who lost a child in the 2012 Sandy Hook Elementary School shooting, apologizing for his actions and then accusing the plaintiffs' attorneys of showing an edited tape.

Read full article »

Bryan Cave, Kinsella Attys Sue E-Bike Co. Over Child's Death

A Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP counsel and Kinsella Weitzman Iser Kump Holly LLP partner hit Rad Power Bikes with a wrongful death suit in California state court Monday, saying their 12-year-old daughter was killed last year by a defectively designed electric bike inappropriately marketed to children.

Read full article »

Litigation Funders Claim Contractor Withheld Settlements

A group of litigation funders have claimed a New Jersey-based contractor has been finding them cases to fund but keeping settlement proceeds for himself, according to a lawsuit filed Monday in Pennsylvania state court.

Read full article »

CHP Officer Settles Suit Alleging Harassment By Ex-Justice

A Black California Highway Patrol officer who alleges she suffered sexual and racial harassment on the job, including by being propositioned by former Second District Court of Appeal Justice Jeffrey Johnson, reached a settlement in her suit against the CHP.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Internal Revenue Service
National Aeronautics and Space Administration
New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene
New York State Department of Health
Ohio Supreme Court
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of State
U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs
U.S. Department of the Treasury
U.S. District Court for the District of Arizona
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of Delaware
U.S. District Court for the District of Idaho
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of West Virginia
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio
United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio
West Virginia Attorney General's Office
West Virginia Department of Health & Human Resources
World Health Organization

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

[redacted]

ECHO Colorado Monthly eNews: What's ECHOing in August

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Abortion Rights Proponents Secure Huge Winin Kansas
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 03/08/2022 06:12

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 3, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

Democrats' Drug Pricing Measures Remain Extremely Popular
As Senate Democrats wait on pins and needles for Sen. Kyrsten Sinema's (D-Ariz.) response to the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022, they can do so with the knowledge that most of the provisions in their plan have majority support from voters — and especially strong backing for prescription drug measures.

The new Morning Consult/Politico survey found that roughly 3 in 4 voters support the three measures to lower prescription drug costs in Democrats' reconciliation bill. That includes support from about 7 in 10 Republicans on all three provisions. Support for a three-year extension of Affordable Care Act subsidies also enjoys majority support (56%), though more GOP voters than not oppose that measure.

Check out the full story here: Unpacking Voters' Perceptions of the Inflation Reduction Act.

Top Stories

- Kansas voters emphatically rejected a ballot measure that would have allowed the state's Republican-controlled legislature to toughen restrictions on abortion or ban the procedure altogether. In the first statewide referendum on abortion following the Supreme Court's ruling to overturn Roe v. Wade, proponents of abortion rights prevailed by roughly 20 percentage points in an election that turned out voters at levels comparable to a fall gubernatorial race. (The Associated Press)

- The Department of Justice sued Idaho over a law that would enforce a near-total ban on abortion starting Aug. 25, with the DOJ arguing in its first post-Roe v. Wade lawsuit that the state's "trigger" ban is a violation of federal rules to provide medical care when the life or health of a pregnant person is on the line. (The Washington Post) President Joe Biden, meanwhile, is set to sign his second abortion-related executive order today, directing the Health and Human Services secretary to consider using funds from Medicaid to aid the travel of patients seeking abortion care out of state. (Bloomberg)

[redacted]

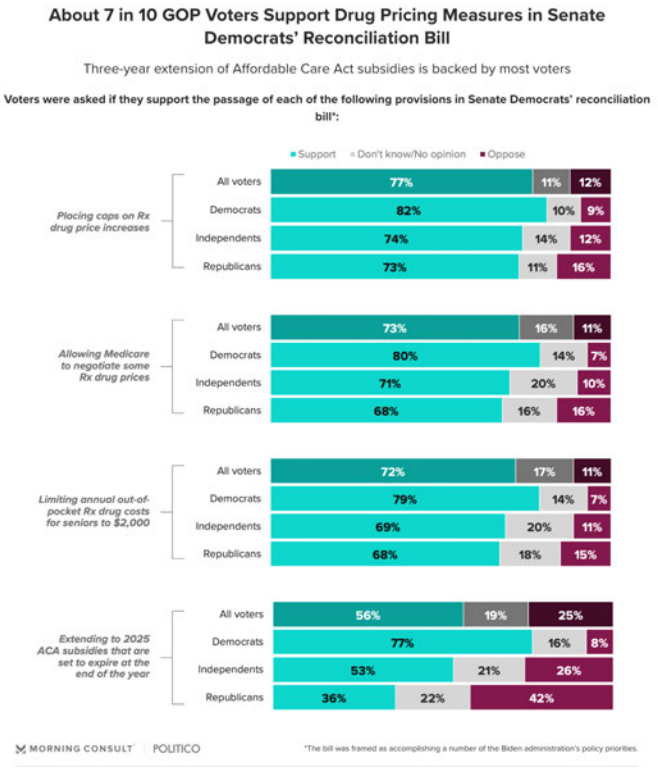
- A new HHS analysis of household survey data found that a record-low 8% of Americans were uninsured at the start of the year, as more than 5 million people have added coverage since 2020 following expansion of Medicaid in states through the Affordable Care Act, enhanced ACA premium subsidies and more targeted and sustained outreach. People in poverty and those earning incomes between 200% and 400% of the federal poverty level experienced the largest drops in uninsured rates. (USA Today)

- CVS Health Corp. reported second-quarter net income of $2.95 billion and revenue of $80.64 billion, up from $2.78 billion and $72.62 billion, respectively, from the year-ago period, as same-store sales climbed 8%. (CNBC) Moderna Inc. reported $4.5 billion in second-quarter sales of its COVID-19 vaccine, besting analyst expectations, while the drugmaker continues to project full-year vaccine sales of $21 billion, a figure unchanged despite its $1.74 billion deal with the federal government last week on a reformulated vaccine targeting omicron subvariants. (Reuters)

Chart Review

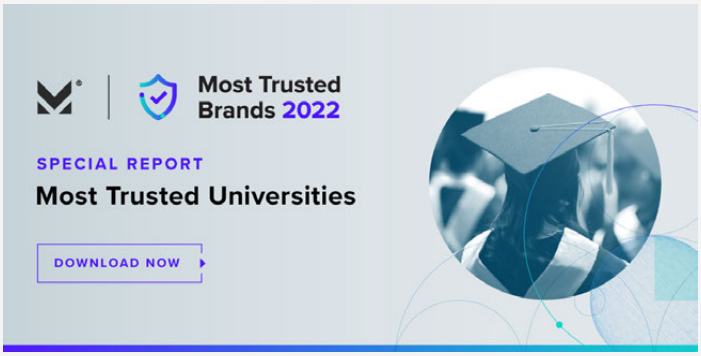
Unpacking Voters' Perceptions of the Inflation Reduction Act
Morning Consult



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



Most Trusted Universities Report 2022

Morning Consult's Most Trusted Universities Report measures the public view of trust in 135 doctoral universities featured in the U.S. News' 2022 Best National University Rankings. Our research breaks down how trust varies across diverse groups and different types of institutions while exploring key findings. Download today.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

Fourth Pfizer Dose Slashed Risk of Catching Omicron in Study
Dong Lyu, Bloomberg
Hospital workers who got a fourth dose of Pfizer Inc.'s messenger RNA vaccine were far less likely to get Covid than triple-vaccinated peers in a study.

Covid can rebound even in people who haven't taken Paxlovid, study finds
Reynolds Lewis, NBC News
Around a third of people with Covid will experience a rebound of their symptoms, regardless of whether they've been treated with the antiviral Paxlovid, according to a study posted online Tuesday.

Doctor: Biden's COVID symptoms return, in 'good spirits'
The Associated Press
President Joe Biden's "loose cough" has returned as he faces a rebound case of COVID-19, his doctor said Tuesday, though he "continues to feel well."

US stuck in a 'horrible plateau' of COVID-19 deaths, experts say. Here's why.

Adrianna Rodriguez, USA Today
Despite a slight uptick in July, the pace of COVID-19 deaths has remained steady since May at about 400 a day, according to a USA TODAY analysis of Johns Hopkins University data.

CNN Sheds Defamation Suit by Hydroxychloroquine-Touting Doctor
Mary Anne Pazanowski, Bloomberg Law
A Texas doctor who stood on the steps of the US Supreme Court and made a speech touting hydroxychloroquine as a treatment for Covid-19 has lost a defamation suit against CNN, after a Texas federal court said she didn't show the network's statements were false.

Omicron better at invading young noses than other variants
Nancy Lapid, Reuters
The Omicron variant may be more efficient at infecting children through the nose than previous versions of the coronavirus, a small study suggests.

GENERAL

Democrats confident about budget vote as GOP plans amendments
Lindsey McPherson and Laura Weiss, Roll Call
Sinema is likely anxious to see whether the prescription drug pricing provisions change significantly during the parliamentarian's review. Democrats are adding insulin provisions and making other tweaks, like replacing a 95 percent excise tax penalty on drugmakers who won't negotiate under the terms of the bill with a civil monetary penalty.

Veterans toxic exposure bill clears Senate after tortuous path
David Lerman, Roll Call
More than 3.5 million veterans who were exposed to toxic substances on overseas deployments will gain easier access to health and disability benefits under a bill that cleared the Senate Tuesday.

Health officials seek monkeypox vaccines, urge health emergency
Ariel Cohen, Roll Call
Public health officials are pressing the Biden administration to declare a public health emergency for monkeypox and say a lack of resources has forced clinics to ration vaccines and treatments and even motivated some patients to head to Canada for monkeypox vaccines.

Change Healthcare CEO Defends UnitedHealth Merger in Court
John Tozzi, Bloomberg
Change Healthcare Inc. Chief Executive Officer Neil de Crescenzo defended the company's proposed combination with UnitedHealth Group Inc. in court Tuesday as Justice Department attorneys attempted to prove the deal would harm competition.

Indiana doctors raise worries about proposed abortion ban
Arleigh Rodgers and Tom Davies, The Associated Press
Doctors fear they could face criminal charges when they provide emergency treatment for pregnant women if a proposal aimed at banning nearly all abortions in Indiana becomes law, several physicians told state lawmakers Tuesday.

Even simple exercise may help aging brain, study hints

Lauran Neergaard, The Associated Press
New research hints that even a simple exercise routine just might help older Americans with mild memory problems.

988 mental hotline sees 45% increase in calls and texts since debuting number
Jenny Goldsberry, Washington Examiner
The 988 mental health hotline has received over 96,000 calls, texts, and chats in a little over two weeks since it changed its number.

If You Grew Up in the US, You're Probably Already Vaccinated for Polio
Carrington York, Bloomberg
If you grew up in the US, chances are good that you're vaccinated against polio. It's also likely that you haven't given it much thought given that the disease has been teetering toward global eradication for years. But after a case appeared in suburban New York, stirring panic on social media about whether the US is taking a dangerous step back, here's what you should know:

Signify Health Considers Strategic Alternatives, Including a Sale
Laura Cooper and Cara Lombardo, The Wall Street Journal
Signify Health Inc. is working with bankers to explore strategic alternatives including a sale, according to people familiar with the matter, roughly 18 months after the healthcare-services company's initial public offering of stock.

Kentucky judge reinstitutes state abortion ban, reversing lower court
Andrew Jeong, The Washington Post
The decision by Kentucky Court of Appeals Judge Larry E. Thompson means abortions are again illegal in the state, unless a woman or other pregnant individual is at risk of death or serious permanent injury, with no exceptions for rape or incest. Health-care workers who provide abortion services can face up to five years in prison, though pregnant individuals are not subject to criminal liability.

PAYERS

Medicare reverses course on plan to hide hospital safety data next year
Tara Bannow, Stat News
Medicare will continue to report hospital safety data as usual next year after the program, apparently swayed by backlash from patient safety advocates, reversed course on its plan to keep some information under wraps.

Optum, Sanofi team to make low-cost insulin available to uninsured
Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare
Optum is teaming with Sanofi to make low-cost insulin available to people with diabetes who do not have insurance.

PROVIDERS

Senate Democrats unveil legislation to protect abortion providers
Joseph Choi, The Hill
A group of Senate Democrats on Tuesday introduced legislation that would protect physicians who provide abortion services in states where they are still legal from what one of the lawmakers referred to as "non-stop attacks from Republicans."

Warren says she won't back bipartisan abortion rights bill
Axios
Sen. Elizabeth Warren (D-Mass.) told NBC News Tuesday night she'll vote against a new bipartisan bill on federal abortion protections introduced in response to the Supreme Court overturning Roe v. Wade.

Retailers, payers and startups could capture 30% of primary care market by 2030: report
Heather Landi, Fierce Healthcare
Primary care has become a hot market as U.S. retailers place big bets on healthcare and payers and startups like Oak Street Health see a sector that's ripe for disruption. The primary care market is estimated to be worth around $260 billion.

Providers say inpatient pay adjustment for inflation not sufficient
Shannon Muchmore, Healthcare Dive
Providers remained largely unhappy early this week despite a final ruling issued by the CMS on Monday that increases inpatient payments to hospitals by more than was initially proposed.

Patient safety advocate cheers CMS' reversal on quality reporting, but hospitals say the data are no good
Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare
The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) has pulled back on plans to pause public reporting on certain hospital safety data in the wake of pushback from patient safety advocates.

Five states think assistant physicians can improve access. Doctors disagree.
Mari Devereaux, Modern Healthcare
Created to address clinical staffing shortages in underserved areas, the assistant physician role is also designed to employ medical school graduates who have not matched into a residency program.

J.D. Power: Mail-order pharmacies a growing threat to brick-and-mortar retailers
Frank Diamond, Fierce Healthcare
Patients are much more comfortable getting routine healthcare at brick-and-mortar pharmacies than they were in the past, thanks in large part to them having to flock to those pharmacies during the COVID-19 pandemic.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Gilead quarterly profit falls as COVID antiviral sales decrease
Deena Beasley, Reuters
Gilead Sciences Inc (GILD.O) on Tuesday said its second-quarter adjusted profit fell due to higher research and royalty costs as well as a downturn in sales of its COVID-19 antiviral drug Veklury.

Democrats' backdoor crackdown on pharma "gaming"
Caitlin Owens, Axios
Democrats' drug pricing plan could end drugmakers' practice of taking out overlapping patents around one drug — a strategy which fends off competitors but that the industry argues incentivizes innovation after a drug is approved.

U.S. appeals court panel decides AbbVie's 'patent thickets' for Humira don't thwart competition
Ed Silverman, Stat News
In a significant victory for AbbVie, a U.S. appeals court panel declined to revive a lawsuit that accused the company of using a so-called patent thicket to forestall competition for its Humira medication, a franchise product that generates billions of dollars in sales each year.

Teva Facing Adderall Supply Disruptions as Demand Soars
Ike Swetlitz, Bloomberg Law
Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd., the biggest seller of Adderall in the US, has been experiencing "supply disruptions" of the popular ADHD drug at a time when demand is at all-time highs, a spokesperson for the company said.

As new Alzheimer's drugs have failed, scientists are shifting focus to other potential causes
Berkeley Lovelace Jr., NBC News
As yet another Alzheimer's drug targeting plaque buildup in the brain fails to improve cognition in patients, leading scientists said a significant shift is underway in the search for effective treatments for the disease.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Rob Schutz, cofounder of telehealth startup Ro, is leaving the company
Jessica Bursztynsky, Fast Company
Schutz told employees in a memo on Tuesday that he will transition into an advisory role and continue to serve on the board.

How much are patients actually using mental health apps? Research on engagement is elusive
Mario Aguilar, Stat News
A new paper scrutinizing six clinical trials supporting four mental health apps cleared by the Food and Drug Administration argues there's an urgent need to close the "gap between intention and real-world efficacy for digital therapeutics" — specifically, the dearth of data on how much people actually use digital treatments.

Another class action over Meta's alleged patient data mining lists UCSF, Dignity Health as defendants
Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare
A second class action lawsuit has been filed against Facebook parent company Meta related to allegations of hospital website data collection, this time also listing UCSF Medical Center and Dignity Health as co-defendants.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

Amazon's Foray into Primary Care Won't Be Easy
David Blumenthal and Lovisa Gustafsson, Harvard Business Review
America's health care system seems, paradoxically, both endlessly innovative and profoundly dysfunctional. On the one hand, we hear almost daily about flashy new ventures like, most recently, Amazon's recent purchase of One Medical, a large provider of primary care, that promise transformative improvements in health care efficiency, quality, and service. On the other hand, the day-to-day performance of the U.S. health care system is an international embarrassment.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Physician Flash Report: August 2022

Kaufman Hall

Physician practices across the country stayed busy throughout the second quarter of 2022, as physician productivity and revenues all rose with higher patient volumes between the first and second quarter of the year. However, higher volumes also contributed to higher investments/ subsidies to assist physician practices. They also led to continued expense increases as practices contend with inflation and a tight labor market.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Fwd: The Morning: Monkeypox, explained
FROM: "Tracy Gruber (DHHS)" <tracygruber@utah.gov>
TO: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Michelle Hofmann (DHHS)" <mhofmann@utah.gov>, "Leisha Nolen (DHHS)" <lnolen@utah.gov>, "Joe Dougherty (DHHS)" <joedougherty@utah.gov>, "Jenny Johnson (DHHS)" <jennyjohnson@utah.gov>
DATE: 03/08/2022 08:00

I would like us to consider more messaging to the public at this point, as mentioned in this article. It's our role to provide transparent and clear messaging. I understand the balance with the gay community but there is enough dialogue and attention out there that it is starting to cause confusion with the public with respect to who is at risk and what can be done.

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

[redacted] ECHO Colorado Monthly eNews: What's ECHOing in August

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: The New York Times <nytdirect@nytimes.com>
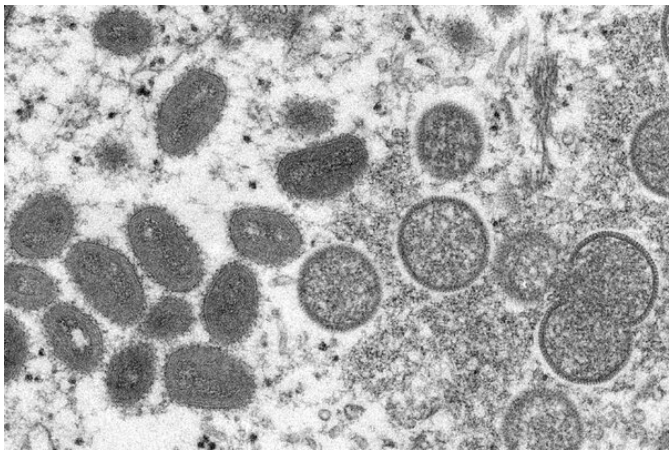
Date: Wed, Aug 3, 2022 at 4:37 AM
Subject: The Morning: Monkeypox, explained
To: <tracygruber@utah.gov>

The New York Times
The Morning
August 3, 2022

By German Lopez

Good morning. Monkeypox is not Covid, but there are good reasons to take precautions.

[redacted]



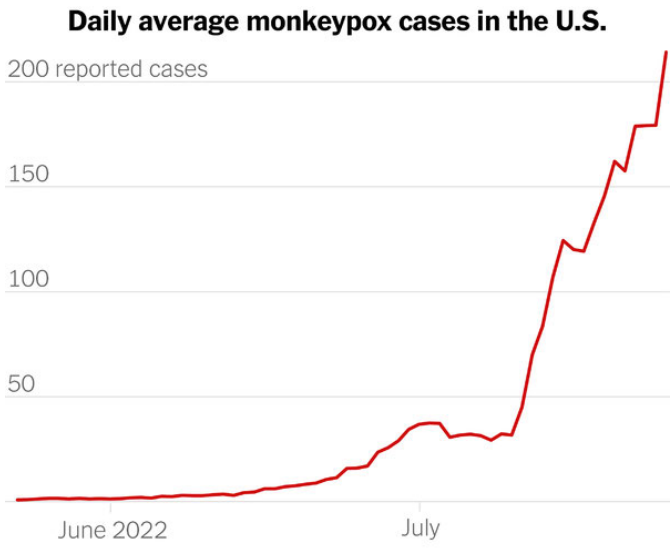
An electron microscope image of monkeypox virions. CDC, via Associated Press

A painful illness

The viral disease monkeypox is spreading around the world. So far, there are more than 6,300 known cases in the U.S., almost entirely among gay and bisexual men. New York, California, Illinois and some cities have declared states of emergency, following the World Health Organization's own declaration of a global emergency.

The headlines are grim enough that you might be worried that monkeypox is like SARS or Covid: another virus that could disrupt or even threaten your life. The good news is monkeypox is much less contagious and much less likely to be deadly than Covid. There are also vaccines and treatments originally developed for smallpox that work on monkeypox.

[redacted]



But while monkeypox probably will not kill you, it can be excruciating enough that you want to avoid it nonetheless: It can cause pain that some patients compare to glass shards scraping against the skin. And although the virus is afflicting mostly gay and bisexual men now, that could change if it continues to spread unchecked. Nothing about the virus limits its spread to only men who have sex with men (not all of whom identify as gay or bisexual).

Today's newsletter explains what we know about monkeypox and what people can do to stay safe.

How bad is it?

Monkeypox produces symptoms that can range from unpleasant to painful, although they are rarely deadly. At least six deaths, out of 25,000 cases, have been reported in places where the virus was not known to exist before the current outbreak. The risk of death is higher for young children and people who are immunocompromised or pregnant.

The telltale symptom is sores, which can look like pimples or blisters. They can hurt, especially in sensitive areas like the genitals and anus.

"I was scared to use the bathroom," a recent monkeypox patient, Gabriel Morales, told The Times. He described the sores as feeling like "broken glass" in his body.

Other symptoms include fever, headache, muscle aches, swollen lymph nodes, chills and exhaustion. The disease typically lasts two to four weeks.

How does it spread?

Monkeypox mostly spreads through close physical contact, typically skin-to-skin touch. Most infections in the current outbreak have occurred through close contact during sex. The virus also can spread through contaminated surfaces, including clothes and bedding. Brief contact, like a handshake, is not usually enough to spread monkeypox. Unlike Covid, it does not seem to spread much through the air.

Nearly half of known U.S. cases have occurred in the first three states to declare emergencies: New York, California and Illinois.

So far, about 98 percent of cases worldwide are among men who have sex with men. Many of them have had multiple partners, sometimes strangers. Some early superspreader events were gay parties in Europe, which appeared to introduce the virus into the social networks of men who have sex with men.

Public health officials have struggled with acknowledging some of these factors, fearing that they could stigmatize gay and bisexual men. But part of a proper public health response is targeting the people most at risk and the riskiest activities, and that requires an honest assessment of what is happening.

A line for the monkeypox vaccine in San Francisco. Jim Wilson/The New York Times

What can you do?

Most people are not currently at serious risk of catching monkeypox, with the virus concentrated among gay and bisexual men for now. “Your risk depends on who you are,” my colleague Apoorva Mandavilli, who has covered the current outbreak since the first U.S. case was identified, told me.

To lower their risk, gay and bisexual men can try to make sure their male sex partners do not have monkeypox, watching out for sores. They can use a condom, which can at least reduce the chances of getting sores in sensitive areas. They can temporarily reduce their number of sexual partners or avoid riskier activities, such as anonymous sex and sex parties. Practicing good hygiene, like frequent hand-washing, can help, too.

Vaccines and tests for monkeypox also exist, although they are not widely available right now because of supply shortages and strict government rules about access.

If someone is infected, the C.D.C. recommends isolating at home and staying away from others if possible. But that can be very difficult with a disease that can last four weeks — another reason to prioritize prevention and slow the spread.

What are officials doing?

Public health officials are trying to make vaccines, treatments and testing more available. President Biden yesterday named a national monkeypox response coordinator to oversee those efforts.

But progress has been slow. As monkeypox spread in May and June, 300,000 vaccine doses owned by the U.S. sat in Denmark.

Officials are also trying to raise public awareness of monkeypox, given that it is a new virus to most Americans.

Their main goal now is to avoid a wider outbreak that makes monkeypox an endemic virus that spreads regularly across the U.S., like influenza. If monkeypox keeps spreading unchecked, it could eventually spill over to a broader population than gay and bisexual men, said Dr. Céline Gounder, a senior fellow at the Kaiser Family Foundation.

“It’s still containable,” she added. “But it is going to require more aggressive screening, testing and vaccination."

The bottom line

Monkeypox is not typically fatal, but it still can cause painful disease and permanent scarring. The risk is not high for most people now, but that could change if the virus continues to spread. And the people who are at serious risk can take steps to stay safe and prevent the outbreak from getting worse.

Related

- Stopping the spread of monkeypox will depend on three crucial questions.
- Some gay men see echoes of H.I.V./AIDS.
- From Times Opinion: Monkeypox is about to become the next U.S. public health failure, writes Scott Gottlieb, the former head of the F.D.A.

THE LATEST NEWS

Primaries

Voters in St. Louis yesterday. Whitney Curtis for The New York Times

- Kansas voted to keep abortion protections in the State Constitution, a major victory for abortion rights in a red state.
- In Arizona, a Donald Trump-backed newcomer won the Republican Senate nomination. A 2020 election denier became the party's choice for secretary of state.
- In Michigan, Representative Peter Meijer, a Republican who voted to impeach Trump, lost his primary.
- Tudor Dixon, a conservative media personality who has questioned the 2020 election results, will face Democrat Gretchen Whitmer in the Michigan governor's race.
- Eric Greitens, a scandal-ridden former governor, lost Missouri's Republican Senate primary.

Nancy Pelosi in Taiwan

A billboard welcoming Nancy Pelosi to Taipei. Chiang Ying-Ying/Associated Press

- Speaker Nancy Pelosi has left Taiwan after meeting with its president today. Her trip set up a standoff with China.
- China will respond with military drills. Analysts believe they're aimed at projecting strength rather preparing for an invasion. (Here's why China is angry.)

Politics

- The Senate passed a bill to expand medical care for veterans exposed to toxic burn pits.
- Two officials involved in Trump's plan to falsely claim he had won Arizona in 2020 told lawyers they feared accusations of treason.

Other Big Stories

- Russia's invasion has displaced a third of Ukraine's population, creating Europe's biggest migration crisis since the aftermath of World War II.
- The C.I.A. had tracked Al Qaeda's leader, Ayman al-Zawahri, for decades. His morning routine on the balcony provided a window to strike.
- A 12-year-old girl escaped captivity in rural Alabama, and the authorities found two decomposing bodies where she had been held.
- "Originalists" like Justice Samuel Alito have never quite explained how their theory squares with racial integration, writes Adam Liptak, The Times's Supreme Court reporter.

Opinions

Bret Stephens applauds Pelosi for standing up to China. Thomas Friedman thinks her trip endangers Taiwan.

America's decline is eroding other countries' faith in democracy, Farah Stockman argues.

Journalism like this is only possible with subscribers.

Support the reporting that goes into The Morning. Become a subscriber today.

MORNING READS

Outdoor cats: Neighborhood mascot or menace?

Silent killer: A simple alarm can detect carbon monoxide. Why don't more hotels have them?

A Times classic: Why "Euphoria" enthralls.

Advice from Wirecutter: How to clean your yoga mat.

Lives Lived: Vin Scully served as the announcer for Dodgers baseball games for 67 years, first in Brooklyn and later in Los Angeles. He died at 94.

SPORTS NEWS FROM THE ATHLETIC

A history-making M.L.B. trade: By last night, the news that 23-year-old superstar Juan Soto had been shipped from the Nationals to the Padres had barely sunk in. Even The Athletic's seen-it-all squad was stunned by the deal. As for the return, it might be the biggest prospect haul ever.

Soto will probably debut with the Padres tonight. For more: Winners and losers of the trade deadline.

King of Queens: After 391 days, Mets ace Jacob deGrom looked like himself in his return to a big-league mound.

ARTS AND IDEAS

Pickle-flavored products. Zack Wittman for The New York Times

Sprinkle on some pickle

It's the summer of the pickle. Not actual pickles — although they're as popular as ever — but the flavor, which is everywhere, Christina Morales writes.

Pickle spice adds a sweet-and-sour flavor, which complements snack foods like popcorn and pizza. Frito-Lay now makes pickle-flavored Lays, Doritos and Ruffles chips. Trader Joe's said its dill pickle seasoning blend sold out soon after it hit shelves in May.

Social media has helped spur the flavor's popularity. Meg and Maddie Antonelli, a mother-and-daughter TikTok duo, make pickle pizzas at home, slather pickle dip on burgers and pair pasta with dill pickle seasoning. "I wish this was always trending," Meg Antonelli said, "because I love pickles."

PLAY, WATCH, EAT

What to Cook

Ryan Liebe for The New York Times

This skillet chicken recipe is inspired by ingredients used in Moroccan cuisine: orange and ground turmeric.

What to Listen to

Six podcasts about political scandals.

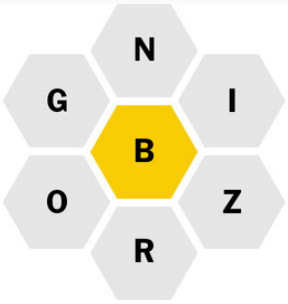
What to Watch

In the film "Shalom Taiwan," a Buenos Aires rabbi hits the road to raise money for his community center.

Late Night

The hosts discussed the killing of al-Zawahri.

Now Time to Play



The pangram from yesterday's Spelling Bee was picnicked. Here is today's puzzle.

Here's today's Mini Crossword, and a clue: Ocean motion (four letters).

And here's today's Wordle. After, use our bot to get better.

Thanks for spending part of your morning with The Times. See you tomorrow. — German

Correction: Yesterday's newsletter incorrectly said that Russia began its invasion of Ukraine last year. It began in February.

P.S. Times journalists won awards from the Asian American Journalists Association.

Here's today's front page.

"The Daily" is about the primaries. On "Popcast," Beyoncé's robust return.

Matthew Cullen, Claire Moses, Ian Prasad Philbrick, Tom Wright-Piersanti and Ashley Wu contributed to The Morning. You can reach the team at themorning@nytimes.com.

Sign up here to get this newsletter in your inbox.

Need help? Review our newsletter help page or contact us for assistance.

You received this email because you signed up for the Morning newsletter from The New York Times, or as part of your New York Times account.

To stop receiving these emails, unsubscribe or manage your email preferences.

Subscribe to The Times

Connect with us on:

Change Your Email | Privacy Policy | Contact Us | California Notices

The New York Times Company. 620 Eighth Avenue New York, NY 10018

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: August News & Events
FROM: Utah Law <communications@law.utah.edu>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 03/08/2022 11:14

THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH
S.J. QUINNEY
COLLEGE OF LAW

August 2022

LAW

Trying Times: Conservation Easements and Federal Tax Law 2022

Thursday, August 11

9:00-1:00 p.m., MT, S.J. Quinney College of Law, Moot Courtoom (Level 6)

This four-hour program will address the latest case law and IRS guidance impacting conservation easements. Experts will offer practical advice to land trust staff and board members, government employees, attorneys, appraisers, and landowners. Attendees will have the opportunity to hear the IRS's perspective and ask questions of a diverse group of panelists who collectively have almost 200 years of experience with conservation easements and tax incentives. Each of three panel presentations will be followed by time devoted solely to Q&A.

4.0 hours Utah CLE (pending).

Learn more »

College of Law Events

August
10
Wednesday

Continuing the Conversation about Race and Racism: Empire of the Summer Moon

A University of Utah Alumni Webinar

12:00-1:00 p.m., Zoom Link ~ Register Here »
Since George Floyd's murder in the summer of 2020, Martell Teasley, interim senior vice president for academic affairs, and Elizabeth Kronk Warner, dean of the S.J. Quinney College of Law, have hosted several book discussions about racism, anti-racism, diversity, equity, and inclusion. This event is the next installation in the Continuing Conversation about Race and Racism discussion series. 1 hour Utah CLE (pending). More Info

August
31
Wednesday

The Aftermath: How the Dobbs Decision May Impact Same Sex Marriage, Contraception and Other Rights

A College of Law CLE Webinar

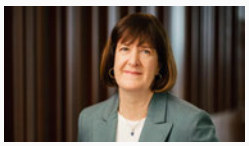
8:00–9:00 a.m., Registration coming soon
This is the first of two panel discussions on the U.S. Supreme Court's Dobbs decision regarding abortion rights. After briefly overviewing the Dobbs decision, the panel will focus its discussion on "what's next" – the aftermath of the Dobbs decision. Many commentators have speculated, for example, that the Dobbs decision may imperil previous Supreme Court decisions on same sex marriage and contraception, as well as others. Panelists will dive into these and other topics in exploring the potential aftermath of Dobbs. 1 hour Utah CLE (pending). More Info

Save These September Dates!

The beginning of a new school year is a great time to give back. Stay tuned for an exciting scholarship gift campaign.

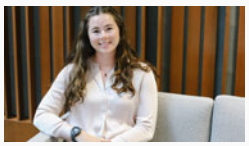
September 1 - What Does The Dobbs Decision Mean For Medical Professionals?
September 16 - College of Law CLE webinar
September 28 - Dean's Book Review

College of Law News



Suzanne M. Darais appointed as new Utah Law library director

Suzanne M. Darais, JD, MLS, has been appointed director of the James E. Faust Law Library



Rising 3L Meg Glasmann explores opportunities and builds community at Utah Law

Four years into a psychology PhD program, Meg Glasmann suddenly realized something:

Professor Nancy McLaughlin discusses abuse of conservation easements in a Reuters special report

Boeing and dozens of other companies have granted at the University of Utah. Read more »

While she enjoyed the study of psychology, she didn't love the application of it in a job setting. Read more »

"conservation easements" on some of the most contaminated land in the U.S. Read more »

College of Law News Bytes

Professor RonNell Andersen Jones and alumnus elected to American Law Institute

Recent Utah Law grads elected to Order of the Coif

Utah Law faculty members present at Law and Society Conference

Professor Paul Cassell discusses recent Utah Supreme Court ruling in favor of crime victims' rights with the Salt Lake Tribune

Faculty News

Presentations
Jonas Anderson: Testimony before the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Intellectual Property

Teneille Brown: Fudging Foresight—how governments ignored public mental health during the pandemic, International Association of Law and Mental Health Conference

Jorge Contreras: Boston University Technology Policy Research Initiative, IP Day 2022 "The Open Covid Pledge"

Leslie Culver: Legal Writing Institute - Biennial Conference, Georgetown Law

Leslie Francis: Federalism and Interstate Movement: Implications of Medical Aid in Dying for Abortion, Law & Society Association, Lisbon, Portugal

Leslie Francis: Justice in Surveillance for Covid 19, International Association of Bioethics World Congress, Basel, Switzerland

Amos Guiora: Keynote Speaker, Utah Bar Association, Enablers in Sexual Assaults

Laura Kessler: Miscarriage of Justice: Early Pregnancy Loss and the Limits of U.S. Employment Law, Law and Society Annual Meeting, Lisbon, Portugal

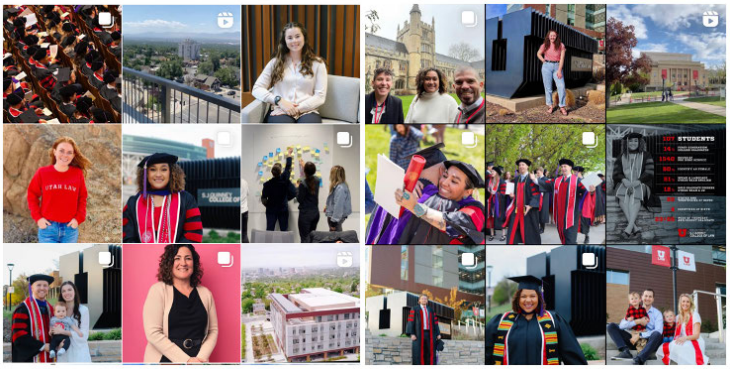
Heather Tanana: Law & Society Association Global Meeting, Securing Indigenous Futures (with Dean Kronk Warner)

Media
Amos Guiora, LA Times, Enablers in Higher Education

Other
Paul Cassell: Won pro bono case before the Utah Supreme Court in F.L. v. Court of Appeals (court held that F.L. was entitled to be heard regarding any release of her mental health counseling records in appellate proceedings)

John Ruple: Appointed a Trustee at Large by the Foundation for Natural Resources and Energy Law. The Foundation is an educational non-profit dedicated to the scholarly and practical study of all aspects of natural resources and energy law and includes 36 law schools, 13 bar associations, and 18 mining and oil and gas industry associations.

Heather Tanana: Serving as co-chair, ABA SEER Native American Resources Committee for 2022-23 term



S.J. Quinney Social Media

Get all the news, notes, event info and photos from the College of Law. Follow us on social media! Click on the buttons below to follow us.

ADMISSIONS STUDENTS FACULTY ALUMNI EVENTS

THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH S.J. QUINNEY COLLEGE OF LAW

STAY CONNECTED

S.J. Quinney College of Law | 383 S. University Street, Salt Lake City, UT 84112

Unsubscribe hborski@utah.gov
Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice
Sent by communications@law.utah.edu

SUBJECT: White House Health Updates + Briefing Invites
FROM: White House Office of Public Engagement <ope@who.eop.gov>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 03/08/2022 11:41

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Health Community Updates

Friends – Please join us for our next bi-weekly White House Health Community Call on Wednesday, August 10th at 2:30pm ET. You can RSVP here. Please invite colleagues and members of your community – all are welcome.

Below are several important updates and invites. Have a wonderful rest of the week.

Biden-Harris Actions to Protect Access to Reproductive Rights + Briefing Invite
Today, President Biden will issue an Executive Order on Securing Access to Reproductive and Other Healthcare Services, building on actions that the Biden-Harris Administration has taken to protect access to reproductive healthcare services and defend women's fundamental rights. See this fact sheet for more information. Today at 2:00 pm ET, the President and the Vice President will deliver remarks at the first meeting of the interagency Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access, which will be livestreamed at whitehouse.gov/live.

Tomorrow, Thursday, 8/4 at 12:30pm ET, join Senior White House Officials for a briefing on additional steps President Biden is taking to protect access to reproductive rights and care for all Americans. You can RSVP here. Note: this call is closed to press and off the record.

Full RSVP link: https://pitc.zoomgov.com/webinar/register/WN_0-cY8LG8RmKJjynisskU5w

Last night, President Biden issued a statement on Kansans' overwhelming rejection of a ballot initiative to remove the right to abortion from the state constitution. Yesterday, the Justice Department filed a lawsuit challenging Idaho's near-total abortion ban, arguing that the state law conflicts with, and is preempted by, the Emergency Medical Treatment and Labor Act (EMTALA).

President Biden Announces Team to Lead Monkeypox Response + Briefing Invite Yesterday, President Biden named FEMA's Robert Fenton as the White House National Monkeypox Response Coordinator and Dr. Demetre Daskalakis as the White House National Monkeypox Response Deputy Coordinator. Fenton and Daskalakis will lead the Administration's strategy and operations to combat the current monkeypox outbreak, including equitably increasing the availability of tests, vaccinations and treatments. You can read more about the announcement here.

You are also invited to join the Department of Health and Human Services Office of Intergovernmental and External Affairs, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), and Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response (ASPR) for a weekly Monkeypox briefing on Thursdays at 2:00 PM EST.

Call Details:
Date: Every Thursday
Time: 2:00 PM EST
Zoom Link: https://www.zoomgov.com/webinar/register/WN_q2g0KSUoQFWnS0tTB8BZlA

988 Suicide Lifeline Resources and Workforce Opportunities Briefing
The 988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline is a network of more than 200 state and local call centers supported by HHS through the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). You are invited to join a special briefing on 988 resources and workforce opportunities taking place on Monday, 8/8 at 4pm ET. All information is below.

Date: Monday, August 8th
Time: 4:00 PM ET
Register for the briefing here.

Lowest Percent of Americans Uninsured in History
Under President Biden's leadership, the percent of uninsured Americans is eight percent – the lowest in history. Since President Biden took office, five million more people have gained health insurance. Read the President's statement here about this historically low uninsured rate and read more about the Biden-Harris Administration's efforts to expand coverage and lower costs through the American Rescue Plan.

All best,

White House Office of Public Engagement

STAY IN THE KNOW
Share and amplify our community updates by encouraging your networks to sign up to receive this newsletter using the following link.
http://eepurl.com/hIdkdf

PRIVACY POLICY | UNSUBSCRIBE

SUBJECT: Biden-Harris Actions to Protect Access to Reproductive Rights + Briefing Invite
FROM: White House Office of Public Engagement <ope@who.eop.gov>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 03/08/2022 12:01

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Women's Community Update

Friends - Today, President Biden will issue an Executive Order on Securing Access to Reproductive and Other Healthcare Services, building on actions that the Biden-Harris

Administration has taken to protect access to reproductive healthcare services and defend women's fundamental rights. See this fact sheet for more information. Today at 2:00 pm ET, the President and the Vice President will deliver remarks at the first meeting of the interagency Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access, which will be livestreamed at whitehouse.gov/live.

Tomorrow, Thursday, 8/4 at 12:30pm ET, join Senior White House Officials for a briefing on additional steps President Biden is taking to protect access to reproductive rights and care for all Americans. You can RSVP here. Note: this call is closed to press and off the record.

Full RSVP link: https://pitc.zoomgov.com/webinar/register/WN_0-cY8LG8RmKJjynisskU5w

Last night, President Biden issued a statement on Kansans' overwhelming rejection of a ballot initiative to remove the right to abortion from the state constitution. Yesterday, the Justice Department filed a lawsuit challenging Idaho's near-total abortion ban, arguing that the state law conflicts with, and is preempted by, the Emergency Medical Treatment and Labor Act (EMTALA).

All best,

White House Office of Public Engagement

Stay Connected

Make sure you are following The White House Gender Policy Council on Twitter
https://twitter.com/WhiteHouseGPC

Privacy Policy | Unsubscribe

SUBJECT: CDC COVID-19 Partner Key Updates: August 3, 2022
FROM: CDC IMS 2019 NCOV Response STLT Policy and Public Health Partnerships<eocevent382@cdc.gov>
TO: CDC IMS 2019 NCOV Response STLT Policy and Public Health Partnerships<eocevent382@cdc.gov>
CC: "Weakland, Aliki P. (CDC/DDID/NCEZID/DPEI)" <agp4@cdc.gov>
DATE: 03/08/2022 14:54

[redacted]

Good Afternoon, Partners,

Please see below the CDC COVID-19 Partner Key Update* on COVID-19 related publications, resources, and engagements. This week's update also includes 1) two new reports on Long Covid to support patients and further research and 2) resources and updates to the COVID Data Tracker.

If you have any questions about the information provided, please email CDC at eocevent382@cdc.gov.

Thank you for your ongoing partnership.

Please note this update has been formatted to properly display in email applications. If viewing through a web browser, you may encounter formatting or display issues. We apologize for any inconvenience.*

August 3, 2022

Two New Reports on Long COVID to Support Patients and Further Research

Today, the Biden–Harris Administration released two new reports on Long COVID to support patients and further research. In April, President Joe Biden issued a Memorandum on Addressing the Long-Term Effects of COVID-19, which called for the creation of two reports. Within 120 days, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), leading a whole-of-government response, developed the following reports that together, pave an actionable path forward to address Long COVID and associated conditions.

- The Services and Supports for Longer-Term Impacts of COVID-19 Report (Services Report) outlines federal services available to the American public to address longer-term effects of COVID-19, including Long COVID and related conditions, as well as other impacts on individuals and families.
- The National Research Action Plan on Long COVID The Research Report (the Research Plan), created in coordination with 14 government departments and agencies, introduces the first U.S. government-wide national research agenda focused on advancing prevention, diagnosis, treatment, and provision of services and supports for individuals and families experiencing Long COVID.

Additional information related to the announcement and release of the reports:

- Long COVID Reports: COVID.Gov
- Long COVID Research, Services, And Supports: A Call To Action
- Addressing the Long-term Effects of COVID-19
- Fact Sheet: The Biden Administration Accelerates Whole-of-Government Effort to Prevent, Detect, and Treat Long COVID

COVID Data Tracker Resources and Updates

COVID Data Tracker is CDC's home for COVID-19 data. It combines county, state, national, and global data from across the response in a series of interactive dashboards. Recent COVID Data Tracker releases and updates include:

- The July 29th COVID Data Tracker Weekly Review Interpretative Summary focused on mental health outcomes among public health workers, highlighting a recent CDC survey. The July 22nd COVID Data Tracker Weekly Review Interpretative Summary focused on COVID-19 trends, including rising cases, hospitalizations, and deaths, as well as information on COVID-19 booster uptake.
- On July 29th, the Rates of Laboratory-Confirmed Hospitalizations by Vaccination Status tab was updated to display June 2022 rates of COVID-19-associated hospitalization comparing unvaccinated people, fully vaccinated people, and people with additional or booster doses. The tab was also updated to include data on second boosters for adults ages 50 years and older.
- On July 28th:
  - The Vaccination Demographics and Vaccination Demographic Trends tabs were updated to display data on second booster doses for people 50 years and older by age, sex, and race/ethnicity.
  - The COVID-19 During Pregnancy tab was removed from COVID Data Tracker. As of March 2022, CDC no longer recommends universal case investigation and contact tracing and recommends that health department jurisdictions prioritize specific settings and groups at increased risk. In addition, a decreasing number of case reports include information on pregnancy status. For these reasons, CDC stopped reporting data on this page on July 28th.
- On July 21st, a new Nationwide Commercial Lab Pediatric Antibody Seroprevalence tab was released, which provides estimates of the U.S. pediatric population (ages 6 months to 17 years) with evidence of antibodies from at least one resolving or past infection with SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes COVID-19.

Recently Published COVID-19 Related Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report (MMWRs)

- Workplace Perceptions and Experiences Related to COVID-19 Response Efforts Among Public Health Workers — Public Health Workforce Interests and Needs Survey, United States, September 2021–January 2022
- Symptoms of Mental Health Conditions and Suicidal Ideation Among State, Tribal, Local, and Territorial Public Health Workers — United States, March 14–25, 2022
- Effectiveness of 2, 3, and 4 COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine Doses Among Immunocompetent Adults During Periods when SARS-CoV-2 Omicron BA.1 and BA.2/BA.2.12.1 Sublineages Predominated — VISION Network, 10 States, December 2021–June 2022
- Safety Monitoring of COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine First Booster Doses Among Persons Aged ≥12 Years with Presumed Immunocompromise Status — United States, January 12, 2022–March 28, 2022

Upcoming Meetings

- CDC COVID-19 All-State, Tribal, Local, and Territorial (STLT) Update Call: The CDC COVID-19 All-STLT Update Call will occur on the third Monday of each month from 2:00–2:30 PM ET. The next call will be on Monday, August 15th, from 2:00–2:30 PM ET. If you have any questions, please contact eocevent382@cdc.gov.

  Upcoming Calls:
  - August 15th
  - September 19th

  To register for this call series, click here.

COVID-19 Resources

New & Updated

- On July 26th, the White House held a Summit on the Future of Vaccines. The summit outlined a path towards innovative, next-generation COVID-19 vaccines and featured leaders who are on the cutting-edge of discoveries. For a recording of the event, click here.
- On July 27th, a new Nationwide Commercial Lab Pediatric Antibody Seroprevalence tab was added to the COVID Data Tracker. The tab provides estimates of the proportion of the U.S. pediatric population (ages 6 months to 17 years) with evidence of at least one resolving or past infection with SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes COVID-19.
- On July 19th, CDC endorsed the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices' (ACIP) recommendation that the Novavax COVID-19 vaccine can be used as an option for adults ages 18 years and older.

- On July 12th, the White House COVID-19 Team announced its strategy to manage BA.5, a subvariant of the Omicron variant. The strategy relies on ensuring that Americans continue to have easy and convenient access to the vaccines, treatments, tests, and other tools that protect against and treat COVID-19.

COVID-19 Resources

- COVID-19 Community Levels: Check your county's COVID-19 Community Level to know which prevention steps to take.
- COVID Data Tracker combines county, state, national, and global data in a series of interactive dashboards.
- What You Need to Know About Variants provides information on current variants of concern.
- Vaccines for COVID-19
  - Get answers to frequently asked questions, bust myths about vaccines, stay up to date with your vaccines, and find COVID-19 vaccines and boosters near you.
  - Get COVID-19 vaccine information for certain groups of people, including moderately or severely immunocompromised people, children and teens, people who would like to have a baby, and people pregnant or breastfeeding.
- COVID-19 Testing: Learn about COVID-19 testing and how to receive free, at-home COVID-19 tests.
- Quarantine and Isolation: Access recommendations and tools to help determine how long you need to isolate, quarantine, or take other steps to prevent spreading COVID-19.
- CDC COVID-19 Travel: Get the latest information on travel orders and regulations, and check your destination's COVID-19 situation and travel requirements (domestic, international, cruise ship).
- Operational Guidance for K-12 Schools and Early Care and Education Programs to Support Safe In-Person Learning: Guiding principles and strategies to protect students, teachers, staff, and communities. See accompanying Frequently Asked Questions and Interactive School Ventilation Tool.
- School Testing for COVID-19: Find tools and resources to start and support school-based testing.
- Find COVID-19 guidance and Information for people experiencing homelessness, people living in prisons or jails, and people living in high congregate settings.
- Learn more about Long COVID or Post-COVID Conditions.

References to non-CDC sites are provided as a service and do not constitute or imply endorsement of these organizations or their programs by CDC or the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. CDC is not responsible for the content of pages found at these sites. URL addresses listed were current as of the date of publication.

Kind regards,

STLT Policy, Public Health Partnerships & Communication
State, Tribal, Local, and Territorial Support Task Force (STLT TF)
COVID-19 Response
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)
eocevent382@cdc.gov

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Biden Issues Another Order To Protect Abortion Access
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 04/08/2022 01:41

Thursday, August 4, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Biden Issues Another Order To Protect Abortion Access

President Joe Biden on Wednesday signed another executive order aimed at protecting access to abortions, this time with the goal of helping patients travel to other states to access reproductive health care services.

Read full article »

These Abortion Ballot Measures Are Next After Kansas Vote

After an overwhelming majority of voters in Kansas handily rejected an amendment to the state's constitution that would allow the state's Republican legislature to ban abortion, voters in at least five other states will be going to the ballot on similar issues in November.

6 documents attached | Read full article »

DOJ Hits Peter Navarro With Suit Over White House Emails

The U.S. Department of Justice on Wednesday slapped former Trump trade adviser Peter K. Navarro with a civil suit alleging that he's refusing to hand over emails from his time at the White House, a violation of federal law on presidential record-keeping.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Biden Admin. Urges High Court To Preserve Affirmative Action

The Biden administration is asking the U.S. Supreme Court to rule in favor of Harvard University and the University of North Carolina in their landmark affirmative action cases, arguing in a Monday brief that diversity is crucial to the military and federal agencies.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Analysis

4 Key Takeaways From The China Tariffs Remand

The Biden administration's new explanations on duties covering Chinese exports worth $300 billion reveal a steady commitment to meet presidential demands and emphasize the government's prior responses to public input as it crafted the tariffs.

Read full article »

Dems Want Transparency On Pacific, Americas Trade Talks

Nine lawmakers have urged the Biden administration to engage in "robust consultations" with Congress and other stakeholders as negotiations begin over the Indo-Pacific Economic Framework and the Americas Partnership for Economic Prosperity, warning that the talks may be undermined without appropriate transparency.

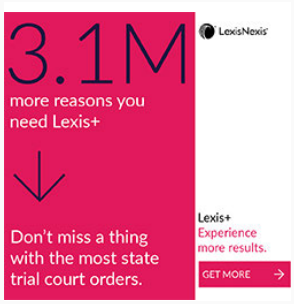
Letter attached | Read full article »

Labor Experience Lacking On Appellate Courts, Report Says

Federal appellate courts severely lack representation from judges with professional backgrounds in union-side labor law, employee wage and hour law, and civil legal aid, according to a new report Wednesday from the progressive organization Alliance for Justice.

Read full article »

Analysis



LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

3 Verulam Buildings
Adams & Reese
Arnold & Porter
Bartlett LLP
Best Best & Krieger
Blackstone Chambers
Bredhoff & Kaiser
Brick Court Chambers
Bryan Cave
Burke Williams
Butler Snow LLP
Charles Fussell
Chiesa Shahinian
Cleary Gottlieb
Clifford Chance
Consovoy McCarthy
DWF LLP
Dechert LLP
Essex Court Chambers
Farrar & Ball
Foot Anstey
Freeh Sporkin
Freeman Mathis
Goodwin Procter
Gordon & Rees
Greenberg Traurig
Hall Booth
Hochman Salkin

Patent Eligibility Bill May Clarify Law But Spur New Fights

A bill introduced Tuesday by Sen. Thom Tillis, R-N.C., aimed at setting more precise rules on which inventions are eligible for patents would add helpful clarity on some issues, but includes ambiguous language that could take years of litigation to sort out, experts say.

Bill attached | Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

Senate Bill Would Put Crypto Spot Markets Under CFTC

The Commodity Futures Trading Commission would get broad oversight over the cryptocurrency industry, including cryptocurrency spot markets, under a bipartisan bill introduced in the Senate on Wednesday.

Read full article »

CFPB Says Mortgage Firm Can't Shake Court Penalties

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau told the Ninth Circuit that an Ohio mortgage services company should pay a nearly $8 million judgment and millions more in refunds to customers who alleged they were misled by the firm's marketing, saying the company's constitutional arguments for dismissal fall flat.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

6th Circ. Urged To Rehear Bank Exec's FDIC Penalty Challenge

A handful of groups are asking the full Sixth Circuit to reconsider a panel's decision to uphold the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.'s removal of a former bank CEO, saying the panel erred when it failed to consider and rule on the constitutionality of the FDIC's structure.

Brief attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

Canada Says Koch Has No Claim In Cap-And-Trade Fight

Canada is pushing back against Koch Industries' claim that it is owed millions of dollars after Ontario's sudden cancelation of its cap-and-trade program in 2018 allegedly wiped out the Kansas-based conglomerate's carbon allowances trading business, arguing that the company is trying to manufacture jurisdiction.

Brief attached | Read full article »

5th Circ. Considers Phillips 66, Shell's Harbor Dues Dispute

A Fifth Circuit panel on Wednesday questioned how much progress must be made on an estimated $1.2 billion waterway improvement project in a Gulf of Mexico shipping channel before the agency that oversees it can collect harbor fees from companies including Phillips 66 and a unit of Shell.

Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

FDA Seeks Chance To Redo Cigar Label Rule

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration urged a D.C. federal judge on Tuesday to let the agency amend its decision requiring the application of warning labels to hand-rolled premium cigars, rather than strike down the rule altogether.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

UnitedHealth Judge Probes Health Tech Co.'s Data Safeguards

The D.C. federal judge slated to decide the fate of UnitedHealth Group's proposed $13.8 billion acquisition of Change Healthcare pressed a Change executive on Wednesday to explain whether internal safeguards can prevent data abuses that the U.S. Department of Justice is worried about.

Read full article »

TRANSPORTATION & INFRASTRUCTURE

US DOT Floats Stiffer Airline Ticket Refund Rules

The U.S. Department of Transportation said Wednesday it is considering imposing stricter, more explicit rules to ensure that airlines refund customers for canceled flights or major changes to flight itineraries, an effort to help travelers frustrated by widespread flight delays and cancellations.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Hogan Lovells
Holland & Knight
Hunton Andrews
Irell & Manella
Jackson Lewis P.C.
Jenner & Block
Jomarron Lopez
Jones Day
King & Spalding
Kirkland & Ellis
Kobre & Kim
Lewis Brisbois
Littler Mendelson
Loevy & Loevy
Lotfi Legal LLC
Lowenstein & Weatherwax
Mac Murray & Shuster
Marshall Dennehey
McDonnell Boehnen
McDowell Hetherington
McElroy Deutsch
Mishcon de Reya
Morvillo Abramowitz
Motley Rice
Munger Tolles
Nilan Johnson
Norton Rose
Nossaman LLP
O'Melveny & Myers
One Essex Court
Orgain Bell
Perkins Coie
Phelps Dunbar
Pike & Gilliss
Plunkett Cooney
Proskauer Rose
Reed Smith
Sanford Heisler
Seyfarth Shaw
Shearman & Sterling
Sher Garner
Simpson Thacher
Squire Patton
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Stoel Rives
Vinson & Elkins
Werman Salas
White and Williams
Wiley Rein
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale
Wilson Elser
Womble Bond

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

AT&T Inc.
AbbVie Inc.
Amazon.com Inc.
American Bar Association
American Civil Liberties Union
Americans for Prosperity Foundation
Anheuser-Busch Inbev SA/NV
Asian American Center for Advancing Justice
Asian American Legal Defense and Education Fund
Asian Americans Advancing Justice
Avnet Inc.

REAL ESTATE

La. Real Estate Board Says FTC Decision Moots Antitrust Row

A state appraisers board urged a Louisiana federal judge to toss claims that the regulator broke federal antitrust laws, arguing that the suit from a Pittsburgh-based real estate company is moot following a deal with the Federal Trade Commission barring the board from setting appraisers' fees.

Motion attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

Judge Queries Simon & Schuster CEO On Bidding For Books

A D.C. federal judge peppered Simon & Schuster's CEO with questions about the frequency of competitive bidding for book acquisitions during testimony Wednesday on the government's bid to stop Penguin Random House from purchasing the rival publishing house.

Read full article »

ELECTIONS

Texas DA Ordered To Face Voter Discrimination Suits

Groups advocating for minorities and voting rights may proceed with their bid to block the Harris County, Texas, district attorney from enforcing new election laws they call discriminatory, a federal judge held Tuesday, saying the groups' claims implicate the prosecutor's role in enforcing violations of those rules.

Order attached | Read full article »

Ill. Panel Revives Lawyer, Ex-Rep's Defamation Suit

An Illinois appellate panel has revived a defamation suit filed by Loevy & Loevy attorney and former Illinois Rep. Scott Drury against a conservative radio host and political action committee, finding a lower court erred in granting the defendants summary judgment before resolving a discovery dispute.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

TAX

NJ Wants $13M Casino Payment Order Paused For Appeal

New Jersey has asked a state court to pause an order requiring it to pay over $13 million to Atlantic County following a dispute over how casinos should help fund government services, arguing its planned appeal will undo that order anyway.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

Senators Urge Biden To Ramp Up Refugee Admissions

Thirty Democratic senators urged the Biden administration to immediately increase the target refugee admissions and take proactive steps to admit a higher number of refugees in the next fiscal year, emphasizing the need to assist refugees fleeing war and persecution.

Letter attached | Read full article »

Biden Ordered To Revisit Visa Apps Nixed In Trump Travel Ban

A California federal judge ordered the Biden administration to revisit the tens of thousands of visa applications that were denied under Trump-era travel restrictions, finding that targeted foreigners were still bruised from the travel ban, long after their revocation.

Order attached | Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

Alaska Native Co. Asks 9th Circ. Not To Revisit Land Swap

Alaska Native village company King Cove Corp. has urged the full Ninth Circuit to reject a bid by conservation groups to rehear a split circuit panel's ruling clearing the way for a land swap between the village and the federal government for a potential road, saying a Trump administration official amply justified his decision to greenlight the project.

Brief attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

FCC Opens 17 GHz Band For Space-To-Earth Signals

Bertelsmann AG
CashCall Inc.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Coinbase Global Inc.
Danaher Corp.
Disability Rights Texas
George Washington University
Getty Images Inc.
Guttmacher Institute
Hachette Book Group Inc.
HarperCollins Publishers LLC
Harvard University
International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes
KBR Inc.
Koch Industries Inc.
Lex Machina Inc.
LexisNexis Group Inc.
LinkedIn Corp.
Myriad Genetics Inc.
NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund Inc.
National Association for the Advancement of Colored People
National Immigration Law Center
New Civil Liberties Alliance
Ocado Ltd.
Optum Inc.
Palo Alto Networks Inc.
Phillips 66
QUALCOMM Inc.
RELX PLC
Scholastic Corporation
Service Employees International Union
Simon & Schuster Inc.
Texas Civil Rights Project
The DIRECTV Group, Inc.
UCLA School of Law
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
Walmart Inc.
Washington & Lee University
Washington Legal Foundation

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Commodity Futures Trading Commission
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Executive Office of the President
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.
Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Illinois Attorney General's Office
NAFTA
National Archives and Records Administration
National Institutes of Health
North Carolina Department of Justice
Office of the U.S. Trade Representative
Serious Fraud Office

The Federal Communications Commission agreed Wednesday to open a swath of 17 gigahertz spectrum to allow space-to-Earth signals from geostationary satellite orbit operations.

1 document attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

Calif. Pot Cos. Settle Application Suit With Pasadena

Two California cannabis companies and the city of Pasadena have settled their lawsuit over the city's administration of its recreational marijuana licensing process, according to a joint stipulation entered in Los Angeles state court.

Settlement attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

GT Lands Squire Patton's Ex-Corporate Governance Chair

Greenberg Traurig LLP has hired a partner from Squire Patton Boggs LLP to lead the firm's U.S. corporate governance practice.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Wage Theft Bill Would Increase Risk, Severity Of FLSA Claims

A recently introduced bill would amend the Fair Labor Standards Act in extreme ways that go well beyond the commonsense idea that people should be paid the wages they have earned, thereby sharply increasing the threat of claims against employers, with implications for arbitration, collective bargaining and more, say Christopher Pardo and Beth Sherwood at Hunton.

Read full article »

How The Metaverse Will Affect Business And Legal Processes

It is time to start thinking about virtual reality's effects on cybersecurity, business dealings, case strategy and more, as the metaverse takes shape and organizations open banks, host law firm offices and create retail strategies digitally, says Samantha Green at Epiq.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

The Big Law Firms Defending Police In Misconduct Lawsuits

As protests over police violence and its unequal impact on Black people and other groups raged across the U.S. in 2020, many large law firms publicly vocalized their support for racial justice, particularly with regard to law enforcement. A Law360 Pulse review shows some of those same firms have defended hundreds of officers and police departments in misconduct lawsuits in the years since.

Read full article »

Dechert Agrees To Pay ENRC £20M, Hit With Indemnity Costs

Dechert has agreed to make a £20 million ($24.4 million) interim payment to ENRC following a damning court ruling over its work for the Kazakh miner, but faces an inflated legal bill after its former client was awarded indemnity costs on Wednesday.

Read full article »

Ex-Jones Day Atty In Contempt Over 'Burn' Text In Ocado Suit

A London judge has ruled that a former senior Jones Day lawyer had "interfered" with the administration of justice by instructing a client to destroy a secure messaging system, holding the attorney in contempt of court on Wednesday.

Read full article »

Analyst Wins Revival Of Kobre & Kim Discrimination Suit

The U.K.'s Employment Appeal Tribunal has revived a discrimination lawsuit against Kobre & Kim LLP, finding a

Texas Legislature
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of State
U.S. Department of Transportation
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania
U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Louisiana
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
Wage and Hour Division

lower tribunal erred when it decided to throw out the case after the plaintiff failed to show up for a hearing.

Read full article »

Jones Faces Own Texts Before Jury Gets Sandy Hook Case

Taking the stand for a second day Wednesday during a Texas state court trial on damages for defaming parents who lost a child in the 2012 Sandy Hook Elementary School shooting, Alex Jones was confronted with a shocking cache of his texts and emails obtained by the plaintiffs' lawyer.

Read full article »

Diversity Is 'Doomed' Unless GCs Step Up, Report Suggests

A report out this week indicates the legal profession is doomed to lag on diversity and inclusivity unless more corporate legal chiefs and their companies actively engage with law firms — especially diverse firms — to assign more business to underrepresented lawyers. Here, general counsel and firm leaders share their thoughts on the findings.

Read full article »

High Court Urged To Skip Firm's Bid To Shield Client Comms

The U.S. Supreme Court shouldn't review a law firm's bid to shield from subpoenas client communications concerning the tax implications of expatriation, the federal government said, arguing the case isn't an ideal vehicle for clarifying the scope of attorney-client privilege.

Read full article »

Federal Employment Cases Decline Due To COVID, Arbitration

Last year saw the fewest number of federal employment cases filed in a decade, continuing a downward trend that has likely been fueled by pandemic workforce upheaval and the proliferation of mandatory arbitration agreements, according to a report by legal analytics provider Lex Machina and experts who reviewed the data.

Read full article »

White And Williams Acquires 6-Atty Firm In Maryland

White and Williams LLP has acquired a six-attorney boutique firm with a focus on surety and construction work in the Baltimore suburb of Towson, Maryland, expanding its operations to greater Washington, D.C.

Read full article »

Freeh Sporkin Taps Ex-Philly US Attorney As Partner In DC

Freeh Sporkin & Sullivan LLP said Wednesday that former U.S. Attorney for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania Jennifer Arbittier Williams will join the firm as a partner in September in Washington, D.C.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Bank Policy Institute
Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: UnitedHealth Judge Probes Health Tech Co.'s Data Safeguards
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 04/08/2022 02:11

HEALTH

LAW360®

Thursday, August 4, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

UnitedHealth Judge Probes Health Tech Co.'s Data Safeguards

The D.C. federal judge slated to decide the fate of UnitedHealth Group's proposed $13.8 billion acquisition of Change Healthcare pressed a Change executive on Wednesday to explain whether internal safeguards can prevent data abuses that the U.S. Department of Justice is worried about.

Read full article »

These Abortion Ballot Measures Are Next After Kansas Vote

After an overwhelming majority of voters in Kansas handily rejected an amendment to the state's constitution that would allow the state's Republican legislature to ban abortion, voters in at least five other states will be going to the ballot on similar issues in November.

6 documents attached | Read full article »

Biden Issues Another Order To Protect Abortion Access

President Joe Biden on Wednesday signed another executive order aimed at protecting access to abortions, this time with the goal of helping patients travel to other states to access reproductive health care services.

Read full article »

Eli Lilly Must Pay $61M For False Medicaid Rebate Calculation

An Illinois federal jury hit Eli Lilly and Co. with a $61 million verdict Wednesday after finding that the drug manufacturer deliberately shorted the Medicaid program by leaving retroactive drug price increases out of the metrics it was required to include for drug rebate calculations.

Read full article »

Ex-UChicago Professor Avoids Prison For Insider Trading

A former University of Chicago professor who pled guilty to insider trading with information about a positive cancer drug trial he was involved in won't serve prison time after an Illinois federal judge sentenced him Wednesday to time served and a year of supervised release.

Read full article »

LITIGATION

Alaska Native Co. Asks 9th Circ. Not To Revisit Land Swap

Alaska Native village company King Cove Corp. has urged the full Ninth Circuit to reject a bid by conservation groups to rehear a split circuit panel's ruling clearing the way for a land swap between the village and the federal government for a potential road, saying a Trump administration official amply justified his decision to greenlight the project.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Blue Cross Gets Partial Win In Tribe's Health Care Fraud Suit

A federal judge has partly granted Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan's bid to escape a Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians lawsuit claiming the insurer committed health care fraud by breaking a promise to give the tribe discounts on treatment.

Order attached | Read full article »

Ga. Hospital Fight Raises Questions About Agency Deference

Georgia Court of Appeals judges on Wednesday wrestled with whether the state's community health commissioner has the authority to overturn a hearing officer in a series of

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

AT&T Inc.
American Bar Association
Anheuser-Busch Inbev SA/NV
Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan Inc.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Coinbase Global Inc.
Danaher Corp.
Eli Lilly & Co.
Five Prime Therapeutics Inc.
Getty Images Inc.
Guttmacher Institute
Harvard University
KBR Inc.
Lex Machina Inc.
LexisNexis Group Inc.
LinkedIn Corp.
Munson Healthcare Inc.
Navicent Health
Ocado Ltd.
Optum Inc.
Palo Alto Networks Inc.
RELX PLC
Service Employees International Union
UCLA School of Law
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
Walmart Inc.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

3 Verulam Buildings
Arnall Golden
Barber Law Firm PLLC
Bartlett LLP

related cases about a proposed free-standing emergency department in the Macon area.

Read full article »

Cannabis Grower Wants Out Of Ark. THC Potency RICO Suit

Cannabis cultivator Bold Team LLC is asking an Arkansas federal court to toss racketeering claims alleging that it and several other companies conspired to mislead consumers about its products' THC levels, saying that as a cultivator, it had nothing to do with the sale or pricing of the products at issue.

Brief attached | Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

How The Metaverse Will Affect Business And Legal Processes

It is time to start thinking about virtual reality's effects on cybersecurity, business dealings, case strategy and more, as the metaverse takes shape and organizations open banks, host law firm offices and create retail strategies digitally, says Samantha Green at Epiq.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

The Big Law Firms Defending Police In Misconduct Lawsuits

As protests over police violence and its unequal impact on Black people and other groups raged across the U.S. in 2020, many large law firms publicly vocalized their support for racial justice, particularly with regard to law enforcement. A Law360 Pulse review shows some of those same firms have defended hundreds of officers and police departments in misconduct lawsuits in the years since.

Read full article »

Dechert Agrees To Pay ENRC £20M, Hit With Indemnity Costs

Dechert has agreed to make a £20 million ($24.4 million) interim payment to ENRC following a damning court ruling over its work for the Kazakh miner, but faces an inflated legal bill after its former client was awarded indemnity costs on Wednesday.

Read full article »

Ex-Jones Day Atty In Contempt Over 'Burn' Text In Ocado Suit

A London judge has ruled that a former senior Jones Day lawyer had "interfered" with the administration of justice by instructing a client to destroy a secure messaging system, holding the attorney in contempt of court on Wednesday.

Read full article »

Analyst Wins Revival Of Kobre & Kim Discrimination Suit

The U.K.'s Employment Appeal Tribunal has revived a discrimination lawsuit against Kobre & Kim LLP, finding a lower tribunal erred when it decided to throw out the case after the plaintiff failed to show up for a hearing.

Read full article »

Jones Faces Own Texts Before Jury Gets Sandy Hook Case

Taking the stand for a second day Wednesday during a Texas state court trial on damages for defaming parents who lost a child in the 2012 Sandy Hook Elementary School shooting, Alex Jones was confronted with a shocking cache of his texts and emails obtained by the plaintiffs' lawyer.

Read full article »

Diversity Is 'Doomed' Unless GCs Step Up, Report Suggests

A report out this week indicates the legal profession is doomed to lag on diversity and inclusivity unless more corporate legal chiefs and their companies actively engage with law firms — especially diverse firms — to assign more business to underrepresented lawyers. Here, general counsel and firm leaders share their thoughts on the findings.

Read full article »

Blackstone Chambers
Bredhoff & Kaiser
Brick Court Chambers
Burke Williams
Charles Fussell
Cleary Gottlieb
Clifford Chance
Consovoy McCarthy
DWF LLP
Dechert LLP
Dickinson Wright
Essex Court Chambers
Farrar & Ball
Foot Anstey
Freeh Sporkin
Freeman Mathis
Gordon & Rees
Hall Booth
Hochman Salkin
Hogan Lovells
Jackson Lewis P.C.
Jomarron Lopez
Jones Day
Kirkland & Ellis
Kobre & Kim
Lewis Brisbois
Littler Mendelson
Magda Law LLC
Marshall Dennehey
McDowell Hetherington
Mishcon de Reya
Morvillo Abramowitz
Munger Tolles
Nilan Johnson
One Essex Court
Parker Hudson
Phelps Dunbar
Pike & Gilliss
Plunkett Cooney
Reed Smith
Riley Safer
Sanford Heisler
Simpson Thacher
Varnum LLP
Walden Macht
Werman Salas
White and Williams
WilmerHale
Wilson Elser
Womble Bond

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians
Michigan Legislature
National Institutes of Health
North Carolina Department of Justice
Serious Fraud Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
U.S. Department of Justice

High Court Urged To Skip Firm's Bid To Shield Client Comms

The U.S. Supreme Court shouldn't review a law firm's bid to shield from subpoenas client communications concerning the tax implications of expatriation, the federal government said, arguing the case isn't an ideal vehicle for clarifying the scope of attorney-client privilege.

Read full article »

Biden Admin. Urges High Court To Preserve Affirmative Action

The Biden administration is asking the U.S. Supreme Court to rule in favor of Harvard University and the University of North Carolina in their landmark affirmative action cases, arguing in a Monday brief that diversity is crucial to the military and federal agencies.

Read full article »

Federal Employment Cases Decline Due To COVID, Arbitration

Last year saw the fewest number of federal employment cases filed in a decade, continuing a downward trend that has likely been fueled by pandemic workforce upheaval and the proliferation of mandatory arbitration agreements, according to a report by legal analytics provider Lex Machina and experts who reviewed the data.

Read full article »

Labor Experience Lacking On Appellate Courts, Report Says

Federal appellate courts severely lack representation from judges with professional backgrounds in union-side labor law, employee wage and hour law, and civil legal aid, according to a new report Wednesday from the progressive organization Alliance for Justice.

Read full article »

White And Williams Acquires 6-Atty Firm In Maryland

White and Williams LLP has acquired a six-attorney boutique firm with a focus on surety and construction work in the Baltimore suburb of Towson, Maryland, expanding its operations to greater Washington, D.C.

Read full article »

Freeh Sporkin Taps Ex-Philly US Attorney As Partner In DC

Freeh Sporkin & Sullivan LLP said Wednesday that former U.S. Attorney for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania Jennifer Arbittier Williams will join the firm as a partner in September in Washington, D.C.

Read full article »

U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia

U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas

U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan

U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois

U.S. Supreme Court

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: CVS Plots Move Into Primary Care by Year'sEnd
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>

[redacted]

ECHO Colorado Monthly eNews: What's ECHOing in August

TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 04/08/2022 05:55

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 4, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

Top Stories

- CVS Health Corp. said it is planning to move into the primary care space by the end of the year, either by investing in or acquiring a provider, with Chief Executive Karen Lynch noting that the pharmacy giant will be looking for a company with a strong tech background, a solid management team and capabilities to grow quickly. CVS' foray into primary care would follow Walgreens Boots Alliance Inc.'s partnership with VillageMD to open doctors' offices and Amazon.com Inc.'s announcement last month that it would acquire primary care clinic operator One Medical. (CNBC)

- Beginning the week of Aug. 15, Eli Lilly & Co. said it will start commercially selling its COVID-19 monoclonal antibody treatment to states, health systems and other providers, a move that comes as the federal government's supply of bebtelovimab is close to running out. (The Wall Street Journal) Meanwhile, a federal court jury ordered Eli Lilly to pay $61 million to settle charges that it intentionally skimped on payments for the Medicaid drug rebate program, which allegedly resulted in losses for the federal government program and Medicaid agencies across 26 states. (Stat News)

- A new White House plan calls for the Department of Health and Human Services to create an office dedicated to better understanding long COVID. HHS' assistant secretary for health will oversee the Office of Long COVID Research and Practice, ensuring permanent leadership within the agency as the new division is tasked with advancing treatments for patients. (Bloomberg Law)

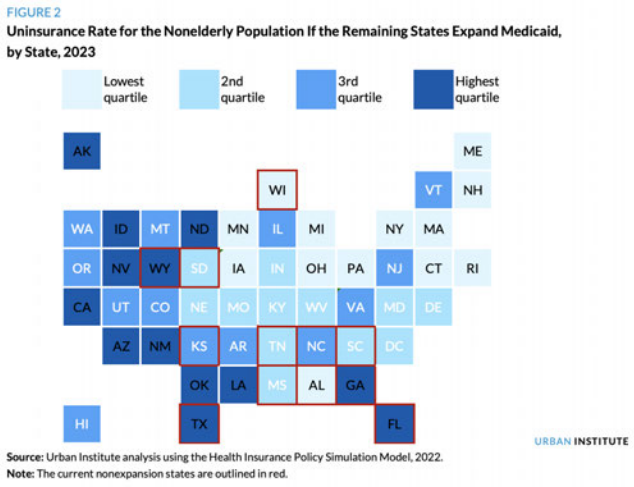
- The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's soon-to-be issued updated COVID-19 community guidance would relax quarantine recommendations for those exposed to the virus and de-emphasize social distancing measures and regular testing in schools to monitor spread, according to sources and a preview of the plans shared with a media outlet. The modifications to community protocols could be released as soon as this week, though they haven't been finalized. (CNN)

[redacted]

Chart Review

3.7 Million People Would Gain Health Coverage in 2023 If the Remaining 12 States Were to Expand Medicaid Eligibility

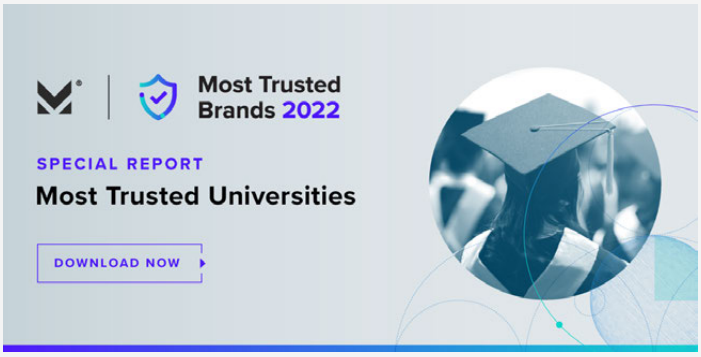
Urban Institute and Robert Wood Johnson Foundation



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



Most Trusted Universities Report 2022

Morning Consult's Most Trusted Universities Report measures the public view of trust in 135 doctoral universities featured in the U.S. News' 2022 Best National University Rankings. Our research breaks down how trust varies across diverse groups and different types of institutions while exploring key findings. Download today.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

Biden still COVID positive but "fever-free and in good spirits," doctor says
Oriana Gonzalez, Axios
President Biden tested positive for COVID-19 again Wednesday and is still experiencing an "occasional cough," though "less frequently" than on Tuesday, his physician said in a letter.

What is BA.4.6? The CDC is tracking a new COVID 'variant of concern' that's overtaking earlier Omicron strains in at least 4 U.S. states
Nicholas Gordon, Fortune
Now, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is tracking a new "variant of concern": BA.4.6. This week, the CDC included the BA.4 spinoff in its weekly tracking of COVID cases, with the agency's chief data officer tweeting that the new subvariant had actually been "circulating for several weeks" in the U.S. The CDC designates strains as "variants of concern" if it displays greater transmissibility, reduced effectiveness of treatment, increased severity, or decreased neutralization by antibodies.

Rich countries put billions into global Covid responses. Low-income countries wish they could spend it on bigger problems.
Daniel Payne, Politico
Those who work on AIDS, malaria, tuberculosis and other plagues say progress is in danger of reversing.

Covid has settled into a persistent pattern — and remains damaging. It may not change anytime soon
Andrew Joseph, Stat News
While Covid is not nearly the threat it once was, transmission of the coronavirus remains at sky-high levels. At the same time, the death rate has dropped thanks to vaccinations and improved treatments, and the overwhelming majority of people in the United States have developed some level of protection, from shots, a previous infection, or some combination of the two.

How Misinformation About COVID Vaccines and Pregnancy Took Root Early On and Why It Won't Go Away
Duaa Eldeib, ProPublica
Before coronavirus vaccines were even released, a disinformation campaign used a moment of national and personal vulnerability to prey on those who were pregnant or who planned to become pregnant.

GENERAL

Moderna considering creating an mRNA monkeypox vaccine amid growing demand for shots
Arielle Mitropoulos, ABC News
Amid growing concerns over the potential threat of monkeypox, executives from Moderna said Wednesday they have initiated a research program to consider whether the company could create a monkeypox vaccine with mRNA technology.

Biden Hails 'Powerful' Kansas Vote on Abortion, Signs New Order
Jordan Fabian and Nancy Cook, Bloomberg

President Joe Biden predicted the threat to abortion rights would drive people to the polls in the November midterm elections after Kansas voters rejected an effort to strip abortion protections in the state constitution.

70 deaths, many wasted organs are blamed on transplant system errors
Lenny Bernstein and Todd C. Frankel, The Washington Post
Seventy people died and 249 developed diseases after mistakes in the screening of organs they received in transplants, a Senate committee reported Wednesday after an investigation that found widespread deficiencies throughout the U.S. organ transplant system.

With monkeypox vaccine in high demand, NIH to test approaches to stretch supplies
Helen Branswell, Stat News
Scientists at the National Institutes of Health are getting ready to explore a possible work-around. They are putting the finishing touches on the design of a clinical trial to assess two methods of stretching available doses of Jynneos, the only vaccine in the United States approved for vaccination against monkeypox.

Progressives urge inclusion of uninsured in insulin proposal
Nathaniel Weixel, The Hill
House progressives are calling on leadership to include people without health insurance in any legislation that limits out-of-pocket costs for insulin.

Number of patients traveling for abortion overwhelmingly increased post-Roe
Oriana Gonzalez, Axios
In the month after Roe v. Wade was overturned, the country's largest abortion hotline reported a 5,100% increase in plane or bus trips and a more than 1,400% rise in hotel room bookings from patients traveling out-of-state for care, according to the National Abortion Federation.

Research in pigs shakes up what we know about dying
Katie Hunt, CNN
Researchers at Yale University say they have been able to restore blood circulation and other cellular functions in pigs a full hour after the animals' deaths, suggesting that cells don't die as quickly as scientists had assumed.

White House scrambles to play catch-up on monkeypox response
Shannon Pettypiece, NBC News
Administration officials have acknowledged they need to ramp up their efforts as the number of cases has grown faster than initially expected.

Red Cross beginning to screen blood donors for monkeypox
Megan Molteni, Stat News
As monkeypox continues its relentless spread around the globe, organizations in the U.S. are taking steps to safeguard the nation's blood supply.

Australia's bad flu season is a warning for the U.S. this year
Erika Edwards, NBC News
Flu surged in Australia for the first time since the coronavirus pandemic began. That doesn't bode well for the U.S.

Black, Pacific Islander Women Held Top Fetal Death Rates in 2020
Ayanna Alexander, Bloomberg Law
Black, Native Hawaiian, and Pacific Islander women continued to have the highest fetal mortality rates in 2020, according to a new report released Thursday by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's National Center for Health Statistics.

West Virginia Medicaid must cover gender-affirming surgeries, judge rules
Shawna Chen, Axios
District Judge Robert C. Chambers wrote in a 30-page ruling that the exclusion "discriminates on the basis of sex and transgender status," and certified the lawsuit, filed by Lambda Legal, as a class action covering all trans people who rely on West Virginia's Medicaid.

CBD Curbed Symptoms of Chronic Anxiety in Young People in Study
Alex Millson, Bloomberg Law
Taking cannabidiol - the non-intoxicating component of cannabis better known as CBD - may curb the severity of chronic anxiety symptoms in young people, a new study found.

PAYERS

Sen. Johnson suggests ending Medicare, Social Security as mandatory spending programs
Amy B Wang, The Washington Post
Sen. Ron Johnson (R-Wis.) has suggested that Social Security and Medicare be eliminated as federal entitlement programs, and that they should instead become programs approved by Congress on an annual basis as discretionary spending.

Health insurer Cigna raises forecast after strong second quarter
Reuters
Cigna Corp (CI.N) on Thursday raised its annual profit forecast for a second straight quarter, as a slower-than-expected recovery in non-urgent medical procedures helps it rein in costs while demand for its health services products stays strong.

Coming to a contract negotiation near you: the No Surprises Act
Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare
When Cigna wanted to cut reimbursements for a physician group, the health insurance company came armed with a new negotiating tool: the No Surprises Act.

HCSC doubles down on Medicare Advantage as market share declines
Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare
Health Care Service Corp. plans to expand its Medicare Advantage business into another 150 counties next year as the insurer seeks to gain a foothold in an increasingly competitive market for private Medicare plans.

PROVIDERS

High-Stakes Abortion Lawsuits Force Clash on Emergency Care Law
Allie Reed, Bloomberg Law

The Biden administration's instruction that hospitals and doctors nationwide provide emergency abortion care faces a significant test from competing lawsuits in Texas and Idaho, which could leave physicians confused and patients in danger, legal observers said.

Hospitals serving Black patients get less financial help, study shows
Caroline Hudson, Modern Healthcare
Hospitals serving a higher proportion of Black patients receive less financial support for providing care compared with those serving a lower proportion, according to a recent study from physician-researchers at the University of California Los Angeles and Princeton, Johns Hopkins and Harvard universities.

Volumes, net income down at for-profit hospitals in Q2
Healthcare Dive
HCA Healthcare, Tenet Healthcare, Community Health Systems and Universal Health Services all reported lower net income in the second quarter of this year compared to the year prior, and every operator reported lower admissions year over year.

63 healthcare orgs call on Congress to extend, expand visa waiver for international medical graduates
Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare
Sixty-three provider and healthcare advocacy organizations are petitioning Congress to pass legislation expanding international medical graduates' ability to immediately practice in the U.S.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Generic Prostate-Cancer Drug Backed by Hospital Group Goes on Sale
Joseph Walker, The Wall Street Journal
Civica said one of its operating units will offer a month's supply of the drug, known generically as abiraterone acetate, to pharmacies for $160, and recommends that pharmacies sell it to patients for no more than $171, a 6.9% markup.

Electric cars, drug costs and more: 5 battles Democrats could lose on their marquee bill
Caitlin Emma and Marianne Levine, Politico
The Senate's nonpartisan rules arbiter has spent more than a week reviewing Democrats' drug-pricing plans. While provisions that would allow Medicare to negotiate the costs of higher drugs seem more likely to pass muster, Democrats' push to penalize drug companies when they raise prices on those with private health insurance presents a bigger hurdle.

AstraZeneca, Bristol-Myers Get Win in Diabetes Drug Litigation
Julie Steinberg, Bloomberg Law
AstraZeneca Pharmaceuticals LP, Bristol-Myers Squibb Co., and McKesson Corp. won multidistrict litigation over diabetes drugs, as a federal court in Kentucky said patients' failure to produce expert evidence linking the medication to heart failure doomed their claims.

Monoclonal antibody treatment for malaria shows encouraging results
Elissa Welle, Stat News

An experimental antibody treatment prevented malaria in the majority of participants in a small but important new study, providing a measure of hope in the effort to lower the burden of the disease worldwide.

Alternate monkeypox treatment caught in regulatory delays
Arielle Dreher, Axios
TPOXX (Tecovirimat) is FDA-approved to treat smallpox and was tested on animals with monkeypox, which is a related virus. But because it's unlicensed and classed as an investigational new drug, providers responding to the outbreak have to make requests to the Centers for Disease Control when they use it, leading to paperwork burdens and delays.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Ex-Congressman, Professor Say ADHD Startup Done Overstated Their Ties
Jackie Davalos, Bloomberg
Mental-health startup Done touted its relationship with a former congressman and a Stanford psychiatrist and professor in a pitch sent to potential investors. But those people say their role has been misrepresented and exaggerated by the company.

Patients seeking novel weight loss drugs find a 'wild west' of online prescribers
Katie Palmer, Stat News
Briana Lawson was ready to knock her diabetes into remission. For years, the 47-year-old health care consultant had treated her high blood sugar with metformin. But to avoid a lifetime of medication, she knew she'd need to lose weight. She'd tried fad diets, Weight Watchers, Nutrisystem, and had even considered surgery when the results didn't stick. When she started reading about GLP-1 receptor agonists — which, last year, became the first new FDA-approved chronic weight management drug since 2014 — she was ready to give them a try.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

This Arthritis Drug Deserves Its Aggressive Patent Protection
Stephen L. Carter, Bloomberg
AbbVie's Humira is protected by no less than 132 patents. That's just fine.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Lyme Disease Diagnoses Increased 357 Percent in Rural Areas Over Past 15 Years, According to Private Insurance Claims
FAIR Health
Lyme disease has experienced notable growth in the United States over the past 15 years and, as a result, has become an illness of increasing national concern. From 2007 to 2021, private insurance claim lines with Lyme disease diagnoses rose 357 percent in rural areas and 65 percent in urban areas.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: August 4, 2022 - NCQA releases new, revised HEDIS quality measures
FROM: "AHIP Solutions SmartBrief" <ahip@smartbrief.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 04/08/2022 07:55

Created for hborski@utah.gov | Web Version

August 4, 2022

SIGN UP SHARE

ADVERTISEMENT

For EDS* or cataplexy in narcolepsy, should you consider another treatment option?
*Excessive daytime sleepiness
LEARN MORE
US-NAR-2100204/Oct 2021

TOP STORIES

NCQA releases new, revised HEDIS quality measures

The National Committee for Quality Assurance said it has rolled out new and updated quality measures for the 2023 Healthcare Effectiveness Data and Information Set in line with its commitment to advance health equity. Major updates include the addition of race and ethnicity stratifications to several HEDIS measures, revision of pregnancy- or childbirth-related measures to make them more inclusive of pregnant people who do not identify as women, and creation of several new measures to address health issues such as diabetic care, pediatric dental care and social need screening and intervention. Full Story: Health Payer Intelligence (8/1)

High, incorrect cost estimates deter patients from care

A consumer survey found that overly high and inaccurate medical procedure cost estimates often erode patients' trust in the US health care system. Among other findings, the survey noted that three-quarters of millennial patients canceled a medical appointment following a high cost estimate, 60% of adults who struggle to pay their bills did the same, and almost half of people who canceled an appointment for a reason other than improved health said a high estimate was behind the cancellation. Full Story: BenefitsPRO (free registration) (8/2)

Payment Integrity that touches the entire value chain

Precise, end-to-end payment integrity has never been more essential to health plan operational costs and the quality of service you deliver to members and providers. Our 1,000+ nurses and 400 coders accelerate adjudication, enhance payment integrity, and improve payment accuracy to improve claims operations that reduce downstream efforts. Learn more.

ADVERTISEMENT: HGS HealthCARE

PROVIDERS & SUPPLIERS

Guidelines suggest dietary counseling for women ages 40-60

New guidelines from The Women's Preventive Services Initiative, published in Annals of Internal Medicine, target women ages 40 to 60 and recommend that clinicians offer individual counseling on healthful eating and physical activity as part of weight management. "Normalizing counseling about healthy diet and physical activity by providing it to all midlife women may mitigate concerns about weight stigma resulting from only counseling women with obesity," said lead author Dr. Amy Cantor.

Full Story: Healio (free registration) (8/2)

MEDICAL UPDATE

Omicron may infect children more easily via nasal route

A small study published in the journal PLOS Biology suggests that the Omicron variant of the coronavirus could more effectively infect children via the nasal passages than earlier strains did. Researchers combined the virus with nasal cells from healthy adults and children and found that antiviral defenses in the children's nasal passages were "markedly less pronounced in the case of Omicron," and that Omicron was able to reproduce more easily in children's cells than earlier variants did.

Full Story: Reuters (8/2)

Analysis: COVID-19 mortality rate remains mostly steady

An analysis of data from Johns Hopkins University found the COVID-19 mortality rate has remained steady at about 400 per day since May, except for an increase in July. Dr. David Dowdy, an epidemiologist, said the number of deaths from COVID-19 is comparable to the number of fatalities from influenza during peak season, but the peak season for the flu is only about three months, so over one year, there could be about four times as many deaths from COVID-19. Full Story: USA Today (8/3)

Turning Value-Based Care Challenges into Opportunities

In a recent interview, former health plan executive Nancy Cocozza addresses the challenges in aligning value-based programs with various provider types, the opportunities they present to improve care and costs, and how data driven technologies can bridge the gap in obtaining successful outcomes. Download Interview.

ADVERTISEMENT: Real Time MEDICAL SYSTEMS

FREE EBOOKS AND RESOURCES

Free eBooks and resources brought to you by our partners

At Work: The 2022 Workplace Trends Report

A 4-Step Guide to a Hybrid Workplace Experience That Works

How to Help Employees Thrive Wherever They Work

The Top 7 Compliance Risks And How to Avoid Them

The First 90 Days: Engagement Checklist

EMERGING TRENDS: SOCIAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH

How health care organizations can improve health equity

The CMS Framework for Health Equity 2022-2032 lays out five priorities for the health care community to improve health equity among the populations they serve. First, expand the collection, reporting and analysis of standardized data and partner with community organizations, then investigate causes of disparity within the institution, build workforce capacity to reduce disparity, advance health literacy and culturally tailored services, and understand what the state's and payers' equity initiatives are. Full Story: ICD10Monitor (8/1), AAFP News (8/3)

Health literacy, socioeconomic factors affect how patients use telehealth

(Pixabay)

A patient's health literacy score and area deprivation index are strong indicators of whether they will use video telehealth or audio only, a study on JAMA Network Open found. Patients with a high ADI, an indicator of depressed socioeconomic condition, and low health literacy scores had a comparatively low likelihood of connecting to video-based telehealth, researchers wrote. Full Story: mHealth Intelligence (8/1)

Better diabetes control tied to project-based housing

A study published in JAMA Network Open found that adults who resided in project-based, federally subsidized housing had lower rates of uncontrolled diabetes than those on waiting lists for housing assistance, but no differences were found among people receiving housing vouches and those on waiting lists. "The results indicate that rental assistance can be a platform to improve diabetes outcomes, but effects are limited to project-based programs," researcher Andrew Fenelon said. Full Story: Healio (free registration) (8/2)

Improving plan performance efficiently and affordably

Quality measure performance is closely tied to patient experience, better health outcomes and reduced health care costs. The right partner can help health plans drive performance without sacrificing your bottom line. CVS Health® provides simple and cost-effective solutions for improving Star Ratings and HEDIS measures. Learn more.

ADVERTISEMENT: CVS Health

HEALTH INSURANCE PROVIDER COMPANY NEWS

Aetna CVS Health to enter the Affordable Care Act (ACA) individual insurance exchange marketplace in select counties in California for January 1, 2023

Magellan Healthcare: Human Affairs International of California Earns URAC Accreditation in Health Utilization Management

SOLUTIONS PROVIDER NEWS

Cotiviti Blog: Video - How to shorten time to payment integrity results

Kaia Health Reduces Back Pain by 46% in Rise-uP Randomized Controlled Trial Results

PHARMA NEWS

FDA approves biosimilar interchangeable with Lucentis

Coherus BioSciences' Cimerli, or ranibizumab-eqrn, has received FDA approval as the first biosimilar that is fully interchangeable with Roche and Novartis' ophthalmology therapy Lucentis for all five of the reference drug's retinal disease indications. Cimerli, which is expected to be available in to US patients in October, was approved for the treatment of neovascular (wet) age-related macular degeneration, diabetic macular edema, diabetic retinopathy, macular edema following retinal vein occlusion and myopic choroidal neovascularization. Full Story: PharmaPhorum (UK) (8/3), BioPharmaReporter (8/4)

Eli Lilly to sell COVID-19 drug directly to hospitals

Eli Lilly and Co. said its COVID-19 antibody drug bebtelovimab will be made available to US hospitals, states and health care practices through a single distributor by mid-August as the US government's supply is exhausted. The drug was authorized in the US earlier this year for treating adults and children with mild to moderate COVID-19.
Full Story: Reuters (8/3)

POLICY WATCH

CMS to continue public reporting of hospital safety data

The CMS has backed away from its plan to discontinue public reporting of certain hospital quality and patient safety information following criticism that the move would hurt patient safety. As part of the final Inpatient Prospective Payment System rule released Monday, the agency said it will include the PSI 90 composite measure of 10 patient safety indicators in star ratings calculations for the Care Compare website, but the measure "will not be used in payment calculations in the HAC to avoid unintentional penalties related to the uneven impacts of COVID-19 across the country." Full Story: FierceHealthcare (8/3)

AHIP NEWS

Benefit from back-office efficiencies

For plans seeking to contain administrative costs, outsourcing can be a smart solution. TPA Direct Members are experts in delivering back-office efficiencies. AmeriHealth Administrators, a member of TPA Direct, provides health plans with customized health benefits, administration services and other outsourcing services.

Webinar: Solutions for COPD care - register today.

Join us on Thursday, Aug. 25 from 1 to 2 p.m. ET for "COPD: Facing the Challenges of Complexity and Engagement" as NuvoAir discusses innovative, patient-centric, and personalized home-based care solutions for chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) in this traditionally hard-to-engage population. Learn about proven and published paths forward to COPD care at scale.

Health insurance providers leading on price transparency

Commercial health insurance providers are offering members price transparency tools that enable them to make health care decisions that deliver better health at lower costs, according to a recent AHIP blog. Nearly 94% of commercial health insurance providers have supplied enrollees with meaningful price transparency as of 2021, offering cost estimator tools to help them shop for the care that's right for them. Learn more.

LEARN MORE ABOUT AHIP:

About AHIP | Join AHIP | Educational Opportunities | AHIP Select
AHIP Coverage Blog | Submit press releases and other company news

JOBS

- North East Director, Government Relations # 22-283
  DENTAQUEST - MA, US
- Director of Business Development
  COMMUNITY HEALTH CHOICE - Houston, TX, US
- Director Product Development and Management
  COMMUNITY HEALTH CHOICE - 77054, TX, US
- Product Development Manager
  COMMUNITY HEALTH CHOICE - Houston, TX, US
- Insurance Benefits Advisor
  SENIOR LIFESTYLE SOLUTIONS - Phoenix, AZ, US

View More Listings | Post a Job

Sharing AHIP Solutions SmartBrief with your network keeps the quality of content high and these newsletters free.

Help Spread the Word

SHARE

Or copy and share your personalized link:
smartbrief.com/ahip/?referrerId=lsvhcNrXox

Each person is in the best seat.

John Cage,
composer, music theorist

Product announcements appearing in SmartBrief are paid advertisements and do not reflect actual AHIP endorsements. The news reported in SmartBrief does not necessarily reflect the official position of AHIP.

SmartBrief publishes more than 200 free industry newsletters - Browse our portfolio

Sign Up | Update Profile | Advertise with SmartBrief

Unsubscribe | Privacy policy

CONTACT US: FEEDBACK | ADVERTISE

SmartBrief, a division of Future US LLC ©
1100 13th St. NW, Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20005

SUBJECT: White House Briefing on Reproductive Rights Today @12:30pm ET
FROM: White House Office of Public Engagement <ope@who.eop.gov>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 04/08/2022 08:22

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Women's Community Update

You are invited to join Senior White House Officials today, Thursday, 8/4 at 12:30pm ET for a briefing on additional steps President Biden is taking to protect access to reproductive rights and care for all Americans. You can RSVP here. Note: this call is closed to press and off the record.

Full RSVP link: https://pitc.zoomgov.com/webinar/register/WN_0-cY8LG8RmKJjynisskU5w

Yesterday, President Biden issued an Executive Order on Securing Access to Reproductive and Other Healthcare Services, building on actions that the Biden-Harris Administration has taken to protect access to reproductive healthcare services and defend women's fundamental rights. See this fact sheet for more information.

On Tuesday, President Biden issued a statement on Kansans' overwhelming rejection of a ballot initiative to remove the right to abortion from the state constitution. The Justice Department also filed a lawsuit challenging Idaho's near-total abortion ban, arguing that the state law conflicts with, and is preempted by, the Emergency Medical Treatment and Labor Act (EMTALA).

All best,

White House Office of Public Engagement

Stay Connected

Make sure you are following The White House Gender Policy Council on Twitter
https://twitter.com/WhiteHouseGPC

Privacy Policy | Unsubscribe

SUBJECT: White House Briefing on Reproductive Rights @12:30pm ET Today
FROM: White House Office of Public Engagement <ope@who.eop.gov>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 04/08/2022 08:24

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Health Community Updates

You are invited to join Senior White House Officials today, Thursday, 8/4 at 12:30pm ET for a briefing on additional steps President Biden is taking to protect access to reproductive rights and care for all Americans. You can RSVP here. Note: this call is closed to press and off the record.

Full RSVP link: https://pitc.zoomgov.com/webinar/register/WN_0-cY8LG8RmKJjynisskU5w

Yesterday, President Biden issued an Executive Order on Securing Access to Reproductive and Other Healthcare Services, building on actions that the Biden-Harris Administration has taken to protect access to reproductive healthcare services and defend women's fundamental rights. See this fact sheet for more information.

On Tuesday, President Biden issued a statement on Kansans' overwhelming rejection of a ballot initiative to remove the right to abortion from the state constitution. The Justice Department also filed a lawsuit challenging Idaho's near-total abortion ban, arguing that the state law conflicts with, and is preempted by, the Emergency Medical Treatment and Labor Act (EMTALA).

All best,

White House Office of Public Engagement

STAY IN THE KNOW

Share and amplify our community updates by encouraging your networks to sign up to receive this newsletter using the following link.
http://eepurl.com/hIdkdf

PRIVACY POLICY | UNSUBSCRIBE

SUBJECT: RE: Need a new link for Utah: URGENT
FROM: profile <profile@astho.org>
TO: "Krisann Humphreys Bacon (DHHS)" <krisannbacon@utah.gov>, Kristi Meadows<kmeadows@astho.org>

[redacted]

ECHO Colorado Monthly eNews: What's ECHOing in August

CC: profile <profile@astho.org>, Caroline Brazeel <cbrazeel@astho.org>, BorskiHeather <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 04/08/2022 08:27

[redacted]

Hi Krisann,

Absolutely. See attached for the most recent version of your survey. If something looks amiss, please let me know. You can use this link to make edits moving forward: [redacted]

Please reach out if you have any additional concerns.

Best,
Kristi

From: Krisann Humphreys Bacon (DHHS) <krisannbacon@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 8:51 AM
To: Kristi Meadows <kmeadows@astho.org>
Cc: profile <profile@astho.org>; Caroline Brazeel <cbrazeel@astho.org>; Borski Heather <hborski@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Need a new link for Utah: URGENT

[CAUTION: This message originates from outside of ASTHO. Do not open any attachments, click on any links, or respond without first verifying the sender. If you believe the contents of this email may be unsafe, please send it as an attachment to helpdesk@astho.org.]

Thank you! Can you send both? I'd rather complete in the link if possible.

Krisann Bacon
Special Projects | Executive Director's Office
C: 385.377.4168
krisannbacon@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Aug 4, 2022 at 6:43 AM Kristi Meadows <kmeadows@astho.org> wrote:

> Hi Krisann,
>
> So sorry this is happening! Yes, we've had his problem with a couple other states – I sent an email (attached) out last week flagging that this may be a problem if you want more information. We used this same method in 2019 and didn't have the problem so we suspect a change in Qualtrics software. I'll need a couple minutes to go check for Utah's data saved in the server as there may be a couple versions for me to investigate and I can also send a link. If easier (and to avoid any other issues), I can send a PDF of the data we have currently and you can always send changes via email so that we can avoid another Qualtrics link. Let me know what you'd rather do – I'll be in touch very soon with your data.
>
> Kristi
>
> From: Krisann Humphreys Bacon (DHHS) <krisannbacon@utah.gov>
> Sent: Wednesday, August 3, 2022 7:53 PM
> To: profile <profile@astho.org>; Caroline Brazeel <cbrazeel@astho.org>; Kristi Meadows <kmeadows@astho.org>
> Cc: Borski Heather <hborski@utah.gov>
> Subject: Need a new link for Utah: URGENT
>
> [CAUTION: This message originates from outside of ASTHO. Do not open any attachments, click on any links, or respond without first verifying the sender. If you believe the contents of this email may be unsafe, please send it as an attachment to helpdesk@astho.org.]
>
> Hello,
>
> My Senior Deputy (Heather Borski) was reviewing the survey tool prior to final submission and many answers that showed as filled in for me were showing blank for her (which is concerning). When I jumped in the survey and started scrolling through it automatically took me to the final submission page when I hit next and now it's locked for submission. This happened once before an you all sent me a new link can you do that again? Also, any idea why answers would show blank on her side? For example section 5 was filled in a week and a half ago and I haven't touched it since but today it was showing blank for her?
>
> Thank you!

Krisann Bacon
Special Projects | Executive Director's Office
C: 385.377.4168
krisannbacon@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

[redacted]

Disclaimer
The information contained in this communication from the sender is confidential. It is intended solely for use by the recipient and others authorized to receive it. If you are not the recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking action in relation of the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful.

This email has been scanned for viruses and malware, and may have been automatically archived by Mimecast Ltd, an innovator in Software as a Service (SaaS) for business. Providing a safer and more useful place for your human generated data. Specializing in; Security, archiving and compliance. To find out more Click Here.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

Disclaimer
The information contained in this communication from the sender is confidential. It is intended solely for use by the recipient and others authorized to receive it. If you are not the recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking action in relation of the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful.

This email has been scanned for viruses and malware, and may have been automatically archived by Mimecast Ltd, an innovator in Software as a Service (SaaS) for business. Providing a safer and more useful place for your human generated data. Specializing in; Security, archiving and compliance. To find out more Click Here.

SUBJECT: Fwd: Need a new link for Utah: URGENT
FROM: "Krisann Humphreys Bacon (DHHS)" <krisannbacon@utah.gov>
TO: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 04/08/2022 08:40

Ok I've reviewed on my side and added a few items Monica had input but there's still some missing, I tagged you and her on those items this morning. It's ready for you, you can use the new link, thank you!

Krisann Bacon
Special Projects | Executive Director's Office
C: 385.377.4168
krisannbacon@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: profile <profile@astho.org>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2022 at 8:27 AM
Subject: RE: Need a new link for Utah: URGENT
To: Krisann Humphreys Bacon (DHHS) <krisannbacon@utah.gov>, Kristi Meadows <kmeadows@astho.org>
Cc: profile <profile@astho.org>, Caroline Brazeel <cbrazeel@astho.org>, Borski Heather <hborski@utah.gov>

Hi Krisann,

Absolutely. See attached for the most recent version of your survey. If something looks amiss, please let me know. You can use this link to make edits moving forward:
[redacted]

Please reach out if you have any additional concerns.

Best,
Kristi

From: Krisann Humphreys Bacon (DHHS) <krisannbacon@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 8:51 AM
To: Kristi Meadows <kmeadows@astho.org>
Cc: profile <profile@astho.org>; Caroline Brazeel <cbrazeel@astho.org>; Borski Heather <hborski@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Need a new link for Utah: URGENT

[CAUTION: This message originates from outside of ASTHO. Do not open any attachments, click on any links, or respond without first verifying the sender. If you believe the contents of this email may be unsafe, please send it as an attachment to helpdesk@astho.org.]

Thank you! Can you send both? I'd rather complete in the link if possible.

Krisann Bacon
Special Projects | Executive Director's Office
C: 385.377.4168
krisannbacon@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Thu, Aug 4, 2022 at 6:43 AM Kristi Meadows <kmeadows@astho.org> wrote:
Hi Krisann,

So sorry this is happening! Yes, we've had his problem with a couple other states – I sent an email (attached) out last week flagging that this may be a problem if you want more information. We used this same method in 2019 and didn't have the problem so we suspect a change in Qualtrics software. I'll need a couple minutes to go check for Utah's data saved in the server as there may be a couple versions for me to investigate and I can also send a link. If easier (and to avoid any other issues), I can send a PDF of the data we have currently and you can always send changes via email so that we can avoid another Qualtrics link. Let me know what you'd rather do – I'll be in touch very soon with your data.

Kristi

From: Krisann Humphreys Bacon (DHHS) <krisannbacon@utah.gov>
Sent: Wednesday, August 3, 2022 7:53 PM
To: profile <profile@astho.org>; Caroline Brazeel <cbrazeel@astho.org>; Kristi Meadows <kmeadows@astho.org>
Cc: Borski Heather <hborski@utah.gov>
Subject: Need a new link for Utah: URGENT

[CAUTION: This message originates from outside of ASTHO. Do not open any attachments, click on any links, or respond without first verifying the sender. If you believe the contents of this email may be unsafe, please send it as an attachment to helpdesk@astho.org.]

Hello,

My Senior Deputy (Heather Borski) was reviewing the survey tool prior to final submission and many answers that showed as filled in for me were showing blank for her (which is concerning). When I jumped in the survey and started scrolling through it automatically took me to the final submission page when I hit next and now it's locked for submission. This happened once before an you all sent me a new link can you do that again? Also, any idea why answers would show blank on her side? For example section 5 was filled in a week and a half ago and I haven't touched it since but today it was showing blank for her?

Thank you!

Krisann Bacon
Special Projects | Executive Director's Office
C: 385.377.4168
krisannbacon@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

Disclaimer
The information contained in this communication from the sender is confidential. It is intended solely for use by the recipient and others authorized to receive it. If you are not the recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking action in relation of the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful.

This email has been scanned for viruses and malware, and may have been automatically archived by Mimecast Ltd, an innovator in Software as a Service (SaaS) for business. Providing a safer and more useful place for your human generated data. Specializing in; Security, archiving and compliance. To find out more Click Here.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

Disclaimer
The information contained in this communication from the sender is confidential. It is intended solely for use by the recipient and others authorized to receive it. If you are not the recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking action in relation of the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful.

This email has been scanned for viruses and malware, and may have been automatically archived by Mimecast Ltd, an innovator in Software as a Service (SaaS) for business. Providing a safer and more useful place for your human generated data. Specializing in; Security, archiving and compliance. To find out more Click Here.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: CLOCC News for August 4, 2022: Addressing Food Insecurity - CLOCC'sPast and Present
FROM: CLOCC <info@clocc.net>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 04/08/2022 09:23

Consortium to Lower Obesity in Chicago Children

clocc

CELEBRATING 20 years

CLOCC NEWS

Addressing Food Insecurity: CLOCC's Past and Present

By Jennifer Marcisin, MPH, RDN, LDN, CLOCC Community Food Access Manager
View this story online at CLOCC.net

A nutritious diet is vital for chronic disease prevention and can help to reduce the incidence of leading causes of death and disability such as heart disease, cancer, and diabetes. Eating healthy can be challenging if healthy foods are not accessible, available, or affordable. Improving food access throughout Chicago and Cook County has been a key strategy for CLOCC since our inception.

In CLOCC's early years, we developed an initiative in West Town/Humboldt Park with the Puerto Rican Cultural Center and the Sinai Urban Health Institute called Community Organizing for Obesity Prevention in Humboldt Park (CO-OP HP). One of the primary goals for CO-OP HP was to enhance a food environment in which residents could easily find diverse, affordable, fresh produce. The Greater Chicago Food Depository's "Produce Mobile" helped us deliver free produce on a regular basis. Growing Power's "Market Basket" helped establish a produce purchasing program in which residents could purchase and pick up bags of produce weekly at PRCC. The PRCC moved the Market Basket pick-up to a local corner store and developed an arrangement with a local produce market to demonstrate the demand for fresh produce to local retailers. This was the early iteration of what became CLOCC's Healthy Corner Store Initiative.

We were able to replicate this strategy with the federally funded Healthy Places initiative, part of the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's Communities Putting Prevention to Work (CPPW) program (2012-2014). CLOCC received $8.5M over two years on behalf of the City of Chicago and created a community intervention strategy that included Healthy Corner Stores. These funds enabled us to support partners in Humboldt Park, Englewood/West Englewood, and South Chicago to engage approximately 30 neighborhood stores and enhance the availability of fruits and vegetables in communities where childhood obesity rates were high and the local food retail environments were struggling.

The CDC replaced CPPW with a new initiative, Partnerships to Improve Community Health (PICH; 2014-17). CLOCC received PICH funding from the Cook County Department of Public Health to support corner store work in the west and south suburbs of Cook County, picking up on the suburban Healthy Corner Store initiative led by the Public Health Institute of Metropolitan Chicago in Cook County's CPPW program – Healthy HotSpots. The Healthy Hotspot initiative increased availability of healthy foods in 25 corner stores. Through Healthy HotSpots community-based organizations in Blue Island, Cicero, Maywood, Harvey, Chicago Heights, Ford Heights, and Riverdale helped us recruit corner stores, assess healthy food availability, and work with owners to increase the number of healthy foods available and promote the items through in-store marketing materials, food tasting events, and a digital and social media marketing campaign, "Healthy Choices are Just Around the Corner." In partnership with The Food Trust, we developed the Healthy Corner Store Toolkit for community-based organizations, as a how to guide for Healthy Corner Store Work. (Contactinfo@clocc.netfor details).

In addition to leading initiatives to support healthy food retail across Chicagoland, CLOCC developed a series of food access workshops to help build capacity among CLOCC Network partners to expand nutritious food access in their communities. In these workshops, convened from 2014-16, community organizations that were leading food access initiatives in the neighborhoods they served shared their models with other organizations interested in adapting the strategies. Workshops covered topics such as healthy corner stores and strategies for healthy food supply, healthy emergency food system strategies, and farmers' market development and management.

In 2018, Lurie Children's Hospital became one of the founding anchor institutions in West Side United (WSU). WSU is a collaborative of healthcare institutions and community-based organizations aiming to reduce the life expectancy gap between the Loop and West Side neighborhoods of Chicago by 50% by 2030. As a part of the collaborative, CLOCC's team has played a key role in the WSU Food Strategy Working Group, which supports WSU's neighborhood and physical environment impact areas. The group focuses on piloting new food initiatives, such as a Fruit and Vegetable Voucher Program (FVVP) and the Food Pantry Support initiative. The FVVP is currently piloting in Austin with distributions at three WSU hospital clinics and through nutrition programs hosted by Bethel New Life. The program provides participants with vouchers that they can redeem for half-off their produce purchases at Forty Acres Fresh Market or Top Box Foods.

As the WSU partner hospitals expand food insecurity screenings, the Working Group aims to connect more patients to food resources in their neighborhoods. The emergency food system and local food pantries are a critical resource for free, healthy food at the neighborhood level. Five of the WSU hospital partners have developed relationships with at least one West Side food pantry each to provide capacity-building support. The hospital partners offer the pantries assistance based on the individual pantry's needs, including financial assistance, volunteer recruitment, food donations, and mental health screenings. The partnership ensures that West Side residents who seek healthcare at WSU hospitals are referred to a network of pantries that provide a variety of healthy food options and wrap around services. The Food Pantry Support initiative group also strives to provide nutrition education options at each pantry and has developed a nutrition education toolkit with resources for food pantries. The participating pantries and their hospital partners are:

Hospital	Food Pantry Partner	Community
Lurie Children's Hospital	Iglesia Evangelica Emmanuel	Belmont Cragin
Lurie Children's Hospital	Circle Urban Circle Ministries	Austin
AMITA Health	European American Association	West Town
AMITA Health	La Casa Norte	Humboldt Park
Cook County Health	Marillac House	East Garfield Park
Sinai Chicago	Harmony Community Cares	North Lawndale
Rush Medical Center	Beyond Hunger	Oak Park/Austin

Through the National Alliance for Nutrition and Activity, convened by theCenter for Science in the Public Interest(CSPI, CLOCC supported strategies to enhance school food programs, increase healthy food marketing, and protect the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). Through our membership in the Illinois Alliance to Prevent Obesity we have helped establish the Healthy Local Food Incentives Fund and advocated for improved nutrition requirements in licensed childcare centers and group homes across the state. We are proud to be a founding member of the City of Chicago's Food Equity Council, continuing our efforts to ensure equitable access to nutritious food for all Chicagoans. The CLOCC network will continue to be a champion for the policies and programs to increase healthy food access at the local, City, State, and Federal levels.

Upcoming Events

Health Equity & Social Justice Conference 2022: Strengthening Communities of Belonging: Reconnecting, Restoring, and Rebuilding

Hosted by DePaul University's Master of Public Health Program, Center for Community Health Equity, and Sinai Urban Health Institute

Now more than ever, we recognize the need to connect with our communities and the importance of belonging as a determinant of health. We are excited to announce that we plan to convene the 13th annual Health Equity & Social Justice Conference in person this year, providing a space to rekindle our networks and renew our collective passion for health equity. We look forward to sharing best practices with our research and practice communities and centering our efforts to facilitate health and well-being across Chicago. Please join us!

Date: Friday, August 26th, 2022
Location: Malcolm X College, 1900 W Jackson Blvd, Chicago IL, 60612
Keynote Speaker: Derek M. Griffith, PhD

Dr. Derek M. Griffith is a Founder and Co-Director of the Racial Justice Institute, Founder and Director of the Center for Men's Health Equity, Member of the Lombardi Comprehensive Cancer Center, and tenured Professor of Health Management and Policy at Georgetown University. Dr. Griffith's program of research focuses on developing strategies to achieve racial, ethnic and gender equity in health and wellbeing in the US and across the globe through policies and community-based programs. Dr. Griffith is a DePaul alumni, having obtained his master's in the Clinical-Community Psychology program.

Registration is free-of-charge and open to the public.

Learn More Here

Career Opportunities

Senior Coordinator of Talent Acquisition
Girls in the Game

Girls in the Game is seeking a detail-oriented, enthusiastic individual to support the HR and Recruiting functions of the organization. This is a great opportunity to learn and grow in a Human Resources role as part of a rapidly growing organization. This position will work closely with the Senior Manager of Operations and Senior Programs Manager on all aspects of recruitment and hiring operations, and will take ownership of various responsibilities and projects. This role reports to the Senior Manager of Operations and will also work closely with Girls in the Game program team leadership. Learn more or apply here.

Equiticity is hiring for three positions:

- Director, Community Mobility Rituals (Full-Time, $75,000 annual salary and competitive benefits package)
- Advocacy & Movement Building Manager (Part-Time contractor position, 6 month timeline, $21,000 total compensation)
- Community Mobility Rituals Manager, The Go Hub (Part-Time contractor position, 16 week timeline, $12,000 total compensation)

Learn more or apply here.

Epi Research Coordinator 2 - Dean's Office, College of Nursing
Rush University Medical Center

The Epi Research Coordinator 2 coordinates moderately complex Epidemiological, Behavioral or Human Translational, or Population Health research studies and performs a variety of duties including the collection, compilation and documentation of research data, or assists in the coordination of more complex studies. The Coordinator 2 partners with other members of the research team to ensure the research is conducted in accordance with the study protocol, local, state, and federal. May provide guidance to other less experienced staff on the study team and be independently responsible for more complex aspects of studies. Exemplifies the Rush mission, vision and ICARE values and acts in accordance with Rush policies and procedures. Learn more or apply. More information about this study is available here.

Submit Job Openings and Future Events to be Listed on CLOCC.net and in the CLOCC Newsletter

Connect with CLOCC's network of nearly 3,000 childhood obesity prevention advocates by listing your organization's upcoming events or current job openings on the Consortium's website. Upon submission, postings will be approved by CLOCC staff; events and careers applicable to the CLOCC network may also be featured in this newsletter. If you have questions or are not able to access the webpage, contact info@clocc.net. CLOCC will not publish for-profit services or events, or products for sale.

clocc careers

Click here, or the image above, to view the latest job opportunities in obesity prevention and public health. Are you looking to fill an opening? Submit your listing using the button below.

Submit an Opening

clocc events

Click here, or the image above, to view upcoming events targeted for child health and obesity prevention, as well events hosted by local partners. Submit your own event using the button below.

Submit an Event

Focus Upstream

CLOCC focuses upstream to identify the fundamental root causes of obesity, and to broaden the scope of our obesity prevention strategies. This work draws from local and national attention to health equity and social influencers of health, such as immigration, education, poverty and racism, all of which have an impact on people's ability to eat healthy and be active where they live, work, learn, and play. If you have comments or questions about this focus, we invite you to reach out to info@clocc.net.

UPSTREAM NEWS:

- Black Households Suffer the Most From Rising Inflation Rates - University of California News
- 40 Percent of Single Moms Face Food Insecurity. The Fall of Roe Will Plunge Them Deeper Into Poverty - Ms. Magazine

Childhood Obesity in the Media

- How Will the Obesity Epidemic End? With Kids - USA Today
- Preventing Obesity Starts in the Grocery Aisle With Food Packaging - MedicalXpress
- Ahead of White House Hunger Conference, Groups Argue for Equity and a Stronger Safety Net - Fern's AG Insider

- Junk Food Advertising Restrictions Prevent Almost 100,000 Obesity Cases - MedicalXpress
- Food Stamp Work Requirements Increase Mental Health Care Use - Northwestern Now
- Children With Obesity Not Being Screened for Other Illnesses - Moms
- Why Food Insecurity Among Gen Z Is so Much Higher Than for Other Age Groups - The Conversation
- Eating Lots of Highly Processed Food Is Linked to Faster Cognitive Decline, Research Finds - NBC News
- SNAP Benefits Expanded to Help With Online Grocery Shopping - ABC News
- Physical Activity Affects Boys and Girls Differently - MedicalXpress
- Houston Food Bank Debuts School Lockers for Food - Food Bank News
- The USDA is Expanding Farm to School Grants to Promote Better Meals - Tasting Table

COVID-19: News and Resources

For questions related to testing criteria and general information about COVID-19 and children, please contact the COVID-19 Call Center at Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital at 312.227.5300. The Call Center is staffed by Lurie Children's nurses and is available Monday through Friday, 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM CT, and Saturday, 8:00 AM to 1:00 PM CT.

GO-TO SOURCES FOR CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19) INFORMATION:

- Clinical Guidance from the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP)
  - Obesity Management and Treatment During COVID-19 (AAP)
- Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago
- Lurie Children's Hospital Resources in Spanish/Recursos Relacionados con el Nuevo Coronavirus (COVID-19)
- Chicago Department of Public Health (CDPH)
- Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH)

VACCINE RESOURCES

On June 19, the CDC recommended COVID-19 vaccine for children younger than 5 years of age. Important information for COVID-19 vaccine can be found here (children) and here (all ages).

The CDC recommends Moderna or Pfizer vaccines for this age group. Both vaccines are safe and effective. Lurie Children's Hospital will be offering Moderna to children younger than 5 years old and will continue to offer Pfizer to those age 5 years and older.

COVID Vaccine Scheduling at Lurie Children's Hospital

Funding and Recognition Opportunities

- NIH's Office of Nutrition Research (ONR) has issued the notice of special interest (NOSI) Stimulating Research to Understand and Address Hunger, Food and Nutrition Insecurity. The purpose of this NOSI is to encourage research on the efficacy of interventions that address nutrition security and the mechanisms of food insecurity on a variety of health outcomes. It also calls for the development of new measures for nutrition security and assessment of food insecurity that are broadly applicable. It was developed by the ONR Implementation Working Group on Nutrition and Health Disparities in collaboration with NIH Institutes and Centers (ICs) and Offices in support of the goals and objectives of the Strategic Plan for NIH Nutrition Research. Deadline, October 5th.

- Healthy Eating Research, a national program of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, is funding research focused on how pandemic-driven social and economic programs and policies related to poverty reduction impact child obesity, diet quality, and food and nutrition security. Applications are open now here. Deadline, October 12th.

CLOCC.NET RESOURCES

- LATEST NEWS
- JOB OPENINGS
- EVENTS
- RESOURCE LIBRARY
- 5-4-3-2-1 Go!
- *five*SMART

CONTACT US

CONSORTIUM TO LOWER OBESITY IN CHICAGO CHILDREN (CLOCC) | 225 E. Chicago Ave., Box #157, Chicago, IL 60611

Unsubscribe hborski@utah.gov

Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice

Sent by info@clocc.net powered by

Constant Contact

Try email marketing for free today!

SUBJECT: Upcoming Webinars: Long COVID, Other Lines of Business, Interns inthe Health Center, and More
FROM: Feldesman Tucker Leifer Fidell LLP <learning@ftlf.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 04/08/2022 09:45

Upcoming Webinars for Health Centers

TRAINING THROUGHOUT AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER

Essential Compliance and Risk Management Policies and Procedures for Health Centers
August 9, 16 & 23 at 1 PM ET
Register

This summer, take time to review and update your health center's policies and procedures in three vital areas: Exclusion and Debarment Screening, the Drug-Free Workplace Act, and Social Media. In this new compliance series, FTLF attorneys Molly Evans and Dianne Pledgie will walk you through the legal requirements surrounding each topic, explain how they apply to and impact health centers, and offer best practices to aid you and your colleagues in revising and implementing these important policies and procedures for your organization.

Earmarks are Back: What are they, How do they work, What are the terms?
Thursday, August 11 at 1 PM ET
Register

After a decade of prohibition, earmarks returned in the most recent fiscal year budget. The congressionally directed spending for community projects, also known as earmarks, provides dollars for specific projects and organizations throughout the country. Join FTLF attorneys Phillip Escoriaza and Ted Waters to learn more about the earmark and appropriations process and the terms and conditions that accompany this special funding.

Key Compliance Considerations When Providing Opportunities for Students, Interns, and Job Shadows at Your Health Center
Thursday, August 18 at 1 PM ET
Register

When hosting students, interns, and others interested in working for a safety-net provider, health centers should be aware of a number of compliance and legal concerns. In this webinar, FTLF attorney Molly Evans will discuss means to mitigate risk while still providing valuable opportunities.

"Long COVID" and Health Center Legal Obligations under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Other Disability Rights Laws
Wednesday, August 24 at 1 PM ET
Register

Experienced by a large number of those who had COVID-19, Long COVID has been classified as a disability under the ADA and other disability rights laws. Join this training with FTLF attorney Kathy Ghiladi to learn your health center's legal obligations when an employee presents with Long COVID and determine what revisions may be necessary for your internal policies and procedures.

Providing Services Outside the Scope of Your Grant: How to Ensure Compliance
Tuesday, September 27 at 3 PM ET
Register

The recent Dobbs decision has lead many health centers to question how they, as federal grant-funded organizations, can provide services that are out of scope. In this webinar, FTLF attorneys Carrie Riley and Ted Waters will use elective abortions as an example to address key areas of risk and the legal and practical considerations health centers face when deciding to establish an "other line of business."

Structuring Patient Incentive Programs to Comply with Federal Rules
Thursday, September 29 at 1 PM ET
Register

Patient incentives have long posed a challenge to health centers wishing to promote healthy behaviors while minimizing legal risks under the Beneficiary Inducement Program. In this webinar, FTLF attorney Adam Falcone will help you gain a better understanding of the exceptions that permit patient incentives and best practices for implementing a program.

Watch On-Demand: The recorded versions of all of our webinars are included in your purchase and will typically be available within seven (7) business days of the live event.

Continuing Professional Education (CPE) credits in Specialized Knowledge and Applications are available for our live webinars and workshops. Check out the Continuing Education tab of any FTLF training or read more about CPE credits here.

FELDESMAN + TUCKER + LEIFER + FIDELL LLP

Visit the FTLF Learning Center

Privacy Policy

Feldesman Tucker Leifer Fidell LLP | 1129 20th Street NW, Washington, DC 20036

Unsubscribe hborski@utah.gov

Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice

Sent by learning@ftlf.com

SUBJECT: PH WINS Survey Results Available Now!
FROM: "Public Health Weekly" <pr@astho.org>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 04/08/2022 10:21

View this email in your browser.

astho™

PUBLIC HEALTH WEEKLY

August 4, 2022

How Strong Partnerships Improved Colorado's Suicide And Overdose Prevention Strategy

Suicide and overdose are among the top 10 leading causes of death in the United States. Addressing these complex issues requires cross-sector partnerships. This video highlights the Colorado National Collaborative, an innovative effort that brings national, state, and local partners together to mitigate risk factors and build protective factors associated with suicide and overdose.

Learn how this collaborative framework is improving prevention efforts in Colorado and how a similar collaborative approach might benefit other states.

WATCH

States Serving Up Healthy Eating Policies

Obesity is on the rise throughout the United States, and with it increased risk for diabetes, heart disease, stroke, and cancer.

While there is no single approach to reducing obesity, a significant piece of the puzzle is healthy eating and increasing access to healthy foods. States have identified different strategies to implement healthy eating approaches and reduce obesity at the school and community levels, as well as through food labeling at grocery stores and food markets.

Learn more about these strategies in this week's Health Policy Update.

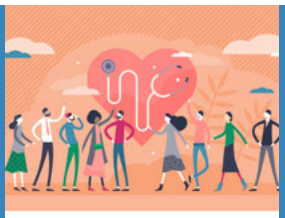
READ

THIS WEEK'S HIGHLIGHTS

New Public Health Workforce Data and Interactive Dashboard Now Available | Full data and an interactive dashboard from the 2021 Public Health Workforce Interests and Needs Survey (PH WINS), the only nationally representative survey of state and local government public health employees in the U.S., are now available. The survey covers critical data on the work force, including the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on their jobs and professional lives. The survey was conducted by the de Beaumont Foundation and ASTHO between September 2021 and January 2022, and it was completed by nearly 45,000 individuals. Learn more about PH WINS.

COVID-19: A Catalyst for Change & How It Could Transform the National Health Data Ecosystem & Health of American Communities | Check out a new webinar from the Massachusetts Health Data Consortium on how the COVID-19 pandemic has provided an opportunity for public health to modernize its data systems to better meet current needs; ASTHO's senior vice president of population health and innovation, J.T. Lane, MPH, will be presenting. Register now.

LATEST ASTHO RESOURCES AND EVENTS



Brief

Leveraging Health Official Authority and Influence for Systems Improvement

READ

Brief

Successes from the Suicide and Opioid Overdose Prevention Public Health Initiative

READ

Report

Public Health Confronts the Mosquito: Special Considerations for U.S. Territories and Freely Associated States

READ

astho

PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW

MORNING EDITION

THIS WEEK ON PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW MORNING EDITION

- PH WINS Survey Released | Brian Castrucci, de Beaumont Foundation
- New CDC Workforce Survey | Laura Parajón (SHO Designee-NM)
- North Carolina's Child Vaccine Strategy | Elizabeth Cuervo Tilson (SHO Designee-NC)
- Monkeypox Response | Chris Taylor, ASTHO
- Filling the Workforce Pipeline | Laura Parajón (SHO Designee-NM)

LISTEN

PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW PODCAST

astho

PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW

- Substance Use During Pregnancy - Reducing Stigma of Treatment | Joseph Kanter (SHO-LA) | Amy Ladley, Louisiana Perinatal Quality Collaborative
- Making Sure Maine Youth Matter | Sheila Nelson, Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention | Kini-Ana Tinkham, Maine Resilience Building Network
- Effects of COVID-19 on Tuberculosis Prevention, Detection, and Treatment | José Romero (alumni-AR) | Philip LoBue, Division of TB Elimination, CDC
- Older Adults and Healthy Aging | Jewel Mullen (alumni-CT) | Elizabeth Head, Georgia Department of Public Health | Aline Stone, Division of Aging Services, Georgia Department of Human Services

LISTEN

ASTHO IN THE NEWS

- How Health Systems Can Reduce Gun Violence, Here's What Kaiser Permanente Is Doing. | Forbes
- Biden administration falls into blame game with local authorities over monkeypox response. | The Hill | Marcus Plescia, ASTHO
- Monkeypox cases are rising in the U.S. What's being done to stop the outbreak? | PR Morning Edition | Marcus Plescia, ASTHO
- Supporting the Public Health Workforce Requires Collective Actions to Address Harassment and Threats. | JAMA Open Network | Michael Fraser, ASTHO
- The smallpox vaccine stockpile isn't the monkeypox solution we need — yet. | Vox | Nirav Shah (SHO-ME), ASTHO president
- Health Secretary Says States 'Need to Work With Us' on Fighting Monkeypox. | The New York Times | Marcus Plescia, ASTHO

Press Room | Careers | Events | Funding

Was this forwarded to you? Click here to subscribe.

Unsubscribe from Public Health Weekly.
Unsubscribe from all ASTHO newsletters.

higher logic

SUBJECT: Senate Panel OKs 5 Judge Noms, Deadlocks On 6th Circ. Pick
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 05/08/2022 02:14

P ICY LAW360

Friday, August 5, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Senate Panel OKs 5 Judge Noms, Deadlocks On 6th Circ. Pick

The Senate Judiciary Committee advanced five of President Joe Biden's judicial picks Thursday, including U.S. Magistrate Judge Doris L. Pryor's nomination to the Seventh Circuit, but the panel deadlocked on Rachel Bloomekatz's nomination to the Sixth Circuit.

Read full article »

Senate Approves 9th Circ. Pick In Speedy Confirmation

The Senate voted to confirm Roopali Desai to the Ninth Circuit on Thursday, an expedited approval that was the quickest and most bipartisan confirmation of a circuit court nominee since President Joe Biden took office last year.

Read full article »

Monkeypox Deemed National Emergency As Cases Near 7,000

The Biden administration declared the monkeypox outbreak a public health emergency on Thursday, following the leads of several states and cities as confirmed cases near 7,000 nationwide.

Read full article »

Russian Blockade Is Cause Of Food Crisis, EU Official Says

Russia's invasion of Ukraine is "sending shockwaves around the world, and everybody is paying the price," according to European Commission Vice President Joseph Borrell, who said in a statement on Thursday that Russia's blockade of grain exports from Ukraine is behind a food and energy crisis rather than sanctions.

Read full article »

Fed. Courts Failing To Protect Personal Info, Sen. Wyden Says

The federal court system has failed to protect the information of citizens in public court records, according to U.S. Sen. Ron Wyden, D-Ore., who outlined his concerns in a Thursday letter addressed to Chief Justice John Roberts.

Read full article »

DOT Finalizes Natural Gas Pipeline Safety Rule

The U.S. Department of Transportation on Thursday finalized enhanced safety requirements for more than 300,000 miles of onshore gas transmission pipelines, capping a more than decadelong effort to strengthen its rules in response to the deadly 2010 San Bruno pipeline explosion.

Read full article »

Pork Industry Says Mass. Law Threatens US Bacon Supply

Restaurant and hospitality trade groups are suing Massachusetts to stop new anti-animal cruelty laws they argue will restrict pork sales nationwide, warning of a looming bacon shortage as the new standards take effect Aug. 15.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Armstrong Teasdale
Arnold & Porter
Banner Witcoff
Bradley Arant
Burr & Forman
Consumer Litigation Associates
Cooley LLP
Coppersmith Brockelman
Cozen O'Connor
Farrar & Ball
Greenberg Traurig
Gupta Wessler
Hangley Aronchick
Holland & Knight
Jackson Lewis P.C.
Jomarron Lopez
Jones Day
Kelly Guzzo
Law Offices of Donato D. Ramos
Litchfield Cavo
Lynn Pinker
McDowell Hetherington
Nelson Mullins
O'Melveny & Myers
Quinn Emanuel

Trump Attys Olsen And Olson Face 'Big Lie' Bar Complaints

The former special counsel to Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton and an ex-legal adviser to Donald Trump are the latest attorneys facing ethics complaints over their roles in the former president's unsuccessful efforts to contest his loss to Joe Biden.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

CFPB's Chopra Stresses Need To 'Eradicate,' Not Just Educate

Consumer Financial Protection Bureau Director Rohit Chopra made a case Thursday for prioritizing enforcement over education to prevent consumers from being taken advantage of, saying financial literacy efforts may even do more harm than good in some cases.

Read full article »

Ex-Puerto Rico Governor Charged In Bribe Scheme

A former governor of Puerto Rico was indicted and arrested on charges of accepting campaign contributions in exchange for terminating an investigation into a bank and allowing a bank official to handpick a financial oversight commissioner, the U.S. Department of Justice announced Thursday.

Read full article »

Tribe-Linked Lender, Borrowers Reach Deal In Lending Suit

Tribe-linked lender Haynes Investments LLC reached a deal to settle claims from a proposed class of borrowers that they were charged excessively high interest rates on consumer loans, they told the Ninth Circuit on Wednesday.

1 document attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

ERCOT Hits Back At Insurer In Winter Storm Coverage Suit

Texas' primary electricity grid operator, the Electric Reliability Council of Texas Inc., has slapped The Cincinnati Insurance Co. with claims it's in breach of their contract and is violating state insurance code by refusing to pay the operator's defense costs in hundreds of lawsuits related to February 2021's deadly winter storm.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Energy Co. To Manage First US Commercial-Scale Wind Farm

Sustainable energy company Avangrid Inc. hammered out an agreement to manage operations of the country's first commercial-scale offshore wind project, an 800-megawatt wind farm off the coast of Massachusetts that previously incited the wrath of litigious neighbors.

Read full article »

Farm Tells 4th Circ. Water Act Citizen Suit Should Get Boot

A South Carolina farm being sued for allegedly failing to get needed stormwater permits Wednesday asked the Fourth Circuit to reconsider its revival of the claims, filed under the Clean Water Act's citizen enforcement provision.

Petition attached | Read full article »

Enviros Sink Feds' Coal Development Plans Again

A federal judge on Wednesday for the second time struck down resource management plans in coal-rich areas of Montana and Wyoming, finding that the U.S. Bureau of Land Management failed to properly consider the effects of air pollution from mining operations in its revised environmental assessment.

Order attached | Read full article »

9th Circ. Rebuffs Landowners' Challenge To Tribe's Water Deal

The Ninth Circuit tossed an appeal brought by a group of landowners seeking to challenge a modified judgment on tribal water rights in Washington, saying the owners actually gained water protections through the decision and now lack the ability to appeal the lower court's move.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

Fla. State Atty Suspended For Opposing Abortion Prosecution

Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis said Thursday he was indefinitely suspending State Attorney Andrew Warren in Tampa for

Shearman & Sterling
Shidlofsky Law Firm
Sidley Austin
Venable LLP
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Aetna Inc.
Amazon.com Inc.
American Arbitration Association
American Association for Justice
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of Texas
Avangrid Inc.
Bertelsmann AG
Cigna Corp.
Cincinnati Financial Corp.
DISH Network Corp.
Earthjustice
Electric Reliability Council of Texas Inc.
Everytown for Gun Safety
Franciscan Physician Network
Getty Images Inc.
Hachette Book Group Inc.
HarperCollins Publishers LLC
Iberdrola SA
Iconix Brand Group, Inc.
JAMS Inc.
Johnson Controls International PLC
Macmillan Publishers Ltd.
Make the Road New York
Maryland State Bar Association
Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Mayo Foundation for Medical Education and Research
National Consumer Law Center
National Federation of Independent Business
National Immigration Law Center
National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws
Netflix Inc.
PG&E Corp.
Quest Diagnostics Inc.
Rent-A-Center Inc.
Safeco Insurance Co.
Scholastic Corporation
Sierra Club
Simon & Schuster Inc.
South Carolina Environmental Law Project
Space Exploration Technologies Corp.
Spotify Technology SA
The DIRECTV Group, Inc.
The European Bank for Reconstruction & Development
Twitter Inc.
UnitedLex Corp.
VCG Holding Corp.
Virginia State Bar
Western Environmental Law Center

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

neglect of duty after Warren, as part of a letter signed by elected prosecutors across the country, pledged not to use his resources to enforce abortion bans or laws targeting transgender people.

Read full article »

5th Circ. Mulls Judge's Authority To Halt ACA Sex Bias Rule

A Fifth Circuit panel questioned Thursday whether a Texas federal judge exceeded his authority by issuing an order that protects several religious medical providers from punishment by the federal government for refusing to provide abortion or gender transition-related care despite an anti-discrimination provision in the Affordable Care Act.

