Because I am seeking re-election this year, I am unable to serve as President of the York County Board of Elections. President Judge Cook has appointed Felicia Dell to serve in my stead.

I have copied Felica Dell on this email, as well as Gregory Monskie, who oversees the Elections and Voter Registration Office. One of them will contact you to follow up on your request.

If you do not hear from one of them, by the end of the week, let me know.

Commissioner Wheeler,

Thank you for the hand count of 3 precincts that you helped initiate last year. As there is still much concern about the security of our elections and the voters are not convinced that the machines are completely secure, I am requesting that the county implement a hand count of at least 6 precincts after the completion of the election. It would be reassuring to the electorate to know that the paper ballots are the same as the machine tabulation. This election, it would be important to count the state judicial candidates. I do not request that you do all the races, only the top priority statewide ones.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. Any help will be appreciated.

York County, in 2022, did a hand recount of two contests, it took 4 hours to do roughly 2,000 ballots. We had a few people come out and watch us. a video is below if you want to watch.

FYI everyone. Election deniers are preparing to direct materials to county commissioners pushing for more hand counts.

Part of the communication that will go out is bad math arguing that it is “easy” and “quick” to hand count ballots. Their conclusion is based on a faulty understanding of the hand recount that my county did in January 2023 of 59,000 ballots.

My hand recount looked at only 2 contests on the November 2020 ballot – President and Auditor General. However, there were 7 contests total on the ballot. We were able to complete the recount in 2.5 days because we looked at both contests simultaneously during a single pass through the ballots.

Based on that experience, it became clear to us that in order to minimize human error any hand count conducted as part of an official canvass or post-election audit would need to do count only 1 contest at a time – in other words, a hand recount of my November 2020 ballots would have required 7 passes and take more than 2 weeks.

The election deniers who attended the public board of elections meeting at which I described the “lessons learned” from the hand recount clearly weren’t paying attention. They argue that counties should be able to complete hand counts of their 2% statistical audits in about 2 hours based on the overall rate at which our teams worked. They forget that the 2% statistical counts involve a handful of batches that are picked at random, and you can’t staff a 2% audit with more than 2 people per batch without sub-dividing the batches themselves – which would not be advisable.

In my experience, a hand count of a batch of a few hundred ballots, looking at everything on the ballot, is going to take an entire day or at least the better part of a day. If you have enough people to put a team on each batch, a 2% statistical count could be done by hand in 1 day. If you don’t have enough people to put a team on each batch, it will take multiple days.

As Jim in Delaware has pointed out previously, I am not aware of any hand counting method that has been lab tested and certified by the EAC and the state to be as accurate as the voting system.

Hi Julie,

Thank you for the quick reply confirming that my Provisional ballot receipt 6702317 shows a counted ballot as of 11/13/2023.

The missing mail-in ballot that the office received from me remains to be explained as to why an in-person delivery appears to have failed.
I would like to see what documentation is kept for a mail-in ballot hand delivered to determine if there is a gap in the system or if there was a problem with the initial ballot.

I reside in East York and can easily come to the office to review how ballots are handled. I did not receive any Emailafter handing

Hey Bryan,

Firstly, thanks for all of the work you have been putting in over the past few weeks for the recent election, I'm sure it has been crazy.

In my small slice of the world (Dallastown Region 2 school board race), based on the results online, it appears that I finished 3rd in that race where only the top 2 vote earners are awarded seats. I also know these results aren't "official" yet.

My question is what steps are remaining to make the results official. Is it merely a formality, or are the vote totals likely to change? I am currently listed as being 0.3% behind the person in 2nd place, so a rather slim margin. Didn't know if that triggers any recounts or anything like that.

Ultimately I don't want to concede prematurely, but I also don't want to hold out and look like a poor sport if there's really no change that should be expected. Any guidance you can provide about the remaining process steps is appreciated!

I have one thing to say, they were told we would resume adjudication at 1pm… that's what we did. Failure to plan on their part does not constitute lack of disclosure on ours.

I am not sure what to say to her…Casey was only doing his job. I am against pulling ballots because we have a tight deadline to certification. Not all write ins are adjudicated in the way she requests because it will make no difference in the outcome of a race – if the numbers are not there.. It comes down, my opinion, the lack of trust these folks have for the work of elections. Please share your thoughts….
Thanks, Julie

Hello Julie,
Thank you for your time this week. I wanted to let you know about an incident late in the afternoon on Wednesday (11/15/23) during adjudication under solicitor review.

Throughout the week the other observers and I saw multiple write-in votes that were apparently written in blue ink, according to Casey, resulting in illegible images from the precinct scanners that were not legible on the screen. As per Casey's direction, these votes were quarantined with the understanding that they would be held for solicitor review to make a final determination.

I was quite shocked when none of those illegible blue ink votes were brought to the solicitor's attention. I asked Casey about them and his response was that he adjudicated them himself and made a determination of voter intent based on candidate names from the added write-in list. This was done without any oversight or review. From my observation, I do not believe determining voter intent was possible as many of the images I saw were extremely illegible and no amount of context from other names would be helpful to determine voter intent. I continue to question whether those votes were counted at all or simply marked as unresolved and discarded.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

file:///ycacfs/...t/Docs%20for%20Release/11-17-23%20%20RE%20YoCo%20General%20Election%202023%20Observer%20Feedback.txt[6/12/2024 10:33:20 AM]

I suggested that the only way to make a confident determination of voter intent would be to pull the physical ballots. Casey's immediate reply was that that was not an option due to time constraints and mathematical impossibility. That being said, it is egregious that a single county worker acting without any oversight from other witnesses or solicitor review would adjudicate illegible votes. How does that serve the voters, their legally cast votes, and the candidates simply because pulling the physical ballot is inconvenient or deemed unnecessary by county employees who serve the public? Furthermore, Casey set a clear example and precedent for his very inexperienced successors prior to what will surely be a contentious and chaotic 2024 election year.

It is the lawful duty of the county to count EVERY legally cast ballot. I was extremely disappointed that Casey took it upon himself to adjudicate these ballots when they were supposed to be reviewed by the solicitor. Casey expressed on multiple occasions his disdain for voters who do not use the provided Sharpee markers. As I'm sure you are aware, there are many voters who simply do not trust Sharpee markers due to bleed-thru. And we actually saw a ballot where bleed thru DID affect the prothonotary contest and caused an overvote (a screenshot of this ballot was taken and is on file).

It's my understanding that mail-in ballots are scanned on higher dpi scanners and therefore present no issues when blue pens are used. Voters who chose to exercise their right to vote in person at their precinct should not be penalized because they legally choose to use a different writing implement than what the county recommends.

From what I observed, I do not believe all votes were properly counted. Certifying a final vote count that is incomplete, for the sake of expediency or otherwise, is an affront to the democratic process and is far from best practice. I know the County of York strives to always conduct free and fair elections, but I am left with uncertainty that that was achieved.

I look forward to your response.

Respectfully,

[redacted]

Good morning,

We have a candidate asking for a recount. I know the state department issues a payment of $50 per box reopened for this purpose. Does anyone else charge candidates this amount? I thought it was in the election code but I cannot locate this information.

How do you all handle recounts?

Dear County Election Official,

As you may be aware, the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania issued an opinion and order today in Pennsylvania State Conference of the NAACP et al. v. Schmidt et al., Civ. No. 22-00339. The opinion and order are attached. To the extent you have questions regarding the impact of the decision, we recommend that you consult with your county solicitor.

In addition to granting other relief, the court specifically enjoined the Secretary "from directing all county boards of elections of the Commonwealth to segregate, reject, exclude, or in any way not count timely received mail ballots based on a voter's error or omission in relation to the date on the voter declaration on the mail ballot return envelope." Therefore, please disregard any previously-issued guidance from the Department that is inconsistent with this direction.

As a reminder, certification of returns for the 2023 Municipal Election is due on November 27, 2023. Thank you for your continued dedication.

Warmest regards,

Jonathan Marks | Deputy Secretary for Elections and Commissions

FYI everyone. Election deniers are preparing to direct materials to county commissioners pushing for more hand counts.

Part of the communication that will go out is bad math arguing that it is “easy” and “quick” to hand count ballots. Their conclusion is based on a faulty understanding of the hand recount that my county did in January 2023 of 59,000 ballots.

My hand recount looked at only 2 contests on the November 2020 ballot – President and Auditor General. However, there were 7 contests total on the ballot. We were able to complete the recount in 2.5 days because we looked at both contests simultaneously during a single pass through the ballots.

Based on that experience, it became clear to us that in order to minimize human error any hand count conducted as part of an official canvass or post-election audit would need to do count only 1 contest at a time – in other words, a hand recount of my November 2020 ballots would have required 7 passes and take more than 2 weeks.

The election deniers who attended the public board of elections meeting at which I described the “lessons learned” from the hand recount clearly weren’t paying attention. They argue that counties should be able to complete hand counts of their 2% statistical audits in about 2 hours based on the overall rate at which our teams worked. They forget that the 2% statistical counts involve a handful of batches that are picked at random, and you can’t staff a 2% audit with more than 2 people per batch without sub-dividing the batches themselves – which would not be advisable.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In my experience, a hand count of a batch of a few hundred ballots, looking at everything on the ballot, is going to take an entire day or at least the better part of a day. If you have enough people to put a team on each batch, a 2% statistical count could be done by hand in 1 day. If you don't have enough people to put a team on each batch, it will take multiple days.

As Jim in Delaware has pointed out previously, I am not aware of any hand counting method that has been lab tested and certified by the EAC and the state to be as accurate as the voting system.

Sincerely,
Forrest K. Lehman

Subject: OOR - Dkt. AP 2023-1823 Appeal of Pruser PRIVILEGED AND CONFIDENTIAL ATTORNEY-CLIENT COMMUNICATION

All,

Good news. The OOR issued its Final Determination and denied the Pruser appeal, finding that the requested records are election records, and that Mr. Pruser is not a qualified elector.

As always, if you have any questions, please feel free to call me at the office.

Yes, we need your final EMS to match these results, as well as your 2% statistical sample, and your ballot certification addendum for your county row offices.

You certainly have the best work ethic I've seen on the Board since . . .forever. I continue to think that you need to be more vocal on some issues. I think that the crazies doing the re-counting should have been ignored -- especially since they seem to have learned nothing from the exercise.

Thanks for the response!

THANKS for the email! I want to hear from residents about issues and decisions I make. I will start by saying most motions that come before the Board of Commissioners are not political/controversial. Most deal with fiscal decisions that I weight very seriously. Your thought about addressing public comments at our Commissioner's Meeting, we never do. It would be a continuing argument when someone disagrees. The few sample recounts of a couple polling locations last time was done to validate my vocal comments that our election was fair, reliable and accurate. I have defended the process at every meeting. I have fought for counting mail in votes that did not have a date or had a "so called" wrong date, which was validated by a recent court decision. Broadband is a subject I am continually learning more about. I rely a lot on our Broadband Task Force for direction. We did have an INFORMATIONAL MEETING to receive data, which was helpful. No deliberations were conducted. We do have every speaker at our public meeting give their name and municipality before comments. I may not make the news as much as you think appropriate, but I have worked tirelessly in this position, to do the right things for our residents. Haven't missed a day in almost 16 years. Hope I answered some of your concerns. Doug

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I have been surprised that, as a minority Commissioner, you have been silent on just about every topic that comes before the Board of Commissioners. I understand the need for civility and for working together, but based on your comments (or lack thereof) it seems that we have 3 Republicans in office. I have been particularly surprised by your lack of comments about those wearing tinfoil hats who are on the far right fringe. If you can't disagree with them, who can you disagree with?

I was very surprised when you went along with the re-count that questioned the honesty of our voting system. I was further surprised with your participation in the closed door meeting with those who believe that modern communication is a government conspiracy of some sort and don't want 5G communications in rural areas. People speaking at public meetings without giving their name, just an initial letter -- is this the Wheel of Fortune game? If people want to speak at a public meeting, they should provide their name -- and you should require it. Democracy does not do well in darkness.

My biggest disappointment is that I never hear your name. You never seem to question anything. I expect some checks and balances.

Subject: 2023 Goals for Elections

1) Use 4 temp workers to scan voter records with the objective to reduce paper records by 50% in 2023. STATUS: Work in progress
Goal status: We are unable to use a double scanner to reduce scanning time as these scanners are not compatible with SURE. People are getting bored with scanning; one person did not come back for a second day telling the temp agency this job was not for her. We started teaching some of the temps other duties to relieve the boredom. [redacted]
During our less busy times and we have allowed for overtime the following has been completed:
A,I,O,Q,U,V, T, almost all J's including Johnson and Jones – of which there were many, W,X,Y,Z and we are halfway through the B's and all of the Snyder's and Myers' are complete, we have scanned SW (Swartz) to SP (Spellman), which is one of the larger alphabetical files. After the General Election, we hope to finish the S's by year end and all clerks will be scanning. I have promised a pizza party for the staff after the Rs are completed to keep everyone motivated.
Note: This goal will piggyback into 2024 and all clerks, both temp and permanent will be scanning after the election, especially the 2024 spring and summer.
12/26/2023 Update
The S's continue to be scanned.

2) Recommend a KNOWiNK E-poll pad to the BOE. Choose City, Borough, and Township locations for the pilot. STATUS: First pilot completed successfully KNOWiNK representatives came to York County to train JOEs on using a poll pad, we also had backup poll books available to ensure a smooth transition of voter data in the event the poll pads did not work. A questionnaire was developed to solicit feedback for the pilot from the poll workers. Everyone was positive and noted how quickly they were able to check voters in, some voters told the JOE that the new system was fast, and they had little or no wait in lines.
Because everything went so well, we decided to expand this goad from one pilot, to the BOE agreeing to a larger 2nd pilot. The second pilot will cover

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dover Townships 1-4, Carroll Township, Franklintown Borough and Fairview Townships 1-4. State Representatives Dawn Keefer and Seth Grove were invited, and they plan to attend, if they have no scheduling conflicts, as they represent these pilot areas.
12/26/2023 Update
The second pilot was successfully completed as of November 7th. General feedback is that poll workers would like to see this implemented in 2024; a spreadsheet with feedback will be provided to the new board to provide detailed information. The biggest issue to discuss is the Bluetooth usage that allows the equipment to talk to each other at the polling location may be accessed by cell phones at the polling location. Cell phones lose that ability once the leave the polling location.

3) Recommend the implementation of a trial VBM (vote by mail) process for both the Primary and General Elections. STATUS: Successful in the Primary, General is a work in progress. Based on the success of this goal we are recommending that this process be made permanent.
Prior to 2023 VBM's were received, elections staff would scan ALL mail in envelopes into SURE. Voters would not receive notice that their ballot was rejected for missing sign, date or wrong date, naked ballots until election morning, which created confusion among electors. Getting timely notice to voters was a challenge to voters since the status changes in SURE took too long to process. This confusion led people to go to the poll and cast a provisional ballot, many people already received proper credit, creating an increased provisionally cast ballots that were unnecessary. Elections was able to sort through the increased workload; however, between voter confusion and added processing time to the election was not positive.
During the Primary only the envelopes with that were properly dated, sign, and weighed through the Runback indicating a ballot was not naked was entered in SURE. If credit was not given to a voter, they could go to the polls and vote provisionally when they did not see their vote was counted.
The process of only scanning the ballots that met the standard requirements when received resulted in less voter confusion and decreased number of provisional ballots cast by the voter.
STATUS: Closed Successfully
12/26/2023 Update
We are currently counting and separating ballots that may have what was previously considered to be improperly dated. This is due to a legal ruling in the PA western courts and is currently being challenged in appeal. We will continue to count without the "proper dates", while separating until further notice.

4) Primary Election 2023. STATUS: Closed Successfully
The only glitch, which was out of the control of Elections was an unexpected road closure. The impacted poll was open until 9:30pm instead of 8pm.

5) General Election 2023. STATUS: A little over one week until the November 7th election. This is a WIP and will continue to be until the election is certified.
We are on target with planning the election calendar outline goals and compliance requirements attached.
12/26/2023 Update
The election was successfully certified, in a timely manner, in SURE and with the DOS. While the County was technically late, less than 24 hours, the certification was still considered timely, as many counties across the state were impacted by the legal ruling mentioned above.

Post-Election Audit Confirms Accuracy of 2023 Municipal General Election's Reported Outcome

Harrisburg, PA – In keeping with Governor Shapiro's commitment to secure and transparent elections, Secretary of the Commonwealth Al Schmidt announced today that a statewide audit of the Nov. 7, 2023, Pennsylvania Superior Court Judge race confirmed that the reported outcome of the election was accurate.

"Risk-limiting audits, or RLAs, provide a scientifically designed and statistically sound procedure to confirm whether counties' voting systems tabulated paper ballots accurately enough that a full hand-count would produce the same reported outcome," Schmidt said. "By conducting this RLA, counties verified that Pennsylvanians can feel confident that the reported 2023 General Election results were accurate."

During the RLA, election officials from 33 counties tallied the 105 batches of ballots that were randomly selected. The officials then compared those vote totals to the original machine counts for that race.

Schmidt reported that auditors identified 24 discrepancies among the 201,715 total votes they reviewed, which is a margin of 0.01% -- or about one-100th of 1% of all ballots audited. Such discrepancies are typically the result of human error when manually tabulating audit results or stray and unclear marks on a ballot, which can lead to subjective decisions about a voter's intent.

"Counties have been hard at work since the Nov. 7 election not only participating in the RLA, but also conducting the 2% statutorily required audit they must perform after each primary and general election," Schmidt said. "I want to thank all of our election officials across the Commonwealth for putting in this necessary work, which allows Pennsylvanians to know their votes are being accurately and fairly counted."

Robust post-election audits have been recommended by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, the U.S. Senate Select Intelligence Committee, and many other experts as part of a strong and resilient election infrastructure.

Pennsylvania began piloting post-election RLA audits in 2019, and the first statewide pilot RLA audit was held in 2020. In September 2022, the Department of State issued a directive instructing counties to conduct a pre-certification RLA after every election.

The Department and counties used a random selection process on Nov. 9 to determine which race would be audited. Then, on Nov. 16, the Department livestreamed the process of generating the random seed number that ultimately identified the batches of ballots to be audited.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hi Julie,

I would like to make an appointment to review the ballot I handed in at the office. I understand that you are thinking it was rejected, where I received a “I voted sticker” but I would like to understand what the potential "rejection" looks like.

Copied on this request is my wife Susan who handed her ballot in at the office (did not receive an "I voted sticker") after my visit and was properly noted in the poll book as not eligible to vote in person. I would appreciate the time needed to review my ballot as our District PA House representative Wendy Fink has Election Integrity as one of her four priorities. I have forwarded the final York County election results for the November 7, 2023 results to her as a result of a conversation with her during a monthly listening session today with constituents. I appreciate how York County election results are posted showing 89,757 ballots cast for 308,384 registered voters. I do not see where any more ballots are cast than the number of registered voters.

Thanks,

Hi [redacted],
I am really busy processing information to certify the election to the State for initial certification on 11/22 and final on 11/27. I have not had a chance to look at your ballot, but I am thinking it was rejected – yes you still would have received a “I voted sticker”. We recommend folks do a provisional when there are issues with the ballot. I can tell you since I have processed your provisional that you have received voting credit and your vote will count. Julie

Hi Julie,

Thank you for the quick reply confirming that my Provisional ballot receipt 6702317 shows a counted ballot as of 11/13/2023.

The missing mail-in ballot that the office received from me remains to be explained as to why an in-person delivery appears to have failed.
I would like to see what documentation is kept for a mail-in ballot hand delivered to determine if there is a gap in the system or if there was a problem with the initial ballot.

I reside in East York and can easily come to the office to review how ballots are handled. I did not receive any Emailafter handing

Good morning. If you are trying to get hold of Melanie in Washington County, you can't. "All telephones and computers throughout Washington County's government offices and courthouse were shut down by county officials Wednesday morning as a proactive measure after malware "phishing activity" was detected on the systemwide server."

This is a nice reminder that having a Plan B for Election Day phone service is important, since all of us likely have phone service that is internet-based.

THE COUNTY OF YORK
Board of Elections/Voter Registration

On October 26, 2022, the York County Board of Elections voted unanimously to conduct a supplemental hand recount of three York County voting precincts. The following is a detailed procedure explaining how this recount process will occur:

1. The hand recount will occur promptly on November 10, 2022, at 10:00 am in the Commissioners' meeting room.
2. The November 2022 races for Pennsylvania Governor and U.S. Senate will be recounted.
3. Representatives of political parties, political candidates on the ballot in the November 2022 election, and the media will be permitted to observe the hand recount. No official poll watcher certificates will be required. The Director of Elections will have the discretion to limit the number of watchers allowed to participate based solely on availability of space for such watchers to observe. However, a near-equivalent number of watchers representing each political party must be permitted. An official record of all participants will be created, and all permitted watchers will be required to sign in prior to the recount occurring. Watchers shall be permitted to observe all activities relating to this process. Watchers will not be permitted to ask questions of the staff conducting the recount. The County will have a representative available to answer questions. A Sheriff's Deputy will remove any person who attempts to or causes disruption, interference, or obstruction to the orderly completion of this process. The disruption, interference, or obstructive behavior will be solely determined by the Election Office Director or Deputy Directors.
4. The Board of Elections will conduct a random selection of three voting precincts for the hand recount at the beginning of the process. A randomized process will be used to select a city, borough, and township voting precinct.
5. The sealed "blue bags" for each selected precinct will be retrieved by staff and a Sheriff's deputy.
6. The hand recount will commence by opening the sealed "blue bag" for the selected city precinct and removing all ballots.
7. Staff will hand sort them according to which candidate was voted for in the 2022 Pennsylvania Governor's race.
8. Once sorted, staff will hand count the ballots for each candidate and announce the results to the watchers.

9. Following the hand count, staff will use a machine counter to verify the hand recount results (the machine will only count the number of ballots and will not scan the ballots). The results of the machine counter will be announced to the watchers.
10. In the event there is a discrepancy between the results of the hand recount and machine counter, alternative staff members will repeat steps 6 through 8.
11. Staff will then repeat steps 6 through 8 for the city precinct, sorting and counting ballots for the U.S. Senate race.
12. This process will then be repeated twice, once for the borough precinct and once for the township precinct.
13. At the conclusion, the ballots will be placed in the appropriate blue bags, resealed, and then transported by staff and a Sheriff's deputy back to a secure location.
14. A summary of both hand counts and machine counts will be prepared and presented to the Board of Elections at the next regularly scheduled public meeting.

The results of the hand counts will be attached as an addendum to the final certification that is sent to the Department of State.

Heather Honey	:

Appeal of: Al Schmidt, in his Official Capacity as Secretary of the Commonwealth	:	Argued: December 6, 2023

OPINION
BY JUDGE CEISLER FILED: March 4, 2024

Appellant Al Schmidt, in his Official Capacity as Secretary of the Commonwealth (Secretary),[1] appeals from the Court of Common Pleas of Lycoming County's (Common Pleas) December 16, 2022 order. Through that order, Common Pleas reversed the Pennsylvania Office of Open Records' (OOR) January 6, 2022 Final Determination. In that Final Determination, OOR had denied Appellee

[1] Leigh M. Chapman (Chapman) was the Acting Secretary of the Commonwealth at the time of this appeal's filing. However, Secretary was then appointed in an acting capacity by Governor Josh Shapiro on January 17, 2023, and officially assumed his position by operation of law effective June 29, 2023. As a consequence, Secretary was automatically substituted for Chapman as the named appellant in this matter pursuant to Pennsylvania Rule of Appellate Procedure 502(c), Pa. R.A.P. 502(c).

Heather Honey's (Honey) Right-to-Know Law (RTKL)[2] request for a digital copy of the ClearVote Cast Vote Record (CVR) for the 2020 General Election from Lycoming County's Electronic Voting System (EVS).[3] After careful review, we reverse.

I. Background

As cogently explained by Common Pleas, the genesis of this matter occurred when Honey filed her RTKL request with the Lycoming County Office of Voter Services (Voter Services) on October 20, 2021, in which she sought > a "[d]igital copy of the [CVR] for every precinct tabulator and central tabulator used in the 2020 General Election."[FN3]

> [FN3] . . . ClearVote is the election management system that [Voter Services] uses to conduct elections in Lycoming County. In elections utilizing the ClearVote system, each voter fills out a physical ballot and inserts it into a scanner, which reads the ballot and transmits the results to a "tabulator," a piece of equipment that counts votes. Each precinct has one scanner and one associated tabulator. The results from each precinct tabulator are then transferred to the central tabulator for Lycoming County. Ballots not cast on [E]lection [D]ay — such as mail-in and absentee ballots — are processed directly by the central tabulator. Thus, the CVR for each precinct tabulator is a spreadsheet showing raw data associated with the ballots cast at that precinct, and the CVR for the central tabulator is a similar spreadsheet showing raw data associated with every ballot cast in Lycoming County.

[2] Act of February 14, 2008, P.L. 6, 65 P.S. §§ 67.101-67.3104.

[3] Per Section 1101-A of the Pennsylvania Election Code (Election Code), Act of June 3, 1937, P.L. 1333, as amended, added by the Act of July 11, 1980, P.L. 600, EVS is defined as follows: "a system in which one or more voting devices are used to permit the registering or recording of votes and in which such votes are computed and tabulated by automatic tabulating equipment. The system shall provide for a permanent physical record of each vote cast." 25 P.S. § 3031.1.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

> On November 18, 2021, [Voter Services] denied [Honey's] RTKL request on the basis that "[t]he contents of ballot boxes and voting machines are not public pursuant to [Section 308 of] the Election Code[,] 25 P.S. § 2648."[FN4] On November 24, 2021, [Honey] appealed that decision to the [OOR], which solicited briefing and other relevant information from the parties.
> > [FN4] Section [308] of the Election Code provides that most records and documents in the possession of each county's board of elections are open to public inspection, except for "the contents of ballot boxes and voting machines and records of assisted voters. . . ." 25 P.S. § 2648.
> On January 6, 2022, the OOR issued a Final Determination denying [Honey's] appeal. In the Final Determination, the OOR first discussed [Section 308] and its exception to public inspection. The OOR reviewed the affidavit of Forrest Lehman ([]Mr. Lehman[]), Director of Elections for Lycoming County, which provided information about the process by which votes are scanned and stored in Lycoming County. Mr. Lehman ultimately asserted [Voter Services'] belief that CVRs fall under the exception to public inspection in [Section 308,] because "[r]eviewing a CVR is the digital equivalent of inspecting the contents of a ballot box, one ballot at a time." The OOR also reviewed [Honey's] argument that CVRs do not fall under the exception in [Section 308] but are instead analogous to other records that are available for public inspection.
> After considering the parties' arguments, the OOR denied [Honey's] appeal on the basis that it found Mr. Lehman credible and knowledgeable, rendering it improper for the OOR to "substitute its judgment for that of those with far more familiarity with the issues." Specifically, the OOR determined that "the CVR is the digital equivalent of the contents of ballot boxes," and thus not a public record under [Section 308] of the Election Code.

Common Pleas Op., 12/16/22, at 1-2 (some footnotes omitted).

Honey then appealed the OOR's decision to Common Pleas. On May 16, 2022, Appellees Jeffrey J. Stroehmann, Donald C. Peters, and Joseph D. Hamm (collectively Intervenors) filed a joint petition to intervene, which Common Pleas subsequently granted. Common Pleas then held two days of evidentiary hearings in June 2022, and subsequently issued an opinion and order, through which it adjudicated Honey's appeal, on December 16, 2022.[4]

In its opinion, Common Pleas first addressed the assertion that Honey and Intervenors lacked standing to pursue the appeal. With regard to Honey, Common Pleas concluded that she did not have standing to obtain the CVR she had requested, because she was registered to vote in Lebanon County and, thus, was not a "qualified elector" under the Election Code. Common Pleas Op., 12/16/22, at 47-49.[5] Common Pleas did not reach the same conclusion regarding Intervenors, and instead held that they had standing to pursue in their own right the claims Honey had put forth on her behalf. Id. at 49-50.

Moving on to the merits, Common Pleas then analyzed the language used in Section 308 of the Election Code to determine whether CVRs were rendered exempt from public disclosure. Common Pleas broke its statutory analysis down into three parts, each of which focused upon a single word or phrase used in the statute: "ballot boxes," "voting machines," and "contents." First, it concluded that the plain meaning of "ballot boxes" in the Election Code was consistent with the dictionary definition of the term as a "locked box into which ballots are deposited after voting[,]" as well as that "the sealed bags attached to scanners, into which ballots fall after they are [4] Common Pleas was the ultimate finder of fact in this matter, as ordained by the RTKL, and consequently conducted a de novo, plenary review of the OOR's decision. See Bowling v. Off. of Open Recs., 75 A.3d 453, 474 (Pa. 2013).

[5] Curiously, Common Pleas did not include language in the order attached to its December 16, 2022 opinion that formally dismissed Honey as a party or otherwise addressed her standing to challenge Voter Services' denial of her RTKL request. See Common Pleas Op., 12/16/22, at 73-74. We, however, agree with Common Pleas' assessment that Section 308 barred Honey from obtaining the records she sought, due to the fact that she was registered as a voter in Lebanon County, rather than Lycoming County, at the time she filed that request.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

scanned, are 'ballot boxes.'" Id. at 53-54. Second, Common Pleas noted that the Election Code did not define "voting machines," but concluded that, under existing case law and certain provisions of the Election Code, not every EVS constituted a voting machine for purposes of this statutory scheme. Id. at 54-56. On that basis, it ruled that the optical scanners used to record the votes made on paper ballots in Lycoming County did not qualify as voting machines under the Election Code. Id. at 57. Finally, Common Pleas deemed the word "contents" to be ambiguous, stating that > [c]learly, the term "contents" as used in the Election Code covers at least the physical sense of ballots physically inside of a ballot box. However, it is unclear whether the term also includes things that are contained in "ballot boxes and voting machines" more abstractly, such as intangible information or ideas that are "within" a ballot box or voting machine in a less-than-physical sense.

Id. at 58. As a result, Common Pleas concluded "that the phrase 'contents of ballot boxes or voting machines' as used in [Section 308] is susceptible to multiple reasonable readings, and thus does not have a single plain and unambiguous meaning." Id. Common Pleas then turned to the rules of statutory construction to resolve this putative ambiguity, considering the history and purpose of both Section 308 and the Election Code as a whole; the Department of State's (Department) administrative reading of Section 308; and the consequences of adopting each side's preferred interpretation. Id. at 58-67. Ultimately, Common Pleas ruled that the public access restriction imposed by Section 308 was to be construed narrowly, and concluded that the General Assembly "intended the 'contents' of ballot boxes or voting machines to refer to voted ballots physically deposited into ballot boxes and the mechanical inner workings of voting machines, rather than the information 'contained' in those physical items." Id. at 68.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Applying this logic to the matter-at-hand, Common Pleas held that the CVR in this matter was not shielded from disclosure by Section 308 and, thus, was a public record that could be obtained via an RTKL request. Id. Common Pleas then reasoned that disclosure of the CVR would not violate the Pennsylvania Constitution's ballot secrecy requirement, because the record evidence established "that the order of the numbered list of voters [in the CVR] does not necessarily correspond to the order in which ballots are cast"; in Common Pleas' view, this data randomization rendered tenuous any concerns that disclosure would result in a breach of that requirement. Id. at 69-72. As a result, Common Pleas ordered Voter Services to provide Intervenors with the CVR from the 2020 General Election in Lycoming County, but stayed its order for 30 days, so that it would not go into effect until the appeal window had closed. Id. at 73-74.

This timely appeal followed.

