2	1/26/2026 22:47	De-escala	Lives/work	Seward	I've been in Minneapolis for over a decade and have had my issues with MPD, especially during the George Floyd protests. I want to acknowledge that I have seen improvements in the conduct of officers over the years. To the LEOs and administrators that are attempting to improve the MPD to better serve the community, thank you. Any trust earned since the murder of George Floyd was hard fought. I've seen almost all of that trust evaporate with ICE. MPD was placed in an impossible situation. I can't imagine how infuriating it must be to see ICE target, harass, harm, and kill the community you swore to protect. Please, share that pain with the city. We need to hear from officers that they see the damage being done. That they understand ICE is only making messes for them to clean up. To salt the wound, ICE takes credit for arrests made by local law enforcement. Thank you for your time, I'll see you out there.	916	165
3	1/25/2026 14:10	ICE	Does not live/work in		Craig Anderson, Washburn '73. I love Mpls. The department, from the top down, is doing an outstanding job in dealing with the current ICE situation. You could never know how grateful people are for your service in the difficult situation. Thank you Thank you Thank you !	279	56
4	1/15/2026 22:14	Mission Vi	Does not live/work in		Hello, I've just been writing to representatives and to the governors office regarding ICE presence in our state. Obviously it is a scary time for all of us and for the rule of law in our nation. I understand that the Minneapolis Police Department is being tested by this situation, as is everyone. I wanted to thank the department for drawing a distinction between the training and behavior they accept and what ICE agents have been displaying. I think it is really critical that people in law enforcement call out unacceptable behavior instead of just blindly supporting the federal agents. However I think it's imperative that the local police force make their allegiance to the law and to the people they swore to protect more evident. I understand you are outnumbered and that we are attempting to avoid an armed conflict and the administration's use of the Insurrection Act. But when there is a 911 call regarding ICE agents, considering all that has transpired, I think it is safe to approach the scene with the understanding that ICE is likely the aggressor and there are citizens who need protection from them. This is not the time for normal crowd control tactics. In fact, in tenuous situations, I think a crowd of protestors would be greatly reassured if the police force simply put their bodies between ICE agents and the public and aimed their attention and authority at ICE in an effort to deescalate. The public are feeling helpless. We need to see people in authority - the MPD and our public officials - doing everything they can to turn this situation around. Thank you, Rachael	1604	269

Out of the immense anger and turmoil our state and specifically Minneapolis went through today, I really respected seeing the police not fight back against protestors. I saw protestors throwing snowballs at LE and for sure not okay, but it felt like LE not reacting to that was a sign of respect and understanding for the anger and turmoil people were feeling. They took that for us and I appreciate they didn't react and allowed the cries of the people to exist. Thank you for trying to help us stay safe from a govt that feels so unsafe right now. 10	1/18/2026 12:04	Use of for	Lives/work	Downtown	So what are we doing now that we have the court order that ICE cannot tear gas or detain citizens? The Sherrifs at the Whipple Building is a start, but I want to see our police force arresting ICE agents who are committing crimes. I want to see them visibly on the side of the people. The community is stepping up in full force - did you see how amazing it was when we chased Nazi's out of downtown yesterday? I am in so much awe of my neighbors standing together. We are rising to meet this crisis of democracy, and we need the support of the politicians law enforcement officials in the state. Also I wanted to comment on the MPD trying to do crowd control in downtown yesterday after the protest. What the fuck? How did anyone thing that escalation was appropriate? The crowd would have dispersed themselves but instead we were sooooo fucking scared that oh no! a window might be broken! that we brought our own law enforcement out again to intimidate protestors. Please stop doing that. It is so unhelpful. Last I saw a tiktok yesterday that I thought summarized my feelings perfectly. This is what you guys sound like. Don't give them what they want, don't be violent. Just let them do whatever they want, which is brutalize and kidnap our neighbors." This is how you come across to the community."

13	1/15/2026 18:08	Assisting I	Lives/works in Minne		Incredibly disappointed that despite the statements made by Chief O'Hara. Time and time again, I have seen your officers side by side with ICE. I protested at the Whipple Building the day after Good's murder, most in attendance were retirement age. Our assembly was completely peaceful, we were well within our 1st amendment rights voicing our opinions on this terror caused by ICE. The goal was to block the public street so ICE vehicles could not access the lot for the Whipple Building. Almost immediately, ICE agents and men in Minneapolis police uniform were shoving us to the ground, pointing their mace and guns at us. I watched senior citizens get shoved to the ground for holding up signs and "getting too close" (the cleared well over 2 lanes of traffic and shoved anyone that got closer than that). I have a video of a local police officer yelling at a woman to "shut the fuck up", she was complying with their established boundary and was only expressing her freedom of speech. The same officer then pointed at a man the woman was with and said "get her out of here before I arrest her". Totally unprofessional, and that's coming from a cop that got MONTHS more training than these unidentified, masked DHS agents. Separate from that, I've seen in news that you guys have done mass arrests of protesters outside of hotels which are hosting ICE. I believe your narrative about "dangerous protesters" just as much as I believe DHS's claim that they're only going after violent criminals. And you wonder why local communities do not trust you? We will not support law enforcement which goes after people practicing their first amendment rights rather than the masked Gestapo that illegally goes door to door grabbing anyone who is brown or has an accent. They've shot multiple innocent people just for resisting. Do you believe you all have "absolute immunity"? That your badge somehow absolves you of the crimes you commit while wearing it? I don't think so and the LAW SAYS SO. If you want the community to actually trust that you guys are here to serve and protect, then do that. Protect the community from these masked kidnappers and killers. Arrest officers when they break not only the law but also their sworn duty.
14	1/15/2026 14:17	Law enfor	Does not live/work in		It is disrespectful that your police department doesn't stand with ICE. The ICE officers are constantly in danger and yet they stand alone against the increasing crowds of protesters, actually committing crimes.

One addition, see below for updated draft.

Earlier this morning, several schools reported to MPD they had received a threatening email. MPD is aware that the email was sent to multiple schools in multiple jurisdictions. We are investigating the threats in cooperation with our law enforcement partners. At this time, we do not believe the threats are credible.

You don't often get email from anthony.lonetree@startribune.com. Learn why this is important

Hello,

I called and spoke briefly with the on-call PIO who asked me to put my request in writing.

I am a Star Tribune education reporter and I'm writing about two emails sent by middle schools in Minneapolis about lockouts this morning that state:

"Our school received a bomb threat that MPD has deemed as non-credible. We have learned that other school districts are also receiving similar threats."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Here are the questions:

1. Do you know how many schools and-or school districts have received these threats, and if you know their names, can you please share them?

2. Are these threats related to ICE and-or Border Patrol activities, or was any reason given why a bomb might be placed at the school?

Hope to hear from you soon. Thanks.

This is Philip Wang from Time Magazine. I have a few questions regarding a current update between the Minneapolis Police Department and ICE. Specifically:

1. Has there been any communications between ICE and MPD since the death of Renee Good? What can you tell us about these communications, if there are any?

- Communications between MPD and ICE is limited. Currently, communications occurs when ICE agents request MPD during single incidents. As an example, this communication occurred on the morning of January 7th as MPD responded to the scene.

2. How do you describe the current working dynamics between ICE and MPD?

2. With hundreds more federal law enforcement officials being dispatched to the city, what is MPD's message to the federal government as well as protesters?

- MPD expects Ice to perform their duties in a professional manner, using sound strategies and tactics that protect the safety of officers and civilians, and that protects the constitutional rights of everyone involved.
- MPD expects that individuals who wish to exercise their right to observe, record, and protest government actions do so in a lawful manner.

The deadline for these questions is 9:30am Tuesday morning. Thank you for your time.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Today, January 24, 2026, at approximately 9:03am Minneapolis Police Department responded to a officer involved shooting (OIS) involving federal law enforcement agents located at 26th and Nicollet Ave S. The subject that was shot by federal agents has been declared deceased.

This is the third OIS by federal law enforcement since January 7th, 2026 and tensions continue to run high. A large group of approximately 200 agitated protesters arrived and turned into anger. The agitators started throwing large ice chunks, glass bottles, and started blocking roads with dumpsters, wood pallets, and items located in the area. The agitators lit a couple dumpsters on fire and several are wearing gas masks. Officers trying to contain the scene, deployed gas canisters and agitators have been picking them up and throwing them back.

Once the shooting had been confirmed, we immediately requested the Minnesota BCA respond to conduct a force investigation. I also initiated a callback of Minneapolis police personnel on standby, made an emergency recall of all personnel not on duty, and requested mutual aid.

Surrounding agencies to include the Minnesota State Patrol, and Hennepin County Sheriff's Office sent resources to help quell the violent behavior. Additional resources from St Paul Police, Ramsey County, and suburban Hennepin agencies were quickly requested to backfill patrol across the City of Minneapolis to respond to 911 calls.

On the scene, MPD, mutual aid resources, and BCA are focused on securing the scene perimeter while the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension processed the scene. FBI resources just vacated the scene and the crime scene is being compromised by agitators. Staffing and resources were not sufficient to support mass arrests if they had been needed during this escalating incident.

Agencies across the metro area are experiencing similar challenges that MPD is facing in regard to depleting their staffing and resources. Since the first OIS on January 7th involving federal agents, MPD has experienced numerous protests and gatherings across the city to include a march of upwards of 100,000 people.

Tensions are continuing to run high with an anticipated anti-Muslim protest and counter protest in the Somali Community, numerous threats towards Somali owned businesses, and numerous bomb threats at children's schools and religious venues.

Historical events in Minneapolis prove that where large groups gather after a significant incident; civil unrest, violence and significant property damage followed. It is also important to note that more 500 sworn members have separated from the MPD since 2020. The continued level of understaffing within the MPD is causing significant concern about the health, wellness, and resiliency of all sworn members as this crisis continues to escalate.

Due to our staffing shortage of 541 officers on full duty, and outside agency requests that have gone unfilled for this past week, we will very quickly exhaust resources necessary to full provide public safety services to the City of Minneapolis in the event that other large-scale incidents occur.

For context, there are approximately 10,000 licensed police officers in the State of Minnesota. According to reports, there are well over 3,000 additional federal law enforcement personnel in the state conducting the operations that are resulting in these OIS incidents.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We know there were previously planned protests and counter-protests upcoming, and we are actively monitoring this evolving situation as it continues to unfold. We are concerned for the potential escalation of the situation through additional protests due to last night's OIS and are concerned with the possibility of future force incidents in the city involving federal law enforcement.

In light of all facts and circumstances that are currently before us and noting that this is an unusual and unprecedented situation, I am recommending the Mayor request the activation of the Minnesota National Guard to support in the City of Minneapolis to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city by assisting with a vehicle exclusionary zone in the area.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Today, January 24, 2026, at approximately 9:03am Minneapolis Police Department responded to an officer involved shooting (OIS) involving federal law enforcement agents located at 26th and Nicollet Avenue S. The subject that was shot by federal agents has been declared deceased.

This is the third OIS by federal law enforcement since January 7th, 2026, and tensions continue to run high. A large group of approximately 200 agitated protesters arrived and turned into an unlawful assembly. The protesters started throwing large ice chunks, glass bottles, and started blocking roads with dumpsters, wood pallets, and other items located in the area. The agitators lit multiple dumpsters on fire and several are wearing gas masks. Officers tried to contain the scene by deploying gas canisters and protesters have been picking them up and throwing them back.

Once the shooting had been confirmed, we immediately requested the Minnesota BCA respond to conduct a force investigation. I also initiated a callback of Minneapolis police personnel on standby, made an emergency recall of all personnel not on duty, and requested mutual aid.

Surrounding agencies to include the Minnesota State Patrol, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, and Hennepin County Sheriff's Office have already sent resources to help quell the violent behavior. Additional resources from St Paul Police, Ramsey County, and suburban Hennepin agencies were quickly requested to backfill patrol across the City of Minneapolis to respond to 911 calls.

On the scene, MPD, mutual aid resources, and BCA are focused on securing the scene perimeter while the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension is processing the scene. FBI resources recently left the scene and the crime scene is being compromised by protesters. Staffing and resources are not sufficient to support mass arrests if they are needed during this escalating incident.

Agencies across the metro area are experiencing similar challenges that MPD is facing in regard to depleting their staffing and resources. Subject: Community Safety Collaborative

Hi everyone,

We had a small group at the Community Safety Collaborative this week. Here are my notes:

- App to share – discuss at next meeting
- New Deputy Director
  - John Jordan was hired by Neighborhood Safety. He comes from USAID and was doing international CVI work in Haiti and Honduras as well as consulting with community organizations in Washington DC. His focus with the City is on internal staff processes while Amanda will do external facing work like attending community meetings.
- Safety ambassadors
  - Neighborhood Safety is prioritizing continuing to have services on East Lake and Franklin Avenue. The program is funded with 1 time money will need ongoing funds at some point. We have enough funds to do at least a second year at the current sites and possibly expand.
- Sabathani put out request for help - looking for one violence interrupter that speaks English/Spanish
  - Amanda suggested Northside Residents Redevelopment council that had a workforce training program for people doing violence prevention, this turned out not to be a good resource after talking to the organization.
- ICE situation - discussed
  - Resources on City of Minneapolis webpage including free legal clinics with immigration attorneys
  - Know your Rights and other resources in various languages
  - Hennepin County will also share resources
- Community Organization Events/Resources
  - 12/13 1-3 TOUCH – MinneapolUS event to give out toys and trees
  - 12/19 5-7 PM Whittier Park event - MPRB
  - Sabathani 12/18 coat drive - register on website 10-1:30
  - Sabathani 12/13 7 PM winter concert
  - Sabathani 12/13 Holiday Market 2-6 PM
  - 12/16 9-11 Capri Sharing Our Future Together event
- Dr. Mattison suggested having a meal (catered or potluck) at the next meeting in January.
  - Folks had interest but no plans were made

At some point we also talked about needing real time data/information. 911 has a dashboard that shows all calls within the last 12 hours. It's slightly delayed but only about 30 minutes.

I'm using an email list of people who have most consistently attended these meetings rather than the larger meeting invitation list. Apologies if I left off anyone.

Good afternoon, All,
A big thanks for all of the work to date. Your flexibility and responsivity has been stellar and your work is appreciated. We are maintaining this preparedness posture until further notice.

A few very important points:

- Full uniforms are required to be worn by all sworn personnel while they are working. This includes training.
  - Include warm weather gear, high viz vests and all of your civil disturbance gear.
  - Maintain a cache of snacks and water with you and assume a bathroom break may not be immediately available if your skills are engaged into a problem.
- Gas masks are of primary importance.
  - They should be with you along with all of your civil disturbance gear.

AMERICA OVERSIGHT

    - These federal folks have no qualms about using gas and we need our personnel prepared to protect themselves.
    - This gear should be inside your squad cars and not left at a precinct.
- If you are attending training:
    - You will be sent back to your home assignment if you arrive to a training day without your uniform.
- Please re-fuel your vehicles when they are half-empty / half-full.

We do not have an end-date on the period we are experiencing and will keep you informed if/when we learn otherwise. Please maintain awareness on your limits and the wellness of others in your workgroup.

Respectfully,

Plymouth
CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Plymouth Congregational Church, located in the heart of downtown Minneapolis for over 150 years and in the middle of a city and neighborhood that has long welcomed immigrants, seeks to embody the radical love and justice found in the life, teachings and spirit of Jesus. We object to what we see going on in our city and state with Operation Metro Surge.

As citizens, we demand that ICE and Border Patrol agents abide by Federal and State laws guarding basic rights to due process, privacy and equal protections under the law, and against unlawful or unreasonable seizures, and warrantless arrests. We demand, too, respect for – and protection of – the rights of people to freedom of speech and assembly, including the right to protest the cruelty we are witnessing daily.

We call on the Federal Department of Homeland Security to end Operation Metro Surge.

Our faith traditions demand more of us. Our ancient Hebrew tradition teaches that "[w]hen a stranger resides with you in your land, you shall not oppress the stranger. The stranger who resides with you shall be to you as the citizen among you; you shall love the stranger as yourself, for you were strangers in the land of Egypt…." (Leviticus, Chapter 19:33-34). Our Christian tradition charges us to love our neighbor as ourselves. As stated by Jesus of Nazareth, "I was hungry, and you gave me food, I was thirsty, and you gave me drink, I was a stranger, and you welcomed me." (Matthew 25:35)

We encourage all of our members to assist our immigrant neighbors in all practical ways possible. And we are called to pray: for the immigrants who are suffering fear and assault; for the agents, reminding them – and us – that we are all children of God; and finally, for ourselves and each other, that we find our way through this chaos, that we overcome our fear with love, that we stand in the world as beacons for God's faithful community.

MPD chief: ICE is harming policing and trust

Brian O'Hara
Opinion contributor

Health care workers gather in Minneapolis on Jan. 25 at a memorial for Alex Pretti, an intensive care unit nurse fatally shot by federal agents. STEPHEN MATUREN/GETTY IMAGES

Nearly two centuries ago, Sir Robert Peel articulated nine principles of law enforcement that remain as relevant today as ever.

The legitimacy of policing depends not on force, but on public consent. Police authority, he argued, flows from trust – and is earned through restraint, fairness and professionalism. When public consent erodes, no amount of enforcement can restore order.

We are a nation governed by laws, and those laws must be respected. But the rule of law does not sustain itself through authority alone. It depends on respect for civil rights, professional standards and leadership committed to ensuring that enforcement practices themselves do not cause harm.

In recent weeks, three people have been shot in Minneapolis during Immigration and Customs Enforcement operations, including the fatal shootings of two American citizens, Renee Good and Alex Pretti. Communities have been shaken by aggressive actions that are profoundly damaging in practice.

When enforcement drifts from professionalism – when standards are lowered, training is insufficient and accountability is absent – the result is not public order. It is public fear. And when fear eclipses trust, public safety suffers.

Minneapolis police still working to rebuild trust. ICE isn't helping.

I became the Minneapolis police chief after the murder of George Floyd with a mandate to reduce serious crime while rebuilding public trust. Police staffing was decimated as crime soared. The resilient cops who remained endured intense scrutiny and worked under challenging conditions.

The work to reform and rebuild the Minneapolis Police Department into an agency we can all be proud of has been difficult, deliberate and ongoing, but it is producing real results. We are proving something important: Professional, accountable policing does not weaken crime fighting; it strengthens it.

Since then, I have been deeply impressed by the relentless dedication and commitment of members of the MPD, as they continuously strive to be the best in the profession.

Their efforts have resulted in meaningful progress against violent crime and rebuilding the ranks while maintaining a disciplined commitment to professional standards.

That progress did not come from shortcuts, lowered expectations or performative enforcement. It came from clear direction, rigorous training, supervision that enforces accountability, and officers who understand that legitimacy and effectiveness are inseparable.

Crime reduction achieved at the expense of legitimacy is temporary; crime reduction rooted in trust is enduring.

That is why the current national moment is so concerning.

Across the country, immigration enforcement activity has expanded rapidly. Speed and scale might be politically appealing, but when they come at the expense of professionalism, sufficient training and perceptions of legitimacy, public trust plummets.

Make no mistake: What we're seeing today risks creating a culture inside immigration enforcement that will take years to undo, and one that undermines the very goals that enforcement is meant to achieve.

We have seen the consequences.

In Minnesota, a naturalized U.S. citizen and a grandfather was taken from his home in the middle of winter and removed outdoors in freezing temperatures wearing only his underwear and a blanket. This man was stripped of his dignity in front of his family and in full view of the public.

Whatever legal justification may be asserted, that treatment is dehumanizing and inexcusable. It is not how police in the United States are trained to treat people. It is not consistent with constitutional policing. And it is certainly not how trust is earned.

Moments like this signal a broader erosion of professional norms. Rapid hiring, lowered standards, inadequate preparation and insufficient accountability may serve short-term, performative goals, but they produce long-term harm – both to the communities affected and to the legitimacy of our law enforcement profession.

Law enforcement authority without legitimacy is insufficient

Police leaders understand that authority without legitimacy is insufficient to effectively fight crime. When people believe enforcement is arbitrary or indifferent to human dignity, they disengage. They hesitate to call for help, share information with police or cooperate with investigations. They fear the very institutions meant to protect them.

Local police departments are then left to manage the downstream consequences: traumatized communities, volatile protests and officers placed in the impossible position of mediating conflicts they did not create.

The public is inundated with countless stories and videos from these incidents. This causes many to lose faith in the system and to no longer view what is happening as legitimate policing.

This is not sustainable, and it is not effective crime control.

Sir Robert Peel understood that the true power of policing lies not in force, but in public consent – earned through restraint, fairness and professionalism.

That principle is not outdated. It is urgent.

The choice is not between enforcing immigration law and respecting civil liberties. The choice is whether we are all willing to demand that those who lead in law enforcement do so with the discipline, humanity and integrity that effective policing in a democratic society demands.

Brian A. O'Hara assumed one of the toughest jobs in policing – the first Minneapolis police chief appointed after George Floyd's death. A former Newark public safety director and deputy mayor, he is a nationally recognized leader for driving reform efforts under consent decrees while reducing crime, rebuilding trust and shaping policing's future.

Trump secured border. Don't let Minnesota cloud success.

Ingrid Jacques
USA TODAY

As most of the country is still dealing with a deep freeze, anyone who has braved the roads has no doubt relied on their defrosters.

President Donald Trump needs to defrost ICE and pull back federal agents in Minneapolis.

After the second death on Jan. 24 of an American at the hands of federal agents, tensions are through the roof.

The Trump administration should take the high road and temporarily pause federal immigration operations in the city until the situation calms and thorough investigations into what happened can take place.

Governor's dangerous rhetoric

Minnesota Gov. Tim Walz, the 2024 Democratic vice presidential nominee, has politicized Immigration and Customs Enforcement's involvement in his state for weeks and has only fanned the unrest that's been building.

Following the death of nurse Alex Pretti, who was shot by U.S. Border Patrol agents, the governor held a news conference in which he dangerously – and absurdly – compared Trump's immigration crackdown in the Twin Cities to how the Nazis treated Jews in World War II, invoking Anne Frank's diary of how her family was forced into hiding.

"We have got children in Minnesota hiding in their houses, afraid to go outside," Walz said Jan. 25. "Many of us grew up reading that story of Anne Frank. Somebody's going to write that children's story about Minnesota."

It's not the first time Walz invoked a war. Earlier in January, after the killing of protester Renee Good in her SUV by an ICE agent, the governor likened what was happening in Minneapolis to how the state helped fight against slavery in the Civil War.

Demonizing agents is unfair

Such rhetoric is intended to spur additional protest and give residents already disgruntled with Trump a moral reason to fight the administration. Yet, it's having tragic consequences.

Two lives were needlessly cut short because they thought they were doing the right thing by interfering with federal agents' arrests of illegal immigrants.

All the armchair detectives in the country who have watched the videos of the shootings will come up with their own judgments about who is to blame for the tragedies.

But pinning all the responsibility on federal agents who are only in Minneapolis to do their job – enforcing federal law – is fundamentally unfair.

Demonizing the agents will lead to additional confrontations with potentially deadly consequences.

Minnesota Gov. Tim Walz slams the Trump administration over another fatal shooting by federal agents in Minneapolis on Jan. 24. MINNESOTA DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

That's why Democrats like Walz should be ashamed of themselves for their role in escalating the conflict.

If Trump hits pause on ICE and immigration operations in Minneapolis, he'll be taking the upper hand – something Walz and other state officials have proved incapable of doing.

The reality is that Trump is already winning on immigration – one of the two most pivotal issues that swayed the 2024 presidential election.

The country was sick of the open borders under the Biden administration and wanted a president to bring order back to the chaos of unbridled illegal immigration.

Trump has delivered. Within weeks of the first year of his second term, unlawful border crossings had ground to a halt. And the administration has also followed through with deporting illegal migrants throughout the United States.

According to a recent statement from the Department of Homeland Security, since Trump took office a year ago, "nearly 3 million illegal aliens have left the U.S. because of the Trump administration's crackdown on illegal immigration, including an estimated 2.2 million self-deportations and more than 675,000 deportations."

Remove ICE until tensions thaw

It's worth noting that all these deportations have taken place without major incident – except for in Minneapolis.

Democratic politicians are seizing on the violence in the Twin Cities for their benefit, ahead of the midterm elections – trying to prove that Trump is taking things too far and is railroading the rights of Americans.

The president has done a lot of good in securing our borders and enforcing immigration laws.

At this point, however, keeping ICE in Minneapolis will do more harm than good and risks clouding Trump's record on this issue.

DC,

I strongly recommend that Lieutenants McCann, Sysaath, and Mota not be assigned to the Car 92 detail. Their primary responsibilities are critical to current and yearlong operations and diverting them to this project would negatively impact their core functions (which are many). Additionally, they have already been tasked with covering Car 9 at various points throughout the year, further stretching their capacity.

There are numerous other lieutenants who would benefit significantly from the experience and leadership development that this project provides. Assigning Car 92 to those individuals would help broaden leadership engagement across the department and reduce our ongoing reliance on the same personnel to carry multiple high impact responsibilities.

I urge you to move this directive forward and have Lieutenant Garman remove Lt. McCann, Lt. Sysaath, and Lt. Mota from the Car 92 assignment list. This is an appropriate opportunity to require other lieutenants to step up and actively lead.

Our expectations for competence and leadership, particularly at the lieutenant level must remain high and consistently enforced.

Thank you,

DC Klukow wanted me to reach out, to make sure the additional people on this list want to be on it and to try and figure out a way to schedule. I have a Smartsheet everyone will get access to so there isn't a question of who Car 9 or the camera resources is that are available. I will also attach some added SOP language for the Car 92 detail let me know if there is anything that you think should be added, we all come to this detail from different perspectives, so your input is welcome. Please get back to me by end of business Friday. Additionally, the weekends will have to be covered, I have not been given the OK to fill it with OT. I guess it is more for currently if you would like to switch for a weekend day and it can be accommodated. Once this is done ill get it forwarded to WC J. Kelly and than we can start the swapping of days and the filling if OT is approved.

PS street Lts don't have a choice.

(3) Car 92 Schedule Project - Smartsheet.com

Additions to current SOP:
Sign on with dispatch at 0600 as Car 92. Post up at the 1st precinct in the DROC. 8100 or CSOs will usually be available to assist.

Check the city for additional resources and specialties. Have them respond to the DROC.

Monitor all calls that come into 911. Have Camera Techs watch cameras for ICE activity. Enter a call in when they stop and intervene with anyone.

If an ICE call comes into pending regardless of priority, air the call so Squads are aware of the call and location.

If there is ICE involvement or the strong possibility, assign to the call, type in comments that Car 92 is monitoring do not dispatch a squad until Command approval.

Check, Milestone, Salient, or Fusus Ops for footage. If you are unsure of what any of those area ask a camera tech or Lt Garman.

Once the call has been reviewed, it can either be held to monitor, cleared IMM or project a coordinated response using Car 193 as the on-scene team leader until they can be relieved by strike force lead or their action mitigates the need for response or an intervention plan is initiated with commands approval.

If a response is determined due to a verified or strongly suspected life safety issue. Getting MPD officers disengaged from the issue as safely and as timely as possible is a high priority.

Those two changes are highlighted.

January 22, 2026 (Minneapolis, MN) — Minneapolis Police Chief Brian O'Hara announced the MPD has continued to make significant progress in combating serious violent crime and removing illegal firearms from city streets during Operation Metro Surge, despite unprecedented operational demands and ongoing staffing challenges among MPD members.

Over the past seven weeks, MPD officers and investigators have demonstrated sustained, data-driven enforcement, focusing precisely on violent offenders, gun crime, and repeat offenders—while maintaining professionalism, constitutional policing, and community safety.

Violent Crime Accountability and Clearance

- 5 of 7 reported homicides cleared by criminal complaint
- 9 shooting related arrests stemming from 6 shooting investigations during the reporting period
- 20 gunshot victims citywide, representing substantial reductions compared to prior years:
  - –35% compared to the same period last year
  - –62% compared to two years ago
  - –60% compared to three years ago
  - –67% compared to four years ago
  - –59% compared to five years ago

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

These reductions reflect focused enforcement, improved investigative coordination, and proactive deployment strategies.

Illegal Guns and Violent Offenders Removed from the Streets

- 74 illegal firearms recovered
- 26 firearms-related arrests
- 241 high-visibility, data-driven proactive patrols conducted in known gun-crime hotspots

Enforcement Activity and Public Safety Impact

MPD made 849 total arrests, including:

- 214 domestic-related arrests, including 34 aggravated domestic assaults
- 24 non-domestic aggravated assault arrests
- 17 robbery arrests, including:
  - 5 carjackings
  - 10 aggravated robberies
  - 1 robbery of a person
  - 1 business robbery
- 128 warrant arrests
- 82 narcotics-related arrests
- 27 DWI arrests
- 9 criminal sexual conduct arrests

On January 21, 2026, multiple search warrants were executed as part of an ongoing narcotics investigation. As a result of the search warrants, three firearms were recovered along with 130 grams of Fentanyl. One man has been arrested in connection to the investigation. A photograph of the firearms and Fentanyl recovered is attached below. This case represents just one example of the continued work our officers do every day to keep Minneapolis safe.