Read full article »

COMPETITION

Penguin CEO Says Simon & Schuster Deal Is For Market Share

Penguin Random House's CEO said in D.C. federal court on Thursday that the publisher's planned purchase of rival Simon & Schuster is about winning back the share of the book market it has lost over the years, not about gaining leverage over writers.

Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

Texas And Mo. Fail To Win Border Wall Claims Against Biden

A federal judge has thrown out most claims by Texas, its General Land Office and Missouri against the Biden administration over the president's decision to slow construction funds for former President Donald Trump's wall on the U.S.-Mexico border, finding that the states' constitutional arguments failed.

Order attached | Read full article »

NY Judge Declines Relief For DACA Hopefuls In 'Limbo'

A New York federal judge refused to modify an order resuming acceptance of new Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals applications, saying clarification sought following a Texas judge's barring new approvals was actually a request for additional relief.

Order attached | Read full article »

4th Circ. Says Death Threat Is Persecution In Asylum Case

The Fourth Circuit gave a Salvadoran woman and her son a second chance at their asylum application, holding that an immigration judge didn't give enough weight to her claim of death threats on the basis of religion.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

Narragansett Tribe Renews Suit Over Rhode Island Highway

The Narragansett Indian Tribe has again filed suit in D.C. federal court against the Federal Highway Administration and Rhode Island seeking $30 million in damages for the destruction of cultural sites during the building of a highway bridge.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Lawmakers Press Plan For National Broadband Strategy

A bipartisan group of lawmakers filed a bill Thursday that would require the White House to develop a national broadband strategy after a congressional watchdog recently described federal efforts to aid deployment as a "fragmented, overlapping patchwork."

Bill attached | Read full article »

Industry Group Pushes For 1 Gbps Broadband Minimum

A broadband industry group has called on the Federal Communications Commission to set 1 gigabit per second as the national standard for minimum internet download speeds as soon as possible rather than teeing it up as a long-term goal.

Letter attached | Read full article »

Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
Bureau of Land Management
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
European Commission
European Union
Executive Office of the President
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Highway Administration
Federal Judicial Center
Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia
Government Accountability Office
International Trade Commission
Narragansett Indian Tribe
National Economic Council
National Labor Relations Board
National Telecommunications and Information Administration
New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene
Occupational Safety and Health Administration
Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration
Rural Utilities Service
South Carolina Department of Health & Environmental Control
Texas General Land Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Montana
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Puerto Rico
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Virginia
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit
U.S. Customs and Border Protection
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of Transportation
U.S. District Court for the District of Arizona
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia

DirecTV Warns FCC Of 12 GHz Disruption From Devices

DirecTV told the Federal Communications Commission on Wednesday that there isn't enough data to support a proposed plan to open up the 12 gigahertz band, which is currently dominated by satellite operators, to allow low-power devices.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

Brittney Griner Gets 9-Year Sentence For Cannabis In Russia

A Russian court sentenced American basketball star Brittney Griner Thursday to nine years in a penal colony for trafficking and possessing hashish oil, according to multiple media reports.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Rulings Limiting Federal Agencies May Lead Congress To Act

Recent U.S. Supreme Court and Fifth Circuit rulings illustrate the judiciary's growing skepticism of federal government agencies' influence, which could prompt Congress to respond by limiting judicial power, says David Coale at Lynn Pinker.

Read full article »

Agriculture Patent Reform Can Look To Pharma Approaches

As the U.S. Department of Agriculture calls for promotion of innovation and competition to combat inflating prices in the fertilizer and seed industries, lessons from pharmaceutical patent reform experiences can serve as guidance, say Erik Maurer and Alex Bruening at Banner Witcoff.

Read full article »

More Employment Regs May See 'Major Questions' Challenges

The U.S. Supreme Court's recent use of the major questions doctrine to strike down regulation has already been cited in lower court cases challenging U.S. Department of Labor authority to implement wage and hour changes, and could provide a potent tool to litigants seeking to restrain federal workplace and labor regulations, say Jeffrey Brecher and Courtney Malveaux at Jackson Lewis.

Read full article »

How New Va. Construction Payment Law Compares To Others

The Virginia Legislature's recent step toward limiting the use of certain common clauses in construction subcontracts adds to a patchwork landscape regarding pay-if-paid clauses, and all parties to a prime-sub contractor relationship should be aware of their enforceability state by state, say Dismas Locaria and Caleb McCallum at Venable.

Read full article »

Dobbs, Workers' Comp. Brief Hint At Biden's Cannabis Stance

The U.S. Supreme Court's recent Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health decision, combined with the solicitor general's brief in a workers' compensation case that the high court recently declined to review, reveals three notable possibilities about the Biden administration's position on cannabis, say Whitt Steineker and Claire Hodge at Bradley Arant.

Read full article »

Combating Implicit Bias In Alternative Dispute Resolution

Alternative dispute resolution requires a high degree of trust and belief that proceedings will be fair, so confronting implicit associations among neutrals through systemic and personal efforts is even more important in the ADR world, say arbitrators and mediators at JAMS.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts

U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York

U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia

U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York

U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

U.S. Patent and Trademark Office

U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission

U.S. Senate

U.S. Supreme Court

United Nations

United States District Court for the District of Montana

World Trade Organization

Cooley Atty Ordered To 'Personally Pay' For 'Hubris'

A Pennsylvania judge on Thursday ordered a senior lawyer at Cooley LLP to "personally pay" the legal fees incurred by his client's former CEO in a dispute over the ownership of patent applications, calling out the attorney for his "hubris and disregard of procedural rules" when filing 61 pages of evidence after deadlines had passed.

Read full article »

Wikipedia And Dubious Judges: 4 Cases To Know

This week, academic researchers said they found evidence of Irish judges drawing from new Wikipedia articles to support their decisions, and a significant bump in related citations. While some U.S. judges are comfortable citing Wikipedia in opinions, many others have objected to its use in court. Here are four cases to know about judicial skepticism on Wikipedia.

Read full article »

Jury Says Alex Jones Must Pay $4.1M In Sandy Hook Case

A Texas jury found Thursday that right-wing conspiracy theorist Alex Jones should pay Sandy Hook parents $4.1 million after seven days of witness testimony and evidence in the defamation case, with the Infowars owner now facing a new phase of the proceeding focused on punitive damages.

Read full article »

LeClairRyan Trustee Wants More Attys For $21M Deal Fight

The Chapter 7 trustee for defunct LeClairRyan PLLC is seeking more BigLaw firepower for an unusual dispute with the Office of the U.S. Trustee, which has pledged to fight a $21 million settlement with UnitedLex and a court order keeping many of its details under wraps.

Read full article »

Cigna Attys Warned For 'Misleading' Quotes In FCA Tussle

A Tennessee federal judge weighing a $1.4 billion False Claims Act dispute admonished lawyers for health insurance giant Cigna Corp. over "misleading" legal citations containing vaguely attributed quotes and warned the attorneys against similar sloppiness in the future.

Read full article »

Ga. DA Says Sen. Graham Can't Ax Trump Probe Subpoena

Sen. Lindsey Graham, R-S.C., can't escape a special grand jury subpoena for his testimony as part of an investigation into whether former President Donald Trump and others criminally tried to interfere in Georgia's 2020 election, state prosecutors told a Georgia federal judge Thursday.

Read full article »

Sidley Partner Tapped For International Bank Role

President Joe Biden has nominated a Sidley Austin LLP international trade and investment partner as U.S. director of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, an international institution formed to help countries transition to market-oriented economies.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Bank Policy Institute
Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Former United CEO Says Data Abuse Possible, 'Very Isolated'
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 05/08/2022 02:27

LAW360®

Friday, August 5, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Former United CEO Says Data Abuse Possible, 'Very Isolated'

The former UnitedHealth Group CEO who oversaw the company's decision to buy Change Healthcare for $13.8 billion defended the transaction Thursday against a Justice Department challenge but admitted that data abuse is possible even if safeguards make that unlikely.

Read full article »

Cigna Attys Warned For 'Misleading' Quotes In FCA Tussle

A Tennessee federal judge weighing a $1.4 billion False Claims Act dispute admonished lawyers for health insurance giant Cigna Corp. over "misleading" legal citations containing vaguely attributed quotes and warned the attorneys against similar sloppiness in the future.

Order attached | Read full article »

5th Circ. Mulls Judge's Authority To Halt ACA Sex Bias Rule

A Fifth Circuit panel questioned Thursday whether a Texas federal judge exceeded his authority by issuing an order that protects several religious medical providers from punishment by the federal government for refusing to provide abortion or gender transition-related care despite an anti-discrimination provision in the Affordable Care Act.

Read full article »

Warren Tells 9th Circ. RFK Jr. Book Criticism Caused No Harm

Sen. Elizabeth Warren, D-Mass., has told the Ninth Circuit that a letter she sent to Amazon asking it to review its policy on COVID-19 misinformation did not cause any injury to anti-vaccine activist Robert F. Kennedy Jr. and other authors of a book that contains conspiracy theories about the pandemic.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Cooley Atty Ordered To 'Personally Pay' For 'Hubris'

A Pennsylvania judge on Thursday ordered a senior lawyer at Cooley LLP to "personally pay" the legal fees incurred by his client's former CEO in a dispute over the ownership of patent applications, calling out the attorney for his "hubris and disregard of procedural rules" when filing 61 pages of evidence after deadlines had passed.

Order attached | Read full article »

Gardasil Vax Suits Sent To North Carolina

The Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation on Thursday sent suits alleging that Merck's Gardasil vaccine caused injuries to North Carolina over Merck's objections that it's unprecedented to consolidate suits subject to the National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act.

Order attached | Read full article »

Monkeypox Deemed National Emergency As Cases Near 7,000

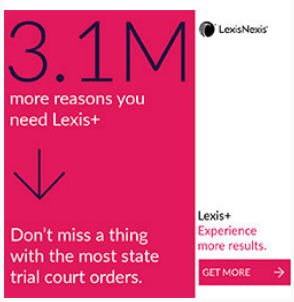
The Biden administration declared the monkeypox outbreak a public health emergency on Thursday, following the leads of several states and cities as confirmed cases near 7,000 nationwide.

Read full article »

ENFORCEMENT & COMPLIANCE

2 Insulation Cos. Plead Guilty To Bid-Rigging Conn. Projects

Two contractors have pled guilty to roles in a bid-rigging conspiracy related to pipe and duct insulation for both private and public projects in Connecticut, the U.S. Department of Justice announced Thursday.



COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

- Amazon.com Inc.
- American Arbitration Association
- American Civil Liberties Union
- American Civil Liberties Union of Texas
- Amgen Inc.
- Banco Bradesco SA
- Change Healthcare Inc.
- ChemoCentryx Inc.
- Cigna Corp.
- Eutelsat Communications SA
- Everytown for Gun Safety
- Excellus BlueCross BlueShield
- Franciscan Physician Network
- Iconix Brand Group, Inc.
- Intelsat SA
- JAMS Inc.
- LinkedIn Corp.
- Maryland State Bar Association
- Massachusetts Institute of Technology
- Mayo Foundation for Medical Education and Research
- Nuvance Health
- Optum Inc.
- PepsiCo Inc.
- Pine Brook Partners LLC
- Publicis Groupe SA
- Quest Diagnostics Inc.
- Raytheon Technologies Corp.
- SES SA
- Space Exploration Technologies Corp.
- Tesla Inc.

4 documents attached | Read full article »

LITIGATION

1st Circ. Says Students' Vax Claims Against UMass Are Moot

Two former University of Massachusetts students can't revive their lawsuit challenging the public university system's COVID-19 vaccine mandate because both moved on to other colleges, making their claims moot, the First Circuit ruled Thursday.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

3rd Circ. Says Court Must Revisit Arbitration In OptumRx Case

The Third Circuit on Thursday said a district court should not have flat-out denied benefits manager OptumRx's request to arbitrate a challenge to its reimbursement rates brought by 400 pharmacies.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

3rd Circ. Upholds Deportation Of Surgeon In $3M Tax Scheme

A Swedish plastic surgeon who served prison time for a $3 million tax evasion scheme should not be allowed back into the U.S., the Third Circuit ruled Thursday.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Texas Doctor's Electroshock Suit Tossed For Lack Of Expert

A Texas appeals court on Thursday shut down a physician's suit seeking to hold a hospital liable for an electroshock injury he suffered while performing a C-section, saying the claims can be considered medical malpractice, which require a medical expert's report, rather than ordinary negligence.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

State Farm Seeks $2.6M From NJ Clinics Over 'Secret Scheme'

State Farm wants millions of dollars in damages after saying it was tricked into paying fraudulent charges by a consortium of chiropractors and physicians who drummed up business with illegal kickbacks and preplanned routes of care.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

DEALS

Wachtell, Latham & Watkins Steer $3.7B Biopharma Deal

Biotechnology company Amgen Inc., led by Wachtell Lipton Rosen & Katz, will purchase Latham & Watkins LLP-steered biopharmaceutical company ChemoCentryx Inc., for an enterprise value of $3.7 billion, the companies announced Thursday.

Read full article »

Deals Rumor Mill: Unity Software, SES, UnitedHealth

Video game software company Unity is reportedly planning to spin off its Chinese unit, satellite companies SES and Intelsat are in early stage talks for a potential merger, and UnitedHealth is struggling to find a purchaser for its Brazilian business.

Read full article »

REAL ESTATE

Real Estate Rumors: Capital One, Spring Health, Grand Peaks

Capital One is said to have leased 78,000 square feet in Manhattan, Spring Health has reportedly leased roughly 30,000 square feet in Manhattan, and Grand Peaks has reportedly dropped $93.5 million on a Phoenix apartment tower.

Read full article »

PEOPLE

UnitedHealthcare Senior Atty Joins Centivo As 1st GC

Centivo, a health plan for self-funded employers, has brought on UnitedHealthcare Senior Associate General Counsel Tara Johnson to become its first general counsel.

Read full article »

Florida's Lash & Goldberg Adds Litigator From Kaplan Zeena

Lash & Goldberg LLP added a new partner with 20 years of complex litigation experience to its Fort Lauderdale office from Kaplan Zeena LLP.

The European Bank for Reconstruction & Development
Twitter Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
UnitedLex Corp.
Virginia State Bar
Yale University

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Arnold & Jacobowitz
Bartlett LLP
Baum Hedlund
Bennett Bricklin
Bradley Arant
Burr & Forman
Cleary Gottlieb
Cooley LLP
Coppersmith Brockelman
Cozen O'Connor
Daniels Kashtan
Farrar & Ball
Gibson Dunn
Goldman Ismail
Greenberg Traurig
Hangley Aronchick
Hogan Lovells
Jacobs Law Group PC
Jomarron Lopez
Jones Day
Kaplan Zeena
Kirkland & Ellis
Koffsky & Felsen
Lash & Goldberg
Latham & Watkins
McDowell Hetherington
McLane & McLane
Nelson Mullins
Pendley Baudin
Quinn Emanuel
Serpe Andrews
Sidley Austin
Simpson Thacher
Tripp Scott
Wachtell Lipton
Wiggin and Dana
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
European Commission
European Union
Executive Office of the President
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Judicial Center
Food and Drug Administration
International Trade Commission
New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Connecticut
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Western District of Washington

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Dobbs, Workers' Comp. Brief Hint At Biden's Cannabis Stance

The U.S. Supreme Court's recent Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health decision, combined with the solicitor general's brief in a workers' compensation case that the high court recently declined to review, reveals three notable possibilities about the Biden administration's position on cannabis, say Whitt Steineker and Claire Hodge at Bradley Arant.

Read full article »

Combating Implicit Bias In Alternative Dispute Resolution

Alternative dispute resolution requires a high degree of trust and belief that proceedings will be fair, so confronting implicit associations among neutrals through systemic and personal efforts is even more important in the ADR world, say arbitrators and mediators at JAMS.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Wikipedia And Dubious Judges: 4 Cases To Know

This week, academic researchers said they found evidence of Irish judges drawing from new Wikipedia articles to support their decisions, and a significant bump in related citations. While some U.S. judges are comfortable citing Wikipedia in opinions, many others have objected to its use in court. Here are four cases to know about judicial skepticism on Wikipedia.

Read full article »

Fla. State Atty Suspended For Opposing Abortion Prosecution

Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis said Thursday he was indefinitely suspending State Attorney Andrew Warren in Tampa for neglect of duty after Warren, as part of a letter signed by elected prosecutors across the country, pledged not to use his resources to enforce abortion bans or laws targeting transgender people.

Read full article »

Fed. Courts Failing To Protect Personal Info, Sen. Wyden Says

The federal court system has failed to protect the information of citizens in public court records, according to U.S. Sen. Ron Wyden, D-Ore., who outlined his concerns in a Thursday letter addressed to Chief Justice John Roberts.

Read full article »

Senate Panel OKs 5 Judge Noms, Deadlocks On 6th Circ. Pick

The Senate Judiciary Committee advanced five of President Joe Biden's judicial picks Thursday, including U.S. Magistrate Judge Doris L. Pryor's nomination to the Seventh Circuit, but the panel deadlocked on Rachel Bloomekatz's nomination to the Sixth Circuit.

Read full article »

Senate Approves 9th Circ. Pick In Speedy Confirmation

The Senate voted to confirm Roopali Desai to the Ninth Circuit on Thursday, an expedited approval that was the quickest and most bipartisan confirmation of a circuit court nominee since President Joe Biden took office last year.

Read full article »

Jury Says Alex Jones Must Pay $4.1M In Sandy Hook Case

A Texas jury found Thursday that right-wing conspiracy theorist Alex Jones should pay Sandy Hook parents $4.1 million after seven days of witness testimony and evidence in the defamation case, with the Infowars owner now facing a new phase of the proceeding focused on punitive damages.

Read full article »

LeClairRyan Trustee Wants More Attys For $21M Deal Fight

U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Virginia

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit

U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit

U.S. Department of Commerce

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

U.S. Department of Homeland Security

U.S. Department of Justice

U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia

U.S. District Court for the District of Connecticut

U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey

U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia

U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York

U.S. Supreme Court

World Trade Organization

The Chapter 7 trustee for defunct LeClairRyan PLLC is seeking more BigLaw firepower for an unusual dispute with the Office of the U.S. Trustee, which has pledged to fight a $21 million settlement with UnitedLex and a court order keeping many of its details under wraps.

Read full article »

Trump Attys Olsen And Olson Face 'Big Lie' Bar Complaints

The former special counsel to Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton and an ex-legal adviser to Donald Trump are the latest attorneys facing ethics complaints over their roles in the former president's unsuccessful efforts to contest his loss to Joe Biden.

Read full article »

Ga. DA Says Sen. Graham Can't Ax Trump Probe Subpoena

Sen. Lindsey Graham, R-S.C., can't escape a special grand jury subpoena for his testimony as part of an investigation into whether former President Donald Trump and others criminally tried to interfere in Georgia's 2020 election, state prosecutors told a Georgia federal judge Thursday.

Read full article »

Sidley Partner Tapped For International Bank Role

President Joe Biden has nominated a Sidley Austin LLP international trade and investment partner as U.S. director of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, an international institution formed to help countries transition to market-oriented economies.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Becerra Declares Monkeypox a Public HealthEmergency
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 05/08/2022 05:50

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 5, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Top Stories

- The monkeypox outbreak was declared a public health emergency by the Biden administration, as Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra called on all Americans to "take responsibility to help us tackle this virus" and left the door open for a second declaration that would accelerate possible treatments and vaccines without being subjected to the standard, full-fledged federal reviews. Food and Drug Administration Commissioner Robert Califf said officials are mulling a "dose-sparing" plan to squeeze five doses per vial out of the Danish-produced Jynneos monkeypox vaccine. (The Washington Post)

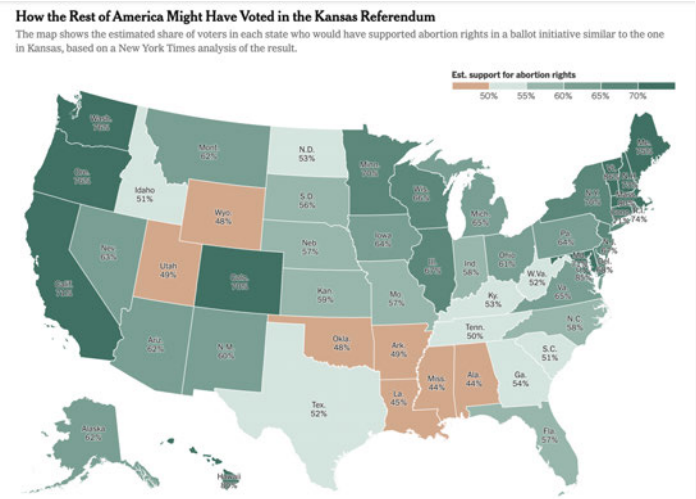
- Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-N.Y.) is teeing up a Saturday afternoon vote on a motion to proceed with the party's reconciliation bill after Sen. Kyrsten Sinema (D-Ariz.) said she'd back the bill following an agreement with colleagues to eliminate the carried-interest provision for fund managers and add a 1% excise tax on stock buybacks, clearing Democrats' last intraparty hurdle. The Senate parliamentarian today will review the package's updated language on measures to lower prescription drug prices, a Democratic aide said, while an additional provision from Sen. Raphael Warnock (D-Ga.) to lower the cost of insulin is expected to face GOP challenges. (Politico)

- PhRMA and its 31 board members sent a letter to every member of Congress yesterday imploring them to vote against Democrats' reconciliation package, while Steve Ubl, head of the powerful trade group representing drugmakers, said in an interview that lawmakers "who vote for this bill will not get a free pass." The letter mostly sticks to arguments PhRMA has made in a multimillion-dollar advocacy campaign railing against the drug pricing provisions in the bill, saying that the measures would "put the U.S. system on a course toward broad government control, setting the stage for our country to fall behind." (Politico)

- Amgen Inc. struck a $3.7 billion deal to buy ChemoCentryx Inc., giving the biotech access to Tavneos, a drug used to treat patients with a rare type of blood vessel inflammation that generated $5.4 million in sales in the first full quarter after its regulatory approval. Amgen reported second-quarter revenue of $6.59 billion, a 1% jump from the year-ago period fueled by a 13% rise in sales of its osteoporosis drug Prolia. (Reuters)

Chart Review

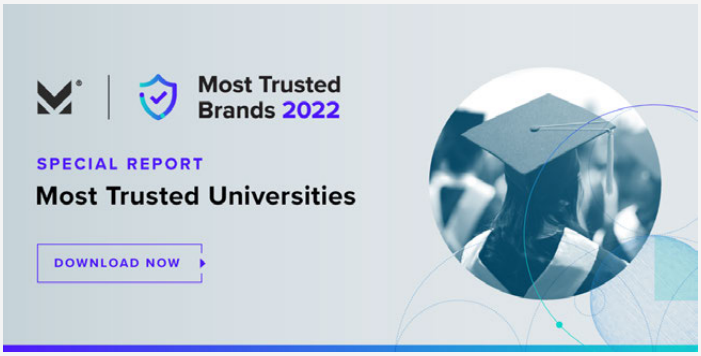
Kansas Result Suggests 4 Out of 5 States Would Back Abortion Rights in Similar Vote
The New York Times



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



Most Trusted Universities Report 2022

Morning Consult's Most Trusted Universities Report measures the public view of trust in 135 doctoral universities featured in the U.S. News' 2022 Best National University Rankings. Our research breaks down how trust varies across diverse groups and different types of institutions while exploring key findings. Download today.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

1 in 8 Covid Patients Experience Lingering Symptoms, Study Shows

Jason Gale, Bloomberg

One in eight people recovering from Covid-19 had lingering symptoms due to the illness at least three months later in a study that provides greater clarity on the ailments triggered by the pandemic disease.

Over 1 million courses of Paxlovid prescribed in one month for first time
Oriana Gonzalez, Axios
July marked the first month that more than 1 million courses of Pfizer's COVID antiviral Paxlovid were prescribed, according to Biden administration figures provided to Axios.

The Coronavirus Has One Strategy We Can't Vaccinate Against
Katherine J. Wu, The Atlantic
By the time a cell senses that it's been infected by a virus, it generally knows it is doomed. Soon, it will be busted up by the body's immunological patrol or detonated by the invader itself. So the moribund cell plays its trump card: It bleats out microscopic shrieks that danger is nigh.

Fauci has a stark warning for you: Get those COVID vaccines and boosters now, or you're 'going to get into trouble'
Chloe Taylor, Fortune
Anyone who hasn't had all their COVID vaccination shots could be in for a difficult time as the colder seasons approach and the virus continues to spread, America's top doctor has warned.

Blood clots, heart problems, kidney failure: COVID creates a higher risk for rare pediatric health problems, new CDC study finds
Erin Prater, Fortune
Children and teens who've had COVID are at greater risk for blood clots, heart problems, kidney failure, and type 1 diabetes, according to a new report released Thursday by U.S. health officials.

Biden still COVID positive but "feels very well," doctor says
Oriana Gonzalez and Ivana Saric, Axios
President Biden tested positive for COVID-19 again Thursday and is still experiencing "a very occasional cough" which is "improving," his physician said in a letter.

GENERAL

Clinton-era FDA commissioner to lead external review of key agency offices
Katherine Ellen Foley and Adam Cancryn, Politico
Jane Henney, a former commissioner of the FDA, has been tapped by the Reagan-Udall Foundation to lead a FDA-requested external review of key agency offices on human food safety and tobacco regulation, two sources with knowledge of the matter told POLITICO.

What Should Worry Most Americans About Our Monkeypox Response
Katherine J. Wu, The Atlantic
The U.S. has declared (another) public-health emergency. An expert weighs in on whether we might botch this one, too.

Democratic lawmakers introduce bill to make reproductive health care more accessible to women with disabilities
Brad Dress, The Hill
Democratic lawmakers introduced legislation on Thursday to assist Americans with disabilities seeking reproductive health services, hoping to reduce the barriers they may face after the U.S. Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade and the constitutional right to abortion.

'A movie set': Former supervisor at baby formula plant says flaws were hidden

Helena Bottemiller Evich, Politico

A former supervisor in a baby formula plant linked to infant deaths earlier this year — now at the center of an ongoing formula shortage — has stepped forward to describe a facility with constant roof leaks, lax food safety and recordkeeping, and a culture of fear, raising new questions about why such problems were allowed to continue and the FDA did not discover them earlier.

Man Who Threatened to Kill Fauci Is Sentenced to 3 Years in Prison

Vimal Patel, The New York Times

The man, Thomas Patrick Connally Jr., 56, had pleaded guilty in May to making threats against a federal official and also admitted to sending threatening messages to other health officials, including Francis Collins, the former director of the National Institutes of Health, according to the U.S. Attorney's Office in Maryland.

Democrats double down on abortion rights after Kansas referendum

Stephanie Akin and Mary Ellen McIntire, Roll Call

Democrats seeking to retain control of Congress are doubling down on the need for abortion rights after Kansas voters resoundingly defeated a ballot measure that would have made it easier for state lawmakers to restrict the procedure.

Some lab techs refuse to take blood from possible monkeypox patients, raising concerns about stigma and testing delays

Elizabeth Cohen and Danielle Herman, CNN

Many technicians at Labcorp and Quest Diagnostics, two of the largest commercial labs in the US, have been refusing to draw blood from patients who might have monkeypox, CNN has learned.

Heart medications can be a huge financial strain, but the reconciliation bill could help

Berkeley Lovelace Jr., NBC News

Tens of millions of Americans have heart disease, and for older adults, the strain can be particularly acute.

Polio found in sewage samples outside New York City suggests it's spreading in the community, health officials says

Spencer Kimball, CNBC

Polio has been found in wastewater samples taken from two counties outside of New York City indicating the virus is spreading in the community, according to state health officials.

Legionnaires' disease outbreak leads to one death, 11 hospitalizations in Northern California

Zach Schonfeld, The Hill

An outbreak of Legionnaires' disease in Napa County, Calif., over the past month resulted in the death of one person and the hospitalization of 11 others, health officials said.

As monkeypox strikes gay men, officials debate warnings to limit partners

Fenit Nirappil and Amrita Jayakumar, The Washington Post

As the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention weighs whether to recommend limiting sexual partners, health officials in San Francisco, Chicago, New York and other U.S. cities battling surges disproportionately sickening gay men are avoiding calls for sexual restraint, wary of further stigmatizing same-sex intimacy.

One in 5 people waiting for a transplant are Latino. There's a call for more donors.
Erika Flores et al., NBC News
August is National Minority Donor Awareness Month, and organizations are calling attention to the gap between the number of minority donors and those who need organs and tissues.

PAYERS

HCSC plans another record year of Medicare Advantage expansion
Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare
The insurer said this week that will offer Medicare coverage in more than 150 new counties in five states: Illinois, Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. The expanded footprint will boost coverage options for as many as 1.1 million Medicare-eligibles, according to the announcement.

Congress eyes faster Medicare Advantage prior authorizations
Maya Goldman, Modern Healthcare
Providers may soon find it easier to get prior authorization decisions from Medicare Advantage plans under legislation moving through Congress.

Abortions Covered by Nearly Half of Surveyed Employer Plans
Sara Hansard, Bloomberg Law
Nearly half of more than 200 employers surveyed cover medically required and elective abortions for employees and dependents under their medical plan, according to a survey released Thursday.

PROVIDERS

AHA asks federal court to closely scrutinize how CMS repays hospitals over 340B payment cuts
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare
Hospitals that weren't affected by cuts to the 340B drug discount program shouldn't be required to repay any of those funds now that the Supreme Court ruled such cuts were unlawful, a key industry group said.

Fitch downgrades CHS from stable to negative after discouraging earnings report
Hailey Mensik, Healthcare Dive
For the first half of the year, the chain reported a $327 million net loss and $6.04 billion in revenue, compared to a $58 million net loss and $6.02 billion in revenue during the first half of last year.

Sutter Health's rising expenses and rough investments yield a $457M net loss for Q2 2022
Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare
The Sacramento-based nonprofit health system brought in $3.49 billion in total operating revenues from the quarter, down slightly from the prior year's $3.51 billion.

Hospitals have low level of accountability for connected device breaches
Rebecca Pifer, Healthcare Dive
Hospitals are not taking basic security actions and have low levels of accountability regarding cyberattacks, ransomware and data theft stemming from breached medical devices, new research suggests.

Louisiana Abortion Providers Seek to Halt Newly Revived Bans
Mary Anne Pazanowski, Bloomberg Law
An abortion provider in Louisiana Thursday asked the state's top court to reinstate a trial court decision blocking enforcement of laws prohibiting almost all abortions in the state.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Democrats' drug pricing bill could lead to higher launch prices
Caitlin Owens, Axios
Democrats' party-line drug pricing legislation will likely cause manufacturers to raise the launch prices of new drugs, the Congressional Budget Office projected yesterday.

Eli Lilly cuts annual profit view as lower insulin prices hit Q2 sales
Reuters
Eli Lilly and Co (LLY.N) on Thursday cut its full-year profit forecast for the second time as lower insulin prices and competition for the company's cancer drug bruised its second-quarter earnings.

Tennessee sues Walgreens pharmacy chain over opioid distribution
Steve Gorman, Reuters
The state of Tennessee sued Walgreens on Wednesday, accusing the retail pharmacy giant of fueling the state's opioid epidemic by willfully flooding the market with an oversupply of prescription narcotics in violation of consumer protection and public nuisance laws.

State 'Personhood' Laws Threaten Embryonic Stem Cell Research
Jeannie Baumann, Bloomberg Law
Biomedical scientists using embryonic stem cells or fetal tissue could find their studies at risk in conservative states aiming to redefine personhood after the US Supreme Court's rollback of abortion rights.

New research digs into the genetic drivers of heart failure, with an eye to precision treatments
Elizabeth Cooney, Stat News
When coronary arteries are blocked, starving the heart of blood, there are good medications and treatments to deploy, from statins to stents. Not so for heart failure, the leading factor involved in heart disease, the top cause of death worldwide.

U.S. FDA declines to approve expanded use of Acadia's antipsychotic drug
Reuters
The U.S. Food and Drug Administration declined to approve expanded use of Acadia Pharmaceuticals Inc's (ACAD.O) antipsychotic drug for treating psychosis related to Alzheimer's disease, the company said on Thursday.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Teladoc rival Amwell scores CVS tie-up to launch retailer's virtual primary care service

Heather Landi, Fierce Healthcare

Telehealth company Amwell is working with CVS Health to roll out the retail drugstore giant's new virtual primary care service.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

The outsized effect of 'modest' price controls on pharmaceutical innovation

Standish Fleming, Stat News

Drug price controls in the U.S. Senate are being met with dire warnings that such an approach will stifle innovation, shut off the pipeline of new medicines, and cost lives down the road. Is innovation so fragile that a modest reduction in profits of global giants could seriously impact the supply of new drugs?

RESEARCH REPORTS

How the CMS Innovation Center's Payment and Delivery Reform Models Seek to Address the Drivers of Health

Celli Horstman et al., The Commonwealth Fund

Social, economic, and location-based drivers of health (DOH) have an outsize impact on health — especially for Medicare and Medicaid beneficiaries, who are more likely to be elderly, have low income, or have complex medical needs. The Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (CMMI) addresses DOH in many of their health care payment and care delivery models, but lessons from them have not been synthesized.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Medicare Beneficiaries Are More Likely to Reach CatastrophicSpending on Insulin
FROM: AIS Health Daily <aishealthdaily@aishealth.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 05/08/2022 06:04

AIS Health Daily

August 5, 2022

This Week's Featured Stories

Medication Abortion Faces Legal Uncertainty Post-Dobbs
Radar on Drug Benefits

Centene Reports Progress in Value Creation Plan, Despite Headwinds
Health Plan Weekly

Pharmacist Care Managers Could Help Improve Diabetes Outcomes
Radar on Drug Benefits

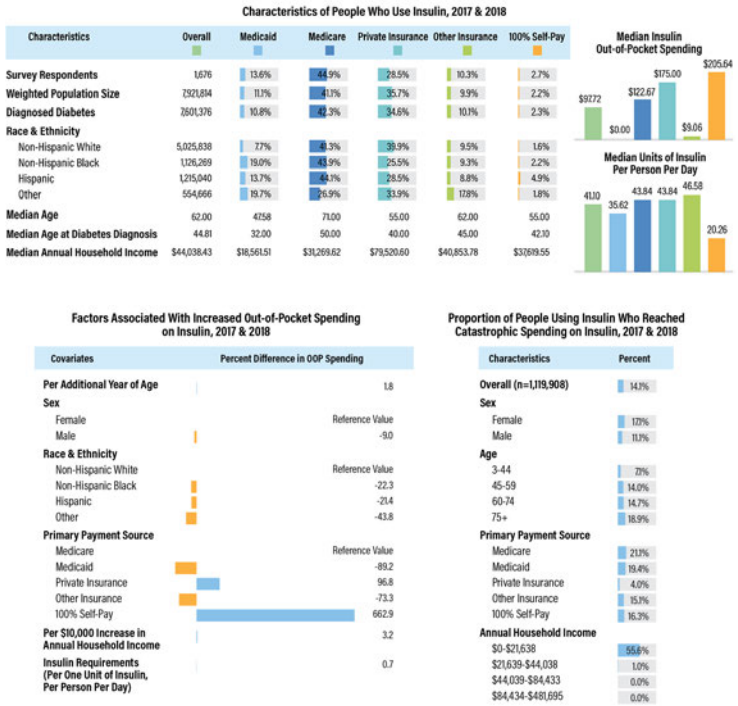
Boosted by Low Utilization, Humana Posts Robust Earnings for Second Quarter of 2022
Health Plan Weekly

Featured Infographic

Medicare Beneficiaries Are More Likely to Reach Catastrophic Spending on Insulin

Among people who filled at least one insulin prescription, 14.1% reached catastrophic health spending — out-of-pocket medical spending greater than 40% of a household's remaining income after subsistence needs are met — and almost two-thirds of them were Medicare beneficiaries, according to a recent Health Affairs study. The study was based on data from the Medical Expenditure Panel Survey in 2017 and 2018. Among the respondents who filled at least one insulin prescription, 41.1% were covered by Medicare and 35.7% by private insurance. Median annual out-of-pocket spending on insulin was $97.72, while people with Medicare coverage and private insurance paid much more than Medicaid enrollees.

The research indicated that elderly patients with low family incomes were at the greatest risk for high out-of-pocket spending, and "policies that cap monthly out-of-pocket spending on insulin for Medicare beneficiaries are likely to be impactful."



SOURCE: "Catastrophic Spending On Insulin In The United States, 2017–18," Health Affairs. doi: 10.1377/hlthaff.2021.01788 HEALTH AFFAIRS 41, NO. 7 (2022): 1053–1060.

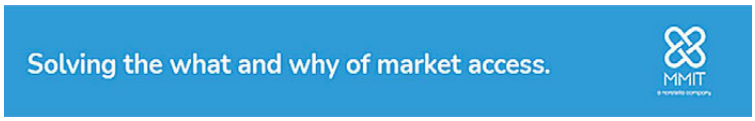
From Radar on Drug Benefits

Learn more about subscribing to AIS Health's publications.

AIS Health Daily is copyrighted and protected by federal law. The re-use of its content is restricted (see below). However, you are permitted to forward this email as you wish. Please direct any friends or colleagues to sign up for their own copy at https://aishealth.com/subscribe.

Copyright © 2022 Managed Markets Insight & Technology, LLC. All rights reserved. It is not permissible to include all or any portion of this content on any Web site, intranet or electronic network or in any print publication, without AIS's written permission in advance. Contact sales@aishealth.com for more information.

Visit AIS Health to access thousands of articles and more.



MMIT, 1040 Stony Hill Rd, Suite 300, Yardley, PA 19067, USA

Unsubscribe Manage preferences

SUBJECT: Legislative and Policy News
FROM: Zachary Harris <zharris@chronicdisease.org>
TO: Zachary Harris <zharris@chronicdisease.org>
DATE: 05/08/2022 13:31

Senate Democrats have secured enough votes to pass the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) through budget reconciliation. Budget reconciliation allows the majority party to go around the Senate's 60-vote filibuster requirement through a simple majority vote. Senate Democrats aim to hold a final vote on the IRA during this weekend's 20-hour long vote-a-rama, when any senator can introduce amendments. Health related provisions in the bill include permitting Medicare to negotiate the prices of certain drugs and extending Affordable Care Act subsidies until 2024. However, the Senate Parliamentarian is currently analyzing the bill to determine if any provisions do not qualify under the budget reconciliation process. Any provisions found to be in violation of the budget reconciliation process will have to be removed.

With little time left before the September 30 deadline, Congress will need to pass a continuing resolution (CR) to avert a government shutdown on October 1. Policy riders related to abortion, immigration, and Guantanamo Bay are proving to be major issues dividing Republican and Democratic negotiators as they attempt to reach a deal. Policy riders are provisions added to a bill that have little to no connection with the actual subject matter of the bill. Some of the most controversial policy riders include:

- Appropriations bills in the House and Senate don't include the Hyde amendment, which bans federal funding for abortion apart from cases of rape, incest, or to save the mother's life.
- The Senate's appropriations bill for the Department of Homeland Security allows officials to recapture unused family- and employment-based visas as far back as 30 years ago.
- The House and Senate Financial Services and General Government appropriations bill permits immigrants under the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program to work as federal employees.
- The Senate's Defense and Military Construction-VA appropriations bill does not block the closure of the Guantanamo Bay detention facility.

Passage of a CR before October 1 would result in programs being funded at their current levels until a permanent deal can be reached. With funding negotiations stalled, however, the need for a CR is all but guaranteed.

This Week's News

Loneliness, social isolation may increase cardiovascular risks
Public health measures taken during the COVID-19 pandemic, such as social distancing guidelines, contributed to greater feelings of loneliness and may have even increased the risk of negative cardiovascular health outcomes. According to the American Heart Association (AHA), "social isolation and loneliness are common and appear to be independent risk factors for worse cardiovascular and brain health." The AHA found that social isolation and loneliness increased the risk for heart attack, stroke, and even death by 30 percent.

Looser liquor laws boosted restaurants – and maybe problem drinking
At the height of the COVID-19 pandemic, 35 states and the District of Columbia loosened liquor laws to permit curbside pickup or delivery of alcoholic beverages. Eighteen states and D.C. have made these laws permanent while 14 states extended them. While these laws were implemented to help restaurants survive severe economic shocks, multiple studies have found that such policies contributed to increased problem drinking. For example, a study by RTI International concluded that binge drinking increased by 30 percent between February 2020 and November 2020 and overall drinking increased by 39 percent over the same period.

Where out-of-pocket spending is highest
According to a new Health Affairs study, out-of-pocket healthcare spending in the United States ranged from $7,250 to $14,500 per person in 2019. Alaska had the highest rate of out-of-pocket spending, with such forms of payment accounting for 42 percent of total healthcare spending. While healthcare spending per person in the District of Columbia was the second highest – $14,080 on average – just under half of total payments came from private insurers and only 12 percent was out-of-pocket.

Most Americans aren't worried about lung cancer
Survey data from the American Lung Association (ALA) shows that 60 percent of Americans aren't worried about getting lung cancer despite it being the leading cause of cancer deaths nationwide. The survey also found that 70 percent of respondents weren't familiar with the availability of early detection screenings for lung cancer and 73 percent have not spoken to their physician about their risk of getting it. The ALA places part of the blame for this lack of awareness on "an undeserved stigma that has followed lung cancer for decades. The fact is that anyone can get it."

Cardiovascular disease risk factors projected to increase
A new study published in the Journal of the American College of Cardiology projects that cardiovascular disease risk factors will significantly increase by 2060. The four risk factors that were examined include obesity, diabetes, hypertension, and dyslipidemia. The largest percentage increase was in diabetes (39.3 percent), followed by dyslipidemia (27.6 percent), hypertension (25.1 percent), and obesity (33.4 percent). In addition to risk factors, researchers projected cases of stroke and heart failure to increase by about 34 percent. While risk factors and cases of cardiovascular disease were projected to rise amongst all minority groups, projections for white people decreased.

Zachary Harris, Public Policy Coordinator
National Association of Chronic Disease Directors
(540) 272-9535 | zharris@chronicdisease.org

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: What's Ahead & Week in Review
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 07/08/2022 07:31

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 7, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

Good morning to you, health readers. While much of Washington awaited word from the Senate's most methodical arbiter on Democrats' reconciliation bill, the latest Morning Consult/Politico survey asked for voters' opinions on 12 of the package's key components. Our quiz question for the day: About what share of Republican voters support the three drug pricing provisions in the bill?

A: 1 in 10
B: 3 in 10
C: 7 in 10
D: 9 in 10

You can find the answer at the bottom of the newsletter.

[redacted]

What's Ahead

Senate Democrats' reconciliation bill is inching closer to final passage as the chamber's amendment vote-a-rama continues from overnight. Majority Leader Chuck Schumer's caucus is poised to pass legislation that would secure a three-year extension of Affordable Care Act subsidies and lower prescription drug prices. One drug pricing provision was struck from the package yesterday by the Senate parliamentarian, who ruled that the bill's requirement that drug companies pay rebates back to the government if their prices rise faster than the rate of inflation could only apply to Medicare — not the private market.

Democrats also look set to try (and probably fail) to overrule the parliamentarian's determination that Sen. Raphael Warnock of Georgia's proposal to cap out-of-pocket insulin costs at $35 cannot be included in the legislation.

We'll be watching for any other last-minute wrangling, but with the House set to return on Friday to take up the measure, Democrats appear to be on a glide path to passage of their signature legislation.

Washington Post Live will host Reps. Brian Fitzpatrick (R-Pa.) and Ann McLane Kuster (D-N.H.) on Wednesday at 1 p.m. for a discussion on their mental health legislation. Fitzpatrick and Kuster, co-chairs of the Bipartisan Addiction and Mental Health Task Force, will talk about their efforts to ease access to mental coverage insurance coverage and opioid treatment medicines.

Giant move coming from pharmacy giant: CVS Health Corp. said it is planning to move into the primary care space by the end of the year, either by investing in or acquiring a provider, with Chief Executive Karen Lynch noting that the pharmacy giant will be looking for a company with a strong tech background, a solid management team and capabilities to grow quickly.

CVS' foray into primary care would follow Walgreens Boots Alliance Inc.'s partnership with VillageMD to open doctors' offices and Amazon.com Inc.'s announcement last month that it would acquire primary care clinic operator One Medical.

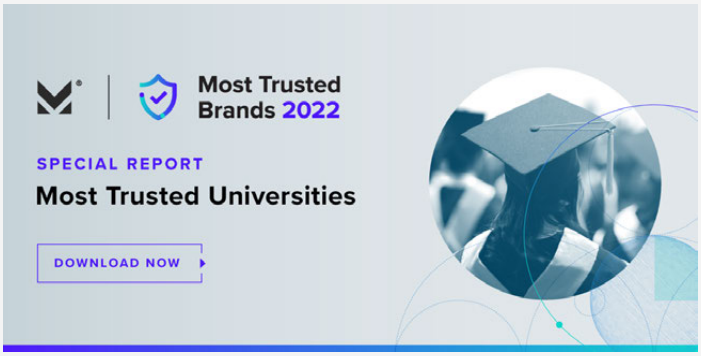
Meanwhile, CVS reported second-quarter net income of $2.95 billion and revenue of $80.64 billion, up from $2.78 billion and $72.62 billion, respectively, from the year-ago period, as same-store sales climbed 8%.

A few earnings reports to note this week: BioNTech SE, the COVID-19 vaccine partner of Pfizer Inc., will kick things off Monday with its second-quarter results. Also on Monday, Novavax Inc. will report for the first time since federal regulators cleared its traditional protein-based COVID-19 vaccine. And on Tuesday, ChemoCentryx Inc. will report earnings, less than a week after Amgen Inc. struck a $3.7 billion deal for its acquisition.

Events Calendar

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



Most Trusted Universities Report 2022

Morning Consult's Most Trusted Universities Report measures the public view of trust in 135 doctoral universities featured in the U.S. News' 2022 Best National University Rankings. Our research breaks down how trust varies across diverse groups and different types of institutions while exploring key findings. Download today.

Week in Review

Monkeypox: The monkeypox outbreak was declared a public health emergency by the Biden administration, as Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra left the door open for a second declaration that would accelerate possible treatments and vaccines without being subjected to the standard, full-fledged federal reviews. Food and Drug Administration Commissioner Robert Califf said officials are mulling a "dose-sparing" plan to squeeze five doses per vial out of the Danish-produced Jynneos monkeypox vaccine.

Robert Fenton, who helped lead the Federal Emergency Management Agency's COVID-19 mass vaccination effort and served as the agency's acting administrator in early 2021, was tapped by the White House to oversee the country's monkeypox response. Dr. Demetre Daskalakis, director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's HIV prevention unit, will serve as Fenton's deputy, with the duo working to coordinate "strategy and operations to combat the current monkeypox outbreak, including equitably increasing the availability of tests, vaccinations and treatments," the White House said.

Abortion: Kansas voters emphatically rejected a ballot measure that would have allowed the state's Republican-controlled legislature to toughen restrictions on abortion or ban the procedure altogether. In the first statewide referendum on abortion following the Supreme Court's ruling to overturn Roe v. Wade, proponents of abortion rights prevailed by roughly 20 percentage points in an election that turned out voters at levels comparable to a fall gubernatorial race.

The Department of Justice sued Idaho over a law that would enforce a near-total ban on abortion starting Aug. 25, with the DOJ arguing in its first post-Roe v. Wade lawsuit that the state's "trigger" ban is a violation of federal rules to provide medical care when the life or health of a pregnant person is on the line.

Biden signed his second abortion-related executive order, directing HHS to consider using funds from Medicaid to aid the travel of patients seeking abortion care out of state.

Department of Veterans Affairs Secretary Denis McDonough said in a CNN interview that the agency is "looking very closely" at protecting abortion access for veterans, though he declined to provide specifics in response to a letter from 24 Senate Democrats calling for abortion services at VA facilities.

COVID-19 vaccines, treatments and more: Beginning the week of Aug. 15, Eli Lilly & Co. said it will start commercially selling its COVID-19 monoclonal antibody treatment to states, health systems and other providers, a move that comes as the federal government's supply of bebtelovimab is close to running out.

Moderna Inc. reported $4.5 billion in second-quarter sales of its COVID-19 vaccine, besting analyst expectations, while the drugmaker continues to project full-year vaccine sales of $21 billion, a figure unchanged despite its $1.74 billion deal with the federal government on a reformulated vaccine targeting omicron subvariants and canceled orders through the COVAX program.

The White House released a plan that calls for HHS to create an office dedicated to better understanding long COVID. HHS' assistant secretary for health will oversee the Office of Long COVID Research and Practice, ensuring permanent leadership within the agency as the new division is tasked with advancing treatments for patients.

STAT OF THE WEEK

8%

The record-low share of Americans who were uninsured at the start of the year, per an HHS analysis of household survey data. More than 5 million people have added coverage since 2020 following expansion of Medicaid in states through the ACA, enhanced premium subsidies and more targeted and sustained outreach.

THE MOST READ STORIES THIS WEEK

1) CVS says it plans to get into primary care by year-end
Melissa Repko, CNBC

2) Warren says she won't back bipartisan abortion rights bill
Axios

3) Publishing, Healthcare Mergers Set for Trial in Antitrust Showdown With Biden Administration
Erin Mulvaney et al., The Wall Street Journal

4) Hospitals win higher payments from Medicare after lobbying campaign
Bob Herman, Stat News

5) CDC expected to ease Covid-19 recommendations, including for schools, as soon as this week
Brenda Goodman and Elizabeth Cohen, CNN

6) Thousands of lives depend on a transplant network in need of 'vast restructuring'
Joseph Menn and Lenny Bernstein, The Washington Post

7) Unpacking Voters' Perceptions of the Inflation Reduction Act
Matt Bracken et al., Morning Consult

8) Employees are increasingly on the hook for their medical costs
Caitlin Owens, Axios

9) Uninsured rate hit record low of 8%, HHS analysis shows
Maureen Groppe, USA Today

10) Medicare Prescription Drug Premiums Projected to Fall for 2023
Tony Pugh, Bloomberg Law

OTHER HEALTH NEWS

- 1 in 8 Covid Patients Experience Lingering Symptoms, Study Shows (Bloomberg)
- Pfizer in Advanced Talks to Buy Global Blood Therapeutics for About $5 Billion (The Wall Street Journal)
- Clinton-era FDA commissioner to lead external review of key agency offices (Politico)
- CDC expected to ease Covid-19 recommendations, including for schools, as soon as this week (CNN)
- Biden names FEMA, CDC officials to head monkeypox response (The Associated Press)
- Hospitals win higher payments from Medicare after lobbying campaign (Stat News)
- Lilly is ordered to pay $61 million for shortchanging the Medicaid drug rebate program (Stat News)
- UnitedHealth Deal Gives 'One-Way Look' Into Rivals, DOJ Says (Bloomberg)

- Thousands of lives depend on a transplant network in need of 'vast restructuring' (The Washington Post)
- 70 deaths, many wasted organs are blamed on transplant system errors (The Washington Post)
- Senate Passes Bill to Expand Benefits for Veterans Exposed to Burn Pits (The New York Times)
- Generic Prostate-Cancer Drug Backed by Hospital Group Goes on Sale (The Wall Street Journal)
- Sen. Johnson suggests ending Medicare, Social Security as mandatory spending programs (The Washington Post)
- With monkeypox vaccine in high demand, NIH to test approaches to stretch supplies (Stat News)
- Moderna considering creating an mRNA monkeypox vaccine amid growing demand for shots (ABC News)

The answer to this week's quiz question is C: Roughly 7 in 10 GOP voters support caps on prescription drug price increases, granting Medicare the ability to negotiate some prescription drug prices and placing a $2,000 limit on annual out-of-pocket prescription drug costs for seniors. Check out the full story here: Unpacking Voters' Perceptions of the Inflation Reduction Act.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Senate Sends Dems' Landmark Tax, Climate Bill To House
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 08/08/2022 01:29

LAW360®

Monday, August 8, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Senate Sends Dems' Landmark Tax, Climate Bill To House

The Senate on Sunday passed the Democrats' tax, climate and health care legislation known as the Inflation Reduction Act, sending the measure to the House, which could pass it later this week.

Bill attached | Read full article »

Analysis

Grading Biden's Push To Site Green Energy On Public Land

The Biden administration has made strides in attempting to fulfill a 2020 congressional mandate to grant permits for 25 gigawatts of wind, solar and geothermal energy on public lands by 2025, but experts say more must be done in order to hit that aggressive target. Here's a report card on the Biden administration's work so far.

Read full article »

Breyer Calls On Lawyers To Stand Up For Rule Of Law

Retired Supreme Court Justice Stephen Breyer called on lawyers and young people to defend the rule of law in an event Saturday evening where he received the American Bar Association's highest award.

Read full article »

7th Circ. Ends Court Oversight Of Illinois Hiring Practices

The Seventh Circuit on Friday vacated a decades-old consent decree authorizing judicial monitoring of Illinois' employment and hiring practices, declaring that the power to hire and fire state workers "needs to return to the people of Illinois and the governor they elected."

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Senate Confirms Long-Awaited Sentencing Commission Picks

The Senate on Thursday confirmed seven nominees to the U.S. Sentencing Commission, giving the agency a voting quorum for the first time in more than three years.

Read full article »

After Dobbs: Kan. Voters, DOJ Fight Abortion Restrictions

A Kansas vote this week upholding the right to abortion in the Sunflower State served as the first litmus test for how voters may react to the high court's decision to overturn Roe v. Wade, while the U.S. Department of Justice launched its first post-Dobbs suit challenging a state's abortion restrictions.

Read full article »

FCC Starts Search For New Rules For Space Industry

The Federal Communications Commission on Friday launched a wide-ranging inquiry into potential new rules to support industrial activity in space, as the agency's chief declared that "a new space age is here" posing challenges that old regulations can't meet.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

Georgia's Gun Laws May Turn Off State's Music Festivals

Festival organizers, concert promoters and musicians are second-guessing plans for holding events in Georgia due to state gun laws that make it difficult to ban firearms at events held on public property, at a time when the entertainment industry in general is rebounding from the COVID-19 pandemic with a vengeance.

Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Alston & Bird
Anapol Weiss
Arnall Golden
Arnold & Porter
Baker Botts
Bartlett LLP
Bayard PA
Bernstein Litowitz
Buchanan Ingersoll
Burns White
Chiesa Shahinian
Cleary Gottlieb
Cooley LLP
Cozen O'Connor
DLA Piper
Debevoise & Plimpton
Denlea & Carton
Dorsey & Whitney
Duane Morris LLP
Farrar & Ball
Friedlander Misler
Genova Burns
Gibson Dunn
Goodwin Procter
Grant & Eisenhofer
Greenberg Traurig
Harris Wiltshire
Hogan Lovells
Holland & Knight
Hooper Lundy
Hueston Hennigan
Jenner & Block
Jomarron Lopez

Senators Probe US Bank After CFPB Accounts-Scandal Deal

A group of Democratic senators is demanding more information from U.S. Bank's chief executive about the alleged customer accounts scandal that led to a $37.5 million regulatory fine against the bank last month, including whether any employees who took part in the scheme are still working at the bank.

Letter attached | Read full article »

House Dems Press Crypto Industry For Diversity Data

Democratic lawmakers, led by Rep. Maxine Waters, pressed cryptocurrency companies on their efforts around diversity and inclusion and sought a snapshot of their workforce data and policies.

Letter attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

Fla. Tribe Says EPA Improperly Gave State Water Power

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency "disregarded and diminished" the sovereignty of the Miccosukee Tribe of Indians of Florida when it approved Florida's effort to take over an important Clean Water Act permitting program, the tribe said in a lawsuit filed on Thursday.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

9th Circ. Says FERC Got Calif. Hydro Project Orders Wrong

A California state agency didn't waive its permitting authority over four hydroelectric projects when it allowed the project developers to withdraw water quality certification applications that didn't comply with state law and were likely destined for denial, the Ninth Circuit ruled.

Order attached | Read full article »

9th Circ. Won't Adjust EPA's Deadline To Review Weedkiller

A Ninth Circuit panel on Friday rejected the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's request for more time to comply with an order to reevaluate an ecological assessment related to its determination that the active ingredient in Monsanto's weedkiller Roundup was not likely to cause cancer.

Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

DC Circ. Blasts Nursing Homes' Appeals In COVID Death Suits

Two Pennsylvania nursing homes seeking to have the D.C. Circuit determine whether they are immune to COVID-19 deaths under a federal health emergency law were rebuffed Friday, as the federal appeals court said it would lead to an appellate review system "so absurd" with "no discernable purpose."

Opinion attached | Read full article »

IP & TECHNOLOGY

House Lawmakers Push For Patent Owner Diversity

A bipartisan pair of House lawmakers on Friday introduced a version of a bill that aims to increase diversity among patent owners — a little under a year after a similar bill was proposed in the U.S. Senate.

Bill attached | Read full article »

HOSPITALITY

NJ Judge Hints At Striking Law Reducing Casino Payments

A New Jersey state judge on Friday indicated he might strike down a state law that cut the annual payments Atlantic City casinos make to local government entities, suggesting it could be viewed as benefiting the state's gambling industry and not the public.

Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

NY Fund Can Ask 2nd Circ. To Weigh Tips Surcharge Fight

A New York injury compensation fund can pursue an immediate Second Circuit appeal of a district court's finding that it improperly collected a 2.5% surcharge on noncash tips to black car and for-hire drivers in the Empire State, according to a Thursday court order.

Jones Day
Kelley Drye
Kessler Topaz
Kirkland & Ellis
Kirsch & Niehaus
Lamb McErlane
Latham & Watkins
Lee Law Firm PLLC (Hurst, TX)
Levi & Korsinsky
Locke Lord
Mayer Brown
McDowell Hetherington
Miller Shakman
Morgan Lewis
Morrison Foerster
Nilan Johnson
Nossaman LLP
Paul Weiss
Pollock Cohen
Potter Anderson
Prickett Jones
Quinn Emanuel
Rosen Law Firm PA
Schlam Stone
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Skiermont Derby
Van Ness Feldman
Venable LLP
Vicente Sederberg
Vinson & Elkins
Wachtell Lipton
Water & Power Law Group
Wilson Sonsini
Winston & Strawn
Wright Lindsey

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Alta Mesa Resources Inc.
American Bar Association
American Civil Liberties Union
American Federation of Labor & Congress of Industrial Organizations
Amgen Inc.
Andreessen Horowitz LLC
Anti-Defamation League
Apple Inc.
BlackBerry Ltd.
Bloomberg
Broadcom Inc.
CBS Corp.
CBS Interactive Inc.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Citigroup Inc.
Coinbase Global Inc.
Cricket Communications Inc.
Danaher Corp.
Definitive Healthcare LLC
DoorDash Inc.
Fifth Third Bancorp
Gartner Inc.
Google LLC
Halliburton Co.
Immigrant Legal Resource Center
JAMS Inc.
Lex Machina Inc.
Major Lindsey & Africa LLC

Order attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

United Exec Says Data Access Informed $13.8B Acquisition

A former UnitedHealth Group executive admitted Friday that access to health care claims data was at least one key factor in the $13.8 billion purchase of Change Healthcare, giving fodder to U.S. Department of Justice allegations that the data could be misused to benefit UnitedHealthcare.

Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

Russian Denied Resident Status Over Cannabis-Related Work

A California federal judge has affirmed a U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services decision to deny a Russian national permanent resident status, ruling that by installing and maintaining a security camera system for a cannabis grower, the person had participated in the trafficking of a Schedule I drug.

Order attached | Read full article »

ACLU Urges 'No' Vote On Anti-Immigrant Proposals In Budget

The American Civil Liberties Union is urging Senate Democrats to vote against any proposed anti-immigration amendments in the upcoming debate on the budget reconciliation bill for fiscal year 2022.

Letter attached | Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

Tribe Urges Judge Not To Nix Fort Sill Apache Casino Case

The Comanche Nation is urging a federal judge to reject the government's bid to toss a suit seeking to shutter a recently opened casino, asserting that the Bureau of Indian Affairs misled the plaintiffs into believing there was "nothing that could be done" to stop a transfer of the Kiowa Tribe land where the casino is situated.

Response attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

Q&A

A Former Mass. Pot Regulator Advocates For A Fair Industry

Shaleen Title, the CEO and co-founder of the equity-focused cannabis policy think tank Parabola Center, has more than 20 years' experience changing and enacting marijuana laws. And now she says the legalization movement is at a crossroads.

Read full article »

Pot Legalization Campaign Takes Fight To Ark. High Court

Cannabis legalization advocates on Friday asked the Arkansas Supreme Court to overrule state election officials' decision to reject a ballot initiative to legalize recreational marijuana by amending the state's constitution.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

NJ University Sues To Stop Cannabis Biz On Its Doorstep

St. Peter's University told a New Jersey Superior Court that Medusa NJ LLC's planned cannabis dispensary and lounge — already approved by the Jersey City Planning Board — is too close to its new dormitory, in violation of state and city regulations.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Opinion

Market Drops Show Tech Antitrust Reform Isn't Needed

Recent equity market declines — and technology history — cast doubt on the staying power of the tech platform lock-in effects used to justify proposed antitrust regulatory and legislative interventions, says Jonathan Barnett at the University of Southern California.

Read full article »

Opinion

How DOL Can Improve Proposed ESG Investment Rule

Meta Platforms Inc.
Monsanto Co.
Morgan Stanley
NASDAQ Inc.
National Amusements Inc.
Natural Resources Defense Council
New York State Bar Association
Oath Inc.
Optum Inc.
PGA TOUR Inc.
PacifiCorp
Paramount Global
Paypal Holdings Inc.
Public Citizen Inc.
QUALCOMM Inc.
Revlon Inc.
Riverstone Holdings LLC
Space Exploration Technologies Corp.
Spotify Technology SA
State Bar of California
Tesla Inc.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
The Trade Desk Inc.
TikTok Inc.
Twitter Inc.
U.S. Bancorp
Uber Technologies Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
University of Southern California
Venmo LLC
Wells Fargo & Co.
Western Environmental Law Center
Windstream Holdings Inc.
Wolters Kluwer ELM Solutions Inc.
Yahoo Inc.
YouTube Inc.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Arkansas Supreme Court
Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
Bureau of Indian Affairs
Bureau of Labor Statistics
Bureau of Land Management
COPRAC
California Environmental Protection Agency
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Comanche Nation
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Delaware Court of Chancery
European Union
Executive Office of the President
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Federal Reserve System
Federal Trade Commission
Fish and Wildlife Service
Georgia Supreme Court
Hoopa Valley Tribe
Illinois Attorney General's Office

The U.S. Department of Labor's soon-to-be-finalized rule on environmental, social and corporate governance considerations for retirement plan investments should be revised to avoid questionable market assumptions and to better facilitate fiduciaries' regard for ESG factors, says Brantley Webb at Mayer Brown.

Read full article »

US Tech Cos. Must Prepare For Impending UK Data Requests

U.S. technology companies can expect to receive their first intercept orders from U.K. authorities in October as part of a U.K.-U.S. data sharing agreement under the CLOUD Act, and should ensure readiness to produce data as well as familiarity with the agreement's requirements for orders, say attorneys at Jenner & Block.

Read full article »

Ethics Lessons From The Alex Jones Discovery Debacle

The botched production of a cache of texts and emails prior to Alex Jones' defamation trial, and a failure to take corrective actions, should remind attorneys of the potential pitfalls of discovery, their professional responsibilities throughout the process, and the possibility of severe sanctions, say attorneys at Harris Wiltshire.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Legal Sector Continues Upward Tick In July, Adds 3,100 Jobs

Employment in the legal industry continued to grow at a steady pace, with 3,100 jobs added in July, according to data released by the U.S. Department of Labor on Friday, as overall employment in the United States rose more than expected last month.

Read full article »

UK Law Firm Mergers Seen Picking Up After 2021 Slump

The number of mergers between U.K law firms is forecast to rise again this year after slipping to 99 in 2021 from 107 the previous year, according to a study released Monday by chartered accountants Hazlewoods LLP.

Read full article »

Cleary Gottlieb Opposes Bid To Turn Over Redstone Email

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP is fighting a bid by investors in two Delaware Chancery Court suits filed over CBS's $30 billion acquisition of Viacom for the firm to produce an email sent by media mogul Shari E. Redstone seeking legal advice on the merger.

Read full article »

Alex Jones Jury Awards Sandy Hook Parents Additional $45M

A Texas jury said Friday that conspiracy theorist and Infowars website owner Alex Jones must pay $45.2 million in punitive damages to the parents of a Sandy Hook victim, one day after awarding them $4.1 million in compensatory damages for defamation.

Read full article »

Ex-Ohio Court Mediator Mailed Congressman Feces, Feds Say

A former mediator for a Greater Cleveland-area court was arrested Friday by federal authorities who said he mailed feces to the office of U.S. Rep. Jim Jordan, R-Ohio, and other public officials.

Read full article »

Profs Urge Full Fed. Circ. To Review 'Startling' Novartis Ruling

Two groups of law professors have urged the full Federal Circuit to review a case in which a split panel initially sided with Novartis in January and upheld its patent on multibillion-dollar multiple sclerosis drug Gilenya, but then invalidated it after a different judge joined the panel.

Read full article »

Musk Blasts Twitter For 'Reckless' Claims In $44B Deal Fight

Illinois Department of Transportation
Internal Revenue Service
Kiowa Tribe of Oklahoma
Library of Congress
Massachusetts Cannabis Control Commission
Miccosukee Tribe of Indians
National Indian Gaming Commission
National Institutes of Health
National Marine Fisheries Service
New York Attorney General's Office
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Army
U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit
U.S. Customs and Border Protection
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of the Interior
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Postal Service
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Sentencing Commission
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio
United States District Court for the Western District of Oklahoma

Tech billionaire Elon Musk branded Twitter Inc.'s key traffic measurement tools as "reckless" or "at worst, intentionally misleading" in his answer to Twitter's Delaware Chancery Court suit to compel him to close on his $44 billion deal for the company, according to a copy made public early Friday.

Read full article »

Rosen, Levi & Korsinsky To Co-Lead Crypto Miner Stock Suit

The Rosen Law Firm and Levi & Korsinsky will spearhead a class action accusing a cryptocurrency mining company of failing to fully disclose its supply chain risks, according to documents filed in New York federal court.

Read full article »

GC Cheat Sheet: The Hottest Corporate News Of The Week

New research found that employees are not led by a moral imperative when it comes to misconduct reporting, and a separate report suggests the legal profession will continue to lag on diversity and inclusivity unless more corporate legal chiefs actively engage with law firms. These are some of the stories in corporate legal news you may have missed in the past week.

Read full article »

In Case You Missed It: Hottest Firms And Stories On Law360

For those who missed out, here's a look back at the law firms, stories and expert analyses that generated the most buzz on Law360 last week.

Read full article »

Podcast

Law360's Pro Say: Alex Jones Might Need New Lawyers

The trial to determine how much Alex Jones must pay for spreading lies about the 2012 Sandy Hook shooting was adversarial, emotional and at times bizarre, as Jones' attorneys were revealed to have accidentally handed over key evidence that they should have disclosed earlier in the litigation. On this week's episode of Law360's Pro Say podcast, we explore the bizarre spectacle of the Infowars founder's Texas trial.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Bank Policy Institute
Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: United Exec Says Data Access Informed $13.8B Acquisition
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 08/08/2022 03:17

LAW360®

Monday, August 8, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

United Exec Says Data Access Informed $13.8B Acquisition

A former UnitedHealth Group executive admitted Friday that access to health care claims data was at least one key factor in the $13.8 billion purchase of Change Healthcare, giving fodder to U.S. Department of Justice allegations that the data could be misused to benefit UnitedHealthcare.

Read full article »

Landmark Opioid Opinion 'Not Persuasive,' W.Va. Panel Says

A West Virginia federal judge contravened long-standing precedent when he sided with drug distributors last month after a major opioid crisis trial, the Mountain State's Mass Litigation Panel said in a ruling against national pharmacy chains that are approaching a similar trial.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

After Dobbs: Kan. Voters, DOJ Fight Abortion Restrictions

A Kansas vote this week upholding the right to abortion in the Sunflower State served as the first litmus test for how voters may react to the high court's decision to overturn Roe v. Wade, while the U.S. Department of Justice launched its first post-Dobbs suit challenging a state's abortion restrictions.

Read full article »

Senate Sends Dems' Landmark Tax, Climate Bill To House

The Senate on Sunday passed the Democrats' tax, climate and health care legislation known as the Inflation Reduction Act, sending the measure to the House, which could pass it later this week.

Bill attached | Read full article »

DC Circ. Blasts Nursing Homes' Appeals In COVID Death Suits

Two Pennsylvania nursing homes seeking to have the D.C. Circuit determine whether they are immune to COVID-19 deaths under a federal health emergency law were rebuffed Friday, as the federal appeals court said it would lead to an appellate review system "so absurd" with "no discernable purpose."

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Hospital Right To Fire Director For Bias, 11th Circ. Says

A medical services director was not illegally fired for participating in a U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission investigation, an Eleventh Circuit panel said, finding that an Emory University hospital lawfully fired her for discriminating against a Jehovah's Witness employee and lying about it.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Walmart, CVS, Walgreens Ask 10th Circ. To Pause Opioid Suit

Walmart, CVS Pharmacy and Walgreens urged the Tenth Circuit on Friday to stay the Cherokee Nation's lawsuit accusing them of contributing to rampant opioid addiction while the appellate court considers returning the suit to the federal judiciary, saying the federal appellate panel can absolutely stay the state-court proceedings.

Brief attached | Read full article »

ENFORCEMENT & COMPLIANCE

Jan. 6 Suspect Mulls Plea In Separate Vax Card Fraud Case

A U.S. Marine Corps reservist from Queens, New York, who allegedly entered the U.S. Capitol unlawfully on Jan. 6, 2021, is considering pleading guilty in a separate case charging him with scheming to sell forged COVID-19 vaccination cards, a Brooklyn federal judge heard Friday.

Read full article »

LITIGATION

Profs Urge Full Fed. Circ. To Review 'Startling' Novartis Ruling

Two groups of law professors have urged the full Federal Circuit to review a case in which a split panel initially sided with Novartis in January and upheld its patent on multibillion-dollar multiple sclerosis drug Gilenya, but then invalidated it after a different judge joined the panel.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Abbott Laboratories
Alnylam Pharmaceuticals, Inc.
Alta Mesa Resources Inc.
American Bar Association
AmerisourceBergen Corp.
Apple Inc.
Arbutus Biopharma Corp.
Boston Scientific Corp.
Broadcom Inc.
CBS Corp.
CBS Interactive Inc.
CNA Financial Corp.
CVS Health Corp.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Cincinnati Financial Corp.
Citigroup Inc.
Coinbase Global Inc.
Cricket Communications Inc.
CureVac AG
Daiichi Sankyo Co.
Danaher Corp.
Definitive Healthcare LLC
Emory Healthcare Inc.
Forest Laboratories Inc.
Gartner Inc.
George Washington University
Google LLC
Hackensack Meridian Health
JAMS Inc.
Johnson & Johnson
Karyopharm Therapeutics Inc.
Leafly Holdings Inc.
Lex Machina Inc.
LinkedIn Corp.
Major Lindsey & Africa LLC
McKesson Corp.
Medtronic PLC
Moderna Inc.
Morgan Stanley
National Amusements Inc.
New York State Bar Association
Optum Inc.
PGA TOUR Inc.
Paramount Global
Paypal Holdings Inc.

1st Circ. Won't Revive Karyopharm Investors' Stock-Drop Suit

The First Circuit won't revive a putative securities fraud class action claiming that Karyopharm Therapeutics Inc. executives gave an overly rosy assessment of negative drug trial results, ruling Friday that investors failed to plausibly allege that the drugmaker materially misrepresented those results.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Medical Groups Ask 2nd Circ. To Pause Virus Suit Again

A group of medical providers asked the Second Circuit to delay a decision on their COVID-19 business interruption coverage appeal against CNA Financial Corp. and its unit Continental Casualty Co. for a second time, arguing the court should allow the Connecticut Supreme Court to weigh in first.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Benicar Plaintiffs Appeal Axing Of Fee Suit To 3rd Circ.

Former Mazie Slater Katz & Freeman LLC clients involved in multidistrict litigation over the blood pressure drug Benicar have asked the Third Circuit to revive their class claims over the firm's $9 million counsel fee award, arguing the sum was excessive.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Suits Over Tainted Abbott Baby Formula Join Illinois MDL

The Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation on Friday decided to send a group of suits against Abbott Laboratories over the contamination of its Similac infant formula to the Northern District of Illinois, where the company is headquartered.

Read full article »

Northwestern Univ. Can't Escape COVID Tuition Refund Suit

An Illinois federal judge is allowing current and former Northwestern University students to move ahead with their proposed class action seeking refunds after COVID-19 pushed the school to move classes online, ruling Northwestern had an implied agreement to provide in-person instruction.

Order attached | Read full article »

Boston Scientific Reaches Deal To End Implant Death Suit

Boston Scientific Corp. has reached a settlement to end claims that one of its anti-stroke implants caused a woman's death through faulty manufacture, according to a stipulation filed Friday.

Order attached | Read full article »

Kaiser Can't Sink Suit Alleging Hearing Coverage Bias

A Washington federal judge denied an attempt by health care organization Kaiser to dismiss a lawsuit alleging the company discriminated against those who have hearing loss for refusing to cover any treatment besides cochlear implants.

Order attached | Read full article »

Medtronic Inks Deal To End Faulty Pacemaker Suit

Medtronic Inc. has reached a settlement ending claims by a man who alleges he was implanted with a faulty pacemaker made by the company, according to a South Carolina federal judge's order Friday.

Order attached | Read full article »

Pa. Panel Says Expert's Vet Board Work Doesn't Nix Testimony

A former chair of Pennsylvania's State Board of Veterinary Medicine was far enough removed from his time on the board that he could serve as an expert on a professional standard of care without breaking the "wall" between prosecution and judicial functions, a state appellate court ruled Friday.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Mass. Panel Backs Nursing Home's Trial Win In Death Suit

A Massachusetts appellate panel on Friday upheld a jury decision in favor of a senior care facility sued over a man's death after he was hurt in a mobility device, reasoning that the trial judge properly excluded two expert witnesses and made other sound calls.

Pfizer Inc.
Public Citizen Inc.
QUALCOMM Inc.
Regeneron Pharmaceuticals Inc.
Revlon Inc.
Rite Aid Corp.
Riverstone Holdings LLC
Space Exploration Technologies Corp.
Spotify Technology SA
State Bar of California
Tesla Inc.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
The Trade Desk Inc.
Twitter Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
Venmo LLC
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.
Wells Fargo & Co.
Windstream Holdings Inc.
Wolters Kluwer ELM Solutions Inc.
YouTube Inc.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Anapol Weiss
Andrews DeValerio
Arnold & Porter
Aylstock Witkin
Bartlett LLP
Bartlit Beck
Bayard PA
Bernstein Litowitz
Boies Schiller
Buchanan Ingersoll
Burns White
Cleary Gottlieb
Cooley LLP
Cozen O'Connor
Crowe & Mulvey
DLA Piper
Danaher Lagnese
Debevoise & Plimpton
Edelman Combs
Ellis & Winters
Faegre Drinker
Farrar & Ball
Foliart Huff
Francis Mailman
Friedlander Misler
Gibson Dunn
Goldberg Segalla
Goodwin Procter
Grant & Eisenhofer
Greenberg Traurig
Harris Wiltshire
Hensley Cloninger
Hogan Lovells
Holden Litigation
Holland & Knight
Hooper Lundy
Hueston Hennigan
Jomarron Lopez
Jones Day
Karr Tuttle
Kelley Drye
Kessler Topaz

Opinion attached | Read full article »

NJ Health Network Hit With Payroll Whistleblower Suit

A former payroll compliance manager at Hackensack Meridian Health has launched a New Jersey state whistleblower lawsuit claiming she was fired in retaliation for objecting to the health network's allegedly fraudulent payroll practices.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

Ex-FDA Veteran Joins Sidley In DC

Sidley Austin LLP has added a 14-year veteran of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to its food, drug and medical device compliance and enforcement group.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

The Role Of Morality In IP Suits Over COVID-19 Vaccines

Recent patent infringement suits involving the COVID-19 vaccines developed by Pfizer and Moderna raise interesting legal and moral issues — like whether infringement should be alleged if it was done during the course of accomplishing a greater good, say Lynn Lehnert and Sara Pilson at Goldberg Segalla.

Read full article »

Series

In-House At A Cannabis Company: The Advertising Issues

Cannabis advertising regulations are necessary to ensure public health and safety, but when a state overshoots these baseline concerns, the restrictions meant to protect the public can hinder the creation of a safe and legal cannabis market, says Monique Saysana at Leafly.

Read full article »

Ethics Lessons From The Alex Jones Discovery Debacle

The botched production of a cache of texts and emails prior to Alex Jones' defamation trial, and a failure to take corrective actions, should remind attorneys of the potential pitfalls of discovery, their professional responsibilities throughout the process, and the possibility of severe sanctions, say attorneys at Harris Wiltshire.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Breyer Calls On Lawyers To Stand Up For Rule Of Law

Retired Supreme Court Justice Stephen Breyer called on lawyers and young people to defend the rule of law in an event Saturday evening where he received the American Bar Association's highest award.

Read full article »

Legal Sector Continues Upward Tick In July, Adds 3,100 Jobs

Employment in the legal industry continued to grow at a steady pace, with 3,100 jobs added in July, according to data released by the U.S. Department of Labor on Friday, as overall employment in the United States rose more than expected last month.

Read full article »

UK Law Firm Mergers Seen Picking Up After 2021 Slump

The number of mergers between U.K law firms is forecast to rise again this year after slipping to 99 in 2021 from 107 the previous year, according to a study released Monday by chartered accountants Hazlewoods LLP.

Read full article »

Cleary Gottlieb Opposes Bid To Turn Over Redstone Email

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP is fighting a bid by investors in two Delaware Chancery Court suits filed over CBS's $30 billion acquisition of Viacom for the firm to

Kirkland & Ellis
Kirsch & Niehaus
Lamb McErlane
Latham & Watkins
Leeds Brown
Levi & Korsinsky
Lewis Brisbois
Lynch Carpenter
Mazie Slater
McDowell Hetherington
Morrison Foerster
Morrison Mahoney
Mound Cotton
Nagel Rice
Nilan Johnson
Paul Weiss
Phillips Murrah
Pollock Cohen
Potter Anderson
Prickett Jones
Quinn Emanuel
Resnick Law Group
Rosen Law Firm PA
Shook Hardy
Sidley Austin
Simpson Thacher
Sirianni Youtz
Skadden Arps
Skiermont Derby
Sommers Schwartz PC
The Golan Firm
The Kirby G. Smith Law Firm
Thomas Thomas
Venable LLP
Vinson & Elkins
Wachtell Lipton
Whitten Burrage
Wigger Law Firm
Willkie Farr
WilmerHale
Wilson Sonsini
Winston & Strawn
Zuckerman Spaeder

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Bureau of Labor Statistics
COPRAC
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Cherokee Nation
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Delaware Court of Chancery
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
European Union
Executive Office of the President
Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Internal Revenue Service
Kanawha County, West Virginia
National Institutes of Health
New York Attorney General's Office
Pennsylvania Department of Health
Pennsylvania Department of State
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Attorney's Office

produce an email sent by media mogul Shari E. Redstone seeking legal advice on the merger.

Read full article »

Alex Jones Jury Awards Sandy Hook Parents Additional $45M

A Texas jury said Friday that conspiracy theorist and Infowars website owner Alex Jones must pay $45.2 million in punitive damages to the parents of a Sandy Hook victim, one day after awarding them $4.1 million in compensatory damages for defamation.

Read full article »

Ex-Ohio Court Mediator Mailed Congressman Feces, Feds Say

A former mediator for a Greater Cleveland-area court was arrested Friday by federal authorities who said he mailed feces to the office of U.S. Rep. Jim Jordan, R-Ohio, and other public officials.

Read full article »

Musk Blasts Twitter For 'Reckless' Claims In $44B Deal Fight

Tech billionaire Elon Musk branded Twitter Inc.'s key traffic measurement tools as "reckless" or "at worst, intentionally misleading" in his answer to Twitter's Delaware Chancery Court suit to compel him to close on his $44 billion deal for the company, according to a copy made public early Friday.

Read full article »

Senate Confirms Long-Awaited Sentencing Commission Picks

The Senate on Thursday confirmed seven nominees to the U.S. Sentencing Commission, giving the agency a voting quorum for the first time in more than three years.

Read full article »

Rosen, Levi & Korsinsky To Co-Lead Crypto Miner Stock Suit

The Rosen Law Firm and Levi & Korsinsky will spearhead a class action accusing a cryptocurrency mining company of failing to fully disclose its supply chain risks, according to documents filed in New York federal court.

Read full article »

GC Cheat Sheet: The Hottest Corporate News Of The Week

New research found that employees are not led by a moral imperative when it comes to misconduct reporting, and a separate report suggests the legal profession will continue to lag on diversity and inclusivity unless more corporate legal chiefs actively engage with law firms. These are some of the stories in corporate legal news you may have missed in the past week.

Read full article »

In Case You Missed It: Hottest Firms And Stories On Law360

For those who missed out, here's a look back at the law firms, stories and expert analyses that generated the most buzz on Law360 last week.

Read full article »

Podcast

Law360's Pro Say: Alex Jones Might Need New Lawyers

The trial to determine how much Alex Jones must pay for spreading lies about the 2012 Sandy Hook shooting was adversarial, emotional and at times bizarre, as Jones' attorneys were revealed to have accidentally handed over key evidence that they should have disclosed earlier in the litigation. On this week's episode of Law360's Pro Say podcast, we explore the bizarre spectacle of the Infowars founder's Texas trial.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search

U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York

U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

U.S. Department of Justice

U.S. Department of Labor

U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia

U.S. District Court for the District of Delaware

U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts

U.S. District Court for the District of South Carolina

U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois

U.S. District Court for the Southern District of California

U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York

U.S. District Court for the Southern District of West Virginia

U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington

U.S. House of Representatives

U.S. Marine Corps

U.S. Postal Service

U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission

U.S. Sentencing Commission

U.S. Supreme Court

United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio

Virginia Attorney General's Office

West Virginia Attorney General's Office

LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

New York City, New York

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Senate Passes ACA Subsidies, Drug PricingMeasures
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 08/08/2022 06:00

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 8, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

Top Stories

- In a 50-50 party-line vote with Vice President Kamala Harris casting the tie-breaking tally, the Senate yesterday passed the Inflation Reduction Act, Democrats' signature legislation that includes a three-year extension of Affordable Care Act subsidies, a cap on annual out-of-pocket drug costs for Part D patients, free vaccines to seniors in the Medicare program and the ability for Medicare to negotiate drug prices on no more than 20 high-cost drugs without strong competitors. The House will vote Friday on the bill, which came up three Republican votes shy of including a proposal from Sen. Raphael Warnock (D-Ga.) to skirt the Senate parliamentarian and cap monthly insulin costs for commercial health plans at $35. (Roll Call)

- After Indiana became the first state to pass a new ban on abortion following the Supreme Court's ruling to overturn Roe v. Wade, Indianapolis-headquartered Eli Lilly and Co. said it "will be forced to plan for more employment growth outside our home state" since the law will hinder its "ability to attract diverse scientific, engineering and business talent from around the world." The pharmaceutical giant has 10,400 employees working out of its headquarters, in addition to research and development footprints in New York City, San Diego and San Francisco, with plans to build a $700 million genetic medicine facility in Boston. (The Associated Press)

- The Health and Human Services Department is planning to extend the COVID-19 public health emergency past the midterm elections in November and potentially into early next year, according to three people with knowledge of the matter. (Politico) The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention this week is expected to publish updated COVID-19 guidance, though an unfinalized draft document viewed by a media outlet showed no substantial changes to current recommendations on masking, testing or isolating. (NBC News)

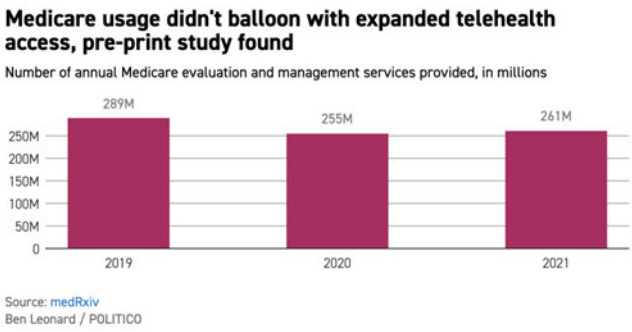
- Pfizer Inc. will buy Global Blood Therapeutics Inc. for $5.4 billion, a deal that will boost the drugmaker's rare-diseases business and secure access to one of the few approved treatments for sickle-cell disease. (The Wall Street Journal) CVS Health Corp., meanwhile, is exploring a purchase of Signify Health Inc., people familiar with the matter said, in a move that would give the pharmacy giant a leg up in its expansion efforts in the home-health services sector. (The Wall Street Journal)

Chart Review

Fraud is the killjoy at the telehealth party

Politico



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT

Geopolitical Competition and Infrastructure in the Americas

Robust demand for infrastructure investment in the Americas will pay geopolitical dividends for the U.S. and the E.U. and yield commercial opportunities for their multinationals. Download our latest report to learn more about geopolitical openings and commercial opportunities in Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, & Mexico. Download today.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

BioNTech and Pfizer to begin clinical trial of vaccine for new Covid variants
Hannah Kuchler, Financial Times
German company says it is aiming for 'prolonged and broad protection' as sales and earnings miss expectations.

Long Covid could become a mass disabling event. Congress has it on the back burner.
Alice Miranda Ollstein, Politico
While Kaine and other Democrats in the House and Senate are pushing for action, they have failed to gain meaningful momentum due to lack of GOP support.

Most Parents Are Saying No to Covid-19 Vaccines for Toddlers
Jared S. Hopkins and Jon Kamp, The Wall Street Journal
More than a month after the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommended shots for about 17.4 million children ages 6 months through 4 years, about 4% to 5% of them have received a shot, according to the most recent agency data and population estimates from the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Biden to end isolation after testing negative for Covid again
David Cohen, Politico
Having tested negative for Covid again, President Joe Biden will resume "public engagement and presidential travel," the White House announced Sunday morning.

U.S. administers over 7,300 Novavax vaccine doses, CDC says
Reuters
The United States has administered more than 7,300 doses of Novavax Inc's (NVAX.O) COVID-19 shot, which health officials hope will convince more people to opt for vaccinations as it is based on a technology that has been in use for decades.

Long COVID isn't inevitable. It only feels like it
Erin Prater, Fortune
"Long haul" sufferers seemed like an aberration early in the COVID pandemic—an unfortunate few who, for whatever reason, couldn't seem to kick the disease.

GENERAL

Monkeypox at a daycare was 'only a matter of time,' expert says. Next up: pools, sports, schools

Erin Prater, Fortune

"It was only a mater of time" before monkeypox made it to congregate settings, a pediatric infectious disease specialist told Fortune, after Illinois state officials announced Friday that a daycare worker had been diagnosed with the smallpox-related virus.

Monkeypox is disproportionately affecting Black, Hispanic people, latest CDC breakdown shows

Deidre McPhillips, CNN

A detailed analysis of monkeypox case records published by the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention on Friday offers new insight into the outbreak, which is disproportionately affecting men who have sex with men, especially those who are Black and Hispanic.

As monkeypox spreads, Fauci says pay attention but don't panic

Lindsey Bever, The Washington Post

Amid a monkeypox outbreak in the United States that has been declared a public health emergency, the nation's top infectious-diseases expert, Anthony S. Fauci, said people should be paying attention but not panicking.

CDC: Limit sexual partners to avoid monkeypox

Sareen Habeshian, Axios

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention issued updated guidance Friday recommending that people limit their sexual partners while waiting to get vaccinated against monkeypox.

There's Just One Drug to Treat Monkeypox. Good Luck Getting It.

Apoorva Mandavilli, The New York Times

Doctors who want to prescribe tecovirimat, or Tpoxx, must navigate a gantlet of bureaucratic hurdles that experts say could be quickly lifted.

Officials Wrestle With Whether to Allow New Monkeypox Vaccination Strategy

Sharon LaFraniere and Noah Weiland, The New York Times

A new way of injecting monkeypox vaccine could stretch the nation's supply of shots, but some experts argue that the approach has not been sufficiently studied.

New York Health Department says hundreds of people may be infected with polio virus

Sophie Reardon, CBS News

New York state health officials have found indications of additional cases of polio virus in wastewater samples from two different counties, leading them to warn that hundreds of people may be infected with the potentially serious virus.

Biden Is an Uneasy Champion on Abortion. Can He Lead the Fight in Post-Roe America?

Michael D. Shear, The New York Times

A practicing Catholic, President Biden has long sought a middle ground on abortion. But activists see the decision to overturn Roe v. Wade as a sign that Democrats have tiptoed too carefully around the issue.

Some Women 'Self-Manage' Abortions as Access Recedes
Roni Caryn Rabin, The New York Times
Information and medications needed to end a pregnancy are increasingly available outside the health care system.

No 'slam dunk fix' in HIPAA privacy law to protect abortion patients
Rebecca Pifer, Healthcare Dive
The Biden administration wants to lean on the decades-old privacy law to protect abortion patients. What could it actually do?

Minnesota pharmacist who refused to fill morning-after pill prescription did not discriminate, jury rules
Corky Siemaszko, NBC News
But the jury said the mother of five, who was forced to make a 100-mile round trip to get the contraceptive, should be entitled to $25,000 for "emotional harm."

Once feared, illicit fentanyl is now a drug of choice for many opioid users
Erika Edwards, NBC News
One of the deadliest street drugs, illicit fentanyl, has transitioned from a hidden killer that people often hope to avoid to one that many drug users now seek out on its own.

Fish Oil Is Good! No, Bad! No, Good! No, Wait
Jacob Stern, The Atlantic
At first, it was all very exciting. In 1971, a team of Danish researchers stationed on Greenland's northwest coast found that a local Inuit community had remarkably low levels of diabetes and heart disease. The reason, the researchers surmised, was their high-marine-fat diet—in other words, fish oil.

Florida medical board looks to block gender-affirming treatments for minors
Herb Scribner, Axios
Florida's medical board voted Friday to start the process of updating its rules for banning gender-affirming medical treatment for young people.

PAYERS

Which insurer was most profitable in Q2? The answer won't surprise you
Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare
UnitedHealth Group continues to be a financial juggernaut through two quarters, leading the charge in revenues and profit for the first half of 2022. The healthcare giant brought in $160.5 billion in revenue across Q1 and Q2 this year, as well as $10.1 billion in profit

SCAN Group plots course for Medicare Advantage growth
Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare
SCAN Group plans to expand its Medicare Advantage reach into Texas in 2023 as the insurer stakes its claim in another competitive market for private Medicare plans.

N.Y. Spent Over $700 Million on Ineligible Medicaid Costs
Keshia Clukey, Bloomberg Law

New York spent over $700 million in Medicaid payments for recipients who were ineligible for the long-term care program, and billions more on behalf of people who received minimal care, according to an audit released Friday by the state comptroller's office.

PROVIDERS

Health care industry swarms Washington as surprise billing rules get ironed out

Bob Herman, Stat News

Already, eight different providers — all physicians, air ambulances, or hospitals — have sued the government over its first efforts to lay out the specifics of Congress' 2020 law that protects patients from getting ambushed by many types of medical bills. And now, providers and health insurers are ramping up their finger-pointing, each accusing the other of gumming up the law's new arbitration process and acting in bad faith.

Healthcare industry nearly recovered from early pandemic job losses

Hailey Mensik, Healthcare Dive

The healthcare industry added 70,000 jobs in July, according to preliminary data out Friday from the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

How health systems performed in the second quarter

Caroline Hudson, Modern Healthcare

Labor costs, driven by demand for contract workers amid staff shortages, were the hot topic in the hospital industry's second-quarter earnings reports. Health system are doling out higher pay and bonuses to attract workers, despite ongoing financial challenges related to the COVID-19 pandemic.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Why generic drugmakers oppose Dems' drug pricing bill

Caitlin Owens, Axios

Generic drugmakers are warning that Democrats' plan to let Medicare to negotiate the prices of drugs may undercut competition from lower-cost copycats, inject massive uncertainty into their market and may forfeit potential long-term savings.

Merck defends tax approach against senator's claims of avoidance

Jamie Smyth, Financial Times

Chief financial officer says drugmaker complies with law amid congressional probe.

It's about to get easier to access affordable naloxone

Meryl Kornfield, The Washington Post

The first shipment of naloxone in a new national effort to reverse overdoses arrived somewhat unceremoniously.

Abortion bans complicate access to drugs for cancer, arthritis, even ulcers

Katie Shepherd and Frances Stead Sellers, The Washington Post

Medicines that treat conditions from cancer to autoimmune diseases to ulcers can also end a pregnancy or cause birth defects. As a result, doctors and pharmacists in more than a dozen states with strict abortion restrictions must suddenly navigate whether and when to order such drugs because they could be held criminally liable and lose their licenses for prescribing some of them to pregnant women.

A look at some medications under increased scrutiny amid abortion bans
Frances Stead Sellers, The Washington Post
The list of drugs that can cause birth defects is long, including some antibiotics such as Cipro, mood stabilizers including lithium, and several medications to control arthritis, epilepsy and even acne.

Amgen says Lumakras plus immunotherapy for lung cancer needs further study
Deena Beasley, Reuters
A small study of Amgen Inc's Lumakras drug combined with immunotherapy found it helped 29% of advanced lung cancer patients, but liver toxicity was high and further study is needed, the company said ahead of the data presentation on Sunday at the World Conference on Lung Cancer in Vienna.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Telehealth fraud concerns, whether 'overblown' or not, could impact the industry's future
Mohana Ravindranath, Stat News
Recent federal crackdowns on Medicare fraud linked to telehealth have raised concerns in Washington that virtual care introduces new opportunities for criminals to defraud vulnerable patients. But lobbyists and researchers say risks aren't necessarily greater than in-person, and warn that fear could drive lawmakers to make virtual care harder to access.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

The next generation of illicit drugs? Think 'synthetic'
Jim Crotty, Stat News
The illicit drug market continues to become more treacherous. Illicit drugs killed more than 107,000 Americans in the last 12 months, the most on record, and are now the leading cause of death for Americans between the ages of 18 and 45, more than firearms, car accidents, and Covid-19.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Understanding Covid Vaccine Efficacy over Time — Bridging a Gap Between Public Health and Health Care
Isaac Kohane, and Gilbert S. Omenn, The New England Journal of Medicine
Imagine if we could track, for each patient seen at a health care facility, which Covid-19 vaccine they had received when and what their clinical evaluation revealed. We could then have near-real-time insights into the efficacy of vaccines, how that efficacy changes over time, how new viral strains alter it, and which viral and host features (including underlying medical conditions) lead to breakthrough infections in immunized people.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Erich and Kallman defeats "Power Villains" for Goal Zero
FROM: "4A's SmartBrief" <aaaa@smartbrief.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 08/08/2022 08:15

Created for hborski@utah.gov | Web Version

August 8, 2022

CONNECT WITH 4A's

4As SmartBrief

News for the advertising, media, and marcom industries

SIGN UP · SHARE

ADVERTISEMENT

TOP STORY

BBDO Bangkok crowdsources ad ideas for chicken brand

(BBDO Bangkok/YouTube)

BBDO Bangkok created a short film for Thai chain Five Star Chicken that stars singer, model and actor Weir as brand ambassador who's at a loss of what he's supposed to do to promote the brand. The film then brings to life advertising ideas crowdsourced by the agency from social media and street interviews, which include bad guys, dancing chickens, farmers, Harry Potter and martial arts. Full Story: Adweek (8/5)

What Fans Want: The 2022 world football report
Understand how brands, broadcasters and platforms can capitalize on the FIFA World Cup™ and it's billion-plus views. Download now.

ADVERTISEMENT:

Nielsen

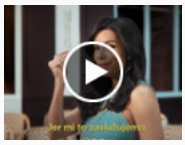
CREATIVE

Erich and Kallman defeats "Power Villains" for Goal Zero

(Goal Zero/Twitter)

Erich and Kallman is spotlighting Goal Zero's portable power products with a "Power Villains" campaign that's running across TV in California, streaming, social, radio, cinemas, podcasts and programmatic display. "The use of voice-over and emphasis on the homeowner as the hero is effective in showing that Goal Zero customers have control over these villains and power outages," says Eric Kallman, chief creative officer and agency co-founder. Full Story: MediaPost Communications (free registration) (8/5)

McCann Paris, L'Oreal turn Eva Longoria into a genie



(L'Oreal Paris Hrvatska/YouTube)

McCann Paris created a campaign to tout L'Oreal Paris' Magic Retouch that stars Eva Longoria and is running across TV and digital in the US and other countries. A series of spots show Longoria popping up like a genie to help people quickly touch up their roots. Full Story: Ad Age (tiered subscription model) (8/5)

How to keep marketing efforts agile

Today's consumers see more ads than ever before. In order to create a lasting impact with audiences, marketers need to leverage technology and expertise through an agile approach. Download the report to learn how to use an agile approach to insights throughout the product life cycle.

ADVERTISEMENT: KANTAR MARKETPLACE

AGENCY INSIDER

Agency execs talk music in advertising

Agency executives discuss the use of music in advertising and how they pick the right songs. "We know that nostalgia powers shares," says PMG CEO and Chairman Josh Deutsch, noting that the agency helps brands "organically find these moments." Full Story: Adweek (8/5)

How to win clients during an economic downturn

Agencies need to be proactive to find the clients who are still prioritizing growth and marketing during an economic downturn, advises Mike Kapetanovic, founder of GrowthLab. "The market knowledge, domain expertise and industry relationships you've developed working for a client that no longer values you will make you all the more valuable to one of its competitors. It's time to go on the hunt," Kapetanovic writes. Full Story: The Drum (free registration) (8/4)

Don't read this ad!

Unless lead gen, thought leadership, and content creation are important to you. If so, see how SmartBrief can set you up for success. Download our media kit now.

ADVERTISEMENT

FREE EBOOKS AND RESOURCES

Free eBooks and resources brought to you by our partners

At Work: The 2022 Workplace Trends Report

A 4-Step Guide to a Hybrid Workplace Experience That Works

How to Help Employees Thrive Wherever They Work

The Top 7 Compliance Risks And How to Avoid Them

The First 90 Days: Engagement Checklist

AGENCY NEWS

Havas Health & You wins global AOR for ViiV

Havas Health & You has won global agency of record for ViiV Healthcare. "This win is a reinforcement that our 'Better Together' strategy is spot-on and continues to differentiate us in a highly competitive market," wrote HH&Y CEO Donna Murphy in an internal memo. Full Story: MM&M (8/4)

NYC TV Week | September 12-15

Through a multi-track program - we bring together innovators and thought-leaders to share insights on the trends and developments taking place in the fast-paced television industry. Find out more.

ADVERTISEMENT

MEDIA & TECHNOLOGY TRENDS

Will WhatsApp be Meta's next big moneymaker?

(Justin Sullivan/Getty Images)

Meta CEO Mark Zuckerberg says the company is supporting WhatsApp, dubbed as Meta's "next chapter," by offering advanced messaging, commerce and a new ad option called "click-to-message." Meta estimates 1 billion users are communicating weekly with companies via WhatsApp, Messenger and Instagram, and former Chief Operating Officer Sheryl Sandberg recently said that the click-to-message ad tool is a "multi-billion dollar business." Full Story: CNBC (8/8)

HOT TOPICS

Arts & Letters sells an empty seltzer can for Tito's
Marketing Dive

W+K, HP show the rules of work have changed
Muse by Clio

Supernatural creates a stop-motion talking bear
Adweek

The right way to handle layoffs
Ad Age (tiered subscription model)

Saatchi & Saatchi re-creates "Pregnant Man"
The Drum (free registration)

Sharing 4A's SmartBrief with your network keeps the quality of content high and these newsletters free.

Help Spread the Word

SHARE

Or copy and share your personalized link:
smartbrief.com/aaaa/?referrerId=lsvhcNrXox

It is the destiny of mint to be crushed.

Waverley Root
Journalist, writer

LEARN MORE ABOUT 4A's:
Homepage | Training Programs | All Upcoming Events

SmartBrief publishes more than 200 free industry newsletters - Browse our portfolio

Sign Up | Update Profile | Advertise with SmartBrief

Unsubscribe | Privacy policy

CONTACT US: FEEDBACK | ADVERTISE

SmartBrief, a division of Future US LLC ©
1100 13th St. NW, Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20005

SUBJECT: Fwd: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
TO: "Janae Duncan (DHHS)" <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, "Anna Fondario (DHHS)" <afondario@utah.gov>
CC: "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, DHHS_EDO <dhhsedo@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/08/2022 08:35

Janae and Anna -

Could you help come up with a response for Russell's question (see thread below)?

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>
Date: Mon, Aug 8, 2022, 8:23 AM
Subject: RE: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
To: mwatterson@utah.gov <mwatterson@utah.gov>, Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>, Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>, Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>, Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>, Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

> Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -
>
> Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:
>
> - Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
> - Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
> - Urine Drug Testing Report
>
> The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:
>
> - Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
> - Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)
>
> Please let us know if you have any questions.
>
> Marc B. Watterson
> Director
> Office of Legislative Affairs
> C: 385.321.6473
> mwatterson@utah.gov
>
> dhhs.utah.gov
>
> * IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
> This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.
>
> If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Fwd: NY Times: Safe Haven Laws
FROM: "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
TO: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/08/2022 09:09

David Litvack
Deputy Director

[redacted]

He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>
Date: Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:00 AM
Subject: NY Times: Safe Haven Laws
To: David Litvack (DHHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, Joe Dougherty (DHHS) <joedougherty@utah.gov>

https://www.nytimes.com/2022/08/06/us/roe-safe-haven-laws-newborns.html?smid=tw-nytimes&smtyp=cur

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "Anna Fondario (DHHS)" <afondario@utah.gov>
TO: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
CC: "Janae Duncan (DHHS)" <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, DHHS_EDO <dhhsedo@utah.gov>, Traci Barney <tabarney@utah.gov>, Teresa Brechlin <tbrechlin@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/08/2022 09:20

Hi Marc, my understanding is that since the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund is a payor of last resort, primary instances when cost-sharing occurs in Utah:

1. Medicaid / Medicare (as a result of job loss / insurance due to the injury)
2. Out-of-pocket

Typically participants of the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund exhaust all cost-sharing options prior to application for the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Funds. As a result, the data elements weren't historically tracked so it is difficult to determine the net impact of these cost-sharing efforts. If the subcommittee intends to look at the impact of the cost-sharing efforts over time, rather than the one-year provided, the program will study the issue more.

Cc'ed Teresa and Traci for additional input.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:35 AM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:
Janae and Anna -

Could you help come up with a response for Russell's question (see thread below)?

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>
Date: Mon, Aug 8, 2022, 8:23 AM
Subject: RE: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
To: mwatterson@utah.gov <mwatterson@utah.gov>, Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>, Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>, Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>, Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>, Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Image removed by sender.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

> Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -
>
> Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:
>
> - Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
> - Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
> - Urine Drug Testing Report
>
> The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:
>
> - Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
> - Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)
>
> Please let us know if you have any questions.
>
> Marc B. Watterson
> Director
> Office of Legislative Affairs
> C: 385.321.6473
> mwatterson@utah.gov
>
> dhhs.utah.gov
>
> Image removed by sender.
>
> * IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
> This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.
>
> If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********

[redacted]

This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--
Anna Fondario, MPH
Director, Office of Health Promotion and Prevention
O: 385.258.8537
afondario@utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Population Health

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: National Breastfeeding Month 2022
FROM: TECC | Tobacco Education Clearinghouse of California <communications@etr.org>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 08/08/2022 10:19

View in browser

TECC Update: August 08, 2022

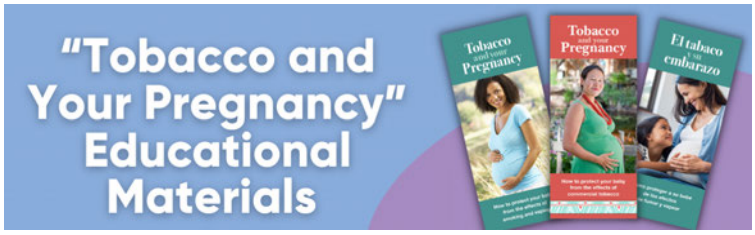
August is National Breastfeeding Month. In this newsletter, learn about the effects of tobacco use while breastfeeding, relevant TECC tobacco prevention educational materials, and quitting programs to support breastfeeding parents who are ready to quit.

National Breastfeeding Month

National Breastfeeding Month was created to raise awareness about the importance of breastfeeding, and the barriers that marginalized communities face when trying to breastfeed their infants. While the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) recommends that infants be exclusively breastfed for about the first 6 months of life, many parents struggle to reach this breastfeeding milestone, due to systemic barriers to accessing breastfeeding support. This is especially true for Black, Indigenous, and other communities of color. For example, Latinx birthing parents are most likely to supplement breastmilk with formula within the first two days of life and African American parents have the lowest breastfeeding duration rates compared to other ethnic groups.

In addition to equity issues related to breastfeeding access, tobacco use while breastfeeding can also expose the mother and infant to several health issues. Nicotine and other chemicals from tobacco are transferred into the breastmilk at high levels leading to a higher risk of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS), respiratory illnesses, and allergic reactions for nursing infants. According to the CDC, pregnancy and lactation are recognized as two ideal times to promote tobacco and smoking cessation.

Learn More



"Tobacco and Your Pregnancy" Educational Materials

TECC's brochure, Tobacco Use and Your Pregnancy, highlights the impact of tobacco use on developing infants. This material includes information on how tobacco affects infants, the benefits of quitting, a quit plan, and information for Kick it California. To reach priority populations, this brochure has been developed in English, Spanish, Khmer, and one specific to American Indian/Alaskan Native communities.

Browse Materials

Quitting Support for Breastfeeding Parents

One of the best things that breastfeeding parents who use tobacco can do is quit, but that's easier said than done. Nearly 70% of smokers say they want to quit, but annual rates show that on average only 7% are able to successfully quit. For breastfeeding parents that are ready to quit, but don't know where to start, Kick It California provides several different quitting support programs. They have programs specific to quit smoking, quit vaping, and quit smokeless tobacco. They offer talk-based and text-based quitting programs and can provide guidance to help someone make a plan to quit once and for all.

Find Support

Have questions? Contact us! help@tecc.org
phone (800) 258-9090
fax (800) 438-1442

TECC material is made possible by funds received from the California Tobacco Control Program, under contract # 21-10001. The Tobacco Education Clearinghouse of California is a project of ETR.

etr.

ETR, 5619 Scotts Valley Drive, Suite 140, Scotts Valley, CA 95066, United States, (800) 321-4407
Unsubscribe Manage preferences

SUBJECT: Fwd: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "Tracy Gruber (DHHS)" <tracygruber@utah.gov>
TO: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/08/2022 10:20

I wanted to make sure you saw this follow up from Russell. This speaks to our concerns about the report not being responsive to the questions the legislature raised. I think that they are asking if there are ways to modify the program to cost share. The team basically said, we don't cost share because the program only kicks in if there are no other methods of paying. Anna is working with Marc but I wanted you to be aware because neither of you are included in the exchange.

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>
Date: Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:23 AM
Subject: RE: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
To: mwatterson@utah.gov <mwatterson@utah.gov>, Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>, Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>, Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>, Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>, Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>

Hi Marc,

[redacted]

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

> Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -
>
> Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:
>
> - Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
> - Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
> - Urine Drug Testing Report
>
> The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:
>
> - Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
> - Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)
>
> Please let us know if you have any questions.
>
> Marc B. Watterson
> Director
> Office of Legislative Affairs
> C: 385.321.6473
> mwatterson@utah.gov
>
> dhhs.utah.gov
>
> * IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
> This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.
>
> If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: ORS Teleworking Policy
FROM: "Liesa Stockdale (DHHS)" <lcorbri2@utah.gov>
TO: "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/08/2022 11:04

As requested, this is what is currently on our books.

If surge is an issue, I can send the email that was sent to our employees that will be incorporated into this policy.

And one question: I do have to update this before September's IRS audit. Is the new Department Policy close to completion, or should I base this update on the last DHS policy available?

Thank you,
Liesa

--

Liesa Stockdale
Director, Office of Recovery Services
IV-D Director
O: 801.536.8901
lcorbri2@utah.gov
ors.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Recovery Services

NOTICE: This e-mail message and any accompanying documents could contain Controlled, Private, or Protected information as defined and classified by GRAMA and is intended only for the use of the person(s) listed above. If you are not the intended recipient, or an agent for the recipient, any disclosure, copying or distributing of this e-mail and documents herein is strictly prohibited. If you have received this e-mail in error, please contact me immediately and destroy this and any following documents. Thank you.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Status of Recommendations 2021 OLAG Audit Report
FROM: "Derek Harrebomee (DHHS)" <dharrebomee@utah.gov>
TO: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/08/2022 13:15

Hi Heather,

I have been trying to track down anyone that might be able to help me determine the status of the past due recommendations in the OLAG report " A performance Audit of the Culture and Grant Management Process of the Department of Health," I wanted to see if you happened to have any information on the status of items for which you were listed as the contact person. These include recommendations (lines 5-9 on the attached spreadsheet): 3-2, 3-3, 4-1, 4-2, 4-3. Or is there someone that you would recommend that I reach out to instead? I am also hoping to track down information on the first three items in the spreadsheet as well, but have not had any luck getting in touch with Nate Checketts.

Thanks,
Derek

Derek Harrebomee, CIA, CFE
Office of Internal Audit
Utah Department of Health and Human Services
Phone (801) 538-6722

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "Janae Duncan (DHHS)" <janaeduncan@utah.gov>
TO: "Anna Fondario (DHHS)" <afondario@utah.gov>
CC: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, DHHS_EDO <dhhsedo@utah.gov>, Traci Barney <tabarney@utah.gov>, Teresa Brechlin <tbrechlin@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/08/2022 16:51

Thank you Anna for the great information.

We can also let Russell know that we have built in more measures to look at this over time, so a few years of collecting data would be helpful.

Janae

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 9:20 AM Anna Fondario (DHHS) <afondario@utah.gov> wrote:

Hi Marc, my understanding is that since the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund is a payor of last resort, primary instances when cost-sharing occurs in Utah:

1. Medicaid / Medicare (as a result of job loss / insurance due to the injury)
2. Out-of-pocket

Typically participants of the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund exhaust all cost-sharing options prior to application for the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Funds. As a result, the data elements weren't historically tracked so it is difficult to determine the net impact of these cost-sharing efforts. If the subcommittee intends to look at the impact of the cost-sharing efforts over time, rather than the one-year provided, the program will study the issue more.

Cc'ed Teresa and Traci for additional input.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:35 AM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Janae and Anna -

Could you help come up with a response for Russell's question (see thread below)?

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>
Date: Mon, Aug 8, 2022, 8:23 AM
Subject: RE: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
To: mwatterson@utah.gov <mwatterson@utah.gov>, Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>, Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>, Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>, Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>, Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Image removed by sender.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
- Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
- Urine Drug Testing Report

The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Image removed by sender.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--
Anna Fondario, MPH
Director, Office of Health Promotion and Prevention
O: 385.258.8537
afondario@utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Population Health

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--
Janae Duncan
Division Director
C: 385.280.0312
janaeduncan@utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Population Health

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: FEEDBACK NEEDED: Response to LFA Questions regarding LegislativeRequired Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
TO: "Janae Duncan (DHHS)" <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, "Anna Fondario (DHHS)" <afondario@utah.gov>
CC: "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, DHHS_EDO <dhhsedo@utah.gov>, Traci Barney <tabarney@utah.gov>, Teresa Brechlin <tbrechlin@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/08/2022 17:30

Taking responses from Janae and Anna (as well as IM's) I've put together the following proposed response. OFO has typically taken the lead on responses to LFA Staff so perhaps this is a bit more pointed than a normal response (especially the last paragraph), so you all might want to weigh in on this before we send our official response back...

It is the Department's understanding that cost sharing means:

- "The share of costs covered by your insurance that you pay out of your own pocket. This term generally includes deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments, or similar charges, but it doesn't include premiums, balance billing amounts for non-network providers, or the cost of non-covered services." (Glossary, HealthCare.gov)

With that understanding, because the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund in Utah is a payor of last resort, we view the State as already participating in a cost-sharing program. Participants of the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund exhaust all cost-sharing options prior to application for the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Funds. As a result, the data elements (unsure what we are referring to here) weren't historically tracked so it is difficult to determine the net impact of these cost-sharing efforts. If the subcommittee intends to look at the impact of the cost-sharing efforts over time, rather than the one-year provided, we will study the issue more. We have built in more measures to look at this over time, so a few years of collecting data would be helpful.

To make sure we are on the same page, could you share with us what the legislature considers to be Cost Sharing? It will be helpful for us all to work from the same definition and understanding of what would or would not constitute cost-sharing under this specific circumstance (SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund). Is the legislature suggesting that the account be changed to start allowing people who can pay to have preference to the Fund as a potential means of allowing more insured persons to receive rehabilitation services? What effect would this have on those who are least able to pay into the system? Would this not preclude many of them from receiving services as more funds are used to help those with some ability to pay (i.e "cost sharing")?

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:23 AM Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov> wrote:

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness

- Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
- Urine Drug Testing Report

The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: FEEDBACK NEEDED: Response to LFA Questions regarding LegislativeRequired Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "Anna Fondario (DHHS)" <afondario@utah.gov>
TO: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
CC: "Janae Duncan (DHHS)" <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, DHHS_EDO <dhhsedo@utah.gov>, Traci Barney <tabarney@utah.gov>, Teresa Brechlin <tbrechlin@utah.gov>
DATE: 08/08/2022 20:28

Thanks Marc, I like the response. In regards to the highlighted section referring to data elements - it is the additional data (measures) that the providers are now collecting from applicants. Let me know if more clarification is needed. Thanks all.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 5:31 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Taking responses from Janae and Anna (as well as IM's) I've put together the following proposed response. OFO has typically taken the lead on responses to LFA Staff so perhaps this is a bit more pointed than a normal response (especially the last paragraph), so you all might want to weigh in on this before we send our official response back...

It is the Department's understanding that cost sharing means:

- "The share of costs covered by your insurance that you pay out of your own pocket. This term generally includes deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments, or similar charges, but it doesn't include premiums, balance billing amounts for non-network providers, or the cost of non-covered services." (Glossary, HealthCare.gov)

With that understanding, because the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund in Utah is a payor of last resort, we view the State as already participating in a cost-sharing program. Participants of the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund exhaust all cost-sharing options prior to application for the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Funds. As a result, the data elements (unsure what we are referring to here) weren't historically tracked so it is difficult to determine the net impact of these cost-sharing efforts. If the subcommittee intends to look at the impact of the cost-sharing efforts over time, rather than the one-year provided, we will study the issue more. We have built in more measures to look at this over time, so a few years of collecting data would be helpful.

To make sure we are on the same page, could you share with us what the legislature considers to be Cost Sharing? It will be helpful for us all to work from the same definition and understanding of what would or would not constitute cost-sharing under this specific circumstance (SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund). Is the legislature suggesting that the account be changed to start allowing people who can pay to have preference to the Fund as a potential means of allowing more insured persons to receive rehabilitation services? What effect would this have on those who are least able to pay into the system? Would this not preclude many of them from receiving services as more funds are used to help those with some ability to pay (i.e "cost sharing")?

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:23 AM Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov> wrote:

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
- Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
- Urine Drug Testing Report

The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

[redacted]

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--
Anna Fondario, MPH
Director, Office of Health Promotion and Prevention
O: 385.258.8537
afondario@utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Population Health

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Judge Blasts High Court For Feds' Immigration 'Carte Blanche'
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 09/08/2022 02:42

P[redacted]ICY LAW360®

Tuesday, August 9, 2022 Follow

TOP NEWS

Judge Blasts High Court For Feds' Immigration 'Carte Blanche'

A California federal judge rebuked a high court decision barring lower courts from controlling immigration policy, saying the justices gave the U.S. Department of Homeland Security "carte blanche" to enact potentially illegal policies, including an unwritten "turnback" policy of turning away asylum-seekers.

Order attached | Read full article »

Commerce Says Russia Is Still A WTO Trade Partner

The U.S. International Trade Administration has declined to set tariffs on liquid fertilizer from Russia, rejecting arguments from domestic suppliers that called for the agency to impose countervailing duties despite a negative injury ruling from the International Trade Commission.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

DOJ Says Medical Pot Patients Have No Right To Bear Arms

The U.S. Department of Justice told a Florida federal judge on Monday that the Sunshine State's medical marijuana patients had no Second Amendment right to possess firearms since they were breaking a federal law.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

FTC's Phillips To Depart And Leave Agency With 1 Republican

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS
Akerman LLP
Arnold & Porter

The Federal Trade Commission confirmed Monday that Republican Commissioner Noah Joshua Phillips will step down sometime in the fall, capping a term defined for the last year and a half by opposition to the Democratic majority's efforts to overhaul how the agency works.

Read full article »

DOJ Drops 2 Ex-Pilgrim's Pride Execs From Price-Fixing Case

The U.S. Department of Justice has dropped criminal charges against two of four former Pilgrim's Pride executives, making it the latest setback for prosecutors in a broader investigation into alleged price-fixing in the broiler chicken industry.

Motion attached | Read full article »

DC Circ. Won't Review Ruling Reviving Dems' GSA Docs Suit

The full D.C. Circuit on Monday declined to rehear a split panel decision resurrecting a group of House Democrats' suit seeking documents on the Trump Organization's hotel lease for the Old Post Office in the District of Columbia, although several judges were adamantly in favor of granting the petition.

Order attached | Read full article »

Bannon Wants New Contempt Trial, Says Gov't Hurt Defense

Ex-Trump White House aide Steve Bannon has asked a D.C. federal court for a new trial following his convictions on two counts of contempt of Congress last month, arguing that the government wrongfully prevented him "from telling the jury the story" of why he did not comply with a subpoena from the Jan. 6 House select committee.

Motion attached | Read full article »

DOI Fights Rehearing Of Alaska Land Swap

The U.S. Department of the Interior is opposing a bid for an en banc rehearing by environmental groups over its 2019 approval of a land exchange allowing a road to run through Izembek National Wildlife Refuge land between Cold Bay and King Cove, Alaska, saying that the exchange is not meant for economic gain.

Response attached | Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

SEC Targets Conflicts Of Interest Among Clearing Agencies

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on Monday proposed a rule aimed at reducing conflicts of interest among financial intermediaries known as clearinghouses, with the SEC's Democratic contingent pushing the plan through over the dissents of its two Republican members.

Proposed Rule attached | Read full article »

AGs Say BlackRock's Social Conscience May Cost Pensions

Republican attorneys general from 19 states said in a letter to BlackRock Inc. CEO Larry Fink that the company's support for so-called environmental, social and governance factors could be putting pensions at risk, and that its conduct could be illegal.

Letter attached | Read full article »

Bank Groups Pan Feds' Pitch To Add CRA Assessment Areas

Major bank trade groups are expressing discontent with federal regulators' plan to revamp how banks are evaluated on their community lending performance, arguing that the proposal could worsen disparities in credit access between rural and urban areas.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

Calif. Tells Justices Animal Care Law Is On Solid Ground

California on Monday asked the U.S. Supreme Court to reject pork producers' effort to sink a ballot initiative that banned in-state sales of meat from pigs born to mothers that are kept in confined housing.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Calif. Judge Urged To Keep Nix Of Species Rules In Place

The federal government, multiple states and a slew of conservation groups are urging a California federal judge not to pause his order vacating Trump-era Endangered Species

Bartlett LLP
Bayard PA
Berger Singerman
Bondurant Mixson
Boyle Leonard
Brownstein Hyatt
Cahill Gordon
Caminez & Yeary
Caplan Cobb
Cleary Gottlieb
Coyle Law Group
Davis Polk
Dean Mead
FisherBroyles
Goldberg & Rosen
Greenberg Glusker
Grossman Roth
Hamilton Lincoln Law Institute
Heise Suarez
Hogan Lovells
Jomarron Lopez
K&L Gates
Kirkland & Ellis
Kozyak Tropin
Lankler Siffert
Law Firm of Gary Williams Parenti Watson & Gary
Lawrence & Bundy
Lightfoot Franklin
LippSmith LLP
Mayer Brown
Miller & Chevalier
MoloLamken
Morrison Foerster
Nussbaum Law Group PC
O'Melveny & Myers
Orrick Herrington
Paul Hastings
Paul Weiss
Perales Allmon
Pita Weber
Podhurst Orseck
Potter Anderson
Ridley McGreevy
Riley Safer
Saltz Mongeluzzi
Searcy Denney
Sercarz & Riopelle
Shearman & Sterling
Silva & Silva PA
Silverman Thompson
Simpson Thacher
Squire Patton
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Trenk Isabel
Tzedek DC
WilmerHale

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

3G Capital
AIM ImmunoTech Inc.
American Bankers Association
American Bar Association
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of Georgia
American Farm Bureau Federation
American Immigration Council Inc.

Act regulations, arguing an appeal of the decision is not likely to succeed.

4 documents attached | Read full article »

Automakers Say Retooled EV Credits Spell New Troubles

The lead lobbying group for major automakers has warned that U.S. efforts to boost electric-vehicle production will be hampered by retooled tax credits, price caps and domestic sourcing requirements in sweeping climate and health care legislation that the Senate advanced on Sunday.

Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

Ga. County Judge Considers Blocking State's Abortion Law

A Georgia judge bristled at the state's suggestion that the legislature should continually pass statutes testing judiciary decisions during a hearing over whether Georgia's restrictive abortion law should be blocked by a temporary restraining order or interlocutory injunction.

Motion attached | Read full article »

TRANSPORTATION & INFRASTRUCTURE

FAA Rips Two-Year Delay In Texas Airport Fuel Depot Suit

The Federal Aviation Administration renewed its bid to toss local residents' challenge to its environmental analysis of plans to construct a jet fuel depot near Texas' Austin-Bergstrom International Airport, telling the court that the suit comes two years too late.

Response attached | Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

NJ Town Must Face Firefighters' Vaccine Exemptions Suit

A New Jersey state judge refused Monday to toss a discrimination lawsuit against West Orange from firefighters alleging the township improperly denied their requests for exemptions from its COVID-19 vaccine mandate, citing the municipality's conflicting positions on the workers' religious and medical arguments.

Order attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

DOJ Data Fears Based On 'Limited Understanding,' Judge Told

The U.S. Department of Justice is wrong to allege that UnitedHealth Group's proposed $13.8 billion purchase of Change Healthcare would give the company access to data that it could use to gain a competitive advantage against its rivals, a UHG executive testified Monday in D.C. federal court.

Read full article »

Publishing CEO Says Merged Rival Would Be 'Intimidating'

The CEO of Macmillan Publishers told a D.C. federal court on Monday that the planned merger of Penguin Random House and Simon & Schuster would create an "intimidating" publisher capable of acquiring any book it wants.

Read full article »

PERSONAL INJURY & MEDICAL MALPRACTICE

8th Circ. Won't Allow Do-Over On Fatal SUV-Train Wreck Suit

The Eighth Circuit on Monday refused to revive claims surrounding a fatal train collision involving a Dakota, Minnesota & Eastern Railroad Corp. train, saying the "chameleonesque" attempt to reframe a lighting violation as a speeding one won't let the claims get past federal preemption.

Order attached | Read full article »

TAX

Va. Commissioner Finds Cigarette Retailer Owes Sales Tax

A Virginia cigarette retailer owes the state's retail sales and use tax as it is unable to provide complete information regarding incentive payment reports from vendors, the state's tax commissioner ruled.

American Legislative Exchange Council
Animal Legal Defense Fund
Array Technologies Inc.
Bank Policy Institute
Bates White LLC
Bertelsmann AG
BlackRock Inc.
CF Industries Holdings Inc.
Carlyle Group LP
Center for Biological Diversity
Center for Constitutional Rights
Change Healthcare Inc.
Coinbase Global Inc.
Competitive Enterprise Institute
Consumer Bankers Association
Del Monte Foods Inc.
Earthjustice
EuroChem Group SE
Ford Motor Co.
Georgetown University
Hewlett Packard Enterprise Co.
Humane Society of the United States
Intel Corp.
LG Energy Solution Ltd.
LinkedIn Corp.
Los Angeles Clippers
MSP Recovery
Macmillan Publishers Ltd.
Major League Baseball Inc.
Morgan Stanley
Natural Resources Defense Council
Netflix Inc.
Oaktree Capital Management
OfficeMax Inc.
Optum Inc.
Pacific Legal Foundation
Paramount Global
Paramount Pictures Corp.
Paypal Holdings Inc.
Penguin Random House LLC
Pilgrim's Pride Corp.
Planned Parenthood Federation
Public Citizen Inc.
Ripple Labs Inc.
Sierra Club
Simon & Schuster Inc.
Snap Inc.
SolarCity Corp.
Southern Poverty Law Center
Stellantis NV
Steward Health Care System LLC
Surfside
Tenet Healthcare Corp.
Tesla Inc.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
The New York Times Co.
The ODP Corp.
The Walt Disney Co.
Toyota Motor Corp.
Trump Organization Inc.
Twitter Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
Walmart Inc.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Letter attached | Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

3rd Circ. Orders BIA To Rethink Salvadoran's Gang Fears

The Third Circuit told the U.S. Board of Immigration Appeals on Friday to reconsider the plea of a man from El Salvador for deportation relief, saying the agency failed to consider affidavits and evidence concerning death threats aimed at him from gang members.

Order attached | Read full article »

8th Circ. Says It Can't Force Naturalization Of Benin Native

The Eighth Circuit has ruled against a West African native seeking U.S. citizenship, saying removal proceedings pending against him after immigration officials determined there was no evidence his marriage was "bona fide" tied the court's hands as to what relief it can provide.

Order attached | Read full article »

Bipartisan Bill Offers US' Afghan Allies A Path To Residency

A bipartisan bill that would carve out a path to permanent residency for Afghan allies of the U.S. who fled Taliban control was introduced in the U.S. Senate over the weekend following a failed attempt to pass similar legislation in May.

Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

Muckleshoot Tribe Wants In On Duwamish Recognition Fight

The Muckleshoot Indian Tribe urged a Washington federal judge to let it intervene as a defendant in the Duwamish Tribe's recognition suit against the federal government, arguing the suit's outcome could impact the Muckleshoot tribe's ownership of "cultural items" recovered from the Duwamish and its fishing rights for several Washington areas.

Motion attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

FCC Claims Wireless Co. Slowed Data Breach Investigation

The Federal Communications Commission proposed fining a Florida-based wireless provider $100,000, accusing the telecom company of intentionally delaying an agency investigation into potential security flaws in its mobile app.

Notice attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

Lawrence & Bundy Lands New Leader For Political Law Group

The Atlanta-based Lawrence & Bundy LLC has hired a former Miller & Chevalier Chtd. member to lead its political law group in Washington, D.C., the firm announced on Monday.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Implications Of SEC Coinbase Case For Token Offerings

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's recent insider trading charges against a former Coinbase manager stand to be the best indication yet of the SEC's application of securities laws to tokens, and prudent gatekeepers should be aware of the factors the SEC relies on to prove its case, say Emily Garnett and Katelynn Bradley at Brownstein Hyatt.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Trump Says FBI 'Raided' His Mar-A-Lago Resort

The FBI on Monday executed a search warrant at Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago resort in Florida, according to the

Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
Bureau of Indian Affairs
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Delaware Court of Chancery
Executive Office of the President
Federal Aviation Administration
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.
Federal Reserve System
Federal Trade Commission
Fish and Wildlife Service
Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services
Georgia Attorney General's Office
Georgia Supreme Court
Internal Revenue Service
International Trade Administration
Library of Congress
Muckleshoot Indian Tribe
Office of National Drug Control Policy
Office of the Comptroller of the Currency
Social Security Administration
U.S. Air Force
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Colorado
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Nebraska
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Education
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of State
U.S. Department of the Interior
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington
U.S. General Services Administration
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate

former president, who said his home was "under siege, raided and occupied" by federal agents.

Read full article »

ABA Clarifies Remote Learning Guidance For Law Schools

The American Bar Association's policymaking body at its annual meeting Monday in Chicago adopted a resolution to clarify its accreditation guidelines on remote learning for law schools, as well as a variety of other proposals.

Read full article »

Tesla Hires New Deputy GC For Corporate And Securities

Tesla Inc. has brought in Derek Windham as deputy general counsel for corporate and securities, the latest hire in the electric vehicle maker's legal department, which has undergone many personnel changes over the last three years.

Read full article »

Lawyer Bert Fields, Hollywood 'Tour De Force,' Dies At 93

Bert Fields, a legendary entertainment attorney who represented the likes of Tom Cruise, Mel Brooks, Dustin Hoffman, George Lucas and Warren Beatty, has died at the age of 93, according to his law firm Greenberg Glusker Fields Claman & Machtinger LLP.

Read full article »

Class Attys Get Reduced Fees In $60M Morgan Stanley Deal

A New York federal judge granted final approval to a $60 million data breach settlement between Morgan Stanley and a class of former and current customers, but significantly reduced the award to class counsel, granting $13.6 million of the requested $20 million.

Read full article »

Legal Services Co. Moves To Toss Securities Fraud Suit

A Florida legal services company moved to toss a U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission lawsuit filed against it over trusts mostly for disabled Social Security or Medicaid recipients the agency says were managed by a shell company disguised as a nonprofit.

Read full article »

Judge Orders Sale Funds To Cover Collapsed Condo's Taxes

Former unit owners of the Champlain Towers South condominium in Surfside, Florida, will not have to pay 2022 taxes on the property following a ruling Monday from the judge overseeing consolidated litigation over the building's collapse last summer.

Read full article »

Catching Up With Delaware's Chancery Court

An increasingly busy Delaware Chancery Court raced to docket new suits last week involving PayPal, Snapchat and the Carlyle Group in between a flurry of Twitter-related filings.

Read full article »

U.S. Supreme Court

United Nations

United States District Court for the District of Colorado

Virginia Department of Taxation

World Trade Organization

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Bank Policy Institute
Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: DOJ Data Fears Based On 'Limited Understanding,' Judge Told
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 09/08/2022 02:50

LAW360®

Tuesday, August 9, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

DOJ Data Fears Based On 'Limited Understanding,' Judge Told

The U.S. Department of Justice is wrong to allege that UnitedHealth Group's proposed $13.8 billion purchase of Change Healthcare would give the company access to data that it could use to gain a competitive advantage against its rivals, a UHG executive testified Monday in D.C. federal court.

Read full article »

Ga. County Judge Considers Blocking State's Abortion Law

A Georgia judge bristled at the state's suggestion that the legislature should continually pass statutes testing judiciary decisions during a hearing over whether Georgia's restrictive abortion law should be blocked by a temporary restraining order or interlocutory injunction.

Motion attached | Read full article »

Allscripts Can Be Sued Over Doc's Lost Files, 1st Circ. Says

The First Circuit flipped Allscripts Healthcare LLC's early win in a suit over the destruction of thousands of medical records, finding that the Chicago-based company could be sued in a Puerto Rico federal court.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Judge Won't Let UMiami Off The Hook In Retaliation Lawsuit

A Florida federal judge on Monday rejected the University of Miami's bid for an early win in a retaliation suit filed by a former compliance officer who says he was fired after blowing the whistle on the school's overcharging Medicare for doctors' services and unnecessary testing.

Order attached | Read full article »

CVS Can't Escape HIV Patients' Disability Bias Suit

CVS Pharmacy can't avoid a proposed class action alleging its prescription drug benefits program discriminates against people with HIV and AIDS, as a California federal judge said the company's separate corporate entities can't shield it from federal health care law.

Order attached | Read full article »

Exec Defrauded Medicare With COVID Test Lies, Jury Told

Prosecutors told a California federal jury during trial openings Monday that Arrayit Corp.'s president defrauded the Medicare program, patients and investors out of millions with lies about its COVID-19 tests, while defense counsel argued that the defendant dedicated his life to science and never thought he was defrauding anybody.

Read full article »

ENFORCEMENT & COMPLIANCE

Ex-NBA Player 'Wrong' On Health Fraud Defense, Feds Say

Manhattan federal prosecutors said a former NBA player is "wrong" in his claim that money he and others obtained through an alleged $4 million health care fraud scheme already belonged to them.

Letter attached | Read full article »

DOJ Says Medical Pot Patients Have No Right To Bear Arms

The U.S. Department of Justice told a Florida federal judge on Monday that the Sunshine State's medical marijuana patients had no Second Amendment right to possess firearms since they were breaking a federal law.

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

3G Capital
AIM ImmunoTech Inc.
Allscripts Healthcare Solutions Inc.
American Bar Association
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of Georgia
Apple Inc.
Array Technologies Inc.
Becton Dickinson & Co.
BlueCross BlueShield of Texas
CVS Health Corp.
Carlyle Group LP
Centene Corp.
Centerview Partners Holdings LP
Change Healthcare Inc.
Compagnie Financière Tradition
Competitive Enterprise Institute
Consumer Watchdog
Del Monte Foods Inc.
Drexel University
Eisai Co. Ltd.
Global Blood Therapeutics Inc.
Google LLC
Health Care Service Corp.
Hewlett Packard Enterprise Co.
Illinois Brick Co.
Intel Corp.
JPMorgan Chase & Co.
Kinsale Insurance Co.
LinkedIn Corp.
Los Angeles Clippers
MSP Recovery

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

LITIGATION

Judge Trims Pfizer, Mylan EpiPen Antitrust Suit

A federal judge rejected most of the fourth set of antitrust claims alleging that Mylan Pharmaceuticals and Pfizer Inc. conspired to inflate the price of emergency allergy medication, saying that indirect purchasers are barred from filing suit based on the theory that their actions delayed the introduction of a generic.

Order attached | Read full article »

Eisai Wins Ax Of Sleep Drug Patent Claims At PTAB

The Patent Trial and Appeal Board on Monday threw out several claims in a patent covering a form of treatment for insomnia, finding that the claims were either anticipated by an earlier patent or obvious.

Decision attached | Read full article »

OT Wage Violations To Cost Home Care, Staffing Cos. $2.5M

A Pennsylvania federal judge concluded that a Pittsburgh-area home care agency, a related staffing firm and their respective owners underpaid employees for their overtime work by more than $1.2 million.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Insurer, Medical Co. Drop Malpractice Coverage Dispute

An outpatient provider of chronic pain relief and its insurance company told a Missouri federal court they have agreed to drop an insurance coverage dispute stemming from a patient's malpractice suit.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Senior Home Can Arbitrate Families' Claims Over Killings

Arbitration agreements signed by residents of a Dallas senior living community who authorities say were slain by a serial killer suspect apply to their surviving family members, a divided en banc Texas appellate court ruled Friday.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

Catching Up With Delaware's Chancery Court

An increasingly busy Delaware Chancery Court raced to docket new suits last week involving PayPal, Snapchat and the Carlyle Group in between a flurry of Twitter-related filings.

Decision attached | Read full article »

Class Attys Want $1.9M In Google's Virus-Tracing App Suit

Lieff Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein LLP attorneys are asking for $1.9 million in attorney fees as part of a nonmonetary deal with Google to end a proposed privacy class action claiming that a COVID-19 contact-tracing tool was exposing unwitting Android users' sensitive information.

Motion attached | Read full article »

Biopharma Co. Accused Of Lying To Investors About FDA Hold

An investor in biotherapeutics company Kiromic BioPharma Inc. has launched a proposed class action accusing the company and its leadership of touting prospects for two drug candidates ahead of a 2021 public offering despite the fact that the U.S. Food and Drug Administration had hit pause on clinical trials for both therapeutics.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Faulty Centene ACA Plan Cost Patients Billions, Suit Says

Centene Corporation, which runs the Affordable Care Act's largest online exchange health insurance plan, was slapped with a proposed class action in Illinois federal court by patients who say the company violated racketeering laws and cheated them out of billions of dollars by selling bogus policies.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Health Co. Accused Of Stealing Psilocybin Therapy Idea

A company called Terran Biosciences Inc. has launched a suit in federal court claiming that a British company swiped trade secrets from a professor at the University of Maryland, Baltimore, related to a way to treat depression using psilocybin without its hallucinogenic effects.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Mallinckrodt PLC
Morgan Stanley
Mylan NV
Netflix Inc.
Oaktree Capital Management
OfficeMax Inc.
Optum Inc.
Paramount Global
Paramount Pictures Corp.
Paypal Holdings Inc.
Pfizer Inc.
Planned Parenthood Federation
Roberts Group (Little Rock, US)
Snap Inc.
SolarCity Corp.
Steward Health Care System LLC
Surfside
Sutter Health
Tenet Healthcare Corp.
Tesla Inc.
Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
The New York Times Co.
The ODP Corp.
The Walt Disney Co.
ThinkEquity LLC
Tower Health
TracFone Wireless Inc.
Twitter Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
Walmart Inc.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Akerman LLP
ArentFox Schiff
Baker Botts
Barnes & Thornburg
Bartlett LLP
Bartlit Beck
Bayard PA
Berger Singerman
Bondurant Mixson
Boyle Leonard
Cahill Gordon
Caminez & Yeary
Caplan Cobb
Clark Hill
Cleary Gottlieb
Clyde & Co
Cooch & Taylor
Cravath Swaine
Crawford Wishnew
Dean Mead
Foland Wickens
Foley & Lardner
Fox Rothschild
Gabell Beaver
Gainey McKenna
Goldberg & Rosen
Goodwin Procter
Greenberg Glusker
Greenberg Traurig
Grossman Roth
Hamilton Lincoln Law Institute
Heise Suarez
Hogan Lovells

Radius Health Investor Sues To Probe $890M Merger

A shareholder of Radius Health Inc. sued the Boston-based global biopharmaceutical company in Delaware Chancery Court on Monday to investigate events leading up to its planned $890 million acquisition by investment firms Gurnet Point Capital LLC and Patient Square Capital.

