A Note from the DNC's Organizing Team:

Have you heard the news? The DNC Call Crew is celebrating the launch of a brand new dialer! What's a dialer, you ask?

A dialer is a tool that allows volunteers like you to make multiple calls (up to 400 per hour) from your computer, while safeguarding both voters' and your own contact information. The most exciting part is that it is the same software our text team uses - Scale to Win.

This predictive dialer is easy to use and efficient. It is also a better experience for callers, since it skips past people who don't pick up and saves you the trouble of punching in every phone number by hand. If you've had the chance to make calls with Organize Everywhere before, then you know how exciting this is.

We want to make sure you have the chance to be one of the first to use our new dialer. This is going to be a really exciting turning point for our team -- and you can help expand Democrats' outreach as we near the ever-important midterm elections by signing up today.

Help celebrate the launch of our new dialer, and be one of our first volunteers to use this new tool, by signing up for an upcoming phone shift!

Hope to see you at our next phone bank,

Amanda