These arrests reflect a sustained focus on individuals posing the greatest risk to public safety.

Professional Policing Under Pressure

The disruptions caused by Operation Metro Surge has heightened citywide policing demands, increased protest-related deployments, and subjected our members to extended tours of duty, multiple days off being cancelled, and multiple emergency recalls. MPD remains down approximately 300 officers from our peak strength of around 900 while thousands of federal agents have been deployed to the area. Already limited resources have been stretched even more thin by increased demands. Despite these challenges, MPD personnel have remained disciplined, mission-focused, and committed to fighting serious crime while earning community trust.

"I couldn't be prouder to report that our officers continue to deliver exceptional results under extraordinarily challenging conditions," said Chief Brian O'Hara. "Their outstanding police work demonstrates that focused, professional policing—guided by data and accountability, with support of our residents—can reduce violence, clear serious cases, and remove dangerous individuals and illegal guns from our communities."

Commitment Going Forward

The MPD will continue to deploy targeted enforcement strategies, prioritize violent crime investigations, and work in partnership with community members and regional law-enforcement agencies to sustain these gains.

  - –35% compared to the same period last year
  - –62% compared to two years ago
  - –60% compared to three years ago
  - –67% compared to four years ago
  - –59% compared to five years ago

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

These reductions reflect focused enforcement, improved investigative coordination, and proactive deployment strategies.

Illegal Guns and Violent Offenders Removed from the Streets

- 74 illegal firearms recovered
- 26 firearms-related arrests
- 241 high-visibility, data-driven proactive patrols conducted in known gun-crime hotspots

Enforcement Activity and Public Safety Impact

MPD made 849 total arrests, including:

- 214 domestic-related arrests, including 34 aggravated domestic assaults
- 24 non-domestic aggravated assault arrests
- 17 robbery arrests, including:
  - 5 carjackings
  - 10 aggravated robberies
  - 1 robbery of a person
  - 1 business robbery
- 128 warrant arrests
- 82 narcotics-related arrests
- 27 DWI arrests
- 9 criminal sexual conduct arrests

On January 21, 2026, multiple search warrants were executed as part of an ongoing narcotics investigation. As a result of the search warrants, three firearms were recovered along with 130 grams of Fentanyl. One man has been arrested in connection to the investigation. A photograph of the firearms and Fentanyl recovered is below. This case represents just one example of the continued work our officers do every day to keep Minneapolis safe.

These arrests reflect a sustained focus on individuals posing the greatest risk to public safety.

Professional Policing Under Pressure

The disruptions caused by Operation Metro Surge has heightened citywide policing demands, increased protest-related deployments, and subjected our members to extended tours of duty, multiple days off being cancelled, and multiple emergency recalls. MPD remains down approximately 300 officers from our peak strength of around 900 while 5,000 federal agents have been deployed to the area. Already limited resources have been stretched even more thin by increased demands. Despite these challenges, MPD personnel have remained disciplined, mission-focused, and committed to fighting serious crime while earning community trust.

"I couldn't be prouder to report that our officers continue to deliver exceptional results under extraordinarily challenging conditions," said Chief Brian O'Hara. "Their outstanding police work demonstrates that focused, professional policing—guided by data and accountability, with support of our residents—can reduce violence, clear serious cases, and remove dangerous individuals and illegal guns from our communities."

Commitment Going Forward

The MPD will continue to deploy targeted enforcement strategies, prioritize violent crime investigations, and work in partnership with community members and regional law-enforcement agencies to sustain these gains.

Thank you, The only suggestion I have if I may is removing the reference to "RAPPID" in the event that causes more questions than the point being made. Just keep as "241 high-visibility, data-driven proactive patrols conducted in known gun-crime hotspots". I wasn't exactly aware of the usage when I typed out the wording.

Additionally, the Chief asked specifically for shooting incidents. In the same time frame there were 9 shooting related arrests stemming from 6 Shooting cases. These shooting arrests fall under both homicide and Agg Assault and not mutually exclusive of the arrests for both other categories already given, just as a reminder.

Minneapolis Police Department Continues to Deliver Crime-Fighting Results During Operation Metro Surge

January 22, 2026 (Minneapolis, MN) — Minneapolis Police Chief Brian O'Hara announced the MPD has continued to make significant progress in combating serious violent crime and removing illegal firearms from city streets during Operation Metro Surge, despite unprecedented operational demands and ongoing staffing challenges among MPD members.

Over the past seven weeks, MPD officers and investigators have demonstrated sustained, data-driven enforcement, focusing precisely on violent offenders, gun crime, and repeat offenders—while maintaining professionalism, constitutional policing, and community safety.

Violent Crime Accountability and Clearance

- 5 of 7 reported homicides cleared by criminal complaint
- 9 arrests stemming from 6 homicide investigations during the reporting period
- 20 gunshot victims citywide, representing substantial reductions compared to prior years:
  - –35% compared to the same period last year

Illegal Guns and Violent Offenders Removed from the Streets

- 74 illegal firearms recovered
- 26 firearms-related arrests
- 241 high-visibility, data-driven proactive patrols (RAPPID) conducted in known gun-crime hotspots

While firearm recoveries declined from 98 during the previous seven-week period, the reduction coincides with a marked decrease in gunshot victimization—indicating meaningful disruption of violent activity rather than reduced enforcement.

Enforcement Activity and Public Safety Impact

MPD made 849 total arrests, including:

- 214 domestic-related arrests, including 34 aggravated domestic assaults
- 24 non-domestic aggravated assault arrests
- 17 robbery arrests, including:
  - 5 carjackings

Hi AC Gaiters,
Thank you so much for taking my call today. I am writing to confirm that I have asked if you can join the City Immigration Team meeting that will take place on Friday at 10AM. Two topics that we would like for you to address are the following:

- Situations where MPD may intervene if witnessing an assault or unreasonable use of force by ICE
- Confirming that community can file a police report with MPD if ppl are subjected to assault/crime/violence by ICE

If there are questions/topics coming up in community that you would like to address too please feel free to bring them up as well. Anticipate 5-7 minutes for your piece.

Please also know that we'd love for you to join the Twin Cities Immigration Forum next Thursday at 4:30PM to share same or similar information. If this is a possibility please let us know.

Sincerely, Michelle

Dear Department Members,

Thank you very much for the stretch you and your families are making during Operation Trust and Safety. I want to make sure everyone is on the same page with workforce entries. Please take a moment to read the below message regarding time entries:

As a reminder, all of patrol (Days, Mids, and Dogs) will work their normal shift hours. Any changes to patrol shift schedules will be communicated via radio during the shift and should be treated as a shift holdover. Such instances must be coded in Workforce as “Response to Immigration Enforcement Activities (ICE) 1.5x.” during Operation Trust & Safety.

Officers who have been directed to change their shift hours by administration are eligible for Change of Shift (COS) compensation. Eligibility for COS applies when officers are ordered to report for duty at a start time different from their regularly scheduled 'Bid' shift start time, or from the posted shift start time on the 28-day schedule for non-bid assignments.

Examples,

*An officer assigned to the Assault Unit and scheduled to work a 0700–1500 shift, as posted, who was ordered to report for duty at 0600 and whose tour of duty is extended beyond the officer’s regularly scheduled end time, shall be eligible for Change of Shift compensation.

0500-0600 change of shift (8hrs)
0600-0700 Ice immigration OT
0700-1500 Regular hours
1500-1800 Ice immigration OT

*An officer assigned to the Daywatch Patrol and scheduled to work a 0630-1630 shift, as posted, who was ordered to report for duty at 0600 and whose tour of duty is extended beyond the officer’s regularly scheduled end time, shall be eligible for Change of Shift compensation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

0500-0600 change of shift (10hrs)
0600-0630 Ice immigration OT
0630-1630 Regular hours
1500-1800 Ice immigration OT

1. Change of Shift (COS) requests must be entered for one (1) hour. These requests should be submitted either immediately prior to the officer's scheduled shift start time, or immediately prior to entering an overtime activity that leads directly into their shift.
2. Please include explanatory comments with each COS request, detailing the reason for the change.

Note:

1. Officers who are on continuous 'Standby', SB1, SB2, SB3, etc., prior to the start of their shifts might have some trouble entering this request, so I will work with those officers separately to assist them in getting their requests entered.

Change of shift requests can only approved by supervisors in the ranks of Commander and above, so I ask these supervisors to login to Workforce Director and approve the requests for those officers whom they supervise. Please DO NOT 'Reject' any (COS) requests from officers not under your command, as that will remove it from being approved by that officer's supervisors. Instead, simply 'ignore' the requests from those officers so their supervisors can get to them

2. The new Response to Immigration Enforcement Activities (ICE) 1.5x overtime pay code should be used whenever officers are responding to incidents that are a result of any Immigration Enforcement activity by ICE agents. (this is how I believe it's meant to be used)

Heard back. They can't accommodate the title change because of character limits. I think you're inclusive enough of all the agencies in the article. Subheading for the column will be:

When law enforcement drifts from professionalism, the result is not public order. It is public fear. And when fear eclipses trust, public safety suffers.

They are aiming to publish tomorrow.

I'm passing along a request from CPED to have an MPD representative attend a meeting this Thursday (1/15 @ 1:15PM) with business technical assistance providers + business associations to answer their questions. Would you be able to advise if there is someone in MPD available/interested to attend? If so, I'll connect you directly with Zoe @ CPED.

Jon-

We have our monthly call with our business technical assistance providers + business associations on Thursday at 1:15pm. I imagine that the current state of ICE activity and impacts to businesses is pretty much the only topic anyone will be interested in.

We're still working out a specific agenda, but I do think that it would be extremely helpful to have someone from public safety/MPD to speak to the role of MPD in all this as well as safety resources for businesses being targeted with harassment due to the fraud allegations currently. Could you help me find a speaker?

I've also reach out to OIRA/NCR to attend, and am open to other recommendations.

You don't often get email from adam.rose@freedom.press. Learn why this is important

Dear Chief O'Hara,

I'm on the advocacy team for the Freedom of the Press Foundation and work with local jurisdictions to ensure press access during major news events. Obviously there've been unusually vital matters of public interest to document in Minneapolis in recent days. I respect this is an extraordinary moment for you and your department and how busy you all must be. I would appreciate if you can direct me to an appropriate point person in your office to liaison with me on the following concern.

I was thankful to hear your comments last month that you expect your personnel to intervene if any law enforcement officer uses unlawful force against any person in Minneapolis. It's a critical message to send from and for all law enforcement, and I appreciate your leadership on this front. Coincidentally, I'm also on the board of the LA Press Club, and we recently got a federal injunction against DHS for dozens of documented such incidents around Los Angeles. Like in your city, both press and protesters have been targeted here. What's sorely missing in LA has been accountability for individual perpetrators. I saw a glimmer of hope in the Chicago area when Broadview PD opened a criminal investigation of DHS shooting a CBS reporter, but don't know the latest on that case. Given the recent incidents in Minneapolis, I'm hopeful your department can make progress for the people of your city and set a strong example for the nation.

While your comments apply to all, press assaults are especially concerning. I never advocate that press rights are superior to the rights of others, instead that all other rights depend on press rights. But there's a sticky dynamic. Journalists are often reluctant to make themselves part of the story and often under-report on their own experiences. They rarely file complaints with police departments even when violently assaulted. Fortunately, my colleagues at the U.S. Press Freedom Tracker report these as news stories in their own right, and you can see a growing list of articles about specific incidents in Minneapolis here: https://pressfreedomtracker.us/all-incidents/?state=27

There are more investigations in progress, some of which have initial leads in a spreadsheet I maintain about DHS attacks on press (as well as non-press who were retaliated against for recording):

Given your comments, I would like to work with someone in your department, or perhaps a local prosecutor you recommend, to see if there are criminal cases for these apparent violent acts -- some of which may be civil rights violations intended to chill the First Amendment.

Best,
Adam

PS: I frequently collaborate with Mickey Osterreicher, who did the Goyette settlement training of the MN State Patrol. He's general counsel for the National Press Photographers Association, a reserve deputy in Eerie County (NY), and an accomplished photojournalist. Subject: How to enter 'Change of Schedule' Overtime

Dear Department Members,

Thank you very much for the stretch you and your families are making during Operation Trust and Safety. I want to make sure everyone is on the same page with workforce entries. Please take a moment to read the below message regarding time entries:

As a reminder, all of patrol (Days, Mids, and Dogs) will work their normal shift hours. Any changes to patrol shift schedules will be communicated via radio during the shift and should be treated as a shift holdover. Such instances must be coded in Workforce as “Response to Immigration Enforcement Activities (ICE) 1.5x.” during Operation Trust & Safety.

Officers who have been directed to change their shift hours by administration are eligible for Change of Shift (COS) compensation. Eligibility for COS applies when officers are ordered to report for duty at a start time different from their regularly scheduled 'Bid' shift start time, or from the posted shift start time on the 28-day schedule for non-bid assignments.

Examples,

*An officer assigned to the Assault Unit and scheduled to work a 0700–1500 shift, as posted, who was ordered to report for duty at 0600 and whose tour of duty is extended beyond the officer's regularly scheduled end time, shall be eligible for Change of Shift compensation.

0500-0600 change of shift (8hrs)
0600-0700 Ice immigration OT
0700-1500 Regular hours
1500-1800 Ice immigration OT

*An officer assigned to the Daywatch Patrol and scheduled to work a 0630-1630 shift, as posted, who was ordered to report for duty at 0600 and whose tour of duty is extended beyond the officer's regularly scheduled end time, shall be eligible for Change of Shift compensation.

0500-0600 change of shift (10hrs)
0600-0630 Ice immigration OT
0630-1630 Regular hours
1500-1800 Ice immigration OT

1. Change of Shift (COS) requests must be entered for one (1) hour. These requests should be submitted either immediately prior to the officer's scheduled shift start time, or immediately prior to entering an overtime activity that leads directly into their shift.
2. Please include explanatory comments with each COS request, detailing the reason for the change.

Note:

1. Officers who are on continuous 'Standby', SB1, SB2, SB3, etc., prior to the start of their shifts might have some trouble entering this request, so I will work with those officers separately to assist them in getting their requests entered.

Change of shift requests can only approved by supervisors in the ranks of Commander and above, so I ask these supervisors to login to Workforce Director and approve the requests for those officers whom they supervise. Please DO NOT 'Reject' any (COS) requests from officers not under your command, as that will remove it from being approved by that officer's supervisors. Instead, simply 'ignore' the requests from those officers so their supervisors can get to them

2. The new Response to Immigration Enforcement Activities (ICE) 1.5x overtime pay code should be used whenever officers are responding to incidents that are a result of any Immigration Enforcement activity by ICE agents. (this is how I believe it's meant to be used)

Hello All,

I spoke with the USSS Special Agent in Charge Paul Gustafson last night and the Homeland Security Secretary is scheduled to visit Minneapolis on Tuesday January 6, 2026.

The only location that is known currently is the Henry Whipple Building at 2 Federal Drive sometime tomorrow during the day.

I spoke with the Chief regarding this visit because Paul also reached out to him. When speaking with the Chief by phone, if they request assistance with a visit in Minneapolis, MPD will be allowed to assist just like we have every other time USSS has asked for assistance with a dignitary visit.

I am putting this on your radar in case I need resources tomorrow. I will see if I can find out more information today and will share with all of you. Please be prepared with your full uniform tomorrow in case of a visit to Minneapolis.

Good morning, Chief,

Following up on this issue.

Inspector Novak is doing the following and has been made aware that we'll support the evolution of strategies as needed. He is also in touch with complainants and will remain on top of the communications. My assessment is that we'll need to remain on top of this neighborhood as we move into Spring/Summer.

DC,

While the below email is concerning, we have open lines of communication with the author and the business owners. Our CPS, City Attorney, Sector Lt, DPU Officer, SSCRT and I have talked with him many times to include in the last couple days explaining our plans and what we are doing to provide police service to Stevens Square. He has emailed everyone from the Mayor, Chief, City Council and many more and he will continue. [redacted] 13.393 - Attorney [redacted] This area was a focus zone for almost the entire last year. Currently our strategy is as follows:

Deployment & Coverage

- This area is our RAPPID zone, each shift provides police presence
- Off-Duty Officer (Dubuc): One officer dedicated to Stevens Square, 8 hours of coverage weekly.
- Directed Patrol Unit: Scales/Davids, active DP patrols and stops, camera use for arrests
- SSCRT has this area as a focused area for details, camera use for arrests

Neighborhood Safety Department Initiatives

- Somali Youth Link has been selected as a contractor and works meet the neighborhood, owners and MPD.
- Somali Youth Link will deploy outreach staff in Stevens Square.

Stevens Square currently has a layered safety strategy: consistent officer presence, dedicated CRT enforcement, increased surveillance, and a violence prevention contract. This approach addresses both immediate enforcement and long-term prevention.

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Lack Of Response by 5th Precinct and Mint Properties

MiCheif O'Hara,

I am making this direct complaint to you regarding the lack of response and call backs by officers from the 5th precinct regarding trespassing, drug dealing, loitering and other crime issues at and in the building 10 19th St E and along 19th St E and Nicollet. This is also a complaint regarding the negligent actions and responses from the management of Mint Properties.

There has been rampant trespassing, drug dealing, crime, property damage and life, safety and security issues for the tenants at 10 19th St E.

The police have found evidence recently of nonresidents breaking door locks and living in basement and have come out one other time ive called to report trespassing in building. Per conversations with Mint Properties management, Ahmed Hassan fror the 5th precinct and Tazio Lombardo, city attorney, people that are trespassing need to be caught inside building to be trespassed by police. Mint Properties fails to come out to deal with trespassers and tell residents to call 911. Per Tiffany Lindquist at Mint Properties they are too busy and do not have time to come out.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I have made multiple calls to 911 and have requested to have officers call when here so i can let them in building and also speak to them, but some calls have been 3 hours or so or no call backs at all leaving me sitting and waiting.

I spoke to Inspector Novak and Officer Humphrey on person at the 5th Thursday January 15th regarding no response call back while waiting, and I spoke to Inspector Novak via phone Friday January 15 regarding the same issues.

There are 4 calls in the past 3 days I did not receive calls back and followed up on additional information for a call Wednesday night, but was told that officers were already here and didn't see anything. They did not call me and the people were still here and i requested that police respond back and call me which also did not happen.

I came home Friday afternoon around 1225pm and entered my apartment building at 10 19th St E and found 6 black males and females trespassing in entryway and hallway, with 2 males doing open drug deals with cash out on steps and stair post. I called 911 and reported and requested police call me when they were here so i could let them in. I took my dog out for a walk about half an hour later and trespassers and drug dealers where still in building. At 115 pm my dog and i were walking back to our building and were standing in front of 100 19th St E and saw a squad car heading east on 19th St E from Nicollet Ave, the squad car Car #510 did not stop, slow down or call me to gain access to building. When i went in building there was still 2 people in building.

What is your reasoning or new excuses why the police squad car and officer of Car 510 and Inspector Novak have again failed to stop and check on reported crimes in and around 10 19th St E which may have resulted in arrests and people being trespassed from our building.

Everday the police department fails to respond to calls for crimes and issues in our building and area, you, Inspector Novak, the 5th precinct, Minneapolis Police Department, the mayor and city council are putting the tenants, lifes and their property in danger of assaults, robbery, threats, intimidation,extreme health issues by dru dealers and trespassers exposing tenants to cigarette cigar pot meth liquor and other chemical elements and the risk of exposure trash, garbage, bodily fluids and excrement found throughout the building.

I have filed repeated complaints to Mint Properties with times dates descriptions pictures details of issues with no response from the office or maintenance regarding life safety security issues. I have been told they are too busy and do not have time.

I had the City Fire Building Inspector here on Monday January 12 and verified code and ordinances regarding the building and regarding marked Fire Emergency doors that are not operating to let people out in case of fire or emergency because Chris Dukes from maintenance decides these doors do not require immediate attention and can wait for repair. The attached pictures are just some of the issues the City Inspector witnessed or have have been seen or happened between Monday and Friday which shows human excrement vomit jammed door locksbroken light fixtures person passed out in entry hall at 5pm doors prooped open trash and drug paraphernalia on steps, drug dealer in stairway.

Mint Properties supposedly has video cameras on the building which the police supposedly have access to, yet i dont believe anyone is viewing or watching to see these people come and go.

Minneapolis Police and Mint Properties needs to put pressure on each other and get these people arrested and trespassed for the building and area which has been known for several years as an open drug dealing and crime area with deaths, injuries, shootings, assaults, robberies, property damage.

I say to include ICE and DHS for help in this area due to ongoing gang and drug trafficking to arrest and deport nonresidents who may be involved in crimes.

I would like to hear a response from you and additional response from Inspector Novak regarding the issues this week.

Minneapolis Police Department Continues to Deliver Crime-Fighting Results During Operation Metro Surge

January 22, 2026 (Minneapolis, MN) — Minneapolis Police Chief Brian O'Hara announced the MPD has continued to make significant progress in combating serious violent crime and removing illegal firearms from city streets during Operation Metro Surge, despite unprecedented operational demands and ongoing staffing challenges among MPD members.

Over the past seven weeks, MPD officers and investigators have demonstrated sustained, data-driven enforcement, focusing precisely on violent offenders, gun crime, and repeat offenders—while maintaining professionalism, constitutional policing, and community safety.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Violent Crime Accountability and Clearance

- 5 of 7 reported homicides cleared by criminal complaint
- 9 shooting related arrests stemming from 6 shooting investigations during the reporting period
- 20 gunshot victims citywide, representing substantial reductions compared to prior years:
  - –35% compared to the same period last year
  - –62% compared to two years ago
  - –60% compared to three years ago
  - –67% compared to four years ago
  - –59% compared to five years ago

Illegal Guns and Violent Offenders Removed from the Streets

- 74 illegal firearms recovered
- 26 firearms-related arrests
- 241 high-visibility, data-driven proactive patrols conducted in known gun-crime hotspots

Enforcement Activity and Public Safety Impact

MPD made 849 total arrests, including:

- 214 domestic-related arrests, including 34 aggravated domestic assaults
- 24 non-domestic aggravated assault arrests
- 17 robbery arrests, including:
  - 5 carjackings
  - 10 aggravated robberies
  - 1 robbery of a person
  - 1 business robbery
- 128 warrant arrests
- 82 narcotics-related arrests
- 27 DWI arrests

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- 9 criminal sexual conduct arrests

On January 21, 2026, multiple search warrants were executed as part of an ongoing narcotics investigation. As a result of the search warrants, three firearms were recovered along with 130 grams of Fentanyl. One man has been arrested in connection to the investigation. A photograph of the firearms and Fentanyl recovered is attached below. This case represents just one example of the continued work our officers do every day to keep Minneapolis safe.

These arrests reflect a sustained focus on individuals posing the greatest risk to public safety.

Professional Policing Under Pressure

The disruptions caused by Operation Metro Surge has heightened citywide policing demands, increased protest-related deployments, and subjected our members to extended tours of duty, multiple days off being cancelled, and multiple emergency recalls. MPD remains down approximately 300 officers from our peak strength of around 900 while thousands of federal agents have been deployed to the area. Already limited resources have been stretched even more thin by increased demands. Despite these challenges, MPD personnel have remained disciplined, mission-focused, and committed to fighting serious crime while earning community trust.

"Crime is down across the board in Minneapolis, thanks in large part to the brave and courageous work of our Minneapolis police officers," said Mayor Frey. "They continue to show up for our residents and serve as a testament to how community and law-enforcement can work together not against."

"I couldn't be prouder to report that our officers continue to deliver exceptional results under extraordinarily challenging conditions," said Chief Brian O'Hara. "Their outstanding police work demonstrates that focused, professional policing—guided by data and accountability, with support of our residents—can reduce violence, clear serious cases, and remove dangerous individuals and illegal guns from our communities."

Commitment Going Forward

The MPD will continue to deploy targeted enforcement strategies, prioritize violent crime investigations, and work in partnership with community members and regional law-enforcement agencies to sustain these gains.

This makes sense. I can update this pretty quickly as it's mostly the same. As an FYI:

- Car 90 is Lt John Kelly
- Car 91 is Rich Jackson
- Car 92 is the assigned Lt to monitor ICE activity from 0600-1800 each day of the week. Their logs are attached to the date they work on a smartsheet. I can send that to you.

I've looked briefly through the rest and made sure there is no glaring omissions or changes. This list looks good.

Please send me an example. Radio Names? There are banks of channels; and example is "Tactical Encrypted". But that seems odd that you'd need that for what you're refencing.

Somewhat related is that I'm searching for the best time to release this Special Order (attached) in an effort to improve Pri-1 response. Also, In Cycle #3 (starting Feb 22nd) I'll be improving the way personnel cover the gaps on both sides of daywatch. 0500-0700 hours and 1500-1700 hours.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Good Afternoon,

I apologize I know you are super busy, nothing urgent with this request. I am looking for an updated list of Radio Names grouped by type. We have one from a while ago and it is outdated.

I am working with the team to build out a dashboard on response times and the associated metrics we have been briefing the Chief with weekly. Currently, those are manually run, based on the increased focus we are building a dashboard where you would be able to filter to those specific groups/shifts etc.

Thank you.

Subject: FW: Calls about ICE

Good afternoon,

AC Blackwell per our conversation and Brian per your request, we pulled the incident and calls related to what we believe is the call being referred to. Sorry this took so long for us to put all of the pieces together, not being able to work at our center today made it more difficult to put all of this together especially with no date, phone number or time frame. I hope this helps.

This call was put in as a SUSPP, the callers each stated that there was a large group of people gathering outside because they think "they are ICE and that they are not ICE" . I am not finding calls that they were "locked" into the restaurant but we will continue to dig deeper. I can see from the incident that our Supervisors were notified, a Street Sgt was notified, Car 09 was notified. The only information I can't tell until getting into the office again tomorrow is what other squads were doing at the time of this incident.

I am only sending to this small group at the moment and only for people that requested this information. AC Blackwell if you want me to contact the Chief with this information I can otherwise I can let you talk with him.

If there is anything more you need from us let us know.

Thank you,

Thank you, DC Klukow. Well noted.

For awareness, it sounds like PW is not keen to implement these measures, as it could create a problematic precedent and would likely just function to push the problem to a different street.

Cmdr. Khazraeinazmpour, Lt. Fischer,

Could I ask for your help on the email thread below? A few residents have asked the City to implement traffic calming measures on 34th Ave S (between Highway 62E and Minnehaha Parkway), due to federal agent vehicle traffic in the area (details below). This request has also come in via City Council. Public Works can implement traffic calming measures (proposed plan below), would be need a formal request from MPD.

Please let me know if there is somewhere else in MPD that I should direct this question.

Many thanks,

Subject: RE: [EXTERNAL] URGENT: Request to Abate Traffic Safety Hazards on 34th Ave S

Per our PW DREP, we'd need MPD to make a formal request to implement traffic calming measures. If a request is made, Public Works would source Type III barricades from a vendor and establish a 'chicane' traffic flow pattern (vehicles move through a series of lateral shifts in direction of travel). They could also work to source concrete Delta blocks to create temporary 'pinch points'. Everything installed in the right-of-way would need to have hi-vis reflectors. Associated signage would also be sourced from vendor and/or custom fabricated in PW's sign shop. Public Works stresses that – in their experience – any signage without associated physical barriers does not change behaviors.

Everything would need to be temporary and movable to enable slow clearing whenever our next plowable snow arrives.

Regulatory Services doesn't have any resources to apply to the below ask.

Please let me know how you'd like to proceed.

Subject: [EXTERNAL] URGENT: Request to Abate Traffic Safety Hazards on 34th Ave S

City of Minneapolis leaders,
As a resident of East Nokomis (3301 Mondamin St.), I am writing to formally request that the City of Minneapolis exercise its traffic regulatory authority to restrict the use of 34th Ave S (specifically between Highway 62E and Minnehaha Parkway) by federal law enforcement vehicles.

Currently, Department of Homeland Security (DHS) fleet vehicles are utilizing our residential street not merely for transit, but as a staging ground for behaviors that endanger our community. I have personally witnessed the following as I have been walking through the neighborhood and commuting to work:

Violations of Traffic Laws: DHS agents consistently engage in reckless driving, including excessive speeding, running red lights, and making abrupt, unsignaled turns.
Pedestrian Harassment: Agents have been rolling down windows to verbally shout at and intimidate residents walking in their own neighborhood.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"Cruising" and Loitering: Vehicles repeatedly circle the block without an apparent destination or active law enforcement objective, functioning as a surveillance presence that disrupts the peace in our neighborhoods.

Misuse of Infrastructure: 34th Ave S is being treated as a tactical thruway rather than a residential street, creating an objective hazard to public safety.

Under Title 18 of the Minneapolis Code of Ordinances, the City has both the authority and the obligation to regulate traffic to ensure the safety of its residents. The behaviors described above constitute a Public Nuisance that "interferes with the comfortable enjoyment of life and property" for our neighborhood.