Read full article »

DEALS

3 Firms Shape Pfizer's $5.4B Deal For Sickle Cell-Drug Maker

Pfizer Inc. will acquire sickle cell-drug company Global Blood Therapeutics in a $5.4 billion enterprise value deal shaped by legal advisers Cravath Swaine & Moore LLP, Goodwin Procter LLP and Wachtell Lipton Rosen & Katz, the companies said Monday.

Read full article »

BANKRUPTCY

Philly Hospitals Reach Deal Over Real Estate In Ch. 11

The former owner of two Philadelphia hospitals proposed a settlement Monday in Delaware bankruptcy court that would resolve a long-running dispute with entities that own the real estate upon which the facilities sit.

Settlement attached | Read full article »

Mallinckrodt Noteholders Seek End To Default Payment Appeal

A group of Mallinckrodt noteholders are urging a Delaware federal judge to reject the appeal of a different noteholder group claiming they're owed $94 million due to the drugmaker's Chapter 11, saying the bankruptcy plan has been in place too long to be overturned.

Brief attached | Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Texas Tax Talk: Ruling May Erode Pro-Taxpayer Presumption

Following the recent Texas Supreme Court opinion in Hegar v. Health Care Service, the state comptroller may try to limit the utility of a long-standing presumption that ambiguous tax statutes must be construed strictly against the taxing authority and liberally for the taxpayer, say attorneys at Baker Botts.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Trump Says FBI 'Raided' His Mar-A-Lago Resort

The FBI on Monday executed a search warrant at Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago resort in Florida, according to the former president, who said his home was "under siege, raided and occupied" by federal agents.

Read full article »

ABA Clarifies Remote Learning Guidance For Law Schools

The American Bar Association's policymaking body at its annual meeting Monday in Chicago adopted a resolution to clarify its accreditation guidelines on remote learning for law schools, as well as a variety of other proposals.

Read full article »

Tesla Hires New Deputy GC For Corporate And Securities

Tesla Inc. has brought in Derek Windham as deputy general counsel for corporate and securities, the latest hire in the electric vehicle maker's legal department, which has undergone many personnel changes over the last three years.

Read full article »

Lawyer Bert Fields, Hollywood 'Tour De Force,' Dies At 93

Bert Fields, a legendary entertainment attorney who represented the likes of Tom Cruise, Mel Brooks, Dustin Hoffman, George Lucas and Warren Beatty, has died at the age of 93, according to his law firm Greenberg Glusker Fields Claman & Machtinger LLP.

Hunton Andrews
Isicoff Ragatz
Jomarron Lopez
Kessler Topaz
Kirkland & Ellis
Kozyak Tropin
Latham & Watkins
Lathrop GPM
Law Firm of Gary Williams Parenti Watson & Gary
Lieff Cabraser
LippSmith LLP
Macdonald Devin
Monteverde & Associates
Morrison Foerster
NastLaw
Nussbaum Law Group PC
O'Melveny & Myers
O'Neill & Borges
Paul Hastings
Paul Weiss
Pita Weber
Podhurst Orseck
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel
Richards Layton
Rollins Kavanaugh
Saltz Mongeluzzi
Saul Ewing
Searcy Denney
Sercarz & Riopelle
Shearman & Sterling
Sher Tremonte
Shook Hardy
Sills Cummis
Silva & Silva PA
Silverman Thompson
Simpson Thacher
Stanton LLP
Stueve Siegel Hanson
Sullivan & Cromwell
Wachtell Lipton
Wagstaff & Cartmell
Wexler Boley
WhatleyKallas
White & Case
Williams & Connolly
Willkie Farr
Wilson Sonsini

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Delaware Court of Chancery
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services
Food and Drug Administration
Georgia Attorney General's Office
Georgia Supreme Court
Internal Revenue Service
Library of Congress
Office of National Drug Control Policy
Office of the Comptroller of the Currency
Social Security Administration
Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts

Read full article »

Class Attys Get Reduced Fees In $60M Morgan Stanley Deal

A New York federal judge granted final approval to a $60 million data breach settlement between Morgan Stanley and a class of former and current customers, but significantly reduced the award to class counsel, granting $13.6 million of the requested $20 million.

Read full article »

Legal Services Co. Moves To Toss Securities Fraud Suit

A Florida legal services company moved to toss a U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission lawsuit filed against it over trusts mostly for disabled Social Security or Medicaid recipients the agency says were managed by a shell company disguised as a nonprofit.

Read full article »

Judge Orders Sale Funds To Cover Collapsed Condo's Taxes

Former unit owners of the Champlain Towers South condominium in Surfside, Florida, will not have to pay 2022 taxes on the property following a ruling Monday from the judge overseeing consolidated litigation over the building's collapse last summer.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Air Force
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware
U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Education
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of Delaware
U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland
U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Missouri
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the District of Kansas
Wage and Hour Division

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
TO: "Tracy Gruber (DHHS)" <tracygruber@utah.gov>
CC: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 09/08/2022 05:21

Thanks Tracy - Marc shared his response back to Russel and I am reading over it now and making a few minor edits. Adding the definition of how the program in interpreting cost-sharing is very helpful context and it would have probably been good to get clarification from the legislature during the session.

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 10:20 AM Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov> wrote:

I wanted to make sure you saw this follow up from Russell. This speaks to our concerns about the report not being responsive to the questions the legislature raised. I think that they are asking if there are ways to modify the program to cost share. The team basically said, we don't cost share because the program only kicks in if there are no other methods of paying. Anna is working with Marc but I wanted you to be aware because neither of you are included in the exchange.

Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>
Date: Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:23 AM
Subject: RE: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
To: mwatterson@utah.gov <mwatterson@utah.gov>, Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>, Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>, Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>, Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>, Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
- Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
- Urine Drug Testing Report

The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: FEEDBACK NEEDED: Response to LFA Questions regarding LegislativeRequired Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
TO: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
CC: "Janae Duncan (DHHS)" <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, "Anna Fondario (DHHS)" <afondario@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, DHHS_EDO <dhhsedo@utah.gov>, Traci Barney <tabarney@utah.gov>, Teresa Brechlin <tbrechlin@utah.gov>
DATE: 09/08/2022 05:33

Marc -

Overall, the response looks good to me. Adding how we are defining cost-sharing is very helpful context and, hindsight being 20/20, would have been good to add to the report, itself.

I do have a couple of minor edits & thoughts on the last paragraph for your thoughts:

[redacted]

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 5:31 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

[redacted]

Taking responses from Janae and Anna (as well as IM's) I've put together the following proposed response. OFO has typically taken the lead on responses to LFA Staff so perhaps this is a bit more pointed than a normal response (especially the last paragraph), so you all might want to weigh in on this before we send our official response back...

It is the Department's understanding that cost sharing means:

- "The share of costs covered by your insurance that you pay out of your own pocket. This term generally includes deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments, or similar charges, but it doesn't include premiums, balance billing amounts for non-network providers, or the cost of non-covered services." (Glossary, HealthCare.gov)

With that understanding, because the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund in Utah is a payor of last resort, we view the State as already participating in a cost-sharing program. Participants of the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund exhaust all cost-sharing options prior to application for the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Funds. As a result, the data elements (unsure what we are referring to here) weren't historically tracked so it is difficult to determine the net impact of these cost-sharing efforts. If the subcommittee intends to look at the impact of the cost-sharing efforts over time, rather than the one-year provided, we will study the issue more. We have built in more measures to look at this over time, so a few years of collecting data would be helpful.

To make sure we are on the same page, could you share with us what the legislature considers to be Cost Sharing? It will be helpful for us all to work from the same definition and understanding of what would or would not constitute cost-sharing under this specific circumstance (SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund). Is the legislature suggesting that the account be changed to start allowing people who can pay to have preference to the Fund as a potential means of allowing more insured persons to receive rehabilitation services? What effect would this have on those who are least able to pay into the system? Would this not preclude many of them from receiving services as more funds are used to help those with some ability to pay (i.e "cost sharing")?

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:23 AM Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov> wrote:

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
- Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
- Urine Drug Testing Report

The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Biden Administration to Adopt Dose-SparingStrategy for Monkeypox Vaccine, per Report
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 09/08/2022 06:07

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 9, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

Top Stories

- With limited supply of the monkeypox vaccine, the Biden administration has decided to move forward with a plan to have patients receive one-fifth of a current dose injected into their skin as opposed to a full dose into the underlying fat, people familiar with the discussions said. The dose-sparing strategy, mostly based on a 2015 National Institutes of Health-sponsored study, requires the Department of Health and Human Services to issue a new emergency declaration granting the Food and Drug Administration emergency use powers to sign off on intradermal injection, a move that could come as soon as this afternoon. (The New York Times)

- HHS said it will invest nearly $60 million on rural health care programs, using funding mostly from the American Rescue Plan to address staffing shortages in rural communities with a focus on job development, training and placement. The Health Resources and Services Administration will administer the funding, which will be distributed to five programs — the Rural Residency Planning and Development Program, Rural Public Health Workforce Training Network Program, Rural Veterans Health Access Program, Small Health Care Provider Quality Improvement Program and Rural Public Health Workforce Training Network Technical Assistance Program — across 35 states. (Agri-Pulse)

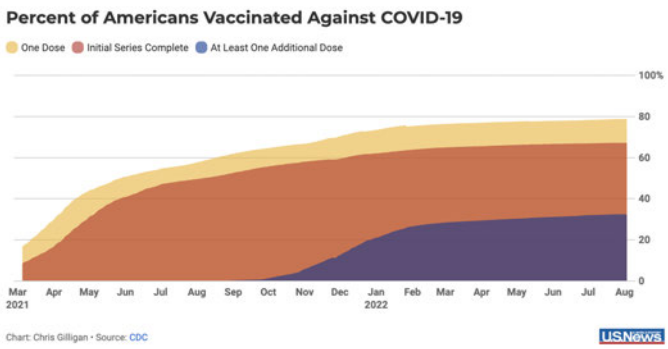
- Novavax Inc. cut its sales outlook for the year by roughly 50% to between $2 billion and $2.3 billion after suffering a net loss of $510.5 million in the second quarter, as no additional sales of its protein-based COVID-19 vaccine to the United States or the international vaccine-sharing alliance Covax are expected in 2022. (CNBC) BioNTech SE reported a roughly 40% year-over-year drop in second-quarter revenue to $3.26 billion, though the Pfizer Inc. COVID-19 vaccine partner said it expects to start deliveries of its two reformulated vaccines targeting omicron subvariants as early as October. (Reuters)

- A study in the journal Nature Climate Change found that 58% of the known 375 human infectious diseases — such as malaria and cholera — are worsened by one of the 10 types of extreme weather linked to climate change. The researchers also looked at 286 unique sicknesses — conditions like asthma and allergies — and found that 223 of those seemed to be exacerbated by climate hazards. (The Associated Press)

Chart Review

Undervaccination Nation: Data Shows Struggling COVID Booster Effort in U.S.

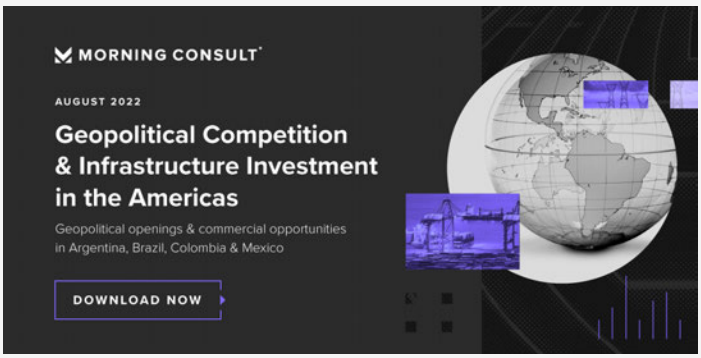
U.S. News & World Report



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



Geopolitical Competition and Infrastructure in the Americas

Robust demand for infrastructure investment in the Americas will pay geopolitical dividends for the U.S. and the E.U. and yield commercial opportunities for their multinationals. Download our latest report to learn more about geopolitical openings and commercial opportunities in Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, & Mexico. Download today.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

Group of 23 states tells U.S. court CDC lacks authority to set transit mask rules

David Shepardson, Reuters

A group of 23 state attorneys general led by Florida told a federal court on Monday that the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) lacks the legal authority to impose a nationwide transportation mask mandate to address COVID-19.

How the Covid Pandemic Will Follow Today's Kids Into Adulthood
Douglas Belkin, The Wall Street Journal
Now that Covid 19 is steaming into its third year, brain scientists, psychiatrists, educators and economists are starting to ask how the generation of children coming of age will be affected as adults.

Under 60, healthy, vaccinated and boosted? 'You're in a pretty good place' with Covid-19
Elizabeth Cohen, CNN
Data obtained by CNN from New York's largest health-care provider indicates you're very unlikely to become severely ill with Covid-19 if you're under age 60, up to date on your Covid-19 vaccines and don't have underlying health problems, backing up a government plan expected to be announced this week that will ease up on coronavirus restrictions.

GENERAL

Group Petitions to Ease Fines for Healthcare Workers in Student-Debt Programs
Rebecca Ballhaus, The Wall Street Journal
A legal advocacy group for students filed a federal petition urging the agency that oversees the National Health Service Corps to change its rules to address the penalties facing healthcare workers who involuntarily violate contracts they signed to ease their student debt.

The GOP blocked an insulin price cap: What it means for diabetics
Rachel Pannett and Rachel Roubein
The Senate passed a sweeping budget package Sunday intended to bring financial relief to Americans, but not before Republican senators voted to strip a proposal that would have capped the price of insulin at $35 per month for many patients.

America has a maternal mortality crisis. Biden push aims to change that.
Akilah Johnson, The Washington Post
As part of a major push by the Biden administration to address the nation's maternal health crisis, senior officials have traveled the country for the past year, talking to midwives, doulas and people who have given birth about their experiences. They've held summits at the White House.

Dozens got sick after visiting Kansas splash park, CDC study finds
The Associated Press
At least 21 people contracted Shigella bacteria and six others became sick with the norovirus after visiting the splash park at Tanganyika Wildlife Park in Goddard, near Wichita, Kansas. Dozens of others also reported gastrointestinal illnesses.

A 'staggering' number of people couldn't get care during the pandemic, poll finds
Rhitu Chatterjee, NPR News
Among households where anyone had been seriously ill in the past year, 35% of American Indian and Alaska Native households and 24% of Black households had trouble accessing care for serious illness, compared with only 18% of White households.

Republicans turn on each other amid post-Roe chaos

Megan Messerly and Alice Miranda Ollstein, Politico
Republican state officials have been waiting decades for the chance to ban abortion. Now that they can, red state lawmakers are mired in partisan infighting and struggling to agree on how far to go. The most fervently anti-abortion lawmakers are accusing their colleagues of capitulating on rape and incest exceptions, while those calling for compromise or moderation believe more strident Republicans are ignoring political realities.

House Democrat calls on CDC to publish monkeypox vaccine demographics
Nathaniel Weixel, The Hill
A Democratic congressman is calling on the Biden administration to publish demographic data on monkeypox vaccinations in an effort to reduce disparities in communities of color.

CVS Units Must Face HIV Bias Suit Over Medication Distribution
Jacklyn Wille, Bloomberg Law
HIV/AIDS patients who object to a CVS Pharmacy Inc. policy limiting where they can receive specialty medications advanced their lawsuit when a California federal judge said the company's subsidiaries were likely subject to the Affordable Care Act's rules prohibiting discrimination.

Too little sleep may jeopardize young kids' development, study finds
Linda Searing, The Washington Post
For children in elementary school, regularly getting less than nine hours of sleep per night may hinder their neurocognitive development, according to a study led by University of Maryland School of Medicine researchers and published in the journal Lancet Child & Adolescent Health.

Study: Kids who vape tobacco are more likely to go on to use cannabis
Erin Blakemore, The Washington Post
Vaping is growing more prevalent among young people — in 2021, 1 in 9 high school students said they had vaped in the past month, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Increasingly, those kids are vaping cannabis. But is vaping a gateway to marijuana use?

Dangerous artificial marijuana, with names like K2 and Spice, is used less in states where weed is legalized
Sandee LaMotte, CNN
Between 2010 and 2015, synthetic cannabis poisonings were on the rise, according to the ToxIC Case Registry, with more than 42,000 cases of toxic exposure reported during that time. However, those numbers may now be declining in states in which the use of recreational marijuana is permitted, said Tracy Klein, assistant director for the Center for Cannabis Policy, Research and Outreach at Washington State University in Vancouver, Washington.

Tribe Embraces Recreational Marijuana Sales on Reservation Where Alcohol Is Banned
Arielle Zionts, Kaiser Health News
In a growing number of U.S. states, people can both drink alcohol and legally smoke recreational marijuana. In others, they can use alcohol but not pot. But on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in South Dakota, the opposite is true: Marijuana is legal, but booze is banned.

Nebraska Republicans lack votes to amend state's abortion laws
Sareen Habeshian, Axios
Nebraska Gov. Pete Ricketts (R) was unable to garner enough votes Monday to convene a special legislative session for the state to consider stricter abortion laws.

PAYERS

MACPAC: Only 3% gained exchange coverage after leaving Medicaid, CHIP in 2018
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare
A paltry 3% of people got Affordable Care Act exchange coverage within a year after leaving Medicaid or the Children's Health Insurance Program, a new study found.

Health bill brings new liabilities to Part D plans but possible boon on drug costs, experts say
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare
A major spending package that passed the Senate on Sunday brings a new redesign to Medicare Part D benefits, increasing the liability for insurers, experts say.

Safeway Whistleblower Asks High Court to Revive Drug Price Suit
Daniel Seiden, Bloomberg Law
A False Claims Act whistleblower urged the US Supreme Court to reinstate his suit alleging that Safeway Inc. overcharged federal healthcare programs for prescription drugs.

Centene sued over Ambetter networks, benefits
Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare
A new lawsuit alleges Centene took advantage of enrollee churn between Medicaid and health insurance exchange policies to defraud the federal government and dupe consumers.

The gene therapy pipeline may be at a 'tipping point'. Here's why Optum says payers need to take notice
Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare
The pharmacy benefit manager released its quarterly look at the drug development pipeline. The latest analysis spotlights two gene therapy products headed to the Food and Drug Administration's approval table this fall: elivaldogene autotemcel, under the brand Skysona, and betibeglogene autotemcel, as Zynteglo.

PROVIDERS

Kaiser Permanente has a rough first half as Q2 net loss exceeds $1B
Caroline Hudson, Modern Healthcare
Operating income for Kaiser, a not-for-profit integrated health system, fell nearly 75% year-over-year to $89 million. Expenses rose by 0.2% to $23.38 billion, while revenue fell 0.9% to $23.47 billion. Kaiser's operating margin was 0.4%.

Access to trauma care is improving across the country, but progress remains uneven
Edward Chen, Stat News

Six years ago, an expert panel made a strong suggestion to the White House: set up a national system to care for patients with traumatic injuries, which lead to about 30,000 deaths every year. "In the civilian sector, where injury is the leading cause of death for Americans under age 46, as many as 1 in 5 deaths from traumatic injuries may be preventable with optimal trauma care," the authors wrote.

Patients and Doctors Trapped in a Gray Zone When Abortion Laws and Emergency Care Mandate Conflict

Harris Meyer, Kaiser Health News

Each week, Dr. Kim Puterbaugh sees several pregnant patients at a Cleveland hospital who are experiencing complications involving bleeding or infection. The OB-GYN has to make quick decisions about how to treat them, including whether to remove the dead or dying fetus to protect the health and life of the mother. Leaving in place a fetus that has no chance of survival dramatically increases the chance of maternal infection and permanent injury.

GOP physicians in Congress: Drug price control in reconciliation bill will impact patient care

Joseph Choi, The Hill

A group of Republican physicians in Congress are voicing their "strong opposition" to the prescription drug pricing control policies that were included in Democrats' massive reconciliation package that cleared the Senate over the weekend.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Pfizer begins late-stage trial testing Lyme disease vaccine

Berkeley Lovelace Jr., NBC News

If the trial succeeds, the vaccine could be the first human immunization for Lyme disease in the U.S. in two decades.

Here's who Democrats' drug pricing bill will actually help

Rachel Cohrs, Stat News

Millions of patients in the Medicare program could eventually see lower prescription drug costs if Democrats pass their latest drug pricing plan into law.

Dems on the brink of sweeping Medicare changes

Caitlin Owens and Adriel Bettelheim, Axios

Democrats are on the cusp of making the most significant changes to Medicare in more than a decade, which would bring lower drug prices and out-of-pocket costs for some of the program's 64 million enrollees.

For the second time, Pfizer tries a warranty in response to concerns over high drug costs

Ed Silverman, Stat News

For only the second time, Pfizer is offering a warranty for a medicine that will cover the cost for any patient or health plan if the medication fails to work, a move that expands an effort to appease concerns about high drug costs.

Cybercriminals Are Using Bots to Steal Online Pharmacy Accounts

Bree Fowler, CNET

Cybercriminals are increasingly deploying software Bots to commandeer the online pharmacy accounts of everyday people, according to new research, allowing hackers to illegally buy prescription drugs and depriving patients of needed medications.

Karuna Therapeutics' schizophrenia drug achieves study goals, heralding new treatment approach

Adam Feuerstein, Stat News

Karuna Therapeutics said Monday that a novel combination pill reduced psychosis and related symptoms experienced by patients with schizophrenia, achieving the main goals of a late-stage clinical trial.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Doximity posts 25% revenue growth, but stock sinks as company cuts revenue guidance

Heather Landi, Fierce Healthcare

Doximity, a digital platform for medical professionals, brought in $91 million in revenue in the most recent quarter, a 25% jump from a year ago as the company saw strong growth in its telehealth services.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

Drug companies are warning that pricing reform spells doom. Don't fall for it.

Avik Roy and Gregg Girvan, The Washington Post

Democrats are on the verge of passing legislation that, among other things, would empower the government to directly negotiate the price Medicare pays for a handful of the costliest prescription drugs. The measure has precipitated hyperbole from industry lobbyists, who say it represents an existential threat to medical innovation. One prominent group recently claimed the bill "could propel us light years back into the dark ages of biomedical research."

The Senate's drug pricing bill is an inevitable solution. It will still have plenty of unintended consequences

Matthew Herper, Stat News

There's really no ignoring the inexorable math that led the Senate to approve a plan that will give Medicare unprecedented power to set the prices of some drugs.

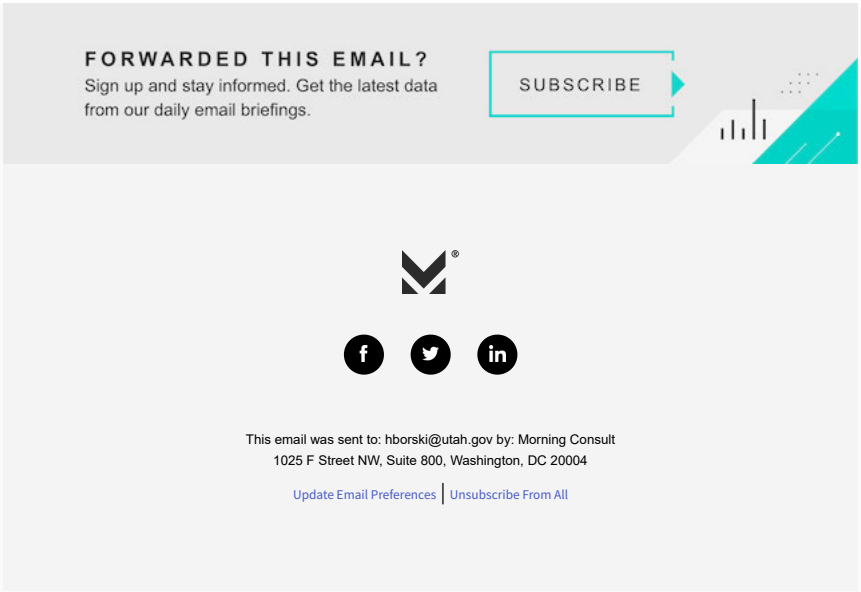
RESEARCH REPORTS

The Effect of Vaccine Mandates on Disease Spread: Evidence from College COVID-19 Mandates

Riley K. Acton et al., National Bureau of Economic Research

In event study specifications, we find that, over the first 13 weeks of the fall 2021 semester, college vaccine mandates reduced new COVID-19 cases by 339 per 100,000 county residents and new deaths by 5.4 per 100,000 residents, with an estimated value of lives saved between $9.7 million and $27.4 million per 100,000 residents. These figures suggest that the mandates reduced total US COVID-19 deaths in autumn 2021 by approximately 5%.

[redacted] ECHO Colorado Monthly eNews: What's ECHOing in August



SUBJECT: Re: FEEDBACK NEEDED: Response to LFA Questions regarding LegislativeRequired Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
TO: "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
CC: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>, "Janae Duncan (DHHS)" <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, "Anna Fondario (DHHS)" <afondario@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, DHHS_EDO <dhhsedo@utah.gov>, Traci Barney <tabarney@utah.gov>, Teresa Brechlin <tbrechlin@utah.gov>
DATE: 09/08/2022 08:08

Thank you, Marc, Anna, and team. I support David's edits, and otherwise don't have others to add.

HB

On Tue, Aug 9, 2022 at 5:33 AM David Litvack (DHHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:

Marc -

Overall, the response looks good to me. Adding how we are defining cost-sharing is very helpful context and, hindsight being 20/20, would have been good to add to the report, itself.

I do have a couple of minor edits & thoughts on the last paragraph for your thoughts:

[redacted]

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 5:31 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Taking responses from Janae and Anna (as well as IM's) I've put together the following proposed response. OFO has typically taken the lead on responses to LFA Staff so perhaps this is a bit more pointed than a normal response (especially the last paragraph), so you all might want to weigh in on this before we send our official response back...

It is the Department's understanding that cost sharing means:

- "The share of costs covered by your insurance that you pay out of your own pocket. This term generally includes deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments, or similar charges, but it doesn't include premiums, balance billing amounts for non-network providers, or the cost of non-covered services." (Glossary, HealthCare.gov)

With that understanding, because the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund in Utah is a payor of last resort, we view the State as already participating in a cost-sharing program. Participants of the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund exhaust all cost-sharing options prior to application for the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Funds. As a result, the data elements (unsure what we are referring to here) weren't historically tracked so it is difficult to determine the net impact of these cost-sharing efforts. If the subcommittee intends to look at the impact of the cost-sharing efforts over time, rather than the one-year provided, we will study the issue more. We have built in more measures to look at this over time, so a few years of collecting data would be helpful.

[redacted]

To make sure we are on the same page, could you share with us what the legislature considers to be Cost Sharing? It will be helpful for us all to work from the same definition and understanding of what would or would not constitute cost-sharing under this specific circumstance (SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund). Is the legislature suggesting that the account be changed to start allowing people who can pay to have preference to the Fund as a potential means of allowing more insured persons to receive rehabilitation services? What effect would this have on those who are least able to pay into the system? Would this not preclude many of them from receiving services as more funds are used to help those with some ability to pay (i.e "cost sharing")?

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:23 AM Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov> wrote:

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
- Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
- Urine Drug Testing Report

The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

[redacted] ECHO Colorado Monthly eNews: What's ECHOing in August

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Re: FEEDBACK NEEDED: Response to LFA Questions regarding LegislativeRequired Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "Amanda Slater (DHHS)" <aslater@utah.gov>
TO: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
CC: "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>, "Janae Duncan (DHHS)" <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, "Anna Fondario (DHHS)" <afondario@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, DHHS_EDO <dhhsedo@utah.gov>, Traci Barney <tabarney@utah.gov>, Teresa Brechlin <tbrechlin@utah.gov>
DATE: 09/08/2022 09:26

Thanks Marc. With David's edit this looks good to me.

On Tue, Aug 9, 2022 at 8:09 AM Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov> wrote:
Thank you, Marc, Anna, and team. I support David's edits, and otherwise don't have others to add.

HB

On Tue, Aug 9, 2022 at 5:33 AM David Litvack (DHHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:
Marc -

Overall, the response looks good to me. Adding how we are defining cost-sharing is very helpful context and, hindsight being 20/20, would have been good to add to the report, itself.

I do have a couple of minor edits & thoughts on the last paragraph for your thoughts:

[redacted]

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 5:31 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:
Taking responses from Janae and Anna (as well as IM's) I've put together the following proposed response. OFO has typically taken the lead on responses to LFA Staff so perhaps this is a bit more pointed than a normal response (especially the last paragraph), so you all might want to weigh in on this before we send our official response back...

It is the Department's understanding that cost sharing means:

- "The share of costs covered by your insurance that you pay out of your own pocket. This term generally includes deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments, or similar charges, but it doesn't include premiums, balance billing amounts for non-network providers, or the cost of non-covered services." (Glossary, HealthCare.gov)

With that understanding, because the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund in Utah is a payor of last resort, we view the State as already participating in a cost-sharing program. Participants of the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund exhaust all cost-sharing options prior to application for the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Funds. As a result, the data elements (unsure what we are referring to here) weren't historically tracked so it is difficult to determine the net impact of these cost-sharing efforts. If the subcommittee intends to look at the impact of the cost-sharing efforts over time, rather than the one-year provided, we will study the issue more. We have built in more measures to look at this over time, so a few years of collecting data would be helpful.

To make sure we are on the same page, could you share with us what the legislature considers to be Cost Sharing? It will be helpful for us all to work from the same definition and understanding of what would or would not constitute cost-sharing under this specific circumstance (SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund). Is the legislature suggesting that the account be changed to start allowing people who can pay to have preference to the Fund as a potential means of allowing more insured persons to receive rehabilitation services? What effect would this have on those who are least able to pay into the system? Would this not preclude many of them from receiving services as more funds are used to help those with some ability to pay (i.e "cost sharing")?

[redacted]

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:23 AM Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov> wrote:

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
- Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
- Urine Drug Testing Report

The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--

Amanda Slater
Assistant Deputy Director, Operations
She/Her/Hers
C: 385.262.1800
aslater@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

This message is for the sole use of the intended recipient(s) and may contain confidential, privileged, private, controlled, or protected information. Any unauthorized review, use, disclosure, or distribution is prohibited. Misuse or unauthorized dissemination of this information could result in civil or criminal charges. If you are not the intended recipient, please contact the sender and destroy all copies of the original message.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

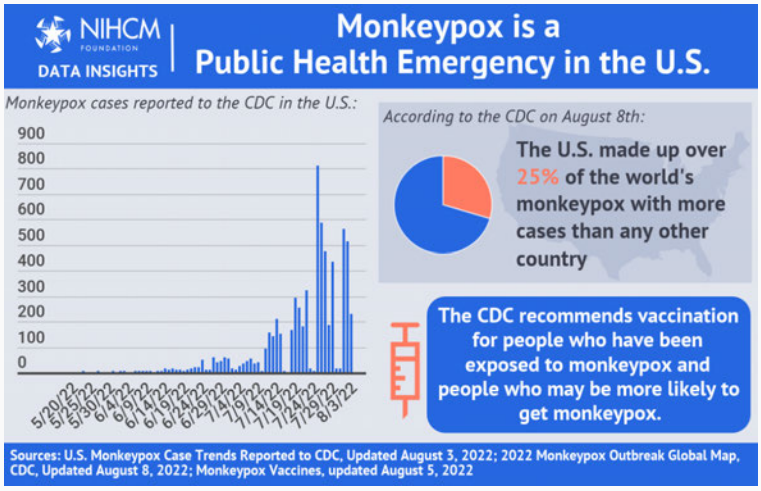
SUBJECT: NIHCM Newsletter: Monkeypox is a Public Health Emergency
FROM: NIHCM Foundation <nihcm@nihcm.org>
TO: Heather <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 09/08/2022 09:29

View this email in your browser

NIHCM NEWSLETTER - August 2022

IN THIS ISSUE

- The Latest on Monkeypox
- Q&A on the Overdose Crisis
- Keeping COVID at Bay
- Environmental Health
- In Other Public Health News



More on this Data Visualization

The Latest on Monkeypox

The World Health Organization declared the monkeypox outbreak a global health emergency as the number of confirmed cases has increased to over 30,000 across 88 countries with more than 8,900 cases in the U.S. (as of August 8th, 2022). On August 4th, President Biden declared monkeypox a national public health emergency.

- Vaccines: The U.S. Food and Drug Administration announced that nearly 786,000 doses of the monkeypox vaccine will be made available for distribution. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) estimates that nearly 1.5 million people are eligible for the vaccine.
- Not a Sexually Transmitted Infection (STI): While monkeypox cases have predominately been found among men who have sex with men, it is neither an STI nor does it only impact specific communities. Transmission can occur through skin-to-skin contact, touching contaminated objects, respiratory secretions, and during pregnancy. Experts have warned that stigmatizing messaging reinforces stereotypes and can undermine response efforts, as was the case during the HIV/AIDS epidemic.
- Impact on Health Clinics: Sexual health clinics, which have already been under pressure from years of underfunding and COVID-19, are now on the frontline of the growing monkeypox outbreak.

- Outlook: Many have compared the response to monkeypox in the U.S. to that of the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic. Despite recent expansions in testing capacity, areas are still facing shortages, delays in getting results, and a lack of reliable ways to test.

Resources:

- Learn more about monkeypox transmission, signs and symptoms, and how to practice safer sex with these CDC resources.
- Stay up-to-date on the latest news and resources with the National Coalition of STD Directors' Monkeypox Command Center.

Q&A on the Overdose Crisis

The CDC estimates that more than 107,000 Americans died of drug overdoses last year - a record high. Learn more about the overdose crisis:

Q: How are racial disparities widening in overdose deaths?
A: According to a CDC report, overdose deaths are increasing fast among Black and Indigenous people. Black people ages 15 to 24 had an 86% increase in death rates compared to a 34% increase among White people of the same age group. The disproportionate increase among Black and Indigenous people may be due to health inequities, like unequal access to treatment.

Q: What is the role of fentanyl in the overdose crisis?
A: Deaths involving illicitly manufactured fentanyl are on the rise, which is often mixed with other illicit drugs without the user's knowledge. Fentanyl-related deaths in the U.S. occur more often than gun and auto-related deaths combined. The Drug Enforcement Agency warns of a nationwide spike in fentanyl-related mass-overdose events.

Q: How does harm reduction reduce overdose deaths?
A: The Biden administration's strategy to address the overdose crisis is the first to incorporate harm reduction strategies, which include access to naloxone (the antidote to opioid overdoses), sterile needles, drug test strips, and supervised injection sites.

Q: Are people with addiction able to receive treatment?
A: A recent study found that 87% of people with opioid use disorder (OUD) do not receive evidence-based treatment. Medications for OUD can reduce opioid overdoses by 50%.

Q: What about people with chronic pain?
A: The 2016 CDC guidelines for prescribing opioids for pain have been credited with leading to harmful consequences for patients with chronic pain. The 2022 proposed guidelines remove the upper limits for prescription opioids, emphasize a patient-centric approach, and expand on alternative treatments.

Resources & Initiatives:

- NIHCM Grantee, STAT, is releasing a series on addiction in 2022.
- Florida Blue Medicare created a pilot program identifying members who have been prescribed opioids and are at risk for addiction.
- Visualize the impact of the opioid overdose crisis in nine charts created by NIHCM.
- Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan is part of the Michigan Opioid Partnership, which awarded nearly $500,000 in grants to four SUD recovery community organizations.
- The Highmark West Virginia Charitable Fund for Health awarded more than $600,000 in substance use disorder program grants.

SAMHSA's National Helpline for individuals and families facing mental and/or substance use disorders is 1-800-662-HELP.

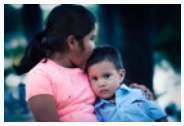
Keeping COVID at Bay

People who previously had COVID-19 are becoming reinfected from new omicron subvariants. The pace of COVID-19 deaths has plateaued since May, with 12,500 Americans dying of COVID-19 in July. The Pfizer antiviral Paxlovid keeps high-risk COVID-19 patients out of the hospital.

- Boosters: Second boosters for people under 50 are on hold for shots reformulated to target the omicron subvariants. The Biden administration recently purchased 66 million doses of Moderna's variant-specific booster.
- Long COVID: Federal reports on long COVID provide information on getting help and highlight the need for further research on the condition. About one in eight adults develop symptoms of long COVID. Risk factors include socioeconomic deprivation and smoking.
- Children and COVID: Over 40% of parents of children under five say they will definitely not vaccinate their child against COVID-19. A recent study found omicron is better at invading children's noses than previous variants. Fortunately, children have stronger antibodies than adults.

Resources & Initiatives:

- Learn how many lives a fall booster campaign could save in the U.S.
- A medical analyst explains what precautions families should take as children return to school.
- Kaiser Health News released a Q&A on everything you need to know about Paxlovid.
- Learn more about children's vaccinations and getting vaccinated against COVID-19 from Blue Cross Blue Shield of Louisiana and Independence Blue Cross.



Register now for our upcoming webinar, Children Under Stress: Preventing ACEs and Supporting Childhood Well-Being, on August 23rd.

Environmental Health

A recent poll reported that 53% of U.S. adults have personally felt the implications of climate change. In the months ahead, federal agencies project more abnormally hot weather, flooding, droughts, wildfires, and hurricane activity which threaten human health.

- Flooding: In Kentucky, recent severe flooding has left at least 38 people dead. A 2021 study found that climate change is likely causing extreme flooding events to be more frequent and intense.
- Extreme Heat Waves: High temperatures have blanketed Europe, China, India, and the U.S. throughout the summer. Experts warn that global, concurrent heat waves can threaten the world's food supply.
- Fires: Wildfires have already burned over 5.6 million acres across the U.S. this year, with more than 60 currently burning across the country. Exposure displaces thousands of people and can negatively impact both mental and physical health.
- New Legislation: The Senate recently passed a health, climate, and tax package. This legislation would be the most ambitious climate action ever taken by Congress, allotting billions towards climate and energy.

Resources and Initiatives:

- Track dangerous heat and wildfires nationwide. and learn how to keep yourself, children, and pets safe during periods of extreme heat and wildfires.
- Anthem Blue Cross (Elevance Health) provided relief to members impacted by California's wildfires.
- Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Louisiana reminded everyone to be aware of risks from high sun and heat exposure, and steps to beat the heat.

In Other Public Health News...

- Poliovirus: The U.S. had not reported a case of polio since 1979 but in July, an unvaccinated individual in New York tested positive for poliovirus and is now paralyzed. Based on wastewater surveillance, the NY Health Department believes hundreds may be infected.
- Reproductive Care: Many experts believe that health inequities will be exacerbated in the wake of overturning Roe v. Wade. Learn more about the uneven burden of maternal mortality in the U.S. with our recent infographic.
- Healthy Lifestyle: Roughly 4 out of every 10 Americans are now considered obese. Learn more about helping children avoid the risks of obesity from BlueCross BlueShield of Oklahoma.
- Physical Activity: A study found the lowest mortality rate among those who performed nearly double the amount of recommended physical activity. Arkansas Blue Cross and Blue Shield recently hosted the Blue & You Fitness Challenge which encourages people to get active.

Copyright © 2022 NIHCM Foundation, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you opted in via our website.
Our mailing address is:
NIHCM Foundation
1225 19th St NW Ste 710
Washington, DC 20036-2454

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

SUBJECT: Re: FEEDBACK NEEDED: Response to LFA Questions regarding LegislativeRequired Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
TO: "Amanda Slater (DHHS)" <aslater@utah.gov>
CC: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Janae Duncan (DHHS)" <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, "Anna Fondario (DHHS)" <afondario@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, DHHS_EDO <dhhsedo@utah.gov>, Traci Barney <tabarney@utah.gov>, Teresa Brechlin <tbrechlin@utah.gov>
DATE: 09/08/2022 10:53

Thank you for your much more eloquent phrasing David!

I will make those changes and send the response back to Russell.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Tue, Aug 9, 2022 at 9:26 AM Amanda Slater (DHHS) <aslater@utah.gov> wrote:
Thanks Marc. With David's edit this looks good to me.

On Tue, Aug 9, 2022 at 8:09 AM Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov> wrote:
Thank you, Marc, Anna, and team. I support David's edits, and otherwise don't have others to add.

HB

On Tue, Aug 9, 2022 at 5:33 AM David Litvack (DHHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov> wrote:
Marc -

Overall, the response looks good to me. Adding how we are defining cost-sharing is very helpful context and, hindsight being 20/20, would have been good to add to the report, itself.

I do have a couple of minor edits & thoughts on the last paragraph for your thoughts:

[redacted]

David Litvack
Deputy Director
He/Him/His
O: 385.382.6099
davidlitvack@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human
Services

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 5:31 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:
Taking responses from Janae and Anna (as well as IM's) I've put together the following proposed response. OFO has typically taken the lead on responses to LFA Staff so perhaps this is a bit more pointed than a normal response (especially the last paragraph), so you all might want to weigh in on this before we send our official response back...

It is the Department's understanding that cost sharing means:

- "The share of costs covered by your insurance that you pay out of your own pocket. This term generally includes deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments, or similar charges, but it doesn't include premiums, balance billing amounts for non-network providers, or the cost of non-covered services." (Glossary, HealthCare.gov)

With that understanding, because the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund in Utah is a payor of last resort, we view the State as already participating in a cost-sharing program. Participants of the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund exhaust all cost-sharing options prior to application for the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Funds. As a result, the data elements (unsure what we are referring to here) weren't historically tracked so it is difficult to determine the net impact of these cost-sharing efforts. If the subcommittee intends to look at the impact of the cost-sharing efforts over time, rather than the one-year provided, we will study the issue more. We have built in more measures to look at this over time, so a few years of collecting data would be helpful.

To make sure we are on the same page, could you share with us what the legislature considers to be Cost Sharing? It will be helpful for us all to work from the same definition and understanding of what would or would not constitute cost-sharing under this specific circumstance (SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund). Is the legislature suggesting that the account be changed to start allowing people who can pay to have preference to the Fund as a potential means of allowing more insured persons to receive rehabilitation services? What effect would this have on those who are least able to pay into the system? Would this not preclude many of them from receiving services as more funds are used to help those with some ability to pay (i.e "cost sharing")?

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:23 AM Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov> wrote:

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
- Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
- Urine Drug Testing Report

The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

--
Amanda Slater
Assistant Deputy Director, Operations
She/Her/Hers
C: 385.262.1800
aslater@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

This message is for the sole use of the intended recipient(s) and may contain confidential, privileged, private, controlled, or protected information. Any unauthorized review, use, disclosure, or distribution is prohibited. Misuse or unauthorized dissemination of this information could result in civil or criminal charges. If you are not the intended recipient, please contact the sender and destroy all copies of the original message.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
TO: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>
CC: "Sean C. Faherty" <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>, Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>, "Tracy Gruber (DHHS)" <tracygruber@utah.gov>, "Kody Harvey (DHHS)" <kharvey@utah.gov>, "Austin Preston (DHHS)" <austinpreston@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 09/08/2022 10:59

Russell -

It is the Department's understanding that cost sharing means:

[redacted]

- "The share of costs covered by your insurance that you pay out of your own pocket. This term generally includes deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments, or similar charges, but it doesn't include premiums, balance billing amounts for non-network providers, or the cost of non-covered services." (Glossary, HealthCare.gov)

With that understanding, because the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund in Utah is a payor of last resort, we view the State as already participating in a cost-sharing program. Participants of the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund exhaust all cost-sharing options prior to application for the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Funds. As a result, the data measures that providers are now collecting from applicants were not historically tracked so it is difficult to determine the net impact of these cost-sharing efforts. If the subcommittee intends to look at the impact of the cost-sharing efforts over time, rather than the one-year provided, we will study the issue more. We have built in more measures to look at this over time, so a few years of collecting data would be helpful.

Is the Department's definition and understanding of cost-sharing consistent with the legislature's intent language? We want to make sure we are on the same page in defining what would or would not constitute cost-sharing under this specific circumstance (SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund). Do you know if the legislature is interested in exploring the program allowing people who can pay to have preference to the Fund as a potential means of allowing more insured persons to receive rehabilitation services? Would the legislature like to study what effect this would have on those who are least able to pay into the system and on those currently receiving services under the payor of last resort policy?

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:23 AM Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov> wrote:

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
- Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
- Urine Drug Testing Report

The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: RE: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>
TO: "mwatterson@utah.gov" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
CC: "Sean C. Faherty" <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>, Kimberly Madsen<kmadsen@le.utah.gov>, "Tracy Gruber (DHHS)" <tracygruber@utah.gov>, "KodyHarvey (DHHS)" <kharvey@utah.gov>, "Austin Preston (DHHS)"<austinpreston@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, "DavidLitvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Heather Borski (DHHS)"<hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 09/08/2022 13:31

Hi Marc,

My original question was just to clarify what you said about in the cost sharing report about needing more time. You stated: “Do you know if the legislature is interested in exploring the program allowing people who can pay to have preference to the Fund as a potential means of allowing more insured persons to receive rehabilitation services? Would the legislature like to study what effect this would have on those who are least able to pay into the system and on those currently receiving services under the payor of last resort policy?” I had originally thought that this was what we were going to answer with this report. We can see next week at the Social Services meeting if there is any more interest in more study. Thanks for your time.

Russell Frandsen
Finance Officer
Office of the Legislative Fiscal Analyst
State of Utah
Phone 801-538-1034
Fax 801-538-1692
rfrandsen@le.utah.gov
http://budget.utah.gov/

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Tuesday, August 9, 2022 11:00 AM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>; Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Kody Harvey (DHHS) <kharvey@utah.gov>; Austin Preston (DHHS) <austinpreston@utah.gov>; Shari Watkins (DHHS) <swatkins@utah.gov>; David Litvack (DHHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov>; Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Russell -

It is the Department's understanding that cost sharing means:

- "The share of costs covered by your insurance that you pay out of your own pocket. This term generally includes deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments, or similar charges, but it doesn't include premiums, balance billing amounts for non-network providers, or the cost of non-covered services." (Glossary, HealthCare.gov)

With that understanding, because the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund in Utah is a payor of last resort, we view the State as already participating in a cost-sharing program. Participants of the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund exhaust all cost-sharing options prior to application for the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Funds. As a result, the data measures that providers are now collecting from applicants were not historically tracked so it is difficult to determine the net impact of these cost-sharing efforts. If the subcommittee intends to look at the impact of the cost-sharing efforts over time, rather than the one-year provided, we will study the issue more. We have built in more measures to look at this over time, so a few years of collecting data would be helpful.

Is the Department's definition and understanding of cost-sharing consistent with the legislature's intent language? We want to make sure we are on the same page in defining what would or would not constitute cost-sharing under this specific circumstance (SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund). Do you know if the legislature is interested in exploring the program allowing people who can pay to have preference to the Fund as a potential means of allowing more insured persons to receive rehabilitation services? Would the legislature like to study what effect this would have on those who are least able to pay into the system and on those currently receiving services under the payor of last resort policy?

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:23 AM Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov> wrote:

> Hi Marc,
>
> When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.
>
> From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
> Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
> To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
> Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
> Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
>
> Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -
>
> Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:
>
> - Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing
>
> The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:
>
> - Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)
>
> Please let us know if you have any questions.
>
> Marc B. Watterson
> Director
> Office of Legislative Affairs
> C: 385.321.6473
> mwatterson@utah.gov

[redacted]

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
- Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
- Urine Drug Testing Report

The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022
FROM: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
TO: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>
CC: "Sean C. Faherty" <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>, Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>, "Tracy Gruber (DHHS)" <tracygruber@utah.gov>, "Kody Harvey (DHHS)" <kharvey@utah.gov>, "Austin Preston (DHHS)" <austinpreston@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 09/08/2022 13:51

Thanks Russell. Hindsight being 20/20, we should have coordinated with the LFA before this to make sure we had a shared understanding of legislative intent on this report (and in particular what was meant by "cost-sharing"). Something that we will do moving forward.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Tue, Aug 9, 2022 at 1:32 PM Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov> wrote:

Hi Marc,

My original question was just to clarify what you said about in the cost sharing report about needing more time. You stated: “Do you know if the legislature is interested in exploring the program allowing people who can pay to have preference to the Fund as a potential means of allowing more insured persons to receive rehabilitation services? Would the legislature like to study what effect this would have on those who are least able to pay into the system and on those currently receiving services under the payor of last resort policy?” I had originally thought that this was what we were going to answer with this report. We can see next week at the Social Services meeting if there is any more interest in more study. Thanks for your time.

Russell Frandsen
Finance Officer
Office of the Legislative Fiscal Analyst
State of Utah
Phone 801-538-1034
Fax 801-538-1692
rfrandsen@le.utah.gov
http://budget.utah.gov/

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Tuesday, August 9, 2022 11:00 AM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>; Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Kody Harvey (DHHS) <kharvey@utah.gov>; Austin Preston (DHHS) <austinpreston@utah.gov>; Shari Watkins (DHHS) <swatkins@utah.gov>; David Litvack (DHHS) <davidlitvack@utah.gov>; Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Russell -

It is the Department's understanding that cost sharing means:

- "The share of costs covered by your insurance that you pay out of your own pocket. This term generally includes deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments, or similar charges, but it doesn't include premiums, balance billing amounts for non-network providers, or the cost of non-covered services." (Glossary, HealthCare.gov)

With that understanding, because the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund in Utah is a payor of last resort, we view the State as already participating in a cost-sharing program. Participants of the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund exhaust all cost-sharing options prior to application for the SCI / BI Rehabilitation Funds. As a result, the data measures that providers are now collecting from applicants were not historically tracked so it is difficult to determine the net impact of these cost-sharing efforts. If the subcommittee intends to look at the impact of the cost-sharing efforts over time, rather than the one-year provided, we will study the issue more. We have built in more measures to look at this over time, so a few years of collecting data would be helpful.

Is the Department's definition and understanding of cost-sharing consistent with the legislature's intent language? We want to make sure we are on the same page in defining what would or would not constitute cost-sharing under this specific circumstance (SCI / BI Rehabilitation Fund). Do you know if the legislature is interested in exploring the program allowing people who can pay to have preference to the Fund as a potential means of allowing more insured persons to receive rehabilitation services? Would the legislature like to study what effect this would have on those who are least able to pay into the system and on those currently receiving services under the payor of last resort policy?

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 8, 2022 at 8:23 AM Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov> wrote:

Hi Marc,

When you say more time is needed to study cost sharing options, what exactly do you mean? Do you plan to study the issue more? Will you only study more if the subcommittee requests it? How much time and effort would be required to do more study and come to a clearer conclusion? Thanks for the attached report.

From: Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov>
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2022 1:26 PM
To: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>; Sean C. Faherty <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>; Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
Cc: Tracy Gruber (DHHS) <tracygruber@utah.gov>; Nate Winters (DHHS) <natewinters@utah.gov>; Tonya Hales (DHHS) <thales@utah.gov>; Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS) <jstrohecker@utah.gov>
Subject: Re: Legislative Required Reports for SSA - August 1, 2022

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached report from DHHS that was due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing

The Department has one other report due to SSA in the coming days that is still being finalized:

- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 1, 2022 at 11:10 PM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:

Sean, Russell, and Kimberly -

Please see the attached reports from DHHS due to SSA by August 1, 2022:

- Antipsychotic Use in Serious Mental Illness
- Concurrent Prescriptions for Opioid and Benzodiazepines
- Urine Drug Testing Report

The Department has two other reports due to SSA in the coming days that are still being finalized:

- Net impact to the Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund of implementing cost sharing (August 1)
- Cost to implement a statewide support program, that would qualify for expenditures from the Opioid Litigation Settlement Restricted Account, for pregnant women with substance use disorder to receive various services (August 10)

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Want 4X points? Plan your adventure today!
FROM: "IHG One Rewards" <IHGOneRewards@mc.ihg.com>
TO: <HBORSKI@UTAH.GOV>
DATE: 09/08/2022 15:54

[redacted]

Start earning towards 4X points

It's easy. Boost your rewards simply by enjoying more nights with us. Register now, then book and stay with us through August 31, 2022 and see how quickly your points add up.

REGISTER IN 1-CLICK

By clicking, you are agreeing to the campaign's terms & conditions.

[redacted]

2X

Earn 2X points
on nights 2 – 5

3X

Earn 3X points
on nights 6 – 14

4X

Earn 4X points
on nights 15+

Earn even more as an IHG® Rewards Credit Cardmember

3,000 additional bonus points every 3 nights, up to 6,000 bonus points

Not a Cardmember? Learn more

REGISTER IN 1-CLICK

By clicking, you are agreeing to the campaign's terms & conditions.

Stay Offers Meetings Our Brands

Download Our App

Download on the App Store

GET IT ON Google Play

IHG HOTELS & RESORTS

SIX SENSES · REGENT · INTERCONTINENTAL HOTELS & RESORTS · VIGNETTE COLLECTION · KIMPTON HOTELS & RESTAURANTS · HOTEL INDIGO · VOCO · HUALUXE HOTELS AND RESORTS

HOTELS · CROWNE PLAZA · Holiday Inn Express · Holiday Inn · avid · ATWELL SUITES · STAYBRIDGE SUITES · Holiday Inn Club Vacations · CANDLEWOOD SUITES

IHG ONE REWARDS

Terms and Conditions

You must be an IHG® One Rewards member and must register in order to participate in the "Earn up to 4X" promotion ("Promotion"). Members can pre-register for this Promotion starting May 4, 2022 through May 17, 2022. Members will be able to stay and earn IHG® One Rewards bonus points under this Promotion beginning May 18, 2022 and ending on August 31, 2022 ("Promotion Period"). Members who did not register during the period for pre-registration may register for the Promotion during the Promotion Period. By clicking the "click to register" button for the Promotion, a member is registering for the Earn up to 4X Promotion and accepting these Terms & Conditions.

After registering for the Promotion, a member can earn IHG® One Rewards bonus points based on the number of qualifying nights they have during the Promotion Period, as follows: "2X points" on their 2nd through 5th qualifying nights; "3X points" on their 6th through 14th qualifying nights; and "4X points" on their 15th qualifying night and all subsequent qualifying nights. The bonus points earning structure for "2X points", "3X points", and "4X points" is described in more detail below and is subject to a total promotional bonus points cap of 100,000 points. For IHG® Rewards members residing in the U.S. who have an IHG® One Rewards Credit Card from Chase, this Promotion also includes an opportunity to earn up to 6,000 additional bonus points if certain requirements are met for stays during the Promotion Period. This offer for cardmembers is also described in more detail below. The time needed for awarding points can vary with each promotion, so please allow up to 6 weeks for any earned bonus points to be posted to your account.

For purposes of this Promotion, the qualifying nights must be part of one or more Qualifying Stays at participating IHG® Hotels & Resorts, Mr and Mrs Smith properties, or participating Six Senses® Hotels, Resorts, & Spas (as identified on each hotel's booking page), and each qualifying night must be completed during the Promotion Period, which is from May 18, 2022 through August 31, 2022. No retroactive credit will be given for nights prior to registration for the Promotion, and any nights outside of the Promotion Period will not be eligible for bonus points under the Promotion. A Qualifying Stay is a minimum 1-night stay booked under a Qualifying Rate, with total spend exceeding US $30 (or local currency equivalent) for each night. Only one room per member per Qualifying Stay will be eligible for the applicable bonus points under the Promotion. If more than one member checks into the same room, only one member is eligible for the bonus points available under the Promotion. If a member books more than one room on the same night, they will only receive bonus points for the Promotion on the room with the higher room rate for each qualifying night. For additional details on Qualifying Stays and Qualifying Rates, please see the full IHG® One Rewards Members Terms and Conditions.

For this Promotion, earning "2X" or "2X points" or "Double Points" on a member's 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th qualifying night stay during the Promotion Period means the total number of regular "base points" and promotional "bonus points" combined will equal two (2) times the base points the member would normally receive just for being an IHG® One Rewards member. For example, under this Promotion, for a member's second qualifying night during the Promotion Period with a room rate of $100.00 at an IHG hotel with a 10 points per USD earn rate for base points, the member would earn 1,000 base points (10 points x $100 = 1,000 points) and an additional 1,000 promotional bonus points, for a total of 2,000 points.

Similarly, earning "3X" or "3X points" or "Triple Points" on a member's 6th through 14th qualifying room night during the Promotion Period means the total number of regular "base points" and promotional "bonus points" combined will equal three (3) times the base points the member would normally receive just for being an IHG® Rewards member. For example, a qualifying night after a member has already stayed five (5) previous qualifying nights within the Promotion Period would be considered the 6th qualifying night. If that 6th qualifying night has a room rate of $100.00 at an IHG hotel with a 10 points per USD earn rate for base points, the member would earn 1,000 base points (10 points x $100 = 1,000 points) and an additional 2,000 promotional bonus points, for a total of 3,000 points for the 6th qualifying night, which would be in addition to the base points and bonus points the member had previously earned under the Promotion for their 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th qualifying nights.

Earning "4X" or "4X points" or "Quadruple Points" on a member's 15th qualifying room night, and all subsequent qualifying room night stays, during the Promotion Period has similar meaning: The total number of regular "base points" and promotional "bonus points" combined will equal four (4) times the number of base points the member would normally receive just for being an IHG® Rewards member. By way of example, for a member's 2-night Qualifying Stay for their 15th and 16th qualifying nights within the Promotion Period, with a per night room rate of $100.00 at an IHG hotel with a 10 points per USD earn rate for base points, the member would earn 2,000 base points (10 points x $100/night x 2 nights = 2,000 points) and an additional 6,000 promotional bonus points, for a total of 8,000 points. These 8,000 points is for the 15th and 16th qualifying nights and are in addition to the base points and bonus points the member had already earned during the Promotion Period for qualifying nights 2 through 14.

The promotional bonus points that can be earned under the 2X, 3X, and 4X promotion part of the Promotion, as described above, are calculated based solely on the base points the member is eligible to earn for the qualifying night just for being an IHG® One Rewards member, and any Elite status bonus points or any other bonus or promotional points the member may be eligible to receive for the same stay are not included.

For cardmembers in the United States with an IHG® Credit Card from Chase, an additional 3,000 bonus points will be awarded after the cardmember's first three (3) qualifying nights and another 3,000 bonus points after the cardmember's second three (3) qualifying nights. Each qualifying night must be part of a Qualifying Stay at participating IHG® Hotels and Resorts during the Promotion Period, booked under a Qualifying Rate with total spend exceeding US $30 (or local currency equivalent) for each night and paid for by the member using their IHG® credit card. No additional bonus points for IHG® credit card use will be awarded past the sixth qualifying night. For new Chase IHG® Credit Card accounts opened during the Promotion Period, please allow up to 6 weeks after the Promotion Period for bonus points to be credited. The "up to 6,000 bonus points" cardmembers can earn from this offer are separate from points earned from credit card spend on IHG transactions. IHG reserves the right of final interpretation of this offer to cardmembers. This offer is not from Chase. Chase is not responsible for the provision of, or failure to provide, the stated benefits and services. Bonus points will post directly to your IHG® Rewards account and will not appear on your credit card statement. The "up to 6,000 bonus points" cardmembers can earn from this offer is in addition to the bonus points a cardmember can earn under the 2X-3X-4X part of the Promotion. As a result, cardmembers qualifying for this offer have an opportunity to earn a maximum of 106,000 promotional bonus points over the entire Promotion Period.

The points earned during the Earn up to 4X Promotion can be used toward Reward Nights, can be redeemed for merchandise, or can be used for other redemption opportunities, as permitted under the IHG® Rewards program. The Promotion is subject to the IHG® Rewards program terms and conditions and earning structure, which can be found IHG® One Rewards Membership Terms and Conditions or by visiting www.ihgonerewards.com . Members can only participate in one promotion at a time, unless otherwise specifically allowed by IHG. IHG expressly reserves the right to remove a member's points or cancel a member's account if fraudulent use of the Promotion is detected, and any fraudulent activity relating to a member's account, or this Promotion is subject to the IHG® One Rewards Membership Terms and Conditions, including any of the identified actions that may be taken in response to such activity. To the extent permitted by applicable law, IHG reserves the right of final interpretation of the Promotion, as well as the right to cancel, terminate, suspend and/or modify the Promotion at any time. Members must make any promotional inquiries 60 days from the end of the Promotion Period; the end of the Promotion Period is August 31, 2022.

The Contactless Symbol and Contactless Indicator are trademarks owned by and used with the permission of EMVCo, LLC. Most hotels are independently owned and/or operated. The above service marks are the property of IHG® Hotels & Resorts.

IHG® One Rewards terms and conditions apply. For complete program details, visit ihg.com/terms. Benefits and rewards may vary by region and are based on availability.

You are subscribed as: HBORSKI@UTAH.GOV

To unsubscribe from IHG One Rewards Special Offers & Promotions, please click here. If you unsubscribe from IHG One Rewards email subscriptions, we will continue to send you important, time-sensitive messages related to a recent transaction, such as reservation confirmations.

You may also contact the IHG One Rewards Service Center directly at IHG One Rewards, P.O. Box 30320, Salt Lake City, UT 84130-0320, USA.

To change/update any other IHG One Rewards email communication preferences, please:
1. Go to ihg.com.
2. Log in to your account profile with your IHG One Rewards number and password.
3. Change your email preferences in the Communication Preferences section as desired.

Your privacy is extremely important to us. Read our Privacy Statement.

© 2022 IHG, Three Ravinia Drive, Suite 100 Atlanta, Georgia, 30346-2149, U.S.A. All rights reserved. Most hotels are independently owned and/or operated.

SUBJECT: Upcoming BFA Events, Health Justice Fellowship Application, and More!
FROM: Beyond Flexner Alliance <info@beyondflexner.org>
TO: Heather Borski <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 09/08/2022 17:59

TwitterSpace Event on Wednesday, August 10th!

There is no doubt that the Supreme Court's verdict overturning Roe v. Wade has had a major detrimental impact on women's health and healthcare more broadly. Join us Wednesday evening (tomorrow) from 8-9pm EST to discuss the impact this ruling has on abortion access, health professional education, and reproductive health providers across the nation. Moderated by Beyond Flexner Alliance's very own Student Assembly leaders, Tiffany LaCroix, Eche Nwadiaro, and Florence Tyler, this discussion is something you don't want to miss!

Health Justice Fellowship Application - Deadline Next Week!

The Beyond Flexner Alliance's Health Justice Fellowship Program aims to nurture the talents of trainees who already show promise and commitment to advancing health justice in health professional training. Within this space, fellows hone their skills and broaden their networks in ways that will sustain them in pushing health professional institutions to be more socially accountable. The application for the 2022-2023 cohort of fellows is now open and more information can be found here. The deadline for applications is next Tuesday, August 16th, 2022 at 11:59 PM EST.

This past year our fellows had a chance to hone in their Op-Ed writing skills, social media advocacy skills, and organizing skills! See what some of our fellows had to say about this year's program:

"The community, the guest speakers, camaraderie, our trip to Arizona for the conference, and the student assembly were some of the most valuable aspects! It is hard to pick one part since the entirety of the fellowship was invaluable and one of the best decisions I've ever made."

"There was a strong sense of community throughout the entire fellowship and for the first time in what feels like forever, I found a group of people who supported me like we didn't just meet. I found a group of people that I know will support me forever and with all the ideas I want to bring to life."

2021-22 Health Justice Fellows with BFA Leadership Team Members at BFA Conference 2022 (Top Left to BottomRight): Zena Ahmed, Daniel Tounsel III; Isabel Chen; Raashmi Krishnasamy; Erina Horikawa; Robert Rock; Wajeha Mahmoud.

Montefiore Hospital System Shuts Down Family Health Center

On July 28, 2022, Montefiore Hospital System announced that it would close the Family Health Center (a family medicine residency clinic and Federally Qualified Health Center), move all staff and services to an existing family medicine clinic 2.5 miles away, and replace it with a non-teaching Internal Medicine and Primary Care Pediatrics Clinic. This decision to close the Family Health Center may negatively impact local Black, Latinx, and South East Asian communities that have utilized the comprehensive services offered there for the past 30 years. As an organization committed to building a better, fairer health system and training health care professionals to be agents of meaningful change, we encourage you to explore this issue further.

You can find more information about the issue here and if interested, can sign onto this petition as an individual. An open letter for organizations to sign onto can be found here.

Please feel free to also share the official #HandsOffFHC Toolkit on social media, as well.

Copyright © 2022 Montefiore Einstein, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you are a Montefiore Einstein employee.

Our mailing address is:
Montefiore | Einstein Institute for Health Workforce Training
2115 B Street NW
Suite 200
Washington, DC 20037

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

SUBJECT: Boies Schiller, Hausfeld Score $627M In Fees In BCBS MDL
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 10/08/2022 03:13

LAW360

Wednesday, August 10, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Boies Schiller, Hausfeld Score $627M In Fees In BCBS MDL

An Alabama federal judge awarded $626.6 million in attorney fees and another $40.9 million in costs on Tuesday to Boies Schiller Flexner LLP, Hausfeld LLP and other lawyers who scored a $2.67 billion class award for subscribers in multidistrict litigation against Blue Cross Blue Shield insurers.

Read full article »

Merger Would Spur UnitedHealth To Abuse Data, Judge Told

If a proposed $13.8 billion purchase of Change Healthcare was permitted, UnitedHealth Group would have every incentive to tap data from Change's insurer clients to bolster its own business even if it means damaging Change's customer relationships, the U.S. Department of Justice's main expert witness told a D.C. federal judge Tuesday.

Read full article »

Endo Says Bankruptcy Likely In Face Of Opioid Suits

Endo Pharmaceuticals on Tuesday warned investors that it may very soon become the next opioid maker to seek refuge in bankruptcy, saying a Chapter 11 filing could be imminent in the face of continuing opioid suits and "substantial" debt.

Read full article »

Feds Want Exec's Advice-Of-Counsel Fraud Defense Barred

Prosecutors asked a California federal judge presiding over a criminal fraud trial against Arrayit Corp.'s president Monday to order him to either disclaim his advice-of-counsel defense or immediately produce documents related to it, arguing that the executive waited two years until trial openings to disclose the purported defense.

Motion attached | Read full article »

7th Circ. View Of FCA Intent Is 'Deeply Flawed,' Justices Told

An Illinois pharmacist wants the U.S. Supreme Court to review a refusal by a split Seventh Circuit to revive his False Claims Act suit against Safeway, raising an issue about how to determine a defendant's knowledge of wrongdoing in an FCA case.

Petition attached | Read full article »

Anti-Abortion Activists Ask 9th Circ. To Nix Videos Injunction

Anti-abortion activists who secretly video recorded conversations with abortion providers at two conferences urged the Ninth Circuit on Tuesday to lift an injunction preventing the footage from being shown, while the National Abortion Federation argued the defendants waived any free speech rights by signing confidentiality agreements before entering the gatherings.

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Air Methods Corp.
American Bar Association
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of Arizona
American Hospital Association
American Trucking Associations Inc.
Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago
Association for Accessible Medicines
Axon Enterprise Inc.
Biogen Inc.
Boston Celtics
Boston University
Brooklyn Nets
Burford Capital LLC
Cardinal Health Inc.
Cerner Corp.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Chevron Corp.
Cigna Corp.

Read full article »

Flint Judge Steps Aside During Deliberations Due To Health

The federal judge presiding over the Flint, Michigan, water bellwether trial has unexpectedly handed over her duties to a magistrate judge due to a health issue, the court said Tuesday as jurors entered their fifth day of deliberations.

Read full article »

ENFORCEMENT & COMPLIANCE

Cerner Corp. To Pay $1.9M To End DOL Hiring Bias Claims

Health care information technology company Cerner Corp. has reached a deal with the U.S. Department of Labor's federal contractor watchdog to pay $1.86 million after the agency found that the company turned away Black and Asian job-seekers, the DOL said Tuesday.

Read full article »

NBA Journeyman Latest To Take Plea In Health Fraud Case

A former NBA player ensnared in a scheme to defraud the league's health care plan is expected to enter a guilty plea, becoming the fifth ex-player of 19 indicted to strike a deal with Manhattan prosecutors.

Order attached | Read full article »

Pa. Nursing Homes Lied About Staffing Levels, Feds Say

A pair of Pennsylvania-based nursing homes are facing federal charges that employees fabricated staff information to state health authorities and that the homes falsified statements to hike up reimbursements from health programs, according to federal prosecutors.

Indictment attached | Read full article »

LITIGATION

9th Circ. Revives Whistleblower's Medicare Fraud Suit

The Ninth Circuit on Tuesday revived a whistleblower's suit alleging that medical device maker Kinetic Concepts Inc. flouted the False Claims Act by miscategorizing Medicare charges for wound therapy, saying the district court was too quick to find that there was no factual issue of false claims.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Mylan Gets Industry Aid In $50M Tax Fight At 3rd Circ.

A generic-drug manufacturer trade group told the Third Circuit on Monday that taxing patent litigation costs related to the expedited approval process for generic drugs would undermine the purpose of the Hatch-Waxman Act that set up that process, driving up costs for consumers.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Judge Nixes Order, Conceals Atty Docs In Trans Bias Row

An Arizona federal judge vacated an order Tuesday requiring Republican Gov. Doug Ducey to turn over attorney-client documents detailing the decision to deny coverage to state health plan participants for gender-confirmation surgery, as long as the legal advice isn't used in the state's trial defense.

Order attached | Read full article »

NC Panel Skeptical Helicopter Makers Must Stay In Crash Suit

A state appeals court on Tuesday expressed doubt that German and French manufacturers should face a wrongful death lawsuit in North Carolina over a fatal helicopter crash, questioning whether merely introducing a product into commerce is enough to tie companies to the state.

Read full article »

Ex-Ill. Hospital Worker Hits Facial ID Vendor With BIPA Suit

A former employee of Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital in Chicago filed state court biometric privacy claims Monday against the hospital's identify verification vendor ID.me Inc., claiming it stored her and other Illinois users' geometric facial data twice as long as it was allowed to before changing its policies last year.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Inovalon Holdings Is Targeted In New Del. Suit After $7.3B Sale

Three Florida and Pennsylvania pension funds sued cloud-based health care data venture Inovalon Holdings Inc. in Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center

Endo International PLC
Fortovia Therapeutics
Illinois State Bar Association
Inovalon Holdings Inc.
Kinetic Concepts, Inc.
Legal Aid Justice Center
LinkedIn Corp.
Los Angeles Clippers
Major Lindsey & Africa LLC
Mazars LLP
McKesson Corp.
McKinsey & Co. Inc.
Mylan NV
National Basketball Association Inc.
National Federation of Independent Business
Natural Resources Defense Council
New Civil Liberties Alliance
Nordic Capital Ltd.
Optum Inc.
Planned Parenthood Federation
Public Co. Accounting Oversight Board
Purdue Pharma LP
SCL Health
Safeco Insurance Co.
Safeway Inc.
Samsung Electronics Co. Ltd.
Supervalu Inc.
Toshiba Corp.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
University of Houston
Veolia Environnement SA
Zeughauser Group LLC

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Adams & Reese
Axinn Veltrop
Baker Donelson
Balch & Bingham
Bandas Law Firm
Bartlett LLP
Bodman PLC
Boies Schiller
Brunini Grantham
Burns Charest
Bursor & Fisher
Bush Seyferth
Cafferty Clobes
Campbell Conroy
Campbell Guin
Chiesa Shahinian
Cleary Gottlieb
Consovoy McCarthy
Cooper & Kirk
Cory Watson
Covington & Burling
Cravath Swaine
Crowell & Moring
Debevoise & Plimpton
Del Sole Cavanaugh
Dhillon Law Group
Faegre Drinker
Fennemore Craig
Foley & Lardner
Foote Mielke

Delaware's Court of Chancery on Tuesday, alleging breaches of fiduciary duty by individuals and funds named in a mooted suit filed last year before the company's $7.3 billion go-private sale.

Read full article »

BANKRUPTCY

NC Drugmaker Seeks OK Of Ch. 11 Deal With Distributor

A North Carolina pharmaceutical company has asked a bankruptcy court to sign off on a settlement it reached with an affiliate of drug distributor Cardinal Health resolving mutual debts owed under an arrangement the pair entered over a decade ago.

Motion attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

Cincinnati Children's Hospital Hires SCL Health Atty As CLO

Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center has brought on SCL Health's longtime chief legal officer and corporate secretary to become its chief legal officer, starting in September.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Insurance Tips For Cos. Offering Reproductive Health Benefits

Post-Dobbs state laws allowing legal action against anyone who facilitates an abortion could lead to claims against employers providing reproductive health benefits, so companies must ensure their insurance policies afford sufficient protection for any novel claims, say Heather Habes and Gretchen Hoff Varner at Covington.

Read full article »

Justices' EPA Ruling Didn't Move Needle On Chevron Doctrine

Though some suggest the U.S. Supreme Court's recent decision in West Virginia v. U.S. Environmental Protection Agency marked the end of a doctrine requiring judicial deference to federal regulators, the ruling merely articulated well-developed precedent on the limits of agency authority, say Dan Wolff and Eryn Howington at Crowell & Moring.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

How The Global Economy Is Frustrating BigLaw Plans

The global economy has softened and the broader question of how soon — and how hard — a recession will hit is putting law firm leaders in a difficult position as they look to mold their firms' strategies.

Read full article »

Here's Where BigLaw Leaders Stand On Recession Lookout

While the debate on whether the U.S. is in a recession continues, several law firm leaders and industry observers say that they are optimistic that the legal industry will withstand the looming economic storm.

Read full article »

Texas 'Individualism' In Evidence Rules At Play In Jones Trial

Unlike most states, Texas doesn't have a clear ethics rule on inadvertent litigation disclosures, opening the door for Sandy Hook parents to use Alex Jones' text messages in court despite a "please disregard" request from his lawyer.

Read full article »

Analysis

DOJ's Daring Mar-A-Lago Raid Amps Up Pressure On Garland

The FBI's Monday raid on Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago resort could lead to classified-materials charges that some experts likened to Al Capone's tax fraud rap — if Attorney General Merrick Garland makes the unprecedented decision to indict a former president.

Read full article »

Goode Casseb
Grant & Eisenhofer
Greenberg Traurig
Guin Stokes
Gustafson Gluek
Hacker Stephens
Hagens Berman
Hausfeld LLP
Helmer Martins
Hill Hill Carter
Hogan Lovells
Hughes Hubbard
Hunton Andrews
Jenner & Block
John D. Saxon PC
K&L Gates
Kilpatrick Townsend
Kirkland & Ellis
Labaton Sucharow
Latham & Watkins
Levin Papantonio
Levy Firestone
Levy Konigsberg
Lightfoot Franklin
Liles Parker
Limandri & Jonna
Locke Lord
Luskin Stern
Mayer Brown
Maynard Cooper
McGuireWoods
Methvin Terrell
Morgan Lewis
Morrison Foerster
Nelson Mullins
Paul Hastings
Paul Weiss
Phillips Lytle
Pittman Dutton
Plunkett Cooney
Quinn Emanuel
Reichard & Escalera
Riley & Jackson
Shamoun & Norman
Shearman & Sterling
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Sparacino PLLC
Spotswood Sansom
Stevens Martin
Stroock & Stroock
Van Winkle Law Firm
Wallace Jordan
Ward and Smith
White & Case
Whitmyer IP Group
Willkie Farr
WilmerHale
Winstead PC
Zuckerman Spaeder

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Central Intelligence Agency
Delaware Court of Chancery
Federal Bureau of Investigation

DC Circ. OKs House Pursuit Of Trump's Tax Returns

A House committee can go ahead with its efforts to obtain former President Donald Trump's tax returns after the D.C. Circuit found Tuesday that the request did not flout separation-of-powers principles or exceed the panel's investigative powers.

Read full article »

ABA Reaffirms Policy Against Nonlawyer Firm Ownership

The American Bar Association's policymaking body on Tuesday adopted an amended resolution that reaffirms its policy against nonlawyer fee-sharing and firm ownership, in light of several states considering opening the practice of law to nonattorneys.

Read full article »

Deborah Enix-Ross On Her Plans As The ABA's New President

The American Bar Association welcomed its new president, Deborah Enix-Ross, on Monday at its House of Delegates annual meeting in Chicago. Here, Enix-Ross spoke with Law360 Pulse about her plans, including addressing the group's membership numbers, and how the ABA has helped her legal career.

Read full article »

Biden Picks State Judge, Prosecutor For 4th, 10th Circs.

President Joe Biden is nominating a state judge to the Fourth Circuit and a veteran federal prosecutor to the Tenth Circuit, in his latest round of judicial nominations announced Tuesday.

Read full article »

Hagens Berman Awarded Over $26M In Fees In Disk Drive MDL

A California federal judge awarded Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro LLP more than $26.6 million in attorney fees on Monday for securing a $205 million optical disk price-fixing multidistrict litigation settlement, reconfiguring the amount after a Ninth Circuit ruling vacated a $31 million award.

Read full article »

4th Circ. To Rehear Attys' Fight For Post-Injunction Fees

A Fourth Circuit panel agreed Tuesday to rehear arguments from McGuireWoods LLP attorneys who fought a now-repealed state law blocking Virginians with unpaid court debt from obtaining driver's licenses, taking back up the issue of whether preliminary injunctions confer prevailing party status and warrant attorney fees.

Read full article »

Justices Told SEC, FTC Challenges 'Waste' Courts' Resources

Congress never intended federal district courts to hear constitutional challenges to administrative law proceedings like those before the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission, and allowing those courts to do so would be a waste of judicial resources, government attorneys told the U.S. Supreme Court on Monday.

Read full article »

Burford Capital Names African Arbitrator To Board

Burford Capital Ltd., an asset management firm that focuses on litigation finance and law advisory services, has named a prominent African arbitration lawyer as an independent nonexecutive director.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Internal Revenue Service
International Chamber of Commerce
Occupational Safety and Health Administration
Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs
Pennsylvania Department of Health
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Western District of Pennsylvania
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of North Carolina
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of the Treasury
U.S. District Court for the District of Arizona
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Virginia
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Supreme Court
U.S. Tax Court
United States District Court for the Northern District of Alabama
Virginia General Assembly

Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Amazon Said to Add Mental Health Support toPrimary Care Offerings
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 10/08/2022 06:24

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 10, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

Top Stories

- Amazon.com Inc. is planning to add behavioral health support to its array of medical offerings through its Amazon Care primary care service, with mental health service provider Ginger tapped as its partner to provide video-based therapy. As part of the partnership, which follows Amazon's $3.9 billion acquisition last month of primary-care clinic operator One Medical, the companies will share patient information and provide on-demand access to mental health experts, per a website touting the partnership and people familiar with the matter. (Insider Premium)

- Siga Technologies Inc. said the federal government will pay $26 million for its intravenous formulation of the antiviral drug Tpoxx, giving patients suffering from monkeypox a non-oral option for treatment. (Reuters) The Food and Drug Administration said children are now allowed to receive the monkeypox vaccine if they're at high risk of infection, an announcement that came as the agency officially expanded its authorization for the vaccine in adopting the dose-sparing, intradermal injection strategy. (CNBC)

- Facing thousands of lawsuits alleging that it fueled the country's opioid crisis, Endo International PLC said it is negotiating with senior lenders over what is likely to result in a filing for chapter 11 bankruptcy, while it continues to engage with opioid litigants and other creditors. The pharmaceutical manufacturer has reached settlements with a number of states, including Alabama, Florida, New York, Texas and West Virginia, but it still faces roughly 3,500 lawsuits tied to its painkiller Opana from state and local governments, private providers and individuals. (The Wall Street Journal)

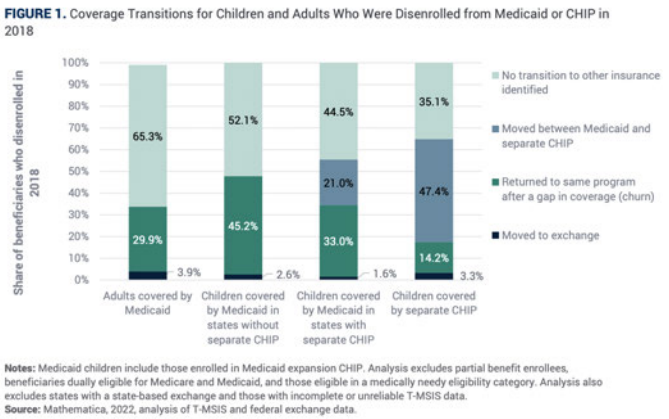
- A federal judge in Alabama approved Blue Cross and Blue Shield companies' $2.67 billion antitrust settlement, ordering Blues plans to start paying customers their part of the settlement after 30 days. The ruling ends a decadelong legal battle that policyholders waged against 34 Blues plans, alleging that the Blue Cross Blue Shield Association's rules capping revenue and limiting geographic coverage violated the Sherman Antitrust Act of 1890. (Modern Healthcare)

Chart Review

Transitions Between Medicaid, CHIP, and Exchange Coverage

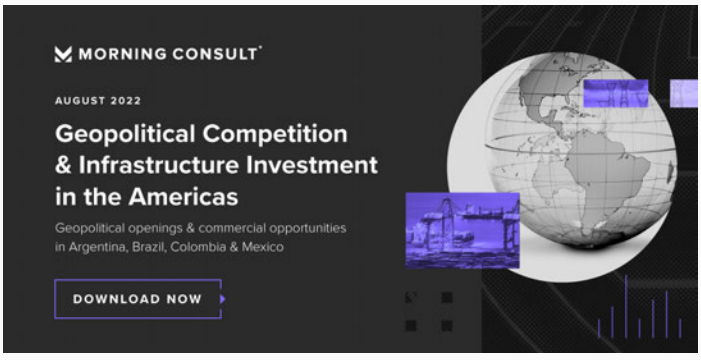
Medicaid and CHIP Payment and Access Commission



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



Geopolitical Competition and Infrastructure in the Americas

Robust demand for infrastructure investment in the Americas will pay geopolitical dividends for the U.S. and the E.U. and yield commercial opportunities for their multinationals. Download our latest report to learn more about geopolitical openings and commercial opportunities in Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, & Mexico. Download today.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

Former asthma sufferer Biden has cough, but not COVID, White House says
Reuters
U.S. President Joe Biden continues to test negative for COVID-19 but is suffering its lingering effects, the White House press office said on Tuesday, after he coughed repeatedly through a speech on the South Lawn.

How do you manage Omicron BA.5 symptoms, including a sore throat?
Dani Blum, The New York Times
While a sore throat has always been a symptom of Covid, experts said that it is becoming more common, and sometimes more severe, with the BA.5 subvariant of Omicron — now, the dominant strain of Covid in the United States.

GENERAL

Justice Department Asks Judge to Pause Idaho Abortion Ban
The Associated Press
The U.S. Department of Justice asked a federal judge this week to bar Idaho from enforcing its near-total abortion ban while a lawsuit pitting federal health care law against state anti-abortion legislation is underway.

Monkeypox Likely Circulated for Years Before Outbreak, Scientists Say
Denise Roland, The Wall Street Journal
For more than half a century, monkeypox was a rare infectious disease confined to one region of the world. A few months ago, that suddenly changed. Scientists are building a picture of what happened.

Facebook turned over chat messages between mother and daughter now charged over abortion
Kevin Collier and Minyvonne Burke, NBC News
Facebook turned over the chats of a mother and daughter to Nebraska police after getting served with a warrant as part of an investigation into an illegal abortion, court documents show.

Fewer than a third of insured Americans with hepatitis C receive timely treatment, CDC study shows
Adrianna Rodriguez, USA Today

More than 95% of people infected with hepatitis C can be cured with a simple course of antivirals. But over 2 million adults in the U.S. are still living with the virus, and a new report by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention may help explain why.

Flu may be coming back with a vengeance, experts say, and children could be at risk

Adrianna Rodriguez, USA Today

After a two-year hiatus, the flu may be back this season - and with a vengeance. Data from the Southern Hemisphere, which is in its flu season, show cases surpassing pre-pandemic levels, prompting health experts to worry about what's in store for Americans this year.

Schumer: Senate will vote again on $35 insulin cap after GOP blocked it

Peter Sullivan, The Hill

Senate Majority Leader Charles Schumer (D-N.Y.) said Monday night that he is going to bring a $35 cap on patients' insulin costs back up for a vote this fall after Republicans blocked it over the weekend.

After Republicans block insulin price cap, is it really gone for most Americans?

Berkeley Lovelace Jr., NBC News

About 53% of the public is in favor of Congress' taking action to cap the out-of-pocket cost of insulin, according to a recent poll from the Kaiser Family Foundation.

New Langya virus that may have spilled over from animals infects dozens

Amy Cheng, The Washington Post

An international team of scientists identified a new virus that was likely to have been transmitted to humans after it first infected animals, in another potential zoonotic spillover less than three years into the coronavirus pandemic.

For Older Americans, Health Bill Will Bring Savings and 'Peace Of Mind'

Sheryl Gay Stolberg and Noah Weiland, The New York Times

Starting in 2025, Medicare recipients with prescription drug coverage will not have to pay more than $2,000 annually for medications, a significant savings for some.

'People will die waiting': America's system for the disabled is nearing collapse

Dan Goldberg, Politico

Private agencies that provide services for the intellectually and developmentally disabled have long warned that, without fresh state and federal funding, they would be unable to provide housing and staff support to the growing number of Americans who need care.

As monkeypox spreads, university campuses prepare for another outbreak

Akila Muthukumar, Stat News

Public health experts are urging universities to prepare for the arrival of monkeypox before students return to campus in the coming weeks.

HIPPA faces test in new abortion reality

Oriana Gonzalez, Axios

Doctors are weighing the legal risks of turning over ultrasounds and other personal health records if prosecutors or law enforcement demand the information to enforce state abortion bans.

Democrats seek edge with women as Michigan prepares to vote on abortion
Hannah Knowles, The Washington Post
The purple state with competitive races for governor and Congress is shaping up as one of the most politically consequential battlefronts in a larger fight

How the failure to cap insulin prices impacts Latinos
Marina E. Franco and Astrid Galván, Axios
Failure to include a monthly $35 insulin cap in the climate and health care bill that passed the Senate last weekend could especially affect Latinos.

Civil rights groups, including Al Sharpton-led organization, urge USDA to fix 'dietary racism' in school lunch programs
Brad Dress, The Hill
Twenty-eight civil rights and health care groups announced Tuesday they have requested that the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) address "dietary racism" in national school lunch programs, raising concerns to the federal agency about forcing millions of minority children to drink cow's milk without allowing them a healthier alternative.

PAYERS

Insurers to crack down on providers performing unscheduled procedures
Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare
Health insurance companies are increasingly pressing doctors for more information when they perform unscheduled, minor procedures such as drawing blood, performing skin biopsies or conducting an electrocardiograms on patients the same day as visits for other reasons.

CMS removes prior authorization for select orthopedic devices
Alex Kacik, Modern Healthcare
CMS issued a final rule Tuesday that indefinitely suspended prior authorization for urgently needed procedures involving spine and knee braces. The agency announced in January that it will more frequently update the mandatory list of durable medical equipment, prosthetic and orthotic procedures requiring insurers' approval before providers are paid.

Utah-based SelectHealth to cover Pear's digital therapeutic for opioid use disorder
Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare
The non-profit insurer, a subsidiary of Intermountain Healthcare, will make the prescription digital therapeutic available as a covered benefit for those with OUD among its more than 1 million members in Utah, Idaho and Nevada, according to a press release. The therapeutic was Pear's second product and the first to receive breakthrough designation from the Food and Drug Administration.

PROVIDERS

HCA, J&J strike wide-ranging partnership
Jessica Kim Cohen, Modern Healthcare

HCA Healthcare has entered into a wide-ranging collaboration with Johnson & Johnson, the hospital chain announced Tuesday.

DaVita helped craft new bill to fix "loophole" left by Supreme Court ruling, documents show

Megan R. Wilson, Politico

Roughly two months after dialysis giant DaVita lost a Supreme Court case involving insurance coverage for its services, Congress introduced bipartisan legislation that would be a boon for dialysis providers. Its language appears to be largely modeled from a proposal circulated by the company, according to documents obtained by POLITICO.

Hospitals grapple with a surge of CEO exits

Alex Kacik, Modern Healthcare

John Muir Health CEO Cal Knight planned to retire last year, but like many hospital and health system leaders, decided to delay his departure amid the COVID-19 pandemic.

Coding concerns: Providers decry proposed cuts to infusion services in 2023 fee schedule

Robert King, Fierce Healthcare

Some groups are pressing the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services for changes to the proposed Physician Fee Service that outlines payments to doctors in the federal fiscal year 2023. Several groups are seeking changes to proposed codes, including psychologists who want reimbursement for caregiver training. Oncology practices say that the math formula CMS is using to determine reimbursements doesn't fully account for their costs and staffing.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Popular Diabetes Drug Found to Contain Potential Carcinogen

Anna Edney, Bloomberg

Merck & Co.'s Januvia, a popular diabetes drug, was found to be contaminated with a potential carcinogen.

Pharma Lobby Readies Legal Firepower for Drug Pricing Measures

Shira Stein, Bloomberg Law

Measures to lower prescription drug prices will inevitably end up being challenged by pharmaceutical companies, even as they have yet to become law, attorneys say.

Drugmaker Gilead to help fund monkeypox education for LGBTQ+ groups

Nancy Lapid, Reuters

Drugmaker Gilead Sciences (GILD.O) plans to announce on Tuesday that it will provide up to $5 million in grants to help a coalition of LGBTQ+ and human rights advocacy groups craft public health responses to monkeypox outbreaks, the company said.

Mylan Loses Bid to Exit EpiPen Price Case as Pfizer Gets Win

Mike Leonard, Bloomberg Law

Mylan NV must face antitrust litigation brought by drug distributors who claim the company schemed to delay generic versions of its EpiPen, but Pfizer Inc. affiliates that manufacture the lifesaving allergy injection are off the hook, a federal judge in Kansas ruled.

As billionaires race to fund anti-aging projects, a much-discussed trial goes overlooked

Megan Molteni, Stat News

Beating back the diseases of aging has become something of a pet project for many of Silicon Valley's tech titans. Earlier this year, Altos Labs, a partial cellular reprogramming company, drew billions of dollars of investment, including from Jeff Bezos and Yuri Milner. Google founders Sergey Brin and Larry Page have put billions into Calico. Peter Thiel was an early backer of Unity Biotechnology. Peter Diamandis is placing bets on young blood and stem cells.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Walmart has a new policy denying some telehealth prescriptions for controlled drugs. It's implicating patients in recovery

Anastassia Gliadkovskaya, Fierce Healthcare

The public health emergency is not due to expire until mid-October. Yet Walmart is no longer accepting prescriptions for controlled substances issued via telehealth without an in-person visit in the prior 24 months, Fierce Healthcare has learned. This policy, introduced in July, has implicated virtual providers of opioid use disorder treatment—whose prescribers practice remotely—and their patients.

UNC Health taps Gozio Health, Well Health to power up its consumer digital experience

Heather Landi, Fierce Healthcare

Many healthcare executives talk about creating a "digital front door" to healthcare using mobile apps and other tech tools.

Health tech player Availity to acquire data firm Diameter Health to improve interoperability with new data platform

Anastassia Gliadkovskaya, Fierce Healthcare

Availity, a health tech solutions company, will acquire Diameter Health, a clinical data firm, the companies announced Tuesday.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

Meeting the mental health needs of the Medicare population

Sarah Peipert, Modern Healthcare

For the 63 million Americans who receive Medicare benefits, challenges that significantly affect their mental well-being continue to rise. Projections show the number of Medicare beneficiaries will grow by 1.5 million annually through 2029 with the majority of eligible enrollees comprised of those age 65 and older, placing urgency on the need to ensure this population has access to solutions that address their unique and evolving needs.

Will low-dose vaccination stretch the monkeypox vaccine supply, or backfire?

Philip Krause and Luciana L. Borio, Stat News

Given the precarious state of affairs with respect to the U.S. stockpile for Jynneos and Bavarian Nordic's limited capacity to quickly make more doses, the U.S. has limited options. This dose-sparing strategy could begin to address a public health need for men who have sex with men, who are at higher risk for acquiring the infection. If the vaccine can be administered at lower doses at no risk to effectiveness, lower-dose intradermal injections make sense.

RESEARCH REPORTS

What Is Congress Doing to Advance Behavioral Health Reform?
Josh LaRosa and Rachel Nuzum, The Commonwealth Fund
In light of the well-documented mental health and substance use crisis and the exacerbating effects of the COVID-19 pandemic, congressional policymakers are considering a range of behavioral health policy reforms.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

[redacted]

SUBJECT: CDC COVID-19 Partner Key Updates: August 10, 2022
FROM: "CDC IMS STLT Policy, Public Health Partnerships andCommunication" <eocevent382@CDC.GOV>
TO: <CDC-COVID19-ALL-STLT-UPDATE@LISTSERV.CDC.GOV>
DATE: 10/08/2022 13:35

[redacted]

Good Afternoon, Partners,

Please see below the CDC COVID-19 Partner Key Update* on COVID-19 related publications, resources, and engagements. This week's update also includes information on promoting COVID-19 vaccination during National Immunization Awareness Month.

If you have any questions about the information provided, please email CDC at eocevent382@cdc.gov.

Thank you for your ongoing partnership.

Please note this update has been formatted to properly display in email applications. If viewing through a web browser, you may encounter formatting or display issues. We apologize for any inconvenience.*

August 10, 2022

Promote COVID-19 Vaccination During National Immunization Awareness Month

National Immunization Awareness Month (NIAM) is an annual observance held in August to highlight the importance of vaccination for people of all ages. NIAM is also an opportunity to highlight the efforts of public health and healthcare professionals to protect individuals of all ages against vaccine-preventable diseases through on-time vaccination.

This year, NIAM serves as an important reminder to catch up patients on routine visits and vaccinations that may have been disrupted by the COVID-19 pandemic. For those patients who are eligible for COVID-19 vaccination, public health and healthcare professionals play a critical role in helping vaccine recipients understand the importance of vaccination and that COVID-19 vaccines are safe and effective. We encourage you to use NIAM as an opportunity to access and promote the vaccination resources below.

Resources:

- Toolkit for Reaching Parents and Patients (including key messages for COVID-19 vaccination and NIAM promotional graphics)
- Talking to Recipients about COVID-19 Vaccination
- Vaccines for COVID-19
  - Get answers to frequently asked questions, bust myths about vaccines, stay up to date with your vaccines, and find COVID-19 vaccines and boosters near you.
  - Get COVID-19 vaccine information for certain groups of people, including moderately or severely immunocompromised people, children and teens, people who would like to have a baby, and people pregnant or breastfeeding.

Recently Published COVID-19 Related Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report (MMWRs)

- Notes from the Field: Increase in Pediatric Intracranial Infections During the COVID-19 Pandemic — Eight Pediatric Hospitals, United States, March 2020–March 2022
- Post–COVID-19 Symptoms and Conditions Among Children and Adolescents — United States, March 1, 2020–January 31, 2022 | MMWR (cdc.gov)
- Interim Recommendation of the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices for Use of the Novavax COVID-19 Vaccine in Persons Aged ≥18 years — United States, July 2022
- Workplace Perceptions and Experiences Related to COVID-19 Response Efforts Among Public Health Workers — Public Health Workforce Interests and Needs Survey, United States, September 2021–January 2022
- Symptoms of Mental Health Conditions and Suicidal Ideation Among State, Tribal, Local, and Territorial Public Health Workers — United States, March 14–25, 2022
- Effectiveness of 2, 3, and 4 COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine Doses Among Immunocompetent Adults During Periods when SARS-CoV-2 Omicron BA.1 and BA.2/BA.2.12.1 Sublineages Predominated — VISION Network, 10 States, December 2021–June 2022

Upcoming Meetings

- CDC COVID-19 All-State, Tribal, Local, and Territorial (STLT) Update Call: The CDC COVID-19 All-STLT Update Call will occur on the third Monday of each month from 2:00–2:30 PM ET. The next call will be on Monday, August 15th, from 2:00–2:30 PM ET. If you have any questions, please contact eocevent382@cdc.gov.

  Upcoming Calls:
  - August 15th
  - September 19th

  To register for this call series, click here.

COVID-19 Resources

New & Updated

- On August 4th, the Vaccinations in the US tab on the CDC COVID Data Tracker was updated to include Novavax data in the charts for number of vaccines delivered by vaccine type, number of vaccines administered by vaccine type, and number of people fully vaccinated by vaccine type.
- On July 26th, the White House held a Summit on the Future of Vaccines. The summit outlined a path towards innovative, next-generation COVID-19 vaccines and featured leaders who are on the cutting-edge of discoveries. For a recording of the event, click here.
- On July 27th, a new Nationwide Commercial Lab Pediatric Antibody Seroprevalence tab was added to the COVID Data Tracker. The tab provides estimates of the proportion of the U.S. pediatric population (ages 6 months to 17 years) with evidence of at least one resolving or past infection with SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes COVID-19.

COVID-19 Resources

- COVID-19 Community Levels: Check your county's COVID-19 Community Level to know which prevention steps to take.
- COVID Data Tracker combines county, state, national, and global data in a series of interactive dashboards.
- What You Need to Know About Variants provides information on current variants of concern.
- COVID-19 Testing: Learn about COVID-19 testing and how to receive free, at-home COVID-19 tests.
- Quarantine and Isolation: Access recommendations and tools to help determine how long you need to isolate, quarantine, or take other steps to prevent spreading COVID-19.
- CDC COVID-19 Travel: Get the latest information on travel orders and regulations, and check your destination's COVID-19 situation and travel requirements (domestic, international, cruise ship).
- Learn more about Long COVID or Post-COVID Conditions.

References to non-CDC sites are provided as a service and do not constitute or imply endorsement of these organizations or their programs by CDC or the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. CDC is not responsible for the content of pages found at these sites. URL addresses listed were current as of the date of publication.

Kind regards,

STLT Policy, Public Health Partnerships & Communication
State, Tribal, Local, and Territorial Support Task Force (STLT TF)
COVID-19 Response

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)
eocevent382@cdc.gov

[redacted]

[redacted]

If you would like to unsubscribe from this ListServ LIST, please send an email to LIST@cdc.gov, enter CDC in the email Subject, and include the following "one" line in the Body of the email: signoff CDC-COVID19-ALL-STLT-UPDATE

SUBJECT: Baby Watch Follow-Up Meeting
FROM: "Lisa Davenport (DHHS)" <lisadavenport@utah.gov>
TO: "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>, Mykio Saracino <msaracino@utah.gov>, "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>, Noel Taxin <ntaxin@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>
DATE: 10/08/2022 14:19

Good afternoon,

In preparation for our meeting tomorrow morning, I have attached an agenda, as well as the Baby Watch Cost and Rate Study Final Report and summary for easy reference.

I look forward to meeting with you.

Warmly,
Lisa

--
Lisa Davenport, PhD
Baby Watch Early Intervention Program Manager, Part C Coordinator
O: 801.273.2961
lisadavenport@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov
babywatch.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Family Health

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Walgreens Fueled SF Opioid Epidemic, Judge Rules
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 11/08/2022 01:49

P ICY LAW360

Thursday, August 11, 2022 Follow

TOP NEWS

Walgreens Fueled SF Opioid Epidemic, Judge Rules
Pharmacy giant Walgreens dispensed hundreds of thousands of suspicious prescriptions for narcotic painkillers in San Francisco without proper screening and is liable for ensuing opioid problems in the Bay Area, a California federal judge ruled Wednesday.
Opinion attached | Read full article »

DC Circ. Revives NY Grid Market Review Fight
The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission didn't adequately explain why it rejected the New York regional grid operator's method for determining future electricity demand, the D.C. Circuit has ruled, in a victory for independent power producers that backed the New York plan.
Order attached | Read full article »

NY Federal Judge Rescinds Move To Senior Status

[redacted]

U.S. District Judge David N. Hurd of the Northern District of New York walked back his plan to move to senior status, saying in a letter to President Joe Biden Wednesday he has "unconditionally withdrawn" his move to semi-retirement and vowing to stay on active status for the "foreseeable future."

Letter attached | Read full article »

Trump Pleads 5th In NY AG's Fraud Probe

Former President Donald Trump on Wednesday declined to answer questions under oath by the New York attorney general in her fraud investigation, saying in a statement he would invoke his Fifth Amendment right against self-incrimination.

Read full article »

Calif. Justice Guerrero Tapped As State's 1st Latina Top Judge

California Gov. Gavin Newsom on Wednesday nominated state Supreme Court Justice Patricia Guerrero — the high court's first Latina jurist — to serve as the state's next top justice, following Chief Justice Tani G. Cantil-Sakauye's decision last month to step down in January 2023.

Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

SEC Proposes Beefing Up Hedge Fund Reporting Rules

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on Wednesday proposed updates to a Dodd-Frank-era regulatory scheme that will require hedge fund and other private fund advisers to disclose more data to federal regulators about their exposure to risk and their relationship to the wider financial system.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

CFPB Puts Big Tech On Notice Over Digital Marketing

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau issued a rule Wednesday clarifying when digital marketers and purveyors of financial products are subject to consumer protection regulations, assuring Big Tech firms using modern marketing tactics that the rules apply to them.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Warren Leads Dem Call For OCC To Yank Its Crypto Guidance

Sen. Elizabeth Warren, D-Mass., and other Democratic senators are calling on the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency to rescind guidance giving national banks a green light to engage in certain cryptocurrency activities, saying it "may have exposed the banking system to unnecessary risk."

Letter attached | Read full article »

Ill. Lender Says CFPB Redlining Suit Violates 1st Amendment

A Chicago mortgage lender told an Illinois federal judge on Wednesday that the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's suit attempting to hold it liable for allegedly disparaging majority-Black neighborhoods is based on a regulation in "flagrant" violation of the First Amendment and must be dismissed.

Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

EPA Will Consider Strengthening Flare Air Pollution Standards

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency will study and consider updating its regulations for industrial flares that control toxic air pollution at petrochemical plants as part of a settlement agreement with environmental groups.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Feds' Alaska Fishing Permit Didn't Vet Wash. Whale Safety

The National Marine Fisheries Service violated federal environmental law when it approved commercial fishing off the coast of Alaska that put endangered orca whales in Washington waters at risk, a Washington federal judge has ruled.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

EPA Launches Civil Rights Probes Into Texas Enviro Agency

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's civil rights enforcement arm is investigating Texas' environmental regulator in relation to its concrete batch plant permit standards and allegations the agency discriminated against non-English speakers at a public hearing.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Armstrong Teasdale
Arnold & Porter
Baker Donelson
Bartlett LLP
Brent & Powell
Brown Rudnick
Burg Simpson
Cleary Gottlieb
Clyde & Co
Corr Cronin
Couch White
Deily & Glastetter
Faegre Drinker
Fox Rothschild
Greenberg Traurig
Hogan Lovells
Holley Driggs
Holman Schiavone
Jones Day
Kirkland & Ellis
Koskoff Koskoff
Kramer Levin
Latham & Watkins
Mattingly Burke
McDermott Will
Mead Law
Miller & Martin
Nelson Mullins
O'Melveny & Myers
Pattis & Smith
Paul Weiss
Peabody & Arnold
Perkins Coie
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel
Read & Laniado
Robbins Geller
Rodriguez & Morgan
Shearman & Sterling
Sheppard Mullin
Sherrard Roe
Shook Hardy
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Sterbcow Law Group
Stroock & Stroock
Tavenner & Beran PLC
Todd & Weld
Wachtell Lipton
Weil Gotshal
Wheeler Trigg
White & Case
Wilson Sonsini

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

AT&T Inc.
Air Alliance Houston
Amazon.com Inc.

Read full article »

Colo. Gov'ts Ask Justices To Honor Climate Suit Remand

A trio of Colorado local governments have asked the U.S. Supreme Court to reject Exxon Mobil Corp. and Suncor Energy Inc.'s effort to overturn the Tenth Circuit's ruling that a lawsuit seeking climate-change-related infrastructure damages belongs in state court.

Brief attached | Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

Pa. Parents Seek Atty Fees After School Mask Challenge Axed

Parents in a Pennsylvania school district who claimed in a federal lawsuit that the district's mask-optional policy endangered children with disabilities have asked for attorney fees, arguing that even though their case ended because Centers for Disease Control and Prevention masking guidelines were eventually relaxed, the goal of the suit was accomplished.

Brief attached | Read full article »

TRANSPORTATION & INFRASTRUCTURE

Utilities Tell 7th Circ. Not To Block $500M Power Line Work

Developers of a $500 million Midwest power line project told the Seventh Circuit it could not halt construction on the project without improperly expanding federal court jurisdiction because the project no longer crosses federal land and that phase of the work does not require federal approval.

Brief attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

UnitedHealthcare And Optum Are 'Strictly' Separate, CEO Says

UnitedHealth Group's CEO told a D.C. federal judge Wednesday there's no reason to fear misuse of data gleaned from the proposed $13.8 billion purchase of Change Healthcare because UnitedHealth's own OptumInsight data unit is carefully designed to serve all health insurers and not just subsidiary UnitedHealthcare.

Read full article »

Agent Says Authors Want Best Deal, Not Most Upfront Money

A former literary agent told a D.C. federal court on Wednesday that finding the best book deals for authors is more about finding the right editor than securing a high advance payment, as the government continues its bid to block Penguin Random House's purchase of Simon & Schuster.

Read full article »

CYBERSECURITY & PRIVACY

Student Privacy Pledge Signee Scrapped After Data Breach

Illuminate Education has become the first company to be dropped from a popular student privacy pledge that counts Apple and Google among its nearly 250 signatories and is facing possible regulatory action after disclosing a data breach earlier this year.

1 document attached | Read full article »

CONSUMER PROTECTION

Rep. Waters Urges CFPB 'Moratorium' On Equifax Scores

The chair of the House Financial Services Committee has asked the U.S. Consumer Financial Protection Bureau to temporarily prevent credit reporting company Equifax from sending credit scores to financial institutions following its acknowledgment that it sent out inaccurate credit scores during several weeks this spring.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

Tai Commits To Reviving Worker Retraining Program

U.S. Trade Representative Katherine Tai vowed on Wednesday to resurrect the expired Trade Adjustment Assistance program, which provides retraining and relocation services to U.S. workers whose jobs moved offshore.

American Civil Liberties Union of Northern California
American Immigration Lawyers Association
American Petroleum Institute Inc.
Apple Inc.
Bates White LLC
Bertelsmann AG
Boston College
CVC Capital Partners
CVS Health Corp.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Clean Air Council
Coinbase Global Inc.
DaVita Inc.
Dairyland Power Cooperative
Defenders of Wildlife
Edison Electric Institute Inc.
Endeavor Operating Company LLC
Environmental Integrity Project
Equifax Inc.
Exxon Mobil Corp.
Geico Corp.
Google LLC
Hachette Book Group Inc.
HarperCollins Publishers LLC
Harvard Business School
Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Publishing Co.
Human Rights First
International Centre for Dispute Resolution
Live Nation Entertainment Inc.
London Stock Exchange Group PLC
Lone Star Legal Aid
Macmillan Publishers Ltd.
National Association of Attorneys General
National Association of Broadcasters
National Association of Manufacturers
National Immigration Law Center
National Rural Electric Cooperative Association
Optum Inc.
Pacific Legal Foundation
Purdue Pharma LP
Sequoia Capital Operations LLC
Simon & Schuster Inc.
Southern Poverty Law Center
Space Exploration Technologies Corp.
State Bar of California
Suncor Energy Inc.
Tesla Inc.
The Software & Information Industry Association
Trump Organization Inc.
Twitter Inc.
United Steelworkers
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
UnitedLex Corp.
University of California Davis
VOYlegal LLC
Valor Equity Partners LP
W. W. Norton & Company Inc.
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.

Read full article »

China Says CHIPS Act Will 'Distort' Supply Chains

The Chinese foreign ministry on Wednesday slammed the new U.S. law giving nearly $53 billion to boost domestic semiconductor production as an example of "economic coercion," saying the law would upset international trade.

Read full article »

TAX

Latino Plant Workers Get Class Cert. In IRS 'Steak Out' Suit

Latino workers accusing immigration officials of violating their constitutional rights during a federal raid at a meatpacking plant can proceed in their lawsuit as a class after a Tennessee federal judge said any ruling applicable to one plaintiff would apply to about a hundred others.

Order attached | Read full article »

WHITE COLLAR

Viability Of Bribe Case Against Ex-NY Lt. Gov. In Question

A Manhattan federal judge is wrestling with the soundness of bribery charges accusing former New York Lt. Gov. Brian Benjamin of corruptly doling out state funds in exchange for political contributions — refusing to rule out dismissing the case.

Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Starlink, LTD Won't Get Funds >From FCC Rural Program

The Federal Communications Commission said Wednesday that satellite company Starlink and LTD Broadband have both been disqualified from taking part in a rural high-speed internet deployment program.

Read full article »

FCC Chief Says Feds' Broadband Coordination Getting Better

Efforts to coordinate broadband deployment projects across the federal government have improved since Congress directed agencies almost two years ago to confront the issue, the Federal Communications Commission's leader said.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Black-Owned Broadcasters Argue Against Geotargeting Plan

Two Black-owned broadcast companies argued against a plan for geotargeted broadcasting in a letter to the Federal Communications Commission on Tuesday, claiming that allowing stations to broadcast location-specific ads and other information could have negative consequences for African American-owned and other small stations, while a national Black broadcasters' association urged the FCC to adopt the new plan.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Emergency Broadcasts Must Be Fully Accessible, FCC Says

The Federal Communications Commission warned video programming distributors they could face enforcement action if they don't make emergency broadcasts fully accessible to people with disabilities.

Notice attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

Nevada Cannabis Co. Drops Suit Over Denied License

A Reno company that sued Nevada's tax office over a denied recreational marijuana license has agreed to end its lawsuit, according to a joint stipulation approved by a federal judge.

Order attached | Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

What Proposed Noncompete Law Means For NJ Employers

The Labor Committee of the New Jersey General Assembly recently voted in favor of A.B. 3715, which, if passed, would represent a seismic shift for employers by significantly reducing the benefit of enforcing a noncompete agreement for all but the most valuable employees of a company, says Ryan Duffy at Sheppard Mullin.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

California Department of Transportation
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Commodity Futures Trading Commission
Congressional Research Service
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Delaware Court of Chancery
European Commission
Executive Office of the President
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Federal Reserve System
Federal Trade Commission
Fish and Wildlife Service
Internal Revenue Service
Missouri Attorney General's Office
National Marine Fisheries Service
National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration
National Telecommunications and Information Administration
Nevada Attorney General's Office
Nevada Department of Taxation
New Jersey Legislature
New York Attorney General's Office
North Carolina Department of Transportation
Office of the Comptroller of the Currency
Rural Utilities Service
Texas Commission on Environmental Quality
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of California
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Virginia
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Energy
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of the Treasury
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Tennessee
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas

Read full article »

A Look At 2 Frameworks For Decarbonizing Heavy Industry

Comparing common themes in two recent international frameworks for decarbonizing heavy industry reveals recent progress toward lowering emissions and highlights the key role the industrial sector will play in decarbonization efforts, say attorneys at Shearman.

Read full article »

DOJ Criminal Antitrust Enforcement Outlook For Rest Of 2022

Looking at policy changes, indictments and trials that have unfolded thus far in 2022, attorneys at White & Case preview what to expect from the U.S. Department of Justice's criminal antitrust enforcement for the remainder of the year, from alleged price-fixing schemes to public procurement fraud.

Read full article »

Considerations For Associates As Lateral Hiring Cools Down

Law firms are offering fewer signing bonuses and moving back to slower, more deliberate interview processes — a cue for associates to follow suit and consider the long-term advantages of a move instead of short-term financial gain, says Leeron Molloy at VOYlegal.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Sen. Graham's Bid To Quash Subpoena Troubles Ga. Judge

A Georgia federal judge found problems Wednesday in an argument by U.S. Sen. Lindsey Graham, R-S.C., that his legislative privilege defeats a subpoena for him to testify in a Georgia criminal investigation of possible election interference by former President Donald Trump and others.

Read full article »

Immigration Attorneys Share Stories Of Trauma And Burnout

Immigration lawyers, in particular those handling asylum clients, are more likely to experience secondary traumatic stress and burnout, according to research. Attorneys, law clinic directors and an immigration judge tell Law360 how taxing this area of the law and the immigration system as a whole can be.

Read full article »

Conn. Judge 'Gravely Concerned' Over Sandy Hook Data Leak

A Connecticut judge on Wednesday told attorney Norm Pattis the court is "gravely concerned" that he potentially shared confidential medical records to unauthorized parties in a case involving his client, right-wing conspiracy theorist Alex Jones, and the families of Sandy Hook victims.

Read full article »

Musk Piles Up Cash For Possible Twitter Win On $44B Deal

Elon Musk is piling up cash and appears to be paring down objections to closing a $44 billion take-private deal with Twitter, in moves now seen by some as wavering on his effort to terminate the deal.

Read full article »

US Trustee Drops Challenge To LeClairRyan, UnitedLex Deal

The U.S. Trustee's Office has dropped a challenge to a $21 million settlement between legal services provider UnitedLex and a representative for the estate of the defunct LeClairRyan LLC.

Read full article »

Clyde & Co. Sees International Work Drive Income To £650M

Clyde & Co. reported a 24th consecutive year of revenue growth in its latest financial results released Wednesday, with more than half of its £650 million ($796 million) income generated outside the U.K.

Read full article »

U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Florida

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois

U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York

U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas

U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington

U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission

U.S. Supreme Court

United Nations

United States District Court for the District of Colorado

United States District Court for the District of Nevada

United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio

World Trade Organization

Armstrong Teasdale Escapes Missouri Cop's Bias Charge

The Missouri Supreme Court has reversed a state circuit court ruling that ordered the Missouri Commission on Human Rights to investigate a cop's discrimination charge against law firm Armstrong Teasdale LLP, but the chief justice dissented, arguing that the opinion weakens judicial review.

Read full article »

Brown Rudnick Agrees To Mediate Malpractice Feud

Brown Rudnick LLP and Christof Industries GmbH have agreed to mediate an ugly dispute stemming from the firm's representation of the Austrian industrial plant company in a multimillion-dollar arbitration over an ill-fated construction project, according to documents filed Wednesday in Massachusetts federal court.

Read full article »

DC Can't Ditch Ex-GC Candidate's Suit Over Rescinded Offer

A District of Columbia federal judge has kept alive the bulk of a lawsuit alleging the city and its top officials violated an attorney's due process rights by rescinding a general counsel job offer and labeling her as "unsuitable" for government legal jobs due to her prior bar suspension.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions
Illinois Attorney General's Office
-, -

Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Bank Policy Institute
Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: UnitedHealthcare And Optum Are 'Strictly' Separate, CEO Says
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 11/08/2022 02:55

LAW360®

Thursday, August 11, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

UnitedHealthcare And Optum Are 'Strictly' Separate, CEO Says

UnitedHealth Group's CEO told a D.C. federal judge Wednesday there's no reason to fear misuse of data gleaned from the proposed $13.8 billion purchase of Change Healthcare because UnitedHealth's own OptumInsight data unit is carefully designed to serve all health insurers and not just subsidiary UnitedHealthcare.

Read full article »

Walgreens Fueled SF Opioid Epidemic, Judge Rules

Pharmacy giant Walgreens dispensed hundreds of thousands of suspicious prescriptions for narcotic painkillers

in San Francisco without proper screening and is liable for ensuing opioid problems in the Bay Area, a California federal judge ruled Wednesday.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Big Tobacco Wins 8th Delay Of Graphic New Warning Labels

A Texas federal judge on Wednesday delayed for the eighth time the effective date of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration's new rule requiring tobacco companies to put graphic warning labels on cigarette packs, kicking the compliance deadline that was initially set for June 2021 to Oct. 6, 2023.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Allergan Must Comply With Implant MDL Discovery

Allergan can't delay handing over communications its sales representatives had with physicians regarding the safety and efficacy of its textured breast implants, a New Jersey federal judge has ruled, saying the records are necessary at this point in the multidistrict litigation.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Evolent Health, Investors Get Initial Nod For $23.5M Deal

A federal judge in Alexandria, Virginia, has given an initial nod to a $23.5 million deal between health care administration services company Evolent Health Inc. and its investors that would resolve claims that the company damaged shareholders after it allegedly drove an important client "to the brink of bankruptcy."

Order attached | Read full article »

Week In Bankruptcy

Endo Teeters On The Edge, Revlon Equity Committee Sought

Endo Pharmaceuticals said it is close to filing for bankruptcy over its opioid liability, Revlon shareholders want representation in its Chapter 11 case, and a North Carolina judge said sanctions worked on asbestos claimants in the Bestwall bankruptcy. This is the week in bankruptcy.

Read full article »

LITIGATION

11th Circ. Upholds Benefit Denial For Atty With Parkinson's

The Eleventh Circuit ruled Wednesday that a retired Burr & Forman LLP attorney who has Parkinson's disease is not owed disability benefits and must pay life insurance premiums, finding that she didn't qualify as disabled under the firm's current insurance policy.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

NLRB Judge Tells Hospital To Restore Nurses' Pay Or Time Off

A West Virginia hospital and its owner must compensate workers with back pay or restore their paid time off balances after the company forced unionized nurses to use accrued leave, a National Labor Relations Board judge said, siding with the general counsel's formula for the calculations.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

Texas Court Says 'Discovery Rule' Doesn't Apply To Med Mal

A Texas appellate court has tossed a suit accusing a plastic surgeon of botching a woman's postoperative care that caused an infection and dead tissue, saying the so-called discovery rule exception to the statute of limitations for medical malpractice does not apply.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Pa. Parents Seek Atty Fees After School Mask Challenge Axed

Parents in a Pennsylvania school district who claimed in a federal lawsuit that the district's mask-optional policy endangered children with disabilities have asked for attorney fees, arguing that even though their case ended because Centers for Disease Control and Prevention masking guidelines were eventually relaxed, the goal of the suit was accomplished.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Rx Delivery Co. Prescribes Toss For Data Breach Suit

A prescription medication delivery company that is being sued by clients whose data was compromised during a 2021 breach argued Tuesday that the proposed class action fails to show that the plaintiffs were actually injured, according to a court filing.

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Aetna Inc.
Allergan PLC
American Board of Trial Advocates
American Civil Liberties Union of Northern California
American Immigration Lawyers Association
Boston College
CVC Capital Partners
CVS Health Corp.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Drivetrain LLC
Endo International PLC
Evolent Health Inc.
Florida Justice Association
Geico Corp.
Georgia-Pacific LLC
Getty Images Inc.
Harvard Business School
Human Rights First
ITG Brands LLC
Injured Workers Pharmacy LLC
International Centre for Dispute Resolution
Liggett Group LLC
London Stock Exchange Group PLC
Medco Health Solutions Inc.
Optum Inc.
Purdue Pharma LP
R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Inc.
Revlon Inc.
Sequoia Capital Operations LLC
Space Exploration Technologies Corp.
State Bar of California
Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada
Tesla Inc.
The Florida Bar
TransUnion LLC
Trump Organization Inc.
Twitter Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
UnitedLex Corp.
University Health Care Inc.
University of California Davis
VOYlegal LLC
Valor Equity Partners LP
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.
Zimmer Biomet Holdings Inc.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Advisors LLC
Armstrong Teasdale
Bartlett LLP
Berger Montague
Brent & Powell
Brown Rudnick

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

Insurer Says It Won't Cover Medical Device Co. In Surgery Suit

A medical device company being sued over its involvement in a patient's in-surgery death can't get coverage for the underlying litigation because the claim against it was made before the effective date of its insurance policy, the company's insurer told an Indiana federal court.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Ohio Orchestra Faces Suit Over Trans Surgery Coverage Veto

A transgender web developer for the Cleveland Orchestra on Wednesday accused the orchestra and its benefits administrator in Ohio federal court of violating federal health care law when they refused to pick up the tab for a procedure related to her gender-affirming surgery.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

9th Circ. Backs Arbitration Order In Tribe's Rx Payback Case

A Ninth Circuit panel on Tuesday backed an Arizona federal judge's decision to send to arbitration litigation between CVS Caremark and the Chickasaw Nation over prescription drug reimbursement without expressing an opinion on the enforceability of the arbitration provision at issue.

Order attached | Read full article »

Ex-Employees Sue Calif. Pot Co. Over Wages, Firings

Five former employees of a Los Angeles cannabis dispensary are suing the company, alleging that they were denied overtime and proper lunch breaks, harassed, and in some cases fired in retaliation for reporting illegal activity.

5 documents attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

Fla.'s Coker Law Adds Ex-ICU Nurse To Malpractice Team

Jacksonville, Florida-based personal injury firm Coker Law added a former intensive care nurse as its newest attorney on the firm's medical malpractice team.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

8th Circ. Ruling Raises Bar For Anti-Kickback FCA Claims

The Eighth Circuit's decision in U.S. v. D.S. Medical makes it more difficult for plaintiffs to claim that a violation of the Anti-Kickback Statute supports False Claims Act liability, but an emerging circuit split and uncertainty regarding evidentiary requirements must be considered when developing a defense strategy, say attorneys at Winston & Strawn.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Considerations For Associates As Lateral Hiring Cools Down

Law firms are offering fewer signing bonuses and moving back to slower, more deliberate interview processes — a cue for associates to follow suit and consider the long-term advantages of a move instead of short-term financial gain, says Leeron Molloy at VOYlegal.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

NY Federal Judge Rescinds Move To Senior Status

U.S. District Judge David N. Hurd of the Northern District of New York walked back his plan to move to senior status, saying in a letter to President Joe Biden Wednesday he has "unconditionally withdrawn" his move to semi-retirement and vowing to stay on active status for the "foreseeable future."

Read full article »

Trump Pleads 5th In NY AG's Fraud Probe

Former President Donald Trump on Wednesday declined to answer questions under oath by the New York attorney general in her fraud investigation, saying in a statement he would invoke his Fifth Amendment right against self-incrimination.

Burg Simpson
Burke Harvey
Burr & Forman
Cleary Gottlieb
Clyde & Co
Cohen Milstein
Coker Law
Coughlin Midlige
Deily & Glastetter
FeganScott
Fox Rothschild
Greenberg Traurig
Hirschler Fleischer
Hogan Lovells
Holman Schiavone
Jones Day
Kasowitz Benson
Kershaw Anderson
King & Spalding
Kirkland & Ellis
Koskoff Koskoff
Latham & Watkins
Lenze Lawyers
Levin Papantonio
Massey & Gail
Maynard Cooper
Mead Law
Milberg Coleman
Mullen Coughlin
Nelson Mullins
Nix Patterson
O'Melveny & Myers
Pattis & Smith
Peabody & Arnold
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel
Reed Smith
Robbins Geller
Rosen Harwood
Saxena White
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Tavenner & Beran PLC
Thompson Hine
Todd & Weld
Tressler LLP
Wachtell Lipton
Whitten Burrage
Williams & Connolly
Wilson Sonsini
Winston & Strawn

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Chickasaw Nation
Delaware Court of Chancery
Executive Office of the President
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Food and Drug Administration
Internal Revenue Service
Missouri Attorney General's Office
National Labor Relations Board
New York Attorney General's Office
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of California

Read full article »

Sen. Graham's Bid To Quash Subpoena Troubles Ga. Judge

A Georgia federal judge found problems Wednesday in an argument by U.S. Sen. Lindsey Graham, R-S.C., that his legislative privilege defeats a subpoena for him to testify in a Georgia criminal investigation of possible election interference by former President Donald Trump and others.

Read full article »

Immigration Attorneys Share Stories Of Trauma And Burnout

Immigration lawyers, in particular those handling asylum clients, are more likely to experience secondary traumatic stress and burnout, according to research. Attorneys, law clinic directors and an immigration judge tell Law360 how taxing this area of the law and the immigration system as a whole can be.

Read full article »

Conn. Judge 'Gravely Concerned' Over Sandy Hook Data Leak

A Connecticut judge on Wednesday told attorney Norm Pattis the court is "gravely concerned" that he potentially shared confidential medical records to unauthorized parties in a case involving his client, right-wing conspiracy theorist Alex Jones, and the families of Sandy Hook victims.

Read full article »

Musk Piles Up Cash For Possible Twitter Win On $44B Deal

Elon Musk is piling up cash and appears to be paring down objections to closing a $44 billion take-private deal with Twitter, in moves now seen by some as wavering on his effort to terminate the deal.

Read full article »

US Trustee Drops Challenge To LeClairRyan, UnitedLex Deal

The U.S. Trustee's Office has dropped a challenge to a $21 million settlement between legal services provider UnitedLex and a representative for the estate of the defunct LeClairRyan LLC.

Read full article »

Calif. Justice Guerrero Tapped As State's 1st Latina Top Judge

California Gov. Gavin Newsom on Wednesday nominated state Supreme Court Justice Patricia Guerrero — the high court's first Latina jurist — to serve as the state's next top justice, following Chief Justice Tani G. Cantil-Sakauye's decision last month to step down in January 2023.

Read full article »

Clyde & Co. Sees International Work Drive Income To £650M

Clyde & Co. reported a 24th consecutive year of revenue growth in its latest financial results released Wednesday, with more than half of its £650 million ($796 million) income generated outside the U.K.

Read full article »

Armstrong Teasdale Escapes Missouri Cop's Bias Charge

The Missouri Supreme Court has reversed a state circuit court ruling that ordered the Missouri Commission on Human Rights to investigate a cop's discrimination charge against law firm Armstrong Teasdale LLP, but the chief justice dissented, arguing that the opinion weakens judicial review.

Read full article »

Brown Rudnick Agrees To Mediate Malpractice Feud

Brown Rudnick LLP and Christof Industries GmbH have agreed to mediate an ugly dispute stemming from the firm's representation of the Austrian industrial plant company in a multimillion-dollar arbitration over an ill-fated construction project, according to documents filed Wednesday in Massachusetts federal court.

Read full article »

DC Can't Ditch Ex-GC Candidate's Suit Over Rescinded Offer

A District of Columbia federal judge has kept alive the bulk of a lawsuit alleging the city and its top officials violated an attorney's due process rights by rescinding a general counsel job offer and labeling her as "unsuitable" for government legal jobs due to her prior bar suspension.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

- U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware
- U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of New Jersey
- U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Virginia
- U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York
- U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit
- U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit
- U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
- U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
- U.S. Department of Justice
- U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
- U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts
- U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey
- U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri
- U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania
- U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas
- U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia
- U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
- U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia
- U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Indiana
- U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
- U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
- U.S. Supreme Court
- United States Bankruptcy Court for the Western District of North Carolina
- United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Monkeypox Vaccine Maker Has 'Reservations'About Dose-Sparing Plan
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 11/08/2022 06:07

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 11, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

Top Stories

- Bavarian Nordic A/S Chief Executive Paul Chaplin expressed "reservations" about the U.S. government's dose-sparing plan with the drugmaker's Jynneos monkeypox vaccine, writing in a letter to Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra and Food and Drug Administration Commissioner Robert Califf that "it would have been prudent" to conduct additional studies on the strategy before full implementation. (The Washington Post) Two senior Biden administration officials and two other people with knowledge of the situation said the administration is in discussions with several companies to bottle millions of monkeypox vaccine doses in what's known as a "fill and finish" process, though it could be another three to six months until those doses — roughly 12 million currently stored by Bavarian Nordic in Denmark — are ready to be distributed. (Politico)

- Months before Amazon.com Inc. struck a $3.5 billion deal to acquire One Medical, CVS Health Corp. was engaged in discussions with the primary care clinic operator's parent company, 1Life Healthcare Inc., to buy the brand, according to people familiar with the matter. Per a proxy filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission, CVS negotiated with the company for months and offered to pay $18 a share in cash to acquire One Medical in June, but later expressed concerns about the "expedited pace" before Amazon swooped in with an equivalent offer last month. (Bloomberg)

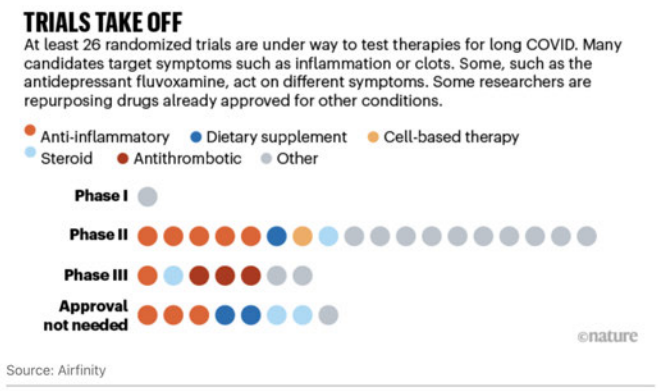
- A federal judge ruled that Walgreens can be held liable for contributing to San Francisco's opioid crisis, writing in his decision that from 2006 to 2020, the pharmacy giant's locations in the city "dispensed hundreds of thousands of red flag opioid prescriptions without performing adequate due diligence." San Francisco previously reached multimillion dollar settlements with Allergan PLC and Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd. over their opioids creating a "public nuisance" in the city, while monetary damages for Walgreens will be determined at a later trial. (The Associated Press)

- In its antitrust case against UnitedHealth Group Inc. over its proposed acquisition of Change Healthcare Inc., the Department of Justice presented evidence of a 2021 internal audit of the insurance giant's data practices that found that the company lacked any "effective means of enforcement if or when data misuse is discovered or reported." UnitedHealth Chief Executive Officer Andrew Witty said he received that report and found it troubling, though he wasn't aware of any changes made as a result of the findings. (Bloomberg)

Chart Review

Long-COVID treatments: why the world is still waiting

Nature



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT

Geopolitical Competition and Infrastructure in the Americas

Robust demand for infrastructure investment in the Americas will pay geopolitical dividends for the U.S. and the E.U. and yield commercial opportunities for their multinationals. Download our latest report to learn more about geopolitical openings and commercial opportunities in Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, & Mexico. Download today.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

Drugmakers Hunt for One Vaccine to Target All Covid Variants
Madison Muller et al., Bloomberg
Scientists fear the omicron shots coming this fall won't be much better at keeping people from getting Covid-19 than what's come before. That's pushing drugmakers to start working on next-generation vaccines that don't have to be updated that often, if at all.

Covid-19 Variants Keep Getting More Contagious. Here's Why.
Brianna Abbott and Josh Ulick, The Wall Street Journal
As the Omicron subvariant BA.5 is the latest to take over and dash the hopes of a summer Covid-19 lull, researchers have attempted to quantify and explain its edge over earlier versions of the virus.

Omicron's BA.2.75 'Centaurus' subvariant is beating out BA.5 in India—and scientists say it 'may prevail' elsewhere
Grady McGregor, Fortune
The so-called Centaurus strain, which is scientifically known as BA.2.75, has quickly become India's dominant strain of COVID-19 in recent weeks and now accounts for roughly two-thirds of India's new cases, according to Shahid Jameel, a virologist at the University of Oxford. A Twitter user named Xabier Ostale gave BA.2.75 the unofficial name Centaurus in July, saying he named the strain after the galaxy, and it has taken off among some experts and media outlets.

The US is on a Covid plateau, and no one's sure what will happen next

Deidre McPhillips, CNN
The United States seems to have hit a Covid-19 plateau, with more than 40,000 people hospitalized and more than 400 deaths a day consistently over the past month or so. It's a dramatic improvement from this winter — there were four times as many hospitalizations and nearly six times as many deaths at the peak of the first Omicron wave — but still stubbornly high numbers.

GENERAL

Biden signs bill to expand benefits for veterans exposed to toxic burn pits
Rebecca Shabad and Lauren Egan, NBC News
The bill, dubbed the PACT Act, is the most significant expansion of veterans' health care and benefits in more than 30 years, a White House official said.

New tool to measure health impact of climate change in at-risk communities
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare
"Too many communities across our nation, particularly low-income communities and communities of color, continue to bear the brunt of pollution," said Department of Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra, in a statement. "Meeting the needs of these communities requires our focused attention and we will use the Environmental Justice Index to do just that."

Health care inflation is low — but that could soon change
Tucker Doherty, Politico
While the economy as a whole has experienced record-breaking inflation this year, price increases in the health care sector have been relatively subdued — a trend that could end soon as Medicare and other payers adjust to new economic realities.

America's New Monkeypox Strategy Rests on a Single Study
Katherine J. Wu, The Atlantic
Once again, the United States is messing up its approach to vaccines. Three months into its monkeypox outbreak, just 620,000 doses of the two-injection Jynneos shot—the nation's current best immune defense against the virus—have been shipped to states, not nearly enough to immunize the 1.6 million to 1.7 million Americans that the CDC considers at highest risk. The next deliveries from the manufacturer aren't slated until September at the earliest. For now, we're stuck with the stocks we've got.

HHS Affirms Liability Shield for Monkeypox Dose-Sparing Shots
Allie Reed and Jeannie Baumann, Bloomberg Law
Health-care providers who administer the monkeypox vaccine using a new technique cleared to help preserve the US's limited supply of doses will be shielded from liability for any harm caused from the method, a spokesperson for the Department of Health and Human Services said.

WHO warns people not to attack monkeys amid monkeypox outbreak
Marlene Lenthang, NBC News
At least seven monkeys in Brazil have died after being poisoned or harmed. Police say they think people attacked them out of a misplaced fear of monkeypox.

New research finds blood tests can predict severe outcomes of brain injury

Akila Muthukumar, Stat News

Simple blood tests taken on the day of a traumatic brain injury (TBI) can predict with fairly high reliability which patients are likely to die and which are likely to survive with severe disability, according to a study published Wednesday in Lancet Neurology.

Warren launches investigation into state abortion bans

Joseph Choi, The Hill

Sen. Elizabeth Warren (D-Mass.) has launched an investigation into how state abortion bans have affected Americans' access to health care for pregnancies, reproductive and nonreproductive care.

Polio booster vaccine to be offered to children in London after more virus found in sewage water

CBS News

British health authorities say they will offer a polio booster vaccine to children aged 1 to 9 in London, after finding evidence the virus has been spreading in multiple regions of the capital, despite not confirming any cases of the paralytic disease in people.

Polio unlikely to spread widely in U.S.

Arielle Dreher and Tina Reed, Axios

The detection of poliovirus in wastewater samples in London and New York state is providing another stark reminder of the importance of vaccination and new forms of surveillance, public health experts say.

Inequities in maternal health care access are not new. They have deep roots in history.

Nada Hassanein, USA Today

A legacy of injustice and inequity underpins reproductive health care disparities faced today by people of color.

They Call It 'Tranq' — And It's Making Street Drugs Even More Dangerous

Martha Bebinger, Kaiser Health News

Xylazine is an animal tranquilizer. It's not approved for humans but is showing up in about half the drug samples that Tapestry Health tests in the rolling hills of western Massachusetts. It's appearing mostly in the illegal fentanyl supply but also in cocaine.

EPA Action Boosts Grassroots Momentum to Reduce Toxic 'Forever Chemicals'

Andy Miller, Kaiser Health News

The Environmental Working Group, a research and advocacy organization that tracks PFAS, said it has logged more than 2,800 sites in the U.S. that have PFAS contamination. Public records show the chemicals have turned up in water samples collected from home water wells, churches, schools, military bases, nursing homes, and municipal water supplies in small towns like Rome and big cities like Chicago.

PAYERS

Senate's Medicare drug pricing may ripple into private market

Lauren Clason and Jessie Hellmann, Roll Call

Congress is on the verge of passing historic drug pricing legislation that would allow the government to restrict prices for drugs covered by Medicare, but experts disagree on whether drugmakers will shift those costs to the private market.

Extending Health Subsidies Averts Premium Hikes, Risks Inflation
Sara Hansard and Allie Reed, Bloomberg Law
Expanding Obamacare subsidies under the Inflation Reduction Act will prevent premiums from rising more than 50% on average for 13 million people, but they also are likely to lead to more health-care inflation and fewer small businesses offering health insurance, according to health-care analysts.

Health insurance broker GoHealth lays off 20% of employees
Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare
Approximately 800 agents and support workers lost their jobs, the company said. GoHealth employed roughly 4,000 people as of June 6, according to a news release. The layoffs come as digital health funding shrinks from the highs of 2021, leading to job cuts at once-celebrated tech startups, and as GoHealth faces increased competition.

Scan Health Plan makes push into Texas
Samantha Liss, Healthcare Dive
Scan Health Plan said it will begin selling Medicare Advantage plans in the state of Texas in 2023, expanding the senior insurer's coverage to four states.

Bright Health Group needs capital to stay afloat, CEO says
Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare
The health insurer's board of directors formed a special committee to solicit proposals from prospective investors and has received significant interest from new and existing backers, according to company leaders. Bright Health Group plans to raise an undisclosed sum in the near-to-intermediate-term, CEO Mike Mikan said during the company's second-quarter earnings call.

PROVIDERS

Medical schools, students review training amid abortion bans
Sandhya Raman, Roll Call
More than a dozen medical groups, providers, residents and students expressed concern that changing laws will harm medical training in areas including miscarriage management counseling and reduce experience with emergency complications.

Colorado's new hospital price transparency law adds 'real teeth' to weak federal enforcement, experts say
Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare
With much of the hospital industry still falling short on federal price transparency requirements, experts say a new Colorado law targeting a key source of hospital revenue could be a roadmap for other states interested in boosting compliance and containing high prices.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Drug Price Bill Shifts Dollars From Cancer Meds, Analysts Warn
Ian Lopez, Bloomberg Law
The Senate's plan to lower US drug prices will inadvertently steer funds away from some life-changing medicines on the brink of release, including new cancer therapies, industry analysts say.

US poised to negotiate drug prices despite fierce pharma lobbying
Jamie Smyth, Financial Times
Makers of blockbuster drugs including Eli Lilly, AbbVie and AstraZeneca face new curbs.

The FDA's 'breakthrough' medical devices are finally hitting the market in numbers
Katie Palmer, Stat News
The Breakthrough Device Program is approaching terminal velocity. The Food and Drug Administration, looking to accelerate access to innovative devices, has now labeled nearly 700 products as breakthroughs while they're under development. But until recently, relatively few have reached the market.

Novo Is Turning to New Factories to Boost Supply of Obesity Drug
Emma Court, Bloomberg
Two more factories will begin producing Novo Nordisk A/S's obesity medication Wegovy next year after manufacturing issues and high demand left the drug in short supply, Chief Executive Officer Lars Fruergaard Jørgensen said in an interview Wednesday.

Biotech Startup Cerevance Strikes Alzheimer's Research Deal With Merck
Brian Gormley, The Wall Street Journal
Biotechnology startup Cerevance Inc. could earn more than $1 billion through a collaboration with drugmaker Merck & Co. to research potential treatments for Alzheimer's disease.