II. Discussion

Secretary presents two arguments for our consideration, which we summarize as follows.[6] First, Common Pleas erred by concluding that Section 308 of the Election Code is ambiguous. To the contrary, Section 308's plain language exempts CVRs from disclosure for three reasons: (a) a CVR is the electronic, modern-day equivalent of all voted ballots contained in a ballot box; (b) EVSs like the optical scanners used by Lycoming County qualify as voting machines under the Election Code, and CVRs are the contents of those EVSs; and (c) reading Section 308 to exempt CVRs from disclosure is consistent with other provisions of the Election

[6] "When[, as here,] the court of common pleas is the 'Chapter 13' or reviewing court, our appellate review is limited to whether the trial court has committed an error of law and whether the findings of fact are supported by substantial evidence." Off. of the Dist. Att'y of Phila. v. Bagwell, 155 A.3d 1119, 1123 n.3 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2017) (citing Twp. of Worcester v. Off. of Open Recs., 129 A.3d 44, 49 n.2 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2016)).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Code that only authorize public access to the contents of ballot boxes and voting machines upon allegations of error or fraud. Secretary's Br. at 14-20. Second, even if Common Pleas correctly concluded that Section 308 was ambiguously worded, the lower court still erred by failing to give deference to the Department's interpretation of the statute, which was that CVRs constitute the modern version of ballot box contents, as well as that optical scanners like the ones used to record votes in Lycoming County are the modern equivalent of voting machines. Id. at 20-25.

Generally speaking, the purpose of the RTKL is "to promote access to official government information in order to prohibit secrets, scrutinize the actions of public officials[,] and make public officials accountable for their actions." Off. of Governor v. Raffle, 65 A.3d 1105, 1107 n.1 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2013). Accordingly, local agencies are statutorily required to "provide public records [to individuals who request them] in accordance with [the RTKL]." Section 302(a) of the RTKL, 65 P.S. § 67.302(a). However, that does not mean that all local agency records are "public" and eligible for dissemination upon request. Per Section 305(a) of the RTKL:

> A record in the possession of a Commonwealth agency or local agency shall be presumed to be a public record. The presumption shall not apply if:
> . . . .
> (3) the record is exempt from disclosure under any other [f]ederal or [s]tate law or regulation or judicial order or decree.

65 P.S. § 67.305(a); accord Section 102 of the RTKL, 65 P.S. § 67.102 (defining "public record" in relevant part as "[a] record, including a financial record, of a Commonwealth or local agency that . . . (2) is not exempt from being disclosed under any other [f]ederal or [s]tate law or regulation or judicial order or decree"). In other words, the RTKL's presumption that all records possessed by a local or state agency are public in nature, and are thus disclosable to a requester, yields where a statutory exemption exists for a certain kind of record.

Secretary, through his first argument, posits that Section 308 of the Election Code establishes such an exemption regarding public disclosure of CVRs. This assertion presents a pure question of statutory interpretation; thus, "our standard of review [here] is de novo, and our scope of review is plenary and non-deferential." Crown Castle NG E. LLC v. Pa. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 234 A.3d 665, 674 (Pa. 2020).

> The object of statutory construction is to ascertain and effectuate legislative intent. 1 Pa. C.S. § 1921(a). In pursuing that end, we are mindful a statute's plain language generally provides the best indication of legislative intent. See Com[.] v. McClintic, . . . 909 A.2d 1241 ([Pa.] 2006). Thus, statutory construction begins with examination of the text itself. [Se.] Pa. Transp. Auth. v. Holmes, 835 A.2d 851 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2003).
> In reading the plain language of a statute, "[w]ords and phrases shall be construed according to rules of grammar and according to their common and approved usage." 1 Pa. C.S. § 1903(a). Further, every statute shall be construed, if possible, to give effect to all its provisions so that no provision is "mere surplusage." 1 Pa. C.S. § 1921(a).
> Moreover, although we must "listen attentively to what a statute says[,] [o]ne must also listen attentively to what it does not say." Kmonk-Sullivan v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., . . . 788 A.2d 955, 962 ([Pa.] 2001). We may not insert a word the legislature failed to supply into a statute. Girgis v. Bd. of Physical Therapy, 859 A.2d 852 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2004).

Malt Beverages Distribs. Ass'n v. Pa. Liquor Control Bd., 918 A.2d 171, 175-76 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2007). "When the words of a statute are clear and free from all ambiguity, the letter of it is not to be disregarded under the pretext of pursuing its spirit." 1 Pa. C.S. § 1921(b). "However, if we deem the statutory language ambiguous, we must then ascertain the General Assembly's intent by statutory analysis, wherein we may consider numerous relevant factors." Bowman v. Sunoco, Inc., 65 A.3d 901, 906 (Pa. 2013) (citing 1 Pa. C.S. § 1921(c)). "An ambiguity exists when language is subject to two or more reasonable interpretations and not merely because two conflicting interpretations may be suggested." Tri-Cnty. Landfill, Inc. v. Pine Twp. Zoning Hearing Bd., 83 A.3d 488, 510 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2014). Regardless of whether a statute is deemed ambiguous or not, our rules of construction forbid a court from adopting an interpretation that will produce "a result that is absurd, impossible of execution[,] or unreasonable." 1 Pa. C.S. § 1922(1). Furthermore,

Turning to Section 308 of the Election Code, this statute reads as follows, in full:

> The records of each county board of elections, general and duplicate returns, tally papers, affidavits of voters and others, nomination petitions, certificates and papers, other petitions, appeals, witness lists, accounts, contracts, reports and other documents and records in its custody, except the contents of ballot boxes and voting machines and records of assisted voters, shall be open to public inspection, except as herein provided, and may be inspected and copied by any qualified elector of the county during ordinary business hours, at any time when they are not necessarily being used by the board, or its employes having duties to perform thereto: Provided, however, That such public inspection thereof shall only be in the presence of a member or authorized employe of the county board, and shall be subject to proper regulation for safekeeping of the records and documents, and subject to the further provisions of this act: And provided further, That general and duplicate returns, tally papers, affidavits of voters and others, and all other papers required to be returned by the election officers to the county board sealed, shall be open to public inspection only after the county board shall, in the course of the computation and canvassing of the returns, have broken such seals and finished, for the time, their use of said papers in connection with such computation and canvassing.

25 P.S. § 2648 (emphasis added). Thus, by its plain language and with relevance to this case, Section 308 exempts from public disclosure "the contents of ballot boxes and voting machines[.]" Id.

Secretary does not dispute Common Pleas' observation that the term "ballot boxes" is not specifically defined in the Election Code, or that this phrase, when defined according to its commonly understood meaning and applied to this situation, clearly refers to the sealed bags that catch ballots after they have been scanned. He, however, challenges Common Pleas' conclusion that "voting machines," as used in Section 308, does not encompass EVSs like the ones used in Lycoming County, as well as Common Pleas' determination that CVRs do not constitute the "contents" of those voting machines or of the ballot boxes.

We agree. Admittedly, the Election Code is not a model of clarity with regard to establishing what constitutes a "voting machine." This term is not specifically defined therein, even though it is used throughout in both single and plural form, and despite the fact that the General Assembly titled an entire article of this law as "Voting Machines." Tit. 25 P.S., Ch. 14, Art. XI, Sections 1101-18 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. §§ 3001-3018; see, e.g., Sections 404, 414, 530, 1216-17, 1226-27, 1230, 1404, 1702-03, 1818, 1824, and 1830 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. §§ 2674, 2684, 2730, 3056-57, 3066-67, 3070, 3154, 3262-63, 3518, 3524, 3530. Nor is the relationship between EVSs and voting machines, or lack thereof, straightforwardly apparent from the Election Code's text. Article XI-a of the Election Code, which specifically pertains to EVSs, contains what appears to be contradictory language on this point. On one hand, this article includes multiple references that suggest that such machines are components of EVSs. See Section 1105-A of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3031.5(b)[7] (emphasis added) (stating in relevant part: "With respect to any [EVS] approved for use in this Commonwealth by the secretary, the report of the secretary shall specify the capacity of the components of that system, the number of

On the other hand, this article also expressly mandates that "[u]pon the installation of an electronic voting system in any election district, the use therein of paper ballots and of voting machines shall be discontinued, except as otherwise provided herein."

Section 1104-A of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3031.4[11] (emphasis added). The same inconsistency is also present elsewhere in the Election Code. Some portions indicate that an EVS is a type of voting machine, or that the two terms are effectively synonymous. See Sections 1702 and 1703 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. §§ 3262-63 (Section 1702 mentions petitions for recanvassing votes cast via voting machines, without making reference to EVSs, but Section 1703 establishes that Section 1702 petitions can be filed regarding votes cast through EVSs or voting machines). Others, however, imply that EVSs and voting machines may, in fact, be entirely different kinds of apparatuses. See Section 1404(e) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154(e) (setting forth three slightly different vote recanvass and recount procedures, the precise applicability of each depending on whether a given election district used "voting machines," "paper ballots other than those used in conjunction with an [EVS]," or "an [EVS] utilizing paper ballots," while also specifying that, where an election district used "any other type of [EVSs]," a vote recanvass or recount must be conducted in a manner "similar to the procedure specified in [25 P.S. § 3154(e)(1)] for voting machines").

These impediments are not insurmountable for us, however. "Where a term is not [statutorily] defined, . . . 'words and phrases shall be construed according to rules of grammar and according to their common and approved usage.'" P.R. v. Pa. Dep't of Pub. Welfare, 759 A.2d 434, 437 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2000). 2013)). Generally speaking, Merriam-Webster defines "machine" as "a mechanically, electrically, or electronically operated device for performing a task."[12] Therefore, a "voting machine" can be described as a device of this nature that is designed to allow for the performance of that specific task (i.e., voting). Furthermore, "voting machine" has itself been defined in common parlance with some specificity. Merriam-Webster describes it as follows: "a mechanical device for recording and counting votes cast in an election."[13] Similarly, the Cambridge Dictionary states that a "voting machine" is "a machine used to automatically record and count votes in an election."[14] Even more precisely, the United States Election Assistance Commission (EAC)[15] describes a "voting machine" as "[t]he mechanical, electromechanical, and electric components of a voting system that the voter uses to view the ballot, indicate his/her selections, and verify those selections. In some instances, the voting machine also casts and tabulates the votes."[16]

The question then becomes whether the components of Lycoming County's EVS constitute "voting machines." Section 1101-A of the Election Code defines an EVS as "a system in which one or more voting devices are used to permit the registering or recording of votes and in which such votes are computed and tabulated by automatic tabulating equipment. The system shall provide for a permanent physical record of each vote cast." 25 P.S. § 3031.1. "Automatic tabulating equipment" is defined in that same part of the Election Code as "any apparatus which automatically examines and computes votes registered on paper ballots, ballot cards[,] or district totals cards or votes registered electronically and which tabulates such votes." Id. "Voting device" is also defined therein as > either an apparatus in which paper ballots or ballot cards are used in connection with an implement by which a voter registers his votes with ink or other substance or by punching, or an apparatus by which such votes are registered electronically, so that in either case the votes so registered may be computed and tabulated by means of automatic tabulating equipment.

Id. Applying these three definitions to the matter-at-hand, it is evident that the optical scanners used by Lycoming County, which receive filled-out paper ballots, scan the votes recorded thereon, and transmit the results to a database, are voting devices that contain automatic tabulating equipment, and which are part of Lycoming County's EVS. These voting devices are undoubtedly mechanical, electrical, electromechanical, or electronic components of a voting system that are specifically used for the task of voting, including with regard to the casting and tabulation of votes. Therefore, these devices also fit the generally understood definition of "voting machines."

Again, we recognize that the General Assembly has directed, via Section 1104-A of the Election Code, that "[u]pon the installation of an [EVS] in any election district, the use therein of paper ballots and of voting machines shall be discontinued, except as otherwise provided herein." 25 P.S. § 3031.4. We also remain cognizant, however, that we must endeavor to harmonize seemingly inconsistent statutory language, within reason, to the fullest possible extent. Taylor, 164 A.3d at 1157. As noted supra, Article XI-a includes multiple references suggesting that machines are components of EVSs. Tit. 25 P.S., Ch. 14, Art. XI-a. In addition, Section 1702 and 1703, when read together, indicate that "EVS" is synonymous with "voting machine" under the Election Code. See 25 P.S. §§ 3262-63. We therefore come to two conclusions. First, the General Assembly's usage of the term "voting machines" in the Election Code is beset by inconsistencies and poor draftsmanship. Second, we must read Section 1104-A's reference to voting machines as pertaining to mechanical devices used in the voting process, but not to similarly deployed electronic devices, in order to harmonize those inconsistencies and to allow for the Election Code's provisions to be given the fullest effect possible.[17] In other words, we hold that EVS components that are used directly in the processing and recordation of votes must also be considered voting machines under the Election Code.

As for the meaning of "contents," that word is not defined in the Election Code either. Per Merriam-Webster, though, it means "something contained."[18] CVRs thus qualify as "contents" under the Election Code, regardless of whether the container holding the CVRs is deemed to be a voting machine or a ballot box. Common Pleas, however, essentially found that the CVR in this instance was digitally equivalent to the information recorded on physical ballots, but narrowly construed Section 308's usage of "contents" as only "refer[ring] to voted ballots physically deposited into ballot boxes and the mechanical inner workings of voting [17] We also note that our Court, in a single-judge opinion issued in another matter, recently ruled that electronic devices do not constitute voting machines under the Election Code. See In re Recount of Berks Cnty. Gen. Election of Nov. 8, 2022, 296 A.3d 64, 77 (Pa. Cmwlth.) (single-judge op.) (Wallace, J.), aff'd 297 A.3d 687 (Pa. 2023). However, the analysis in that matter did not address the meaning of "voting machines" with the same level of detailed analysis that we have in this matter, but merely predicated that conclusion upon a smattering of cases that also did not contain thorough analyses of this term's meaning. See id. (citing and quoting Banfield v. Cortes, 110 A.3d 155, 170 (Pa. 2015); Dayhoff v. Weaver, 808 A.2d 1002, 1010 n.21 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2002); and In re Gen. Election for Twp. Supervisor of Morris Twp., Wash. Cnty., 620 A.2d 565, 568-69 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1993)). Given this, as well as the fact that the Supreme Court's per curiam affirmance of Berks County only pertained "to [its] interpretation of Sections 1701 and 1703 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. §§ 3261, 3263, [(which relate to petitions requesting a vote recount),]" In re Recount of Berks Cnty. Gen. Election of Nov. 8, 2022, 297 A.3d 687, 688 (Pa. 2023), we overrule the single-judge Berks County opinion to the very limited extent that it stands for the proposition that electronic devices cannot be voting machines for purposes of the Election Code. See Com. v. Tilghman, 673 A.2d 898, 904 (Pa. 1996) (in instances where Supreme Court affirms lower court decision via per curiam order, Supreme Court endorses rationale underpinning that decision only to extent higher tribunal affirms on express basis of opinion issued by lower court).

machines, rather than the information 'contained' in those physical items." Common Pleas Op., 12/16/22, at 68; see id. ("Only three such things have been made inaccessible: the contents of ballot boxes, the contents of voting machines, and the records of assisted voters. The [General Assembly] did not exempt records that were the 'equivalents' or 'analog[ue]s' of those things from public access."). We find that interpretation flawed for two reasons. First, the voting machines used by Lycoming County compiled recorded votes in digital form, rather than physical. Thus, the machines had no "contents" beyond those digitized records, i.e., the CVR. Second, it may appear at first blush that Section 308 is ambiguous in this context, in that it is not clear whether the ballot boxes' "contents" are just the physical ballots themselves or also include the voting data from those ballots. However, this apparent ambiguity disappears by virtue of Common Pleas' effective determination that the CVR is digitally equivalent to those physical ballots. It would produce an absurd result if physical ballots were protected from public disclosure, but digital analogues of those very same ballots were freely available upon request, as what is special about the ballots is not so much the form which they take, but the voting information which they contain. Consequently, Common Pleas erred by ruling that the word "contents" was ambiguous in this instance, that the CVR was not the contents, in digital form, of ballot boxes and voting machines, and that the CVR was thus not exempt from public disclosure.

Current through P.A. Acts 2023-21

Section 3031.5 - Examination and approval of electronic voting systems by the Secretary of the Commonwealth(a) Any person or corporation owning, manufacturing or selling, or being interested in the manufacture or sale of, any electronic voting system, may request the Secretary of the Commonwealth to examine such system if the voting system has been examined and approved by a federally recognized independent testing authority and if it meets any voting system performance and test standards established by the Federal Government. The costs of the examination shall be paid by the person requesting the examination in an amount set by the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Any ten or more persons, being qualified registered electors of this Commonwealth, may, at any time, request the Secretary of the Commonwealth to reexamine any electronic voting system theretofore examined and approved by him. Before any reexamination, the person, persons, or corporation, requesting such reexamination, shall pay to the Treasurer of the Commonwealth a reexamination fee of four hundred fifty dollars ($450). The Secretary of the Commonwealth may, at any time, in his discretion, reexamine any such system therefore examined and approved by him. The Secretary of the Commonwealth may issue directives or instructions for implementation of electronic voting procedures and for the operation of electronic voting systems.(b) Upon receipt of a request for examination or reexamination of an electronic voting system as herein provided for or in the event he determines to reexamine any such system, the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall examine the electronic voting system and shall make and file in his office his report, attested by his signature and the seal of his office, stating whether, in his opinion, the system so examined can be safely used by voters at elections as provided in this act and meets all of the requirements hereinafter set forth. If his report states that the system can be so used and meets all such requirements, such system shall be deemed approved and may be adopted for use at elections, as herein provided. With respect to any electronic voting system approved for use in this Commonwealth by the secretary, the report of the secretary shall specify the capacity of the components of that system, the number of voters who may reasonably be accommodated by the voting devices and automatic tabulating equipment which comprise such system and the number of clerks and machine inspectors, if any, required based on the number of registered electors in any election district in which the voting system is to be used, such specifications being based upon the secretary's examination of the system. Any county which thereafter may adopt any such approved system shall provide the components of such system in a number no less than that sufficient to accommodate the voters of that county or municipality in accordance with the minimum capacity standards so prescribed by the secretary. The county board shall comply with the requirements for the use of the electronic voting system as set forth in the report by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.(c) No electronic voting system not so approved shall be used at any election, and if, upon the reexamination of any such system previously approved, it shall appear that the system so reexamined can no longer be used safely by voters at elections as provided in this act or does not meet the requirements hereinafter set forth, the approval of that system shall forthwith be revoked by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and that system shall not thereafter be used or purchased for use in this Commonwealth.(d) When an electronic voting system has been so approved, no improvement or change that does not impair its accuracy, efficiency or capacity or its compliance with the requirements hereinafter set forth, shall render necessary the reexamination or reapproval of such system.(e) Neither the Secretary of the Commonwealth nor any member of a county board of elections shall have any pecuniary interest in any electronic voting system or in any of the components thereof, or in the design, manufacture or sale thereof.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE MIDDLE DISTRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA

CASA,

Plaintiff,

v.

JULIE WHEELER, DOUG HOKE, RON SMITH, in their official capacities as members of the York County Board of Elections, Defendants.

COMPLAINT FOR INJUNCTIVE AND DECLARATORY RELIEF

INTRODUCTION

1. This is an action for injunctive and declaratory relief, including immediate preliminary injunctive relief before Pennsylvania's November 8, 2022 general election. This action seeks to require Defendants to comply with Section 4(e) of the federal Voting Rights Act of 1965 ("VRA"), 52 U.S.C. § 10303(e), by providing the following: Spanish-language ballots, registration and other election materials, and assistance in York County, Pennsylvania for the November 8, 2022 election and subsequent elections.

2. Section 4(e) of the VRA protects the voting rights of American citizens educated in Spanish-speaking Puerto Rican schools. See 52 U.S.C. § 10303(e). Specifically, Section 4(e) requires, inter alia, that Spanish-language ballots, registration, and election materials, instructions, and assistance be provided to these citizens so they may effectively exercise their right to vote. See id.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3. Section 4(e)'s protections apply to hundreds of Spanish-speaking Puerto Ricans who reside and are eligible to vote in York County. But Defendants intend to conduct the upcoming 2022 general election in York County almost entirely in English, in direct contravention of those protections.

4. Plaintiff CASA brings this action on its own behalf and on behalf of its members who are directly impacted by Defendants' failure to comply with Section 4(e).

5. Plaintiff brings its action against the Julie Wheeler, Doug Hoke, and Ron Smith in their official capacities as York County Board of Elections.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6. This action for declaratory and injunctive relief arises under the Voting Rights Act of 1965 as amended, 52 U.S.C. §§ 10101, and the Civil Rights Act of 1971, 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

7. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1331 because this action arises under the laws of the United States, under 52 U.S.C. § 10101(d) because this action arises under the Voting Rights Act, and under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1343(a)(3)-(4) and 1357 because this action seeks equitable and other relief pursuant to an act of Congress providing for the protection of the right to vote.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8. This Court has authority to issue declaratory relief under 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202.

9. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim have occurred and will occur in this District, because Plaintiff CASA has an office in this District, and because Defendants have their principal places of business in this District.

PARTIES

10. Plaintiff CASA is a non-profit organization with an office in York County, Pennsylvania. CASA is dedicated to uplifting and leveraging the voices of Pennsylvania's immigrant and Latino communities. In furtherance of that mission, since 2016 CASA has been actively registering Latinx voters and working on issues of voter protection and language access at the polls in Pennsylvania, including in York County. As a result of Defendants' failure to ensure the provision of Spanish-language materials and assistance to Spanish-speaking Puerto Ricans, CASA is diverting its limited resources from other projects to provide Spanish-language assistance to, and advocacy on behalf of, Spanish-language voters in York County, including in the 2022 Pennsylvania general election. CASA is a membership-based organization, with members in York County who were educated in Puerto Rico, where the predominant classroom language was Spanish. Many of its York County Spanish-dominant, Puerto Rican educated members want and intend to vote in

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Pennsylvania's November 8, 2022 general election. Those members will not be able to exercise their right to vote effectively in a predominantly English-only election.

11. Defendants Julie Wheeler, Doug Hoke, and Ron Smith are sued in their official capacity as the members of the York County Board of Elections. As the York County Board of Elections, Defendants are responsible for the administration of elections in York County.

LEGAL BACKGROUND

12. Section 4(e) of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (52 U.S.C. §10303(e)) protects the voting rights of persons educated in "American-flag schools," i.e., a school in any state or territory, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, in which the predominant classroom language was a language other than English, by prohibiting the States from conditioning the right to vote of such individuals on the ability to read or understand English.

13. Section 4(e) provides that no one who completed sixth grade in any "school in . . . any state, territory, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico in which the predominant classroom language was other than English shall be denied the right to vote in any Federal, State, or local election because of his inability to read, write, understand, or interpret any matter in the English language." 52 U.S.C. §10303(e)(2).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

14. Congress's primary purpose in enacting Section 4(e) was to protect the rights of Spanish-speaking Puerto Ricans to vote stateside. Katzenbach v. Morgan, 384 U.S. 641, 645 & n.3, 652 (1966).

15. Congress later eliminated the sixth-grade education requirement from Section 4(e). See 52 U.S.C. §10501(a); Arroyo v. Tucker, 372 F. Supp. 764, 766 (E.D. Pa. 1974).

16. As a result, Section 4(e) now applies to all "persons who attended any number of years of school in Puerto Rico." Puerto Rican Org. for Political Action v. Kusper, 490 F.2d 575, 579 (7th Cir. 1973) ("Kusper II").

17. Under Section 4(e), States must provide Spanish-language voting materials and assistance to all persons who attended school in Puerto Rico and are unable to vote effectively in English. United States v. Berks Cnty., 277 F. Supp. 2d 570, 579 (E.D. Pa. 2003) (collecting cases).

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

18. Plaintiff CASA has more than 2,800 members in the state of Pennsylvania, more than 1,162 of whom reside in York County. Certain members of Plaintiff CASA in York County, Pennsylvania were raised and educated in Puerto Rico and are limited English proficient.

19. For example, one of CASA's members attended elementary school through eleventh grade in Puerto Rico, in which the language used in the classroom was predominantly Spanish. He does not speak, read, or understand English. This member is eligible to vote in York County, Pennsylvania, and wants and intends to vote in the 2022 Pennsylvania general election. However, because he is not English-proficient, he will be unable to vote effectively under Defendants' current election procedures and using Defendants' current election materials.

20. This member's voting experience illustrates the ineffectiveness of Defendants' current election scheme for Spanish-language speakers. This member registered to vote with CASA's assistance and voted in the 2020 general election. When he voted, the signs were only in English, the ballot and instructions were only in English, and there was nobody available to assist with interpretation of election-related materials. This member had no way of understanding the English-only materials or the process.

21. Another CASA member attended elementary school through college in Puerto Rico, in which the language used in the classroom was predominantly Spanish. She does not speak, read, or understand English. This member is eligible to vote in York County, Pennsylvania, and wants and intends to vote in the 2022 Pennsylvania general election. However, because she is not English proficient, she will be unable to vote effectively under Defendants' current election procedures and using Defendants' current election materials.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

22. When this member voted in the 2016 election, she required the assistance of an interpreter, but there was no one available to translate for her. She tried to vote with her husband's help, but he was not allowed in the voting station with her. She has not voted since then, in part because she was unaware of and confused about certain voting procedures, like the availability of absentee ballots.

23. Another one of CASA's members attended elementary school through high school in Puerto Rico, in which the classroom language was predominantly Spanish. This member is eligible to vote in York County, Pennsylvania, and wants and intends to vote in the 2022 Pennsylvania general election. However, because he is not English proficient, he will be unable to vote effectively under Defendants' current election procedures.

24. Another CASA member moved to York County several months ago. She attended elementary school through tenth grade in Puerto Rico, in which the classroom language was predominantly Spanish. She left Puerto Rico in 2017 due to Hurricane Maria and the lack of services available to her on the island. This member is eligible to vote, and she intends to register by October 24, 2022. She wants and intends to vote in the 2022 Pennsylvania general election. Because she does not understand English well, and cannot read in English, she was not aware of how to register to vote. She will be unable to vote effectively under Defendants' current election procedures and using Defendants' current election materials.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

25. Another one of CASA's members attended some elementary school, high school, and some college in Puerto Rico, in which the language used in the classroom was predominantly Spanish. Though he can speak and understand some English, his dominant language is Spanish. This member is eligible to vote in York County, Pennsylvania, and wants and intends to vote in the 2022 Pennsylvania general election. However, because he does not understand English well, he will be unable to vote effectively under Defendants' current election procedures.

26. This member voted in the 2020 general election but had trouble casting a ballot due to Defendants' current election procedures. Because he does not read English well, it took this member a long time to review the ballot, and he still struggled to understand its contents. There were no ballot instructions in Spanish, so he had to ask for assistance. When he sought help, there was no one available to answer his questions in Spanish, so he had no choice but to seek assistance in English.

27. Another CASA member attended elementary school through college in Puerto Rico, in which the language used in the classroom was predominantly Spanish. This member is eligible to vote in York County, Pennsylvania, and wants and intends to vote in the upcoming 2022 Pennsylvania general election. However, because she does not understand English well, she will be unable to vote effectively under Defendants' current election procedures and using Defendants' current election materials.

28. This member's experience voting in the 2020 Pennsylvania general election further illustrates the ineffectiveness of Defendants' election scheme for Spanish-language speakers. While this member was able to cast a ballot in the 2020 election, she did so without any Spanish-language materials, and without any interpretation assistance. She did not feel she could vote effectively because the ballot was in English and all signage at the polling place was in English.

29. As enumerated above, although many of Plaintiff CASA's Puerto Rican members now reside in York County, they do not understand, read, speak, or write English sufficiently to be able to vote effectively where the ballots and election materials are primarily English-only.

30. Plaintiff CASA's members are eligible—and many want and intend—to vote in Pennsylvania's elections, including in the upcoming November 8, 2022 general election.

31. But unless registration and election instructions, ballots, voter education and outreach materials, and assistance are provided in the Spanish language, these members will be unable to vote effectively.

32. York County is home to a substantial population of citizens who meet the following criteria: are eligible to vote, attended school in Puerto Rico in which the classroom language was predominately Spanish, and are unable to vote effectively in English.

33. According to the U.S. Census Bureau's American Community Survey ("ACS") 2020 One-Year Estimate, York County is home to 14,456 citizens of Puerto Rican descent. Additionally, 750 of these individuals of Puerto Rican descent in York County have self-reported in the ACS 2020 One-Year Estimate that they either do not speak any English or do not speak English well.[1] This means that they are "unable to speak or understand English adequately enough to participate in the electoral process." 52 U.S.C. § 10503(b)(3)(B).

34. Many of these individuals attended at least some school in Puerto Rico in which the primary language of instruction was not English, because "[t]he primary language of classroom instruction in Puerto Rico is Spanish." Berks Cty., 277 F. Supp. 2d at 574; see also P.R. Regs. DE REG. 8115, Art. III, §B.

35. "The right to vote means the right to effectively register the voter's political choice." Puerto Rican Org. For Political Action v. Kusper, 350 F. Supp. 606, 610 (N.D. Ill. 1972) ("Kusper I"), aff'd, Kusper II, 490 F.2d 575 (7th Cir. 1973).

[1] Furthermore, in addition to the 750 individuals that reported they either do not speak any English or do not speak English well, 1,423 individuals reported they speak English "well" as opposed to "very well." Notably, conversational English is not the same as fully understanding the written English language. Accordingly, the number of individuals who would be unable to understand written election materials only available in English is significantly higher than 750 people.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

36. If York County's registration materials and assistance, voting guides, voting instructions, ballots or ballot labels on voting machines, and other election materials are provided only in English, Plaintiff CASA's members' ability to vote effectively will be seriously impaired.

37. Plaintiff CASA's members in York County are therefore entitled to such materials and assistance as may be necessary to enable them to vote effectively, including bilingual ballots, Spanish-language election and voter registration materials, and translation assistance.

38. York County conducts English-only election practices. In the vast majority of its precincts, it does not provide Spanish-language ballots. Even in precincts where Spanish-language ballots are available, it does not provide sufficient Spanish-language election materials or assistance.

39. By not providing Spanish-language ballots or sufficient other Spanish-language election materials and assistance, York County conditions the right to vote of Plaintiff CASA's members on their ability to read, write, understand, or interpret the English language.

40. Although repeated requests have been made to York County to do so, York County has refused to make a binding commitment to provide Spanish-language ballots or sufficient Spanish-language registration and other election materials or assistance at the polls for the upcoming November 2022 general election.

41. On September 14, 2022, Plaintiff CASA sent a letter to the Defendants demanding they provide Spanish-language materials and assistance under Section 4(e) for the upcoming 2022 election. Plaintiff did not receive a response.

42. Counsel for Plaintiff sent additional letters on September 26, 2022 and October 3, 2022 demanding specific changes be implemented before November 8, 2022. After an initial meeting was held between Defendants, Plaintiff and counsel for Plaintiff on October 11, 2022, counsel for Plaintiff sent a follow-up letter to counsel for Defendants outlining specific, reasonable actions that Defendants could take to improve language access prior to election day. Defendants cancelled a follow-up meeting scheduled for October 13, 2022 to discuss the proposed actions.

43. If York County does not provide Spanish-language ballots, other election materials, and assistance for the 2022 election and subsequent York County elections, Plaintiff CASA's members will effectively be disenfranchised.

44. The right to vote is a fundamental right that is the heart of our democracy. The loss of that right in the 2022 general election, and any subsequent elections, for Plaintiff CASA's members is an irreparable injury.

45. CASA's diversion of resources, including staff and volunteer time, during the run-up to the November 8, 2022 election to support its members who are entitled to Spanish-language materials and assistance under Section 4(e) are also irreparable injuries. Even if CASA could be compensated for its expenditures, it will not be able to regain the opportunity to use its resources to educate and mobilize voters prior to the 2022 election. It will have already expended those resources in response to Defendants' English-only practices, for example through organizing extensive Know Your Rights campaigns and events on language access to the polls and deploying staff to the polls on election day to support Spanish-speaking members and assisting them in reporting violations of Section 4(e) of the VRA. CASA will suffer similar irreparable injury for every election in which Spanish-language materials and assistance are not provided as required by Section 4(e) of the VRA.

46. Because the registration deadline for the 2022 general election is October 24, 2022, and the election is November 8, 2022, the irreparable injury to Plaintiff CASA's members is imminent.