Furthermore, allowing federal agencies to commandeer city infrastructure as a primary operating base undermines the spirit of the City's Separation Ordinance. DHS has alternative routes available.
I request that the City immediately implement traffic calming measures or "Local Traffic Only" access restrictions to abate this nuisance and restore safety to 34th Ave S.

Sincerely,
-Carl McBurney

Hello, I am not sure if you can help me with this, but since Chief O'Hara seems to be a member of your organization, I thought perhaps you could?

I simply wanted to somehow reach out to Chief O'Hara, and THANK HIM for his professionalism, calm, and general DECENCY as he works on behalf of his community, in the midst of the absolute disgrace we see playing out. I just want to offer some encouragement to officers like that wherever they are. I do not live in MN, but it sickens me to see how some of these ICE goons are giving law enforcement "a bed name", and making matters FAR WORSE with impunity. I was also saddened and shocked when the car driving by during the interview called him a "pig". It is disappointing to know LEO's have to put up with such IGNORANCE as part of their job.

Anyway, perhaps there is some means to forward this, or suggest another means for me to voice my humble encouragement to folks who SO deserve our support.

Good afternoon, Lts,

Let's plan to meet next Tuesday, Jan 13th inside the 1st PCT Conference Room 210. That is above the Operations Room next to the Lts offices. I'll send an Outlook invite. I'll clarify the directions in this e-mail in person and go over the SOP for Car 92. In the short term, please plan to either act as Car 92 or fill your spot with another on the dates in which the obligation is yours. The hours for Car 92 are 0600-1800. Logs are required and this project goes through Feb 7th with the potential for extension.

Mondays – Carlson
Tuesdays – Schoenberger
Wednesdays – Fischer
Thursdays – Hand
Fridays – R. Kelly

In short, you have the obligation to work as Car 92 from 0600-1800 or find a sub.

McCann, Garman and Sysaath are subs that could take a whole day if you can't work it and they're available. Feel free to use each other to switch as well. Also, another street LT from your PCT could fill in for a few hours if/when you need to tap out. Please do not give a whole day to one of the Mids or Dogs Street Lts w.o. asking me.

Lastly, and possibly most importantly, you have the obligation to build a QRT Team, Quick Reaction Team, to supplement your work as Car 92. Please find a Sgt and 3 Officers from your Precinct to work with you from 0600-1800 hours. OT is authorized. Please remember to touch base with Car 9 nights on both sides of your shift.

Car 9 nights is also obligated to remain until 0600 or arrange for coverage on OT. I'm sure this will cause questions. Please try and save the questions for our meeting unless it's very important. If you are using another to cover your dates, please advise Lt Kelly so he can get the Car 9 schedule updated.

Respectfully,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Standard Operating Procedures for Car 92:

0600-1800 hours

- Hand-off with Car 9 nights at start and finish.
- Log-on as Car 92 and check-in with S01.
- Create text thread with daywatch Sgts and Lts citywide. Add CRT, 1280 and React Sgts as they sign-on.
- Operate out of the 1st PCT DROC, located on the eastern end of the 1st PCT. Work station #6 has been reserved for you.
- Complete a Car 92 Log that resembles a Car 9 log.

Concentrate on the locations in the city in which ICE activity is predicted. Preliminarily, that is 4 blocks around 3 locations: Lake/Bloomington, Lake/Pillsbury and Cedar/Riverside. Use Milestone and intel to find the activity prior to being notified by MECC that MPD response is requested.

ATTENTIONS:

- Remain in compliance with the Separation Ordinance and SO25-029.
- Your mission should be clear: your role is to do everything in your capability / authority to keep uniformed MPD away from an active ICE event. Also, if response is necessary to do it carefully and spend as little time on-scene as possible.
- MPD shall only get involved when there are threats of violence, actual violence, life-threatening situations, or substantial destruction of property, and only at the direction of Car 9 or Car 92.

ANECDOTAL SITUATIONS:

- If/when a call for MPD response into an area where an ICE event is occurring comes into pending:
    a. Get on the radio and advise that no response will take place without you.
    b. Call the caller back, find the event on Milestone, request drone teams.
    c. Get a Sgt to work your phone and manage notifications up the chain-of-command. Inspector of involved PCT, DC, AC and Chief.
    d. Send a text to that daily brass thread with a notice to have them monitor.
    e. Most calls will end here and response will not include on-scene MPD personnel.
    f. Use a line on the Smartsheet to document what and how your response was successful.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

g. If physical response was necessary, document with a PIMS report (INFO) and advise all who participated to draft a supplement. Also, add a line on the smartsheet and include the case number.

- If/when a priority call for HELP arises:
  a. Follow the above protocol and coordinate a group response from a nearby parking lot. Consider the rally-point sheet attached and assume you'll need room for 30 vehicles. Take over a block of a nearby street if needed. Repeat over the radio that NO MPD personnel are to go into the event until a coordinated response from that lot begins.
  b. Have MECC echo that order on all channels and repeat it multiple times.
  c. It is essential that you and your designee begin working on corroborating the need for help by uniformed MPD personnel. BWCs should be turned on to record these phone calls, Milestone observances and gathering of intel.
  d. Your presence on scene is preferred. Your designated #2 should be acting quickly to either be on scene in your stead or continue doing the work of corroboration and deciding if the necessity to place uniformed MPD personnel on scene remains. It's very possible that you have to remain in the DROC and continue to work of deconflicting and corroboration.
  e. As the situation dictates, consider walking in from 2 blocks away with yourself and a Sgt. Find the ICE leader / person who called for HELP. Ascertain if the need still exists and build a plan with the personnel you've left in the staging area. Protect yourself with gear from the crowd-control bag as the situation dictates. Note: Unless violence is occurring, I'll be going in w.o. gear, knowing that personnel with gear are available quickly.
  f. MPD personnel should stage 2 blocks away from demonstrators, form into a group and walk into the issue as ordered by you. Their squads should be parked facing the egress route. Order personnel to partner-up with at least one other MPD sworn in a "buddy-system". Leave 2 Officers back to protect squads/vans. Based on the situation, consider helmets, gas-masks on legs and a stick in a belt ring and plexiglass shields. Know that each of these items presents a trade-off with diplomacy/protection.
  g. Avoid face-to-face lines with demonstrators and order personnel to mill through the crowds to assure people that we are only on scene to bring peace to the chaos. Once that is achieved, the MPD personnel should exit ASAP.
  h. Remember MPD personnel shall only operate under the direction of MPD leadership. No orders, guidance, or tasking from any outside agency or individual are to be followed unless explicitly validated and authorized through the MPD chain of command.

Subject: Hexachloroethane gas questions

Hi everyone,

We've had questions and informal reports circulating about possible use of hexachloroethane (HC) gas by ICE/Federal Law Enforcement.

First off: There is currently NO confirmation that ICE or any federal agency is using HC gas. We have also checked with our law enforcement partners, who cannot confirm its use, although they have limited direct communication with ICE.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

However, given the uncertainty and the many questions we've gotten, we did want to send education addressing these reports. We are working with Dr. Jon Cole, who is collaborating with quite literally the country's top poison minds on this topic.

High points of HC exposure

- Because of the chemical reaction required to generate HC gas, it is expected to appear white; other colors would be inconsistent with HC gas.
- HC, when burned, primarily produces zinc chloride smoke.
- Thermal breakdown can include irritant gases (e.g., chlorine, hydrogen chloride, possible trace phosgene), but significant exposure is unlikely in open-air settings.

Expected clinical effects

- Upper airway / mucous membrane irritation (eyes, nose, throat)
- Prolonged coughing, chest tightness, bronchospasm: higher risk in patients with asthma or COPD
- Lower airway symptoms may persist after initial exposure
- Delayed pulmonary symptoms, rare.
- Cancer risk: IARC Group 2B with prolonged, high-level exposure (lower risk category than cured meats)

Treatment and Decon

- Do what you normally do; follow your normal Asthma/COPD/Hazmat protocols
- Supportive care, bronchodilators as indicated; oxygen as needed
- No specific antidote
- Clothing removal to a sealed plastic bag may be performed if significant odor noticed. Outer layer removal may be sufficient. Instruct the patient to wash their clothes with soap and water at home.
- Skin decontamination with soap and water or baby wipes is sufficient
    - Sudecon wipes: the packet should contain two wipes (perforated). One wipe should be used to wipe the skin; the other is squeezed over the eyes. Either order is OK. Instructions suggest eyelids closed, with the intent that some solution is blinked into the tear film.
- Secondary contamination risk is minimal in most cases
- If the patient declines transport or is released at the scene, caution them to seek medical attention for any persistent eye pain, or any ongoing respiratory symptoms

Transport / disposition guidance

- No transport if asymptomatic and fully recovered patients: typically safe without prolonged observation
- Transport is advised if:
    - Persistent cough or lower airway symptoms
    - Any medical intervention performed
    - Concern for delayed pulmonary effects

Thank you all for the care you are giving our community during these trying times.

Reach out to any of us with questions.

Best,

- HEMS Medical Direction

Subject: Request for Minnesota National Guard

Good afternoon:

I am writing to recommend that the Mayor make a formal request for assistance from the Minnesota National Guard immediately in order to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city by assisting with a vehicle exclusionary zone in the area and protecting critical infrastructure in the city. At this time, an unlawful assembly and civil unrest is occurring in the city, involving what appears to be thousands of people on the street.

Today, January 24, 2026, at approximately 9:03am Minneapolis Police Department responded to an officer involved shooting (OIS) involving federal law enforcement agents located at 26th and Nicollet Avenue S. The subject that was shot by federal agents has been declared deceased.

This is the third OIS by federal law enforcement since January 7th, 2026, and tensions continue to run high. A large group of approximately 200 agitated protesters arrived and turned into an unlawful assembly. The protesters started throwing large ice chunks, glass bottles, and started blocking roads with dumpsters, wood pallets, and other items located in the area. The agitators lit multiple dumpsters on fire and several are wearing gas masks. Officers tried to contain the scene by deploying gas canisters and protesters have been picking them up and throwing them back.

Once the shooting had been confirmed, we immediately requested the Minnesota BCA respond to conduct a force investigation. I also initiated a callback of Minneapolis police personnel on standby, made an emergency recall of all personnel not on duty, and requested mutual aid.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Surrounding agencies to include the Minnesota State Patrol, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, and Hennepin County Sheriff's Office have already sent resources to help quell the violent behavior. Additional resources from St Paul Police, Ramsey County, and suburban Hennepin agencies were quickly requested to backfill patrol across the City of Minneapolis to respond to 911 calls.

On the scene, MPD, mutual aid resources, and BCA are focused on securing the scene perimeter while the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension is processing the scene. FBI resources recently left the scene and the crime scene is being compromised by protesters. Staffing and resources are not sufficient to support mass arrests if they are needed during this escalating incident.

Agencies across the metro area are experiencing similar challenges that MPD is facing in regard to depleting their staffing and resources. Since the first OIS on January 7th involving federal agents, MPD has experienced numerous protests and gatherings across the city to include a march of upwards of 100,000 people.

Historical events in Minneapolis prove that where large groups gather after a significant incident, civil unrest, violence and significant property damage have followed. It is also important to note that more than 500 sworn members have separated from the MPD since 2020. The continued level of understaffing within the MPD is causing significant concern about the health, wellness, and resiliency of all sworn members as this crisis continues to escalate.

Due to our staffing shortage of 541 officers on full duty, and outside agency requests that have gone unfilled for this past week, we will very quickly exhaust resources necessary to fully provide public safety services to the City of Minneapolis if other large-scale incidents occur.

For context, there are approximately 10,000 licensed police officers in the State of Minnesota. According to reports, there are well over 3,000 additional federal law enforcement personnel in the state conducting the operations that are resulting in these OIS incidents.

We know there were previously planned protests and counter-protests upcoming, and we are actively monitoring this evolving situation as it continues to unfold. We are concerned for the potential escalation of the situation through additional protests due to today's OIS and are concerned with the possibility of future force incidents in the city involving federal law enforcement.

In light of all the facts and circumstances that are currently before us and noting that this is an unusual and unprecedented situation, I am recommending the Mayor request the activation of the Minnesota National Guard to support in the City of Minneapolis to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city by assisting with a vehicle exclusionary zone in the area and protecting critical infrastructure in the city.

Thank you.

Minneapolis Police Continues to Deliver Crime-Fighting Results During Operation Metro Surge

Minneapolis, MN — Minneapolis Police Chief Brian O'Hara announced the MPD has continued to make significant progress in combating serious violent crime and removing illegal firearms from city streets during Operation Metro Surge, despite unprecedented operational demands and ongoing staffing challenges among MPD members.

Over the past seven weeks, MPD officers and investigators have demonstrated sustained, data-driven enforcement, focusing precisely on violent offenders, gun crime, and repeat offenders—while maintaining professionalism, constitutional policing, and community safety.

Violent Crime Accountability and Clearance

- 5 of 7 reported homicides cleared by criminal complaint
- 9 arrests stemming from 6 homicide investigations during the reporting period
- 20 gunshot victims citywide, representing substantial reductions compared to prior years:
  - –35% compared to the same period last year
  - –62% compared to two years ago
  - –60% compared to three years ago
  - –67% compared to four years ago
  - –59% compared to five years ago

Illegal Guns and Violent Offenders Removed from the Streets

- 74 illegal firearms recovered
- 26 firearms-related arrests
- 241 high-visibility, data-driven proactive patrols (RAPPID) conducted in known gun-crime hotspots

While firearm recoveries declined from 98 during the previous seven-week period, the reduction coincides with a marked decrease in gunshot victimization—indicating meaningful disruption of violent activity rather than reduced enforcement.

Enforcement Activity and Public Safety Impact

MPD made 849 total arrests, including:

- 214 domestic-related arrests, including 34 aggravated domestic assaults
- 24 non-domestic aggravated assault arrests
- 17 robbery arrests, including:
  - 5 carjackings

AMERICA OVERSIGHT

    - 10 aggravated robberies
    - 1 robbery of a person
    - 1 business robbery
- 128 warrant arrests
- 82 narcotics-related arrests
- 27 DWI arrests
- 9 criminal sexual conduct arrests

These arrests reflect a sustained focus on individuals posing the greatest risk to public safety.

Professional Policing Under Pressure

The disruptions caused by Operation Metro Surge has heightened citywide policing demands, increased protest-related deployments, and subjected our members to extended tours of duty, multiple days off being cancelled, and multiple emergency recalls. Despite these challenges, MPD personnel have remained disciplined, mission-focused, and committed to fighting serious crime while earning community trust.

"I couldn't be prouder to report that our officers continue to deliver exceptional results under extraordinarily challenging conditions," said Chief Brian O'Hara. "Their outstanding police work demonstrates that focused, professional policing—guided by data and accountability, with support of our residents—can reduce violence, clear serious cases, and remove dangerous individuals and illegal guns from our communities."

Commitment Going Forward

The MPD will continue to deploy targeted enforcement strategies, prioritize violent crime investigations, and work in partnership with community members and regional law-enforcement agencies to sustain these gains.

Chief and AC,
This is the product I received back from the analysts regarding the Chief's request to quantify the police activity related to ICE events. It's likely not what the Chief wants. I'll send Austin back to the drawing board as we need someone to go through the logs and mine the case numbers with actual criminal events that are involved.

Subject: Running List of Incidents follow up

Good Afternoon,

I just got off the phone with MECC's supervisors who confirmed there is no running aggregate list of incidents anyone is aware of. Just the daily logs. I did pull a very basic query of all CAD calls with car 92 or Immigration units noted. The unit designation should only be when agents call dispatch themselves to notify but MECC did say there was a period of time some call takers were incorrectly using this for non-validated incidents of immigration activity by 911 callers pre-Car 92.

This spreadsheet is a conservative culmination of incidents, there will be incidents missing in which Car 92 doesn't assign themselves the call and only acknowledges in the comments. I also included the first occuring CAD comment for each to add context to what the call is in nature to. This seems to work for most but not all as you will see.

A recommendation moving forward if there is a desire to quantify these more comprehensively is for Car 92 to assign themselves the call so that the CAD database can be queried for their unit's activity.

MiCheif O'Hara,

I am making this direct complaint to you regarding the lack of response and call backs by officers from the 5th precinct regarding trespassing, drug dealing, loitering and other crime issues at and in the building 10 19th St E and along 19th St E and Nicollet. This is also a complaint regarding the negligent actions and responses from the management of Mint Properties.

There has been rampant trespassing, drug dealing, crime, property damage and life, safety and security issues for the tenants at 10 19th St E.

The police have found evidence recently of nonresidents breaking door locks and living in basement and have come out one other time ive called to report trespassing in building. Per conversations with Mint Properties management, Ahmed Hassan fror the 5th precinct and Tazio Lombardo, city attorney, people that are trespassing need to be caught inside building to be trespassed by police. Mint Properties fails to come out to deal with trespassers and tell residents to call 911. Per Tiffany Lindquist at Mint Properties they are too busy and do not have time to come out.

I have made multiple calls to 911 and have requested to have officers call when here so i can let them in building and also speak to them, but some calls have been 3 hours or so or no call backs at all leaving me sitting and waiting.

I spoke to Inspector Novak and Officer Humphrey on person at the 5th Thursday January 15th regarding no response call back while waiting, and I spoke to Inspector Novak via phone Friday January 15 regarding the same issues.

There are 4 calls in the past 3 days I did not receive calls back and followed up on additional information for a call Wednesday night, but was told that officers were already here and didn't see anything. They did not call me and the people were still here and i requested that police respond back and call me which also did not happen.

I came home Friday afternoon around 1225pm and entered my apartment building at 10 19th St E and found 6 black males and females trespassing in entryway and hallway, with 2 males doing open drug deals with cash out on steps and stair post. I called 911 and reported and requested police call me when they were here so i could let them in. I took my dog out for a walk about half an hour later and trespassers and drug dealers where still in building. At 115 pm my dog and i were walking back to our building and were standing in front of 100 19th St E and saw a squad car heading east on 19th St E from Nicollet Ave, the squad car Car #510 did not stop, slow down or call me to gain access to building. When i went in building there was still 2 people in building.

What is your reasoning or new excuses why the police squad car and officer of Car 510 and Inspector Novak have again failed to stop and check on reported crimes in and around 10 19th St E which may have resulted in arrests and people being trespassed from our building.

Everday the police department fails to respond to calls for crimes and issues in our building and area, you, Inspector Novak, the 5th precinct, Minneapolis Police Department, the mayor and city council are putting the tenants, lifes and their property in danger of assaults, robbery, threats, intimidation,extreme health issues by dru dealers and trespassers exposing tenants to cigarette cigar pot meth liquor and other chemical elements and the risk of exposure trash, garbage, bodily fluids and excrement found throughout the building.

I have filed repeated complaints to Mint Properties with times dates descriptions pictures details of issues with no response from the office or maintenance regarding life safety security issues. I have been told they are too busy and do not have time.

I had the City Fire Building Inspector here on Monday January 12 and verified code and ordinances regarding the building and regarding marked Fire Emergency doors that are not operating to let people out in case of fire or emergency because Chris Dukes from maintenance decides these doors do not require immediate attention and can wait for repair. The attached pictures are just some of the issues the City Inspector witnessed or have have been seen or happened between Monday and Friday which shows human excrement vomit jammed door locksbroken light fixtures person passed out in entry hall at 5pm doors prooped open trash and drug paraphernalia on steps, drug dealer in stairway.

Mint Properties supposedly has video cameras on the building which the police supposedly have access to, yet i dont believe anyone is viewing or watching to see these people come and go.

Minneapolis Police and Mint Properties needs to put pressure on each other and get these people arrested and trespassed for the building and area which has been known for several years as an open drug dealing and crime area with deaths, injuries, shootings, assaults, robberies, property damage.

I say to include ICE and DHS for help in this area due to ongoing gang and drug trafficking to arrest and deport nonresidents who may be involved in crimes.

I would like to hear a response from you and additional response from Inspector Novak regarding the issues this week.

First question, do the mayors agree with this statement? This is pretty quick turnaround if they did.

Second concern, I do not like talking about Minneapolis specifically…our statement should transcend any particular city

Third, I believe there is room to reduce the wording…too much give detractors more ammunition to make this statement messy, simple is our best friend for such a thorny issue…

Statement by U.S. Conference of Mayors and Major Cities Chiefs Association on Ensuring Public Safety Amid Federal Immigration Actions

Washington, DC—Yesterday, the leadership of the U.S. Conference of Mayors and the Major Cities Chiefs Association met to discuss ways in which local leaders can work together to uphold the rule of law, support peaceful protest, and ensure community safety. Following their discussion, the two groups issued the joint statement below:

"As mayors and police chiefs, the safety of our residents is our paramount concern. In recent years, cities across the country have reported historic progress, with violent crime falling to record lows. These results are not accidental. They reflect sustained investments on the local level and effective collaboration with federal agencies, including the FBI, ATF and DEA.

"What is happening right now in Minnesota and other parts of the country deeply concerns us. We wish for peace and we wish for that peace to act as a bulwark against further conflict. And we want to keep local law enforcement resources focused on continuing crime reduction.

"The enforcement of immigration laws is not new, and Americans have a wide spectrum of views regarding immigration laws and enforcement of those laws. We recognize that fundamental policy decisions about immigration laws and enforcement must be made at the federal level.

"Having said that, we must speak up for public safety and order, and we believe that on these topics there is common ground that the vast majority of Americans can support.

"The mayors and police chiefs of the United States urge officials of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement and all federal law enforcement agencies to model the professionalism and care that we expect from our local law enforcement agencies. We recognize that some situations can escalate, but we urge federal law enforcement leaders to insist upon calm and de-escalation from their officers at all times.

"Similarly, we call on all residents exercising their First Amendment rights to pursue legal and non-violent protest. Regardless of the views or intentions of those engaging in protest activity, we do not condone protest actions that are violent, destroy property or are intended to incite such behavior. We ask for civil discourse and for our residents who desire policy change to pursue it through the legal and political methods afforded us.

"Fundamentally, America's mayors and police chiefs call for peace, de-escalation, calm and professionalism. We demand nothing less from ourselves, and all Americans should demand the same from our federal officials and our fellow residents."

Chief O'Hara

NOTE: ONLY ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ARE INCLUDED. THE QUESTIONS WERE NOT RECORDED.

Chief O'Hara 01:51
Sure, sure. Thank you for having me.

Chief O'Hara 02:04
Yep, I'm in the office the police chief's office here at Minneapolis City Hall.

Chief O'Hara 02:16
Tough question. I

02:33
Yes, yep, I

Chief O'Hara 02:43
Hmm, that is the wrong word. So what happened was that night, we had a protest start outside of a hotel, which began as several other protests. Here have a noise protest outside of a hotel where people believed federal law enforcement might be staying. What Right exactly? What happened during the course of that protest in March is it sort of transitioned into an unlawful assembly, and so they had marched off to a different hotel, and in the time when they left and before they came back, things that typically happen in cities happen. And a woman who was disoriented, drove her car onto a sidewalk, and the police were called to respond. So while the police car was there, dealing with regular police work, suddenly they realized they had become surrounded by this crowd, which had become unruly. So our officers called in that they were surrounded and unable to drive out. And I was in the area personally with other police officers. We just we quickly ran in to back the crowd out, out of the way, to get a path for the police car to come out, and I think because we did that, I think that may have contributed to emboldening an already unruly crowd. And we very quickly, very quickly, then called in well over 200 additional police officers and began the process of declaring an unlawful assembly, announcing pre planned announcements, repeatedly giving people that were not associated with unlawful acts the time to voluntarily leave, which the overwhelming majority of people did do. They complied and they left. And then ultimately we wound up placing 30 people under arrest, citing them for unlawful assembly and releasing them.

Yeah, I. It?

Chief O'Hara 05:03
Well, it's been very taxing for all members of the police department, and this is a situation that has been building up for several weeks in the context in which this is happening. Is, this is the Minneapolis Police Department. You know, this is an agency that, prior to 2020 was typically staffed with 900 police officers, and since 2020 Over 500 of the cops who were here at that time have left the police department. So we remain about a third below the staffing that had been typical prior to the pandemic. So we already rely so much on having our officers work extended shifts and perform overtime just to do the normal things that city cops have to do, answer 911 calls, investigate violence and those types of things. And so the last several weeks, a lot of the the disturbances and chaos is, you know, the chaos that's been happening here as a result of the manner in which some federal enforcement activity is happening is requiring our officers to respond and step into situations and try and restore the peace, where oftentimes they themselves then become the target of people's frustration. What

07:09
Yes, yes, yes, important.

07:29
When, But

07:38
if you guys see,

Chief O'Hara 07:48
well, I think immigration enforcement has been escalating in general over the course of the last year. In January of last year, the FBI, DEA, other agencies that typically do not conduct immigration enforcement were given the authority to do that, and so over the course of the year, while we are working with the FBI, DEA ATF to go after violent criminals, violent gang members, people who are bringing fentanyl into the city, there had been a concern that immigration enforcement would escalate in some way because these other agents were agencies were also being drawn into that about a month ago in December, when this happened in a in a very public way. It seemed like the public messaging was was largely political, and it was a result of a real problem that does exist in the state, and that is a problem with fraud that has been prosecuted. Dozens of people have been prosecuted by the FBI And the US Attorney's office here in Minnesota.

09:08
Yes, I

Chief O'Hara 09:31
Yes, the largest in the United States. The Oh,

Chief O'Hara 09:54
well, I'm from, you know, about 10 miles from Lower Manhattan, is where I grew up. I was a police officer for over 20 years in Newark, New Jersey, a very diverse part of the country, but I had not known, I don't think, any Somali Americans until I moved to Minnesota, and the Somali Americans that I have met here, including many of whom are police officers in this city have been incredibly welcoming of me, as have been everyone else who lives in Minnesota, and you know, so from a personal perspective, you know, I know people obviously that this affects its Police officers and other people here in the community, but it was just bizarre, because I'm also aware that the overwhelming majority of people from that community are American citizens.

Chief O'Hara 11:00
Well, there is a real problem with fraud in the state. And unfortunately, I just feel like that is sort of lost now in all of this political rhetoric and sort of the extreme reactions that occur, you know, around all of That and ethnicity, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, for sure. I it, yes.

Chief O'Hara 11:51
Yes, absolutely. Those cases that were brought about leading to dozens and dozens of prosecutions were led by the US Attorney's office here in Minnesota, as well as the FBI i

Chief O'Hara 12:32
Well, certainly there is street crime problems involving some members of every community, but that is different and different People from what is involved with this fraud issue. You

Chief O'Hara 13:10
I mean, there have been, there has been immigration enforcement conducted in Minnesota, as long as there has been ice, as long as the Immigration and Naturalization Service switched from ins to ice. I think the problem is, regardless of you know, if, if a politician, whoever is in charge, wants to prioritize enforcement of these laws over those laws, that's obviously their prerogative. I think the problem is, what gets lost in this is it's not necessarily about which laws are being enforced. It's about how that enforcement is happening. And I just feel like professionally in law enforcement, for many years, we have done, done great work to make progress to reduce crime and enforce the law in ways that build community trust, in ways that make everyone in the community safer. And so I feel like it just a lot of the things that are happening are kind of going the opposite direction from the way the profession has been moving for many years,

Chief O'Hara 14:31
because of the manner in which some of this enforcement is happening, to the extent that there are well planned, pre planned, targeted enforcement against people who are violating the law. You know, I think all of law enforcement can very clearly get behind that, but to the extent that things are being conducted that may not be well planned. You. Using tactics that generally are not viewed as sound, that may unnecessarily endanger the lives both of law enforcement officers conducting that enforcement as well as the lives of people in the community, tactics that do create dangerous situations and may not be a sound or prudent use of resources. I think those are all valid concerns that get raised, and certainly those are concerns that I have to deal with and I am responsible for as a professional managing my agency. I

15:43
Correct, correct, yes,

Chief O'Hara 15:50
and I feel like that gets lost in these conversations, and I feel like it's an important distinction. I

Chief O'Hara 16:18
I think there's, there's well over 2000 were sent, and now we're we're beyond that.

Chief O'Hara 16:41
So yes. So we've just gotten a pretty dramatic increase in 911 calls from people in the community related to a lot of the street enforcement that's happening. And I mean, it's everything from people are being arrested and their cars are left, sometimes left in the roadway, sometimes blocking the street. That one case left when it wasn't even placed in park and was rolling down the road. Another case, we had that happen. We had that happen one time. We had another time where there was a dog in the car and they left the dog in the car in the roadway. We've had all those types of calls and then others that there's, you know, ice, you know, agents or maybe ice may not be ice, because people are unsure if it's law enforcement, it's just a variety of calls for service that we then have to manage and triage that were not happening before. Yes.