Amid Aduhelm woes, Biogen moves to pare back office space
Catherine Carlock and Jonathan Saltzman, Boston Globe
Biogen is moving to scale back its real estate footprint in Kendall Square and in Weston, as the Cambridge-based biotech company aims to cut $1 billion in costs in the wake of a disastrous rollout of its Alzheimer's drug Aduhelm.

Baby-Formula Startup Seeks Expansion as Shortage Persists
Annie Gasparro, The Wall Street Journal
Baby-formula startup ByHeart is seeking to register two additional facilities with regulators to increase its production as the U.S. continues to grapple with shortages.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Cerner agrees to pay $1.9M to settle racial discrimination case
Rebecca Pifer, Healthcare Dive
Cerner has agreed to pay $1.86 million in back pay and interest to settle claims it discriminated against Black and Asian job applicants, in a deal with federal regulators made public Tuesday.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

PCR testing can help clarify confusion over Covid-19 rebound and isolation

Robert B. Darnell, Stat News

President Biden's recent case of Covid-19, its rebound, and his extended isolation offers an opportunity to consider how more precise interpretation of viral load via PCR testing might be used to safely return people to work or school earlier.

We Are Still in a Race Against the Coronavirus

David Quammen, The New York Times

The Covid-19 pandemic has been a lesson in speed — the speed at which a novel virus among humans can spread, the speed at which it can rack up fatalities and cripple economies, the speed at which vaccines can be designed and produced, the speed at which misinformation can undermine public health. Amid all that rapidity is a different kind of speed, which drives the rest, like an engine spinning the cars on a nauseating carnival ride: the speed of viral evolution.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Longitudinal Assessments of Neurocognitive Performance and Brain Structure Associated With Initiation of Tobacco Use in Children, 2016 to 2021

Hongying Daisy Dai et al., JAMA Network Open

In this national cohort study of 17 073 children with neuroimaging outcomes, a significant association was found of early-age initiation of tobacco use with lower crystalized cognition composite score and impaired brain development in total cortical area and volume. Region of interest analysis also revealed smaller cortical area and volume across frontal, parietal, and temporal lobes.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Congressional Summer Wrap Up - What You Need to Know
FROM: "Public Health Weekly" <pr@astho.org>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 11/08/2022 08:55

View this email in your browser.

PUBLIC HEALTH WEEKLY

August 11, 2022

A Grassroots Leader's Vision for the Future Community Health Workforce

Community Health Workers (CHWs) have played an integral role in educating, connecting, and assisting vulnerable individuals throughout the COVID-19 pandemic.

ASTHO spoke with Denise Octavia-Smith, executive director of the National Association of Community Health Workers, about the critical work of CHWs. She discusses their roles in marginalized communities, and how public health can partner with and support CHWs. Learn more about this critical workforce.

READ

A Not-So-Sleepy Summer: Q&A with ASTHO Federal Government Affairs

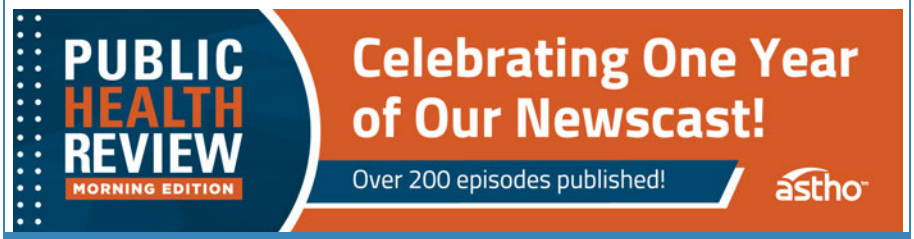
The Congressional summer session has come to a close, and several key issues are left lingering on the table. Whether public health will receive supplemental funding for the monkeypox and COVID-19 responses remains uncertain, and the FY23 appropriations bill faces a long road before it can be passed.

Check out the latest updates on discussions and actions between the House and Senate in this week's Federal Healthy Policy Update.

READ

THIS WEEK'S HIGHLIGHTS

HHS Secretary Xavier Becerra has declared the monkeypox virus outbreak a national public health emergency. Read ASTHO Chief Medical Officer Marcus Plescia's full statement on the federal declaration and how state health departments are responding to the outbreak.

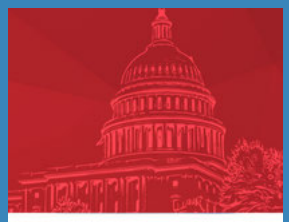


LATEST ASTHO RESOURCES AND EVENTS

Brief

Reproductive Health Services Expanded During Pandemic but Inequities Persist

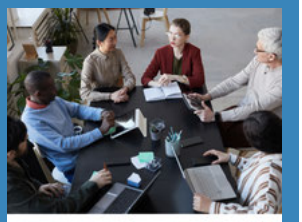
READ



New Resource

Legislative Alert - Congressional Summer Wrap-Up

READ



Blog

How the DiSC Personality Assessment Can Strengthen Public Health Leadership

READ

THIS WEEK ON PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW MORNING EDITION

- Infectious Disease Planning | Winfred Rawls, ASTHO
- New York Responds to Monkeypox | James McDonald (SHO Designee-NY)
- New School Year, New COVID-19 Strategy | Manisha Juthani (SHO-CT)
- Optimistic About the PH Workforce | Joanne Pearsol, ASTHO
- Public Health is Underfunded | J. Nadine Gracia, Trust for America's Health

LISTEN

[redacted]

PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW PODCAST

astho

PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW

- Substance Use During Pregnancy - Reducing Stigma of Treatment | Joseph Kanter (SHO-LA) | Amy Ladley, Louisiana Perinatal Quality Collaborative
- Making Sure Maine Youth Matter | Sheila Nelson, Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention | Kini-Ana Tinkham, Maine Resilience Building Network
- Effects of COVID-19 on Tuberculosis Prevention, Detection, and Treatment | José Romero (alumni-AR) | Philip LoBue, Division of TB Elimination, CDC
- Older Adults and Healthy Aging | Jewel Mullen (alumni-CT) | Elizabeth Head, Georgia Department of Public Health | Aline Stone, Division of Aging Services, Georgia Department of Human Services

LISTEN

ASTHO IN THE NEWS

- States have permission to make their monkeypox vaccines go a lot farther. | The Washington Post | Marcus Plescia, ASTHO
- Most Parents Are Saying No to COVID-19 Vaccines for Toddlers. | The Wall Street Journal | Marcus Plescia, ASTHO
- Louisville receives $180,000 in grant funds to improve outdoor activities. | WLKY

Press Room | Careers | Events | Funding

Was this forwarded to you? Click here to subscribe.

Unsubscribe from Public Health Weekly.
Unsubscribe from all ASTHO newsletters.

higher logic

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: MMWR Early Release Preview for Thursday, August 11, 2022
FROM: "CDC Weekly Preview (CDC)" <cdcweeklypreview@cdc.gov>
TO: "CDC Weekly Preview (CDC)" <cdcweeklypreview@cdc.gov>
DATE: 11/08/2022 12:01

[redacted]

All information in this email is embargoed. Please do not distribute or share this information through email, print, the Internet, or social media until after 1 pm (ET), Thursday, August 11, 2022. Information and dates are subject to change.

MMWR Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report

This MMWR is embargoed until 3 PM ET Thursday, August 11, 2022

Summary of Guidance for Minimizing the Impact of COVID-19 on Individual Persons, Communities, and Health Care Systems — United States, August 2022
Link when live: https://www.cdc.gov/mmwr/volumes/71/wr/mm7133e1.htm?s_cid=mm7133e1_w

MMWR* Weekly COVID-19 Briefing Podcast: Week of July 25
The latest MMWR Weekly COVID-19 Briefing is live. This episode covers six reports, including reports highlighting gun carrying among youth, the safety of a second COVID-19 booster dose among adults aged 50 years and older and more. Listen and subscribe on: Apple Podcasts, Stitcher, Spotify, and Google Play.

For questions, please contact MMWRCommunications@cdc.gov.
To subscribe to MMWR: Click here

SUBJECT: PARTNER ALERT: CDC streamlines COVID-19 guidance to help the public better protect themselves and understand their risk
FROM: "CDC IMS STLT Policy, Public Health Partnerships andCommunication" <eocevent382@CDC.GOV>
TO: <CDC-COVID19-ALL-STLT-UPDATE@LISTSERV.CDC.GOV>
DATE: 11/08/2022 13:10

[redacted] ECHO Colorado Monthly eNews: What's ECHOing in August

Good Afternoon, Partners,
Thank you for your continued partnership in protecting the health and safety of the people we serve. CDC is streamlining existing COVID-19 guidance to help people better understand their risk, how to protect themselves and others, what actions to take if exposed to the virus that causes COVID-19, and what actions to take if you have symptoms or test positive with the virus.

Updates to CDC's guidance will help people better understand their personal risk for getting very sick from COVID-19 and help them make informed decisions to layer prevention strategies as needed. Which prevention actions to take will continue to be informed by the COVID-19 Community Levels, launched earlier this year. This includes the recommendation of staying up to date with vaccination to protect from severe COVID-19 illness, hospitalization, and death.

We're in a stronger place today as a nation with more tools—like vaccination, boosters, and treatments—to protect ourselves and others, plus our communities, from severe illness from COVID-19. We also have a good understanding of how to protect people from being exposed to the virus, like wearing masks, testing, and improved ventilation. This provides a baseline of protection for our collective communities.

Encouraging people to layer prevention actions based on their personal and local situation helps prevent infection and decrease risk of severe disease. This acknowledges that the pandemic is not over, but also helps us move to a point where COVID-19 no longer severely disrupts our daily lives.

Now, as the virus continues to circulate in our communities, we need to redouble our efforts to protect people at high risk of severe illness. CDC will continue to focus efforts on preventing severe illness, and will work to ensure everyone, especially those at highest risk, have the information and tools they need to take action to lower their risk (and protect others around them) from severe illness.

The MMWR linked below (and attached) provides information to help people understand their risk, understand how best to prevent COVID-19, know what to do if they're exposed to or test positive for COVID-19, and take measures to protect others at high risk of severe COVID-19.

Summary of Guidance for Minimizing the Impact of COVID-19 on Individual Persons, Communities, and Health Care Systems — United States, August 2022
https://www.cdc.gov/mmwr/volumes/71/wr/mm7133e1.htm?s_cid=mm7133e1_w

To hear more about the updated guidance, please join the CDC COVID-19 All-STLT Update Call on Monday, August 15th from 2:00–2:30 PM ET.

- If you are already registered for the CDC COVID-19 All-STLT Update Call series, there is no need to re-register for this call. You will use your existing, personalized link to join the call.
- If you are not already registered for the CDC COVID-19 All-STLT Update Call series, please register here.

Thank you for your continued partnership.

STLT Policy, Public Health Partnerships, and Communication
State, Tribal, Local, and Territorial Support Task Force (STLT TF)
COVID-19 Response
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)
1600 Clifton Road, NE, MS H21-5, Atlanta, GA 30349-4027
EOCevent382@cdc.gov

[redacted]

[redacted]

If you would like to unsubscribe from this ListServ LIST, please send an email to LIST@cdc.gov, enter CDC in the email Subject, and include the following "one" line in the Body of the email: signoff CDC-COVID19-ALL-STLT-UPDATE

SUBJECT: Fwd: EMBARGOED: Streamlined COVID-19 Guidance from CDC
FROM: "Tracy Gruber (DHHS)" <tracygruber@utah.gov>
TO: "Michelle Hofmann (DHHS)" <mhofmann@utah.gov>, "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Krisann Humphreys Bacon (DHHS)" <krisannbacon@utah.gov>
DATE: 11/08/2022 20:07

This might be good to add to the weekly briefing if it represents anything new for Utah.

Thanks.
Tracy S. Gruber
Executive Director
O: 435.772.6550
tracygruber@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: ASTHO Executive Office <ExecutiveOffice@astho.org>
Date: Thu, Aug 11, 2022 at 12:31 PM
Subject: EMBARGOED: Streamlined COVID-19 Guidance from CDC
To: Sharon Miller <smiller@astho.org>

Dear State and Territorial Health Officials,

Below is an embargoed copy of the updated COVID-19 guidance that is scheduled to be posted on the CDC website today at 3pm ET. Please note the information below and attached MMWR are strictly embargoed until 3pm ET.

Press Release

Embargoed until 3:00 PM ET
Thursday, August 11, 2022

Contact: CDC Media Relations
(404) 639-3286

CDC streamlines COVID-19 guidance to help the public better protect themselves and understand their risk

Today, CDC is streamlining its COVID-19 guidance to help people better understand their risk, how to protect themselves and others, what actions to take if exposed to COVID-19, and what actions to take if they are sick or test positive for the virus. COVID-19 continues to circulate globally, however, with so many tools available to us for reducing COVID-19 severity, there is significantly less risk of severe illness, hospitalization and death compared to earlier in the pandemic.

"We're in a stronger place today as a nation, with more tools—like vaccination, boosters, and treatments—to protect ourselves, and our communities, from severe illness from COVID-19," said Greta Massetti, PhD, MPH, MMWR author. "We also have a better understanding of how to protect people from being exposed to the virus, like wearing high-quality masks, testing, and improved ventilation. This guidance acknowledges that the pandemic is not over, but also helps us move to a point where COVID-19 no longer severely disrupts our daily lives."

In support of this update CDC is:

- Continuing to promote the importance of being up to date with vaccination to protect people against serious illness, hospitalization, and death. Protection provided by the current vaccine against symptomatic infection and transmission is less than that against severe disease and diminishes over time, especially against the currently circulating variants. For this reason, it is important to stay up to date, especially as new vaccines become available.
- Updating its guidance for people who are not up to date on COVID-19 vaccines on what to do if exposed to someone with COVID-19. This is consistent with the existing guidance for people who are up to date on COVID-19 vaccines.
- Recommending that instead of quarantining if you were exposed to COVID-19, you wear a high-quality mask for 10 days and get tested on day 5.
- Reiterating that regardless of vaccination status, you should isolate from others when you have COVID-19.
    - You should also isolate if you are sick and suspect that you have COVID-19 but do not yet have test results.
        - If your results are positive, follow CDC's full isolation recommendations.
        - If your results are negative, you can end your isolation.
- Recommending that if you test positive for COVID-19, you stay home for at least 5 days and isolate from others in your home. You are likely most infectious during these first 5 days. Wear a high-quality mask when you must be around others at home and in public.

  - If after 5 days you are fever-free for 24 hours without the use of medication, and your symptoms are improving, or you never had symptoms, you may end isolation after day 5.
  - Regardless of when you end isolation, avoid being around people who are more likely to get very sick from COVID-19 until at least day 11.
  - You should wear a high-quality mask through day 10.
- Recommending that if you had moderate illness (if you experienced shortness of breath or had difficulty breathing) or severe illness (you were hospitalized) due to COVID-19 or you have a weakened immune system, you need to isolate through day 10.
- Recommending that if you had severe illness or have a weakened immune system, consult your doctor before ending isolation. Ending isolation without a viral test may not be an option for you. If you are unsure if your symptoms are moderate or severe or if you have a weakened immune system, talk to a healthcare provider for further guidance.
- Clarifying that after you have ended isolation, if your COVID-19 symptoms worsen, restart your isolation at day 0. Talk to a healthcare provider if you have questions about your symptoms or when to end isolation.
- Recommending screening testing of asymptomatic people without known exposures will no longer be recommended in most community settings.
- Emphasizing that physical distance is just one component of how to protect yourself and others. It is important to consider the risk in a particular setting, including local COVID-19 Community Levels and the important role of ventilation, when assessing the need to maintain physical distance.

Actions to take will continue to be informed by the COVID-19 Community Levels, launched in February. CDC will continue to focus efforts on preventing severe illness and post-COVID conditions, while ensuring everyone have the information and tools, they need to lower their risk.

###

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

CDC works 24/7 protecting America's health, safety and security. Whether disease starts at home or abroad, are curable or preventable, chronic or acute, or from human activity or deliberate attack, CDC responds to America's most pressing health threats. CDC is headquartered in Atlanta and has experts located throughout the United States and the world

If you would like to unsubscribe from this ListServ LIST, please send an email to LIST@cdc.gov, enter CDC in the email Subject, and include the following "one" line in the Body of the email: signoff MMWR-MEDIA

Disclaimer
The information contained in this communication from the sender is confidential. It is intended solely for use by the recipient and others authorized to receive it. If you are not the recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking action in relation of the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful.

This email has been scanned for viruses and malware, and may have been automatically archived by Mimecast Ltd, an innovator in Software as a Service (SaaS) for business. Providing a safer and more useful place for your human generated data. Specializing in; Security, archiving and compliance. To find out more Click Here.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: UnitedHealth, Change Turn Trial Gaze To Horizontal Overlap
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 12/08/2022 02:03

LAW360

Friday, August 12, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

UnitedHealth, Change Turn Trial Gaze To Horizontal Overlap

UnitedHealth Group and Change Healthcare countered Justice Department allegations that their proposed merger threatens direct competition in the claims processing sector by arguing at the D.C. federal court that their plan to divest an insurance claims technology business addresses the DOJ's concerns

Read full article »

Analysis

Winless In Opioid Bouts, Will Pharmacies Throw In The Towel?

A California federal judge's walloping of Walgreens over its narcotic painkiller sales in San Francisco has left pharmacy chains 0 for 2 in opioid trials and is casting doubt on the companies' apparent plans to continue stepping into the legal ring with government adversaries.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Analysis

Calif.'s Broad Nuisance Law Key To Walgreens Opioid Liability

A California federal judge's decision Wednesday holding Walgreens liable for substantially contributing to the opioid crisis in San Francisco was bolstered by the Golden State's broad public nuisance law, but whether other states similarly apply the legal doctrine remains to be seen, lawyers told Law360.

Read full article »

W.Va. Reaches Opioid Deal With Rite Aid Worth Up To $30M

West Virginia's attorney general on Thursday said the state has reached a settlement potentially worth up to $30 million with pharmacy chain Rite Aid to end a suit alleging the company contributed to a flood of prescription narcotics in the Mountain State.

Read full article »

Flint Case Ends In Mistrial After Jurors Cite Mental Health

A Michigan federal judge on Thursday declared a mistrial in a landmark bellwether case over the Flint water crisis after jurors said their mental and physical health had reached a breaking point.

Read full article »

Montana High Court Blocks State's Anti-Abortion Laws

The highest state court in Montana has upheld a preliminary bar on a series of anti-abortion laws, putting those laws on ice while Planned Parenthood challenges them in court.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Analysis

J&J To Halt Global Talc Baby Powder Sales In 2023

Johnson & Johnson on Thursday said it will switch to selling cornstarch-based baby powder, halting global sales of its talcum-based powders that have been the focus of tens of thousands of injury claims alleging the talc causes ovarian cancer and mesothelioma.

Read full article »

ENFORCEMENT & COMPLIANCE

Thermostat Co. To Pay $1M For Ex-Employees' Charity Fraud

A Springfield, Missouri, thermostat company has agreed to pay back the roughly $1 million it obtained through a nearly decadelong alleged scheme by two former executives to embezzle money from a charity, the federal government announced Thursday.

Read full article »

Ex-NFLer Says Injuries Stopped Him From Grasping Plea Deal

Former NFL defensive back Etric Pruitt claimed Thursday that head injuries prevented him from understanding the plea deal he agreed to in 2021, which came in a case where he was accused of participating in a multimillion-dollar scheme to defraud the league's fund for injured former players.

Motion attached | Read full article »

Zicam Inventor Charged With 'I Love Lucy' TV Co. Scam

A California federal grand jury indicted the inventor of the cold remedy Zicam on wire fraud charges Wednesday, alleging he created a bogus "Desilu Studios" that played on the name of Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz's famous Hollywood production company to con investors into giving him hundreds of thousands of dollars that he used for personal expenses.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

LITIGATION

11th Circ. Says Medicare Reimbursement Suit Filed Too Late

The Eleventh Circuit ruled that a lawsuit brought by the assignee of a now-defunct Medicare Advantage organization to recover a reimbursable payment from a primary payer was time-barred, concluding that a four-year limitations period applied.

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Alliance Defending Freedom
Ardian
AstraZeneca PLC
Biogen Inc.
Blue Owl Capital Inc.
Bunge Ltd.
C.R. Bard Inc.
CVS Health Corp.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Church Mutual Insurance Co.
Conagra Brands Inc.
Convey Health Solutions Inc.
Cosan Limited
George Washington University
HP Ingredients
Hartz Mountain Industries Inc.
Heathrow Airport Holdings Ltd.
JPMorgan Chase & Co.
Johnson & Johnson
LinkedIn Corp.
MSP Recovery
Medco Health Solutions Inc.
Namecheap Inc.
New Jersey Hospital Association
Novant Health Inc.
Optum Inc.
PAI Partners AB
Planned Parenthood Federation
Purdue Pharma LP
Rite Aid Corp.
Signify Health Inc.
Starwood Capital Group
Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd.
The Florida Bar
The New York Times Co.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
University of Southern California
Veolia Environnement SA
Vista Equity Partners
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.
West Bend Mutual Insurance Co.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Aldous Walker
Arnold & Porter
Barakat & Bossa
Bartlett LLP
Beasley Allen
Beggs & Lane
Bobadilla Law
Bock Hatch
Brownstone Appellate Law Firm
Burns Charest
Bush Seyferth
Bushell Law PA
Butler Snow LLP
Campbell Conroy

Opinion attached | Read full article »

5th Circ. Backs CR Bard Win Over Vein Filter Implant Design

The Fifth Circuit on Wednesday upheld a Mississippi judge's decision clearing C.R. Bard of a patient's product liability claims alleging the company's blood clot-preventing IVC filter fractured and left a piece embedded inside him, ruling the product safety pamphlet adequately warned of complications associated with it.

Order attached | Read full article »

HHS Wants 3rd Circ. To Revive Drug Discount Violation Notice

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services on Thursday asked the Third Circuit to reinstate an enforcement letter to pharmaceutical giant AstraZeneca accusing it of going against a federal discount drug program, saying a federal judge wrongly concluded the letter went against the Administrative Procedure Act.

Brief attached | Read full article »

White Ex-Exec's $10M Race Bias Verdict Cut To $3.7M

A North Carolina federal judge on Thursday slashed a $10 million verdict awarded to an ex-Novant Health executive after a jury found he was fired for being a white man as the medical system tried to diversify its workforce, putting damages in line with Title VII's limit.

Order attached | Read full article »

Surgical Robot Co.'s Antitrust Fight Heads To Dec. Trial

A Florida federal judge on Wednesday refused to hand Intuitive Surgical a win on antitrust claims alleging the surgical robot maker forces hospitals to buy new equipment by forbidding third-party repairs, sending the dispute — and Intuitive's false-advertising counterclaims against the repair company plaintiff — to a December jury trial.

Order attached | Read full article »

Church Mutual Needn't Cover Care Center's BIPA Suit Defense

Church Mutual has no duty to defend an assisted care facility from a proposed class action filed by an employee accusing it of impermissibly collecting workers' fingerprints to track their hours, an Illinois federal judge said Thursday, finding that the policies in question bar coverage for wrongful employment practices.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

NJ Atty Booted From Pharma Co.'s Herbal Extract TM Row

A New Jersey magistrate judge has recommended disqualification of counsel for pharmaceutical company HP Ingredients in its trademark suit against rival Sabinsa over a similarly named herbal extract, finding that HP's counsel had a prior relationship with Sabinsa that poses a conflict of interest.

Order attached | Read full article »

Tenn. Court Reinstates Suit Over ER Patient's Death

A Tennessee appeals court has reinstated a wrongful death suit against a hospital and its ER physician, saying the patient's father should have been allowed to secure a medical expert after his previous one dropped out when his income as a witness was made public.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

NJ Gov. Gets Shot To Erase Defamation Claim In Firing Suit

The New Jersey Appellate Division will take on whether Gov. Phil Murphy should face a defamation claim alleging he spread false information that a former state health official was fired over outside consulting work when he purportedly lost his job for objecting to collecting COVID-19 test samples from relatives of the governor's chief of staff.

Order attached | Read full article »

Texas Says State Should Have Voice In Trans Care Suit

Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton has urged a state appellate court to review three challenges his office filed against trial court rulings allowing a Dallas doctor to continue providing hormone treatment to transgender children diagnosed with gender dysphoria despite the state's stance that such treatment constitutes child abuse.

Brief attached | Read full article »

'Confusion' Warrants NJ Tax Challenge Ruling, Court Told

Cleary Gottlieb
Constangy Brooks
Covington & Burling
Cozen O'Connor
Crowell & Moring
Debevoise & Plimpton
Dickler Kahn
Dovel & Luner
Epstein Drangel
Faegre Drinker
Ferraro Law Firm
Fine Boggs
Finnegan
FordHarrison
Friedman Kaplan
Gibbons PC
Gibson Dunn
Glavin PLLC
Greenberg Traurig
Haun Mena
Hill Ward Henderson
Hinshaw & Culbertson
Hogan Lovells
Holland & Knight
Immigrant & Refugee Appellate Center
Jomarron Lopez
Kessler Topaz
Kirkland & Ellis
Kozyak Tropin
Lamothe Law Firm
Levy Konigsberg
Malouf & Nockels
Mayer Brown
McCarter & English
Meagher & Geer
Motley Rice
Norton Rose
O'Toole Scrivo
Ogletree Deakins
Plunkett Cooney
Prickett Jones
Quinn Emanuel
Rainey Kizer
Robbins Geller
Robinson Bradshaw
Rumberger Kirk
Schiffer Hicks
Sher Tremonte
Shir Law Group
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Sterne Kessler
Susman Godfrey
Tin Fulton
Vinson & Elkins
WilmerHale
Zuber Lawler

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Arizona Corporation Commission
California Department of Public Health
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
Delaware Court of Chancery
Federal Bureau of Investigation

An advocacy organization took aim Thursday at what it claimed was uncertainty surrounding a New Jersey bill that closed certain avenues for taxpayers to appeal the assessments or exempt status of properties owned by others, and urged a state judge to find that similar challenges may still be brought to the courthouse.

Read full article »

Convey Stockholder Sues For Books On $1.1B TPG Buyout

A Convey Health Solutions Holdings Inc. stockholder sued the health care technology company in Delaware Chancery Court on Wednesday, seeking corporate documents to investigate "potential mismanagement and/or breaches of fiduciary duty" in connection with its pending $1.1 billion buyout by private equity firm TPG Inc.

Read full article »

DEALS

Deals Rumor Mill: CVS, PAI Partners, London Heathrow Airport

CVS is in the running to buy Signify Health, Dyal Capital may purchase a stake in private equity firm PAI Partners, and Spain-based Ferrovial is weighing what to do with its 25% stake in London Heathrow Airport. Here, Law360 breaks down these and other deal rumors from the past week that you need to be aware of.

Read full article »

REAL ESTATE

Real Estate Rumors: CoreVest, Hartz Mountain, Dwight

CoreVest has reportedly lent $65 million for two Houston multifamily properties, Hartz Mountain Industries is said to have paid $34 million for a Newark Airport hotel with plans to demolish the building, and Dwight Mortgage Trust is said to have lent $27 million for four New York senior living properties.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Anti-Kickback Circuit Split Holds Implications For Defendants

The Eighth Circuit's recent decision in U.S. v. D.S. Medical represents a significant step toward holding plaintiffs to more exacting burdens of proof in Anti-Kickback Statute False Claims Act suits, and the outcome of the resulting circuit split could decrease estimated damages for defendants, say attorneys at Gibson Dunn.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Lessons For Federal Lawmakers As Calif. Alters Cannabis Tax

California recently eliminated a cultivation tax that had for years burdened the state's licensed cannabis market, providing important lessons for federal lawmakers on cumbersome regulations and unduly high taxes as they debate legalization, says Raza Lawrence at Zuber Lawler.

Read full article »

Understanding DC Circ.'s Agency Rule Withdrawal Debate

The D.C. Circuit's recent ruling that an agency must provide notice and an opportunity for comment when withdrawing a rule that has been filed for public inspection but not yet published in the Federal Register features a vigorous debate on the "point of no return" issue that has significant practical consequences whenever there is a change in administration, says Steven Gordon at Holland & Knight.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Garland Defends FBI, Moves To Unseal Trump Search Warrant

U.S. Attorney General Merrick Garland on Thursday forcefully defended the FBI following its raid that seized government documents from Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago

Food and Drug Administration
Illinois Supreme Court
Internal Revenue Service
International Trade Commission
Kanawha County, West Virginia
Michigan Department of Environmental Quality
New Jersey Attorney General's Office
New York Attorney General's Office
New York State Police
Office of the Federal Register
State Bar of Texas
Texas Attorney General's Office
Texas Health and Human Services Commission
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Central District of California
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of Kentucky
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. District Court for the Central District of California
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia
U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio

resort, taking personal responsibility for the decision as he moved to unseal records that could shed light on the search.

Read full article »

Cuomo Seeks Legal Fees In Suit Against NY AG James

Former New York Gov. Andrew Cuomo has sued New York State Attorney General Letitia James, challenging her refusal to pick up the tab for his defense of an ongoing federal sex harassment suit and calling her report accusing him of creating a hostile work environment "deeply flawed."

Read full article »

Quinn Emanuel Launches New Dallas Office With 7 Attys

Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan LLP has opened an office in Dallas, the firm announced Thursday, with seven attorneys staffing a building near Reverchon Park.

Read full article »

Constangy Brooks Opens 4th Calif. Office In San Diego

Constangy Brooks Smith & Prophete LLP has opened its fourth office in California, now serving clients in San Diego, expanding its West Coast footprint with an additional partner and a new space, the firm recently announced.

Read full article »

Debevoise Should Get Win In Phishing Bait Suit, Judge Says

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP deserves an early win in a trademark suit against two website domains using its name to create phishing emails to try to steal people's sensitive personal information, a Virginia federal judge recommended Wednesday.

Read full article »

Ohio Attorneys Can Hold Crypto In Escrow, Ethics Board Says

Ohio attorneys may hold cryptocurrency in escrow when representing clients, but they must keep funds segregated and ensure they're not facilitating illegal activity, the state's Board of Professional Conduct said in one of the few advisory opinions to address the question.

Read full article »

Va. Judge's 'Stupid' Aside May Land Immigrant A New Trial

The Fourth Circuit ordered the Board of Immigration Appeals on Thursday to consider taking an immigration judge off a deportation case after she apparently derided as "laughable" and "so stupid" testimony from a man facing deportation that he lost fluency in his native language.

Read full article »

Fla. Firm Fundraiser For Trial Judge Doesn't Trigger DQ

A law firm that hosts a fundraiser for a judge's reelection campaign while one of its lawyers is in active litigation in the judge's court is engaged in "ordinary" election activity, a Florida appeals court ruled Wednesday.

Read full article »

Fla. Court Tosses $17K In Sanctions For Boutique Firm

Shir Law Group PA will not have to pay $17,000 in sanctions after the Florida Third District Court of Appeal reversed a trial judge's decision as part of a case in which the boutique Boca Raton firm accused opposing counsel of leaking confidential settlement agreements.

Read full article »

USPTO Leadership Touts LEAP Program's Success 2 Years In

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on Thursday celebrated the success of a program designed to give lesser experienced attorneys rare opportunities to develop their oral argument skills, highlighting the benefits participants have gained over the last two years through the program.

Read full article »

City Must Boost Boardroom And Exec Diversity, Report Warns

All companies in the professional and financial services sector must widen the pipeline of socioeconomic diversity to help narrow the class divide in senior employment positions, a new government-commissioned report has warned.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known

SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: USMCA Energy Row Pits Nationalism Against Private Interests
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 12/08/2022 02:32

LAW360

Friday, August 12, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Analysis

USMCA Energy Row Pits Nationalism Against Private Interests

The U.S. and Canada's challenges to Mexico's prioritization of state utilities over private enterprises could lead to new tariffs and lost investments, unless the parties negotiate an agreement that balances Mexico's sovereignty against the interests of northerly energy stakeholders.

Read full article »

Analysis

Winless In Opioid Bouts, Will Pharmacies Throw In The Towel?

A California federal judge's walloping of Walgreens over its narcotic painkiller sales in San Francisco has left pharmacy chains 0 for 2 in opioid trials and is casting doubt on the companies' apparent plans to continue stepping into the legal ring with government adversaries.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Analysis

Why Spectrum's Hard-To-Believe $7B Jury Loss May Not Last

The unique details behind an astounding $7.3 billion "nuclear verdict" against Spectrum over the murder of a customer show exactly how to get a jury mad, but various guidelines covering punitive damages should help the cable company on appeal.

Read full article »

Flint Case Ends In Mistrial After Jurors Cite Mental Health

A Michigan federal judge on Thursday declared a mistrial in a landmark bellwether case over the Flint water crisis after jurors said their mental and physical health had reached a breaking point.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Aldous Walker
Arnold & Porter
Baker & Hostetler
Barakat & Bossa
Bartlett LLP
Bobadilla Law
Brewer, Attorneys & Counselors

Read full article »

NY Bar Launches Ethics Task Force For Public Sector Attys

The New York State Bar Association announced the creation of a 20-member task force on Thursday designed to review legal ethics questions for attorneys who represent government entities.

Read full article »

Biden's 10th Circ. Pick Seen As Humble Yet Savvy Prosecutor

President Joe Biden has tapped for the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals a longtime federal prosecutor who's respected across party lines for his humility and compassion — and, if confirmed, would be the first person of color from Kansas to serve as a judge in that court.

Read full article »

Rep. Greene Case Has Big Implications, 11th Circ. Judge Says

An Eleventh Circuit judge said Thursday U.S. Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene, R-Ga., is asking the court to extend congressional power to determine whether U.S. House members are fit to serve so that Congress could also decide who can run for office.

Read full article »

NC AG Tries Again To Stall Prosecution Over Political Ad

North Carolina Attorney General Josh Stein is taking another shot at stonewalling a possible criminal case against him over a political ad his campaign aired in 2020, telling a federal judge that no charges should be brought until the after Fourth Circuit weighs in.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

Trump-Era DHS Chief's Immigration Bond Rule Fails In Court

Another Trump-era immigration policy promulgated by former acting Homeland Security Secretary Chad Wolf fell by the wayside, after a California federal judge vacated administrative hurdles imposed on surety companies that wish to challenge the government's determinations that noncitizens have breached their bond conditions.

Order attached | Read full article »

CFPB Says Firms With Lax Data Security Could Face Its Wrath

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau said Thursday that financial companies with weak information security protocols may be violating its ban on unfair practices and can be held liable accordingly.

Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

Montana High Court Blocks State's Anti-Abortion Laws

The highest state court in Montana has upheld a preliminary bar on a series of anti-abortion laws, putting those laws on ice while Planned Parenthood challenges them in court.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Texas Says State Should Have Voice In Trans Care Suit

Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton has urged a state appellate court to review three challenges his office filed against trial court rulings allowing a Dallas doctor to continue providing hormone treatment to transgender children diagnosed with gender dysphoria despite the state's stance that such treatment constitutes child abuse.

Brief attached | Read full article »

HHS Wants 3rd Circ. To Revive Drug Discount Violation Notice

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services on Thursday asked the Third Circuit to reinstate an enforcement letter to pharmaceutical giant AstraZeneca accusing it of going against a federal discount drug program, saying a federal judge wrongly concluded the letter went against the Administrative Procedure Act.

Brief attached | Read full article »

IP & TECHNOLOGY

Full Fed. Circ. Won't Mull USPTO Interim Director's Powers

Burns Charest
Bush Seyferth
Bushell Law PA
Campbell Conroy
Carlson Gaskey
Cleary Gottlieb
Constangy Brooks
Cuneo Gilbert
Davis Wright
Debevoise & Plimpton
Dentons
Dowd & Dowd PC
Faegre Drinker
Fine Boggs
Finnegan
FordHarrison
Gibbons PC
Glavin PLLC
Hamilton Wingo
Hausfeld LLP
Hogan Lovells
Holland & Knight
Immigrant & Refugee Appellate Center
Jomarron Lopez
King & Spalding
Kirkland & Ellis
Kozyak Tropin
Latham & Watkins
Levy Konigsberg
Malouf & Nockels
Matthew G. Miller PC
Mayer Brown
McCarter & English
MoloLamken
Montgomery McCracken
Motley Rice
Norton Rose
O'Melveny & Myers
O'Toole Scrivo
Plunkett Cooney
Quinn Emanuel
Robbins Geller
Roxborough Pomerance
Sandulli Grace
Shearman & Sterling
Sher Tremonte
Shir Law Group
Simpson Thacher
Sterne Kessler
Susman Godfrey
Vinson & Elkins
WilmerHale
Wolf Greenfield
Wolf Haldenstein
Womble Bond
Wright Lindsey
Zuber Lawler

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Accenture PLC
Alliance Defending Freedom
Arthrex Inc.
AstraZeneca PLC
Balfour Beatty PLC
Bertelsmann AG
CVS Health Corp.

The full Federal Circuit has shot down Arthrex's request to evaluate if former Patent Commissioner Drew Hirshfeld was allowed to conduct director reviews while he headed the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office between leaders.

Order attached | Read full article »

USPTO Leadership Touts LEAP Program's Success 2 Years In

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on Thursday celebrated the success of a program designed to give lesser experienced attorneys rare opportunities to develop their oral argument skills, highlighting the benefits participants have gained over the last two years through the program.

Read full article »

HOSPITALITY

LA Council Puts Hotel Rooms For Homeless Bill On Ballot

The Los Angeles City Council has voted overwhelmingly to put on a ballot a proposed ordinance requiring hotels to house homeless people in vacant rooms, leaving it to voters to decide whether to approve the measure that claims to protect affordable housing in the city.

1 document attached | Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

Unused Vacation Not Wages For Pensions, Mass. Justices Say

Massachusetts' highest court ruled Thursday that unused vacation time can't be used to calculate public employees' pension benefits, invalidating a 10-year-old memorandum from the state agency that oversees local retirement boards.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

Author, Agents Say Advances Only Part Of Puzzle

A nonfiction author and several agents told a D.C. federal judge on Thursday that there's more to negotiating a book deal than landing the largest possible advance, while throwing cold water on the government's fears over the merger of Penguin Random House and Simon & Schuster.

Read full article »

UnitedHealth, Change Turn Trial Gaze To Horizontal Overlap

UnitedHealth Group and Change Healthcare countered Justice Department allegations that their proposed merger threatens direct competition in the claims processing sector by arguing at the D.C. federal court that their plan to divest an insurance claims technology business addresses the DOJ's concerns

Read full article »

StarKist Asks High Court To Reject Tuna Buyers Class Cert.

StarKist Co. has turned to the U.S. Supreme Court for help in decertifying potentially massive classes of plaintiffs in ongoing litigation over price-fixing allegations by the major tuna producers, saying that many of the proposed class members didn't actually pay higher prices.

Petition attached | Read full article »

CYBERSECURITY & PRIVACY

FTC Begins Privacy, Security Rulemaking Over GOP Rebuke

The Federal Trade Commission on Thursday kicked off the process of crafting new rules to set limits on companies' use and sharing of vast troves of consumer data and to crack down on lax data security practices, a move opposed by its two Republican commissioners.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

PERSONAL INJURY & MEDICAL MALPRACTICE

8th Circ. Won't Rethink No-Knock Warrant Death Suit Ruling

The Eighth Circuit won't reconsider its ruling, which found St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department officers have sovereign immunity on most claims brought by the family of a man who was shot 24 times and killed during the execution of a no-knock warrant searching for marijuana and other drugs.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS

CafePress Inc.
Cash App
Change Healthcare Inc.
Charter Communications Inc.
Costco Wholesale Corp.
Dongwon F&B Co. Ltd.
Early Warning Services LLC
Equifax Inc.
Experian PLC
Fordham University
George Washington University
Johnson & Johnson
LinkedIn Corp.
McDonald's Corp.
Namecheap Inc.
New Jersey Hospital Association
New York State Bar Association
Optum Inc.
Paramount Global
Planned Parenthood Federation
Public Broadcasting Service
Public Citizen Inc.
Purdue Pharma LP
Reliance Communications Ltd.
Rite Aid Corp.
Rodale Inc.
Schneider Electric
Simon & Schuster Inc.
Smith & Nephew plc
Southwestern Law School
Spectrum Management Holding Co.
StarKist Co.
The Florida Bar
The New York Times Co.
Tyson Foods Inc.
UNITE HERE
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
Veolia Environnement SA
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Arkansas Supreme Court
California Department of Public Health
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Dallas County, Texas
Executive Office of the President
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Trade Commission
Financial Stability Oversight Council
Food and Drug Administration
General Services Administration Office of Inspector General
Georgia Attorney General's Office
Georgia Supreme Court
Internal Revenue Service
International Trade Commission
Michigan Department of Environmental Quality
NAFTA
National Telecommunications and Information Administration
New York Attorney General's Office
New York State Police

Warren Urges DOJ To Ban Contractors Over Criminal Conduct

U.S. Sens. Elizabeth Warren and Ben Ray Luján on Thursday urged the U.S. Department of Justice to ban businesses that commit crimes from serving as government contractors, saying the agency has been "allowing them to slide by with penalties and settlements."

Letter attached | Read full article »

Watchdog Flags $3B Port Project's Fraud Risks, Hiring Needs

A federal watchdog warned a General Services Administration subdivision on Thursday that past audits indicate it should be on guard for fraud risks and will need to recruit for key oversight roles as it puts the $3.4 billion it received under the infrastructure bill to use.

Report attached | Read full article »

TAX

'Confusion' Warrants NJ Tax Challenge Ruling, Court Told

An advocacy organization took aim Thursday at what it claimed was uncertainty surrounding a New Jersey bill that closed certain avenues for taxpayers to appeal the assessments or exempt status of properties owned by others, and urged a state judge to find that similar challenges may still be brought to the courthouse.

Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

Gov't Agencies Team Up For Tribal Broadband Program

Two federal agencies have agreed to comply with a tribal broadband internet program's requirements for cultural resources, historic preservation and environmental protection, which will allow "high-speed internet service to be deployed quickly while also ensuring safeguards to protect Native lands and interests."

Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Team Telecom Asks FCC To Clear Undersea Cable Plan

The National Telecommunications and Information Administration has asked the Federal Communications Commission to approve the transfer of Global Cloud Xchange's licenses for an undersea cable project to Reef Bidco Ltd., as long as the telecom company complies with certain commitments.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

Schools, Libraries Seek More Time On FCC Subsidy Deadline

A coalition of "anchor" institutions including schools and libraries urged the Federal Communications Commission to push back a key deadline to provide certain telecom services that receive federal support due to severe supply chain issues.

Letter attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

Ark. High Court Orders Pot Legalization Question On Ballot

Arkansas' highest court on Wednesday ordered state officials to provisionally place a marijuana legalization question on the ballot while a legal challenge to the measure plays out.

Order attached | Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Lessons For Federal Lawmakers As Calif. Alters Cannabis Tax

California recently eliminated a cultivation tax that had for years burdened the state's licensed cannabis market, providing important lessons for federal lawmakers on cumbersome regulations and unduly high taxes as they debate legalization, says Raza Lawrence at Zuber Lawler.

Read full article »

Justices Could Tighten Fraud Statute In Ex-Cuomo Aide Case

The U.S. Supreme Court has an opportunity to overturn the conviction of an aide to former New York Gov. Andrew

Office of the Federal Register
Office of the U.S. Trade Representative
State Bar of Texas
Texas Attorney General's Office
Texas Health and Human Services Commission
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Census Bureau
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
U.S. Customs and Border Protection
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Defense
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
U.S. General Services Administration
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio

Cuomo in Percoco v. U.S., thereby restraining federal prosecutors' use of the honest services fraud statute and confining its application to cases of true public corruption, says Scott Coffina at Montgomery McCracken.

Read full article »

Understanding DC Circ.'s Agency Rule Withdrawal Debate

The D.C. Circuit's recent ruling that an agency must provide notice and an opportunity for comment when withdrawing a rule that has been filed for public inspection but not yet published in the Federal Register features a vigorous debate on the "point of no return" issue that has significant practical consequences whenever there is a change in administration, says Steven Gordon at Holland & Knight.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Guarding Consumer Financial Data As Federal Scrutiny Grows

On the heels of a recent U.S. Senate request that the Financial Stability Oversight Council look into financial institutions' collection and sale of consumer data, the industry should take steps to ensure they handle this information in a manner that mitigates risk for all parties, say attorneys at Debevoise.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Garland Defends FBI, Moves To Unseal Trump Search Warrant

U.S. Attorney General Merrick Garland on Thursday forcefully defended the FBI following its raid that seized government documents from Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago resort, taking personal responsibility for the decision as he moved to unseal records that could shed light on the search.

Read full article »

Cuomo Seeks Legal Fees In Suit Against NY AG James

Former New York Gov. Andrew Cuomo has sued New York State Attorney General Letitia James, challenging her refusal to pick up the tab for his defense of an ongoing federal sex harassment suit and calling her report accusing him of creating a hostile work environment "deeply flawed."

Read full article »

Quinn Emanuel Launches New Dallas Office With 7 Attys

Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan LLP has opened an office in Dallas, the firm announced Thursday, with seven attorneys staffing a building near Reverchon Park.

Read full article »

Constangy Brooks Opens 4th Calif. Office In San Diego

Constangy Brooks Smith & Prophete LLP has opened its fourth office in California, now serving clients in San Diego, expanding its West Coast footprint with an additional partner and a new space, the firm recently announced.

Read full article »

Debevoise Should Get Win In Phishing Bait Suit, Judge Says

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP deserves an early win in a trademark suit against two website domains using its name to create phishing emails to try to steal people's sensitive personal information, a Virginia federal judge recommended Wednesday.

Read full article »

Ohio Attorneys Can Hold Crypto In Escrow, Ethics Board Says

Ohio attorneys may hold cryptocurrency in escrow when representing clients, but they must keep funds segregated and ensure they're not facilitating illegal activity, the state's Board of Professional Conduct said in one of the few advisory opinions to address the question.

Read full article »

Va. Judge's 'Stupid' Aside May Land Immigrant A New Trial

The Fourth Circuit ordered the Board of Immigration Appeals on Thursday to consider taking an immigration judge off a deportation case after she apparently derided as "laughable" and "so stupid" testimony from a man facing deportation that he lost fluency in his native language.

Read full article »

Fla. Firm Fundraiser For Trial Judge Doesn't Trigger DQ

A law firm that hosts a fundraiser for a judge's reelection campaign while one of its lawyers is in active litigation in the judge's court is engaged in "ordinary" election activity, a Florida appeals court ruled Wednesday.

Read full article »

Fla. Court Tosses $17K In Sanctions For Boutique Firm

Shir Law Group PA will not have to pay $17,000 in sanctions after the Florida Third District Court of Appeal reversed a trial judge's decision as part of a case in which the boutique Boca Raton firm accused opposing counsel of leaking confidential settlement agreements.

Read full article »

City Must Boost Boardroom And Exec Diversity, Report Warns

All companies in the professional and financial services sector must widen the pipeline of socioeconomic diversity to help narrow the class divide in senior employment positions, a new government-commissioned report has warned.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions
Illinois Attorney General's Office
-, -

Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Bank Policy Institute
Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Explore our Aug 13, 2022 issue
FROM: The Lancet <thelancet@notification.elsevier.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 12/08/2022 02:56

Please add thelancet@notification.elsevier.com to your Safe Senders list. If you have trouble viewing this message, click here to view it online.

ADVERTISEMENT

In this issue of The Lancet:

THE LANCET

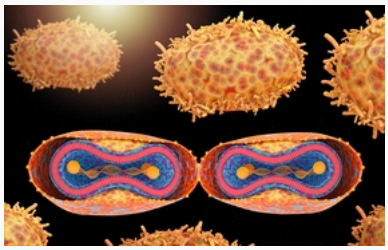
Vol. 400
Number 10351 | Aug 13, 2022
p 469-538

My Account Subscribe Authors About

Twitter Podcast

FEATURES

Botswana's HIV/AIDS success: Botswana has become only the third country to surpass the UN's 95-95-95 goals on HIV and says it is on target to end AIDS as a public health threat.
Read this World Report



Monkeypox content collection: The Lancet Group publishes the latest, related content across epidemiology, treatments, and more. You can explore related content published across Lancet journals. All our monkeypox content is free to access.
Read this collection

EDITORIAL

India at 75 years: progress, challenges, and opportunities

COMMENT

An energy booster for thalassaemic red blood cells

Biologic therapies for asthma in underserved populations

Participation in phase 1 trials for patients with cancer

A historic opportunity for universal health coverage in India

Use the remaining carbon budget wisely for health equity and climate justice

WORLD REPORT

Botswana's HIV/AIDS success

Turkish doctors emigrate amid low pay and rising violence

PERSPECTIVES

Poornima Prabhakaran: advocate for health in a changing climate

“You have not remained the same, nor have I”

The power of Jatra

OBITUARY

Thomas Bewley

CORRESPONDENCE

Screening policies for cytomegalovirus in pregnancy in the era of antivirals

Iran's burden of disease and burden of data collection

Iran's burden of disease and burden of data collection

Iran's burden of disease and burden of data collection – Authors' reply

Data at 36 months for the Symplicity SPYRAL HTN-ON MED pilot

Data at 36 months for the Symplicity SPYRAL HTN-ON MED pilot – Authors' reply

ARTICLES

Safety and efficacy of mitapivat, an oral pyruvate kinase activator, in adults with non-transfusion dependent α-thalassaemia or β-thalassaemia: an open-label, multicentre, phase 2 study

Mepolizumab for urban children with exacerbation-prone eosinophilic asthma in the USA (MUPPITS-2): a randomised, double-blind, placebo-controlled, parallel-group trial

Early drug development in solid tumours: analysis of National Cancer Institute-sponsored phase 1 trials

CLINICAL PICTURE

No clubbing in the fingers, only in the toes: patent ductus arteriosus and reversed shunting

REVIEW

The multispeciality approach to the management of localised kidney cancer

VIEWPOINT

Effectiveness of vaccination mandates in improving uptake of COVID-19 vaccines in the USA

View the entire Table of Contents online

CONTENT

Online First
Commissions
Series

MULTIMEDIA

Infographics
Podcasts
Videos

INFO & SERVICES

Lancet Alerts
Open Access
Publishing excellence

The best science for better lives

You are receiving this email because you subscribed to TheLancet.com alerting service.

This email has been sent from The Lancet, Elsevier Limited, The Boulevard, Langford Lane, Kidlington, Oxford, OX5 1GB, registered in England with registered number 1982084.

Update mailing preferences to choose which Lancet journals you receive alerts from. Follow this link to unsubscribe.

Privacy Policy

Copyright © 2022 Elsevier Limited except certain content provided by third parties. The Lancet is a trade mark of Elsevier Limited.

[redacted] Webuser ID: ee063b27617109410cc51afc98cc2b02ad57ffd4 Results Event ID: f0b2dd21-f88e-480f-9411-10bfec022004

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: CDC Eases COVID-19 Guidelines
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 12/08/2022 06:05

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 12, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

Top Stories

- The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention issued relaxed COVID-19 guidelines, citing the low risk of a severe bout with the disease thanks to population-level immunity and treatments as reason enough to de-emphasize social distancing, lessen the amount of days those with a positive test must isolate and generally shift responsibility on limiting spread to individuals instead of businesses, schools and other institutions. (The Washington Post) The Food and Drug Administration, meanwhile, issued new guidance that people who believe they have been infected with or exposed to COVID-19 take one at-home test, and then follow that up with a second test within 48 hours to rule out a false negative, with the agency noting the lack of efficacy rapid tests have compared to PCR lab tests. (The Hill)

- Facing sustained legal action over allegations that it concealed cancer risks in its talc-based baby powders, Johnson & Johnson said it will halt global sales of the products next year, a move that follows the company's previous decision to discontinue production in the United States and Canada. (Bloomberg) The House Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Crisis said another 135 million doses of J&J's COVID-19 vaccine from the tainted Emergent BioSolutions Inc. factory in Baltimore will be destroyed due to quality issues, though the drugmaker said no doses from the facility have reached market since it resumed production, and J&J has since ended its deal with the company. (The Associated Press)

- Senate Finance Committee Chairman Ron Wyden sent a letter to Amgen Inc. asking the biotech giant for details on the taxes it paid between 2018 and 2021, part of the Oregon Democrat's ongoing probe into supposed efforts multinational pharmaceutical companies have undertaken to avoid U.S. taxes. Wyden - who has also targeted Abbott Laboratories, AbbVie Inc., Bristol Myers Squibb Co. and Merck & Co. Inc. - said in the letter that Amgen paid an effective tax rate between 10.7% and 14.2% during those years, far below the 21% U.S. corporate tax rate, noting that "it appears that a significant factor is foreign earnings resulting from operations in Puerto Rico." (Stat News)

- The Department of Health and Human Services' Office of the Inspector General found that cheaper generic versions of hepatitis C drugs were not covered by some Medicare Part D plans, resulting in the loss of millions of dollars in savings. The watchdog report said Part D's structure, including manufacturer rebates, may have encouraged health plans to point individuals toward higher-cost drugs. (Fierce Healthcare)

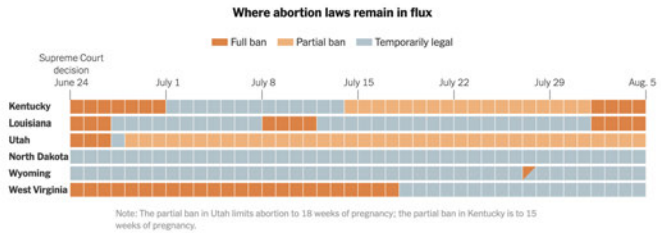
Chart Review

'Chaos and Confusion' in States Where Abortion Is On Again, Off Again
The New York Times



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT

Geopolitical Competition and Infrastructure in the Americas

Robust demand for infrastructure investment in the Americas will pay geopolitical dividends for the U.S. and the E.U. and yield commercial opportunities for their multinationals. Download our latest report to learn more about geopolitical openings and commercial opportunities in Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, & Mexico. Download today.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

Striking Drop in Stress Hormone Predicts Long Covid in Study
Jason Gale, Bloomberg
Striking decreases in the stress hormone cortisol were the strongest predictor for who develops long Covid in new research that identified several potential drivers of the lingering symptoms afflicting millions of survivors.

Long COVID risk up for unvaccinated children
Nancy Lapid, Reuters
Researchers in Texas who tracked 1,813 children infected with the virus between October 2020 and May 2022 - during the waves of the Delta and Omicron coronavirus variants - found that 4.5% had symptoms for up to 12 weeks and 3.3% had symptoms for longer than 12 weeks.

Pregnant Women Safe to Get Covid mRNA Vaccines, Study Shows
Naomi Kresge, Bloomberg
Covid-19 vaccines using messenger RNA technology were safe in pregnancy according to a large Canadian survey, further building the case for pregnant women to get the shots.

Doctor Critical of Covid Response Sees Free Speech Suit Halted
Mary Anne Pazanowski, Bloomberg Law
A federal court in Puerto Rico halted a doctor's suit over a medical board order directing her to stop publicly criticizing the government's Covid-19 response because a state administrative action is pending against her.

GENERAL

A bittersweet health care win for Democrats
Alice Miranda Ollstein, Politico
Democrats are widely expected to lose control of one or both chambers in November, and members are aware that today's vote on the Inflation Reduction Act may be their last chance for some time to enact major reforms to the U.S. health system.

West Virginia reaches multimillion-dollar settlement with Rite Aid over opioid lawsuit
Joseph Choi, The Hill
West Virginia Attorney General Patrick Morrisey (R) announced a settlement with pharmacy chain Rite Aid Thursday over a lawsuit alleging the company had contributed to the oversupply of opioids in the state.

U.S. monkeypox cases surpass 10,000 as CDC still aims for "containment"
Alexander Tin, CBS News
More than 10,000 Americans have now tested positive in the monkeypox outbreak across the U.S., according to figures published late Wednesday by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, as federal health officials say they are still racing to contain the virus.

FDA chief backs alternate method for injecting Bavarian Nordic's monkeypox shot
Reuters
The U.S. Food and Drug Administration chief on Thursday defended a plan to administer Bavarian Nordic's (BAVA.CO) monkeypox shot intradermally after the company raised doubts about the safety of the method, citing a lack of data.

New data from several states show racial disparities in monkeypox infections

Usha Lee McFarling et al., Stat News

New data emerging from some states and localities closely tracking monkeypox outbreaks show extreme racial disparities that are alarming experts. In Georgia, 82% of people with the disease are Black. In North Carolina, it's 70%. But in other places that have released detailed demographic data, there are fewer and sometimes no apparent racial or ethnic disparities in monkeypox cases.

White People Get Bigger Share of Monkeypox Shots, Early Data Show

Taylor Johnson et al., Bloomberg

Much like with Covid-19, the monkeypox health crisis in the US is hitting Black and Hispanic Americans hard. Yet those groups are so far lagging in vaccination rates, early data obtained by Bloomberg News show.

'Silent' spread of polio in New York drives CDC to consider additional vaccinations for some people

Elizabeth Cohen, CNN

A polio case identified in New York last month is "just the very, very tip of the iceberg" and an indication there "must be several hundred cases in the community circulating," a senior official with the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention told CNN on Wednesday.

Head of Amazon Health Care Initiative Taking an Extended Break

Spencer Soper, Bloomberg

Kristen Helton, who ran one of Amazon.com Inc.'s most important healthcare initiatives, is on a break that began earlier this summer.

Iowa governor asks court to allow blocked 2018 abortion ban

David Pitt, The Associated Press

Iowa Gov. Kim Reynolds asked the state courts on Thursday to allow her to implement a law banning most abortions that a judge permanently blocked in 2019.

PAYERS

UnitedHealthcare rebrands Bind plans as Surest as it eyes further growth

Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare

Surest plans, first launched in 2016 as Bind, are available nationwide for self-funded employers and in 11 states for fully insured plans. UHC said it plans to make Surest available as an option for fully insured customers in five more states by the end of the year.

New York judge dismisses surgeon's lawsuit challenging surprise billing law

Samantha Liss, Healthcare Dive

Daniel Haller, a surgeon, and his private practice filed suit in December against federal regulators alleging that the ban on surprise billing was unconstitutional along with the independent dispute resolution process, the way in which providers and payers are supposed to resolve payment disagreements.

Health Benefit Costs Forecast to Jump 5.6%; Bigger Hikes Ahead

Sara Hansard, Bloomberg Law

US employers expect health benefit costs to rise nearly 6% on average in 2023, significantly higher than 2022 projected cost increases but far below the current 9% overall inflation, professional services firm Mercer reported Thursday.

Oscar Health pauses insurer, provider technology service deals

Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare

Oscar Health will not pursue additional full-service +Oscar agreements for the next 18 months after facing challenges implementing its deal with Health First Health Plans, CEO and co-founder Mario Schlosser said Thursday.

Apple Health Defeats Whistleblower's Rehabilitation Fraud Suit

Daniel Seiden, Bloomberg Law

Apple Health Inc. showed that a False Claims Act whistleblower didn't adequately allege that the company defrauded Medicare by billing for unnecessary rehabilitation services at nursing facilities, a federal district court said.

HCSC to acquire third-party administrator Trustmark Health Benefits

Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare

Health Care Service Corp. will pay an undisclosed sum to buy third-party administrator Trustmark Health Benefits, the Blue Cross and Blue Shield company announced Thursday.

PROVIDERS

AMA launches initiative to increase HIV, STI screenings

Mari Devereaux, Modern Healthcare

A select group of community health centers will follow best practices and quality-improvement strategies outlined by the American Medical Association as part of a nationwide effort to boost the number of visits and routine screenings for HIV, viral hepatitis, latent tuberculosis and sexually transmitted infections.

Hospital and Drugmaker Move to Build Vast Database of New Yorkers' DNA

Joseph Goldstein, The New York Times

The Mount Sinai Health System began an effort this week to build a vast database of patient genetic information that can be studied by researchers — and by a large pharmaceutical company.

Putting a loved one in a nursing home could cost you as nursing homes sue relatives and friends of residents

Anna Werner, CBS News

Along with our partners Kaiser Health News and NPR, CBS News has found that what starts out as a good deed can turn into a legal nightmare in some cases. A review of court records by Kaiser Health News found that 24 federally licensed nursing homes filed 238 similar lawsuits in Monroe County alone. Two-thirds of those suits are found to have targeted relatives of residents or friends.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Walgreens Offers Bonuses Up to $75,000 to Recruit Pharmacists

Sharon Terlep, The Wall Street Journal
Walgreens Boots Alliance Inc. is offering signing bonuses up to $75,000 to pharmacists in some markets as the company struggles to fill jobs amid a chronic worker shortage that became acute during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Cardinal Health names new CEO, plans price increases to bolster earnings
Caroline Hudson, Modern Healthcare
Cardinal, a pharmaceuticals and medical products distributor, has struggled during the pandemic with rising supply-chain costs and fluctuating demand for personal protective equipment. The company reported a $933 million net loss for the fiscal year that ended June 30, compared with earnings of $611 million in fiscal year 2021. Annual revenue rose 12% year-over-year, to $181.4 billion.

U.S. move to negotiate drug prices a rare defeat for Big Pharma
Ahmed Aboulenein, Reuters
Big Pharma spent more than any other industry to lobby Congress and federal agencies this year, a Reuters analysis shows, but is still on course for a major defeat by failing to stop a bill that allows the government to negotiate prices on select drugs.

Roche gets U.S. approval for flu drug for children aged 5 and over
Reuters
Roche (ROG.S) has received approval from the U.S. Food and Drugs Administration for its Xofluza drug to treat influenza in children aged five years and older, the drugmaker said on Friday.

Novartis reports Zolgensma caused two deaths from liver failure
Reuters
Novartis AG (NOVN.S) on Thursday reported two patient fatalities due to acute liver failure following treatment with Zolgensma gene therapy used to treat spinal muscular atrophy.

Judge Questions 3M Earplug Unit's Path to Bankruptcy
Akiko Matsuda, The Wall Street Journal
A federal judge questioned 3M Co. 's plan to shift mass lawsuits involving military earplugs to bankruptcy court, saying that a corporate subsidiary "voluntarily agreed" to take on those injury liabilities before filing for chapter 11.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

One Medical's dueling offers from Amazon and CVS signal a start to health tech bidding wars
Bob Herman and Katie Palmer, Stat News
It's health tech hunting season for some of America's biggest brand names. Over the last year, companies like Amazon, CVS Health, and Walmart have made significant plays to beef up their health care infrastructure.

Patient appetite is high for some health tracker tech
Tina Reed, Axios
Nearly half of U.S. consumers are largely willing to don fitness trackers or punch meals into calorie-counting apps — though they're cooler to using digital tools for mental health or medication monitoring, the Healthcare Information and Management Systems Society reports.

Hims & Hers boosts 2022 outlook driven by strong Q2 revenue, subscription growth

Heather Landi, Fierce Healthcare

Direct-to-consumer health and wellness brand Hims & Hers appears to be thriving despite the market downturn as it charted strong revenue and subscription growth in the second quarter.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

The CDC's updated covid school guidance is ushering in a new normal

Leana S. Wen, The Washington Post

The newly released CDC guidance that eases covid-19 precautions in schools has it mostly right: At this point in the pandemic, the emphasis must shift from universal mandates to individual decisions to minimize the disruption of in-person learning.

FDA needs to fully review ACAM2000 before allowing its widespread use as a monkeypox vaccine

Caitlin Rivers and Tom Inglesby, Stat News

As the United States grapples with monkeypox, which has been declared a public health emergency, one of the key strategies that will be used to control its spread is vaccinating high-risk individuals. Demand for monkeypox vaccine far exceeds the supply.

Why don't they just do what the evidence says? The challenge and promise of implementation science

Mark S. Bauer, Stat News

The test of a new team-based way to treat bipolar disorder was, by all estimations, a highly successful research effort. Two studies, one in the Department of Veterans Affairs and one in a large HMO, both found significant improvements in outcomes, at little to no added cost, with team-based care. Yet within a year of the end of the studies, not a single one of the 15 sites that had taken part in the two trials had incorporated team-based care into their standard work flows.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Americans, No Matter the State They Live In, Die Younger Than People in Many Other Countries

David C. Radley et al., The Commonwealth Fund

Despite spending more on health care than any other nation, the United States has a lower average life expectancy and higher avoidable mortality — deaths that could have been prevented with appropriate health care — than other middle- and high-income countries. In this post, we compare individual states and the District of Columbia to peer countries on these two health system measures. We find that regardless of where they live, Americans are more likely to die earlier than people in many other countries. And they're more likely to die from factors that could have been prevented with the right care provided at the right time.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Don't Miss Out – Upcoming CoE Events & Trainings
FROM: National Council for Mental Wellbeing<Communications@TheNationalCouncil.org>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 12/08/2022 08:02

To view this email as a web page, click here

TheNationalCouncil.org
NATIONAL COUNCIL for Mental Wellbeing

CENTER OF EXCELLENCE
FOR INTEGRATED HEALTH SOLUTIONS

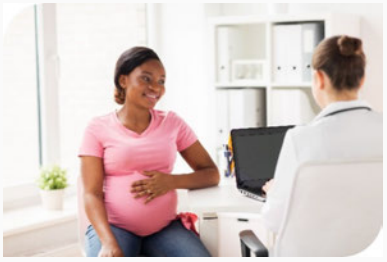
Funded by Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration and operated by the National Council for Mental Wellbeing

Want to learn more about how to advance your organization's integrated care? Check out our upcoming Center of Excellence for Integrated Health Solutions (CoE-IHS) events and training to help you and your organization improve integrated and equitable care for those most in need in your community.

- Tuesday, August 16, 3-4 p.m. ET: CoE-IHS Office Hour: Providing Integrated Care Services and Advancing Health Equity for Individuals with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities
- Thursday, August 25, 3-4 p.m. ET: CoE-IHS Office Hour: Integrated Care Strategies to Improve Perinatal Health Equity

Can't make these events? Register and we'll email you the recording so you can view it any time that's convenient for you. You can also check out recordings and slides from previous CoE-IHS events on our Calendar of Events.

PERINATAL HEALTH INTEGRATION
WEBINAR SERIES RECAP



Interested in learning more about perinatal health integration? Check out these recordings from our recent perinatal health webinar series.

- Part 1: The Case for Integration and Considerations Across the Continuum of Care
- Part 2: Perinatal Behavioral Health Care in a Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinic (CCBHC)
- Part 3: Integrating Services for Pregnant and Postpartum People in High-need Settings
- Part 4: Addressing Serious Mental Illness
- Health Equity in Perinatal Health Office Hour

Don't forget to register for our upcoming follow-up office hour, Integrated Care Strategies to Improve Perinatal Health Equity, on August 25 from 3-4 p.m. ET to learn more from our experts!

FEATURED RESOURCE

Designing, Implementing and Sustaining Physical Health-Behavioral Health Integration: The Comprehensive Healthcare Integration (CHI) Framework

This paper introduces a visionary new integrated care framework that can help providers, payers and population managers measure progress in delivering integrated services, demonstrate the value produced and provide initial and sustainable financing for integration. Read the full paper and the accompanying blog post to learn more!

Did you miss our Comprehensive Health Integration Webinar Series? Check out these recordings to learn more about the newly introduced framework!

- Part 1: Introducing a New Framework
- Part 2: Domains and Constructs
- Part 3: Measuring Integration and Choosing Metrics
- Part 4: Payment Models for Comprehensive Health Integration

PARTNER SPOTLIGHT

PRIMARY CARE DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

In partnership with the CoE-IHS, Primary Care Development Corporation (PCDC) hosted the Integration at Work SAMHSA Webinar Series to empower professionals in integrated health care by providing tangible tools and resources for optimal care collaboration. Check out the new tip sheets summarizing the strategies shared during each session of the series:

- Driving Integrated Health at Your

- Organization: Quality Improvemen and Foundational Factors that Le to Success
- Wait, We've Gotta Ask That Too? Navigating Preventive Screening in Integrated Care Settings
- Making Integration Possible: Proactive Practices for Successful Collaboratio n
- The Art and Science of Integrated Care Partnerships

TOOLS & RESOURCES

The CoE-IHS provides a range of evidence-based resources, training opportunities and customized support for implementing integrated care practices, including:

- Access for Everyone: A Toolkit for Addressing Health Equity and Racial Justice within Integrated Care Settings
- Individualized free consultation with integrated care experts.
- Free and on-demand integrated care trainings through Relias for continuing education credits.
- Resources and tools to assess organizational readiness, building the business case and workforce development.
- Learning Collaborative and ECHO opportunities.
- Integrated care success stories.

Don't miss out on future opportunities from the CoE!

Subscribe for CoE Updates

CoE Center of Excellence for Integrated Health Solutions

NATIONAL COUNCIL for Mental Wellbeing

SAMHSA Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration

NATIONAL COUNCIL for Mental Wellbeing
1400 K Street NW, Suite 400
Washington, DC 20005

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Agenda for Social Services Appropriations Subcommittee on Tuesday,Aug. 16, 2022 1:00 PM
FROM: Legislative Automated Email System <boyd@le.utah.gov>
TO:
DATE: 12/08/2022 16:08

Link to document: https://le.utah.gov/Interim/2022/html/00003064.htm
Link to committee page: https://le.utah.gov/committee/committee.jsp?year=2022&com=APPSOC

[redacted]

1. 1:00 Call to Order

2. 1:05 Public Input on Topics on Today's Agenda

Please note: All members of the public wishing to speak to the committee must contact Debbie Benson before 2 p.m. Monday, Aug 15th at 801-243-2916. All public comment is subject to the discretion of the chairs.

3. 1:05 Unfinished Items from the Morning Agenda

4. 1:05 Opioid Settlement Fund Recommendations from Social Services

5. 1:25 Explore the Validity of Drug Tests in Medicaid

6. 1:55 How was ARPA Funding Used

7. 2:15 Projected Shortfalls in the Electronic Cigarette Substance and Nicotine Product Tax

8. 2:30 Services for Pregnant Women With Substance Abuse Disorder

9. 2:50 Affordable Housing Funding

10. 3:00 Tour DSPD Waiting List Clients, Medicaid Waiver Recipients

11. 3:45 Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund Cost Sharing

12. 4:00 Mental Health and Youth in Rural Utah, What Programs and Funding Exist for Them? Ages 3-21

13. 4:10 Refugee Assistance

14. 4:20 Follow Up on Performance Measures Audit

15. 4:50 Other Business

Please be aware that the public portions of this meeting will be broadcast live over the Internet. Also, be aware that an audio recording of the public portions of this meeting, along with any materials presented or distributed in the public portions of this meeting, will be posted on the Legislature's website. Witnesses with questions or concerns should contact staff.

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, persons needing auxiliary communicative aids and services for this meeting should call the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel at 801-538-1032 or use Relay Utah (toll free in-state 7-1-1 or Spanish-language 888-346-3162), giving them at least 48 hours notice or the best notice practicable.

Link to unsubscribe: https://le.utah.gov/tracking/unsubscribe.jsp?com=APPSOC&mess=538849&user=hborski@utah.gov

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: What's Ahead & Week in Review
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 14/08/2022 07:31

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 14, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

Good morning to you, health readers. We're a few days into a brave new world of relaxed COVID-19 guidance, courtesy of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

The agency's update last week generally shifted responsibility on limiting spread to individuals instead of businesses, schools and other institutions, a decision that was informed by the low risk of a severe bout with the disease thanks to population-level immunity and treatments.

All of which brings us to a very timely quiz question for the week: What share of registered voters rate the CDC's handling of the coronavirus as excellent or good?

A: 19%
B: 34%
C: 49%
D: 64%

You can find the answer at the bottom of the newsletter.

What's Ahead

With Congress out of session, it's an especially slow week in Washington — though our fair city's paper of record is doing its part to keep the health conversations going. Three Washington Post Live events to note:

- Rosamund Lewis, the World Health Organization's monkeypox technical lead, will join Post health reporter Dan Diamond on Monday at 10 a.m. for a conversation about the WHO's response to the disease and why she believes it probably won't develop into a global pandemic. (Stay tuned to this newsletter tomorrow for some fresh monkeypox data via a new Morning Consult survey).

- Kate Ryder, founder and chief executive of Maven Clinic, will join Post senior writer Frances Stead Sellers on Tuesday at 11 a.m. for a discussion about how the company — one of the country's biggest women's health-focused digital platforms — is handling its services after the fall of Roe v. Wade, as well as how it has evolved amid the pandemic-induced telehealth surge.

- Surgeon General Vivek Murthy and Zeinab Hijazi, senior mental health technical adviser for UNICEF, will convene at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday for a talk about solutions to address the country's youth mental health crisis.

Stat News reporter Angus Chen will moderate a discussion at 1 p.m. on Wednesday on cancer biomarkers and their status as the foundation of personalized oncology. The panel, which includes scientists and executives from the Lawrence J. Ellison Institute for Transformative Medicine, Bolt Biotherapeutics Inc., Astellas Pharma Inc. and Georgia Tech and Emory School of Medicine, will discuss whether biomarkers can offer predictive insights into the efficacy of treatments in specific patients, as well as fresh innovations in the space.

Earnings season has slowed considerably, but we'll be watching Tuesday for second-quarter results from one emerging health care giant: Walmart Inc., which continues to pursue its ambitious buildout of primary care clinics in select retail locations (while battling other mega-brands in the health care infrastructure space).

Events Calendar

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT

Geopolitical Competition and Infrastructure in the Americas

Robust demand for infrastructure investment in the Americas will pay geopolitical dividends for the U.S. and the E.U. and yield commercial opportunities for their multinationals. Download our latest report to learn more about geopolitical openings and commercial opportunities in Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, & Mexico. Download today.

Week in Review

Inflation Reduction Act: In a 220-207 vote on Friday, the House passed the Inflation Reduction Act, five days after Vice President Kamala Harris cast the tie-breaking tally for the Senate to pass Democrats' signature legislation. The IRA includes a three-year extension of Affordable Care Act subsidies, a cap on annual out-of-pocket drug costs for Part D patients, free vaccines to seniors in the Medicare program and the ability for Medicare to negotiate drug prices on no more than 20 high-cost drugs without strong competitors. President Joe Biden tweeted that he will sign the IRA into law this week.

Monkeypox: With limited supply of the monkeypox vaccine, the Biden administration decided to move forward with a plan to have patients receive one-fifth of a current dose injected into their skin as opposed to a full dose into the underlying fat. The FDA said children are now allowed to receive the vaccine if they're at high risk of infection.

Bavarian Nordic A/S Chief Executive Paul Chaplin expressed "reservations" about the dose-sparing plan with the drugmaker's Jynneos monkeypox vaccine, writing in a letter to Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra and Food and Drug Administration Commissioner Robert Califf that "it would have been prudent" to conduct additional studies on the strategy before full implementation. Califf later defended the plan.

Two senior Biden administration officials and two other people with knowledge of the situation said the administration is in discussions with several companies to bottle millions of monkeypox vaccine doses in what's known as a "fill and finish" process, though it could be another three to six months until those doses — roughly 12 million currently stored by Bavarian Nordic in Denmark — are ready to be distributed.

Siga Technologies Inc. said the federal government will pay $26 million for its intravenous formulation of the antiviral drug Tpoxx, giving patients suffering from monkeypox a non-oral option for treatment.

Amazon Care giveth, taketh: Amazon.com Inc. is planning to add behavioral health support to its array of medical offerings through its Amazon Care primary care service, with mental health service provider Ginger tapped as its partner to provide video-based therapy. As part of the partnership, the companies will share patient information and provide on-demand access to mental health experts, per a website touting the partnership and people familiar with the matter.

Months before Amazon's $3.9 billion acquisition of One Medical, CVS Health Corp. was engaged in discussions with the primary care clinic operator's parent company, 1Life Healthcare Inc., to buy the brand, according to people familiar with the matter. Per a proxy filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission, CVS negotiated with the company for months and offered to pay $18 a share in cash to acquire One Medical in June, but later expressed concerns about the "expedited pace" before Amazon swooped in with an equivalent offer last month.

COVID-19 tests, vaccines: The FDA issued new guidance that people who believe they have been infected with or exposed to COVID-19 take one at-home test, and then follow that up with a second test within 48 hours to rule out a false negative, with the agency noting the lack of efficacy rapid tests have compared to PCR lab tests.

Novavax Inc. cut its sales outlook for the year by roughly 50% to between $2 billion and $2.3 billion after suffering a net loss of $510.5 million in the second quarter, as no additional sales of its protein-based COVID-19 vaccine to the United States or the international vaccine-sharing alliance Covax are expected in 2022.

BioNTech SE reported a roughly 40% year-over-year drop in second-quarter revenue to $3.26 billion, though the Pfizer Inc. COVID-19 vaccine partner said it expects to start deliveries of its two reformulated vaccines targeting omicron subvariants as early as October.

STAT OF THE WEEK

10,400

The number of employees working out of Eli Lilly and Co.'s headquarters in Indianapolis. After Indiana became the first state to pass a new ban on abortion following the Supreme Court's ruling to overturn Roe v. Wade, the pharmaceutical giant said it "will be forced to plan for more employment growth outside our home state" since the law will hinder its "ability to attract diverse scientific, engineering and business talent from around the world."

THE MOST READ STORIES THIS WEEK

1) Sweeping budget package passes Senate; House on deck Friday
Lindsey McPherson and Laura Weiss, Roll Call

2) Fraud is the killjoy at the telehealth party
Ben Leonard, Politico

3) Your Amazon therapist will see you now: Tech giant plans to add mental health support to primary-care service
Eugene Kim, Insider Premium

4) Biden administration planning to extend Covid emergency declaration
Adam Cancryn and David Lim, Politico

5) Judge approves Blue Cross Blue Shield $2.67B antitrust settlement
Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare

6) U.S. Moves to Stretch Out Monkeypox Vaccine Supply
Sharon LaFraniere and Noah Weiland, The New York Times

7) Fish Oil Is Good! No, Bad! No, Good! No, Wait
Jacob Stern, The Atlantic

8) HHS invests $60M in rural health care workforce, access to care
Hannah Pagel, Agri-Pulse

9) The US is on a Covid plateau, and no one's sure what will happen next
Deidre McPhillips, CNN

10) Study connects climate hazards to 58% of infectious diseases
Seth Borenstein, The Associated Press

OTHER HEALTH NEWS

- Polio Has Been Detected in New York City Wastewater, Officials Say (The New York Times)

- Wyden wants details on Amgen's U.S. taxes as part of expanding probe into pharma practices (Stat News)

- Johnson & Johnson Drops Talcum Powder Globally as Lawsuits Mount (Bloomberg)
- Walgreens Offers Bonuses Up to $75,000 to Recruit Pharmacists (The Wall Street Journal)
- OIG: Part D plans sidestepped cheaper hep C generics for pricey brand-name versions (Fierce Healthcare)
- J&J COVID vaccine factory forced to trash even more doses (The Associated Press)
- Pfizer Agrees to $5.4 Billion Deal for Global Blood Therapeutics (The Wall Street Journal)
- HHS invests $60M in rural health care workforce, access to care (Agri-Pulse)
- Judge approves Blue Cross Blue Shield $2.67B antitrust settlement (Modern Healthcare)
- Study connects climate hazards to 58% of infectious diseases (The Associated Press)
- UnitedHealth Deal Questioned by DOJ on Risk of Data Misuse (Bloomberg)
- Drugmaker Endo Says Bankruptcy Likely Imminent (The Wall Street Journal)
- Judge: Walgreens contributed to San Francisco opioid crisis (The Associated Press)

The answer to this week's quiz question is C: 49% of voters rate the CDC's handling of COVID-19 as excellent or good, per the latest Morning Consult/Politico survey. Another 45% said the agency has been fair or poor on its coronavirus performance. You can dig into the crosstabs here.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Starting in September! Two New Series on Adult Urology in Primary Care
FROM: ECHO Colorado <susan.stoveall@cuanschutz.edu>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 14/08/2022 13:59

Adult Urology in Primary Care

The Adult Urology in Primary Care ECHO series aim to give primary care physicians and providers the baseline knowledge and skills needed to assess and manage common, non-surgical, urologic conditions in adults. These two, new ECHO series serve as a virtual space where primary care providers and specialists can collaborate to increase access to care for patients with urologic conditions. ECHO participation will also enable connections between healthcare providers, maximizing patient evaluation and facilitating consultations and co-management among primary care providers and specialists.

Register for one or both series using the links below.

ADULT UROLOGY IN PRIMARY CARE
LEARNING CASE CONFERENCE

Sessions will include a didactic presentation by an expert, opportunities for Q&A with the expert and case-based discussions. Participants are highly encouraged to bring de-identified patient cases for group discussion and expert consultation. See below for topics covered in each block. Resources and referral information will be shared throughout the series.

AUDIENCE

Colorado prescribing providers working in adult primary care

SCHEDULE

Sessions held virtually every first Friday of the month
12:00 - 1:00 PM MT
First session September 2

BLOCK 1

The Urinalysis and Urine Culture in Urology:
Common Questions and Pathologies

Sept. 2: The Urinalysis
Oct. 7: Evaluation of Microscopic Hematuria - Review of the Updated AUA Risk-Stratified Guidelines
Nov. 4: Bacteriuria in Non-Pregnant Adults: How do we define and manage asymptomatic bacteriuria vs UTI

Watch for information about Blocks 2 and 3.

SIGN UP FOR BLOCK 1

ADULT UROLOGY IN PRIMARY CARE OFFICE HOURS

This is a new, monthly, free, drop-in opportunity designed for Colorado-based primary care providers (MD, DO, NP, PA, APP) to discuss urology topics of their choice and receive feedback from a urology specialist. This ongoing series will allow participants to share de-identified cases, including de-identified patient imaging, and ask questions for peer-to-peer and specialist consultation to support one another in patient diagnosis and management.

Read more about Office Hours.

AUDIENCE

Colorado prescribing providers working in adult primary care

SCHEDULE

Sessions held virtually every second Friday of the month
12:00 - 1:00 PM MT
First session September 9

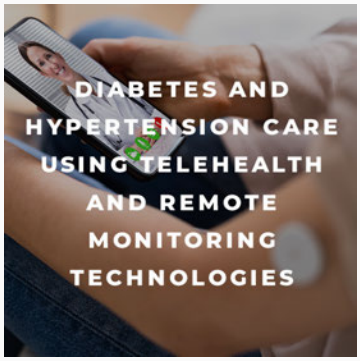
Registered participants can attend sessions at any time.
Series ends June 9, 2023. No Office Hours April 14, 2023.

SIGN UP FOR OFFICE HOURS

The new Urology in Primary Care ECHO series are offered through a partnership with:
University of Colorado School of Medicine Division of Urology

---

MORE UPCOMING ECHOS



EXTENSION FOR COMMUNITY HEALTH OUTCOMES | ECHOCOLORADO.ORG

Copyright © 2021 ECHO Colorado, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you opted in at our website.

Our mailing address is:
ECHO Colorado
13755 E 17th Ave Stop F801
Aurora, CO 80045-2505

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

SUBJECT: Fwd: Agenda for Social Services Appropriations Subcommittee onTuesday, Aug. 16, 2022 1:00 PM
FROM: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
TO: Brandi Frandsen <btfrands@utah.gov>, Anna Fondario <afondario@utah.gov>
CC: JANAE DUNCAN <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
DATE: 14/08/2022 16:04

FYI----according to this agenda, it looks like the SCI/TBI cost sharing report item was moved up to the morning session.....
HB

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Legislative Automated Email System <boyd@le.utah.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 12, 2022 at 4:09 PM
Subject: Agenda for Social Services Appropriations Subcommittee on Tuesday, Aug. 16, 2022 1:00 PM
To:

Link to document: https://le.utah.gov/Interim/2022/html/00003064.htm
Link to committee page: https://le.utah.gov/committee/committee.jsp?year=2022&com=APPSOC

1. 1:00 Call to Order

2. 1:05 Public Input on Topics on Today's Agenda

Please note: All members of the public wishing to speak to the committee must contact Debbie Benson before 2 p.m. Monday, Aug 15th at 801-243-2916. All public comment is subject to the discretion of the chairs.

3. 1:05 Unfinished Items from the Morning Agenda

4. 1:05 Opioid Settlement Fund Recommendations from Social Services

5. 1:25 Explore the Validity of Drug Tests in Medicaid

6. 1:55 How was ARPA Funding Used

7. 2:15 Projected Shortfalls in the Electronic Cigarette Substance and Nicotine Product Tax

8. 2:30 Services for Pregnant Women With Substance Abuse Disorder

9. 2:50 Affordable Housing Funding

10. 3:00 Tour DSPD Waiting List Clients, Medicaid Waiver Recipients

11. 3:45 Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund Cost Sharing

12. 4:00 Mental Health and Youth in Rural Utah, What Programs and Funding Exist for Them? Ages 3-21

13. 4:10 Refugee Assistance

14. 4:20 Follow Up on Performance Measures Audit

15. 4:50 Other Business

Please be aware that the public portions of this meeting will be broadcast live over the Internet. Also, be aware that an audio recording of the public portions of this meeting, along with any materials presented or distributed in the public portions of this meeting, will be posted on the Legislature's website. Witnesses with questions or concerns should contact staff.

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, persons needing auxiliary communicative aids and services for this meeting should call the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel at 801-538-1032 or use Relay Utah (toll free in-state 7-1-1 or Spanish-language 888-346-3162), giving them at least 48 hours notice or the best notice practicable.

Link to unsubscribe: https://le.utah.gov/tracking/unsubscribe.jsp?com=APPSOC&mess=538849&user=hborski@utah.gov

SUBJECT: Re: Agenda for Social Services Appropriations Subcommittee onTuesday, Aug. 16, 2022 1:00 PM
FROM: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
TO: Brandi Frandsen <btfrands@utah.gov>, Anna Fondario <afondario@utah.gov>
CC: JANAE DUNCAN <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>, "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
DATE: 14/08/2022 16:05

HA! JUST KIDDING!!!!!! I opened this email first and mis-read it---this IS the afternoon agenda! Apologies for creating confusion
HB

On Sun, Aug 14, 2022 at 4:04 PM Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov> wrote:

FYI----according to this agenda, it looks like the SCI/TBI cost sharing report item was moved up to the morning session.....
HB

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Legislative Automated Email System <boyd@le.utah.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 12, 2022 at 4:09 PM
Subject: Agenda for Social Services Appropriations Subcommittee on Tuesday, Aug. 16, 2022 1:00 PM
To:

Link to document: https://le.utah.gov/Interim/2022/html/00003064.htm
Link to committee page: https://le.utah.gov/committee/committee.jsp?year=2022&com=APPSOC

1. 1:00 Call to Order

2. 1:05 Public Input on Topics on Today's Agenda

Please note: All members of the public wishing to speak to the committee must contact Debbie Benson before 2 p.m. Monday, Aug 15th at 801-243-2916. All public comment is subject to the discretion of the chairs.

3. 1:05 Unfinished Items from the Morning Agenda

4. 1:05 Opioid Settlement Fund Recommendations from Social Services

5. 1:25 Explore the Validity of Drug Tests in Medicaid

6. 1:55 How was ARPA Funding Used

7. 2:15 Projected Shortfalls in the Electronic Cigarette Substance and Nicotine Product Tax

8. 2:30 Services for Pregnant Women With Substance Abuse Disorder

9. 2:50 Affordable Housing Funding

10. 3:00 Tour DSPD Waiting List Clients, Medicaid Waiver Recipients

11. 3:45 Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund Cost Sharing

12. 4:00 Mental Health and Youth in Rural Utah, What Programs and Funding Exist for Them? Ages 3-21

13. 4:10 Refugee Assistance

14. 4:20 Follow Up on Performance Measures Audit

15. 4:50 Other Business

Please be aware that the public portions of this meeting will be broadcast live over the Internet. Also, be aware that an audio recording of the public portions of this meeting, along with any materials presented or distributed in the public portions of this meeting, will be posted on the Legislature's website. Witnesses with questions or concerns should contact staff.

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, persons needing auxiliary communicative aids and services for this meeting should call the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel at 801-538-1032 or use Relay Utah (toll free in-state 7-1-1 or Spanish-language 888-346-3162), giving them at least 48 hours notice or the best notice practicable.

Link to unsubscribe: https://le.utah.gov/tracking/unsubscribe.jsp?com=APPSOC&mess=538849&user=hborski@utah.gov

SUBJECT: Budget Bill A Start In Climate Fight, Insurance Experts Say
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 15/08/2022 02:34

Monday, August 15, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Analysis

Budget Bill A Start In Climate Fight, Insurance Experts Say

Proposals to funnel billions of dollars to disadvantaged communities to prepare for extreme weather form a key part of the $430 billion budget bill approved by U.S. lawmakers, but insurance experts said the money would only be a start in preventing worsening losses.

Read full article »

Analysis

Feds Aim For More Insight On Hacks With Maze Of Policies

As U.S. federal agencies push for more visibility into cyberattacks with a fast-developing patchwork of reporting rules, industry observers are keeping a close eye on how broadly the new laws will define covered entities and how quickly companies will be required to notify officials.

Read full article »

Analysis

Big Pharma Expected To Put Up Fight Over Drug Negotiations

After House Democrats on Friday approved landmark legislation allowing Medicare to negotiate prescription drug prices, attention is turning from Congress to the courts, where observers expect an angry pharmaceutical industry to seek judicial intervention after its lobbying efforts failed.

Read full article »

Analysis

The Quiet Power Of Amy Coney Barrett

She is not the most talkative at oral arguments nor does she write the most opinions, but Justice Amy Coney Barrett is a key player in the U.S. Supreme Court's conservative majority who seems to be in control over the law's rightward push.

Read full article »

Analysis

New Patent Bill Could Boost Diagnostics, But Needs Work

Patents on medical diagnostics have been repeatedly struck down under current patent eligibility standards, and while a new bill may help turn the tide if enacted, it needs revisions to ensure that methods of diagnosing disease can be patented, attorneys say.

Bill attached | Read full article »

Analysis

Book Publishing Industry Gets Close Read In Merger Trial

After two weeks presiding over the government's effort to stop Penguin Random House's planned purchase of Simon & Schuster, U.S. District Judge Florence Y. Pan has shown both skepticism and frustration with arguments made by both sides of the merger fight.

Read full article »

Analysis

Griner Sentencing Moves Case Toward Hazy Diplomatic Phase

Russia's sentencing of WNBA All-Star Brittney Griner to nine years in a penal colony on drug trafficking charges marked an important shift in the U.S. government's effort to bring the basketball superstar home, as the legal process gave way to a fully diplomatic effort.

Read full article »

House Sends Landmark Tax And Climate Bill To Biden

The House on Friday passed the tax, climate and health care legislation known as the Inflation Reduction Act, sending the measure to President Joe Biden for his signature.

Bill attached | Read full article »

Threats Over Mar-A-Lago Warrant Not Surprising, Say Judges

The attacks against U.S. Magistrate Judge Bruce E. Reinhart on social media show that Congress, which has been dragging its feet on legislation to address judicial safety, isn't doing enough, federal judges told Law360 Pulse.

Read full article »

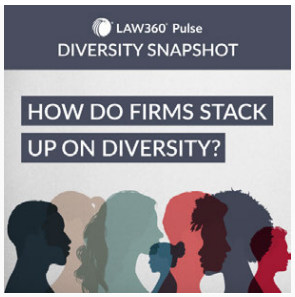
Meet Trump's New Hip-Hop Lawyer In Georgia Probe

Former President Donald Trump is pretty comfortable with lawyers of all stripes. His newest hire for a Georgia probe of election interference is Atlanta attorney Drew Findling, a pro-choice, anti-mass incarceration advocate best known for representing hip-hop luminaries such as Cardi B. Here, Law360 Pulse offers five things to know about Drew Findling.

Read full article »

Eastman Faces DC Bar Complaint For 2020 Election 'Scheme'

Embattled lawyer John Eastman has been slapped with an ethics complaint in Washington, D.C., accusing him of



LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Adams Lynch
Akerman LLP
Akin Gump
Alston & Bird
Arnold & Porter
Bartlett LLP
Beard Kultgen
Berger Singerman
Beveridge & Diamond
Blank Rome
Boies Schiller
Boyle Leonard
Bradley Arant
Cantey Hanger
Cleary Gottlieb
Consumer Litigation Associates
Cooley LLP
Crowell & Moring
Crowley Fleck
DLA Piper
Davis Polk
Duane Morris LLP
Eisenberg & Baum
Fish & Richardson
Fox Rothschild
Gerber Ciano
Gibbons PC
Gibson Dunn
Goldberg & Rosen
Goldberg Segalla
Goodwin Procter
Greenberg Traurig
Grossman Roth
Gunderson Palmer
Harris Wiltshire
Hausfeld LLP
Haynes & Boone
Heise Suarez
Hogan Lovells
Hunton Andrews
Jenner & Block
Jomarron Lopez
Kennedys Law LLP
Kilpatrick Townsend
King & Spalding

abusing his law license as he worked on behalf of then-President Donald Trump on legal challenges aimed at upending the results of the 2020 presidential election.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

CFTC Adopts Swaps Clearing Changes In Prep For Libor's End

The U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission on Friday released a final rule updating its interest rate swap clearing requirements in preparation for the imminent demise of the London Interbank Offered Rate, or Libor, the latest step forward in a multiyear, industrywide transition.

1 document attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

Obama-Era Coal Policy Reignited Pending Fed Review

A Montana federal judge Friday reinstated a halt on federal coal leasing that was imposed by the Obama administration and then gutted by the Trump administration, saying a federal review needs to be completed to analyze the environmental effects of rolling back the moratorium.

Order attached | Read full article »

DC Circ. Sends Chevron Offshore Oil Rig Fight To 9th Circ.

A D.C. Circuit panel ruled Friday that Chevron Corp. needs to head to the Ninth Circuit with its challenge to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's finding that two of the company's soon-to-be-decommissioned offshore oil platforms are still subject to Clean Air Act regulations.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

DC Circ. Says Racers Didn't Show Emissions Rule Was U-Turn

The D.C. Circuit on Friday tossed a challenge to Obama-era greenhouse gas and fuel efficiency standards, ruling a group of car racing enthusiasts and suppliers failed to show the EPA made a policy U-turn or that updated standards caused them harm.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Groups Ink Deal To End BLM Colo. Oil & Gas Plan Challenge

The U.S. Department of the Interior agreed to stop new oil and gas leasing across 2.2 million acres of southwestern Colorado until additional environmental review and resource management plans are completed, in a settlement with environmental groups.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Bipartisan Bill Would Amp Up Broadband Along Electric Grid

A pair of senators are touting a bipartisan bill that would support the installation of broadband equipment along the nation's power grid to ease the deployment of high-speed internet in hard-to-reach areas.

Bill attached | Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

NYC Council Passes Package Addressing Pregnancy Bias

The New York City Council passed a legislative package to expand maternal health care services in the city and address systemic disparities in care for people of color, including a bill to educate the public on the discrimination pregnant people face and workplace accommodations available for them.

Bill attached | Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

BofA Beats Suit Over Md. Unemployment Benefits Cards

A Baltimore federal judge has thrown out a proposed consumer class action accusing Bank of America of bungling its management of Maryland's unemployment benefits debit cards during the pandemic, ruling on Thursday the plaintiff couldn't invoke the protections of the federal law he sued under.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

2nd Circ. Backs MTA's Win In Deaf Applicant's Bias Suit

Kirkland & Ellis
Kirkman Law Firm
Kozyak Tropin
Kramer Levin
Lankler Siffert
Latham & Watkins
Law Firm of Gary Williams Parenti Watson & Gary
Law Office of Bryan L. Sells
Leech Tishman
Lewis Brisbois
LippSmith LLP
Lowenstein Sandler
Manatt Phelps
Morgan Lewis
Morrison Foerster
Norton Rose
O'Melveny & Myers
Paul Hastings
Paul Weiss
Perseus Strategies
Pita Weber
Podhurst Orseck
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel
Reed Smith
Ridley McGreevy
Ropes & Gray
Saltz Mongeluzzi
Saul Ewing
Schwegman Lundberg
Searcy Denney
Shearman & Sterling
Sheppard Mullin
Shook Hardy
Sidley Austin
Silva & Silva PA
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Sterne Kessler
Stinson LLP
Sullivan & Worcester
Taylor English
Taylor Lee & Associates
Troutman Pepper
Wachtell Lipton
Whitaker Chalk
White & Case
Wiley Rein
Williams & Connolly
Wilson Sonsini
Winston & Strawn
Withersworldwide

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

AARP Inc.
American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials
American Bankers Association
American Bar Association
American Property Casualty Insurance Association
Andreessen Horowitz LLC
Apple Inc.
Archer-Daniels-Midland Co.
Associated Press

The Second Circuit on Friday upheld the New York City bus system's defeat of a suit alleging it failed to provide a sign language interpreter to a deaf job applicant, saying the transit authority wasn't legally required to do so because he wasn't qualified for the position he wanted.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

Ex-Poultry Execs Can't Bypass Grand Jury Secrecy, Feds Say

The U.S. Department of Justice urged a Colorado federal court to withhold grand jury transcripts from former chicken industry executives facing price-fixing accusations, saying that the officials haven't shown a specific need for the information.

Response attached | Read full article »

Change's Data Can't Be Used Anti-Competitively, Judge Told

An expert witness for UnitedHealth Group and Change Healthcare testified Friday there's no real risk the proposed $13.8 billion deal to buy Change would give a UHG subsidiary a leg up on rival insurers, assailing the U.S. Department of Justice for making overblown predictions about how Change's data could be used to hurt competitors.

Read full article »

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

Commerce Adds 4 Emerging Technologies To Control List

The Bureau of Industry and Security, part of the U.S. Department of Commerce, announced a new rule Friday limiting exports of four emerging technologies it called "essential to the national security of the United States," including two semiconductor substrates, integrated circuit design software and pressure gain combustion technology.

1 document attached | Read full article »

TAX

Analysis

3 Things State Tax Pros Should Know About The Inflation Act

State tax professionals are still digesting Democrats' tax, climate and health care legislation known as the Inflation Reduction Act, but at first blush, they see several provisions that could have a significant effect on states. Here, Law360 presents three provisions of the bill to know.

Read full article »

Analysis

New 25% Chip Tax Credit Sparks Interest Amid Uncertainty

Semiconductor companies can receive a 25% tax credit thanks to a new law designed to help boost domestic chip production, but the incentive has practitioners uncertain as to what kind of investments can qualify.

Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

SD County Must Fix Native American Vote Dilution

A South Dakota county must change its current voting system after a federal judge ruled that county officials likely violated the Voting Rights Act by diluting Native Americans' voting and that a new plan must be found, even with elections approaching in November.

Order attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

FCC Permanently Allows Amtrak To Deploy Safety Controls

The Federal Communications Commission moved Thursday to allow Amtrak to permanently deploy congressionally required safety technology on a railway connecting Poughkeepsie to Schenectady, New York.

Letter attached | Read full article »

DC Circ. Upholds FCC's Revamp Of Auto Safety Band

The D.C. Circuit on Friday upheld the Federal Communications Commission's move to reconfigure a spectrum band previously reserved for roadway safety to make room for unlicensed wireless devices such as Wi-Fi.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

Bank of America Corp.
Bates White LLC
Baylor University
CRST International Inc.
Cable News Network Inc.
Cargill Inc.
Center for Biological Diversity
Change Healthcare Inc.
Chevron Corp.
Citadel Enterprise Americas LLC
Cognizant Technology Solutions Corp.
Coinbase Global Inc.
Colonial Pipeline Co.
Colorado Rockies
DaVita Inc.
Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Ltd.
Earthjustice
Endeavor Operating Company LLC
Ernst & Young LLP
Federal Bar Association
Georgetown University
Getty Images Inc.
Google LLC
Gucci Group NV
Hachette Book Group Inc.
HarperCollins Publishers LLC
Huntington Bancshares Inc.
Instagram Inc.
JAMS Inc.
Lions Gate Entertainment Corp.
MSP Recovery
Macmillan Publishers Ltd.
Massachusetts Institute of Technology
McDonald's Corp.
Metropolitan Transportation Authority
Mirae Asset Financial Group
Mitratech Holdings Inc.
Mizuho Bank Ltd.
NBCUniversal Media LLC
National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers
National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies
National Mining Association
Native American Rights Fund Inc.
NetSuite Inc.
Northeastern University
Onyx Renewable Partners LP
Optum Inc.
PGA TOUR Inc.
Paramount Global
Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America
Pilgrim's Pride Corp.
Ruby Tuesday Inc.
Sequoia Capital Operations LLC
Sierra Club
Simon & Schuster Inc.
Sompo International Holdings Ltd.
Space Exploration Technologies Corp.
Spotify Technology SA
State Bar of California
State Bar of Georgia
Surfside

Cannabis Bill Roundup: Mass. Social Equity Bill Becomes Law

A landmark piece of legislation to reform Massachusetts' cannabis laws was approved by the governor, while a New Jersey lawmaker filed a bill eyeing potential future interstate cannabis commerce in the Northeast. Here are the major moves in cannabis and drug reform legislation from the past week.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Ga. Regulators Urge 11th Circ. To Toss Pot Co. Appeal

Georgia medical cannabis regulators urged the Eleventh Circuit on Wednesday to toss an appeal brought by a company that was denied a production license, saying the business had no standing to sue since cannabis remains federally illegal.

Brief attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

Ex-Special Counsel For Jan. 6 Panel Joins Jenner & Block

Jenner & Block LLP is bringing on a former solicitor general of Virginia and special counsel to the committee investigating the Jan. 6 attack on the Capitol as a partner in its appellate practice in Washington, D.C., the firm said Friday.

Read full article »

US Auto Safety Chief To Rejoin California Air Resources Board

The head of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration is leaving the federal auto safety regulator to rejoin the California Air Resources Board in September, stepping down just months after he was confirmed by the U.S. Senate.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Inflation Reduction Act Loan Funds Will Aid Energy Innovation

By providing an extra $70 billion to the U.S. Department of Energy's Loan Program Office, the Inflation Reduction Act has the potential to significantly increase financing for innovative energy production and storage projects — and to do so in a fiscally responsible manner, say attorneys at Kilpatrick.

Read full article »

Pa. Cannabis Banking Law Won't Allay Finance Industry Fears

Though a new Pennsylvania law allows financial institutions and insurers to provide services to the state's legal cannabis industry, it's unlikely to assuage most financial industry operators' fears of federal reprisal, and their reluctance to work with cannabis businesses will surely persist, says Michael Sampson at Leech Tishman.

Read full article »

Preparing For Small Biz Subcontractor Evals After New Rules

With the U.S. Small Business Administration's rules requiring prime contractors to provide past-performance evaluations going into effect this month, large government contractors and small business subcontractors should consider the additional administrative burdens and compliance risks, says Tyler Evans at Steptoe & Johnson.

Read full article »

State Ransomware Payment Laws Raise Insurance Questions

Recent Florida and North Carolina statutory prohibitions on government agencies' ransomware payments will not just affect public entities' response to ransomware incidents, but also require consideration from insurers whose policies may cover ransom payments, say Ted Brown and Mallory Meaney at Wiley.

Read full article »

Nursing Homes Must Brace For Data-Driven DOJ Scrutiny

The U.S. Department of Justice's recently filed False Claims Act complaint against American Health Foundation signals the ramp-up of a DOJ initiative to scrutinize substandard nursing home quality — and a greater reliance on data analysis in enforcement, say Brenna Jenny and Francesca Ozinal at Sidley.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Surgical Care Affiliates Inc.
TaskUs Inc.
Tax Foundation
Tesla Inc.
The E.W. Scripps Company
The New York Times Co.
TransUnion LLC
Twitter Inc.
United States Soccer Federation Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
UnitedLex Corp.
University of California Davis
VOYlegal LLC
Valor Equity Partners LP
W. W. Norton & Company Inc.
WNBA Enterprises LLC
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.
Washington Post Co.
Western Environmental Law Center
Western Sugar Cooperative
Zeughauser Group LLC

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Bank of England
Bureau of Industry and Security
Bureau of Land Management
California Air Resources Board
California Department of Justice
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
Clayton County, Georgia
Commodity Futures Trading Commission
Competition and Markets Authority
Congressional Research Service
Delaware Court of Chancery
Energy Information Administration
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
European Commission
Executive Office of the President
Federal Acquisition Regulatory Council
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.
Federal Reserve System
Federal Trade Commission
Fish and Wildlife Service
Food and Drug Administration
Georgia Access to Medical Cannabis Commission
Georgia Attorney General's Office
Internal Revenue Service
Massachusetts Cannabis Control Commission
National Highway Traffic Safety Administration
National Railroad Passenger Corp.
National Telecommunications and Information Administration
New Jersey Legislature
New Mexico Attorney General's Office

Expect More DOJ Labor Market Enforcement, Despite Losses

Though the U.S. Department of Justice faced trial setbacks earlier this year, it seems undeterred in its labor market enforcement, not only from investigating and prosecuting antitrust violations, but also in its efforts to generate precedent and drive doctrine around these issues, says Carsten Reichel at Norton Rose.

Read full article »

Opinion

The Defense Bar Must Push Back On Social Inflation

Social and litigation trends such as the rise of opioid and #MeToo cases have led to greater risks of nuclear verdicts for the defense bar and insurers, making efforts for tort reform, regulation of litigation funding and coordinated defense strategies essential, say Christopher Carroll and Joshua Wirtshafter at Kennedys and Rachel Kim at Sompo International.

Read full article »

A Law Firm's Guide To Avoiding Client Conflicts

With the pace of law firm mergers accelerating, Mark Hinderks at Stinson reviews the conflict of interest rules that may derail a deal or cause a firm to lose a new or existing client, and how courts have filled in perceived gaps in the rules.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Trump Warrant Shows Espionage, Obstruction Investigation

Former President Donald Trump is under investigation for obstruction of justice and potential violations of the Espionage Act, according to a search warrant for his Mar-a-Lago property unsealed Friday afternoon.

Read full article »

Sheppard Mullin Entertainment Atty's Star Turn As Filmmaker

In his more than 30 years as an entertainment lawyer, Robert Darwell, a partner with Sheppard Mullin Richter & Hampton LLP, has handled virtually every legal aspect of moviemaking, including writing contracts and leases for production offices, arranging financing and securing intellectual property rights. Despite all that exposure to the film world, he'd never actually made a film himself — until now, that is.

Read full article »

Insurer Fighting Coverage Of $21M LeClairRyan Settlement

An insurance business has urged a Kansas federal court to rule it has no obligation to defend or indemnify UnitedLex Corp. in an underlying lawsuit in which the legal services company is accused of conspiring to mismanage the joint venture of a law firm on the verge of bankruptcy.

Read full article »

Analysis

Subpoena Blizzard Sets Stage For Musk-Twitter Trial In Del.

There are captains of finance, titans of tech, friends of Elon Musk, defenders of Twitter, financial firms, banks, lawyers and more, all caught in a blizzard of subpoenas tied to Twitter's lawsuit in Delaware Chancery Court challenging Musk's attempt to terminate his $44 billion offer to buy the social media giant.

Read full article »

Skadden, Baylor-Linked Foundation End Billing Row In Texas

Skadden Arps Slate Meagher & Flom LLP has resolved a fight with a former client, a Baylor University-affiliated nonprofit, over a $2.4 million bill for the firm's six months of work for the foundation, court records show.

Read full article »

Judge Orders Scam Claimants In $1B Surfside Deal To Court

The judge overseeing the consolidated litigation over the collapse of the Champlain Towers South condominium in Surfside, Florida, has ordered the filers of hundreds of

New York Attorney General's Office
New York City Council
Northern Cheyenne Tribe
Occupational Safety and Health Administration
Office of the Comptroller of the Currency
Small Business Administration
Texas Supreme Court
Transportation Security Administration
U.S. Air Force
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Colorado
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Virginia
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Energy
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of Transportation
U.S. Department of the Interior
U.S. Department of the Treasury
U.S. District Court for the Central District of California
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Secret Service
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the District of Colorado
United States District Court for the District of Kansas
United States District Court for the District of Montana
United States District Court for the District of South Dakota
Wage and Hour Division
Washington Attorney General's Office

presumptively fraudulent claims against the $1 billion global settlement to show up in person in his courtroom to testify under oath.

Read full article »

Apple Jury Notes Shed Light On Misconduct Ahead Of Mistrial

Jury notes entered Thursday from the trial for Pinn Inc.'s $42 million patent infringement suit over Apple's AirPods revealed two incidents of possible jury misconduct that may explain the judge's decision to declare a mistrial, including a juror doing outside research and another mocking up a demonstrative exhibit for deliberations.

Read full article »

Women's Team Nets Approval For $24M US Soccer Settlement

Barring any extraordinary developments in the next four months, the U.S. women's national soccer team is one step away from officially receiving a $24 million payout from the U.S. Soccer Federation, after a California federal judge preliminarily approved their class settlement.

Read full article »

Justices Urged To Clarify Fair Use Through Warhol Art IP Row

The head of the American Bar Association's copyright division said Friday that the U.S. Supreme Court should establish a clear standard for fair use in a copyright battle over Andy Warhol artwork based on a photo of musician Prince, arguing it's a chance for the court to spell out what counts as a transformative work.

Read full article »

Ex-GC Says Energy Co. Has No Case In Trade Secrets Suit

The former general counsel of a solar company in New York asked a federal judge to toss a suit that the company brought in May, accusing the lawyer of stealing trade secrets from its digital cloud, arguing the company has no evidence to prove theft.

Read full article »

In Case You Missed It: Hottest Firms And Stories On Law360

For those who missed out, here's a look back at the law firms, stories and expert analyses that generated the most buzz on Law360 last week.

Read full article »

GC Cheat Sheet: The Hottest Corporate News Of The Week

General counsel should be aware of indirect ramifications of the Inflation Reduction Act that's likely to become law, and industry observers are watching how quickly companies will be required to notify officials under new measures that push for more visibility into cyberattacks. These are some of the stories in corporate legal news you may have missed in the past week.

Read full article »

Podcast

Pro Say: The Antitrust Fight Tearing Pro Golf Apart

The contentious battle over the newly formed, Saudi Arabia-funded LIV Golf is rocking the professional golf world, with a group of players arguing that the PGA Tour violated antitrust laws by refusing to allow them to participate in both events.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions
Illinois Attorney General's Office
-, -

Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Bank Policy Institute
Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Big Pharma Expected To Put Up Fight Over Drug Negotiations
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 15/08/2022 03:35

LAW360®

Monday, August 15, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Analysis

Big Pharma Expected To Put Up Fight Over Drug Negotiations

After House Democrats on Friday approved landmark legislation allowing Medicare to negotiate prescription drug prices, attention is turning from Congress to the courts, where observers expect an angry pharmaceutical industry to seek judicial intervention after its lobbying efforts failed.

Read full article »

Change's Data Can't Be Used Anti-Competitively, Judge Told

An expert witness for UnitedHealth Group and Change Healthcare testified Friday there's no real risk the proposed $13.8 billion deal to buy Change would give a UHG subsidiary a leg up on rival insurers, assailing the U.S. Department of Justice for making overblown predictions about how Change's data could be used to hurt competitors.

Read full article »

6th Circ. Upholds Hospital's Win In Nurse's ADA Suit

The Sixth Circuit upheld a win Friday for a Michigan hospital in a former nurse anesthetist's lawsuit alleging she was unlawfully fired after she had a concussion at work, saying she couldn't sue the hospital under federal disability law because it wasn't technically her employer.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Health Hires: WelbeHealth, Enzo Biochem, CooperCompanies

WelbeHealth, Enzo Biochem and CooperCompanies have all named new legal heads, highlighting Law360's latest roundup of personnel moves in health care and life sciences.

Read full article »

POLICY & REGULATION

House Sends Landmark Tax And Climate Bill To Biden

The House on Friday passed the tax, climate and health care legislation known as the Inflation Reduction Act, sending the measure to President Joe Biden for his signature.

Bill attached | Read full article »

Analysis

3 Things State Tax Pros Should Know About The Inflation Act

State tax professionals are still digesting Democrats' tax, climate and health care legislation known as the Inflation Reduction Act, but at first blush, they see several provisions that could have a significant effect on states. Here, Law360 presents three provisions of the bill to know.

Read full article »

ENFORCEMENT & COMPLIANCE

Pharma Exec Admits Lying To FDA About Weight-Loss Drug

The chief operating officer of a New Jersey pharmaceutical company has admitted that he lied and submitted falsified documents to federal regulators in an attempt to gain rights

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

AARP Inc.
Allianz SE Reinsurance
American Bankers Association
American Bar Association
Andreessen Horowitz LLC
Apple Inc.
Archer-Daniels-Midland Co.
Associated Press
Baylor University
Boston Celtics
Brooklyn Nets
CRST International Inc.
Cable News Network Inc.
Cargill Inc.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Chevron Corp.
Chicago Bulls
Cincinnati Financial Corp.
Citadel Enterprise Americas LLC
Cognizant Technology Solutions Corp.
Coinbase Global Inc.
DaVita Inc.
Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Ltd.
Eli Lilly & Co.
Enzo Biochem Inc.
Ernst & Young LLP

to a weight-loss drug he did not actually own, authorities said Friday.

Read full article »

Appalachia Opioid Charges Dropped After High Court Ruling

The U.S. Department of Justice has dropped its charges against the remaining defendants in a case accusing a defunct drug distributor, two of its executives and two pharmacists of colluding to flood small towns in Appalachia with highly addictive painkillers, after a U.S. Supreme Court ruling made such cases harder to prove.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Head Suspect In NBA Health Fraud Scheme To Cop Plea

A former NBA player charged with masterminding a nearly $4 million health care fraud scheme is planning to enter a guilty plea later this month, according to a Thursday filing in Manhattan federal court.

Order attached | Read full article »

LITIGATION

Wis. Court Ends Hospital's COVID-19 Coverage Bid

A Wisconsin federal judge tossed a Milwaukee health system's bid for pandemic-related loss coverage from Factory Mutual Insurance Co., finding that the case falls in line with many other similar suits rejected by courts.

Decision attached | Read full article »

Rite Aid Illegally Altered Workers' Health Care, NLRB Says

The National Labor Relations Board found that Rite Aid unlawfully changed health care insurance benefits for retirees and part-time workers without bargaining with a United Food and Commercial Workers local, affirming an agency judge's decision in the case and amending some remedies in a prior ruling.

Decision attached | Read full article »

Fla. Judges Say Baptist Hospital Malpractice Suit Can Proceed

A Florida appellate court on Wednesday revived a medical malpractice suit filed against Baptist Hospital in Pensacola by a woman who sustained brain damage, disagreeing with a lower court that found the company can't be held liable for actions by a contracted doctor.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Health District Seeks 9th Circ. Redo In Virus Coverage Row

A California health care district asked the Ninth Circuit to rehear its COVID-19 insurance coverage appeal against a Zurich Insurance Group unit, arguing in a petition that the court's previous decision glosses over policy provisions the health district said provide coverage.

Petition attached | Read full article »

Investors Sue Pharma Co. In Chancery Over Diabetes Drug

A shareholder of Provention Bio Inc. filed a derivative suit against the company's officers and directors in Delaware's Chancery Court for damages surrounding the alleged hype of a type 1 diabetes drug that failed to gain regulatory approval as promised.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Nursing Homes Must Brace For Data-Driven DOJ Scrutiny

The U.S. Department of Justice's recently filed False Claims Act complaint against American Health Foundation signals the ramp-up of a DOJ initiative to scrutinize substandard nursing home quality — and a greater reliance on data analysis in enforcement, say Brenna Jenny and Francesca Ozinal at Sidley.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Expect More DOJ Labor Market Enforcement, Despite Losses

Though the U.S. Department of Justice faced trial setbacks earlier this year, it seems undeterred in its labor market enforcement, not only from investigating and prosecuting antitrust violations, but also in its efforts to generate precedent and drive doctrine around these issues, says Carsten Reichel at Norton Rose.

Read full article »

Federal Bar Association
Froedtert & The Medical College of Wisconsin
Georgetown University
Getty Images Inc.
Google LLC
Gucci Group NV
Huntington Bancshares Inc.
Instagram Inc.
Iora Health LLC
JAMS Inc.
Lions Gate Entertainment Corp.
Los Angeles Clippers
MSP Recovery
MacroGenics Inc.
Massachusetts Institute of Technology
McDonald's Corp.
Mirae Asset Financial Group
Mitratech Holdings Inc.
Mizuho Bank Ltd.
NBCUniversal Media LLC
National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers
NetSuite Inc.
Northeastern University
Onyx Renewable Partners LP
Optum Inc.
PGA TOUR Inc.
Palomar Health
Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America
Philadelphia 76ers
Provention Bio Inc.
Rite Aid Corp.
Ruby Tuesday Inc.
Sequoia Capital Operations LLC
Sompo International Holdings Ltd.
Space Exploration Technologies Corp.
Spotify Technology SA
State Bar of California
State Bar of Georgia
Surfside
Surgical Care Affiliates Inc.
TaskUs Inc.
Tax Foundation
Tesla Inc.
The E.W. Scripps Company
The New York Times Co.
TransUnion LLC
Twitter Inc.
United Food & Commercial Workers International Union
United States Soccer Federation Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
UnitedLex Corp.
VOYlegal LLC
Valor Equity Partners LP
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.
Washington Post Co.
Western Sugar Cooperative
Zeughauser Group LLC
Zurich Insurance Group AG

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Adams Lynch

Pa. Cannabis Banking Law Won't Allay Finance Industry Fears

Though a new Pennsylvania law allows financial institutions and insurers to provide services to the state's legal cannabis industry, it's unlikely to assuage most financial industry operators' fears of federal reprisal, and their reluctance to work with cannabis businesses will surely persist, says Michael Sampson at Leech Tishman.

Read full article »

Opinion

The Defense Bar Must Push Back On Social Inflation

Social and litigation trends such as the rise of opioid and #MeToo cases have led to greater risks of nuclear verdicts for the defense bar and insurers, making efforts for tort reform, regulation of litigation funding and coordinated defense strategies essential, say Christopher Carroll and Joshua Wirtshafter at Kennedys and Rachel Kim at Sompo International.

Read full article »

A Law Firm's Guide To Avoiding Client Conflicts

With the pace of law firm mergers accelerating, Mark Hinderks at Stinson reviews the conflict of interest rules that may derail a deal or cause a firm to lose a new or existing client, and how courts have filled in perceived gaps in the rules.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Threats Over Mar-A-Lago Warrant Not Surprising, Say Judges

The attacks against U.S. Magistrate Judge Bruce E. Reinhart on social media show that Congress, which has been dragging its feet on legislation to address judicial safety, isn't doing enough, federal judges told Law360 Pulse.

Read full article »

Trump Warrant Shows Espionage, Obstruction Investigation

Former President Donald Trump is under investigation for obstruction of justice and potential violations of the Espionage Act, according to a search warrant for his Mar-a-Lago property unsealed Friday afternoon.

Read full article »

Meet Trump's New Hip-Hop Lawyer In Georgia Probe

Former President Donald Trump is pretty comfortable with lawyers of all stripes. His newest hire for a Georgia probe of election interference is Atlanta attorney Drew Findling, a pro-choice, anti-mass incarceration advocate best known for representing hip-hop luminaries such as Cardi B. Here, Law360 Pulse offers five things to know about Drew Findling.

Read full article »

Ex-Special Counsel For Jan. 6 Panel Joins Jenner & Block

Jenner & Block LLP is bringing on a former solicitor general of Virginia and special counsel to the committee investigating the Jan. 6 attack on the Capitol as a partner in its appellate practice in Washington, D.C., the firm said Friday.

Read full article »

Eastman Faces DC Bar Complaint For 2020 Election 'Scheme'

Embattled lawyer John Eastman has been slapped with an ethics complaint in Washington, D.C., accusing him of abusing his law license as he worked on behalf of then-President Donald Trump on legal challenges aimed at upending the results of the 2020 presidential election.

Read full article »

Analysis

The Quiet Power Of Amy Coney Barrett

She is not the most talkative at oral arguments nor does she write the most opinions, but Justice Amy Coney Barrett is a key player in the U.S. Supreme Court's conservative majority who seems to be in control over the law's rightward push.

Read full article »

Akerman LLP
Alston & Bird
Arnold & Porter
Bartlett LLP
Beard Kultgen
Beggs & Lane
Berger Singerman
Boies Schiller
Boyle Leonard
Bradley Arant
Butler Weihmuller
Cantey Hanger
Clark Hill
Clausen Miller
Cleary Gottlieb
Cooch & Taylor
Cooley LLP
Crehan & Thumann
Crowell & Moring
DLA Piper
Davis Polk
Duane Morris LLP
Fish & Richardson
Gasiorek Morgan
Gerber Ciano
Gibbons PC
Gibson Dunn
Goldberg & Rosen
Goldberg Segalla
Greenberg Traurig
Greines Martin
Grossman Roth
Harris Wiltshire
Hausfeld LLP
Heise Suarez
Hogan Lovells
Jackson Lewis P.C.
Jenner & Block
Jomarron Lopez
Kennedys Law LLP
Kirkland & Ellis
Kirkman Law Firm
Kozyak Tropin
Lankler Siffert
Latham & Watkins
Law Firm of Gary Williams Parenti Watson & Gary
Law Offices of Joel Silberman
Leech Tishman
Lewis Brisbois
LippSmith LLP
Lowenstein Sandler
McCracken Stemerman
McDonald Hopkins
Morgan Lewis
Norton Rose
O'Melveny & Myers
Paul Weiss
Phil Hall PA
Pita Weber
Podhurst Orseck
Porzio Bromberg
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel
Reed Smith
Robbins LLP
Ropes & Gray

Sheppard Mullin Entertainment Atty's Star Turn As Filmmaker

In his more than 30 years as an entertainment lawyer, Robert Darwell, a partner with Sheppard Mullin Richter & Hampton LLP, has handled virtually every legal aspect of moviemaking, including writing contracts and leases for production offices, arranging financing and securing intellectual property rights. Despite all that exposure to the film world, he'd never actually made a film himself — until now, that is.

Read full article »

Insurer Fighting Coverage Of $21M LeClairRyan Settlement

An insurance business has urged a Kansas federal court to rule it has no obligation to defend or indemnify UnitedLex Corp. in an underlying lawsuit in which the legal services company is accused of conspiring to mismanage the joint venture of a law firm on the verge of bankruptcy.

Read full article »

Analysis

Subpoena Blizzard Sets Stage For Musk-Twitter Trial In Del.

There are captains of finance, titans of tech, friends of Elon Musk, defenders of Twitter, financial firms, banks, lawyers and more, all caught in a blizzard of subpoenas tied to Twitter's lawsuit in Delaware Chancery Court challenging Musk's attempt to terminate his $44 billion offer to buy the social media giant.

Read full article »

Skadden, Baylor-Linked Foundation End Billing Row In Texas

Skadden Arps Slate Meagher & Flom LLP has resolved a fight with a former client, a Baylor University-affiliated nonprofit, over a $2.4 million bill for the firm's six months of work for the foundation, court records show.

Read full article »

Judge Orders Scam Claimants In $1B Surfside Deal To Court

The judge overseeing the consolidated litigation over the collapse of the Champlain Towers South condominium in Surfside, Florida, has ordered the filers of hundreds of presumptively fraudulent claims against the $1 billion global settlement to show up in person in his courtroom to testify under oath.

Read full article »

Apple Jury Notes Shed Light On Misconduct Ahead Of Mistrial

Jury notes entered Thursday from the trial for Pinn Inc.'s $42 million patent infringement suit over Apple's AirPods revealed two incidents of possible jury misconduct that may explain the judge's decision to declare a mistrial, including a juror doing outside research and another mocking up a demonstrative exhibit for deliberations.

Read full article »

Women's Team Nets Approval For $24M US Soccer Settlement

Barring any extraordinary developments in the next four months, the U.S. women's national soccer team is one step away from officially receiving a $24 million payout from the U.S. Soccer Federation, after a California federal judge preliminarily approved their class settlement.

Read full article »

Justices Urged To Clarify Fair Use Through Warhol Art IP Row

The head of the American Bar Association's copyright division said Friday that the U.S. Supreme Court should establish a clear standard for fair use in a copyright battle over Andy Warhol artwork based on a photo of musician Prince, arguing it's a chance for the court to spell out what counts as a transformative work.

Read full article »

Ex-GC Says Energy Co. Has No Case In Trade Secrets Suit

The former general counsel of a solar company in New York asked a federal judge to toss a suit that the company brought in May, accusing the lawyer of stealing trade secrets from its digital cloud, arguing the company has no evidence to prove theft.

Read full article »

In Case You Missed It: Hottest Firms And Stories On Law360

For those who missed out, here's a look back at the law firms, stories and expert analyses that generated the most

Saltz Mongeluzzi
Saul Ewing
Saxe Doernberger
Scott Douglass
Searcy Denney
Sheppard Mullin
Shook Hardy
Sidley Austin
Sills Cummis
Silva & Silva PA
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Stinson LLP
Sullivan & Worcester
Taft Stettinius
Taylor English
Troutman Pepper
Wachtell Lipton
Walborsky & Bradley
Whitaker Chalk
White & Case
Williams & Connolly
Wilson Sonsini
Winston & Strawn
Withersworldwide
von Briesen & Roper

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
Clayton County, Georgia
Competition and Markets Authority
Congressional Research Service
Delaware Court of Chancery
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
European Commission
Executive Office of the President
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Internal Revenue Service
National Labor Relations Board
New Jersey Legislature
Occupational Safety and Health Administration
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of New Jersey
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Virginia
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. District Court for the Central District of California
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey

buzz on Law360 last week.

Read full article »

GC Cheat Sheet: The Hottest Corporate News Of The Week

General counsel should be aware of indirect ramifications of the Inflation Reduction Act that's likely to become law, and industry observers are watching how quickly companies will be required to notify officials under new measures that push for more visibility into cyberattacks. These are some of the stories in corporate legal news you may have missed in the past week.

Read full article »

Podcast

Pro Say: The Antitrust Fight Tearing Pro Golf Apart

The contentious battle over the newly formed, Saudi Arabia-funded LIV Golf is rocking the professional golf world, with a group of players arguing that the PGA Tour violated antitrust laws by refusing to allow them to participate in both events.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

- U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania
- U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas
- U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
- U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
- U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
- U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
- U.S. House of Representatives
- U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
- U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
- U.S. Senate
- U.S. Supreme Court
- United States District Court for the District of Colorado
- United States District Court for the District of Kansas
- United States District Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin
- United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio
- Wage and Hour Division
- Wisconsin Supreme Court

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: CDC Regains Control of COVID-19 HospitalData Tracking, Report Says
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 15/08/2022 06:10

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 15, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

New Data: The General Public's Alarm About Monkeypox

The general public in this country is nearly as concerned about the monkeypox outbreak as gay or bisexual men specifically, a new Morning

Consult survey found, even as federal data shows that men who have sex with other men make up to 94% of cases. Some findings from our story:

- 68% of gay or bisexual men are concerned about the spread of monkeypox in the United States, compared with 61% of all U.S. adults.
- Gay or bisexual men are more likely than the general public to say they'd get vaccinated against monkeypox if a vaccine were available to them.
- There's a knowledge gap among both groups when it comes to identifying methods of transmission.

Check out the full story here: Monkeypox Disproportionately Impacts Gay and Bisexual Men. But the General Public Is Almost as Alarmed by the Disease.

Top Stories

- An email viewed by Bloomberg shows the federal government is ending its contract with TeleTracking Technologies Inc., which has been tasked with the collection of COVID-19 hospitalization data for most of the pandemic, returning control of such tracking to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention starting in mid-December. The CDC has fought a monthslong battle to win back control of COVID-19 hospital data from the Pittsburgh-based private company, which has been awarded more than $50 million in contracts since taking over the practice in the summer of 2020 at the urging of health officials, including then-White House Coronavirus Response Coordinator Deborah Birx. (Bloomberg)

- Sources inside and around the Biden administration say there are growing doubts about Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra's ability to manage the multiple health crises currently facing the country, with one current administration official saying that his push to shift responsibility over the monkeypox outbreak to the states reinforced a perception that "he doesn't want to take the heat for others." The White House said the premise that Becerra passed the buck to states on monkeypox was a "gross mischaracterization," while three people familiar with the discussions said some White House aides think the former California congressman, who is not believed to be at risk of being fired, could leave HHS at the end of 2022 to prepare for a 2024 Senate run. (Politico)

- A Reuters analysis found that the median yearly price of 13 Food and Drug Administration-approved novel medicines for chronic conditions in 2022 is $257,000, compared with a $180,000 median annual price for 30 drugs last year through mid-July, per a recent JAMA study. The Reuters analysis wasn't a shot-for-shot replica of the JAMA study, though it points to a continued trend of rising prices for new drugs. (Reuters)

- The World Health Organization renamed the two branches of the monkeypox virus, as the Central African or Congo Basin clade will now be known as Clade I and the West African clade will be called Clade II. The WHO is also in the process of renaming the disease by welcoming proposals for new names, while the International Committee on Taxonomy of Viruses is mulling a name change for the virus itself. (Stat News)

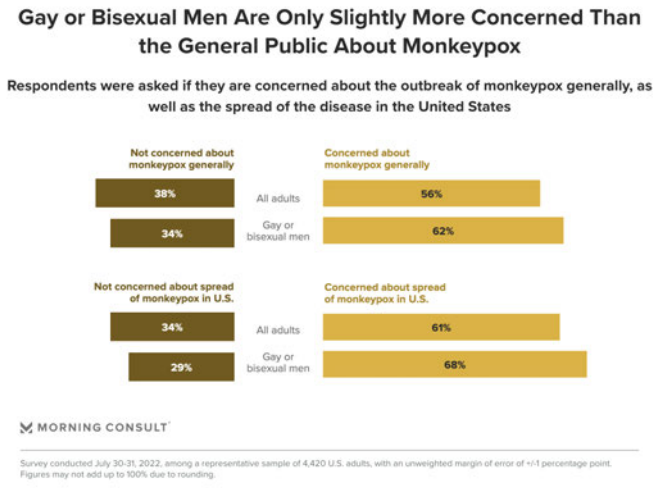
Chart Review

Monkeypox Disproportionately Impacts Gay and Bisexual Men. But the General Public Is Almost as Alarmed by the Disease

Morning Consult



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT

Geopolitical Competition and Infrastructure in the Americas

Robust demand for infrastructure investment in the Americas will pay geopolitical dividends for the U.S. and the E.U. and yield commercial opportunities for their multinationals. Download our latest report to learn more about geopolitical openings and commercial opportunities in Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, & Mexico. Download today.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

'Left to rot': The lonely plight of long Covid sufferers
Daniel Payne, Politico
Governments worldwide quickly mobilized to slow early Covid-19 infections, but patients stuck with long-term, debilitating symptoms from the virus — sometimes left unable to work or perform basic daily tasks — feel national and international responses have ignored one of the pandemic's most significant effects, nearly a dozen activists in 10 countries told POLITICO.

Colds and the flu ruin our winters. COVID isn't nearly as picky—but this could be changing
Erin Prater, Fortune
Colds and the flu are classic for ruining our fall and winter celebrations—Thanksgiving gatherings, Hanukkah festivals, Christmas craft fairs, New Years eve celebrations. COVID-19 isn't nearly as respectful.

1 in 4 Kids Hospitalized With COVID Have Symptoms Months Later
Steven Reinberg, HealthDay
More than a quarter of kids hospitalized with COVID-19 or a complication called multisystem inflammatory syndrome (MIS-C) continue to have health problems more than two months later, a new study finds.

How to Assess Covid-19 Risks After Easing of CDC Guidelines
Alex Janin, The Wall Street Journal
The easing of federal Covid-19 guidelines places responsibility ever more squarely on individuals to determine their own risk tolerance and behaviors.

How coronavirus vaccines saved oncologist-patient relationship
Jalal Baig, The Washington Post
Cancer care rests greatly on physical and emotional interactions, more so than with many other specialties. A life-altering cancer diagnosis and treatment offer little scope for physical, and emotional, distance between the oncologist, the patient and their family.

GENERAL

'Frustration and Stress': State Officials Fault Rollout of Monkeypox Vaccine
Apoorva Mandavilli, The New York Times
The federal government's distribution of monkeypox vaccine has been blemished by missteps and confusion, burdening local officials and slowing the pace of immunizations even as the virus spreads, according to interviews with state health officials and documents obtained by The New York Times.

Monkeypox may be here to stay

Krista Mahr, Politico

It may be too late to stop monkeypox from circulating in the U.S. permanently. The Biden administration was caught off-guard when the CDC confirmed monkeypox in a Massachusetts man on May 18. It was part of the first major outbreak outside parts of Africa where the virus is endemic, an unusual event that quickly spun into a global health crisis.

Monkeypox Outbreak: Dose-Sparing Vaccine Strategy Is No Easy Fix for Shortage

Madison Muller, Bloomberg

The US government's solution to the monkeypox vaccine shortage is so far only causing headaches for strained public health departments as the outbreak continues to grow in scale and scope.

Monkeypox? Climate? Deciding what's a national emergency

Will Weissert, The Associated Press

The Biden administration's declaration Aug. 4 of a public health emergency on monkeypox frees up federal money and resources to fight a virus that has already infected more than 10,000 people in the United States. But public health emergencies expire every 90 days, unless extended by the Department of Health and Human Services.

A monkeypox drug was approved under the 'Animal Rule.' STAT explains

Andrew Joseph, Stat News

Take a look at the list of conditions that have treatments available thanks to what's known as the "Animal Rule" and you'll see a rogues' gallery of plagues you hope never see the light of day. There's smallpox, anthrax, and, well, the actual plague.

Anti-abortion groups take aim at medicated, at-home abortions

Kimberly Kindy, The Washington Post

Two top antiabortion groups have crafted and successfully lobbied for state legislation to ban or further restrict the predominant way pregnancies are ended in the United States — via drugs taken at home, often facilitated by a network of abortion rights groups.

Polio was eradicated in the U.S. decades ago. How has it returned?

Erin Prater, Fortune

Until recently, there had been no cases of the sometimes disabling, occasionally deadly virus reported in the U.S. since 1979. And the Pan American Health Organization declared it eradicated from the Americas in 1994. But other countries like India and Sudan continued to struggle, and polio wasn't declared eradicated from Europe until 2002.

Boats, planes and automobiles: Projects aim to travel around restrictive state abortion laws

Olivia Olander, Politico

In Colorado, abortion medication comes from a van parked near the state border. In Illinois, an organization is recruiting pilots to fly patients out of restrictive states. And in the Gulf of Mexico, an OB-GYN envisions a clinic at sea.

Idaho Supreme Court rules that abortion restrictions can take effect amid legal challenges

CBS News

Idaho's strict abortion restrictions will be allowed to take effect while legal challenges over the laws play out in court, the Idaho Supreme Court ruled on Friday.

Louisiana's Abortion Trigger Bans Denied State High Court Review
Mary Anne Pazanowski and Jennifer Kay, Bloomberg Law
Laws banning almost all abortions in Louisiana will remain in effect after the state supreme court Friday denied an emergency motion to review an order that lifted a temporarily block on their enforcement.

NYC Mayor Adams Signs Six Bills Aiming to Bolster Abortion Care
Marie-Rose Sheinerman, Bloomberg
New York City Mayor Eric Adams signed six bills aimed at expanding abortion access, seeking to bolster the city's status as a haven for women from states with severe restrictions on the procedure.

Study: How many people have Tinnitus? What causes ringing in ears?
Christine Fernando, USA Today
Tinnitus, commonly described as a ringing in the ears, may affect about 750 million people around the world, according to new research based on about 50 years of data.

LGBTQ Groups Denounce Florida Plan to Limit Transgender Care
The Associated Press
LGBTQ and health groups have denounced a new rule by Florida health officials set to take effect later this month to restrict Medicaid insurance coverage for gender dysphoria treatments for transgender people.

Men's Body-Image Issues Got Worse During the Pandemic—Even if Many Didn't Realize It
Heidi Mitchell, The Wall Street Journal
Having a negative body image has long been considered a female problem. Countless books, videos and after-school specials have been devoted to highlighting the concern and the damage it does to girls and women. But men are nearly as likely to suffer from negative body-image concerns—and studies suggest that the stress and anxiety of the pandemic only made things worse.

PAYERS

Humana to acquire Wisconsin managed care plan Inclusa
Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare
Humana will acquire a Wisconsin managed care plan in a bid to bulk up its Medicaid services, the insurer announced Friday.

PROVIDERS

Kaiser workers plan Monday strike, raise alarm about mental healthcare
Ginger Christ, Modern Healthcare
More than 2,000 mental health workers at Kaiser Permanente sites in Northern California plan to begin an open-ended strike Monday over staffing levels and patient access.

Mount Sinai, Regeneron unveil massive gene sequencing project
Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare

New York-based Mount Sinai Health System and biotech giant Regeneron have kicked off a new research project aiming to uncover new therapies and more customized care strategies from the sequenced genomes of 1 million patients.

Physician assistant role sees record growth
Mari Devereaux, Modern Healthcare
The National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants said the number of newly certified professionals rose 10.4% in 2021. Altogether, there were 158,470 certified physician assistants in the U.S. last year.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Cancer patient who pushed for drug pricing reform isn't done yet
Rachel Cohrs, Stat News
After six years of relentless advocacy work, David Mitchell was finally on the cusp of defeating his Goliath — the pharmaceutical industry.

Drug-Price Rules for Seniors Change With Passage of Climate and Health Bill
Joseph Walker, The Wall Street Journal
Drug-pricing rules embedded in the Inflation Reduction Act will trigger the most significant changes in nearly two decades to the way the government pays for prescription drugs, including caps on patient spending and drugmaker price increases.

Emergent receives FDA warning letter over quality control issues
Reuters
Emergent BioSolutions Inc (EBS.N) said on Friday it had received a warning letter from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, citing certain deficiencies at the contract drugmaker's manufacturing facility in Baltimore, Maryland.

U.S. and Switzerland working on facilitating pharma trade, U.S. ambassador says
Reuters
The United States and Switzerland can move towards free trade between their countries with sectoral deals and they are working on facilitating business in the pharmaceutical sector, the U.S. ambassador to Switzerland told the Tages Anzeiger newspaper.

Employers and the government will soon pay different prices for prescription drugs
Caitlin Owens, Axios
Democrats are on the cusp of their most significant health policy victory since passage of the Affordable Care Act, but the legislative wrangling it took to get here came at a steep cost: The prescription drug pricing reforms included in the health, tax and climate package are limited to Medicare and exclude the millions of Americans with private insurance.