47. Requiring Defendants to ensure that York County provides Spanish-language ballots, materials, and election assistance for the 2022 general and other upcoming elections serves the public's strong interest in ensuring that every qualified voter is able to participate equally in the electoral process.

48. The irreparable injuries and fundamental right to vote for Plaintiff CASA's members far outweigh any hardship that Defendants might contend they face in ensuring the provisions of Spanish-language election materials and assistance.

CAUSES OF ACTION

COUNT I

(Violation of the Voting Rights Act, 52 U.S.C. § 10303(e))

49. Plaintiff hereby repeats and incorporates by reference each preceding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

50. Section 4(e) of the Voting Rights Act, 52 U.S.C. § 10303(e), prohibits denying the right to vote to any person who attended a school in Puerto Rico in which the predominant classroom language was other than English, because of his or her "inability to read, write, understand, or interpret any matter in the English language."

51. Plaintiff CASA has members who attended school in Puerto Rico in which the predominant classroom language was other than English and are not able to vote effectively in English.

52. Defendants have failed to provide Spanish-language ballots and fail to provide sufficient other Spanish-language election materials and assistance.

53. By failing to provide Spanish-language ballots and sufficient Spanish-language registration and election materials and assistance to Plaintiff CASA's members, Defendants are denying American citizens the right to vote because of their "inability to read, write, understand, or interpret any matter in the English language," in violation of 52 U.S.C. § 10303(e).

54. Defendants' conduct disenfranchises Plaintiff CASA's members. Absent this Court's intervention, Plaintiff CASA's members will suffer irreparable harm as a result of Defendants' conduct.

55. As a result of Defendants' failures, Plaintiff CASA has been forced to divert its resources to provide assistance to Spanish-language educated citizens to enable those citizens to vote.

56. To avoid imminent and irreparable harm, Defendants' conduct must be preliminarily and permanently enjoined and Defendants must be ordered to comply with 52 U.S.C. §10303(e) forthwith, as set forth infra in the Prayer for Relief.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

THEREFORE, Plaintiff prays that the Court order the following relief and remedies:

1. Declare and adjudge that Defendants' conducting of English-only elections in York County violates 52 U.S.C. § 10303(e).

2. Grant a preliminary and permanent injunction (a) enjoining Defendants from conducting elections without sample Spanish-language ballots and sufficient Spanish-language election materials and assistance in York County and (b) requiring Defendants to take all measures necessary to ensure that all election materials provided in English in York County—including but not limited to sample ballots, sample voting machine ballots, sample absentee ballots, voting guides, voting instructions, registration materials, polling place signage, and websites—are also provided in Spanish for the 2022 general election and all subsequent elections; and that Spanish-speaking poll workers are provided at the polls to assist voters during the 2022 general election and all subsequent elections, and that Spanish speakers are made available to assist with voter registration and absentee voting before the 2022 general election and all subsequent elections.

3. Award Plaintiff attorneys' fees and costs, including pursuant to 52 U.S.C. § 10310(e) and 42 U.S.C. § 1988; and

4. Award all such other and further relief as the Court deems to be just and equitable.

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

As of the first date written below, Plaintiff CASA ("CASA") and Defendants Felicia Dell, Mark Derr, and the Honorable Christy Fawcett (Ret.) in their official capacities (collectively "the Board of Elections") enter into this Settlement Agreement ("Agreement").

For the purpose of this Agreement:

A. The terms "the Board of Elections" and "Defendants" mean both the Board of Elections for York County, Pennsylvania, and its respective board members, and the County of York, Pennsylvania—including its respective commissioners, governing bodies, current and former employees, boards, authorities, elected officials, appointed officials, representatives, agents, attorneys, all insurers and reinsurers, successors, assigns, and all other persons, entities, governing bodies, and related associations whether named in this Agreement or not.

B. The terms "CASA" and "Plaintiff" refer to CASA, a non-profit organization that is the plaintiff in the lawsuit CASA v. Julie Wheeler, Doug Hoke, Ron Smith, in their official capacities as members of the York County Board of Elections, which was filed in the United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania and is docketed in that court as Case No. 1:22-cv-1648. The terms "CASA" and "Plaintiff" also refer to CASA's board of directors, members of its board of directors, CASA's employees, representatives, agents, attorneys, all insurers and reinsurers, successors, assigns, and all other related persons, entities, and associations whether named in this Agreement or not.

C. The term "the Parties" refers collectively to the Board of Elections and CASA, as defined above.

D. The term "Agreement" means this Settlement Agreement, signed by authorized agents of both CASA and the Board of Elections, as those terms are defined above.

E. The term "York County," as used in the Agreement, refers to the County of York, Pennsylvania.

BACKGROUND

On October 19, 2022, Plaintiff CASA filed a complaint ("the Complaint")[1] in the United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania. The Complaint—docketed as Case No. 1:22-cv-1648—asserted official capacity claims against the members of the Board of Elections. Specifically, the Complaint alleged that the Board of Elections had conducted—and will conduct—elections in York County that violate Section 4(e) of the Voting Rights Act, 52 U.S.C. § 10303(e). The Complaint sought only injunctive relief against the Board of Elections related to how elections are conducted in York County. At that time, the members of the Board of Elections were York County Commissioners Julie Wheeler, Doug Hoke, and Ron Smith. On October 20, 2022, CASA filed a motion seeking a preliminary injunction[2] regarding the then-approaching 2022 General Election. On October 26, 2022, the Board of Elections filed its Answer to the Complaint[3] and opposition to CASA's motion for preliminary injunction.[4] Both of those filings denied that the Board of Elections had violated—or would violate—the Voting Rights Act and otherwise argued that injunctive relief would be inappropriate.

The Parties engaged in negotiations that resulted in resolution of CASA's motion for preliminary injunction regarding the 2022 General Election. As a result, on November 2, 2022, the Parties filed a Joint Motion to Stay Proceedings Regarding Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Injunction.[5] In response to that motion, the Court entered an order on November 3, 2022, staying proceedings, denying CASA's motion for preliminary injunction without prejudice, and requiring the Parties to provide a joint status report to the Court regarding the case's status following the 2022 General Election.[6]

The Parties filed several joint status reports to the Court after the 2022 General Election.[7] In the meantime—by order dated February 14, 2023—York County Court of Common Pleas President Judge Maria Musti Cook—in accordance with 25 P.S. § 2641(c)—appointed the following members to replace the York County Commissioners as the York County Board of Elections for 2023: Felica Dell; Mark Derr; and the Honorable Christy Fawcett (Ret.). Upon their appointment, Dell, Derr, and Judge Fawcett were automatically substituted by operation of law as Defendants to the official capacity claims in the Complaint.[8]

Since the conclusion of the 2022 General Election, the Parties have endeavored to resolve their remaining disputes concerning future elections in York County. These efforts have included numerous conference calls between counsel for the Parties and two in-person settlement conferences between the Parties and their counsel, which were presided over by the Honorable Martin Carlson, United States Magistrate Judge for the Middle District of Pennsylvania.

Based on those discussions—and in order to avoid the expense and uncertainty associated with protracted litigation—both Parties have decided to resolve the remaining disputes related to elections conducted in York County through the end of the year 2028. Accordingly, the Parties—intending to be legally bound—have agreed to the following terms:

1. Conduct of Elections. The Parties agree that for all elections conducted by the Board of Elections between now and December 31, 2028, the Board of Elections will do the following:

k. m. Provide instructions in Spanish on the York County Elections & Voter Registration website regarding how individuals can access the County's election day language line Spanish interpretation service and the Spanish language interpretation services available through the County on days other than election days.

2. Update to Poll Worker Manual: The Board will ensure that the York County Poll Workers Manual is updated to mention that it is legal and possible in appropriate cases to assign poll workers outside the voting precinct where they reside and, as a result, bilingual (English-Spanish) poll workers may be requested to volunteer to work at a voting precinct outside the voting precinct in which they reside. The Board of Elections will also implement training of both Judges of Elections and poll workers regarding this topic. These amendments to the Poll Worker Manual and the associated training will be made in time to be utilized for the 2023 General Election.

3. 2026 Re-Evaluation of Precincts Where Bilingual (English-Spanish) Ballots Will Be Used:

a. Following the 2025 General Election and before the 2026 Primary Election, the Board of Elections will evaluate whether to expand the number of voting precincts in York County where bilingual (English-Spanish) paper ballots are used by voters. That re-evaluation will be conducted in the following manner:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

i. The re-evaluation will utilize figures in the latest available version of the U.S. Census Bureau's American Community Survey's Five-Year Estimate ("ACS Survey") available at that time;

ii. The Board of Elections will expand use of bilingual (English-Spanish) paper ballots to any voting precinct in York County whose geographic boundaries cross the geographic boundaries of a census tract which the ACS Survey indicates (in tables C16002 and B030001) satisfies all three of the following criteria:

1. 2% or more of the census tract's population identifies as of Puerto Rican ancestry;

2. 2% or more of the households in the census tract indicate that their primary language is Spanish; and

3. 2% or more of the households in the census tract indicate that their primary language is Spanish and that they have limited English speaking proficiency.

b. The results of the re-evaluation will be implemented for all elections conducted in York County following the re-evaluation and through the 2028 General Election.

c. The re-evaluation will only apply to the 128 voting precincts in York County that are not listed in Paragraph 1.h. above. The re-evaluation will have no effect on the 33 voting precincts listed in Paragraph 1.h above. Bilingual (English-Spanish) paper ballots will continue to be used through the 2028 General Election at the 33 voting precincts listed in Paragraph 1.h above, regardless of what the ACS Survey data says about those precincts.

d. CASA will be permitted to request that the Board of Elections expand use of bilingual (English-Spanish) paper ballots at an additional ten voting precincts in York County not satisfying the criteria listed in Paragraph 3.a above. If CASA makes such a request, the Board of Elections will allow CASA to explain the basis for its request for expansion of bilingual (English-Spanish) paper ballots at up to ten additional voting precincts. Likewise, the Board of Elections agree to consider any such request by CASA. The Board of Elections, however, is under no obligation to expand use of bilingual (English-Spanish) paper ballots at any voting precincts other than those identified in Paragraph 1.h above and through the re-evaluation process discussed in Paragraphs 3.a-c above.

4. No Promises or Entitlement Related to Elections After 2028. Any requirements related to this Agreement expire on December 31, 2028, at the latest. No requirements in this Agreement will apply to any elections conducted in York County after December 31, 2028. The Parties agree that nothing in this Agreement should be interpreted as creating any right of CASA, its members, or anyone else related to elections in York County occurring after December 31, 2028. Similarly, nothing in this Agreement should be interpreted as creating any obligations upon the Board of Elections related to elections in York County occurring after December 31, 2028.

5. Full Release by CASA. For and in consideration of the Board of Election's agreements, promises, and performance set forth in this Agreement, CASA hereby fully releases and discharges the Board of Elections from any and all actions, claims, liability or potential liability related to the claims asserted by CASA in the Complaint, or which could have been asserted by CASA in the Complaint. This release covers any claims that can be legally waived. CASA specifically acknowledges that it is releasing the Board of Elections from any claims against it under the Voting Rights Act and 42 U.S.C. § 1983 related to any elections that have occurred before the execution of this Agreement.

6. Waiver of Claims for Attorneys' Fees, Costs, and Other Litigation Expenses. The Parties agree that each party will pay its own litigation expenses, costs, and attorneys' fees incurred to date during the course of this litigation. Accordingly, CASA releases the Board of Elections from any claim for payment of its attorneys' fees, costs, and other litigation expenses incurred to date. Likewise, the Board of Elections releases CASA from any claim for payment of its attorneys' fees, costs, and other litigation expenses incurred to date.

7. Additional Remedial Measures. This Agreement does not preclude the Board of Elections from taking additional steps to facilitate voting by Spanish-speaking voters. The Agreement also does not prohibit the Board from taking any action to comply with the Voting Rights Act, the Pennsylvania Election Code, or any other applicable law.

8. Change in Applicable Law. This Agreement is made subject to any changes in applicable law that would require the Board of Elections to take additional action to facilitate voting by Spanish-speaking voters or voters subject to Section 4(e) of the Voting Rights Act. As a result, nothing in this Agreement may be interpreted as excusing compliance with any such changes in applicable law that may require more or different action by the Board of Elections.

9. Implementation. The Parties agree that upon execution of the Agreement they will file a notice of consent under 28 U.S.C. § 636(c)(1) to assignment of a U.S. Magistrate Judge for the Middle District of Pennsylvania for all future proceedings regarding the Complaint and the Agreement. Once the assignment is made, the Parties will jointly request that the assigned U.S. Magistrate Judge suspend all pretrial deadlines but maintain jurisdiction over the Complaint in order to monitor compliance with the Agreement. CASA agrees that if the Board of Elections has complied with the terms of the Agreement then CASA will file a motion to dismiss the Complaint with prejudice no later than December 31, 2028.

10. No Admission of Violation or Wrongdoing. CASA acknowledges that the Board of Elections denies that it has violated the Voting Rights Act or any other law or legal theory. Accordingly, CASA agrees that nothing in this Agreement should be construed as an admission that the Board of Elections did anything wrong or that CASA's claims in the Complaint have merit. Similarly, the Board of Elections acknowledges that CASA believes that its claims in the Complaint were meritorious. Accordingly, the Board of Elections agrees that nothing in this Agreement should be construed as an admission by CASA that the claims in the Complaint lack merit.

11. CASA's Warranties and Covenants. CASA acknowledges that—other than the Complaint—CASA has not filed any other lawsuit or otherwise initiated adversarial proceedings related to the conduct of elections in York County. CASA agrees that it will not, after execution of the Agreement, assert any claims against the Board of Elections related to the conduct of elections in York County that occurred before execution of the Agreement. Nothing in this paragraph, however, is intended to inhibit CASA's rights to enforce the terms of the Agreement.

12. Adequate Consideration. CASA agrees that (i) the promises of the Board of Elections in this Agreement constitute the sole and exclusive undertakings to be provided to CASA by the Board of Elections, (ii) the Board of Elections has no obligation to provide CASA with any monetary compensation or any non-monetary benefits beyond what is specifically listed in the Agreement, and (iii) the Parties' promises in the Agreement constitute good and sufficient consideration to make those promises legally binding.

13. Costs. If either CASA or the Board of Elections takes action to enforce the Agreement, the non-prevailing party will be required to pay the prevailing party all reasonable fees, costs, and expenses that the prevailing party spends related to enforcing the Agreement's terms, including payment of the prevailing party's reasonable attorneys' fees, expert witness fees, and other litigation and court costs.

14. Binding Nature. This Agreement will bind the successors and assigns of both CASA and the Board of Elections.

15. Facts Accepted. The Parties acknowledge that they understand and assume the risk that the facts as understood by them to be true or accurate may be different from those that may or could have been proved or established. The Parties agree that any such difference will have no effect upon the validity or enforcement of any part of this Agreement, and this Agreement (in its entirety) will in all respects be effective and not subject to termination or recission, either in whole or in part.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

16. Entire Agreement. The Agreement constitutes the Parties' entire agreement. As a result, the Agreement cannot be altered or amended, except by a written agreement signed by both CASA and the Board of Elections. Because the Agreement contains the entire agreement between CASA and the Board of Elections, neither CASA nor the Board of Elections will be bound by any other promises or representations not contained in the Agreement. Both CASA and the Board of Elections agree that this Agreement may not be changed or waived (either in whole or partially) orally, by conduct, by informal writings, or any combination of such conduct.

17. Governing Law. Pennsylvania contract law will govern the interpretation of the Agreement.

18. Exclusivity of Forum, Consent to Jurisdiction. As indicated in Paragraph 10 above, the Parties have consented to assignment of a U.S. Magistrate Judge for the Middle District of Pennsylvania to oversee compliance with the Agreement's requirements. The Parties agree that the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania is the exclusive venue for resolution of any disputes arising in connection with the Agreement. The Parties unequivocally and irrevocably consent to personal jurisdiction in Pennsylvania.

19. Severability. The Agreement's promises are severable, meaning that if the Court were to find any promise or term invalid or unenforceable, the Court could modify or adjust that promise or term. The Agreement's other promises and terms, however, would remain fully enforceable if that were to occur.

20. Acceptance. The Parties certify that they have read this Agreement, that they have been advised by an attorney, that they understand the meaning and legal effects of this Agreement, that they are executing this Agreement of their own volition, that they are legally competent to enter into this Agreement, and that they acknowledge that the consideration stated in this Agreement is adequate and satisfactory. Neither the Board of Elections, nor CASA, will hereafter deny the Agreement's validity on the grounds that it did not have the advice of counsel.

21. Interpretation. That a party drafted the Agreement—or a specific term—will not be grounds for the Court to construe the Agreement or any term against the drafting party. The Agreement's paragraph headings are for reference purposes only and may not be used to interpret the Agreement's terms.

22. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, each of which will be an original and all of which will constitute one and the same document.

23. Authorization of Signatories. The undersigned are fully competent and legally authorized to execute this Agreement and have signed their names to this Agreement of their own free will.

Our office cannot investigate. Our office is an administrative body with very limited investigatory ability. I am not sure who is the appropriate body to look into this. Maybe the District Attorney's Office, but I am not sure.

Here is an addendum:

As near as I can tell the sequence of events was that the Council President Joe Giandalia approached the newly elected council members asking them if they could work with Eric J White. Then Phil Landis conveniently stepped down, citing conflict of interest with him serving on the Municipal Authority. I say convenient because Phil had served on the Municipal Authority for years, the last two of which he was also council member. He didn't have a conflict then, but when Eric White needs a council seat all of a sudden one is open. I think they shortcut the process to have a replacement for Phil, but there were three people that submitted letters. Two of those people were totally ignored by Giandalia and the council members that voted for Eric White's reinstatement immediately after an election loss.
There are still members of the council serving on both municipal authority and the town council. I do not know if there is anything illegal or improper about that - other than why the person that had to give up his seat for Eric White to bypass the election process chose now to do it.

This all looks like some sort of corruption at an attempt to circumvent or ignore the legitimate election process.

Greetings,

I am submitting this because I think there is something amiss in Wrightsville.

We just went through an election process and Eric J White lost the election. Now he is on the council.

To me it seems suspicious that someone who just lost the election ends up appointed to the council in direction violation to the voters of his ward.

Someone conveniently stepped down to allow the council to appoint him in a process that appears not to have followed procedure. Unfortunately, when I asked for the town charter I had to make the request multiple times and then was put off.

It seems rather convenient that someone decided to all of sudden step down. Then, without even interviewing the prospects that put forth the required letters, they voted to stick Eric on the council in direct opposition to the what the voters of his district polled. There is even an interview about this in the Lancaster news where he brags about "thats how you get things done"

To me it looks like corruption related to a legal election, where members of the council hatched a plan to bypass the will of the voters.

Please investigate.

Thank you,

In light of all of the irregularities brought forth in the past several elections, I would like to urge theYork County board of elections, in the strongest possible way, to eliminate all doubt in the outcomes of all elections in our county (all precincts) by doing the following. In my own precinct, a few changes have been made, such as paper ballots instead of voting machines. However this is only one small step in the right direction. There can be NO confidence in election outcomes without ALL of the following steps being taken.
1)Do away with ALL machines, Including voting machines as well as electronic poll books and tabulators. All of these machines have their own set of vulnerabilities built in. There should be NO computer devices or computer programs involved in our election process.
2)Paper ballots ONLY, should be used.
3)Hand count tabulation, By Humans ONLY.
4)Counts to be finished and reported by midnight of voting Day.
5)Canvassing of tabulations to be done at each precinct before ballots leave the polling place, AND Chain of custody Strictly adhered too.
6)Blue ballpoint pens ONLY to be used to fill out ballots to eliminate chances of the printing of pre-filled ballots.

7) Photo ID required by ALL. as well as voter registration card.
8)Signature verification matching ONLY to official Signature reference originally filed.
Until citizens (and ONLY citizens) can trust that the voting process is safe and secure, which it currently is not. We will not feel as if We the People are actually electing our officials. There is currently way too much doubt and mistrust of the system, and for good reason. There are way too many opportunities for foul play. Please make the necessary changes IMMEDIATELY! Our nation is at state. Sincerely, Robin Deardorff Internal Email: This email originated from York County's email system.

Chairmen O'Neill and Baker,

The York County Elections Department is continually working to improve and streamline processes to help drive efficiencies and improve the voter experience.

As part of our continual process improvements, we have created a Watcher Policy. We believe that this policy will help provide clarity on the role of watchers as per the statute.

In addition, we know that the local political parties have, in the past, requested Watcher Certificates. The policy provides guidance on requesting such certificates.

Thought you might find this information valuable.

Yours in Service,

Julie

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF YORK COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA

American Civil Liberties Union Foundation of Pennsylvania and Elizabeth Kurian Plaintiff, v. York County Board of Elections Defendant.	CIVIL DIVISION Case No. _____

ACTION FOR DECLARATORY JUDGMENT AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

Plaintiffs, the American Civil Liberties Union Foundation of Pennsylvania ("ACLU-PA") and Elizabeth Kurian, by and through undersigned counsel, bring this Action for Declaratory and Injunctive Relief, against Defendant, the York County Board of Elections, and in support thereof avers as follows:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

INTRODUCTION

1. Transparency around election administration is vital to ensure public trust in elections and strengthen our democracy. To promote confidence in the electoral system, the Election Code is replete with instances of opportunities for the public to observe the work of election administration, including the process leading to the announcement of final election results.

2. This action concerns the decision of the York County Board of Elections (the "Board") to restrict access to the "Official Canvass and Computation of Votes" in violation of Section 1404(a) of the Pennsylvania Election Code of 1937, as amended, 25 P.S. § 3154(a), which requires that the Board, in connection with each election, "publicly commence the computation and canvassing" of the votes cast in the county (emphasis added).

3. This process must take place at the Board's "office or at some other convenient public place at the county seat" and shall "continue [in] the same" public manner "from day to day until completed." Id. (emphasis added). The Board's computation and certification of election returns is therefore a "public" process. See also Section 1404(c), 25 P.S. § 3154(c) (requiring the Board to "publicly account" for and "publicly announce" the election results).

4. In the days following the November 2023 municipal election, however, the Board denied access to a volunteer from a non-partisan organization who sought to attend and observe the official canvass.

5. Further, the Board has expressed an intent to continue denying non-partisan observers and members of the public from accessing the official canvass in future elections.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

6. Accordingly, Plaintiffs bring this action against the Board to obtain a declaration affirming Plaintiffs'—and more generally the public's—statutory right to observe the canvassing process, and to enjoin Defendants from committing clear violations of the Election Code.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. This Court has jurisdiction over this Complaint pursuant to 42 Pa. C.S. § 931(a), which provides that, with limited exceptions, "the courts of common pleas shall have unlimited original jurisdiction of all actions and proceedings." 42 Pa. C.S. § 931(a).

8. Venue exists in this Court pursuant to Pennsylvania Rule of Civil Procedure 2103 because this action arose in York County and this is a suit against one or more political subdivisions located within York County. Pa.R.C.P. 2103.

PARTIES

9. Plaintiff ACLU-PA is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, membership organization that works to protect and expand the right to vote in Pennsylvania, which includes promoting transparency in election procedures.

10. Plaintiff Elizabeth Kurian is a 23-year-old registered voter and resident of York County, Pennsylvania, who volunteers with ACLU-PA. See March 4, 2024 Declaration of Elizabeth Kurian ("EK Decl.")[1] at ¶¶ 2, 3, 4, 6.

11. Defendant York County Board of Elections, is a local government agency that oversees the conduct of all elections in York County, which includes a responsibility "to canvass and compute" the returns of all primaries and elections as provided by the Election Code. Section 302(k), 25 P.S. § 2642(k) (powers and duties of county boards).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

BACKGROUND

The Election Code

12. "The vote may be the central act in our democratic form of government. To advance the goal of free and fair elections, the legislature enacted the Election Code, and it is often said that in the interest of preventing fraud, the terms of the Election Code must be strictly enforced." Dayhoff v. Weaver, 808 A.2d 1002, 1006 (Pa. Commw. Ct. 2002).

13. Relevant here, Section 1404 of the Election Code prescribes a specific process for the official canvassing of election returns. See 25 P.S. § 3154. As defined under the Code, "[t]he word 'canvass' shall mean the gathering of ballots after the final pre-canvass meeting and the counting, computing and tallying of the votes reflected on the ballots." Section 102(a.1) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 2602(a.1). The word "'return' when used in the [Election] Code . . . refers to a sheet showing the total individual votes cast for all candidates at that polling place or district." In re Gen. Election for Twp. Supervisor of Morris Twp., Washington Cnty., 620 A.2d 565, 568 (Pa. Commw. Ct. 1993).

14. The Election Code provision governing the procedure, titled "Computation of returns by county board; certification; issuance of certificates of election," states the following:

> The county board shall, at nine o'clock A. M. on the third day following the primary or election, at its office or at some other convenient public place at the county seat, of which due notice shall have been given as provided by section 1403, publicly commence the computation and canvassing of the returns, and continue the same from day to day until completed, in the manner hereinafter provided. Section 1404(a) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154(a).

15. Once the canvassing process is completed, the board must announce the official results in accordance with the procedures set forth in 25 P.S. § 3154(c). First, the board "shall . . . publicly account for all extra official ballots" that were printed in advance of the election.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Section 1404(c) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154(c) (citing Section 1007 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 2967).

16. Second, "[t]he general returns . . . from the various election districts shall then be read . . . slowly and audibly, by one of the clerks" who has "charge of the records of the county board," identifying the total number of ballots "issued, spoiled and cancelled, and cast" within each voting district. Id. These returns "shall" be "publicly announce[d]." Id.

17. Third, in the event there are any "discrepancies," the Code provides that "no further returns shall be read" until such inconsistency is "explained to the satisfaction of the county board." Section 1404(c) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154(c).

18. Finally, "[a]fter the completion of the computation of votes," the board submits the unofficial returns to the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Section 1404(f) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154(f). After a five-day period to allow for petitions to recount or recanvass, the board "shall certify the returns" and issue certificates of election to the successful candidate. Id.

19. As the foregoing statutory language makes clear, the entire canvassing process must be open to members of the public. Pennsylvania case law confirms the public nature of these proceedings. See, e.g., Rinaldi v. Ferrett, 941 A.2d 73, 75 (Pa. Commw. Ct. 2007) ("Three days after the election . . . as called for in Section 1404 of the Code, . . . employees at the County Voter Registration Office publicly computed and canvassed the election returns."); Appeal of Antonelli, 174 A.2d 107, 110 (Pa. 1961) ("This is not an action between the candidates involved but a proceeding in which the public is involved, to canvass and compute the votes cast" in the election); see also Petition to Open Ballot Box of Oneida Dist. in E. Union Twp., 103 A.2d 652, 653 (Pa. 1954) ("As required by Section 1404(a) of the Election Code . . . the Board of Elections of Schuylkill County on November 6th publicly commenced its canvass and computation of the returns of the votes cast in the county").

20. Because the canvassing process is an inherently "public[]" undertaking, members of the public have a statutory right to "witness[] the computation" of the ballots and "observe[]" the Board's official announcement of the election results. Rinaldi, 941 A.2d at 75.

21. The Commonwealth Court has "stress[ed] the public nature of the Commonwealth's election procedures, including the computation and canvassing of ballots" pursuant to Section 1404(a) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154(a). In re: Petitions to Open Ballot Box Pursuant to 25 P.S. §3261(A), 295 A.3d 325, 339 (Pa. Commw. Ct. 2023) (emphasis added). Such public election procedures "provide the opportunity to obtain evidence of fraud or error" in the computation of votes cast "where it exists." Id.

The Board's Conduct

22. On Friday, November 10, 2023, Ms. Kurian—a volunteer with the ACLU-PA—went to the York County Board of Elections, located at 2401 Pleasant Valley Road in York, Pennsylvania. EK Decl. at ¶¶ 7, 8.

23. Ms. Kurian planned to attend the York County Board of Elections meeting scheduled for 9:00 a.m. that day, intending to observe the canvassing of election returns as permitted under Section 1404 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154. EK Decl. at ¶¶ 7, 8.

24. Upon arriving, Ms. Kurian spoke with Bryan Sheaffer, the Deputy Director at the York County elections office, and explained that she was looking for the canvass meeting. EK Decl. at ¶ 9.

25. Mr. Sheaffer explained that Ms. Kurian would need a "watcher's certificate" to attend the official canvass. EK Decl. at ¶ 9. Watchers are permitted to observe the official canvass on behalf of partisan entities. Section 417(b) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 2687(b) (a watcher's certificate includes "the name of the candidate, party or political body [the watcher] represents").

26. When Ms. Kurian explained that she was a volunteer with a nonpartisan organization and was only attempting to observe the proceedings, Mr. Sheaffer again explained that she would not be permitted to enter the room without a watcher's certificate. EK Decl. at ¶¶ 9, 10.

27. Ms. Kurian was not permitted to attend the official canvass following the November 2023 municipal election on behalf of the ACLU-PA.

28. On January 11, 2024, the ACLU-PA sent a letter to the York County solicitor about Ms. Kurian's experience. The ACLU-PA also requested confirmation that York County would be modifying its policy for the 2024 primary and general elections to guarantee that members of the public are permitted to attend and observe the official canvass, as required by Section 1404(a) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154(a).[2]

29. On February 9, 2024, Solicitor Jonelle Eshbach responded that the Election Code does not permit "[t]he general public . . . [to] simply appear and expect to observe the proceedings."[3] The Solicitor reiterated that "[a] Watcher's certificate is required to observe the canvassing of the returns."

30. The Election Code does allow political parties to appoint "watchers" to participate at "any computation and canvassing of returns." Section 310(a) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 2650(a). But "watchers" must observe election proceedings on behalf of partisan entities. Section

417(b) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 2687(b) ("Each watcher shall be provided with a certificate from the county board of elections, stating . . . the name of the candidate, party or political body he represents").

31. The special recognition the Election Code provides to political parties and candidates does not negate the clear statutory requirement that the canvassing process be "publicly" accessible. The Board is required to allow partisan attorneys and watchers, but not to the exclusion of the general public. Rather, the Election Code provides a floor not a ceiling for observation at the official canvass: attorneys and watchers are granted privileges to participate in election procedures, but those do not foreclose the public's right to access and observe the proceedings.

32. Permitting the Board to continue conducting the official canvass of election results behind closed doors amounts to a violation of Section 1404 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154.

Count I
Declaratory Judgment – Violation of Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154(a)

33. The averments of the preceding paragraphs are incorporated herein by reference.

34. Plaintiffs seeks a declaration by this Court of their rights and Defendants' obligation under Section 1404 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154, to permit Plaintiffs to observe the canvassing process.

35. Specifically, Section 1404(a) states that the canvassing process "shall" be undertaken "publicly" at the Board's "office or at some other convenient public place . . ." 25 P.S. § 3154(a). Section 1404(c) similarly states that the Board "shall . . . publicly account for all extra official ballots" and that a designated clerk "shall publicly announce" the official election results within each voting district. 25 P.S. § 3154(c). An actual and justiciable controversy exists between Plaintiffs and Defendant concerning the matters alleged herein.

36. Declaratory relief by this Court will terminate some or all of the existing controversy between the parties.

37. Plaintiffs respectfully request the Court enter judgment declaring that Defendant's refusal to permit Plaintiffs and members of the public from accessing the official canvass amounts to a violation of Section 1404 of the Election Code. 25 P.S. § 3154(a).

Count II
Equitable Action Seeking Injunctive Relief

38. The averments of the preceding paragraphs are incorporated herein by reference.

39. The Plaintiffs seek injunctive relief enjoining the York County Board of Elections from denying Plaintiffs and members of the public access to the official canvass procedure at Section 1404(a) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154(a).

40. The Plaintiffs' right to relief is clear because the Election Code plainly requires the official canvass to be "publicly" undertaken at a "convenient public place." 25 P.S. § 3154(a).

41. Absent injunctive relief, Plaintiffs and members of the public at large will be irreparably harmed because they will be prevented from exercising their statutory right to observe the canvassing of Election returns.