Chief O'Hara 17:59
I mean, we weren't getting any before, so certainly to get a few dozen more each day, particularly when you need somebody to go through all of these and to try and make sense of, okay, what is, you know, actually a legitimate call, versus crank calls that we're getting and things like that. I mean, even this morning, we've gotten calls for individuals who were pepper sprayed by ice that we have to respond to with, with EMS and those types of things. I mean, it's, it is a wide variety, and there's definitely crank calls that are happening as well related to this activity. I

Chief O'Hara 18:55

it well, it complicates things because we remain significantly understaffed, as I mentioned before, the majority of the cops that worked here in 2025 years later, the majority have left, and we're trying to rebuild. We remain 1/3 below what had been typical of staffing for the police department here today, while we're dealing with a much higher level of serious street crime than what had been normal in the past. So this is adding additional work, but probably the toughest distinction is we've been trying to reduce crime in a way that builds trust, and now we're getting cold and pulled into situations that are very tense and very emotionally charged, and oftentimes we're asked to try and step in and deescalate situations where federal law enforcement may have been involved that very, very quickly, as soon as we show up, we become the target of people. Frustration, and almost immediately, even when we're just trying to keep the police that keep the keep the peace, excuse me, people immediately say we're protecting ice and all of those things. I

20:28
Yes, yes, yes, You

20:46
Yes, I

21:31
help right?

Chief O'Hara 21:44
Yeah, yes, yes, absolutely. And in the midst of all of that, all of those challenges, while we're trying to heal this community, while we're trying to heal the men and women who have remained here and rebuild the best police department in the country. Now we're dealt with these additional challenges, additional stress being placed on the men and women, women, men and women of the Department who who remain here while they're already experiencing so much change and so many challenges while they're already the most scrutinized police department in the nation, and I can tell you, like everyone here, the cops here, we're human beings, and as I worry, just like I worry for The community, that when we might hit a breaking point. You know, I've been talking for many weeks, I had been afraid that a tragedy was going to happen, and I would hope that people can recognize that the loss of any human life is a tragedy, and in that situation, no one wins. And I'm just concerned that nothing has changed yet, and we're still just as much at risk as we were a week ago of having another tragedy happen needlessly.

23:21
Well,

Chief O'Hara 23:27
I think you saw the results of that change this week. Minneapolis has had the largest protests, the largest protests yesterday happened here, largest single event in many years. And there were definitely challenges. And our officers were being taunted and baited into into conflicts and confrontations, and despite, you know, one protest, we had to make 30 arrests, and yesterday, one person that had to be arrested for spray painting graffiti on at least a dozen buildings. They've remained incredibly peaceful.

Our officers have not been baited into confrontation. They have de escalated very, very difficult and emotionally charged situations, and we didn't have anything like 2020 happen here, despite the risks that everyone in the community here felt. And so I think that has been built up from many years of policy reform, of trying to reform training, and, quite frankly, trying to change the culture in the agency and trying to support the health and wellness of the men and women who work here while you're still, while you're all severely understaffed. And so, you know, I'm not going to say that we're, we're close to a breaking point here. But there's so many, there's only so much that individual people can take, and I just worry that this constant, constant stress is going to have a long term impact on our people. I so on June 3 of this year, we were unaware, but a federal task force was conducting a search warrant that was completely unrelated to immigration enforcement. They're actually conducting multiple search warrants around around the metro here, but there's one particular search warrant happened at a Latino business on Lake Street, which is the heart of the immigrant community and is the same same business corridor that burned to the ground five years ago. And so federal law enforcement showed up, you know, with a SWAT team and others and began executing a search warrant on a Mexican restaurant. It was not related to immigration enforcement, and we were not aware of the action, but very quickly it became a crowd control and unsafe situation as protesters and others quickly came to the scene, and frankly, the federal law enforcement was not prepared for it, so we had to respond to the scene, even just to establish a police line to ensure that evidence wouldn't be tampered and ultimately, to create a pathway so that federal law enforcement could safely leave. And it very quickly and very publicly became a situation where many, many people turned against the Minneapolis Police Department, where people said that we were lying and we were assisting federal law enforcement, federal immigration enforcement, from happening. And from a few hours after that, I was very, very concerned that we would experience unrest, but ultimately we did not. And even though nothing ultimately happened, there was no one arrested that day, and it wasn't actually connected to, you know, an immigration action. There's still, for many, many months, people in the community who already don't trust the police were amplifying it that much more, saying that we were lying about not working with ice. So you can see just, just from the ground level, us showing up because there's a search warrant happening and a crowd forming, and, you know, having nothing to do with immigration enforcement, but quite frankly, I you know we didn't even know that at the time, because we didn't know this was happening, created a situation where we instantly became The problem. I

28:24
Yeah, yeah,

Chief O'Hara 28:41
yeah, yeah. So, so that was the that was the first one that set the stage. And just for context, that was Tuesday, June 3, on Friday of that week, a similar operation happened in Los Angeles, and that's what led to the National Guard deployment there. So that's, that's for context, in December, there's one incident that was pretty highly publicized where an enforcement action was happening on Pillsbury Avenue, which is close to the largest indoor Somali shopping mall in the city. And very quickly, people came to the scene and began recording the federal federal law enforcement officers that were there. There was a woman that an agent had faced down in the snow for some time, and at some point, this agent dragged the woman across the pavement while all of this was being filmed. And so the Minneapolis Police received a call saying that there were, I think, I think the notes were something like 60 people were actively assaulting the federal agents. So we immediately responded as we. Would if any person was being assaulted, you know, violence in the city and and, you know, once we determined that there was no actual threat to life or property and that we were not needed, our officers disengaged and left the scene. But even with that happening, there were there were people saying that once again, just like they were we they did on June 3, that we were lying. And we're working with ice, we're pre planning these things, and we're helping them conduct immigration enforcement the minute we show up. We're the problem. And it's a complex, yeah, I mean, it's, it is a complex issue. I mean, just because ice is in Minneapolis does not mean we're not still the Minneapolis Police. We have a job to do to protect the lives and the safety of all people in our community, and just because we show up doesn't mean we're endorsing whatever is happening if we show up at some First Amendment activity, a protest or someone who's saying things that are hateful and, you know, hurtful, what have you. Just because we show up there, because there may potentially be a threat to life or threat to property, does not mean that we are endorsing whatever views are being expressed. The job of the police is to show up in these situations and get in between the chaos and try and keep people safe and restore the Peace.

Yes, yes, it's yes,

Chief O'Hara 32:22
I it well, I can tell you, the role of the police and law enforcement in the United States is first off to protect life, but it's also to ensure people's human rights and their constitutional rights. And people in this country have a First Amendment right to observe record and object to government activity, and that includes the activity that Minneapolis Police Officers do, as well as other law enforcement in our city, the line is that you must exercise your first amendment rights lawfully and peaceably. If you're going to record the police, you must do so from a position where you are legally able to do so, and you must do so in a way that does not create a risk unlawfully to public safety, and so it is a challenge, but it's a challenge that policing in America has been dealing with and trying to improve upon for many years. It does add a level of complication to our work. But I just want to be clear, though, in terms of whether we're talking about the tactics that ice use, or, you know, people recording us, I'm not asking for federal law enforcement to do anything differently than what I expect the men and women of the Minneapolis Police Department to do I expect the men and men and women of this department to treat people with respect. I expect the cops that work here to honor people's human dignity and to never take someone's dignity away from them, let alone to not do things, you know, to employ sound tactics that do not unjustifiably enhance the risk to their own life and safety or the risk to the safety of people in the community. I'm not asking them to do anything different than what I expect the cops in the city to do. I people and. Yes, absolutely, I the Last 35:42

34:59

time we lost

Chief O'Hara 35:50
i Yes, I mean, this was predictable And it's also entirely preventable. I mean, that's why this profession has moved for many years to employ better tactics to ensure that we are learning organizations, that we review our policies and our practices to ensure that we're not unjustifiably putting our officers or people in the community at risk, and we just have not seen that. We have not seen any sense that that there is the same level of accountability in some of these actions.

Chief O'Hara 36:59
Yes, I mean, I had been saying it for weeks. I literally said it at a press conference the day before

Chief O'Hara 37:30
there was a 911 call reporting a shooting potentially involving federal law enforcement, and I received that notification from dispatch and immediately responded to that emergency with with other police officers one,

Chief O'Hara 37:53
I was wondering whether or not it was even true, because we have, like I mentioned, There are, at times, crank calls that we're also dealing with, and it was just eerily similar to another call that I was hoping wasn't true. Was a first report of a shooting at a Catholic church here in August, also in the morning, just like that, you in both cases, it was true, yeah.

Chief O'Hara 38:40
I mean, I'm having a hard time describing it.

38:46
I just thought,

Chief O'Hara 38:48
fuck, this is it. You know, this is the potential here for 2020, all over again, for the destruction of the city and another mass exodus from the police department because of it, I felt it. Yes, I had been afraid that this was going to happen and the result would be that serious, and I just thank God that that has not happened yet, because it's real. You mentioned this is a liberal city earlier, which is true, it is also a very, very engaged community, much more so than what I had experienced coming from northern New Jersey. But I'd also say this is a community that still very much is reeling from 2020 both the residents that lived here and lived through all of that trauma and chaos, as well as the police officers who still carry all of that with them. I.

Chief O'Hara 40:22
And yes, I've seen the videos that are available online. I

Chief O'Hara 40:48

my understanding is that there was a woman who was in her car and was blocking the street, likely because that immigration agents were present and she was likely protesting in some way, immigration officials being present, and ultimately some confrontation occurred where Federal law enforcement shot into the vehicle, killing her. I well, I can tell you, as a police officer, for 25 years, any time you hear a situation where a cop gets into shooting with an unarmed motorist. It's very concerning, and I think New York City, for many years, has had policies trying to limit that as much as possible. They one of the first cities in the country to do so, going back to the early 70s and virtually all other major cities, major police departments in the country have done the same. So I think whenever you have an officer in that type of situation, it gives you pause, and it's very concerning, because while policies and training try to do everything possible to prohibit those situations and to try and prevent them from occurring in the first place. There are times unfortunately where law enforcement cannot avoid those situations from occurring. The concern is, as a professional are we doing everything we possibly can as leaders in law enforcement, as leaders of our agencies, to try and prevent our people from getting into that situation in the first place? That's been the concern, that's been the standard for many years. Are we looking at the practices of individual officers, or the training that we have, or any of these types of things, so that we're not unnecessarily creating the risk unjustifiably,

Chief O'Hara 41:33

Chief O'Hara 43:18
yes, yes. It the number one is you don't place yourself in the path of the vehicle. That's like traffic stop 101, you don't place yourself in the path of vehicle. You don't place yourself in between vehicles. You don't do that. You with that might end your life, you don't create that scenario.

Chief O'Hara 43:58
Absolutely and then the other one is, what exactly is the mission here? Because if this person isn't the target of a pre planned enforcement action, then what are we doing? Are we trying to deescalate and try and resolve the situation? Are we trying to take an enforcement action and enforce some law here, or what exactly is, is the goal you

Chief O'Hara 44:46
our police officers, our police officers, every single day, are getting dispatched to calls like this. Are encountering motorists who. Uh, are likely to flee. And we haven't had a situation like this, and we don't, because we try and do everything possible to prevent the officers from being in that situation in the first place our cops, all the time, get dispatched to they call it slumber calls. Somebody's asleep in the vehicle. Car might be stolen, the person might be using drugs or what have you. There's training and there's procedures in place so that The officers do not approach those situations unnecessarily, creating risk. Well,

Chief O'Hara 46:22
I can only speak to conducting the traffic stop from my perspective as a police officer. And you mentioned, what is our policy? What is our training? Number one, you approach the driver, you introduce yourself by rank, by name, by what agency you work for, and you tell the person, explain the reason why the person is being stopped. You do these sorts of things to try and ensure, number one, to identify yourself, but to try and ensure a level of professionalism and to try and deescalate. If the person asks you a question that's reasonable, you respond to it reasonably, that that is the expectation. I didn't see any of that. And further, it just seems like there's confusion. Because it doesn't seem it seems like someone else, and I don't know just from what I recall, but it seems like someone else is saying get out of the car than the officer who shot and just it's not clear to me whether the two of them were working together and understood what each other was trying to accomplish. I

No question.

48:00
Yes, yes, absolutely.

Chief O'Hara 48:09
I do feel like, well, I do feel like law enforcement, leaders, executives, have an obligation to their people. We have an obligation to ensure that our people have sufficient policies, sufficient training, sufficient experiences for the challenges that we are placing them into. We have an obligation not to send our people out there and to tell them you have a specific quota today. You have to get a certain number of people. I mean, it seems like that's the situation these folks are being placed into, and that went out the window a long time ago in professional policing. So, I mean, it doesn't seem and considering this agent was seriously injured in a stop, you know, somewhat recently, it certainly raises questions as to, what did the agency do to ensure that this this officer wouldn't be placed in that situation again? What did the agency do to protect their person?

Chief O'Hara 49:19
Yes, he sustained significant bodily injury for sure. So what did the agency do to ensure that that officer would not be unsafe in similar situations?

Chief O'Hara 49:40
Yes, and whether or not I don't have specific information about that, I just know what I've read. I know what's been reported. It's been reported that they're not even getting the level of training that they used to get, that the time of training is less. I think that's concerning, and I do think that. Being forced into situations in which they are not well prepared to deal with Yeah, immigration enforcement has been happening in Minnesota as long as there's been ice and we have not had these problems. You right? You?

50:55

Chief O'Hara 51:05
Yes. Well, I think the the loss here is the loss of any trust that the end of the investigation would be legitimate. And I tell you, you know, I know a lot of the FBI agents here, like, I know a lot of the leaders of all the different federal agencies. They're here. The FBI agents are professionals, you know, and they work with our state special agents every day. And so, you know, I believe the FBI will still do a thorough investigation, because that's what they do. That's what the people who staff this agency here, that's what they do every day. But that's the problem. But that's the problem. The way this has played out has taken all sense of legitimacy away from from many people. And that's very unfortunate. It's not helpful. Absolutely I I want to Talk about what happened. Mm,

Chief O'Hara 53:06
I Well, I had asked the mayor to have the National Guard on standby as this was initially unfolding, because it was so unpredictable, and I have confidence in the Minnesota National Guard to come in in a way, if we need them to come in a way that is appropriate, that that fulfills their mission. My main concern in doing so was because the situation was was changing and escalating so rapidly, I was afraid that once it became, came to the point where we might need the National Guard, it would probably take too long to get them here. So that's why I'm glad they were on standby. And it's my understanding they're being they're being demobilized even from the standby now as we speak, because all of these protests, including the large, large one yesterday, have have been peaceful going forward, it's my understanding that there is additional federal law enforcement being added to the state specifically to conduct more of these operations. That is concerning. It's just as concerning as it was the day before we had this fatal shooting, and so I am afraid things will continue to escalate, particularly if we have yet another tragedy. I

Chief O'Hara 55:10
The number one priority that I worry about in terms of erasing work that we've done is ultimately erasing the gains that we've made, rebuilding the department and being able to reduce crime. I worry that again, if we have tragedy and have a situation that rapidly escalates, that causes the destruction of the city, we will have the same repeat of that aftermath. You know, in June of 2020, immediately after the destruction of the city, the burning of a police station here, in that one month, we had about as many shootings in one month as the city used to have in half a year. And that level of crime stayed very high. And you know now the last couple of years has started to come down, and it's come down despite not having enough officers, and we finally have started to rebuild. The majority of the time that I've been the police chief here, the department got smaller day after day after day, because we were not able to hire enough people to keep up with the rate of attrition. That has changed now, and I'm just afraid if we have another large scale unrest, that we are both going to have a dramatic increase in crime. Yet again, that's predictable, as well as another mass exodus of the department, and we just, we cannot sustain that, no, and we absolutely cannot sustain that. So that's like a threat to people's lives that live here. And then again, yet, of course, like you're mentioning, a sense that You can't trust the police.

56:59
Yes, yes, yes, yes, yes,

57:29
yeah,

Chief O'Hara 57:36
I know that is true. It's not true for everyone. Though I know that is true, I've had many people reach out and activists reach out over the course of the last week, our elected officials, many people who typically have nothing good to say about the Minneapolis Police, have been incredibly complimentary of how well, how restrained, how disciplined the Minneapolis Police officers have been in these very, very tense situations over the last several days. But it's not universal. There's people here who, despite what's happening, seem to think it's our job to do isis job. There's people here to seem to think that, you know, despite what everyone has been through, that we should continue to make the same failed mistakes of the past when dealing with protests and crowd control and not utilize the best practices to deescalate and to keep everyone safe, to minimize the risk of injuries to our officers as well as people in the community. So unfortunately, because we live in the same society, everyone else is that's so polarized, it's not universal, but there's definitely, definitely a whole lot more people, and that continues a pattern that's been building over a couple of years. A whole lot more people that have something good to say about the job the cops here are doing. You I mean, I think everybody wants to get back to some sense of normalcy, and I think that does involve some level of returning to some basic things that we accepted as normal, right? Right? And you know that obviously isn't federal law enforcement stops enforcing federal law. That's not the answer either. But again, it is. It does have to do with having an honest conversation about reality. You know, we have, we've had many instances of people being stopped, family members of police officers being stopped that are American citizens. And it's, yeah, it's definitely at best. It is definitely questionable. You know, they're not stop. They're not stopping family members of folks who are Norwegian or Irish. That's not happening. So I mean, we have to be honest about the reality that we're living in.

Chief O'Hara 59:41

Chief O'Hara 1:01:02
We are doing it right now, and we are proving to the world that this is possible, that this is not the same police department it was five years ago or 10 years ago or 15 years ago, but it is an unbelievable stress on everyone involved. And I think everybody just needs to get some relief. I think everybody needs to turn the heat down and hopefully, hopefully get some sense of normalcy, some basic Things You know to return.

Chief O'Hara 1:01:54
Thank you. Michael,

1:02:01
sure

Chief O'Hara 1:02:14
I am concerned about the health and wellness of the cops. I feel it myself. These cops are tired. They were tired before all this craziness started. You know, we we push them to the max before all of this happened. We can't keep acting like it's normal to have the level of staffing that we have, and to have cops have to work so much overtime just to answer 911 calls and investigate crimes and those sorts of things. I mean, they were already being pushed to extremes while they're working in the most scrutinized Police Department on Earth. It's too much. Something's going to give, particularly when we get into these situations like we're in this week, or have to cancel all days off, recall everyone to duty, hold everybody over for extended hours. There's folks that are at a breaking point here. It can't go on forever. Something has to give you.

Chief O'Hara 1:03:36
Well, I fear, you know, like in the in the situation that I mentioned, where the woman was on the ground being dragged across the street. I am afraid that situation, the situation with the shooting, any of these, could very, very quickly become civil unrest. You know, people are ready to go, it could very, very quickly explode, and with the level of staffing that we have and the time that it takes to get mutual aid, to get the National Guard to come in, it will be too late. That's my fear.

1:04:44
Yes, of course, you.

Chief O'Hara 1:05:03
It, yes, sure. I know this has never been a problem before. I've never expected ice to come help me investigate domestic violence, which is a real challenge for me, because it's much higher than it was before 2020 and I have half the number of investigators, but I don't expect ice to come in here and help me with that. So I mean, I would think they can understand that I work under the laws of the state of Minnesota and the City of Minneapolis at the same time I understand the impact that all this is happening, all this political rhetoric has on them as individuals, the impact of leadership, their own leadership, how that impacts their lives. I'm sure many of them did not sign up expecting to be deployed around the country. You know, for these brief deployments and those types of things. I mean, all of this has a human impact on everyone involved, but that's why leadership is so important. It's incumbent upon leadership, to ensure that you're taking care of your people and you're not. You know, failing to address their own health and wellness and their own issues around safety. You know, we have an obligation to be responsible in terms of the practices that we employ to accomplish our mission, so that we are not unjustifiably damaging community trust or causing, you know, other collateral damage to public safety. I

Chief O'Hara 1:07:04
It's not possible for us to coordinate under the policies and the laws of the city. It's not possible for for immigration enforcement anyway, but it does exist for everything else where there is, you know, joint jurisdiction between state and local law enforcement as well as the feds. In fact, the reductions in crime over the last few years that I'm talking about would not have happened if it was not for the US Attorney's office here in Minnesota and all of federal law enforcement, all of the different federal law enforcement agencies that helped contribute to that effort to build racketeering cases against shooters and gang members, to target carjackers, to target people who were dealing fentanyl and having guns that had switches in them to illegally make them into machine guns. Like none of that progress would have happened if it wasn't for the coordination with federal law enforcement.

Chief O'Hara 1:08:20

Again, I just, I just want to point out that we never had this issue a year ago, that we were able to work together and have an understanding of of our rules. We had an understanding we believe in the rule of law. We understand that federal jurisdiction has officers have jurisdiction over certain things, and state and local officers have jurisdiction on other things. There was an understanding, and now it seems like, I mean, it seems like reality is thrown into question. Look, it was never possible. Prior to 911 it was never possible for a state or local police officer to enforce immigration law. That changed after 911 when officers are then, well, ice didn't even exist prior to 911 it was the Immigration and Naturalization Service and then the program to deputize state and local law enforcement to conduct immigration enforcement happened after 911 and even well before that, since in the LAPD, since 1979 Many police departments had policies that explicitly said, we're not going to ask people about immigration enforcement, because there's certain communities that have very large populations of who are immigrants, and the issue is exactly what's playing out now in large portions of. A city where people are terrified, where businesses are vacant, where people are not going to church or going to work, they're not present on the street, and many are scared to call 911, because they think that if they do, it ultimately could bring a problem for them. And the reality is we have acknowledged for years that that makes everyone in the community less safe.

Chief O'Hara 1:10:40
Okay, yep, yep. So we have placed a very strong emphasis on use of force, on employing de escalation, on the use of critical decision making practices. We have gone out and had dozens of community meetings to get input from community as we revise our policies, we put a very strong emphasis on our officers health and wellness, and we're trying to continually to provide more resources for our officers so that they can Be well and healthy to be able to show up in the way that the community expects them, and we're trying to change the culture of the agency to respond with urgency to the serious street crime and problems that our community is happening. And I think it all boils down to trying to fight crime in a way that earns Community Trust, as opposed to alienating people. Trying to be as precise as possible to target the individuals who are actually committing the most harm in the community with the limited resources that we have, as opposed to spreading a wide brush a wide net across the community and having negative counsel. I know things are different today. I know we saw the result of that this week. Are we fully here that Of course not. We're nowhere near staffed at a level that is necessary to sustain these reductions in crime and sustain the health and wellness of our people. We're not we haven't accomplished winning trust with all levels of the community that was obvious this week with all the hate and vitriol that was directed towards our officers, but there's certainly been progress. There's certainly folks in this town are a whole lot more safe than they were five years ago, that's for sure. But we still have a whole lot of work to do. I thank you. Michael, cool, yeah, okay,

1:13:11

Greetings:

Please see the embedded draft answers below.

We were wondering if Police had responded to any injuries that happened in the crowd and if so how many injuries there were? Was their significant injuries of note?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- MPD did observe individuals who appeared to be injured. These individuals left the area before MPD could make contact with them.
- Currently, there have been injuries reported by victims to MPD

We also saw the leader of the "stop the invasion" protest, Jake Lang, was hit multiple times by members of the crowd from our chopper video, with some members of the crowd kicking and punching him. We also saw snowballs and ice thrown at him. We were wondering if Police were aware of this and if any suspects had been arrested or noted at this time?

- MPD is aware of social media accounts of him being assaulted. At this time, an official report has not been filed with MPD.
- MPD encourages anyone who has experienced assaultive behavior to report the incident as soon as possible and provide as much detail as they can, including the date, time, and location of the incident, a description of any suspects, and the nature and extent of any injuries sustained.

Was Jake Lang offered security by police for the protest, and if so, did he decline officer's offer of protection?

- MPD did not have communications with him about security.

What was the officer's tactics for crowd control, once the gathering became larger than it intitally spotted and began to spill out onto the streets?

- Today, when crowds blocked roadways, vehicles were used to block roadways, MPD deployed resources and made public announcements for people move to the sidewalk or out of the area. This occurred several times. In general, crowds were responsive to those directives.
- During protests, MPD monitors crowd activity. When threats to life safety or property damage are reported to or observed by officers, MPD deploys resources to address those incidents.

Additionally will there be any press conference or media availability from police later today regarding the protest and counter-protest that took place today?

- There is no press conference planned.

Good afternoon,

Reaching out preemptively ask how many officers were called to help with crowd control for the "stop the invasion" protest and counter protest that followed. Also wondering if there were any arrests or criminal incidents that occurred during this demonstration and counterdemonstration.

We understand those numbers will not be avialible for sometime, but once those have been compiled could you please send them our way?

Thank you, please use reply all when responding.

I am being asked to provide reports for examples cited by you and the Mayor regarding ICE arresting occupants of vehicles and leaving the vehicles behind in the roadway.

Did you obtain these anecdotes from bullets or another source?

Do you have any time and location for the following which you mentioned in your Wall Street Journal ride along ?

1. People arrested and vehicle left in roadway blocking traffic
2. Dogs left behind in a car after driver arrested by ICE
3. Vehicle arrested from vehicle, vehicle not in park, vehicle rolled away.

Importance: High

Good afternoon:

I am writing to recommend that the Mayor make a formal request for assistance from the Minnesota National Guard immediately in order to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city by assisting with a vehicle exclusionary zone in the area and protecting critical infrastructure in the city. At this time, an unlawful assembly and civil unrest is occurring in the city, involving what appears to be thousands of people on the street.

Today, January 24, 2026, at approximately 9:03am Minneapolis Police Department responded to an officer involved shooting (OIS) involving federal law enforcement agents located at 26th and Nicollet Avenue S. The subject that was shot by federal agents has been declared deceased.

This is the third OIS by federal law enforcement since January 7th, 2026, and tensions continue to run high. A large group of approximately 200 agitated protesters arrived and turned into an unlawful assembly. The protesters started throwing large ice chunks, glass bottles, and started blocking roads with dumpsters, wood pallets, and other items located in the area. The agitators lit multiple dumpsters on fire and several are wearing gas masks. Officers tried to contain the scene by deploying gas canisters and protesters have been picking them up and throwing them back.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Once the shooting had been confirmed, we immediately requested the Minnesota BCA respond to conduct a force investigation. I also initiated a callback of Minneapolis police personnel on standby, made an emergency recall of all personnel not on duty, and requested mutual aid.

Surrounding agencies to include the Minnesota State Patrol, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, and Hennepin County Sheriff's Office have already sent resources to help quell the violent behavior. Additional resources from St Paul Police, Ramsey County, and suburban Hennepin agencies were quickly requested to backfill patrol across the City of Minneapolis to respond to 911 calls.

On the scene, MPD, mutual aid resources, and BCA are focused on securing the scene perimeter while the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension is processing the scene. FBI resources recently left the scene and the crime scene is being compromised by protesters. Staffing and resources are not sufficient to support mass arrests if they are needed during this escalating incident.

Agencies across the metro area are experiencing similar challenges that MPD is facing in regard to depleting their staffing and resources. Since the first OIS on January 7th involving federal agents, MPD has experienced numerous protests and gatherings across the city to include a march of upwards of 100,000 people.

Historical events in Minneapolis prove that where large groups gather after a significant incident, civil unrest, violence and significant property damage have followed. It is also important to note that more than 500 sworn members have separated from the MPD since 2020. The continued level of understaffing within the MPD is causing significant concern about the health, wellness, and resiliency of all sworn members as this crisis continues to escalate.

Due to our staffing shortage of 541 officers on full duty, and outside agency requests that have gone unfilled for this past week, we will very quickly exhaust resources necessary to fully provide public safety services to the City of Minneapolis if other large-scale incidents occur.

For context, there are approximately 10,000 licensed police officers in the State of Minnesota. According to reports, there are well over 3,000 additional federal law enforcement personnel in the state conducting the operations that are resulting in these OIS incidents.

We know there were previously planned protests and counter-protests upcoming, and we are actively monitoring this evolving situation as it continues to unfold. We are concerned for the potential escalation of the situation through additional protests due to today's OIS and are concerned with the possibility of future force incidents in the city involving federal law enforcement.

In light of all the facts and circumstances that are currently before us and noting that this is an unusual and unprecedented situation, I am recommending the Mayor request the activation of the Minnesota National Guard to support in the City of Minneapolis to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city by assisting with a vehicle exclusionary zone in the area and protecting critical infrastructure in the city.

Thank you.

Please review and revise where necessary – may be a good time to mention we had 500 officers leave since 2020 and 70 sworn personnel just requested leave.