A doctor says Mark Cuban's online pharmacy saved a patient over $1,000 a month on prescriptions
Alena Botros, Fortune
The Mark Cuban Cost Plus Drug Company, funded by tech billionaire and Shark Tank judge Mark Cuban, premiered in January. Since then, it has gained attention for its low prices compared to traditional pharmacies, where drugs can cost considerably more for those who are uninsured or have a high-deductible plan.

Fungal infections are developing drug resistance
Aria Bendix, NBC News
Aspergillus and another fungus, Candida auris, are growing resistant to the treatments frequently used to fight them — in particular, a class of drugs called azoles.

Signify Health cutting nearly 500 employees
Gabriel Perna, Modern Healthcare
Fresh off rumors it could be acquired by CVS Health, Signify Health is laying off nearly 500 employees, beginning Oct. 1.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Northwestern Memorial next in line for Meta class action
Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare
Northwestern Memorial Hospital has joined the list of hospitals and health systems facing legal complaints due to the alleged use of Facebook parent company Meta's data tracker on their patient portal.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

'Long covid' may haunt 1 in 8 people — or more — for years to come
Editorial Board, The Washington Post
The term "long covid" came from early patients who called themselves "long-haulers" when their pandemic maladies lingered for months. It is now increasingly apparent that long covid presents a potential tidal wave of suffering — afflictions stemming from covid-19 that refuse to go away. The scope of the problem is still unknown. But a new study from the Netherlands offers important clues.

The Government's Stealth Health Insurance Takeover
The Editorial Board, The Wall Street Journal
The Health and Human Services Department recently made news with a report touting that "National Uninsured Rate Reaches All-Time Low in Early 2022." Sounds encouraging, but look beneath the covers and what you find is a quiet but enormous shift from private to government-subsidized coverage.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Understanding Covid Vaccine Efficacy over Time — Bridging a Gap Between Public Health and Health Care
Isaac Kohane and Gilbert S. Omenn, The New England Journal of Medicine
Imagine if we could track, for each patient seen at a health care facility, which Covid-19 vaccine they had received when and what their clinical evaluation revealed. We could then have near-real-time insights into the efficacy of vaccines, how that efficacy changes over time, how new viral strains alter it, and which viral and host features (including underlying medical conditions) lead to breakthrough infections in immunized people.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Re: Agenda for Social Services Appropriations Subcommittee onTuesday, Aug. 16, 2022 1:00 PM
FROM: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
TO: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
CC: Brandi Frandsen <btfrands@utah.gov>, Anna Fondario <afondario@utah.gov>, JANAE DUNCAN <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, "David Litvack (DHHS)" <davidlitvack@utah.gov>
DATE: 15/08/2022 08:00

Hmm, still seeing this at 3:45 pm in the afternoon on this agenda.

On Sun, Aug 14, 2022, 4:05 PM Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov> wrote:

> FYI----according to this agenda, it looks like the SCI/TBI cost sharing report item was moved up to the morning session.....
> HB
>
> ---------- Forwarded message ---------
> From: Legislative Automated Email System <boyd@le.utah.gov>
> Date: Fri, Aug 12, 2022 at 4:09 PM
> Subject: Agenda for Social Services Appropriations Subcommittee on Tuesday, Aug. 16, 2022 1:00 PM
> To:
>
> Link to document: https://le.utah.gov/Interim/2022/html/00003064.htm
> Link to committee page: https://le.utah.gov/committee/committee.jsp?year=2022&com=APPSOC

1. 1:00 Call to Order

2. 1:05 Public Input on Topics on Today's Agenda

Please note: All members of the public wishing to speak to the committee must contact Debbie Benson before 2 p.m. Monday, Aug 15th at 801-243-2916. All public comment is subject to the discretion of the chairs.

3. 1:05 Unfinished Items from the Morning Agenda

4. 1:05 Opioid Settlement Fund Recommendations from Social Services

5. 1:25 Explore the Validity of Drug Tests in Medicaid

6. 1:55 How was ARPA Funding Used

7. 2:15 Projected Shortfalls in the Electronic Cigarette Substance and Nicotine Product Tax

8. 2:30 Services for Pregnant Women With Substance Abuse Disorder

9. 2:50 Affordable Housing Funding

10. 3:00 Tour DSPD Waiting List Clients, Medicaid Waiver Recipients

11. 3:45 Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund Cost Sharing

12. 4:00 Mental Health and Youth in Rural Utah, What Programs and Funding Exist for Them? Ages 3-21

13. 4:10 Refugee Assistance

14. 4:20 Follow Up on Performance Measures Audit

15. 4:50 Other Business

Please be aware that the public portions of this meeting will be broadcast live over the Internet. Also, be aware that an audio recording of the public portions of this meeting, along with any materials presented or distributed in the public portions of this meeting, will be posted on the Legislature's website. Witnesses with questions or concerns should contact staff.

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, persons needing auxiliary communicative aids and services for this meeting should call the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel at 801-538-1032 or use Relay Utah (toll free in-state 7-1-1 or Spanish-language 888-346-3162), giving them at least 48 hours notice or the best notice practicable.

Link to unsubscribe: https://le.utah.gov/tracking/unsubscribe.jsp?com=APPSOC&mess=538849&user=hborski@utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Agenda for Social Services Appropriations Subcommittee onTuesday, Aug. 16, 2022 1:00 PM
FROM: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
TO: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
DATE: 15/08/2022 09:30

Yes, sorry for creating confusion----I wasn't paying close enough attention, and because I opened this email first, I thought I was looking at the morning agenda.

On Mon, Aug 15, 2022 at 8:00 AM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:
Hmm, still seeing this at 3:45 pm in the afternoon on this agenda.

On Sun, Aug 14, 2022, 4:05 PM Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov> wrote:
FYI----according to this agenda, it looks like the SCI/TBI cost sharing report item was moved up to the morning session.....
HB

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Legislative Automated Email System <boyd@le.utah.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 12, 2022 at 4:09 PM
Subject: Agenda for Social Services Appropriations Subcommittee on Tuesday, Aug. 16, 2022 1:00 PM
To:

Link to document: https://le.utah.gov/Interim/2022/html/00003064.htm
Link to committee page: https://le.utah.gov/committee/committee.jsp?year=2022&com=APPSOC

1. 1:00 Call to Order

2. 1:05 Public Input on Topics on Today's Agenda

Please note: All members of the public wishing to speak to the committee must contact Debbie Benson before 2 p.m. Monday, Aug 15th at 801-243-2916. All public comment is subject to the discretion of the chairs.

3. 1:05 Unfinished Items from the Morning Agenda

4. 1:05 Opioid Settlement Fund Recommendations from Social Services

5. 1:25 Explore the Validity of Drug Tests in Medicaid

6. 1:55 How was ARPA Funding Used

7. 2:15 Projected Shortfalls in the Electronic Cigarette Substance and Nicotine Product Tax

8. 2:30 Services for Pregnant Women With Substance Abuse Disorder

9. 2:50 Affordable Housing Funding

10. 3:00 Tour DSPD Waiting List Clients, Medicaid Waiver Recipients

11. 3:45 Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund Cost Sharing

12. 4:00 Mental Health and Youth in Rural Utah, What Programs and Funding Exist for Them? Ages 3-21

13. 4:10 Refugee Assistance

14. 4:20 Follow Up on Performance Measures Audit

15. 4:50 Other Business

Please be aware that the public portions of this meeting will be broadcast live over the Internet. Also, be aware that an audio recording of the public portions of this meeting, along with any materials presented or distributed in the public portions of this meeting, will be posted on the Legislature's website. Witnesses with questions or concerns should contact staff.

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, persons needing auxiliary communicative aids and services for this meeting should call the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel at 801-538-1032 or use Relay Utah (toll free in-state 7-1-1 or Spanish-language 888-346-3162), giving them at least 48 hours notice or the best notice practicable.

Link to unsubscribe: https://le.utah.gov/tracking/unsubscribe.jsp?com=APPSOC&mess=538849&user=hborski@utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Re: Agenda for Social Services Appropriations Subcommittee onTuesday, Aug. 16, 2022 1:00 PM
FROM: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
TO: "Heather Borski (DHHS)" <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 15/08/2022 09:51

It's all good

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

On Mon, Aug 15, 2022 at 9:31 AM Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov> wrote:
Yes, sorry for creating confusion----I wasn't paying close enough attention, and because I opened this email first, I thought I was looking at the morning agenda.

On Mon, Aug 15, 2022 at 8:00 AM Marc Watterson (DHHS) <mwatterson@utah.gov> wrote:
Hmm, still seeing this at 3:45 pm in the afternoon on this agenda.

On Sun, Aug 14, 2022, 4:05 PM Heather Borski (DHHS) <hborski@utah.gov> wrote:
FYI----according to this agenda, it looks like the SCI/TBI cost sharing report item was moved up to the morning session.....
HB

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Legislative Automated Email System <boyd@le.utah.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 12, 2022 at 4:09 PM
Subject: Agenda for Social Services Appropriations Subcommittee on Tuesday, Aug. 16, 2022 1:00 PM
To:

Link to document: https://le.utah.gov/Interim/2022/html/00003064.htm
Link to committee page: https://le.utah.gov/committee/committee.jsp?year=2022&com=APPSOC

1. 1:00 Call to Order

2. 1:05 Public Input on Topics on Today's Agenda

Please note: All members of the public wishing to speak to the committee must contact Debbie Benson before 2 p.m. Monday, Aug 15th at 801-243-2916. All public comment is subject to the discretion of the chairs.

3. 1:05 Unfinished Items from the Morning Agenda

4. 1:05 Opioid Settlement Fund Recommendations from Social Services

5. 1:25 Explore the Validity of Drug Tests in Medicaid

6. 1:55 How was ARPA Funding Used

7. 2:15 Projected Shortfalls in the Electronic Cigarette Substance and Nicotine Product Tax

8. 2:30 Services for Pregnant Women With Substance Abuse Disorder

9. 2:50 Affordable Housing Funding

10. 3:00 Tour DSPD Waiting List Clients, Medicaid Waiver Recipients

11. 3:45 Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Rehabilitation Fund Cost Sharing

12. 4:00 Mental Health and Youth in Rural Utah, What Programs and Funding Exist for

Them? Ages 3-21

13. 4:10 Refugee Assistance

14. 4:20 Follow Up on Performance Measures Audit

15. 4:50 Other Business

Please be aware that the public portions of this meeting will be broadcast live over the Internet. Also, be aware that an audio recording of the public portions of this meeting, along with any materials presented or distributed in the public portions of this meeting, will be posted on the Legislature's website. Witnesses with questions or concerns should contact staff.

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, persons needing auxiliary communicative aids and services for this meeting should call the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel at 801-538-1032 or use Relay Utah (toll free in-state 7-1-1 or Spanish-language 888-346-3162), giving them at least 48 hours notice or the best notice practicable.

Link to unsubscribe: https://le.utah.gov/tracking/unsubscribe.jsp?com=APPSOC&mess=538849&user=hborski@utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Notes From the Field - AJPH August Issue
FROM: "Alfredo Morabia" <apha@apha.org>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 15/08/2022 11:14

Dear Heather,

The August issue of AJPH features a special section on Notes From the Field, an article format that highlights meaningful field experiences.

Join APHA and get full access to AJPH, the official journal of the American Public Health Association.

[redacted]

Here are a few of the many articles in the August 2022 issue:

- Podcast: "Monkeypox Pandemic: How Can We Ensure An Equitable Response?" (Watch as a video)
- Notes From the Field: A Repository of Best Practices
- Reproductive Justice Matters: A Public Health of Consequence, August 2022
- Assessing the Impact of Vaccine Lotteries on COVID-19 Vaccination Rates in the United States in 2021
- Rapid Antigen Screening of Students and Staff for SARS-CoV-2 in Rural School Districts, Pierce County, WA, 2020
- NIOSH Risk-Based Model to Resume Field Research and Public Health Service in 2020 During the COVID-19 Pandemic
- Healthy Davis Together: Creating a Model for Community Control of COVID-19
- Impact of Massachusetts' Statewide Sales Restriction on Flavored and Menthol Tobacco Products on Tobacco Sales in Massachusetts and Surrounding States, June 2020
- Workplaces Most Affected by COVID-19 Outbreaks in California, January 2020–August 2021
- Potential Impact of Telemedicine for Medication Abortion Policy and Programming Changes on Abortion Accessibility in the United States

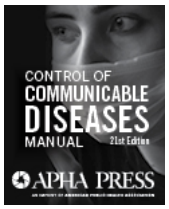
The mission of AJPH is to advance public health research, policy, practice and education. Toward that goal, the journal also produces monthly podcasts available in English and Chinese at ajph.org. The monthly podcasts are also on iTunes and Google Play.

Be on the lookout for more timely research from AJPH, and consider subscribing or becoming an APHA member for full access.

In good health.

Alfredo Morabia, MD, PhD
Editor-in-Chief, AJPH
@AlfredoMorabia
@AMJPublicHealth

AJPH Podcast



Thank you for all you are doing to address the ongoing pandemics of COVID-19 and racism. Please share our COVID-19 guidance in English and Spanish and read our statement on racism as you join in the chorus for justice. Our Advancing Racial Equity and COVID-19 Conversations webinars and COVID-19 and racism pages are also great resources for you and the public.

American Public Health Association
800 I St. NW, Washington DC 20001
www.apha.org
202-777-2742

Opt Out of emails highlighting articles in the American Journal of Public Health.

Unsubscribe from all future APHA emails. Please Note: This will remove you from all APHA communications, including important updates, membership information and newsletters.

higher logic

SUBJECT: DHHS Slides and Resources for August 16 SSA Subcommittee Meeting
FROM: "Marc Watterson (DHHS)" <mwatterson@utah.gov>
TO: Russell Frandsen <rfrandsen@le.utah.gov>, "Sean C. Faherty" <sfaherty@le.utah.gov>, Kimberly Madsen <kmadsen@le.utah.gov>
CC: DHHS_EDO <dhhsedo@utah.gov>, "Shari Watkins (DHHS)" <swatkins@utah.gov>, "Angella Pinna (DHHS)" <apinna@utah.gov>, "Jennifer Strohecker (DHHS)" <jstrohecker@utah.gov>, "Austin Preston (DHHS)" <austinpreston@utah.gov>, "Kody Harvey (DHHS)" <kharvey@utah.gov>, Brent Kelsey DHS <bkelsey@utah.gov>, "Rebecca King (DHHS)" <rbarnett@utah.gov>, "Mark Brasher (DHHS)" <mbrasher@utah.gov>, "Diane Moore (DHHS)" <dmoore@utah.gov>
DATE: 15/08/2022 11:18

Sean, Russell, and Kim -

Please see the attached slides/one-pagers for tomorrow's SSA meeting.

We will send the final two to all of you ASAP. They are for the following agenda items:

- Opioid Settlement Fund Recommendations from Social Services
- Mental Health and Youth in Rural Utah, What Programs and Funding Exist for Them? Ages 3-21

Marc B. Watterson
Director
Office of Legislative Affairs
C: 385.321.6473
mwatterson@utah.gov

dhhs.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Legislative Affairs

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

[redacted]

If you would like to unsubscribe from this ListServ LIST, please send an email to LIST@cdc.gov, enter CDC in the email Subject, and include the following "one" line in the Body of the email: signoff CDC-COVID19-ALL-STLT-UPDATE

SUBJECT: Feds Want Mar-a-Lago Warrant Affidavit Kept Under Wraps
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 16/08/2022 01:54

LAW360

Tuesday, August 16, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Feds Want Mar-a-Lago Warrant Affidavit Kept Under Wraps

Federal prosecutors on Monday asked a Florida federal judge to keep the affidavit in support of the search warrant for former President Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago residence sealed, citing national security concerns and calling the document a "roadmap" to the government's ongoing criminal investigation.

5 documents attached | Read full article »

Roy Moore Wins $8.2M Defamation Verdict Over Dem PAC Ad

Roy Moore, the former Alabama Supreme Court leader who lost his bid for a U.S. Senate seat following allegations of sexual improprieties with young girls, has won an $8.2 million verdict against a Democratic group and a media company.

Verdict attached | Read full article »

2nd Circ. Vacates $1.5B Order In Family's Case Against Iran

A Second Circuit panel has vacated and remanded an order to collect $1.5 billion from a Kuwaiti bank in favor of the family of a U.S. citizen who was allegedly held captive and tortured for years in Iran.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Sen. Graham Must Testify In Ga. Election Probe

U.S. Sen. Lindsey Graham, R-S.C., can't quash a subpoena to appear in a Georgia criminal investigation of possible election interference by former President Donald Trump and others, a Georgia federal judge ruled Monday.

Order attached | Read full article »

Jan. 6 Committee Seeks To Toss Miller Subpoena Challenge

Former Trump White House senior policy adviser Stephen Miller's bid to invalidate a subpoena requesting his phone records for the months leading up to the Jan. 6 insurrection falls flat and should be tossed, the Jan. 6 House select committee told a D.C. federal judge.

Motion attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

NC Enviros Defend EPA Drinking Water Advisory At 3rd Circ.

Environmental groups and North Carolina residents have aligned themselves with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency as it defends recent health advisories for so-called forever chemicals challenged by The Chemours Co., telling the Third Circuit the DuPont spinoff has been polluting Cape Fear River for decades.

Motion attached | Read full article »

Trump-Era Species Regs Should Go Back To FWS, Court Told

Federal regulators have asked a California federal judge to let them revise several measures that the Trump administration took to weaken the Endangered Species Act,

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Abraham Fruchter
Arnold & Porter
Bartlett LLP
Berger Montague
Boies Schiller
Bondurant Mixson
Caplan Cobb
Clean Law PC
Cleary Gottlieb
Cooley LLP
Covington & Burling
Cozen O'Connor
DLA Piper
Dominick Feld
Eccleston & Wolf
Eckert Seamans
Federman & Sherwood
FeganScott
FisherBroyles
Freshfields
Gibson Dunn
Gilbert Litigators
Goldman Ismail
Gordon Wolf & Carney
Hogan Lovells
Jenner & Block

arguing that the court should not have repealed those policies when it remanded them to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service last month.

Response attached | Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

Ga. Abortion Law Can Stand During Legal Fight, Judge Says

A Georgia state court judge on Monday ruled that the state can enforce a state law banning most abortions as early as six weeks into a pregnancy while litigation challenging it makes its way through the courts.

Order attached | Read full article »

Wis. Cafe Can't Revive 'Mask Free' Dispute, 7th Circ. Says

The Seventh Circuit on Monday threw out a Wisconsin cafe's claim that the city of Madison violated the First Amendment by attempting to revoke its license after it posted a "mask free zone" sign, saying it had not shown that the city's alleged actions were part of a larger pattern or practice of retaliation.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

MEDIA & ENTERTAINMENT

Leaked Memo Backs AG In Political Ad Fight, NC Judge Told

North Carolina Attorney General Josh Stein told a federal judge on Friday the contents of a leaked report regarding an investigation into a political ad his campaign aired in 2020 further shows he shouldn't be prosecuted for allegedly violating the state's political speech law until after the Fourth Circuit weighs in.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

INSURANCE

Study Finds Value In Insurer Discounts For Wildfire Defenses

Insurance policies can be priced to encourage homeowners living in wildfire-prone areas to protect their properties, researchers at the University of Pennsylvania found in a paper released Monday by the National Bureau of Economic Research.

Study attached | Read full article »

REAL ESTATE

Pittsburgh Calls Builders' 'Inclusionary Zoning' Suit Unripe

The City of Pittsburgh urged a federal judge to throw out developers' challenge to an "inclusionary zoning ordinance" as unripe Monday, since no members of the Builders Association of Metropolitan Pittsburgh had sought to build any projects that would be subject to the new rules.

Brief attached | Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

13 States Ask 10th Circ. To Join Oral Args To Halt Wage Hike

A group of 13 states asked the Tenth Circuit to allow it to participate in oral arguments in two outdoor groups' suit challenging a rule increasing federal contractors' hourly minimum wage to $15, saying they are affected by the wage hike.

Motion attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

UnitedHealth Can't Afford To Misuse Rivals' Data, Judge Told

UnitedHealth Group and Change Healthcare won't be tempted to violate safeguards protecting rival insurers' data after their planned $13.8 billion merger, the companies' lead expert economist testified Monday in D.C. federal court, rebutting claims by the U.S. Department of Justice.

Read full article »

Penguin Exec. Says Internal Book Competition Is Strong

The head of Penguin Random House's U.S. operations told a D.C. federal judge Monday that there's real competition between the company's various imprints, in an effort to debunk the government's allegations that its planned

Jones Day
K&L Gates
Kellogg Hansen
King & Spalding
Kirkland & Ellis
Latham & Watkins
Law Office of Thomas V. Allen
Levine Eisberner
Markovits Stock
Mayer Brown
McCarter & English
McKool Smith
Meyer Unkovic
Michael Best
Miller Shakman
Morgan Lewis
Municipal Law & Litigation Group SC
Nagle & Zaller
Napoli Shkolnik
Nelson Mullins
Norton Rose
Novack & Macey
O'Melveny & Myers
Orrick Herrington
Parker McCay
Paul Hastings
Perkins Coie
Polsinelli PC
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel
Robert & Robert PLLC
Roche Freedman
Ropes & Gray
Saul Ewing
Shearman & Sterling
Sher Tremonte
Sidley Austin
Sills Cummis
Simmons Hanly
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Strauss Troy
Wachtell Lipton
Weil Gotshal
Weisman Kennedy
White & Case
Wiley Rein
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale
Wilson Sonsini
Wollmuth Maher
Womble Bond
Zimmerman Law Offices

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Amazon.com Inc.
American Civil Liberties Union
Animal Legal Defense Fund
Berkshire Hathaway Inc.
Bertelsmann AG
California Institute of Technology
Center for Biological Diversity
Change Healthcare Inc.
Cisco Systems Inc.
Citigroup Inc.
Cornell University

purchase of Simon & Schuster from Paramount Global will dampen author pay.

Read full article »

Judge Says Top Universities Must Face Financial Aid Suit

An Illinois federal judge allowed a suit accusing over a dozen top private universities of conspiring to limit financial aid to move forward despite claims from the schools that their actions were permitted under an exemption to antitrust law.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

FTC's Suit Challenging Meta's VR Merger Gets December Trial

A California federal judge on Monday set a five-day antitrust bench trial to begin Dec. 8 over the Federal Trade Commission's effort to block the Facebook parent company's purchase of virtual reality device app developer Within Unlimited Inc.

Read full article »

CONSUMER PROTECTION

Amazon Fights FTC's 'Unworkable' Demands In Prime Probe

Amazon.com Inc. is pressing the Federal Trade Commission to scrap the latest round of demands in its probe of Prime enrollment and cancellation policies, arguing that the expanded inquiries are "unworkable and unfair" and driven by "unexplained pressure" being put on the agency's staff to "hastily" wrap up the investigation.

Petition attached | Read full article »

TAX

Wyden Probes Blackstone Sub's Tax-Free Insurance Policy

Lombard International Group, a subsidiary of global investment firm Blackstone, is the first company to be scrutinized by the top U.S. Senate tax writer over the growing popularity of a special tax-free insurance policy among wealthy individuals.

Letter attached | Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

Immigrant Wins Citizenship, Drops Suit Over Process 'Limbo'

A green card holder who sued the federal government for allegedly sitting on her naturalization paperwork has won approval to become a U.S. citizen, her attorney said Monday, leading to the dismissal of the case.

Notice attached | Read full article »

Fed. Claims Tosses IT Co.'s Suit Over H-1B Visa Petitions Rule

A Court of Federal Claims judge on Friday dismissed a suit brought by a group of information technology service companies accusing U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services of illegally raking in hundreds of millions of dollars in fees for workers already in the country who apply for H-1B visa status.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Immigrant Families Seek Early Win In Title 42 Expulsion Fight

A group of asylum-seeking families on Monday urged a D.C. federal judge to toss the Trump-era policy authorizing the rapid removal of migrants during the COVID-19 pandemic, saying the policy was arbitrary and capricious.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

FCC Floats Reforms Aimed At Saving Subsidies

The Federal Communications Commission told Congress on Monday that sweeping changes to the Universal Service Fund are needed and that lawmakers must act to preserve the FCC's array of subsidies to spur telecom growth and help future generations of consumers.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

NTIA Chief Sees Federal Privacy Bill As Critical Priority

The lack of a federal data privacy law is a major gap in U.S. policy as other countries move decisively to protect consumers, a U.S. Department of Commerce official who

Earthjustice
Endo International PLC
Facebook Technologies LLC
FirstEnergy Corp.
Georgetown University
Getty Images Inc.
Google LLC
Hachette Book Group Inc.
HarperCollins Publishers LLC
Helix TCS Inc.
Incisive Media Ltd.
Instagram Inc.
International Dairy Queen Inc.
Kuwait Finance House KSC
Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Meta Platforms Inc.
Natural Resources Defense Council
News Corp.
Optum Inc.
Oxfam America Inc.
Pacific Legal Foundation
Paramount Global
Planned Parenthood Federation
Purdue Pharma LP
ScottMadden Inc.
Sierra Club
Simon & Schuster Inc.
T-Mobile US Inc.
Tesla Inc.
Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd.
Texas Civil Rights Project
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
The Chemours Co.
The New York Times Co.
Twitter Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
Vivendi SA
Washington Post Co.
Yale University

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Arkansas Supreme Court
Bureau of Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade
Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Delaware Court of Chancery
European Commission
European Union
Executive Office of the President
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Trade Commission
Financial Crimes Enforcement Network
Fish and Wildlife Service
Food and Drug Administration
Internal Revenue Service
National Archives and Records Administration
National Telecommunications and Information Administration
New Jersey Supreme Court

manages the government's approach to technology issues warned.

Read full article »

CANNABIS

ND Pot Legalization Question Cleared For Ballot

North Dakotans will have an opportunity to vote on whether to legalize marijuana for adult recreational use at the ballot this November, North Dakota's secretary of state said Monday.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

NY Pot Regulators OK 1st Adult-Use Processor Applications

New York cannabis regulators at their regular meeting Monday approved the first 15 applications to process lawfully grown recreational cannabis into consumer products for the state's adult-use marijuana market.

Read full article »

PEOPLE

Latham Adds Ex-Facebook GC As Of Counsel In DC

Latham & Watkins LLP has hired the former general counsel for Facebook Inc., now Meta Platforms Inc., as of counsel in the firm's Washington, D.C., office, the firm announced Monday.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Senate Cannabis Bill May Give Some Cos. A Competitive Edge

Though the recently introduced Cannabis Administration and Opportunity Act is unlikely to pass, it provides a bellwether for federal legalization, with a robust regulatory framework that would offer large food and beverage companies a structural advantage and poise multistate cannabis operators for further growth, say attorneys at Perkins Coie.

Read full article »

Fission And CHIPS: The Case For Coal-To-Nuclear Transitions

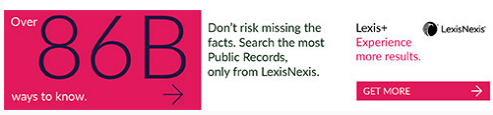
With demand for carbon-free baseload electricity growing — even as coal power plant retirements cut baseload capacity — siting nuclear facilities at defunct coal plant locations is an increasingly attractive idea to project sponsors, and the CHIPS and Science Act provides added incentives, says Ryan Lighty at Morgan Lewis.

Read full article »

Attorneys Should Note Judges' Financial Conflicts Of Interest

The Federal Circuit's recent ruling vacating a $2.75 billion judgment in Centripetal Networks v. Cisco should be a wake-up call for lawyers that they and their clients could pay a heavy price if a judge with financial ties to a litigant fails to take appropriate action, says Deborah Winokur at Cozen O'Connor.

Opinion attached | Read full article »



LEGAL INDUSTRY

Norton Rose Absorbs 7 Lawyers From Chicago Boutique

Norton Rose Fulbright said Monday it has added a seven-lawyer team from Chicago-based renewable energy and real estate boutique Clean Law PC to its real estate practice as the firm continues to expand in the Midwest.

Read full article »

NY AG Rips 'Secret' Info From 'Besmirched' Arnold & Porter

One year after extraordinary cover-up claims erupted in opioid litigation, the New York Attorney General's Office is accusing Arnold & Porter of wielding "secret evidence" to dodge well-deserved discipline, while the BigLaw firm says Empire State lawyers are dragging out the saga to wreck its reputation.

Read full article »

New York Attorney General's Office
North Carolina Department of Environmental Quality
Nuclear Regulatory Commission
Solicitors Regulation Authority
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Colorado
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Energy
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of the Treasury
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania
U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Secret Service
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the Northern District of Alabama

Orrick Asks 9th Circ. To Clarify Jones Day Fight Isn't Over

Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP asked the Ninth Circuit on Monday to clarify that the firm can still raise more dismissal challenges before the trial court after losing an appeal from Jones Day this month over Orrick's refusal to provide testimony in an international arbitration hearing.

Read full article »

Chancery OKs Just 1 More Twitter Record-Keeper For Musk

Billionaire Elon Musk got access Monday to only one of the 22 additional Twitter employees he sought documents from in his response to the social media giant's Delaware Chancery Court suit seeking to force him to close on his $44 billion deal to buy the company.

Read full article »

Boies Loses Bid To Lead FirstEnergy Shareholder Suit

An Ohio federal judge on Monday rejected famed attorney David Boies' bid to be named lead counsel in a derivatives suit, instead appointing the law firms of Markovits Stock & Demarco LLC and Abraham Fruchter & Twersky LLC to lead the case over FirstEnergy Corp.'s billion-dollar bailout and bribery scandal.

Read full article »

LA County DA Gascón Defeats 2nd Recall Election Attempt

Proponents of the latest effort to recall Los Angeles County District Attorney George Gascón have once again failed to collect enough valid signatures for a recall election, the L.A. County Registrar-Recorder/County Clerk said Monday.

Read full article »

British Tribunal's Penalties For Solicitors Drop In 2021

The Solicitors Disciplinary Tribunal said Friday the sanctions it imposed against attorneys decreased in 2021, though the number of applications it received went up.

Read full article »

3 Appellate Judges Tapped For Temporary NJ High Court Gigs

Chief Justice Stuart Rabner of the New Jersey Supreme Court on Monday assigned three Appellate Division judges to temporarily fill seats on the high court.

Read full article »

Law Firm Not Subject To Consumer Loan Law, Md. Court Says

A Maryland appellate court has ruled in a split opinion that law firm Nagle & Zaller PC's debt collection on behalf of homeowners associations doesn't violate the state's Consumer Loan Law because the measure regulates traditional consumer lenders.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions
Illinois Attorney General's Office
-, -

Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Bank Policy Institute
Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: UnitedHealth Can't Afford To Misuse Rivals' Data, Judge Told
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 16/08/2022 02:46

HEALTH

LAW360®

Tuesday, August 16, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

UnitedHealth Can't Afford To Misuse Rivals' Data, Judge Told

UnitedHealth Group and Change Healthcare won't be tempted to violate safeguards protecting rival insurers' data after their planned $13.8 billion merger, the companies' lead expert economist testified Monday in D.C. federal court, rebutting claims by the U.S. Department of Justice.

Read full article »

NY AG Rips 'Secret' Info From 'Besmirched' Arnold & Porter

One year after extraordinary cover-up claims erupted in opioid litigation, the New York Attorney General's Office is accusing Arnold & Porter of wielding "secret evidence" to dodge well-deserved discipline, while the BigLaw firm says Empire State lawyers are dragging out the saga to wreck its reputation.

4 documents attached | Read full article »

1st Circ. Partially Resurrects Azurity's Beef With Edge Pharma

The First Circuit on Friday partially revived portions of Azurity Pharmaceuticals' suit against Edge Pharma over its competing hydrochloride vancomycin drug, agreeing with a Massachusetts federal court that some of its claims don't hold up, but not for the same reason.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Okla. Court Fit For Cherokee Opioids Suit, 10th Circ. Told

The Cherokee Nation urged the Tenth Circuit on Monday to support a decision to send back to Oklahoma state court the tribe's claims that three national pharmacy chains contributed to opioid addiction on the tribe's reservation, saying a district judge was either required to remand the suit or had the discretion to do so.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Doc Cleared Of $85M Medicare Scam Wants Feds Sanctioned

A doctor who was acquitted of participating in an $85 million Medicare fraud scheme in June has requested that prosecutors cover her legal expenses, claiming they knew she had no knowledge of the scheme but arrested and prosecuted her anyway.

Motion attached | Read full article »

Ga. Abortion Law Can Stand During Legal Fight, Judge Says

A Georgia state court judge on Monday ruled that the state can enforce a state law banning most abortions as early as six weeks into a pregnancy while litigation challenging it makes its way through the courts.

Order attached | Read full article »

Catching Up With Delaware's Chancery Court

More than a dozen new cases in fields ranging from petrochemicals to biopharma to e-bikes hit Delaware's Court of Chancery last week, as the court's newest vice chancellor began doling out his first round of rulings.

Read full article »

POLICY & REGULATION

NY Pot Regulators OK 1st Adult-Use Processor Applications

New York cannabis regulators at their regular meeting Monday approved the first 15 applications to process lawfully grown recreational cannabis into consumer products for the state's adult-use marijuana market.

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

AVX Corp.
American Civil Liberties Union
Array Technologies Inc.
Arsenal Capital Partners
Azurity Pharmaceuticals Inc.
Baylor Scott & White Health LLC
Berkshire Hathaway Inc.
Brookfield Property Partners LP
CVS Health Corp.
Change Healthcare Inc.
Cisco Systems Inc.
Convey Health Solutions Inc.
Endo International PLC
Evercore Inc.
FirstEnergy Corp.
General Growth Properties Inc.
Getty Images Inc.
Health Management Associates Inc.
Helix TCS Inc.
Inovalon Holdings Inc.
Instagram Inc.
International Dairy Queen Inc.
Ionis Pharmaceuticals Inc.
JPMorgan Chase & Co.
Kyocera Corporation
Los Angeles Rams
McKesson Corp.
Meta Platforms Inc.
Minnesota State Board of Investment
National Collegiate Athletic Association
Newmark Group Inc.
Nordic Capital Ltd.

Read full article »

LITIGATION

Wis. Cafe Can't Revive 'Mask Free' Dispute, 7th Circ. Says

The Seventh Circuit on Monday threw out a Wisconsin cafe's claim that the city of Madison violated the First Amendment by attempting to revoke its license after it posted a "mask free zone" sign, saying it had not shown that the city's alleged actions were part of a larger pattern or practice of retaliation.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Doctor Asks Full 11th Circ. For Redo In VA Age Bias Suit

A doctor suing the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs over alleged hiring discrimination has asked the Eleventh Circuit to hear his case for the third time, arguing that the full court should find he is allowed to prove his claim using circumstantial evidence.

Petition attached | Read full article »

Health Care Co., Worker Want $1.5M ERISA Deal OK'd

An upper Midwestern health care provider and a proposed class of current and former employees who participated in the company's 401(k) plan asked a Michigan federal judge to grant a preliminary blessing to a $1.5 million settlement to claims of benefits plan mismanagement.

Settlement attached | Read full article »

Texas Workers Want Hospital Declared Liable For Unpaid OT

Workers for a Texas health care system asked a federal judge to find their employer liable for violating the Fair Labor Standards Act by denying them time-and-a-half overtime compensation.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

McKesson Hid Sales Data In FCA Suit, Whistleblower Says

McKesson Corp. and its lawyers from Covington & Burling LLP have "cabined off" discovery in a False Claims Act suit to hide the role of its wholesale pharmaceutical division in an alleged scheme to repackage injectable drugs, counsel for a whistleblower told a Brooklyn federal judge Monday.

Read full article »

NCAA Hit With Concussion Class Action By Ex-FSU Player

An NFL front office executive who played at Florida State University in the early 1990s has lodged a proposed class action lawsuit against the NCAA alleging the organization knowingly misled him and others about the danger of concussions, becoming the latest in a growing list of players to make such accusations.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

NJ Hospital Network Sues Rival Over Ambulance Services

New Jersey hospital network CarePoint Health has sued its rival in state court, claiming it violated a settlement agreement by steering ambulance patients with private insurance to its own doors while sending underinsured and uninsured patients to CarePoint hospitals.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Inovalon Sued In Del. Over Insider Gains On $7.3B Co. Sale

Stockholders who sued health care data venture Inovalon Holdings over an allegedly unfair $7.3 billion go-private deal last year are seeking potentially hundreds of millions in damages in a new Delaware Chancery Court suit alleging multiple duty breaches and insider conflicts.

Read full article »

DEALS

Kirkland Leads Arsenal In Clinching 2 Funds Totaling $5.4B

Arsenal Capital Partners announced Monday that it had closed two funds with a total of $5.4 billion in capital commitments, with legal guidance from Kirkland & Ellis LLP.

Read full article »

BANKRUPTCY

Bankrupt Nursing Home Biz Gets OK For Deal On Backup Bid

Optum Inc.
Planned Parenthood Federation
Plug Power, Inc.
Provention Bio Inc.
Purdue Pharma LP
Redbox Automated Retail LLC
Scott & White Healthcare
SolarCity Corp.
Station Casinos LLC
Straight Path Communications Inc.
Tesla Inc.
Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc.
Twitter Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.
Warner Bros. Discovery Inc.
Washington Post Co.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Abraham Fruchter
ArentFox Schiff
Arnold & Porter
Bartlett LLP
Bartlit Beck
Boies Schiller
Bondurant Mixson
Caplan Cobb
Clean Law PC
Cleary Gottlieb
Cooch & Taylor
Covington & Burling
Cozen O'Connor
DLA Piper
Dominick Feld
Eccleston & Wolf
Federman & Sherwood
Foley & Lardner
Foliart Huff
Friedman Oster
Gordon Wolf & Carney
Hodgson Russ
Hogan Lovells
Holden Litigation
Jackson Walker LLP
Jones Day
K&L Gates
Kellogg Hansen
Kessler Topaz
Kirkland & Ellis
Labaton Sucharow
Latham & Watkins
Levenfeld Pearlstein
Levine Eisberner
Markovits Stock
McCarter & English
Mintz Levin
Moore Kuehn
Morgan Lewis
Municipal Law & Litigation Group SC
Nagle & Zaller
Napoli Shkolnik
Newman Ferrara
Norton Rose

A Delaware bankruptcy judge has allowed nursing home chain American Eagle Delaware Holding Co. to strike a deal with the second-place bidder for two of its Florida facilities in order to close the sale and move toward the end of its Chapter 11 case.

Read full article »

Texas Landlord Blasts Nursing Home's 'Fairy Tale' Ch. 11 Plan

The landlord of a Dallas retirement community urged a Texas bankruptcy judge to reject the operator's Chapter 11 plan, arguing that the proposal is predicated on changes to the existing lease that amount to a "Disney fairy tale."

Motion attached | Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Senate Cannabis Bill May Give Some Cos. A Competitive Edge

Though the recently introduced Cannabis Administration and Opportunity Act is unlikely to pass, it provides a bellwether for federal legalization, with a robust regulatory framework that would offer large food and beverage companies a structural advantage and poise multistate cannabis operators for further growth, say attorneys at Perkins Coie.

Read full article »

Attorneys Should Note Judges' Financial Conflicts Of Interest

The Federal Circuit's recent ruling vacating a $2.75 billion judgment in Centripetal Networks v. Cisco should be a wake-up call for lawyers that they and their clients could pay a heavy price if a judge with financial ties to a litigant fails to take appropriate action, says Deborah Winokur at Cozen O'Connor.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Latham Adds Ex-Facebook GC As Of Counsel In DC

Latham & Watkins LLP has hired the former general counsel for Facebook Inc., now Meta Platforms Inc., as of counsel in the firm's Washington, D.C., office, the firm announced Monday.

Read full article »

Norton Rose Absorbs 7 Lawyers From Chicago Boutique

Norton Rose Fulbright said Monday it has added a seven-lawyer team from Chicago-based renewable energy and real estate boutique Clean Law PC to its real estate practice as the firm continues to expand in the Midwest.

Read full article »

Orrick Asks 9th Circ. To Clarify Jones Day Fight Isn't Over

Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP asked the Ninth Circuit on Monday to clarify that the firm can still raise more dismissal challenges before the trial court after losing an appeal from Jones Day this month over Orrick's refusal to provide testimony in an international arbitration hearing.

Read full article »

Roy Moore Wins $8.2M Defamation Verdict Over Dem PAC Ad

Roy Moore, the former Alabama Supreme Court leader who lost his bid for a U.S. Senate seat following allegations of sexual improprieties with young girls, has won an $8.2 million verdict against a Democratic group and a media company.

Read full article »

Chancery OKs Just 1 More Twitter Record-Keeper For Musk

Billionaire Elon Musk got access Monday to only one of the 22 additional Twitter employees he sought documents from in his response to the social media giant's Delaware Chancery Court suit seeking to force him to close on his $44 billion deal to buy the company.

Read full article »

Boies Loses Bid To Lead FirstEnergy Shareholder Suit

Orrick Herrington
Parker McCay
Perkins Coie
Phillips Murrah
Polsinelli PC
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel
Rigrodsky Law
Robert & Robert PLLC
Robinson & Cole
Seyfarth Shaw
Shrader & Associates
Sills Cummis
Simmons Hanly
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Squitieri & Fearon
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Strauss Troy
Wachtell Lipton
Walcheske & Luzi
Weisman Kennedy
Whitten Burrage
Wiley Rein
Williams & Connolly
Wilson Sonsini
Wollmuth Maher
Zimmerman Law Offices
Zuckerman Spaeder

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Bureau of Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade
California Public Employees' Retirement System
Cherokee Nation
Delaware Court of Chancery
Financial Crimes Enforcement Network
Food and Drug Administration
Indian Health Service
New Jersey Supreme Court
New York Attorney General's Office
Solicitors Regulation Authority
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Middle District of Florida
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs
U.S. Department of the Treasury
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia

An Ohio federal judge on Monday rejected famed attorney David Boies' bid to be named lead counsel in a derivatives suit, instead appointing the law firms of Markovits Stock & Demarco LLC and Abraham Fruchter & Twersky LLC to lead the case over FirstEnergy Corp.'s billion-dollar bailout and bribery scandal.

Read full article »

LA County DA Gascón Defeats 2nd Recall Election Attempt

Proponents of the latest effort to recall Los Angeles County District Attorney George Gascón have once again failed to collect enough valid signatures for a recall election, the L.A. County Registrar-Recorder/County Clerk said Monday.

Read full article »

British Tribunal's Penalties For Solicitors Drop In 2021

The Solicitors Disciplinary Tribunal said Friday the sanctions it imposed against attorneys decreased in 2021, though the number of applications it received went up.

Read full article »

3 Appellate Judges Tapped For Temporary NJ High Court Gigs

Chief Justice Stuart Rabner of the New Jersey Supreme Court on Monday assigned three Appellate Division judges to temporarily fill seats on the high court.

Read full article »

Law Firm Not Subject To Consumer Loan Law, Md. Court Says

A Maryland appellate court has ruled in a split opinion that law firm Nagle & Zaller PC's debt collection on behalf of homeowners associations doesn't violate the state's Consumer Loan Law because the measure regulates traditional consumer lenders.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Florida

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas

U.S. District Court for the Western District of Michigan

U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration

U.S. House of Representatives

U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission

U.S. Senate

U.S. Supreme Court

United States District Court for the Northern District of Alabama

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: 340B Drug Discount Program Saw Another BigJump in 2021
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 16/08/2022 06:13

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 16, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

Top Stories

- Prescription medicines bought through the 340B Drug Discount Program rose 16% to $44 billion last year, per the Health Resources & Service Administration, continuing a yearslong trend of swelling sales under the controversial initiative. Though approximately 12,400 entities are now participants in the program, 18 major pharmaceutical companies have cut back on their discounts or limited the number of pharmacies that can sell their drugs, with several having been warned by the Health and Human Services Department watchdog to reinstitute discounts or face penalties. (Stat News)

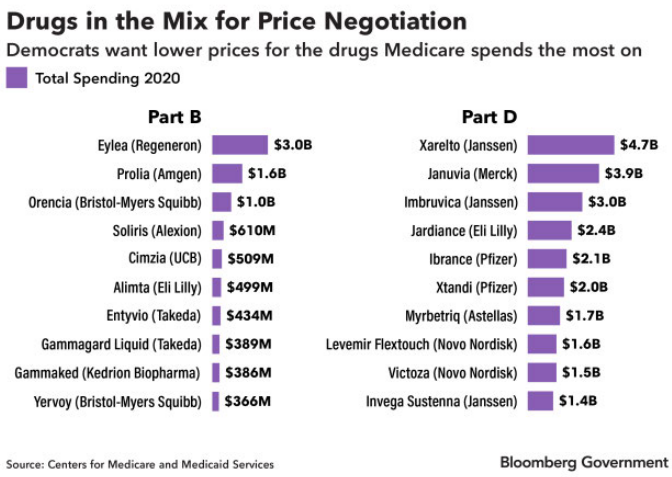
- Moderna Inc.'s reformulated COVID-19 vaccine targeting both the original strain of the virus and the omicron BA.1 variant cleared its first regulatory hurdle, as England's Medicines and Healthcare Regulatory Agency authorized the shot, which will now be offered this fall to British people 50 and older. (The Associated Press) Novavax Inc. has filed for emergency use authorization with the Food and Drug Administration for its traditional protein-based COVID-19 booster shot, which would be available to people who have received two doses of the Novavax vaccine or another approved offering. (Axios)

- The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention updated its monkeypox guidance to note that it's possible for dogs to be infected, following a French case reported in The Lancet last week that documented the first human-to-dog transmission of the disease. (CBS News) HHS said it is making up to 442,000 additional doses of Bavarian Nordic A/S's Jynneos monkeypox vaccine available for states and other localities to order now, expediting a timeline that follows the beginning of the federal dose-sparing strategy and a move from the agency's Administration for Strategic Preparedness and Response to raise the cap on the Danish drugmaker's contract from $871 million to $1 billion. (Bloomberg Law)

- The Federal Trade Commission issued a policy paper pushing states to refrain from enacting laws to conceal mergers and acquisitions activity among health care providers from antitrust scrutiny. (Bloomberg Law) The Idaho-based data analytics firm Kochava Inc. sued the FTC over potential action regarding geolocation data that the agency said could be used to monitor visits people may make to sensitive places, including abortion clinics. (The Wall Street Journal)

Chart Review

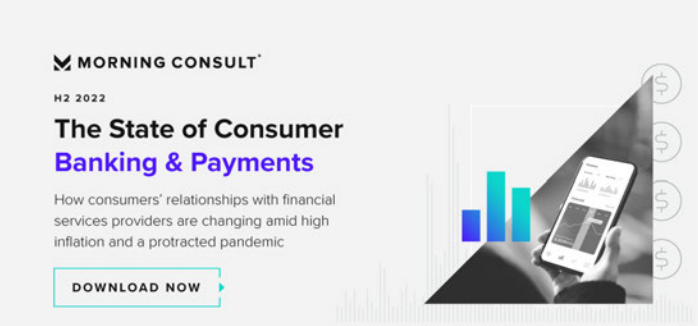
J&J, Amgen, Regeneron Drugs Likely to Face Medicare Negotiation
Bloomberg Government



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



State of Consumer Banking & Payments Report: August 2022

Consumers have weathered half a year of historic inflation. It's wearing on their financial well-being, slowing their progress toward their goals and beginning to impact their interactions with financial services providers.

Access Morning Consult's report, The State of Consumer Banking & Payments, to understand how consumers' relationships with financial services providers are changing amid high inflation and a protracted pandemic. Download today.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

Pfizer CEO Albert Bourla tests positive for COVID-19, has mild symptoms
CBS News
The top executive at Pfizer, a leading producer of COVID-19 vaccines, has tested positive for the virus and says he is experiencing very mild symptoms.

The Odds of Getting COVID From Your Housemate Are 'About a Coin Flip'
Yasmin Tayag, The Atlantic
By this point, the pandemic saga has introduced us to a cast of recurring characters. Among them are the Chill Friend, who is totally over COVID precautions at this point, and the Unlucky Acquaintance, who has had COVID three times and brings it up whenever someone else falls sick. And then there is the Person Whose Roommate Has COVID. You know the type: They'll describe, in the hushed tones usually reserved for tragic gossip, how and when their live-in friend, partner, child, or whoever came down with the virus—before interjecting, "But I feel fine! … For now." Nervous laughter ensues. Whether their house is dealing with a blazing-fever situation or a mild-cough one, Person Whose Roommate Has COVID always has the same underlying worry: Am I next?

It's going to be a complicated fall for Covid and flu vaccinations
Andrew Joseph, Stat News
The U.S. plan to roll out updated Covid-19 boosters will not only coincide with the logistical tangle of the regular flu shot drive, but will also face questions about when people should get the new shots to provide themselves with the best protection through our third Covid winter.

Health departments apply lessons learned from Covid to other public health concerns
Katheryn Houghton, Kaiser Health News
The pandemic laid bare the gaps and disparities in the U.S. public health system, and often resulted in blowback against local officials trying to slow the coronavirus's spread. But one positive outcome, in part fueled by a boost in federal dollars, is that health workers have started adapting lessons they learned from their covid-19 response to other aspects of their work.

GENERAL

Biden to sign health and climate bill on Tuesday
Morgan Chalfant, The Hill
President Biden will sign into law the sweeping climate, health care and tax legislation that has been Democrats' priority for more than a year during a ceremony at the White House on Tuesday.

Immunization leader lays bare challenges facing the monkeypox response
Helen Branswell, Stat News
The good news is that there is a licensed vaccine. At the start of many outbreaks of new or rare diseases, there are no vaccines. But the bad news quickly overtakes the good. Demand outstrips supply, both domestically and internationally. In the U.S., the federal government has decided to use fractional doses — one-fifth of a normal dose, per person — to try to stretch supplies.

Eating Disorder Crisis Plaguing Americans on Government-Funded Insurance
Madison Muller, Bloomberg
The pandemic exacerbated many mental health problems, and eating disorders are no exception: Emergency room visits for girls suffering from anorexia and bulimia were twice as high in January of this year as they were three years earlier.

Private equity is shortchanging kids with autism, parents, clinicians say
Tara Bannow, Stat News
Families and clinicians who once believed fully in the promise of ABA say the financial investors' fixation on profit has degraded the quality of services kids receive, turning it into the equivalent of fast food therapy. They've grown disillusioned with the industry, they told STAT. Some are now questioning whether the therapy is helpful at all, or even harmful, especially after a recent Fortune article detailed an allegation of physical abuse at one chain.

Data Shows Increases in Students Feeling 'Sad or Hopeless'
Chris Gilligan, U.S. News & World Report
Data from state surveys on youth behavior show the continuation of a concerning trend in high school students feeling persistently "sad or hopeless."

Monkeypox: Experts debunk 11 myths and misconceptions
Orion Rummler, The 19th
Can monkeypox spread on the subway? Can it kill like COVID-19? Is it transmitted through sex? Misconceptions, myths and a lack of public knowledge on the monkeypox virus are widespread.

How monkeypox spreads: Experts clear up misinformation
Benjamin Ryan, NBC News
Misinformation about the monkeypox outbreak is spawning an epidemic of largely unfounded anxiety, experts say.

Georgia Six-Week Abortion Law Remains in Effect Pending Suit
Mary Anne Pazanowski, Bloomberg Law
Abortion after the sixth week of pregnancy is illegal in Georgia for now, as reproductive rights groups on Monday lost a bid to stop the state from enforcing the ban while a suit testing its validity under the state constitution is pending.

Idaho Lawmakers to Help Defend Abortion Law in Federal Lawsuit
Mary Anne Pazanowski, Bloomberg Law
The Idaho legislature can join the defense of a first-ever lawsuit by the US challenging Idaho's near-total ban on abortion but it's limited to attempting to show "the holes in the 'factual' foundation" of the argument that the ban violates an emergency care law, a federal judge said.

Post-Roe, Americans seek tubal sterilizations — but barriers persist
Meena Venkataramanan, The Washington Post
Anxious about abortion access, these patients are mobilizing online to spread the word about getting sterilized — while trying to surmount challenges that have long made it difficult to access the procedure, which is meant to be permanent but still allows for planned pregnancies through in vitro fertilization (IVF) or surrogacy.

Abortion bans restrict medications women need for chronic conditions
Janet Shamlian and Nic Cutrona, CBS News
Methotrexate is often used to treat rheumatoid arthritis, Crohn's disease and cancer. But it can also be used to terminate nonviable pregnancies, where a fertilized egg grows outside the womb. After the Supreme Court's decision overturning Roe v. Wade, pharmacies in some states made methotrexate harder to get, regardless of what it's being prescribed for.

Once routine, pre-surgical pregnancy testing now is anything but Trisha Pasricha, Stat News
Such pre-procedure pregnancy tests are routine for patients of child-bearing age before everything from tooth extractions to ACL repairs, to guard against any potential risks to a developing fetus. Tens of thousands are done every year, with neither patients nor physicians giving it much thought — until now. The Supreme Court's Dobbs decision has raised the stakes of a positive pregnancy test in the states where abortion is now banned or sharply restricted, making testing anything but routine.

Scotland Makes Period Products Free
Remy Tumin, The New York Times
The initiative makes Scotland the first country in the world to provide free sanitary products, part of a global effort to end "period poverty" — or a lack of access to tampons or sanitary pads because of prohibitively high costs.

PAYERS

Oscar Health presses pause on new full-service technology deals
Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare
Oscar Health is pressing pause on new deals for its technology platform for more than a year as it manages issues in integrating with Health First Health Plans, an early adopter of the tech stack, executives told investors.

Here are 4 key health policy items in the Inflation Reduction Act
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare
Experts say regulating the bill will have a big impact on providers, including those that rely heavily on reimbursements for Medicare Part B drugs. Some providers purchase their own products under a buy and bill model and then get reimbursed by Medicare for the average sales price of Part B plus 4% for storage and handling costs. The problem is that model doesn't work if Medicare will reimburse for a smaller negotiated rate.

Natural Family Planning Reinstated in Birth Control Pay Rule
Mary Anne Pazanowski, Bloomberg Law
Health insurers required by Obamacare to pay in full for birth control drugs and related services also must pay for counseling about fertility awareness-based methods of family planning, as federal guidelines omitting them are unlawful, a federal court in Texas said.

Bright Health heads toward insolvency as it rushes to raise more cash
Bob Herman, Stat News

Bright, a health insurance company that also owns physician offices, had $2 billion to fund operations as of June 30. Although executives are telling investors that Bright is "meaningfully closer to profitability in 2023," the company admitted it could go belly-up by the end of the year if it doesn't secure more cash.

PROVIDERS

Kaiser Permanente mental health workers on strike

Ginger Christ, Modern Healthcare

The more than 2,000 therapists, chemical dependency counselors and social workers represented by the National Union of Healthcare Workers have been working without a contract since September. Bargaining started in July 2021.

Base pay, incentives up for health system executives

Caroline Hudson, Modern Healthcare

Turnover in healthcare leadership positions is up, with more executives looking to retire after years of COVID-19. At the same time, health systems have become more complex as they consolidate, requiring additional levels of experience.

New York hospitals, healthcare workers reach few agreements on staffing levels

Maya Kaufman, Modern Healthcare

Hospitals across New York largely failed to reach consensus with nurses and ancillary-service workers in their final clinical staffing plans submitted to the state Department of Health, union members said.

Mismanaged hospitals in rural Missouri abandoned their own employees' health insurance plans

Sarah Jane Tribble, Kaiser Health News

The first unexpected bill arrived in December, just weeks before Tara Lovell's husband of 40 years died from bladder cancer. Lovell worked as an ultrasound technologist at the local hospital, in Mexico, Missouri, and was paying more than $400 each month for health insurance through her job. The town's struggling hospital, the sole health care provider and major employer, had changed ownership in recent years and had been sold to Noble Health, a private equity-backed startup whose managers had never run a hospital.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Meet the 10 biggest pharma companies in the world

Paige McGlauflin, Fortune

The pharmaceutical industry had a big year in 2021. The 10 largest pharma companies by revenue spanned five countries and brought in a collective $734.8 billion in revenue and $130.6 billion in profits, according to the 2022 Fortune Global 500, released earlier this month.

BrainStorm to seek FDA approval for ALS drug, despite agency objections

Adam Feuerstein, Stat News

Last year, the Food and Drug Administration issued a rare public statement to inform the ALS community that a negative clinical trial involving an experimental stem-cell therapy from Brainstorm Cell

Therapeutics did not support the filing of a marketing application. On Monday, Brainstorm announced its intention to seek approval from the FDA for its ALS treatment, called NurOwn, regardless of the agency's past opposition.

How to get Wegovy for Weight Loss? Startup Calibrate Used Drug Company Coupons

Emma Court, Bloomberg

The weight-loss startup Calibrate Health Inc. attracted thousands of customers with an enticing pitch: It could get them low-cost access to obesity drugs like Wegovy, a breakthrough, $1,350-a-month medication that helps people lose 15% of their excess weight.

The private equity firms behind 8 of the biggest names in autism therapy

Tara Bannow, Stat News

Private equity investors are backing all of the major chains offering the country's most popular form of autism therapy, known as applied behavior analysis, or ABA. Now, however, there are signs that those investors may be cooling on the industry.

Elliott Management Has Large Position in Cardinal Health

Joseph Walker and Cara Lombardo, The Wall Street Journal

Activist investor Elliott Management has a large position in Cardinal Health Inc. and is seeking a handful of seats on the medical-products distributor's board, according to people familiar with the matter.

Supreme Court abortion ruling has birth control advocates worried

Ben Paviour, NPR News

When the Supreme Court issued its ruling that overturned Roe v. Wade, Justice Clarence Thomas wrote in a concurring opinion that the court "should reconsider" its past rulings related to contraception.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Artificial intelligence was supposed to transform health care. It hasn't.

Ben Leonard and Ruth Reader, Politico

Investors see health care's future as inextricably linked with artificial intelligence. That's obvious from the cash pouring into AI-enabled digital health startups, including more than $3 billion in the first half of 2022 alone and nearly $10 billion in 2021, according to a Rock Health investment analysis commissioned by POLITICO.

Kidney Transplant Discovery Offers Hope to Ethnic Minorities

Dong Lyu, Bloomberg

British scientists have managed to change the blood type in three donor kidneys in a discovery that could potentially speed up transplants for patients with less common blood types, such as ethnic minorities.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

'Is an abortion medically necessary?' is not a question for ethicists

Holly Fernandez Lynch et al., Stat News

Abortion raises many ethical questions. Determining whether an abortion is needed to save a pregnant person's life or health is not among them. That's a factual question requiring medical — not ethical — judgment.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Compliance of National Cancer Institute-Designated Cancer Centers With January 2021 Price Transparency Requirements

Christopher P. Childers et al., JAMA Surgery

In an effort to increase competition and drive down prices, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) initiated 2 policies in the last 3 years to increase hospital price transparency. Starting January 2019, hospitals were required to publish their chargemasters—a list of the nondiscounted prices for services provided. This effort has been criticized because charges rarely reflect the actual prices paid for a service and do little to spur competition. In response to this criticism, CMS expanded this mandate in January 2021 to require hospitals to publish a list of their negotiated rates with health insurers. In theory, this should more effectively increase competition between payors and hospitals and drive down rates.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: White House Health Newsletter + Briefing Invites
FROM: White House Office of Public Engagement <ope@who.eop.gov>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 16/08/2022 13:52

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Health Community Updates

Friends – Please join us for our next bi-weekly White House Health Community Call on Wednesday, August 24th at 2:30pm ET. You can RSVP here. Please invite colleagues and members of your community – all are welcome.

Below are several important updates. Have a wonderful rest of the week.

White House Healthcare/Prescription Drug Briefing on the Inflation Reduction Act

The Inflation Reduction Act will lower costs for families, combat the climate crisis, reduce the deficit, and finally ask the largest corporations to pay their fair share. You can read more here, and please join us for a briefing this Thursday at 1pm ET to hear more about this monumental legislative achievement. All info is below.

Briefing: How the Inflation Reduction Act Will Cut Prescription Drug Costs, Lower Health Insurance Premiums and Expand Coverage with Special Guest Deputy Secretary of Health and Human Services Andrea Palm
Date: Thursday, August 18th
Time: 1:00 PM ET
RSVP: https://pitc.zoomgov.com/webinar/register/WN_LfSsDsUVTxuSV5WvT-2qHQ

USDA, HHS, National WIC Association, and AAP Briefing on Imported Infant Formula
Please join the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services, the National WIC Association and the American Academy of Pediatrics for a briefing on imported infant formula. There will be an opportunity for questions from attendees after the presentation. Register in advance of the webinar here. Instructions on how to join the session will be provided automatically upon registration.

HHS Weekly Briefing on Monkeypox
Please join the Department of Health and Human Services Office of Intergovernmental and External Affairs, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), and Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response (ASPR) for our weekly Monkeypox briefing on Thursdays at 2:00 PM EST.

Call Details
Date: Every Thursday
Time: 2:00 PM EST
Zoom Link: RSVP Here.

FDA Hearing Aid Announcement
Today, the FDA issued a final rule to make hearing aids available over the counter – delivering on the President's Executive Order calling for more competition and lowering costs for the American people. Today's action means that in October, hearing aids will be available over the counter, saving nearly $3000 per pair for American families. Below are resources on the announcement.

POTUS Statement: https://www.whitehouse.gov/briefing-room/statements-releases/2022/08/16/statement-by-president-joe-biden-on-fda-hearing-aids-final-rule/

VPOTUS video: https://twitter.com/VP/status/1559529233470439427?s=20&t=jMfHX5OLpvgbqsqBQ7JvlQ

FDA Release: https://www.fda.gov/news-events/press-announcements/fda-finalizes-historic-rule-enabling-access-over-counter-hearing-aids-millions-americans

HHS Approves 12-month Extension of Postpartum Medicaid and CHIP Coverage in Hawaii, Maryland, and Ohio
Today, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), through the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), approved the extension of Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) coverage for 12 months after pregnancy in Hawaii, Maryland, and Ohio. As a result, up to an additional 34,000 people annually – including 2,000 in Hawaii; 11,000 in Maryland; and 21,000 in Ohio – will now be eligible for Medicaid or Title XXI-funded Medicaid expansion CHIP coverage for a full year after pregnancy. With today's approval, in combination with previously approved state extensions, an estimated 318,000 Americans annually in 21 states and D.C. are eligible for 12 months of postpartum coverage. If all states adopted this option, as many as 720,000 people across the United States annually would be guaranteed Medicaid and CHIP coverage for 12 months after pregnancy.

All best,

White House Office of Public Engagement

STAY IN THE KNOW
Share and amplify our community updates by encouraging your networks to sign up to receive this newsletter using the following link.
http://eepurl.com/hIdkdf

PRIVACY POLICY | UNSUBSCRIBE

SUBJECT: 'Sea Change In The Law': Inside One Firm's Post-Roe Practice
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 17/08/2022 02:07

LAW360

Wednesday, August 17, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Interview

'Sea Change In The Law': Inside One Firm's Post-Roe Practice

The U.S. Supreme Court's nullification of the constitutional right to abortion has ushered in "transformative" changes for health care attorneys and become one of the rare events to which entirely new practice groups can be devoted, the leaders of a boutique health firm's post-Roe v. Wade practice told Law360.

Read full article »

Biden Signs Landmark Tax And Climate Bill Into Law

President Joe Biden signed the tax, climate and health care legislation known as the Inflation Reduction Act into law Tuesday, marking a major victory for Democrats ahead of the November midterm elections.

Bill attached | Read full article »

DOJ Can Shield Michael Cohen Probe Docs, 2nd Circ. Affirms

The Second Circuit on Tuesday agreed with a district judge's decision that documents related to FBI interviews with Donald Trump's former lawyer Michael Cohen are attorney work product, and thus are exempt from Freedom of Information Act requests.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Trump Urges 2nd Circ. To Revive Challenge To NY Biz Probe

Former President Donald Trump on Tuesday urged the Second Circuit to undo a lower court decision tossing his challenge to the New York attorney general's investigation into his business dealings, saying the probe's "harassing and overreaching" nature needs judicial scrutiny.

Brief attached | Read full article »

SDNY Courthouses To Drop Mask Mandates In Near Future

Judges and court personnel in the Southern District of New York are telling lawyers that with COVID-19 cases falling along with rates of severe illness, rules requiring masks are likely to be relaxed as early as next week in favor of a masks-optional policy.

Read full article »

North Carolina AG Could Face Grand Jury Over Political Ad

North Carolina Attorney General Josh Stein could face criminal prosecution over a 2020 campaign ad after a federal judge on Monday declined to delay enforcement of the state political speech law he is potentially accused of violating.

Order attached | Read full article »

NYC Pols Urge DOJ To Fix 'Crisis' Conditions At Brooklyn Jail

New York City elected officials and congressional candidates traveled to Brooklyn's oft-maligned Metropolitan Detention

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

AlvaradoSmith
Arnold & Porter
Ashcroft Law Firm
Berger Montague
Blank Rome
CKR Law LLP
Cleary Gottlieb
Cohen Milstein
DLA Piper
Davis Polk
Del Sole Cavanaugh
Dorsey & Whitney
Faruqi & Faruqi
Gibson Dunn
Gitlin Horn
Glasser & Glasser
Goldman Ismail
Goodwin Procter
Gottlieb & Associates
Greenbaum Rowe
Habba Madaio
Hagens Berman
Hangley Aronchick
Harris Wiltshire

Center on Tuesday to call for greater U.S. Department of Justice oversight of the largest federal pretrial jail in the nation.

Letter attached | Read full article »

Texas State Bar Beats Attys' Dues Suit

A Texas federal judge struck down a proposed class action against the State Bar of Texas arguing that attorneys who don't agree with how the bar's money is spent should be reimbursed their dues, ruling that the three attorney plaintiffs couldn't overcome the hurdle of sovereign immunity.

Order attached | Read full article »

Ex-Trump Aide Navarro 'Fishing' For Irrelevant Docs, Feds Say

The federal government said former Trump White House trade adviser Peter Navarro is "fishing for irrelevant information" as he fights contempt charges for defying a congressional subpoena related to the Jan. 6 attack on the U.S. Capitol.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

Analysis

SEC's New Hedge Fund Proposal Leaves Some Wary Of Hacks

Hedge fund advisers are likely to express concern about the safety of sensitive business information being requested by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission under an enhanced disclosure rule proposed last week, particularly after the hack of an agency database in recent years, legal experts told Law360.

Read full article »

DC Circ. Orders SEC To Review FINRA Bond Reporting Plan

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has been ordered to take another look at a bond reporting system it approved the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority to run after the D.C. Circuit found Tuesday that the regulator did not adequately respond to concerns raised by Bloomberg LP.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Fed Says Banks Should Notify It Before Dipping Into Crypto

The Federal Reserve issued guidance Tuesday for what banks under its oversight should do before getting involved in any cryptocurrency-related activities, saying it wants to receive a heads-up from them for starters.

1 document attached | Read full article »

'Uber Files' Leaked To The Guardian Prompt Investor Suit

Uber Technologies' stock price took a significant hit, damaging shareholders, after thousands of internal company records — dubbed the "Uber Files" by journalists — were leaked to The Guardian, revealing the company's misconduct, according to an investor class action filed Tuesday in California federal court.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

9th Circ. May Rethink Go-Ahead For Ariz. Copper Mine

The Ninth Circuit may be poised to revisit a ruling from earlier this summer that upheld plans to tap nearly 2 trillion tons of copper ore on federal land in Arizona after one of its judges asked the full appeals court to reconsider whether the project would violate a local Apache group's religious liberty.

Order attached | Read full article »

States Oppose USPS Effort To Centralize Mail Truck Suits

States, environmental groups and autoworkers on Monday asked the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation not to centralize three lawsuits alleging the U.S. Postal Service overlooked climate change impacts when it decided to replace its aging delivery fleet with fossil fuel-powered vehicles.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

Abortion Providers Ask Fla. Justices To Hear Fight Over Ban

Hilliard & Shadowen
Hinshaw & Culbertson
Hogan Lovells
Hogen Adams
Holwell Shuster
Hooper Lundy
Houston Harbaugh
Jenner & Block
Joseph & Kirschenbaum
Katten Muchin
Kaufman & Canoles
Kenny Nachwalter
Kessler Topaz
Kirkland & Ellis
Latham & Watkins
Mayer Brown
Miller Shah LLP
Morgan Lewis
Motley Rice
Mound Cotton
Municipal Law & Litigation Group SC
Napoli Shkolnik
Nussbaum Law Group PC
O'Melveny & Myers
Orrick Herrington
Paul Hastings
Pomerantz LLP
Pryor Cashman
Radice Law Firm
Reed Smith
Ridley McGreevy
Robert C Gottlieb & Associates
Schulte Roth
Shearman & Sterling
Sperling & Slater
Squire Patton
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Taus Cebulash
Vinson & Elkins
Wiley Rein
Williams & Connolly
Wilson Sonsini
Wolcott Rivers
Womble Bond
Woods Rogers
YK Law

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Allied World Assurance Company Holdings, ltd.
American Civil Liberties Union
American College of Physicians
American Council on Renewable Energy
Applebee's International Inc.
Axon Enterprise Inc.
Bates White LLC
Bertelsmann AG
Bloomberg
Center for Biological Diversity
Coinbase Global Inc.
Consolidated Edison Inc.
DCI Consulting Group Inc.
Earthjustice
Financial Industry Regulatory Authority Inc.
Flynn Restaurant Group LP
Georgetown University

Planned Parenthood and other abortion providers are asking the Florida Supreme Court to consider their challenge to the state's ban on most abortions after 15 weeks of gestation after the providers were dealt a blow by a lower court last month.

Notice attached | Read full article »

NJ Nursing Home's COVID Immunity Pitch Meets Skepticism

A New Jersey state judge on Tuesday challenged a nursing home's bid to throw out a lawsuit over a resident's COVID-19 death, questioning its stance that the allegations entirely deal with negligence and thus are blocked by a state law shielding medical facilities from civil liability over pandemic-related treatment.

Read full article »

IP & TECHNOLOGY

SG Urges High Court To Back Photographer In Warhol IP Fight

The Biden administration has told the U.S. Supreme Court it should affirm a Second Circuit decision that Andy Warhol's artwork did not make fair use of a photo of music legend Prince, telling the justices that siding with Warhol "would dramatically expand" the fair-use doctrine.

5 documents attached | Read full article »

INSURANCE

Warburg Pincus-Owned Lender Fleeced Borrowers, States Say

Five U.S. states and the District of Columbia sued a Warburg Pincus-backed lender Tuesday on claims that the firm charged consumers for hidden add-on policies that they didn't agree to buy, adding that the private equity giant's "high-growth demands" led to the alleged predatory tactics.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Insurers Claim Calif. Franchisee's Virus Suit Can't Stay In Pa.

A restaurant franchise company's lawsuit seeking insurance coverage for pandemic losses doesn't belong in a Pennsylvania state court because neither the company nor the insurers have enough contact with the Keystone State to grant its courts personal jurisdiction, attorneys for the insurers argued Tuesday.

Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

DC Circ. Affirms Judiciary Workers' Right To Political Activity

A federal judiciary policy forbidding employees from championing political candidates and parties outside of work and organizing to support their campaigns violates the First Amendment, the D.C. Circuit ruled Tuesday.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

Publishing Merger Won't Hurt Competition, Yale Prof Says

A Yale University economist told a D.C. federal judge on Tuesday that there's plenty of competition in the publishing industry for the acquisition of new books and that author advances are not likely to fall after Penguin Random House acquires Simon & Schuster.

Read full article »

FTC Renews Fight Against State Shields For Hospital Mergers

The Federal Trade Commission urged state lawmakers Monday to avoid using Certificates of Public Advantage, which allow hospital mergers without federal oversight, claiming that they create higher prices and reduced quality of care for patients and slower wage growth for employees, despite hospitals' claim that the certificates lower patient costs and improve overall health.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

FTC Gets Backing In High Court Constitutionality Case

The American Antitrust Institute has thrown its weight behind the Federal Trade Commission in an appeal before the U.S. Supreme Court, supporting the agency's argument that lawsuits challenging the constitutionality of the FTC's administrative court cannot proceed until the agency's court hands down a final ruling.

Glenmark Pharmaceuticals Ltd.
Google LLC
Hachette Book Group Inc.
HarperCollins Publishers LLC
International Consortium of Investigative Journalists
Iqvia Holdings Inc.
LinkedIn Corp.
Macmillan Publishers Ltd.
McAfee Inc.
Merck & Co. Inc.
Meta Platforms Inc.
Natural Resources Defense Council
New Civil Liberties Alliance
North Carolina Justice Center
Northern Mariana Islands Retirement Fund
PJM Interconnection LLC
Panera Bread Co.
Paramount Global
Pilgrim's Pride Corp.
Planned Parenthood Federation
Public Broadcasting Service
Recording Industry Association of America Inc.
Ripple Labs Inc.
Roberts Group (Little Rock, US)
Rogers Communications Inc.
Shaw Communications Inc.
Sierra Club
Simon & Schuster Inc.
Space Exploration Technologies Corp.
Spectrum Management Holding Co.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
The Charles Schwab Corp.
The Florida Bar
Theranos Inc.
Trump Organization Inc.
Twitter Inc.
Uber Technologies Inc.
United Auto Workers
Videotron s.e.n.c.
Warburg Pincus LLC
Wells Fargo & Co.
Wynn Resorts Ltd.
Yale University

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa Tribe
Bureau of Ocean Energy Management
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Commodity Futures Trading Commission
Congressional Budget Office
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
European Union
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Bureau of Prisons
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Federal Reserve System

Brief attached | Read full article »

Poultry Execs Get Clarification On Price-Fixing Charges

A Colorado federal judge has ordered the U.S. Department of Justice to provide two former chicken industry executives with more information about the price-fixing charges filed against them, finding the disclosure is appropriate to allow the men to properly prepare a defense for trial.

Order attached | Read full article »

CYBERSECURITY & PRIVACY

Calif. Agency Urges House To Scrap 'Weak' Data Privacy Bill

California's new privacy agency is stepping up pressure on House leaders to abandon data privacy legislation that would preempt stronger state laws, arguing that Congress needs to set a "floor of federal protections" rather than hamstring the work of the agency and state policymakers.

Letter attached | Read full article »

TAX

Feds Spell Out EV Tax Breaks Under Inflation Reduction Act

Ford Escape PHEV, BMW X5 and Jeep Wrangler PHEV are among the electric vehicles assembled in North America that consumers can buy using a tax credit revised under a new landmark law that aims to tackle climate change.

4 documents attached | Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

DOL Wants H-2B Suit Cut, Citing Crawfish Season's End

The U.S. Department of Labor has asked a D.C. federal judge to further trim a lawsuit by employees of a Louisiana crawfish plant, saying the end of the crawfish season also meant their H-2B wage rule challenge ended.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

WHITE COLLAR

Ex-House Rep. TJ Cox Arrested On Fraud Charges In Calif.

Former U.S. Rep. T.J. Cox was arrested Tuesday and hit with a nearly 30-count indictment alleging campaign contribution fraud, financial institution fraud and wire fraud as well as money laundering, according to the U.S. Department of Justice.

Indictment attached | Read full article »

Judge Strikes DOJ Memo Over Footnotes In Wynn FARA Case

A D.C. federal judge overseeing the U.S. Department of Justice's civil suit against former casino and hotel mogul Steve Wynn, who is accused of failing to register as a foreign agent, on Tuesday struck a government memorandum that disputed Wynn's motion to dismiss, determining it had "excessive footnotes."

Motion attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Interview

FCC Democrat Touts Pilot Effort To Connect More Americans

Federal Communications Commission member Geoffrey Starks has kept up a frenetic schedule lately, touring American cities from Boston to Los Angeles to see firsthand the problems people are experiencing without high-speed internet.

Read full article »

High-Speed Deployment Barriers Bedevil US Neighbors Too

The United States is not the only North American country still facing steep obstacles in getting all its people connected to modern high-speed internet, top-level telecom regulators from across the continent said Tuesday.

Read full article »

Canadian Telecoms Ink Divestiture In Bid To Save $20B Merger

Telecommunications corporations Rogers Communications Inc. and Shaw Communications have announced a deal to sell off a wireless carrier in an attempt to address an

Federal Trade Commission
Florida Supreme Court
Food and Drug Administration
Internal Revenue Service
Lac Courte Oreilles Band
Lac du Flambeau Band of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians
National Archives and Records Administration
National Institute of Standards and Technology
National Telecommunications and Information Administration
New Jersey Supreme Court
New York Attorney General's Office
New York State Joint Commission on Public Ethics
Office of Defender Services
Office of the Comptroller of the Currency
Red Cliff Band
Risk Management Agency
Rural Utilities Service
San Carlos Apache Nation
State Bar of Texas
Texas Legislature
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Army
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Colorado
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of New Jersey
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of California
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Copyright Office
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Energy
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of the Interior
U.S. Department of the Treasury
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York

ongoing challenge to their $20 billion merger from Canada's Competition Bureau.

Read full article »

CANNABIS

Calif. Court Says Unlawful Pot Biz Operated As Fake Church

A California state judge permanently barred a nonprofit, which had claimed to be a church, from selling, making or giving away cannabis in the city of South Gate during a public nuisance trial, ruling against the group after one of its members abandoned the case midtrial.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Nebraska Attys Can Invest In Medical Cannabis, Panel Says

The Advisory Committee to Nebraska Attorneys has said in an advisory opinion that attorneys there and their spouses can invest in medical cannabis operations in states where cannabis businesses are legal without violating Nebraska's professional code of conduct.

Read full article »

Wis. Can't Tax Reacquired Tribal Land, 7th Circ. Rules

The Seventh Circuit has reversed a Wisconsin federal judge's ruling allowing the state to tax lands of four Chippewa tribes that have been reacquired by tribe members, saying the tribes retain a treaty-based right not to pay taxes on those lands and the state didn't overcome the "sanctity" of tribal tax immunity under U.S. Supreme Court precedent.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Church Says Oakland Denied Permits Because Of Cannabis

An Oakland branch of the Church of Ambrosia, whose members believe they become closer to God through the use of cannabis and mushrooms, is suing the city, alleging that it discriminated against the church by denying a land-use permit.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

Gibson Dunn Taps Former FERC Judge For DC Office

Gibson Dunn & Crutcher LLP announced Tuesday that it had brought on a former Federal Energy Regulatory Commission administrative law judge as senior counsel, marking a second hire from government ranks to the firm's D.C. office this week.

Read full article »

DC Boutique Changes Name As Co-Founder Heads To NTIA

D.C. boutique Harris Wiltshire & Grannis LLP has rebranded as HWG LLP after a name partner left to take up a senior advisory role at the National Telecommunications and Information Administration.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Are Securities Laws Appropriate To Protect Crypto Markets?

Following the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's recent Coinbase fraud charges, regulators should consider whether using securities law to oversee digital asset markets may contradict both the scienter requirements of insider trading and the general concepts of notice and due process that undergird U.S. legal theory, says Amy Caiazza at Wilson Sonsini.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

3 Trends To Watch In US Offshore Wind Development

As the offshore wind industry continues to build momentum in the U.S. with billions of dollars in new infrastructure spending and offshore lease sales, developers should keep an eye on emerging solutions to grid connectivity, expansion into new potential lease areas and more, say attorneys at V&E.

Read full article »

NYC Employers Face Ambiguities In AI Bias Law

There are less than five months to go before the enactment of a new law in New York City that will regulate the use of artificial intelligence in employers' hiring processes, but its effectiveness will be limited if outstanding questions are not addressed soon, say consultants at DCI Consulting.

Read full article »

U.S. House of Representatives

U.S. Postal Service

U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission

U.S. Senate

U.S. Supreme Court

United States District Court for the District of Colorado

Wisconsin Department of Revenue

Digital Health Cos. Should Expect More Scrutiny Amid Growth

As the digital health market continues to flourish, the privacy and security of patient data has become a focus of legislative, regulatory and interest group action, and developers should be motivated to reassure both regulators and consumers that users' data is adequately protected, say attorneys at Kirkland.

Read full article »

What Litigators Can Really Learn From Rambo

A Rambo litigator is a consistently overaggressive and dishonest attorney, but the John Rambo of "First Blood," which recently celebrated its 40th anniversary, has several excellent qualities worth emulating in the legal profession, including professional competence, mental resilience and improvisational ability, says Christopher Van de Kieft at Gitlin Horn.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Law Firm Revenue Growth Slows Amid Falling Profits

Revenue at large and midsize law firms across the U.S. grew just 5.8% since last summer as booming expenses led to falling profits following record gains in 2021, according to a report from Wells Fargo Private Bank released Tuesday.

Read full article »

Mansfield Rule 6.0 Stresses Transparent Path To Leadership

Law firms participating in the Diversity Lab's Mansfield Rule certification process, which is aimed at improving diversity in leadership within the legal industry, were presented with some heightened standards to certification on Tuesday, including a strong emphasis on transparency in a number of areas that affect promotion.

Read full article »

Andrew Cuomo Beats Ethics Panel's Bid For $5M Book Profits

A New York state judge held Tuesday that a now-defunct state ethics commission unlawfully sought to seize the proceeds of Andrew Cuomo's $5.1 million book deal, finding the commission had determined wrongdoing without giving the former governor a due process hearing.

Read full article »

Merck's Zetia Arguments Don't Misuse Privilege, Judge Says

A Virginia federal judge will allow Merck to make certain arguments about how its executives interpreted a patent litigation settlement with rival drugmaker Glenmark over cholesterol drug Zetia despite claims from antitrust plaintiffs that the company previously made the information off-limits by claiming it's privileged attorney-client communication.

Read full article »

NY Judge OKs $945K Arbitration Award For Ex-CKR Atty

A New York state judge has signed off on a $945,000 arbitration award that went in favor of a former crypto-focused lawyer and against CKR Law LLP and its managing partner.

Read full article »

Former Boston Prosecutor Pleads Not Guilty In Rape Case

A former Boston prosecutor and criminal justice reform advocate pled not guilty on Tuesday to accusations that he raped a woman while she slept during an encounter in a New York hotel room in 2017, the Manhattan District Attorney's Office told Law360.

Read full article »

SEC Taps Seasoned Federal Prosecutor To Run Philly Office

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has tapped a federal prosecutor to serve as the regional director of the agency's Philadelphia office, while also permanently installing the acting regional director of the San Francisco office.

Read full article »

JOBS
Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions
Illinois Attorney General's Office
-, -

Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Bank Policy Institute
Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: 'Sea Change In The Law': Inside One Firm's Post-Roe Practice
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 17/08/2022 02:48

LAW360®

Wednesday, August 17, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Interview

'Sea Change In The Law': Inside One Firm's Post-Roe Practice

The U.S. Supreme Court's nullification of the constitutional right to abortion has ushered in "transformative" changes for health care attorneys and become one of the rare events to which entirely new practice groups can be devoted, the leaders of a boutique health firm's post-Roe v. Wade practice told Law360.

Read full article »

Abortion Providers Ask Fla. Justices To Hear Fight Over Ban

Planned Parenthood and other abortion providers are asking the Florida Supreme Court to consider their challenge to the state's ban on most abortions after 15 weeks of gestation after the providers were dealt a blow by a lower court last month.

Notice attached | Read full article »

Idaho Co. Fights FTC's Suit Threat Over Data Tracking

A marketing and analytics company has sued the Federal Trade Commission in Idaho federal court over the agency's threat to challenge the company's sale of consumer geolocation data, which could be used to track people to sensitive places, like therapists' offices and reproductive health care clinics.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Merck's Zetia Arguments Don't Misuse Privilege, Judge Says

A Virginia federal judge will allow Merck to make certain arguments about how its executives interpreted a patent litigation settlement with rival drugmaker Glenmark over cholesterol drug Zetia despite claims from antitrust plaintiffs that the company previously made the information off-limits by claiming it's privileged attorney-client communication.

Order attached | Read full article »

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

American Civil Liberties Union
American College of Physicians
American Council on Renewable Energy
American International Group Inc.
Archroma
Arsenal Capital Partners
Axon Enterprise Inc.
Brigham & Women's Hospital
Canopy Growth Corp.

Biden Signs Landmark Tax And Climate Bill Into Law

President Joe Biden signed the tax, climate and health care legislation known as the Inflation Reduction Act into law Tuesday, marking a major victory for Democrats ahead of the November midterm elections.

Bill attached | Read full article »

FTC Renews Fight Against State Shields For Hospital Mergers

The Federal Trade Commission urged state lawmakers Monday to avoid using Certificates of Public Advantage, which allow hospital mergers without federal oversight, claiming that they create higher prices and reduced quality of care for patients and slower wage growth for employees, despite hospitals' claim that the certificates lower patient costs and improve overall health.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

POLICY & REGULATION

Nebraska Attys Can Invest In Medical Cannabis, Panel Says

The Advisory Committee to Nebraska Attorneys has said in an advisory opinion that attorneys there and their spouses can invest in medical cannabis operations in states where cannabis businesses are legal without violating Nebraska's professional code of conduct.

Read full article »

LITIGATION

United Worker Asks 9th Circ. To Revive Mask Policy Bias Suit

A United Airlines airport worker asked the Ninth Circuit to bring back his disability bias suit alleging United placed him on leave instead of accommodating his post-traumatic stress disorder when he couldn't comply with the airline's face-masking requirements during the height of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Brief attached | Read full article »

USAG Keeps Fee Award In Nassar Coverage Suit

Liberty Underwriters Insurance Inc. must pony up the remainder of a roughly $2.1 million judgment for USA Gymnastics, a Seventh Circuit panel ruled Tuesday, saying the insurer failed to show that any portion of the fees incurred during investigations into sexual abuse by former team doctor Larry Nassar were not reasonable and necessary.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Asset Manager Exits $227M Stock Buy Class Action

A California federal judge handed an investment management firm a win in a benefits suit originally involving KPC Healthcare Holdings Inc. that accused the companies of botching a $227 million purchase by KPC's employee stock ownership plan, ruling the workers couldn't prove the asset manager knew the conduct was unlawful.

Order attached | Read full article »

Harvard Dodges Ex-Lab Worker's Race Bias Suit

A Massachusetts federal judge Tuesday tossed a Black former Harvard University employee's suit alleging that white colleagues were promoted faster than she was and that the school stifled her career progression, ruling there's little evidence of any meaningful racial disparities.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Ex-Walmart Worker Ends Stealth Shift Discrimination Suit

A former Walmart employee told a Michigan federal court she was dropping a proposed class action alleging the retail giant scheduled employees for work while they were on medical leave to justify firing them.

Notice attached | Read full article »

Mass. Health Network, Insurer Settle Over Scientist's Award

A Massachusetts health care network has resolved a suit against its secondary insurer for refusing to help cover a $20 million judgment in favor of a cancer scientist, according to an order issued Tuesday in Boston federal court.

Order attached | Read full article »

Dental Practices Settle After COVID Insurance Coverage Win

Dental Experts LLC and Massachusetts Bay Insurance Co. asked an Illinois federal judge on Monday to vacate his summary judgment ruling holding that the insurer was wrong

Competitive Enterprise Institute
Conagra Brands Inc.
Emigrant Bancorp Inc.
Fitbit Inc.
Garmin Ltd.
Glenmark Pharmaceuticals Ltd.
Google LLC
Harvard University
Huntsman Corp.
Iqvia Holdings Inc.
Jazz Pharmaceuticals Inc.
Liberty Mutual Insurance Group
LinkedIn Corp.
Merck & Co. Inc.
Meta Platforms Inc.
Nature's Bounty Co.
New Civil Liberties Alliance
Planned Parenthood Federation
Princeton University
Public Broadcasting Service
Reckitt Benckiser Group PLC
Roberts Group (Little Rock, US)
Royal Philips NV
Spectrum Management Holding Co.
Steward Health Care System LLC
Technicolor
Teleflex Inc.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
The Charles Schwab Corp.
The Florida Bar
Theranos Inc.
Twitter Inc.
USA Gymnastics
United Airlines Holdings Inc.
Walmart Inc.
Wells Fargo & Co.
Wynn Resorts Ltd.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

AlvaradoSmith
Ashcroft Law Firm
Axelrod LLP
Baker Botts
Berger Montague
Bilzin Sumberg
Blank Rome
Block & Leviton
CKR Law LLP
Cohen Milstein
Cranfill Sumner
Dhillon Law Group
Dinsmore & Shohl
Donahoo & Associates
Ellis & Winters
Faruqi & Faruqi
Feinberg Jackson
Fisher Phillips
Gibson Dunn
Gitlin Horn
Glasser & Glasser
Goldman Ismail
Goodwin Procter
Gordon & Rees
Gottlieb & Associates
Greenbaum Rowe
Hagens Berman

to limit the dental practices to a single payment of $25,000 for disease contamination coverage, in light of reaching a settlement.

Motion attached | Read full article »

PTAB Trims Fitbit Calorie-Tracking Patent In Philips IP Feud

The Patent Trial and Appeal Board has invalidated eight claims in a Fitbit patent that covers tracking calorie burn, but said 12 other claims weren't shown to be invalid by Philips North America LLC, which challenged the patent after it was accused of infringing it.

Decision attached | Read full article »

NC Court Tosses Suit Over Patient's Appendectomy Injuries

A North Carolina appellate panel on Tuesday tossed a suit accusing a surgeon and a hospital of botching a 13-year-old's appendectomy, deciding that under state law children over the age of 7 do not get an extension of the statute of limitation for medical malpractice cases.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

NJ Nursing Home's COVID Immunity Pitch Meets Skepticism

A New Jersey state judge on Tuesday challenged a nursing home's bid to throw out a lawsuit over a resident's COVID-19 death, questioning its stance that the allegations entirely deal with negligence and thus are blocked by a state law shielding medical facilities from civil liability over pandemic-related treatment.

Read full article »

Co. Fights 'Serial Objector' Claim In Settlement Of Ad Case

A U.K-based company accused of falsely advertising its celebrity-endorsed brain supplement has asked the Eleventh Circuit to reject a "serial objector's" attempt to derail an $8 million class action settlement, arguing there is no evidence the deal was not negotiated fairly.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Princeton University Hit With Bias Suit Over COVID Policies

Princeton University was hit Tuesday with a religious discrimination lawsuit in New Jersey federal court from a onetime budget analyst at the Ivy League school over claims it fired her in retaliation for objecting to policies aimed at curbing the spread of COVID-19.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Fed. Circ. Urged To Toss Pot Co.'s CBD Patent Appeal

British pharmaceutical firm GW Pharmaceuticals told the Federal Circuit on Monday that a district judge was correct to toss claims brought by cannabis giant Canopy Growth, accusing the company of allegedly cribbing a process to make its flagship CBD drug Epidiolex.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Calif. Court Says Unlawful Pot Biz Operated As Fake Church

A California state judge permanently barred a nonprofit, which had claimed to be a church, from selling, making or giving away cannabis in the city of South Gate during a public nuisance trial, ruling against the group after one of its members abandoned the case midtrial.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

DEALS

Kirkland-Guided Thompson Street Closes $1.5B Fund

Thompson Street Capital partners, guided by Kirkland & Ellis LLP, announced Tuesday that it had closed its sixth capital investment fund with more than $1.5 billion in commitments.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Digital Health Cos. Should Expect More Scrutiny Amid Growth

As the digital health market continues to flourish, the privacy and security of patient data has become a focus of legislative, regulatory and interest group action, and developers should be motivated to reassure both regulators and consumers that users' data is adequately protected, say attorneys at Kirkland.

Read full article »

What Litigators Can Really Learn From Rambo

Hamilton Lincoln Law Institute
Hangley Aronchick
Harris Wiltshire
Herold Law Group PC
Hilliard & Shadowen
Hogan Lovells
Hogie & Campbell
Holwell Shuster
Hooper Lundy
Hurwitz Law PLLC
Jenner & Block
Joseph & Kirschenbaum
Kaufman & Canoles
Kenny Nachwalter
Kessler Topaz
Kightlinger & Gray
King & Spalding
Kirkland & Ellis
Latham & Watkins
Levin Papantonio
MKLLC Law
Milberg Coleman
Miller Johnson
Miller Shah LLP
Morgan Brown
Morgan Lewis
Motley Rice
Napoli Shkolnik
Nussbaum Law Group PC
Paul Hastings
Perkins Coie
Plews Shadley
Radice Law Firm
Robert C Gottlieb & Associates
Shub Law Firm
Sperling & Slater
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Taus Cebulash
Todd & Weld
Tressler LLP
Venable LLP
Vinson & Elkins
Vlasac & Shmaruk
White and Williams
Wolcott Rivers
Woods Rogers
YK Law

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Congressional Budget Office
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Trade Commission
Florida Supreme Court
Food and Drug Administration
Indiana Attorney General's Office
Internal Revenue Service
International Trade Commission
Los Angeles World Airports
National Telecommunications and Information Administration
New Jersey Supreme Court

A Rambo litigator is a consistently overaggressive and dishonest attorney, but the John Rambo of "First Blood," which recently celebrated its 40th anniversary, has several excellent qualities worth emulating in the legal profession, including professional competence, mental resilience and improvisational ability, says Christopher Van de Kieft at Gitlin Horn.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Law Firm Revenue Growth Slows Amid Falling Profits

Revenue at large and midsize law firms across the U.S. grew just 5.8% since last summer as booming expenses led to falling profits following record gains in 2021, according to a report from Wells Fargo Private Bank released Tuesday.

Read full article »

Mansfield Rule 6.0 Stresses Transparent Path To Leadership

Law firms participating in the Diversity Lab's Mansfield Rule certification process, which is aimed at improving diversity in leadership within the legal industry, were presented with some heightened standards to certification on Tuesday, including a strong emphasis on transparency in a number of areas that affect promotion.

Read full article »

DC Circ. Affirms Judiciary Workers' Right To Political Activity

A federal judiciary policy forbidding employees from championing political candidates and parties outside of work and organizing to support their campaigns violates the First Amendment, the D.C. Circuit ruled Tuesday.

Read full article »

Andrew Cuomo Beats Ethics Panel's Bid For $5M Book Profits

A New York state judge held Tuesday that a now-defunct state ethics commission unlawfully sought to seize the proceeds of Andrew Cuomo's $5.1 million book deal, finding the commission had determined wrongdoing without giving the former governor a due process hearing.

Read full article »

DOJ Can Shield Michael Cohen Probe Docs, 2nd Circ. Affirms

The Second Circuit on Tuesday agreed with a district judge's decision that documents related to FBI interviews with Donald Trump's former lawyer Michael Cohen are attorney work product, and thus are exempt from Freedom of Information Act requests.

Read full article »

Judge Strikes DOJ Memo Over Footnotes In Wynn FARA Case

A D.C. federal judge overseeing the U.S. Department of Justice's civil suit against former casino and hotel mogul Steve Wynn, who is accused of failing to register as a foreign agent, on Tuesday struck a government memorandum that disputed Wynn's motion to dismiss, determining it had "excessive footnotes."

Read full article »

DC Boutique Changes Name As Co-Founder Heads To NTIA

D.C. boutique Harris Wiltshire & Grannis LLP has rebranded as HWG LLP after a name partner left to take up a senior advisory role at the National Telecommunications and Information Administration.

Read full article »

NY Judge OKs $945K Arbitration Award For Ex-CKR Atty

A New York state judge has signed off on a $945,000 arbitration award that went in favor of a former crypto-focused lawyer and against CKR Law LLP and its managing partner.

Read full article »

Former Boston Prosecutor Pleads Not Guilty In Rape Case

A former Boston prosecutor and criminal justice reform advocate pled not guilty on Tuesday to accusations that he

New York Attorney General's Office
New York State Joint Commission on Public Ethics
Office of Defender Services
State Bar of Texas
Texas Legislature
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Army
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of New Jersey
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Energy
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. District Court for the Central District of California
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of Idaho
U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts
U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Supreme Court

raped a woman while she slept during an encounter in a New York hotel room in 2017, the Manhattan District Attorney's Office told Law360.

Read full article »

SEC Taps Seasoned Federal Prosecutor To Run Philly Office

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has tapped a federal prosecutor to serve as the regional director of the agency's Philadelphia office, while also permanently installing the acting regional director of the San Francisco office.

Read full article »

Texas State Bar Beats Attys' Dues Suit

A Texas federal judge struck down a proposed class action against the State Bar of Texas arguing that attorneys who don't agree with how the bar's money is spent should be reimbursed their dues, ruling that the three attorney plaintiffs couldn't overcome the hurdle of sovereign immunity.

Read full article »

FTC Gets Backing In High Court Constitutionality Case

The American Antitrust Institute has thrown its weight behind the Federal Trade Commission in an appeal before the U.S. Supreme Court, supporting the agency's argument that lawsuits challenging the constitutionality of the FTC's administrative court cannot proceed until the agency's court hands down a final ruling.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: FDA Issues Rule to Make Hearing AidsAvailable Over the Counter
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 17/08/2022 06:05

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 17, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

Top Stories

- Hearing aids for people with mild to moderate hearing loss will be available without a prescription by October, after the Food and Drug Administration finalized a rule that President Joe Biden said would provide almost $3,000 in savings to U.S. families for a pair of the devices. By making hearing aids available over the counter, the administration is banking on more competition in the market leading to lower prices, as hearing aids typically cost between $1,000 to $4,000 per ear. (Roll Call)

- Bavarian Nordic A/S said "it's no longer certain" that it can meet the demand for its Jynneos monkeypox vaccine, forcing the Danish company to consider outsourcing parts of its production and potentially exploring a technology transfer with a contract manufacturer in the United States. (Bloomberg) The Health and Human Services Department's announcement earlier this month that it would pursue a dose-sparing strategy with the vaccine is said to have infuriated Bavarian Nordic Chief Executive Paul Chaplin, who told a U.S. health official that the plan amounted to a breach of contract and that the company would consider canceling future U.S. orders of the vaccine, two people with knowledge of the matter said. (The Washington Post)

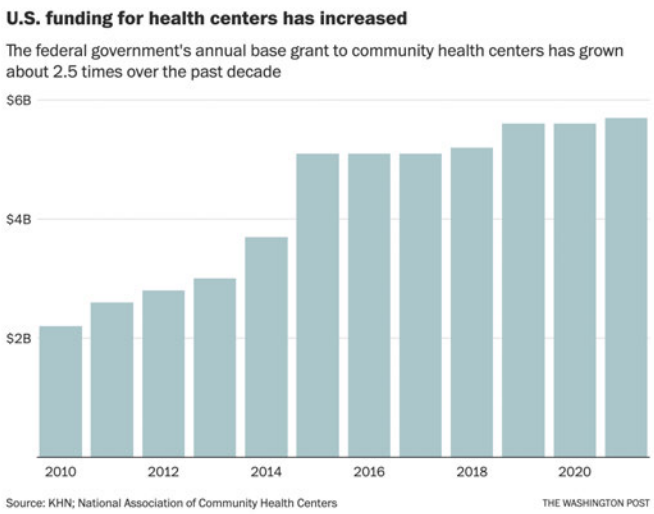
- Biden signed Democrats' Inflation Reduction Act into law yesterday at a White House ceremony, enacting a three-year extension of Affordable Care Act subsidies, a $35 monthly insulin price ceiling for Medicare enrollees and measures to lower prescription drug prices. (NBC News) Next on the Biden administration's health agenda is a move to broaden the "medically necessary" scenarios in which Medicare would cover dental services, with a proposal under consideration that would authorize reimbursement for oral and dental care in service of treating Medicare-covered conditions such as heart disease and diabetes. (Bloomberg Law)

- The next step in the Biden administration's efforts to protect abortion rights involve an influence campaign targeting men as well as women, as health officials plan to emphasize how forced pregnancies adversely affect both genders, according to sources with direct knowledge of the strategy. The administration also reportedly plans to utilize two federal statutes enacted before the Supreme Court's Roe v. Wade reversal — the Emergency Medical Treatment and Active Labor Act and FDA pre-emption under the Federal Food, Drug & Cosmetic Act — as it engages in court battles with states pursuing various restrictions on abortion. (Reuters)

Chart Review

For a few community health centers, serving the poor brings big surpluses

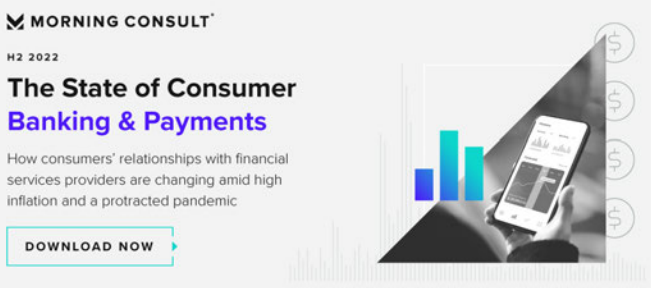
The Washington Post



Events Calendar (All Times Local)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



State of Consumer Banking & Payments Report: August 2022

Consumers have weathered half a year of historic inflation. It's wearing on their financial well-being, slowing their progress toward their goals and beginning to impact their interactions with financial services providers.

Access Morning Consult's report, The State of Consumer Banking & Payments, to understand how consumers' relationships with financial services providers are changing amid high inflation and a protracted pandemic. Download today.

What Else You Need to Know

CORONAVIRUS

Even the CDC Is Acting Like the Pandemic Is Functionally Over
Katherine J. Wu, The Atlantic
Americans have been given the all clear to dispense with most of the pandemic-centric behaviors that have defined the past two-plus years—part and parcel of the narrative the Biden administration is building around the "triumphant return to normalcy," says Joshua Salomon, a health-policy researcher at Stanford.

Jill Biden tests positive for COVID-19, has 'mild' symptoms
Zeke Miller, The Associated Press
First lady Jill Biden tested positive for COVID-19 and was experiencing "mild symptoms," the White House announced Tuesday. President Joe Biden continues to test negative after recently recovering from the virus but will wear a mask indoors for 10 days as a precaution.

Why a Century-Old Vaccine Offers New Hope Against Pathogens
Roni Caryn Rabin, The New York Times
The B.C.G. tuberculosis vaccine may protect against Covid-19 and other infections by broadly bolstering the immune system.

What, Exactly, Is 'Paxlovid Mouth,' and How Do You Get Rid of It?
Alex Janin, The Wall Street Journal
A Pfizer spokesperson acknowledged the side effect, called dysgeusia, and pointed to a study that found the symptom occurred 5.6% of the time people took the drug. The study was funded by Pfizer and published in the New England Journal of Medicine. The company said most patients' dysgeusia symptoms were mild.

NYC Schools Abandon Covid Health Screenings, PCR Tests
Nic Querolo, Bloomberg
The country's largest school district, which serves roughly 1 million students, will no longer require daily health screenings to enter school buildings, nor will it conduct in-school PCR surveillance testing, according to new health guidelines. Schools will still require vaccination for all visitors, DOE employees and students participating in high-risk activities like sports.

GENERAL

US Defends Emergency Abortion Rule in Texas AG's Lawsuit
Erik Larson, Bloomberg
The Biden administration asked a judge to throw out a Texas lawsuit challenging a federal mandate that emergency abortions in hospitals take priority over state bans on such procedures, calling the rule "reasonable and reasonably explained."

Inflation Reduction Act becomes law: How it will impact your health care
Berkeley Lovelace Jr., NBC News
The Inflation Reduction Act, signed into law by President Joe Biden, is set to lower the cost of prescription drugs — including cancer medications, blood thinners and insulin — for millions of Americans, experts say.

Congress isn't done with messy health care fights

Victoria Knight, Axios

The Inflation Reduction Act is law. But that doesn't mean major health care interests are done testing their lobbying clout. Many are already lining up for year-end relief from Medicare payment cuts, regulatory changes and inflation woes.

Florida court blocks teen from getting abortion, must continue pregnancy

Oriana Gonzalez, Axios

A Florida appellate court on Monday blocked a 16-year-old teenager from getting an abortion, saying that she is not "sufficiently mature" to choose to end her pregnancy.

Childhood lead exposure is linked to low test scores for Black students, study finds

Tat Bellamy-Walker, NBC News

The findings, published Monday in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences (PNAS), are based on surveys of more than 25,000 fourth graders in North Carolina. The data shows that Black students are disproportionately exposed to lead in racially segregated neighborhoods and that these stressors are linked to poor test scores in reading among Black youth relative to their white peers.

Monkeypox Outbreak: CDC Says Pets Should Be Isolated If Possibly Infected

Madison Muller, Bloomberg

Pets exposed to people with monkeypox should be isolated to ensure they don't spread the virus to other people or animals, US health officials said after a dog was reported to be infected with the virus in Paris.

Polio circulating locally in NYC area, poses risk to unvaccinated, CDC says

Spencer Kimball, CNBC

An unvaccinated young adult in Rockland County, a suburb of New York City, caught polio in June and suffered paralysis. The individual had not traveled internationally during the period when they were exposed to polio, and the strain they caught is linked to a weakened form of the virus used in the oral vaccine, according to a CDC investigation published Tuesday.

First possible case of human-to-dog monkeypox transmission 'not surprising,' WHO says

Naomi Thomas, CNN

The first possible case of human-to-dog transmission of monkeypox — recently reported in two men and their pet in Paris — had been a theoretical risk up till now, said Dr. Rosamund Lewis, technical lead on the monkeypox response for the World Health Organization.

Why calling monkeypox an STD is about more than just a label

Jacqueline Howard, CNN

A hallmark of the ongoing monkeypox outbreak is that most cases have been linked to sexual activity, and this has prompted some debate around whether to describe the illness as a sexually transmitted disease.

Walgreens becomes a Roe v. Wade battlefield as it moves deeper into healthcare

Ally Marotti, Crain's Chicago Business

Walgreens Boots Alliance's transformation into a healthcare company puts the Illinois-based drugstore chain in the middle of the bitter debate roiling the country since the U.S. Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade in June.

The Forgotten Virus: Zika Families and Researchers Struggle for Support
Stephanie Nolen, The New York Times
Some babies born with devastating birth defects from the mosquito-borne illness are 7 now, but Covid turned the world's attention away.

Walmart sticks with second-half outlook after earnings beat expectations
Melissa Repko, CNBC
The company reported low double-digit comparable sales growth in grocery and high single-digit gains in health and wellness.

Baby formula supplies improving, say U.S. retailers Walmart and Target
Reuters
Two big U.S. retailers Walmart Inc (WMT.N) and Target Corp (TGT.N) said on Tuesday that supplies of baby formula were improving, months after the country faced acute shortages that had caused a panic among parents.

PAYERS

Medicaid expansion sees new life in longtime GOP holdout states
Lucille Sherman and Emma Hurt, Axios
Republican-led states that have resisted expanding Medicaid for more than a decade are showing new openness to the idea.

HCSC set to acquire Trustmark Health Benefits
Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare
Health Care Service Corporation is set to acquire a third-party benefits administrator in a bid to bulk up its ability to provide customizable, flexible benefit solutions to a broader swath of customers.

PROVIDERS

Hospital mergers that dodge antitrust scrutiny lead to dramatically higher prices, study finds
Tara Bannow, Stat News
A forthcoming study in the Journal of Law and Economics found hospitals hiked prices between 39% and 51% after the repeal or expiration of their state regulated certificates of public advantage, or COPAs. COPAs are laws that allow anticompetitive mergers to proceed under state oversight, thereby avoiding the federal antitrust scrutiny lawsuits they would otherwise have to contend with.

Healthcare utilization lag dings hospitals, boosts insurers
Nona Tepper and Caroline Hudson, Modern Healthcare
Health systems attributed the slump in inpatient services to staff shortages that limited procedures, telemedicine alternatives and fewer acute COVID-19 patients. Insurers credited the decline to patients deferring care due to rising inflation, the availability of more cost-efficient value-based care payment arrangements and care shifting from hospitals to less expensive outpatient sites.

Nurses' union sues University of Michigan over workload expectations
Anna Fifelski, Crain's Detroit Business
The Michigan Nurses Association at the University of Michigan filed a lawsuit against the university on Tuesday over the workload its members are facing. The MNA alleges UM is breaking the law by refusing to bargain over nurses' workloads in its contract negotiations with the University of Michigan Professional Nurse Council.

Providence's net loss nears $2B as industry trends dent results
Caroline Hudson, Modern Healthcare
Providence, a not-for-profit health system based in Washington, on Tuesday reported a first-half net loss of $1.84 billion, as the industry's higher expenses and staff shortages plague another health system.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Merck Commits $3.75 Billion to Circular RNA Vaccines, Drugs
Angelica Peebles, Bloomberg
Merck & Co will spend as much as $3.75 billion to create vaccines, cancer therapies and infectious-disease drugs with Orna Therapeutics Inc, a closely held biotechnology company developing medicines using circular RNA.

J&J Unit Tells Appeals Court Only Bankruptcy Can Settle Talc Claims
Jonathan Randles, The Wall Street Journal
A Johnson & Johnson subsidiary urged a federal appeals court to uphold the controversial legal strategy it used to move to bankruptcy roughly 38,000 lawsuits linking its talc-based products to cancer.

Endo Files for Bankrupty Over Debt, US Opioid Litigation
Eliza Ronalds-Hannon and Steven Church, Bloomberg
Drug manufacturer Endo International Plc filed for bankruptcy after being overwhelmed by litigation, including claims that it profited by helping fuel the US opioid epidemic.

AstraZeneca sues former executive over move to rival GSK
Hannah Kuchler and Jane Croft, Financial Times
AstraZeneca has sued a former top business development executive to delay him taking a job at rival GSK, claiming he received awards worth over £600,000 to sign a non-compete agreement.

Ex-Google CEO's VC firm brings in hype-busting researcher to expand its biotech investments
Allison DeAngelis, Stat News
Innovation Endeavors, the venture capital firm co-founded by former Google chairman and CEO Eric Schmidt, is bringing in one of the few researchers who saw through Theranos to help expand its biotech investing.

Frustrated by known cancer biomarkers, biologists make their own
Angus Chen, Stat News
The hunt for cancer cures has, to a large degree, been a hunt for biomarkers — DNA, peptides, RNA, proteins or more — that might set tumor cells apart from healthy tissue. With the right biomarker, scientists can find cancers earlier, monitor a treatment's progress, or predict if a certain therapy will work for a given patient. The trouble is that for many cancers, the known biomarkers have been a disappointment, particularly for early cancer detection.

Sanofi trial failure ends development of breast cancer treatment amcenestrant

Ludwig Burger and Tassilo Hummel, Reuters

Sanofi (SASY.PA) stopped further work on amcenestrant, once seen to have large potential against breast cancer, after a second trial failure dealt a major blow to the French healthcare company's development prospects.

U.S. FDA gets over 48,000 reports of faulty Philips respiratory devices in May-July

Brendan Pierson, Reuters

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration said it had received more than 48,000 reports of faulty Dutch medical equipment maker Philips' (PHG.AS) ventilators and respiratory devices between May and July, which included 44 deaths.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Why even discussing abortion can now get you arrested

Irina Ivanova, CBS News

The recent case of a Nebraska teenager facing felony charges over an alleged abortion — charges that prosecutors were able to bring thanks to messages they obtained from Facebook — is causing alarm in privacy and technology circles. Lawyers and and privacy advocates highlight a chilling new reality of digital surveillance in which even discussing the procedure in states that have made illegal potentially exposes people to criminal prosecution.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

A Biden Hearing-Aid Breakthrough

The Editorial Board, The Wall Street Journal

Hear, hear to the Biden Food and Drug Administration, which on Tuesday finalized a rule that Commissioner Robert Califf said will open up the hearing-aid market to competition and "unleash the power of American industry." This is the right way to reduce prices.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Edelman Trust Barometer Special Report: Healthcare Institutional Investors

Edelman

Investors are facing a challenging landscape for growth as global economies face headwinds from inflation and heightened geopolitical risk, to continued emerging Covid-19 variants. The uncertainty of this economic environment raises an important question: can companies that outperformed through the pandemic once again demonstrate their long-term value? Many investors are looking to the healthcare sector for answers.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: August 17, 2022 - Biden signs Inflation Reduction Act into law
FROM: "AHIP Solutions SmartBrief" <ahip@smartbrief.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 17/08/2022 08:21

Created for hborski@utah.gov | Web Version

August 17, 2022

SIGN UP SHARE

ADVERTISEMENT

TOP STORIES

Biden signs Inflation Reduction Act into law

President Joe Biden on Tuesday signed into law the Inflation Reduction Act, which contains provisions aimed at lowering prescription drug costs and improving access to health care. The law will extend enhanced Affordable Care Act subsidies through 2025, allow Medicare to negotiate prices for some of the costliest prescription drugs, limit out-of-pocket medication costs for Medicare beneficiaries at $2,000, penalize pharmaceutical firms if drug prices rise faster than the rate of inflation, and cap monthly insulin out-of-pocket costs at $35 for Medicare beneficiaries. Full Story: NBC News (8/16), The Associated Press (8/16)

Over-the-counter hearing aid sales could start this fall

The FDA has finalized a rule stating that hearing aids can be sold over the counter at stores, a move that the Biden administration said should make them affordable for more individuals. Likely by mid-October, people with mild to moderate hearing loss will be able to buy the devices without a prescription, medical examination or audiologist fitting. Full Story: The Hill (8/16)

Payment Integrity that touches the entire value chain

Precise, end-to-end payment integrity has never been more essential to health plan operational costs and the quality of service you deliver to members and providers. Our 1,000+ nurses and 400 coders accelerate adjudication, enhance payment integrity, and improve payment accuracy to improve claims operations that reduce downstream efforts. Learn more.

ADVERTISEMENT: HGS HealthCARE

PROVIDERS & SUPPLIERS

Spending on primary care tied to Medi-Cal plan outcomes

(Pixabay)

An analysis of spending on primary care by 13 Medi-Cal managed care plans representing 5.4 million beneficiaries found that greater primary care spending was associated with improved patient experience, quality of care and National Committee for Quality Assurance scores. The study, commissioned by the California Health Care Foundation, documented primary care spending ranging from $8.85 to $61.24 per member per month, and the portion of health care spending devoted to primary care ranged from 5% to 19%. Full Story: HealthLeaders Media (8/16)

ADVERTISEMENT

MEDICAL UPDATE

Fungal pathogens developing resistance to treatment

Aspergillus and Candida auris are developing drug resistance and becoming more difficult to treat, causing some patients to switch from one medication to the next and others to face the possibility of running out of treatment options. Data from the CDC indicate that C. auris infections increased eightfold in the US from 2017 to 2021, and the mortality rate is 30% to 60%, while aspergillosis cases rose 3% each year from 2000 to 2013 and caused more than 14,000 hospitalizations annually. Full Story: NBC News (8/13)

BMI of 30 may be protective for those with A-Fib

For patients with atrial fibrillation, a body mass index of 30 to 35 is most protective against all-cause mortality, according to a study involving 40,482 adults with A-Fib published in the journal Open Heart. Risk for all-cause mortality increased by 16% for every five BMI points above 30 and increased by 32% for every five BMI points lower than 30, leading researchers to conclude that those who are underweight or extremely obese have the worst prognoses. Full Story: Medscape (free registration) (8/12)

ICU death rate higher in T2D with preadmission insulin

Preadmission insulin treatment was linked to longer stays and a higher death rate for critically ill patients with type 2 diabetes who were admitted to an ICU, according to a study published in Diabetes, Metabolic Syndrome and Obesity: Targets and Therapy. Researchers found that preadmission insulin-treated patients had a hypoglycemia rate of 14.5%, compared with 8.7% for those without preadmission insulin, and the two groups' mortality rates were 30% and 16%, respectively. Full Story: Medical Dialogues (8/14)

Comprehensive membership data.

Sick of the fragmented views of the healthcare experience? Unlock deep and robust insights across the member journey, designed to deliver a better member experience, reduce member churn, and improve star ratings to accelerate plan performance. Get started.

ADVERTISEMENT: PRESS GANEY

TOUCHPOINTS PODCAST

This episode is brought to you by Wellframe

Lessons from a virtual-first early adopter

Even before the pandemic, Michigan's Priority Health was building out a model for virtual-first care. As remote work took hold, employers, too, saw a need for a digital-first plan that would align with their new workplaces. Megan Schmidt explains why Priority was an early adopter, what their approach to virtual care looks like and what's most important for virtual-first models moving forward. Listen now.

EMERGING TRENDS

Humana to expand Medicaid services with Inclusa buy

Humana said it will purchase Wisconsin-based managed care organization Inclusa to expand its geographic presence and Medicaid services. Inclusa provides long-term-care coverage and assistance to 16,600 older adults and adults with disabilities through Wisconsin's Family Care program and contracts with the state to deliver family care services in 68 of 72 counties. Full Story: FierceHealthcare (8/12)

HEALTH INSURANCE PROVIDER COMPANY NEWS

- Aflac Incorporated names Virgil R. Miller as president, Aflac US
- CareFirst BlueCross BlueShield Appoints Lester Davis as Chief of Staff
- Optima Health and Verde Environmental Technologies Inc. launch new initiative to encourage safe medication disposal
- Quartz Announces Statewide Partnership with National Fitness Campaign to Build Outdoor Fitness Courts Across Wisconsin
- Sutter Health Plus: Premium Rates and Trends for Group and Individual Coverage

SOLUTIONS PROVIDER NEWS

- For the 3rd Time, ClarisHealth Appears on Inc. 5000, Ranking No. 2362
- Eric Reimer, CEO of Healthmap Solutions, on VatorNews podcast
- CHRISTUS Health Partners with Kyruus to Streamline Provider Data Management Across Health System and Health Plan
- Quest Diagnostics Aims to Close Gaps in Maternal Healthcare with New Obstetrics Test Panel that Includes Hepatitis C Screening
- SimpliFed to Provide Virtual Baby Feeding Support Services to Health First Colorado Beneficiaries

PHARMA NEWS

COVID-19 vaccine reactions in pregnant people assessed

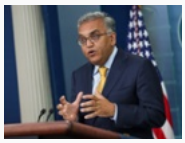
Data showed about 7% of people who were pregnant experienced a significant health event after receiving two doses of an mRNA COVID-19 vaccine, while about 4% had a reaction within a week after receiving the first dose, researchers reported in The Lancet Infectious Diseases. The study, which included data from more than 191,000 women in Canada, showed 3% of women who were pregnant but not vaccinated experienced similar significant health events. Full Story: HealthDay News (8/15)

Problems with dissolution prompt recall of Teva BP drug

Teva is voluntarily recalling two lots of its hypertension drug Matzim LA, or diltiazem hydrochloride, due to dissolution issues that could lead to adverse health outcomes, though the company has not received reports of problems. Both recalled lots have expiration dates of September 2022 and were distributed across US states and in Puerto Rico. Full Story: FiercePharma (8/16)

POLICY WATCH

Jha: Government to stop buying COVID-19 tests, drugs



Jha (Kevin Dietsch/Getty Images)

White House COVID-19 Response Coordinator Dr. Ashish Jha said the Biden administration is working to transition away from purchasing COVID-19 vaccines, tests and treatments, in a shift toward commercialization of those items beginning this fall. Jha said the transition will be made carefully to ensure access to vaccines and other items is not compromised, and the government will continue to invest in next-generation vaccines and readiness for future pandemics. Full Story: CNN (8/16)

AHIP NEWS

Options and flexibility to enhance provider networks

PPO Direct Members offer payers and administrators targeted strategies that can help expand their provider networks while better serving their customers. American Specialty Health (ASH), a member of PPO Direct, is a health and wellness company, providing health insurance providers, employer groups, insurance carriers, and trust funds with programs to improve the health of their members or employees.

Webinar: Technology & member health - register today.

Join us on Wednesday, Aug. 24 from 1 to 2 p.m. ET for "Improving Member Health Through Technology and Population Interventions" as Express Scripts shows how they partnered with a health insurance provider to aggregate shared data which informed the development of a population health management platform to drive actionable solutions to further support personal, whole member care.

Become an AHIP Individual Member

Are you a consultant, attorney, agent or broker, health care practitioner, educator, or a student? An AHIP Individual Membership could work hard for you. Throughout the year, you'll receive access to the latest news and information affecting the industry, as well as discounts on dozens of AHIP online courses, conferences, and much more. Explore all the benefits. Join today.

LEARN MORE ABOUT AHIP:

About AHIP | Join AHIP | Educational Opportunities | AHIP Select
AHIP Coverage Blog | Submit press releases and other company news

JOBS

Director Product Development and Management
COMMUNITY HEALTH CHOICE - 77054, TX, US

Product Development Manager
COMMUNITY HEALTH CHOICE - Houston, TX, US

Insurance Benefits Advisor
SENIOR LIFESTYLE SOLUTIONS - Phoenix, AZ, US

Insurance Product Manager
GROUP HEALTH COOPERATIVE OF SOUTH CENTRAL WISCONSIN - Madison, WI, US

Health Care Data Analyst, Surveys
QMETRICS - San Diego, CA, US

View More Listings | Post a Job

Sharing AHIP Solutions SmartBrief with your network keeps the quality of content high and these newsletters free.

Help Spread the Word

SHARE

Or copy and share your personalized link:

smartbrief.com/ahip/?referrerId=lsvhcNrXox

Thoughts are often false. A feeling's always real. Not true, just real.

Susan Choi
Writer

Product announcements appearing in SmartBrief are paid advertisements and do not reflect actual AHIP endorsements. The news reported in SmartBrief does not necessarily reflect the official position of AHIP.

SmartBrief publishes more than 200 free industry newsletters - Browse our portfolio

Sign Up | Update Profile | Advertise with SmartBrief

Unsubscribe | Privacy policy

CONTACT US: FEEDBACK | ADVERTISE

SmartBrief, a division of Future US LLC ©
1100 13th St. NW, Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20005

SUBJECT: August 2022 Health data and informatics news and updates (DHHS)
FROM: "Utah Division of Data, Systems & Evaluation (formerly CHDI)" <dse@utah.gov>
TO: "Utah Center for Health Data and DHHS (DHHS)" <dse@utah.gov>
BCC: HBORSKI@utah.gov
DATE: 17/08/2022 09:11

To: Health data report readers

Please note the following new publications and information produced by the Utah Department of Health and Human Services. Please let us know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
Division of Data, Systems, and Evaluation
Utah Department of Health and Human Services

Utah health status update (August 2022)

Reduced incidence of congenital Cytomegalovirus (CMV) infections during the COVID-19 pandemic
https://ibis.health.utah.gov/pdf/opha/publication/hsu/2022/08_cCMV.pdf#HSU

Spotlight: Asthma clinical quality improvement processes: evaluating successes and barriers to implementation

Monthly Health Indicator Report: Data Through June 2022

Division of Data, Systems, and Evaluation reports, products, and announcements

New publications for the Center for Health Data and Informatics are listed by Office. You can also search reports at: https://chdi.health.utah.gov/.

IBIS-PH Updates https://ibis.health.utah.gov/ibisph-view/

- 2021 data has been updated on the Drinking water contaminants query module
- 2021 data has been updated on the YRBS query module with 4 new measures. 1- Not enough food in student's home, 2- Race/ethnicity stigma, 3- Sexual orientation stigma, and 4- Sleep 8 hours.

2022 Public Health Outcome Measures Report

The Utah public health outcome measures report of health indicators will be updated fall 2022.
https://ibis.health.utah.gov/ibisph-view/report/phom/Introduction.html

Link to previous publications:

https://ibis.health.utah.gov/ibisph-view/publications/index/Chronological.html

You are receiving this email because you have been identified as a member of a particular agency or committee or because you requested to be notified of all Center for Health Data and Informatics publications. If you wish to be removed from this email list, please reply with the word 'unsubscribe' in the subject.

Please forward this message to any colleagues who might be interested. To add new email addresses to the list, send a message to dse@utah.gov with 'subscribe' in the subject.

--
Division of Data, Systems, and Evaluation
Utah Department of Health & Human Services
Email: dse@utah.gov
Indicator-Based Information System for Utah Public Health http://ibis.health.utah.gov

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Democrats' $739B bill is now law: 7 healthcare notes | Violentthreats, harassing emails flood Boston Children's | HCA makes 21 execchanges | 10 hospitals with most brand loyalty | Nurses urge probe ofCalif. hospital | Mount Sinai spinoff lays off 250
FROM: Becker's Hospital Review <news@beckershealthcare-news.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 17/08/2022 09:50

August 17, 2022

BECKER'S
HOSPITAL REVIEW

Virtual Events • Webinars • Whitepapers • OnDemand Learning • Podcasts

1. Biden signs Inflation Reduction Act into law: 7 healthcare takeaways Full story
2. Boston Children's faces harassment campaign over transgender healthcare Full story
3. HCA hospitals make 21 leadership changes Full story
4. TempTraq is an FDA Cleared device clinically proven to detect fevers earlier than the standard of care by a median of 18.5 hours. Learn more.
5. Eyes on EMTALA in abortion fights Full story
6. Outlook 'deteriorating' for nonprofit hospitals, Fitch says Full story
7. Hospitals are becoming more dangerous - almost half of nurses report experiencing physical violence during the pandemic. Monitor staff safety with real-time location services.

8. Seton nurses call for hospital finance probe in wake of no-confidence vote Full story
9. Union accuses Providence of wage theft Full story
10. Mount Sinai spinoff lays off 250 employees; founder exits Full story
11. Healthcare has a new 3-pronged imperative: Patient-centricity, cybersecurity and carbon-neutrality. Learn how to reinvent care in the face of existential change during this virtual learning session.
12. CXO of Vanderbilt University Medical Center to step down Full story
13. South Carolina hospital names new CEO Full story
14. Top 10 hospitals for consumer loyalty in 2022 Full story
15. Stats by state:

- COVID-19 hospitalization rates
- COVID-19 test positivity rates
- Percentage of population fully vaccinated
- COVID-19 death rates
- ICU utilization
- Staffing shortages
- Booster rates
- COVID-19 vaccination rates up/down
- COVID-19 cases trend

Becker's Learning Opportunities

1. 50% of hospitalizations occur within 7.5 days of an ED discharge. See how hospitals can close care gaps after an ED visit to improve outcomes and lower costs here.
2. Better medication management is a priority for health systems, but less than half rely on vendors. Learn why + what hospital execs are looking for in new vendors.
3. For years, the GI industry has been looking for ways to decrease infection during ERCP procedures. 53% of patients are less likely to be readmitted to the hospital when treated with this device.

Follow us on social media:

Twitter | Facebook | LinkedIn

Companies to Know
Thank you to our key sponsors

LeanTaas | Intuitive | Amwell | Change Healthcare | Xtend Healthcare | Zotec Partners | Sound Physicians | RevSpring | Philips | VisiQuate | Insight Global Health | Accureg | Vituity | 3M Health Care | Allscripts | Notable Health | Nuance | Cardinal Health

BECKER'S HOSPITAL REVIEW | BECKER'S Clinical Leadership & Infection Control | BECKER'S ASC REVIEW | BECKER'S SPINEREVIEW

Manage Preferences Unsubscribe Forward to a friend Contact Us

17 N. State, Suite 1800 | Chicago, IL 60602

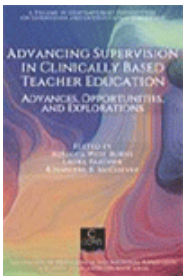
Becker's Hospital Review, A Becker's Healthcare Publication

Becker's Whitepapers

How did Novartis boost patient engagement?

ERP Built by Accountants, for Accountants

Provide access without compromise — the ultimate guide to navigating third-party remote access



Advancing Supervision in Clinically Based Teacher Education

Advances, Opportunities, and Explorations

Edited by:

Rebecca West Burns, University of North Florida

Laura Baecher, Hunter College The City University of New York

Jennifer K .McCorvey, University of South Florida

A volume in Contemporary Perspectives on Supervision and Instructional Leadership

Supervision in teacher education is entering an exciting time. In the last decade, national reports calling for the transformation of teacher preparation have advocated for greater school-university collaboration and increased clinical preparation of teachers (AACTE, 2018; NCATE, 2010). Thus, institutions with teacher preparation should be increasingly concerned with the clinical component of their teacher certification programs (AACTE, 2010; 2018; NCATE, 2001; NEA, 2014). However, supervision in teacher preparation has historically been held in low regard, (Beck & Kosnik, 2002; Feiman-Nemser, 2001; The Holmes Group, 1986; Hoover, O'Shea, & Carroll, 1988; Soder & Sirotnik, 1990) even though research has shown that high-quality supervision promotes teacher candidate learning (Bates, Drits, & Ramirez, 2011; Burns, Jacobs, & Yendol-Hoppey, 2016; Darling-Hammond, 2014; Gimbert & Nolan, 2003; Lee, 2011). In fact, university superviso rs "may be the most undervalued actors in the entire teacher preparation equation when one considers the knowledge, skills, and dispositions they must have to teach about teaching in the field" (Burns & Badiali, 2016, p. 156). Despite this research, the function of supervision has often been relegated to adjunct faculty or even removed the university-based supervisor altogether in some colleges/schools of education (McIntyre & McIntyre, 2020; NCATE, 2010; Slick, 1998; Zeichner, 1992, 2005). These practices are incredibly problematic for actualizing clinically based teacher education. Thus, the road to transforming teacher education must involve addressing such long standing misperceptions about what supervision is, what purpose it serves, and how it can be renewed from an afterthought to become the driving engine of high quality teacher preparation.

Advancing Supervision in Clinically Based Teacher Education: Advances, Opportunities, and Explorations aim s to elevate supervision and supervisors, as undervalued actors, by disseminating high-quality manuscripts on this critical area of study. The chapters in this book tackle the persistent issue of devaluing and marginalizing supervision in some institutions of higher education by sharing current research, illuminating challenges of supervising in the current high stakes accountability climate, and offering innovative ideas that can improve supervision in clinically based teacher education.

CONTENTS

Series Foreword, Sheryl Cowart Moss. Foreword, Jim Nolan. Acknowledgments. Introduction, Rebecca West Burns, Laura Baecher, and Jennifer K. McCorvey. SECTION I: PERSISTENT CHALLENGES. Supervising Linguistically Diverse Student Teachers, Keli Garas-York, Julie Henry, Gliset Colón, and Pixita del Prado Hill. (In)Visibility, Value, and the Clinical Educator, Nancy S. Niemi and Amanda R. Bozack. "Passing" as a Teacher and the Dance of Supervision, John Beaumont and Laura Baecher. High-Stakes Performance Assessments and Supervising Student Teachers: The Increasingly Complex Roles of University Supervisors, Alexander Cuenca, Jessica Zaker, and Melanie Dupell. SECTION II: ADVANCES AND OPPORTUNITIES. Defining and Credentialing the Expertise of School-Based Teacher Educators (Cooperating Teachers): A Conceptual Model Based o n the Nursing Preceptor Process, René Roselle and Michael Alfano. The Importance of Supervision in Preparing Scholars of Teacher Education: One Student's Transformative Journey, Jennifer K. McCorvey and Rebecca West Burns. A Conceptual Framework for Longitudinal Supervision in an Online Teacher Education Program, J. Spencer Clark, Lotta Larson, Eileen Wertzberger, and Thomas J. Vontz. Supervisor as Instructional Coach: Supporting Elementary Education Teacher Candidates' Enactment of Questioning Strategies, Drew Polly. Conclusion, Laura Baecher, Rebecca West Burns, and Jennifer K. McCorvey. About the Authors.

Published 2022

ORDER ONLINE AT

WWW.INFOAGEPUB.COM

Hardcover

978-1-64802-719-2

$94.99

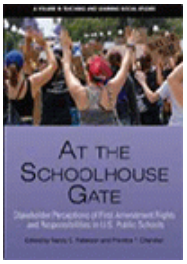
Paperback

978-1-64802-718-5

$52.99

eBook

978-1-64802-720-8



At the Schoolhouse Gate

Stakeholder Perceptions of First Amendment Rights and Responsibilities in U.S. Public Schools

Edited by:

Nancy C .Patterson, Bowling Green State University

Prentice T .Chandler, Austin Peay State University

A volume in Teaching and Learning Social Studies

The objective of this edited volume is to shed light upon K-12 perspectives of various school stakeholders in the current unique context of increasing political polarization and heightened teacher and student activism. It is grounded in academic freedom case law and the majority of opinion of the Supreme Court in the Tinker v. Des Moines Independent Community School

Published 2022

ORDER ONLINE AT
WWW.INFOAGEPUB.COM
Hardcover
978-1-64802-725-3
$94.99
Paperback
978-1-64802-724-6
$52.99
eBook
978-1-64802-726-0

District (1969) that held that certain forms of expression are protected by the First Amendment. Justice Fortas wrote in the majority opinion that "it can hardly be argued that either students or teachers shed their constitutional rights to freedom of speech or expression at the schoolhouse gate."

This volume is timely and instructive, as protections afforded by the First Amendment are a topic of enduring concern, with such freedoms requiring vigilant advocacy and protection from each generation. Paulo Freire stated, "Citizenship is not obtained by chance: It is a const ruction that, never finished, demands we fight for it" (1998, p. 90). There is confusion and much debate in and outside of schools about how and when these and other rights described in the First Amendment may or may not be limited, and the time is now to clarify the place of such rights in public education.

At the Schoolhouse Gate is divided into three sections: Foundations, Case Studies of Rights in Schools, and Choices to Act. The "Foundations" section presents the case law pertaining to the rights of both teachers and students, setting the tone for what presently is permissible and chronicling the ongoing struggle with defining rights and responsibilities in schools. In "Case Studies of Rights in Schools," various authors examine teacher and student interactions with rights and responsibilities in schools, including the interest of students in participating with their teachers in the democratic experiment of schooling, the promise of studen t-led conferences, a new teacher's success with democratizing her classroom, and student views of news and technology. "Choices to Act" includes a portrait of teacher activism during the Oklahoma Walkout, a general counsel's advice to teachers for availing themselves of their rights, a story of a civic education curriculum generating student agency, and vignettes of two public high school students who took action in their schools and communities.

CONTENTS

Foreword, Mikayla Hernandez and Wesley Wagner. Introduction, Prentice T. Chandler and Nancy C. Patterson. PART I: FOUNDATIONS. Academic Freedom in the Balance, Nancy C. Patterson and Prentice T. Chandler. A More Complicated Story: Student Free Expression Rights in Public Education, Ryan Suskey. PART II: THE STATE OF RIGHTS IN SCHOOLS. Taking Action and Taking Offense in "Our Little Democracy": High School Students Share Their Perceptions of First Amendment Rights and Responsibilities, Nancy C. Patterson, Diann Brown, and Jeanne Vidoni. Practicing Free Expression in Schools Through Student-Led Conferences: A Review of Literature, Cheryl Lambert. Student and Teacher Perceptions of Democratic Classroom Organization, Management, and Instruction, Jeffery D. Nokes. First Amendment Rights and Expression: News and Views From Stude nts on Information and Social Media in Schools, Sarah J. Kaka. PART III: CHOICES TO ACT. "I Walk for ...": Teacher Activism in Action, Kristy A. Brugar and Dalton C. Savage. Defending Academic Freedom: Advice for Teachers, Michael Simpson. They Speak for Themselves: Students Name the Phenomenon of Civic Education and Freedom of Speech, Donna K. Philips. Real Choices to Act: Waking Up to Charlottesville and Testing the First Amendment, Ellie Boyle, Leo Bucks and Clayton Kalaf-Hughes. About the Contributors.

Contemporary Pioneers in Human Learning and Development

By:
Héfer Bembenutty, Queens College of The City University of New York
A volume in Contemporary Pioneers in Educational Psychology: Theory, Research, and Applications

This volume traces the socialization process, professional development, career paths, and theory and research of contemporary pioneers in education and psychology. This volume contains interviews with leading scholars who are at the vanguard of teaching and learning. They shared how their childhood development influenced their theoretical paths and research endeavors and revealed their thoughts, beliefs, and experiences that made them who they are today. These scholars responded to questions pertaining to their childhood, initial interest in education and psychology, role models, research interests and major findings, future directions of their research, educational implications derived from their research, and perception of their legacy. They are real people who have had experiences like anybody else, but found homes and teachers who supported them. While in college, they found educators who mentored them.

Readers will find that this volume offers them an opportunity to learn the background of contemporary pioneers in education and psychology, provides valuable sources where they can learn about how major theories developed and where they are moving, and reveals the personal anecdotes that influenced the conceptualization of contemporary theories and research. Educators and students will find that this book provides hope and a rejuvenated enthusiasm about the status of education and psychology and that they too can be leaders in their own ways.

Published 2022
ORDER ONLINE AT
WWW.INFOAGEPUB.COM
Hardcover
978-1-64802-854-0
$94.99
Paperback
978-1-64802-853-3
$52.99
eBook
978-1-64802-855-7

[redacted]

CONTENTS

Preface. Acknowledgments. CHAPTER 1: An Interview With Lyn Corno: A Pioneer of Theory and Research on Self-Regulated Learning, Adaptive Teaching, Homework, and Volition. CHAPTER 2: An Interview With Allan Wigfield: A Leading Force in Developing Research on Expectancy-Value, Motivation, and Academic Literacy. CHAPTER 3: An Interview With Steve Graham: A Pioneer of the Understanding of How Writing Develops, Is Taught Effectively, and Can Be Used to Support Reading and Learning. CHAPTER 4: An Interview With Philip H. Winne: Jagged Paths and Lucky Breaks on Ways to Researching Self-Regulated Learning. CHAPTER 5: An Interview With Eric M. Anderman: A Pioneer Researching Academic Motivation and Cheating, HIV/Pregnancy Prevention, and Applications of Theory Into Practice. CHAPTER 6: An Interview With Marita R. Inglehart: A Pioneer Behavioral Scientist in Dental Education and Research, Promoting Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Social J ustice. CHAPTER 7: An Interview With William Buskist: A Pioneer of Essentials of Teaching Psychology, Assessment of Teaching, Excellence in Teaching, and Scholarship of Teaching and Learning. CHAPTER 8: An Interview With Gary E. McPherson: The Pioneer of the Development of Self-Regulation Music Expertise. CHAPTER 9: An Interview With Theresa A. Thorkildsen: A Leading Force for Research on How Children and Adolescents Synchronize Personal and Social Expectations Through Civil Engagement. CHAPTER 10: An Interview With R. Eric Landrum: A Pioneer Scientist-Educator for Improving the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning in Psychology. CHAPTER 11: An Interview With Pedro S. L. Rosa rio: A Scholar With a Wide Range of Interests Who Significantly Contributed to Understanding the Role of Self-Regulated Learning, Homework, Storytelling, and Learners' School Engagement. CHAPTER 12: An Interview With Frank Pajares: God, the Devil, William James, the Little Prince, and Self-Efficacy. About the Author.