42. The Board's continuing violation of the Election Code cannot be compensated by damages.

43. Greater injury will result to Plaintiffs and other affected individuals if the requested injunction is denied, than will be suffered by the Defendant if the requested injunctive relief is granted.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

The only effective remedy to prevent Defendant from violating the Election Code in the future is to order Defendant to publicly canvass the ballots cast in the upcoming 2024 Primary and General Election, and to permit Plaintiffs and other members of the public to observe that process.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs request that this Honorable Court enter judgment in their favor and against Defendant and:

a) Declare that Defendant violated Section 1404 of the Pennsylvania Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154, by prohibiting Plaintiffs from attending and observing the Board's canvassing of ballots cast during the 2023 municipal election.

b) Declare that Plaintiffs and members of the public are authorized to observe the Board's canvassing of ballots cast in all future primary and general elections under Section 1404(a) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154(a).

c) Issue an injunction enjoining Defendants from excluding Plaintiffs and members of the public from observing the canvassing of ballots in violation of Section 1404(a) of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 3154(a).

d) Award Plaintiffs nominal damages and such further relief that this Honorable Court deems just and appropriate.

Respectfully submitted,

DECLARATION OF ELIZABETH S. KURIAN

Pursuant to 18 Pa.C.S. § 4904, I, Elizabeth Sherry Kurian hereby declare as follows:

1. I have personal knowledge of the matters in this declaration and this is what I would testify to if called as a witness in Court.

2. I am 23 years old and am otherwise competent to testify.

3. I am a resident of York County. As a child, I lived with my family in Red Lion, Pennsylvania. When I started high school, my family moved to Dallastown, Pennsylvania, where we currently reside.

4. I have been a registered voter in York County since I became eligible to vote at the age of 18.

5. I am currently a full-time student studying psychology at Millersville University. Last semester, I studied at Harrisburg Area Community College.

6. I have been a volunteer with the York Chapter of the ACLU of Pennsylvania for about two years.

7. In my capacity as a volunteer with ACLU-PA, I attempted to attend the York County Board of Elections meeting scheduled for November 10, 2023, to observe the Official Canvass by the Board of Elections.

8. On November 10, 2023, I went to the elections office located at 2401 Pleasant Valley Road in York, Pennsylvania. I arrived at 9am, but the door to the building was locked, perhaps in observance of the Veterans Day holiday. A security officer opened the door for me, and I explained that I was there to attend the York County Board of Elections meeting. I went through security and was directed to the meeting room.

9. In the hallway, I was approached by Bryan Sheaffer, who I later learned is the Deputy Director at the York County elections office. I told Mr. Sheaffer that I was looking for the Canvass meeting, and he explained that I would need a watcher's certificate to attend. He stated that this "wasn't really a meeting," but more a "final vote count" from the election.

10. I explained that I was volunteering with a non-partisan organization and that I was only there to observe the Canvass. Mr. Sheaffer insisted that without a watcher's certificate, I could not go into the room.

11. It is my understanding that watcher's certificates are only available to partisan representatives. As a non-partisan volunteer, I would not have been able to obtain a watcher's certificate. I was therefore unable to enter the room where the York County Board of Elections conducted the Official Canvass.

12. I would like to attend the official canvass in the future as a volunteer with ACLU-PA, either for the 2024 primary or general election.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed this 4 of March, 2024 in Dallastown, Pennsylvania.

RE: Official Canvass and Computation of Votes

Dear Ms. Sullivan:

During the 2023 election cycle, the ACLU-PA learned that the York County Board of Elections refused to allow a volunteer from a nonpartisan organization to attend and observe the official canvass and computation of votes that took place following November's municipal election. This limitation on public access is concerning. The Pennsylvania Election Code requires that the canvass and computation of election results remain open to the public, including to individuals who are not affiliated with a candidate or political party. We request that York County remedy this situation and adopt a policy that complies with the Election Code in time for the 2024 primary and general elections.

On November 10, 2023, a longtime York County resident attempted to attend the official canvass that was scheduled to begin at 9 am. Upon arriving, Bryan Sheaffer, the Deputy Director of the York County elections office told her that she needed a "watcher's certificate" to attend the meeting. The volunteer explained that she was planning to attend the canvass on behalf of a nonpartisan organization and that she was not affiliated with any candidate or political party. The volunteer also explained that she was only there to observe and take notes on the proceedings. Mr. Sheaffer would not allow her into the room where the official canvass was taking place.

The York County Board of Elections' denial of a citizen's access to the official canvass violates 25 P.S. § 3154 of Pennsylvania's Election Code. That provision, which governs "Computation of returns by county board; certification; issuance of certificates of election," plainly requires that the official canvass take place in public view. Subsection (a) states as follows:

> The county board shall, at nine o'clock A. M. on the third day following the primary or election, at its office or at some other > convenient public place at the county seat, of which due notice shall have been given as provided by section 1403, publicly commence the computation and canvassing of the returns, and continue the same from day to day until completed, in the manner hereinafter provided.

25 P.S. § 3154(a) (emphasis added). Moreover, subsection (c) requires election boards to "publicly account for" and "publicly announce" the election results. 25 P.S. § 3154(c). Consequently, the foregoing statutory language is clear that the entire canvassing process must be open to members of the public.

Pennsylvania case law confirms the public nature of these proceedings. See, e.g., Rinaldi v. Ferrett, 941 A.2d 73, 75 (Pa. Commw. Ct. 2007) (noting that employees of the election office, "as called for in Section 1404 . . . publicly computed and canvassed the election returns"); Appeal of Antonelli, 174 A.2d 107, 110 (Pa. 1961) ("This is not an action between the candidates involved but a proceeding in which the public is involved, to canvass and compute the votes cast" in the election); see also Petition to Open Ballot Box of Oneida Dist. in E. Union Twp., 103 A.2d 652, 653 (Pa. 1954) ("As required by Section 1404(a) of the Election Code . . . the Board of Elections of Schuylkill County on November 6th publicly commenced its canvass and computation of the returns of the votes cast in the county"). Because the canvassing process is an inherently "public[]" undertaking, members of the public have a statutory right to "witness[] the computation" of the ballots and "observe[]" the Board's official announcement of the election results. Rinaldi, 941 A.2d at 75.

Indeed, Pennsylvania courts have specifically cited the computation-and-canvassing procedure outlined in 25 P.S. § 3154(a) to highlight "the public nature of the Commonwealth's election procedures" because they "provide the opportunity to obtain evidence of fraud or error . . . when it exists." See In re: Petitions to Open Ballot Box Pursuant to 25 P.S. §3261(A), 295 A.3d 325, 339 (Pa. Commw. Ct. 2023).

Political parties and candidates must be allowed to participate directly in the official canvass for reasons distinct from the general public, which is why the Election Code guarantees them watcher's certificates and permits their attorneys to attend under certain circumstances. But the special recognition the Code gives to political parties and candidates does not negate the clear statutory requirement that the proceedings be "public," meaning that members of the public, including those representing non-profit organizations, have a right to attend. Other Pennsylvania counties recognize this statutory obligation; York County should, too.

Dear Attorneys Schneider, Loney and Steiker-Ginzberg:

Thank you for the extension of time necessary for me to become familiar with York County's voting procedures, so I may address the concerns set forth in your letter of January 11, 2024. After thoroughly reviewing the Election Code and our processes, it is my opinion that we are complaint with the law. A Watcher's certificate is required to observe the canvassing of the returns. Canvassing takes place in a county building where Watchers may observe the computation and canvasing of the returns. This is the public process. The number of Watchers that may be present is limited by the Election Code. The general public may not simply appear and expect to observe the proceedings. The space limitations and security risks of the latter scenario are just two potential problems that could result from such an interpretation. The Canvas is meticulously conducted and cannot be permitted to become a free-for-all. The results could be catastrophic.

York County places the highest priority on compliance with required voting procedures and ensuring a fair and accurate election. We continue to prepare and plan for the upcoming April primary, to achieve the correct tabulation of votes and to see that all voters in York County can have their voices heard.

Sincerely,

Jonelle Harter Eshbach

Commissioner Wheeler and Commissioner Burford,

Thank you again for your time this morning to discuss election integrity with us. I'm sharing an attachment that lays out our specific policy points as discussed this morning.

As Commissioners, I'm sure that you have that 10% of the far left and 10% from the far right who are going to push conspiracy after conspiracy each election. We truly believe that democracyFirst represents that 80% of the middle that simply wants to trust and believe that elections are free, fair and that their vote matters.

We'd be thrilled to have you affirm these values and provide any support that we can on the issue of election integrity into the coming months.

If you'd like to publicly affirm, you can do so here at: Sign on to Support the democracyFIRST Promise! (ngpvan.com)

WATCHER POLICY

The York County Board of Elections, consistent with Title 25 P.S. § 2687. Appointment of watchers, establishes the following policies for watchers:

Definitions:

Election Official = Judge of Elections, Majority Inspector, Minority Inspector, or Poll Worker who assist with the conduct of an election and has taken the prescribed Oath pursuant to 25 P.S. §§ 2676-2680.

Enclosed Space = An area of 6 feet surrounding the voting machines, typically within a guard rail or barrier, inside the polling place and accessible by qualified electors and Election officials.

Watcher = Individual permitted to observe election day and post-election day activities as defined in this policy.

Poll Worker = Individual that is approved by the York County Election and Voter Registration and/or York County Board of Elections to assist with election day activities within a specific polling location.

Certification of Watchers:

York County Board of Elections shall sign, and York County Office of Elections and Voter Registration ("EVR") exclusively shall issue Watcher Certificates to parties, political bodies, and candidates for appropriate distribution. Watcher Certificates can be requested by emailing EVR@YorkCountyPA.gov See Exhibit 1 for a SAMPLE Watcher Certificate.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A watcher shall show their certificate to any Election Official at all times upon request. A watcher whose certificate is lost or destroyed on Election Day may appear before the York County Court of Common Pleas and receive a replacement certificate from the Court after swearing or affirming that the certificate was lost or destroyed.

Each watcher must be a qualified registered elector of the County of York for the election district for which the watcher is appointed and may also serve as a watcher in any other election district in York County when not serving in the watcher's appointed election district.

The Role and Limitations of Watchers during Election Hours:

Watcher certificate rules include:

Each candidate is entitled to have two (2) watchers for each precinct in which they are running for office. Only one (1) watcher for each candidate may be present inside the polling place at any one time.

Each political party or political body is entitled to have three (3) watchers for each precinct during any general, municipal, or special election. Only one (1) watcher for each party or political body may be present inside the polling place at any one time.

Additional Rules:

Watchers must maintain a minimum distance of six (6) feet from the voting machine, which constitutes the enclosed space, and a minimum distance of six (6) feet from the election official's table.

To be allowed inside the polling place, watchers must be prepared to show their certificates to an election official, along with a form of identification.

Additionally, watchers may inspect the Numbered List of Voters Books upon request, provided there are no voters present and the procedure is supervised by an election official. Watchers may keep a list of voters, make good-faith only challenges to an elector and request proof of the elector's qualifications.

Watchers are permitted to observe the setup and tear down at each polling place. They do not need to be registered voters of the precinct they are observing but must be registered electors of the County of York.

The Role and Limitations of Watchers in Post-election Activities:

Polling Locations:

After the close of the polls, all watchers for candidates in the primary election and for parties and political bodies in the general election, are permitted inside the polls to observe the closing down of the polls. However, watchers must remain outside the enclosed space.

3/5/24 VI

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Post-Election Day Activities:

Watchers are permitted to observe certain activities (for example pre-canvassing, canvassing, tabulation, and computation) at the EVR after Election Day, under the supervision of the Board of Elections, the Director and Deputy Director of EVR, the Chief Clerk and/or the County Solicitor.

The Board of Elections will provide adequate accommodations for watchers as authorized by 25 P.S. § 3153 to be present. Accordingly, the Director or Deputy Director of Elections, Board of Elections, Chief Clerk and/or Solicitor have the discretion to limit the number of watchers allowed to participate based solely on availability of space for such watchers to observe. Remote viewing options will be made available for those watchers unable to be present in the room.

Activities of Watchers:

The role of watchers is strictly observational; they are present solely to observe and are prohibited from disturbing voters, election officers, or disrupting the voting process.

Watchers are not permitted to assist election officers with any duties or handle any forms, paperwork, supplies, or equipment. Watchers may not mark or alter any election records.

Making or receiving phone calls is prohibited within the polling location, requiring watchers to exit the precinct to use their phones. Telephone charging cords are prohibited in the enclosed space, except for the Judge of Elections. Texting that is non-disruptive is permitted.

While electronic equipment (with the exception of using a mobile phone to make phone calls) may be used by watchers to manage their lists, access to power outlets and/or Wi-Fi is not guaranteed. All sound from personal electronics must be muted at all times.

The use of any recording device inside the precinct is strictly prohibited, and violators will be immediately removed and may face legal consequences, including criminal sanctions and permanent denial of future watcher certificates.

Anyone deemed by any member the York County Board of Elections, the Chief Clerk, the Solicitor, the Director or Deputy Director of EVR to be attempting to cause or causing disruption, interference, or obstruction to the orderly completion of this process may be removed from the Polling Place.

Is your office going to help defend York in this lawsuit? The ACLU argument (1) violates 25 P.S. § 3146.8 and (2) means that every group of crazies can just say "Oh, I am here as a nonpartisan observer" and they can flood our offices with people and try to cause chaos.

https://www.yorkdispatch.com/story/news/local/2024/03/06/york-county-faces-lawsuit-alleging-it-denied-entry-to-nonpartisan-elections-observer/72865818007/

Here are the two sentences on observers. They are identical except one say "canvassed and one says "precanvassed". There is NO provision for nonpartisan observers.
* One authorized representative of each candidate in an election and one

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

March 28, 2024
Ms. Jonelle Eshbach, Solicitor
York County, Pennsylvania
Re: Your letter of February 29th.
Dear Solicitor Eshbach,
I admit to some confusion over your letter and its allegation as to my making claims of "fraud alleged to have occurred in past county elections processes". I am a frequent speaker and feel like, according to recent surveys among what is now reported as a majority of Americans, that recent elections, in a broad and general sense, are peppered with plenty of evidence of fraud. This is because, common sense people, like Justice Felix Frankfurter, know it when they see it.
I realize you are new to the scene as Solicitor. However, contrary to your allegation that I have made specific allegations of "fraud" in previous county elections, I can remember making no specific allegations of such a nature. It is true in my many experiences in witnessing voting processes, I have seen troubling aspects indicating what I view as imperfect, even flawed processes in county and certifying the vote. There are also documented instances, even in Pennsylvania, where county BOE's complained of being coerced into certifying the 2020 election despite the reconciliation documents not reconciling.
Again, I have made no specific allegations of "fraud" against any individual or department of the county to my recollection. Accordingly, I must confess an inability to respond to your letter in that regard specifically. Perhaps if you could supply, in writing, and in sufficient detail, the specific instances you have been told about, it might assist me in assisting you in this regard.
Additionally, I do assure you, that if I were to witness personally or uncover documentation that I believe may constitute credible evidence of potential criminal fraud, I will take steps to refer that for investigation to the proper authority, which I understand to be either the local District Attorney's office or the State Attorney General's office. If so motivated, I also assure you I will do so in a discrete manner to afford such a referral its due respect of discreteness to protect the integrity of any potential investigation that might arise therefrom.
There are a many like minded people in this county who have delved into this area in order to bring sunshine to the process as it was intended under our nations laws. We voluntarily devote countless hours to this pursuit to help make York County elections remain as a bright spot in the entirety of Pennsylvania on a relative basis. We are clear and resolved that the current system is fraught with problems that were nowhere near as egregious and controversial as when the nation voted on paper ballots and hand counted by citizens in the precincts.
Thank you for your expression of concern. If I can be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to call on me.

Sincerely,
[redacted]

WATCHER POLICY

The York County Board of Elections, consistent with Title 25 P.S. § 2687. Appointment of watchers, establishes the following policies for watchers:

Definitions:

Election Official = Judge of Elections, Majority Inspector, Minority Inspector, or Poll Worker who assist with the conduct of an election and has taken the prescribed Oath pursuant to 25 P.S. §§ 2676-2680.

Enclosed Space = An area of 6 feet surrounding the voting machines, typically within a guard rail or barrier, inside the polling place and accessible by qualified electors and Election Officials.

Watcher = Individual permitted to observe election day and post-election day activities as defined in this policy.

Poll Worker = Individual that is approved by the York County Election and Voter Registration and/or York County Board of Elections to assist with election day activities within a specific polling location.

Certification of Watchers:

York County Board of Elections shall sign, and York County Office of Elections and Voter Registration ("EVR") exclusively shall issue Watcher Certificates to parties, political bodies, and candidates for appropriate distribution. Watcher Certificates can be requested by emailing EVR@YorkCountyPA.gov See Exhibit 1 for a SAMPLE Watcher Certificate.

VISION: INSPIRING OPPORTUNITY FOR A UNIFIED COMMUNITY
MISSION: BUILDING A BETTER YORK COUNTY PURPOSE: STRENGTHENING QUALITY OF LIFE CORE VALUES: INCLUSIVE, TRANSPARENT, DEDICATED

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
PA-YORK-24-0460-A-000544

A watcher shall show their certificate to any Election Official at all times upon request. A watcher whose certificate is lost or destroyed on Election Day may appear before the York County Court of Common Pleas and receive a replacement certificate from the Court after swearing or affirming that the certificate was lost or destroyed.

Each watcher must be a qualified registered elector of the County of York for the election district for which the watcher is appointed and may also serve as a watcher in any other election district in York County when not serving in the watcher's appointed election district.

The Role and Limitations of Watchers during Election Hours:

Watcher certificate rules include:

Each candidate is entitled to have two (2) watchers for each precinct in which they are running for office. Only one (1) watcher for each candidate may be present inside the polling place at any one time.

Each political party or political body is entitled to have three (3) watchers for each precinct during any general, municipal, or special election. Only one (1) watcher for each party or political body may be present inside the polling place at any one time.

Additional Rules:

Watchers must maintain a minimum distance of six (6) feet from the voting machine, which constitutes the enclosed space, and a minimum distance of six (6) feet from the election official's table.

To be allowed inside the polling place, watchers must be prepared to show their certificates to an election official, along with a form of identification.

Additionally, watchers may inspect the Numbered List of Voters Books upon request, provided there are no voters present and the procedure is supervised by an election official. Watchers may keep a list of voters, make good-faith only challenges to an elector and request proof of the elector's qualifications.

Watchers are permitted to observe the setup and tear down at each polling place. They do not need to be registered voters of the precinct they are observing but must be registered electors of the County of York.

The Role and Limitations of Watchers in Post-election Activities:

Polling Locations:

After the close of the polls, all watchers for candidates in the primary election and for parties and political bodies in the general election, are permitted inside the polls to observe the closing down of the polls. However, watchers must remain outside the enclosed space.

3/5/24 VI

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
PA-YORK-24-0460-A-000545

Post-Election Day Activities:

Watchers are permitted to observe certain activities (for example pre-canvassing, canvassing, tabulation, and computation) at the EVR after Election Day, under the supervision of the Board of Elections, the Director and Deputy Director of EVR, the Chief Clerk and/or the County Solicitor.

The Board of Elections will provide adequate accommodations for watchers as authorized by 25 P.S. § 3153 to be present. Accordingly, the Director or Deputy Director of Elections, Board of Elections, Chief Clerk and/or Solicitor have the discretion to limit the number of watchers allowed to participate based solely on availability of space for such watchers to observe. Remote viewing options will be made available for those watchers unable to be present in the room.

Activities of Watchers:

The role of watchers is strictly observational; they are present solely to observe and are prohibited from disturbing voters, election officers, or disrupting the voting process.

Watchers are not permitted to assist election officers with any duties or handle any forms, paperwork, supplies, or equipment. Watchers may not mark or alter any election records.

Making or receiving phone calls is prohibited within the polling location, requiring watchers to exit the precinct to use their phones. Telephone charging cords are prohibited in the enclosed space, except for the Judge of Elections. Texting that is non-disruptive is permitted.

While electronic equipment (with the exception of using a mobile phone to make phone calls) may be used by watchers to manage their lists, access to power outlets and/or Wi-Fi is not guaranteed. All sound from personal electronics must be muted at all times.

The use of any recording device inside the precinct is strictly prohibited, and violators will be immediately removed and may face legal consequences, including criminal sanctions and permanent denial of future watcher certificates.

Anyone deemed by any member the York County Board of Elections, the Chief Clerk, the Solicitor, the Director or Deputy Director of EVR to be attempting to cause or causing disruption, interference, or obstruction to the orderly completion of this process may be removed from the Polling Place.

THE COUNTY OF YORK
Board of Elections/Voter Registration

On October 26, 2022, the York County Board of Elections voted unanimously to conduct a supplemental hand recount of three York County voting precincts. The following is a detailed procedure explaining how this recount process will occur:

1. The hand recount will occur promptly on November 10, 2022, at 10:00 am in the Commissioners' meeting room.
2. The November 2022 races for Pennsylvania Governor and U.S. Senate will be recounted.
3. Representatives of political parties, political candidates on the ballot in the November 2022 election, and the media will be permitted to observe the hand recount. No official poll watcher certificates will be required. The Director of Elections will have the discretion to limit the number of watchers allowed to participate based solely on availability of space for such watchers to observe. However, a near-equivalent number of watchers representing each political party must be permitted. An official record of all participants will be created, and all permitted watchers will be required to sign in prior to the recount occurring. Watchers shall be permitted to observe all activities relating to this process. Watchers will not be permitted to ask questions of the staff conducting the recount. The County will have a representative available to answer questions. A Sheriff's Deputy will remove any person who attempts to or causes disruption, interference, or obstruction to the orderly completion of this process. The disruption, interference, or obstructive behavior will be solely determined by the Election Office Director or Deputy Directors.
4. The Board of Elections will conduct a random selection of three voting precincts for the hand recount at the beginning of the process. A randomized process will be used to select a city, borough, and township voting precinct.
5. The sealed "blue bags" for each selected precinct will be retrieved by staff and a Sheriff's deputy.
6. The hand recount will commence by opening the sealed "blue bag" for the selected city precinct and removing all ballots.
7. Staff will hand sort them according to which candidate was voted for in the 2022 Pennsylvania Governor's race.
8. Once sorted, staff will hand count the ballots for each candidate and announce the results to the watchers.

9. Following the hand count, staff will use a machine counter to verify the hand recount results (the machine will only count the number of ballots and will not scan the ballots). The results of the machine counter will be announced to the watchers.
10. In the event there is a discrepancy between the results of the hand recount and machine counter, alternative staff members will repeat steps 6 through 8.
11. Staff will then repeat steps 6 through 8 for the city precinct, sorting and counting ballots for the U.S. Senate race.
12. This process will then be repeated twice, once for the borough precinct and once for the township precinct.
13. At the conclusion, the ballots will be placed in the appropriate blue bags, resealed, and then transported by staff and a Sheriff's deputy back to a secure location.
14. A summary of both hand counts and machine counts will be prepared and presented to the Board of Elections at the next regularly scheduled public meeting.

The results of the hand counts will be attached as an addendum to the final certification that is sent to the Department of State.

Dear county election official,
I appreciate that you are in the midst of conducting time-sensitive official canvass activities, but I wanted to alert you to two important developments relating to the outstanding appeals from recount petitions filed under the provisions of the Election Code after last year's November election. These two recent developments may contain important information for your boards of elections if recount petitions are filed in the wake of last Tuesday's municipal primaries.
The sum of these two developments is clarity regarding the requirements that petitioners must meet in order to effectuate a proper recount. Petitioners cannot utilize the provisions of section 1701 of the Election Code to demand a recount unless they have specific evidence of fraud or file in every election district for the relevant office.
1. On May 12, the Pennsylvania Supreme Court affirmed the order and the opinion of the Commonwealth Court in the matter of In Re: Recount of Berks County General Election of November 8, 2022. In affirming the order and the opinion, the Supreme Court communicated its agreement with the Commonwealth Court's order and its reasoning.
2. On May 17 and May 18, the Commonwealth Court reported its opinions in Berks County Recount and its separate opinion in the matter of In re: Petitions to Open Ballot Box Pursuant to 25 P.S. Â§3261(A). Reporting these decisions gives precedential effect to the Court's conclusion that, under sections 1701 and 1703 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. Â§Â§ 3261 and 3263, petitioners must either file petitions in every election district in which ballots were cast for the offices in question or they must offer evidence in their individual petitions that a specific act of fraud or error occurred.
I have attached copies of the Supreme Court's per curiam order dated May 12, 2023 and the relevant Commonwealth Court opinions in the Berks and Bucks County Recount cases. Please share this email and the attached copies with your solicitor and your election board members.
Thank you for all your hard work before, during, and after Tuesday's primaries. Thanks to your hard work, Pennsylvanians experienced another free, fair and secure election.

Thank you for your prompt reply, Julie.

So, after looking at the guidelines you provided below, I don't see anything mentioning that the signature on the provisional ballot envelope must be within half an inch of the designated location, so if the signature was further away than a half inch, the ballot still would not be rejected. Is that correct?

Follow the guidelines printed on the envelope and should not be a problem. For example, in…
1. Section 1 the voter information must be provided by the voter. (We can contact the voter if their provisional is challenged – this allows us to quickly contact them.)
2. Section 2 is the Voter's Affidavit for a Provisional Ballot confirming they do have the right to vote and that they are registered at this address. (This is important as it reflects and relates to the voter's rights.)
3. Section 3 only needs completed if the address is different than what was provided. (Sometimes an address change does not catch up and this allows us to confirm the same.)
4. Section for must be completed, it like signing the poll book.
5. An election official needs to provide the reason for the provisional vote and BOTH the JOE and the Minority Inspector MUST sign the bottom under the reason.

If this information is left incomplete the provisional ballot will most likely be rejected in accordance with State Law Title 25, Section 3050, Chapter 14, Article XIII. This is important if any race is challenged for a Recount – lawyers fight over these things. We do our best to avoid provisionals being challenged!

Dear Ms Haertsch,

Good morning. I am a volunteer pollworker. I came across this posted statement regarding York County elections officials purportedly having ‘uniquely’ required in the past what seems to me to be a stringent requirement regarding location of the signature on the outside envelope of a provisional ballot. Is this accurate and currently practiced? Do you have any comment on anything else in the statement, so I am better informed?

Thank you in advance.

ballot images moves to

WILLIAMSPORT – Commonwealth Court has been asked to overturn a Lycoming County judge's ruling that images of votes cast in person are not public record.
The appeal Tuesday by Jeffrey Stroehmann, a former county Republican chairperson, is his latest effort to overturn a decision by the state Office of Open Records (OOR).
It turned down his right-to-know request for images and Judge Eric R. Linhardt in May affirmed the decision.
Stroehmann points out the Legislature in passing Act 77 in 2019 amending the Election Code made public images of mail-in and absentee ballots.
The act does not explicitly establish whether images of a voted in-person ballot constitute the contents of the ballot box and thus excepted from public access, Linhardt pointed out.
Using what he referred to as statutory construction, he ruled since a voted in-person ballot is considered contents of the ballot box, so should an image of that ballot.
The judge previously ruled cast vote records (CVR) from the 2020 general election in Lycoming County are public record.
The state Department of State, as an intervenor for the county Office of Voter Services, has appealed that decision to Commonwealth Court thus staying its implementation.
In his ruling in the Stroehmann case, Linhardt cited these differences between CVRs and ballot images:
* A CVR contains almost all the information that is on a ballot but will not list the name of a write-in.
* An image will not only reveal who the elector has written in but displays the voter's handwriting. Someone familiar with the handwriting could identify the voter.
Linhardt speculated the reason the Legislature made images of mail-in and absentee ballots public was a concern they might be more subject to voter fraud.
Making them subject to public disclosure increases confidence in the accuracy and reliability of such votes, he wrote, adding: "Mail-in and absentee ballots present unique challenges, so it makes sense they warrant special provisions to deal with them."
In the CVR case, the Department of State contends Linhardt erred in finding they were not contents of ballot boxes and voting machines.
It claims the Election Code is clear that contents of ballot boxes and voting machines are not open to public inspection.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

“The CVR is the contents of the modern-day ballot box and, as such, it should be exempt from disclosure” pursuant to the Election Code, it argues.
The exemption from public access must include data recorded from the scanner, namely the CVR, the agency maintains.
In Lycoming County, completed paper ballots are fed into a scanner for tabulation.
The CVR suit was brought by Heather Honey, who heads Lebanon-based Haystack Investigation.
Since Honey is not a county resident, Linhardt ruled she could not view the CVRs but gave access to three Republican conservatives, state Rep. Joseph D. Hamm, county GOP chair Donald Peters and Stroehmann.

Polling Place Accessibility Checklist 16

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

POLLING PLACE ACCESSIBILITY IS REQUIRED BY THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal civil rights law that provides protections to people with disabilities to ensure that they are treated equally in all aspects of life. Title II of the ADA requires state and local governments ("public entities") to ensure that people with disabilities have a full and equal opportunity to vote. The ADA's provisions apply to all aspects of voting, including polling places (or vote centers). Voting at one's polling place allows voters the chance to interact with neighbors and candidates who talk with voters outside the polling place, and to ask questions of or receive assistance from trained poll workers inside the polling place. Simply put, voting in person at a local polling place is the quintessential American voting experience.

In communities large and small, people cast their ballots in a variety of facilities that temporarily serve as polling places, such as libraries, schools, and fire stations, or churches, stores, and other private buildings. Voters include people with a variety of disabilities, such as those who use wheelchairs, scooters, or other devices, those who have difficulty walking or using stairs, or those who are blind or have vision loss. They are people, young and old, who have come to their polling place to exercise their right to vote. Many public entities report that their polling places are accessible. However, the Government Accountability Office estimates that only 27% of polling places were accessible to people with disabilities in the 2008 elections.[1] This means that 73% of the polling places used in 2008 had architectural barriers that made it difficult or even impossible for people with disabilities to enter their polling place and vote side by side with their neighbors.

People with disabilities must have the opportunity to be full participants in an integrated civic event. The ADA requires that public entities ensure that people with disabilities can access and use all of their voting facilities. Because a mix of public and private facilities are used as polling places, public entities may ensure Election Day accessibility of a polling place by using low-cost temporary measures, such as portable ramps or door stops, rather than necessarily making permanent modifications to a facility. If temporary measures will not fix a barrier, and public entities are unable to make a permanent modification to fix the barrier, then the public entity must look for an alternative, accessible polling place. In some circumstances, when a public entity is unable to identify or create an accessible polling place for a particular voting precinct or ward, election administrators may instead use an alternative method of voting at the polling place.[2] Public entities are encouraged to make permanent modifications to their facilities used as polling places, such as schools, community centers, and town halls. The use of temporary measures to provide access to polling places on Election Day does not change a public entity's obligations under the ADA to ensure that its programs and services are accessible to people with disabilities, nor does it mean that a temporary remedy would be appropriate in a public facility on an everyday basis.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ACCESSIBILITY

The ADA's regulations and the ADA Standards for Accessible Design set out what makes a facility accessible and should be used to determine the accessibility of any facility being considered for use as a polling place. This publication, the ADA Checklist for Polling Places (2016 Checklist), provides guidance to election officials for determining whether a polling place already has the basic accessibility features needed by most voters with disabilities or can be made accessible on Election Day using temporary solutions to remove barriers. The updated Checklist includes provisions from the 2010 ADA Standards for Accessible Design ("2010 Standards").[3] Any alterations made to a polling place must comply with the 2010 Standards.

Other Justice Department Publications

In addition to the 2016 Checklist, election officials should consult the Department's 7-page publication on the rights of voters with disabilities, The Americans with Disabilities Act and Other Federal Laws Protecting the Rights of Voters with Disabilities.

Another Justice Department publication, Solutions for Five Common ADA Access Problems at Polling Places, illustrates suggested temporary solutions for several common accessibility problems found at polling places.

