Hi Mr. Saliba,

I'm writing about you and others being appointed to the state's newly-created PAQC. Do you have a moment today to speak over the phone about your appointment?

What do you hope the commission will achieve? How will your legal experience inform you in this role? What do you think about some of the criticism of the PAQC, including a recently-filed lawsuit challenging the commission's authority?

Thank you!
best,

Lt. Governor Jones Announces Appointments to Prosecuting Attorneys Qualifications Commission

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Friday, August 4, 2023

ATLANTA | Today, Lt. Governor Burt Jones and the Senate Committee on Assignments (COA) announced appointments to the Prosecuting Attorneys Qualifications Commission (PAQC). Senate Bill 92 established the eight-member PAQC and gives members the authority to investigate alleged misconduct by district attorneys and solicitors-general.

“Prosecutors across Georgia should always prioritize protecting Georgia families by prosecuting criminals properly, instead of focusing on their own special interests,” said Lt. Governor Burt Jones. “I am grateful to the appointees for their willingness to serve and hold those who aren’t doing their job or the right thing accountable.”

District Attorney Stacey Jackson will serve as the Hearing Panel Chair on the PAQC. DA Jackson currently serves as the District Attorney for the Chattahoochee Judicial Circuit which includes Chattahoochee, Harris, Marion, Muscogee, Talbot and Taylor Counties.

“I want to thank Lt. Governor Burt Jones and members of the Senate Committee on Assignments for appointing me to serve on the PAQC as Chair of the Hearing Panel,” said District Attorney Jackson. “I am going to approach this appointment just like my work in the DA’s office, I’m going to work hard and do it justice. We will handle cases appropriately and efficiently, and make this Commission something we can all be proud of.”

Lt. Governor Burt Jones and COA appointed Deputy Chief Assistant District Attorney Jason Saliba and District Attorney Randy McGinley to the PAQC Investigative Panel. ADA Saliba serves in Cobb County and DA McGinley serves in the Alcovy Judicial Circuit.

“I want to thank Lt. Governor Burt Jones and the members of COA for their thorough vetting process in putting forward these appointments,” said Senate Present Pro Tempore Kennedy. “It is clear to me that the appointees will serve the people of Georgia and this newly formed Commission well. I look forward to working with these appointees and the entire Commission to ensure that Georgians have confidence in the ability of prosecutors to uphold the law around the state.”

To the Honorable Members of the PAQC,

Congratulations on your appointment to the Investigative Panel of the PAQC.

I know you must have questions regarding the funding of the Commission and perhaps, the employment of an Executive Director. I and the staff of PAC are here to answer your questions and help you get started.

As you know, the funding for PAQC was placed in our budget to hold for the Commission. There are details to be discussed regarding this funding, the size of the administrative staff and office location. My staff is prepared to assist you regarding those matters and others which may come up.

I recommend we meet, either in person or via Zoom to discuss the issues you currently face. Executive Assistant Tracy Walston will make the necessary arrangements. We have ample meeting space and free parking at our Morrow Office but will accommodate your wishes regarding the place and time. Tacy can also send out a Doodle Poll to see what dates work best for all of you.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.
