Mr. Harry Wait

Union Grove, WI 53182

Dear Mr. Wait,

Having become aware of your legal issues regarding the obtaining of ballots under other parties names, I wanted to write you with some encouragement. Being somewhat of an amateur legal scholar, having performed volumes of advanced study in the fields of both Tort and Criminal Law, I wanted to pass along a few thoughts for you or your legal representation to consider.

To be clear, you have not committed a prosecutable crime...at least not one the State should be able to win. Allow me to explain. Your conduct of obtaining these ballots under the auspices of other peoples names was a form of protected Free Speech under the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, and may also be protected under the Whistleblower Law.

This is so because:

- 1.) Your intent was to communicate a particular message of concern about a public interest in the integrity of the voting process;
- 2.) That message would be received and understood by others (also with standing in the matter like yourself as legal WI voters) whom you were trying to convey the message of voting integrity to. All of whom would be concerned about their personal stake in the outcome of the election.

Here in the case of your actions, your conduct was limited in scope, there was no clear and present danger of your limited scope actions actually overturning the outcome of the election, and you took action to make others aware of the concern you had and the action you were taking to expose it.

You should be asserting defense(s) to any charges, that your action was protected under the principle of Symbolic Conduct. (see Spence v. Washington, 418 U.S. 405 (1974). I would be curious to know exactly which statute(s) they charge you with to analyze other potential failings in their assertions. If you would like any further assistance in this matter, please feel free to respond in writing or text me at 608-220-0444. I am not a lawyer nor able to appear on your behalf.