On January 15, 2026 at approximately 6:51pm, Minneapolis Police Department responded to a officer involved shooting involving (OIS) federal law enforcement agents located at 610 24th Ave N, Minneapolis. This was the second OIS in one week in Minneapolis involving federal agents and tensions among community members and outside agitators have significantly increased.
Last night a group of approximately 200 plus protesters gathered in angry after the shooting. They shot ariel fireworks at law enforcement officers, threw bottles and attempted to light vehicles on fire. Minneapolis Police Department requested mutual aid immediately. Surrounding agencies to include the Minnesota State Patrol, and Hennepin County Sheriff's Office sent resources to help quell the violent behavior that was being displayed. More resources were requested to backfill patrol across the City of Minneapolis to respond to 911 calls. Neighboring Police Departments across the metro sent a low number of officers to assist MPD with 911 calls. The crime scene was process and law enforcement officers again had to flee from the area due to the hostile crowd. MPD monitored and recognized the hostile crowd located three vehicles suspected to belong to ICE were left behind when they fled. The agitated crowd destroyed the vehicles, pulled a gun safe out of one of the vehicles and were trying to light them on fire. MPD had to go in with strike teams to recover the gun safe and vehicles.
Agencies across the metro area are experiencing similar challenges that MPD is facing in regards to depleting their staffing and resources. Since the first OIS on January 7th involving federal agents, MPD has experienced numerous protests and gatherings across the city to include a march of upwards of 100,000 people. Additionally, protesters and agitators are showing up at hotels believed to be housing federal agents and are causing disturbances and significant damage to the hotels.
Tensions are continuing to run high with an anti-Muslim protest in the Somali Community and counter protest, numerous threats towards Somali owned businesses, and numerous bomb threats at children's schools and religious venues.
Based on historical events in Minneapolis where large groups gather after a significant incident; civil unrest, violence and significant property damage followed.
Due to our staffing shortage of 541 officers on full duty, and outside agency requests that have gone unfilled for this past week we will exhaust resources necessary to full provide public safety services to the Minneapolis Community in the event another incident occurs.
We are requesting the activation of the Minnesota National Guard to support the City of Minneapolis by being on standby City for a quick response to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city.

Deputy Chief Klukow-

Since January 7th, the Strike Teams have been activated multiple times for several different missions. The missions include, but not limited to;

- 34th/Portland Ave- Ice shooting of Renee Good, and subsequent deployments related to disturbances/protests
- Hotel occupation
- 24th/Lyndale, Ice shooting at 610 24th Ave N, and subsequent deployments related to disturbances/protests
- 26th/Nicollet Ave, Ice shooting of Alex Pretti, and subsequent deployments related to disturbances/protests
- Two early morning street blockade clearings
- Multiple Hold over shifts

Due to the extreme number of deployments in a short period of time, multiple members of the Strike Teams have violated the MPD overtime policy related to the following:

- Total work in a pay period
  - Members shall not work more than 160 hours total in a pay period.
- Day off each pay period
  - Members shall have at least one full 24-hour day with no work shifts in any capacity in each pay period.
- Rest between shifts
  - Members shall have at least 8 consecutive hours off within every 24-hour period.
  - Members exceeded 16 hours worked in a 24-hour period.

Per our conversation, you requested an email outlining the Strike Teams work over the past 28 day pay cycle. You told me to ensure that ALL Strike Team members keep this email for their records.

Subject: FW: Calls about ICE

Good afternoon,

AC Blackwell per our conversation and Brian per your request, we pulled the incident and calls related to what we believe is the call being referred to. Sorry this took so long for us to put all of the pieces together, not being able to work at our center today made it more difficult to put all of this together especially with no date, phone number or time frame. I hope this helps.

This call was put in as a SUSPP, the callers each stated that there was a large group of people gathering outside because they think "they are ICE and that they are not ICE" . I am not finding calls that they were "locked" into the restaurant but we will continue to dig deeper. I can see from the incident that our Supervisors were notified, a Street Sgt was notified, Car 09 was notified. The only information I can't tell until getting into the office again tomorrow is what other squads were doing at the time of this incident.

I am only sending to this small group at the moment and only for people that requested this information. AC Blackwell if you want me to contact the Chief with this information I can otherwise I can let you talk with him.

If there is anything more you need from us let us know.

Thank you,

Subject: How to enter 'Change of Schedule' Overtime

Dear Department Members,

Thank you very much for the stretch you and your families are making during Operation Trust and Safety. I want to make sure everyone is on the same page with workforce entries. Please take a moment to read the below message regarding time entries:

As a reminder, all of patrol (Days, Mids, and Dogs) will work their normal shift hours. Any changes to patrol shift schedules will be communicated via radio during the shift and should be treated as a shift holdover. Such instances must be coded in Workforce as “Response to Immigration Enforcement Activities (ICE) 1.5x.” during Operation Trust & Safety.

Officers who have been directed to change their shift hours by administration are eligible for Change of Shift (COS) compensation. Eligibility for COS applies when officers are ordered to report for duty at a start time different from their regularly scheduled 'Bid' shift start time, or from the posted shift start time on the 28-day schedule for non-bid assignments.

Examples,

*An officer assigned to the Assault Unit and scheduled to work a 0700–1500 shift, as posted, who was ordered to report for duty at 0600 and whose tour of duty is extended beyond the officer’s regularly scheduled end time, shall be eligible for Change of Shift compensation.

0500-0600 change of shift (8hrs)
0600-0700 Ice immigration OT
0700-1500 Regular hours
1500-1800 Ice immigration OT

*An officer assigned to the Daywatch Patrol and scheduled to work a 0630-1630 shift, as posted, who was ordered to report for duty at 0600 and whose tour of duty is extended beyond the officer’s regularly scheduled end time, shall be eligible for Change of Shift compensation.

0500-0600 change of shift (10hrs)
0600-0630 Ice immigration OT
0630-1630 Regular hours

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1500-1800 Ice immigration OT*

1. Change of Shift (COS) requests must be entered for one (1) hour. These requests should be submitted either immediately prior to the officer's scheduled shift start time, or immediately prior to entering an overtime activity that leads directly into their shift.
2. Please include explanatory comments with each COS request, detailing the reason for the change.

Note:

1. Officers who are on continuous 'Standby', SB1, SB2, SB3, etc., prior to the start of their shifts might have some trouble entering this request, so I will work with those officers separately to assist them in getting their requests entered.

Change of shift requests can only approved by supervisors in the ranks of Commander and above, so I ask these supervisors to login to Workforce Director and approve the requests for those officers whom they supervise. Please DO NOT 'Reject' any (COS) requests from officers not under your command, as that will remove it from being approved by that officer's supervisors. Instead, simply 'ignore' the requests from those officers so their supervisors can get to them

2. The new Response to Immigration Enforcement Activities (ICE) 1.5x overtime pay code should be used whenever officers are responding to incidents that are a result of any Immigration Enforcement activity by ICE agents. (this is how I believe it's meant to be used)

Eboard – Below is an edited version of the joint statement for your consideration. Edits are highlighted. Please let me know your thoughts.

Washington, DC—Yesterday, the leadership of the U.S. Conference of Mayors and the Major Cities Chiefs Association met to discuss ways in which local leaders can work together to uphold the rule of law, support peaceful protest, and ensure community safety. Following their discussion, the two groups issued the joint statement below:

"As mayors and police chiefs, the safety of our residents is our paramount concern and what is happening right now in our country deeply concerns us. We wish for peace and we wish for that peace to act as a bulwark against further conflict. And we want to keep local law enforcement resources focused on continuing crime reduction.

"The enforcement of immigration laws is not new, and Americans have a wide spectrum of views regarding immigration laws and enforcement of those laws. We recognize that fundamental policy decisions about immigration laws and enforcement must be made at the federal level. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) is a legitimate federal law enforcement authority, established by Congress to enforce our nation's immigration and customs laws. ICE has a lawful mandate to carry out its responsibilities under federal statute.

"Having said that, we must speak up for public safety and order, and we believe that on these topics there is common ground that the vast majority of Americans can support.

AM OVERSIGHT

"The mayors and police chiefs of the United States urge officials of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement and all federal law enforcement agencies to model the professionalism and care that we expect from our local law enforcement agencies. We recognize that some situations can escalate, but we urge federal law enforcement leaders to insist upon calm, professionalism, and de-escalation from their officers at all times.

"Similarly, we call on all residents exercising their First Amendment rights to pursue legal and non-violent protest. Regardless of the views or intentions of those engaging in protest activity, we do not condone protest actions that are violent, destroy property or are intended to incite such behavior. We also do not condone protestors who obstruct any law enforcement agency from conducting their duties. We ask for civil discourse and for our residents who desire policy change to pursue it through the legal and political methods afforded us.

"Fundamentally, America's mayors and police chiefs call for peace, de-escalation, calm and professionalism. We demand nothing less from ourselves, and all Americans should demand the same from our federal officials and our fellow residents."

Statement by U.S. Conference of Mayors and Major Cities Chiefs Association on Ensuring Public Safety Amid Federal Immigration Actions

Washington, DC—Yesterday, the leadership of the U.S. Conference of Mayors and the Major Cities Chiefs Association met to discuss ways in which local leaders can work together to uphold the rule of law, support peaceful protest, and ensure community safety. Following their discussion, the two groups issued the joint statement below:

"As mayors and police chiefs, the safety of our residents is our paramount concern. In recent years, cities across the country have reported historic progress, with violent crime falling to record lows. These results are not accidental. They reflect sustained investments on the local level and effective collaboration with federal agencies, including the FBI, ATF and DEA.

"What is happening right now in Minnesota and other parts of the country deeply concerns us. We wish for peace and we wish for that peace to act as a bulwark against further conflict. And we want to keep local law enforcement resources focused on continuing crime reduction.

"The enforcement of immigration laws is not new, and Americans have a wide spectrum of views regarding immigration laws and enforcement of those laws. We recognize that fundamental policy decisions about immigration laws and enforcement must be made at the federal level.

I checked with Car 92/LT Escobar and he said there was no 911 calls related to that yesterday. MECC is checking but need more info on time/location.

Can we push out the video of them just launching gas randomly at 26/Henn at 2:20pm?

Greetings:

There is a steady stream of inquiries asking for MPD comment on Greg Bovino's comments the MPD ignored requests for help yesterday.

I looked through the attached Car 92 log and did a key word search for "agent" and "ice" in PIMS/Visinet.

- Three are multiple 911 calls reporting ICE activity.
- There are no 911 calls of agents requesting assistance.

Of Note:

- 26-017112 – 25th St W / Colfax Ave S – MPD recovered a magazine full of ammunition from the sidewalk that was left behind by an ICE agent.
- 26-017241 – MPD recovered a radio left behind. Believed to belong to an ICE agent - 17/PENN AV N CCN 26-016856

Brian Feintech is checking with MECC to confirm that there were no calls from Fed agents requesting assistance from MPD.

If there is anyone else who can help verify this information, it is important to have a response out before noon where the VP is likely to repeat Bavino's comments.

Draft response:

MPD receives and processes numerous 911 reports of Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) activity throughout the city each day. This was true on January 21, 2026.

MPD has no record of a request from federal agents for assistance on January 21, 2026.

MPD did respond to the intersection of 25th Street West and Colfax Avenue South to recover a magazine loaded with ammunition that had been left on a sidewalk by a federal agent. MPD also recovered a radio believed to belong to a federal agent near the intersection of Penn Avenue North and 17th Avenue North.

MPD has a full-time leadership position dedicated to processing 911 calls related to ICE activity. That individual evaluates each incident and determines whether an organized, planned, and coordinated response is necessary. Calls that involve property damage and threats to life safety take priority. The presence of protestors alone is not sufficient reason for MPD to respond where ICE activity is occurring.

Hello Garrett,

Taylor Rivera here with WCCO Radio.

I'm reaching out to try to get your response to claims from Border Patrol's Greg Bovino that ICE agents were attacked at a local restaurant in Minneapolis and called in police for help and those calls were ignored.

If all we can get is a written response that would be great, We just wanted to give your department a chance to respond before we report on it.

I hope to hear back by 12 Noon today.

Best,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Oh my Diane. So sorry about your experiences with these types of emails and I wish the city a peaceful future. I have been embroiled in the middle of this ICE garbage since the beginning and have found that this ”new normal” is not sustainable. We’re losing personnel due to chaos exhaustion and others say they’ll quit if it doesn’t end soon. Of course you know tha we have been scraping and begging for each new hire so losing folks is a big step backwards. Scars that’ll last for many years.

I have to ask:
How are you going to fit 400 people inside of Red Rabbit?! That’s a favorite restaurant of my family and I’m familiar with its layout. Anyway, please send me an invite and I’ll try to make it. I’m not sure that you’re aware, but the Chief promoted me into his office as his Deputy Chief, so I’ve vacated the 1st precinct and work out of City Hall. That said, I’d still love to come to your annual meeting as my area of command includes downtown and certainly North Loop.

Take good care of my future. Neighborhood and I’ll look forward to seeing you soon.

Good Afternoon Mark!

Hope you're hanging in there with all the ICE chaos! We are doing everything we can in the North Loop to help our businesses and neighbors, but it's all so horrific!!!

I'm sure you know that ICE guys are living across the street from at Towne Suites, but so far the neighborhood's been quiet. I do worry about them coming in to places like Avivo, Redwell, Salvation Army, Simpson Homes... and other potentially vulnerable NL locations.

I worry too about the safety of our annual meeting at Red Rabbit next Wednesday evening. Last year there were 400+ attendees.

We've been trying to help our neighbors and businesses with food, supplies, funds, information, etc. (Mary Binkley has been driving the charge on that), but there's only so much we can do.

This email is alarming. So far we've gotten two that are similar in tone and content. I don't know if there's a JD Vance event at Royalston tonight, though I did reach out to them to inquire. You may be totally on top of this Mark, but in case it's for real, I expect it to be a pretty chaotic evening.

We'll get through this... but damn... Hope to see you at the annual event!

Take care my friend!
Diane

Yo, I think it's completely trash of you for being willing to support the agenda of the administration that is attacking multiple cities across the country, funding genocide in other countries and now letting JD Vance host his KKK meeting at Royalston Square. You're disgusting for enabling this and I will not ever be going to The Armory again. Sharing with the community here in the TC metro. Live, laugh, liberation for all.

Good Morning DC,

I took a look at the Smart Sheet. It will take some effort to parse out the criminal/notable ICE incidents from these based on how the Smart Sheet is being used. I shared it with Dianna she is a power user with a full license for Smart Sheet. She is going investigate making a separate one that contains the incidents you are wanting to track. So, we will have a Car 92 schedule and a incidents log. The manual part will be going back through the days and mining the incidents that will want track.

I will keep you posted on our progress.

Thank you, Austin. I think what we need is for someone to mine the data from these logs in the Smartsheet. The Chief wants the criminal cases that we've drafted and are working on. An example would be a car accident that ICE caused (this morning's incident at Penn/Broadway) 26-023008. Can someone from your group do this work for Chief O'Hara please?

Subject: Running List of Incidents follow up

Good Afternoon,

I just got off the phone with MECC's supervisors who confirmed there is no running aggregate list of incidents anyone is aware of. Just the daily logs. I did pull a very basic query of all CAD calls with car 92 or Immigration units noted. The unit designation should only be when agents call dispatch themselves to notify but MECC did say there was a period of time some call takers were incorrectly using this for non-validated incidents of immigration activity by 911 callers pre-Car 92.

This spreadsheet is a conservative culmination of incidents, there will be incidents missing in which Car 92 doesn't assign themselves the call and only acknowledges in the comments. I also included the first occuring CAD comment for each to add context to what the call is in nature to. This seems to work for most but not all as you will see.

A recommendation moving forward if there is a desire to quantify these more comprehensively is for Car 92 to assign themselves the call so that the CAD database can be queried for their unit's activity.

Greetings:

I spoke with Lt Schoenberger who was WC on the 24th. I have crafted the following draft response thinking the simple, short answer is the good approach. Please advise on any edits.

- Was any MPD officer or staff barred by Homeland Security from the scene of the Alex Pretti shooting?
  - MPD was requested to leave the scene by a federal agent. MPD coordinated with the BCA and honored the request.
- Was any MPD officer or staff barred by Homeland Security from the scene of the Renee Good shooting?
  - MPD was not barred from the scene of the Renee Good Shooting.

Sincerely:
Sgt Parten

Dan,

Please pull SO25-030 on immigration matters and draft language on it to providing officers with direction on the preferred location to send community members when they ask for assistance with locating a family member;

HSI has an “Online Detainee Locator System” at Online Detainee Locator System and also has a help line at 1-888-351-4024. (could you please confirm this number and link are correct).

Also add any vehicles towed that is related to ICE (vehicle left in roadway, etc.) officers shall notify the tow truck driver it is related to ICE as the City is covering the cost for tow trucks.

Greatly appreciate you,

Chief,

13.43 - Personnel Data

I think we will need to provide our Officers with direction on what to tell citizens when they reach out. Special Order SO25-030, which outlines MPD Policy 9-401 "Police Authority in Immigration Matters," contains nothing that provides guidance to officers who are asked to help determine whether someone was arrested by ICE and held for Immigration matters. After receiving this email, Lt. Schoenberger began looking and found that the City of Minneapolis website has a link to the Online Detainee Locator System search, so this is the preferred way to direct the community if asked. However, that page also has a phone number to report suspicious activity or other investigative tips related to immigration.

Lt. Schoenberger also found that HSI has an "Online Detainee Locator System" at Online Detainee Locator System and also has a help line at 1-888-351-4024.

To avoid this from happening again, I believe we need to provide our Officers with direction on the preferred location to send community members when they ask for assistance with locating a family member.

My office is working with an individual who is looking for the vehicle of their kidnapped loved one. The resident called 612-673-5702 (2nd Precinct) on January 16th at 11:15am and requested help with connecting to the impound to find their missing vehicle. The resident was told to call 1-800-375-5283.

The resident called the number and learned that it was for U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). This resident is now living in fear for their life, their safety for having called this number and is worried about ever calling the police for help.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Today, January 24, 2026, at approximately 9:03am Minneapolis Police Department responded to a officer involved shooting (OIS) involving federal law enforcement agents located at 26th and Nicollet Ave S. The subject that was shot by federal agents has been declared deceased.

This is the third OIS by federal law enforcement since January 7th, 2026 and tensions continue to run high. A large group of approximately 200 agitated protesters arrived and turned into anger. The agitators started throwing large ice chunks, glass bottles, and started blocking roads with dumpsters, wood pallets, and items located in the area. The agitators lit a couple dumpsters on fire and several are wearing gas masks. Officers trying to contain the scene, deployed gas canisters and agitators have been picking them up and throwing them back.

Once the shooting had been confirmed, we immediately requested the Minnesota BCA respond to conduct a force investigation. I also initiated a callback of Minneapolis police personnel on standby, made an emergency recall of all personnel not on duty, and requested mutual aid.

Surrounding agencies to include the Minnesota State Patrol, and Hennepin County Sheriff's Office sent resources to help quell the violent behavior. Additional resources from St Paul Police, Ramsey County, and suburban Hennepin agencies were quickly requested to backfill patrol across the City of Minneapolis to respond to 911 calls.

On the scene, MPD, mutual aid resources, and BCA are focused on securing the scene perimeter while the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension processed the scene. FBI resources just vacated the scene and the crime scene is being compromised by agitators. Staffing and resources were not sufficient to support mass arrests if they had been needed during this escalating incident.

Agencies across the metro area are experiencing similar challenges that MPD is facing in regard to depleting their staffing and resources. Since the first OIS on January 7th involving federal agents, MPD has experienced numerous protests and gatherings across the city to include a march of upwards of 100,000 people.

Tensions are continuing to run high with an anticipated anti-Muslim protest and counter protest in the Somali Community, numerous threats towards Somali owned businesses, and numerous bomb threats at children's schools and religious venues.

Historical events in Minneapolis prove that where large groups gather after a significant incident; civil unrest, violence and significant property damage followed. It is also important to note that more 500 sworn members have separated from the MPD since 2020. The continued level of understaffing within the MPD is causing significant concern about the health, wellness, and resiliency of all sworn members as this crisis continues to escalate.

Due to our staffing shortage of 541 officers on full duty, and outside agency requests that have gone unfilled for this past week, we will very quickly exhaust resources necessary to full provide public safety services to the City of Minneapolis in the event that other large-scale incidents occur.

For context, there are approximately 10,000 licensed police officers in the State of Minnesota. According to reports, there are well over 3,000 additional federal law enforcement personnel in the state conducting the operations that are resulting in these OIS incidents.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We know there were previously planned protests and counter-protests upcoming, and we are actively monitoring this evolving situation as it continues to unfold. We are concerned for the potential escalation of the situation through additional protests due to last night's OIS and are concerned with the possibility of future force incidents in the city involving federal law enforcement.

In light of all facts and circumstances that are currently before us and noting that this is an unusual and unprecedented situation, I am recommending the Mayor request the activation of the Minnesota National Guard to support in the City of Minneapolis to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city by assisting with a vehicle exclusionary zone in the area.

Law Enforcement Sensitive / Not for Public Dissemination

MCCA Members – Below is an overview of national protest activity regarding the ICE OIS incident in Minneapolis. MCCA intel commanders will continue to coordinate the sharing of information and additional info will be issued on an as needed basis.

Background:
On December 1, 2025, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) announced Operation Metro Surge for the Minneapolis–St. Paul metropolitan area (DHS). Media reporting characterized the initiative as the largest Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) operation to date (Fox 9). Open-source reporting estimated that approximately 2,000 federal agents were assigned to the operation (CBS).

On January 7, 2026, at approximately 10:25 a.m. Central Time, federal agents were involved in a shooting that resulted in one fatality. During a subsequent press conference, DHS officials stated that individuals had been following and interfering with federal agents throughout the day, including the individual who was killed (Press Conference).

Multiple individuals were present at the time of the shooting, and video footage of the incident circulated widely on social media. The Minneapolis Police Department responded to the scene and assisted with securing the area. The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is conducting the investigation into the shooting.

Following the incident, a crowd formed at the scene. Some individuals in the crowd threw ice chunks and snowballs at law enforcement personnel and damaged law enforcement vehicles, including vehicle tires. These actions led to the deployment of chemical deterrents by law enforcement.
The incident prompted additional protests in Minneapolis and other locations nationwide on January 7, with further demonstrations scheduled for January 8 and beyond.

Unique aspects
State and local officials in Minnesota and the City of Minneapolis publicly requested that federal agents depart the city. (City Leadership) (State Leadership).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Protests were organized rapidly following the incident. Intelligence Commanders have found that protest materials and messaging were consistent across multiple cities. To date, criminal activity has been reported in two locations:

- Minneapolis: Law enforcement vehicles were damaged, and objects, including ice and snow, were thrown at law enforcement personnel. Chemical deterrents were deployed by law enforcement. Interactions between protesters and Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) personnel continued on January 8, resulting in arrests and additional use of chemical deterrents.
- Sacramento: One protest occurred at the federal building, followed by a second gathering at a nearby park. The protest activity later moved to a local ICE facility. One vehicle in the ICE parking lot was vandalized, the facility gate was damaged, and graffiti was applied to the ICE building.

Actions
To date, damage and significant unrest have been reported only in Minneapolis and Sacramento. Reporting from other cities indicates that gatherings have remained peaceful and limited to constitutionally protected activity, with no associated criminal behavior.

P/CRCL NOTE: For events involving First Amendment protected activities, individuals have constitutionally protected rights to assemble, speak, and petition the government. Safeguarding these rights is an absolute and each agency must ensure the sharing of any related operational planning and/or threat information is limited to ensuring the safety and security of the public.

Hi Sgt. Parten,

I hope this finds you well and safe!

Just wondered if MPD has a estimate on how many people attended last Friday's March and if there are any estimated numbers for today?

We've only reported so far that tens of thousands of people were participating last Friday, but if you have a more accurate number, it would be much appreciated!

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Also… Recall just a few weeks ago MPD was basically all hands-on tech with all officers on duty. Is that still the case?

Thank you so much, if you could reply, all my colleagues can see any updates, I'd be grateful.

Sincerely,

Richard Reeve

Subject: [EXTERNAL] PERF Trending: Chief Brian O'Hara discusses a tense week in Minneapolis

January 31, 2026

PERF members,

At almost the exact same time I wrote to you last week, another preventable tragedy occurred in Minneapolis. Around 9:00 a.m. local time on Saturday, U.S. Border Patrol agents shot and killed 37-year-old Alex Pretti, and I'm sure you've all seen video of the incident and read countless narratives about what occurred.

On Thursday, I spoke with Minneapolis Police Chief Brian O'Hara about the tactics he's seen from federal agents, managing his agency's staffing shortages, and the advice he'd give other police chiefs preparing for a federal immigration enforcement surge.

Chuck Wexler: After Renée Good was shot by an ICE agent on January 7, you said that "this was entirely predictable." Why did you believe that?

Chief Brian O'Hara: On June 3, there was a series of search warrants executed by the Homeland Security Task Force, and one of them was at a Mexican restaurant on Lake Street, which is the heart of the Latino community. It's also the same strip of Lake Street where the [Minneapolis Police Department] 3rd Precinct was set on fire in 2020. A large portion of that corridor was burned down and rebuilt.

That June 3 raid wasn't actually an immigration raid, but HSI was there, the FBI was there, and somebody was there with an ICE windbreaker on. It immediately became a very volatile situation. We had to respond there. Federal agents used less-lethal [force]. As they were trying to leave, they almost lost the scene. We had a really tense situation for several hours that we worried was going to become a riot again. And it wasn't actually anything related to immigration enforcement.

June 3 was a Tuesday. On that Friday, a similar situation played out in Los Angeles, with riots confined to downtown and all the talk about sending in federal troops. So I knew that that Tuesday we were really, really close to having what happened in Los Angeles happen here. And locally, people kept talking about it as if we [had been] helping ICE on an immigration raid to take people away, which never happened.

So the pressure has been continually building. We've seen what has happened in Chicago, Los Angeles, and Los Angeles County. Then things played out differently in other cities—D.C., Memphis, and now New Orleans. I knew the reality of what was happening here politically. This is a very, very engaged community. It is politically left, like Portland [Oregon], and we know what's happened in Portland.

So the surge finally came here at the end of November and beginning of December. I actually knew something was happening before they got here because we have relationships with the community, and all the workers in the hotels around the airport and surrounding communities are Latino. So I was hearing from the Latino community, "What's going on? All these federal agents just came in. They're going to have a surge. Something's going to happen." They knew before anybody else did that something was going on.

Things started happening, and it was just chaotic. We had people stopped who were American citizens. We were getting all these . . . reports of use-of-force incidents [from community members] that weren't reported [by federal agencies]. We tried to follow up. The [feds] would say they didn't spray anybody, they didn't tear gas anybody, all these kinds of things. And it was just escalating tensions.

You would see videos of poor tactics [and] questionable methods. I remember we had a woman in her 50s or 60s who was sprayed when she was just standing on the street. We would see some of this stuff, and people would have videos of things, then we would follow up with the command post and they would tell our lieutenant that nobody used any force in some of these places.

It was just overwhelming in volume and incredibly chaotic. There were plenty of scenes where things would happen that looked incredibly unsafe. It looked like policing 20 or 30 years ago.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Chief Brian O'Hara addresses the crowd at PERF's 2025 Town Hall in Denver alongside Philadelphia Commissioner Kevin Bethel and St. Louis Chief Bob Tracy.

Wexler: Before coming to Minneapolis, you spent more than 20 years policing in Newark, New Jersey. Have you ever seen anything like these tactics in Newark or Minneapolis?

Chief O'Hara: Police in Newark 20 or 30 years ago were not anywhere near as trained [as they are now]. I think Minneapolis today, because of everything that's happened, is very clearly—from what I've seen—the most well trained and tactically proficient, for the average police officer. So I'd say I've seen some of this stuff, but I've seen it 20-plus years ago.

[What the federal agencies are doing is] not team tactics. It's not coordinated. It doesn't look like each of the officers understands what the other one is trying to accomplish. Sometimes it seems like they're almost working against each other, because it's so chaotic and undisciplined. And certainly you don't see any effort at all to de-escalate things.

Wexler: Over the past six years, the Minneapolis Police Department has gone through a tremendous amount of turnover. Where does your staffing stand now?

Chief O'Hara: In 2020, there were 900 officers, and the chief was advocating to hire 400 more to increase the ranks. The pandemic hits, [then] George Floyd, and there's a mass exodus. By the time I got here two years later, of the 900 officers who were employed at the start of [2020], more than 500 had separated. And we were not hiring enough people to keep pace with regular attrition.

So at the rate we were going for my first two years as chief, it was mathematically impossible to ever increase the ranks. That started to turn around a year ago. I've gotten some better controls over the hiring process internally. And we've had some success trying to rebrand the agency and restore some of the sense of legitimacy in the community and a sense of pride in our employees.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

When George Floyd happened, a few days later, the police station was abandoned and burned. A large part of the city was caught up in fires and looting. The next month, June 2020, we wound up having as many shootings in a month as what used to be typical for half a year. So crime was very much out of control.

When I came in, there was a normalization of what was going on. There was almost a numbness, because the cops had been painted with a broad brush. They came to work day after day wondering who was not going to show up. They were questioning the profession and the department that they had invested the majority of their adult lives in.

Some of their kids were getting harassed at school because a parent is a cop in Minneapolis. They stayed in the station because they couldn't stop to use the bathroom. They couldn't stop at a restaurant to get something to eat. They were refused service a lot of times. That's just a lot to go through.

When this stuff happens, I have to mobilize the department. I have to cancel days off. We get tens of thousands of people protesting day after day. I have to call mutual aid. I had to [request] deploy[ment] of the National Guard in the city last Saturday.

When all these things happen, cops are still humans. Who's missing their child's 10th birthday? Who couldn't go to their kid's game? Who's having a tough time in their marriage, and this is not helping? Who has a parent who's elderly and can't see them?