Information Age Publishing | P.O. Box 79049 | Charlotte, NC 28271-7047
T: 704.752.9125 | F: 704.752.9113 | E: info@infoagepub.com

This e-mail was sent to hborski@utah.gov because you are subscribed to at least one of our mailing lists. If at any time you would like to remove yourself from our mailing list, please feel free to do so by visiting:
http://infoagepub.net/lm/public/unsubscribe.php?g=786&addr=hborski@utah.gov

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: 5th Circ. Says Block Of Biden's Gas Lease Ban Is Too Vague
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 18/08/2022 02:25

LAW360 PUBLIC POLICY

Thursday, August 18, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

5th Circ. Says Block Of Biden's Gas Lease Ban Is Too Vague

A Fifth Circuit panel on Wednesday lifted a nationwide injunction purportedly blocking the Biden administration's pause of new oil and gas leases, finding that the injunction is so vague that it's unclear exactly what the injunction intended to block.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

1st Circ. Says Dormant Commerce Clause Applies To Med. Pot

A split First Circuit panel affirmed Wednesday that the Constitution's dormant commerce clause applies to the federally illegal medical cannabis industry and that a Maine law mandating local ownership of cannabis businesses cannot stand.

[redacted]

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Sidney Powell Dropped From 2nd Defamation Suit in NY

Sidney Powell, an attorney allied with former President Donald Trump, has escaped another defamation suit in New York related to her assertions about election fraud on Fox News, with a federal judge ruling that the state was the wrong venue to sue the Texas resident.

Order attached | Read full article »

Florida Prosecutor Sues DeSantis Over Suspension

A former state attorney suspended for pledging not to use his resources to enforce abortion bans or laws targeting transgender people sued Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis on Wednesday, saying his removal from office violates the First Amendment.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Sen. Graham Seeks Emergency Stay In Ga. Subpoena Fight

U.S. Sen. Lindsey Graham, R-S.C., filed an emergency stay request in Georgia federal court Wednesday, asking the court to pause a remand order requiring him to testify next week in a state criminal investigation into possible election interference by former President Donald Trump and others.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

Fed Says Crypto Bank Can't Sue Its Way To Account Decision

Federal Reserve System officials are urging a Wyoming federal judge to reject a lawsuit from a cryptocurrency bank that they say seeks to rush them into granting it access to key central bank services before they can finish thinking through all the bigger-picture ramifications of its request.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

FDIC Grilled On Claims Of Anti-Crypto Pressure On Banks

Whistleblower reports suggest that the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation may be discouraging banks from doing business with lawful cryptocurrency-related companies, Sen. Pat Toomey told FDIC leadership in a recent letter.

Letter attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Akin Gump
Alston & Bird
Anderson Kill
Arnold & Porter
Atheria Law
Atkinson Andelson
Ausley McMullen
Avila Rodriguez
Axinn Veltrop
Baker & Hostetler
Baker Botts
Baker Donelson
Baker McKenzie
Baker Sterchi
Balch & Bingham
Ballard Spahr
Banner Witcoff
Barclay Damon
Barnes & Thornburg
Barrasso Usdin
Bartlit Beck
Bass Berry
Bast Amron
Beasley Allen
Beck Redden
Bell Nunnally
Berman Tabacco
Bernstein Litowitz
Bernstein Shur
Berry Appleman
Best Best & Krieger
Beveridge & Diamond
Bilzin Sumberg
Birch Stewart
Bird Marella
Blank Rome
Blankingship & Keith
Boies Schiller
Bookoff McAndrews
Bowman & Brooke
Bracewell LLP
Brach Eichler
Bradley Arant

3rd Circ. Says Del., Hoboken Climate Suits Stay In State Court

The Third Circuit on Wednesday upheld Delaware and New Jersey federal rulings that climate change lawsuits against energy giants like Chevron Corp. can be brought in state court, despite attempts from energy companies to bring the cases into federal court.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

DOE Earmarks $45M To Protect Power Grid From Cyberthreats

The U.S. Department of Energy is setting aside $45 million to fund research efforts to develop new tools and technologies to protect the electric grid from increasingly prevalent cyberattacks, the agency announced Wednesday.

Read full article »

REAL ESTATE

9th Circ. Partially Revives Challenge To LA Waste Ordinance

The Ninth Circuit on Tuesday mostly affirmed the dismissal of a lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of a Los Angeles city ordinance that requires businesses and apartments to pay for waste collection services by a city franchisee, but revived one claim alleging the city's "show-your-receipt" requirement violates the Fourth Amendment.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

3rd Circ. Won't Revive Suit Over Jersey City Rental Law

The Third Circuit on Tuesday upheld a New Jersey federal judge's dismissal of a lawsuit over a Jersey City ordinance banning short-term subleases of long-term rentals and limiting non-occupant owners' rentals to guests to 60 nights per year, saying Airbnb hosts' constitutional rights were not violated.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Pittsburgh Orgs Want In On City 'Inclusionary Zoning' Battle

A coalition of Pittsburgh community organizations filed to intervene in a developers trade group's suit challenging the city's "inclusionary zoning ordinance," telling a Pennsylvania federal court the edict falls within states' broad power to regulate housing conditions.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

Judge Nixes Cost Savings From Book Merger Trial

A D.C. federal judge on Wednesday issued a midtrial order excluding Penguin Random House's predicted cost-savings from the trial on its planned merger with Simon & Schuster,

Branstetter Stranch
BraunHagey & Borden
Bressler Amery
Brinkley Morgan
Brouse McDowell
Brown Goldstein
Brown Rudnick
Brownstein Hyatt
Buchalter APC
Buckley LLP
Burns White
Cadwalader Wickersham
Cahill Gordon
Calfee Halter
Cantor Colburn
Carlton Fields
Chamberlain Hrdlicka
Chiesa Shahinian
Clark Hill
Cleary Gottlieb
Clifford Law Offices PC
Coats Rose
Coblentz Patch
Cohen Seglias
Cohen Ziffer
Cole Schotz
Conn Maciel
Cooley LLP
Cozen O'Connor
Crowell & Moring
Curtis Mallet-Prevost
Damian & Valori
Day Pitney
Dechert LLP
Dentons
Desmarais LLP
Dewey Pegno
Duane Morris LLP
Dykema
EPGD Business Law
Eckert Seamans
Ellis George
Emery Celli
Epstein Becker Green
Eversheds Sutherland
Faegre Drinker
Farella Braun
Fenwick & West
Finnegan
Fish & Richardson
Fisher Phillips
Flaster Greenberg

savings the publisher says would be passed on to authors in the form of higher advances.

Read full article »

PERSONAL INJURY & MEDICAL MALPRACTICE

NJ Nursing Home Ducks COVID Death Suit Over Immunity Law

A New Jersey state judge on Wednesday tossed a lawsuit against a nursing home over a resident's COVID-19 death, finding that certain allegations in her estate's complaint are not specific enough to avoid a state law shielding medical facilities from civil liability over pandemic-related treatment.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

Stellantis Plant To Rehire Fired Workers After USMCA Probe

A Stellantis-owned Mexican automotive parts facility will recognize its workers' union as their collective bargaining representative and rehire workers fired for organizing activities, the Biden administration announced Tuesday following a review under the North American trade pact.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

TAX

Analysis

Shareholder Status Will Shape Impact Of Stock Buyback Tax

A 1% excise tax on stock buybacks in the Democrats' tax, climate and health care legislation will make repurchases costlier and reduce their preferential tax treatment, but whether it actually reduces those transactions will partly depend on a company's shareholders.

Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

Feds Explore Making Virtual I-9 Verification Permanent

The Biden administration is looking into creating permanent programs that would allow employers to use email, video and other technologies to remotely verify their employees' eligibility to work in the U.S., according to a proposed rule released on Wednesday.

Notice attached | Read full article »

WHITE COLLAR

BakerHostetler, Crowell & Moring Sued Over Web Scam Client

BakerHostetler and Crowell & Moring LLP have been hit with a malpractice lawsuit claiming an attorney who worked at both firms advised a serial scammer as he built a constellation of predatory websites called On Point Global LLC, which took in $85 million from unsuspecting Americans

Foley & Lardner
Foley Hoag
Forchelli Deegan
FordHarrison
Foster Garvey
Fox Rothschild
Frantz Ward
Freeborn & Peters
Fried Frank
Frost Brown
Gibbons PC
Gibson Dunn
Glenn Agre
Goldberg Segalla
Goldman Ismail
Goodwin Procter
Gordon Dadds
Gray Duffy
GrayRobinson
Greenberg Glusker
Greenberg Traurig
Greene Broillet
Greenspoon Marder
Griesing Law
Groom Law Group
Gunderson Dettmer
Gunster Yoakley
Haight Brown
Hamilton Brook
Harness IP
Harris St. Laurent
Hausfeld LLP
Hawkins Parnell
Haynes & Boone
Haynsworth Sinkler
Henderson Franklin
Hill Ward Henderson
Hinshaw & Culbertson
Hirst Applegate
Hoagland Longo
Hogan Lovells
Holland & Hart
Holland & Knight
Holtzman Vogel
Holwell Shuster
Hooper Lundy
Howard & Howard
Hueston Hennigan
Hughes Hubbard
Husch Blackwell
Intellectual Property Law Group
Irell & Manella

before being sued into receivership by the Federal Trade Commission.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

The 10 Fixes Equity Advocates Want To See In SAFE Banking

A bipartisan federal bill to let banks do business with state-legal marijuana businesses would not accomplish its boosters' stated goals of broadening minority ownership in the cannabis industry without amendments, equity-focused cannabis advocates said on Wednesday.

1 document attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

Longtime Hogan Lovells Partner Jumps To Mayer Brown In DC

Mayer Brown LLP has added a longtime Hogan Lovells partner to its corporate and securities practice who focuses on matters related to products regulated by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, the firm announced Tuesday.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Opinion

Calif. Law Creates Heavy Burden For US Pork Industry

The California law at issue in National Pork Producers Council v. Ross, which will be heard by the U.S. Supreme Court this fall, effectively regulates the entire national pork industry, increases costs, and usurps Congress' power to govern interstate commerce, says Daniel Kolkey at the Pacific Research Institute.

Read full article »

Preparing Ticket Seller Sites For NY Fee Transparency Law

Ahead of Aug. 29, ticket sellers such as StubHub, Ticketmaster and individual entertainment venues should work with their web developers to ensure that their platforms are compliant with a new law that makes New York the national leader in prohibiting deceptive drip pricing in the ticket market, say attorneys at Fox Rothschild.

Read full article »

Cos. Handling Kids' Data Must Prep For Greater Regulation

With recent Federal Trade Commission policy statements, enforcement actions and forthcoming privacy legislative developments, it's clear that companies processing children's personal information should prepare for heightened oversight and consider five key compliance steps, say Jacqueline Klosek and JB Schiller at Goodwin.

Read full article »

Jackson Kelly PLLC
Jaspan Schlesinger
Jomarron Lopez
Jones Day
Jones Foster
Jones Walker
K&L Gates
Kane Kessler
Kantor & Kantor
Kasowitz Benson
Kaufman Dolowich
Keker Van Nest & Peters
Keller Rohrback
Kelley Kronenberg
Kellogg Hansen
Kennedys Law LLP
Kilpatrick Townsend
King & Spalding
Klehr Harrison
Kluger Kaplan
Knobbe Martens
Kranjac Tripodi
Krovatin Nau
Laffey Bucci
Lane Powell
Lash & Goldberg
Latham & Watkins
Lathrop GPM
Leech Tishman
Lewis Brisbois
Lewis Roca
Lieff Cabraser
Lightfoot Franklin
Liskow & Lewis
Littler Mendelson
Locke Lord
Lowenstein Sandler
Manatt Phelps
Manning Gross
Marino Tortorella
Maslon LLP
Mayer Brown
Maynard Cooper
McCarter & English
McCarthy Lebit
McDermott Will
McDonnell Boehnen
McGlinchey Stafford
McGuireWoods
McKool Smith
McManis Faulkner
Merchant & Gould

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Randy Mastro Leaves Gibson Dunn For King & Spalding

Renowned trial lawyer and former prosecutor Randy Mastro, who spent more than two decades as co-chair of Gibson Dunn & Crutcher LLP's litigation practice, is joining King & Spalding LLP as a partner – a move a source says comes after Mastro was asked to step down from his chair position at the former firm.

Read full article »

Law360 Names Attys Who Moved Up The Firm Ranks In Q2

A promotion to partner or election to practice group chair means a slew of new responsibilities and also lots of well-deserved recognition. Law360 reveals the list of attorneys whose commitment to legal excellence earned them highly coveted spots in the law firm leadership ranks. Find out if your old legal friends — or rivals — moved up in the second quarter of the year.

Read full article »

Ga. Judge Sees Flaw In Littler TRO Bid Against Polsinelli

Littler Mendelson PC's bid to block Polsinelli PC from using its alleged trade secrets for a home care practice needs to be more specific in order to succeed, a Georgia federal judge said Wednesday during the first day of a two-day hearing.

Read full article »

McDermott Atty Rebuked For Letting Client Share Trial Link

The Solicitors Regulation Authority said Wednesday that it reprimanded a McDermott Will & Emery LLP litigator for advising a client that it could share a restricted link to a libel trial about the publication of a dossier on Donald Trump to individuals outside the case.

Read full article »

Musk's Twitter Doc Fight Target Had Key User Traffic Role

A former Twitter manager recently required to provide records for a Delaware Chancery Court battle over Elon Musk's attempt to terminate a $44 billion take-private offer was closely tied to initiatives focused on key user traffic measurements, according to a newly unsealed document.

Read full article »

Meyer Unkovic
Meyers Nave
Michelman & Robinson
Miles & Stockbridge
Miller & Chevalier
Miller Barondess
Miller Canfield
Miller Starr
Miner Barnhill
Mitchell Silberberg
MoloLamken
Montgomery McCracken
Moritt Hock
Morris & Morris Attorneys
Morris Nichols
Morrison Foerster
Moss & Barnett
Mound Cotton
Moye White
Munck Wilson
Munger Tolles
Napoli Shkolnik
Nelson Mullins
Newmeyer & Dillion
Nixon Peabody
Norris McLaughlin
Norton Rose
Nossaman LLP
Nutter McClennen
O'Melveny & Myers
Obermayer Rebmann
Ogletree Deakins
Orrick Herrington
Panish Shea
Parker Hudson
Parker Poe
Pasich LLP
Patterson & Sheridan
Patterson Belknap
Paul Hastings
Paul Plevin
Paul Weiss
Peckar & Abramson
Perkins Coie
Phillips Lytle
Pillsbury Winthrop
Pirkey Barber
Plunkett Cooney
Polsinelli PC
Porter Hedges
Porter Wright
Potter Anderson

Construction Co. Owes $1.6M Over Unfinished SC Courthouse

A federal judge in North Carolina has ordered a subcontractor accused of abandoning a drywall installation project at a newly constructed federal courthouse in South Carolina to pay $1.6 million after the company failed to respond to a breach of contract lawsuit.

Read full article »

6th Circ. Refuses To Double Atty Fees From Pharmacy's Ch. 7

The Sixth Circuit has handed a loss to defunct Michigan law firm Silverman & Morris PLLC, which saw its request for legal fees halved by a U.S. bankruptcy judge who determined the firm's work in a pharmacy's Chapter 7 case was not worth what it had requested.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions
Illinois Attorney General's Office
-, -

Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Bank Policy Institute
Washington, District of Columbia

Preti Flaherty
Pryor Cashman
Quinn Emanuel
Redgrave LLP
Reed Smith
Reichman Jorgensen Lehman & Feldberg LLP
Riker Danzig
Riley Safer
Rivkin Radler
Robbins Geller
Robinson & Cole
Robinson Bradshaw
Roetzel & Andress
Ropes & Gray
Rosen Bien
Rosenberg & Estis
Rumberger Kirk
Sanford Heisler
Saul Ewing
Saxe Doernberger
Saxton & Stump
Schiffer Hicks
Schneider Wallace
Selman Breitman
Seward & Kissel
Seyfarth Shaw
Shakespeare Martineau
Shearman & Sterling
Sheppard Mullin
Sher Edling
Shipman & Goodwin
Shook Hardy
Shumaker Loop
Shutts & Bowen
Sidley Austin
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Skarzynski Marick
Snell & Wilmer
Squire Patton
Starr Associates
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Stern & Kilcullen
Sterne Kessler
Stevens & Lee
Stinson LLP
Stoel Rives
Stokes Lawrence
Stradley Ronon
Stroock & Stroock
Stubbs Alderton

Stueve Siegel Hanson
Sullivan & Worcester
Susman Godfrey
Swanson Martin
TA PLLC
Taft Stettinius
Thomas Horstemeyer
Thompson Coburn
Thompson Hine
Three Crowns LLP
Troutman Pepper
Turner Padget
Tyson & Mendes
Ulmer & Berne
Van Ness Feldman
Varnum LLP
Venable LLP
Verrill Dana
Vinson & Elkins
Vladeck Raskin
Wachtell Lipton
Walden Macht
Waller Lansden
Ward and Smith
Warshaw Burstein
Weil Gotshal
Weintraub Tobin
Wheeler Trigg
White & Case
Wilkinson Stekloff
Williams & Connolly
Williams Porter
WilmerHale
Wilson Elser
Wilson Sonsini
Wilson Turner
Winthrop & Weinstine
Withersworldwide
Wolf Greenfield
Womble Bond
Young Conaway
Zuber Lawler
Zuckerman Spaeder
Zumpano Patricios

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Acreage Holdings Inc.
Airbnb Inc.
Amazon.com Inc.
American Enterprise Institute
American Federation of Labor & Congress of Industrial Organizations

Bates White LLC
Bertelsmann AG
Brasfield & Gorrie LLC
Chevron Corp.
Drug Policy Alliance
Food & Drug Law Institute
Fox Corp.
Getty Images Inc.
LinkedIn Corp.
Live Nation Entertainment Inc.
Ohio State University
Panasonic Corp.
Public Broadcasting Service
Sanctuary for Families Inc.
Simon & Schuster Inc.
Stellantis NV
StubHub Inc.
Suncor Energy Inc.
The City University of New York
The Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law
Twitter Inc.
U.S. Chamber of Commerce
WW International Inc.
Wayfair LLC

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Bureau of Land Management
California Department of Food and Agriculture
Delaware Court of Chancery
Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.
Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City
Federal Reserve System
Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Government Accountability Office
Joint Committee on Taxation
Maine Attorney General's Office
Solicitors Regulation Authority
State Bar of Texas
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit

U.S. Department of Energy
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of the Treasury
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: CVS, Walmart, Walgreens Owe $650M In Ohio Opioid Fallout
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 18/08/2022 03:36

LAW360 HEALTH

Thursday, August 18, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

CVS, Walmart, Walgreens Owe $650M In Ohio Opioid Fallout

A federal judge in Cleveland said Wednesday that three major pharmacy chains must pay more than $650 million to fund a 15-year plan to address the fallout from opioid abuse in two northeast Ohio counties, delivering a blow to pharmacy companies as more cases make their way to trial.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Endo Hits Ch. 11 Amid Opioid Suit Crush

Besieged by opioid crisis lawsuits, drugmaker Endo International has filed for Chapter 11 protection in a New York bankruptcy court, saying a deal will cut $6 billion in debt and earmark $550 million for claims it contributed to an epidemic of narcotic abuse.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Endo Beats Investors' Opioid Crisis Class Action, For Good

A New Jersey federal judge on Wednesday tossed a proposed class action accusing Endo International PLC — which yesterday filed for Chapter 11 protection — of misleading investors about its role in the opioid crisis, saying the shareholders haven't shown the company's statements were misleading or caused their losses.

Order attached | Read full article »

Health Co. Asks 11th Circ. To Toss Ex-Worker's Sex Bias Case

A health management company urged the Eleventh Circuit to affirm its win over a former sales executive's sex bias case, saying her firing was a result of the company's decision to reduce its numbers and wasn't intentionally discriminatory.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Zantac MDL Plaintiff Dismisses Suit 1 Week Before Trial

A 79-year-old Illinois man whose trial was set to be the first to begin in sprawling state and federal litigation over whether a chemical in Zantac heartburn medication causes cancer has notified a state court that he intends to voluntarily dismiss his suit, one week before that trial was scheduled to start.

Read full article »

Surescript's EpiPen Citation 'Nothing New,' FTC Says

The Federal Trade Commission assailed Surescripts for telling a D.C. federal judge that a Tenth Circuit decision sparing Mylan from antitrust allegations over the EpiPen bolsters Surescripts' bid to escape claims it uses exclusive contract terms to maintain a monopoly in e-prescriptions.

Response attached | Read full article »

LITIGATION

5th Circ. Rules Against DOL In Data-For-Insurance ERISA Row

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Aetna Inc.
Allscripts Healthcare Solutions Inc.
Alvarez & Marsal Holdings LLC
Amazon.com Inc.
Bausch Health Cos. Inc.
Boehringer Ingelheim Vetmedica Inc.
Brasfield & Gorrie LLC
Bristol-Myers Squibb Co.
Chevron Corp.
Endo International PLC
Mylan NV
Nektar Therapeutics
NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital
Ollie's Bargain Outlet Inc.
Pfizer Inc.
Purdue Pharma LP
Salix Pharmaceuticals, Ltd.
Sanctuary for Families Inc.
Sanofi SA
Surescripts LLC
The City University of New York
Twitter Inc.
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Akin Gump
Alston & Bird
Anderson Kill

The Fifth Circuit on Wednesday agreed with a Texas federal court's determination that federal benefits law covered a company's offering of health insurance to individuals in exchange for their user data, ruling that the U.S. Department of Labor had arbitrarily found the plan to be exempt.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Gov't Ordered To Reimburse NY Hospital $1.7M In Atty Fees

The U.S. Court of Federal Claims ordered the government to reimburse NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital $1.7 million in attorney fees for defending itself against doctors who claimed their payroll taxes were wrongly withheld and eventually settled.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Judge Axes IP Suit Over Xifaxan, Ruling The Drug Is Prior Art

A New Jersey federal judge on Wednesday dismissed an infringement suit against Bausch Health unit Salix Pharmaceuticals Ltd. over its drug Xifaxan after finding the drug product actually constitutes prior art to the four patents it was accused of infringing.

Order attached | Read full article »

NJ Nursing Home Ducks COVID Death Suit Over Immunity Law

A New Jersey state judge on Wednesday tossed a lawsuit against a nursing home over a resident's COVID-19 death, finding that certain allegations in her estate's complaint are not specific enough to avoid a state law shielding medical facilities from civil liability over pandemic-related treatment.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Aetna Wants Class Dissolved In Benefits Clawback Battle

Aetna urged a Pennsylvania federal judge Wednesday to disband a class of policyholders who said the company violated federal benefits law by reclaiming disability benefits, saying a recent Third Circuit ruling meant the lower court had jumped the gun by granting certification.

Motion attached | Read full article »

COVID Deaths At Mass. Vets' Home Spark Whistleblower Suit

Two former Massachusetts health care officials claimed in a lawsuit filed Wednesday that they were fired after flagging concerns about pandemic conditions in a pair of veterans' nursing facilities, including one where a COVID-19 outbreak killed 76 people.

Atheria Law
Atkinson Andelson
Ausley McMullen
Avila Rodriguez
Axinn Veltrop
Bachus & Schanker
Baker & Hostetler
Baker Botts
Baker Donelson
Baker McKenzie
Baker Sterchi
Balch & Bingham
Ballard Spahr
Banner Witcoff
Barclay Damon
Barnes & Thornburg
Barr Law Group
Barrasso Usdin
Bartlit Beck
Bass Berry
Bast Amron
Beasley Allen
Beck Redden
Bell Nunnally
Berman Tabacco
Bernstein Litowitz
Bernstein Shur
Berry Appleman
Best Best & Krieger
Beveridge & Diamond
Bilzin Sumberg
Birch Stewart
Bird Marella
Blank Rome
Blankingship & Keith
Boies Schiller
Bookoff McAndrews
Bowman & Brooke
Bracewell LLP
Brach Eichler
Bradley Arant
Branstetter Stranch
BraunHagey & Borden
Bressler Amery
Brinkley Morgan
Brouse McDowell
Brown Goldstein
Brown Rudnick
Brownstein Hyatt
Buchalter APC
Buckley LLP
Burns White

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Del. Suit Alleges Insider Trades Worth $171M By Nektar Execs

Officers and directors of Nektar Therapeutics misled the public about the prospects of the company's cancer-fighting immunotherapy treatment and then sold more than $171 million worth of their stock before the truth sent shares plummeting, a new derivative complaint filed in Delaware Chancery Court alleges.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Randy Mastro Leaves Gibson Dunn For King & Spalding

Renowned trial lawyer and former prosecutor Randy Mastro, who spent more than two decades as co-chair of Gibson Dunn & Crutcher LLP's litigation practice, is joining King & Spalding LLP as a partner – a move a source says comes after Mastro was asked to step down from his chair position at the former firm.

Read full article »

Law360 Names Attys Who Moved Up The Firm Ranks In Q2

A promotion to partner or election to practice group chair means a slew of new responsibilities and also lots of well-deserved recognition. Law360 reveals the list of attorneys whose commitment to legal excellence earned them highly coveted spots in the law firm leadership ranks. Find out if your old legal friends — or rivals — moved up in the second quarter of the year.

Read full article »

Ga. Judge Sees Flaw In Littler TRO Bid Against Polsinelli

Littler Mendelson PC's bid to block Polsinelli PC from using its alleged trade secrets for a home care practice needs to be more specific in order to succeed, a Georgia federal judge said Wednesday during the first day of a two-day hearing.

Read full article »

McDermott Atty Rebuked For Letting Client Share Trial Link

The Solicitors Regulation Authority said Wednesday that it reprimanded a McDermott Will & Emery LLP litigator for advising a client that it could share a restricted link to a libel trial about the publication of a dossier on Donald Trump to individuals outside the case.

Read full article »

Burr & Forman
Cadwalader Wickersham
Cahill Gordon
Calfee Halter
Cantor Colburn
Carlton Fields
Chamberlain Hrdlicka
Chiesa Shahinian
Clark Hill
Cleary Gottlieb
Clifford Law Offices PC
Coats Rose
Coblentz Patch
Cohen Seglias
Cohen Ziffer
Cole Schotz
Conn Maciel
Cooch & Taylor
Cooley LLP
Cozen O'Connor
Crowell & Moring
Curtis Mallet-Prevost
Damian & Valori
Day Pitney
Dechert LLP
Dentons
Desmarais LLP
Dewey Pegno
Duane Morris LLP
Dykema
EPGD Business Law
Elliott Greenleaf
Ellis George
Epstein Becker Green
Eversheds Sutherland
Faegre Drinker
Farella Braun
Farrell & Fuller
Fenwick & West
Finnegan
Fish & Richardson
Fisher Phillips
Flaster Greenberg
Foley & Lardner
Foley Hoag
Forchelli Deegan
FordHarrison
Foster Garvey
Frantz Ward
Freeborn & Peters
Fried Frank
Frost Brown

BakerHostetler, Crowell & Moring Sued Over Web Scam Client

BakerHostetler and Crowell & Moring LLP have been hit with a malpractice lawsuit claiming an attorney who worked at both firms advised a serial scammer as he built a constellation of predatory websites called On Point Global LLC, which took in $85 million from unsuspecting Americans before being sued into receivership by the Federal Trade Commission.

Read full article »

Florida Prosecutor Sues DeSantis Over Suspension

A former state attorney suspended for pledging not to use his resources to enforce abortion bans or laws targeting transgender people sued Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis on Wednesday, saying his removal from office violates the First Amendment.

Read full article »

Musk's Twitter Doc Fight Target Had Key User Traffic Role

A former Twitter manager recently required to provide records for a Delaware Chancery Court battle over Elon Musk's attempt to terminate a $44 billion take-private offer was closely tied to initiatives focused on key user traffic measurements, according to a newly unsealed document.

Read full article »

Construction Co. Owes $1.6M Over Unfinished SC Courthouse

A federal judge in North Carolina has ordered a subcontractor accused of abandoning a drywall installation project at a newly constructed federal courthouse in South Carolina to pay $1.6 million after the company failed to respond to a breach of contract lawsuit.

Read full article »

6th Circ. Refuses To Double Atty Fees From Pharmacy's Ch. 7

The Sixth Circuit has handed a loss to defunct Michigan law firm Silverman & Morris PLLC, which saw its request for legal fees halved by a U.S. bankruptcy judge who determined the firm's work in a pharmacy's Chapter 7 case was not worth what it had requested.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Well known mid-sized FULL SERVICE law firm SEEKS MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNER
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Corporate partner for NY

Associate - Healthcare

Gibbons PC
Gibson Dunn
Glenn Agre
Goldberg Segalla
Goldman Ismail
Gordon Dadds
Gray Duffy
GrayRobinson
Greenberg Glusker
Greenberg Traurig
Greene Broillet
Greenspoon Marder
Griesing Law
Groom Law Group
Gunderson Dettmer
Gunster Yoakley
Haight Brown
Hamilton Brook
Harness IP
Harris St. Laurent
Hausfeld LLP
Hawkins Parnell
Haynes & Boone
Haynsworth Sinkler
Henderson Franklin
Hill Wallack
Hill Ward Henderson
Hinshaw & Culbertson
Hoagland Longo
Hogan Lovells
Holland & Hart
Holland & Knight
Holtzman Vogel
Holwell Shuster
Hooper Lundy
Howard & Howard
Hueston Hennigan
Hughes Hubbard
Husch Blackwell
Intellectual Property Law Group
Irell & Manella
Jackson Kelly PLLC
Jaspan Schlesinger
Jomarron Lopez
Jones Day
Jones Foster
Jones Walker
K&L Gates
Kane Kessler
Kantor & Kantor
Kasowitz Benson
Kaufman Dolowich

[redacted]

office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm	Regulatory
Schoen Legal Search	Bass, Berry & Sims
New York City, New York	-, -

Keker Van Nest & Peters
Keller Rohrback
Kelley Kronenberg
Kellogg Hansen
Kilpatrick Townsend
King & Spalding
Klehr Harrison
Kluger Kaplan
Knobbe Martens
Laffey Bucci
Lane Powell
Lanier Law Firm
Lash & Goldberg
Latham & Watkins
Lathrop GPM
Law Office of Charles
Kannebecker
Leech Tishman
Lewis Brisbois
Lewis Roca
Lieff Cabraser
Lightfoot Franklin
Liskow & Lewis
Littler Mendelson
Locke Lord
Lowenstein Sandler
Manatt Phelps
Manning Gross
Maslon LLP
Mayer Brown
Maynard Cooper
McCarter & English
McCarthy Lebit
McDermott Will
McDonnell Boehnen
McGlinchey Stafford
McGuireWoods
McKool Smith
McManis Faulkner
Merchant & Gould
Meyers Nave
Michelman & Robinson
Miles & Stockbridge
Miller & Chevalier
Miller Barondess
Miller Canfield
Miller Starr
Miner Barnhill
Mitchell Silberberg
MoloLamken
Montgomery McCracken
Moritt Hock

[redacted]

Morris & Morris Attorneys
Morris Nichols
Morrison Foerster
Moss & Barnett
Motley Rice
Mound Cotton
Moye White
Munck Wilson
Munger Tolles
Napoli Shkolnik
Nelson Mullins
Newmeyer & Dillion
Nixon Peabody
Norris McLaughlin
Norton Rose
Nossaman LLP
Nutter McClennen
O'Melveny & Myers
Obermayer Rebmann
Ogletree Deakins
Orrick Herrington
Panish Shea
Parker Hudson
Parker Poe
Pasich LLP
Patterson & Sheridan
Patterson Belknap
Paul Hastings
Paul Plevin
Peckar & Abramson
Perkins Coie
Phillips Lytle
Pillsbury Winthrop
Pirkey Barber
Plevin & Gallucci
Plunkett Cooney
Polsinelli PC
Pomerantz LLP
Porter Hedges
Porter Wright
Potter Anderson
Pryor Cashman
Quinn Emanuel
Redgrave LLP
Reed Smith
Reichman Jorgensen Lehman & Feldberg LLP
Riker Danzig
Riley Safer
Rivkin Radler
Robbins Geller
Robbins LLP

Robinson & Cole
Robinson Bradshaw
Robinson Miller
Roetzel & Andress
Ropes & Gray
Rosen Bien
Rosenberg & Estis
Rumberger Kirk
Sanford Heisler
Saul Ewing
Saxe Doernberger
Saxton & Stump
Schiffer Hicks
Schneider Wallace
Selman Breitman
Seward & Kissel
Seyfarth Shaw
Shakespeare Martineau
Sheppard Mullin
Shipman & Goodwin
Shook Hardy
Shumaker Loop
Shutts & Bowen
Sidley Austin
Simmons Hanly
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Skarzynski Marick
Snell & Wilmer
Spangenberg Shibley
Squire Patton
Starr Associates
Steptoe & Johnson LLP
Sterne Kessler
Stevens & Lee
Stinson LLP
Stoel Rives
Stokes Lawrence
Stradley Ronon
Stroock & Stroock
Stubbs Alderton
Stueve Siegel Hanson
Sullivan & Worcester
Susman Godfrey
Swanson Martin
TA PLLC
Taft Stettinius
Taylor English
Thomas Horstemeyer
Thompson Coburn
Thompson Hine
Three Crowns LLP

Troutman Pepper
Turner Padget
Tyson & Mendes
Ulmer & Berne
Van Ness Feldman
Varnum LLP
Venable LLP
Verrill Dana
Vinson & Elkins
Vladeck Raskin
Wachtell Lipton
Walden Macht
Waller Lansden
Ward and Smith
Warshaw Burstein
Weil Gotshal
Weintraub Tobin
Wheeler Trigg
White & Case
Wilkinson Stekloff
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale
Wilson Elser
Wilson Sonsini
Wilson Turner
Winthrop & Weinstine
Withersworldwide
Wolf Greenfield
Womble Bond
Young Conaway
Zuber Lawler
Zuckerman Spaeder
Zumpano Patricios

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Delaware Court of Chancery
Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Internal Revenue Service
New York Department of Financial Services
Solicitors Regulation Authority
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor

[redacted]

U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts
U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey
U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Walensky Orders Overhaul of CDC in Wake ofLackluster COVID-19 Response
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 18/08/2022 05:57

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 18, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

[redacted]

TOP STORIES

- Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Director Rochelle Walensky said the agency will undergo an overhaul to boost transparency, deliver quicker data releases and improve communication with the public, moves designed to "transform" an organization that has been maligned for its handling of COVID-19 and more recently the monkeypox outbreak. The changes were made following a review of the CDC's pandemic response by Health Resources and Services Administration official Jim Macrae and a review of agency operations by CDC chief of staff Sherri Berger, while former Health and Human Services Deputy Secretary Mary Wakefield is now tapped to manage the revamp and create a new executive council. (Politico)

- A federal judge in Cleveland said pharmacy giants CVS Health Corp., Walgreens Boots Alliance Inc. and Walmart Inc. must pay $650 million in damages to two Ohio counties for their roles in fueling the opioid crisis, accusing the companies of squandering "the opportunity to present a meaningful plan to abate the nuisance." The companies, whose spokespeople criticized the ruling and indicated appeals could be forthcoming, were ordered to immediately deliver $87 million for the first two years of payments, while Lake County is set to receive $306 million over 15 years and Trumbull County will get $344 million during the same period. (The Associated Press)

- Oxford University researchers found that people who have had COVID-19 face elevated risks of brain fog, dementia, seizures, psychosis and other neurological conditions up to two years following infection, while anxiety and depression were also more common in the aftermath of infection, albeit not as long-lasting conditions. The lead author of the study, which was published in the Lancet Psychiatry journal, said the results suggest "new cases of neurological conditions linked to COVID-19 infection are likely to occur for a considerable time after the pandemic has subsided." (Axios)

- The Food and Drug Administration approved Bluebird Bio Inc.'s Zynteglo gene therapy, offering patients suffering from a rare genetic blood disorder called beta-thalassemia a possible cure — though at an exorbitant cost. Bluebird, which has priced the treatment at $2.8 million per patient, said it would pay back private and commercial payers up to 80% of the cost if it's no longer effective two years after a patient takes it. (The Wall Street Journal)

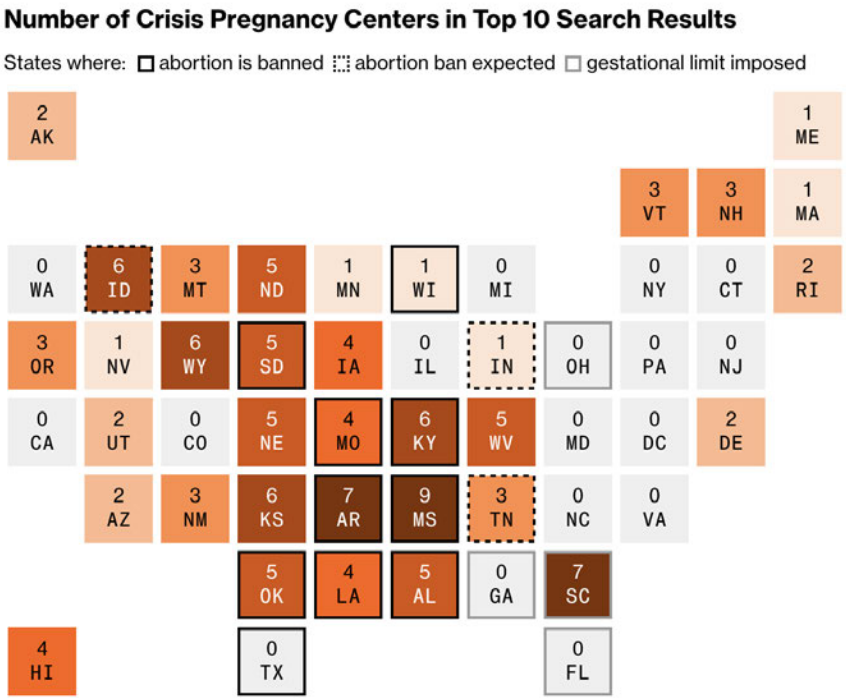
CHART REVIEW

Google Maps Regularly Misleads People Searching for Abortion Clinics

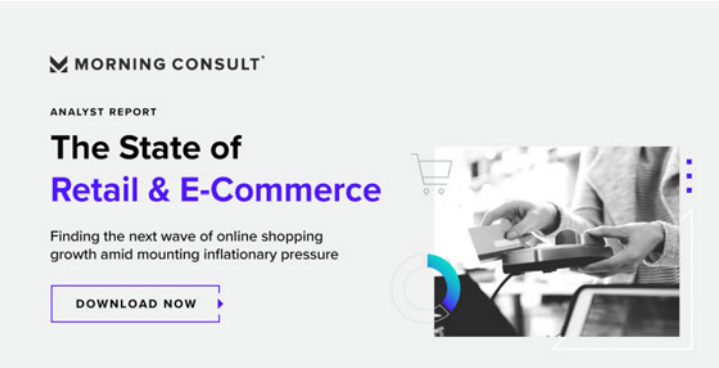
Bloomberg



EVENTS CALENDAR (ALL TIMES LOCAL)

View Full Calendar

ADVERTISEMENT



The State of State of Retail & E-Commerce

Morning Consult's semi-annual State of Retail & E-Commerce report tracks evolving consumer shopping behaviors and expectations and interprets what they mean for the industry's future. Download today.

WHAT ELSE YOU NEED TO KNOW

CORONAVIRUS

New Covid boosters expected soon for everyone over age 12

Berkeley Lovelace Jr., NBC News

White House Covid coordinator Dr. Ashish Jha said on Wednesday that the newly updated Covid boosters will be available to teens and adults "in a few short weeks."

HHS says it plans to extend Covid-19 public health emergency

David Lim, Politico

State and local public health officials — having not heard differently this week — are expecting the Biden administration to extend the Covid-19 public health emergency for another 90 days in mid-October.

There's good news in the crowded field of Omicron subvariants: 'Bad Ned' is (nearly) dead—but 'Aeterna' and 'Centaurus' are on the rise

Erin Prater, Fortune

Last week, a new subvariant called BA.4.6—dubbed Aeterna by health care experts on Twitter—compromised 5.1% of sequenced COVID infections in the U.S., up from 4.6% the week prior. It's been steadily rising, albeit slowly, since late May, when it comprised one-tenth of 1% of infections, according to data released Tuesday from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

COVID-19 pandemic dents medical tourism revenue

Alex Kacik, Modern Healthcare

Revenue from international patients seeking heart transplants, oncology treatment and other services grew more than 4% a year from 2015 to 2019, according to the U.S. International Trade Commission. In 2019 alone, the U.S. health system generated more than $1.2 billion from medical tourism.

Covid Vaccine 'Windfall Profits' Under Attack by Patent Holders

Ian Lopez, Bloomberg Law

Alnylam Pharmaceuticals Inc. and CureVac NV are staking claim in court to a long history of scientific breakthroughs that led to the messenger RNA vaccine used for Covid-19.

For some students, back to school will mean better ventilated classrooms

Evan Bush et al., NBC News

Billions of federal dollars available to improve schools have yet to be spent, but some districts have made strides in making changes that experts say could stymie the spread of Covid-19 and other viruses.

GENERAL

C.D.C. Investigates 'Fast-Moving' E. Coli Outbreak

Michael Levenson and April Rubin, The New York Times

Federal health officials said Wednesday that they were investigating an E. coli outbreak that has been linked to a growing number of illnesses in Ohio and Michigan.

Experts cite simple way to cut opioid deaths: expand methadone access

Lev Facher, Stat News

When it comes to fighting opioid addiction, there's no tool more effective than methadone. Doctors have been prescribing the drug since the 1960s, and patients who use it are far less likely to experience an overdose.

Sex between men, not skin contact, is fueling monkeypox, new research suggests

Benjamin Ryan, NBC News

The claim that skin-to-skin contact during sex between men, not intercourse itself, drives most monkeypox transmission is likely backward, a growing group of experts say.

Monkeypox case reported in man whose 'primary risk factor' was close, nonsexual contact at a crowded outdoor event

Deidre McPhillips, CNN

A man noticed his first lesion and subsequently developed a rash about two weeks after attending a "large, crowded outdoor event at which he had close contact with others, including close dancing, for a few hours," according to researchers from Stanford University School of Medicine. He tested positive for monkeypox after seeking care at an emergency department about a week later.

Monkeypox cases jumped 20% in the last week to 35,000 across 92 countries, WHO says

Spencer Kimball, CNBC

Infections increased by nearly 7,500 to more than 35,000 cases total across 92 countries, but nearly all reported cases are in Europe and the Americas, according to WHO data. Twelve deaths have been reported so far.

Are monkeypox vaccines getting to people most at risk? It's hard to tell, but early data isn't promising

Deidre McPhillips, CNN

About three months into the ongoing monkeypox outbreak in the US, there are more than 12,000 cases and counting. But despite a growing supply of the Jynneos vaccine — and a new strategy that could stretch the current supply five times further — there is still no evidence that protection is reaching those most at risk.

Planned Parenthood to spend record $50M in midterm elections

The Associated Press

Planned Parenthood, the nation's leading reproductive health care provider and abortion rights advocacy organization, plans to spend a record $50 million ahead of November's midterm elections, pouring money into contests where access to abortion will be on the ballot.

Court temporarily blocks South Carolina's six-week abortion ban

Oriana Gonzalez, Axios

The South Carolina state Supreme Court on Wednesday temporarily blocked the state's six-week abortion ban, which had taken effect shortly after Roe v. Wade was overturned.

Judge reinstates North Carolina's 20-week abortion ban

Hannah Schoenbaum, The Associated Press

Abortions in North Carolina are no longer legal after 20 weeks of pregnancy, a federal judge ruled Wednesday, eroding protections in one of the South's few remaining safe havens for reproductive freedom.

Medical groups, 20 states weigh in on Idaho abortion lawsuit

Rebecca Boone, The Associated Press

Twenty states, Washington, D.C., the American College of Emergency Physicians, the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, the American Academy of Pediatrics, and others are among those to have filed "friend of the court" briefs as of Wednesday, siding with the federal government's claims that Idaho's near-total abortion ban violates federal health care law.

Advocates Urge Mississippi to Expand Medicaid for Mothers After Abortion Ban

Sheryl Gay Stolberg, The New York Times

The state that spurred the overturning of abortion rights is among 17 that have not adopted a new option to extend new mothers' Medicaid coverage for a year.

West Nile virus detected in 2 people, record number of mosquitos in New York City

Olafimihan Oshin, The Hill

New York City health officials announced that the West Nile Virus (WNV) has been detected in two people and a record number of mosquitos in the city.

PAYERS

Slowing economy could ding insurers, Moody's says

Samantha Liss, Healthcare Dive

A slow down in the economy may result in job losses and clip commercial enrollment, which would push down a key earnings driver for insurers, Moody's analysts said in a report sizing up the challenges ahead for the healthcare industry.

Payers struggle to manage costs, efficiencies, HealthEdge survey finds

Anastassia Gliadkovskaya, Fierce Healthcare

The survey, conducted by payment integrity solution HealthEdge, reached more than 300 health plan leaders. Common themes, per a report of the survey results, included the move to newer systems amid a digital transformation, rising demand for real-time data access and the promise of interoperability.

PROVIDERS

Hospitals are seeing sicker patients after pandemic delays, AHA warns

Susan Kelly, Healthcare Dive

Hospitals are treating an influx of sicker patients who deferred care earlier in the pandemic at the same time as rising COVID-19 admissions, the American Hospital Association warned this week. The higher patient acuity is increasing the burden on staff and creating "unsustainable" financial challenges, the hospital lobby said in a report.

Outlook for nonprofit hospitals is 'deteriorating,' Fitch says

Samantha Liss, Healthcare Dive

The ratings agency revised its sector outlook from neutral, as hospitals are squeezed by pricier labor, more expensive supplies due to inflation, and investment losses.

Boston Children's Hospital says it's gotten violent threats over care for transgender children

Jen Christensen, CNN

The harassment followed a variety of posts from social media users including the Twitter account LibsofTikTok, which has shared a series of anti-LGBTQ messages with its 1.3 million followers. In this case, the account posted a video August 11 of a doctor explaining a hysterectomy, but young girls and minors were not mentioned.

Kaiser cancels over a thousand appointments amid clinician strike

Hailey Mensik, Healthcare Dive

A strike that began Monday involving 2,000 mental health clinicians at Kaiser Permanente facilities in Northern California has led to more than a thousand canceled appointments for behavioral health services, according to the union and system.

CMS discontinues medical device forms to ease physician administrative burdens

Robert King, Fierce Healthcare

The Biden administration is removing two forms providers need to fill out to get reimbursement for certain durable medical equipment in an effort to ease administrative burden.

Some Rural Hospitals Are in Such Bad Shape, Local Governments Are Practically Giving Them Away

Blake Farmer, Nashville Public Radio

Kyle Kopec gets a kick out of leading tours through the run-down hospitals his boss is snapping up, pointing out what he calls relics of poor management left by a revolving door of operators. But there's a point to exposing their state of disrepair — the company he works for, Braden Health, is buying buildings worth millions of dollars for next to nothing.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Pharma's likely to sue over Medicare negotiation. Here are the arguments they might use

Rachel Cohrs, Stat News

Democrats finally achieved a win over the pharmaceutical industry this month when they passed the most aggressive drug pricing reform in decades. But their victory could be short-lived.

Moderna Names New CFO After Hasty Departure of Predecessor

Jennifer Williams-Alvarez, The Wall Street Journal

Moderna Inc. named a new finance chief roughly three months after the Covid-19 vaccine maker's previous hire for the role departed abruptly due to an internal investigation under way at a prior employer.

Valneva: U.S. Dept of Defense ends Ixiaro vaccine supply deal

Reuters

The U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) has ended an encephalitis vaccine supply contract with Valneva (VLS.PA), said the French drugmaker, adding that a slowdown in global travel activity, mainly affecting Asia, had led to lower demand.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

With Amazon alum at the helm, Alto Pharmacy charts next chapter

Heather Landi, Fierce Healthcare

Seven years ago two software engineers-turned-entrepreneurs had an idea to simplify the pharmacy experience for both doctors and patients. But there was a problem—neither one understood the ins and outs of pharmacy operations.

Maven Clinic adds menopause benefit to virtual care services

Anastassia Gliadkovskaya, Fierce Healthcare

Businesses can now offer their employees the specialized program, which includes nearly 1 million lives across 40 employers. It aims to fill gaps in care by identifying early symptoms, providing guidance on courses of treatment and virtual access to specialist providers. It also directs members to educational resources related to this health journey, the company said in a press release.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

Long COVID could be leading to a wave of erectile dysfunction as the pandemic invades our sex lives

Carolyn Barber, Fortune

Doctors and researchers have exhaustively categorized those symptoms, which range from the mundane (cough, fever, headache) to the slightly mysterious (brain fog, loss of taste or smell, a pins-and-needles sensation). But it's a more recent body of evidence that has them looking for answers-and it may push many vaccine-hesitant men to reconsider their stance.

The promise of payer transparency

Niall Brennan, Healthcare Dive

In today's digital age, people are empowered with access to knowledge like never before. With one exception — most Americans still have no idea what their healthcare visit will cost prior to receiving the bill. In fact, one in five U.S. adults has received an unexpected medical bill in 2022, even after federal protections were introduced to shield patients from surprise medical billing. Patients are often left in the dark when it comes to the cost of care and what is deemed a "covered service," and this inability to effectively research and compare services acts as a major barrier to achieving health literacy and equity.

The emergence of polio in New York is an emergency. And a tragedy.

Leana S. Wen, The Washington Post

I learned about polio in medical school as a disease of history. When it was at its peak in the 1940s and early 1950s, parents were terrified that their children would be among the tens of thousands every year who became permanently disabled. Thousands of children died when the paralysis immobilized their breathing muscles.

RESEARCH REPORTS

The National Institutes Of Health Did Not Ensure That All Clinical Trial Results Were Reported In Accordance With Federal Requirements

Department of Health and Human Services' Office of Inspector General

The noncompliance with Federal reporting requirements occurred because NIH did not have adequate procedures for ensuring that responsible parties submitted the results of clinical trials, took limited enforcement action when there was noncompliance, and continued to fund new research of responsible parties that had not submitted the results of their completed clinical trials. For the 47 NIH-funded clinical trials in which the responsible party submitted their results (35 submitted on time and 12 submitted late) NIH complied with the Federal reporting requirements to post the results to ClinicalTrials.gov.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?

Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.

SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004

Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Strategies to Improve Youth Mental Health
FROM: "Public Health Weekly" <pr@astho.org>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 18/08/2022 08:54

View this email in your browser.

PUBLIC HEALTH WEEKLY

READ

State Policies to Improve Youth Mental Health and Reduce Suicides

The COVID-19 pandemic negatively impacted youth and could have long-term consequences for their mental health. States have many strategies to choose from to improve youth mental health and reduce suicide. Providing them with access to needed mental healthcare and connections to trusted adults have been shown to improve mental health and reduce suicide risk.

Learn more about state strategies to improve youth mental health and reduce suicides in this week's Health Policy Update.

READ

THIS WEEK'S HIGHLIGHTS

New ASTHO Training on HIV | This interactive, self-paced microlearning will give participants a brief background on HIV and an introduction to the National HIV Strategy, the four pillars of Ending the HIV Epidemic in the United States, and federal programs in place to help lessen the burden of HIV. Take advantage of this new resource now.

Braiding and Layering Funding to Address Housing and Food Insecurity | ASTHO has two new white papers out providing state and territorial health departments with evidence-based recommendations and concrete starting points to reduce food insecurity. The papers identify models and case studies focused on braiding and layering funding to reduce food insecurity and improve neighborhood-level access to food. Read the white papers now:

- Access to Food
- Proximity to Food Retailers

Performance Improvement Learning Series | ASTHO has published two microlearnings to support public health agencies looking to increase knowledge of quality improvement principles and data visualization tools that facilitate the connection with public health performance management and planning. The series are available in English and Spanish. Check them out below:

[redacted]

- Quality Improvement Learning Series
- Data Visualization for Performance Improvement Series

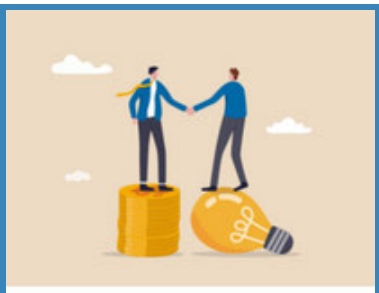
Podcast

Substance Use During Pregnancy - Reducing Stigma of Treatment

LISTEN NOW



Report

Flexible Funding to Support Public Health Innovation

READ

Blog

Using Your Braiding and Layering Funding to Address Food Insecurity

READ

astho

PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW

MORNING EDITION

THIS WEEK ON PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW MORNING EDITION

- How the Pandemic Changed PH Comms | Khalilah LeGrand, Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services
- Predicting COVID-19 in the Fall | Dylan George, CDC
- New Data on Public Health Authority | Maggie Davis, ASTHO
- Monkeypox Vaccine Strategy | Marcus Plescia, ASTHO
- Monkeypox Funding | Devon Page, ASTHO

LISTEN

PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW PODCAST

astho

PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW

- Substance Use During Pregnancy - Reducing Stigma of Treatment | Joseph Kanter (SHO-LA) | Amy Ladley, Louisiana Perinatal Quality Collaborative
- Making Sure Maine Youth Matter | Sheila Nelson, Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention | Kini-Ana Tinkham, Maine Resilience Building Network
- Effects of COVID-19 on Tuberculosis Prevention, Detection, and Treatment | José Romero (alumni-AR) | Philip LoBue, Division of TB Elimination, CDC
- Older Adults and Healthy Aging | Jewel Mullen (alumni-CT) | Elizabeth Head, Georgia Department of Public Health | Aline Stone, Division of Aging Services, Georgia Department of Human Services

[redacted]

LISTEN

Press Room | Careers | Events | Funding

Was this forwarded to you? Click here to subscribe.

Unsubscribe from Public Health Weekly.
Unsubscribe from all ASTHO newsletters.
higher logic

SUBJECT: CLOCC News for August 18, 2022: Education and Career Opportunitiesto Advance Obesity Prevention
FROM: CLOCC <info@clocc.net>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 18/08/2022 14:45

August 18, 2022

Consortium to Lower Obesity in Chicago Children
clocc
CELEBRATING 20 years

CLOCC NEWS

[redacted]

Momentum Grows for Improved Prepackaged Food Labelling

The forthcoming White House Conference on Hunger, Nutrition and Health has generated new calls from health advocates to improve food labeling in the United States. Earlier this month, the Center for Science in the Public Interest (CSPI) introduced a regulatory petition with the Food and Drug Administration geared toward establishing and standardizing front-of-package labeling for prepackaged foods sold in the United States. While the current Nutrition Facts information placed on packaged foods has evolved greatly over the years, CSPI indicated the information is generally under-utilized, and simpler front-of-package nutrition labels have shown great potential to improve diets in other countries that have adopted them.

“Shopping for healthy foods should be as easy as possible, and front-of-package nutrition labels have a proven track record for helping consumers make better choices,” said CSPI president Dr. Peter G. Lurie.

According CSPI's statement, real world evidence shows that interpretive front-of-package nutrition labeling can improve consumer understanding and encourage healthier diets. While mandates for front-of-package labelling were previously considered a barrier to food trade, U.S. neighbors Canada and Mexico are among the many nations which have already employed similar guidelines, creating additional incentive for the United States to fall in line. CLOCC has previously supported improved food nutrition labeling standards and expects to publish more information and advocacy opportunities in upcoming newsletters when available.

FDA Petitioned for Front-Of-Pack Nutrition Labeling - National Law Review

Upcoming Events

Health Equity & Social Justice Conference 2022: Strengthening Communities of Belonging: Reconnecting, Restoring, and Rebuilding

Hosted by DePaul University’s Master of Public Health Program, Center for Community Health Equity, and Sinai Urban Health Institute

Now more than ever, we recognize the need to connect with our communities and the importance of belonging as a determinant of health. We are excited to announce that we plan to convene the 13th annual Health Equity & Social Justice Conference in person this year, providing a space to rekindle our networks and renew our collective passion for health equity. We look forward to sharing best practices with our research and practice communities and centering our efforts to facilitate health and well-being across Chicago. Please join us!

Date: Friday, August 26
Location: Malcolm X College, 1900 W Jackson Blvd, Chicago IL, 60612
Keynote Speaker: Derek M. Griffith, PhD

Dr. Derek M. Griffith is a Founder and Co-Director of the Racial Justice Institute, Founder and Director of the Center for Men's Health Equity, Member of the Lombardi Comprehensive Cancer Center, and tenured Professor of Health Management and Policy at Georgetown University. Dr. Griffith's program of research focuses on developing strategies to achieve racial, ethnic and gender equity in health and wellbeing in the US and across the globe through policies and community-based programs. Dr. Griffith is a DePaul alumni, having obtained his master's in the Clinical-Community Psychology program.

Registration is free-of-charge and open to the public.

Learn More Here

Nutrition Myths Webinar
Hosted by the Greater Chicago Food Depository

Following healthy eating patterns is challenging when there are so many nutrition myths in the communities we serve. Unhealthy recommendations can be found on social media, from peers, and even on the evening news, which blur the line between falsehoods and evidence-based recommendations.

Please join the Community Nutrition team at the Food Depository on Wednesday, August 31st, from 1-1:45pm for our "Nutrition Myths" webinar, where we will address common nutrition myths and provide healthy eating recommendations from trusted nutrition organizations.

Date: Wednesday, August 31
Time: 1:00-1:45 PM
Location: Virtual

Register Here

Racism and Food Access and Nutrition Culture: Discussion Series
Hosted by the Illinois Public Health Institute

The Illinois Public Health Institute is excited to present a two-part, virtual discussion series to explore how racism, oppression, and colonialism have shaped American food access and nutrition culture and what providers can do to challenge these systems. View the speaker bios here.

PART 1
One Bad Apple: How the Lack of Knowledge about Black and Indigenous Food Histories Informs our Nutrition Work
Date: September 15
Time: 10-11:00 AM

PART 2
Eating with Our Neighbors: How to Identify Injustices and Create Change in Food and Nutrition Programs
Date: September 27
Time: 10-11:30 AM

Register Here

Exploring the Power of Youth Leadership in Creating Conditions for Health and Equity

Join the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine Roundtable on Population Health Improvement as it explores how young people are engaging in and leading efforts to improve the social, economic, and environmental factors that influence the health and equity of communities and the nation.

Date: September 19
Time: 11:00 AM to 6:30 PM CDT

This event will include presentations and discussions that highlight case examples from select domains in which young people engage (e.g., education, climate justice, community safety); consider the types of civic infrastructure and resources that support youth participation and leadership of change efforts; and explore the available evidence on how young people themselves (and society at large) benefit from being involved in this kind of work.

Visit our Website

Career Opportunities

Development & Communications Manager
Girls in the Game

Girls in the Game seeks a driven, engaging, and strategic development professional with exceptional written and verbal communication skills and the ability to self-direct to work with Girls in the Game's Director of Development and Communications to ensure that Development team goals are met for both fundraising and marketing plans. The Development and Communications Manager will oversee special event efforts in Chicago, including oversight of the organization's two largest fundraisers (Field of Dreams gala and Chip in for Girls golf outing) as well as partner event and cause marketing efforts. In addition, the Development and Communications Manager is responsible for the organization's communications, marketing and social media efforts, including management of the organization's website, email communications, marketing materials and creation of the annual report. The ideal candidate is tech savvy, flexible and organized with a good sense of humor and the ability to juggle multiple projects and deadlines simultaneously. Learn more or apply here.

Equiticity is hiring for three positions:

EQUITICITY
POWER + EQUITY

- Director, Community Mobility Rituals (Full-Time, $75,000 annual salary and competitive benefits package)
- Advocacy & Movement Building Manager (UPDATE: This position is now FT with a $65,000 annual salary and competitive benefits package)
- Community Mobility Rituals Manager, The Go Hub (Part-Time contractor position, 16 week timeline, $12,000 total compensation)

The deadline for applying for three open positions at Equiticity has been extended to this coming Friday, August 19. Those interested should send their cover letters and resumes to careers@equiticity.org.

Learn more or apply here.

Submit Job Openings and Future Events to be Listed on CLOCC.net and in the CLOCC Newsletter

Connect with CLOCC's network of nearly 3,000 childhood obesity prevention advocates by listing your organization's upcoming events or current job openings on the Consortium's website. Upon submission, postings will be approved by CLOCC staff; events and careers applicable to the CLOCC network may also be featured in this newsletter. If you have questions or are not able to access the webpage, contact info@clocc.net. CLOCC will not publish for-profit services or events, or products for sale.

clocc careers

Click here, or the image above, to view the latest job opportunities in obesity prevention and public health. Are you looking to fill an opening? Submit your listing using the button below.

Submit an Opening

clocc events

Click here, or the image above, to view upcoming events targeted for child health and obesity prevention, as well events hosted by local partners. Submit your own event using the button below.

Submit an Event

Focus Upstream

CLOCC focuses upstream to identify the fundamental root causes of obesity, and to broaden the scope of our obesity prevention strategies. This work draws from local and national attention to health equity and social influencers of health, such as immigration, education, poverty and racism, all of which have an impact on people's ability to eat healthy and be active where they live, work, learn, and play. If you have comments or questions about this focus, we invite you to reach out to info@clocc.net.

UPSTREAM NEWS:

- Post-Roe Landscape Could Further Stress America's Crumbling Child Care System - The Hechinger Report
- Inflation Has Many Americans Cutting Back on Health Care, Poll Finds - U.S. News & World Report
- 'We Have Nowhere to Go': Many Face Eviction During a Crisis in Affordable Housing - WBEZ
- Raising Young Kids in America Has Become Hell, and the Government Should Finally Acknowledge That - New Republic

Childhood Obesity in the Media

- Education With Goal-Oriented Activities Motivates Students to Choose Fruits and Vegetables - MedicalXpress
- Doctors Concerned About High Caloric Meals, Inadequate Nutrition in Universal School Meals Program - CBS News
- Study: Convincing Consumers to Ditch Sports Drinks for Water 'Most Difficult' Despite Health Risks - Food Navigator
- Free for All California Public School Students: At Least Two Meals a Day - Los Angeles Times
- Food Insecurity Among College Students Can Have Lingering Effects - Seattle Times
- Rewriting Black America's Narrative of Food Insecurity - The Observer
- What the Most Recent Map the Meal Gap Tells Us - Food Bank News
- How the Inflation Reduction Act Affects Food and Agriculture - Mother Jones

Funding and Recognition Opportunities

- The Chicago Metropolitan Agency for Planning (CMAP) is seeking community-based organizations to apply to the new Community Alliance for Regional Equity program — an initiative to improve CMAP's investment processes to better serve people traditionally excluded from transportation planning. CMAP will recruit up to 12 community-based organizations and pay $10,000 for one year of their time and expertise. You can find more information on the Community Alliance for Regional Equity webpage and access the application here.

- Program highlights include:
  - Ability to influence decision-making that impacts your community, including how federal transportation dollars reach your community
  - Networking and relationship-building opportunities
  - $10,000 unrestricted honorarium, half paid upfront
  - Potential for a multi-year commitment
- If you have questions about the program, please contact CMAP at CommunityAlliance@cmap.illinois.gov or call 312-454-0400.

- NIH's Office of Nutrition Research (ONR) has issued the notice of special interest (NOSI) Stimulating Research to Understand and Address Hunger, Food and Nutrition Insecurity. The purpose of this NOSI is to encourage research on the efficacy of interventions that address nutrition security and the mechanisms of food insecurity on a variety of health outcomes. It also calls for the development of new measures for nutrition security and assessment of food insecurity that are broadly applicable. It was developed by the ONR Implementation Working Group on Nutrition and Health Disparities in collaboration with NIH Institutes and Centers (ICs) and Offices in support of the goals and objectives of the Strategic Plan for NIH Nutrition Research. Deadline, October 5th.

- Healthy Eating Research, a national program of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, is funding research focused on how pandemic-driven social and economic programs and policies related to poverty reduction impact child obesity, diet quality, and food and nutrition security. Applications are open now here. Deadline, October 12th.

CLOCC.NET RESOURCES

- LATEST NEWS
- JOB OPENINGS
- EVENTS
- RESOURCE LIBRARY
- 5-4-3-2-1 Go!
- *five*SMART

CONTACT US

CONSORTIUM TO LOWER OBESITY IN CHICAGO CHILDREN (CLOCC) | 225 E. Chicago Ave., Box #157, Chicago, IL 60611

Unsubscribe hborski@utah.gov

Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice

Sent by info@clocc.net powered by

[redacted]

Constant Contact
Try email marketing for free today!

SUBJECT: Fwd: COVID Community Updates 8/16
FROM: Claudia Loayza <cloayza@utah.gov>
TO: undisclosed-recipients:;
BCC: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 18/08/2022 17:28

Hello Community Partners,

Below is this week's COVID-19 Community Updates from the Utah Office of Health Equity. Thank you for your dedication and perseverance in addressing community needs!

Best,

CLAUDIA LOAYZA
Planning Policy & Engagement Coordinator
Utah Division of Multicultural Affairs
She/Her/Hers

801-245-7282 (Email is best) cloayza@utah.gov multicultural.utah.gov

To stay updated on multicultural COVID-19 resources, please ask to be added to our email listserv.

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Annika Machado (DHHS) <amachado@utah.gov>
Date: Tue, Aug 16, 2022 at 1:30 PM
Subject: COVID Community Updates 8/16

Good afternoon,

I hope everything is going well for you! Here are the updates I have for this week:

COVID + Other Updates:

[redacted]

[redacted]

Overview table

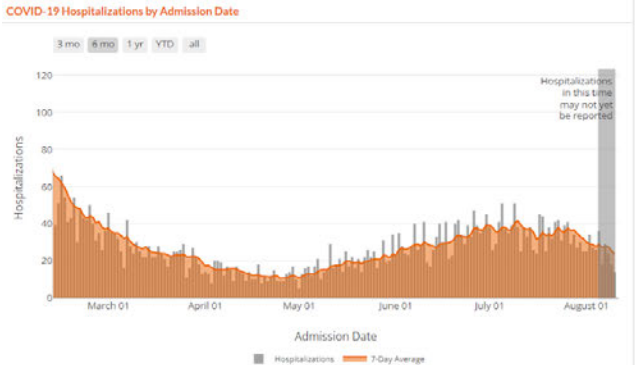
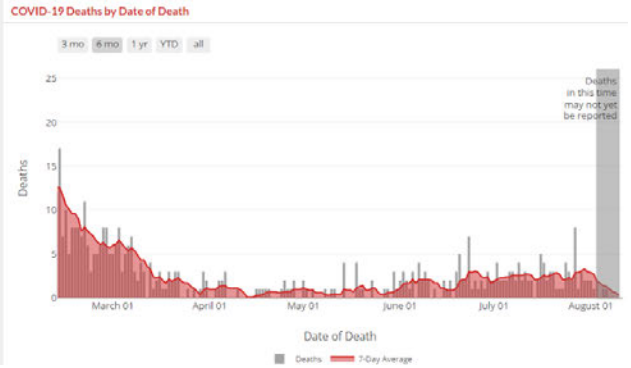
Metric	Previous 7 days	Current 7 days	Change
Seven-day Average Case Count	738.6	671.3	9.1% decrease
Seven-day Average People in the Hospital with COVID-19	173.3	145.9	15.8% decrease
Seven-day Average Cases in ICU	24.6	22.1	10.2% decrease
Seven-day Average New Hospital Admissions	32.1	27.9	13.1% decrease
Seven-day percent positivity (test/test)	23.86%	22.32%	6.5% decrease
Seven-day percent positivity (person/person)	31.04%	29.21%	5.9% decrease
Percent Emergency Department Visits Diagnosed with COVID-19	4.39%	3.63%	17.3% decrease

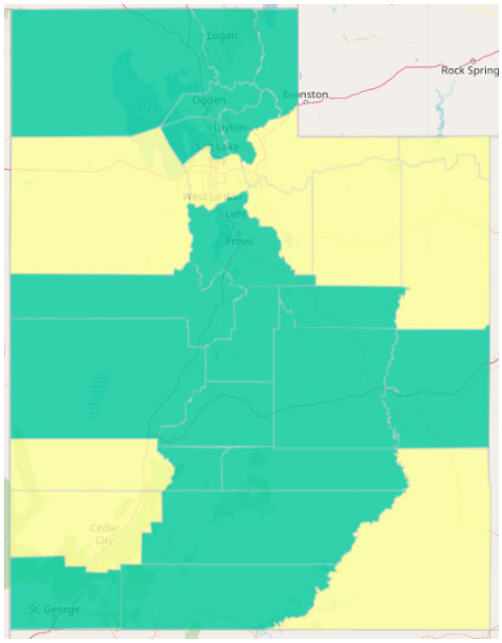




(This week's overview, hospitalizations,and deaths over the past 6 months)

- Check coronavirus.utah.gov/case-counts/ for other COVID data.

- Keep updated on mask recommendations for your county at the CDC's COVID by County tool. This risk score is based on cases, hospitalizations, and other data for each county.



[redacted]

[redacted]

Low	Medium	High
• Stay up to date with COVID-19 vaccines • Get tested if you have symptoms	• If you are at high risk for severe illness, talk to your healthcare provider about whether you need to wear a mask and take other precautions • Stay up to date with COVID-19 vaccines • Get tested if you have symptoms	• Wear a mask indoors in public • Stay up to date with COVID-19 vaccines • Get tested if you have symptoms • Additional precautions may be needed for people at high risk for severe illness

People may choose to mask at any time. People with symptoms, a positive test, or exposure to someone with COVID-19 should wear a mask. Masks are recommended in indoor public transportation settings and may be required in other places by local or state authorities.

- The latest report for COVID data by race/ethnicity per Local Health District can be read here. This report breaks down cases, hospitalizations, and vaccinations by race/ethnicity across the state.

- Updated guidance from the CDC about quarantine: If exposed to COVID and you have no symptoms, you do not have to quarantine. You should wear a mask for 10 days and get tested for COVID on day 5 after being exposed. (Read quarantine/isolation guidance here). Remember that anyone who tests positive should isolate at home for at least 5 days, longer depending on symptoms.

Image

Additionally, the FDA suggests that if you test negative on a home test kit following exposure to COVID, you should take another home test kit 48 hours later, and then another 48 hours after that– three home test kits total. This is to decrease the chance of a false negative (testing negative even though you have COVID). This article provides a deeper explanation.

- Here is where you can find most updated information about monkeypox in Utah, including how many cases there are, who is eligible for vaccines, and contact information of Local Health Departments. The Salt Lake County Health Department also has a good FAQ page. There will be a webinar by the American Public Health Association and the National Academy of Medicine about monkeypox on August 18 from 3-4:30 pm

[redacted]

[redacted]

- See this FAQ about the new 988 number for mental health crisis. You can advise community members how to use this number and when to call it, as well as other resources they can utilize when having mental health concerns.

- See this infographic about pregnancy related mortality in the US. These numbers have been increasing with deaths occuring during pregnancy, delivery, and the postpartum period. There are also disparities among different populations dues to differences in the care they receive and chronic conditions. Read the rest of the infographic at the link above.

- COVID boosters that target the Omicron variant may be available in September. These boosters are still being reviewed and will be submitted to the FDA and CDC to decide who will be eligible. This booster will be important to protect people from infection from the Omicron COVID variant. Read more about the booster here.

Testing, Vaccines, and COVID Treatments:

- Find free COVID testing: https://coronavirus.utah.gov/utah-covid-19-testing-locations/?free=true

- Order free home test kits from the federal government: COVIDtests.gov. Tests ship in 7-12 days.

  Call 1-800-232-0233 for help ordering (English, Spanish, and other languages)

  Disability information and access line for help with testing and vaccination: call 888-677-1199

- CBOs can order home test kits from Utah DHHS here

  If you would like updated labels that reflect accurate expiration dates of home test kits, use this link to order

[redacted]

[redacted]

- Find a vaccine site: https://coronavirus.utah.gov/vaccine-distribution/
  - This week's pop-up vaccine clinics in Salt Lake County are attached in English and Spanish; no appointments required. Clinics now offer COVID testing as well.

- Info on accessing COVID Treatment, including monoclonal antibodies and antivirals: https://coronavirus.utah.gov/treatments/
  - These treatments rely on early action– monoclonal antibodies must be started within 7 days of symptom onset and antivirals within 5 days
  - Fill out the COVID treatment Risk Score Calculator here to see if an individual is eligible for monoclonal antibodies and talk to a doctor about accessing antiviral treatment

Events and Opportunities:

- Healthy Start West Valley from the U of U Health is hosting a free vaccination and health screening clinic for adults and children on August 25 at 4-9 pm (Centennial Park 5405 W 3100 S, West Valley City). This will include vaccinations and vision, dental, and adult diabetes screenings. Screenings are free and do not require ID. See all the info here.

- Join Voices for Vaccines for a training about having vaccine discussions in your community. They provide tools and resources for having conversations with people who are vaccine hesitant. August 17 at 5 PM. Register here.

- Free virtual naloxone trainings from Utah Naloxone on August 25 (5-6 pm) and August 31 (12-1 pm) for International Overdose Awareness Day. Naloxone is an opioid overdose antidote and can save a life of someone overdosing from pain pills, heroin, fentanyl, etc. Learn how to use this medication and receive a free naloxone rescue kit. Training will have Spanish interpretation available. Register at these links: August 25 and August 31. Flyer attached.

- The Virtual Latino Health Summit: Road to Resiliency will be held September 15 and 16 from 11-3 (in Spanish and English). This summit seeks to celebrate and recognize the efforts and contributions of the Hispanic/Latino community during the pandemic. This summit will highlight the innovation and replicability of different approaches implemented by organizations serving the Hispanic/Latino community, as well as foster collaboration and partnerships among participants. Topics highlighted will include: Healthcare Access, Adolescent Health, Workforce, and Environmental Health/Justice. Register here, flyer attached

La Cumbre Virtual de Salud Latina: Camino a la Resiliencia se llevara a cabo en Septiembre 15 y 16 de 11-3 PM (en Inglés a Español). En esta cumbre se resaltará la innovación y la replicabilidad de diferentes enfoques implementados por organizaciones que sirven a la comunidad hispana/latina, así como también se fomentara la colaboración y las asociaciones entre los participantes. Los temas destacados incluirán: Acceso a la atención médica, salud adolescente, la fuerza laboral y Salud/Justicia Ambiental. Se registra aquí, el volante está adjunta

- The Division of Multicultural Affairs is hosting a webinar about Cross Sector Impacts | Continuing Our Learning Journey as a part of their Equitable Communications and Engagement series. August 24 from 12-1:15 PM. Learn about unique ways panelists' cross-sector organizations are operationalizing equitable practices in their engagement, communications, service models, and missions. The webinar will encourage attendees to build on their learning journey around how to lead with customized approaches so that communities are informed and receive resources according to their unique needs. Register here.

[redacted]

- Wrap Around Services: Emergency Responders and CHWs webinar from the National Association of CHWs. Explore ways to create a continuum of care that is sustainable in most communities by combining the efforts of emergency responders and CHWs. August 18 from 12-1 pm. Register here.

- Health Choice Utah is partnering with Davis Links to hold a networking event (in-peron) on September 7 for Davis County-serving organizations/programs. Fill out this form to register and have your organization's information shared with other attendees. Sept. 7, 2022, 8:30a.m.-10:00a.m. Davis County Administration Building 61 S. Main St, Farmington, UT Room 131 A&B.

- Children Under Stress: Preventing ACEs and Supporting Childhood Well-being webinar. August 23 from 12-1 pm. Learn ACEs prevention strategies, actions to promote safe and trauma-informed environments for children, and creating community programs. Register here.

Funding:

- The Utah Department of Cultural & Community Engagement has announced that their Cultural Capital Grants are officially open. These grants are available to facilities that are publicly owned or owned by a nonprofit organization and are accessible to the general public. The funds can be used for new construction, or renovations and remodeling to an existing facility. Educational institutions are not eligible for this funding. Please share with other organizations who could use this funding for their facilities. Apply here, the deadline is September 6, 2022.

Things to Share:

- Up2Date is a website from Utah Department of Health and Human Services that outlines recommended immunizations, screenings, and health checks for adults and children per age.

- Social media posts about sending kids back to school safely. See the posts and captions here.

[redacted]

Let me know if there's anything you'd like me to share with the rest of the group or if you have any questions. Thank you!

--
Annika Machado, RN (she/her/hers)
COVID-19 Health Disparities Coordinator
385.266.5712
amachado@utah.gov
healthequity.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Health Equity

Beginning July 1, 2022, the Office of Health Disparities will be the Office of Health Equity at the Utah Department of Health & Human Services

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Trump Lieutenant's Plea May Set DA Domino Effect In Motion
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 19/08/2022 02:26

Friday, August 19, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Analysis

[redacted]

Trump Lieutenant's Plea May Set DA Domino Effect In Motion

Trump Organization finance chief Allen Weisselberg is poised to implicate his longtime employer in a 15-year tax evasion scheme after signing a plea deal that could pose big problems for the former president's real estate company and potentially for Trump himself.

Read full article »

Trump Organization CFO Pleads Guilty In NY Tax Case

Longtime Trump Organization finance chief Allen Weisselberg pled guilty in New York state court Thursday to a 15-year scheme to evade taxes on executive compensation, flipping on former President Donald Trump's real estate company as it faces a looming trial.

Read full article »

Fla. Judge May Unseal Part Of Mar-A-Lago Warrant Affidavit

A Florida federal magistrate judge on Thursday said he is inclined to allow a partial unsealing of the affidavit in support of the search warrant for former President Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago residence.

Read full article »

Fed. Court Blocks Fla.'s Workplace Bias Training Restrictions

A federal judge on Thursday blocked part of a controversial Florida law that prevents employers from promoting various sex- and race-based concepts as part of worker training sessions, saying the limitations flout the First Amendment.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

CSX Scores Ohio High Court Win In Train Crossing Law Fight

The Ohio Supreme Court has ruled that the state cannot enforce a law that penalizes railroads if their trains blocked grade crossings for more than five minutes, finding that federal law governing railroad operations preempts the Ohio statute.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

DHS Can't Escape Sex Trafficking Victim's T Visa Suit

An Illinois federal judge on Thursday denied the government's request to toss a lawsuit lodged by an alleged sex trafficking victim, saying it overlooked a provision concerning who was authorized to grant inadmissibility waivers to trafficking victim visa applicants.

Order attached | Read full article »

Ex-Trump Adviser Navarro Wants Contempt Charges Tossed

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Armstrong Teasdale
Arnold & Porter
Baker Botts
Ballard Spahr
Cadwalader Wickersham
Campbell Conroy
Chipman Brown
Cooper & Kirk
Cummings McClorey
DiRuzzo & Co.
Dinsmore & Shohl
Dunnington Bartholow
Eversheds Sutherland
Faegre Drinker
Fisher Phillips
Foley Hoag
Fox Rothschild
Friedman Kaplan
Glancy Prongay
Gray Reed
Gunderson Palmer
Hunton Andrews
Husch Blackwell
Ice Miller
Jackson Lewis P.C.
Kasowitz Benson
Katz Korin
Kirkland & Ellis
Kostelanetz & Fink
Kronenberger Rosenfeld

Former Trump White House trade adviser Peter Navarro has urged a D.C. federal judge to toss contempt of Congress charges filed against him for defying a congressional subpoena related to the Jan. 6 attack on the U.S. Capitol, arguing executive privilege and political animus doom the case.

Motion attached | Read full article »

Q&A

Getting To Know The Mass. AG Hopefuls: Andrea Campbell

Fresh off a failed mayoral bid, former Boston City Councilor Andrea Campbell is hoping a reform-minded agenda and coveted endorsements from Bay State political heavyweights vault her past two other candidates seeking the Democratic nomination for Massachusetts attorney general in the primary on Sept. 6.

Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

Feds Flag Competition Concerns With FERC Grid Policy Plan

Federal antitrust regulators want the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission to abandon a plan to restore a right of first refusal for incumbent utilities to build new transmission projects as part of the agency's overhaul of its grid-planning policies.

Read full article »

Hexcel Poised To Beat NJ Pollution Suit As Barred By Deal

A New Jersey state judge on Thursday said she would throw out a lawsuit against Hexcel Corp. and another entity from the state Department of Environmental Protection seeking natural resource damages over groundwater contamination at a chemical manufacturing facility, finding that the claims are barred by a prior settlement related to a Superfund site.

Read full article »

Pa. Justices Say Customers Can't Opt Out Of 'Smart Meters'

A Pennsylvania state law required electric distribution companies to roll out "smart meters" with no opt-out provisions for customers who didn't want them, the state Supreme Court ruled, and customers who claim to suffer health problems from the meters' radio communications must prove by a preponderance of the evidence that they need an accommodation.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Ethanol Maker To Pay $1.7M For Absent Chemical Reporting

The owner of four Midwest ethanol plants will pay $1.7 million to resolve allegations that it failed to report toxic

Law Office of Bryan L. Sells
Law Offices of Alan S. Futerfas
Law Offices of Charles H. Camp
Manatt Phelps
Marjorie Rawls Roberts PC
Marzouk Law LLC
Mayer Brown
Meland Budwick
Miller Canfield
Morgan Lewis
NechelesLaw
O'Melveny & Myers
Outside Legal Counsel PLC
Phillips Lytle
Pillsbury Winthrop
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel
Ropes & Gray
Sandler Reiff
Saul Ewing
Shearman & Sterling
Sheppard Mullin
Shullman Fugate
Shumaker Loop
Skadden Arps
Steve Harvey Law LLC
Thomas & LoCicero
Vicente Sederberg
Wachtell Lipton
Walters Balido
Weil Gotshal
WilmerHale
Wilson Sonsini
Winston & Strawn

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

AccuWeather Inc.
Amazon.com Inc.
American Bar Association
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of North Carolina
American Psychiatric Association
Association of Missouri Electric Cooperatives
BNSF Railway Co.
Bates White LLC
Bertelsmann AG
British Broadcasting Corp.
CSX Corp.
CVS Health Corp.
Cable News Network Inc.
Council on Foreign Relations chemical releases, in what the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency said is the largest-ever penalty of its kind.

Read full article »

Biden Admin. Floats Offshore Wind Development In Maine

The Biden administration on Thursday continued its aggressive push to expand U.S. offshore wind development by putting out feelers for any interest in building floating wind farms in the Gulf of Maine.
Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

NC Judge Reinstates 20-Week Abortion Ban In Light Of Dobbs

A federal judge in North Carolina has reinstated the state's ban on abortions after 20 weeks, ruling that a three-year-old injunction preventing the law from taking effect is no longer enforceable under the U.S. Supreme Court's Dobbs decision.

Order attached | Read full article »

MEDIA & ENTERTAINMENT

Beto O'Rourke Says Tweets Over Winter Storm Are Protected

Democratic Texas gubernatorial candidate Beto O'Rourke told a state appellate court that statements he made criticizing Gov. Greg Abbott and energy companies' actions during Winter Storm Uri are protected speech and not defamation.

Brief attached | Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

DOL Revises Pay Equity Guidance For Federal Contractors

The U.S. Department of Labor's contractor bias watchdog said Thursday that it won't require companies to produce privileged communications when it reviews their internal pay audits, potentially allaying concerns that the agency was trying to overreach.
Read full article »

COMPETITION

Court Questions Penguin's Bid Policy In Merger Challenge

A D.C. federal judge questioned an expert witness Thursday on how well Penguin Random House's promise to allow individual company imprints to bid against each other for books will work after its planned purchase of Simon & Schuster.
Read full article »

GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS

Covetrus Inc.
Edison Electric Institute Inc.
Elanco Animal Health Inc.
Eli Lilly & Co.
Endo International PLC
Energy Transfer Partners LP
Frontier Airlines Inc.
Google LLC
GrubHub Inc.
Hachette Book Group Inc.
HarperCollins Publishers LLC
Hexcel Corp.
Illumina Inc.
Instagram Inc.
Johnson & Johnson
Judicial Watch Inc.
Legal Aid Society of Cleveland
Ligado Networks LLC
LinkedIn Corp.
Macmillan Publishers Ltd.
Marathon Petroleum Corp.
Mercedes-Benz
Meta Platforms Inc.
NBCUniversal Media LLC
Native American Rights Fund Inc.
Netflix Inc.
PECO Energy Co.
PJM Interconnection LLC
Planned Parenthood Federation
PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP
Princeton University
Pro Bono Institute
Protect Democracy Project Inc.
Purdue Pharma LP
Salesforce.com Inc.
Simon & Schuster Inc.
Sirius XM Radio Inc.
Snap Inc.
State Bar of Michigan
StockX LLC
The Andersons Inc.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
The E.W. Scripps Company
The New York Times Co.
TransUnion LLC
Trump Organization Inc.
Twitter Inc.
U.S. Chamber of Commerce
UCLA School of Law
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.

FAR Council Proposes Labor Deals For Federal Construction

The Federal Acquisition Regulatory Council on Thursday proposed a rule to require labor agreements with unions on "large-scale" federal construction projects, intended to reduce delays and cost overruns and improve employment conditions.

Proposed Rule attached | Read full article »

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

Labor, Digital Trade On Agenda For New US-Taiwan Talks

The U.S. and Taiwan have agreed on 11 focus areas for trade and regulatory negotiations, including agriculture, labor, environment and digital trade, aimed at strengthening mutual economic relations amid rising tensions with mainland China.

1 document attached | Read full article »

TAX

Virgin Islands Judge Nixes Cos.' Excise Tax Refund Suit

A U.S. Virgin Islands District Court judge on Thursday tossed cases brought by seven businesses that import goods to the territory and sought refunds of excise taxes, arguing the tax was unconstitutional.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Sirius Asks Court To Deny 2nd Chance To Texas Tax Agency

The Texas tax agency should not get another chance to convince a state appeals court that Sirius XM did not provide sufficient evidence to show that a fraction of its services were performed in Texas, the company told the court.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

ICE Sued For Records On Torture-Risk Removal Policy

U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement has failed to respond to a request for documents about its policies for removing noncitizens who face threats of persecution and torture in certain designated countries, according to a suit filed in Massachusetts federal court Wednesday.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

SD County Told It Can't Delay Election Changes In Tribal Suit

County officials in South Dakota cannot hold up a federal judge's order instructing them to use new election rules that don't disadvantage Native voters, the judge said

Washington Post Co.
YouTube Inc.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
Bureau of Ocean Energy Management
Delaware Court of Chancery
Executive Office of the President
Federal Acquisition Regulatory Council
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Internal Revenue Service
Legal Services Corp.
Michigan Attorney General's Office
Missouri Attorney General's Office
National Aeronautics and Space Administration
National Institutes of Health
New Jersey Attorney General's Office
New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection
New York Attorney General's Office
North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services
North Carolina Department of Justice
Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs
Office of the U.S. Trade Representative
Ohio Supreme Court
Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission
Pennsylvania Supreme Court
Superior Court of the Virgin Islands
Surface Transportation Board
Texas Attorney General's Office
Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts
Texas Supreme Court

Wednesday, chiding the county for slow-walking a redistricting plan and urging it to prepare revisions by next week.

Order attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Lawmakers Keep Pushing FCC To Rescind Ligado Network OK

A bipartisan group of U.S. senators has urged the Federal Communications Commission to stay its contentious Trump-era 2020 decision allowing Ligado Networks to use "L-band" spectrum for a terrestrial network, warning it could be harmful to national security.

Read full article »

CANNABIS

State Cannabis Regulations In Question After 1st Circ. Ruling

States' ability to regulate cannabis by restricting certain licenses to locals and social equity candidates will be diminished now that a split First Circuit affirmed that the Constitution's dormant commerce clause applies to the industry, experts told Law360.

Read full article »

PEOPLE

Armstrong Teasdale Lobbying Arm Forms Missouri Alliance

Armstrong Teasdale LLP's lobbying arm has partnered with a Missouri lobbying firm whose two co-founders have a combined 35 years of government and advocacy experience in the Show Me State.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Opinion

Senators' Letter To DOJ Distorts The Premise Of Debarment

U.S. Sens. Elizabeth Warren and Ben Ray Lujan recently called on the U.S. Department of Justice to increase suspension and disbarment of government contractors that engage in misconduct, but this proposal is inconsistent with the purposes of the disbarment system and could politicize the process, says Todd Canni at Pillsbury.

Letter attached | Read full article »

Opinion

Using Bayh-Dole To Control Drug Prices Would Skew Statute

Acceding to 100 congressional lawmakers' request that the Bayh-Dole Act be used to impose price controls on certain drugs by administrative fiat would misrepresent the statute and jeopardize the robust American innovation ecosystem it

U.S. Air Force
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. Census Bureau
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Defense
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of the Interior
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. General Services Administration
U.S. House Committee on Energy and Commerce
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
U.S. Uniform Law Commission
United Nations
United States District Court for the District of South Dakota
United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio
United States District Court for the Southern District of Indiana
United States Virgin Islands Department of Justice

was meant to enhance, says Brian O'Shaughnessy at Dinsmore.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Breaking Down The Amended Federal Data Privacy Bill

The House Committee on Energy and Commerce recently passed modifications to the American Data Privacy and Protection Act's private right of action, setting forth important limitations for plaintiffs including Article III standing and exclusion of small businesses, say David Stauss and Shelby Dolen at Husch Blackwell.

Bill attached | Read full article »

Opinion

China Has No Legal Claim To Taiwan

Tensions over China's reunification efforts are high after House Speaker Nancy Pelosi's recent visit to Taiwan, but unilaterally seizing Taiwan would be bad for both China and the global economy, and long-standing international law prohibits such actions, says attorney Charles Camp.

Read full article »

Strategies For Improving Diversity In Psychedelics Research

Recent efforts by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, legislators and the National Institutes of Health underscore the importance of addressing diversity challenges in psychedelics research and therapy, so drug sponsors should consider ways to ensure therapies are safe and effective for all, say Kyle Mack and Julia Markov at Phillips Lytle.

Read full article »

New Mich. Rent Law Improves Borrower-Lender Relationships

The recently enacted Michigan Uniform Assignment of Rents Act, largely driven by bankruptcy court decisions, clears up many legal and practical questions under Michigan state law and will change the borrower-lender relationship for the better, say Scott Lesser and Ronald Spinner at Miller Canfield.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Interview

Lanier On $650M Opioid Win: I'd Have Settled For 'A Lot' Less

Following a $650 million opioid trial triumph Wednesday against CVS Pharmacy, Walgreens and Walmart, lead

Washington State Liquor and Cannabis Board

plaintiffs counsel W. Mark Lanier told Law360 that the pharmacies "could have settled so much cheaper than this, it's not even funny," and that while the appeal process could take years, he's "not too panicked" about the chains' chances.

Read full article »

GOP Sens. Quiz Circuit Chiefs Over Kirkland Gun Cases Shift

Top Republican senators wrote to 12 chief circuit court judges Thursday urging them to receive commitments from the law firm Kirkland & Ellis LLP that it will stick with current and future pro bono and other court case assignments even if they turn out to involve clients' Second Amendment rights.

Read full article »

Foley Hoag Says Its Revenue Is Irrelevant To Pay Dispute

Foley Hoag LLP's overall finances have no bearing on a breach of contract complaint filed by a Mexico City attorney hired as an expert by the firm in 2015, who alleges that Foley Hoag failed to pay him nearly $92,000 for his testimony, the firm told a D.C. Superior Court Judge in a recent filing.

Read full article »

6th Circ. Says Michigan Can Limit Court Recordings Access

A Sixth Circuit panel on Thursday let stand a Michigan state court administrative rule that allows individual courts to decide whether to provide the public access to audio and video recordings of proceedings after finding the rule does not violate the First Amendment.

Read full article »

Pretrial Battles Widen In $44B Musk-Twitter Deal Bust Suit

Disputes over massive document and deposition demands on both sides of the battle over Elon Musk's attempt to escape his $44 billion offer to buy Twitter Inc. are threatening to bog down the run-up to a Delaware Chancery Court trial over the busted deal in mid-October.

Read full article »

Meta's WilmerHale Attys Seek $2.7M Fee In Data Scraping Suit

Meta Platforms asked a California federal judge to award $2.7 million in fees to its attorneys at WilmerHale, who won partial summary judgment in its suit accusing an ad firm of illegally scraping user data, and asked for a permanent injunction to stop further data scraping.

Read full article »

Elanco Judge Says Jurists 'Are Not Pigs, Hunting For Truffles'

An Indiana federal judge has dismissed, for now, an Elanco Animal Health investor's securities suit alleging the company engaged in "channel-stuffing" and hid anticipated revenue drops due to inventory backlogs, saying the plaintiff didn't clearly lay out misleading statements and warning, "'Judges are not pigs, hunting for truffles buried in briefs.'"

Read full article »

Legal Services Corp. Awards $4.75M To 15 Aid Organizations

Fifteen legal aid organizations across 10 states and the U.S. Virgin Islands will receive a total of $4.75 million in pro bono grants from the Legal Services Corp., the nonprofit group announced on Wednesday.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions	Vice President, Assistant General Counsel
Illinois Attorney General's Office	Bank Policy Institute
-, -	Washington, District of Columbia

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Lanier On $650M Opioid Win: I'd Have Settled For 'A Lot' Less
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 19/08/2022 02:56

Friday, August 19, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Interview

Lanier On $650M Opioid Win: I'd Have Settled For 'A Lot' Less

Following a $650 million opioid trial triumph Wednesday against CVS Pharmacy, Walgreens and Walmart, lead plaintiffs counsel W. Mark Lanier told Law360 that the pharmacies "could have settled so much cheaper than this, it's not even funny," and that while the appeal process could take years, he's "not too panicked" about the chains' chances.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Endo Noteholders Say Alternative Ch. 11 Plan Needed

Creditors of Endo International told a New York bankruptcy judge Thursday that they will seek to file an alternative to Endo's proposed Chapter 11 sale, as the drugmaker made its first court appearance in its bankruptcy case.

Read full article »

NC Judge Reinstates 20-Week Abortion Ban In Light Of Dobbs

A federal judge in North Carolina has reinstated the state's ban on abortions after 20 weeks, ruling that a three-year-old injunction preventing the law from taking effect is no longer enforceable under the U.S. Supreme Court's Dobbs decision.

Order attached | Read full article »

Sterigenics Polluted Ill. Village For Decades, Jury Hears

Industrial sterilization company Sterigenics pumped excessive amounts of ethylene oxide into the air from its Willowbrook, Illinois, facility for decades without warning the community about the serious health risks of breathing in the known carcinogen, an Illinois jury heard Thursday.

Read full article »

Full 5th Circ. Won't Rehear United Vaccine Mandate Row

The full Fifth Circuit won't review a panel's February decision blocking United Airlines Inc. from forcing unpaid leave on employees who claimed religious exemptions from the airline's COVID-19 vaccine mandate, but a dissenting judge on Thursday decried how the divided panel demolished long-standing tenets of worker discrimination law.

Order attached | Read full article »

Law Firm Sued For Missing $4M In Panama Investment Deal

A Panamanian foundation and its director sued a Florida law firm Thursday, claiming the firm misappropriated $4 million in escrow payments meant to fund an investment scheme in Panama.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

LITIGATION

Tort Report: Tyson Wants High Court Review; 'Rust' Update

Tyson Foods' request for the U.S. Supreme Court to review COVID-19 death suits and an update on the "Rust" shooting investigation lead Law360's Tort Report, which compiles

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Amazon.com Inc.
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of North Carolina
American Psychiatric Association
CVS Health Corp.
Cable News Network Inc.
Cardinal Health Inc.
Covetrus Inc.
Elanco Animal Health Inc.
Eli Lilly & Co.
Elliott Investment Management LP
Endo International PLC
FedEx Corp.
Glock Inc.
Google LLC
Griffith Foods International Inc.
Illumina Inc.
Instagram Inc.
Jamaica Hospital Medical Center
Johnson & Johnson
Judicial Watch Inc.
Legal Aid Society of Cleveland
LinkedIn Corp.
Lundin Mining Corp.
Manchester United
Memorial Hermann Healthcare System Inc.
Mercedes-Benz
Meta Platforms Inc.

recent personal injury and medical malpractice news that may have flown under the radar.

1 document attached | Read full article »

3rd Circ. Denies Doc's Bid For New Trial In $100M Fraud Case

The Third Circuit denied a request for a new trial from a former New York doctor who was convicted of accepting bribes from a New Jersey lab as part of a referral scheme that scored more than $100 million in Medicare and private insurance money for the business.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

1st Circ. Affirms CVS Win In Investor Suit Over Omnicare Deal

The First Circuit on Thursday held that a Rhode Island federal court was correct to toss a putative investor class action against CVS over its acquisition of Omnicare, agreeing with the lower court that the shareholders hadn't pointed to any false statements made by the pharmacy chain.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Elanco Judge Says Jurists 'Are Not Pigs, Hunting For Truffles'

An Indiana federal judge has dismissed, for now, an Elanco Animal Health investor's securities suit alleging the company engaged in "channel-stuffing" and hid anticipated revenue drops due to inventory backlogs, saying the plaintiff didn't clearly lay out misleading statements and warning, "'Judges are not pigs, hunting for truffles buried in briefs.'"

Order attached | Read full article »

COVID Laws Don't Shield Nursing Home From Death Liability

In an issue of first impression, a Pennsylvania federal judge ruled Thursday that a nursing home being sued over the death of an elderly woman allegedly hastened by inadequate COVID-19 precautions is not shielded from liability under pandemic emergency law.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Neurologist, Hospital Must Face Suit Over Woman's Stroke

A New York appeals court has reinstated a woman's suit against a neurologist and a Queens hospital alleging she suffered a stroke because they didn't administer medication to her when she was a patient, saying the trial court was wrong to dismiss her claims.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

NBCUniversal Media LLC
Ohio State University
Omnicare Inc.
Planned Parenthood Federation
PlayAGS Inc.
PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP
Pro Bono Institute
Purdue Pharma LP
Salesforce.com Inc.
Tencent Holdings Ltd.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
The E.W. Scripps Company
The New York Times Co.
Trader Joe's Co.
Trump Organization Inc.
Twitter Inc.
Tyson Foods Inc.
United Airlines Holdings Inc.
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.
Washington Post Co.
Yelp Inc.
YouTube Inc.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Ballard Spahr
Berger Montague
Bondurant Mixson
Brown Rudnick
Cadwalader Wickersham
Chipman Brown
Cummings McClorey
Custodio & Dubey
Cypen & Cypen
Duane Morris LLP
Dunnington Bartholow
Faegre Drinker
Foley Hoag
Fox Rothschild
Friedman Kaplan
Gibson Dunn
Glancy Prongay
Gray Reed
Hollingsworth LLP
Husch Blackwell
Isenberg & Hewitt
Jones Day
Katz Korin
Kelly Hart
Kirkland & Ellis
Klausner Kaufman
Kostelanetz & Fink

Iowa Nursing Home Death Suit Fails For Lack Of Expert Filing

An Iowa appeals court tossed a lawsuit accusing a nursing home of negligently causing a woman's hip fracture and infected bedsore which caused her death, saying the patient's estate needed a medical expert to establish the assisted living company violated its standard of care.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Texas Doctors Escape Suit Over Woman's Blindness

A Texas appellate court on Thursday found that two doctors need not face claims they misdiagnosed a woman's "head bleed" as a sinus headache, leading to her blindness, saying they are entitled to immunity under state law.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

FedEx Wants 'Sprawling' $532M PPE Delivery Suit Tossed

FedEx Corp. urged a Pennsylvania federal judge Thursday to throw out a personal protective equipment supplier's $532 million lawsuit alleging that FedEx breached multiple supply contracts by refusing to pay invoices and failing to accept deliveries, arguing that FedEx honored its contracts and that the supplier's "sprawling" allegations can't proceed.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

Clinic Defends Ga. Punitive Cap In $50M Sex Abuse Case

In a $50 million case that asks the Georgia Supreme Court to declare the state's cap on punitive damages unconstitutional, a behavioral health clinic has argued the state constitution doesn't guarantee a right to jury-determined punitive damages.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Cepacol Lozenges Falsely Tout Honey And Lemon, Suit Says

A San Francisco-based consumer hit the maker of Cepacol-brand cough drops with a proposed class action Wednesday in California federal court, alleging that some Cepacol lozenges are falsely advertised as containing honey and lemon when they actually don't, unlike competing products that do contain both ingredients.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

DEALS

Deals Rumor Mill: Manchester United, Meituan, Cardinal Health

The deals rumor mill is often overflowing with transactions that are reportedly close to being signed, but with so many rumors it can be hard to know which ones to stay on top of

Kronenberger Rosenfeld
Kutner Friedrich
Law Offices of Alan S. Futerfas
Lewis Brisbois
Martin Clearwater
McDermott Will
Meland Budwick
Miller Shah LLP
Miner Barnhill
Myers Doyle
NechelesLaw
Outside Legal Counsel PLC
Paul Weiss
Perkins Coie
Phillips Lytle
Pillsbury Winthrop
Pollack Pollack
Polsinelli PC
Pomerantz LLP
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel
Randazzo & Giffords
Robert Peirce & Associates
Salvi Schostok
Saul Ewing
Schaerr Jaffe
Seyfarth Shaw
Shullman Fugate
Sidley Austin
Skadden Arps
Smith Peterson Law Firm
Steptoe & Johnson PLLC
Stewart Wiegand
Thomas & LoCicero
Wachtell Lipton
Webb Daniel Friedlander
Weil Gotshal
Whelan Corrente
White & Case
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale
Wilson Sonsini

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Delaware Court of Chancery
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Georgia Supreme Court
Internal Revenue Service
Legal Services Corp.

every week. Here, Law360 breaks down the deal rumors from the past week that you need to be aware of.

Read full article »

BANKRUPTCY

Family Asks To Dodge Nursing Home's Ch. 11 Stay

The estate of a deceased resident of a Florida nursing facility owned by American Eagle Delaware Holding Co. is asking a Delaware bankruptcy judge to lift the Chapter 11 pause on its wrongful death suit against the nursing home chain.

Motion attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

McDermott Adds Epic Systems Digital Health Pro In LA

McDermott Will & Emery LLP has expanded its health care practice by adding a health tech expert who was director of health policy and regulatory affairs at software company Epic Systems as a partner in its Los Angeles office.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Strategies For Improving Diversity In Psychedelics Research

Recent efforts by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, legislators and the National Institutes of Health underscore the importance of addressing diversity challenges in psychedelics research and therapy, so drug sponsors should consider ways to ensure therapies are safe and effective for all, say Kyle Mack and Julia Markov at Phillips Lytle.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

GOP Sens. Quiz Circuit Chiefs Over Kirkland Gun Cases Shift

Top Republican senators wrote to 12 chief circuit court judges Thursday urging them to receive commitments from the law firm Kirkland & Ellis LLP that it will stick with current and future pro bono and other court case assignments even if they turn out to involve clients' Second Amendment rights.

Read full article »

Trump Organization CFO Pleads Guilty In NY Tax Case

Longtime Trump Organization finance chief Allen Weisselberg pled guilty in New York state court Thursday to a 15-year scheme to evade taxes on executive compensation, flipping on former President Donald Trump's real estate company as it faces a looming trial.

Michigan Attorney General's Office
National Institutes of Health
New York Attorney General's Office
New York State Department of Health
North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services
North Carolina Department of Justice
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of New Jersey
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Census Bureau
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio
United States District Court for the Southern District of Indiana

[redacted]

Read full article »

Analysis

Trump Lieutenant's Plea May Set DA Domino Effect In Motion

Trump Organization finance chief Allen Weisselberg is poised to implicate his longtime employer in a 15-year tax evasion scheme after signing a plea deal that could pose big problems for the former president's real estate company and potentially for Trump himself.

Read full article »

Fla. Judge May Unseal Part Of Mar-A-Lago Warrant Affidavit

A Florida federal magistrate judge on Thursday said he is inclined to allow a partial unsealing of the affidavit in support of the search warrant for former President Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago residence.

Read full article »

Foley Hoag Says Its Revenue Is Irrelevant To Pay Dispute

Foley Hoag LLP's overall finances have no bearing on a breach of contract complaint filed by a Mexico City attorney hired as an expert by the firm in 2015, who alleges that Foley Hoag failed to pay him nearly $92,000 for his testimony, the firm told a D.C. Superior Court Judge in a recent filing.

Read full article »

6th Circ. Says Michigan Can Limit Court Recordings Access

A Sixth Circuit panel on Thursday let stand a Michigan state court administrative rule that allows individual courts to decide whether to provide the public access to audio and video recordings of proceedings after finding the rule does not violate the First Amendment.

Read full article »

Pretrial Battles Widen In $44B Musk-Twitter Deal Bust Suit

Disputes over massive document and deposition demands on both sides of the battle over Elon Musk's attempt to escape his $44 billion offer to buy Twitter Inc. are threatening to bog down the run-up to a Delaware Chancery Court trial over the busted deal in mid-October.

Read full article »

Meta's WilmerHale Attys Seek $2.7M Fee In Data Scraping Suit

Meta Platforms asked a California federal judge to award $2.7 million in fees to its attorneys at WilmerHale, who won partial summary judgment in its suit accusing an ad firm of illegally scraping user data, and asked for a permanent injunction to stop further data scraping.

Read full article »

[redacted]

[redacted]

Legal Services Corp. Awards $4.75M To 15 Aid Organizations

Fifteen legal aid organizations across 10 states and the U.S. Virgin Islands will receive a total of $4.75 million in pro bono grants from the Legal Services Corp., the nonprofit group announced on Wednesday.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

MID-SIZED FULL SERVICE MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNERS/NYC
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Associate - Healthcare Regulatory
Bass, Berry & Sims
-, -

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Biden Administration to Shift Bill onCOVID-19 Shots and Treatments From Government to Payers, Consumers
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 19/08/2022 05:58

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 19, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

[redacted]

TOP STORIES

- The Health and Human Services Department will convene representatives from drugmakers, pharmacies and state health departments on Aug. 30 as it prepares to transfer greater control of pricing and coverage for COVID-19 shots and treatments from the federal government to the health care industry. The move, which will likely boost profits for companies and costs for consumers, has been the end game for both the Trump and Biden administrations, and Dawn O'Connell, HHS assistant secretary for preparedness and response, said the time to shift control to the commercial market is approaching now. (The Wall Street Journal)

- Beginning Monday, the Biden administration will make available an additional 1.8 million doses of Bavarian Nordic A/S's Jynneos monkeypox vaccine for states and localities to order, expediting a previous HHS timeline for distribution thanks in part to the new dose-sparing strategy. Additionally, HHS announced its "pre-positioning" of 50,000 courses of the Tpoxx monkeypox treatment to jurisdictions around the country, and the creation of a program to expand vaccine access and engage with at-risk communities at events with large LGBTQ crowds, such as this weekend's Charlotte Pride Festival and Parade in North Carolina. (CNN)

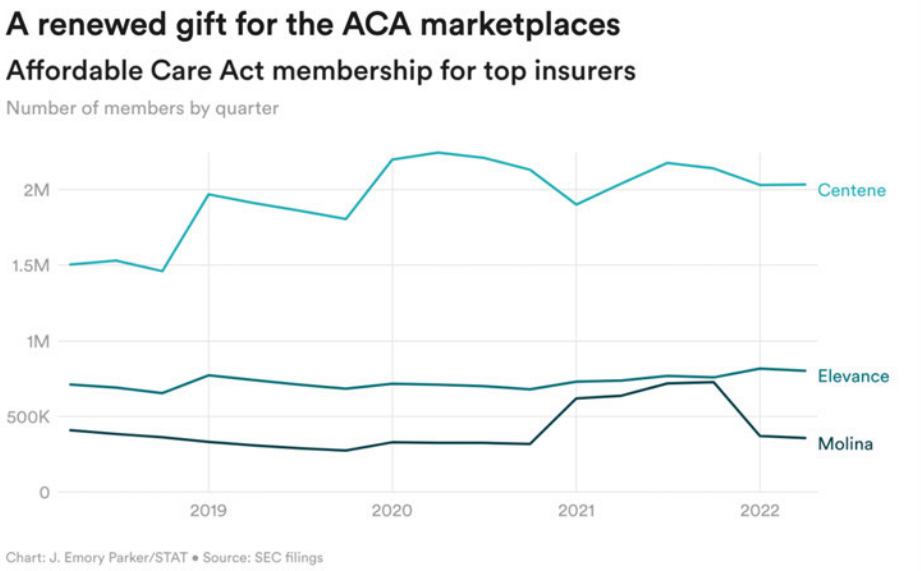
- The Biden administration and Bavarian Nordic announced that the Danish drugmaker struck a deal with Michigan-based Grand River Aseptic Manufacturing Inc. to finish the packaging of 2.5 million ordered doses of the monkeypox vaccine, more than halving production timelines to get shots in arms quicker. O'Connell, the HHS official who oversees strategic preparedness and response, said Bavarian Nordic is also mulling a partnership with a top U.S. pharmaceutical firm, in a potential arrangement intended to boost manufacturing capacity. (Bloomberg)

- The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services proposed a rule calling for mandatory reporting from states on the quality of care that Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Program beneficiaries receive, a move the agency said is intended to bolster equity, help pinpoint disparities and better assess the quality and affordability of coverage. (Modern Healthcare)

CHART REVIEW

Private equity's latest fixation & the ACA subsidy spigot

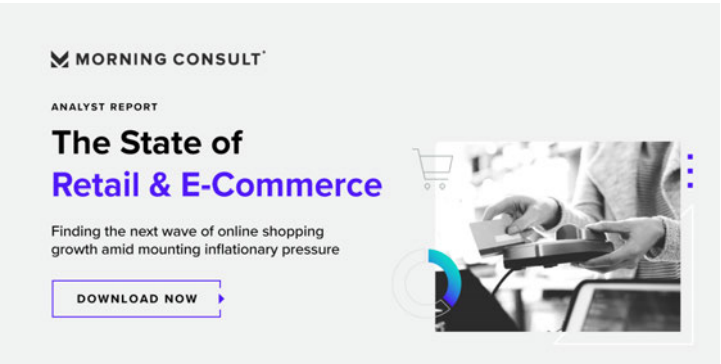
Stat News



EVENTS CALENDAR (ALL TIMES LOCAL)

View Full Calendar

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



[redacted]

The State of State of Retail & E-Commerce

Morning Consult's semi-annual State of Retail & E-Commerce report tracks evolving consumer shopping behaviors and expectations and interprets what they mean for the industry's future. Download today.

WHAT ELSE YOU NEED TO KNOW

CORONAVIRUS

Covid has changed the way we hear some words

Cassie Werber, Quartz

Before the covid-19 pandemic, if you were to overhear someone at a nearby café table or on a train talking about "knockdown prices," you'd have been likely to understand what they were saying. Now, you're more likely to mishear them, and believe they're talking about lockdown prices. That's because, say scientists who study language, we have actually begun to hear words differently as a result of the world-changing event we're living through.

Fauci urges Black Americans to get Covid booster shots in preparation for fall surge

Claretta Bellamy, NBC News

In an interview with TheGrio, the president's chief medical adviser said Black Americans have been disproportionately affected by Covid.

Facebook takes down page for anti-vaccination organization run by Robert F. Kennedy Jr.

Joseph Choi, The Hill

Meta on Wednesday took down the Facebook page and Instagram account for Children's Health Defense, an anti-vaccination organization headed by Robert F. Kennedy Jr., due to what it referred to as repeated violations of its COVID-19 policy.

GENERAL

[redacted]

Almost half of cancer deaths globally are attributable to preventable risk factors, new study suggests

Jacqueline Howard, CNN

Globally, nearly half of deaths due to cancer can be attributable to preventable risk factors, including the three leading risks of: smoking, drinking too much alcohol or having a high body mass index, a new paper suggests.

White House announces funding for youth substance abuse programs to tackle 'overdose epidemic'

Adam Shaw, Fox News

The White House on Thursday is announcing over $12 million in funding for programs to prevent substance abuse by young people across the U.S. as the Biden administration looks to tackle what it describes as an "overdose epidemic."

Before monkeypox outbreak, US officials knew for years they didn't have enough of key shot

Erin Banco and Helen Collis, Politico

Top U.S. health officials have known for years that the country's Strategic National Stockpile did not have enough doses of a smallpox vaccine that is now key to the monkeypox fight, according to three former senior officials and a current official working on the monkeypox response.

FDA targets illegal nicotine gummies in new warning letter

Matthew Perrone, The Associated Press

Federal regulators on Thursday issued a first-of-a-kind warning to the maker of nicotine gummies, saying the illegal candies pose a growing risk to teenagers and younger children.

LGBTQ advocates say the government is missing communities of color in its monkeypox response

Megan Messerly and Krista Mahr, Politico

While the numbers are limited, they are stark. Nearly 28 percent of monkeypox cases in the U.S. right now are among Black individuals, and 33 percent are among Hispanic people, CDC Director Rochelle Walensky said on Thursday, despite those groups only comprising 13.6 and 18.9 percent of the population, respectively.

Monkeypox breakthrough infections are real. 'This vaccine will not be a silver bullet,' WHO officials say

Erin Prater, Fortune

"Breakthrough" cases of monkeypox are being reported, World Health Organization officials said Wednesday—confirmation that the vaccine used to fight it isn't the "silver bullet" that many had hoped for.

Scientists find new way to break down PFAS 'forever chemicals'

Aria Bendix, NBC News

PFAS, a class of synthetic chemicals used in the manufacture of consumer products, can linger permanently in the air, water and soil, which is why they're often referred to as "forever chemicals."

Despite overall decline, late-stage cervical cancer cases are rising

Angus Chen, Stat News

Cervical cancer is one of the most preventable malignancies. The introduction of HPV tests and the HPV vaccine over the past 20 years, following decades of Pap testing, have contributed to a steady decline in the disease — with one notable exception. In a new study published Thursday in the International Journal of Gynecological Cancer, researchers found the incidence of stage 4 cervical cancer has slowly but steadily increased from 2001 to 2018, a worrying and paradoxical trend that experts believe has only gotten worse with the Covid-19 pandemic.

Anti-Abortion Group's Data Trove Represents 'Serious Concern' Post Roe

Margi Murphy, Bloomberg

Heartbeat International, an Ohio-based nonprofit, has spent years collecting data on pregnant women to develop better ways to make sure women carry pregnancies to term and to persuade them from getting an abortion.

Abortion drug maker drops challenge to Mississippi ban

Brendan Pierson, Reuters

A manufacturer of the drug used in medication abortions on Thursday dropped its bid to sell mifepristone in Mississippi despite the state's recently enacted abortion ban.

Child polio vaccination rate low in some New York areas, increasing outbreak risk

Spencer Kimball, CNBC

The childhood polio vaccination rate is as low as 37% in some communities in the New York City metro area, despite a vaccine mandate, increasing the risk of an outbreak as the virus circulates locally for the first time in decades.

Rheumatoid arthritis isn't your grandmother's arthritis

Kate Santichen, CBS News

There are more than 100 forms of arthritis and related diseases, according to the Arthritis Foundation, and rheumatoid arthritis and osteoarthritis are two of the most common. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reports arthritis affects 58.5 million Americans.

Brain-eating amoeba suspected in Nebraska child's death, officials say

Christopher Brito, CBS News

Douglas County Health Director Dr. Lindsay Huse said Thursday that the child had gone swimming in the Elkhorn River on August 8 and began showing symptoms five days later. The Health Department had initially said in a statement Wednesday that the child had gone swimming Sunday.

Over 5.5 million U.S. adults use hallucinogens, study finds

Sareen Habeshian, Axios

Hallucinogen use in the United States has increased among adults in the last two decades, a new study found.

PAYERS

Birth control coverage gaps scrutinized as reproductive health landscape shifts

Lauren Gardner, Politico

Insurers and payers are inappropriately using a years-old FDA birth-control chart to limit access to novel contraceptives as the reproductive rights landscape shifts nationwide, consumer advocates and manufacturers said.

Home health agencies make legal case against CMS' proposed cuts

Maya Goldman, Modern Healthcare

Home health providers have set the stage for a legal fight if the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services finalizes a proposal to cut home health Medicare reimbursement by 4.2% next year.

Employer health costs expected to rise 6.5% next year, report finds

Hailey Mensik, Healthcare Dive

U.S. employers will pay 6.5% more on average for employee healthcare coverage in 2023 compared to this year, according to an

Aon report out Thursday.

J.D. Power: MA plans falling short on mental health

Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare

J.D. Power released its annual study of MA plans Thursday, and the analysts found members' general satisfaction is up from 2021 and is higher than satisfaction reported by people in employer-sponsored plans. However, while members said they're happy with access to preventive and routine care, coverage of mental health and substance abuse treatment is lacking.

Arbitration Provisions for Surprise Bills Clear OMB Review

Sara Hansard, Bloomberg Law

The Biden administration is one step closer to finalizing rules for resolving payment disputes over emergency health care and when patients don't have an opportunity to select medical providers in their insurance networks.

PROVIDERS

Electronic data sharing between physicians and public health agencies rare, new ONC data finds

Rebecca Pifer, Healthcare Dive

Fewer than one in five primary care physicians electronically exchanged patient health information with public health agencies in 2019, according to a new report from the Office of the National Coordinator. More than 70% of hospitals experienced at least one major challenge with electronic public health reporting that year.

Anti-abortion pregnancy centers are expanding in the post-Roe era

Oriana Gonzalez, Axios

As abortion bans shutter clinics across the country, "crisis pregnancy centers" led by anti-abortion advocates see an opening to expand into the reproductive care void.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

A $5.4 Billion Deal Finally Brings Long-Ignored Disease Into Focus

Angelica Peebles, Bloomberg

It's been more than seventy years since a renowned scientist first described the cause of a painful, sometimes lethal disorder that in the US afflicts mainly Black people. Finally big drugmakers are taking notice, culminating with Pfizer Inc.'s $5.4 billion acquisition of one of the more promising drugs to treat sickle cell disease.

What the Inflation Reduction Act means for PBMs

Lauren Berryman, Modern Healthcare

Pharmacy benefit managers will still hold great sway over prescription drug prices for those outside of Medicare, and the law further delays a 2019 regulation that would have eliminated safe harbor protections for Medicare Part D rebates until 2032.

Endo Follows Opioid Bankruptcy Gameplan, With a Few Twists

Daniel Gill and James Nani, Bloomberg Law

Endo International Plc's bankruptcy filing this week follows other big pharma companies into Chapter 11 to manage liability from the nation's opioid crisis, but contains some key distinctions from notable mass tort litigation bankruptcies that have come before it.

3M Unit Defends Request to Shield Parent From Mass Earplug Lawsuits

Akiko Matsuda, The Wall Street Journal

Lawyers representing 3M Co. 's bankrupt Aearo Technologies LLC subsidiary defended its request to a bankruptcy judge to extend a litigation stay to the parent company to resolve mass earplug lawsuits, saying such a move would be in line with other court rulings.

An Old Medicine Grows New Hair for Pennies a Day, Doctors Say

Gina Kolata, The New York Times

Dermatologists who specialize in hair loss say that the key ingredient in a topical treatment worked even better when taken orally at a low dose.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

NCI Grants $23 Million to Fund Telehealth Research Centers

Bloomberg Law

The National Cancer Institute will award $23 million to four academic institutions for the establishment of research centers for telehealth in cancer care, according to a Thursday news release.

Revolutionary Crispr gene editing speeds from lab to treatment room

Hannah Kuchler, Financial Times

The first drug to make use of technology discovered only a decade ago will be with regulators by the end of the year

---

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

The Abysmal Covid Vaccination Rate for Toddlers Speaks Volumes

Aaron E. Carroll, The New York Times

You would think that vaccination sites would have been swamped with parents rushing to vaccinate their young children against Covid after the Food and Drug Administration authorized the vaccines for the under-5 age group in June. But as of early August, around 5 percent of eligible children under 5 had received the first dose of the vaccine series. Worse, the number of them being immunized has been decreasing.

My Abortion at 11 Wasn't a Choice. It Was My Life.

Nicole Walker, The New York Times

In 1982, when I was 10 years old, a 14-year-old boy molested me. He was supposed to be babysitting me and my younger sisters. After my sisters went to sleep, the babysitter and I sat on the couch, watching "M*A*S*H," which came on after the news. He started caressing my arm. Then my neck. Then he took off my shirt and my pants. Then his clothes. He lay on top of me and had intercourse with me.

Biden's long Covid plan is a good start. But it needs to go further

Ryan Prior and Kimberly Knackstedt, Stat News

Two-and-a-half years into the Covid-19 pandemic, the Biden administration released its national action plan to address longer-term impacts of Covid-19, which include orphaned children, bereavement, and the disabling condition known as long Covid that is accompanying the disease. The plan offers a good start for addressing long Covid, but leaves much undone.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Public Health Preparedness: COVID-19 Medical Surge Experiences and Related HHS Efforts

Government Accountability Office

The COVID-19 pandemic has highlighted the importance of hospitals' abilities to evaluate and care for an increased volume of patients exceeding normal operating capacity, known as medical surge. All eight hospitals in GAO's review reported multiple challenges related to staff, supplies, space, or information. These are critical components for an effective medical surge response, according to the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?

Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.

SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004

Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: August 19, 2022 - White House increases monkeypox test, treatmentsupply
FROM: "AHIP Solutions SmartBrief" <ahip@smartbrief.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 19/08/2022 07:59

Created for hborski@utah.gov | Web Version

August 19, 2022

ADVERTISEMENT

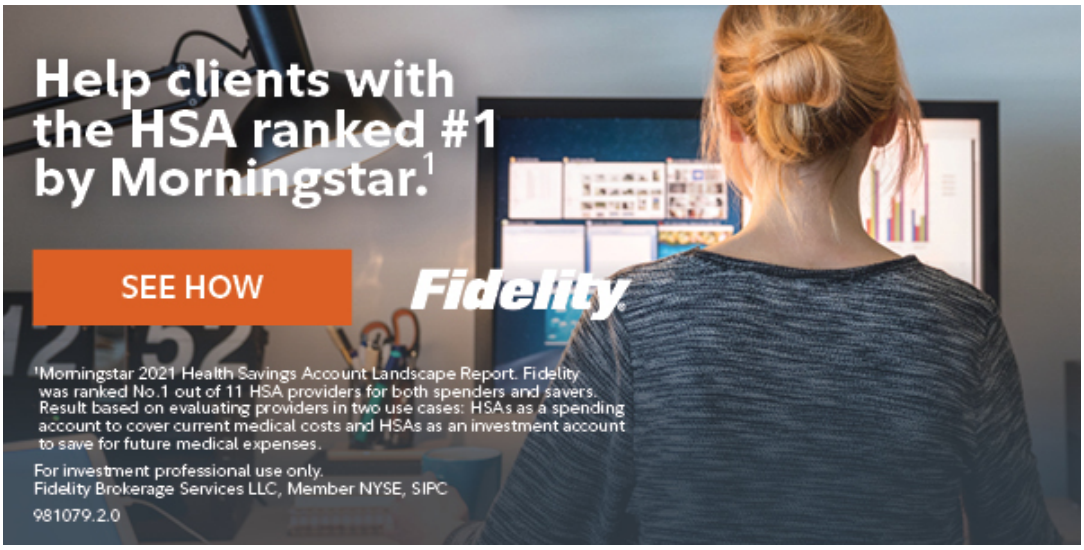
TOP STORIES

White House increases monkeypox test, treatment supply

An additional 50,000 courses of the monkeypox treatment tecovirimat will be made available to local and state jurisdictions, while 1.8 million more doses of the Jynneos monkeypox vaccine will become available next week, according to the White House. Testing capacity was also expanded from 6,000 to 80,000 tests per week, as the US reported more than 13,500 infections as of Wednesday. Full Story: Reuters (8/18), Medscape (free registration) (8/18)

Customer satisfaction with MA plans continues to climb

A JD Power Survey of more than 3,000 Medicare Advantage plan members found that customer satisfaction with MA plans grew three points this year, reflecting progress on billing, costs and health care provider choice. Most respondents said they have sufficient coverage for routine diagnostics and preventive and wellness services, and 82% of MA members have signed up to use their health plan member portals, up four percentage points from a year ago. Full Story: MedCity News (8/18), Healthcare Finance (8/18)



Lead with the Fidelity HSA®

Our HSA can help your clients manage health care expenses and reduce administration burden. And at the same time, help their employees get a handle on their health expenses today and plan, save, and invest for the future. See How.

ADVERTISEMENT:

Fidelity INVESTMENTS

PROVIDERS & SUPPLIERS

Many clinicians suffering from job stress, trauma

Nearly half of 1,000 health care workers responding to a survey said they have reached their breaking point or are seeking new work due to job-related stress and trauma, while 40% said they experience anxiety or dread associated with work. The poll, commissioned by recovery and rehabilitation firm All Points North, found 14% of physicians said they have used a controlled substance or alcohol during work to manage stress, and those who indicated reluctance to seek help cited concerns about licensure and judgement from others as reasons. Full Story: Medical Economics (8/18), Fortune (tiered subscription model) (8/18)

ADVERTISEMENT

MEDICAL UPDATE

44% of cancer deaths linked to preventable risk factors

Forty-four percent of cancer deaths in 2019 and 42% of healthy years lost were linked to potentially modifiable risk factors such as smoking, according to a study published in The Lancet. The study, based on cancer death and disability data from 204 countries, found that risk-attributable cancer deaths rose 20.4% globally from 2010 to 2019.

Full Story: CNN (8/19)

Cutting back on salt may reduce CV risks, study finds

(Pixabay)

Researchers who examined the effects of reduced salt intake in China, where people consume an average of 11 grams of salt per day, found that reducing intake by 1 gram per day yielded a significant reduction in cardiovascular risk. The findings, reported in BMJ Nutrition, Prevention, & Health, linked the reduction to reductions in average systolic blood pressure, cardiovascular disease events and stroke, and experts said that while salt consumption is typically lower in the US, 90% of Americans are believed to consume too much salt.

Full Story: Healthline (8/16)

Deepen your long-term care insurance expertise

Grow your career by earning your Long-Term Care Professional (LTCP) designation. This impressive credential shows you've developed a deeper understanding of how long-term care insurance is planned, managed, and marketed. Plus, you can earn your LTCP in just one online course. Enroll today.

ADVERTISEMENT

TOUCHPOINTS PODCAST

This episode is brought to you by Wellframe

Lessons from a virtual-first early adopter

Even before the pandemic, Michigan's Priority Health was building out a model for virtual-first care. As remote work took hold, employers, too, saw a need for a digital-first plan that would align with their new workplaces. Megan Schmidt explains why Priority was an early adopter, what their approach to virtual care looks like and what's most important for virtual-first models moving forward. Listen now.

EMERGING TRENDS

Reproductive health apps lack privacy, researchers say

Mozilla researchers have pointed out privacy shortcomings in apps that track periods and pregnancy, mirroring similar findings in a study of mental health apps earlier this year. "Companies collecting personal and sensitive health information need to be extra diligent when it comes to the privacy and security of the personal information they collect, especially now in our post-Roe vs. Wade world in the US," says lead researcher Jen Caltrider, noting that most are not extra diligent. Full Story: The Verge (8/17)

PHARMA NEWS

Jha: Updated COVID-19 boosters will be available soon

(Joe Raedle/Getty Images)

White House COVID-19 response coordinator Dr. Ashish Jha said updated booster formulations targeting the Omicron BA.4 and BA.5 subvariants along with the original coronavirus will be available to all Americans over age 12 in "a few short weeks." Jha said he expects the new boosters to "work much better at preventing infection transmission and serious illness." Full Story: NBC News (8/18)

POLICY WATCH

COVID-19 PHE likely to be extended again

HHS has not notified state and local public health officials that the COVID-19 public health emergency will expire or be terminated, indicating it will likely be extended in mid-October for another 90 days, says Larry Levitt, the Kaiser Family Foundation's executive vice president for health policy, and regulatory flexibilities granted in response to the pandemic, such as expanded telehealth and Medicaid coverage, will remain in place until the end of the PHE. White House COVID-19 Response Coordinator Ashish Jha expects another surge in both COVID-19 and flu cases this fall and winter. Full Story: Politico (8/17)

AHIP NEWS

Webinar: Leveraging interoperability - register today.

Join us on Tuesday, Sept. 6 from 1 to 2 p.m. ET for "Leveraging Interoperability to Help Optimize Risk Adjustment Retrieval Strategy" as Change Healthcare discusses how to leverage interoperability and flexible retrieval modalities to improve overall risk adjustment strategy & outcomes, facilitate data-driven decisions, and enable prospective and concurrent programs.

Survey: Insurance providers improving mental health care access

Health insurance providers are improving access to mental health care by bringing more high-quality providers into their networks, training and supporting primary care physicians to care for patients with mild to moderate behavioral health conditions, and helping patients find available appointments, according to findings from a new AHIP survey.

Nobody knows our industry and its people better

Unlike mass market sites, the AHIP Career Center was created for health care professionals. With data tools that get you from post to placement faster, it's the better way to target health care's best and brightest. Discover all the ways it can work hard for you. Post a job today.

LEARN MORE ABOUT AHIP:

About AHIP | Join AHIP | Educational Opportunities | AHIP Select
AHIP Coverage Blog | Submit press releases and other company news

Director Product Development and Management

COMMUNITY HEALTH CHOICE - 77054, TX, US

Product Development Manager

COMMUNITY HEALTH CHOICE - Houston, TX, US

Insurance Benefits Advisor

SENIOR LIFESTYLE SOLUTIONS - Phoenix, AZ, US

Insurance Product Manager

GROUP HEALTH COOPERATIVE OF SOUTH CENTRAL WISCONSIN - Madison, WI, US

Health Care Data Analyst, Surveys

QMETRICS - San Diego, CA, US

View More Listings | Post a Job

Sharing AHIP Solutions SmartBrief with your network keeps the quality of content high and these newsletters free.

Help Spread the Word

SHARE

Or copy and share your personalized link:

smartbrief.com/ahip/?referrerId=lsvhcNrXox

Check your answer here.

Product announcements appearing in SmartBrief are paid advertisements and do not reflect actual AHIP endorsements. The news reported in SmartBrief does not necessarily reflect the official position of AHIP.

SmartBrief publishes more than 200 free industry newsletters - Browse our portfolio

Sign Up | Update Profile | Advertise with SmartBrief

Unsubscribe | Privacy policy

CONTACT US: FEEDBACK | ADVERTISE

SmartBrief, a division of Future US LLC ©
1100 13th St. NW, Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20005

SUBJECT: Long COVID's Impact on Health Centers
FROM: Feldesman Tucker Leifer Fidell LLP <learning@ftlf.com>

[redacted]
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 19/08/2022 08:04

Webinar
"Long COVID" and Health Center Legal Obligations Under the Americans with Disabilities Act and Other Disability Rights Laws
Wednesday, August 24 at 1 PM ET

NEW WEBINAR FOR HEALTH CENTERS

Experienced by a large number of those who had COVID-19, Long COVID has been classified as a disability under the ADA and other disability rights laws. As a health center, how should you balance workforce staffing challenges and also ensure you are not discriminating against employees who have Long COVID?

On Wednesday, August 24 at 1 PM ET, join this health center human resources and compliance training with FTLF attorney Kathy Ghiladi to discuss:

- The legal obligations Long COVID triggers and how to meet them
- What to do when an employee presents with Long COVID and what accommodations must be offered
- Revising your internal documentation requirements, policies, and procedures to address this newly defined disability

Register

Premium Plan Subscribers are eligible for special pricing on this training.
Please contact us for your discount code.

Webinar
Providing Services Outside the Scope of Your Grant: How to Ensure Compliance
Tuesday, September 27 at 1 PM ET

The recent Dobbs decision has led many health centers to question how they, as federal grant-funded organizations, can provide services that are out of scope. As health centers explore separate business lines, they need to consider a number of factors to ensure they stay in compliance with their federal funding agreements.

[redacted]

In this webinar, FTLF attorneys Carrie Riley and Ted Waters will use elective abortions as an example to address:

- Creating boundaries between business lines and funding streams
- Compliance with cost allocation principles and other grant-related rules
- Key areas of risk and common pitfalls
- Additional legal and practical considerations health centers face when deciding to establish an "other line of business"

Register

Watch On-Demand: The recorded versions of all of our webinars are included in your purchase and will typically be available within seven (7) business days of the live event.

Continuing Professional Education (CPE) credits in Specialized Knowledge and Applications are available for our live webinars and workshops. Check out the Continuing Education tab of any FTLF training or read more about CPE credits here.

Visit the FTLF Learning Center

Feldesman Tucker Leifer Fidell LLP | 1129 20th Street NW, Washington, DC 20036

Unsubscribe hborski@utah.gov

Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice

Sent by learning@ftlf.com

SUBJECT: Mental health resources, water conservation, and more
FROM: Office of Gov. Spencer Cox <govcomm@utah.gov>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 19/08/2022 12:18

View this email in your browser

Happy Friday from #OneUtah, a weekly update from the office of Gov. Spencer J. Cox. Here’s your recap of what we did this week, what's on the horizon, and more. Reply to this email with any questions or suggestions regarding the newsletter. And thank you for subscribing!

A reminder about mental health

If you or someone you know is struggling with thoughts of suicide, please reach out. Talk to someone you trust, call 988, or use the SafeUT app, a state-funded crisis chat and tip line, which experts say is saving the lives of at least two Utah students per day.

Help is available, and we need you here.

And if you – or someone you know – fear for your safety due to stalking or intimate partner violence, please contact the statewide domestic violence info line at 1-800-897-5465 for help, including counseling, shelter, transportation, and other services.

Honoring a mentor, friend, and leader

It was a great honor to be part of the opening of Utah Valley University's first and only public policy institute which is named for an outstanding mentor, friend, and governor, Gary R. Herbert.

The Herbert Institute will be a center where UVU students can learn about this great leader and what good government looks like.

Congratulations to President Astrid Tuminez for her visionary effort to create a place where the next generation of Utah's policy leaders can gather, hear from diverse thought leaders, and learn about what makes Utah and our country great. And to Gov. Herbert: Congratulations on this monumental achievement. Your legacy of good governance and public service will benefit UVU and the state of Utah for years to come.

Got a minute?

Tell us what you think of the #OneUtah newsletter! Please click the button below to complete a brief satisfaction survey. We appreciate your feedback!

Tell us what you think!

Meeting with GoUtah and local business leaders

The Go Utah Board promotes and encourages economic opportunity for all Utahns and the state's commercial, financial, industrial, agricultural, and civic welfare. This week we were happy to join their board on two trips to Utah businesses.

First we met with Entrata, the leading operating system for multifamily communities worldwide. We discussed housing and growth in our state, Entrata's community service, and more. We look forward to visiting again soon!
We also toured the Rio Tinto Kennecott mine, a world-class, integrated copper mining operation and major employer in Utah. We appreciate Rio Tinto Kennecott's commitment to supporting and participating in the state's economic growth, environmental protection, and community support!

Staying focused on families and children in Utah

We're staying focused on families and children in Utah. On Wednesday, Lt. Gov. Deidre Henderson chaired the Governor's Early Childhood Commission with leaders from across state government. We're happy to report the commission is laser-focused on coordinating and streamlining support services and bolstering resources for families with young children, including with the DHHS Office of Early Childhood.
Thanks to the commission for doing such important work for the Beehive State. We're also re-examining some of the policies and ideas that we think can make Utah an even better place to live and raise a family. Stay tuned!

PBS Utah Monthly News Conference

This week we answered questions at the PBS Monthly News Conference in a live exchange with reporters. Here are a couple topics we discussed:

Q: With school starting, how are we making schools safer?

A: The SafeUT app, while mainly used for helping with students' mental health, can also be used for school safety. It gives kids and parents the ability to anonymously connect with law enforcement to report any type of bullying or suspicious behavior. We've received close to 300 tips over the past year — some of which pointed to potential violence — so we're glad law enforcement could step in and intervene early.

Over the summer, the Utah Department of Public Safety has also been working very closely with school districts, the state superintendent, and the state school board to make sure everyone is implementing safety measures in every one of our schools. They've checked to make sure everyone is using proper training and that the schools' ingress and egress are figured out in a way that will add additional safety. We also have resource officers in many of our schools that are available to help with any issues that may arise in schools.

Q: What's your take on the energy provisions in the Inflation Reduction Act?

A: It's closer to a better approach. We have a unique opportunity in Utah to seek out an all-of-the-above energy approach that will ultimately lead to much better outcomes, and we appreciate the emphasis on both sides of the energy ledger. There's tremendous potential in Utah for solar, wind, geothermal, hydrogen, and more.

However, the most important thing that can come out of this legislation wasn't actually in the legislation — we're told part of the deal to get that legislation passed is permitting reform. The National Environmental Protection Act has unfortunately prevented, slowed down, or increased the cost of big projects that we know would have a good impact on the environment. Here in Utah we've seen NEPA slow down transmission lines. As we're trying to electrify things we do, like driving, we need to be able to transmit electricity, and in Utah it can take seven to 10 years to get these projects off the ground.

We care about the climate and about reducing emissions, but we must find ways to greatly increase the speed at which we're able to build these transmission lines.

You can watch the press conference in its entirety here.

Discussing the Utah way, conservation, and more

We also joined Washington Post reporter Jacqueline Alemany for a live discussion.

Here's a look at a few of the questions we answered:

Q: How are you protecting the Great Salt Lake?

A: Historically, the state of Utah had a "use it or lose it" mentality. We changed that mentality in the state and set aside $40 million to purchase water rights from holders which allows farmers and ranchers to keep their water in the streambed. That is going to have a tremendous effect on the Great Salt Lake water levels.

We are using some great nonprofits to help us with preserving waterways and improving animal sanctuaries. We are also doing a significant amount of work to remove invasive species, which will leave more water in the stream and the Great Salt Lake.

We are also working with the federal government. There has been legislation run by members of Congress from the state of Utah with support from leadership in both parties to help us get some resources here as well as the Army Corps of Engineers who will help us understand what is happening with the lake and what we can do to save it.

Q: Why are Utahns able to compromise on such difficult issues?

A: Utahns are great at this. There are so many areas where we are not that far apart, and either side being willing to compromise a little bit would solve 90% of our problems and build bonds that bring Republicans and Democrats together.

Q: How are you addressing systemic issues that are tied in to abortion care?