This 2016 Checklist and other Justice Department publications, as well as the title II regulation and the 2010 Standards are available at www.ada.gov.

Part 1: Evaluating the Physical Accessibility of Polling Places

The 2016 Checklist, found in Part 3 of this document, is designed to assist officials in determining whether a facility being considered for use as a polling place is accessible to people with mobility or vision disabilities, and, if not, whether modifications can be made to ensure accessibility or relocation to another accessible facility will be necessary. The 2016 Checklist should be used to evaluate both new and existing polling places. Completing the 2016 Checklist will provide guidance on whether a facility is accessible for voters with disabilities, and how to identify and remedy any barriers that exist.

[3]The requirements that new construction and alterations comply with the 2010 Standards went into effect on March 15, 2012. Facilities that were built or altered before that date, and that complied with the 1991 Standards, need not be modified to comply with the 2010 Standards as to those provisions included in the 1991 Standards. See 28 C.F.R. §35.151(b)(2)(i). This is referred to as a safe harbor. The 1991 Standards and the 2010 Standards, as applied to polling places, are very similar, however, with the exception of the requirements for accessible parking. For example, the 1991 Standards required only one van-accessible space for every eight accessible spaces, see 28 C.F.R. pt. 36, Appendix D, §4.1.2(5)(b), while the 2010 Standards require one van-accessible space for every six accessible spaces, see 2010 Standards §208.2.4.

Getting Started

Individuals using the 2016 Checklist need not be experienced in evaluating facilities for accessibility. It is designed to be used to evaluate key areas that must be accessible. By following these directions, staff can identify accessible polling places and consider how to implement temporary and permanent accessibility remedies to those facilities found to be inaccessible. References are also provided to the 2010 Standards for more information about particular requirements. We encourage election officials to provide training to their staff on compliance with the ADA.

An evaluation of polling place accessibility focuses on those areas of a facility that may be used as a polling place on Election Day. Think about how people generally arrive at, enter, and move through the polling place. Do people drive and park? Are people dropped off at the entrance? Do they arrive on foot or do they take public transportation? This document addresses the following key areas or features that must be accessible: the parking area and passenger drop-off sites; routes (both exterior and interior); the entrance to the polling place; and the voting area itself.

Arriving at the Polling Place

Parking

If parking is provided for voters, accessible parking must be provided for people with disabilities. An accessible space is composed of three elements: the parking space, an access aisle adjacent to the space that is wide enough to allow voters with a mobility disability to get out of their car or van, and signage designating it as an accessible space. The 2010 Standards require one accessible parking space per 25 parking spaces provided (up to the first 100 spaces). One of six (or fraction of six) accessible parking spaces, but always at least one, must be van accessible. Generally, the access aisle must be at least 60 inches wide for cars and 96 inches wide for vans. Van accessible spaces can also have an access aisle at least 60 inches wide if the width of the van parking space is at least 132 inches. A sign, with the International Symbol of Accessibility, must mark each accessible parking space. Van accessible spaces must be designated as such on the sign at these spaces. Accessible parking spaces and the access aisles serving them must be on a surface that is stable, firm, and slip resistant (e.g., clear of gravel or mud) without wide cracks or broken pavement and located on the closest accessible route to the accessible entrance. The accessible parking spaces and access aisles must also be level to allow a safe transfer from the car to a person's wheelchair. (See Part 2 of this document for tips on measuring slopes and cross slopes.)

Parking requirements are in Section A of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving the Parking Area

Problem One: Parking is available, but no accessible parking is provided or there are not enough accessible parking or van accessible spaces.

Solution: Find a relatively level parking area near the accessible entrance and then designate the area for accessible parking spaces and adjacent access aisles. Use three parking spaces to make two accessible parking spaces with an access aisle. Traffic cones or other temporary elements may be used to mark these spaces and access aisles. Provide a temporary sign designating each accessible parking space and make sure the access aisle of each space is connected to the accessible route to the accessible entrance.

Problem Two: Accessible parking is provided, but it does not have a marked access aisle next to each designated accessible parking space.

Solution: Use traffic cones to mark and block off the access aisle and curb ramp area. The first accessible parking space provided should be a van accessible parking space with an access aisle that is at least 96 inches wide.

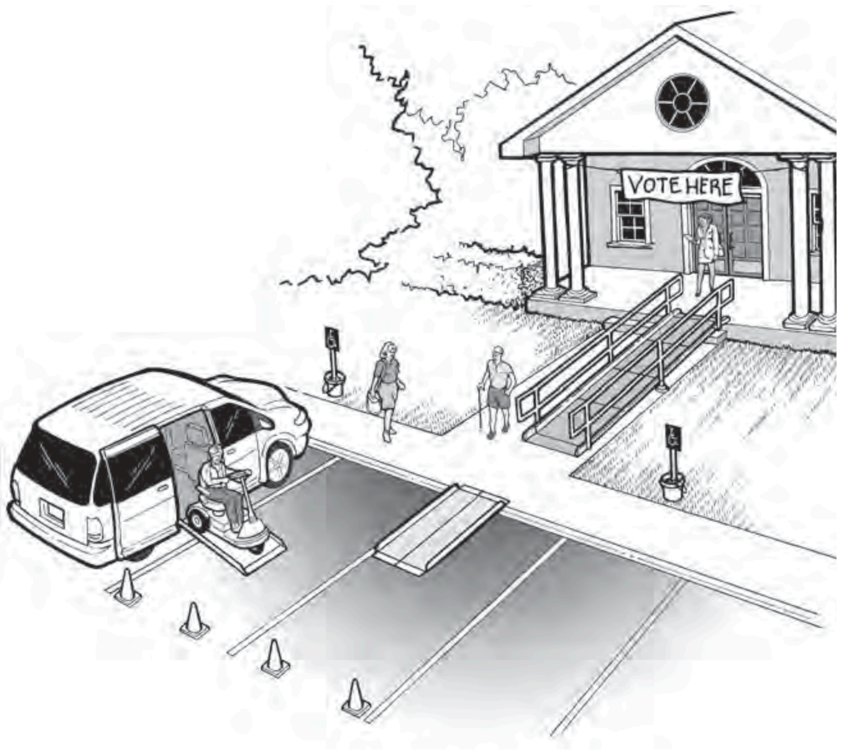
Problem Three: Accessible parking spaces or access aisles are on a sloped surface and do not provide a level area for a safe transition from the voter's car to a wheelchair.

Solution: Find a parking area that is close to the accessible entrance and is level. Provide accessible parking spaces and access aisles in that area by marking them off with traffic cones. Make sure the accessible parking spaces connect to an accessible route to the entrance. Provide a sign designating each accessible parking space. When the parking area generally is not level, you may need to look beyond the parking area, to driveways and streets, for example, to provide accessible parking in a level area temporarily on Election Day.

Problem Four: No sign with the International Symbol of Accessibility is installed at each accessible parking space.

Solution: Provide a temporary sign in front of each accessible parking space, including a "van accessible" sign for the van parking space.

Problem Five: A large number of accessible parking spaces are provided, including van accessible spaces, at a school near the main building entrance. The voting area and entrance to the voting area, however, are at the rear of the school and there are no designated accessible parking spaces in this area.



Three standard parking spaces are converted into a van accessible parking space with an access aisle. Cones mark and block off the access aisle and a temporary curb ramp with edge protection connects to an accessible route to the polling place.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Solution: Find a relatively level parking area near the accessible entrance to the voting area and then designate the area for accessible parking spaces and adjacent access aisles. Traffic cones or other temporary elements may be used to mark the spaces and access aisles. Provide a temporary sign for each accessible parking space and make sure the access aisle of each space is connected to the accessible route to the accessible entrance.

Passenger Drop-off Locations

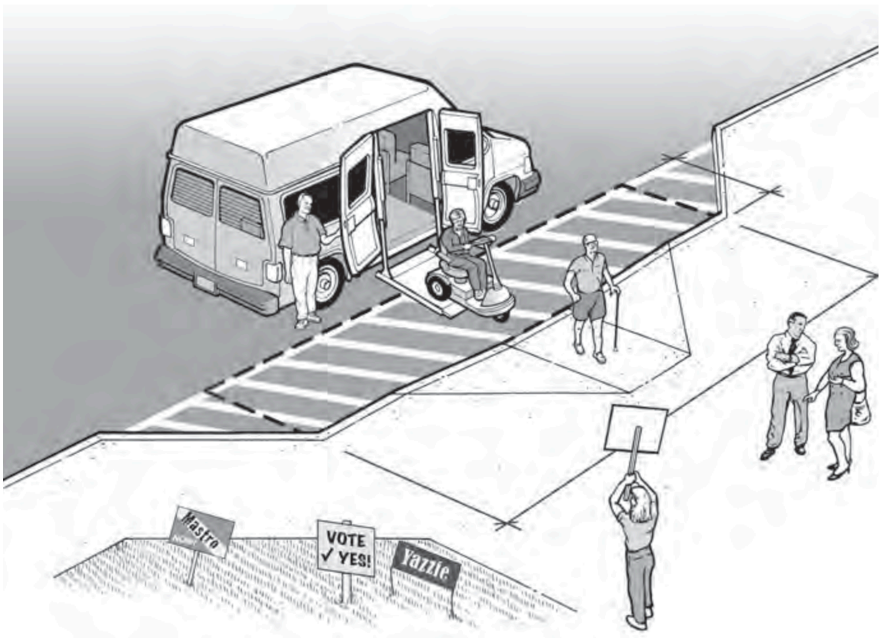
Some voters with disabilities will be driven to the polling place and dropped off in a passenger drop-off area near the entrance. If the polling place is served by passenger drop-off areas, then at least one drop-off area must be accessible. An accessible drop-off area, also known as an accessible passenger loading zone, must have a level access aisle next to the vehicle space. If a curb separates the access aisle from an accessible route, a curb ramp must be provided so that people with disabilities can get to the accessible route leading to the accessible entrance.

Passenger drop-off area requirements are in Section B of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

Accessible Routes (Exterior and Interior)

Once a voter with a disability arrives at the polling site, there must be an accessible route from the accessible parking, passenger drop-off sites, sidewalks and walkways, and public transportation stops to get to the entrance of the voting facility. The accessible route must be at least 36 inches wide. It may narrow briefly to 32 inches wide, but only for a distance of up to 24 inches. (See Part 2 of this document for tips on taking measurements.) Whenever possible, the accessible route must be the same as or near the general circulation path (i.e., the path for general pedestrian use).

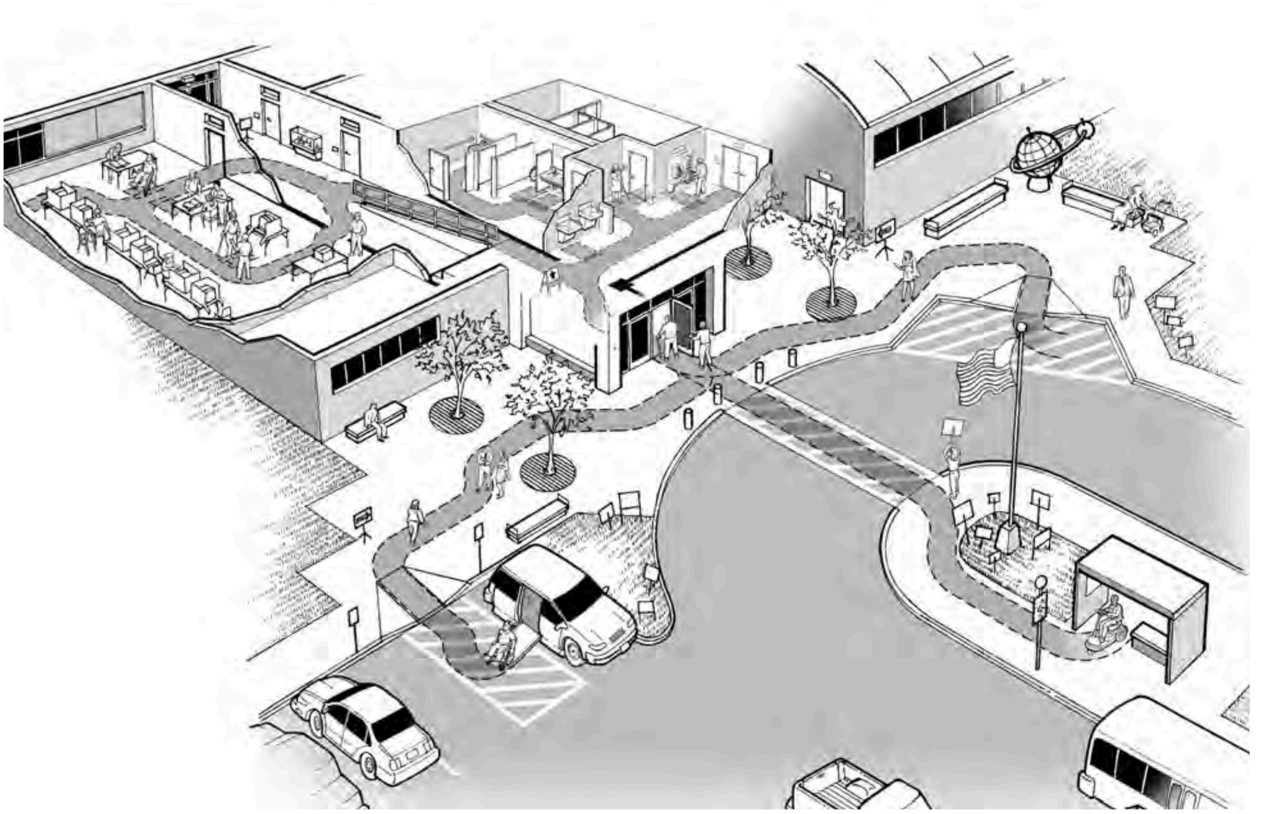
Inside the polling place, there must be an accessible route from the entrance through hallways, corridors, and interior rooms leading to the voting area. The route must be free of abrupt changes in level, steps, high thresholds, or steeply sloped walkways. The accessible route is essential for people who have difficulty walking or who use wheelchairs or other mobility devices to get into the polling place and to the voting area. Where an accessible route is different from the general circulation path, signs will be needed to direct voters with disabilities to the accessible route and to the voting area.



Accessible passenger drop-off and loading area

Route requirements are in Sections C and E of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT



Accessible routes to and within the polling place

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving the Accessible Route

Problem One: The sidewalk connecting parking to the polling place entrance is too steep to be accessible.

Solution: Check to see if there is another sidewalk that provides an accessible route to the accessible entrance. Sometimes there is a less direct route that can serve as the accessible route. If no accessible route can be found from the current designated accessible parking, relocate the accessible parking using traffic cones and signs to an area where there is an accessible route to the entrance.

Problem Two: The accessible route crosses a curb and no curb ramp is provided.

Solution: Install a portable ramp.

Problem Three: One or two steps are part of the route leading to the accessible entrance.

Solution: Install a portable ramp.

Problem Four: The interior hallway leading to the voting area contains a set of stairs that cannot be ramped.

Solution: If the accessible route cannot be relocated, look for another area where voting may be provided. For example, if the stage in a school auditorium used for voting is up several steps, perhaps the hallway or lobby area may be accessible and used for voting instead of the stage. Or, if a church basement located down a flight of stairs is used as the voting area, perhaps one of the ground floor rooms could be used as the voting area. If it is impossible to relocate the voting area for all voters, find a location for an accessible voting station that offers the same privacy as the other voting area.

Ramps

If any part of the accessible route - exterior or interior - has a slope greater than 1:20, it is considered a ramp and must meet the requirements for ramps. (See Part 2 of this document for tips on measuring running slopes and cross slopes.) If any part of the accessible route contains steps, it must be ramped. Even one short step at an entrance or in a hallway can prevent access by a person using a wheelchair, walker, or cane and can make entry difficult for many people who have other mobility disabilities. Interior and exterior ramps must not be too steep and must have a level landing at the bottom and top, and where the ramp changes direction. They must meet the ADA's requirements regarding slope, width, landings, handrails, and edge protection. Ramps with a rise greater than six inches must have handrails and if there are vertical drop offs on the sides, there must be edge protection.

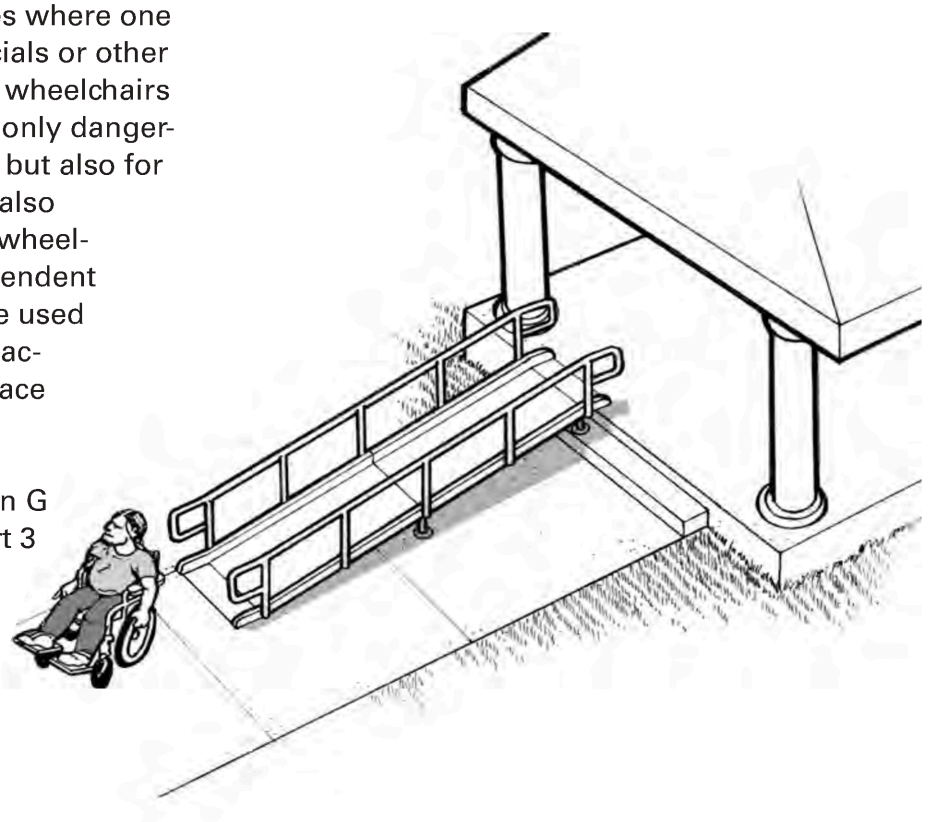
In the past, at some polling places where one or more steps were present, officials or other voters have carried people using wheelchairs up the steps. This practice is not only dangerous for the person being carried, but also for those lifting the wheelchair. It is also degrading to the person using a wheelchair and does not provide independent access. Carrying should never be used as an alternative to providing an accessible way to enter a polling place (or other facility).

Ramp requirements are in Section G of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

Solutions for Accessibility: Problems Involving Ramps

Problem One: There is a six inch high step on the accessible route that has a ramp that is only three feet long, making the ramp too steep and, therefore, inaccessible.

Solution: Alter the route to avoid the steep ramp or place a temporary ramp that is at least six feet long over the short ramp.



A portable ramp with edge protection and handrails is placed over stairs to provide an accessible route on Election Day.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

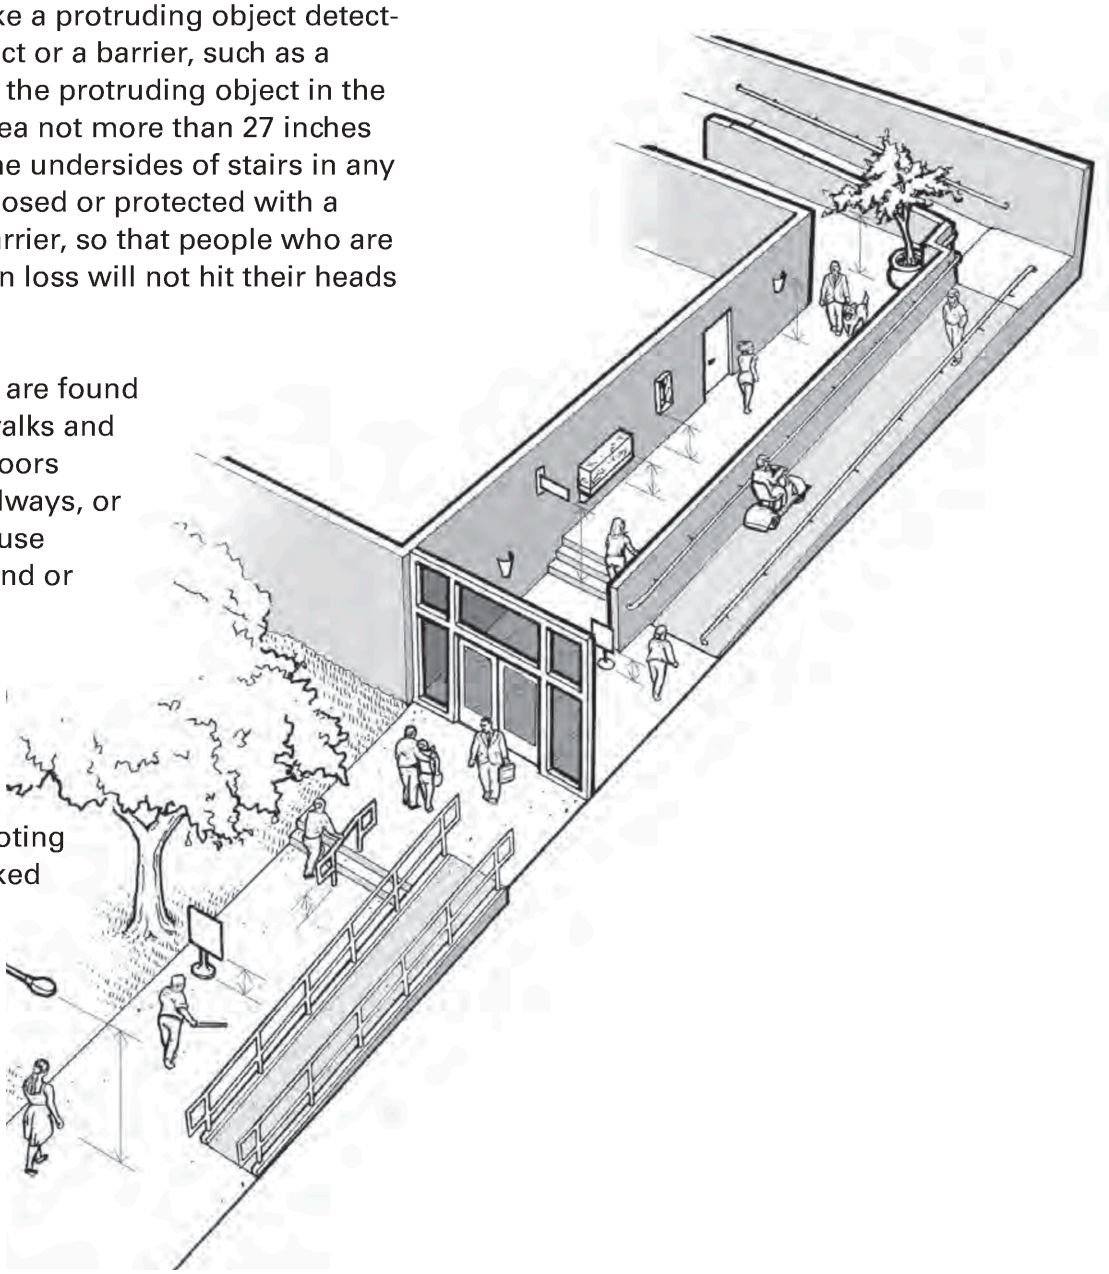
Protruding Objects

When people who are blind or who have vision loss use a cane to detect hazards, only objects located at 27 inches above the floor or ground or lower are detectable. If an object is higher than 27 inches and wall- mounted, it must not protrude more than four inches into the path of travel. Similarly, post mounted objects higher than 27 inches must not protrude more than 12 inches into the path of travel. There must be at least 80 inches clear height above the pedestrian route. To make a protruding object detectable: place an object or a barrier, such as a traffic cone, below the protruding object in the cane-detectable area not more than 27 inches above the floor. The undersides of stairs in any route must be enclosed or protected with a cane-detectable barrier, so that people who are blind or have vision loss will not hit their heads on the underside.

Protruding objects are found outdoors on sidewalks and walkways, and indoors in lobby areas, hallways, or voting areas. Because people who are blind or have vision loss may walk on any circulation path, not just the accessible routes, all routes serving or leading to the voting area must be checked for protruding objects.

Examples of outdoor protruding objects include post or wall-mounted signs and low-hanging tree limbs. Examples of indoor protruding objects include fire extinguishers and wall-mounted display cases, wall sconces, open staircases, exit signs, overhead signs, banners, and some arched doorways.

Protruding object requirements are in Sections C, E, and F of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.



Signs or other objects in the pedestrian route can be a hazard if the bottom is more than 27 inches but less than 80 inches above the route. Objects that overhang the pedestrian route must be at least 80 inches above the route.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving Protruding Objects

Problem One: Objects, such as branches and ceiling-mounted televisions, over a route are lower than 80 inches above the ground or floor.

Solution: Prune the branches or remove the items that are hanging below 80 inches. Another approach is to install a detectable barrier under the item that is too low. The detectable barrier or object must be no higher than 27 inches above the route.

Problem Two: A wall-mounted display case protrudes seven inches from the wall and the bottom of the case is 40 inches above the floor.

Solution: Place a detectable object or skirting below the case. The bottom of the skirting or detectable object must be no higher than 27 inches above the floor.

Problem Three: The bottom of a set of stairs is open and voters who are blind or have vision loss can hit their head on the underside of the stairs.

Solution: Provide a detectable fence or other object so voters cannot walk under the stairs.

Building Entrance

A polling place must have at least one accessible entrance. At least one door at the accessible entrance must have a minimum clear width of 32 inches for a voter who uses a wheelchair or other mobility device to pass through the doorway. (See Part 2 of this document for tips on taking measurements.) Door hardware must be useable with one hand without tight grasping, pinching, or twisting of the wrist, so that it is operable by someone with limited mobility in their hands. Doors may not have high thresholds that impede voters who use wheelchairs or other mobility devices in crossing the threshold. Inaccessible entrances must have signs directing voters to the accessible entrance. The accessible entrance must remain unlocked at all times the polling place is open.

When the underside of a set of stairs is open, it is a hazard to people who are blind or have low vision. Enclosing the area below the stair or installing a cane-detectable barrier helps the person to stop before hitting her head.

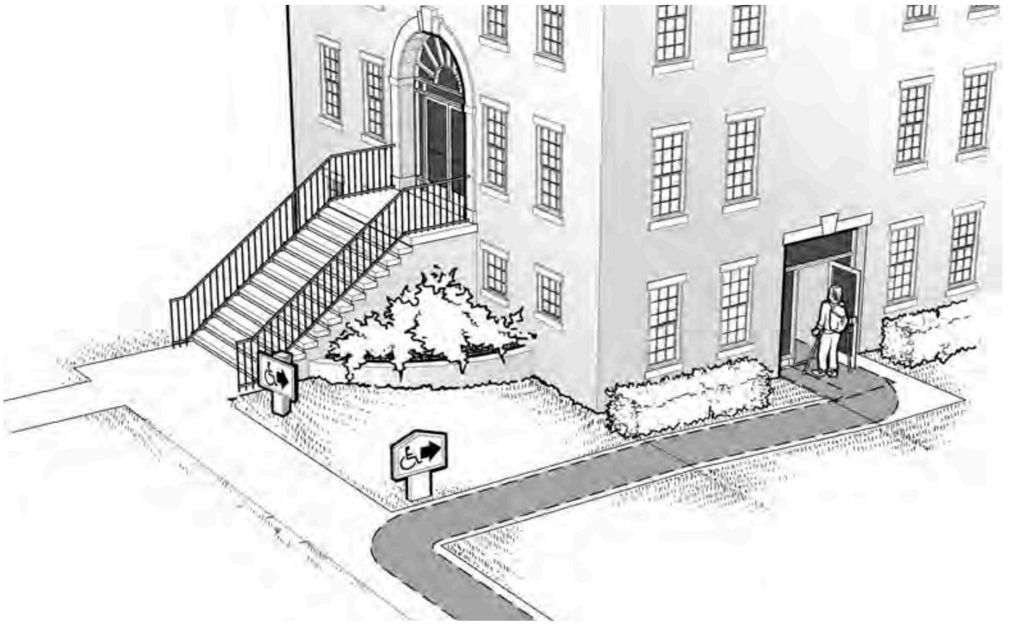
Building entrance requirements are in Section D of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving the Building Entrance

Problem One: One or two steps at the entrance prevent access.

Solution: If another entrance is accessible and on an accessible route from parking, passenger drop-off sites, or public transportation stops, designate it as the accessible entrance. If the main entrance is not accessible, install a directional sign at the main entrance directing voters with disabilities to the accessible entrance. Keep the accessible entrance unlocked during all voting hours. If another accessible entrance is not available, install a temporary ramp at the main entrance.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT



Accessible entrance to polling place with signs directing voters to the accessible entrance

Problem Two: The entrance door threshold is one inch high.

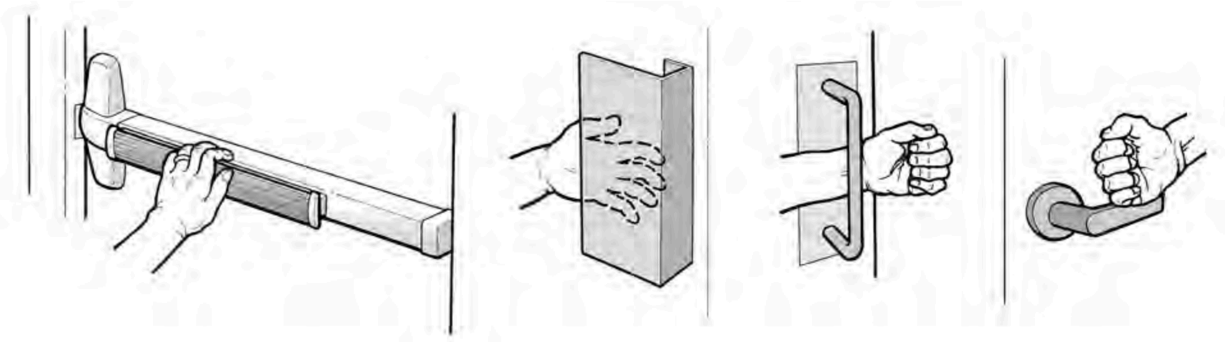
Solution: Short ramps or wedges may be used on both sides of the threshold to allow a voter in a wheelchair to pass over the threshold.

Problem Three: The entrance doors are narrow double leaf doors that are normally opened by an automatic door opener but it is not working on Election Day.

Solution: Keep both doors propped open, station volunteers near the doors to open them for voters while the polling place is open, or provide a temporary doorbell to notify officials that the door needs to be opened in a timely manner.

Problem Four: The entrance door has a door knob and/or latch that requires tight pinching and twisting and is not accessible.

Solution: There are four typical solutions: add an accessible pull or handle and leave the door unlatched; install fully accessible door hardware; leave the door propped open; or provide a temporary doorbell to notify officials that the door needs to be opened in a timely manner.



Examples of accessible door hardware

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Lifts and Elevators

If the voting area is not on the same level as the entrance, there must be an independently operable elevator or lift to provide an accessible route to individuals with disabilities. The door into the elevator or lift and the space within must be wide enough to accommodate wheelchairs and other mobility devices. All controls should be operable without tight grasping, pinching, or twisting and should be no higher than 48 inches. Chair or seated lifts found on staircases do not comply with the 2010 Standards as they are not suited for many voters with disabilities, including people who use wheelchairs.