This is having a real impact on a department where we don't have a bench. There's no buffer. If one of these [recent] incidents had resulted in widespread looting, burglaries, and fires, we would've lost control, and I think we would have wound up in the same cycle we had in 2020—crime rises dramatically and cops leave in droves.

I don't think it's possible to sustain any of that, and that was my fear each time I got a call that there was a shooting, then another shooting, then another shooting.

Wexler: From the outside, it seems like the community has developed some trust in your officers as they protest the presence of federal law enforcement. Does it feel that way to you?

Chief O'Hara: That's true, but it's not universal. We are called to these scenes constantly, and we respond if there's a public safety issue—violence, potential violence, threats, property damage. Our officers place themselves between the community and federal law enforcement.

Oftentimes, there are people who say that because we are there, we are protecting ICE. The reality is that we are trying to protect everyone. We are trying to de-escalate the situation. We are trying to slow things down. We are trying to prevent violence and prevent damage to our residents' community.

There's been chaos at a lot of these hotels. There's been damage. Sometimes protesters force entry into the hotels. Last night (Wednesday) we arrested 67 people outside of a hotel for an unlawful assembly. When we do that, some people say, "Well, you're just protecting ICE."

We don't want a federal agent to get killed, and we don't want anyone in the community to get killed either. No one wins when someone loses their life, and it doesn't matter which side you're on.

In this city, it's the Latino community and the Somali community that have been the hardest hit. They are the ones that have been targeted, and I am very confident that the Latino and the Somali communities in this city have never had as much trust in the Minneapolis police as they do today.

Wexler: Reportedly there have been as many as 3,000 federal agents in the area, and there are only 600 Minneapolis police officers. How have you been triaging calls and determining when a response is needed?

Chief O'Hara: It's difficult to tell with the data, but we're estimating this has led to a 10–15 percent increase in calls for service. I've had to staff entirely new positions to triage these. I have a lieutenant on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week to screen ICE[-related] calls. During the day, there are so many calls that he's assisted by a sergeant.

We staff an operations center with access to all the cameras citywide. When these calls come in, we get up on the cameras, we do callbacks, and we use drones to try to independently verify as best we can what is happening in real time so that we can prioritize and deploy personnel.

When things are getting out of hand and there's a large crowd or there's an officer-needs-help situation, we have learned that we cannot handle that in the way we typically would if it were a sheriff's deputy or Minnesota state trooper who needs help. We need to have awareness of what's going on at the scene. We need to rally a group of officers with a supervisor. They need to have a plan [and] a mission, [then] go in, do what has to be done, restore the peace, and get out.

That's what we've learned, and it's taken a tremendous toll on everybody. Because while we're doing all of these things, we still have to do conventional police work. This is still a major city, and the police department is severely understaffed.

On a regular day before this happened, we cannot make minimum staffing on patrol in any of the precincts without overtime. We have half the number of investigators in our Investigations Bureau today [that] they had in 2020.

So overtime is exorbitant without all this stuff. When we have protests, counter-protests, and critical incidents, it is immediately an emergency. We cancel days off. We hold everybody over for extended tours. We call for mutual aid. And for close to two weeks now, we've had the National Guard on standby. Last Saturday, we had the Saint Paul police and more than a dozen suburban towns in the city, and that's who was answering 911 calls while we were trying to prevent civil unrest.

It's been as dire as it could possibly be. And I have worried that even with all of that, it might not be enough.

[The other agencies] are limited in their resources, too. The state troopers are tired, because they're not just responding to Minneapolis; they're responding at times to Saint Paul or one of the suburbs and dealing with unlawful assemblies at a hotel.

Everyone's just stretched so thin and is so overwhelmed by all the things that are happening.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wexler: What has been your goal when communicating with the public and the media?

Chief O'Hara: This is a town where the community is very engaged. All the major media are here, and the focus has been on Minneapolis the whole time I've been here. The community is very much focused on the Minneapolis police. What are we doing? What are we not doing and why?

Before I came to Minneapolis, I was the person put out [in public] to manage the consent decree [in Newark]. I was the person who had to go before the community, host town hall meetings, and get yelled at and blamed for things, when half the time I didn't even know what people were talking about and didn't have any control over [it]. I was the person who had to deal with people's frustrations and explain to the cops in Newark, who were very much opposed to any change, why change was needed.

So these are some of the same topics that I've spent years and years talking about internally with cops, thinking about how do we make things better for our people and the community.

And because of this job here and the intense, intense scrutiny I'm under on a regular day, I've had experience dealing with that. I've definitely made mistakes, but I think that the only way you get experience is by making mistakes and learning from them.

Wexler: What advice would you give a police chief who finds out a federal immigration enforcement surge is coming to their city?

Chief O'Hara: Take a look at what the policies are. Different cities have different ordinances. Minneapolis, Los Angeles, and other cities have had separation ordinances for decades. Some places don't. Some places are in different political environments.

So the context may be different, but if you're in a similar context, with a lot of [federal law enforcement] coming in and a potential for backlash from the community, you want to be aware of your policies. How are you going to handle things if there's an increase in calls? How do you typically handle protests? How are you going to handle protests related to immigration enforcement activities?

How is the community going to view us if we show up in these spaces? What are our parameters going to be? If the community sees us showing up to do "crowd control," are they going to have a problem with it like they do here?

How can we try to educate the community about our policies and practices so they can't say we're taking one side or the other? This is an incredibly polarizing issue. Some people here have had the expectation that we could stop ICE from enforcing federal law. There just isn't a shared reality because of the way politics have unfolded in the country.

Do outreach to immigrant communities that you think might be targeted. What's happened here is they've withdrawn completely from public spaces. A lot of them don't send kids to school. They don't go to church. They're not going to businesses. The business community here is suffering. Do outreach to the faith community. Here, it's the Latino pastors. I'm constantly meeting with Latino business owners. There are also the Somali organizations that are closely tied to the masjids. I meet with them every month.

Communicate what your policies are and what your practices are so that you know the community is still going to trust the police enough to call 911 if they need them. Otherwise, you're going to have a real problem if you have large portions of the community that are afraid to call the cops. They're not going to cooperate with investigations. They're not going to report crime. And that makes everyone in the community less safe.

Wexler: You've been working to rebuild an understaffed and demoralized police department for several years, and in the past eight months you've dealt with political assassinations in the region, a school shooting, and now this surge in federal immigration enforcement. How do you manage yourself?

Chief O'Hara: There have been times when there's been so much happening around the clock that I haven't been able to maintain any sense of a routine. But I try to consistently do something every day. I try to do some kind of physical activity in the morning just to have some sense of normalcy.

And I try as best I can to get some rest. It's been tough getting sleep. Sometimes I crash and wake up a few hours later and there are a dozen text messages. Something else is happening, and I've missed phone calls from the mayor and assistant chief.

It's like the airplane rule—when the mask comes down, you have to put your mask on first before you can help anybody else. And that's the opposite of how cops are trained. We're first responders. We're here to help everybody else. And it's very, very easy to miss that, especially when there's such a long duration with no end in sight. But if you don't, you're going to wind up blowing a fuse.

So it's been tough, but it's been a little easier lately to try to maintain some sense of routine, some sense of normalcy, and make sure I get some sleep no matter what's going on.

Hello,

Passing along information regarding – Sanford Middle School. According to sources Sanford got a bomb threat this morning along with three other school sites. They went to lock down and it was deemed not credible. Sanford Middle school is in Ward 12.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I have also got reports (this is unverified) that there have several bomb threats were reported to the State Troopers. Also got a report of a bomb threat made on Northpoint Clinic 30 minutes after ICE agents were told to leave.

This is a confirmed report, today at 11am- and ICE Vehicle was parked in Green Central Dual Immersion's parking lot. This now the second case in our City of ICE being on school property. I was there this morning during drop, there were two ICE sightings in the morning and whistle blows during that brief one our period.

Lastly, I am worried about the institutional ability and capacity for MPS the district to be able to handle the present emergency. I am getting several indicators and feedback that things that the system is overwhelmed. This is a risk to the educators, kids, and parents, and to our City. I am happy to connect with anyone to talk through this further.

Today, January 7, 2026, at approximately 0940 hours, law enforcement responded to a reported shooting involving federal law enforcement agents (including Immigration and Customs Enforcement personnel) in south Minneapolis near Portland Avenue and East 34th Street. The incident resulted in the death of one individual. No officers sustained injuries.

The crowd on scene significantly increased post incident with individuals observed throwing ice/snow chunks towards officers as well as damage to law enforcement vehicles, i.e. Punctured tire(s).

At 1417 hours, Officers left the scene and protesters followed officers. One MPD Officer and one MN State Patrol Trooper was injured from thrown chunks of ice, along with one police vehicle window broken. Protesters marched toward Federal Court House around 1500 hours, where protestors barricaded the doors and one of the front door windows of the Federal Buildings being smashed.

Around 1,500 individuals remain near the scene, as the vigil just concluded at 1850 hours.

Pop up protests across the country are starting to begin. Based on historical events in Minneapolis where large groups gather after a significant incident; civil unrest, violence and significant property damage followed.

We have cancelled all days off for the Minneapolis Police Department through Sunday January 11th and due to our staffing shortage of 541 officers on full duty, we will exhaust resources necessary to full provide public safety services to the Minneapolis Community.

We are requesting the activation of the Minnesota National Guard to support the City of Minneapolis by standing by and being present in the city to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city.

Subject: Data during Operation Metro Surge

Good afternoon COO Anderson, Commissioner Barnette, and Chief O'Hara,

I am reaching out on behalf of Council Member Wonsley. Our office has received significant inquiries from community members regarding the city's data during the span of Operation Metro Surge. Several advocacy groups as well as volunteer lawyers have inquired on whether the city would be making the data it has through body-cam footage from MPD as well as traffic cameras available for the public once the lawsuit against the federal government reached its conclusion.

There was an assumption that the city was retaining all data as evidence, and initial inquiries through the JIC process clarified that currently, no changes have been made to the city's retention data. As you can imagine, many of the non-profit legal service teams are completely backlogged. Our office is receiving concerns that by the time they get through their in-take, potential data from the city that could be useful in unlawful actions by ICE could be lost.

Here is a draft response for KSTP. Please advise on any edit.

Greetings. Thank you for the questions. They make sense.

MPD consistently evaluates activity within the city and adjust staffing accordingly. MPD is fully staffed and all days off have been canceled. We do not share specifics about strategies and tactics regarding deployment.

In addition, MPD consistently coordinates with all available law enforcement partners to ensure the highest level of safety possible.

Sincerely,
Sgt Parten

Good morning,

Alex Jokich with KSTP here. We are working on a story today about the city's plan for patrols, police presence, overtime, etc at gatherings and protests, in the wake of the ICE shooting this week.

I wanted to ask about something my colleagues and I noticed yesterday… It seemed as though there were no uniformed MPD officers patrolling 34th & Portland or showing a presence at the march at Lake & Chicago last night.

1. Is this a shift in MPD strategy – to not have a large presence of uniformed officers near the crowds?
2. Or in general what can you tell us about the plan for MPD at these protests? And is it different than what's been done in the past?
3. Is there any plan to boost patrols this weekend?
4. Chief O'Hara made a statement on Anderson Cooper last night about canceling time off requests for officers, just in case there is a need for more officers in the coming days. Can you confirm this statement and the timeframe over which these time off requests will be canceled?

Is Chief O'Hara available to interview today? We can keep it brief if needed! We are working on deadline and hoping to do this before 2:30pm today – although the sooner the better for us 😊 If not, we would appreciate a written response to the above questions.

Let me know!

Thanks in advance for your help,

Subject: Request for National Guard
Date: Thu, 15 Jan 2026 17:13:20 -0000
Importance: High

Good morning,

Yesterday, January 15, 2026 at approximately 6:51pm, Minneapolis Police Department responded to an officer involved shooting (OIS) involving federal law enforcement agents located at 610 24th Ave N, Minneapolis. This was the second OIS in one week in Minneapolis involving federal agents and tensions among community members and outside agitators has significantly increased.

Once the shooting had been confirmed, I immediately requested the Minnesota BCA respond to conduct a force investigation, initiated a callback of Minneapolis police personnel on standby and an emergency recall and requested mutual aid immediately.

A group of approximately 200 plus protesters quickly gathered in anger after the shooting in the blocks around the crime scene. They shot aerial fireworks at law enforcement officers, threw bottles and attempted to light vehicles on fire.

Surrounding agencies to include the Minnesota State Patrol, and Hennepin County Sheriff's Office sent resources to help quell the violent behavior that was being displayed. Additional resources from St Paul Police, Ramsey County, and suburban Hennepin agencies were quickly requested to backfill patrol across the City of Minneapolis to respond to 911 calls. Suburban Police Departments across the metro were only able to send a very low number of officers to assist MPD with 911 calls, as they were concerned for their own jurisdictions. Initially, there were only 15 state troopers available for the scene, and approximately a dozen sheriff's deputies. That eventually increased to 30 state troopers and 24 deputies, and DNR began mobilizing personnel to the Metro for standby from Greater Minnesota.

The OIS crime scene was processed and completed, and law enforcement officers again had to flee from the area due to the hostile crowd. At 10:15pm, I authorized for the first time that tear gas to be deployed by the MPD in order to safely evacuate MPD personnel from the hostile crowd. There were no reported injuries, however, it should be noted that tear gas and pepper balls had been deployed multiple times previous the MPD's deployment by federal law enforcement personnel.

Please note that simultaneous to this incident, a crowd of protesters began to form outside the Canopy Hotel. This was the site last week of an unlawful assembly which resulted in 29 arrests, however, last night we were are able to send those protesters on their way without incident.

MPD remotely monitored and recognized the hostile crowd at the OIS scene after we evacuated, and located three vehicles suspected to belong to ICE were left behind when they fled. The agitated crowd destroyed the vehicles, pulled a gun safe out of one of the vehicles and were trying to light them on fire. MPD had to again scramble strike teams with tow trucks to recover the gun safe and vehicles.

It is important to note, that despite the mutual aide we received, we were not staffed with sufficient personnel or resources to make mass arrests if needed during this incident. Additionally, during the incident, at 9:21pm, the MPD had to respond to a baby that inhaled tear gas that was deployed into a vehicle by federal law enforcement.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Agencies across the metro area are experiencing similar challenges that MPD is facing in regards to depleting their staffing and resources. Since the first OIS on January 7th involving federal agents, MPD has experienced numerous protests and gatherings across the city to include a march of upwards of 100,000 people. Additionally, protesters and agitators are showing up at hotels believed to be housing federal agents and are causing disturbances and significant damage to the hotels.

Tensions are continuing to run high with an anti-Muslim protest in the Somali Community and counter protest, numerous threats towards Somali owned businesses, and numerous bomb threats at children's schools and religious venues.

Based on historical events in Minneapolis where large groups gather after a significant incident; civil unrest, violence and significant property damage followed. It is also important to note that more 500 sworn members have separated from the MPD since 2020, and we need to be concerned about the health, wellness, and resiliency of all sworn members as this crisis continues to escalate.

Due to our staffing shortage of 541 officers on full duty, and outside agency requests that have gone unfilled for this past week we will very quickly exhaust resources necessary to full provide public safety services to the City of Minneapolis in the event another incident occurs.

For context, there are approximately 10,000 licensed police officers in the State of Minnesota. According to reports, there are well over 3,000 additional federal law enforcement personnel in the state conducting the operations that are resulting in these OIS incidents.

There will be 100 Minnesota state troopers and DNR officers standing by to deploy into Minneapolis from now through Sunday. We are continuously coordinating with the Hennepin County Sheriff's Office and Metro Transit Police as this situation continues to unfold, and in the event of an emergency, we will once again request additional mutual aide from the metro in an attempt to backfill 9-1–1 response to calls-for-service.

We know there were previously planned protests and counter-protests upcoming, and we are actively monitoring this evolving situation as it continues to unfold. We are concerned for the potential escalation of the situation through additional protests due to last night's OIS, and are concerned with the possibility of future force incidents in the city involving federal law enforcement.

In light of all facts and circumstances that are currently before us, and noting that this is an unusual and unprecedented situation, I am recommending the Mayor request the activation of the Minnesota National Guard to support the City of Minneapolis by being on standby for a quick response to the City if needed to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Minneapolis Police Officers Flee to ICE – A Massive Vote of Confidence

Minneapolis Police Chief has confirmed a stunning exodus: 24 officers have resigned in recent months, with 18 of them now proudly working for ICE. This is not a coincidence—it's a powerful statement. Seasoned law enforcement professionals are walking away from a city crippled by defund-the-police chaos, sanctuary policies, and leadership that refuses to back them, choosing instead to join the federal agency actually enforcing the law and protecting Americans.

These officers know the truth: under Gov. Tim Walz and Mayor Jacob Frey, Minneapolis has become a haven for criminal illegal aliens, fraud networks, and violent agitators. While local police are handcuffed by woke policies, ICE agents are removing rapists, murderers, gang members, and fraudsters—doing the job the city won't. The fact that 18 former MPD officers are now with ICE is the ultimate indictment of Democrat governance: even their own cops are voting with their feet for real law and order.

President Trump's America First surge is the magnet. His mass deportation operations, fraud crackdowns, and full backing of federal agents are drawing the best talent away from failing blue cities. This is what winning looks like—good men and women choosing mission over politics.

Rush Limbaugh once said, "When good cops leave bad cities to join real enforcement, the people see who actually cares about safety." Charlie Kirk added, "MPD officers jumping to ICE is the biggest red pill—Trump's policies attract the heroes."

Subject: PFML Leave - Talking Points

Casey,

Below are talking points addressing rumors about MPD officers applying for paid leave under the new state law.

It's critical to emphasize that the large majority of MPD personnel apply for leave are doing so for family bonding, pregnancy, or family caregiving needs. Most were also already on leave at the end of 2025. This should not be read as a mass reaction to immigration enforcement.

Please share with Council Members and let us know if you have any questions or additional needs.

Thanks!

Talking Points re: MPD Paid Leave

- Since a new state law providing expanded paid leave access went into effect on Jan. 1, like other government entities we've seen a range of City employees request approval for paid leave benefits, including MPD.
  - Given this is a new benefit under state law, it's entirely expected that we would see increased utilization now that it's available.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- There are a wide range of reasons why employees are taking leave – including seeking approval under the new law for continuation of existing leave and preparing for future leave plans.
    - The large majority of MPD leave requests are related to pregnancy, newborn bonding, or care for a family member. In addition, about two-thirds of requesters were already on leave at the end of 2025.
- City resources – including people – are immensely stretched as a result of the federal immigration surge we are currently experiencing, and we will continue to do everything possible to respond to community needs and protect public safety while supporting the wellbeing of our employees.

Here is a draft response for KSTP. Please advise on any edit.

Greetings. Thank you for the questions. They make sense.

MPD consistently evaluates activity within the city and adjust staffing accordingly. MPD is fully staffed and all days off have been canceled. We do not share specifics about strategies and tactics regarding deployment.

In addition, MPD consistently coordinates with all available law enforcement partners to ensure the highest level of safety possible.

Sincerely,
Sgt Parten

Good morning,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Alex Jokich with KSTP here. We are working on a story today about the city's plan for patrols, police presence, overtime, etc at gatherings and protests, in the wake of the ICE shooting this week.

I wanted to ask about something my colleagues and I noticed yesterday… It seemed as though there were no uniformed MPD officers patrolling 34th & Portland or showing a presence at the march at Lake & Chicago last night.

1. Is this a shift in MPD strategy – to not have a large presence of uniformed officers near the crowds?
2. Or in general what can you tell us about the plan for MPD at these protests? And is it different than what's been done in the past?
3. Is there any plan to boost patrols this weekend?
4. Chief O'Hara made a statement on Anderson Cooper last night about canceling time off requests for officers, just in case there is a need for more officers in the coming days. Can you confirm this statement and the timeframe over which these time off requests will be canceled?

Is Chief O'Hara available to interview today? We can keep it brief if needed! We are working on deadline and hoping to do this before 2:30pm today – although the sooner the better for us 😊 If not, we would appreciate a written response to the above questions.

Let me know!

Thanks in advance for your help,

Greetings:

Here is a draft brief for a PI involving an ICE pursuit. Information in the PIMS report was limited. I confirmed the damage descriptions through Evidence.com.

The following preliminary information is subject to change:

Incident number: 26-023008
Incident Date: 1/29/2026 06:43:56
Penn Av N / West Broadway

Officers responded to a report of a three-vehicle crash with injuries at the intersection of Penn Avenue North and West Broadway Avenue.

Officers located three damaged vehicles:

- A blue Chevrolet van with passenger-side damage, located in the yard of a nearby residence
- A black Dodge Charger with front-end damage located near the intersection
- A silver Toyota RAV4 with front-end damage located near the intersection

The driver of the Toyota RAV4, an adult woman, was transported to a local hospital with apparent non-life-threatening injuries.

Preliminary information indicates that ICE agents were traveling in the Dodge Charger while pursuing the blue Chevrolet van when a collision involving all three vehicles occurred in the intersection.

MPD completed the crash report.

For information related to the pursuit or any arrests, please contact U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE).

Greetings:

The following may be helpful for the topic we discussed on the phone: Also – MPD will not assist immigration efforts with crowd control. We do respond to reports of property damage or threats to life safety. When we respond, it is under the leadership of a watch commander who evaluates the need and develops a planned, coordinated response. The goal is always de-escalation. As we have seen recently, we also respond to assist on securing the scenes of incidents like the two OIS over the last couple of weeks.

Greetings:

MPD receives and processes numerous 911 reports of Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) activity throughout the city each day. This was true on January 21, 2026.

MPD has no record of a request from federal agents for assistance on January 21, 2026.

MPD did respond to the intersection of 25th Street West and Colfax Avenue South to recover a magazine loaded with ammunition that had been left on a sidewalk by a federal agent. MPD also recovered a radio believed to belong to a federal agent near the intersection of Penn Avenue North and 17th Avenue North.

MPD has a full-time leadership position dedicated to processing 911 calls related to ICE activity. That individual evaluates each incident and determines whether an organized, planned, and coordinated response is necessary. Calls that involve property damage and threats to life safety take priority. The presence of protestors alone is not sufficient reason for MPD to respond where ICE activity is occurring.

On January 19, MPD was alerted to a report involving two federal agents inside a restaurant who reported a crowd of people inside and outside the restaurant, with a few individuals harassing them while they were dining.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The agents expressed concern that the situation could become physical. MPD monitored the situation and determined that the federal agents had sufficient resources available to manage the incident..

Records indicate the two individuals, and the assisting federal resources were able to leave the area within approximately 15 minutes of the initial 911 call. MPD was later notified that one of their vehicles had been left behind. MPD monitored the vehicle until the agents were able to return and recover it. Hello All,

I spoke with the USSS Special Agent in Charge Paul Gustafson last night and the Homeland Security Secretary is scheduled to visit Minneapolis on Tuesday January 6, 2026.

The only location that is known currently is the Henry Whipple Building at 2 Federal Drive sometime tomorrow during the day.

I spoke with the Chief regarding this visit because Paul also reached out to him. When speaking with the Chief by phone, if they request assistance with a visit in Minneapolis, MPD will be allowed to assist just like we have every other time USSS has asked for assistance with a dignitary visit.

I am putting this on your radar in case I need resources tomorrow. I will see if I can find out more information today and will share with all of you. Please be prepared with your full uniform tomorrow in case of a visit to Minneapolis.

City urges protests remain peaceful in federal shooting aftermath

30 people detained and released after overnight downtown march, damage to local businesses

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jan. 10, 2026 (Minneapolis) – City of Minneapolis leaders, police and emergency responders are urging residents that protests remain peaceful in the aftermath of the federal shooting in Minneapolis earlier this week. Last night, 30 people were detained, cited and released after blocking roadways and damaging property during a downtown march.

“I’m inspired by the countless community members who have showed up to provide food, advocate for justice and keep the peace,” said Mayor Jacob Frey. “For the vast majority who have ensured we don’t take the bait from the Trump administration, I’m grateful. But if anyone causes property damage or puts others in danger, they will be arrested. We are standing up to Donald Trump’s chaos not with our own brand of chaos, but with care and unity.”

Friday into Saturday, a large crowd of several hundred people gathered near the Canopy Hotel and Depot Renaissance Hotel downtown to protest. As of this morning, here are updates and timelines on several reports overnight:

- The Depot Renaissance Hotel has approximately $6,000 in damage to windows and in graffiti.
- Around 8:30 p.m. - Minneapolis Police responded to a report of a vehicle driving toward a building but found no visible damage to the building or the surrounding area. Preliminary information indicates that a possibly intoxicated woman parked the vehicle, walked around the area and entered a nearby hotel prior to officers’ arrival. While investigating, a crowd formed around officers, but they were able to leave the area. One officer has minor injuries that did not require medical attention.
- Throughout the evening, the crowd moved downtown, at times walking in and block roadways. Some people threw snow, ice and rocks at officers, police vehicles and other vehicles in the roadway.
- Around 9:45 p.m. - a group returned to the Canopy Hotel where some forced entry into the hotel through an alley entrance. Hotel security was able to control the situation, and people left.
- Around 10:15 p.m. - MPD declared an unlawful assembly and issued multiple dispersal orders. Some individuals were detained, cited and released. The main crowd began to disperse. A smaller group continued moving through downtown. Others remained near the Canopy Hotel, where additional dispersal orders were issued, and more individuals were detained and cited. The unlawful assembly declaration ended around 1 a.m.
- Around 200 officers with MPD, Minnesota State Patrol and the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) assisted throughout the night.

Peaceful protesting

People have the right to peacefully protest and exercise their First Amendment rights. People can assemble peacefully in public spaces and on sidewalks, not roadways or freeways. They can carry signs and chant. They cannot throw objects, start fires or damage property. They also cannot use fireworks or weapons.

Police role in community safety

MPD does not participate in the enforcement of federal civil immigration laws. However, police may be called to a scene if there are safety concerns. At the scene, officers are there to find out what's happening and calm the situation to keep everyone safe. Know how to identify Minneapolis employees’ uniforms.

Jon-

We have our monthly call with our business technical assistance providers + business associations on Thursday at 1:15pm. I imagine that the current state of ICE activity and impacts to businesses is pretty much the only topic anyone will be interested in.

We're still working out a specific agenda, but I do think that it would be extremely helpful to have someone from public safety/MPD to speak to the role of MPD in all this as well as safety resources for businesses being targeted with harassment due to the fraud allegations currently. Could you help me find a speaker?

I've also reach out to OIRA/NCR to attend, and am open to other recommendations.

Too much information.

Federal officials are not answering whether Alex Petti brandished a gun, where the gun was at the time of the shooting, and why US DHS has shared only a photo of the weapon on what seems to be the seat of a car, when the scene seemed to unfold all outside.

- Does any of the above, and BCA being denied access to the scene, raise any concerns of evidence preservation in this case?

Yes

- Does Chief O'Hara have any concerns that federal officials have not been able, or willing, to answer the above questions related to the gun in question?

There has been no communication from federal law enforcement to the MPD about this shooting.

Subject: KSTP Renee Cooper Questions

Good afternoon,

Renee Cooper of KSTP asked the below questions as follow-ups to yesterday's press conference. Draft answers are embedded in bold and would be attributed to you.

Federal officials are not answering whether Alex Petti brandished a gun, where the gun was at the time of the shooting, and why US DHS has shared only a photo of the weapon on what seems to be the seat of a car, when the scene seemed to unfold all outside.

- Does any of the above, and BCA being denied access to the scene, raise any concerns of evidence preservation in this case?

It is incredibly concerning that the BCA was denied access to the crime scene, not once, but twice. After federal investigators left the scene, the BCA was able to access the crime scene hours later. By then, the crime scene had been contaminated.

- Does Chief O'Hara have any concerns that federal officials have not been able, or willing, to answer the above questions related to the gun in question?

There has been no communication to me from federal agencies about this shooting. It is incredibly concerning that they refused to provide MPD leadership on scene any type of public safety statement that would have helped ensure safety in the area.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Standard Operating Procedures for Car 92:

0600-1800 hours

- Hand-off with Car 9 nights at start and finish.
- Log-on as Car 92 and check-in with S01.
- Create text thread with daywatch Sgts and Lts citywide. Add CRT, 1280 and React Sgts as they sign-on.
- Operate out of the 1st PCT DROC, located on the eastern end of the 1st PCT. Work station #6 has been reserved for you.
- Complete a Car 92 Log that resembles a Car 9 log.

Concentrate on the locations in the city in which ICE activity is predicted. Preliminarily, that is 4 blocks around 3 locations: Lake/Bloomington, Lake/Pillsbury and Cedar/Riverside. Use Milestone and intel to find the activity prior to being notified by MECC that MPD response is requested.

ATTENTIONS:

- Remain in compliance with the Separation Ordinance and SO25-029.
- Your mission should be clear: your role is to do everything in your capability / authority to keep uniformed MPD away from an active ICE event. Also, if response is necessary to do it carefully and spend as little time on-scene as possible.
- MPD shall only get involved when there are threats of violence, actual violence, life-threatening situations, or substantial destruction of property, and only at the direction of Car 9 or Car 92.