A: One is trying to prevent unwanted pregnancies as much as possible. Access to contraception is one area that we can do more.

Supporting mothers, especially single mothers, who are living in poverty through access to child care and making health care more available is another aspect we are looking at as a state.

In addition, we are looking at ways to hold men more accountable. We recently passed a policy change that prohibited the procurement of hunting and fishing licenses for those men who are behind in their child support payments and we have seen that be successful.

I am hoping we have several policy proposals passed in the Legislature that will show that we do care about all life — life in the womb but especially life after birth and the women who are far too often bearing the responsibility of caring for these children.

Watch the discussion here.

Addressing drought in the West

We're continuing to share ways in which the state is working to conserve water and plan for a drier future. This week, we're talking about cross-state collaboration. One-third of Utahns rely on the Colorado River for drinking water, and the river is a major contributor to the state's $189 billion economy. When it comes to resources like the Colorado River, Utah must work with neighboring states to preserve and protect water.

This is especially urgent given that far more Colorado River water is being used, especially by the Lower Basin states, than is available due to the current drought and climate change impacts. Recent estimates based on last year's use show the Lower Basin and Mexico are using about 10 million acre-feet, the Upper Basin states are using about 3.5 million acre-feet and the available flow is only around 6.3 million acre-feet.

We're all going to have to cut back. But Lower Basin states use more than twice the water than Upper Basin states, so it makes sense that the greatest cuts should be shouldered by the Lower Basin.

We support long-term reductions in use over short-term fixes if we are truly going to sustain the system. Utah, along with the other Upper Basin states, will continue to do our part to conserve and bring solutions to the table.

Read more about how we're addressing drought in the West here.

Closing a chapter in Utah history

For 71 years, the Draper prison served the people of Utah as a facility focused on keeping us safe. But over the years, we developed better ways to secure those who were paying their debt to society while at the same time teaching them to rebuild their lives and find a productive future on the outside. The transfer to the new State Correctional Facility in Salt Lake will fulfill this new mission more fully.

This week we were able to recognize those who made the transfer of 2,464 incarcerated individuals possible. We were also able to honor Gov. Gary Herbert for his initiation and support for the prison movement from day one. The Draper Prison Chapel will be preserved in recognition of its significance in the lives of many Utahns. As we close this chapter, we acknowledge the former Draper Prison and look forward to the future.

How to visit rock imagery sites safely

Rock imagery sites in Utah preserve important messages of the past. Familiar symbols etched into colorful rock formations communicate messages from early Native Americans intended for their posterity.

These tips will help you appreciate rock imagery locations respectfully and in the interest of preservation.

Spotlighting Utah's 'Spirit of Service'

In our inaugural Governor's Spirit of Service Award Ceremony, we recently recognized the outstanding service that Utahns are doing throughout the state. Each week, we'll highlight one of these unsung heroes. This week, we're highlighting the Ruff Haven Crisis Sheltering Center.

Ruff Haven Crisis Sheltering Center works to prevent individuals from having to surrender their pets by providing shelter when someone is experiencing a crisis, temporary hardships, medical emergencies and more.

Read more about Ruff Haven Crisis Sheltering Center and the other honorees here.

ICYMI

- We're proud to report that the executive branch took the trophy — figuratively — at this year's executive-legislative softball game. We appreciate the legislative branch's good sportsmanship and look forward to next year's match!
- Speaking of baseball … we'd love to welcome an MLB team to Utah soon.
- Now for the most important baseball-related item to attend to: We're incredibly proud of the Snow Canyon Little League baseball team for making it to the Little League World Series! But we were devastated to hear about one player's recent injuries. Please join us in praying for Easton Oliverson, his family, and his team. You can also show support with one of the team's hats.
- KSL NewsRadio's "Let Me Speak to the Governor" is back! This month, we answered your questions about water conservation, transportation projects, and more. Listen here!
- On Mondays we wear pink? Lt. Gov. Henderson joined ABC4's Good Things Utah on Monday to give a brief update on the state of the Beehive State. She picked out a pink blazer that morning – and so did the hosts. Watch the segment here.
- Good news for conservation efforts: Weber Basin's study of metered usage in the 2021 season concluded that the presence of meters reduced consumption by 20% to 29%. Read the Standard-Examiner story here.
- Vote Utah launched a new TikTok account this week! Staff from the Lieutenant Governor's Office will explore voting in the Beehive State, notary public, entity registration, document authentication, and other responsibilities that fall under the lieutenant governor's role. Follow Vote Utah on TikTok here.

Coming up

- Aug. 22: We'll welcome many of Utah's mayors to the Capitol and to the Governor's Mansion to learn more about their communities and thank them for their service.
- Aug. 22: Lt. Gov. Henderson will host a luncheon for yet another successful class of returnees. The third Return Utah cohort is wrapping up before the next group starts the 16-week return-to-work program.
- Aug. 25: Join us for a free, in-person discussion with the Women's Leadership Institute about how to elevate Utah women in leadership. Details here.
- Aug. 25-26: Lt. Gov. Henderson will connect with local leaders in Weber County on Thursday and Box Elder County on Friday. Don't miss her at the 97th Annual Box Elder County Fair in Tremonton. It's gonna be fun!
- Sept. 1: We'll help host a town hall with Utah's agricultural community. Stay tuned for details!

Get involved!

Looking for a new job opportunity? From great employee benefits to versatile work schedules, the career opportunities with the state are truly endless. Join Team Utah today!

[redacted]

Those looking to volunteer can also consider more than 300 boards and commissions. Find out which openings are available and how you can get involved here!

Get in touch!

You can reach the Governor's Office here. And you can follow us on Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, TikTok, and YouTube for the latest news and updates.

Contact the Governor's Office

Copyright © 2022 Office of Utah Gov. Spencer Cox, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you opted in via our website.

Our mailing address is:
Office of Utah Gov. Spencer Cox
350 N. State Street
Suite 200 P.O. Box 142220
Salt Lake City, UT 84114-2220

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: What's Ahead & Week in Review
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 21/08/2022 07:31

[redacted]

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 21, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

We know that our readers are busy people. With that in mind, we're making changes to our Events Calendar to save you valuable time. Instead of sending you to another page to view the top events for your industry, we'll provide that information right here in the newsletter: in the What's Ahead section on Sundays, and just below the day's top stories during the workweek. We hope you enjoy the change, and also value any feedback you may have. Please reach out to your newsletter scribe with any questions or comments.

Good morning to you, health readers. The past week was not a particularly good one for the global fight against monkeypox, with infections jumping 20% over that time frame, per the World Health Organization. We've got plenty of monkeypox news to review below, but before that, a related question: What share of U.S. adults said they're concerned about the spread of the disease in this country?

A: 34%
B: 43%
C: 52%
D: 61%

You can find the answer at the bottom of the newsletter.

WHAT'S AHEAD

Beginning tomorrow, the Biden administration will make available an additional 1.8 million doses of Bavarian Nordic A/S's Jynneos monkeypox vaccine for states and localities to order, expediting a previous Health and Human Services Department timeline for distribution thanks in part to the new dose-sparing strategy.

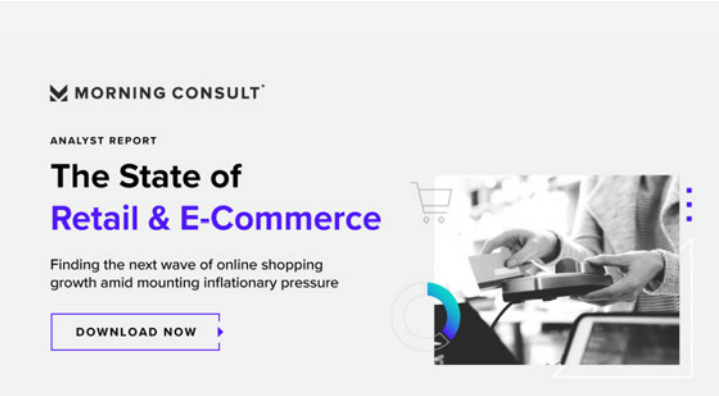
Two other things to note from HHS on the monkeypox front: The agency will start "pre-positioning" 50,000 courses of the Tpoxx monkeypox treatment to jurisdictions around the country, and it has created a program to expand vaccine access and engage with at-risk communities at events with large LGBTQ crowds, including in North Carolina at the Charlotte Pride Festival and Parade, which began yesterday and continues today.

The Kaiser Family Foundation is hosting a webinar on health care inflation in the United States, with Larry Levitt, the organization's executive vice president for health policy, set to moderate the panel at 12 p.m. Wednesday. The discussion will cover how the Inflation Reduction Act will affect payments, pricing and prescription drug costs, as well as how rising consumer prices have impacted payers, providers, government programs including Medicaid and Medicare and the public overall.

Joining Levitt on the panel will be Cynthia Cox, KFF vice president and director of its Affordable Care Act program; Corey Rhyan, Altarum's senior analyst of health economics and policy; and Suzie Desai, S&P Global Ratings senior director and sector lead of its U.S. not-for-profit health care group.

Earnings season for the health care industry has mostly ground to a halt, though there's one company we'll be watching this week: Medtronic PLC, which is scheduled to report its first-quarter earnings for fiscal year 2023 on Tuesday. The medical device company, dominant in the U.S. pacemaker market, has had a handful of product recalls this summer, with the Food and Drug Administration last week classifying the recall of more than a million catheters as its most serious type of recall.

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



The State of State of Retail & E-Commerce

Morning Consult's semi-annual State of Retail & E-Commerce report tracks evolving consumer shopping behaviors and expectations and interprets what they mean for the industry's future. Download today.

WEEK IN REVIEW

Biden administration: HHS announced plans to convene representatives from drugmakers, pharmacies and state health departments on Aug. 30 as it prepares to transfer greater control of pricing and coverage for COVID-19 shots and treatments from the federal government to the health care industry. The move, which will likely boost profits for companies and costs for consumers, has been the end game for both the Trump and Biden administrations, and Dawn O'Connell, HHS assistant secretary for preparedness and response, said the time to shift control to the commercial market is approaching now.

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Director Rochelle Walensky said the agency will undergo an overhaul to boost transparency, deliver quicker data releases and improve communication with the public, moves designed to "transform" an organization that has been maligned for its handling of COVID-19, and more recently, monkeypox.

The FDA finalized a rule to make hearing aids for people with mild to moderate hearing loss available without a prescription by October, which President Joe Biden said would provide almost $3,000 in savings to U.S. families for a pair of the devices.

Biden signed Democrats' Inflation Reduction Act into law at a White House ceremony, enacting a three-year extension of ACA subsidies, a $35 monthly insulin price ceiling for Medicare enrollees and measures to lower prescription drug prices.

Next on the Biden administration's health agenda is a move to broaden the "medically necessary" scenarios in which Medicare would cover dental services, with a proposal under consideration that would authorize reimbursement for oral and dental care in service of treating Medicare-covered conditions such as heart disease and diabetes.

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services proposed a rule calling for mandatory reporting from states on the quality of care that Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Program beneficiaries receive, a move the agency said is intended to bolster equity, help pinpoint disparities and better assess the quality and affordability of coverage.

Monkeypox: The Biden administration and Bavarian Nordic announced that the Danish drugmaker struck a deal with Michigan-based Grand River Aseptic Manufacturing Inc. to finish the packaging of 2.5 million ordered doses of the monkeypox vaccine, more than halving production timelines to get shots in arms quicker. O'Connell, the HHS official who oversees strategic preparedness and response, said Bavarian Nordic is also mulling a partnership with a top U.S. pharmaceutical firm, in a potential arrangement intended to boost manufacturing capacity.

The CDC updated its monkeypox guidance to note that it's possible for dogs to be infected, following a French case reported in The Lancet that documented the first human-to-dog transmission of the disease.

COVID-19: The FDA ordered Pfizer Inc. to deliver initial results of a randomized controlled trial of a second course of Paxlovid by Sept. 30, 2023, testing people who had rebound COVID-19 cases after taking the drugmaker's antiviral treatment.

Oxford University researchers found that people who have had COVID-19 face elevated risks of brain fog, dementia, seizures, psychosis and other neurological conditions up to two years following infection, while anxiety and depression were also more common in the aftermath of infection, albeit not as long-lasting conditions.

Moderna Inc.'s reformulated COVID-19 vaccine targeting both the original strain of the virus and the omicron BA.1 variant cleared its first regulatory hurdle, as England's Medicines and Healthcare Regulatory Agency authorized the shot, which will now be offered this fall to British people 50 and older.

Novavax Inc. filed for emergency use authorization with the FDA for its traditional protein-based COVID-19 booster shot, which would be available to people who have received two doses of the Novavax vaccine or another approved offering.

STAT OF THE WEEK

$650 million

The amount pharmacy giants CVS Health Corp., Walgreens Boots Alliance Inc. and Walmart Inc. must pay in damages to two Ohio counties for their roles in fueling the opioid crisis. The companies plan to appeal the ruling, issued by a federal judge in Cleveland.

THE MOST READ STORIES THIS WEEK

1) Sales from controversial drug discount program rose to $44 billion last year
Ed Silverman, Stat News

2) J&J, Amgen, Regeneron Drugs Likely to Face Medicare Negotiation
Alex Ruoff and Jeannie Baumann, Bloomberg Law

3) Newly launched U.S. drugs head toward record-high prices in 2022
Deena Beasley, Reuters

4) The world's 10 biggest pharmaceutical companies raked in over $700 billion in revenue in 2021
Paige McGlauflin, Fortune

5) FDA finalizes over-the-counter hearing aid rule
Lauren Clason, Roll Call

6) CDC director orders agency overhaul, admitting flawed Covid-19 response
Krista Mahr, Politico

7) Monkeypox Disproportionately Impacts Gay and Bisexual Men. But the General Public Is Almost as Alarmed by the Disease
Matt Bracken, Morning Consult

8) Pharma's likely to sue over Medicare negotiation. Here are the arguments they might use
Rachel Cohrs, Stat News

9) A complicated fall vaccine campaign: Updated Covid boosters, flu shots, and how to time the jabs
Andrew Joseph, Stat News

10) Here are 4 key health policy items in the Inflation Reduction Act
Robert King, Fierce Healthcare

OTHER HEALTH NEWS

- Amazon's health ambitions sometimes clashed with medical best practices, nurses say (The Washington Post)
- Walmart expands abortion coverage for its employees in the wake of Roe v Wade decision (CNBC)
- Almost half of cancer deaths globally are attributable to preventable risk factors, new study suggests (CNN)
- White House announces funding for youth substance abuse programs to tackle 'overdose epidemic' (Fox News)
- FDA targets illegal nicotine gummies in new warning letter (The Associated Press)

- FDA Approves Bluebird's $2.8 Million Gene Therapy for Rare Blood Disease (The Wall Street Journal)
- New Biden abortion rights push addresses both women and men (Reuters)
- Sales from controversial drug discount program rose to $44 billion last year (Stat News)
- Newly launched U.S. drugs head toward record-high prices in 2022 (Reuters)
- FTC Urges States to Avoid Hospital Merger Antitrust Shield Laws (Bloomberg Law)
- Idaho Company Sues FTC, Claiming Agency Threatened Suit Over Its Tracking Data (The Wall Street Journal)
- C.D.C. Investigates 'Fast-Moving' E. Coli Outbreak (The New York Times)
- HHS says it plans to extend Covid-19 public health emergency (Politico)
- Everyone over 12 expected to be eligible for new boosters, White House official says (NBC News)

The answer to this week's quiz question is D: 61% of U.S. adults said they're concerned about the spread of monkeypox in the United States, nearly as many as the 68% of gay or bisexual men who said the same. Check out the full story here: Monkeypox Disproportionately Impacts Gay and Bisexual Men. But the General Public Is Almost as Alarmed by the Disease

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: CHIPS Act 'Guardrails' Bring Uncertainties For Chipmakers
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 22/08/2022 02:08

Monday, August 22, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Analysis

CHIPS Act 'Guardrails' Bring Uncertainties For Chipmakers

The newly passed CHIPS and Science Act of 2022 set aside over $52 billion to increase domestic semiconductor manufacturing, and its implementation is raising new questions for businesses, which are seeking clarity on the law's novel "guardrail" provisions.

Read full article »

Analysis

New Climate Law Expands Ways To Monetize Energy Credits

Clean energy projects' access to existing and new energy tax credits is expected to go beyond the traditional tax equity financing with new ways to monetize the refunds under a sweeping new law that aims to tackle climate change.

Read full article »

Judge Permanently Blocks Biden Oil And Gas Lease 'Pause'

A day after the Fifth Circuit vacated his preliminary injunction blocking the Biden administration's pause of new oil and gas leases, a Louisiana federal judge Thursday permanently enjoined the administration's policy to stop leasing.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Adler Pollock
Akerman LLP
Allen & Overy
Arnold & Porter
Baker & Hostetler
Blake Cassels

Treasury Thins Out Narcotics And Organized Crime Blacklist

The U.S. Department of Treasury lifted economic sanctions against more than a dozen drug "kingpins," mob members and their affiliated businesses on Friday, restoring their access to the U.S. financial system.

Read full article »

DC Circ. Rules DOJ Improperly Redacted Russia Probe Memo

The U.S. Department of Justice improperly shielded a memo to then-Attorney General Bill Barr related to whether former President Donald Trump committed obstruction of justice during the special counsel probe into Russian interference in the 2016 election, a D.C. Circuit panel ruled Friday.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Texas AG Loses Appeal Over Courthouse's Gun Restrictions

A Texas appellate court has ruled that the trial court should have tossed a gun carry lawsuit brought in 2016 by Attorney General Ken Paxton over signs posted outside the Waller County Courthouse restricting firearms in the building.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

11th Circ. Puts Hold On Sen. Graham Grand Jury Testimony

The Eleventh Circuit on Sunday blocked a subpoena directing U.S. Sen. Lindsey Graham to testify before a special purpose grand jury investigating former President Donald Trump's alleged efforts to overturn the 2020 election results in Georgia, two days after a district court ordered him to appear as directed.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

11th Circ. Wrongly Nixed Ga. Election Change, Justices Say

In an unusual ruling Friday, the U.S. Supreme Court revived a Georgia federal court's ruling to enjoin the allegedly discriminatory statewide election system the state uses to elect public service commissioners, finding that the Eleventh Circuit had misapplied a principle of election law.

Order attached | Read full article »

Court Orders Pa. Counties To Include Undated Ballots In Tally

Three Pennsylvania counties will have until Aug. 24 to submit updated primary election vote totals to state officials that include mail-in ballots missing handwritten dates on their outer envelopes, under a state court ruling issued Friday.

Boies Schiller
Boles Holmes
Browning Kaleczyc
Buckley LLP
CMS Cameron McKenna Nabarro Olswang
Carrington Coleman
Clark Howell LLP
Conti Fenn
Cooley LLP
Covington & Burling
Cowdery & Murphy
Cozen O'Connor
Curtis Mallet-Prevost
DAC Beachcroft
DLA Piper
Davenport Evans
Davis Wright
Dentons
Dillon McCandless
Duane Morris LLP
Eversheds Sutherland
Gateley PLC
Gibson Dunn
Gitlin Horn
Gray Reed
Greenberg Traurig
Gustafson Gluek
Herbert Smith Freehills
Hobbs Straus
Holland & Hart
Hunton Andrews
Jenner & Block
Jennings Strouss
John J. Radshaw III Attorney at Law
Jones Day
Kennedys Law LLP
Kilpatrick Townsend
King & Spalding
Kirkland & Ellis
Klasko Immigration Law Partners
Latham & Watkins
Law Office of Bryan L. Sells
Leech Tishman
Lichten & Liss-Riordan
Mayer Brown
McDermott Will
McGuireWoods
Miller Nash LLP
Mishcon de Reya
Mitchell Sandler

Opinion attached | Read full article »

11th Circ. Clarifies Scope, Validity Of Ala. Grand Jury Law

Alabama's grand jury secrecy law doesn't violate the First Amendment and doesn't bar witnesses from discussing information they learned outside the jury room, the Eleventh Circuit ruled in a published opinion Thursday.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

DHS Sued For Withholding Social Media Monitoring Records

The nonprofit Brennan Center lodged a lawsuit Thursday against the U.S. Department of Homeland Security and its U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement division under the Freedom of Information Act, saying in its complaint that it had tried to obtain records related to private-sector third-party monitoring services but said its request was shut down.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

FDIC Warns Banks About Risks Tied To Bounced Check Fees

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. warned financial institutions that charging customers repeat fees for bouncing checks on the same transaction may increase regulatory scrutiny and litigation risk, suggesting that the safest way to eliminate these risks is to eliminate the fees altogether.

Letter attached | Read full article »

Judge Dings FirstEnergy For Unprepared Witness's Testimony

A federal magistrate judge on Friday told FirstEnergy Corp. it must produce a new deposition witness in an ongoing securities lawsuit stemming from a massive federal corruption probe, after finding the utility did not adequately prepare the witness to answer reasonable questions.

Order attached | Read full article »

CFPB Says Jack Dorsey's Block 'Slow-Walking' Doc Demands

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau has petitioned a California federal court for help enforcing investigative demands against Jack Dorsey-led Block Inc., the maker of the Cash App mobile payment service, which the agency said it is looking into as part of a broader payments-related probe.

Petition attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

Morgan Lewis
Munger Tolles
Murray Murphy
Nelson Mullins
O'Melveny & Myers
Orrick Herrington
Osborne Clarke
Parker Lawrence
Pipestem Law
Quinn Emanuel
Reed Smith
Relman Colfax
Reynolds Porter
Robbins Geller
Robinson & Cole
Shakespeare Martineau
Shearman & Sterling
Sheppard Mullin
Skadden Arps
Smith Bukowski
Squire Patton
TLT LLP
Taylor English
Tucker Ellis
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale
Wilson Sonsini
Winston & Strawn
Womble Bond
Zimmerman Reed

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

AARP Inc.
Activision Blizzard Inc.
Amazon.com Inc.
American Bar Association
American Chemistry Council Inc.
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of Northern California
American Public Power Association
Apple Inc.
Association of Corporate Counsel
Association on American Indian Affairs
Aviva SA
Bank of America Corp.
Bates White LLC
Bertelsmann AG
Bloomberg
Blue Bell Creameries LP
Bridgestone Corp.

[redacted]

FERC's Cost Determination Order Overstepped, 5th Circ. Says

A Fifth Circuit panel said the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission overstepped its authority when it directed an administrative law judge to determine a reasonable cost for remediation activities at an Oklahoma farm affected by a natural gas pipeline that crossed the property.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

EPA Proposes Strengthening Chemical Risk Management Rule

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency on Friday suggested beefing up an Obama-era chemical risk management program that was weakened by the Trump administration.

Proposed Rule attached | Read full article »

Ariz. Judge Again Tosses Suit Over Utility's Solar Rates

A federal judge once again rejected claims brought forward by consumers accusing an Arizona public utility of unlawfully raising rates for customers with rooftop solar-energy systems in order to squash competition in the electricity market.

Order attached | Read full article »

Air Force Chemical Cleanup Dispute Sent To NM State Court

A New Mexico federal judge has tossed a case alleging the state exceeded its authority by requiring the cleanup of so-called forever chemicals at a U.S. Air Force base, saying the dispute belongs in state court.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Brake Makers To Pay $700K In Ind. Asbestos Cleanup Suit

Bridgestone Americas Tire Operations and a Tenneco subsidiary agreed to pay the federal government $700,000 toward cleanup costs at an Indiana Superfund site where their predecessors manufactured asbestos-tainted brake shoes, according to a proposed consent decree filed Friday.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Enviros' Challenge To Corps Pipeline Permit Sent To DC Court

A Montana federal judge has transferred a challenge to a Clean Water Act permit issued by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers covering oil and gas pipelines and other projects to D.C. federal court, saying there is no indication in the record that the permit will negatively affect plaintiffs in Montana.

CVS Health Corp.
Cash App
Center for Biological Diversity
Cheniere Energy Inc.
Cisco Systems Inc.
Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in Washington
Covidien PLC
DaVita Inc.
Edison Electric Institute Inc.
Electronic Frontier Foundation
Endo International PLC
Entain PLC
FTI Consulting Inc.
FirstEnergy Corp.
Fraternal Order of Police
Getty Images Inc.
GigaMedia Limited
Gilead Sciences Inc.
Google LLC
HSBC Holdings PLC
Hachette Book Group Inc.
HarperCollins Publishers LLC
Harvard University
International Association of Privacy Professionals
International Business Machines Corp.
Investments Ltd.
Johnson & Johnson
Johnson Controls International PLC
KPMG International
Ladbrokes PLC
Liberty Mutual Insurance Group
Lloyds Bank PLC
Lyft Inc.
Macmillan Publishers Ltd.
Magic City Casino
Major Lindsey & Africa LLC
Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Medtronic PLC
Meta Platforms Inc.
Michigan State University
Myriad Genetics Inc.
National Congress of American Indians
National Rural Electric Cooperative Association
Native American Rights Fund Inc.
Navy Federal Credit Union

[redacted]

Order attached | Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

Insuring Psychedelic Therapy Key To Promising Industry

Researchers have found that psychedelic drugs such as psilocybin and MDMA may be effective in alleviating a number of mental health conditions, but therapists who treat patients with the substances may face difficulties in securing sufficient insurance coverage due to ongoing federal bans and other factors.

Read full article »

IP & TECHNOLOGY

EFF Says Tillis Bill Would Bring Back 'Worst Patent Abuses'

One of the nation's top digital privacy, free speech and innovation advocacy groups has launched a grassroots campaign blasting a new patent eligibility bill introduced by Sen. Thom Tillis, R-N.C., saying it would "bring back terrible software and genetic patents."

Read full article »

MEDIA & ENTERTAINMENT

NC AG Wants 4th Circ. To Speed Up Appeal Over Political Ad

The campaign for North Carolina Attorney General Josh Stein has doubled down on its efforts to delay enforcement of the state's law criminalizing false political speech pending his constitutional challenge, asking the Fourth Circuit to speed up the appeal and issue an emergency order temporarily preventing prosecution under the statute.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

Q&A

Getting To Know Mass. AG Hopeful Shannon Liss-Riordan

Labor attorney Shannon Liss-Riordan of Lichten and Liss-Riordan PC is touting her civil litigation chops as she looks to capture the Democratic nomination for Massachusetts attorney general in the Sept. 6 primary.

Read full article »

DC Circ. Upholds Toss Of Cops Union's Disciplinary Rule Fight

A D.C. Circuit panel on Friday affirmed a lower court's order tossing the District of Columbia police union's constitutional challenge to a reform measure that limits union negotiations over officer discipline, rejecting arguments that the measure unfairly sought to punish D.C. police for officer misconduct elsewhere in the country.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Netflix Inc.
New Jersey State Bar Association
New York University
Purdue Pharma LP
Salt River Project
Sierra Club
Simon & Schuster Inc.
Sompo International Holdings Ltd.
Sony Pictures Entertainment Inc.
Spectrum Management Holding Co.
Spotify Technology SA
Square Inc.
State Bar of California
Stratton Mortgage LLC
Swiss Reinsurance Co. Ltd
Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Co. Ltd.
Tenneco Inc.
Tesla Inc.
The Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law
Trividia Health Inc.
Trump Organization Inc.
Twitter Inc.
U.S. Chamber of Commerce
UBS Group AG
Uber Technologies Inc.
Union of Concerned Scientists
United Parcel Service Inc.
University of Houston
VOYlegal LLC
WSP Global Inc.
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.
Wells Fargo & Co.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
Bureau of Land Management
California Department of Justice
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
Cherokee Nation
Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Delaware Court of Chancery

[redacted]

Drug Impairment Testing Deemed Reliable In NJ Case

The testimony of police officers who are trained as certified drug recognition experts, or DREs, is admissible as evidence in cases involving motorists' drug intoxication, a special master told the New Jersey Supreme Court in a massive report submitted Thursday.

Report attached | Read full article »

1st Circ. Won't Revive Challenge To RI Benefits Law Changes

The First Circuit refused to reopen a suit alleging Rhode Island violated retirees' constitutional rights when it amended its retirement benefits plan as part of a class settlement agreement, ruling that doing so would ultimately mean reconsidering a decision made by the state court.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Del. To Build Public Retirement Fund For Uninvested Workers

Delaware will begin building a public retirement fund for employees who don't have an employer-sponsored fund to invest into, a move that proponents of the law say will help residents create a more financially secure future.

Read full article »

COMPETITION

Book Publishers Say DOJ Hasn't Shown Harm To Authors

Attorneys for Penguin Random House and Simon & Schuster told a D.C. federal court on Friday that the government failed to prove their planned $2.18 billion merger would reduce author pay, arguing that a deal should not be blocked based on a vague notion of softened competition.

Read full article »

CYBERSECURITY & PRIVACY

India, Canada Lead International Privacy Laws To Watch

As the global data privacy law patchwork continues to expand, companies need to think beyond the U.S. and European Union and ensure they're paying attention to places such as India and Canada, which are inching toward enacting laws with major penalties and tight data transfer restrictions.

1 document attached | Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

USCIS Says Congress Wanted 'Makeover' Of EB-5 Program

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services told a California federal court it was following Congress' intent to reform the EB-5 visa program when it told regional centers managing

Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
European Union
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Internal Revenue Service
Mississippi Band of Choctaw Indians
Morongo Band of Mission Indians
National Institute of Standards and Technology
National Labor Relations Board
National Telecommunications and Information Administration
Navajo Nation
New Jersey Attorney General's Office
New Jersey Office of the Public Defender
New Jersey Supreme Court
New York Attorney General's Office
Office of Foreign Assets Control
Oneida Tribe of Indians of Wisconsin
Pennsylvania Attorney General's Office
Quinault Indian Nation
Rhode Island Attorney General's Office
Texas Attorney General's Office
Texas Legislature
The Bureau of Investigative Journalism
U.S. Air Force
U.S. Army
U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Central District of California
U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Montana
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Indiana
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit

[redacted]

money from foreign investors seeking a green card that they need to be reauthorized to stay in business.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

WHITE COLLAR

UK Criminal Defense Firms And Attorneys Decreased In 2022

The total number of criminal defense attorneys and law firms providing criminal legal advice has decreased significantly in the United Kingdom, according to a Legal Aid Agency study published Thursday.

Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

US Urges DC Circ. To Revive Seminole Sports Betting Pact

Federal authorities want the D.C. Circuit to reinstate a controversial gaming compact that would give the Seminole Tribe exclusive rights to offer online sports betting in Florida, telling the appeals court that the 2021 deal complies with the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act.

Brief attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

US, Canadian Regulators Release Plan For Fighting Robocalls

The Federal Communications Commission released a memorandum of understanding between the agency and its Canadian counterpart that aims to enhance cross-border collaboration in fighting robocall scams.

1 document attached | Read full article »

NTIA Awards Nearly $50M For Choctaw, Osage Broadband

Two tribes in Oklahoma and Mississippi will receive roughly $49,112,883 in rural broadband funds, according to an announcement from the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Read full article »

CANNABIS

Medical Cannabis Advocates Launch Ballot Petition In Idaho

Cannabis advocates in Idaho have kicked off a campaign to put a medical program on the 2024 ballot, penning a letter to the secretary of state saying the initiative is "essentially identical" to another filed two years ago.

Read full article »

PEOPLE

Ex-US Atty Joins FTI Consulting's Cybersecurity Practice

Financial consulting firm FTI Consulting has added a former U.S. attorney as a director in its cybersecurity practice in Los

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Defense
U.S. Department of Energy
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of the Interior
U.S. District Court for the District of Arizona
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of Connecticut
U.S. District Court for the District of New Mexico
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Louisiana
U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the District of Colorado

Angeles.
Read full article »

Newsom Taps Ex-ACLU Atty As Civil Rights Dept. Top Counsel

California Gov. Gavin Newsom has selected a former American Civil Liberties Union lawyer as the new top attorney of the state Civil Rights Department, months after he fired the previous chief counsel.
Read full article »

Tribes, States, Lawmakers, Profs Ask Justices To Keep ICWA

Nearly 500 federally recognized tribes and many Native American organizations led a host of amici on Friday urging the U.S. Supreme Court to uphold the constitutionality of the Indian Child Welfare Act, saying that disturbing the law would damage Indian families and could ripple through other important aspects of Indian law.

Brief attached | Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

A Jump Forward For Fla. Pharmacy Technicians' Vax Authority

Newly effective Florida legislation allows pharmacy technicians to seek certification to provide immunizations, granting them a significant leap in authority and bringing changes to pharmacies that should increase community access to vaccines, says Martin Dix at Akerman.
Read full article »

DOJ Filing Reawakens Fraud-On-The-FDA Theory Of Liability

The U.S. Department of Justice's recent statement of interest in U.S. ex rel. Crocano v. Trividia Health before a Florida federal court represents a substantial attempt to revive a False Claims Act liability theory involving misstatements to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, potentially leading to increased scrutiny of medical products, say attorneys at Duane Morris.
Read full article »

What EPA Enviro Justice Guidance Means For Chemical Cos.

Recent guidance from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency makes it clear that environmental justice has become an increasing priority for the Biden administration — and signals to the chemical sector that EJ will be a critical component to EPA decision making going forward, say attorneys at Hunton.
Read full article »

Prepare For NLRB Collaboration With Antitrust Agencies

United States District Court for the District of Montana
United States District Court for the Southern District of Indiana
United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio

The National Labor Relations Board's recent agreements with the Federal Trade Commission and the U.S. Department of Justice may herald increased interagency engagement on noncompete and no-poach issues, so companies that face scrutiny from one agency may well quickly be in the crosshairs of another, say attorneys at BakerHostetler.

Read full article »

The Significance And Legal Risks Of Quantum Computing

As quantum computing becomes more viable in the near future, it's urgent for companies to understand the threat it poses to intellectual property, financial data and other sensitive information, and to prepare for new regulatory standards, say attorneys at Eversheds Sutherland.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Buckley Must Produce Docs In Policy Fight, NC Justices Say

Buckley LLP must hand over to an insurer a swath of documents generated during an investigation conducted by Latham & Watkins LLP into alleged misconduct by Buckley's former co-founder as part of a $6 million coverage dispute, the North Carolina Supreme Court ruled Friday.

Read full article »

Tesla's Near Silence On Legal Chief Stirs Disclosure Concerns

Tesla Inc. has spent weeks refusing to clear up a murky situation surrounding the role of its onetime legal chief, but experts are split on when the publicly traded company owes it to investors to tell them what happened.

Read full article »

Recruiter Hires Atty To Carry On Suit Against Robinson & Cole

A South Dakota-based legal recruiting organization suing Robinson & Cole LLP, alleging breach of contract, has obtained an attorney just three days after a Connecticut federal judge admonished its CEO, saying it sought legal advice from the court and had not yet had an attorney appear.

Read full article »

Tweeting Barrister Vows To Appeal Discrimination Ruling

Barrister Jon Holbrook said Friday that he will appeal an employment tribunal ruling that rejected his £3 million ($3.6 million) discrimination claim against his former chambers after he was expelled for writing a controversial post on social media.

Read full article »

GC Cheat Sheet: The Hottest Corporate News Of The Week

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has lost its bid to revive a suit claiming Walmart's light-duty policy for some workers, but not for pregnant women, was discriminatory. And a finance chief's plea deal may start a domino effect that could smack into former President Donald Trump's real estate organization.

Read full article »

UK Litigation Roundup: Here's What You Missed In London

This week in London has seen the Bureau of Investigative Journalism sued for libel by a former Kazakh leader, Siemens Mobility bring fresh legal action against the high-speed rail project HS2 in a procurement claim, and an Irish aircraft company sue Aeroflot and Rossiya Airlines in the wake of sanctions imposed on the airlines by the U.K. government. Here, Law360 looks at these and other new claims in the U.K.

Read full article »

In Case You Missed It: Hottest Firms And Stories On Law360

For those who missed out, here's a look back at the law firms, stories and expert analyses that generated the most buzz on Law360 last week.

Read full article »

Podcast

Pro Say: What Is An 'Act Of God' Anyway?

Contract provisions meant to guard against unforeseen disasters and "Acts of God" have long been fairly routine, and until recently even seasoned attorneys didn't pay them much mind.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions

Illinois Attorney General's Office

-, -

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Bill Paxton's Family Settles Death Suit With Hospital, Surgeon
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 22/08/2022 02:55

Monday, August 22, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Bill Paxton's Family Settles Death Suit With Hospital, Surgeon

The widow and children of the late actor Bill Paxton told a California judge on Friday that they have reached a settlement resolving their wrongful death lawsuit against the Los Angeles hospital and the surgeon who performed heart surgery on Paxton shortly before his death in 2017.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

Medical Supply Co. Gets $5M In Nursing Home Fraud Case

An Arkansas judge awarded $5 million in damages to a medical supply company for bills left unpaid by Skyline Healthcare, a nursing home operator whose owner faces tax fraud charges in New Jersey.

1 document attached | Read full article »

5th Circ. Backs La. EMS Win In Male Workers' Sex Bias Suit

The Fifth Circuit refused to reinstate a bias lawsuit from four male Baton Rouge Emergency Medical Services dispatchers who said their female supervisor treated female workers better, saying their allegations didn't rise to the level of illegal discrimination.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Ga. County Loses Appeal Bid In Trans Deputy Bias Suit

A Georgia federal judge declined a county sheriff's request for an interlocutory review of a June ruling allowing parts of a transgender sheriff's deputy's bias claims that the county's health insurance illegally excludes gender-affirming health care to move forward, saying there were no issues with the ruling.

Order attached | Read full article »

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

American Civil Liberties Union
Ampio Pharmaceuticals Inc.
Apollo Global Management LLC
Apple Inc.
Association of Corporate Counsel
Aviva SA
Bloomberg
Blue Bell Creameries LP
CVS Health Corp.
Cedars-Sinai Medical Center
Cisco Systems Inc.
Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in Washington
Covidien PLC
Curaleaf Holdings Inc.

Insuring Psychedelic Therapy Key To Promising Industry

Researchers have found that psychedelic drugs such as psilocybin and MDMA may be effective in alleviating a number of mental health conditions, but therapists who treat patients with the substances may face difficulties in securing sufficient insurance coverage due to ongoing federal bans and other factors.

Read full article »

LITIGATION

2nd Circ. OKs Nurses Benefit Fund's Full Audit Ask

A split Second Circuit panel ruled Friday that a benefits fund should be allowed to access payroll records for all employees at a hospital outside New York City and not just those for nurses, saying a trial court interpreted U.S. Supreme Court precedent too narrowly.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Drug Impairment Testing Deemed Reliable In NJ Case

The testimony of police officers who are trained as certified drug recognition experts, or DREs, is admissible as evidence in cases involving motorists' drug intoxication, a special master told the New Jersey Supreme Court in a massive report submitted Thursday.

Report attached | Read full article »

Colo. Pharma Co. Faces Securities Suit Over Drug Claims

Colorado pharmaceutical company Ampio is facing a proposed shareholder class action accusing the firm's executives of making false and misleading claims about the efficacy of its star drug, Ampion, which it billed as a potential treatment for long COVID-19.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

DEALS

Apollo Helps GI Alliance Doctors In Buyout Of $2.2B Practice

The physicians who own national gastroenterology medical practice GI Alliance are getting an assist from funds managed by Apollo Global Management to buy out the minority stake owned by private equity firm Waud Capital Partners, valuing the practice at $2.2 billion in a deal announced Friday.

Read full article »

Goodwin-Guided Kymera Raises $150M With Share Sale

Clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company Kymera has raised $150 million through a securities purchase agreement advised by Goodwin Procter LLP, with existing and newly accredited investors, according to a Friday announcement.

Endo International PLC
Entain PLC
GigaMedia Limited
Gilead Sciences Inc.
Google LLC
HSBC Holdings PLC
Houlihan Lokey Inc.
Hub International Ltd.
Investments Ltd.
Jefferies Financial Group Inc.
Johnson & Johnson
Johnson Controls International PLC
Ladbrokes PLC
Leafly Holdings Inc.
Liberty Mutual Insurance Group
Lloyds Bank PLC
Major Lindsey & Africa LLC
Medtronic PLC
Meta Platforms Inc.
Netflix Inc.
New Jersey State Bar Association
New York State Nurses Association
Nyack Hospital
Sompo International Holdings Ltd.
Spectrum Management Holding Co.
Spotify Technology SA
Stratton Mortgage LLC
Swiss Reinsurance Co. Ltd
T. Rowe Price Group Inc.
Tesla Inc.
Trividia Health Inc.
Trulieve
Trump Organization Inc.
Twitter Inc.
U.S. Chamber of Commerce
UBS Group AG
United Parcel Service Inc.
University of Houston
VOYlegal LLC
WSP Global Inc.
Walgreens Co.
Walmart Inc.
Wells Fargo & Co.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Akerman LLP
Allen & Overy
Arnold & Porter
Boies Schiller
Boles Holmes

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

DOJ Filing Reawakens Fraud-On-The-FDA Theory Of Liability

The U.S. Department of Justice's recent statement of interest in U.S. ex rel. Crocano v. Trividia Health before a Florida federal court represents a substantial attempt to revive a False Claims Act liability theory involving misstatements to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, potentially leading to increased scrutiny of medical products, say attorneys at Duane Morris.

Read full article »

A Jump Forward For Fla. Pharmacy Technicians' Vax Authority

Newly effective Florida legislation allows pharmacy technicians to seek certification to provide immunizations, granting them a significant leap in authority and bringing changes to pharmacies that should increase community access to vaccines, says Martin Dix at Akerman.

Read full article »

Roundup

In-House At A Cannabis Company

In this ongoing Expert Analysis series, in-house counsel at cannabis companies discuss the unique compliance issues they're navigating as the industry burgeons into a multibillion-dollar ballgame.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

DC Circ. Rules DOJ Improperly Redacted Russia Probe Memo

The U.S. Department of Justice improperly shielded a memo to then-Attorney General Bill Barr related to whether former President Donald Trump committed obstruction of justice during the special counsel probe into Russian interference in the 2016 election, a D.C. Circuit panel ruled Friday.

Read full article »

Buckley Must Produce Docs In Policy Fight, NC Justices Say

Buckley LLP must hand over to an insurer a swath of documents generated during an investigation conducted by Latham & Watkins LLP into alleged misconduct by Buckley's former co-founder as part of a $6 million coverage dispute, the North Carolina Supreme Court ruled Friday.

Read full article »

Bryan Cave
Buckley LLP
CMS Cameron McKenna Nabarro Olswang
Carrington Coleman
Carroll Kelly Trotter
Charlotte C. McDaniel APLC
Clark Howell LLP
Cooper Barton & Cooper
Cowdery & Murphy
Cozen O'Connor
Curtis Mallet-Prevost
DAC Beachcroft
DLA Piper
Davenport Evans
David Weiss Law
Duane Morris LLP
Elarbee Thompson
Epstein Becker Green
Gateley PLC
Gibson Dunn
Gitlin Horn
Goodwin Procter
Gray Reed
Greene Broillet
Heimberg Barr
Herbert Smith Freehills
John J. Radshaw III Attorney at Law
Katten Muchin
Kennedys Law LLP
King & Spalding
Kirkland & Ellis
Latham & Watkins
Leech Tishman
Lewis Brisbois
McGuireWoods
Miller Nash LLP
Mishcon de Reya
Mitchell Sandler
Morgan Lewis
Osborne Clarke
Quinn Emanuel
Reed Smith
Reynolds Porter
Robbins LLP
Robinson & Cole
Shakespeare Martineau
Sheppard Mullin
Skadden Arps
TLT LLP
Williams & Connolly

Tesla's Near Silence On Legal Chief Stirs Disclosure Concerns

Tesla Inc. has spent weeks refusing to clear up a murky situation surrounding the role of its onetime legal chief, but experts are split on when the publicly traded company owes it to investors to tell them what happened.

Read full article »

11th Circ. Clarifies Scope, Validity Of Ala. Grand Jury Law

Alabama's grand jury secrecy law doesn't violate the First Amendment and doesn't bar witnesses from discussing information they learned outside the jury room, the Eleventh Circuit ruled in a published opinion Thursday.

Read full article »

Recruiter Hires Atty To Carry On Suit Against Robinson & Cole

A South Dakota-based legal recruiting organization suing Robinson & Cole LLP, alleging breach of contract, has obtained an attorney just three days after a Connecticut federal judge admonished its CEO, saying it sought legal advice from the court and had not yet had an attorney appear.

Read full article »

Tweeting Barrister Vows To Appeal Discrimination Ruling

Barrister Jon Holbrook said Friday that he will appeal an employment tribunal ruling that rejected his £3 million ($3.6 million) discrimination claim against his former chambers after he was expelled for writing a controversial post on social media.

Read full article »

UK Criminal Defense Firms And Attorneys Decreased In 2022

The total number of criminal defense attorneys and law firms providing criminal legal advice has decreased significantly in the United Kingdom, according to a Legal Aid Agency study published Thursday.

Read full article »

GC Cheat Sheet: The Hottest Corporate News Of The Week

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has lost its bid to revive a suit claiming Walmart's light-duty policy for some workers, but not for pregnant women, was discriminatory. And a finance chief's plea deal may start a domino effect that could smack into former President Donald Trump's real estate organization.

Read full article »

UK Litigation Roundup: Here's What You Missed In London

Willkie Farr
WilmerHale
Wilson Sonsini
Womble Bond

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
Delaware Court of Chancery
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
European Union
Food and Drug Administration
New Jersey Attorney General's Office
New Jersey Office of the Public Defender
New Jersey Supreme Court
New York Attorney General's Office
The Bureau of Investigative Journalism
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. District Court for the District of Connecticut
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas
U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Georgia
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court

[redacted]

This week in London has seen the Bureau of Investigative Journalism sued for libel by a former Kazakh leader, Siemens Mobility bring fresh legal action against the high-speed rail project HS2 in a procurement claim, and an Irish aircraft company sue Aeroflot and Rossiya Airlines in the wake of sanctions imposed on the airlines by the U.K. government. Here, Law360 looks at these and other new claims in the U.K.

Read full article »

In Case You Missed It: Hottest Firms And Stories On Law360

For those who missed out, here's a look back at the law firms, stories and expert analyses that generated the most buzz on Law360 last week.

Read full article »

Podcast

Pro Say: What Is An 'Act Of God' Anyway?

Contract provisions meant to guard against unforeseen disasters and "Acts of God" have long been fairly routine, and until recently even seasoned attorneys didn't pay them much mind.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

MID-SIZED FULL SERVICE MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNERS/NYC
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

United States District Court for the District of Colorado

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: UnitedHealth, Amazon Said to Be LeadingContenders to Acquire Signify Health
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 22/08/2022 05:50

[redacted]

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 22, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

TODAY'S TOP NEWS

- Signify Health Inc. is considering bids from Amazon.com Inc., CVS Health Corp., Option Care Health Inc. and UnitedHealth Group Inc., according to people with knowledge of the matter, and the home health care services provider is set to hold a board meeting today to discuss its options. At more than $30 per share, UnitedHealth has submitted the highest bid, though Amazon's offer isn't far behind, the people said. (Bloomberg)

- The departments of Health and Human Services, Treasury and Labor jointly issued final rules to update the No Surprises Act, clarifying how arbitration between providers and payers over out-of-network billing disagreements should be handled. The law to ban surprise medical bills passed Congress in 2020 and went into effect at the beginning of this year, though the Biden administration has faced multiple legal challenges over its implementation. (Fierce Healthcare)

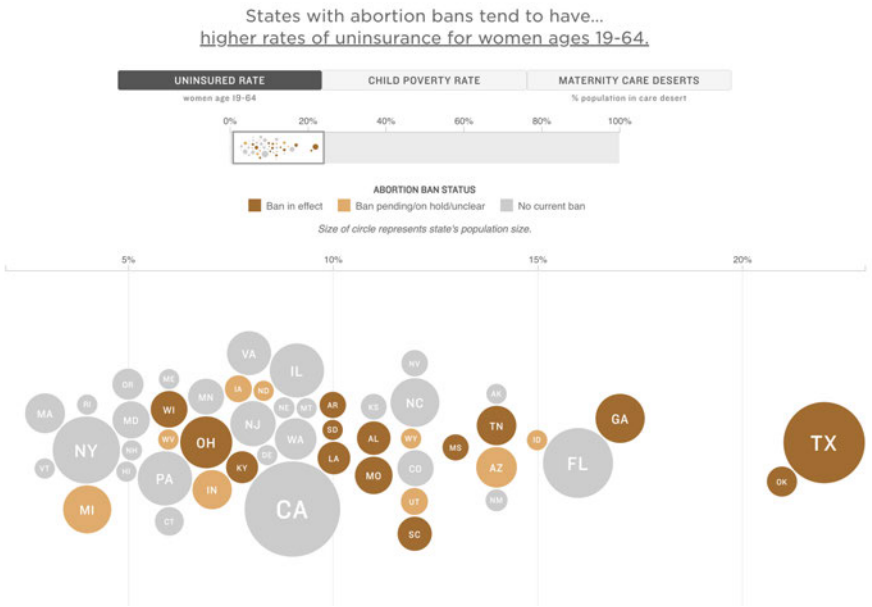
- Following the enactment of the Inflation Reduction Act, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services Administrator Chiquita Brooks-LaSure said she will create a team within the agency's Medicare arm that will be charged with negotiating drug prices, with hiring for at least 100 positions starting in the fall. Brooks-LaSure said CMS is interested in candidates with negotiating experience and "clinical expertise," while the next step for the agency is selecting the drugs on which it will plan to negotiate. (Reuters)

- The Food and Drug Administration issued emergency use authorization for Novavax Inc.'s protein-based COVID-19 vaccine in children between the ages of 12 and 17, a little more than a month after the agency cleared the biotech's two-dose shot for adults. (CNBC)

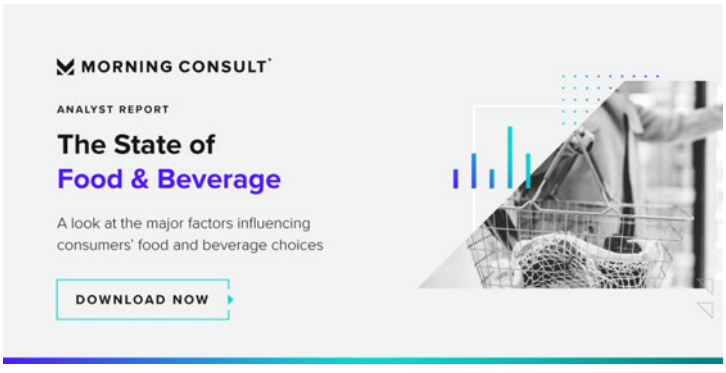
CHART REVIEW

States with the toughest abortion laws have the weakest maternal supports, data shows

NPR News



A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



The State of Food and Beverage: August 2022

Cost pressures brought on by inflation are trickling into many consumers' decisions, from where to source groceries to when to cook meals at home.

Morning Consult's semiannual State of Food & Beverage report tracks evolving consumer behaviors in the food & beverage sector and what they mean for the future of the industry. Download the report.

WHAT ELSE YOU NEED TO KNOW

CORONAVIRUS

Variant-Targeted Covid-19 Boosters Test the Promise of mRNA Technology

Peter Loftus, The Wall Street Journal

Moderna, Pfizer are racing to make different boosters for U.S. than the Omicron-specific shots rolling out for other countries.

Most people with omicron variant didn't know they had COVID-19, study finds

Shauneen Miranda, NPR News

The majority of people likely infected with the omicron variant that causes COVID-19 were not aware they contracted the virus, which likely played a role in the rapid spread of omicron, according to a study published this week.

Dr. Birx says reliance on Europe for early COVID-19 data an 'indictment of our system'

Abigail Adcox, Washington Examiner

Dr. Deborah Birx, the White House coronavirus response coordinator under the Trump administration, said having to lean on data coming out of Europe during the first months of the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020 was an "indictment of our system."

Are you among the 1 in 5 Americans with long COVID? Here's what you need to know about how brain-foggy—and potentially dangerous—it is

Erin Prater, Fortune

You could be forgiven for wondering, "Do I have long COVID? Is that why I'm mentally hazy?" Indeed, brain fog, muscle aches, and fatigue are some of the most common symptoms of the nebulous condition called long COVID, which experts think affects as many as one in five Americans who survived the relatively new virus.

Confused about how long to isolate with COVID? The most ethical, scientifically sound timeline looks a lot like what Joe Biden did, London researchers say

Erin Prater, Fortune

People with COVID should isolate for at least five days—and until they receive two negative at-home tests on two different days—according to a new study out of London.

First lady Jill Biden tests negative for COVID-19, leaves isolation

Stefan Becket, CBS News

First lady Jill Biden has tested negative for COVID-19 and left isolation five days after first testing positive, her office said Sunday.

GENERAL

Monkeypox Virus Can Stay on Common Household Items, Surfaces, CDC Says

Madison Muller, Bloomberg

The monkeypox virus can linger on many common household objects, though it's not yet clear if that can spread the infection, according to a new government study.

Websites Selling Unapproved Abortion Pills Are Booming

Dominique Mosbergen and Vibhuti Agarwal, The Wall Street Journal

Dozens of websites state they ship abortion drugs anywhere in the U.S. without a prescription, which violates Food and Drug Administration rules. Most of the sites don't clearly state who operates them or where they get the pills. The operator of one website said demand for abortion pills has surged since the Supreme Court removed constitutional protection for abortion in June.

NIH Tees Up Monkeypox Vaccine Trial to Test US Dose-Sparing Plan

Jeannie Baumann, Bloomberg Law

A monkeypox clinical trial at the NIH will evaluate the US approach to increasing vaccine supply with smaller, more superficially administered doses, answering critical questions as cases climb.

Scientists Fear Polio Plan Will Be Repeat of COVID Horror Show

David Axe, The Daily Beast

The U.S. is refusing to allow widespread polio testing outside of government labs. Some experts are wondering if the CDC learned anything from its COVID mistakes.

Initiative to Stop HIV's Spread Gains Post-Pandemic 'Reset'

Shira Stein, Bloomberg Law

Efforts to end the spread of HIV in the US are slowly recovering after the Covid-19 pandemic hindered a federal initiative to end the epidemic by 2030, public health officials and researchers said.

E-coli outbreak that sickened 37 people may be linked to Wendy's lettuce

Aria Bendix, NBC News

According to the CDC, many people reported feeling ill after eating burgers and sandwiches with romaine lettuce at Wendy's restaurants in Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Signs of heart disease may be more subtle in women than men

Erika Edwards, NBC News

In a review paper, the American Heart Association spells out how symptoms of heart attack, stroke and other cardiovascular problems differ in women and men.

Aerobic exercise and simple stretching may both lower Alzheimer's risk

Ken Alltucker, USA Today

For older adults at risk of dementia, regular exercise from light stretching to rigorous aerobics can help slow memory and thinking decline, a new study shows.

Asthma deaths rose during the pandemic. Climate change may make it worse.

Erik Ortiz, NBC News

Most susceptible are communities of color, which are disproportionately burdened by poorer air quality and other environmental factors.

Lengthening fertility may extend a woman's life

Sandee LaMotte, CNN

One organ in a woman's body ages more than twice as fast as all other tissues, wreaking havoc with both fertility and long-term health.

Judge: Prosecutors cannot enforce Michigan's abortion ban

Joey Cappelletti, The Associated Press

A Michigan judge on Friday blocked county prosecutors from enforcing the state's 1931 ban on abortion for the foreseeable future, after two days of witness testimony from abortion experts, providers and the state's chief medical officer.

Is a Fetus a Person? An Anti-Abortion Strategy Says Yes.

Kate Zernike, The New York Times

Even as roughly half the states have moved to enact near-total bans on abortion since the Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade in June, anti-abortion activists are pushing for a long-held and more absolute goal: laws that grant fetuses the same legal rights and protections as any person.

PAYERS

Employer health costs set to rise 6.5% in 2023: Aon

Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare

The researchers found that average costs per employee will reach $13,800 in 2023. This is more than double the 3% increase that employers saw in 2022 but far below the current inflation index, according to Aon.

Georgia Medicaid work requirements policy backed by court

Maya Goldman, Modern Healthcare

A federal judge has reopened the door for Medicaid work requirements in Georgia in a ruling issued Friday.

Design value-based models with equity in mind, experts say

Frank Diamond, Fierce Healthcare

Health insurance payment reforms implemented over the last decade have a spotty record in driving down costs and can unintentionally worsen the inequities experienced by marginalized groups, experts say.

PROVIDERS

Hospitals wrangle billions in FEMA funding to offset Covid costs

Bob Herman, Stat News

More hospitals are tapping into billions of dollars from the Federal Emergency Management Agency to offset costs for caring for Covid-19 patients.

How North Carolina hospitals justify thwarting Medicaid expansion

Bob Herman, Stat News

North Carolina hospitals just helped kill a major expansion of the state's Medicaid program. Both Democrats and Republicans in the state legislature had been working toward expanding the program to another 600,000 low-income people, but the deal fell apart this month.

White coats in the state capital: OB-GYNs become political force in abortion wars

Alice Miranda Ollstein and Megan Messerly, Politico

Red state lawmakers rushing to pass new abortion restrictions are being stymied by an unexpected political force — OB-GYNs.

Mayo Clinic's operating margin holds firm at 3.8% in Q2 2022

Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare

"At the midpoint of the 2022 fiscal year, performance results reflect the challenges facing both the healthcare industry and the nation," Mayo's management wrote in a summary of its financial performance. "Workforce shortages and inflation in both labor and non-labor costs have had an impact on the first and second quarter operating results but Mayo Clinic is well-positioned to enter the second half of 2022."

U.S. clinics scramble as courts, politicians battle over abortion restrictions

Sharon Bernstein, Reuters

With West Virginia's 1849 abortion ban tied up in court and its conservative legislature stymied over details of enacting a new one, the state's only abortion clinic ought to be operating as usual.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

GSK vaccine chief aims to break dominance of mRNA shots

Hannah Kuchler, Financial Times

Group developing jab with Sanofi that could have benefits.

FDA scolds Sun Pharma for allegedly backdating documents and fudging records for collecting drug samples

Ed Silverman, Stat News

Sun Pharmaceutical, which is one of the largest purveyors of generic drugs, allegedly falsified various documents that were maintained by employees at one of its plants in India, according to an inspection report issued by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Axsome's depression drug enters competitive market after U.S. approval

Amruta Khandekar, Reuters

Axsome Therapeutics Inc (AXSM.O) on Friday gained U.S. approval for its treatment for depression, giving more than 20 million Americans affected by the disorder a new option in a market crowded by older drugs.

How Pharmacy Work Stopped Being So Great

Noam Scheiber, The New York Times

Two years of economic recovery brought strong gains to workers at the top and the bottom, but headwinds for those in between. Consider the pharmacist.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Congress ordered agencies to use tech that works for people with disabilities 24 years ago. Many still haven't.

Ruth Reader, Politico

Congress made a portion of the 1973 Rehabilitation Act known as Section 508, which asks federal agencies to make technology accessible, mandatory in 1998. But nearly a quarter century later, they are still failing to do so. And it's not just about ordering lunch. Roughly 30 percent of the most popular federal websites don't meet accessibility standards, according to a 2021 report by the Information Technology and Innovation Foundation. Enforcement is virtually nonexistent, and agencies are spending little effort or money to comply.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

The Inflation Reduction Act: One step closer to pharmacoequity?

Utibe R. Essien, Stat News

President Biden's signing of the Inflation Reduction Act on Tuesday marked a health care law that could have the greatest impact since President Obama signed the Affordable Care Act in 2010. There are many reasons to praise the act for what it will do for millions of older Americans.

Even a Single Case of Polio Is a Threat

Mary T. Bassett, The New York Times

The case of a young adult paralyzed by polio in New York is not simply unexpected. It's shocking. The last time polio was diagnosed in New York State was in 1990. And yet the virus has now also been found in wastewater samples in Rockland County, Orange County and New York City. As surveillance continues, we will learn more, but what we know already is enough. We have circulating poliovirus that can cause paralysis in these communities. Polio in New York today is an imminent threat.

The covid pandemic has 'ended,' but I'll keep my mask on, thanks

Stacy Torres, The Washington Post

This summer, I've played a new people-watching game while walking New York's sweaty streets: What's the story behind the mask? Who's still adhering to covid-19 restrictions when we've cast off nearly all public health guidelines in this era of pandemic apathy?

RESEARCH REPORTS

How Differences in Medicaid, Medicare, and Commercial Health Insurance Payment Rates Impact Access, Health Equity, and Cost

Cindy Mann and Adam Striar, The Commonwealth Fund

Persistent and growing disparities in the rates paid to health providers by Medicaid, Medicare, and commercial insurance are almost certain to be a key issue for the Biden administration in its efforts to strengthen access to care in Medicaid and in regulations it is slated to release in early 2023. Rates alone do not determine provider participation in Medicaid, but they are a key lever to ensuring access.1 Medicaid rates are generally well below Medicare rates, which are themselves well below commercial rates. In this post, we compare rates across the market and pose questions relating to access, equity, and costs that are suggested by the data.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.
SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: California Considers Vasectomy Costs; Cancer Mortality Rates
FROM: First Report Managed Care <newsletter@firstreportnow.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 22/08/2022 10:35

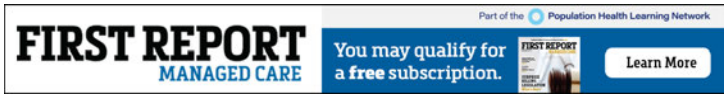
FIRST REPORT
MANAGED CARE

THE LATEST

California Bill Would Eliminate Out-of-Pocket Costs for Vasectomies, Condoms

By Rachel Bluth, Kaiser Health News

Lawmakers in California are considering a bill that would require commercial health plans to fully cover male sterilization and non-prescription birth control options.



COMMENTARY

Three Insights From Trailblaze 2022: Member Experience Is About Humanization

By Icario Team

In this commentary, the Icario team shares advice on how to connect with members better, elevate their experience, and improve outcomes.

IN THE NEWS

Rates of Prostate Cancer Mortality Highest Among Men of African Ancestry

By Jolynn Tumolo

Patients: PsA Treatment Should Prioritize Musculoskeletal Pain, Functional Improvement

By Jolynn Tumolo

Endoscopic Management Beneficial But Costly for Low-Grade Upper Tract Urothelial Carcinoma

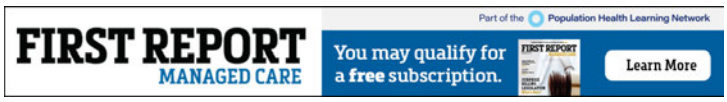
By Samantha Matthews

POPHEALTH PERSPECTIVES

Inflation, Mobile Health's Impact on the Health Care Industry

By Samantha Matthews

Keith Algozzine, founder and chief executive officer of UCM Digital Health, discusses how inflation is impacting the health care industry, areas of top concern, and how mobile health plays into the future of health care.



HMP Global

©2022 First Report Managed Care
70 E. Swedesford Road Suite 100, Malvern PA 19355
This email was sent to hborski@utah.gov
View in browser
Click here to unsubscribe
Privacy Policy

SUBJECT: Economic Burden of MS; Mobile Health
FROM: First Report Managed Care <newsletter@firstreportnow.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 22/08/2022 15:00

FIRST REPORT
MANAGED CARE

THE LATEST

Cognitive Deficits Contribute to Economic Burden of Multiple Sclerosis

By Samantha Matthews

Study authors examined the correlation between cognitive impairment and the economic burden of multiple sclerosis.

Advertisement

POPHEALTH PERSPECTIVES

The Future of Medical Imaging: Advances in AI, Analytics

By Samantha Matthews

Morris Panner, president of Intelerad, discusses the impact of large hospital system consolidations, trends and perspectives around the future of medical imaging, and the latest advances in AI and analytics.

IN THE NEWS

California Bill Would Eliminate Out-of-Pocket Costs for Vasectomies, Condoms

By Rachel Bluth, Kaiser Health News

Rates of Prostate Cancer Mortality Highest Among Men of African Ancestry

By Jolynn Tumolo

Patients: PsA Treatment Should Prioritize Musculoskeletal Pain, Functional Improvement

By Jolynn Tumolo

Advertisement

MORE FROM FIRST REPORT MANAGED CARE

Inflation, Mobile Health's Impact on the Health Care Industry

[redacted]

By Samantha Matthews

Keith Algozzine, founder and chief executive officer of UCM Digital Health, discusses how inflation is impacting the health care industry, areas of top concern, and how mobile health plays into the future of health care.

HMP Global

©2022 First Report Managed Care
70 E. Swedesford Road Suite 100, Malvern PA 19355
This email was sent to hborski@utah.gov
View in browser
Click here to unsubscribe
Privacy Policy

.

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: A Deep Dive Into The Glass Ceiling Report: Women In Law
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 23/08/2022 01:36

Tuesday, August 23, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

A Deep Dive Into The Glass Ceiling Report: Women In Law

Law firms are working to improve diversity, equity and inclusion in their ranks. But Law360 Pulse's Glass Ceiling Report: Women in Law shows only modest growth in the number of female lawyers in private practice in the U.S.

Read full article »

High Court Wants Gov't View On Controversial FCA Case

The U.S. Supreme Court asked the federal government Monday to weigh in on whether the justices should review a contentious decision that a supermarket chain's alleged overcharging of Medicare and Medicaid was "objectively reasonable" enough to defeat a False Claims Act case.

Order List attached | Read full article »

Feds Finalize Surprise Medical Billing Rules Amid Legal Fights

The federal government has finalized rules relating to a law that shields patients from "surprise medical bills" for services unexpectedly performed by out-of-network providers and creates an arbitration system for handling payment fights between out-of-network providers and health insurers.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Pharmacies Can't Be Forced To Fill Ivermectin Rx, Judge Says

A Minnesota federal judge on Friday nixed a suit filed against a Walmart pharmacy for refusing to fill prescriptions for ivermectin, an anti-parasite drug used on humans and animals, to treat a couple's COVID-19 infection, calling their purported "right to self-determination" that would force medical providers to administer certain treatments "mind-boggling."

Order attached | Read full article »

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

AMC Networks Inc.
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio
American Federation of State County & Municipal Employees
American International Group Inc.
American Property Casualty Insurance Association
Ampersand Capital Partners
Armistice Capital LLC
Bioventus LLC
Cable News Network Inc.
Carolinas HealthCare System
Center for Justice
Communications Workers of America

[redacted]

Fla. Ambulance Co. Illegally Denied OT, EMTs Say At Trial Start

Paramedics and emergency medical technicians suing a Florida Keys ambulance service told jurors Monday that contrary to what the company's owner will argue, they were employees who are due overtime wages under the Fair Labor Standards Act, not independent contractors.

Read full article »

UPMC Dr. Keeps Contested Tape Under Wraps In Med Mal Suit

An allegedly surreptitious recording of a star University of Pittsburgh Medical Center surgeon set off a contentious hearing in Pennsylvania state court Monday, triggering volleys of accusations and arguments over academic misconduct, drug use, open courts and potential ripple effects on a state medical malpractice case and a federal whistleblower suit.

Read full article »

Analysis

NY Victims' Families Bill Could Cause Insurance Cost Spike

As New York's Grieving Families Act awaits the governor's signature, some experts said insurance costs could potentially increase in the Empire State due to the bill's allowance of recovery by extended family members for emotional damages such as grief or anguish.

Read full article »

POLICY & REGULATION

Neb. Medical Pot Legalization Effort Fails To Qualify For Ballot

Two proposals to legalize medical marijuana in Nebraska failed to secure the required number of signatures and won't appear on the November ballot, state officials said Monday.

Read full article »

ENFORCEMENT & COMPLIANCE

Pay Expert Cops To Taking Illegal $400K Insider Payday

A California executive compensation expert told a Manhattan federal judge that he made illegal bets on a pharmaceutical sector client company that had been targeted for acquisition by global giant Sanofi SA, copping to insider trading charges.

Read full article »

LITIGATION

Anti-Abortion Activists Lose At 9th Circ. In Video Row

The Ninth Circuit has shut down an appeal from anti-abortion activists who likened their crusade to distribute selectively edited and secretly recorded conversations with abortion providers to the Pentagon Papers case, after a lower court judge found they violated the language of confidentiality agreements they had signed.

Convey Health Solutions Inc.
Endo International PLC
FirstEnergy Corp.
Gallup Inc.
Getty Images Inc.
HCA Healthcare Inc.
Hy-Vee
Inovalon Holdings Inc.
Judicial Watch Inc.
La Jolla Pharmaceutical Co.
LinkedIn Corp.
Mayo Foundation for Medical Education and Research
Mazars LLP
Miami Herald Media Co.
NASDAQ Inc.
NBCUniversal Media LLC
National Association of Realtors
Nektar Therapeutics
NetSuite Inc.
Nevakar Inc.
Oracle Corp.
Palantir Technologies Inc.
Planned Parenthood Federation
Quest Diagnostics Inc.
Safeco Insurance Co.
Sanofi SA
Santander Consumer USA Inc.
Shanghai Stock Exchange Ltd.
Strategic Value Partners LLC
Supervalu Inc.
Tesla Inc.
Texas Medical Association
The E.W. Scripps Company
The ERISA Industry Committee
The Goldman Sachs Group Inc.
The New York Times Co.
The Newspaper Guild
TransDigm Group Inc.
Trump Organization Inc.
Twitter Inc.
United Natural Foods Inc.
University of California Davis
University of Pittsburgh Medical Center
Vaxart Inc.
WP Glimcher Inc.
Walmart Inc.
Washington Post Co.
Zillow Group Inc.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Abraham Fruchter

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Pandemic Wage-Fixing Trial Is Pushed To December

A federal judge in Maine pushed back a slated trial over objections from the government in a criminal case accusing operators of several home health care agencies of conspiring to fix pay rates to avoid competing with each other for workers during the pandemic.

Order attached | Read full article »

Quest's Virus Row Stays In Wash. As AIG's NJ Suit Is Tossed

A New Jersey judge dismissed AIG Specialty Insurance's suit seeking to avoid coverage of Quest Diagnostics' COVID-19-related losses, finding the New Jersey state court didn't have a compelling reason to retain jurisdiction when Quest's similar suit in Washington was filed first.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

NC Justices Ax 'Obsolete' Precedent On Nurse Liability

The North Carolina Supreme Court has revived a suit alleging a nurse caused a toddler's brain injury by negligently administering an anesthetic, overturning a 1932 precedent in the state that held that nurses could not be held liable when they were acting under the direction of a physician.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Vaxart Investors Seek Initial OK Of $12M Deal In Fraud Suit

A proposed class of investors in Vaxart has urged a California federal court to give its initial OK to a $12 million settlement with the biotechnology company over allegations it pumped its stock price with deceptive headlines about a COVID-19 vaccine, arguing that it's a favorable outcome for investors.

Motion attached | Read full article »

Ohio AG Says Dobbs Ends Abortion Clinic Licensing Suit

Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost has shot back at claims by abortion clinics that the state's licensing rules are unconstitutionally onerous, arguing the U.S. Supreme Court's takedown of Roe v. Wade gave the state wider latitude to regulate abortion, rendering the clinics' lawsuit untenable.

Motion attached | Read full article »

NC Health Network's Monopoly Drove Up Prices, Counties Say

Akin Gump
Baker Botts
Ballard Spahr
Bartlett LLP
Berger Montague
Bernstein Litowitz
Boies Schiller
Bradley Arant
Bryant Miller Olive
Carney Badley
Chartwell Law
Cloutier Conley
Cole Scott
Connell Foley
Consovoy McCarthy
Debevoise & Plimpton
Del Sole Cavanaugh
Dhillon Law Group
Dickie McCamey
Dorsey & Whitney
Duffy & Fulginiti
Edelson Lechtzin
Edwards Kirby
Faegre Drinker
Farnan LLP
Friedman Oster
Gibson Dunn
Giffen & Kaminski
Goldstein & Russell
Goode Casseb
Goodwin Procter
Grail Law Firm
Gross Shuman
Hacker Stephens
Hagens Berman
Harris Wiltshire
Helmer Martins
Higgins Benjamin
Ifrah Law
Jones Day
Jubelirer Pass
K&L Gates
Kaskela Law
Kirkland & Ellis
Levi & Korsinsky
Lewis Brisbois
Lieff Cabraser
Limandri & Jonna
Marcus & Shapira
Markovits Stock
Meland Budwick
Morrison Foerster

A North Carolina hospital system's alleged regional monopoly has driven up the price of providing health insurance to public employees, two cities and counties said in a new antitrust suit.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

AMC Barred Medic After Reporting Producer To HR, Suit Says

AMC Networks sought to blacklist a set medic who accused a producer of making derogatory comments about her looks by falsely claiming she had broken COVID-19 protocols, according to a suit filed in Boston federal court.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Pa. Newspaper Endangering Workers' Health Care, Unions Say

Four unions representing employees of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette sued the newspaper in Pennsylvania federal court on Monday, accusing it of placing workers at risk of losing their health and life insurance by refusing to ensure that their monthly premiums are fully funded.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Catching Up With Delaware's Chancery Court

Shareholders of Santander Consumer USA, La Jolla Pharmaceutical, Nektar Therapeutics and Inovalon Holdings filed new suits in Delaware's Court of Chancery last week, and attorneys for billionaire Elon Musk and Twitter Inc. deforested a small hillside to document an increasing number of discovery disputes.

Read full article »

DEALS

Goodwin Guides PE Firm Ampersand To $1.2B Fund Closing

Private equity firm Ampersand Capital Partners, led by Goodwin Procter LLP, said Monday that it has closed its latest fund after securing $1.2 billion in commitments, with plans to target investments in new, founder-owned health care and life sciences companies.

Read full article »

Medical Imaging Startup Soars In Shanghai After Smash IPO

Chinese medical technology company United Imaging Healthcare Ltd. boomed in debut trading Monday following a $1.6 billion initial public offering on the Shanghai Stock Exchange's STAR market, the year's largest IPO for the technology-focused venue.

Read full article »

BANKRUPTCY

Norman Hanson DeTroy
O'Melveny & Myers
Orrick Herrington
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel
Rheingold Giuffra
Robert S. Norell PA
Roberts & Stevens
Robinson Bradshaw
Saxena White
Shullman Fugate
Silverman Thompson
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Sugarman & Cannon
Thomas & LoCicero
Thompson Hine
Troubh Heisler
Wachtell Lipton
Whitmyer IP Group
Wilson Elser
Wilson Sonsini

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Arkansas Supreme Court
Delaware Court of Chancery
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Food and Drug Administration
Internal Revenue Service
National Labor Relations Board
Nebraska Attorney General's Office
New Jersey Supreme Court
Ohio Attorney General's Office
Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission
Solicitors Regulation Authority
U.S. Air Force
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
U.S. Department of Justice

Endo Unit Seeks To Stop Termination Of Drug License Deal

An Endo International affiliate Monday asked a New York bankruptcy judge to prevent another pharmaceutical company from canceling pre-Chapter 11 asset purchase and drug licensing deals, denying that it breached the contracts.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

A Cautionary Tale On Diversity Jurisdiction From The 6th Circ.

The Sixth Circuit's recent opinion in Akno 1010 Market St. v. Pourtaghi highlights the importance of properly establishing citizenship of all parties before filing a federal lawsuit under diversity jurisdiction rules, and shows how overlooking jurisdiction issues could undo years of litigation, say Lauren Snyder and Charles Loeser at Harris Wiltshire.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

'Grizzly Scouts' Member Linked To Court Killing Gets 10 Years

A California federal judge sentenced a "Grizzly Scouts" militia member Monday to 10 years for sexually enticing a minor and six months for obstructing an investigation into the killing of a Federal Protective Service security guard outside a district courthouse, while acknowledging that six months for obstruction seems too low.

Read full article »

Boies Conflict Letter In FirstEnergy Case Released By Judge

An Ohio federal judge on Monday rebuffed accusations that he improperly withheld documents from lawyers involved in a lawsuit revolving around a FirstEnergy Corp.
bribery scandal, saying that his battle with COVID-19 prevented him from revealing that Boies Schiller Flexner LLP withdrew its request to take over the case due to a possible conflict.

Read full article »

Trump Sues For Oversight Of Feds' Mar-A-Lago Doc Review

Former President Donald Trump sued in Florida federal court on Monday seeking to halt the FBI's review of documents seized from Mar-a-Lago until a third-party

U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. District Court for the District of Maine
U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts
U.S. District Court for the District of Minnesota
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington
U.S. General Services Administration
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio
United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio

special master is appointed to pull out privileged documents and ensure investigators return personal items, saying the prosecution's privilege "filter team" won't protect his rights.
Read full article »

Judge Points To Witness Risks In Mar-A-Lago Affidavit Fight

Citing the risk of witness intimidation, a judge said Monday he may unseal the key affidavit that led to the unprecedented FBI search of former President Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago estate, but that it might be so heavily redacted as to be "meaningless."
Read full article »

Trump Urges DC Circ. To Void House Financial Doc Subpoena

The D.C. Circuit should completely void a House subpoena seeking former President Donald Trump's financial documents, he told the appeals court Monday, arguing its earlier decision partially approving of the subpoena "tilts the institutional balance of power in Congress' favor."
Read full article »

Twitter Founder Drawn Into Del. Fight Over $44B Musk Deal

Twitter Inc. founder Jack Dorsey was swept up Monday in the tidal wave of subpoenas triggered by Elon Musk's attempted breakout from a $44 billion offer to buy the social media company, with Delaware's Court of Chancery now planning an argument on a separate discovery dispute.
Read full article »

Zillow Says Antitrust Foe Didn't Preserve Workers' Laptops

Zillow has accused REX-Real Estate Exchange of failing its discovery obligations, asserting that the brokerage firm gave away laptops as "severance" when hemorrhaging workers as part of a business nosedive allegedly triggered by anti-competitive National Association of Realtors listing services rules.
Read full article »

SRA Floats Changes To Fines For Law Firms And Attys

The Solicitors Regulation Authority laid out plans Monday to change its approach to fining law firms and attorneys as it looks to resolve cases more quickly and reduce costs, including setting fixed fines for low-level misconduct and tying other penalties to firm income.
Read full article »

Criminal Barristers Vote For Indefinite Strike Over Pay

The Criminal Bar Association said Monday that its members have voted to stage an indefinite, uninterrupted walkout because long-standing grievances with the government over pay for legal aid work remain unaddressed.
Read full article »

[redacted]

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

MID-SIZED FULL SERVICE MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNERS/NYC
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: A Deep Dive Into The Glass Ceiling Report: Women In Law
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 23/08/2022 02:08

Tuesday, August 23, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

A Deep Dive Into The Glass Ceiling Report: Women In Law

Law firms are working to improve diversity, equity and inclusion in their ranks. But Law360 Pulse's Glass Ceiling Report: Women in Law shows only modest growth in the number of female lawyers in private practice in the U.S.

Read full article »

Analysis

Decision Awash In Footnotes Reveals 5th Circ. Judges' Depth

Fifth Circuit judges recently headed below deck to skirmish over claims stemming from a sea accident, packing dozens of salty footnotes into a split en banc opinion and leaving legal experts to contemplate the role of these often-overlooked treasures buried in judicial opinions.

[redacted]

Read full article »

Trump Sues For Oversight Of Feds' Mar-A-Lago Doc Review

Former President Donald Trump sued in Florida federal court on Monday seeking to halt the FBI's review of documents seized from Mar-a-Lago until a third-party special master is appointed to pull out privileged documents and ensure investigators return personal items, saying the prosecution's privilege "filter team" won't protect his rights.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Judge Points To Witness Risks In Mar-A-Lago Affidavit Fight

Citing the risk of witness intimidation, a judge said Monday he may unseal the key affidavit that led to the unprecedented FBI search of former President Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago estate, but that it might be so heavily redacted as to be "meaningless."

Read full article »

9th Circ. Panel Will Review Calif. Arbitration Law Again

The Ninth Circuit panel that largely upheld California's law banning mandatory arbitration agreements in the workplace on Monday withdrew its decision to take another look at the law following a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling that the U.S. and California Chambers of Commerce argued invalidated the law.

Order attached | Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

Banking Orgs Decry CFPB's 'Unfair' Customer Service Query

A trio of banking industry groups on Monday railed against a Consumer Financial Protection Bureau request for information about customer service at large banks, claiming that the bureau unfairly put forth a "flawed premise that banks provide poor customer service."

Letter attached | Read full article »

Trump Urges DC Circ. To Void House Financial Doc Subpoena

The D.C. Circuit should completely void a House subpoena seeking former President Donald Trump's financial documents, he told the appeals court Monday, arguing its earlier decision partially approving of the subpoena "tilts the institutional balance of power in Congress' favor."

Petition attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

DC Circ. Backs FERC In Fight Over Grid Tariff Change

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Abraham Fruchter
ArentFox Schiff
Baker Botts
Ballard Spahr
Barnes Richardson
Bernstein Litowitz
Boies Schiller
Cadden & Fuller
Carney Badley
Cloutier Conley
Cole Scott
Consovoy McCarthy
Cravath Swaine
Debevoise & Plimpton
Edelson Lechtzin
Engleman Fallon
Farnan LLP
Fennemore Craig
Friedman Oster
Gibson Dunn
Giffen & Kaminski
Gunderson Palmer
Harris Wiltshire
Hughes Socol
Ifrah Law
Jenner & Block
Kaskela Law
Keller Rohrback
Law Office of Bryan L. Sells
Levi & Korsinsky
Lieff Cabraser
Lite DePalma
Littler Mendelson
Manatt Phelps
Markovits Stock
Mayer Brown
McNees Wallace
Meland Budwick
Norman Hanson DeTroy
Orrick Herrington
Parsons Behle
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel

The D.C. Circuit backed the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's approval of a regional grid operator's tariff shift governing certain grid projects, rejecting challenges from an independent transmission developer and industrial electricity consumers.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Filed-Rate Doctrine Dooms ComEd Bribery Suits At 7th Circ.

The Seventh Circuit on Monday affirmed the dismissal of customers' racketeering claims against Commonwealth Edison for paying bribes to secure favorable energy legislation in Illinois, saying that allowing those claims to move forward would inevitably require a court to adjust electricity rates filed with regulators.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Judge Tosses Newark Residents' Power Line Suit For Good

A New Jersey federal judge has permanently dismissed a proposed class action filed by Newark residents challenging the installation of 65-foot power lines in the historic district of Forest Hill, ruling that the residents' constitutional due process rights weren't violated.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

NJ Judge Says Hexcel Pollution Suit Barred By Agreement

Hexcel Corp. and another entity have toppled a New Jersey lawsuit from the state Department of Environmental Protection seeking natural resource damages over groundwater contamination at a chemical manufacturing facility, with a judge terminating the case as being off-limits due to a prior Superfund-related settlement.

Decision attached | Read full article »

9th Circ. Won't Revisit Ruling Against Ariz. Copper Mine

The full Ninth Circuit has rejected Rosemont Copper Co.'s bid for a rehearing after the Hudbay Minerals Inc. subsidiary asked the appellate court to reconsider a decision nixing the company's plans for a proposed copper mine waste site in Arizona.

Order attached | Read full article »

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

Ohio AG Says Dobbs Ends Abortion Clinic Licensing Suit

Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost has shot back at claims by abortion clinics that the state's licensing rules are unconstitutionally onerous, arguing the U.S. Supreme Court's takedown of Roe v. Wade gave the state wider

Saxena White
Schaerr Jaffe
Shullman Fugate
Silverman Thompson
Skadden Arps
Stroock & Stroock
Thomas & LoCicero
Troubh Heisler
Wachtell Lipton
Willinger Willinger
WilmerHale
Wilson Elser
Wilson Sonsini
Wright Lindsey

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

ACA Connects- America's Communications Association
American Bankers Association
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio
American Pacific Corp.
Apple Inc.
Bank Policy Institute
Cable News Network Inc.
Center for Biological Diversity
Commonwealth Edison Co.
Consumer Bankers Association
Convey Health Solutions Inc.
Earthjustice
FirstEnergy Corp.
George Washington University
Getty Images Inc.
Hexcel Corp.
Hudbay Minerals Inc.
Inovalon Holdings Inc.
Judicial Watch Inc.
LS Power
La Jolla Pharmaceutical Co.
Mazars LLP
Miami Herald Media Co.
Midcontinent Independent System Operator Inc.
NBCUniversal Media LLC
National Association of Broadcasters
National Association of Realtors
National Federation of Independent Business
National Retail Federation Inc.
Native American Rights Fund Inc.
Nektar Therapeutics

latitude to regulate abortion, rendering the clinics' lawsuit untenable.

Motion attached | Read full article »

Feds Finalize Surprise Medical Billing Rules Amid Legal Fights

The federal government has finalized rules relating to a law that shields patients from "surprise medical bills" for services unexpectedly performed by out-of-network providers and creates an arbitration system for handling payment fights between out-of-network providers and health insurers.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

EMPLOYMENT & BENEFITS

DOL Asks Court To Kill Industry Group's ERISA Guidance Suit

The U.S. Department of Labor told a Florida federal court that a challenge to agency guidance about ERISA fiduciary standards brought by the American Securities Association should go no further, arguing that the trade group is trying to illegitimately alter its complaint.

Response attached | Read full article »

Calif. Seeks To Revive 'Women On Boards' Law During Appeal

California's secretary of state asked a state court judge Monday to pause her order enjoining a state law requiring publicly held corporations to appoint women on boards, arguing the injunction will affect reporting procedures and change the status quo in ways that "can't be undone with the stroke of a keyboard."

Read full article »

Conn. Criminal Justice Body Avoids Atty's Bias Suit For Now

A Connecticut federal judge has dismissed a discrimination suit against the state's Criminal Justice Commission by a senior assistant state's attorney who alleged he missed out on various high-ranking state's attorney positions because of his age.

Order attached | Read full article »

Pandemic Wage-Fixing Trial Is Pushed To December

A federal judge in Maine pushed back a slated trial over objections from the government in a criminal case accusing operators of several home health care agencies of conspiring to fix pay rates to avoid competing with each other for workers during the pandemic.

Order attached | Read full article »

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

NetSuite Inc.
Netflix Inc.
Nippon Yusen Kabushiki Kaisha
Oracle Corp.
Palantir Technologies Inc.
Planned Parenthood Federation
Public Service Enterprise Group Inc.
Robinhood Markets Inc.
Santander Consumer USA Inc.
Strategic Value Partners LLC
Tesla Inc.
Texas Medical Association
The E.W. Scripps Company
The ERISA Industry Committee
The Goldman Sachs Group Inc.
The New York Times Co.
TransDigm Group Inc.
Trump Organization Inc.
Twitter Inc.
U.S. Chamber of Commerce
University of Virginia
Viking Cruises Inc.
WP Glimcher Inc.
Walmart Inc.
Washington Post Co.
Zillow Group Inc.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Arkansas Supreme Court
California Attorney General's Office
California Department of Justice
California Secretary of State
California Supreme Court
Connecticut Department of Banking
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Delaware Court of Chancery
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Financial Crimes Enforcement Network
Fish and Wildlife Service
Idaho Department of Finance

Feds Call To Merge Suits Over Plywood Evasion Findings

The federal government is seeking to roll up three suits over U.S. Customs and Border Protection determinations that plywood importers tried to avoid tariffs on Chinese boards by importing them through Vietnam, saying consolidation will avoid complications later on.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

WHITE COLLAR

Q&A

Getting To Know The Mass. AG Hopefuls: Quentin Palfrey

A veteran of the Massachusetts attorney general's office and both the Obama and Biden White Houses, Quentin Palfrey is one of three candidates seeking to capture the Democratic nomination for state AG during the Sept. 6 primary.

Read full article »

10th Circ. Flips Ruling Against Ponzi Schemer's Ex-Employee

A former employee of a convicted Ponzi schemer in Utah did not derive any inappropriate benefit from money that the investor paid him in wages or from work done to make his house accessible for his disabled wife, a Tenth Circuit panel ruled on Monday.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

SD County Digs In Heels, Says Tribe's Voting Suit Is Moot

A South Dakota county told to revise its electoral map to protect Native American voting rights is fighting back, saying immediate action is unnecessary because a proposed change would let the Lower Brule Sioux Tribe elect its preferred candidates within two years.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Top Cable Industry Lobbyist Stepping Down

A key lobbyist for independent cable and broadband providers plans to step down from his role at the end of August after more than 15 years.

Read full article »

State Broadcaster Groups Claim FCC Fees Hurt Industry

Broadcasters at the state level told the Federal Communications Commission that regulatory fees the FCC wants to charge their members are "unsustainable" and, combined with thin margins, are driving some stations out of the market.

Illinois Environmental Protection Agency
Internal Revenue Service
National Transportation Safety Board
Nebraska Attorney General's Office
New Jersey Attorney General's Office
New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection
New Jersey Supreme Court
New York Department of Financial Services
Occupational Safety and Health Administration
Ohio Attorney General's Office
Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission
Solicitors Regulation Authority
U.S. Air Force
U.S. Army
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit
U.S. Customs and Border Protection
U.S. Department of Commerce
U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of the Treasury
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia

Letter attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

DC Cannabis Lobby Taps Curaleaf Exec As New CEO

Cannabis industry lobbying group U.S. Cannabis Council has tapped an executive at multistate giant Curaleaf to be its next CEO, the organization announced Friday.

Read full article »

Ark. Justices To Let Anti-Pot Group Intervene In Ballot Battle

The Arkansas Supreme Court is allowing an anti-cannabis legalization group to intervene in a suit challenging the state Board of Elections' decision not to certify a ballot question to legalize cannabis for recreational use.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

Neb. Medical Pot Legalization Effort Fails To Qualify For Ballot

Two proposals to legalize medical marijuana in Nebraska failed to secure the required number of signatures and won't appear on the November ballot, state officials said Monday.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

HUD Chicago Finding Reflects Biden's Enviro Agenda

A recent final finding issued by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development regarding relocation of a Chicago recycling facility illustrates how leveraging nonenvironmental statutes to force change and address environmental justice issues can work in practice, say J. Michael Showalter and Samuel Rasche at ArentFox Schiff.

Read full article »

Crypto Money Transmitters Must Beware Regulatory Scrutiny

A recent Connecticut advisory on unlicensed money transmissions is part of a broader state and federal enforcement trend and should warn digital asset transmitters that regulators are watching and pursuing heavy fines, and prosecutors may seek criminal charges, for licensure or anti-money laundering program deficiencies, say attorneys at Ballard Spahr.

Read full article »

A Cautionary Tale On Diversity Jurisdiction From The 6th Circ.

The Sixth Circuit's recent opinion in Akno 1010 Market St. v. Pourtaghi highlights the importance of properly establishing citizenship of all parties before filing a federal lawsuit under diversity jurisdiction rules, and shows how overlooking jurisdiction issues could undo years of litigation, say Lauren Snyder and Charles Loeser at Harris Wiltshire.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

U.S. District Court for the District of Connecticut
U.S. District Court for the District of Maine
U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan
U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Louisiana
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Michigan
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. Forest Service
U.S. General Services Administration
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Navy
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the District of South Dakota
United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio
United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio

LEGAL INDUSTRY

'Grizzly Scouts' Member Linked To Court Killing Gets 10 Years

A California federal judge sentenced a "Grizzly Scouts" militia member Monday to 10 years for sexually enticing a minor and six months for obstructing an investigation into the killing of a Federal Protective Service security guard outside a district courthouse, while acknowledging that six months for obstruction seems too low.

Read full article »

Boies Conflict Letter In FirstEnergy Case Released By Judge

An Ohio federal judge on Monday rebuffed accusations that he improperly withheld documents from lawyers involved in a lawsuit revolving around a FirstEnergy Corp.
bribery scandal, saying that his battle with COVID-19 prevented him from revealing that Boies Schiller Flexner LLP withdrew its request to take over the case due to a possible conflict.

Read full article »

Twitter Founder Drawn Into Del. Fight Over $44B Musk Deal

Twitter Inc. founder Jack Dorsey was swept up Monday in the tidal wave of subpoenas triggered by Elon Musk's attempted breakout from a $44 billion offer to buy the social media company, with Delaware's Court of Chancery now planning an argument on a separate discovery dispute.

Read full article »

Zillow Says Antitrust Foe Didn't Preserve Workers' Laptops

Zillow has accused REX-Real Estate Exchange of failing its discovery obligations, asserting that the brokerage firm gave away laptops as "severance" when hemorrhaging workers as part of a business nosedive allegedly triggered by anti-competitive National Association of Realtors listing services rules.

Read full article »

SRA Floats Changes To Fines For Law Firms And Attys

The Solicitors Regulation Authority laid out plans Monday to change its approach to fining law firms and attorneys as it looks to resolve cases more quickly and reduce costs, including setting fixed fines for low-level misconduct and tying other penalties to firm income.

Read full article »

[redacted]

Criminal Barristers Vote For Indefinite Strike Over Pay

The Criminal Bar Association said Monday that its members have voted to stage an indefinite, uninterrupted walkout because long-standing grievances with the government over pay for legal aid work remain unaddressed.

Read full article »

Catching Up With Delaware's Chancery Court

Shareholders of Santander Consumer USA, La Jolla Pharmaceutical, Nektar Therapeutics and Inovalon Holdings filed new suits in Delaware's Court of Chancery last week, and attorneys for billionaire Elon Musk and Twitter Inc. deforested a small hillside to document an increasing number of discovery disputes.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions

Illinois Attorney General's Office

-, -

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Fauci to Retire This Year
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 23/08/2022 06:05

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 23, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

[redacted]

TODAY'S TOP NEWS

- Dr. Anthony Fauci, head of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases and President Joe Biden's chief medical adviser, said he will leave the federal government in December, ending a nearly four-decade tenure that saw him serve as the public face of the country's responses to COVID-19, AIDS, Ebola, Zika and other infections. Fauci, 81, said he's stepping down in good health and is looking forward to being "able to do something else on the next stage or a few years of my career," while Republicans were quick to say they'd call him back to Capitol Hill for congressional testimony should they reclaim the majority in the midterm elections. (Politico)

- The Food and Drug Administration will consider a new request from Pfizer Inc. and BioNTech SE to grant emergency use authorization for the drugmakers' reformulated COVID-19 booster targeting the BA.5 omicron variant, with a decision following data review expected sometime next month. (NBC News) The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention cleared Novavax Inc.'s protein-based COVID-19 vaccine for use in children ages 12 to 17, following FDA authorization for the shot last week. (Reuters)

- Researchers in Beijing found that the incubation period for COVID-19 has shortened with each subsequent variant, with data showing an average of five days for an alpha infection compared to 3.42 days with omicron. The study, published in the JAMA Network Open journal, also noted that the COVID-19 incubation period is longer than other notable respiratory viral infections, and that prolonged internal replication before the onset of symptoms makes it more difficult to stop the infection. (Bloomberg)

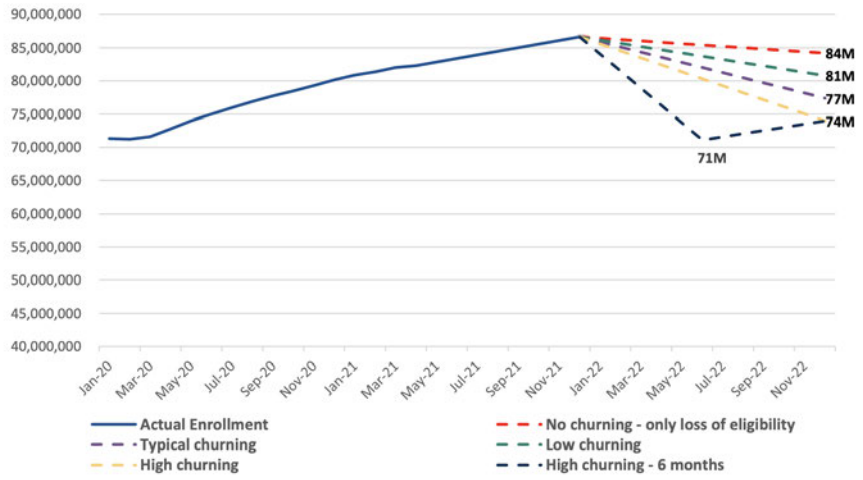
- The CDC released data showing that life expectancy in all 50 states and Washington, D.C. declined from 2019 to 2020, a fact primarily attributable to the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic and "unintentional injuries" like drug overdoses. Life expectancy for the country overall during that period was 77.0 years, down 1.8 years, while Southern states tended to have the lowest levels of life expectancy and states in the Northeast and West typically fared best. (ABC News)

CHART REVIEW

Unwinding the Medicaid Continuous Enrollment Provision: Projected Enrollment Effects and Policy Approaches

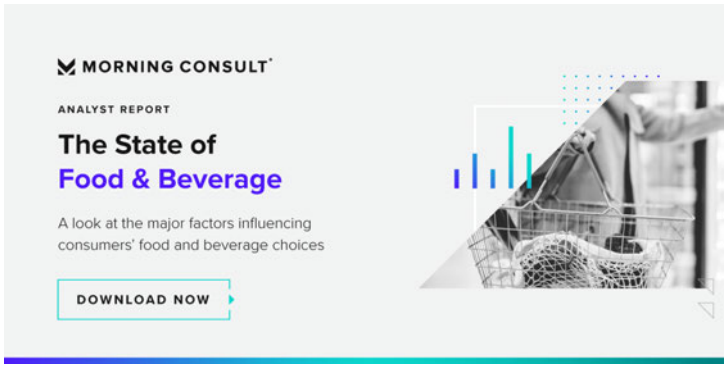
Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation, Department of Health and Human Services

Figure 2. Projected Medicaid Coverage Loss During 12 Months of 2022 Under Alternative Assumptions About Rates of Administrative Churning



Source: Analysis of SIPP treating March 2015-Nov. 2016 as analogous to March 2020-Dec. 2021 PHE, among enrollees ever-enrolled in Medicaid during the 21-month period. New monthly Medicaid enrollment in 2021 based on monthly enrollment January-April 2021.

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



The State of Food and Beverage: August 2022

Cost pressures brought on by inflation are trickling into many consumers' decisions, from where to source groceries to when to cook meals at home.

Morning Consult's semiannual State of Food & Beverage report tracks evolving consumer behaviors in the food & beverage sector and what they mean for the future of the industry. Download the report.

WHAT ELSE YOU NEED TO KNOW

CORONAVIRUS

Your first brush with coronavirus could affect how a fall booster works

Carolyn Y. Johnson, The Washington Post

As omicron-specific boosters near, scientists debate how 'original antigenic sin' will influence immune responses.

Cognitive rehab may help clear covid-related brain fog in older adults

Judith Graham, The Washington Post

In a recent development, some medical centers are offering cognitive rehabilitation to patients with long covid (symptoms that persist several months or longer after an infection that can't be explained by other medical conditions). According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, about 1 in 4 older adults who survive covid-19 have at least one persistent symptom.

Scientists developing home tests that measure protection against Covid-19

Edward Chen, Stat News

A new study, published Monday in Cell Reports Methods, presents a simple test to detect neutralizing antibodies against SARS-CoV-2, using little more than a finger prick and a testing cartridge. The approach, if it bears out in large-scale testing and receives the blessing of regulatory agencies, could one day offer a cheap, easy option to measure protection against the virus.

Republicans vow to keep investigating Fauci after he leaves government

Emily Brooks, The Hill

"Retirement can't shield Dr. Fauci from congressional oversight," House Oversight and Reform Committee ranking member James Comer (R-Ky.) said in a statement. Comer would likely become the chair of the committee in a Republican majority.

Walmart Beats Suit Over Refusal to Fill Ivermectin Prescription

Mary Anne Pazanowski, Bloomberg Law

Walmart Inc. escaped a lawsuit over its refusal to fill prescriptions for controversial Covid-19 treatments, as a federal court in Minnesota said health-care providers have no legal obligation to provide any and all treatments demanded by patients.

GENERAL

More trigger bans loom as 1 in 3 women lose most abortion access post-Roe

Katie Shepherd et al., The Washington Post

Two months after the Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade, about 20.9 million women have lost access to nearly all elective abortions in their home states, and a slate of strict new trigger laws expected to take effect in the coming days will shut out even more.

U.S. plan to stretch monkeypox vaccine supply runs into problems

Helen Branswell and Theresa Gaffney, Stat News

The Biden administration's plan to stretch supplies of monkeypox vaccine by giving people fractional doses of the product is running into problems, with some local health officials saying they are unable to extract the targeted number of doses from vials.

Idaho Lawmakers Walk Back Abortion Crackdown to Assuage US Judge

Joel Rosenblatt, Bloomberg

Idaho lawmakers offered to revise a plan to prosecute doctors for performing abortions to allow emergency health exceptions after a judge said the state's strict enforcement may run afoul of federal law.

Even After Recount, Anti-Abortion Activists Will Keep Fighting Kansas Vote Results

Kelsey Butler, Bloomberg

Anti-abortion activists are calling for a second recount in a Kansas election that saw voters resoundingly reject an effort to allow new restrictions on abortion access. The move comes amid baseless conspiracy theories over voter fraud and underscores a growing movement on the right for election deniers to challenge results they don't agree with.

Polio Vaccines Are Urged in New York as Once-Defeated Virus Lurks

Brianna Abbott, The Wall Street Journal

Health officials said they have sent alerts to healthcare providers, hung fliers in houses of worship, grocery stores and summer camps, and talked with community leaders to boost polio vaccination rates in the greater New York City area. Some places including Rockland and Orange counties have polio vaccination rates around 60% among eligible children, compared with a national rate of around 93%, according to federal data.

Zapping the brain with electricity boosts older people's memory

Megan Molteni, Stat News

Sending weak electrical current into the brain for 20 minutes a day for four days in a row reversed declines in working and long-term memory that come with aging, scientists reported Monday in Nature Neuroscience. The researchers found that the effects lingered even after the electricity was turned off. When they tested subjects a month later, many of the improvements from the brief sessions of brain stimulation remained.

The Preventable Tragedy of Polio in New York

Dhruv Khullar, The New Yorker

Polio is one of the few diseases that can be eradicated—but faltering vaccination rates could undo years of hard-won global progress.

For CDC, monkeypox prevention focus remains on vaccines

Ariel Cohen, Roll Call

While the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has urged LGBTQ men to limit their sexual partners during this outbreak, the preponderance of its public-facing messaging has focused on vaccine acquisitions and where to get the shots, not prevention.

About half of men who have sex with men reduced sexual activity due to monkeypox: survey Joseph Choi, The Hill

Roughly half of men who have sex with men have reported reducing their number of sexual partners and encounters in response to the monkeypox outbreak, according to a survey released on Monday by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

Overlapping emergencies strain the nation's public health workforce and threaten critical vaccination campaigns

Brenda Goodman, CNN

Health officials are banking on vaccinations to contain monkeypox and polio before those become standing threats in the United States. They're counting on updated boosters to restore waning immunity against Covid-19. With influenza expected back in the US this fall, flu shots could be critical to prevent severe illness and keep hospitals from becoming overwhelmed.

California Wants to Snip Costs for Vasectomies and Condoms

Rachel Bluth, Kaiser Health News

California lawmakers are now considering a bill that would expand that requirement to male sterilization and non-prescription birth control, including condoms and contraceptive sponges. If the Contraceptive Equity Act of 2022 passes, commercial insurance plans regulated by the state won't be allowed to impose out-of-pocket costs, like copays, coinsurance, and deductibles, on those modes of birth control.

A Teen's Journey Into the Internet's Darkness and Back Again

Matt Richtel, The New York Times

As anxiety and depression soar among adolescents, researchers struggle to understand how exactly social media affects mental health.

PAYERS

Wyden Seeks Info on Questionable Medicare Marketing Activity

Tony Pugh, Bloomberg Law

A rising number of complaints have prompted Senate Finance Committee Chairman Ron Wyden to seek information about "potentially deceptive" marketing tactics of Medicare prescription drug plans and private Medicare managed care plans.

State Medicaid Programs Pushed on Nursing Home Quality, Safety

Tony Pugh, Bloomberg Law

The Biden administration issued guidance urging states to tie Medicaid nursing home payments to quality measures in order to improve safety and quality of care and ensure that facilities are properly staffed and resourced.

Abortion Bans Trip Over States' Past Efforts to Fight Obamacare

Alex Ebert, Bloomberg Law

State constitutional amendments fueled by a backlash against the Affordable Care Act are now forcing courts to confront the very meaning of "health care" where abortion is against the law.

Insurtech shift focus to near-term profitability

Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare

This time last year, a gaggle of buzzy health insurance startups justified big investments as key to their aggressive growth plans. Now, these same companies are pulling back and instead pursuing a novel business strategy: earning profits.

PROVIDERS

States Get $25 Million to Expand Access to Home Health Services

Bloomberg Law

The Department of Health and Human Services awarded approximately $25 million in planning grants through the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services to five states and territories to expand home and community-based services access with Medicaid's Money Follows the Person demonstration program, the HHS said Monday.

CommonSpirit to launch nation's largest nursing residency program

Alex Kacik, Modern Healthcare

In his first weeks as CEO of CommonSpirit Health, Wright Lassiter is focusing on a few key priorities he says will help the largest not-for-profit system in the country navigate a post-COVID world.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Guidance on Charging for Unapproved Drugs Undergoes Update

Jeannie Baumann, Bloomberg Law

Drug companies and researchers looking to charge for investigational medications at cost will have more direction from US regulators on how to submit their paperwork.

Gilead, Cipla Lose Bid to End Health Plan's Suit Over HIV Drugs

Mike Leonard, Bloomberg Law

Gilead Sciences Inc. and Cipla Ltd. must face antitrust litigation over their alleged scheme to delay generic versions of Gilead's blockbuster HIV drugs through illegal patent settlements, a federal judge in Oakland, Calif., ruled, though he did trim part of the case.

Medtronic's New Legal Chief Got $11.7 Million After 3M Departure

Tiana Headley, Bloomberg Law

Ivan Fong, the top lawyer at medical device company Medtronic Plc, had a pay package valued at more than $11.7 million in his first year on the job.

Major Indian generic drugmaker closes a U.S. facility after years of manufacturing problems

Ed Silverman, Stat News

After a decade of manufacturing problems, a U.S. federal court ordered a unit of Wockhardt, one of the largest makers of generic drugs, to refrain from making allegedly adulterated medicines at a facility in Illinois. However, the U.S. subsidiary, Morton Grove Pharmaceuticals, recently decided to discontinue operations at the site, according to court documents.

Lifesaving cancer treatment out of reach for rural people

Debby Waldman, NBC News

CAR T-cell therapy eradicates cancer in some patients but remains inaccessible to people who live far from major cities with transplant centers.

Faster approval route sparks investment in rare kidney disease treatments

Isabella Cueto, Stat News

Recent years have seen a surge of research into rarer forms of kidney disease, with drug companies, regulators, and researchers alike hunting for ways to help patients who have few options.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

In early research, an AI model detects signs of Parkinson's using breathing patterns

Casey Ross, Stat News

The paper by researchers at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and several other institutions describes an artificial intelligence tool that can analyze changes in nighttime breathing to detect and track the progression of disease, which causes tremors and other serious issues with movement.

Anomaly rolls out AI tech to predict insurance claims denials

Heather Landi, Fierce Healthcare

Anomaly, a startup using artificial intelligence to streamline the healthcare billing and payments process, developed a tech solution to tackle this problem. The company's AI technology, called smart response, gives providers a real-time response predicting actionable denials and payment amounts—so providers can correct and avoid denials before they occur.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

China Should Rejoin the U.S. in the Opioid Crisis

Rahul Gupta, The Wall Street Journal

As a physician, I have treated people poisoned by these drugs in half a dozen states over the past 25 years. While clandestinely produced drugs such as fentanyl hardly ever leave China in their final form, precursor chemicals for these drugs often are imported by criminals from China to Mexico, where lethal synthetic drugs are produced and trafficked to countries across the globe, including the U.S.

The Biden administration needs to curtail crisis pregnancy centers

Susannah Baruch, Stat News

Although crisis pregnancy centers have been in operation for decades, they are now a particular threat to the work currently underway to ensure abortion access post-Dobbs.

Drug pricing reforms can hurt innovation. Here are 3 ways to prevent that.

Caleb Watney and Heidi Williams, The Washington Post

Giving billions of dollars in government prize money to drug companies might sound like an idea from the pharmaceutical industry. In fact, it was a sweeping 2013 proposal from Sen. Bernie Sanders (I-Vt.) using "innovation prizes" to put the cures of tomorrow and affordability of drugs today on equal footing.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Marijuana and hallucinogen use among young adults reached all-time high in 2021

[redacted]

National Institutes of Health

Marijuana and hallucinogen use in the past year reported by young adults 19 to 30 years old increased significantly in 2021 compared to five and 10 years ago, reaching historic highs in this age group since 1988, according to the Monitoring the Future (MTF) panel study. Rates of past-month nicotine vaping, which have been gradually increasing in young adults for the past four years, also continued their general upward trend in 2021, despite leveling off in 2020. Past-month marijuana vaping, which had significantly decreased in 2020, rebounded to pre-pandemic levels in 2021.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?

Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.

SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004

Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

[redacted]

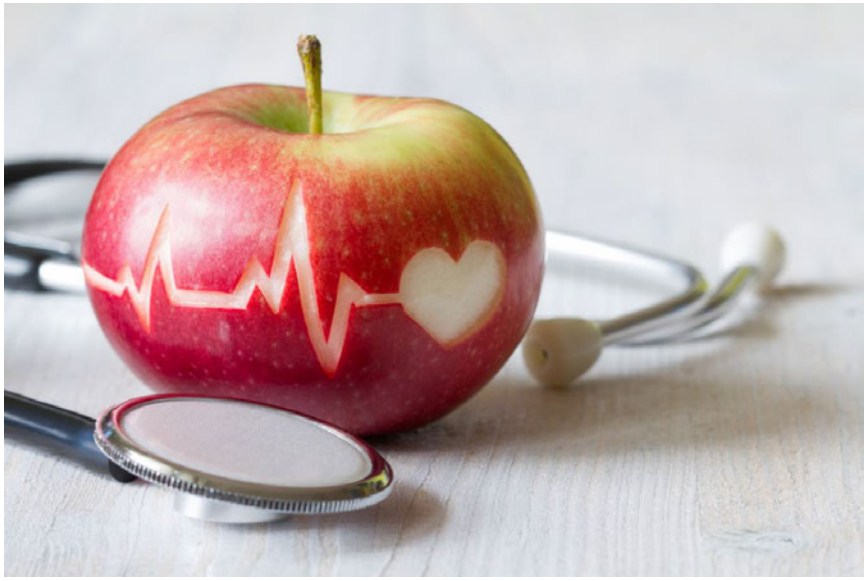
[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: August 23rd Wellness and Prevention Digest
FROM: Trust for America's Health <info@tfah.org>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 23/08/2022 08:16

Wellness and Prevention Digest

TODAY'S NEWS - August 23rd, 2022



Reports and Announcements

- Today, the Task Force on Hunger, Nutrition, and Health (Task Force) — an independent group of national leaders and experts convened by the Chicago Council on Global Affairs, Food Systems for the Future, the Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy at Tufts University, and World Central Kitchen — publicly released its comprehensive Report to inform the upcoming White House Conference on Hunger, Nutrition, and Health. On Wednesday, Aug. 31, the Task Force Co-Chairs will host a public webinar on the Report and its critical recommendations – register here.

[redacted]

- Earlier this month the, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (ATSDR), in partnership with the Department of Health and Human Services released the Environmental Justice Index (EJI). The EJI uses data from the U.S. Census Bureau, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the U.S. Mine Safety and Health Administration, and the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to rank the cumulative impacts of environmental injustice on health for every census tract. Census tracts are subdivisions of counties for which the Census collects statistical data. The EJI ranks each tract on 36 environmental, social, and health factors and groups them into three overarching modules and ten different domains.

- The NICHM Foundation has published a new infographic which highlights the dangers of extreme heat, the relationship with the built environment, ways for individuals to protect themselves, and solutions to promote heat mitigation and management.

Events

- The National Foundation for Infectious Diseases (NFID) is hosting two upcoming webinars:

    - Monkeypox Updates, August 24th: Join NFID for a discussion on the recent monkeypox outbreak in the US. Speakers will discuss the public health impacts of the disease along with prevention and treatment strategies.

    - The Benefits of Maternal Immunization: 2-For-1 Approach to Disease Prevention, August 30th: Join NFID and the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG) for a discussion on the importance of maternal immunization in protecting both mother and baby. Speakers will discuss current US immunization recommendations for pregnant women and best practices for making strong vaccine recommendations.

- An ad hoc committee formed by the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine will host a public webinar on September 9th and invites public input on federal policies that contribute to racial and ethnic health inequities, as well as potential solutions that could improve health equity. The committee is interested in hearing about lived experiences navigating federal programs and systems including barriers and solutions from community members and organizations.

- Join the Foundation for Social Connectedness for the 2022 End Social Isolation and Loneliness Action Forum from October 11th - 13th. This international three-day event aims to publicly raise the visibility of the social isolation and loneliness crisis, identify key innovations, promote federal and state policy solutions, and spur nationwide organizational commitments to action.

Take Action

- The Protecting the Health of America's Older Adults Act (H.R. 6302) would create a healthy aging program at CDC, including grants to states for public health approaches to healthy aging. A fact sheet to the bill, which includes a list of endorsing organizations, can be found here. To endorse the bill, fill out this form (no need to fill it in if your organization is already listed).

- The Improving Social Determinants of Health Act of 2021 (S. 104/H.R. 379) would create a SDOH program at CDC, including grants to states for a public health approach to SDOH. A fact sheet to the bill, which includes a list of endorsing organizations, can be found here. To endorse the bill, fill out this form (no need to fill it in if your organization is already listed).

Funding Opportunity

- Participation in the Healthy Brain Initiative (HBI) Road Map Strategists offers the opportunity for local health departments and community partners to establish their agencies as leaders in dementia and receive national recognition for their efforts to advance public health action on Alzheimer's disease. Up to eight Local health departments or tribal health organizations will receive direct funding, training, and technical assistance to establish a part-time HBI Road Map Strategist, a public health professional serving as a system change agent, and translating guidance from the State and Local Public Health Partnerships to Address Dementia, The 2018-2023 Road Map into action. Sponsored by the Alzheimer's Association and the National Association of County and City Health Officials (NACCHO), this 13-month initiative runs from October 2022 through November 2023. As the second cohort of this initiative, participants will have the opportunity to network with peers from across the country who have implemented projects on topics such as dementia early detection, risk reduction, caregiver health, workforce development, and surveillance. Applications are due September 9, 2022. Local health departments and tribal health organizations are encouraged to apply.

Internship Opportunity

- TFAH is currently seeking motivated undergraduate students, graduate students, or recent graduates for our Fall 2022 internship program (September 2022 – December 2022). Interns will have the opportunity to work and gain knowledge on a range of public health policy-related issues, develop workplace skills, and receive general professional development and mentorship opportunities. Internships will be available in the following areas: Communications and Policy Research, Government Relations, and Policy Development. For more information, please view the full posting here.

Opportunities and Deadlines

Sign On Documents and Opportunities for Input

- The Providing Urgent Maternal Protections (PUMP) for Nursing Mothers Act (S. 1658) would close the coverage gap in the Break Time for Nursing Mothers law, ensuring an additional 9 million women of childbearing age have the right to time and space to pump breast milk during the workday. Organizational are invited to sign on to a joint letter urging the Senate to pass the bill. Signers will be added on a rolling basis.

- The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Hospitals Promoting Breastfeeding program helps fund critical initiatives to support breastfeeding families in hospitals, workplaces, and communities. Organizations are invited to sign on to a joint letter urging policymakers to increase investments in this program in fiscal year 2023. Signers will be added on a rolling basis.

- USDA is interested in learning from stakeholders how we can better meet the needs of customers seeking kosher or halal foods through The Emergency Assistance Food Program (TEFAP). So far, USDA has held discussions with several advocacy organizations, 9 State Agencies, and food banks in those states that serve communities with kosher and/or halal food needs. USDA is reviewing the information gathered through these conversations to determine some actions and next steps we can take to better meet the needs of customers seeking kosher and halal foods. USDA is interested in feedback from States and food banks in all States and territories about how to best meet their customers' needs. Feedback can always be shared with your State Agency or sent to USDAFoods@usda.gov.

- Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Health and the de Beaumont Foundation recently released the report Seven Ways Business Can Align with Public Health for Bold Action and Innovation. To support collaboration between business and public health, the organizations are collecting endorsements and stories of alignment, which are reflections on how organizations are applying recommendations from the report as well as endorsements, which will be accepted on a rolling basis.

Funding Opportunities and Awards

- Applications are open for the de Beaumont Foundation's Modernized Anti-Racist Data Ecosystems (MADE) for Health Justice grant opportunity. The grants seek to accelerate the development of health-focused local data ecosystems that center principles of anti-racism, equity, justice, and community power. Through MADE for Health Justice, non-profit organizations will be funded to build and facilitate multi sector teams tasked with creating local data ecosystems. These ecosystems must focus on improving community health, connecting data across multiple sectors of local government, prioritizing the needs and voices of communities oppressed by structural racism, and ultimately driving just and equity-centered decision making. The deadline to apply is August 31st.

- Participation in the Healthy Brain Initiative (HBI) Road Map Strategists offers the opportunity for local health departments and community partners to establish their agencies as leaders in dementia and receive national recognition for their efforts to advance public health action on Alzheimer's disease. Up to eight Local health departments or tribal health organizations will receive direct funding, training, and technical assistance to establish a part-time HBI Road Map Strategist, a public health professional serving as a system change agent, and translating guidance from the State and Local Public Health Partnerships to Address Dementia, The 2018-2023 Road Map into action. Sponsored by the Alzheimer's Association and the National Association of County and City Health Officials (NACCHO), this 13-month initiative runs from October 2022 through November 2023. As the second cohort of this initiative, participants will have the opportunity to network with peers from across the country who have implemented projects on topics such as dementia early detection, risk reduction, caregiver health, workforce development, and surveillance. Applications are due September 9, 2022. Local health departments and tribal health organizations are encouraged to apply.

- The Presidential Advisory Council on Combating Antibiotic-Resistant Bacteria (PACCARB) is currently soliciting nominations to fill 16 upcoming openings on the Council. Nine of the openings are for Voting member positions and seven are for Non-Voting Liaison positions. Interested parties can find the online application as well as additional details about the Council and nomination process on the PACCARB homepage. Deadline, September 12th.

- NIH's Office of Nutrition Research (ONR) has issued the notice of special interest (NOSI) Stimulating Research to Understand and Address Hunger, Food and Nutrition Insecurity. The purpose of this NOSI is to encourage research on the efficacy of interventions that address nutrition security and the mechanisms of food insecurity on a variety of health outcomes. It also calls for the development of new measures for nutrition security and assessment of food insecurity that are broadly applicable. It was developed by the ONR Implementation Working Group on Nutrition and Health Disparities in collaboration with NIH Institutes and Centers (ICs) and Offices in support of the goals and objectives of the Strategic Plan for NIH Nutrition Research. Deadline, October 5th.

- Healthy Eating Research, a national program of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, is funding research focused on how pandemic-driven social and economic programs and policies related to poverty reduction impact child obesity, diet quality, and food and nutrition security. Applications are open at this link with an October 12th deadline.

- The PHS Commissioned Officers Foundation (COF) for the Advancement of Public Health have announced the 2023 Barclay-Giel Seed Grants opportunity. Any 501c3 non-profit or local/state/tribe/tribal organization with a focus on public health. Grants will be open to all areas of public health, with the Surgeon General's Priorities of special interest. Specific topics of interest related to the COVID-19 pandemic include health misinformation, health worker burnout, and youth mental health. The application period will be September 8th - November 3rd, with awards being announced in February 2023.

- CDC's National Center for Injury Prevention and Control (NCIPC) is accepting applications for Injury Control Research Center (ICRC) grants. The ICRCs support NCIPC's priorities and mission through high-quality research, training, and outreach, as well as effective translation of scientific discoveries into practice for the prevention and control of injuries and violence. The application deadline is January 6th, 2023.

- The Center for Science in the Public Interest's (CSPI's) first round of grantmaking for 2022 is now open. CSPI seeks to support communities as they explore local, state, and federal policy interventions to elicit systemic change and advance a just and equitable food environment. CSPI is focused on identifying strategies and passing policies aimed at increasing purchasing power for, and access to, nutritious food that meets people's needs, supporting a healthier food environment, and reducing health disparities across demographic groups. Several opportunities are currently open, with details available here.

- Evidence for Action's released an open and rolling call for proposals, Innovative Research to Advance Racial Equity. Through this CFP they seek to fund researchers, practitioners, community leaders, advocates, policymakers, and/or other stakeholders to investigate the impacts of various social interventions on health and racial equity outcomes. They are interested in projects that develop and disseminate evidence about what works to advance racial equity and improve health and well-being outcomes for people and communities of color.

Other

- The National Headache Foundation (NHF) encourages physicians, physician assistants and nurse practitioners to help their patients experiencing headache and migraine issues by earning its Certificate of Added Qualification in Headache Medicine (AQH). The deadline for applying to NHF to take the certification exam is Aug. 23, and the Fall exam will be administered online in September. Qualifications for the AQH exam have been expanded to reflect the increased patient incidence of headache and migraine disorders and to encourage caregivers serving our nation's Veterans to become AQH certified. For more details and to register for the Fall AQH exam – https://headaches.org/aqh/

- Learn how your health department can protect workers and diners from COVID-19 with a new, video-based, interactive training developed by the Public Health Foundation, in partnership with the Food and Society Program at the Aspen Institute. The training, Safety First: Helping Restaurants Reduce the Spread of COVID-19, is now available through the TRAIN Learning Network.

- The National Headache Foundation (NHF) launched Primary Care Migraine, a new educational training program available at no cost to health practitioners. The program was announced by Tom Dabertin, Executive Director and Chief Executive Officer of the National Headache Foundation. The course also offers a diagnosis tool to assist one in quickly diagnosing migraines while interviewing and examining patients.

- Prevent Blindness is seeking applicants for the A.S.P.E.C.T. (Advocacy, Support, Perspective, Empowerment, Communication, and Training) Program, which aims to equip participants with the knowledge, skills, and confidence to become advocates for vision and eye health- at the individual, peer-to-peer, community, state, or national levels via an 8-week educational series.

Upcoming Events

Today's Additions in Red

U.S. Success and Failure after 10 Years of PrEP: Where Do We Go from Here?
Sponsored by PrEp4All and Johns Hopkins University
Tuesday, August 23rd, 3:00 p.m. (ET)
For more information and to register

Healthy People 2030: Civic Engagement as a Social Determinant of Health
Wednesday, August 24th, 1:00 - 2:00 p.m. (ET)
For more information and to register

Best Practices in Developing Health Equity Objectives: The Key to Unlocking State and Federal-Level Funding
Sponsored by the HHS Office of Minority Health (OMH), in partnership with the National Association of State Offices of Minority Health (NASOMH) and the Association of State and Territorial Health Officials (ASTHO)
Wednesday, August 24th, 2:00 p.m. (ET)

[redacted]

Email here for registration

Voting and Health: Actions for Every Sector
Sponsored by the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine
Roundtable on Population Health Improvement
Wednesday, August 31st, 3:00 p.m. (ET)
For more information and to register

How Advocates Can Influence Healthcare to Advance Equity
Sponsored by Raising the Bar
Tuesday, September 13th, 2:00 p.m. (ET)
For more information and to register

Exploring the Power of Youth Leadership in Creating the Conditions for Health and Equity
Sponsored by the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine
Roundtable on Population Health Improvement
Monday, September 19th, 12:00 - 7:30 p.m. (ET)
For more information and to register

Models for Strategic Planning to Coordinate Equity Efforts
Sponsored by Raising the Bar
Thursday, September 29th, 1:30 p.m. (ET)
For more information and to register

SHIFT Summit
Sponsored by GP RED
October 17th - 20th
Fort Collins, CO
For more information and to register

SOPHE Advocacy Summit
October 21st - 24th
Washington, DC
For more information and to register

Informing Workplace Practices and Policies to Advance Equity
Sponsored by Raising the Bar
Monday, October 24th, 3:00 (ET)
For more information and to register

2022 Mom and Baby Action Network Summit
Sponsored by March of Dimes
October 24th - 25th
Atlanta, GA and virtual
For more information and to register

Community Benefit 101
Sponsored by Catholic Health Association
October 25th - 27th - virtual
For more information and to register

[redacted]

2022 AICR Research Conference
October 31st - November 2nd
Leesburg, VA and virtual
For more information and to register

My City My Health Conference
Sponsored by The Healthy Project
Friday, November 11 9:00 – 3:00 p.m. (CT)
For more information and to register

Active Living Conference
Sponsored by GP RED
March 13th - 16th, 2023
Bethesda, MD
For more information and to register

SUBSCRIBE

CONTACT
TRUST FOR AMERICA'S HEALTH
1730 M ST NW
SUITE 900
WASHINGTON, DC 20036

P (202) 223-9870
F (202) 223-9871
E INFO@TFAH.ORG

Trust for America's Health | 1730 M Street NW, Suite 900, Washington, DC 20036

Unsubscribe hborski@utah.gov

Constant Contact Data Notice

Sent by info@tfah.org powered by

Try email marketing for free today!

SUBJECT: Starting Next Week! Two New Series on Adult Urology in Primary Care
FROM: ECHO Colorado <susan.stoveall@cuanschutz.edu>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 23/08/2022 10:07

ADULT UROLOGY IN PRIMARY CARE

The Adult Urology in Primary Care ECHO series aim to give primary care physicians and providers the baseline knowledge and skills needed to assess and manage common, non-surgical, urologic conditions in adults. These two, new ECHO series serve as a virtual space where primary care providers and specialists can collaborate to increase access to care for patients with urologic conditions. ECHO participation will also enable connections between healthcare providers, maximizing patient evaluation and facilitating consultations and co-management among primary care providers and specialists.

Register for one or both series using the links below.

ADULT UROLOGY IN PRIMARY CARE
LEARNING CASE CONFERENCE

Sessions will include a didactic presentation by an expert, opportunities for Q&A with the expert and case-based discussions. Participants are highly encouraged to bring de-identified patient cases for group discussion and expert consultation. See below for topics covered in each block. Resources and referral information will be shared throughout the series.

AUDIENCE

Colorado prescribing providers working in adult primary care

SCHEDULE

Sessions held virtually every first Friday of the month
12:00 - 1:00 PM MT
First session September 2

BLOCK 1

The Urinalysis and Urine Culture in Urology:
Common Questions and Pathologies

Sept. 2: The Urinalysis

Oct. 7: Evaluation of Microscopic Hematuria - Review of the Updated AUA Risk-Stratified Guidelines

Nov. 4: Bacteriuria in Non-Pregnant Adults: How do we define and manage asymptomatic bacteriuria vs UTI

Watch for information about Blocks 2 and 3.

SIGN UP FOR BLOCK 1

ADULT UROLOGY IN PRIMARY CARE OFFICE HOURS

This is a new, monthly, free, drop-in opportunity designed for Colorado-based primary care providers (MD, DO, NP, PA, APP) to discuss urology topics of their choice and receive feedback from a urology specialist. This ongoing series will allow participants to share de-identified cases, including de-identified patient imaging, and ask questions for peer-to-peer and specialist consultation to support one another in patient diagnosis and management.

Read more about Office Hours.

AUDIENCE

Colorado prescribing providers working in adult primary care

SCHEDULE

Sessions held virtually every second Friday of the month
12:00 - 1:00 PM MT
First session September 9

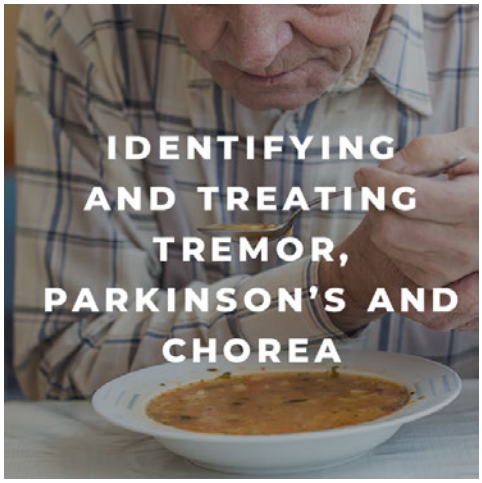
Registered participants can attend sessions at any time.
Series ends June 9, 2023. No Office Hours April 14, 2023.

SIGN UP FOR OFFICE HOURS

The new Urology in Primary Care ECHO series are offered through a partnership with:
University of Colorado School of Medicine Division of Urology

---

MORE UPCOMING ECHOS



EXTENSION FOR COMMUNITY HEALTH OUTCOMES | ECHOCOLORADO.ORG

Add us to your address book

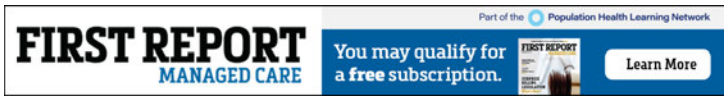
SUBJECT: Abortion Restrictions; Member Experience
FROM: First Report Managed Care <newsletter@firstreportnow.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 23/08/2022 10:23

THE LATEST

Policies to Roll Back Abortion Rights Will Hit Incarcerated People Particularly Hard

By Carly Graf, Kaiser Health News

Abortion restrictions will disproportionately impact incarcerated women who are pregnant by exacerbating barriers to quality care, prison reform advocates say.



COMMENTARY

Three Insights From Trailblaze 2022: Member Experience Is About Humanization

By Icario Team

In this commentary, the Icario team shares advice on how to connect with members better, elevate their experience, and improve outcomes.

IN THE NEWS

Cognitive Deficits Contribute to Economic Burden of Multiple Sclerosis

By Samantha Matthews

California Bill Would Eliminate Out-of-Pocket Costs for Vasectomies, Condoms

By Rachel Bluth, Kaiser Health News

Rates of Prostate Cancer Mortality Highest Among Men of African Ancestry

By Jolynn Tumolo

POPHEALTH PERSPECTIVES

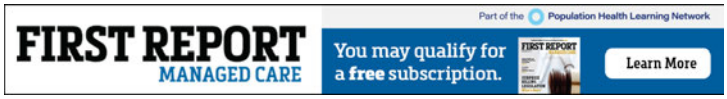
Inflation, Mobile Health's Impact on the Health Care

[redacted]

Industry

By Samantha Matthews

Keith Algozzine, founder and chief executive officer of UCM Digital Health, discusses how inflation is impacting the health care industry, areas of top concern, and how mobile health plays into the future of health care.



HMP Global

©2022 First Report Managed Care
70 E. Swedesford Road Suite 100, Malvern PA 19355
This email was sent to hborski@utah.gov
View in browser
Click here to unsubscribe
Privacy Policy

SUBJECT: Re: Agenda for August 26
FROM: Kirk Benge <kbenge@tricountyhealth.com>
TO: "Tamara Hampton (DHHS)" <thampton@utah.gov>
CC: HL-HAC <hl-hac@utah.gov>, "Nathan Checketts (DHS)" <natechecketts@utah.gov>
DATE: 23/08/2022 11:08

HAC members,

Almost everyone accepted the calendar invite. Is everyone planning to attend in person? Please let Tamara and I know if you are NOT planning to attend in-person, so we can plan accordingly.

Additionally, I have a small reading assignment in preparation for our afternoon discussion. I've attached a brief history of public health in Utah, also available at https://health.utah.gov/wp-content/uploads/A-HISTORY-OF-PUBLIC-HEALTH-IN-UTAH.pdf
I recommend reading the entire document, but at the very least, reading the section titled "THE CHALLENGE - PUBLIC HEALTH VS POLITICS" which starts on page 3 would be beneficial in adding some historical context to our afternoon discussions.

Kirk Benge
Director / Health Officer
TriCounty Health Department
133 S. 500 E.
Vernal, UT 84078
435.247.1172

On Mon, Aug 22, 2022 at 10:56 AM Tamara Hampton (DHHS) <thampton@utah.gov> wrote:
Attached is the agenda for the August 26th Health Advisory Council meeting.

[redacted]

[redacted]

The meeting will be held at the Capitol Board Room, at the State Capitol.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

--

Tamara Hampton
Executive Assistant
DHHS Executive Director's Office
801-520-9445
thampton@utah.gov

Utah Department of Health & Human Services

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.
--
You received this message because you are subscribed to the Google Groups "HL-HAC" group.
To unsubscribe from this group and stop receiving emails from it, send an email to hl-hac+unsubscribe@utah.gov.

SUBJECT: RVPHTC August Update: PH WINS Assistance & New Blog Posts!
FROM: Region V Public Health Training Center <rvphtc@umich.edu>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 23/08/2022 13:33

Public Health in Gear

A newsletter from the Region V Public Health Training Center

Updates

PH WINS Technical Assistance

[redacted]

Thank you for participating in the 2021 Public Health Workforce Interests and Needs Survey (PH WINS)! By now you should have received your individual agency or department coalition reports from the de Beaumont Foundation.

The Region V Public Health Training Center (RVPHTC) is available for additional no-cost technical assistance for agencies in IL, IN, MI, MN, OH, and WI to customize those reports to meet your needs. In partnership with the University of Minnesota Center for Public Health Systems, we can:

- Tabulate your data to examine crosstabs of interest
- Work with your state to compare to regional data
- Interpret your findings to inform a workforce development plan
- Curate or develop relevant trainings to meet your agency's identified needs

Please reach out to us at rv-phwins@umich.edu for additional information.

BLOG POSTS

FOUR COMMON MISCONCEPTIONS ABOUT ETHICS AND ETHICS COMMITTEES IN PUBLIC HEALTH

In the world of local public health, even well-intended, cost-effective, and legally sound initiatives can yield unintended consequences. Ethics committees and an established ethical reflection process can provide just the kind of guidance local health departments need.

This post comes from our partners at Grand Valley State University and the Kent County Health Department (MI).

Read Now

THE DIVIDED STATES OF HEALTHCARE IN POST-ROE AMERICA

The fall of Roe will sow further division in the nation's fragmented healthcare landscape and worsen health disparities... however, recent developments in medicine and technology may keep safe abortions within reach and spur innovative methods for overcoming abortion restrictions.

This post comes from a student in the RVPHTC field placement program.

Read Now

From Our Partners

SYSTEMS APPROACHES FOR HEALTHY COMMUNITIES

>From the University of Minnesota, Systems Approaches for Healthy Communities is a web-based, professional development program that promotes the integration of policy, systems, and environmental (PSE) change approaches with educational strategies. The program was designed for organizations* whose work focuses on health promotion, to help staff understand, reflect, and act on the many factors that influence whether individuals can easily make healthy choices.

For those unable to participate with an organization, the program has been adapted for individual participation.*

Cost: $75 per individual participant or $4,000 for organizations with up to 200 participants

Participation in the course offers 5 hours of continuing education.

Learn More

PARTICIPATE IN NACCHO'S PROFILE STUDY TO BE A PART OF THE LOCAL PUBLIC HEALTH PICTURE

NACCHO's 2022 National Profile of Local Health Departments (Profile) Study is here! All local health officials across the nation received the survey via email, and we hope you will complete it promptly to help us create a comprehensive picture of the local governmental public health infrastructure. NACCHO's Profile Study is a vital source of information for public health policy at the local, state, and federal levels—especially as local health departments are being reshaped by many economic, social, and political forces. To view findings from previous iterations of the Profile Study, visit NACCHO's website at www.naccho.org/profile.

Let's Connect!

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: High Costs for Health Plans; Biomarker Testing
FROM: First Report Managed Care <newsletter@firstreportnow.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 23/08/2022 14:56

[redacted]

FIRST REPORT
MANAGED CARE

THE LATEST

Alopecia Areata Associated With High Cost Burden for Health Plans, Adolescents

By Maria Asimopoulos

An analysis of real-world data revealed alopecia areata incurs a high burden for adolescent patients as well as health plans.

Advertisement

POPHEALTH PERSPECTIVES

Improving Biomarker Testing Rates in Metastatic Colorectal Cancer

By Maria Asimopoulos

Pashtoon Kasi, MD, MS, oncologist, director of colon cancer and liquid biopsy research, Weill Cornell Medicine, discusses why biomarker testing rates are low among patients with metastatic colon cancer, as well as what changes can be made to improve care.

IN THE NEWS

Policies to Roll Back Abortion Rights Will Hit Incarcerated People Particularly Hard

By Carly Graf, Kaiser Health News

California Bill Would Eliminate Out-of-Pocket Costs for Vasectomies, Condoms

By Rachel Bluth, Kaiser Health News

Cognitive Deficits Correlate With Economic Burden of Multiple Sclerosis

By Samantha Matthews

Advertisement

[redacted]

COMMENTARY

Three Insights From Trailblaze 2022: Member Experience Is About Humanization

By Icario Team

In this commentary, the Icario team shares advice on how to connect with members better, elevate their experience, and improve outcomes.

HMP Global

©2022 First Report Managed Care
70 E. Swedesford Road Suite 100, Malvern PA 19355
This email was sent to hborski@utah.gov
View in browser
Click here to unsubscribe
Privacy Policy

.