Lift and elevator requirements are in Section H and I of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving Lifts and Elevators

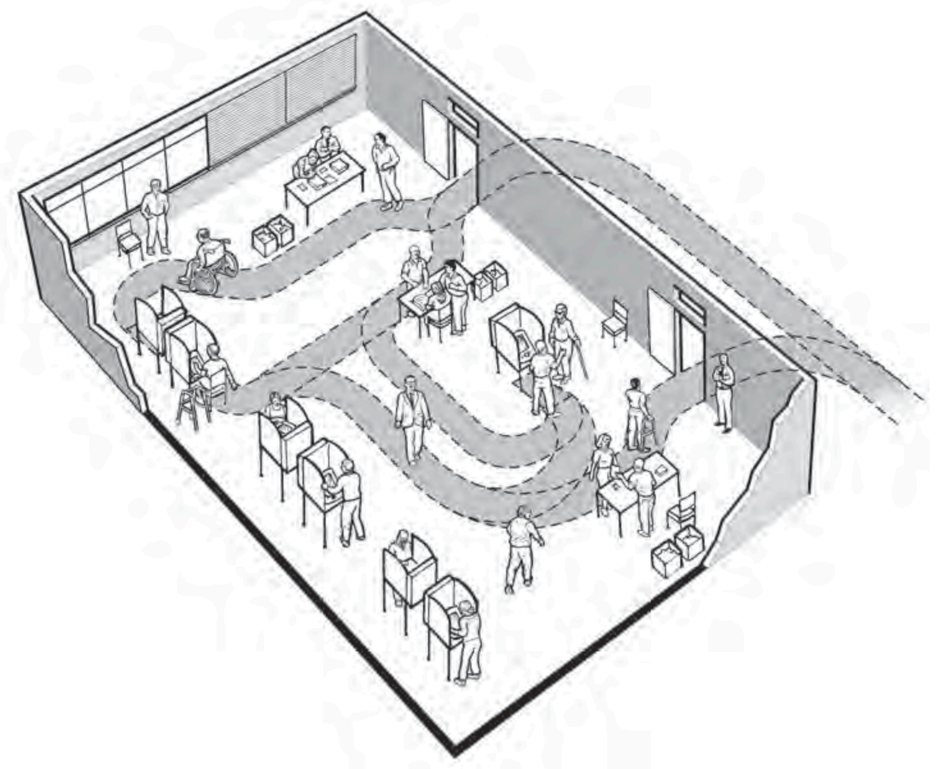
Problem One: The elevator or lift to the voting area requires a key to be inserted before the elevator or lift is operational.

Solution: Relocate the voting area to avoid use of the elevator or lift. Otherwise, leave the key in the elevator or lift for the entire time the polling place is open, or station a volunteer, who has been trained in its operation, to operate the elevator or lift while the polling place is open.

Voting Area

The accessible voting area must have an accessible entrance and adequate circulation and maneuvering space for voters who use wheelchairs or scooters, or who walk with mobility devices, to get in to the voting area, sign in at the check-in table, and go to the voting stations or machines. Within the voting area there must be enough clearance for an individual with a disability to access and use all the voting equipment. Voting machines should be positioned so that the highest operable part is no higher than 48 inches. If voters are expected to vote at counters or tables, there should be a writing surface that provides knee and toe clearance so that a voter who uses a wheelchair may sit at and use the counter or table.

Voting area requirements are in Section F of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.



An accessible route connects the building entrance with the voting area, including voter check-in and voting stations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving the Voting Area

Problem One: The voting area is in a small room and the accessible voting machine is only two feet from the check-in table.

Solution: Relocate the voting area to a larger space such as a hallway or lobby or change the layout of the voting area by moving the check-in table outside the room to provide appropriate space for voters with disabilities to use the accessible voting machine.

Part 2: Tools for Surveys

The tools necessary to conduct surveys using the 2016 Checklist are inexpensive and many, if not all, can be purchased at local hardware and home improvement stores.

Tools and Documentation

The following tools are needed for the 2016 Checklist:

- a metal tape measure at least 20 feet long
- a digital level or a bubble level that is at least 24 inches long
- a door pressure gauge
- a digital camera with a flash
- a copy of the 2016 Checklist for each location to be surveyed
- a clipboard and pens or pencils

Completing Measurements and Recording Information

One person can complete a survey of a polling place but it is often quicker and easier for two people to work together. One can be responsible for taking the measurements and the other for recording the information and taking any photographs.

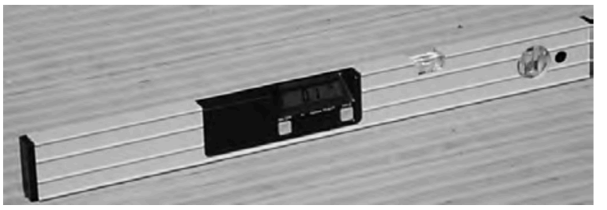
Taking Measurements

Sloped Surfaces
Measuring the slope of a ramp, parking space, pedestrian route, or other ground or floor surface is important to identify whether the surface is accessible. Two slope measurements perpendicular to one another should be taken at each location. One is the running slope that runs parallel to the direction of travel and the other is the cross slope, which runs perpendicular to the running slope.

The amount of slope or grade is described as the proportion of a vertical rise to a horizontal length. It is usually described as:

- a ratio (e.g., 1:20, means one unit of vertical rise for each 20 units of horizontal length); or
- a percentage (e.g., 8.33% which equates to a ratio of 1:12 or 4.76 degrees).

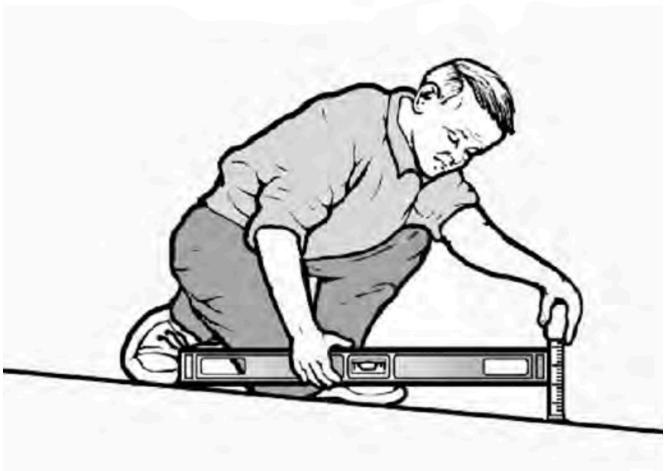
The easiest way to measure slope is to use a digital level. The digital display gives a reading that may be shown as a ratio, percent, or degree. Calibrate the digital level before each use.



A digital level that can be used with measurements in degrees, percentages, or ratios

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

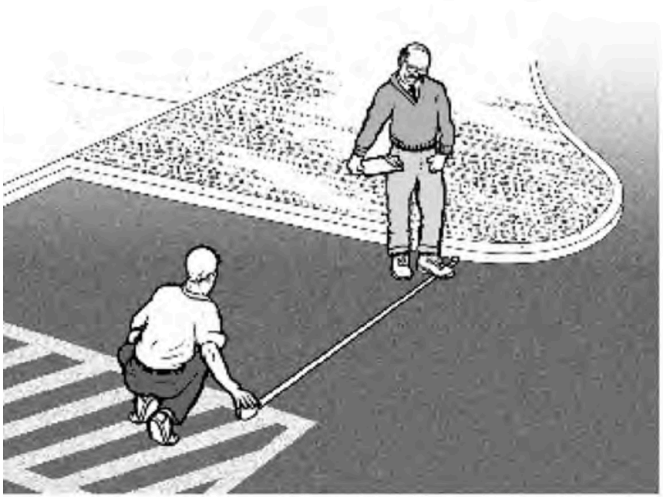
Another way to measure slope is to use a 24 inch level with leveling bubbles and a tape measure. Place the level on the sloped surface in the direction you wish to measure. Rest one end of the level at the highest point of the sloped surface and lift the other end (see image) until the bubble is in the middle of the tube. This is the "level" position. While the level is in this position, measure the distance between the bottom end of the level and the sloped surface below. If the distance is two inches or less, then the slope is 1:12 or less. When the distance is more than two inches, record the distance on the checklist so the exact slope can be calculated later. For measuring cross slope, if the distance measured from the level position is ½ inch or less then the slope is 1:48 or less.



Measuring slope using a 24 inch bubble level and tape measure

Using the Tape Measure

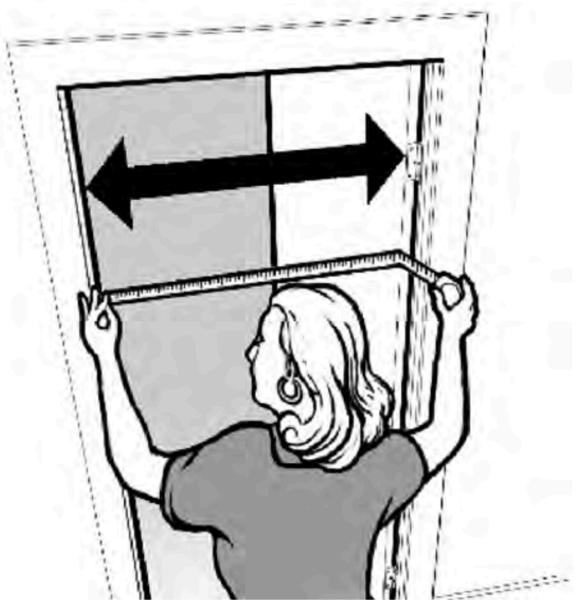
A tape measure is used to measure the length, width, height, and depth of various elements including parking spaces and access aisles, routes, thresholds, doorways, and protruding objects.



Using a tape measure to measure the width of a parking space

Measuring Door Openings

Special care is needed when measuring the clear opening of a doorway. To measure the clear opening of a standard hinged door, open the door to 90 degrees. Measure the clear door opening from the edge of the doorstop to the edge of the door (not to the door jamb). This measures the clear width of the door opening through which people pass, which is less than the width of the door itself. Door handles and push bars should not be included in the measurements of door opening widths.



Measuring the clear door opening

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

PA-YORK-24-0460-A-000805

Taking Photographs

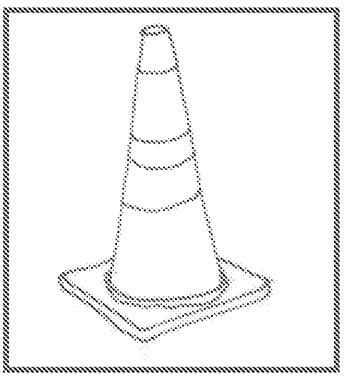
It is always useful to first take a photo that will clearly identify the site, then the elements surveyed. A comprehensive set of photographs makes it easier to understand existing conditions after the survey is completed. It is a good idea to take several photos of the exterior and interior of the polling place. We recommend taking photographs of measurements and non-compliant elements such as steps. It is likely that others may review information about the facility you are surveying.

Temporary Remedies

Many accessibility barriers at polling places can be removed with temporary remedies. Although not designed to be permanent solutions, the following tools can be used to provide remedies on Election Day to improve accessibility. These tools can often be found in local hardware and home improvement stores or online at minimal cost.

Temporary Remedies

Traffic Cones

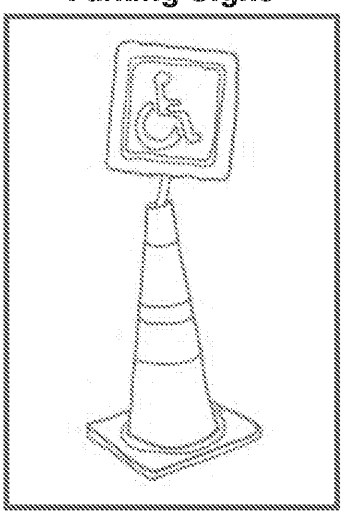


Traffic cones can be used to mark parking spaces, access aisles and passenger loading zones, to hold parking signs, and to warn of protruding objects.

Van Parking Sign

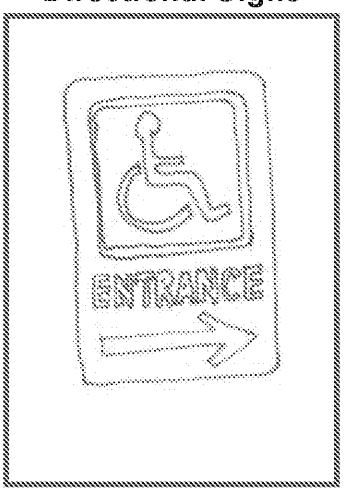
Van accessible parking signs should be used to designate van accessible parking locations.

Parking Signs



Accessible parking signs should be used to designate accessible parking locations.

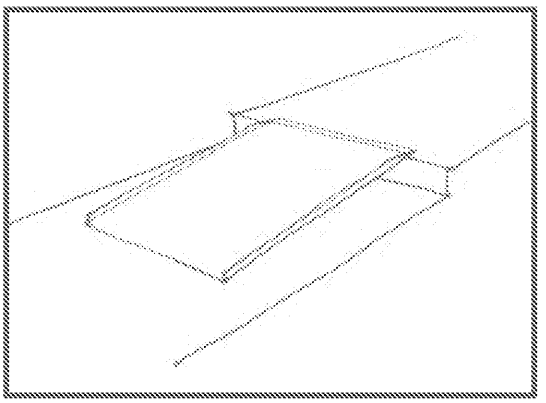
Directional Signs



Directional signage should be used to show direction to the accessible route, accessible entrance, and voting area.

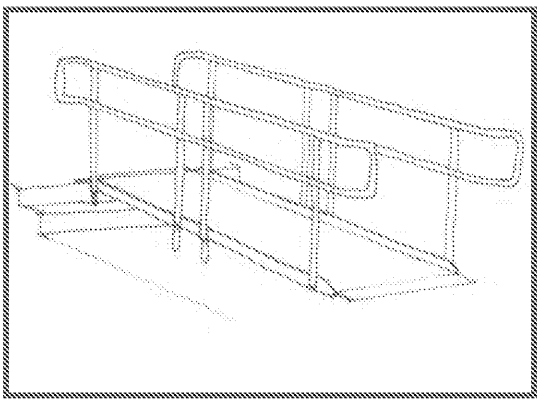
AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Portable ramp - step six inches or less



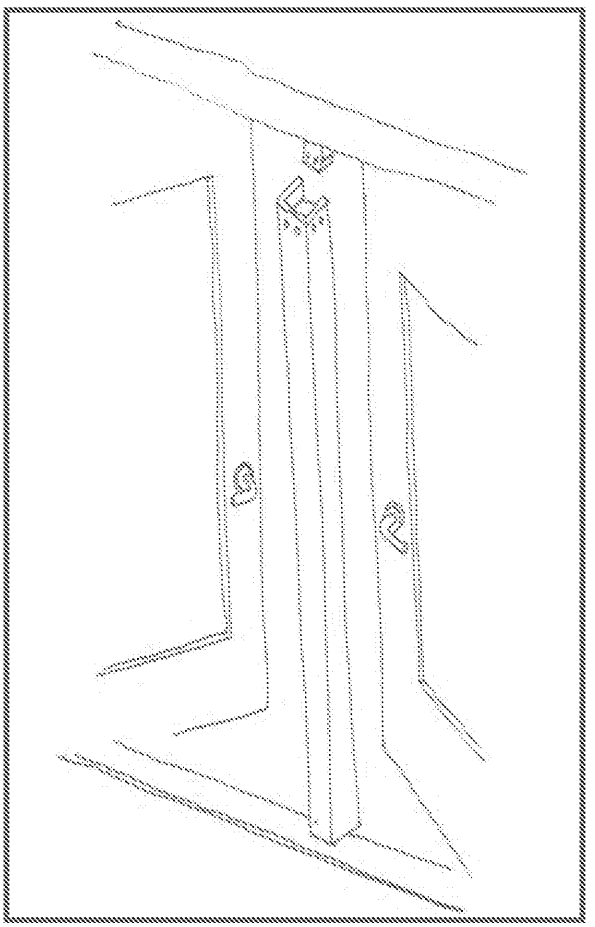
Portable ramps without handrails can only be used for heights six inches or less and can provide access at a curb or low step. Portable ramps also can be placed flat to cover holes or gaps in a sidewalk.

Portable ramp - greater than six inch step



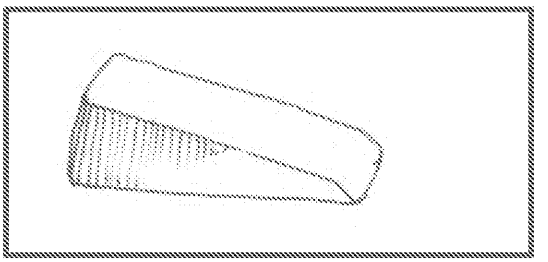
Portable ramps with handrails must be used for heights greater than six inches to provide access over steps. For ramps greater than six inches high, temporary edge protection such as a pipe or piece of wood can be attached with ties or twine to the edges of the ramp. Edge protection must run the entire length of the ramp.

Remove post (increase clear width at double leaf doors)



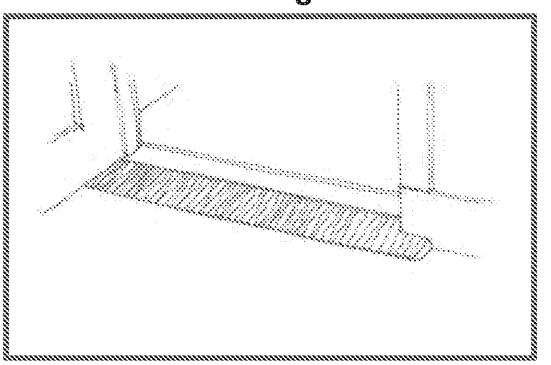
Remove center post between doors if the post is bolted to the door frame to provide a 32 inch clear opening or to allow double doors to be propped open.

Door stop



Door stops can be used to prop open a door if the door handle is inaccessible, or if there is an inadequate maneuvering clearance for a person using a wheelchair or other mobility device to open the door.

Wedges



Wedges can provide access at thresholds and slight changes in level.

This checklist is designed to provide guidance for determining whether a polling place has basic accessibility features needed by voters with disabilities.

For each question below there are citations to the 2010 ADA Standards for Accessible Design (2010 Standards). Please review the 2010 Standards for all requirements.

There are some differences between the 1991 ADA Standards for Accessible Design (1991 Standards) and the 2010 Standards. Elements and spaces in a building constructed or altered before March 15, 2012, that complied with the 1991 Standards may remain in compliance with the 2010 Standards. See 28 C.F.R. §35.150(b)(2) for more information.

In completing the checklist, provide a measurement for every question with a "no" answer. Where a question asks about more than one element, provide a note in the comments explaining any noncompliant elements.

Lycoming County Warning: This is an external email. Please exercise caution. Think Before You Click!
Hi all,

Fayette's county/local certification was delayed for a couple of weeks at the end of May/early June when a group of people filed for a recount under §3154(e) and then never showed up at the hearing the Election Board offered them for their concerns. Please note that 3154(e) is a bad section because it does not require a deposit and it contains a requirement to call in your local precinct boards (!) to conduct the recount. Probably dates back to 1937 when the pollworkers hand-counted Xs on hand-marked ballots until 4 AM the next morning after election day (and, of course, made mistakes under the

https://www.dailycourier.com/news/fayette-election-petitions-rejected/article_8dd24e3a-095f-11ee-9382-0bce559a1f61.html

So, there was a filing under 3154(e). The petitioners didn't show up and their petitions got dismissed by the Election Board. At almost the last minute before certification (literally!) they re-petitioned our Court of Common Pleas under §§ 3261-3263. Of course they want a hand-counted recount and a bunch of other stuff.

I'm working with our solicitor to get ready for a hearing about this on Thursday AM. Am writing to request any recent court orders / filings you folks can share that either deny recounts or are related to recounts under §§ 3261-3263. We already have Berks, Butler, and Lycoming from last fall.

Thanks in advance for your help,

Marybeth

I was thinking people probably needed to be a registered voter to sign but double checking if they are a resident of Manchester township and not registered if it is a valid signature.

I am getting signatures for manchester township supervisor no-affiliation.

Thanks

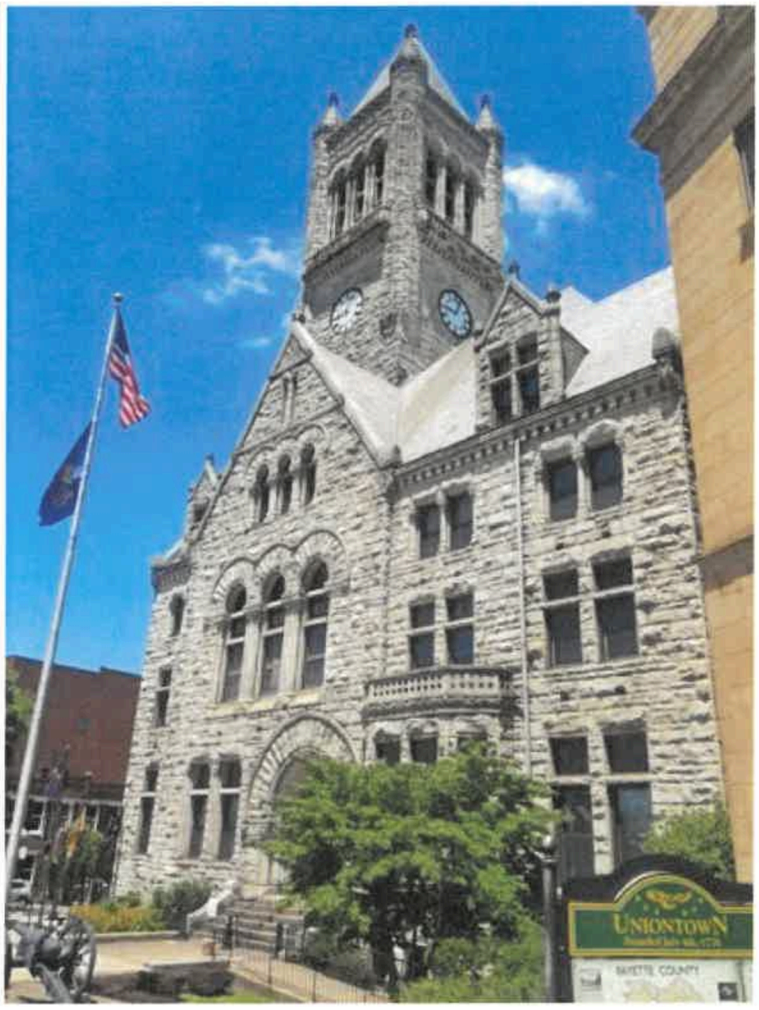
Judge orders Fayette elections bureau to turn over ballots, vote records

Mike Jones
Aug 10, 2023



Mike Jones/Observer-Reporter

Fayette County Courthouse

A judge ordered the Fayette County Elections Bureau to turn over its digital "cast vote record" tabulation and copies of paper ballots in several precincts from the primary election that are being challenged as petitioners are aiming to review those votes and possibly request a countywide recount.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Senior Judge John F. Wagner Jr.'s ruling followed an hour-long motions hearing Wednesday in Fayette County Court of Common Pleas. The county still has election challenges pending ahead of an Aug. 22 hearing in which Wagner must determine whether there should be a recount in the Republican race for county commissioner in six precincts.

The petitioners have raised concerns over whether "bleed-through" pen markings on the paper ballots cast by voters at the polls could alter the correct count. But elections officials said such bleed-through on ballots does not affect the counting process and are adamant that the May 16 primary election results are accurate.

"In the end, I believe you're correct and nothing wrong was done," Wagner said about the elections office's work during the primary. "But until somebody can look at the stuff, you'll have a percentage of people who don't believe you."

The challenges are being spearheaded by Fayette County Recorder of Deeds Jon Marietta Jr., who ran for county commissioner as a Republican, but finished in third place in the primary behind incumbents David Lohr and Scott Dunn. Marietta lost the GOP nomination to Dunn by 121 votes, and he is hoping a recount of specific precincts will show irregularities that could force the recount of the entire GOP race for commissioner.

Marietta sat just behind his Mt. Lebanon-based attorney Greg Teufel during the hearing and had a crowd of supporters in the gallery, who Wagner had to silence at one point when they broke out in applause in the courtroom.

In addition to the "cast vote record" and ballots that had bleed-through markings on them, Wagner also ordered the elections office to provide within three days copies of all documents used in adjudication of the ballots along with copies of the outer envelopes for mail-in and absentee ballots in the six precincts.

The disagreement between the two sides centers around whether the challengers should have physical access to the cast vote record and copies of the ballots. The state elections code states that "the contents of ballot boxes and voting machines and records of assisted voters" are not open for public inspection.

The cast vote record, or CVR, is essentially the electronic contents of the ballot box in which a voter's decisions could theoretically be matched with the person when he or she signs in to vote. The access to copies of ballots also could identify a voter by his or her handwriting with write-in candidates, while the outer envelopes for mail-in and absentee ballots raises concerns about voter privacy involving signatures.

Elections Board solicitor Sheryl Heid questioned the need for copies of ballots showing bleed-through because they are only a sample of the total votes and would not be comparable to the final tally. She also noted that the elections bureau already conducted a 2% audit of the vote as required by law, which showed no irregularities during the primary. Heid added that petitioners challenging two of the six precincts did not allege any problems at their own polling place, but offered "hearsay" evidence when they talked to voters elsewhere.

"Why do you need them? These machines have been tested for bleed-through," Heid asked about the CVR records and copies of the ballots. "What they're attempting to do is their own recount. But they don't have every ballot."

"Here's what we think occurred and here's what actually occurred," Teufel said of why they want time to review the ballots.

Wagner wondered aloud how the petitioners would be able to mount a reasonable case without evidence. However, in typical election challenges, petitioners testify to what they observed at their polling place that could be construed as fraud, with a low bar of prima facie evidence taken at "face value" in an attempt to persuade a judge to order a recount. But Wagner seemed to take the motions hearing even further, agreeing that the petitioners should have access to elections materials – including copies of ballots – to use as evidence before he rules.

"We're back to where we were before," Wagner said. "Let's just recount the ballots."

"I don't think it's right to ask the elections board to do anything but follow the statute," Heid said.

Heid declined to say whether the county will appeal Wagner's order or request clarification from the state Department of State regarding the cast vote record and ballots. A spokesperson for the department declined to comment on whether its office might get involved in the legal matters of the case.

Teufel said he is expected to depose Elections Bureau Director MaryBeth Kuznik on Friday as part of his case. He indicated after the hearing that depending on how Wagner rules Aug. 22, the challengers may attempt to force a countywide recount of the commissioners race.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"It's ridiculous to say that a petitioner can only use their own personal observation as evidence," Teufel said about the challenge process and the need for physical evidence.

This is not the first time Teufel has been involved in an election challenge. Following the 2020 presidential election, Teufel filed a motion with the state Supreme Court, and later an application for injunction with the U.S. Supreme Court, over the handling of mail-in ballots in an attempt to block the certification of the elections results in Pennsylvania.

The clock is now ticking on Fayette County's ballot preparations with less than three months until the Nov. 7 general election. The elections board last month certified all races in Fayette County except for Republican county commissioners results. But, with possible appeals following Wagner's impending ruling, court decisions will need to be made quickly in order to prepare for the upcoming election.

The six precincts involved in the challenge are Connellsville Township, Dunbar Borough, South Connellsville Borough, the third precinct in George Township and precincts one and three in Bullskin Township. The number of votes in the six precincts account for fewer than 2,000 votes out of the 11,883 voters who cast their ballots in the Republican Party primary.

This article was in our local newspaper today regarding Fayette County. They have not completely certified the 2023 Primary because of recount petitions filed in six precincts for their Republican County Commissioner race. A candidate, Jon Marietta, lost by 121 votes. They were not able to file recount petitions for all precincts in Fayette County, and are now trying to get a countywide recount for the Commissioner race. The Judge isn't following the Election Code and is encouraging the Board of Elections to just do the recount without issuing any court order.

Good luck, Marybeth.

After the Lycoming County appeal for the CVR, Washington County also had an appeal for CVR. I'm sharing the final determination from the OOR for Washington County to also help counties receiving an increase in CVR RTKs.

Forrest, would you be able to share the conditions you presented on the RTK for the mail in ballots. I have a feeling my County will be receiving a similar RTK soon.

Dear Election Directors,

Fayette County received notice a few minutes ago that the judge has ruled on the Recount Petitions filed in six of our precincts. This was after we hand-counted over 1400 ballots on Monday and Tuesday, holding each one up for the Petitioners' review. There was a discrepancy of one single vote (likely due to human error) and the aggrieved candidate did not gain even that one vote. Nothing changed.

The judge found that there was no evidence of fraud or error, that the scanners operated correctly in reading the ballots, and that ink bleed-through did not affect the computation of the votes cast. And because there was no substantial error, Petitioners don't get their $50 back.

The aggrieved candidate could appeal but he is down by 121 votes and I doubt that appeal would be fruitful.

I am attaching the court filing in case it is useful to any other county someday. Please let me know if you would like any other info.

Best,

Marybeth

OK – I just read the statute and it does indicates not later than 90 days before the election, which means the last day to get it completed is tomorrow, you can do it any time prior to the 90 days, but not after. So technically, you can do it today if you want to get it done. If not, I will let them know that you are planning on doing this tomorrow.

Subject: IMPORTANT NOTICE REGARDING VOTER LIST MAINTENANCE

This email is being sent on behalf of Kathleen Kotula, Chief Counsel.

Dear county solicitor,

As you should be aware, both federal and state law require counties to complete voter list maintenance programs no later than 90 days before each municipal and general election. That deadline for 2023 is August 9, 2023. Each county is responsible for closing out the NCOA process by generating a PA-AVN correspondence for voters that did not respond to an initial mailing and updating those voters' status to "INACTIVE-AVN SENT" in the SURE system as explained in the attached email and memo that had been sent out to counties earlier this month.

It is our understanding that your clients have not yet completed this process. Please ensure that your respective clients are aware of their responsibility to complete this process by August 9, 2023. Failure to do this in a timely manner will likely expose your county to litigation. Moreover, failure to complete this process may affect your county's ability to receive an Election Integrity Grant pursuant to Act 88. We appreciate your attention to this important matter.

Dear County Election Director,

Hope all is well as you continue your preparations for the November Municipal Election. It was great to see many of you at the recent election officials conference. It felt like a homecoming of sorts for me and just reminded me how much I enjoyed the camaraderie with you back in the day when I was in that same position.

I am reaching out today to just let you know that the Committee of Seventy is continuing to offer poll worker and poll watcher information sessions, which I am the primary presenter for. I've attached both decks in the event they can be helpful for any virtual outreach you would like to do or just so you can see what information I'm presenting.

My hope is to continue expanding this outreach statewide, especially heading into 2024, in order to try to help recruit future poll workers for counties. If I can be of any assistance, please feel free to reach out at any time. In the meantime, I know the organizations we're working with, like the League of Women Voters of PA, will continue to forward the names of any folks who express an interest in serving as a poll worker to the appropriate county.

Kindest regards,
Jeff Greenburg

8 Pa.C.S.A. § 901
Formerly cited as PA ST 53 P.S. § 45901

§ 901. Filling vacancies in elective borough offices

(a) Vacancies.--If any vacancy occurs in the office of the mayor, member of council, auditor, controller or tax collector, by death, resignation under subsection (a.1) or termination of residency from the borough, or from a ward in the case of a ward office, or by failure to take the required oath, to give bond as provided by law or ordinance or to provide the affidavit required under section 801 (relating to eligibility), or in any other manner whatsoever, the council shall fill the vacancy within 30 days by appointing, by resolution, a registered elector of the borough, or of the ward in the case of a ward office, to hold the office, if the term continues that long, until the first Monday in January after the first municipal election occurring more than 60 days after the vacancy occurs, at which election an eligible individual shall be elected to the office for the remainder of the term. Except as provided in section 801(c), no individual shall be appointed to fill a vacancy in an elected borough or ward office unless the individual has resided within the borough, or within the ward in the case of a ward office, continuously for at least one year immediately prior to the individual's appointment.