ANECDOTAL SITUATIONS:

- If/when a call for MPD response into an area where an ICE event is occurring comes into pending:
    a. Get on the radio and advise that no response will take place without you.
    b. Call the caller back, find the event on Milestone, request drone teams.
    c. Get a Sgt to work your phone and manage notifications up the chain-of-command. Inspector of involved PCT, DC, AC and Chief.
    d. Send a text to that daily brass thread with a notice to have them monitor.
    e. Most calls will end here and response will not include on-scene MPD personnel.
    f. Use a line on the Smartsheet to document what and how your response was successful.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

g. If physical response was necessary, document with a PIMS report (INFO) and advise all who participated to draft a supplement. Also, add a line on the smartsheet and include the case number.

- If/when a priority call for HELP arises:
  a. Follow the above protocol and coordinate a group response from a nearby parking lot. Consider the rally-point sheet attached and assume you'll need room for 30 vehicles. Take over a block of a nearby street if needed. Repeat over the radio that NO MPD personnel are to go into the event until a coordinated response from that lot begins.
  b. Have MECC echo that order on all channels and repeat it multiple times.
  c. It is essential that you and your designee begin working on corroborating the need for help by uniformed MPD personnel. BWCs should be turned on to record these phone calls, Milestone observances and gathering of intel.
  d. Your presence on scene is preferred. Your designated #2 should be acting quickly to either be on scene in your stead or continue doing the work of corroboration and deciding if the necessity to place uniformed MPD personnel on scene remains. It's very possible that you have to remain in the DROC and continue to work of deconflicting and corroboration.
  e. As the situation dictates, consider walking in from 2 blocks away with yourself and a Sgt. Find the ICE leader / person who called for HELP. Ascertain if the need still exists and build a plan with the personnel you've left in the staging area. Protect yourself with gear from the crowd-control bag as the situation dictates. Note: Unless violence is occurring, I'll be going in w.o. gear, knowing that personnel with gear are available quickly.
  f. MPD personnel should stage 2 blocks away from demonstrators, form into a group and walk into the issue as ordered by you. Their squads should be parked facing the egress route. Order personnel to partner-up with at least one other MPD sworn in a "buddy-system". Leave 2 Officers back to protect squads/vans. Based on the situation, consider helmets, gas-masks on legs and a stick in a belt ring and plexiglass shields. Know that each of these items presents a trade-off with diplomacy/protection.
  g. Avoid face-to-face lines with demonstrators and order personnel to mill through the crowds to assure people that we are only on scene to bring peace to the chaos. Once that is achieved, the MPD personnel should exit ASAP.
  h. Remember MPD personnel shall only operate under the direction of MPD leadership. No orders, guidance, or tasking from any outside agency or individual are to be followed unless explicitly validated and authorized through the MPD chain of command.

Good evening from MN! Your Intel is correct David and yes, congratulations are in order. He was catapulted into the front office and I'm proud to have him as my new boss. He was also thrust into an Incident Commander role, immediately after the critical incident related to the I.C.E. shooting at 34th and Portland Ave. South, and is doing a fantastic job. There have been some very long days and nights again but we'll get through it. This too shall pass. Hope all is well.

Lt. Klukow, or should I say, Deputy Chief Klukow,

I just heard that you have been elevated to Deputy Chief of Patrol, and that you are moving from the First Precinct to the Chief's office. I know you will be missed at the First, but it sure sounds like congratulations are in order.

Is my information correct? If so, what will be your new role?

As always, I wish you and your colleagues the very best. Be safe. You all had the community in good shape. Calm will return when ICE is Out. A MN expression.

Good morning again,
I have preliminary approval to put out overtime that would be run out of the first precinct. Eight spots from 0800 to 2000 hours.

I need help from you guys to craft the parameters. My initial thought is that we call it. Nicollet beat and have the same expectations as that project. This project would only operate on Saturdays and Sundays for now. Flexing of the shift or partial shifts would not be allowed. Perhaps, starting as late as noon would be acceptable.

Here's the caveat:
This group remain in a readiness posture to respond as a group to a large event in the city. Of course, that means everything from ice protester riots to a major incident. That would not include gophers games, indigenous, peoples parades, dignitary visits or vigil maintenance.

They would be expected to stay on Nicollet Mall for their entire shift and use the brake space in US Bank Corp.

Let me know what you think and hopefully we can get a sign-up Smartsheet on board by Saturday. If this works, my next step is to push out a 1500 to 2100 version on the weekdays.

To be clear, the details and specifics are going to need to be run by the Chief before implementing it and that opportunity is a fleeting one.

Please excuse typos as I was voice texting this email on my way to The range to qualify.

Greetings:

This has been a recurring question all weekend and continues to persist.

- White House senior advisor Stephen Miller's claim that Minneapolis Police and Minnesota State troopers were ordered to "stand down" as the clash with federal agents continues.

Our response has been that the claims are false.

Is that our continued response?

Sincerely:
Sgt Parten

Hi Garrett,

Jeff Arnold with NewsNation in Chicago. I hope you are doing well.
I wanted to check in with you to see if the city has a comment about White House senior advisor Stephen Miller's claim that Minneapolis Police and Minnesota State troopers were ordered to "stand down" as the clash with federal agents continues.
If there is a statement or background you would like to provide, I am happy to work on a story stating the department's response to the claims.

DC,

While the below email is concerning, we have open lines of communication with the author and the business owners. Our CPS, City Attorney, Sector Lt, DPU Officer, SSCRT and I have talked with him many times to include in the last couple days explaining our plans and what we are doing to provide police service to Stevens Square. He has emailed everyone from the Mayor, Chief, City Council and many more and he will continue. [redacted] 13.393 - Attorney [redacted] This area was a focus zone for almost the entire last year. Currently our strategy is as follows:

Deployment & Coverage

- This area is our RAPPID zone, each shift provides police presence
- Off-Duty Officer (Dubuc): One officer dedicated to Stevens Square, 8 hours of coverage weekly.
- Directed Patrol Unit: Scales/Davids, active DP patrols and stops, camera use for arrests
- SSCRT has this area as a focused area for details, camera use for arrests

Neighborhood Safety Department Initiatives

- Somali Youth Link has been selected as a contractor and works meet the neighborhood, owners and MPD.
- Somali Youth Link will deploy outreach staff in Stevens Square.

Stevens Square currently has a layered safety strategy: consistent officer presence, dedicated CRT enforcement, increased surveillance, and a violence prevention contract. This approach addresses both immediate enforcement and long-term prevention.

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Lack Of Response by 5th Precinct and Mint Properties

MiCheif O'Hara,

I am making this direct complaint to you regarding the lack of response and call backs by officers from the 5th precinct regarding trespassing, drug dealing, loitering and other crime issues at and in the building 10 19th St E and along 19th St E and Nicollet. This is also a complaint regarding the negligent actions and responses from the management of Mint Properties.

There has been rampant trespassing, drug dealing, crime, property damage and life, safety and security issues for the tenants at 10 19th St E.

The police have found evidence recently of nonresidents breaking door locks and living in basement and have come out one other time ive called to report trespassing in building. Per conversations with Mint Properties management, Ahmed Hassan fror the 5th precinct and Tazio Lombardo, city attorney, people that are trespassing need to be caught inside building to be trespassed by police. Mint Properties fails to come out to deal with trespassers and tell residents to call 911. Per Tiffany Lindquist at Mint Properties they are too busy and do not have time to come out.

I have made multiple calls to 911 and have requested to have officers call when here so i can let them in building and also speak to them, but some calls have been 3 hours or so or no call backs at all leaving me sitting and waiting.

I spoke to Inspector Novak and Officer Humphrey on person at the 5th Thursday January 15th regarding no response call back while waiting, and I spoke to Inspector Novak via phone Friday January 15 regarding the same issues.

There are 4 calls in the past 3 days I did not receive calls back and followed up on additional information for a call Wednesday night, but was told that officers were already here and didn't see anything. They did not call me and the people were still here and i requested that police respond back and call me which also did not happen.

I came home Friday afternoon around 1225pm and entered my apartment building at 10 19th St E and found 6 black males and females trespassing in entryway and hallway, with 2 males doing open drug deals with cash out on steps and stair post. I called 911 and reported and requested police call me when they were here so i could let them in. I took my dog out for a walk about half an hour later and trespassers and drug dealers where still in building. At 115 pm my dog and i were walking back to our building and were standing in front of 100 19th St E and saw a squad car heading east on 19th St E from Nicollet Ave, the squad car Car #510 did not stop, slow down or call me to gain access to building. When i went in building there was still 2 people in building.

What is your reasoning or new excuses why the police squad car and officer of Car 510 and Inspector Novak have again failed to stop and check on reported crimes in and around 10 19th St E which may have resulted in arrests and people being trespassed from our building.

Everday the police department fails to respond to calls for crimes and issues in our building and area, you, Inspector Novak, the 5th precinct, Minneapolis Police Department, the mayor and city council are putting the tenants, lifes and their property in danger of assaults, robbery, threats, intimidation,extreme health issues by dru dealers and trespassers exposing tenants to cigarette cigar pot meth liquor and other chemical elements and the risk of exposure trash, garbage, bodily fluids and excrement found throughout the building.

I have filed repeated complaints to Mint Properties with times dates descriptions pictures details of issues with no response from the office or maintenance regarding life safety security issues. I have been told they are too busy and do not have time.

I had the City Fire Building Inspector here on Monday January 12 and verified code and ordinances regarding the building and regarding marked Fire Emergency doors that are not operating to let people out in case of fire or emergency because Chris Dukes from maintenance decides these doors do not require immediate attention and can wait for repair. The attached pictures are just some of the issues the City Inspector witnessed or have have been seen or happened between Monday and Friday which shows human excrement vomit jammed door locksbroken light fixtures person passed out in entry hall at 5pm doors prooped open trash and drug paraphernalia on steps, drug dealer in stairway.

Mint Properties supposedly has video cameras on the building which the police supposedly have access to, yet i dont believe anyone is viewing or watching to see these people come and go.

Minneapolis Police and Mint Properties needs to put pressure on each other and get these people arrested and trespassed for the building and area which has been known for several years as an open drug dealing and crime area with deaths, injuries, shootings, assaults, robberies, property damage.

I say to include ICE and DHS for help in this area due to ongoing gang and drug trafficking to arrest and deport nonresidents who may be involved in crimes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I would like to hear a response from you and additional response from Inspector Novak regarding the issues this week.

Good afternoon,

AC Blackwell per our conversation and Brian per your request, we pulled the incident and calls related to what we believe is the call being referred to. Sorry this took so long for us to put all of the pieces together, not being able to work at our center today made it more difficult to put all of this together especially with no date, phone number or time frame. I hope this helps.

This call was put in as a SUSPP, the callers each stated that there was a large group of people gathering outside because they think “they are ICE and that they are not ICE” . I am not finding calls that they were “locked” into the restaurant but we will continue to dig deeper. I can see from the incident that our Supervisors were notified, a Street Sgt was notified, Car 09 was notified. The only information I can’t tell until getting into the office again tomorrow is what other squads were doing at the time of this incident.

I am only sending to this small group at the moment and only for people that requested this information. AC Blackwell if you want me to contact the Chief with this information I can otherwise I can let you talk with him.

If there is anything more you need from us let us know.

Thank you,

1. Incident Name:	2. Operational Period:	Date From:	1/28/2026	Date To:	1/28/2026
Operation Community Stability		Time From:	1000	Time To:	0000

3. Additional Information:

Projected patrol staffing for the operational period is:

Day Watch: 41 personnel

Mid Watch: 47 personnel

Dog Watch: 42 personnel

Approximately 99 additional personnel assigned to daytime, non-patrol and non-investigative roles are available for activation in the early afternoon, per current scheduling data.

Day Watch will remain in role handling 911 call response during the day operational period.

Mid Watch personnel will deploy as Quick Reaction Teams (QRTs) upon logging on at 1600 hours, and may hold day watch responsibilities depending on intelligence and operational conditions.

Dog Watch personnel will assume 911 call response duties upon logging on at 2030 hours, allowing for the orderly release of Day Watch personnel.

The Investigations Division workload, including in-custody cases, will be evaluated to determine the feasibility of temporarily reassigning investigators to operational support roles.

Personnel activated beyond baseline staffing will be assigned to QRTs or fixed posts based on intelligence, mission requirements, and incident conditions.

The Logistics Section will be activated to manage vehicle requests, equipment distribution, and logistical support for operational personnel.

Following the arrival of the Incident Management Team (IMT), we will evaluate the availability and potential operational utilization of commanders during the operational period.

University of Minnesota Police Department and Minnesota State Patrol will maintain contingency staffing related to the Graduate Hotel protest.

U of M PD will operate under a separate IAP and may request MPD assistance if operational needs exceed available resources.

This operation will be intelligence-driven, with staffing levels, deployment posture, and resource utilization adjusted throughout the operational period based on real-time intelligence, situational awareness, and threat assessments.

When not assigned to a specific post or mission, personnel will conduct high-visibility patrols to maintain public safety, provide community reassurance, and support rapid response capabilities.

Units and teams identified on the ICS 204 Assignment Lists will be in role at 1000 hours and deployed following the 1000 operational briefing.

The convention calls for frequency lists to show four digits after the decimal place, followed by either an "N" or a "W", depending on whether the frequency is narrow or wide band. Mode refers to either "A" or "D" indicating analog or digital or "M" indicating mixed mode. All channels are shown as if programmed in a control station, mobile or portable radio. Repeater and base stations must be programmed with the Rx and Tx reversed. (MESB Version 1.0, 11/2015)

Greetings:

Here are some draft responses to follow-up questions by the New Yorker. Answers are in bold.

1. The number of federal agents deployed in the Minneapolis area outnumber MPD officers by about 5 to 1, is that right?. [How many MPD officers are there in total?]

The actual number of federal agents is unknown to MPD. MPD currently has a staffing of 600 sworn officers.

2. Does MPD have any direct way to know about/track DHS activity in the city? Either in direct communication with DHS or some sort of internal channel? Or does the department find out about it as/after it happens through 911 calls and reports from people on the ground?

Federal agents do not communicate directly with MPD about their actions or operations.
MPD processes numerous 911 calls reporting ICE activity throughout the city.

3. MPD officers have reported nine injuries since January 7th, including one officer whose eye was cut from a shard of glass from a shattered window, and two officers who got concussions after being hit with chunks of ice. Correct?

Correct

4. MPD policy prohibits officers from assisting in any federal immigration enforcement, including by providing crowd management at the request of an immigration enforcement agency. Correct?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Yes. As well as the City of Minneapolis Separation Ordinance which was recently revised.

5. In the last two weeks ICE agents in Minneapolis have made 911 calls, and there have been instances where federal immigration officers have driven to MPD precincts and instructed MPD officers to arrest people who had been observing their activities. Correct?

This has occurred on a couple of occasions. Officers evaluated the circumstances. No arrests were made.

Sincerely:
Sgt Parten

Hello,

Sorry for the delay. First I just want to confirm that we got your message about the updated overtime numbers--thank you very much for that. A few more things that we'd like to confirm are below. Let me know if there are any inaccuracies, or if you have any questions.

1. The number of federal agents deployed in the Minneapolis area outnumber MPD officers by about 5 to 1, is that right?. [How many MPD officers are there in total?]

The actual number of federal agents is unknown to MPD. MPD currently has a staffing of 600 sworn officers.

2. Does MPD have any direct way to know about/track DHS activity in the city? Either in direct communication with DHS or some sort of internal channel? Or does the department find out about it as/after it happens through 911 calls and reports from people on the ground?

Federal agents do not communicate directly with MPD about their actions or operations.
MPD processes numerous 911 calls reporting ICE activity throughout the city.

3. MPD officers have reported nine injuries since January 7th, including one officer whose eye was cut from a shard of glass from a shattered window, and two officers who got concussions after being hit with chunks of ice. Correct?

Correct

4. MPD policy prohibits officers from assisting in any federal immigration enforcement, including by providing crowd management at the request of an immigration enforcement agency. Correct?

Yes. As well as the City of Minneapolis Separation Ordinance which was recently revised.

5. In the last two weeks ICE agents in Minneapolis have made 911 calls, and there have been instances where federal immigration officers have driven to MPD precincts and instructed MPD officers to arrest people who had been observing their activities. Correct?

This has occurred on a couple of occasions. Officers evaluated the circumstances. No arrests were made.

Jackson

Good morning, Sergeant Kiritschenko,

Thank you for taking the time to share your concerns and observations from elements of our collective operation. I appreciate your candor and your advocacy for officer safety and wellness.

Your comments regarding the exit plan, protective equipment, and the conditions officers were operating under are taken seriously. Being struck with objects and the potential for resulting injuries is unacceptable, and those risks must be addressed.

These issues, along with your observations about crowd dynamics and agitators, will be included in the after-action review.

I agree that leadership matters most during challenging events, and we must continue to demonstrate —through planning, equipment, and training—that we value our officers and their well-being. Your feedback, and that of others who raised similar concerns, is important and will help inform improvements moving forward.

Thank you again for your professionalism and commitment to the department.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Good morning Sir,

I just want to voice how I feel it went out there being on the line yesterday.

I think the exit plan was a disaster. I knew once we took the barricades down it would have been chaos. I would have left them there.

I hope that we don't put officers on the front line without helmets and gear again.

These aren't normal citizens out there they are filled with agitators.

Several officers, supervisors got hit with ice chunks and will possibly loose work from it.

If we truly care about health and wellness we need to do better.

I care about the Officers, department and City.

We need better and more training to handle these situations.

This is not just my thoughts and opinions I heard it from numerous Officer, Sergeants and Lieutenants

If we want people to stay we need to show we care.

Leadership is most important during times of adversity.

Thank you.

I personally visit both corridors almost daily, and the 3rd Precinct beat officers do the same. However, this presence has not been consistent enough due to officers being pulled for other responsibilities, limited staffing, and our additional obligations related to the Portland Avenue project. As a result, we are unable to maintain the steady visibility and engagement these communities are requesting and deserve in these times.

When I am in these corridors, residents and business owners consistently tell me they are begging to see us more and want a stronger police presence during these times. They regularly share that they feel safer when we are around. The conversations we have are meaningful and continue to build on the trust and relationships we have developed since May of 2020.

POWWOW Grounds – Operations center for the Native American community

American Indian Center – Tribal ID headquarters and volunteer location

Mercado Central – Volunteer and warming center

Plaza Mexico

Midtown Global Market

Officers assigned to these beats would be responsible for checking in at each location and making contact with the organizations on site. All locations are currently on lockdown, and officers would speak with staff or security at the door to address any concerns for the day and provide reassurance and support.

I have attached a document with additional information and further details regarding this request. The beat would be 3 times a week, Tuesday/Thursday/Saturday, two officers from 1200-1600 hours for 4 weeks.

Thank you for your consideration and continued support of these communities.

Respectfully,

Jose Gomez

Chief-

First congrats on the promotion!!!

Second- to eliminate maybe some future timekeeping drama which always happens during times like this…

I understand the whole RESPONSE TO IMMIGRATION ENFORCEMENT ACTIVITIES OT entry.

Looking at my shifts time entries however there a several different TYPES of entries- everything from CALL BACK TO DUTY, HOLD OVER OF SHIFT, to CHANGE OF SHIFT (which auto populates 4/5 hours), etc that people are correctly entering but that are ALL related to this ICE event.

There might be a lot of OT entered this week that is ICE EVENT related, but that might not be tracked accurately with all of the different types of entries being used.

If there are any clarifying messages to send out there is still several days before time is due to be submitted and it might save Glen Henry and other a lot of hassle.

How does this look?

MPD has an overtime budget of $2,265,000 for the year, however, the majority of funding for overtime is from vacancy savings.

We do not have a monthly budget for overtime, but between January 7th and 18th, we have spent approximately $3 million in overtime in support of Operation Trust and Safety.

Subject: Payroll info for ICE response

Colleagues,

This email relates to timecard entry for staff assigned to the ICE shooting response. Please share with relevant staff.

In order to report accurately about the City's cost for responding to this event, we will use specific combo codes on timesheets. Note that these combo codes were created today, Thursday, January 8 – they will not be usable in COMET until Friday, January 9. Please instruct your staff to enter their timecards as early as possible on Friday morning to give payroll an opportunity to process them.

Instructions:

1. On the attached worksheet, refer to your home (default) department in column "A." A few departments have multiple lines which correspond to the different Department IDs. Please use the one that corresponds to your default DeptID. The DeptID number starts at the 6th digit of the Combo Code in column "B." Ex: 001008600100-EVENT26A. 8600100 is the DeptID for the FPS Exec division.

2. Add an additional line in your timesheet in COMET with the "+" key. Record your daily time spent on the response on this line.

3. Copy and paste the Combo Code in column "B" of the worksheet into the "Combination Code" field on the far right of the timesheet screen. It's important we record the time with the "EVENT2026A" task code as this will allow Finance to calculate the cost of the response.

4. Submit your timecard as normal.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Note: For certain personnel on Grants, the Controller's Division will move the cost to the correct grant based on whether we can get reimbursed for this time. If we can't get reimbursed, we'll transfer the payroll cost back to your original grant.

If you are working on the response but do not see your department listed on the attachment, please reach out to your assigned accountant for support.

Thank you for your assistance,

Jayne

Greetings:

OCS is creating the following. Please review for accuracy. I added some edits: They have marked this as urgent.

DRAFT
Talking Points – When/How MPD Responds around Immigration Enforcement Activities

- This is an unprecedented situation. Thousands of federal agents have been sent into our city without consent and told by the federal administration that they operate outside of the reach of state or local laws.
- ~~Outnumbered several times over, the 600 Minneapolis police officers are forced to make quick decisions about how to respond to each fast-moving, chaotic situation that is created by this influx of federal agents~~.
- MPD remains to be understaffed and focused on its primary duty of 911 response and investigations.
- To assist with the influx of 911 calls related to ICE activity, a full-time leadership position monitors each incident and determines what, if any, response MPD will have.
- As is true in all aspects of local policing, our priority is de-escalating volatile situations and keeping order and peace. This is the best and only path to protecting public safety for our community.
- Here's how police make decisions about when to respond to a situation involving federal immigration law enforcement:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- We have clear policies, based on our separation ordinance, that outline appropriate police response to federal immigration enforcement activities.
    - MPD Policy: Police Authority in Immigration Matters | Policies | Active MPD Policies and Procedures | Minneapolis Police | Policy and Resource Hub
- We do not participate or assist in federal immigration enforcement activities.
- All decisions involving MPD engagement with federal immigration agents are routed to the Watch Commander or the Chief of Police for review and authorization.
- The MPD cannot override a decision by federal agents to arrest an individual for a violation of federal law.
- If MPD is on scene and observes concerning behavior by other law enforcement, they report to MPD leadership.
- If MPD is on scene and observes clear excessive force – for example ~~kicking or punching~~a kick or punch to the head of a ~~compliant subject~~subject person who is handuffed. ~~unambiguously complying with law enforcement orders in the head~~ – they intervene. They stop the action, ensure public safety, and report the incident to MPD leadership after the scene is secured.
- If a situation involving immigration enforcement becomes life-threatening, or involves actual violence, a high likelihood of actual violence, or destruction of property we respond to protect public safety.
- If there is a call for help from a federal agency, the Watch Commander or designated supervisor will attempt to verify the circumstances reported and will only send officers if the situation involves threats of violence, actual violence, life-threatening situations, or destruction of property.
- When we respond to reported assaults on federal agents, this response is NOT an endorsement of immigration enforcement activities, but part of our role to uphold peace and protect people from harm.
- When a 911 caller reports personal injury or property damage caused by federal agents, MPD officers will respond to take a report – just as in other similar situations not involving federal authorities.
- Law enforcement works under the direction of their own agency, which has its own policies and directives. Investigations into policy violations would be conducted but they do not always result in arrests.

MPD officers will not:

- Provide information to immigration enforcement agents for the purpose of locating a person solely for immigration enforcement actions.
- Remove or transport people in immigration enforcement proceedings.
- Assist with immigration enforcement at any immigration enforcement-related events.
- Participate in detaining people based solely on immigration status (like during a traffic stop or at a checkpoint) or assist in the enforcement of immigration laws.
- Escort federal immigration agents to enforcement locations unless there is a clear and immediate threat to life, serious injury, or destruction of property.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Close streets when there are no traffic or public safety issues unless there is a clear and immediate threat to life, serious injury, or destruction of property.

- Conduct crowd control when members of the public are peacefully assembling and exercising First Amendment rights, when no threat to public safety exists.

- Mask or shield their identities as officers when interacting with the public. The only exception is when officers are officially undercover for other purposes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Major Cities Chiefs Association – January 23, 2026, Demonstrations

Background:

On December 1, 2025, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) announced Operation Metro Surge for the Minneapolis–St. Paul metropolitan area (DHS). Media reporting characterized the initiative as the largest Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) operation to date (Fox 9). Open-source reporting estimated that approximately 2,000 federal agents were assigned to the operation (CBS).

On January 7, 2026, federal agents were involved in an officer involved shooting that resulted in the fatality of Renee Good. During the incident, multiple individuals were present at the time of the shooting, and video footage of the incident rapidly circulated on social media. The incident has since prompted numerous and continuous anti-immigration enforcement demonstrations nationwide.

On Sunday, January 18, 2026, a church service at the Cities Church in St. Paul Minnesota was disrupted by a group of demonstrators who reportedly rushed inside and interrupted the service. The disruption occurred after Pastor David Easterwood of the Cities Church was named in an ACLU lawsuit earlier this month. Easterwood also leads the local Minnesota Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) field office. (CNN)

On Thursday, January 22, 2026, Federal authorities arrested three demonstrators connected to the anti-immigration enforcement demonstration. Attorney General Pam Bondi announced that U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) and FBI agents Nekima Levy Armstrong, a civil rights attorney; Chauntyll Louisa Allen, a member of St. Paul's school board; and William Kelly, in a series of social media posts.

On Friday, January 23, a coalition of unions, faith leaders, and community organizations in Minnesota are organizing a statewide economic strike and shutdown, dubbed "ICE Out of Minnesota: Day of Truth & Freedom," to protest a surge in federal immigration enforcement. The action is described as an economic blackout and the largest labor mobilization in the state in decades. The action calls on residents to refrain from working, shopping, or attending school to protest the detention of community members. Further, demonstrators are expected to rally and

march in downtown Minneapolis at 1400 hours. (MINNESOTA REFORMER, TWIN CITIES)

National Overview

Demonstrations regarding the initial January 7, 2026, were organized rapidly following the fatality of Renee Good. Intelligence Commanders have found that protest materials and messaging were consistent across numerous cities. Currently, there appears to be limited reporting from most major cities as it relates to the upcoming actions for Friday, January 23, 2026.

In addition to the "ICE Out of Minnesota: Day of Truth & Freedom," the Nations Capitol will host the 53rd Annual March for Life on Friday, January 23, 2026. The National March for Life will take place in the District with the rally commencing at the National Mall at 1100 hours. The rally will be followed by a march to the Supreme Court at approximately 1300 hours. At this time, the Law Enforcement has observed the intent of counter-demonstrators to the march, however there have not been any specific or credible threats related to this event thus far. (MARCH FOR LIFE WEBSITE)

Actions

To date, damage and significant unrest has been reported in Minneapolis. Reporting from other cities indicates that gatherings have mostly remained peaceful and limited to constitutionally protected activity, with minimal criminal acts and behavior.

I pulled all pages as they relate to MPD. Feel free to highlight or make notes on this spreadsheet (don't delete the line or it will be harder for me to know who to remove) and then return it to me.

There are several pages on here I don't think have been updated for awhile – specifically I am thinking some of the SWAT pages so feel free to pass that on to someone else to update and get it back to me. I can make these adjustments pretty quickly so feel free to get me what you need updated as priority first and we can do the rest later.

Subject: Harassing Phone Calls Protocol and reported ICE entry into religious institutions

Good afternoon, Inspectors,,

Going forward, we are advising community members to report all harassing phone calls that do not rise to the level of threats to 311 for documentation purposes. Community members may still opt to call 911; 311 is simply an additional reporting option.

The 311 system has a language line available for non-English speakers. 311 will also be notified of the increased call volume generated by community reporting.

Harassment reports are initially routed to the Sex Crimes Unit; however, they are eventually rerouted into PIMS, which is monitored by Sgt. Kreigel and Sgt. Feucht

Side Note:

For any reported incidents involving ICE making entry into religious institutions, including churches, synagogues, mosques, temples, or similar locations, the Chief has directed that I respond and investigate at any time. Please notify me immediately if this occurs and if I am not already aware. If I do not answer, please send me a text message.

Today, January 7, 2026, at approximately 0940 hours, law enforcement responded to a reported shooting involving federal law enforcement agents (including Immigration and Customs Enforcement personnel) in south Minneapolis near Portland Avenue and East 34th Street. The incident resulted in the death of one individual. No officers sustained injuries.

The crowd on scene significantly increased post incident with individuals observed throwing ice/snow chunks towards officers as well as damage to law enforcement vehicles, i.e. Punctured tire(s).