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: FDA to Authorize Omicron Boosters AroundLabor Day, Report Says
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 24/08/2022 06:09

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 24, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

TODAY'S TOP NEWS

- The Food and Drug Administration is eyeing authorization of the reformulated Pfizer Inc.-BioNTech SE and Moderna Inc. COVID-19 shots targeting the BA.4 and BA.5 omicron subvariants around Labor Day, according to two people familiar with the discussions, as the Biden administration readies its fall booster campaign for adults and teenagers. One source said the FDA will move forward on authorizing the vaccines without holding a meeting of the Vaccines and Related Biological Products Advisory Committee, while Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Director Rochelle Walensky could clear the updated shots soon after the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices' meeting on Sept. 1-2. (NBC News)

- Pfizer said the COVID-19 vaccine it developed with BioNTech was 73% effective in protecting babies and toddlers amid omicron's spread between March and June. Per the study, there were 21 positive cases among the 351 children younger than 5 who received dummy shots, compared with 13 cases among 794 kids in the same age bracket who received three vaccine doses. (The Associated Press)

[redacted]

- Bavarian Nordic A/S Chief Executive Paul Chaplin said demand for the Danish drugmaker's monkeypox vaccine is "exceeding our ability to deliver," prompting the company to consider the use of doses that have technically expired. (Reuters) An Oxford University team known for conducting trials on four effective COVID-19 treatments is turning its attention to monkeypox, with plans to test whether SIGA Technologies Inc.'s Tpoxx drug is effective against the disease. (Reuters)

- AstraZeneca PLC CEO Pascal Soriot said in an interview that he "can't be sure" whether the British drugmaker will stay in the COVID-19 vaccine business, after its shot — which still hasn't been authorized by U.S. regulators — was mired in production delays, questions about its shelf life and rare instances of serious side effects. Soriot said AstraZeneca is continuing to grow its slate of antibody therapies, covering COVID-19, RSV and other viruses. (Reuters)

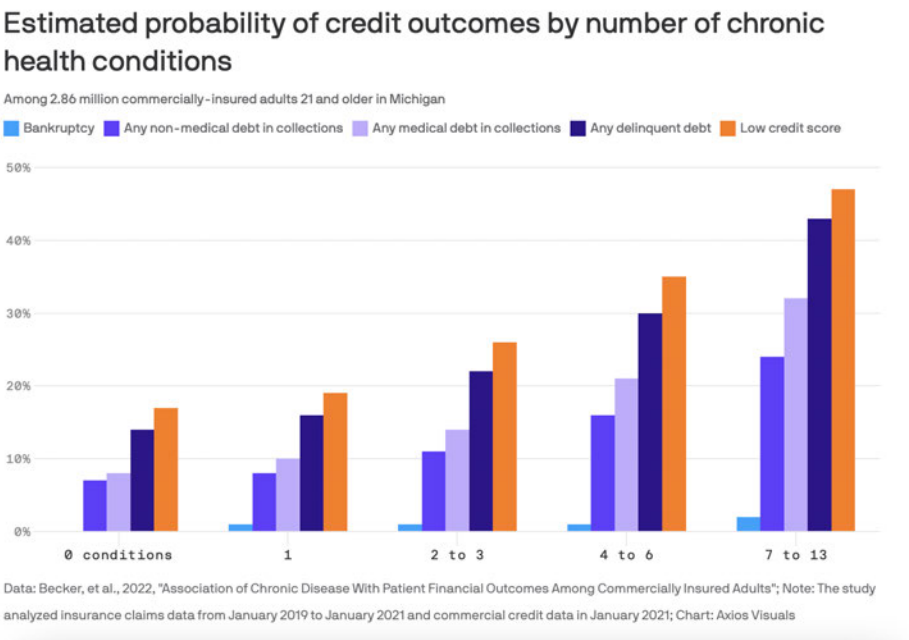
Worth watching today (all times local):

- 12 p.m. Kaiser Family Foundation web event on health care inflation in the United States.

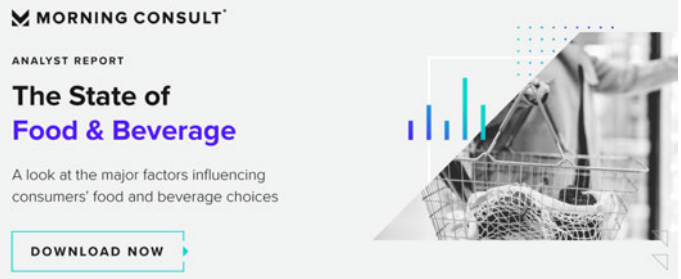
CHART REVIEW

Chronic conditions linked to financial hardships

Axios



A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



The State of Food and Beverage

Cost pressures brought on by inflation are trickling into many consumers' decisions, from where to source groceries to when to cook meals at home.

Morning Consult's semiannual State of Food & Beverage report tracks evolving consumer behaviors in the food & beverage sector and what they mean for the future of the industry. Download the report.

WHAT ELSE YOU NEED TO KNOW

CORONAVIRUS

Dr. Fauci on eradicating COVID-19 and emerging viruses like monkeypox

Becky Kellogg, USA Today

In a wide-ranging interview with USA TODAY, President Joe Biden's chief medical advisor and director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Disease says the world might be opening up again, but that doesn't mean the pandemic is behind us.

Anthony Fauci: COVID will be 'more of an endemic situation' when he retires in December

Nicholas Gordon, Fortune

COVID is "not going to be eradicated, and it's not going to be eliminated," Fauci said Tuesday on an interview with National Public Radio. Instead, the White House's chief medical advisor said COVID would become "something we can live with and doesn't disrupt us."

Should You Get a Covid-19 Vaccine Booster Shot? What to Know

Jared S. Hopkins and Felicia Schwartz, The Wall Street Journal

The Food and Drug Administration could clear modified booster shots from Pfizer Inc. and BioNTech SE and Moderna Inc. in the coming weeks.

GENERAL

U.S. to extend baby formula waivers for poor families through year-end

Alexandra Alper and Mrinalika Roy, Reuters

The Biden administration will extend through year end waivers that make it easier for low-income families to access baby formula through a government program, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) plans to announce.

White House strategy for monkeypox vaccines causing 'chaos out in the field'

Megan Messerly and Krista Mahr, Politico

The Biden administration's strategy for stretching scarce monkeypox shots is instead leading to fewer vaccinations and could worsen racial health disparities.

[redacted]

Advocates urge FDA action to ease policing fears in menthol ban

Lauren Clason, Roll Call

Experts and advocates are calling on the Biden administration to do more to avoid potential confrontations between police and racial minorities if the Food and Drug Administration finalizes a ban on menthol cigarettes.

Panel urges expanded free school meals ahead of hunger summit

Ellyn Ferguson, Roll Call

A high-powered task force is urging universal free meals for schoolchildren, removal of a ban on some felons receiving food stamps, and establishment of a "farmer corps" to provide internships to young farmers as part of a national effort to address hunger, nutrition and health.

Teens teach themselves sex-ed in the wake of Roe

Hannah Natanson, The Washington Post

Sweating in the sun, two dozen teenagers spread themselves across picnic blankets in a grassy park and prepared to discuss the facts of life they never learned in school. Behind them on a folding table, bouquets of pamphlets offered information teachers at school would never share — on the difference between medical and surgical abortions, and how to get them. Beside the pamphlets sat items adults at school would never give: pregnancy tests and six-packs of My Way Emergency Contraceptive.

Latest statins guidance keeps more conservative approach to preventing first stroke or heart attack

Jen Christensen, CNN

The US Preventive Services Task Force on Tuesday announced its latest guidelines on the use of statins to prevent a first heart attack or stroke. The recommendations are virtually unchanged from prior guidance but are now supported by additional research, the group said.

Yelp Will Issue Disclaimers on Crisis Pregnancy Centers

Ella Ceron, Bloomberg

Yelp's policy change means it now flags the centers, which often try to deter patients from getting abortions, as places that "provide limited medical services and may not have licensed medical professionals onsite." The rule will apply to religious and secular facilities in the US and Canada.

[redacted]

Abortion Funds Sue to Block Criminal Charges as Texas Ban Set to Take Effect

Laurel Brubaker Calkins, Bloomberg

Some providers of financial assistance to women seeking abortions sued Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton and local prosecutors to prevent them from filing criminal charges once the state's ban on the procedure goes into effect this week.

Why Experts Want to Rename Monkeypox

Andrew Jacobs, The New York Times

Public health researchers say the term evokes racist stereotypes, reinforces offensive tropes about Africa and abets stigmatization that can prevent people from seeking care.

Your Doppelgänger Is Out There and You Probably Share DNA With Them

Kate Golembiewski, The New York Times

That person who looks just like you is not your twin, but if scientists compared your genomes, they might find a lot in common.

Why some vaccinated people can still spread polio

Brenda Goodman, CNN

Unvaccinated and undervaccinated are at risk for severe disease, but the spread may not be obvious — in part because of a vaccine switch that happened more than two decades ago.

PAYERS

This is now the biggest driver of employers' health costs

Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare

Cancer has overtaken musculoskeletal conditions as the biggest driver of employer health costs, according to a new survey.

Insured patients become top reason for bad debt at providers

Caroline Hudson, Modern Healthcare

Almost 58% of patient bad debt in 2021 came from self-pay accounts after insurance, compared with about 11% in 2018, according to a recent study from professional services firm Crowe. Self-pay accounts after insurance include the deductible and amount due after the insurance payment.

15M Medicaid enrollees risk coverage loss when COVID-19 health emergency ends, HHS reports

Susan Kelly, Healthcare Dive

About 17% of enrollees in Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program, or 15 million people, could lose their coverage when states resume regular eligibility checks once the COVID-19 public health emergency ends, HHS projected in a report from the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation.

PROVIDERS

Doctors need 27 hours a day to provide recommended care: study

Heather Landi, Fierce Healthcare

Primary care clinicians need 26.7 hours per day to follow national recommended guidelines for preventive care, chronic disease care and acute care while seeing an average number of patients, according to a new simulation study

4 California healthcare organizations reach $71M False Claims settlement

Hailey Mensik, Healthcare Dive

A managed care company, an integrated health system and two nonprofit health systems in California have agreed to pay a combined $70.7 million to settle allegations of violating the federal False Claims Act, according to a Department of Justice release.

Providers score wins in new surprise billing rule, experts say

Robert King, Fierce Healthcare

Healthcare providers got most of what they wanted in a new final rule on how to handle disputes on out-of-network charges, but inconsistencies in how the rule is applied could be an issue, experts said.

Texas, Mississippi Support Abortion Law on Admitting Privileges

Mary Anne Pazanowski, Bloomberg Law

Texas and Mississippi are siding with Louisiana in a case urging the Fifth Circuit to revive a law that requires doctors who perform abortions to have admitting privileges at local hospitals in the state.

ChristianaCare-Crozer Health deal canceled

Lauren Berryman, Modern Healthcare

ChristianaCare Health System won't execute its planned acquisition of Crozer Health from Prospect Medical Holdings, the companies announced.

UPMC's operating income drops 86% during H1 2022

Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare

The Pennsylvania-based organization reported Tuesday nearly $12.5 billion in total operating revenues and over $12.4 billion in total operating expenses during the first half of 2022, yielding a net operating income of $82 million (0.7% operating margin).

Merger with SCL Health spurs Intermountain to $2.7B in net income

Rebecca Pifer, Healthcare Dive

Intermountain Healthcare reported net income of $2.7 billion in the first six months of the year, despite a heavy loss on investments and flagging operating income.

Advocate Aurora Health down $601M halfway through 2022

Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare

Following a tight first quarter, Advocate Aurora Health managed to grow its operating margin but still landed negative due to $400 million in investment losses during the quarter ended June 30, according to financial filings.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Fauci's Departure Opens Door for Next-Gen Biomedical Leaders

Jeannie Baumann, Bloomberg Law

Anthony S. Fauci's departure gives the Biden administration an opportunity to install the next generation of US leadership in biomedical research, but it must move swiftly with a Senate that's losing some key NIH allies.

Medtronic kicks off 2023 fiscal year with slipping revenues

Andrea Park, Fierce Biotech

For the first quarter of its fiscal 2023—which began April 30—Medtronic reported global revenues of just over $7.37 billion. That's about an 8% drop from the almost $8 billion it took in this time last year, and it's also 9% lower than the company's revenues in its last reported period, when it closed out the fourth quarter of fiscal 2022 with $8.1 billion.

Democrats' drug pricing law puts cancer drugs in the spotlight

Caitlin Owens and Victoria Knight, Axios

Democrats' new drug pricing law will likely deliver a financial blow to one of the fastest-growing and most lucrative segments of the pharmaceutical industry: cancer drugs.

Magic Mushrooms' Legal Status Is Leading a Psychedelics Boom

Kristen V Brown and Drake Bennett, Bloomberg Businessweek

The medical benefits of psychedelic drugs have gone from Age of Aquarius punchline to solid science, but the startups racing to market might still be getting ahead of themselves.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Providers, HIT groups seek clarity on Oct. 6 data blocking regs

Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare

Twenty-eight health IT professional associations, provider organizations and other stakeholders are asking the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) for more clarity and flexibility on how best to implement federal information blocking regulations set to go into effect Oct. 6.

NYC Health + Hospitals expands tele-behavioral health services

Susan Kreimer, Fierce Healthcare

NYC Health + Hospitals plans to launch and integrate a new tele-behavioral health service into its virtual urgent care platform focusing on the needs of vulnerable and homeless New York residents, a chronically underserved community.

Epic's Cosmos platform to gain clinical-trial matching tool

Jessica Kim Cohen, Modern Healthcare

Epic Systems is adding tools that connect patients to clinical trials and bring together doctors treating patients with similar rare conditions through its Cosmos life sciences research platform, executives said at a company event Tuesday.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

Anthony Fauci's Retirement Marks the End of an Era

Gregg Gonsalves, The New York Times

AIDS. SARS. H1N1 influenza. Ebola. Covid-19. Monkeypox. Infectious disease outbreaks often come and go, though some persist over the long haul, much like the man who has occupied the campus of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md., as director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases since 1984: Dr. Anthony Stephen Fauci.

I'm a doctor. Here's why my kids won't wear masks this school year.

Leana S. Wen, The Washington Post

For the first year of the coronavirus pandemic, my family and I were extremely cautious. I gave birth in April 2020, shortly after covid-19 hit. To protect the baby, my husband and I pulled our then-2-year-old son out of preschool. We socialized outdoors only, at a safe distance from others. I limited indoor activities to work and grocery shopping, and I was never without my N95.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Using Health Insurance Reform to Reduce Disparities Diabetes Care

Christine Monahan and Jalisa Clark, The Commonwealth Fund

Disparities in diabetes prevalence and outcomes between non-Hispanic white people and people of color in the United States are well established. Black and Hispanic patients have higher rates of hospitalizations and emergency department use related to complications from diabetes than do other populations.

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004

Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

[redacted]

SUBJECT: BPC Health News: Views on the Opioid Crisis and Telehealth afterDobbs
FROM: "G. William Hoagland" <health@bipartisanpolicy.org>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 24/08/2022 08:27

Bipartisan Policy Center

News from BPC's Health Program

In this edition: new blogs on the opioid crisis, mental health, and a post-Dobbs telehealth landscape. Also, a 2020 policy recommendation from the rural health task force is highlighted. For more information on BPC's Health Program, visit our website or contact us at health@bipartisanpolicy.org.

[redacted]

New Content

Blog: Dobbs and Telehealth: What's the Impact?
Health Policy Director Oliver Kim discusses the post-Dobbs health care landscape as it relates to BPC's work on telehealth and interstate licensing.

Guest Blog: The 988 Suicide and Crisis Lifeline Is Live: Now What?
Panelists from our June event on the 988-rollout come together for a guest blog to address some outstanding questions regarding 988's implementation.

Blog: Congress is Getting Serious About America's Mental Health Challenges
Senior Policy Analyst Kendall Strong highlights the importance of the recently signed Bipartisan Safer Communities Act (BSCA) (P.L. 117-159). BPC applauds Congress and the president for the gains this legislation will make in addressing the mental health crisis.

Blog: Views on the U.S. Opioid Crisis: A BPC-Morning Consult Poll
Senior Policy Analyst Michele Gilbert and intern Lydia Colvin break down the main takeaways from a BPC-Morning Consult Poll on the public's views of the misuse of opioids in the U.S.

Event: National Convening to Inform White House Conference on Hunger, Nutrition, and Health
BPC and Tufts University co-host the National Convening to Inform the White House Conference on Hunger, Nutrition, and Health, a discussion on the opportunities and challenges facing food and nutrition in the U.S.

To see all our content, click here.

In Case You Missed It

Podcast: BPC Weekly Episode 105
BPC's Health Policy Director Oliver Kim explained how insurance coverage, interstate travel, and the practice of medicine will be impacted by the Roe v. Wade ruling.

Event: COVID-19: State of the Pandemic
Experts discussed the current state of the COVID-19 pandemic and whether Americans are still taking advantage of vaccines, masks, and tests to help mitigate the health impacts of the virus. White House Coronavirus Response Coordinator Ashish Jha, MD, MPH provided opening remarks for this event.

Event: The Impact of COVID-19 on the Rural Health Care Landscape
BPC hosted an event to highlight recommendations in our recent report on the rural health care landscape.

Blog: Strengthening SNAP: Opportunities in the 2023 Farm Bill

Brief: Leveraging Digital Technology to Enable a More Equitable Distribution of the Health Care Workforce

---

BPC in the News

C-SPAN | Dr. Anand Parekh on the Federal Response to Health Challenges
Dr. Anand Parekh talked about how the federal government could best respond to current and future public health challenges.

Health Affairs | OpEd: Medicare Should Cover Marriage And Family Therapists, Mental Health Counselors
BPC's 2020 Rural Health Task Force recommendation to include Marriage and Family Therapists and mental health counselors as Medicare-eligible providers is highlighted.

[redacted]

Ideas. Action. Results.

We fight to create a better future for all Americans through lasting, bipartisan policy change.

Your support helps us achieve that goal.

Donate Today

Bipartisan Policy Center

1225 Eye Street NW
Suite 1000
Washington. DC, 20005
202 - 205 - 2400
bipartisanpolicy.org

Subscription Preferences | Unsubscribe

SUBJECT: Fwd: DNPAO Media Monitor 8-24-2022
FROM: "Brett Mciff (DHHS)" <bmciff@utah.gov>
TO: Alysia Ducuara <alysia@gethealthyutah.org>, Amy Bate <abate@tooelehealth.org>, Anni McKinnon <AMcKinnon@slco.org>, "Braby, Sara" <sbraby@utah.gov>, Brian Hatch <Brianl@daviscountyutah.gov>, Carrie Bennett <carrieb@utahcounty.gov>, Dacota Shell <dacota.shell@tooelehealth.org>, "Edwards, Eric" <ericse@utahcounty.gov>, Elizabeth wright <emwright@utah.gov>, Emily Jewkes <ejewkes@brhd.org>, "Fitzgerald, Jonelle" <jfitzgerald@co.wasatch.ut.us>, Heather Risbeck Borski <hborski@utah.gov>, Isa <isa@daviscountyutah.gov>, Ivy Melton Sales <Ivy@daviscountyutah.gov>, Janae Duncan <janaeduncan@utah.gov>, Jeff Coombs <jcoombs@tooelehealth.org>, Kaylie Lake <KaylieL@utahcounty.gov>, Lindsey McOmie <LindseyM@utahcounty.gov>, "Marvidikis, Debbie" <dmarvidikis@utah.gov>, Mele Lokotui <mlokotui@tooelehealth.org>, Morgan Hadden <morgan@gethealthyutah.org>, Shelley Worley <sworley@summitcounty.org>, "Sherwood,Bryce" <bsherwood@co.weber.ut.us>, "Tubbs, Jeramie" <jtubbs@tricountyhealth.com>, "Wiese, Farrin" <fwiese@brhd.org>
CC: "Laura Holtrop Kohl (DHHS)" <lholtrop@utah.gov>, "John Stuligross (DHHS)" <jstuligross@utah.gov>, "Linnea Fletcher (DHHS)" <linneafletcher@utah.gov>
DATE: 24/08/2022 09:16

FYI

Brett McIff, PhD, PAPHS
Physical Activity Coordinator
Healthy Environments Active Living (HEAL) Program
O: 801.538.6530
Bmciff@utah.gov
https://heal.health.utah.gov/

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Population Health

[redacted]

[redacted]

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: DNPAO Media Monitor <CommHealthMediaMonitor@fhi360.org>
Date: Wed, Aug 24, 2022 at 9:06 AM
Subject: DNPAO Media Monitor 8-24-2022
To: <bmciff@utah.gov>

View this email in your browser

DNPAO Daily Media Monitor

August 24, 2022

Table of Contents

Access to Healthy Food

- "Congressman Jim Costa announces nearly $1 million to tackle food insecurity in the San Joaquin Valley – Sixteen rural communities including Coarsegold, Goshen, Ivanhoe and Oakhurst to receive support," Sierra Sun Times 8/22/2022 (California)
- "The push for free school meals in Minnesota," CBSNews 8/22/2022 (St. Paul, MN)
- "State ups its investment to $1.5M in North Flint Food Market," MLive 8/23/2022 (Flint, MI)
- "LEAF bringing fresh food to Carterville at pop-up market," WPSD Local 6 8/23/2022 (Carterville, IL)

Physical Activity

- "New kinesiology program aims to boost middle school girls' love of physical activity, sports," School of Education 8/23/2022 (Madison, WI)

Obesity

- "From obesity to tooth decay, how these 4 beverages harm the children," Samachar Central 8/24/2022
- "Supporting healthy eating habits to fight childhood obesity," My Fox 8 8/23/2022 (High Point, NC)

Breastfeeding

- "Black and brown moms urge breastfeeding support," Ms. Magazine 8/22/2022
- "Pregnancy: 7 best superfoods for breastfeeding women," NDTV 8/23/2022

Access to Healthy Food

Congressman Jim Costa announces nearly $1 million to tackle food insecurity in the San Joaquin Valley – Sixteen rural communities including Coarsegold, Goshen, Ivanhoe and Oakhurst to receive support
8/22/2022 — California
Last week, Congressman Jim Costa (CA-16) and the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Under Secretary for Rural Development Xochitl Torres Small announced nearly $1 million in emergency rural health care grants for the Central California Food Bank to tackle food insecurity and support healthy outcomes in communities across the San Joaquin Valley. "The American Rescue Plan continues to deliver bold solutions to tackling food insecurity in America," said Costa.

[redacted]

Read full article here.

The push for free school meals in Minnesota
8/22/2022 — St. Paul, MN
A new pilot program Minnesota is a part of is helping tens of thousands more students get free meals when they head back to school this year. Federal funding made it possible for all students to receive free meals during the COVID pandemic, but that ended in June. A school lunch on average costs $3.25. For a family of four that's $150 a month.
Read full article here.

State ups its investment to $1.5M in North Flint Food Market
8/23/2022 — Flint, MI
The state is adding to its investment in the North Flint Food Market, a grocery co-op that backers say is nearly 80 percent complete but which still needs additional cash to open its doors in 2023. The Michigan Strategic Fund Board voted Tuesday, Aug. 23, to amend a grant given more than a year ago to the North Flint Reinvestment Corporation for the project, increasing its contribution from $1.25 million to $1.5 million.
Read full article here.

LEAF bringing fresh food to Carterville at pop-up market
8/23/2022 — Carterville, IL
The Little Egypt Alliance of Farmers will hold a pop-up market in front of Farm Fresh following the loss of the local IGA grocery store. The market — a collaboration between LEAF and non-profit Food Works — will be held Thursdays during the fall of 2022. According to the release, it's just the first step in a joint-project to launch a Community Mobile Farmer Market.
Read full article here.

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Starting Next Week! Two New Series on Adult Urology in Primary Care
FROM: ECHO Colorado <susan.stoveall@cuanschutz.edu>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 24/08/2022 09:37

Obesity

From obesity to tooth decay, how these 4 beverages harm the children
8/24/2022
As a mother, you are always concerned about your child's health. From taking care of your little one to making sure they eat a nutritious diet, as a parent, you are always on the lookout for the well-being of your kid. Children often have the habit of indulging in junk food and beverages that can cause obesity and diabetes. Here is a list of 4 unhealthy drinks that are a strict no-no when it comes to children.
Read full article here.

Supporting healthy eating habits to fight childhood obesity
8/23/2022 — High Point, NC
Good nutrition is essential to helping children live healthy lives. The CDC says one in five children in the United States are struggling with obesity. Melissa Leonard, a dietitian with Cone Health, talks about how to support growing bodies.
Read full article here.

ADULT UROLOGY IN PRIMARY CARE

The Adult Urology in Primary Care ECHO series aim to give primary care physicians and providers the baseline knowledge and skills needed to assess and manage common, non-surgical, urologic conditions in adults. These two, new ECHO series serve as a virtual space where primary care providers and specialists can collaborate to increase access to care for patients with urologic conditions. Via ECHO participation, clinical teams and providers can improve communications between healthcare providers, maximizing patient evaluation and facilitating consultations and co-management among primary care providers and specialists.

Register for one or both series using the links below.

Breastfeeding

Black and brown moms urge breastfeeding support
8/22/2022

Nobody blinked when a Republican blocked U.S. Senate passage of the PUMP for Nursing Mothers Act in June. The bill would have guaranteed nursing moms working outside the home with time and private space to pump. The House passed the bill with bipartisan support, and the Senate HELP committee did so with unanimous consent. Then, in the middle of an unprecedented baby formula shortage that emptied grocery shelves and caused panic and hardship among new parents nationwide,
Read full article here.

Pregnancy: 7 best superfoods for breastfeeding women
8/23/2022

Pregnancy and aftercare can be mentally and physically straining. Breastfeeding has been proven extremely beneficial for both the mother and the baby. As breastmilk is the only source of food for the baby, it is integral to pay close attention to your diet as a mother. Superfoods achieve their name due to their nutritive value and exceptional benefits they provide to us. There are certain superfoods that may be especially beneficial to lactating women.
Read full article here.

If you have a community news story that you would like to see included in the report, please send the link to communityhealthmediamonitor@ihi360.org.

ADULT UROLOGY IN PRIMARY CARE LEARNING CASE CONFERENCE

Sessions will include a didactic presentation by an expert, opportunities for Q&A with the expert and case-based discussions. Participants are highly encouraged to bring de-identified patient cases for group discussion and expert consultation. See below for topics covered in each block. Resources and referral information will be shared throughout the series.

AUDIENCE

Colorado prescribing providers working in adult primary care

SCHEDULE

Sessions held virtually every first Friday of the month
12:00 - 1:00 PM MT
First session September 2

BLOCK 1
The Urinalysis and Urine Culture in Urology:
Common Questions and Pathologies

Sept. 2: The Urinalysis

Oct. 7: Evaluation of Microscopic Hematuria - Review of the Updated AUA Risk-Stratified Guidelines

Nov. 4: Bacteriuria in Non-Pregnant Adults: How do we define and manage asymptomatic bacteriuria vs UTI

Watch for information about Blocks 2 and 3.

SIGN UP FOR BLOCK 1

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

ADULT UROLOGY IN PRIMARY CARE OFFICE HOURS

This is a new, monthly, free, drop-in opportunity designed for Colorado-based primary care providers (MD, DO, NP, PA, APP) to discuss urology topics of their choice and receive feedback from a urology specialist. This ongoing series will allow participants to share de-identified cases, including de-identified patient imaging, and ask questions for peer-to-peer and specialist consultation to support one another in patient diagnosis and management.

Read more about Office Hours.

AUDIENCE

Colorado prescribing providers working in adult primary care

[redacted]

SCHEDULE

Sessions held virtually every second Friday of the month

12:00 - 1:00 PM MT

First session September 9

Registered participants can attend sessions at any time.

Series ends June 9, 2023. No Office Hours April 14, 2023.

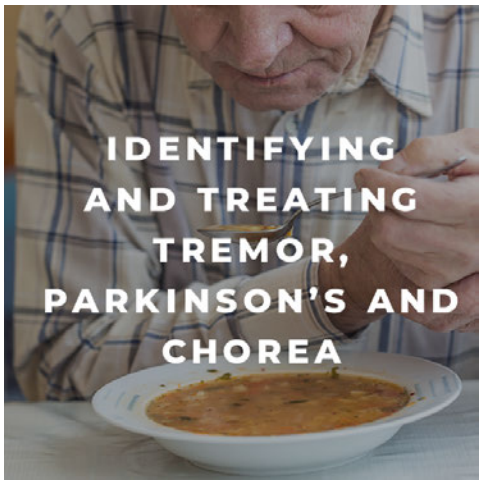
SIGN UP FOR OFFICE HOURS

The new Urology in Primary Care ECHO series are offered through a partnership with:

University of Colorado School of Medicine Division of Urology

---

MORE UPCOMING ECHOS



EXTENSION FOR COMMUNITY HEALTH OUTCOMES | ECHOCOLORADO.ORG

[redacted]

[redacted]

Add us to your address book

SUBJECT: HHS, CMS Expand State Funding; Member Experience
FROM: First Report Managed Care <newsletter@firstreportnow.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 24/08/2022 10:20

FIRST REPORT
MANAGED CARE

THE LATEST

HHS, CMS Expand State Funding for Medicaid's Money Follows the Person Program

By Edan Stanley

Additional funding will enable five new states and territories to expand access to home and community-based services, improving care for millions of older adults and people with disabilities.

Advertisement

POPHEALTH PERSPECTIVES

Improving Biomarker Testing Rates in Metastatic Colorectal Cancer

By Maria Asimopoulos

Pashtoon Kasi, MD, MS, oncologist, director of colon cancer and liquid biopsy research, Weill Cornell Medicine, discusses why biomarker testing rates are low among patients with metastatic colon cancer, as well as what changes can be made to improve care.

IN THE NEWS

[redacted]

[redacted]

Policies to Roll Back Abortion Rights Will Hit Incarcerated People Particularly Hard

By Carly Graf, Kaiser Health News

Alopecia Areata Associated With High Cost Burden for Health Plans, Adolescents

By Maria Asimopoulos

California Bill Would Eliminate Out-of-Pocket Costs for Vasectomies, Condoms

By Rachel Bluth, Kaiser Health News

Advertisement

MORE FROM FIRST REPORT MANAGED CARE

Three Insights From Trailblaze 2022: Member Experience Is About Humanization

By Icario Team

In this commentary, the Icario team shares advice on how to connect with members better, elevate their experience, and improve outcomes.

HMP Global

©2022 First Report Managed Care
70 E. Swedesford Road Suite 100, Malvern PA 19355
This email was sent to hborski@utah.gov
View in browser
Click here to unsubscribe
Privacy Policy

.

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Medicaid Funding; Connecting With Members
FROM: First Report Managed Care <newsletter@firstreportnow.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 24/08/2022 14:54

FIRST REPORT
MANAGED CARE

THE LATEST

Social Determinants of Health Affect Ability to Control HIV

By Jolynn Tumolo

Researchers recommended additional measures be taken to ensure socioeconomically marginalized individuals can achieve optimal HIV outcomes.

Advertisement

POPHEALTH PERSPECTIVES

Improving Biomarker Testing Rates in Metastatic Colorectal Cancer

By Maria Asimopoulos

Pashtoon Kasi, MD, MS, oncologist, director of colon cancer and liquid biopsy research, Weill Cornell Medicine, discusses why biomarker testing rates are low among patients with

[redacted]

metastatic colon cancer, as well as what changes can be made to improve care.

IN THE NEWS

HHS, CMS Expand State Funding for Medicaid's Money Follows the Person Program

By Edan Stanley

Policies to Roll Back Abortion Rights Will Hit Incarcerated People Particularly Hard

By Carly Graf, Kaiser Health News

Alopecia Areata Associated With High Cost Burden for Health Plans, Adolescents

By Maria Asimopoulos

Advertisement

COMMENTARY

Three Insights From Trailblaze 2022: Member Experience Is About Humanization

By Icario Team

In this commentary, the Icario team shares advice on how to connect with members better, elevate their experience, and improve outcomes.

HMP Global

©2022 First Report Managed Care
70 E. Swedesford Road Suite 100, Malvern PA 19355
This email was sent to hborski@utah.gov
View in browser
Click here to unsubscribe
Privacy Policy

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Idaho Blocked From Enforcing Abortion Ban In Emergencies
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 25/08/2022 02:22

Thursday, August 25, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Idaho Blocked From Enforcing Abortion Ban In Emergencies

An Idaho federal judge on late Wednesday blocked the enforcement of a new state law set to go into effect Thursday that criminalizes abortion care in medical emergencies, handing the Biden administration its first legal victory since the U.S. Supreme Court overturned the right to abortion.

Order attached | Read full article »

Texas Wins Halt Of HHS' Emergency Abortion Care Guidance

A Texas federal judge has barred for now the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' guidance that mandated doctors to perform abortions deemed necessary in emergency situations in the state, saying the government overstepped its bounds.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

Biden Reboots DACA Protections For 'Dreamers'

The Biden administration on Wednesday rebooted Obama-era protections for unauthorized migrants brought to the U.S. as children, passing a final rule that will allow hundreds of thousands of colloquially labeled Dreamers to temporarily remain in the country.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Ex-DOI Boss Zinke Lied During Casino Project Probe, IG Says

The U.S. Department of the Interior's watchdog issued a report Wednesday that found the department's former

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Akerman LLP
Baker & Hostetler
Baker McKenzie
Ballard Spahr
Barnes & Thornburg
Bass Berry
Berger Singerman
Boies Schiller
Boyle Leonard
Choate Hall
Cooper & Kirk

[redacted]

secretary Ryan Zinke lied about his interactions with casino lobbyists and government officials and his reasons for stalling action on a bid by two Indian tribes to operate a $300 million casino project in Connecticut.

Report attached | Read full article »

Fla. Gov. Bars ESG Investments By State Pension

Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis has passed a resolution that would bar the managers of the state's pension fund from weighing environmental, social and governance factors when investing, claiming that such considerations could sacrifice investment returns to make way for an "ideological" agenda.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Sen. Graham, Gov. Kemp Fight Ga. Election Probe Subpoenas

U.S. Sen. Lindsey Graham on Wednesday doubled down on his bid to bar all questioning of him before a Georgia grand jury investigating alleged efforts to overturn the 2020 election results, while the prosecutor behind the investigation fights to enforce a subpoena of the state's governor.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

NY Associate Judge Cannataro Named Acting Chief

Associate Judge Anthony Cannataro was named acting chief judge of New York on Wednesday, resolving unprecedented discord on the high court over who will ascend when Chief Judge Janet DiFiore departs next week.

Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

Ex-SEC Chair Clayton Agrees To Advise Another Crypto Firm

Electric Capital, a company that recently raised $1 billion to finance cryptocurrency and blockchain-based startups, announced on Wednesday that former U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Chair Jay Clayton has joined the company as an adviser alongside a former Federal Reserve Board member and a Meta executive.

Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

Timber Groups Say Obama-Era Logging Rules Correctly Axed

A group of logging interests told the D.C. Circuit that a lower court correctly axed Obama-era restrictions on logging in western Oregon, saying the government's series of conservation efforts violate established federal mandates governing Oregon and California timber production.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Cozen O'Connor
Davis Wright
Edelson PC
Fredericks Law Firm
Fried Frank
Gibson Dunn
Goldberg & Rosen
Gordon & Rees
Greenberg Traurig
Grossman Roth
Haddon Morgan
Haglund Kelley
Haines & Associates
Heise Suarez
Hobbs Straus
Holland & Knight
Jomarron Lopez
Jones Day
K&L Gates
Katten Muchin
Keller & Heckman
Kellogg Hansen
Kozyak Tropin
Kulwin Masciopinto
Law Firm of Gary Williams Parenti Watson & Gary
Law Offices of Curtis V. Trinko
Lewis Brisbois
LippSmith LLP
Naylor & Hales
Nelson Mullins
Nixon Shefrin
Northwest Resource Law
Nutter McClennen
Patterson Belknap
Pita Weber
Plunkett Cooney
Podhurst Orseck
Potter Anderson
Pringle & Herigstad
Quinn Emanuel
Raizner Slania
Robins Kaplan
Ropes & Gray
Saltz Mongeluzzi
Schertler Onorato
Searcy Denney
Shearman & Sterling
Sidley Austin
Silva & Silva PA
Skadden Arps
Stinson LLP

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCES

Texas Prosecutors Face Abortion Ban Enforcement Challenge

A group of Texas reproductive rights advocates have launched a class action challenging the authority of state prosecutors to go after businesses, organizations and individuals who help pregnant Texans obtain abortions in other states.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

MEDIA & ENTERTAINMENT

4th Circ. Stalls Use Of Political Speech Law Against NC AG

A split Fourth Circuit temporarily barred enforcement of a North Carolina law criminalizing derogatory political speech, granting on Tuesday a reprieve to state Attorney General Josh Stein's campaign amid a heated court battle rooted in a two-year-old television ad.

Order attached | Read full article »

Calif. Gov. Opposes High Court Review Of Trial Video Dispute

California Gov. Gavin Newsom and other state officials argued in a brief Wednesday that the U.S. Supreme Court should reject a petition challenging a divided Ninth Circuit ruling that allows the public release of a video recording of the historic 2010 federal court trial that overturned a state ballot initiative banning same-sex marriage.

Brief attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

DOJ Wants To Argue In State-Led Facebook Case At DC Circ.

The U.S. Department of Justice is requesting time during oral arguments at the D.C. Circuit to support a contingent of state-level enforcers accusing Facebook's parent company, Meta Platforms Inc., of monopolizing personal social networking services through acquisitions and developer restrictions on its platform.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

DOJ Wants 'Raw' Google Data To Ensure No Cherry-Picking

The U.S. Department of Justice battled Google in a D.C. federal court hearing Wednesday over access to "raw" search data sought to ensure the technology giant did not selectively pick what its expert was looking at when analyzing how consumers use the service.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Stoel Rives
Sullivan & Cromwell
Thompson Coburn
Valli Kane
Venable LLP
Verrill Dana
Vinson & Elkins
Wachtell Lipton
Wallach Legal LLC
Wheeler Trigg
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale
Wilson Elser
Wilson Sonsini
Winston & Strawn
Womble Bond

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

ACA Connects- America's Communications Association
American Bar Association
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of Arizona
Apple Inc.
BTI Consulting Group Inc.
Booking Holdings Inc.
Carnival Corp. & PLC
Chicago Public Schools
Coinbase Global Inc.
Devon Energy Corp.
DoorDash Inc.
Dynamex, Inc.
Gallup Inc.
Georgetown University
Google LLC
Instacart
Instagram Inc.
KQED Inc.
Lex Machina Inc.
LexisNexis Group Inc.
LinkedIn Corp.
MGM Resorts International
MSP Recovery
Meta Platforms Inc.
Mitsubishi Chemical Holdings
Mohegan Sun
NBCUniversal Media LLC
National Association of Attorneys General
National Collegiate Athletic Association

AEROSPACE & DEFENSE

Sikh Marine Recruits Can't Start Training With Beards

Three Sikh Americans suing the U.S. Marine Corps over the ability to wear religious articles won't be allowed to start basic training with uncut hair and beards while their suit is pending after a D.C. federal judge said Wednesday that granting the request could threaten national security.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

DOD Wants China Disclosures, Bars Tantalum Imports

The U.S. Department of Defense on Wednesday issued new rules that will require potential defense contractors to disclose any related work in China, bar certain tantalum imports, and extend and tweak its mentor-protege program for small businesses.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

WHITE COLLAR

Trump Ally Rep. Perry Sues Feds To Return Cellphone Data

U.S. Representative Scott G. Perry, a supporter of former President Donald Trump, wants the U.S. Department of Justice to return the contents of his cellphone that were seized as part of a search warrant earlier this month, according to an emergency motion entered in D.C. federal court Tuesday.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

Ex-Trump Aide: Mar-A-Lago Probe Sign Jan. 6 Case Is Political

Former Trump White House trade adviser Peter Navarro says the criminal investigation into the ex-president's handling of classified material bolsters his efforts to compel the government to produce additional discovery to determine whether the charges he faces for defying a congressional subpoena are politically motivated.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Ariz. AG Brnovich Sued Over Law Blocking Police Recordings

The American Civil Liberties Union and a group of Arizona news organizations have sued the state's attorney general over a new law that criminalizes filming the police within eight feet after the officer has ordered the recorder to stop, claiming the law is a blatant violation of constitutional rights.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

'Park' Status Upends Guilty Plea In Chicago Bribery Case

Northern Mariana Islands Retirement Fund
Ohio Casualty Corp.
RELX PLC
Retrophin Inc.
Ripple Labs Inc.
Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd.
Schneider National Inc.
Sikh Coalition
Surfside
T-Mobile US Inc.
Tesla Inc.
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.
TracFone Wireless Inc.
Travere Therapeutics Inc.
Twitter Inc.
U.S. Chamber of Commerce
USA Today International Corp.
Uber Technologies Inc.
Verizon Communications Inc.
Western Resources Legal Center

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Bureau of Indian Affairs
Bureau of Labor Statistics
Bureau of Land Management
California Attorney General's Office
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
Commodity Futures Trading Commission
Congressional Budget Office
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Delaware Court of Chancery
Dormitory Authority of the State of New York
European Union
Federal Acquisition Regulatory Council
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Reserve System
Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Idaho Attorney General's Office
Internal Revenue Service

A dispute over whether a Chicago park was actually a park unexpectedly derailed an anticipated guilty plea Wednesday from a political operative accused of bribing public officials to help steer a $1 billion schools contract and rename the park.

Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

All Tribes Risk Losing Out On Online Gambling, DC Circ. Told

A week after federal regulators urged the D.C. Circuit to revive a controversial gambling compact that would give the Seminole Tribe full control over Florida's online sports betting market, the tribe sought to cast the appellate case as a referendum on the future of the entire industry.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Smoking Ban Suit A No-Go In Tribal Court, 8th Circ. Told

An oil and gas company has asked the Eighth Circuit to reject a bid by the Three Affiliated Tribes to overturn a ruling that their courts can't hear a suit claiming the company's employees violated a contractual smoking ban on the tribe's reservation, saying the company isn't under the tribal court's jurisdiction.

Brief attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Q&A

5 Questions For ACA Connects' Grant Spellmeyer

ACA Connects, a major advocacy arm for independent broadband and cable companies, has kicked off an era of change as newly minted CEO Grant Spellmeyer takes the reins.

Read full article »

CANNABIS

NY Pot Regulators Announce Caps On Retail Licenses

New York state cannabis regulators on Wednesday identified 150 as the number of conditional marijuana retail licenses that it will award in its first round of licensing, with limits placed on regions based on their population size.

1 document attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

Biden Public Engagement Adviser Joins Barnes & Thornburg

The national director for African American engagement during President Joe Biden's 2020 campaign — who most recently served in the White House as senior adviser for public engagement — has left his post on Pennsylvania Avenue to join Barnes & Thornburg LLP, the firm confirmed to Law360 Pulse Wednesday.

Read full article »

Mashantucket Pequot Tribal Nation
Mohegan Tribe
National Archives and Records Administration
National Telecommunications and Information Administration
New York Attorney General's Office
New York State Commission on Judicial Conduct
New York State Comptroller
Seminole Nation
Texas Attorney General's Office
Three Affiliated Tribes of the Fort Berthold Reservation
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
U.S. Department of Defense
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Labor
U.S. Department of the Interior
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of Idaho
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York

TracFone Wireless Senior Executive Joins Verrill Dana In DC

The former government affairs liaison for TracFone Wireless has left his role after more than eight years to join Verrill Dana LLP's telecommunications practice, the firm said Tuesday.

Read full article »

K&L Gates Adds Food Regulatory Expert To SF Office

K&L Gates LLP has expanded its San Francisco office with the addition of a regulatory attorney from Keller and Heckman LLP to its food and beverage practice groups.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Opinion

A Federal Data Privacy Law Is The Disaster We Urgently Need

The U.S. desperately needs federal data privacy legislation to create consistent rules across all states and industries, in spite of the hurdles standing in the way of a comprehensive law and the strong likelihood that it will be a disaster when it passes, say Roy Wyman and Colton Driver at Bass Berry.

Read full article »

Health Issues To Watch In Inflation Act, Other Policy Initiatives

The newly signed Inflation Reduction Act includes a number of significant drug pricing reforms, and the future holds a wider array of health issues that may be addressed in pending legislation when Congress returns in September, says Miranda Franco at Holland & Knight.

Read full article »

What Proposed Contractor Rule May Mean For Wage Litigation

The Biden administration's proposed independent contractor rule could have major implications for wage and hour litigation, but comparing it to the Trump administration's rule could help employers prepare for the next phase of employee classification disputes, say Jessica Scott and Frederick Yarger at Wheeler Trigg.

Read full article »

Evidence Rule Changes Help Judges Police Expert Testimony

New amendments to Federal Rule of Evidence 702, concerning admissibility of expert witness testimony, make it clear that it is the judge's role — not the jury's — to keep faulty science out of the courtroom, say Michael Leard and Sara Lonks Wong at Nutter.

Read full article »

Consumer Financial Digital Marketing In CFPB's Crosshairs

U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement
U.S. Marine Corps
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
Wage and Hour Division

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's recent rule holding digital marketing providers liable for unfair, deceptive or abusive practices in advertising financial products signals a coordinated effort with the Federal Trade Commission to rein in practices in the sector, and will have far-reaching implications for firms not previously under the CFPB's purview, say attorneys at Venable.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Mich. Ruling Douses Cannabis Applicants' Due Process Suits

A Michigan state appeals court's recent decision in Cary Investments v. Mount Pleasant, holding that unsuccessful recreational cannabis applicants are not entitled to due process protection, should lead applicants to recalibrate their legal claims and rely on other theories to challenge municipalities' license denials, says Matthew Cross at Plunkett Cooney.

Read full article »

The Cruciality Of Building Client Intimacy Ahead Of Recession

Attorneys are likely already feeling the pressure that a recession brings to control costs and at least hold the line on top-line growth — but strengthening client relationships through increased communication will ensure continued progress under such conditions, says Dave Southern, a business development and marketing professional.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

COVID-19 Tort Cases Have Peaked, Report Says

The number of COVID-related tort suits filed in federal court peaked in the first quarter of 2021 about a year into the pandemic and has been ebbing steadily in each quarter since, according to a new report by Lex Machina.

Read full article »

Analysis

What To Watch In Justice Ketanji Brown Jackson's First Term

Justice Ketanji Brown Jackson has spent nearly a decade on the federal bench, but only a short portion of that was as a member of an appellate court. With so many unknowns about her approach to the job, U.S. Supreme Court practitioners tell Law360 what they will be watching for in her debut term beginning in October.

Read full article »

[redacted]

Are There Too Many Attys? A 20-Year Income Dip Says Maybe

Lawyers in the U.S. have seen a nearly 2% decline in median income over the last 20 years, and while an increase in lawyers could account for some decline in income, a decrease in the demand for legal services likely also plays a role, according to a study published in the Journal of Economics and Finance.

Read full article »

3rd Circ. Revives Suit Over Alleged Cozen O'Connor Conflict

The Third Circuit on Wednesday reinstated a conflict of interest lawsuit alleging a former Cozen O'Connor lawyer failed to disclose that the firm represented both the seller and the buyer in a $20 million acquisition of three insurance education companies.

Read full article »

Mitsubishi Can't Ditch Gender Bias Suit Over Forged Doc

Mitsubishi Chemical can't shut down a former in-house attorney's gender discrimination suit over claims that she forged and backdated a note, a New York federal court ruled Wednesday, saying the allegations haven't been proven and wouldn't warrant such an "extreme" level of punishment if they are.

Read full article »

Shkreli Atty's Retirement Cash Is Fair Game, 2nd Circ. Says

The Second Circuit on Wednesday said former Katten Muchin Rosenman LLP partner Evan Greebel's retirement funds can be used to satisfy a $10.4 million restitution order, but remanded the case for a lower court to consider the tax implications for the onetime lawyer to Martin Shkreli.

Read full article »

Ghislaine Maxwell Owes $878K Legal Bill, Denver Firm Says

Socialite Ghislaine Maxwell hasn't paid the $878,000 legal bill she owes the Denver-based firm who helped defend her against charges that she trafficked underage girls for the late financier Jeffrey Epstein, according to a lawsuit filed Monday in Colorado state court.

Read full article »

Musk Seeks Fuller Twitter Traffic Data In $44B Buyout Fight

Attorneys for Elon Musk urged Delaware's chancellor on Wednesday to compel Twitter's release of more data about its revenue-producing traffic and user estimates, accusing the social media giant of fielding a "trust us" shield as it seeks to enforce the Tesla CEO's $44 billion take-private agreement.

[redacted]

[redacted]

Read full article »

Judge Strikes Fraudulent Claims From $1B Surfside Deal

The Florida judge overseeing the consolidated litigation over the Champlain Towers South collapse struck hundreds of fraudulent claims made on the $1 billion global settlement by people with no connection to the condominium after they failed to show up Wednesday to testify under oath.

Read full article »

ABA Calls On Attys Ahead Of Predicted Poll Worker Shortage

Amid concerns over a potential shortage of poll workers, the American Bar Association announced on Wednesday that it is continuing its collaboration with the National Association of Secretaries of State and the National Association of State Election Directors to mobilize legal professionals to serve as poll workers.

Read full article »

NJ Chief Justice Ends Social Distancing, Masking For Juries

The New Jersey court system will stop requiring masks and social distancing in jury trials and end its vaccine and testing mandate for court employees, the high court's chief justice announced Wednesday.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions

Illinois Attorney General's Office

-, -

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Idaho Blocked From Enforcing Abortion Ban In Emergencies
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 25/08/2022 02:54

[redacted]

[redacted]

Thursday, August 25, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Idaho Blocked From Enforcing Abortion Ban In Emergencies

An Idaho federal judge on late Wednesday blocked the enforcement of a new state law set to go into effect Thursday that criminalizes abortion care in medical emergencies, handing the Biden administration its first legal victory since the U.S. Supreme Court overturned the right to abortion.

Order attached | Read full article »

Texas Wins Halt Of HHS' Emergency Abortion Care Guidance

A Texas federal judge has barred for now the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' guidance that mandated doctors to perform abortions deemed necessary in emergency situations in the state, saying the government overstepped its bounds.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

Texas Prosecutors Face Abortion Ban Enforcement Challenge

A group of Texas reproductive rights advocates have launched a class action challenging the authority of state prosecutors to go after businesses, organizations and individuals who help pregnant Texans obtain abortions in other states.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Ex-Clinic Exec Asks Judge To Disqualify Counsel In FCA Suit

A whistleblower former executive at a Georgia orthopedic clinic says the law firm and an attorney representing two doctors who work for her former employer in a False Claims Act suit should be disqualified because the attorney previously represented the government on the opposing side of the case.

Memorandum attached | Read full article »

Clark Love Sued Over 'Scheme' To Settle Expired Mesh Suits

Houston-based plaintiffs' firms Clark Love & Hutson PLLC and the Lee Murphy Law Firm have been slapped with a lawsuit in Texas federal court by two women who say their lawyers mishandled their pelvic mesh injury claims against Boston Scientific Corp.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

COVID-19 Tort Cases Have Peaked, Report Says

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

American Bar Association
BTI Consulting Group Inc.
Boston Scientific Corp.
Carestream Health Inc.
Carnival Corp. & PLC
Credit Suisse Group AG
Cynosure Inc.
Georgetown University
JPMorgan Chase & Co.
KQED Inc.
Lex Machina Inc.
LexisNexis Group Inc.
LinkedIn Corp.
MSP Recovery
Mitsubishi Chemical Holdings
National Collegiate Athletic Association
Northern Mariana Islands Retirement Fund
RELX PLC
Retrophin Inc.
Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd.
SafePoint Insurance Co.
Scottsdale Insurance Co.
Surfside
Tesla Inc.
Texas Hospital Association
The Center for Reproductive Rights Inc.

[redacted]

The number of COVID-related tort suits filed in federal court peaked in the first quarter of 2021 about a year into the pandemic and has been ebbing steadily in each quarter since, according to a new report by Lex Machina.

Read full article »

LITIGATION

Sleep Study Co. Can't Get Coverage For Negligent Death Suit

An insurer doesn't have to defend a sleep study company from a negligence suit filed by the family of a deceased patient, a Georgia federal judge ruled, finding that a professional services exclusion applies to all claims in the underlying action.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Wis. Health Care Group Still On Hook For Bulk Of 401(k) Suit

A Wisconsin health care company won't escape most of a proposed class action brought by ex-employees alleging its mismanagement of their 401(k) plans cost participants over $1 million in fees and $3 million in lost assets, with a federal judge largely deeming the workers' evidence sufficient.

Order attached | Read full article »

Biz Groups Ask Texas Justices To Nix Insurers' Claims Edge

Several Texas industry groups asked the state's high court to end a legal precedent they said has put policyholders at a unique disadvantage for decades, arguing in an amicus brief that legislators' attempts to fix the issue have gone ignored by the courts.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Cynosure Rips Rival's Delay Bid In Poaching Suit

Medical aesthetic treatment company Cynosure argued Wednesday that a rival business it's suing for allegedly poaching sales staff doesn't need a delay in the litigation schedule, saying an amended complaint simply names the individual employees without changing the allegations.

1 document attached | Read full article »

UnitedHealth Kept Dud 401(k) Suite For Wells Fargo, Suit Says

A group of workers levied new accusations against UnitedHealth in their suit alleging the company mismanaged their 401(k) plan, claiming Wednesday that new evidence suggests the company refused to ax underperforming funds to preserve a business relationship with Wells Fargo.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Zurich, SafePoint Latest To Be Hit With Laura Claims

Travere Therapeutics Inc.
Twitter Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
Wells Fargo & Co.
Zurich Insurance Group AG

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Akerman LLP
Akin Gump
Anderson & Kreiger
Arnold & Porter
Baker & Hostetler
Baker McKenzie
Ballard Spahr
Bartlett LLP
Bass Berry
Berger Singerman
Boyle Leonard
Chilivis Grubman
Choate Hall
Clark Love
Cooper & Kirk
Cox Cox
Cozen O'Connor
Daly & Black
Davis Wright
Davis+Gilbert LLP
Edelson PC
Faegre Drinker
Fried Frank
Gibson Dunn
Gilbert LLP
Goldberg & Rosen
Gordon & Rees
Griffin Durham
Grossman Roth
Haddon Morgan
Haines & Associates
Halunen Law
Hawk Law Group
Heise Suarez
Holland & Knight
Jackson Walker LLP
Jomarron Lopez
Jones Day
K&L Gates
Katten Muchin
Keller & Heckman
Kendall Mandell
Kirkland & Ellis
Kozyak Tropin
Landis Rath

Zurich American Insurance Co. and SafePoint Insurance Co. were hit with Hurricane Laura damage lawsuits, joining several other insurers facing litigation related to the storm over the past week as Louisiana's deadline to file claims looms.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

BANKRUPTCY

Court Lets Carestream Tap $50M, Tells Exit Lenders To Wait

Medical imaging company Carestream Health Inc. got a Delaware federal court's permission Wednesday to tap $50 million of $80 million in bankruptcy financing, but lenders offering the company an additional $85 million in credit after it exits Chapter 11 were denied an immediate request to get their fees.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Dallas Nursing Home Can Go Forward With Landlord Suit

A Texas bankruptcy judge has refused to dismiss a suit claiming the landlord of a bankrupt Dallas retirement community tried to drive it out of business with bad faith lease negotiations and the disclosure of confidential information.

Order attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

K&L Gates Adds Food Regulatory Expert To SF Office

K&L Gates LLP has expanded its San Francisco office with the addition of a regulatory attorney from Keller and Heckman LLP to its food and beverage practice groups.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Health Issues To Watch In Inflation Act, Other Policy Initiatives

The newly signed Inflation Reduction Act includes a number of significant drug pricing reforms, and the future holds a wider array of health issues that may be addressed in pending legislation when Congress returns in September, says Miranda Franco at Holland & Knight.

Read full article »

Opinion

A Federal Data Privacy Law Is The Disaster We Urgently Need

The U.S. desperately needs federal data privacy legislation to create consistent rules across all states and industries, in spite of the hurdles standing in the way of a comprehensive law and the strong likelihood that it will be a disaster when it passes, say Roy Wyman and Colton Driver at Bass Berry.

Read full article »

Law Firm of Gary Williams Parenti
Watson & Gary
Lee Murphy Law Firm
Levenfeld Pearlstein
Levy Sibley
Lewis Brisbois
LippSmith LLP
Mayer Brown
Naylor & Hales
Nelson Mullins
O'Melveny & Myers
Pachulski Stang
Pita Weber
Podhurst Orseck
Polsinelli PC
Potter Anderson
Quinn Emanuel
Raizner Slania
Saltz Mongeluzzi
Sanford Heisler
Searcy Denney
Shearman & Sterling
Shepherd Prewett
Sidley Austin
Silva & Silva PA
Simpson Thacher
Skadden Arps
Thompson Coburn
Troutman Pepper
Valli Kane
Veron Bice
Vinson & Elkins
Wachtell Lipton
Walcheske & Luzi
Ward Maedgen Accident Attorneys
Williams & Connolly
WilmerHale
Wilson Elser
Wilson Sonsini

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

California Attorney General's Office
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
Congressional Budget Office
Delaware Court of Chancery
European Union
Federal Bureau of Investigation

The Cruciality Of Building Client Intimacy Ahead Of Recession

Attorneys are likely already feeling the pressure that a recession brings to control costs and at least hold the line on top-line growth — but strengthening client relationships through increased communication will ensure continued progress under such conditions, says Dave Southern, a business development and marketing professional.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Analysis

What To Watch In Justice Ketanji Brown Jackson's First Term

Justice Ketanji Brown Jackson has spent nearly a decade on the federal bench, but only a short portion of that was as a member of an appellate court. With so many unknowns about her approach to the job, U.S. Supreme Court practitioners tell Law360 what they will be watching for in her debut term beginning in October.

Read full article »

Are There Too Many Attys? A 20-Year Income Dip Says Maybe

Lawyers in the U.S. have seen a nearly 2% decline in median income over the last 20 years, and while an increase in lawyers could account for some decline in income, a decrease in the demand for legal services likely also plays a role, according to a study published in the Journal of Economics and Finance.

Read full article »

Sen. Graham, Gov. Kemp Fight Ga. Election Probe Subpoenas

U.S. Sen. Lindsey Graham on Wednesday doubled down on his bid to bar all questioning of him before a Georgia grand jury investigating alleged efforts to overturn the 2020 election results, while the prosecutor behind the investigation fights to enforce a subpoena of the state's governor.

Read full article »

Ex-Trump Aide: Mar-A-Lago Probe Sign Jan. 6 Case Is Political

Former Trump White House trade adviser Peter Navarro says the criminal investigation into the ex-president's handling of classified material bolsters his efforts to compel the government to produce additional discovery to determine

Federal Trade Commission
Food and Drug Administration
Idaho Attorney General's Office
Internal Revenue Service
National Archives and Records Administration
New York State Commission on Judicial Conduct
Texas Attorney General's Office
Texas Supreme Court
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York
U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia
U.S. District Court for the District of Idaho
U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts
U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Georgia
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Louisiana
U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Senate
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin
United States District Court for the Southern District of Georgia whether the charges he faces for defying a congressional subpoena are politically motivated.

Read full article »

3rd Circ. Revives Suit Over Alleged Cozen O'Connor Conflict

The Third Circuit on Wednesday reinstated a conflict of interest lawsuit alleging a former Cozen O'Connor lawyer failed to disclose that the firm represented both the seller and the buyer in a $20 million acquisition of three insurance education companies.

Read full article »

Mitsubishi Can't Ditch Gender Bias Suit Over Forged Doc

Mitsubishi Chemical can't shut down a former in-house attorney's gender discrimination suit over claims that she forged and backdated a note, a New York federal court ruled Wednesday, saying the allegations haven't been proven and wouldn't warrant such an "extreme" level of punishment if they are.

Read full article »

Shkreli Atty's Retirement Cash Is Fair Game, 2nd Circ. Says

The Second Circuit on Wednesday said former Katten Muchin Rosenman LLP partner Evan Greebel's retirement funds can be used to satisfy a $10.4 million restitution order, but remanded the case for a lower court to consider the tax implications for the onetime lawyer to Martin Shkreli.

Read full article »

NY Associate Judge Cannataro Named Acting Chief

Associate Judge Anthony Cannataro was named acting chief judge of New York on Wednesday, resolving unprecedented discord on the high court over who will ascend when Chief Judge Janet DiFiore departs next week.

Read full article »

Ghislaine Maxwell Owes $878K Legal Bill, Denver Firm Says

Socialite Ghislaine Maxwell hasn't paid the $878,000 legal bill she owes the Denver-based firm who helped defend her against charges that she trafficked underage girls for the late financier Jeffrey Epstein, according to a lawsuit filed Monday in Colorado state court.

Read full article »

Musk Seeks Fuller Twitter Traffic Data In $44B Buyout Fight

Attorneys for Elon Musk urged Delaware's chancellor on Wednesday to compel Twitter's release of more data about its revenue-producing traffic and user estimates, accusing the social media giant of fielding a "trust us" shield as it seeks to enforce the Tesla CEO's $44 billion take-private agreement.

Read full article »

Judge Strikes Fraudulent Claims From $1B Surfside Deal

The Florida judge overseeing the consolidated litigation over the Champlain Towers South collapse struck hundreds of fraudulent claims made on the $1 billion global settlement by people with no connection to the condominium after they failed to show up Wednesday to testify under oath.

Read full article »

ABA Calls On Attys Ahead Of Predicted Poll Worker Shortage

Amid concerns over a potential shortage of poll workers, the American Bar Association announced on Wednesday that it is continuing its collaboration with the National Association of Secretaries of State and the National Association of State Election Directors to mobilize legal professionals to serve as poll workers.

Read full article »

Calif. Gov. Opposes High Court Review Of Trial Video Dispute

California Gov. Gavin Newsom and other state officials argued in a brief Wednesday that the U.S. Supreme Court should reject a petition challenging a divided Ninth Circuit ruling that allows the public release of a video recording of the historic 2010 federal court trial that overturned a state ballot initiative banning same-sex marriage.

Read full article »

NJ Chief Justice Ends Social Distancing, Masking For Juries

The New Jersey court system will stop requiring masks and social distancing in jury trials and end its vaccine and testing mandate for court employees, the high court's chief justice announced Wednesday.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

MID-SIZED FULL SERVICE MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNERS/NYC
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.

However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Amazon Care to Shut Down Dec. 31
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 25/08/2022 06:04

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 25, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

TODAY'S TOP NEWS

- Amazon.com Inc. will sunset its Amazon Care telehealth and in-person medical services at the end of 2022, three years after the e-commerce giant launched the primary care service for its employees and a month after its $3.9 billion acquisition of concierge clinic operator One Medical. Amazon Health Services Senior Vice President Neil Lindsay said in an email to employees that Amazon Care, which provided telehealth services in all 50 states and in-person care in at least seven cities, ultimately wasn't "the right long-term solution for our enterprise customers." (Fierce Healthcare)

- Senior Trump administration officials leaned on Food and Drug Administration Commissioner Stephen Hahn and other agency leaders to sign off on unproven COVID-19 treatments such as hydroxychloroquine and convalescent plasma, according to a report from Democratic lawmakers on the House Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Crisis. The report also found that the Trump White House tried to block FDA safety data collection efforts on COVID-19 vaccines, pushing for an expedited timeline on approvals ahead of the 2020 presidential election. (Politico)

- A Trump-appointed federal judge in Texas blocked Health and Human Services Department guidance that requires hospitals to perform abortions when the life of the mother is endangered, writing that the July 11 order exceeds the authority of the 1986 Emergency Medical Treatment and Labor Act. The judge's ruling places the HHS guidance on hold, and the Department of Justice is likely to file an appeal. (Roll Call)

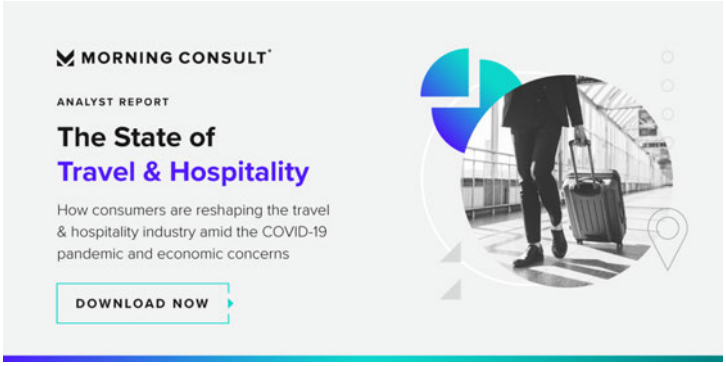
- A large Israeli study found that Pfizer Inc.'s COVID-19 treatment Paxlovid lowered hospitalization rates in 65-year-olds and older by about 75%, but people ages 40-64 who took the drug shortly after infection saw little to no benefit. Pfizer declined to comment on the results of the study, which was conducted via compiled data from a large health system in Israel rather than through a randomized study that enrolled patients and had a control group. (The Associated Press)

CHART REVIEW

Health industry leaders focus on digital, talent and growth plays
PwC

Where health industry executives are investing

A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



[redacted]

The State of Travel & Hospitality

Morning Consult's semi-annual report, The State of Travel & Hospitality, tracks evolving consumer trends in the travel and hospitality sector and what they mean for the future of the industry. Download today.

WHAT ELSE YOU NEED TO KNOW

CORONAVIRUS

Over 2 Million Americans Aren't Working Due to Long Covid

Sumathi Reddy, The Wall Street Journal

Between two million and four million Americans aren't working due to the long-term effects of Covid-19, according to a new Brookings Institution report released Wednesday.

What Fauci's exit tells us about the ongoing fight against Covid

Sarah Owermohle, Stat News

There was a time when Anthony Fauci thought he would retire when the Covid-19 pandemic was over. He told himself he'd spend a year as President Biden's top medical adviser and that Covid-19 would be settled by then.

WHO: COVID deaths down by 15%, cases fall nearly everywhere

The Associated Press

The number of coronavirus deaths reported worldwide fell by 15% in the past week while new infections dropped by 9%, the World Health Organization said Wednesday.

Monkeys could hold the key to a future vaccine for all COVID variants and the original SARS virus

Erin Prater, Fortune

A vaccine recently created for monkeys offered equal protection against most COVID-19 variants, including Omicron—in addition to the original SARS virus from the early 2000s.

Jill Biden tests positive for rebound case of Covid-19

Kate Bennett, CNN

[redacted]

Biden, who is currently in Rehoboth Beach, Delaware, tested positive again for Covid-19 with an antigen test on Wednesday. She tested negative during a routine test on Tuesday.

Wastewater Surveillance Has Become a Critical Covid Tracking Tool, but Funding Is Inconsistent

Lauren Sausser, Kaiser Health News

"For the wastewater data to be actionable, you have to observe it," said Mariana Matus, CEO and co-founder of Biobot Analytics, which has a $10 million contract with the federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to run wastewater surveillance at more than 300 sites across the U.S. "The more that you observe, the easier it is to catch early changes and take action."

GENERAL

Monkeypox Outbreak Latest: Senate Committee Plans Hearings With Health Officials

Madison Muller and Jeannie Baumann, Bloomberg

The Health, Education, Labor and Pensions Committee is planning the hearing on monkeypox for mid-September, according to the people, who asked not to be identified because the information isn't public.

'Magic mushroom' psychedelic may help heavy drinkers quit

Carla K. Johnson, The Associated Press

The compound in psychedelic mushrooms helped heavy drinkers cut back or quit entirely in the most rigorous test of psilocybin for alcoholism. More research is needed to see if the effect lasts and whether it works in a larger study. Many who took a dummy drug instead of psilocybin also succeeded in drinking less, likely because all study participants were highly motivated and received talk therapy.

Americans Are Starting to Skip Therapy to Save Money

Alex Janin, The Wall Street Journal

Nearly a third of American adults in therapy say they have had to cancel a session because they couldn't afford it and nearly half say they would have to quit if their out-of-pocket costs increased, according to a survey from the mental health resource website Verywell Mind. The survey was conducted in the spring, with respondents' median age of 36.

The FDA stands by as the vaping industry flouts its orders

Nicholas Florko and Elissa Welle, Stat News

The Food and Drug Administration has spent more than four years trying to decide whether retailers should be able to sell products like cotton candy-flavored liquids, vapes made to look like fidget spinners, and disposables filled with more nicotine than 200 cigarettes. And so far, the agency has explicitly ordered hundreds of them off the market. But a STAT investigation found that vape companies are regularly flouting the FDA's orders. They're making, stocking, and selling the illicit goods. And the agency is just letting it happen.

Increased alcohol use linked with higher risk of cancer in new study

Naomi Thomas, CNN

People who increased the amount of alcohol they drank also had an increased risk of cancer, according to the results of a large study in Korea published on Wednesday in JAMA Network Open.

Judge blocks Idaho's abortion ban after DOJ lawsuit

Nathaniel Weixel, The Hill

U.S. District Judge B. Lynn Winmill wrote that the state's near total ban on abortion violates the federal Emergency Medical Treatment and Labor Act, a law that requires providers to offer medically stabilizing treatment in an emergency, even if that care is an abortion.

Abortion access crumbles: 4 more states enact new restrictions this week

Megan Messerly and Alice Miranda Ollstein, Politico

As of Thursday, abortion is prohibited starting at conception, with limited exceptions, in a dozen states, and two more states forbid the procedure after the detection of fetal cardiac activity, around six weeks of pregnancy.

Minnesota Set to Become "Abortion Access Island" in the Midwest, but for Whom?

Jessica Lussenhop, ProPublica

Out-of-staters have long traveled to Minnesota for abortions, but as neighboring states restrict access to the procedure, data suggests patients of color may not make the trip.

A Risky Monkeypox Vaccine Is Looking Better All the Time

Katherine J. Wu, The Atlantic

The administration's newest vaccine Hail Mary may not be enough to fix the U.S.'s monkeypox immunization problems.

Biden loan cancellation just a drop in the bucket for medical students

Victoria Knight, Axios

President Biden's student loan forgiveness may help medical students chip away at the mountains of debt they accumulate, especially if they still owe from their undergraduate studies.

Congressman's wife died after taking white mulberry leaf, an herbal remedy

Samantha Young, Kaiser Health News

Lori McClintock, the wife of Rep. Tom McClintock, R-Calif., died from dehydration as a result of gastroenteritis caused by white mulberry leaf, according to a coroner's report.

Leisure activities lowers risk of cancer, heart disease and death

Sandee LaMotte, CNN

Want to live a longer, healthier life? Pick an activity you enjoy, and get moving. Choose just about anything — running, swimming laps, playing tennis, cycling, golf, racket sports or even walking for exercise.

PAYERS

Medicare Advantage lobby rebuts senator's inquiry into 'potentially deceptive' marketing tactics

Rebecca Pifer, Healthcare Dive

A major group representing Medicare Advantage plans is pushing back at Senate Finance Chair Ron Wyden, D-Ore., following the senator's request to more than a dozen states for data on the "potentially deceptive" marketing tactics of payers offering the lucrative and privately-run Medicare and Part D plans.

Health prices rising much faster in the private sector than Medicare

Caitlin Owens, Axios

Health care prices overall may be lagging inflation, but there's a widening divergence between what's being paid in Medicare and the private sector, according to a new Altarum analysis.

Mental health a top post-COVID concern for employers: survey

Paige Minemyer, Fierce Healthcare

Nearly half (44%) of employers surveyed by the Business Group on Health said they have seen this trend in their workforces, and another 44% expect to see worsening mental health in the future. Most (85%) said they anticipate enhanced mental health benefits launched under the pandemic to continue.

PROVIDERS

Hospitals bounce back but see a shaky financial future ahead

Arielle Dreher, Axios

Some of the biggest hospital chains are seeing business rebound to pre-pandemic levels, but the industry as a whole is pressing for more federal relief before year's end, citing inflation, labor and supply cost pressures.

A hospital system's sweeping campaign to confront racism sees early wins

Usha Lee McFarling, Stat News

When a routine cancer screening came back showing an elevated PSA reading, George Brickhouse knew he should take it seriously. His father had been treated for prostate cancer and his brother had dealt with a scare. But the urologist he went to see started ordering tests without fully explaining why. And when he couldn't get through to a live person to schedule an MRI, he gave up trying to find out whether he had cancer. "I wasn't comfortable with being pushed through," he said.

InterWell-Fresenius-Cricket kidney care merger closes

Caroline Hudson, Modern Healthcare

InterWell Health, a kidney care physician organization, has merged with Fresenius Health Partners and Cricket Health, the company announced Wednesday.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Pfizer Bidding War With J&J Preceded Global Blood Therapeutics Deal

Michelle F Davis, Bloomberg

Pfizer Inc. and Johnson & Johnson duked it out in a bidding war for Global Blood Therapeutics Inc. days before Pfizer won with a $5.4 billion offer this month, according to people familiar with the matter.

Baby Formula Shortage: A Deadly Bacteria and Abbott's Missteps

Susan Berfield and Anna Edney, Bloomberg Businessweek

Procedures got sloppy at the facility in Sturgis, Mich. Cronobacter bacteria proliferated. And when the FDA finally acted, America found itself in a desperate scarcity.

How a long-overlooked protein could remake neuroscience drug discovery

Jason Mast, Stat News

This neuronal debris has captivated researchers and executives for the past decade. Neuroscience has long suffered from the fact that there is no simple way to track what unfolds in the nervous system. Want to know if your molecule actually slows degeneration in dementia patients? You'll need to track thousands of patients' cognitive decline for years. It's no coincidence that neuroscience drug development, by some metrics, has the largest failure rate of any disease area.

AstraZeneca's Soriot warns new U.S. drug price law will hurt innovation

Aimee Donnellan and Natalie Grover, Reuters

AstraZeneca's (AZN.L) Chief Executive Pascal Soriot warned new U.S. legislation capping drug prices would reduce the ability of companies to recoup their investment on developing new drugs and hurt innovation.

Novartis to spin off generics business Sandoz next year

Natalie Grover and Silke Koltrowitz, Reuters

Novartis (NOVN.S) plans to spin off its generics unit Sandoz to sharpen its focus on its patented prescription medicines, the Swiss group said on Thursday, acknowledging it had not received any formal offers for the business to date.

AbbVie's Ibrutinib Approved for Some Pediatric Patients by FDA

Greg Chang, Bloomberg

The US FDA said AbbVie's Pharmacyclics was granted approval for Imbruvica (ibrutinib) for pediatric patients above 1 year old with chronic graft versus host disease after failure of one or more lines of systemic therapy.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Hackers shifting focus to smaller hospitals, clinics and EHRs

Heather Landi, Fierce Healthcare

Among cyberattacks against providers in the first half of 2022, breaches associated with specialty clinics rose from 23% in 2021 to 31% this year, according to a report from cybersecurity firm Critical Insight.

Why rural providers should lead health tech innovation

Annie Burky, Fierce Healthcare

Rural health systems and hospitals are poised to be the next hubs of tech innovation, leveraging digital health and virtual care to serve patients across states and thousands of square miles.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

The U.S. is at a crossroads for reducing tobacco-related harms

Michael B. Farber and Anand Shah, Stat News

Although cigarette smoking has steadily declined over the past several decades, thanks to a more educated and health-conscious society, new and existing combustible and noncombustible tobacco products continue to pose public health challenges.

Long Covid Sufferers Have Waited Too Long for Help

Zeynep Tufekci, The New York Times

It wasn't until the end of the first year of the pandemic that Congress provided $1.2 billion for the National Institutes of Health, which led to a long Covid research initiative called Recover, in February 2021. A year and a half later, there are few treatments and lengthy delays to get into the small number of long Covid clinics. Frontline medical workers don't have the clinical guidelines they need, and some are still dismissive about the condition.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Life Sciences Technology Vision 2022

Shalu Chadha and Tim Durst, Accenture

The life sciences industry is on the threshold of a new decade of digital transformation, and at a defining moment for all leaders. The Metaverse Continuum will transform how businesses interact with customers and how work is done. Our two surveys of biopharma and medical technology executives confirm this:

[redacted]

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?
Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.

SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004
Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Reducing maternal mortality in the face of new challenges to reproductive health
FROM: NIHCM Foundation <nihcm@nihcm.org>
TO: <hborski@utah.gov>
DATE: 25/08/2022 08:54

Maternal Mortality may rise in the US under new, restrictive reproductive health care laws. Are there solutions?

Trouble viewing? View email in browser

NIHCM FOUNDATION

UPCOMING WEBINAR

Maternal Mortality and New Risks to Women's Reproductive Health

DATE & TIME
Tuesday, September 20, 2022
1:00 - 2:00 PM ET

Register

[redacted]

SPEAKERS

Ndidiamaka Amutah-Onukagha, PhD, MPH
Tufts University &
Center for Black Maternal Health and Reproductive Justice

Sindhu K. Srinivas, MD, MSCE
Perelman School of Medicine
University of Pennsylvania
Adam Myers, MD
Blue Cross Blue Shield Association

The United States has the highest maternal mortality rate among industrialized nations, in 2020 it was 23.8 deaths per 100,000 live births, a 14% increase from just two years prior. For every person in the US who dies because of pregnancy or childbirth, it is estimated that up to 70 more people suffer dangerous or life-threatening complications, yet two-thirds of these deaths are preventable.
Many experts think the dramatic restrictions on reproductive health care emerging in many states will only increase maternal mortality rates and existing disparities. The rate for Black women is nearly three times higher than White women. This disparity can be attributed to limited access to quality health care, underlying chronic conditions, structural racism, implicit bias, and many of the social determinants of health.
This webinar will explore overall maternal mortality, the impact of changes to reproductive rights, and new approaches and possible solutions that may improve maternal health outcomes. Speakers will discuss:

- The state of the maternal mortality crisis, who is affected, and the possible impact of new laws limiting reproductive health care and new approaches to achieving health equity.

- Risks to maternal health, with a focus on high-risk pregnancies and new challenges facing physicians, midwives, and other care providers.

- Supporting equitable, high-quality reproductive health care in all communities.

Register Today

Topics Webinars & Briefings Data Visualization Grants Awards Research Insights

News About Us Contact Us

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

Copyright © 2022 NIHCM Foundation, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you opted in via our website. Our mailing address is:
NIHCM Foundation
1225 19th St NW Ste 710
Washington, DC 20036-2454

Add us to your address book

SUBJECT: The end of Amazon Care | Texas system won't hand over records onex-president | UPMC operating income falls 86% in 6 mos. | Mercy mourns 1stCEO | Trustees called to quit Calif. hospital board | UChicago Med namesCXO | EMTALA covers abortion in Idaho ERs
FROM: Becker's Hospital Review <news@beckershealthcare-news.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 25/08/2022 09:22

August 25, 2022

BECKER'S
HOSPITAL REVIEW

Virtual Events • Webinars • Whitepapers • OnDemand Learning • Podcasts

1. Amazon to end Amazon Care services for employers Full story

2. UPMC's operating income sinks 86% in first half of year Full story
3. Texas health system fights request for records on president's abrupt exit Full story
4. Prevent burnout and retain your star employees. Find out how.
5. Sister Mary Roch Rocklage, first CEO of Mercy, dies at 87 Full story
6. EMTALA covers abortion in Idaho hospitals, judge rules Full story
7. Cyberattacks related to third party vendors are common in healthcare. Identify blindspots in vendor access management with tips from this discussion.
8. Trustees called to resign from California hospital's board over conflicts of interest Full story
9. Kentucky nurse accused of killing patient worked at another hospital until arrest Full story
10. UChicago Medicine names new chief experience officer Full story
11. Technology can be a bridge to greater equity — if leveraged the right way. Here's how to make sure new tools improve the health of all patients, not just some.
12. HCA Virginia hospital names CEO Full story
13. Pennsylvania hospital to end scheduled deliveries Full story
14. Misinterpreted guidance may fuel a COVID-19 uptick, Northwestern expert says Full story
15. Stats by state:

- COVID-19 hospitalization rates
- COVID-19 test positivity rates
- Percentage of population fully vaccinated
- COVID-19 death rates
- ICU utilization
- Staffing shortages
- Booster rates
- COVID-19 vaccination rates up/down
- COVID-19 cases trend

Becker's Learning Opportunities

1. Can AI close the gap between what's expected and what's achievable in rev cycle management? Health system execs say yes. Find out why.
2. 45% of patients plan to change their coverage level each year, leaving providers in danger of high denials and declining payments. Here's an easy-to-use solution.
3. Better medication management is a priority for health systems, but less than half rely on vendors. Learn why + what hospital execs are looking for in new vendors.

Follow us on social media:

Twitter | Facebook | LinkedIn

Becker's Whitepaper

Human-centered design: Building be health IT solutions
8 must-read on marketi for infectio control - supply lead
Supply cha transforma
7 takeaway from Mayo Clinic, Ced Sinai and m

Companies to Know
Thank you to our key sponsors

LeanTaas | Intuitive | Amwell | Change Healthcare | Xtend Healthcare | Zotec Partners | Sound Physicians | RevSpring | Philips | VisiQuate | Insight Global Health | Accureg | Vituity | 3M Health Care | Allscripts | Notable Health | Nuance | Cardinal Health

BECKER'S HOSPITAL REVIEW

BECKER'S Clinical Leadership & Infection Control

BECKER'S ASC REVIEW

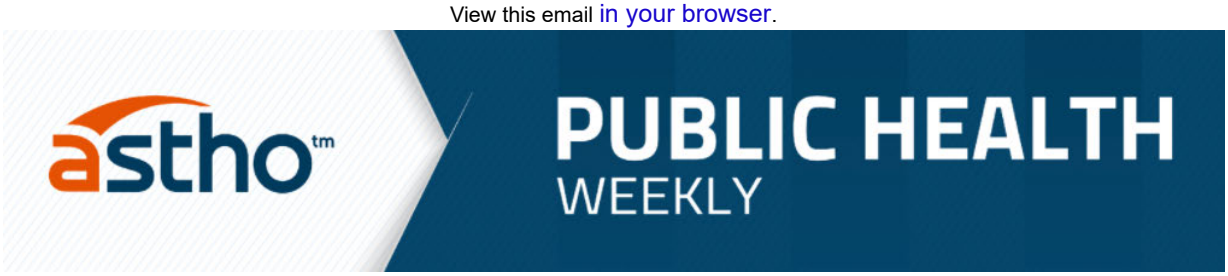
BECKER'S SPINEREVIEW

Manage Preferences Unsubscribe Forward to a friend Contact Us

17 N. State, Suite 1800 | Chicago, IL 60602
Becker's Hospital Review, A Becker's Healthcare Publication

SUBJECT: ASTHO Letter to White House on MPX Funding
FROM: "Public Health Weekly" <pr@astho.org>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 25/08/2022 09:28

View this email in your browser.



READ

Strategic Policies Protect Breastfeeding in Workplaces and Schools

The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends that infants exclusively breastfeed for the first six months of life and continue for one year while introducing solid foods.

Studies also show that Black, low income, and other systemically marginalized families are disproportionately impacted by work environments without lactation accommodation.

Learn how states are strengthening workplace and school protections for breastfeeding and lactation in this week's Health Policy Update.

READ

THIS WEEK'S HIGHLIGHTS

New ASTHO Training on HIV | This interactive, self-paced microlearning will give participants a brief background on HIV and an introduction to the National HIV Strategy, the four pillars of Ending the HIV Epidemic in the United States, and federal programs in place to help lessen the burden of HIV. Take advantage of this new resource now.

BE IN THE KNOW

Thank you for being a long-time subscriber to Public Health Weekly—we greatly appreciate your support! But did you know that we have more great newsletters to keep you up-to-date on the latest and greatest from ASTHO?

Subscribe to our Events list and be the first to hear about our webinars, trainings, summits, and more—there's always something new coming your way.

Want to learn more about public health policy? Our Legislative Alerts provide you with exclusive analysis of emerging health legislation at the federal and state levels.

Check out our newsletter page to subscribe to any and all of our offerings.

Brief

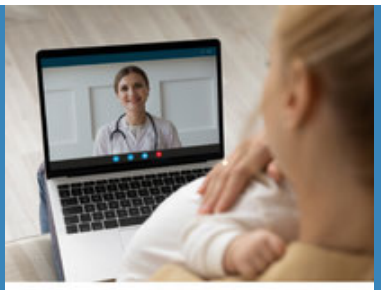
Louisiana Aims to Recharge Neighbors' Battery-Powered Life Support Equipment

READ

Blog

Preparing for the Next Infectious Disease Threat

READ



Report

Considerations for Maternal Child Health Policies During Public Health Emergencies

READ

astho

PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW

MORNING EDITION

THIS WEEK ON PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW MORNING EDITION

- New Flu Vaccine Polling | Gillian SteelFisher, Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health
- New COVID-19 Guidelines | Ian Williams, CDC
- CDC Reforms | Nirav Shah (SHO-ME), ASTHO President
- Back to School Concerns | Dylan George, CDC
- The Secrets to Effective Communication | Glen Nowak, UGA Grady College of Journalism and Mass Communication

LISTEN

PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW PODCAST

astho

PUBLIC HEALTH REVIEW

- Substance Use During Pregnancy - Reducing Stigma of Treatment | Joseph Kanter (SHO-LA) | Amy Ladley, Louisiana Perinatal Quality Collaborative
- Making Sure Maine Youth Matter | Sheila Nelson, Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention | Kini-Ana Tinkham, Maine Resilience Building Network
- Effects of COVID-19 on Tuberculosis Prevention, Detection, and Treatment | José Romero (alumni-AR) | Philip LoBue, Division of TB Elimination, CDC
- Older Adults and Healthy Aging | Jewel Mullen (alumni-CT) | Elizabeth Head, Georgia Department of Public Health | Aline Stone, Division of Aging Services, Georgia Department of Human Services

LISTEN

[redacted]

Press Room | Careers | Events | Funding

Don't forget to share this with any friends or colleagues who would love to hear more about the latest and greatest in public health!

Was this forwarded to you? Click here to subscribe.

Unsubscribe from Public Health Weekly.
Unsubscribe from all ASTHO newsletters.
higher logic

SUBJECT: nutrition resources
FROM: "Al Romeo (DHHS)" <alromeo@utah.gov>
TO: Al Romeo <alromeo@utah.gov>
BCC: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 25/08/2022 09:40

Yesterday during the Seminar we had a question about resources for individuals that were pregnant and had a vegetarian diet. Lorrie sent a couple and Cristina provided an additional one.

Staying Healthy on a Vegitarian Diet During Pregnancy
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/10.1111/jmwh.13105

Powered by Plants: Vegetarian and Vegan Diets in Pregnancy and Breastfeeding
https://mothertobaby.org/baby-blog/powered-by-plants-vegetarian-and-vegan-diets-in-pregnancy-and-breastfeeding/

USDA Nutrition.gov, Pregnancy
https://www.nutrition.gov/topics/nutrition-life-stage

Thanks.
Al

Alfred Romeo, RN PhD
Senior Registered Nurse, Teratogen Information Specialist
O: 801-273-4127
alromeo@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov
mothertobaby.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Family Health

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

[redacted]

[redacted]

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: AI for Drug Development; Effective Agents for Asthma
FROM: First Report Managed Care <newsletter@firstreportnow.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 25/08/2022 10:28

FIRST REPORT
MANAGED CARE

THE LATEST

Type 2 Inflammation-Specific Agents Ease Asthma Exacerbations

By Jolynn Tumolo

An analysis showed agents that target interleukins are significantly associated with reduced rates of asthma exacerbation for patients with severe disease.

Advertisement

POPHEALTH PERSPECTIVES

Addressing Inefficiencies in Drug Development With AI

By Maria Asimopoulos

Tanja Dowe, CEO, Debiopharm Innovation Fund SA, discusses the partnership between Debiopharm and VeriSIM Life and how advancements in technology can speed up the drug development process.

IN THE NEWS

Social Determinants of Health Affect Ability to Control HIV

By Jolynn Tumolo

Alopecia Areata Associated With High Cost Burden for Health Plans, Adolescents

By Maria Asimopoulos

Policies to Roll Back Abortion Rights Will Hit Incarcerated People Particularly Hard

By Carly Graf, Kaiser Health News

[redacted]

[redacted]

Advertisement

POPHEALTH PERSPECTIVES

Improving Biomarker Testing Rates in Metastatic Colorectal Cancer

By Maria Asimopoulos

Pashtoon Kasi, MD, MS, oncologist, director of colon cancer and liquid biopsy research, Weill Cornell Medicine, discusses why biomarker testing rates are low among patients with metastatic colon cancer, as well as what changes can be made to improve care.

Advertisement

HMP Global

©2022 First Report Managed Care
70 E. Swedesford Road Suite 100, Malvern PA 19355
This email was sent to hborski@utah.gov
View in browser
Click here to unsubscribe
Privacy Policy

.

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Medicaid Funding; Abortion Restrictions Impact Incarcerated People
FROM: First Report Managed Care <newsletter@firstreportnow.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 25/08/2022 15:00

FIRST REPORT
MANAGED CARE

THE LATEST

Long-term Outcomes Suboptimal for Children With Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy

By Jolynn Tumolo

Researchers assessed long-term outcomes among children with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy (HCM) and secondary HCM.

[redacted]

Advertisement

COMMENTARY

Three Insights From Trailblaze 2022: Member Experience Is About Humanization

By Icario Team

In this commentary, the Icario team shares advice on how to connect with members better, elevate their experience, and improve outcomes.

IN THE NEWS

Alopecia Areata Associated With High Cost Burden for Health Plans, Adolescents

By Maria Asimopoulos

Policies to Roll Back Abortion Rights Will Hit Incarcerated People Particularly Hard

By Carly Graf, Kaiser Health News

HHS, CMS Expand State Funding for Medicaid's Money Follows the Person Program

By Edan Stanley

Advertisement

INTERVIEW

Partnership Implements Real-Time Benefit Check to Improve Transparency

By Maria Asimopoulos

Martin Burruano, vice president of pharmacy services, Independent Health, reviews key considerations for payers seeking to adopt real-time benefit check technologies for their provider networks.

[redacted]

HMP Global

©2022 First Report Managed Care
70 E. Swedesford Road Suite 100, Malvern PA 19355
This email was sent to hborski@utah.gov
View in browser
Click here to unsubscribe
Privacy Policy

SUBJECT: Re: nutrition resources
FROM: "Al Romeo (DHHS)" <alromeo@utah.gov>
TO: Al Romeo <alromeo@utah.gov>
BCC: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 25/08/2022 16:55

Alfred Romeo, RN PhD
Senior Registered Nurse, Teratogen Information Specialist
O: 801-273-4127
alromeo@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov
mothertobaby.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Family Health

And more from Nancy.

https://www.acog.org/womens-health/faqs/nutrition-during-pregnancy

Thanks everyone.
Al

On Thu, Aug 25, 2022 at 9:40 AM Al Romeo (DHHS) <alromeo@utah.gov> wrote:

> Yesterday during the Seminar we had a question about resources for individuals that were pregnant and had a vegetarian diet. Lorrie sent a couple and Cristina provided an additional one.
>
> Staying Healthy on a Vegitarian Diet During Pregnancy
> https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/10.1111/jmwh.13105
>
> Powered by Plants: Vegetarian and Vegan Diets in Pregnancy and Breastfeeding
> https://mothertobaby.org/baby-blog/powered-by-plants-vegetarian-and-vegan-diets-in-pregnancy-and-breastfeeding/
>
> USDA Nutrition.gov, Pregnancy
> https://www.nutrition.gov/topics/nutrition-life-stage
>
> Thanks.
> Al

Alfred Romeo, RN PhD

[redacted]

[redacted]

Senior Registered Nurse, Teratogen Information Specialist
O: 801-273-4127
alromeo@utah.gov
dhhs.utah.gov
mothertobaby.utah.gov

Utah Department of
Health & Human Services
Family Health

* IMPORTANT MESSAGE **********
This message, including any attachments, may contain confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, delete this message, including from trash, and notify me by telephone or email.

If you are not the intended recipient, any distributions or copying of this message, or the taking of any action based on its content is strictly prohibited.

SUBJECT: Mar-A-Lago Rhetoric Putting Judges At Risk, NYC Bar Says
FROM: Public Policy Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 26/08/2022 02:44

Friday, August 26, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

Mar-A-Lago Rhetoric Putting Judges At Risk, NYC Bar Says

The New York City Bar Association is calling on attorneys to temper their statements and stop making false claims about the FBI search of former President Donald Trump's Florida residence, citing recent threats of violence against a judge and law enforcement.

Read full article »

Judge Orders Release Of Redacted Affidavit In Trump Search

A Florida federal judge on Thursday accepted the government's proposed redactions to the affidavit of probable cause that led to the search warrant for former President Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago estate and ordered the release of the redacted affidavit by noon Friday.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Calif. Sews Up Regs To End Gas Car Sales By 2035

California air regulators finalized an ambitious plan Thursday to phase out sales of new gasoline-powered vehicles by 2035, a linchpin of the Golden State's climate change policy that could be copied by a host of other states.

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS
Aidala Bertuna
Baker & Hostetler

[redacted]

Read full article »

Maersk Drops $1B Container Biz Sale Amid DOJ Pressure

A.P. Moller-Maersk on Thursday abandoned the planned sale of its refrigerated container manufacturing business to China International Marine Containers Ltd., a deal worth around $1 billion, after U.S. enforcers flagged antitrust concerns about the move.

Read full article »

Dominion To Depose Fox's Hannity, Carlson In Voting Suit

Dominion Voting Systems Inc. is set to depose Sean Hannity, Tucker Carlson and other big names at Fox News as it moves forward with its defamation suit accusing the network of spreading "outlandish" claims about the 2020 presidential election, according to a series of notices filed in Delaware court.

Read full article »

Senate Panel Sets Twitter Whistleblower Complaint Hearing

A Twitter security chief turned public whistleblower has been called to testify before Congress' Senate Judiciary Committee on Sept. 13, in the latest investigation to target the social media giant's security and the accuracy of its disclosures about bogus or "spam" traffic.

Read full article »

Conn. Judge Gives Biden Latest Judicial Vacancy

Chief Judge Stefan R. Underhill of the District of Connecticut will take senior status in November, giving President Joe Biden an additional vacancy to fill on the court.

Read full article »

VOTING RIGHTS & ELECTIONS

Ga. Gov. Pushes To End Election Probe Subpoena

The Georgia judge evaluating whether Gov. Brian Kemp can be forced to testify before a special grand jury investigating former President Donald Trump's alleged efforts to overturn the state's 2020 election results appeared skeptical of the governor's argument the investigation is civil and that he can thus assert sovereign immunity.

Read full article »

New Map Doesn't Violate Black Voters' Rights, Ala. Says

Alabama election officials fired back against several groups, including the state's NAACP chapter, that say its new congressional map is racially discriminatory, arguing that federal law does not require two of their seven electoral districts to be majority-Black.

Brief attached | Read full article »

BANKING & SECURITIES

Balch & Bingham
Ballard Spahr
Barket Epstein
Bass Berry
Bryan Cave
Clare Locke
Clark Hill
Cleary Gottlieb
Consovoy McCarthy
Cozen O'Connor
Dentons
Donaldson & Chilliest
Dorsey & Whitney
Farnan LLP
Flynn & Flynn
Foster Garvey
Girardi & Keese
Grant & Eisenhofer
Greenberg Traurig
Hausfeld LLP
Haynes & Boone
Hill & Associates
Hogan Lovells
Hueston Hennigan
Hunton Andrews
Jones Skelton
Katten Muchin
Kessler Topaz
Klasko Immigration Law Partners
Kostelanetz & Fink
Law Offices of Nellie L. King
Levene Neale
Liston Abramson
Marten Law LLP
Martin G. Weinberg Attorney at Law
McDermott Will
Meland Budwick
Morrison Foerster
Morvillo Abramowitz
Nelson Mullins
Ogletree Deakins
Paul Weiss
Pena & Soma
Perkins Coie
Potter Anderson
Prickett Jones
Quinn Connor
Quinn Emanuel
Reed Smith
Richards Layton
Shullman Fugate

SEC Finalizes Exec Comp Disclosure Rule After 12-Year Wait

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has finally adopted the so-called pay-versus-performance rule requiring companies to justify executive pay to shareholders by comparing it to the company's financial performance, 12 years after Congress directed the agency to create such a rule.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

SEC Warns Municipal Advisers About Disclosures Failures

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's examinations unit issued a risk alert highlighting the most common deficiencies observed among municipal advisers, including inaccurate disclosures and failures to disclose conflicts of interest.

1 document attached | Read full article »

Alliant Calls 'Dreamers' A Loan Risk In Bid To Nix Bias Suit

Alliant Credit Union has pressed a California federal court to toss a lawsuit seeking to open up car loans to undocumented immigrants with Obama-era deportation protections, arguing that the uncertain residency status of "Dreamers" presents too high a risk for the five-year loans.

Motion attached | Read full article »

ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL

9th Circ. Allows Farming Groups To Join Gray Wolf Appeal

A coalition of farming groups won the right from the Ninth Circuit to intervene in a case challenging a California federal judge's decision to revive protections for gray wolves after the government removed them from its list of protected species in 2020.

Order attached | Read full article »

Utah Sees 'Abuse' In Biden's Restoration Of Monuments' Land

Utah and two of its counties are hitting President Joe Biden with a suit in federal court claiming he far overstepped his limited authority under federal law when he restored the size of the Bears Ears and Grand Staircase-Escalante national monuments last year.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

Alaska Petrol Drilling Project Risks Climate Harm, Enviros Say

Skadden Arps
Susman Godfrey
Thomas & LoCicero
Wachtell Lipton
Wiggins Childs
Wilson Sonsini
Woods Oviatt
Wright Lindsey

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

A.P. Moller-Maersk
Advanced Energy Economy
Alliant Credit Union
Amazon.com Inc.
American Civil Liberties Union
American College of Tax Counsel
American Farm Bureau Federation
CBS Corp.
CBS Interactive Inc.
Cable News Network Inc.
California Attorney Lending
Center for Biological Diversity
China International Marine Containers Ltd.
Circuit City Stores Inc.
Comcast Corp.
ConocoPhillips Co.
Costco Wholesale Corp.
Democratic National Committee
Earthjustice
Environmental Defense Fund Inc.
Fox News Network LLC
Google LLC
Judicial Watch Inc.
Knight-Swift Transportation Holdings Inc.
League of Minnesota Cities
Massachusetts Lobstermen's Association
Mexican American Legal Defense & Educational Fund
NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund Inc.
NBCUniversal Media LLC
National Amusements Inc.
National Association for the Advancement of Colored People
National Association of Home Builders
National Cattlemen's Beef Association

Three environmental groups are fighting to stop the Peregrine exploratory drilling program in Alaska's Western Arctic, saying the Biden administration isn't thinking about the long-term consequences it could have on the climate, according to a lawsuit lodged Thursday in Alaska federal court.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

COMPETITION

DC AG Appealing Toss Of Amazon Antitrust Suit

The attorney general of Washington, D.C., gave notice Thursday that he will ask the district's appellate court to revive the only government antitrust enforcement action so far brought against Amazon.com, accusing the online retail giant of setting an artificial pricing floor through its merchant contracts.

Notice attached | Read full article »

CYBERSECURITY & PRIVACY

Couple Admits Selling Ashley Biden's Diary To Project Veritas

Two Florida residents pled guilty Thursday to stealing the diary and other belongings of President Joe Biden's daughter Ashley and selling them to conservative group Project Veritas two months before the 2020 election.

1 document attached | Read full article »

PERSONAL INJURY & MEDICAL MALPRACTICE

Pa. Supreme Court Abandons Med Mal Venue Restrictions

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court on Thursday ended a special venue rule for medical malpractice suits, which for 20 years had limited the filing of such lawsuits to the jurisdictions where the injuries occurred.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Ariz. Justices Say 'Evil Mind' Needed For Punitive Damages

The Arizona Supreme Court has clarified the threshold for a plaintiff seeking punitive damages to get a defendant's financial information during discovery, saying in a suit over a fatal accident involving a Swift Transportation truck that in a negligence suit, it requires a showing that an "evil mind" guided "outrageous" conduct.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

AEROSPACE & DEFENSE

DOD Rule Allows Med Mal Claims From Active-Duty Troops

National Congress of American Indians
National District Attorneys Association
National Federation of Independent Business
National Rifle Association of America
Native American Rights Fund Inc.
New York City Bar Association
New York State Bar Association
North American Electric Reliability Corp.
Paramount Global
Sierra Club
State Bar of California
T-Mobile US Inc.
Tesla Inc.
The E.W. Scripps Company
The Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law
The New York Times Co.
The State University of New York
Twitter Inc.
U.S. Chamber of Commerce
University of Pittsburgh Medical Center
Walmart Inc.
Washington Post Co.
Wells Fargo & Co.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Arizona Supreme Court
Arkansas Department of Health
Arkansas Supreme Court
Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services
Bureau of Land Management
California Air Resources Board
Delaware Court of Chancery
Dormitory Authority of the State of New York
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Communications Commission
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Federal Trade Commission
Fish and Wildlife Service
Hopi Tribe

The U.S. Department of Defense released a final rule on Thursday allowing service members to make claims for medical malpractice at military facilities, a congressionally mandated response to a long-standing judicial bar on lawsuits over injuries related to military service.

1 document attached | Read full article »

TAX

Justices Urged To Ax Harsher Foreign Account Tax Penalties

The U.S. Supreme Court should undo a decision that the IRS can assess penalties on each inadvertently undisclosed foreign account rather than taking the more lenient approach of assessing the penalty once annually, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce said Thursday.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

IMMIGRATION

USCIS, Investors Cut Deal Ending Suits Over EB-5 Reforms

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services has agreed to rescind recent reforms to the EB-5 visa program to resolve allegations by regional centers that the changes misinterpreted congressional intent, according to a proposed settlement filed in California federal court Thursday.

Settlement attached | Read full article »

NATIVE AMERICAN

Tribe Says Alaska Election Rules Disenfranchise Native Voters

An Alaskan tribe is among several parties pushing state election officials to let voters cure their defective mail-in ballots, claiming in a new lawsuit that thousands of people — including a disproportionate number of Native residents — were illegally disenfranchised in June because of easily fixed mistakes.

Complaint attached | Read full article »

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Mobile Carriers Share Requested Data Practices With FCC

The Federal Communications Commission shared data retention and privacy information from 15 of the United States' top mobile carriers on Thursday after asking the providers in July to share more details on how they handle and protect sensitive consumer data.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

Local Gov'ts Say FCC Rule On Cable Fees Confusing

Local franchise authorities are urging the Federal Communications Commission to scrap or clarify rules

Internal Revenue Service
Judicial Conference of the United States
Minnesota Legislature
National Archives and Records Administration
Navajo Nation
Occupational Safety and Health Administration
Pennsylvania Supreme Court
Pueblo of Zuni
Small Business Administration
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit
U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Defense
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. Department of the Interior
U.S. District Court for the District of Alaska
U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. House of Representatives
U.S. Navy
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
U.S. Supreme Court
United States District Court for the District of Utah
Ute Indian Tribe
Ute Mountain Ute Tribe

affecting payment of cable and broadband franchise fees after the industry scored a pair of recent wins on the issue.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

CANNABIS

Mass. Pot Shop Atty Says 'Pay To Play' Was Just Lobbying

A Massachusetts attorney Thursday pushed to dismiss charges that he tried to bribe a police chief to influence the approval of a pot shop in which the lawyer had a financial stake, arguing his conduct was legally justifiable lobbying activity.

Motion attached | Read full article »

NY Pot Regulators Tout Retail Plan As Model For Other States

New York State cannabis regulators on Thursday kicked off the application window for the state's first recreational marijuana retailers, highlighting what they described as a novel initiative for social equity applicants that could serve as an example for other states.

Read full article »

Ark. Pot Group Says Ballot Measure Removal Unconstitutional

An advocacy group trying to get a question on the November ballot to legalize recreational cannabis in Arkansas is asking the state's highest court to undo the Board of Elections' decision not to certify the ballot question's title, saying the measure giving the board the power to reject the title goes against the state's constitution.

3 documents attached | Read full article »

PEOPLE

Former FERC Attorney Joins Bryan Cave's Energy Practice

Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP has added a former Federal Energy Regulatory Commission enforcement attorney and utility company in-house counsel to its global energy, environment and infrastructure practice, the firm announced Thursday.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

A Closer Look At SBA Proposal For Disabled Veteran Small Biz

A recently proposed Small Business Administration rule is a significant step toward reducing misrepresentation and fraud within the service-disabled veteran-owned small business set-aside program, but also has drawbacks that could inhibit progress toward full compliance, says Todd Overman at Bass Berry.

[redacted]

Proposed Rule attached | Read full article »

Employer Steps After Minn. Unwittingly Legalized THC Edibles

Inconsistencies in a recent amendment to Minnesota's statutes mean that state lawmakers inadvertently legalized edibles and beverages containing THC, raising questions about possible effects on workplace drug testing policies that employers must address as they await more clarity from legislators, says Katie Ervin Carlson at Dorsey & Whitney.

Read full article »

How 10th Circ. Trustee Fee Ruling Will Affect Ch. 11 Appeals

Developments leading up to the Tenth Circuit's recent decision that mandated refunds for overpayment of U.S. trustee fees — the first opinion on the issue since the U.S. Supreme Court's Siegel v. Fitzgerald ruling — highlight how other pending appeals considering the same matter might play out, says Shane Ramsey at Nelson Mullins.

Read full article »

Adapting To High Court's Medicaid Recovery Ruling

The U.S. Supreme Court's recent decision in Gallardo v. Marstiller will likely encourage states to more aggressively seek recovery of future Medicaid expenses when plaintiffs settle with third parties, but certain limitations and strategies can help protect plaintiffs' payouts, says Aaron Frishman at Foster Garvey.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Engage Associates At Orientation With Thoughtful Activities

The pandemic has driven home the dangers of taking associate talent for granted, and law firms should consider five types of orientation activities that give new employees a greater sense of belonging, set the tone at the outset for a long career and influence attitudes toward the firm, says Joseph Gerstel at GetSomeClass.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Tom Girardi's Art, Treasures Set For Auction Next Week

More than 200 valuable items from Tom Girardi's Southern California mansion are slated to go up for auction next week, with most of the proceeds going to repay a litigation lender owed by the disgraced lawyer's bankrupt estate.

[redacted]

[redacted]

Read full article »

Women- And Minority-Owned Firms: A Gap In Corporate Work

Amid a push for corporations to outsource more legal work to diverse-owned firms, a report has found that women-owned firms were getting more business from corporate clients than were minority-owned firms.

Read full article »

Investors Say Cleary Gottlieb Should Produce Redstone Email

CBS investors who want Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP to turn over an email sent by media mogul Shari E. Redstone regarding the network's $30 billion merger with Viacom in 2019 have told the Delaware Chancery Court that the email was not a privileged communication and should be produced.

Read full article »

New York DA Fighting 'Bad Guy' Prosecutor Image

Erie County District Attorney John F. Flynn was recently named president of the National District Attorneys Association. He talked with Law360 Pulse about the challenges prosecutors are facing nationwide.

Read full article »

Musk Ordered To Give Twitter His Experts' User Analyses

Tech billionaire Elon Musk lost a bid Thursday to fully shield his data scientists' analysis of Twitter's full stream of user traffic in the latest pre-trial decisions from the Delaware Chancery Court on Musk's attempt to terminate a $44 billion deal to take the social media company private.

Read full article »

New NYS Bar Task Force Aims To Improve Access To Justice

The New York State Bar Association launched a task force Thursday to suggest new laws and policies to improve the criminal justice system and tackle a variety of issues that emerged during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Read full article »

EPA Can't Slip Mexican-American Atty's Race Bias Suit

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency can't dodge discrimination claims levied against it by an attorney in its Chicago office claiming he was passed over for a promotion because he is Mexican-American, although an Illinois federal judge did toss the attorney's other retaliation claim against the agency.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

Attorney - Assistant Attorney General - Opinions

Illinois Attorney General's Office

[redacted]

[redacted]

-, -

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: 8th Circ. Affirms Trans Youth's Sex Bias Health Care Win
FROM: Health Law360 <news-q@law360.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 26/08/2022 02:49

Lexisnexis

Friday, August 26, 2022

Follow

TOP NEWS

8th Circ. Affirms Trans Youth's Sex Bias Health Care Win

The Eighth Circuit on Thursday affirmed a preliminary block on an Arkansas state law banning transgender health care procedures for minors, holding a lower court didn't err in finding those who sued to permanently stop enforcement were likely to prevail on claims of unconstitutional sex discrimination.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

8th Circ. Says Biomet Received A Fair Trial In Hip Implant Suit

The Eighth Circuit won't overturn a $3.5 million verdict against Biomet Inc. in favor of a patient who says her hip implant device shed metal debris, ruling that the company "was not denied a fair trial."

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Centene Strikes $33M Deal To End Wash. Medicaid Fraud Suit

Washington state and the federal government will receive $33 million from health care giant Centene Corp. to resolve a lawsuit alleging it overcharged the state's Medicaid program — a deal that amounts to the second-largest fraud recovery in the state's history.

COMPANIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Amazon.com Inc.
American Civil Liberties Union
American Civil Liberties Union of Arkansas
American Property Casualty Insurance Association

[redacted]

Settlement attached | Read full article »

NJ Justices Toss Punitive Claims Over FDA Device Warning

The New Jersey Supreme Court on Thursday threw out punitive damages claims against Valley Health System and others for using a power morcellator during a patient's hysterectomy after the U.S. Food and Drug Administration warned about such devices, citing the "purely advisory nature" of the agency's communication.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Wash. Justices Find Losses From Virus Orders Not Covered

The Washington Supreme Court unanimously decided in a closely watched case Thursday that a pediatric dental practice wasn't entitled to insurance coverage for its COVID-19-related losses.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Hospital Co. To Pay $19.7M To End Wage Suit In Fla.

An Ascension Health hospital and its owners agreed to pay $19.7 million to thousands of workers, ending a suit in Florida federal court alleging the hospital and its owners improperly calculated overtime and underpaid employees when a ransomware attack took out its timekeeping system.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

POLICY & REGULATION

DOD Rule Allows Med Mal Claims From Active-Duty Troops

The U.S. Department of Defense released a final rule on Thursday allowing service members to make claims for medical malpractice at military facilities, a congressionally mandated response to a long-standing judicial bar on lawsuits over injuries related to military service.

1 document attached | Read full article »

LITIGATION

Gilead Fights High Court Bid Over 'Possession' Of Invention

Gilead's Kite Pharma Inc. says the U.S. Supreme Court shouldn't review a Federal Circuit decision that erased a Bristol-Myers Squibb unit's $1.1 billion victory in a cancer therapy case, saying the challenge is trying to fight more than half a century of precedent.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Benefit Plan Users Urge 5th Circ. To Affirm Class In ERISA Suit

American Tower Corp.
Ascension Health Inc.
Biomet Inc.
Bloomberg
Bristol-Myers Squibb Co.
CBS Corp.
CBS Interactive Inc.
CVC Capital Partners
CVS Health Corp.
Cable News Network Inc.
California Attorney Lending
Carlyle Group LP
Centene Corp.
Cincinnati Financial Corp.
Democratic National Committee
Fox News Network LLC
Freedom Mortgage Corp.
JPMorgan Chase & Co.
Judicial Watch Inc.
Juno Therapeutics Inc.
KKR Financial Holdings LLC
Kite Pharma Inc.
Major League Baseball Inc.
Monumental Sports & Entertainment LLC
Mutual of Enumclaw Insurance Co.
NBCUniversal Media LLC
National Amusements Inc.
National District Attorneys Association
New York City Bar Association
New York State Bar Association
New York State Nurses Association
Oi SA
Olympus Corp.
Option Care Health Inc.
Paramount Global
Pfizer Inc.
Sacred Heart Health System Inc.
Signify Health Inc.
State Bar of California
The E.W. Scripps Company
The New York Times Co.
The State University of New York
Twitter Inc.
UnitedHealth Group Inc.
University of Pittsburgh Medical Center
WNBA Enterprises LLC
Washington Capitals

Three benefit plan participants urged a Fifth Circuit panel Thursday to deny a bid by a group of benefits providers to overturn class certification in their suit alleging excessive fees, arguing that over 200,000 proposed class members were subjected to the same predatory policies.

Brief attached | Read full article »

Judge Won't Rethink Additional $22M Granted To Pension Plan

A Manhattan federal judge won't reconsider his earlier decision that would grant $22 million in prejudgment interest to a nurses union's pension plan, the judge said on Thursday.

Order attached | Read full article »

Pa. Supreme Court Abandons Med Mal Venue Restrictions

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court on Thursday ended a special venue rule for medical malpractice suits, which for 20 years had limited the filing of such lawsuits to the jurisdictions where the injuries occurred.

2 documents attached | Read full article »

Telehealth Cos., Hospital Keep Win In Fatal Stroke Suit

Two telehealth companies and a hospital escaped a suit alleging they failed to timely administer a stroke treatment to a patient who later died of a brain hemorrhage, after a Georgia appeals panel on Thursday said the patient's widower did not establish that the alleged negligence caused the patient's death.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Care Home Must Face Suit Over Resident's Fall In Auto Door

A Georgia appeals court has revived claims alleging that a personal care home's negligence led to an automatic door hitting and knocking over a 91-year-old man, saying the jury should decide whether the home was more familiar with the door's hazards and whether the man was careful of his own safety.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Health Care Co. Says Nurses Can't Prove Forced Labor Claims

A company accused of forcing foreign employees to work for substandard wages for years or else pay tens of thousands of dollars in liquidated damages urged a New York federal court Thursday not to grant a pre-trial victory on claims that its practices amounted to forced labor.

Motion attached | Read full article »

Washington Nationals
Washington Post Co.
Washington Wizards
White Oak Global Advisors LLC

LAW FIRMS IN TODAY'S NEWS

Aidala Bertuna
Altshuler Berzon
Ballard Spahr
Barket Epstein
Berger Montague
Bouhan Falligant
Bruckner Burch
Buckley Theroux
Clare Locke
Cleary Gottlieb
Coleman Talley
Covington & Burling
Creed & Gowdy
Crowell & Moring
Davis Wright
Dentons
Donaldson & Chilliest
Faegre Drinker
Farkas & Donohue
Farnan LLP
Feinberg Jackson
Fish & Richardson
Flynn & Flynn
Foster Garvey
Gibson Dunn
Gill Ragon
Girardi & Keese
Gordon Tilden
Grant & Eisenhofer
Hill & Associates
Holifield & Janich
Hueston Hennigan
Irell & Manella
Jackson Lewis P.C.
Jackson Walker LLP
Jones Day
Keller Rohrback
Kessler Topaz
Law Offices of Nellie L. King
Law Offices of Sheldon J. Schlesinger
Levene Neale
Liston Abramson
Locke Lord
Meland Budwick
Morgan & Morgan PA
Morvillo Abramowitz

DEALS

Deals Rumor Mill: Amazon, Washington Nationals, CVC Capital

More potential suitors for Signify Health have emerged, the owner of three Washington, D.C., professional sports franchises has his eye on a fourth, and private equity firm CVC may sell its stake in an Indonesian snack producer. Here, Law360 breaks down these and other deal rumors from the past week that you need to be aware of.

Read full article »

EXPERT ANALYSIS

Adapting To High Court's Medicaid Recovery Ruling

The U.S. Supreme Court's recent decision in Gallardo v. Marstiller will likely encourage states to more aggressively seek recovery of future Medicaid expenses when plaintiffs settle with third parties, but certain limitations and strategies can help protect plaintiffs' payouts, says Aaron Frishman at Foster Garvey.

Opinion attached | Read full article »

Engage Associates At Orientation With Thoughtful Activities

The pandemic has driven home the dangers of taking associate talent for granted, and law firms should consider five types of orientation activities that give new employees a greater sense of belonging, set the tone at the outset for a long career and influence attitudes toward the firm, says Joseph Gerstel at GetSomeClass.

Read full article »

LEGAL INDUSTRY

Tom Girardi's Art, Treasures Set For Auction Next Week

More than 200 valuable items from Tom Girardi's Southern California mansion are slated to go up for auction next week, with most of the proceeds going to repay a litigation lender owed by the disgraced lawyer's bankrupt estate.

Read full article »

Women- And Minority-Owned Firms: A Gap In Corporate Work

Amid a push for corporations to outsource more legal work to diverse-owned firms, a report has found that women-owned firms were getting more business from corporate clients than were minority-owned firms.

Read full article »

Munger Tolles
Orrick Herrington
Pena & Soma
Potter Anderson
Prickett Jones
Quinn Emanuel
Reed Smith
Richards Layton
Robins Kaplan
Rodd Firm
Roxanne Conlin & Associates
Ruta Soulios
Shullman Fugate
Sidley Austin
Skadden Arps
Sullivan & Cromwell
Susman Godfrey
Thomas & LoCicero
Varnell & Warwick
Vasios Kelly
Wachtell Lipton
Wilson Sonsini
Woods Oviatt

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

Arkansas Department of Health
Delaware Court of Chancery
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Food and Drug Administration
National Archives and Records Administration
New Jersey Supreme Court
Pennsylvania Supreme Court
U.S. Attorney's Office
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
U.S. Department of Defense
U.S. Department of Justice
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida
U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York

[redacted]

Judge Orders Release Of Redacted Affidavit In Trump Search

A Florida federal judge on Thursday accepted the government's proposed redactions to the affidavit of probable cause that led to the search warrant for former President Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago estate and ordered the release of the redacted affidavit by noon Friday.

Read full article »

Mar-A-Lago Rhetoric Putting Judges At Risk, NYC Bar Says

The New York City Bar Association is calling on attorneys to temper their statements and stop making false claims about the FBI search of former President Donald Trump's Florida residence, citing recent threats of violence against a judge and law enforcement.

Read full article »

Dominion To Depose Fox's Hannity, Carlson In Voting Suit

Dominion Voting Systems Inc. is set to depose Sean Hannity, Tucker Carlson and other big names at Fox News as it moves forward with its defamation suit accusing the network of spreading "outlandish" claims about the 2020 presidential election, according to a series of notices filed in Delaware court.

Read full article »

Conn. Judge Gives Biden Latest Judicial Vacancy

Chief Judge Stefan R. Underhill of the District of Connecticut will take senior status in November, giving President Joe Biden an additional vacancy to fill on the court.

Read full article »

Investors Say Cleary Gottlieb Should Produce Redstone Email

CBS investors who want Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP to turn over an email sent by media mogul Shari E. Redstone regarding the network's $30 billion merger with Viacom in 2019 have told the Delaware Chancery Court that the email was not a privileged communication and should be produced.

Read full article »

New York DA Fighting 'Bad Guy' Prosecutor Image

Erie County District Attorney John F. Flynn was recently named president of the National District Attorneys Association. He talked with Law360 Pulse about the challenges prosecutors are facing nationwide.

Read full article »

Musk Ordered To Give Twitter His Experts' User Analyses

Tech billionaire Elon Musk lost a bid Thursday to fully shield his data scientists' analysis of Twitter's full stream of user traffic in the latest pre-trial decisions from the Delaware

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
U.S. Navy
U.S. Supreme Court
Washington Attorney General's Office

[redacted]

Chancery Court on Musk's attempt to terminate a $44 billion deal to take the social media company private.

Read full article »

New NYS Bar Task Force Aims To Improve Access To Justice

The New York State Bar Association launched a task force Thursday to suggest new laws and policies to improve the criminal justice system and tackle a variety of issues that emerged during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Read full article »

EPA Can't Slip Mexican-American Atty's Race Bias Suit

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency can't dodge discrimination claims levied against it by an attorney in its Chicago office claiming he was passed over for a promotion because he is Mexican-American, although an Illinois federal judge did toss the attorney's other retaliation claim against the agency.

Read full article »

JOBS

Search full listings or advertise your job opening

MID-SIZED FULL SERVICE MATRIMONIAL/FAMILY LAW PARTNERS/NYC
Schoen Legal Search
New York, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Corporate partner for NY office of well-known NY/NJ mid-sized firm
Schoen Legal Search
New York City, New York

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.
However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort,
you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call +1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Privacy Policy | Cookie Policy

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011

SUBJECT: Explore our Aug 27, 2022 issue
FROM: The Lancet <thelancet@notification.elsevier.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 26/08/2022 03:53

Please add thelancet@notification.elsevier.com to your Safe Senders list. If you have trouble viewing this message, click here to view it online.

ADVERTISEMENT

THE LANCET Summit October 27-28, 2022 | Virtual
Big data and AI in pandemic preparedness
REGISTER NOW

In this issue of The Lancet:

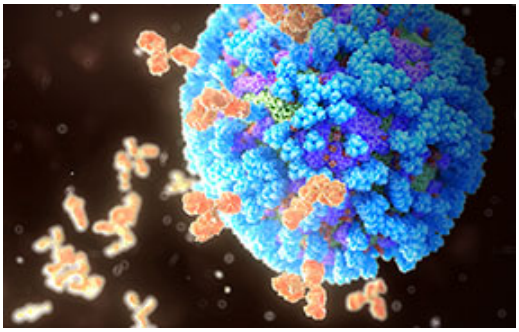
THE LANCET

Vol. 400
Number 10353 | Aug 27, 2022
p 635-706 | e3-e7

Twitter Podcast

FEATURES



Influenza
Annual seasonal influenza epidemics of variable severity caused by influenza A and B virus infections result in a substantial disease burden worldwide.
Read this Seminar

A 1000-year-old case of Klinefelter's syndrome diagnosed by integrating morphology, osteology, and genetics: the skeleton was found in the medieval archaeological site of Torre Velha, in north-eastern Portugal.
Read this Clinical Picture

EDITORIAL

Tedros: Tigray, the Triple Billion, and a second term

COMMENT

Sexual behaviours and clinical course of human monkeypox in Spain

Randomised trials of medical abortion provide some but not all the answers

Effective treatment pathways exist for DPNP

A new Lancet Commission on the future of health and economic resiliency in Africa

COVID-19 boosters and building trust among UK minority ethnic communities

From drug prohibition to regulation: a public health imperative

WORLD REPORT

“Every challenge is here”: fistula in Ethiopia

Ukraine invasion: 6 months on

PERSPECTIVES

Marceline Tutu van Furth: inspiring future medical leaders

Forgetting pandemics may be hazardous to your health

The history lesson

OBITUARY

Joyce Lashof

CORRESPONDENCE

Trust made the difference for democracies in COVID-19

Evidence of human-to-dog transmission of monkeypox virus

WHO's Palestinian statistics: what's Israel got to do with it?

DEPARTMENT OF ERROR

Department of Error

ARTICLES

Clinical presentation and virological assessment of confirmed human monkeypox virus cases in Spain: a prospective observational cohort study

A telemedicine model for abortion in South Africa: a randomised, controlled, non-inferiority trial

Comparison of amitriptyline supplemented with pregabalin, pregabalin supplemented with amitriptyline, and duloxetine supplemented with pregabalin for the treatment of diabetic peripheral neuropathic pain (OPTION-DM): a multicentre, double-blind, randomised crossover trial
Open Access

CLINICAL PICTURE

A 1000-year-old case of Klinefelter's syndrome diagnosed by integrating morphology, osteology, and genetics

[redacted]

SEMINAR

Influenza

REVIEW

Global pandemic perspectives: public health, mental health, and lessons for the future

View the entire Table of Contents online

CONTENT

Online First
Commissions
Series

MULTIMEDIA

Infographics
Podcasts
Videos

INFO & SERVICES

Lancet Alerts
Open Access
Publishing excellence

You are receiving this email because you subscribed to TheLancet.com alerting service.

This email has been sent from The Lancet, Elsevier Limited, The Boulevard, Langford Lane, Kidlington, Oxford, OX5 1GB, registered in England with registered number 1982084.

Update mailing preferences to choose which Lancet journals you receive alerts from. Follow this link to unsubscribe.

Privacy Policy

Copyright © 2022 Elsevier Limited except certain content provided by third parties. The Lancet is a trade mark of Elsevier Limited.

[redacted] Webuser ID: ee063b27617109410cc51afc98cc2b02ad57ffd4
Results Event ID: 7d91533c-d06d-4b75-b42f-a61035f3a7dd

[redacted]

[redacted]

SUBJECT: Morning Consult Health: Mutations of Omicron During Spring SurgeLessened Vaccine Efficacy, CDC Data Shows
FROM: Morning Consult <reply@em.morningconsult.com>
TO: hborski@utah.gov
DATE: 26/08/2022 05:56

MORNING CONSULT

Health

Essential health care industry news & intel to start your day.

AUGUST 26, 2022

BY MATT BRACKEN

Twitter Email

TODAY'S TOP NEWS

- Nearly 40% of Americans hospitalized with COVID-19 from the end of March through May — when the BA.2 and BA.2.12.1 subvariants were the dominant strains — had been vaccinated and boosted against the disease, according to new findings from Centers for Disease Control and Prevention scientists, underlining the need for reformulated shots to keep up with omicron's mutations. Unvaccinated adults were still at least three times as likely to be hospitalized during this period, per the data, and the vaccines and boosters were still effective against the delta variant and moderately less so against BA.1. (Bloomberg)

- Pfizer Inc. said its vaccine to protect older adults against the respiratory syncytial virus, or RSV, was effective in reducing severe cases of the illness by nearly 86%. The drugmaker, which views the RSVpreF vaccine as a critical offering in its lineup of experimental medicines, also said the shot lowered the risk of milder RSV cases in adults 60 and older by almost 67%. (Stat News)

[redacted]

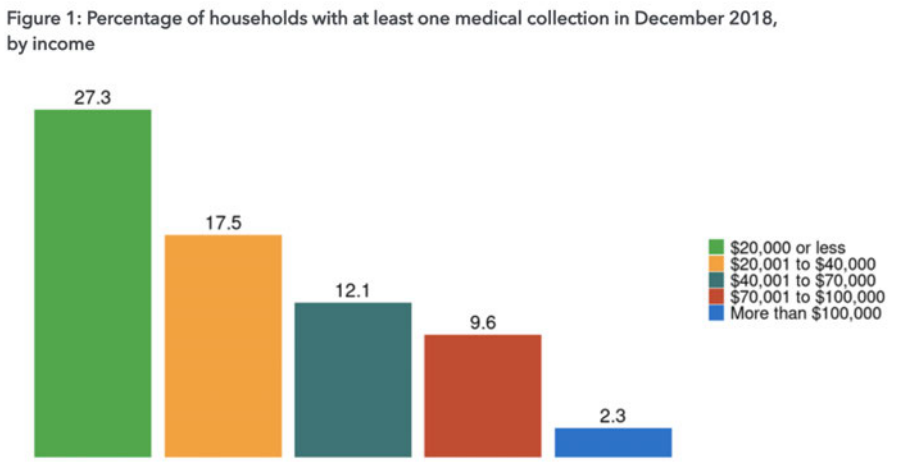
- Alphabet Inc.'s Google said in a letter to Sen. Mark Warner (D-Va.) and Rep. Elissa Slotkin (D-Mich.) that it will clearly label U.S. medical facilities that provide abortions in its search results, in a move to differentiate those facilities from crisis pregnancy centers and other anti-abortion organizations. (Reuters)

- Office of Management and Budget Director Shalanda Young issued a directive calling on federal agencies that lend hundreds of millions of dollars annually to ignore medical debt when assessing loan eligibility for people and small businesses. OMB's move, which calls on those agencies to provide plans for how they will make the change, comes months after a survey found that 1 in 2 insured Americans owe medical debt, with Black adults disproportionately affected. (Bloomberg Law)

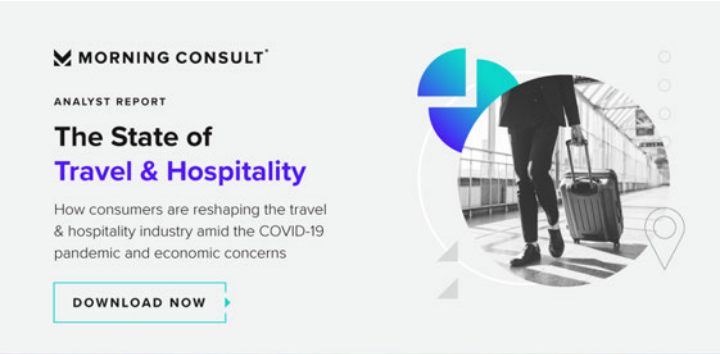
CHART REVIEW

Exploring the connection between financial assistance for medical care and medical collections

Consumer Financial Protection Bureau



A MESSAGE FROM MORNING CONSULT



The State of Travel & Hospitality

Morning Consult's semi-annual report, The State of Travel & Hospitality, tracks evolving consumer trends in the travel and hospitality sector and what they mean for the future of the industry. Download today.

WHAT ELSE YOU NEED TO KNOW

CORONAVIRUS

Dr. Anthony Fauci Expected Covid to Be 'Behind Us' a Year Into Biden's Term

Jeannie Baumann and John Tozzi, Bloomberg

White House Chief Medical Adviser Anthony Fauci expected the US would have moved past the Covid-19 pandemic after the first year of the Biden administration, but the disruption from the virus has lingered longer than the infectious disease expert anticipated.

America's Fall Booster Plan Has a Fatal Paradox

Katherine J. Wu, The Atlantic

New boosters that target Omicron may be our most important COVID vaccines since 2020—but the U.S. may be setting up the new shots to fail.

COVID vaccination in kids under 5 remain low as US hospital admissions steadily rise

Adrianna Rodriguez, USA Today

Vaccinations for babies, toddlers and preschoolers opened in June after months of delay. But only about 3.4% of children under 2 and 5.7% of children ages 2 to 4 have gotten at least one dose of the vaccine, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Covid Test Expired? You May Still Have Time to Use It

Martine Paris, Bloomberg

People who bought Covid tests during the omicron surge or got them free from the federal government earlier this year may now be finding that those products are close to expiration. But don't throw them away just yet. The Food and Drug Administration has extended the shelf lives on many brands.

Unraveling the Interplay of Omicron, Reinfections, and Long Covid

Liz Szabo, Kaiser Health News

Although omicron infections are proving milder overall than those caused by last summer's delta variant, omicron has also proved capable of triggering long-term symptoms and organ damage. But whether omicron causes long covid symptoms as often — and as severe — as previous variants is a matter of heated study.

Twitter labeled factual information about covid-19 as misinformation

Taylor Lorenz, The Washington Post

Over the past week, Twitter has flagged dozens of tweets with factual information about covid-19 as misinformation and in some cases has suspended the accounts of doctors, scientists, and patient advocates in response to their posts warning people about the illness's dangers.

GENERAL

National Abortion Federation imposes new abortion restrictions

Caroline Kitchener, The Washington Post

New restrictions from one of the country's largest abortion funding organizations could add new obstacles for many patients in antiabortion states seeking the procedure elsewhere.

Fauci compares monkeypox outbreak to HIV epidemic, advises against making the same assumptions

Joseph Choi, The Hill

Fauci and H. Clifford Lane, deputy director for clinical research and special projects at the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), published a piece in the New England Journal of Medicine on Thursday in which they reflected on the similarities between the monkeypox outbreak and the HIV/AIDS epidemic, which both men spent much of their careers studying.

White House directs agencies to make federally funded studies free

Sarah Owermohle, Stat News

The White House on Thursday directed health and science agencies to make federally funded studies immediately available to the public after publication, a move that open-access advocates have long pressed for but one that threatens to upend the business models of scientific journals.

Student vaccinations is down. Can schools catch them up?

Donna St. George, The Washington Post

The toll of the pandemic is hard to dispute. In Virginia, statewide rates for school-required vaccinations among kindergartners and adolescents fell by 10 percentage points from fall 2019 to fall 2021 — to around 86 percent, state data shows. Officials attributed the drop to fewer well-child visits, months of virtual learning, fluctuations in kindergarten enrollment and other factors.

Clashing Abortion Rulings Crimp Biden's Response to High Court

Courtney Rozen and Allie Reed, Bloomberg Law

Conflicting decisions in Texas and Idaho on President Joe Biden's efforts to overpower restrictive state laws and ensure access to abortions in medical emergencies highlight the president's already limited options to respond to the overturning of Roe v. Wade in states without friendly judges.

Trigger laws tighten abortion bans in three states

Katie Shepherd, The Washington Post

Trigger laws tightened abortion restrictions in Tennessee, Idaho and Texas on Thursday, banning abortion from conception in Tennessee and Idaho and raising the penalty for abortion providers in Texas. Nearly 36 percent of U.S. women live in a state that bans most abortions, though some of those laws have been temporarily blocked by the courts, and more restrictions are on the horizon.

Scientists use stem cells to create synthetic mouse embryos

Laura Ungar, The Associated Press

In the near term, researchers hope to use these so-called embryoids to better understand early stages of development and study mechanisms behind disease without the need for as many lab animals. The feat could also lay the foundation for creating synthetic human embryos for research in the future.

Monkeypox Antiviral Originated as Post-9/11 Bioterrorism Defense

Joseph Walker, The Wall Street Journal

In the aftermath of 9/11, SIGA Technologies Inc. started work on a drug it hoped would never be used. Now, Tpoxx is playing a surprising role as one of the few available treatments thought to be effective against monkeypox.

Monkeypox is rare in children, but K-12 schools are preparing for possible cases

Jacqueline Howard, CNN

An elementary student in Georgia has tested positive for monkeypox, raising questions about how concerned schools should be about the small risk of the virus spreading among children as they head back to class.

WHO: Monkeypox cases dropped 21% over last week

Ivana Saric, Axios

Worldwide cases of monkeypox have dropped 21% over the past week, the World Health Organization said in a report released Thursday.

Wendy's E. coli outbreak: 84 people sickened in four states

John Bonifield, CNN

Wendy's restaurants have been associated with an E. coli outbreak reported in four states, with 84 people infected and 38 hospitalized, the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention said Thursday.

Democrats tout their health care bonafides in midterm stretch run

Victoria Knight, Axios

With the midterms looming, vulnerable congressional Democrats are wagering that health care provisions in the just-passed $740 billion reconciliation bill will give them an edge and possibly preserve their razor-thin majorities.

PAYERS

DOJ joins Cigna Medicare Advantage fraud case

Alex Kacik, Modern Healthcare

The Justice Department has intervened on a False Claims Act lawsuit against Cigna Corp. that alleges the insurer exaggerated the illnesses of its Medicare members to obtain higher payments from the federal government.

Centene agrees to pay $33 million to resolve another state probe into its pharmacy benefits business

Ed Silverman, Stat News

Centene, one of the largest health insurers in the U.S., agreed to pay $33 million to settle allegations that its pharmacy benefits subsidiary overcharged the Washington state Medicaid program, the latest in a string of such settlements.

California Medicaid contracts with Molina, Centene, Elevance

Nona Tepper, Modern Healthcare

California regulators intend to award coveted five-year Medicaid managed care contracts to Molina Healthcare, Centene subsidiary Health Net and Elevance Health's Anthem Blue Cross Partnership Plan, the state Department of Health Care Services announced Thursday.

Insulin cap for Medicare patients signals hope for others

Farnoush Amiri, The Associated Press

Years before he came to the Senate, Raphael Warnock spent time bedside with Georgia residents suffering from the long-term effects of diabetes, a condition made worse by limited access to life-saving drugs like insulin.

Study: Costs to add substance abuse coverage to Medicare nominal

Robert King, Fierce Healthcare

Adding more coverage of substance abuse disorders to Medicare will only slightly raise federal spending, according to a new study.

California's health care coverage expansion benefits undocumented young adults

Pamela Subizar, Noticias Telemundo

California will extend health coverage through next year for about 40,000 low-income, undocumented young adults who are at risk of losing coverage under the state's Medicaid program.

CMS indefinitely delays controversial radiation oncology model

Robert King, Fierce Healthcare

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services issued a final rule on Thursday surrounding the payment model that intended to reimburse oncology practices and outpatient sites for a total episode of care. It would also develop site-neutral payments for certain radiation therapies.

Medicare's Cancer Treatment Payment Model Pushed Back Once Again

Tony Pugh, Bloomberg Law

The Biden administration has finalized a rule to postpone the January 2023 start date and performance period of a Medicare payment model for cancer care.

PROVIDERS

When Private Equity Takes Over a Nursing Home

Yasmin Rafiei, The New Yorker

After an investment firm bought St. Joseph's Home for the Aged, in Richmond, Virginia, the company reduced staff, removed amenities, and set the stage for a deadly outbreak of COVID-19.

Hospitals Cut Jobs and Services as Rising Costs Strain Budgets

Katheryn Houghton, Kaiser Health News

The pandemic has intensified a long-running health care worker shortage that has hit especially hard in large, rural states like Montana, which have few candidates to replace workers who depart. Expensive stopgaps — including traveling nurses — caused hospitals' costs to rise. Staffing shortages have also left patients with longer waits for treatment or fewer providers to care for them.

New rural hospital model draws interest - and questions

Alex Kacik and Maya Goldman, Modern Healthcare

Dozens of small community hospitals with low inpatient volumes will likely be good candidates to convert to the rural emergency hospital model.

Healthcare so far shielded from 2022's rapid inflation

Dave Muoio, Fierce Healthcare

Healthcare's upward price movement has so far been led by hospitals and nursing homes as opposed to other medical care spend, per an analysis of Bureau of Labor Statistics data released Wednesday.

PHARMA, BIOTECH AND DEVICES

Drug Negotiations Will Drive Biosimilars as Patent Tactics Shift

Jeannie Baumann, Bloomberg Law

Medicare's drug price negotiations will push out more low-cost biosimilars if the landmark climate and health-care law changes incentives for makers of brand-name biologics, some drug pricing scholars said.

Merck's Talks to Acquire Seagen Hit Snag, Threatening Mega Pharma Deal

Michelle F Davis, Bloomberg

Merck & Co.'s talks to buy cancer-drug maker Seagen Inc. have stalled for now, threatening what would be the pharmaceutical giant's biggest deal in more than a decade, according to people familiar with the matter.

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Why Amazon and others are in a bidding war for home health tech

Casey Ross and Katie Palmer, Stat News

The bidding war over Signify Health — a health technology business that could fetch multibillion-dollar offers from Amazon, CVS, and UnitedHealth Group — is not about its dazzling software or a blockbuster AI algorithm.

Autism Therapy Startup Blames 'Unfortunate Bug' For Misleading Reviews On Its Website

Katie Jennings, Forbes

SoftBank-backed Elemy, valued at $1.15 billion last year, was using the same three parent testimonials - the same quotes and same names with the location changed - across 24 different cities, according to a Forbes review of the Miami-based startup's website. On Tuesday, after Forbes inquired about the reviews and possible violations of Federal Trade Commission rules that prohibit false, deceptive and misleading testimonials, Elemy removed the references to locations.

OPINIONS, EDITORIALS AND PERSPECTIVES

Don't spoil the unique chemistry between America's universities and pharmaceutical companies

Howard Dean, Fortune

In their commendable desire to make prescription drugs more affordable, some of my friends in Congress are pushing a proposal that would harm tens of millions of patients and weaken our economy.

RESEARCH REPORTS

Falling Prices: Biosimilar competition has saved billions of dollars, but policy changes can incentivize billions more

Wayne Winegarden, Pacific Research Institute Center for Medical Economics and Innovation

The competition created by biosimilars can generate significant systemic savings in the same manner that competition in the tech space engenders broad-based systemic savings.

FORWARDED THIS EMAIL?

Sign up and stay informed. Get the latest data from our daily email briefings.

SUBSCRIBE

This email was sent to: hborski@utah.gov by: Morning Consult
1025 F Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20004

Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe From All

SUBJECT: Fwd: DNPAO Media Monitor 8-26-2022
FROM: "Brett Mciff (DHHS)" <bmciff@utah.gov>