(a.1) Vacancy by resignation.--

(1) A vacancy shall not be created by a resignation until the date that the resignation is accepted by a majority vote of a quorum of council at a public meeting or the effective date of the tendered resignation, whichever is later. A council must accept a resignation no later than 45 days after it has been tendered in writing to council, unless it is withdrawn in writing prior to acceptance.

(2) A resignation which is not accepted as provided under paragraph (1) shall be deemed accepted after 45 days.

(b) Bond.--The individual appointed shall give bond if required by law or ordinance. If the individual elected to the office fails to give any bond required, to provide the affidavit required under section 801 or to take the required oath, the council, before making the appointment, shall declare the office vacant.

(c) Unfilled vacancies.--If the council of any borough refuses, fails, neglects or is unable, for any reason whatsoever, to fill any vacancy within 30 days after the vacancy happens, as provided in this section, the vacancy shall be filled within 15 additional days by the vacancy board. The vacancy board shall consist of the council, exclusive of the mayor, and one registered elector of the borough who shall be appointed by the council at the council's first

The vacancy board shall appoint a registered elector of the borough, or ward in the case of a ward office, to hold the office, if the term continues that long, until the first Monday in January after the first municipal election occurring more than 60 days after the vacancy occurs, at which election an eligible individual shall be elected to the office for the remainder of the term.

(d) Board petition.--If the vacancy is not filled by the vacancy board within 15 days, the chair shall, or, in the case of a vacancy in the chair, the remaining members of the vacancy board shall, petition the court of common pleas to fill the vacancy by the appointment of a registered elector of the borough, or ward in the case of a ward, to hold the office, if the term continues that long, until the first Monday in January after the first municipal election occurring more than 60 days after the vacancy occurs, at which election an eligible individual shall be elected to the office for the remainder of the term.

(e) Elector petition.--If vacancies exist in more than a majority of the offices of council, the court of common pleas shall fill the vacancies upon presentation of petition signed by not less than 15 registered electors of the borough.

§ 2953. Filling of certain vacancies in public office by means of nomination certificates and nomination papers

(a) In all cases where a vacancy shall occur for any cause in an elective public office, including that of judge of a court of record, at a time when such vacancy is required by the provisions of the Constitution or the laws of this Commonwealth to be filled at the ensuing election but at a time when nominations for such office cannot be made under any other provision of this act, nominations to fill such vacancies shall be made by political parties in accordance with party rules relating to the filling of vacancies by means of nomination certificates in the form prescribed in section nine hundred ninety-four of this act,[1] and by political bodies by means of nomination papers in accordance with the provisions of sections nine hundred fifty-one, nine hundred fifty-two and nine hundred fifty-four of this act.[2] No such nomination certificate shall nominate any person who has already been nominated by any other political party or by any political body for the same office unless such person is a candidate for the office of judge of a court of common pleas, the Philadelphia Municipal Court or for the office of school director in districts where that office is elective or for the office of justice of the peace.[3] No such nomination papers shall nominate any person who has already been nominated by any political party or by any other political body for any office to be filled at the ensuing November election, unless such person is a candidate for the office of judge of a court of common pleas, the Philadelphia Municipal Court or for the office of school director in districts where that office is elective or for the office of justice of the peace.

(b) Said nomination certificates and nomination papers for State public offices and judges of courts of records shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least fifty (50) days prior to a general or municipal election, as the case may be. Nomination certificates and nomination papers for public offices in counties, cities, boroughs, towns, townships, wards and school districts and for the offices of aldermen and justices of the peace shall be filed in the office of the county board of elections at least fifty (50) days prior to a municipal election.

(c) The provisions of this subdivision shall not be construed to apply to elective public offices for which a method is provided in this act for the holding of special elections to fill vacancies in certain public offices, or to the filling of vacancies in the office of presidential electors in accordance with the provisions of section nine hundred eighteen of this act.[4] Nor shall the provisions of this subdivision be construed to apply to any public office for which, by the provisions of any statute, a vacancy is required to be filled at the next election appropriate to the office, if said vacancy occurs at any time within two (2) calendar months immediately preceding a general or municipal election, as the case may be.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

POLLING PLACE ACCESSIBILITY IS REQUIRED BY THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal civil rights law that provides protections to people with disabilities to ensure that they are treated equally in all aspects of life. Title II of the ADA requires state and local governments ("public entities") to ensure that people with disabilities have a full and equal opportunity to vote. The ADA's provisions apply to all aspects of voting, including polling places (or vote centers). Voting at one's polling place allows voters the chance to interact with neighbors and candidates who talk with voters outside the polling place, and to ask questions of or receive assistance from trained poll workers inside the polling place. Simply put, voting in person at a local polling place is the quintessential American voting experience.

In communities large and small, people cast their ballots in a variety of facilities that temporarily serve as polling places, such as libraries, schools, and fire stations, or churches, stores, and other private buildings. Voters include people with a variety of disabilities, such as those who use wheelchairs, scooters, or other devices, those who have difficulty walking or using stairs, or those who are blind or have vision loss. They are people, young and old, who have come to their polling place to exercise their right to vote. Many public entities report that their polling places are accessible. However, the Government Accountability Office estimates that only 27% of polling places were accessible to people with disabilities in the 2008 elections.[1] This means that 73% of the polling places used in 2008 had architectural barriers that made it difficult or even impossible for people with disabilities to enter their polling place and vote side by side with their neighbors.

People with disabilities must have the opportunity to be full participants in an integrated civic event. The ADA requires that public entities ensure that people with disabilities can access and use all of their voting facilities. Because a mix of public and private facilities are used as polling places, public entities may ensure Election Day accessibility of a polling place by using low-cost temporary measures, such as portable ramps or door stops, rather than necessarily making permanent modifications to a facility. If temporary measures will not fix a barrier, and public entities are unable to make a permanent modification to fix the barrier, then the public entity must look for an alternative, accessible polling place. In some circumstances, when a public entity is unable to identify or create an accessible polling place for a particular voting precinct or ward, election administrators may instead use an alternative method of voting at the polling place.[2] Public entities are encouraged to make permanent modifications to their facilities used as polling places, such as schools, community centers, and town halls. The use of temporary measures to provide access to polling places on Election Day does not change a public entity's obligations under the ADA to ensure that its programs and services are accessible to people with disabilities, nor does it mean that a temporary remedy would be appropriate in a public facility on an everyday basis.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ACCESSIBILITY

The ADA's regulations and the ADA Standards for Accessible Design set out what makes a facility accessible and should be used to determine the accessibility of any facility being considered for use as a polling place. This publication, the ADA Checklist for Polling Places (2016 Checklist), provides guidance to election officials for determining whether a polling place already has the basic accessibility features needed by most voters with disabilities or can be made accessible on Election Day using temporary solutions to remove barriers. The updated Checklist includes provisions from the 2010 ADA Standards for Accessible Design ("2010 Standards").[3] Any alterations made to a polling place must comply with the 2010 Standards.

Other Justice Department Publications

In addition to the 2016 Checklist, election officials should consult the Department's 7-page publication on the rights of voters with disabilities, The Americans with Disabilities Act and Other Federal Laws Protecting the Rights of Voters with Disabilities.

Another Justice Department publication, Solutions for Five Common ADA Access Problems at Polling Places, illustrates suggested temporary solutions for several common accessibility problems found at polling places.

This 2016 Checklist and other Justice Department publications, as well as the title II regulation and the 2010 Standards are available at www.ada.gov.

Part 1: Evaluating the Physical Accessibility of Polling Places

The 2016 Checklist, found in Part 3 of this document, is designed to assist officials in determining whether a facility being considered for use as a polling place is accessible to people with mobility or vision disabilities, and, if not, whether modifications can be made to ensure accessibility or relocation to another accessible facility will be necessary. The 2016 Checklist should be used to evaluate both new and existing polling places. Completing the 2016 Checklist will provide guidance on whether a facility is accessible for voters with disabilities, and how to identify and remedy any barriers that exist.

[2]See U.S. Department of Justice Technical Assistance: "The Americans with Disabilities Act and Other Federal Laws Protecting the Rights of Voters with Disabilities," (September 2014), available at www.ada.gov.

[3]The requirements that new construction and alterations comply with the 2010 Standards went into effect on March 15, 2012. Facilities that were built or altered before that date, and that complied with the 1991 Standards, need not be modified to comply with the 2010 Standards as to those provisions included in the 1991 Standards. See 28 C.F.R. §35.151(b)(2)(i). This is referred to as a safe harbor. The 1991 Standards and the 2010 Standards, as applied to polling places, are very similar, however, with the exception of the requirements for accessible parking. For example, the 1991 Standards required only one van-accessible space for every eight accessible spaces, see 28 C.F.R. pt. 36, Appendix D, §4.1.2(5)(b), while the 2010 Standards require one van-accessible space for every six accessible spaces, see 2010 Standards §208.2.4.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Getting Started

Individuals using the 2016 Checklist need not be experienced in evaluating facilities for accessibility. It is designed to be used to evaluate key areas that must be accessible. By following these directions, staff can identify accessible polling places and consider how to implement temporary and permanent accessibility remedies to those facilities found to be inaccessible. References are also provided to the 2010 Standards for more information about particular requirements. We encourage election officials to provide training to their staff on compliance with the ADA.

An evaluation of polling place accessibility focuses on those areas of a facility that may be used as a polling place on Election Day. Think about how people generally arrive at, enter, and move through the polling place. Do people drive and park? Are people dropped off at the entrance? Do they arrive on foot or do they take public transportation? This document addresses the following key areas or features that must be accessible: the parking area and passenger drop-off sites; routes (both exterior and interior); the entrance to the polling place; and the voting area itself.

Parking

If parking is provided for voters, accessible parking must be provided for people with disabilities. An accessible space is composed of three elements: the parking space, an access aisle adjacent to the space that is wide enough to allow voters with a mobility disability to get out of their car or van, and signage designating it as an accessible space. The 2010 Standards require one accessible parking space per 25 parking spaces provided (up to the first 100 spaces). One of six (or fraction of six) accessible parking spaces, but always at least one, must be van accessible. Generally, the access aisle must be at least 60 inches wide for cars and 96 inches wide for vans. Van accessible spaces can also have an access aisle at least 60 inches wide if the width of the van parking space is at least 132 inches. A sign, with the International Symbol of Accessibility, must mark each accessible parking space. Van accessible spaces must be designated as such on the sign at these spaces. Accessible parking spaces and the access aisles serving them must be on a surface that is stable, firm, and slip resistant (e.g., clear of gravel or mud) without wide cracks or broken pavement and located on the closest accessible route to the accessible entrance. The accessible parking spaces and access aisles must also be level to allow a safe transfer from the car to a person's wheelchair. (See Part 2 of this document for tips on measuring slopes and cross slopes.)

Parking requirements are in Section A of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving the Parking Area

Problem One: Parking is available, but no accessible parking is provided or there are not enough accessible parking or van accessible spaces.

Solution: Find a relatively level parking area near the accessible entrance and then designate the area for accessible parking spaces and adjacent access aisles. Use three parking spaces to make two accessible parking spaces with an access aisle. Traffic cones or other temporary elements may be used to mark these spaces and access aisles. Provide a temporary sign designating each accessible parking space and make sure the access aisle of each space is connected to the accessible route to the accessible entrance.

Problem Two: Accessible parking is provided, but it does not have a marked access aisle next to each designated accessible parking space.

Solution: Use traffic cones to mark and block off the access aisle and curb ramp area. The first accessible parking space provided should be a van accessible parking space with an access aisle that is at least 96 inches wide.

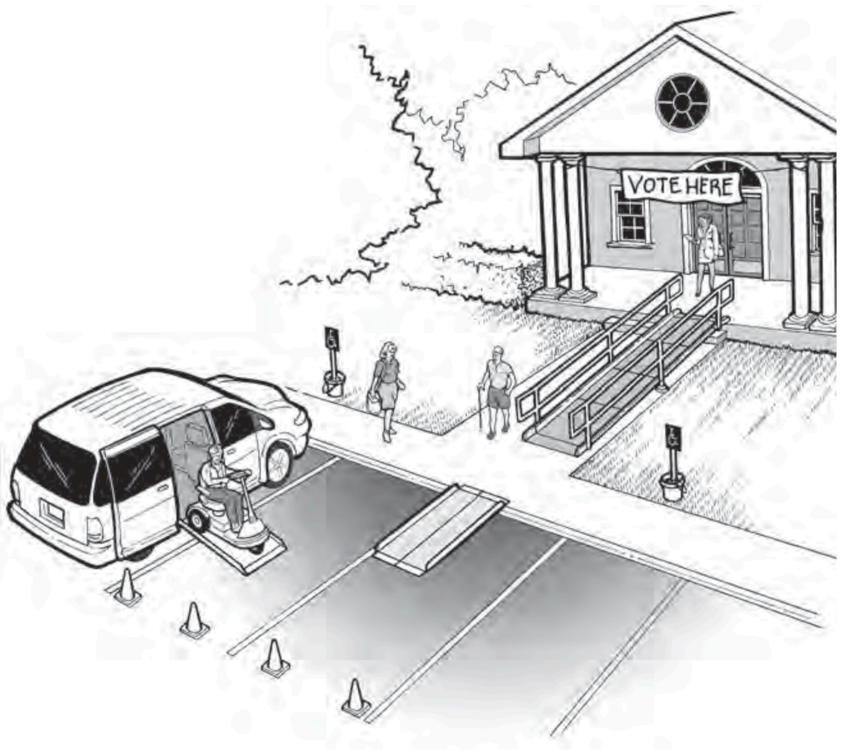
Problem Three: Accessible parking spaces or access aisles are on a sloped surface and do not provide a level area for a safe transition from the voter's car to a wheelchair.

Solution: Find a parking area that is close to the accessible entrance and is level. Provide accessible parking spaces and access aisles in that area by marking them off with traffic cones. Make sure the accessible parking spaces connect to an accessible route to the entrance. Provide a sign designating each accessible parking space. When the parking area generally is not level, you may need to look beyond the parking area, to driveways and streets, for example, to provide accessible parking in a level area temporarily on Election Day.

Problem Four: No sign with the International Symbol of Accessibility is installed at each accessible parking space.

Solution: Provide a temporary sign in front of each accessible parking space, including a "van accessible" sign for the van parking space.

Problem Five: A large number of accessible parking spaces are provided, including van accessible spaces, at a school near the main building entrance. The voting area and entrance to the voting area, however, are at the rear of the school and there are no designated accessible parking spaces in this area.



Three standard parking spaces are converted into a van accessible parking space with an access aisle. Cones mark and block off the access aisle and a temporary curb ramp with edge protection connects to an accessible route to the polling place.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Solution: Find a relatively level parking area near the accessible entrance to the voting area and then designate the area for accessible parking spaces and adjacent access aisles. Traffic cones or other temporary elements may be used to mark the spaces and access aisles. Provide a temporary sign for each accessible parking space and make sure the access aisle of each space is connected to the accessible route to the accessible entrance.

Passenger Drop-off Locations

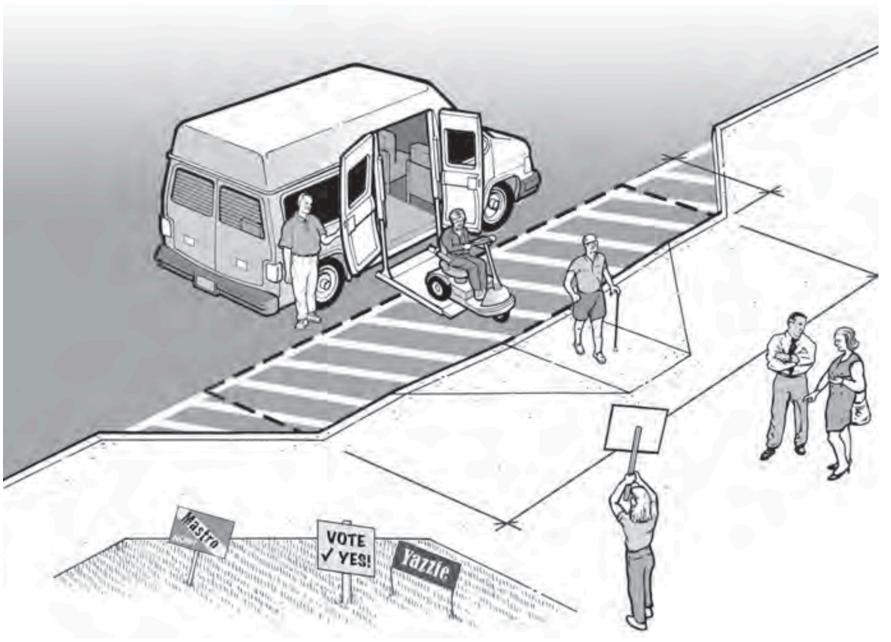
Some voters with disabilities will be driven to the polling place and dropped off in a passenger drop-off area near the entrance. If the polling place is served by passenger drop-off areas, then at least one drop-off area must be accessible. An accessible drop-off area, also known as an accessible passenger loading zone, must have a level access aisle next to the vehicle space. If a curb separates the access aisle from an accessible route, a curb ramp must be provided so that people with disabilities can get to the accessible route leading to the accessible entrance.

Passenger drop-off area requirements are in Section B of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

Accessible Routes (Exterior and Interior)

Once a voter with a disability arrives at the polling site, there must be an accessible route from the accessible parking, passenger drop-off sites, sidewalks and walkways, and public transportation stops to get to the entrance of the voting facility. The accessible route must be at least 36 inches wide. It may narrow briefly to 32 inches wide, but only for a distance of up to 24 inches. (See Part 2 of this document for tips on taking measurements.) Whenever possible, the accessible route must be the same as or near the general circulation path (i.e., the path for general pedestrian use).

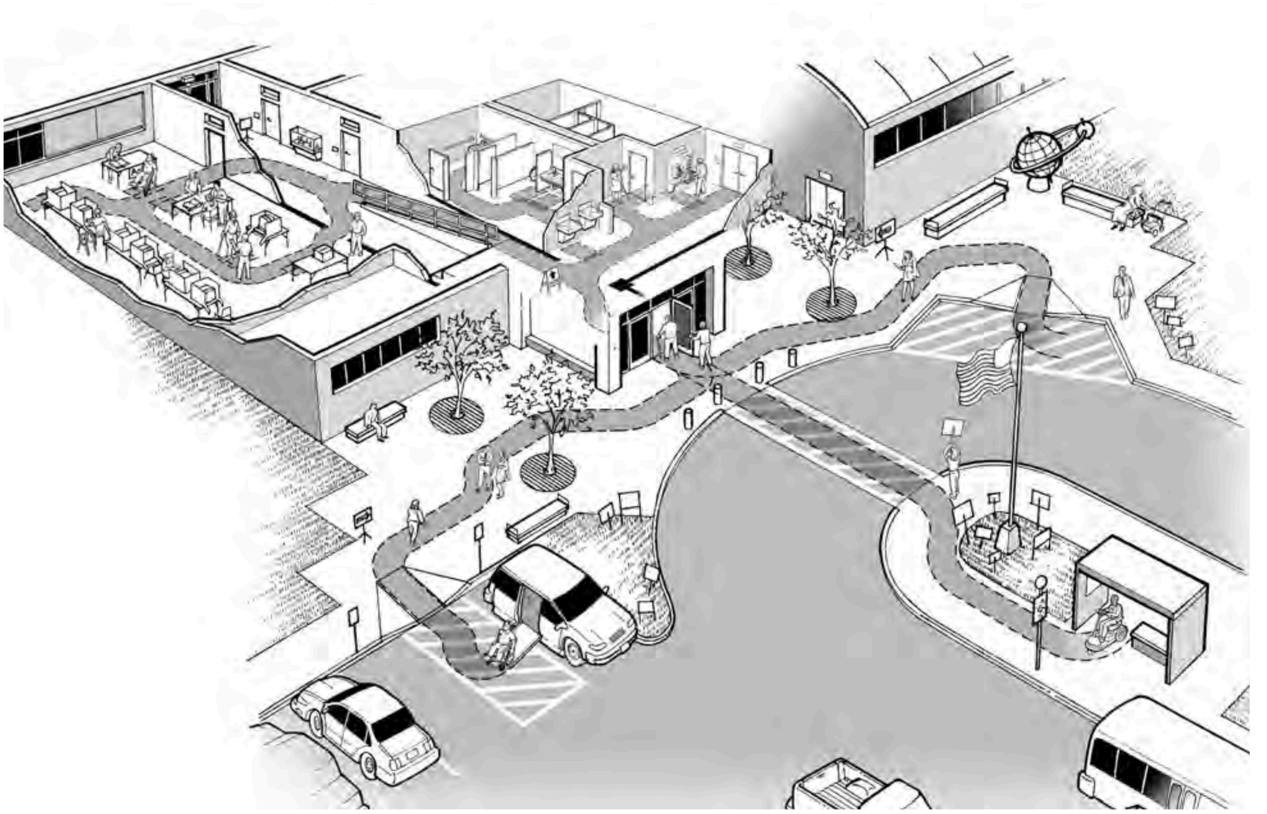
Inside the polling place, there must be an accessible route from the entrance through hallways, corridors, and interior rooms leading to the voting area. The route must be free of abrupt changes in level, steps, high thresholds, or steeply sloped walkways. The accessible route is essential for people who have difficulty walking or who use wheelchairs or other mobility devices to get into the polling place and to the voting area. Where an accessible route is different from the general circulation path, signs will be needed to direct voters with disabilities to the accessible route and to the voting area.



Accessible passenger drop-off and loading area

Route requirements are in Sections C and E of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT



Accessible routes to and within the polling place

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving the Accessible Route

Problem One: The sidewalk connecting parking to the polling place entrance is too steep to be accessible.

Solution: Check to see if there is another sidewalk that provides an accessible route to the accessible entrance. Sometimes there is a less direct route that can serve as the accessible route. If no accessible route can be found from the current designated accessible parking, relocate the accessible parking using traffic cones and signs to an area where there is an accessible route to the entrance.

Problem Two: The accessible route crosses a curb and no curb ramp is provided.

Solution: Install a portable ramp.

Problem Three: One or two steps are part of the route leading to the accessible entrance.

Solution: Install a portable ramp.

Problem Four: The interior hallway leading to the voting area contains a set of stairs that cannot be ramped.

Solution: If the accessible route cannot be relocated, look for another area where voting may be provided. For example, if the stage in a school auditorium used for voting is up several steps, perhaps the hallway or lobby area may be accessible and used for voting instead of the stage. Or, if a church basement located down a flight of stairs is used as the voting area, perhaps one of the ground floor rooms could be used as the voting area. If it is impossible to relocate the voting area for all voters, find a location for an accessible voting station that offers the same privacy as the other voting area.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ramps

If any part of the accessible route - exterior or interior - has a slope greater than 1:20, it is considered a ramp and must meet the requirements for ramps. (See Part 2 of this document for tips on measuring running slopes and cross slopes.) If any part of the accessible route contains steps, it must be ramped. Even one short step at an entrance or in a hallway can prevent access by a person using a wheelchair, walker, or cane and can make entry difficult for many people who have other mobility disabilities. Interior and exterior ramps must not be too steep and must have a level landing at the bottom and top, and where the ramp changes direction. They must meet the ADA's requirements regarding slope, width, landings, handrails, and edge protection. Ramps with a rise greater than six inches must have handrails and if there are vertical drop offs on the sides, there must be edge protection.

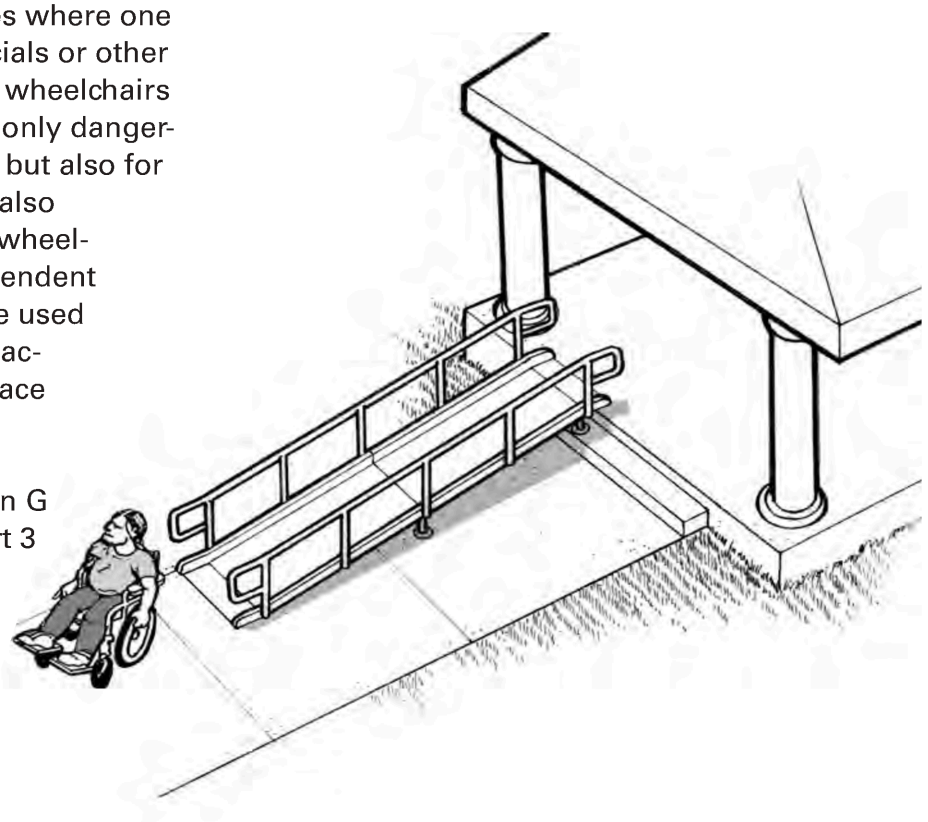
In the past, at some polling places where one or more steps were present, officials or other voters have carried people using wheelchairs up the steps. This practice is not only dangerous for the person being carried, but also for those lifting the wheelchair. It is also degrading to the person using a wheelchair and does not provide independent access. Carrying should never be used as an alternative to providing an accessible way to enter a polling place (or other facility).

Ramp requirements are in Section G of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

Solutions for Accessibility: Problems Involving Ramps

Problem One: There is a six inch high step on the accessible route that has a ramp that is only three feet long, making the ramp too steep and, therefore, inaccessible.

Solution: Alter the route to avoid the steep ramp or place a temporary ramp that is at least six feet long over the short ramp.



A portable ramp with edge protection and handrails is placed over stairs to provide an accessible route on Election Day.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

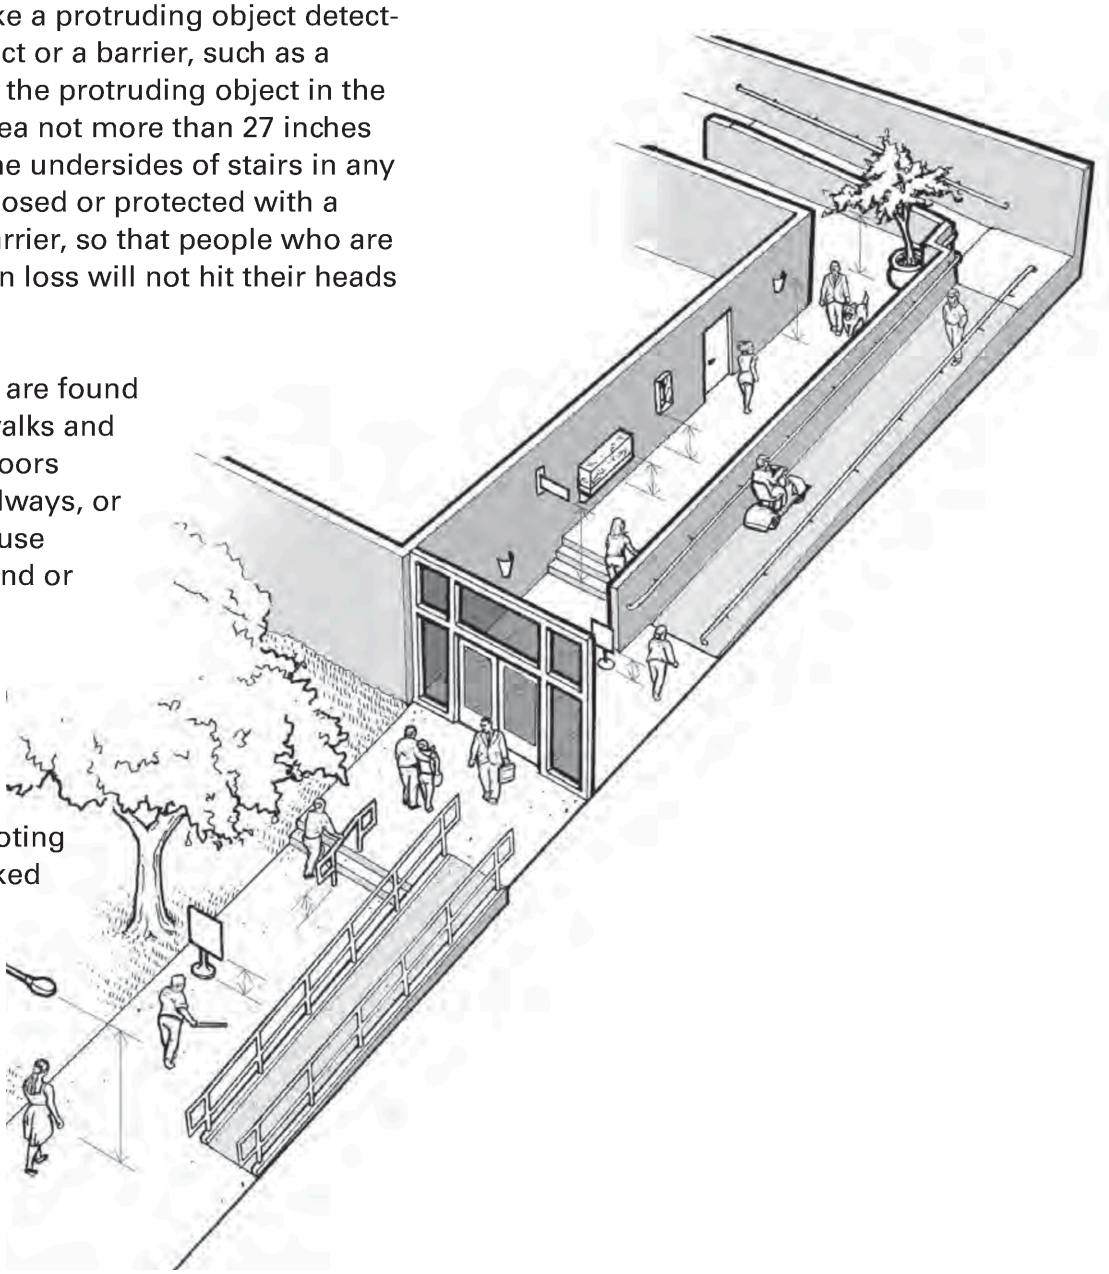
Protruding Objects

When people who are blind or who have vision loss use a cane to detect hazards, only objects located at 27 inches above the floor or ground or lower are detectable. If an object is higher than 27 inches and wall- mounted, it must not protrude more than four inches into the path of travel. Similarly, post mounted objects higher than 27 inches must not protrude more than 12 inches into the path of travel. There must be at least 80 inches clear height above the pedestrian route. To make a protruding object detectable: place an object or a barrier, such as a traffic cone, below the protruding object in the cane-detectable area not more than 27 inches above the floor. The undersides of stairs in any route must be enclosed or protected with a cane-detectable barrier, so that people who are blind or have vision loss will not hit their heads on the underside.

Protruding objects are found outdoors on sidewalks and walkways, and indoors in lobby areas, hallways, or voting areas. Because people who are blind or have vision loss may walk on any circulation path, not just the accessible routes, all routes serving or leading to the voting area must be checked for protruding objects.

Examples of outdoor protruding objects include post or wall-mounted signs and low-hanging tree limbs. Examples of indoor protruding objects include fire extinguishers and wall-mounted display cases, wall sconces, open staircases, exit signs, overhead signs, banners, and some arched doorways.