Protesters marched toward Federal Court House around 1500 hours, where protestors barricaded the doors and one of the front door windows of the Federal Buildings being smashed.

Around 1,500 individuals remain near the scene, as the vigil just concluded at 1850 hours.

Pop up protests across the country are starting to begin. Based on historical events in Minneapolis where large groups gather after a significant incident; civil unrest, violence and significant property damage followed.

We have cancelled all days off for the Minneapolis Police Department through Sunday January 11th and due to our staffing shortage of 541 officers on full duty, we will exhaust resources necessary to full provide public safety services to the Minneapolis Community.

We are requesting the activation of the Minnesota National Guard to support the City of Minneapolis by standing by and being present in the city to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city.

Thank you.

Protests across the country are starting to begin.

Based on historical events in Minneapolis where large groups gather after a significant incident; civil unrest, violence and significant property damage followed.

We are requesting the activation of the Minnesota National Guard to support the City of Minneapolis by standing by and being present in the city to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city.

Thank you.

D.C.s there has been a lot of questions over the use of overtime and how to code change of shift. Glen worked on the below email to help address concerns. I was hoping for feedback on this to see if this will address the overtime questions and is accurate for the use of the codes?

Minneapolis Police Department
Commander Justin Reisdorfer #5937
Administrative Services Division
Justin.Reisdorfer@minneapolismn.gov

Hello:

Officers who are eligible for 'Change of Shift' overtime should do the following when entering their requests into Workforce Director. Eligibility for 'Change of Shift' (COS) occurs when officers, through the directive of the administration, are ordered to report for their shifts at a 'Start' time that's different from their regular scheduled 'Bid' shift start time or is different from the scheduled shift start time on the 'Posted' (28-day Schedule) for non-bid assignments.

Example,
An officer assigned to the Assault Unit and scheduled to work a 0700–1500 shift, as posted, who is subsequently directed or ordered to report for duty at 0600 and whose tour of duty is extended beyond the officer's regularly scheduled end time, shall be eligible for Change of Shift compensation.

0500-0600 change of shift (8hrs)
0600-0700 Ice immigration OT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

0700-1500 Regular hours
1500-1800 ice immigration OT

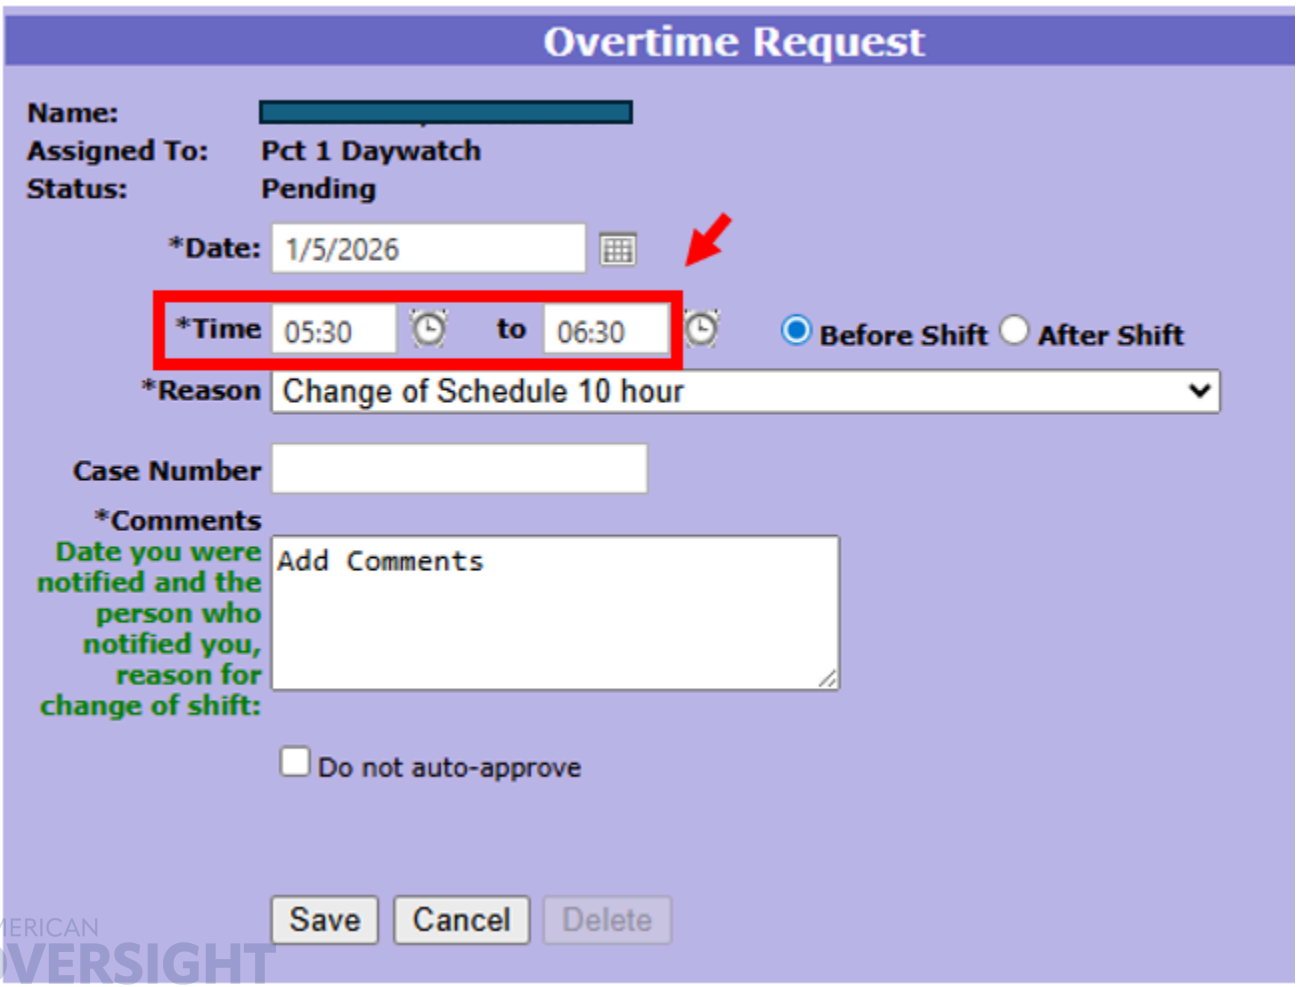

1. 'Change of Shift' (COS) requests should be entered for (1) hour (screenshot) either immediately prior to each officer's scheduled shift start time, or immediately prior to entering an overtime activity that leads directly to the start of their shifts.
2. Comments should be entered explaining the reasons for the request

Note:

1. Officers who are on continuous 'Standby', SB1, SB2, SB3, etc., prior to the start of their shifts might have some trouble entering this request, so I will work with those officers separately to assist them in getting their requests entered.

Change of shift requests can only approved by supervisors in the ranks of Commander and above, so I ask these supervisors to login to Workforce Director and approve the requests for those officers whom they supervise. Please DO NOT 'Reject' any (COS) requests from officers not under your command, as that will remove it from being approved by that officer's supervisors. Instead, simply 'ignore' the requests from those officers so their supervisors can get to them

2. The new Response to Immigration Enforcement Activities (ICE) 1.5x overtime pay code should be used whenever officers are responding to incidents that are a result of any Immigration Enforcement activity by ICE agents. (this is how I believe it's meant to be used)

Dan,

Please pull SO25-030 on immigration matters and draft language on it to providing officers with direction on the preferred location to send community members when they ask for assistance with locating a family member;

HSI has an "Online Detainee Locator System" at Online Detainee Locator System and also has a help line at 1-888-351-4024. (could you please confirm this number and link are correct).

Also add any vehicles towed that is related to ICE (vehicle left in roadway, etc.) officers shall notify the tow truck driver it is related to ICE as the City is covering the cost for tow trucks.

Greatly appreciate you,
AC

Chief,

13.43 - Personnel Data

I think we will need to provide our Officers with direction on what to tell citizens when they reach out. Special Order SO25-030, which outlines MPD Policy 9-401 "Police Authority in Immigration Matters," contains nothing that provides guidance to officers who are asked to help determine whether someone was arrested by ICE and held for Immigration matters. After receiving this email, Lt. Schoenberger began looking and found that the City of Minneapolis website has a link to the Online Detainee Locator System search, so this is the preferred way to direct the community if asked. However, that page also has a phone number to report suspicious activity or other investigative tips related to immigration.

Lt. Schoenberger also found that HSI has an "Online Detainee Locator System" at Online Detainee Locator System and also has a help line at 1-888-351-4024.

To avoid this from happening again, I believe we need to provide our Officers with direction on the preferred location to send community members when they ask for assistance with locating a family member.

Subject: Concerns from an impacted neighbor

Mayor Frey and Chief O'hara,

My office is working with an individual who is looking for the vehicle of their kidnapped loved one. The resident called 612-673-5702 (2nd Precinct) on January 16th at 11:15am and requested help with connecting to the impound to find their missing vehicle. The resident was told to call 1-800-375-5283.

The resident called the number and learned that it was for U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). This resident is now living in fear for their life, their safety for having called this number and is worried about ever calling the police for help.

ATTORNEY-CLIENT COMMUNICATION/PRIVILEGED AND CONFIDENTIAL

Good afternoon, Chris and Cedrea

As you are likely aware, at approximately 11:45 a.m. CT today, a law enforcement-related shooting involving an Immigration and Customs Enforcement agent was reported during an enforcement operation near East 34th Street and Portland Avenue in Minneapolis. Per media reporting, protest activity developed near the incident site following the shooting. Given the evolving nature of the situation, ongoing monitoring of potential protest activity is recommended, along with a review of your security and response protocols to ensure preparedness in the event of increased or sustained protest activity.

For additional information, please see the link for our Protest and Civil Unrest Guidance: security-guidance-for-protests-and-civil-unrest--1750776103585-1754410039111.pdf

Press Conference Update

“Good evening. We are here to provide an update on today’s events in south Minneapolis following the fatal shooting earlier this morning involving federal law enforcement. This is a deeply tragic moment for our city, and we recognize the pain and frustration felt across our community. We are fully committed to protecting life, maintaining public safety, and safeguarding constitutional rights in our city.”

What Happened After Federal Agents Left

As additional residents and demonstrators gathered today, the situation rapidly deteriorated. Local and state officers were surrounded on multiple sides by a mix of protesters and agitators engaged in unlawful acts. Individuals in the crowd began erecting barricades, throwing glass bottles and ice chunks, and at least two separate fires were set in and around the area. Law enforcement had to escort fire personnel so that they could safely extinguish the fires.

The number one priority for the Minneapolis Police Department is to protect life and maintain public safety for all people in our community. And so Given the volatility and rising public safety risks — for residents, for demonstrators, and for police officers — law enforcement deployed gas and less lethal munitions in order to create safe egress for law enforcement and to prevent further harm.”

“We do everything we possibly can to de-escalate whenever possible and actions were taken in response to a dangerous and rapidly escalating situation with multiple confrontations. The gathering now at the scene is peaceful, and we need everyone to respect the lives and property of our residents and keep it peaceful/

In order to facilitate that peace, we have established a vehicle exclusionary zone in the affected area. That zone has allowed traffic to be managed safely and has significantly reduced the risk of rapid escalation, ensuring safer access for emergency vehicles, residents, and lawful demonstrators. This zone will be maintained by uniformed members of the MPD working alongside members of the MN NG. The NG will be wearing fluorescent yellow traffic vests, and will be working alongside the MPD.

In addition to the MSP and HCSO that have assisted at the scene, SPPD, RCSO, and numerous Hennepin County police departments are assisting with answering 9-1-1 calls in the city.
The loss of human life yet again is a tragedy. We extend our condolences to the loved ones of the deceased.

“To the people of Minneapolis, we understand the pressure that has been building, we understand the hurt and frustration that all this causes.

If you choose to demonstrate, do so peacefully. And understand that the men and women in uniform standing here tonight are committed first and foremost to protecting every single person in this community.”

Closing

“We will continue to monitor the area, make sound tactical decisions, and provide updates through appropriate channels. Thank you for your cooperation, your patience, and your commitment to peace in Minneapolis.”

Hi Chief O'Hara,

I hope you're doing well amid everything unfolding in our beautiful city. I want to thank you for your steady leadership during such a challenging and uncertain time. I've been feeling a deep sense of hopelessness and helplessness as I witness the recent ICE activity across Minnesota, especially in communities that I am personally connected to and care deeply about.

Subject: Request for National Guard

Importance: High

Good morning,

Yesterday, January 15, 2026, at approximately 6:51pm, Minneapolis Police Department responded to an officer involved shooting (OIS) involving federal law enforcement agents located at 610 24th Ave N, Minneapolis. This was the second OIS in one week in Minneapolis involving federal agents. Tensions between law enforcement, community members and outside agitators has significantly increased.

Once the shooting had been confirmed, I immediately requested the Minnesota BCA respond to conduct a force investigation. I also initiated a callback of Minneapolis police personnel on standby, made an emergency recall of all personnel not on duty, and requested mutual aid.

A crowd of approximately 200 plus protesters quickly formed in the blocks around the crime scene. The actions of the crowd demonstrated anger through aggressive yelling, removal of crime scene tape and efforts to advance further into the secured scene, shooting aerial fireworks directly at law enforcement officers, throwing objects like bottles and ice chunks at officers, and attempted to light vehicles on fire.

Surrounding agencies to include the Minnesota State Patrol, and Hennepin County Sheriff's Office sent resources to help quell the violent behavior. Additional resources from St Paul Police, Ramsey County, and suburban Hennepin agencies were quickly requested to backfill patrol across the City of Minneapolis to respond to 911 calls. Suburban Police Departments across the metro were only able to send a very low number of officers to assist MPD with 911 calls, as they were concerned for their own jurisdictions. Initially, there 15 state troopers and approximately a dozen sheriff's deputies were assigned to our mutual aid request. That eventually increased to 30 state troopers and 24 deputies, and DNR began mobilizing personnel to the Metro for standby from Greater Minnesota.

On the scene, MPD, mutual aid resources, and FBI resources focused on securing the scene perimeter while the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension processed the scene. Officers also had to divert their attention to other safety concerns the occurred which include the report of a man down on the ground and a 6-month-old baby that experienced respiratory distress after an apparent exposure to tear gas that had been deployed by federal agents. The report of a man down was unfounded. An MPD officer and a sergeant diverted to address the baby in respiratory distress and were able to locate the baby and safely get the baby to a waiting ambulance.

Once the OIS crime scene was processed and completed, MPD developed an extensive plan to safely collapse the perimeter and leave the area amid the hostile crowd. That plan included the use of chemical agents to create a buffer while the plan was executed. At 10:15pm, I authorized the deployment of tear gas for the first time that night to allow MPD personnel to safely evacuate from the hostile crowd. MPD and their mutual aid partners were able to exit the scene without injury. It should be noted that prior to 10:15 p.m. tear gas and pepper balls had been deployed multiple times by federal law enforcement personnel.

Simultaneous to this incident, a crowd of protesters began to form outside the Canopy Hotel, the site last week of an unlawful assembly which resulted in 29 arrests. Last night we were able to send those protesters on their way without incident.

MPD remotely monitored the hostile crowd at the OIS scene after we evacuated and located three vehicles suspected to belong to ICE were left behind when they fled. The agitated crowd looted and destroyed the vehicles, pulled a gun safe out of one of the vehicles and were trying to light the vehicles on fire. Due to the high risk to public safety posed by a crowd attempting to open a safe containing weapons, MPD had to again scramble strike teams with tow trucks to recover the gun safe and vehicles.

It is important to note that, despite the mutual aid we received, staffing and resources were not sufficient to support mass arrests if they had been needed during this escalating incident.

Agencies across the metro area are experiencing similar challenges that MPD is facing in regard to depleting their staffing and resources. Since the first OIS on January 7th involving federal agents, MPD has experienced numerous protests and gatherings across the city to include a march of upwards of 100,000 people. Additionally, protesters and agitators are showing up at hotels believed to be housing federal agents and are causing disturbances and significant damage to the hotels that require substantial police personnel and resources.

Tensions are continuing to run high with an anticipated anti-Muslim protest and counter protest in the Somali Community, numerous threats towards Somali owned businesses, and numerous bomb threats at children's schools and religious venues.

Historical events in Minneapolis prove that where large groups gather after a significant incident; civil unrest, violence and significant property damage followed. It is also important to note that more 500 sworn members have separated from the MPD since 2020. The continued level of understaffing within the MPD is causing significant concern about the health, wellness, and resiliency of all sworn members as this crisis continues to escalate.

Due to our staffing shortage of 541 officers on full duty, and outside agency requests that have gone unfilled for this past week, we will very quickly exhaust resources necessary to full provide public safety services to the City of Minneapolis in the event that other large-scale incidents occur.

For context, there are approximately 10,000 licensed police officers in the State of Minnesota. According to reports, there are well over 3,000 additional federal law enforcement personnel in the state conducting the operations that are resulting in these OIS incidents.

There will be 100 Minnesota state troopers and DNR officers standing by to deploy into Minneapolis from now through Sunday. We are continuously coordinating with the Hennepin County Sheriff's Office and Metro Transit Police as this situation continues to unfold, and in the event of an emergency, we will once again request additional mutual aid from the metro in an attempt to backfill 9-1–1 response to calls-for-service.

We know there were previously planned protests and counter-protests upcoming, and we are actively monitoring this evolving situation as it continues to unfold. We are concerned for the potential escalation of the situation through additional protests due to last night's OIS and are concerned with the possibility of future force incidents in the city involving federal law enforcement.

In light of all facts and circumstances that are currently before us and noting that this is an unusual and unprecedented situation, I am recommending the Mayor request the activation of the Minnesota

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

National Guard to support the City of Minneapolis by being on standby for a quick response to the City if needed to deter civil unrest, violence, and damage to property within the city.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Thanks DC for everything regarding this – as well as what's going on today.

Not sure if you have been made aware of that yet. I just got the call.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Standard Operating Procedures for Car 92:

0600-1800 hours

- Hand-off with Car 9 nights at start and finish.
- Log-on as Car 92 and check-in with S01.
- Create text thread with daywatch Sgts and Lts citywide. Add CRT, 1280 and React Sgts as they sign-on.
- Operate out of the 1st PCT DROC, located on the eastern end of the 1st PCT. Work station #6 has been reserved for you.
- Complete a Car 92 Log that resembles a Car 9 log.

Concentrate on the locations in the city in which ICE activity is predicted. Preliminarily, that is 4 blocks around 3 locations: Lake/Bloomington, Lake/Pillsbury and Cedar/Riverside. Use Milestone and intel to find the activity prior to being notified by MECC that MPD response is requested.

ATTENTIONS:

- Remain in compliance with the Separation Ordinance and SO25-029.
- Your mission should be clear: your role is to do everything in your capability / authority to keep uniformed MPD away from an active ICE event. Also, if response is necessary to do it carefully and spend as little time on-scene as possible.
- MPD shall only get involved when there are threats of violence, actual violence, life-threatening situations, or substantial destruction of property, and only at the direction of Car 9 or Car 92.

ANECDOTAL SITUATIONS:

- If/when a call for MPD response into an area where an ICE event is occurring comes into pending:
    a. Get on the radio and advise that no response will take place without you.
    b. Call the caller back, find the event on Milestone, request drone teams.
    c. Get a Sgt to work your phone and manage notifications up the chain-of-command. Inspector of involved PCT, DC, AC and Chief.
    d. Send a text to that daily brass thread with a notice to have them monitor.
    e. Most calls will end here and response will not include on-scene MPD personnel.
    f. Use a line on the Smartsheet to document what and how your response was successful.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

g. If physical response was necessary, document with a PIMS report (INFO) and advise all who participated to draft a supplement. Also, add a line on the smartsheet and include the case number.

- If/when a priority call for HELP arises:
  a. Follow the above protocol and coordinate a group response from a nearby parking lot. Consider the rally-point sheet attached and assume you'll need room for 30 vehicles. Take over a block of a nearby street if needed. Repeat over the radio that NO MPD personnel are to go into the event until a coordinated response from that lot begins.
  b. Have MECC echo that order on all channels and repeat it multiple times.
  c. It is essential that you and your designee begin working on corroborating the need for help by uniformed MPD personnel. BWCs should be turned on to record these phone calls, Milestone observances and gathering of intel.
  d. Your presence on scene is preferred. Your designated #2 should be acting quickly to either be on scene in your stead or continue doing the work of corroboration and deciding if the necessity to place uniformed MPD personnel on scene remains. It's very possible that you have to remain in the DROC and continue to work of deconflicting and corroboration.
  e. As the situation dictates, consider walking in from 2 blocks away with yourself and a Sgt. Find the ICE leader / person who called for HELP. Ascertain if the need still exists and build a plan with the personnel you've left in the staging area. Protect yourself with gear from the crowd-control bag as the situation dictates. Note: Unless violence is occurring, I'll be going in w.o. gear, knowing that personnel with gear are available quickly.
  f. MPD personnel should stage 2 blocks away from demonstrators, form into a group and walk into the issue as ordered by you. Their squads should be parked facing the egress route. Order personnel to partner-up with at least one other MPD sworn in a "buddy-system". Leave 2 Officers back to protect squads/vans. Based on the situation, consider helmets, gas-masks on legs and a stick in a belt ring and plexiglass shields. Know that each of these items presents a trade-off with diplomacy/protection.
  g. Avoid face-to-face lines with demonstrators and order personnel to mill through the crowds to assure people that we are only on scene to bring peace to the chaos. Once that is achieved, the MPD personnel should exit ASAP.
  h. Remember MPD personnel shall only operate under the direction of MPD leadership. No orders, guidance, or tasking from any outside agency or individual are to be followed unless explicitly validated and authorized through the MPD chain of command.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Subject: ICE Calls

Good morning,

I am sending you a call and recording from this morning when a vehicle thought to be ICE was T-Boned. The call taker tried to get agency info from him and was told that he was advised by his division to not state which agency they are from. This could create an entirely new set of issues for any type of call that could potentially come in here if they aren't going to identify their agency. It will complicate the determining factor for how we send to check on calls when they are ICE related right up to HELP calls and being able to determine if they are ICE related.

Can we please have further discussion on this.

Thank you,

Subject: should be added to the car 92 SOP

Should be added:
Sign on with dispatch at 0600 as Car 92. Post up at the 1st precinct in the DROC. 8100 or CSOs will usually be available to assist.

Check the city for additional resources and specialties. Have them respond to the DROC.

Monitor all calls that come into 911. Have Camera Techs watch cameras for ICE activity. Enter a call in when they stop and intervene with anyone.

If an ICE call comes into pending regardless of priority, air the call so Squads are aware of the call and location.

If there is ICE involvement or the strong possibility, assign to the call, type in comments that Car 92 is monitoring do not dispatch a squad until Command approval.

Check, Milestone, Salient, or Fusus Ops for footage. If you are unsure of what any of those area ask a camera tech or Lt Garman.

Once the call has been reviewed, it can either be held to monitor, cleared IMM or project a coordinated response using Car 193 as the on-scene team leader until they can be relieved by strike force lead or their action mitigates the need for response or an intervention plan is initiated with commands approval.

If a response is determined due to a verified or strongly suspected life safety issue. Getting MPD officers disengaged from the issue as safely and as timely as possible is a high priority.

Use the attached smartsheet to attach the log and keep track of phone numbers and names attached to calls.

Dear Sergeant Parten,

My name is Alex Sheldon and I work with the French-Canadian public broadcaster, Radio-Canada.

I have reached out directly to Lieutenant Deitan Dubub who works with the Minneapolis police department, to ask him to participate to a short 6-8 minute radio interview in French on our Saturday noon show, « Les faits d'abord ».

He wishes to participate but let me know I would need to clear it with you first.

Questions would focus, of course, on the present anti-ICE protests happening in your city presently, and how the Minneapolis police are experiencing this difficult situation.

Deitan Dubuc is a Quebec born French-speaker whose perspective had proved particularly insightful after the death of George Floyd. He had been interviewed in various Quebec media, and his answers were measured,

I already added Scott and Austin. I'll add Dianna as well. The Chief wants to be able to have a synthesized list of events that we have documented and have generated cases. Possibly, also a running number of events we've successfully avoided if possible.

Good morning,
Any ideas here? The Car 92 Log needs to be converted to PDF as a general rule going forward. See below. But, also – can we add a line to the smartsheet for case numbers in which action is taken? PI accident report or assault, theft, damage or abduction? See below for a full picture.

I would say at the earliest Monday or Tuesday. We are going to have to go back through each day and pull in the activity into this new smart sheet. One ask for you is that going forward that Car 92 folks attach both a PDF and a word doc. We are going to have to convert the PDF's.

Good Morning DC,

I took a look at the Smart Sheet. It will take some effort to parse out the criminal/notable ICE incidents from these based on how the Smart Sheet is being used. I shared it with Dianna she is a power user with a full license for Smart Sheet. She is going investigate making a separate one that contains the incidents you are wanting to track. So, we will have a Car 92 schedule and a incidents log. The manual part will be going back through the days and mining the incidents that will want track.

I will keep you posted on our progress.

Thank you, Austin. I think what we need is for someone to mine the data from these logs in the Smartsheet. The Chief wants the criminal cases that we've drafted and are working on. An example would be a car accident that ICE caused (this morning's incident at Penn/Broadway) 26-023008. Can someone from your group do this work for Chief O'Hara please?

Subject: Running List of Incidents follow up

Good Afternoon,

I just got off the phone with MECC's supervisors who confirmed there is no running aggregate list of incidents anyone is aware of. Just the daily logs. I did pull a very basic query of all CAD calls with car 92 or Immigration units noted. The unit designation should only be when agents call dispatch themselves to notify but MECC did say there was a period of time some call takers were incorrectly using this for non-validated incidents of immigration activity by 911 callers pre-Car 92.

This spreadsheet is a conservative culmination of incidents, there will be incidents missing in which Car 92 doesn't assign themselves the call and only acknowledges in the comments. I also included the first occuring CAD comment for each to add context to what the call is in nature to. This seems to work for most but not all as you will see.

A recommendation moving forward if there is a desire to quantify these more comprehensively is for Car 92 to assign themselves the call so that the CAD database can be queried for their unit's activity.

Please pull SO25-030 on immigration matters and draft language on it to providing officers with direction on the preferred location to send community members when they ask for assistance with locating a family member;

HSI has an "Online Detainee Locator System" at Online Detainee Locator System and also has a help line at 1-888-351-4024. (could you please confirm this number and link are correct).

Also add any vehicles towed that is related to ICE (vehicle left in roadway, etc.) officers shall notify the tow truck driver it is related to ICE as the City is covering the cost for tow trucks.

Greatly appreciate you,

Chief,

13.43 - Personnel Data

I think we will need to provide our Officers with direction on what to tell citizens when they reach out. Special Order SO25-030, which outlines MPD Policy 9-401 "Police Authority in Immigration Matters," contains nothing that provides guidance to officers who are asked to help determine whether someone was arrested by ICE and held for Immigration matters. After receiving this email, Lt. Schoenberger began looking and found that the City of Minneapolis website has a link to the Online Detainee Locator System search, so this is the preferred way to direct the community if asked. However, that page also has a phone number to report suspicious activity or other investigative tips related to immigration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Lt. Schoenberger also found that HSI has an “Online Detainee Locator System” at Online Detainee Locator System and also has a help line at 1-888-351-4024.

To avoid this from happening again, I believe we need to provide our Officers with direction on the preferred location to send community members when they ask for assistance with locating a family member.

My office is working with an individual who is looking for the vehicle of their kidnapped loved one. The resident called 612-673-5702 (2nd Precinct) on January 16th at 11:15am and requested help with connecting to the impound to find their missing vehicle. The resident was told to call 1-800-375-5283.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The resident called the number and learned that it was for U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). This resident is now living in fear for their life, their safety for having called this number and is worried about ever calling the police for help.

We have been getting a lot of non-policy specific comments through the website in the last few weeks, particularly related to the current operations.

I split them into positive and negative about MPD. Most of the negative ones appear to be from one person- I did exclude several that included offensive terms.

Just passing them along in case anyone wants to review or provide them elsewhere.

Subject: FW: Calls about ICE

Good afternoon,

AC Blackwell per our conversation and Brian per your request, we pulled the incident and calls related to what we believe is the call being referred to. Sorry this took so long for us to put all of the pieces together, not being able to work at our center today made it more difficult to put all of this together especially with no date, phone number or time frame. I hope this helps.

This call was put in as a SUSPP, the callers each stated that there was a large group of people gathering outside because they think “they are ICE and that they are not ICE” . I am not finding calls that they were “locked” into the restaurant but we will continue to dig deeper. I can see from the incident that our Supervisors were notified, a Street Sgt was notified, Car 09 was notified. The only information I can’t tell until getting into the office again tomorrow is what other squads were doing at the time of this incident.

I am only sending to this small group at the moment and only for people that requested this information. AC Blackwell if you want me to contact the Chief with this information I can otherwise I can let you talk with him.

If there is anything more you need from us let us know.

Thank you,