Protruding object requirements are in Sections C, E, and F of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.



Signs or other objects in the pedestrian route can be a hazard if the bottom is more than 27 inches but less than 80 inches above the route. Objects that overhang the pedestrian route must be at least 80 inches above the route.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving Protruding Objects

Problem One: Objects, such as branches and ceiling-mounted televisions, over a route are lower than 80 inches above the ground or floor.

Solution: Prune the branches or remove the items that are hanging below 80 inches. Another approach is to install a detectable barrier under the item that is too low. The detectable barrier or object must be no higher than 27 inches above the route.

Problem Two: A wall-mounted display case protrudes seven inches from the wall and the bottom of the case is 40 inches above the floor.

Solution: Place a detectable object or skirting below the case. The bottom of the skirting or detectable object must be no higher than 27 inches above the floor.

Problem Three: The bottom of a set of stairs is open and voters who are blind or have vision loss can hit their head on the underside of the stairs.

Solution: Provide a detectable fence or other object so voters cannot walk under the stairs.

Building Entrance

A polling place must have at least one accessible entrance. At least one door at the accessible entrance must have a minimum clear width of 32 inches for a voter who uses a wheelchair or other mobility device to pass through the doorway. (See Part 2 of this document for tips on taking measurements.) Door hardware must be useable with one hand without tight grasping, pinching, or twisting of the wrist, so that it is operable by someone with limited mobility in their hands. Doors may not have high thresholds that impede voters who use wheelchairs or other mobility devices in crossing the threshold. Inaccessible entrances must have signs directing voters to the accessible entrance. The accessible entrance must remain unlocked at all times the polling place is open.

When the underside of a set of stairs is open, it is a hazard to people who are blind or have low vision. Enclosing the area below the stair or installing a cane-detectable barrier helps the person to stop before hitting her head.

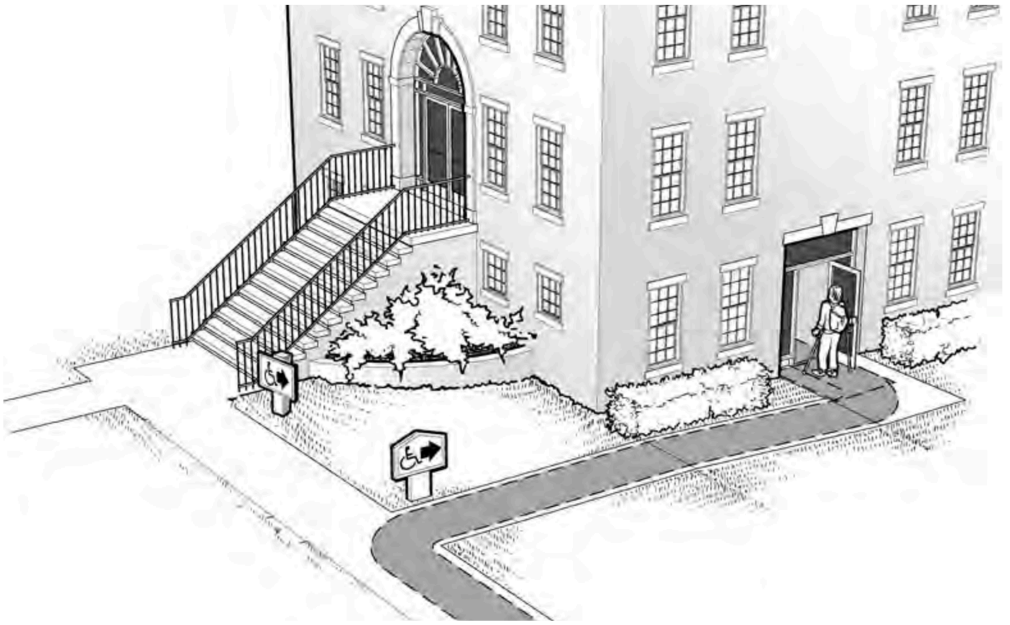
Building entrance requirements are in Section D of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving the Building Entrance

Problem One: One or two steps at the entrance prevent access.

Solution: If another entrance is accessible and on an accessible route from parking, passenger drop-off sites, or public transportation stops, designate it as the accessible entrance. If the main entrance is not accessible, install a directional sign at the main entrance directing voters with disabilities to the accessible entrance. Keep the accessible entrance unlocked during all voting hours. If another accessible entrance is not available, install a temporary ramp at the main entrance.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT



Accessible entrance to polling place with signs directing voters to the accessible entrance

Problem Two: The entrance door threshold is one inch high.

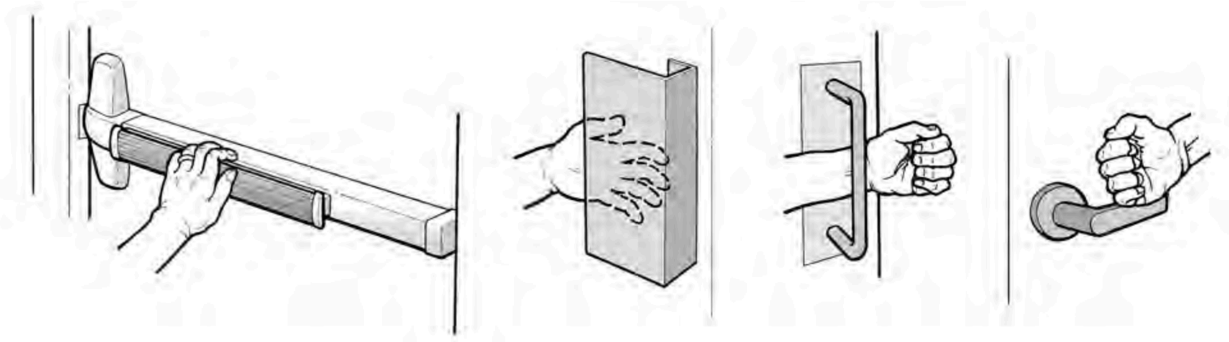
Solution: Short ramps or wedges may be used on both sides of the threshold to allow a voter in a wheelchair to pass over the threshold.

Problem Three: The entrance doors are narrow double leaf doors that are normally opened by an automatic door opener but it is not working on Election Day.

Solution: Keep both doors propped open, station volunteers near the doors to open them for voters while the polling place is open, or provide a temporary doorbell to notify officials that the door needs to be opened in a timely manner.

Problem Four: The entrance door has a door knob and/or latch that requires tight pinching and twisting and is not accessible.

Solution: There are four typical solutions: add an accessible pull or handle and leave the door unlatched; install fully accessible door hardware; leave the door propped open; or provide a temporary doorbell to notify officials that the door needs to be opened in a timely manner.



Examples of accessible door hardware

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Lifts and Elevators

If the voting area is not on the same level as the entrance, there must be an independently operable elevator or lift to provide an accessible route to individuals with disabilities. The door into the elevator or lift and the space within must be wide enough to accommodate wheelchairs and other mobility devices. All controls should be operable without tight grasping, pinching, or twisting and should be no higher than 48 inches. Chair or seated lifts found on staircases do not comply with the 2010 Standards as they are not suited for many voters with disabilities, including people who use wheelchairs.

Lift and elevator requirements are in Section H and I of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving Lifts and Elevators

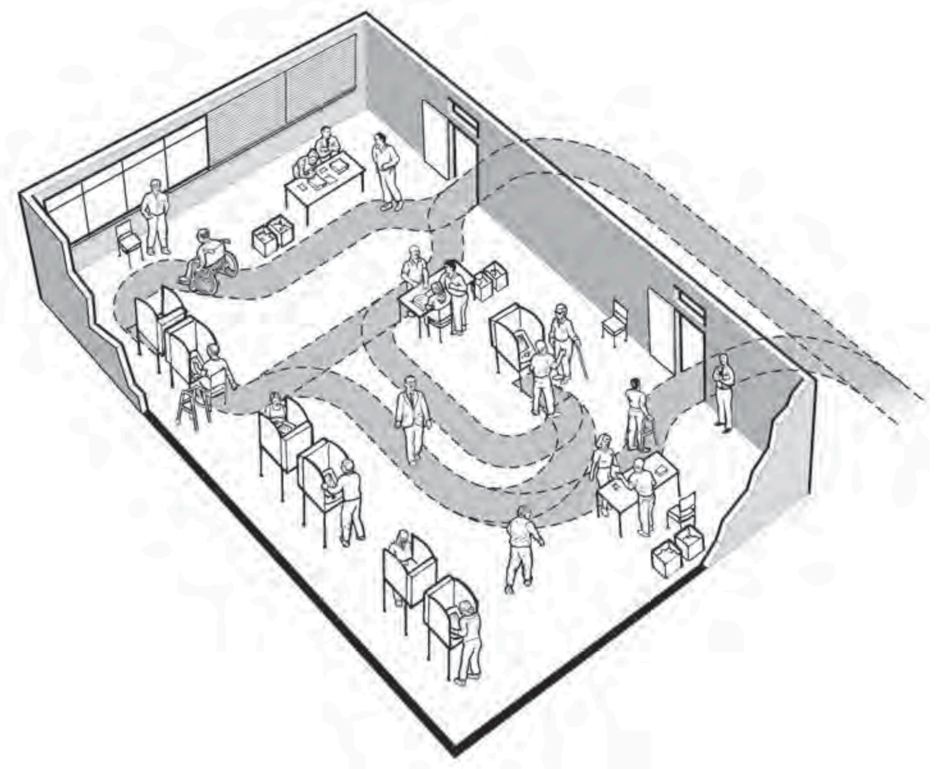
Problem One: The elevator or lift to the voting area requires a key to be inserted before the elevator or lift is operational.

Solution: Relocate the voting area to avoid use of the elevator or lift. Otherwise, leave the key in the elevator or lift for the entire time the polling place is open, or station a volunteer, who has been trained in its operation, to operate the elevator or lift while the polling place is open.

Voting Area

The accessible voting area must have an accessible entrance and adequate circulation and maneuvering space for voters who use wheelchairs or scooters, or who walk with mobility devices, to get in to the voting area, sign in at the check-in table, and go to the voting stations or machines. Within the voting area there must be enough clearance for an individual with a disability to access and use all the voting equipment. Voting machines should be positioned so that the highest operable part is no higher than 48 inches. If voters are expected to vote at counters or tables, there should be a writing surface that provides knee and toe clearance so that a voter who uses a wheelchair may sit at and use the counter or table.

Voting area requirements are in Section F of the 2016 Checklist found in Part 3 of this document.



An accessible route connects the building entrance with the voting area, including voter check-in and voting stations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Solutions for Accessibility:
Problems Involving the Voting Area

Problem One: The voting area is in a small room and the accessible voting machine is only two feet from the check-in table.

Solution: Relocate the voting area to a larger space such as a hallway or lobby or change the layout of the voting area by moving the check-in table outside the room to provide appropriate space for voters with disabilities to use the accessible voting machine.

Part 2: Tools for Surveys

The tools necessary to conduct surveys using the 2016 Checklist are inexpensive and many, if not all, can be purchased at local hardware and home improvement stores.

Tools and Documentation

The following tools are needed for the 2016 Checklist:

- a metal tape measure at least 20 feet long
- a digital level or a bubble level that is at least 24 inches long
- a door pressure gauge
- a digital camera with a flash
- a copy of the 2016 Checklist for each location to be surveyed
- a clipboard and pens or pencils

Completing Measurements and Recording Information

One person can complete a survey of a polling place but it is often quicker and easier for two people to work together. One can be responsible for taking the measurements and the other for recording the information and taking any photographs.

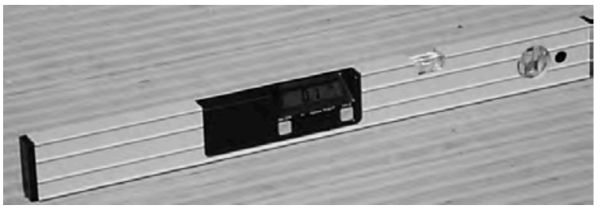
Taking Measurements

Sloped Surfaces
Measuring the slope of a ramp, parking space, pedestrian route, or other ground or floor surface is important to identify whether the surface is accessible. Two slope measurements perpendicular to one another should be taken at each location. One is the running slope that runs parallel to the direction of travel and the other is the cross slope, which runs perpendicular to the running slope.

The amount of slope or grade is described as the proportion of a vertical rise to a horizontal length. It is usually described as:

- a ratio (e.g., 1:20, means one unit of vertical rise for each 20 units of horizontal length); or
- a percentage (e.g., 8.33% which equates to a ratio of 1:12 or 4.76 degrees).

The easiest way to measure slope is to use a digital level. The digital display gives a reading that may be shown as a ratio, percent, or degree. Calibrate the digital level before each use.



A digital level that can be used with measurements in degrees, percentages, or ratios

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

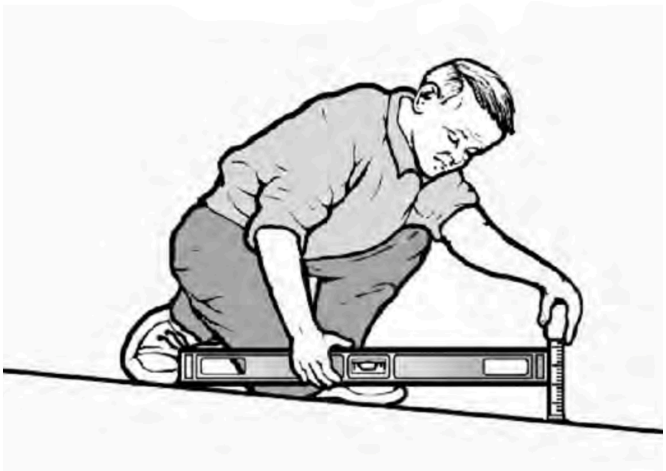
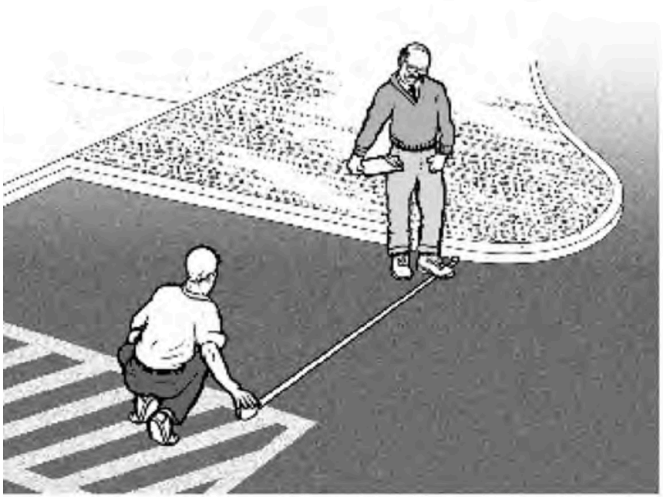
Another way to measure slope is to use a 24 inch level with leveling bubbles and a tape measure. Place the level on the sloped surface in the direction you wish to measure. Rest one end of the level at the highest point of the sloped surface and lift the other end (see image) until the bubble is in the middle of the tube. This is the "level" position. While the level is in this position, measure the distance between the bottom end of the level and the sloped surface below. If the distance is two inches or less, then the slope is 1:12 or less. When the distance is more than two inches, record the distance on the checklist so the exact slope can be calculated later. For measuring cross slope, if the distance measured from the level position is ½ inch or less then the slope is 1:48 or less.



Measuring slope using a 24 inch bubble level and tape measure

Using the Tape Measure

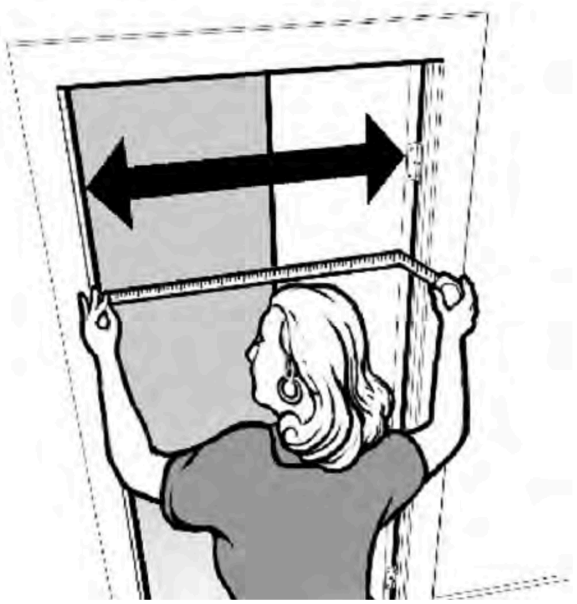
A tape measure is used to measure the length, width, height, and depth of various elements including parking spaces and access aisles, routes, thresholds, doorways, and protruding objects.



Using a tape measure to measure the width of a parking space

Measuring Door Openings

Special care is needed when measuring the clear opening of a doorway. To measure the clear opening of a standard hinged door, open the door to 90 degrees. Measure the clear door opening from the edge of the doorstop to the edge of the door (not to the door jamb). This measures the clear width of the door opening through which people pass, which is less than the width of the door itself. Door handles and push bars should not be included in the measurements of door opening widths.



Measuring the clear door opening

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Taking Photographs

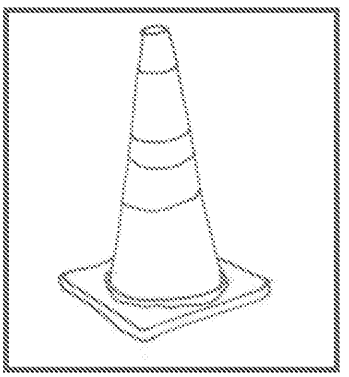
It is always useful to first take a photo that will clearly identify the site, then the elements surveyed. A comprehensive set of photographs makes it easier to understand existing conditions after the survey is completed. It is a good idea to take several photos of the exterior and interior of the polling place. We recommend taking photographs of measurements and non-compliant elements such as steps. It is likely that others may review information about the facility you are surveying.

Temporary Remedies

Many accessibility barriers at polling places can be removed with temporary remedies. Although not designed to be permanent solutions, the following tools can be used to provide remedies on Election Day to improve accessibility. These tools can often be found in local hardware and home improvement stores or online at minimal cost.

Temporary Remedies

Traffic Cones

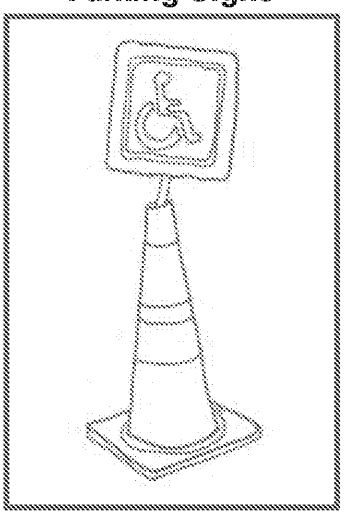


Traffic cones can be used to mark parking spaces, access aisles and passenger loading zones, to hold parking signs, and to warn of protruding objects.

Van Parking Sign

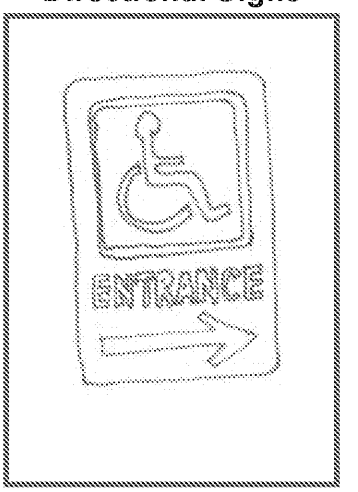
Van accessible parking signs should be used to designate van accessible parking locations.

Parking Signs



Accessible parking signs should be used to designate accessible parking locations.

Directional Signs



Directional signage should be used to show direction to the accessible route, accessible entrance, and voting area.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

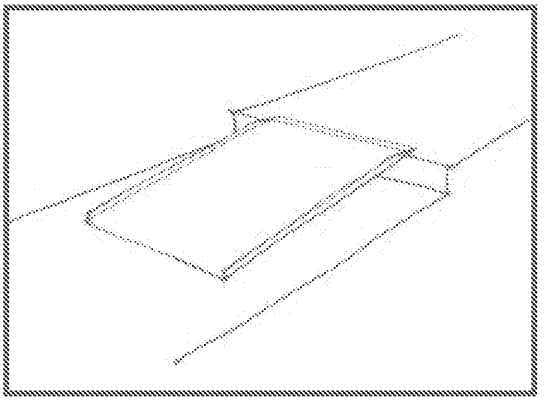
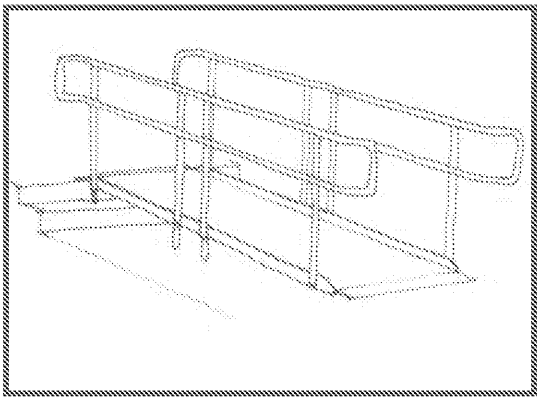
Portable ramp - step six inches or less



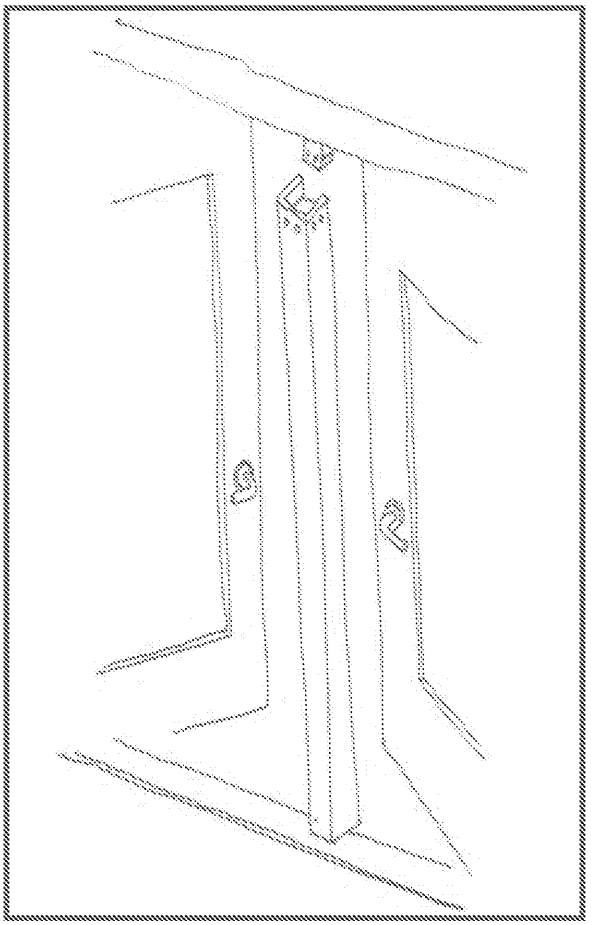
Portable ramps without handrails can only be used for heights six inches or less and can provide access at a curb or low step. Portable ramps also can be placed flat to cover holes or gaps in a sidewalk.

Portable ramp - greater than six inch step



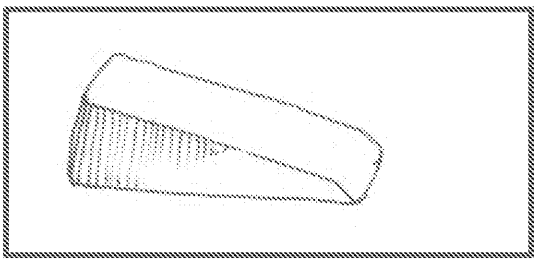
Portable ramps with handrails must be used for heights greater than six inches to provide access over steps. For ramps greater than six inches high, temporary edge protection such as a pipe or piece of wood can be attached with ties or twine to the edges of the ramp. Edge protection must run the entire length of the ramp.

Remove post (increase clear width at double leaf doors)



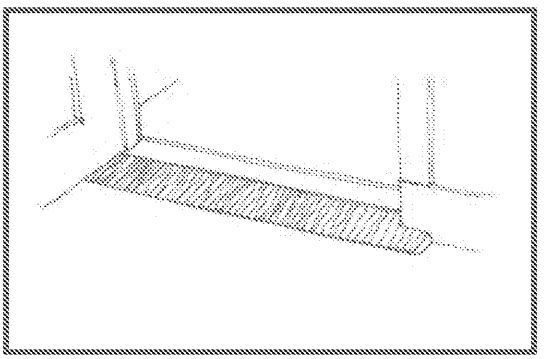
Remove center post between doors if the post is bolted to the door frame to provide a 32 inch clear opening or to allow double doors to be propped open.

Door stop



Door stops can be used to prop open a door if the door handle is inaccessible, or if there is an inadequate maneuvering clearance for a person using a wheelchair or other mobility device to open the door.

Wedges



Wedges can provide access at thresholds and slight changes in level.

Part 3 : Polling Place Accessibility Checklist

Ward:_____ Precinct:_____ Staff:_____ Date:_____ Time:_____

Address:_____ Location name:_____

This checklist is designed to provide guidance for determining whether a polling place has basic accessibility features needed by voters with disabilities.

For each question below there are citations to the 2010 ADA Standards for Accessible Design (2010 Standards). Please review the 2010 Standards for all requirements.

There are some differences between the 1991 ADA Standards for Accessible Design (1991 Standards) and the 2010 Standards. Elements and spaces in a building constructed or altered before March 15, 2012, that complied with the 1991 Standards may remain in compliance with the 2010 Standards. See 28 C.F.R. §35.150(b)(2) for more information.

In completing the checklist, provide a measurement for every question with a "no" answer. Where a question asks about more than one element, provide a note in the comments explaining any noncompliant elements.

Good afternoon. For all of you with security cameras in your office, I want to point out a new ruling from the Office of Open Records (OOR), upheld by Luzerne County's Court of Common Pleas.

The case involves a voter wanting to have access to video surveillance footage of buildings where ballots were processed and voting equipment was maintained, around the dates of the election. The OOR ruled that, because the video files concern an election, they "qualify as 'other documents and records' in the custody of the County's Board of Elections", and are subject to a records request. There is also a 2020 ruling from Delaware County holding that video security is subject to a records request. I have attached both decisions and the news article regarding the most recent ruling is below.

https://www.timesleader.com/news/1621242/court-affirms-groups-access-to-luzerne-county-election-video-footage

The moral of the story is to be aware that all of your office security videos are open to a records request.

Kindest regards,

Thad

Julie and Bryan – appreciate that you pulled this schedule together. However, no meeting invitations have been sent.

I just looked at my calendar and I am not going to be able to make the meeting on 2/15. Additionally, that day we have Jessica coming in to discuss e poll books at 4pm.

Please replace Deirdre with Jonelle and Joe Curcillo ([redacted]

If you would like Rebecca to send meeting invites, let me know. She can secure a conference room in PVR and set up Microsoft teams meeting. So, the sooner we can get these blocked on calendars the better.

Thanks…julie

ss. Voter Reference Foundation (voteref.com, voterreferencefoundation.com)

For part 1 of this request, please note that American Oversight does not seek, and that this request specifically excludes, the initial mailing of news clips or other mass-distribution emails. However, subsequent communications responding to or forwarding such emails are responsive to this request. In other words, for example, if an official received a mass-distribution news clip email from the Election Integrity Network, that initial email would not be responsive to this request. However, if the official forwarded that email to another listed individual with their own commentary, that subsequent message would be responsive to this request and should be produced.

2. All email communications (including emails, email attachments, complete email chains, calendar invitations, and calendar invitation attachments) sent by any of the officials listed above in part 1 and containing any of the key terms listed below.

Key Terms:

i. "election integrity"
ii. "election fraud"
iii. "election audit"
iv. "election certification"
v. "certify election"
vi. "certify results"
vii. "certify the election"
viii. "voting fraud"
ix. "voter fraud"
x. "vote fraud"
xi. recount
xii. re-count xiii. observer
xiv. CVR
xv. "cast vote record"
xvi. "hand count"
xvii. hand-count
xviii. handcount
xix. elector

In an effort to accommodate your office and reduce the number of potentially responsive records to be processed and produced, American Oversight has limited part 2 of this request to emails sent by the specified individuals. However, American Oversight requests that complete email chains be produced, displaying both sent and received messages. This means that both an individual's response to an email and the initial received message are responsive to this request and should be produced.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

For both parts of this request, please provide all responsive records from May 1, 2023, through the date the search is conducted.

If American Oversight's request for a fee waiver, is not granted in full, please contact us immediately upon making such a determination. Please notify us of any anticipated fees or costs in excess of $100 prior to incurring such costs or fee.

Fee Waiver Request

In accordance with 65 P.S. § 67.1307(f)(2), American Oversight requests a waiver of fees associated with processing this request for records, because disclosure of the requested information is "in the public interest."

The public has a significant interest in communications between Pennsylvania officials and election integrity activists.[1] Records with the potential to shed light on this matter would contribute significantly to public understanding of operations of the government, including whether and to what extent election integrity activists have influenced officials' decisions.

American Oversight is committed to transparency and makes the responses agencies provide to open records requests publicly available, and the public's understanding of the government's activities would be enhanced through American Oversight's analysis and publication of these records. American Oversight's mission is to promote transparency in government, to educate the public about government activities, and to ensure the accountability of government officials. American Oversight uses the information gathered, and its analysis of it, to educate the public through reports, press releases, or other media. American Oversight also makes materials it gathers available on its public website and promotes their availability on social media platforms, such as Facebook and Twitter.com.[2]

American Oversight has also demonstrated its commitment to the public disclosure of documents and creation of editorial content through regular substantive analyses posted to its website.[3] Examples reflecting this commitment to the public disclosure of documents and the creation of editorial content include the posting of records and analysis related to the organization's investigations into misconduct and corruption in Finally, this request is primarily and fundamentally for non-commercial purposes. As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, American Oversight does not have a commercial purpose and the release of the information requested is not in American Oversight's financial interest.

Guidance Regarding the Search & Processing of Requested Records

In connection with its request for records, American Oversight provides the following guidance regarding the scope of the records sought and the search and processing of records:

- Please search all locations and systems likely to have responsive records, regardless of format, medium, or physical characteristics.

- Our request for records includes any attachments to those records or other materials enclosed with those records when they were previously transmitted. To the extent that an email is responsive to our request, our request includes all prior messages sent or received in that email chain, as well as any attachments to the email.

- Please search all relevant records or systems containing records regarding agency business. Do not exclude records regarding agency business contained in files, email accounts, or devices in the personal custody of your officials, such as personal email accounts or text messages. Records of official business conducted using unofficial systems or stored outside of official files are subject to the Right-to-Know Law.[8]

- In the event some portions of the requested records are properly exempt from disclosure, please disclose any reasonably segregable non-exempt portions of the requested records under 65 P.S. § 67.706. If a request is denied in whole, please state specifically why it is not reasonable to segregate portions of the record for release.

- Please take appropriate steps to ensure that records responsive to this request are not deleted by the agency before the completion of processing for this request. If records potentially responsive to this request are likely to be located on systems where they are subject to potential deletion, including on a scheduled basis, please take steps to prevent that deletion, including, as appropriate, by instituting a litigation hold on those records.

Conclusion

If you have any questions regarding how to construe this request for records or believe that further discussions regarding search and processing would facilitate a more efficient production of records of interest to American Oversight, please do not hesitate to contact American Oversight to discuss this request. American Oversight welcomes an opportunity to discuss its request with you before you undertake your search or incur search or duplication costs. By working together at the outset, American

Where possible, please provide responsive material in an electronic format by email. Alternatively, please provide responsive material in native format or in PDF format on a USB drive. Please send any responsive material being sent by mail to American Oversight, 1030 15th Street NW, Suite B255, Washington, DC 20005.
